BOONE COUNTY RECORDER.

VOLUME IX. BURLINGTON, KY., WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 9, 1884. NUMBER 10.

A MISSING JOURNALIST.

Editor Barton, of Soteldo Notoriety, Suddenly Disappears,

Leaving Behind Him a Destitute Family and a Number of Forged Indorsements on Which He Obtained Money.

WASHINGTON, January 3.—Newspaper readers will not forget the shooting affray in the editorial rooms of the National Republican office in this city, in which A. M. Soteldo was shot and killed. Clarence M. Barton was at the time night editor of the Republican and had published an account of one of Soteldo's escapades, and Soteldo, arming himself, went to the Republican office and opened fire on Barton, shooting the latter in the neck. Barton returned the fire, when Soteldo's brother appeared upon the scene and took a hand. In the row the elder Soteldo was killed, and Barton was acquitted of the murder on the ground that there was doubt whether the fatal shot was fired by Barton or the younger Soteldo. Barton was dismissed from the night editorship and secured a $1,200 clerkship in the Navy Department, where his conduct is said to have been exemplary. But for a few days past he has been missing, and it transpires that he has uttered forgeries amounting to several thousand dollars upon the names of William Dickson, Tom Brady and H. D. Boteler, all of them men of large means. Barton is not to be found, and it is presumed he has left this part of the country. He told his family he was going into the State of Maryland on a hunting expedition. Nothing is known as to his whereabouts, but recently he made a good many inquiries about East Tennessee, saying that Representative Houk wanted him to go down there and take charge of a newspaper. This, however, may have been a blind to mislead any who might undertake to follow him. He leaves a large and destitute family, among them a babe only a few weeks old.

Leaf Tobacco Duty.

NEW YORK, January 3.—A member of the firm of G. Faulk & Bro., importers and manufacturers of leaf tobacco, at 171 Water street, said in reference to the attempt that has been made recently to persuade the Secretary of the Treasury to reverse his decision in regard to the clauses in the tariff regulations relating to leaf tobacco suitable for wrappers: "The attempt is made by speculators who bought large quantities of wrapper tobacco in the belief that the duty had been raised from thirty-five to seventy-five cents a pound. While complying with the law, we imported some extra wrappers at thirty-five cents a pound, and obtained a decision from the Secretary of the Treasury sustaining our right to do so. This will prevent large operators from selling their accumulated stock at the prices which they hoped to secure, so they wish a new ruling in their favor."

Alleged Confession of O'Donnell.

DUBLIN, January 4.—The United Ireland publishes an account of the murder of Carey, written by a gentleman who received it from O'Donnell, but it was not to be made public so long as there was a chance remaining to save O'Donnell's life. He says, had Judge Denman permitted O'Donnell to speak he would have told the whole story of the killing. O'Donnell was not acquainted with Carey, but recognized him by a wood cut which he saw at Cape Town and resolved to kill him. Carey perceived his danger, and said: "Do you know me?" O'Donnell replied: "You are Carey, the informer. To h—l with you!" The bullet sped with the words, and the deed was done. Carey clutched his own revolver, but too late. O'Donnell fired two more shots.

That Troublesome Trade Dollar.

WASHINGTON, January 3.—Representative Bland to-day had an interview with Mr. Burchard, Director of the Mint, with regard to the number of trade dollars now in circulation. The latter expressed the opinion that between five and six millions were out and in the hands of tradesmen and the people generally, instead of in possession of speculators. The remainder of $35,000,000 originally coined he thought had been exported or remelted. Mr. Bland says it is questionable whether the Government, having issued the trade dollar with the stamp of the Government upon it, could not be required to take it for Government dues at its nominal value of one dollar.

Harbor Grace Riot.

HARBOR GRACE, N. F., January 3.—John Bray and Richard Bradbury, wounded in the recent encounter between Orangemen and Catholics, have died. Both were Orange sympathizers. Bradbury was wounded by the bursting of his own rifle. Twenty-one persons are under arrest for participating in the riot. Depositions of witnesses were taken to-day. Catholic witnesses swore that the first shot, which killed Callahan, was fired by Head Constable Doyle, who has been temporarily suspended from duty.

An Ohio Man Swindled.

PHILADELPHIA, January 3.—James B. Stewart, of Columbus, O., was swindled out of $120 by two confidence operators. He advanced them money on a draft for $1,700 on the "Fido National Bank, New York." The swindlers pretended to be en route for Newark, N. J., Stewart's destination.

Irish Immigrants in America.

DUBLIN, January 3.—Charles Russell, member of Parliament for Dundalk, in a lecture upon his recent experiences in America, asserted that notwithstanding the deficiencies in education and money of Irish immigrants in America, their fight in life has been creditable to them as a Nation. In the future emigration should be effected under conditions securing as far as possible a reasonable degree of success, material and otherwise.

Fire Damp in a Mine.

SCRANTON, PENN., January 3.—An explosion of fire-damp in the Oxford Colliery, D. L. and W. Company, this afternoon, tore out the lining of the hoisting and new air shafts, and cut off communication with fourteen men in the mine. Within an hour men descended in a bucket and found all alive. John Hopkins, John Jones and William Morgan were seriously burned, one fatally. The others were slightly hurt. Cause of the explosion unknown.

Resigns and Assigns.

NEW YORK, January 4.—Mr. Henry Villard resigned his presidency of the Northern Pacific, and made an assignment to Mr. E. Endicott, jr., and Horace White, for the benefit of his creditors. It is said that the cause of the collapse is that he lent his credit and security to the Oregon Transcontinental, and the assignment was made simply to secure $300,000, which he owes that corporation. The real property included by Villard in his assignment is the block bounded by Fiftieth and Fifty-first streets and Madison and Fourth avenues including the mansion recently erected upon the Madison avenue front. The property is said to be worth $10,000,000. The other real property possessed by Villard is his handsome summer residence at Dobbs' Ferry, on the Hudson, which is worth about $250,000 and it is said he is still the owner of large interests in railroad and other companies, and that his wife holds government bonds to the amount of $500,000.

Sullivan and Slade in a Street Fight.

DENVER, COL., January 2.—A lively free fight between Slade, of the John L. Sullivan combination and local celebrities occurred in front of the Arcade saloon this morning. All hands were drunk. The local roughs, in whose company Sullivan and Slade found themselves, were more than their match, and the champion found himself in such a close place that he retired, and, calling at a saloon near by, asked the proprietor to loan him a revolver. The request was refused, and Sullivan then struck the liquor dealer. A friend of the latter jumped to the rescue, and a free fight was soon in progress. Sullivan got out of the place into the street and there he was joined by Slade, who knocked one of Sullivan's assailants down. Two men, friends of the whisky dealer, came upon the field. One of them carried a brick, which he hurled at Slade's head. It took that individual back of the ear and floored him. Sullivan lit out. Slade was hit so hard that he lay on the ground for some time, and his assailants, believing they had killed him, made off. No arrests were made.

AN OHIO HEROINE.

Heroic Attempt of a Girl to Rescue Her Sisters.

A Distressing Calamity—Two Little Girls Perish in the Flames of a Burning Building.

WELLSVILLE, O., January 4.—The residence of Milton Higlan, at Mechanicstown, a few miles west of this place, was destroyed by fire early yesterday morning, and two of his children, Grace and Mollie, aged four and seven respectively, perished in the flames. Before retiring for the night a member of the family hung some clothing near a grate to dry, and this taking fire soon afterward caused the calamity. About two o'clock Higlan's eldest daughter was awakened by hearing a crackling noise, and, finding her room filled with smoke, and realizing in a moment that the house was on fire, made a heroic efforts to reach the room of her little sisters, peacefully sleeping a few rooms distant from her own, but the fierce flames and thick stifling smoke prevented this. She then leaped from a window to the ground below, and succeeded in awakening her mother and other members of the family barely in time to save their lives. The house being in an isolated situation the fire was not discovered by neighbors until too late to render much assistance. This morning the charred remains of the little ones were taken from the ruins and prepared for burial. All that remained were black, calcined trunks, all the members having been burned away. The poor mother is crazed with grief, and during the progress of the fire made several attempts to enter the building in a vain endeavor to rescue her perishing children. When restrained she gave vent to her feelings in the most heart-rending cries. The brave girl was badly burned in her heroic attempt to save her sisters.

Four Children Cremated.

DUKE CENTER, PENN., January 4.—To-day the dwelling of J. V. Garver, Kinzua Branch, near this place, caught fire from an overpressure of gas while Mrs. Garver was absent, and in a few minutes it was in ashes. Four little children, aged from one to six years, left in the house, perished in the flames. The bodies were fished out of the ruins this afternoon. They presented a horrible sight and the parents are wild with grief.

A Gambling Law Set Aside.

CHICAGO, January 4.—Judge Smith, of the Superior Court, rendered a decision to-day declaring unconstitutional the act of the Legislature under which damages could be recovered from owners of houses in which money had been lost in gambling. The principal reason given by the court is that the constitution provides that each act of the Legislature shall have a title, and that only one subject is to be embraced in one act.

Financial Disasters.

NEW YORK, January 4.—Full telegraphic returns to R. G. Dun & Co., of the Mercantile Agency, show the business failures in the last seven days number in the United States 319, in Canada 29—probably the largest number of commercial casualties ever reported in a similar period.

Yale's Christmas Gift.

NEW HAVEN, January 4.—Albert E. Kant, of San Francisco, member of the Yale class of 1858, who a year ago presented Yale $50,000 for the erection of a chemical laboratory, has added $25,000 to the original gift.

Arrest and Confession.

SALEM, O., January 3.—Stanley Griffeth was captured and lodged in jail, and confesses he murdered his father.

BREVITIES.

CHAPLAIN Toussaint Mesplie, U. S. A., was found guilty of duplicating pay accounts and was dismissed from the service.

THE commercial agreement between Spain and the United States was signed by direction of President Arthur on the 2d instant.

THE Henner & Moora bank, at Morris, Minn., has failed. Liabilities $100,000; assets unknown.

THIRTY persons have been arrested in St. Petersburg on suspicion of having been connected with the murder of Colonel Sudeikin.

MIDNIGHT HORROR.

Twenty-seven Persons Perish in the Flames.

Burning of the Convent of the Immaculate Conception.

ST. LOUIS, January 6.—Last night about midnight the Institute of the Immaculate Conception of the Sisters of Notre Dame, at Belleville, Ill., took fire. About sixty pupils in the school, ranging from ten years to full grown, all girls, and several teachers and others, were inmates of the building. The fire is said to have started in the rear of the third story, which was used as a dormitory, and an attempt was made by the sisters to extinguish it. The flames spread so rapidly, that no order could be preserved. A panic seized both the children and the sisters, and there was a wild and confused rush to escape. Several in their fright jumped from the windows and were either killed or badly injured. Miss Mary Campbell, a teacher, leaped from the third story and died in a few minutes. Another climbed to the roof of the portico and either fell or was blown off and fatally injured. Searching parties were actively at work all day. The streets in the vicinity were thronged with people anxious to be of service, but owing to the rapid spread of the flames they were helpless to render aid. The fire department was of little avail against the mad rush of surging flames, and in an hour the entire building was a mass of ruins. When the ruins were sufficiently cooled a volunteer corps of men went to work to bring out the bodies. It was a terrible sight. At times the searchers would find two or three charred masses huddled together. Two bodies were found in the rear part of the building burned into an unrecognizable mass, but the majority were found beneath where the dormitory was situated. They seem to have sought shelter in this room and too late recognized that their escape was impossible, the flames beneath eating away the supports, letting down the floor into a seething vortex of fire and smoke. The total of known deaths is twenty-seven, twenty-two of which are pupils and five sisters, among the latter the sister superior. The building and furnishings were valued at from $65,000 to $75,000 and were insured for $25,000.

Threats to Burn London.

The Republique Democratique et Sociale states that it knows that in a few days numerous reprisals against the English will occur in Ireland to avenge the execution of O'Donnell, and adds that Irish revolutionists will burn London, and that American Fenians have studied minutely the operations to be carried on by them.

Murdered While Asleep.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., January 6.—Benson Hawkins, an old and well-to-do farmer, living alone in South Bristol, was found dead in bed. His head and face were horrible mutilated. Robbery was the motive of the murder. A man named Francis was arrested.

Killed by a Train.

ELMIRA, N. Y., January 6.—Miss Clara Thurston, sister of Judge A. S. Thurston, aged eighty-three, formerly a prominent educator and author, many years a principal of Thurston's Female Seminary, was killed by the cars while on her way to church this morning.

Injured by a Mob.

MOUNT CARMEL, PA., January 6.—Jacob Sharkley, John Glenter, and child were seriously injured by a drunken mob in a Hungarian boarding-house. The mob attacked the house, breaking the doors and windows. Several were arrested.

Delmonico Missing.

NEW YORK, January 6.—Mr. Charles Delmonico, the restaurateur, left his home at noon on Saturday, unattended, and up to midnight to-night he had not returned, and his relatives had been unable to discover his whereabouts. He had been for some time confined to his house by illness.

Lacerated by a Tiger.

PHILADELPHIA, January 6.—While feeding animals in the winter quarters of Forepaugh's Circus, Abraham Scriber was seized by a tiger and before it could be beaten off, the flesh on his arms and body was dreadfully lacerated.

Fatal Accident.

ERIE, PENN., January 6.—To-day, while passing near a bridge, William Raynor, engineer on the Nickel-Plate Road, looked out of his cab window, when his head struck an abutment, and he was fatally injured.

Murder in Texas.

MARSHALL, January 6.—Tom Marshall shot Joe Neroe through the brain here yesterday afternoon on account of scandulous remarks by Neroe about Marshall's wife. Both are negroes.

Prisoners Suffocated.

ST. LOUIS, January 6.—A brief report from Jerseyville, Ill., says: The Courthouse and jail burned to-night. Four prisoners in the latter were suffocated to death.

ALDEN SPEARE has given $40,000 to found a Professorship in the Boston University.

EMPLOYES of the Post-office Department have been forbidden to purchase lottery tickets, upon pain of dismissal.

UNDER the new management, the office of the Northern Pacific will be removed from New York to St. Paul, and steps taken to prevent wanton speculation in the stock.

THE pig-iron men are talking of forming an association similar to the whisky pool.

—A rural resident who thinks it does not pay to take a newspaper was offered a five-dollar sheet of three-cent stamps the other day for $4.75, and jumped at the chance to make a quarter. He has the stamps yet, and will be likely to keep them, as two-centers are more popular just now.—Philadelphia Call.

—Barnum made his will recently, and summoned three physicians to certify on the document that he was of sound mind.—N. Y. Sun.

GOVERNOR KNOTT'S MESSAGE.

Important Points of the Document—He Discusses the Financial Condition of the State, the Penitentiary, Capitol Buildings, Education, Lawlessness, and Other Matters.

The Governor, in his message, said of the finances of the State:

At the close of the fiscal year ending October 10, 1881, there was in the Treasury to the credit of the revenue proper, and available for the ordinary expenditures of the State Government, a balance of $51,118.28; but as the loan of $300,000, which had been negotiated under the provisions of the act of 1880, in order to meet a previous deficiency, had not been paid, there was really a deficit at that time of $248,881.72. * * *

There has been no change in the condition of the Sinking Fund since the last session of the General Assembly. The bonded debt of the State, as then, consists of a hundred and seventy-four six per cent. military bonds amounting to $174,000, besides $6,394 in old railroad scrip, and bonds of 1835 and 1841, which have been so long overdue and unheard of for so many years, that they are supposed to have been long since lost or destroyed and will probably never be presented for redemption. The resources of the Sinking Fund are also substantially as at that time. Cash in the Treasury, June 30, 1883, $174,002 30; four hundred and six shares of stock in the Bank of Louisville, quoted at the close of the last fiscal year at $31,262, and stock in turnpikes estimated at $500,000, amounting in all to $705,266 30.

Touching the Penitentiary, the Governor says: It is in excellent condition. In fact, certain unfavorable circumstances considered, such as its unsuitable location, the defective plans of some of its buildings, and the inadequacy of its capacity to the number of convicts, for which, of course, the present management is in nowise responsible, it will compare favorably with any similar institution in the United States * * *

The Hospital, under the auspices of a skillful and conscientious physician, is a model of neatness, quiet and order, and the library well furnished with instructive and entertaining books. The convicts are bountifully fed, comfortably clothed, moderately worked, perform their allotted tasks with cheerfulness, and but rarely subject themselves to punishment by a breach of prison discipline.

It is said, indeed, that many prefer employment outside, as it has less the appearance of prison life perhaps, and, by improving their time after the accomplishment of their weekly tasks, they are frequently able to earn considerable wages, which they may transmit to their families or save until the expiration of their respective terms. But it is not to be expected, from the very nature of things, that they can be furnished with as comfortable quarters, and from that fact alone, as well as from the vicissitudes of the weather to which they are constantly exposed, and the numerous casualties incident to the occupations in which they are engaged, they must necessarily be subjected to a greater amount of disease and a higher rate of mortality than those who are kept within the prison walls. Hence it is not surprising that the statistics show the death rate among those who have been employed outside the walls from May, 1880, to November, 1883, to have been three and sixty-eight one hundreths as against one and three-tenths per cent. on the inside.

Not a single convict who has been sentenced to hard labor in the Penitentiary would be found at work upon a contract outside of its walls to-day, but for the fact that there is not sufficient room inside for his proper accommodation or profitable employment. But this make-shift must necessarily be merely temporary. Whether it is just or unjust, legal or illegal, humane or inhumane, it will ultimately have to be abandoned, and that, perhaps, in the near future.

To turn them back into a prison where the cell accommodations are only sufficient for seven hundred and forty-four would be barbarous beyond expression. The spectacle of over a thousand human beings, comprising all ages and conditions of criminal life, from the beardless boy, convicted of some petty infraction of the penal code, to the hoary-headed, heartless villain, who plumes himself upon the commission of every crime that a diabolic ingenuity could conceive or a fiendish depravity execute, all pent up in quarters scarce sufficient for half their number, ill-fed, ill-clothed, reeking in filth, festering with disease, concocting conspiracies, encouraging each other in vices the most disgusting and destructive, and gloating in practices too brutal to mention, would be a blot upon our civilization too hideous to contemplate.

There is no alternative but to increase our Penitentiary accommodations. It is a work which must be done sooner or later. The necessity for it is too obvious for further comment, and that necessity can neither be lessened nor obviated by delay.

I would call your attention, also, in this connection, to the condition of the Capitol, with that of its adjacent buildings and grounds, and suggest the propriety of your taking some timely action in relation thereto.

The main building, as you will probably find by experience, is extremely incommodious for the transaction of a great deal of the ordinary business of legislation, as it does not contain a single committee room, nor an apartment for the accommodation of the presiding officer of either branch of your honorable body. The eastern wing of the proposed extension is still incomplete, and the building occupying the site of the proposed western wing is in a very dilapidated condition, besides being extremely liable at any time to fire; while the grounds, for want of proper police surveillance, are the constant scene of almost every description of nuisance.

The State Guard consists of three regiments of infantry, embracing one company of dismounted cavalry, one detached company of infantry, and two batteries of artillery, with an aggregate numerical strength in officers and men of 1,036, of whom, however, only about 700 can be relied upon as effective.

The school census, white and colored, and the corresponding apportionments out of the School Fund for the payment of teachers and Commissioners, for the year ending June 30, 1884, are as follows:

Whole number of white pupil children	500,824
Whole number of colored pupil children	92,470
Total	593,294
Apportioned to white children, $1 40 per capita	$701,153 60
Apportionment to colored children, $1 40 per capita	129,458 00
Total	$830,611 60
Amount apportioned to Commissioners	42,089 11
Grand total	$872,089 71

I desire to place on record an emphatic and indignant contradiction of the slanderous accusation so frequently repeated, with the view of diverting immigration from our State, that there is such a lawless contempt for human life among our people as to render it unsafe or undesirable for the settler from other lands to make his home in their midst. To show the grossness of this fashionable falsehood, appeal need only be made to the thousands of prosperous immigrants whose peaceful firesides and happy households attest the fact that there is as much regard for human life in our State as in any country beneath the sun. That homicides occur in our midst is not to be denied; but that murders, or even unprovoked assaults, are more frequent in Kentucky than elsewhere, is utterly untrue, as is attested not only by the criminal statistics of the country, but by the experience of the hundreds whose business requires them to travel constantly through all parts of the State, and to mingle with all classes of its population. One of the most distinguished journalists of England recently gave it as his deliberate opinion, after a careful study of all facts attainable from statistics, as well as from personal observation during two extended tours through the State, that human life is just as safe in Kentucky as in Great Britain.

—George Severson recently came across a cinnamon bear near Owego, in the range of the Lisbon gold discoveries. It was in a thick brush, and George did not see it till he came upon it and it growled at him, which made his hair rise right up. He put eight bullets into it before he dared venture within its reach. It had been seen frequently and had done a good deal of mischief. It should not be supposed, however, that bears are common in the prairie region of Dakota. Deer are quite numerous.—Denver Tribune.

THE COMMONWEALTH.

Legislative Proceedings.

FRANKFORT, December 31.—SENATE.—The Senate met at 12 o'clock, and was opened with prayer by Elder Dorsie, of the Christian Church. Lieut. Gov. Hindman presided. The new Senators were sworn in by Judge A. E. Richards, of the Superior Court. Mr. W. V. Prather was elected Chief Clerk and Mr. G. W. Reeves as Assistant Clerk. An election for Sergeant-at-Arms resulted in favor of Captain B. W. Jenkins. A motion to adjourn until 3 o'clock was carried. The Senate met at 3 o'clock and proceeded to ballot for Doorkeeper, which resulted in favor of Colonel Fry Lawrence. Senator Clark, of Pendleton, asked that indefinite leave of absence be granted to Senator Walton, of Hart, and it was granted. After the passage of a resolution appointing the Chair and Senators Clark, Campbell, Cox and D. L. Moore a committee to report upon the advisability of changing the seats and the manner of choosing them, the Senate adjourned until Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock.

HOUSE.—At twelve o'clock to-day the House was called to order by E. Polk Johnson, the Secretary, and all the one hundred members composing that body responded to their names except one. The members were sworn in by Judge Reid, Chief-Justice of the Superior Court, and the House then adjourned until ten o'clock to-morrow morning.

FRANKFORT, January 2.—SENATE.—Little was done except confirming the appointment of a number of notaries by the Governor. The appointment of James A. McKenzie as Secretary of State was referred to the Committee on Executive Affairs. Standard time and the rules of the last Senate were adopted, and after providing itself with newspapers and public documents, adjourned until to-morrow.

HOUSE.—The House met at 10 o'clock. The organization was completed by the election of Robert Tyler as Doorkeeper, and appointing the usual committees to wait on the Senate and Governor and inform them of their organization. The subject of seats was referred to the Committee on Rules. The Governor's message was then read. The number of pages was fixed at six. House adjourned until to-morrow at 10 o'clock.

Miscellaneous Items.

THE St. Louis Air-Line railroad made a fast run with a special train a few days since. They left Rockport at 12 o'clock, noon, and arrived at Louisville at 3:30 p. m., having made the run of 106 miles in three hours and thirty minutes.

The young men of Harrodsburg, backed by the business men of the place, have organized a Democratic newspaper, to be issued on or before February 1, 1884. It will be Democratic, and has an assured subscription of one thousand for the first issue. The paper will be styled Harrodsburg Democrat, and will be issued weekly. Mr. W. W. Stevenson was elected business manager.

MISS SWIMM, whose home is in Louisville, was going to Frenchburg Menifee County, a few days ago, to return to her school, and while crossing Beaver creek her horse fell, throwing her into the rapid running water about waist deep. She was drowned before help could reach her. A little girl riding behind her caught the reins and was drawn to the shore.

A TREMENDOUS gas-well has been struck at Warfield, Martin County. It is on the Tug Fork of the Big Sandy. It is estimated that the flow of gas is sufficient to light a large city and drive all its machinery.

AT a shooting in Breathitt County, a few days ago, Jerry South Jr. and young Brown were attacked by two men named Sewell and Smith. Smith and Brown were badly shot to pieces and will probably die.

BURGLARS broke into McCloskey's grocery at Mt. Sterling, a few days since and took $100 in cash.

ISHMAIL BELL, alias Bigers, colored, was arrested a few days since, on a charge of raping Carrie Stevens, of color, on Plum Lick, Montgomery County, and lodged in jail. This is the same Bell who was released from prison in November because the grand jury failed to find sufficient evidence to indict him for attempt at rape and house-breaking at the house of Gatson. Bell is a bad man, and there is much indignation against him in the neighborhood.

STOUT HIGGINS and Thos. Haynes, prominent men in the State, met in the depot at Greendale Station, Fayette County, the other day, and soon had their pistols out. Several shots were fired and both men are dangerously wounded. The quarrel between them grew out of statements made on the witness stand in a recent slander suit.

JULES ELLIS, a colored fugitive from justice, was captured by officers Mauer and Handel a few mornings ago, at the corner of Seventh and Scott streets, Covington. Ellis is the fellow who, some months ago, beat his mistress, Anna porter, in a terrible manner with a slung-shot. Jealously was the cause of the trouble. After the affair Ellis fled, and since then had been lying low.

THE dead body of a negro man named John Burton has been found on Silvery Creek, near Bogils Mills. He was very drunk on Christmas day when last seen alive, and it is supposed that he fell by the wayside that night, which was a very cold one, and was frozen to death.

NEAR Kingston, Madison County, on the 2d, two colored boys, aged seventeen years, named Yates and Gibbs were scuffling, when a pistol which one of them had was accidentally discharged, killing Gibbs instantly.

THE three children of Mr. Joe Bunch, a prominent citizen of Simpson County, engaged in sport in the absence of their parents the other day. The oldest, who is about nine years old, went to a drawer and took therefrom a loaded pistol. He was fooling with the pistol, which accidentally exploded and killed the baby in the cradle.

THE internal revenue collections in the Seventh Kentucky District for each month of 1883 are shown below: January, $158,872.67; February, $177,612.84; March, $246,843.01; April, $210,851.73; May, $247,282.42; June, $183,254.08; July, $215,109.74; August, $187,482.97; September, $171,186.98; October, $162,574.24; November $176,585.34; December, $199,650.93; total, $2,336,756.89. The importance of the whisky interest here is shown by the fact that 95 per cent. of this amount was paid on that product.

W. W. CRAIL, aged seventy, the veteran printer of Louisville, died in that city a few days since. He had been identified with the newspapers of Louisville for near half a century. He was born in Weeling, W. Va.

A SAD and fatal accident occurred on the farm of Judge A. J. Ewing about two miles from Owingsville, on the 1st. A young man named Bob Vaugh was cutting cord-wood, and had felled a large tree, which lodged against a sapling some twenty feet from the ground, and while endeavoring to extricate the tree from this position it fell on him, killing him instantly. His head and body was fearfully mashed up.

MR. DAVID SHAW, an old and widely-known citizen of Campbell County, died a few evenings since at his late home in Alexandria. The deceased was eighty-eight years old and a native of that county.

THE DAIRY.

—An Orange County (N. Y.) dairyman has tested the matter, and found that his milk, sold at three-and-a-half cents per quart, was as good as butter—allowing twelve quarts of milk for a pound of butter—at twenty-eight cents per pound.

—If you don't believe that it is the salt in butter that causes it to present a mottled appearance just take a sharp pointed knife and dig a little out of a dark spot and taste it, then try some taken from a light-colored spot and see if one sample does not taste much more salt than the other. If this experiment is satisfactory then work the butter over gently and the mottled appearance will be gone.—Exchange.

Aerated Milk.

We are asked whether it will pay to aerate milk by forcing air through it, and whether the benefit is sufficient to warrant farmers in buying machines for that purpose.

It improves milk to aerate by exposing to the air in any way, either for cheese making, butter making or family use. Where cheese is made by the old acid process, in which the curd is kept in the whey until the whey becomes sour, it would pay the farmers and all concerned to both air and cool their milk before sending it to the factory. Keeping the curd in the whey till it becomes so stale as to be sour, intensifies the bad odors contained in the milk and fastens them in the curd, to the detriment of the cheese. Hence the importance of removing the odors as far as possible before curding the milk. In the far more modern and improved process of manufacture, in which the curd is separated from the whey before it becomes sour, though the milk would be all the better for airing, there is not the same necessity for aeration that there is under the acid process. The odors can be more conveniently and effectually removed by airing the curd. If cheese is made on the Cheddar plan and the curd taken from the whey before it becomes sour, it may be packed for an hour and a half where it will keep well drained and warm, and if then ground and exposed to the air all the foreign odors which could be removed from the milk will be more effectually exhausted by airing the curd than they could by airing the milk, and at the same time greatly improve the quality of the cheese by the aeration of the curd. The cheese will be better for three hours' airing, but, unless very foul, the bad odors will all pass off in less time.

Where the Cheddar mode of making is not in use, the curd should still be taken from the whey just before souring, and the airing begun at once, the curd being put into the sink and stirred enough to prevent it from adhering and forming into large lumps. If a little salt is sprinkled on to the curd as soon as the whey is drained off, after being put into the sink, it will very much reduce the labor of keeping the curd fine and will do no harm. The salting may be finished just before pressing. The more the curd is stirred, and the finer and warmer it is kept, the more readily and completely will it be purified of bad odors and the finer will be the resulting cheese. The Canadian cheese which took the sweepstakes and gold medal at the Centennial was made in this way, and kept very fine, and was stirred and aired till night.

There is no reliance to be placed on farmers airing milk. Not more than one in ten can, from any consideration, be induced to undertake it, and those who do seldom do it effectually. The maker will find it less labor to do the work himself than getting his patrons to do it, and then he will find it very much better to air the curd without airing the milk, than to air the milk without airing the curd.—Live Stock Journal.

The Milk Room.

It is very difficult if not impossible to make good butter without having a good milk room. All the other conditions may be good, but if the milk be set in a room that the temperature is not right, or the air bad, the result will be poor butter. This fact is too often overlooked, but not as frequently as formerly. It is now very generally known that to make good butter milk must not be kept in the same room with boiled vegetables or other cooked food; but it is not so generally understood as it should be, that the milk room should not be where there is any chance for disagreeable odors to come from adjoining rooms. Too many settle down to the idea that if they have a room expressly for milk, it is all that is required, but this is a mistake, the milk room should be so far away from the cook room that it will be impossible for the odors which arise while cooking to enter it though the door be opened.

If the farmer smokes tobacco he should be very careful never to smoke even in a room adjoining the milk room, or to go into the milk room after smoking until the odor of the tobacco is out of his clothing, which, if he smokes very often, will not be until he gets a new suit. There are but few substances that absorb odors so readily as milk, therefore the milk room should be located where the atmosphere is perfectly pure.

Having secured good air the next condition that is desirable is an even temperature. In the winter measures should be taken to keep the room from being too cold, and in the summer too hot. It is much easier to keep a room warm in winter than cool in summer, unless the location is where a stream of cool water can be kept running through it; but as there are few locations where this is practicable, other means must be resorted to, the most available of which is ice. We have seen milk rooms kept a very even temperature during the hottest weather by having ice at the top of the room in shallow zinc pans, the ice being broken in lumps the size of a half pound lump of butter. The water should be taken from the pans as fast as the ice melts, being conveyed in pipes to another pan below, with an overflow pipe to take the water from the top of the lower pan as fast as it fills, thus carrying off the warmest portion of the water.—Massachusetts Ploughman.

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

IN the United States, 2,000 persons committed suicide and 175 were hung by mobs during 1883.

THE fastest steamship time, made recently, between England and New Zealand is forty days and nine hours.

THE project of flooding the Sahara Desert is up again, but only in theory. It is as slow in getting started as Keely's motor.

QUARTZ has been shown at Virginia City that has formed within the last fifteen years among the timbers in the Yellow Jacket mine.

BARNUM has made his will, distributing some $10,000,000 of property, and has called in physicians to certify to his sanity, so as to prevent forthcoming litigation.

CALIFORNIA, the land of big vegetables, has a seventeen-year-old boy who is seven feet in height, weighs two hundred pounds, and is growing fast. He lives on a farm near San Francisco.

A CHAIN now being made at the Chain Works, Troy, New York, is to be six miles long. It is being made of two-inch iron rod, and is intended for some Government project not stated.

A FASHION lately introduced in Nice is one that can only be followed by the very well-to-do. It is a parasol made of flowers, which are woven together over the ribs, with a silk lining.

THE mortality from snake bites in India is appalling. Over 20,000 persons die yearly from this cause. A recent report gives deaths from the cobra, 2,690; the krail snake, 359; other snakes, 839; unknown snakes make up the remainder.

THERE are between eight and ten million acres of land unoccupied in Michigan, which, it is said, could be made profitable by agriculture. About 300,000 acres of land in the lower peninsula belong to the United States.

MR. NORMAN LOCKYER has been studying up the recent brilliant sunsets and announces his belief that they are caused by the late earthquakes in Java. In this part of the world it was supposed that these chromatic evening displays were caused by the sun.

THE first systematic census taken in the United States enrolled 3,929,827 persons, 700,000 of whom were slaves. The census was taken in 1790 at a cost of about $44,377, and was the first census ever taken by order of any government in the world.

THE whale fisheries, that were overworked on this coast one hundred years ago, are now being revived, the animal having appeared again. Within a year, several new species of whales have been discovered by the lifeboatmen of the Jersey coast.

A GOLD nugget, 92 per cent. pure metal and valued at $220, was picked up recently at Spitzkoff, in the Transvaal. The London Times remarks that if "finds" of this sort multiply "it may be safely predicted that the Boers will have to face an invasion vastly more formidable than British troops."

IN many of the Government bureaus women work side by side with men, at precisely the same duties, and with at least equal capacity and fidelity, and yet receive considerably less pay, simply and solely because of their sex. The Brooklyn Union calls upon Congress, in the name of the Civil Service Reform, to correct the injustice.

THE Museum of Natural History, Central Park, New York, is forming a collection of woods and stones for the benefit of mechanics and builders. Sections of every known tree are to be shown, polished and in the rough, accompanied by paintings of the fruit, leaves and flowers. This latter work is done by the wife of Professor Sargeant, of Boston, who has the undertaking in hand.

ANOTHER ascent to the summit of Popocatepetl was recently made by N. S. Beekly, of Philadelphia; A. D. Denis and Alex Moulton, of New Orleans; Chas. Brunt, of Peoria, and O. M. Gove, of Boston. A large number of excellent photographic views were secured, higher up than the attempt was ever made before.

SAYS a Philadelphia pawnbroker: "The great craze this year is to get rid of watch chains. People of fashion don't carry them nearly so much as they did. Some years ago every one sold out scarf-pins, now they are coming in again. Gold studs are going out, and those that are not held by speculators to await a changing fashion find their way into the melting pot."

A LARGE sum of money, $5,348,223, has been expended for public and private charities in New York City during the past year. In four years the expenditures in that city for that purpose have increased thirty-one per cent., and in the same time in Brooklyn they have increased nearly seventy per cent. The per capita expenditure in Brooklyn, however, is now only $2.83, while it is $4.11 in New York.

THE RECORDER.

RIDDELL & HALL,
Proprietors.

BURLINGTON, KY. JAN. 9. 1883.

ADVERTISING RATES.

1 Column	1 year	$ 80
1 "	½ "	40
½ "	½ "	20
¼ "	1 "	20
¼ "	½ "	10
⅛ "	½ "	6

For announcing candidates. $5. Obituary poetry, 5 cents per line. Obituary notices 20 lines free; over that number (except the announcement of the death) 3 cents per line.
Tributes of respect from lodges, &c., $1 50

RATES OF SUBSCRIPTION.

One year	$1 50
Six months	75
Three months	40

UNCLE MILT was on the field to see the Legislature organize.

THE widow of Spencer Fish is a candidate for State Librarian.

THE friends of Gen. Williams held a caucus Monday night, and are very sanguine of success.

BOONE commenced the New Year with an empty Jail and beneficiaries in the Poor-House.

A MAJORITY of the able-bodied men in Louisville were candidates for positions on the police force.

THE Legislature is divided into fops, pop guns, dudes and gentlemen, the latter class being in the minority.

A horse and wagon were stolen from some one at Florence Monday night. We did not learn the particulars.

A BRANCH penitentiary is a certainty if ever Kentucky has a Legislature the majority of which is ex-Governors.

CHAS. OFFUTT, the Speaker of the House of Representatives is a Bourbon county man, and is only twenty-eight years old.

THE terms of twenty-five United States Senators will expire in 1885, of whom fourteen are Democrats and eleven Republicans.

THE highest speed attained on railways in England is 65½ miles an hour; in France, Germany and America it reaches 62½ miles.

LOUISVILLE is well pleased with her treatment in the organization of the General Assembly. She got a lion's share of the offices.

HON. N. S. WALTON stuck to Owens, of Scott county, till the last, in his race for Speaker of the lower branch of the Legislature.

THE Legislature convened ten days ago, and nothing has been done yet, but the machinery is all adjusted and the mill will now commence grinding.

GOV. KNOTT did not refer to the Lexington Asylum trouble in his message. Guess he thinks that that little affair over at Lexington is his business and no-body else's.

ONE of the Senators wanted the Senate to meet at early dawn, and the members to bring their dinner with them. That fellow has commenced his buncombe work early in the session.

HON. JOHN G. CARLISLE occupies the Speaker's chair in the National House of Representatives, while one of his law students occupies the corresponding position in the Kentucky General Assembly.

MANY dark horses are mentioned in connection with the Senatorial race now on at Frankfort, and of the number any one of them, except Isaac Caldwell, is far preferable to Williams or Blackburn.

TAKING into consideration the amount of taxable property in Boone and the amount of revenue she pays into the State Treasury, her per cent. of taxation is largely above an average when compared with that of other counties.

To do all that Governor Knott thinks needs doing will take the Legislature till this time next year; but the boys will skip some of the work, take a few drinks, and try and get home in time to assist their old ladies and sons to plant another "crap."

LOUISVILLE presents a horrible result of letting children handle fire-arms. An eleven-year old lad accidentally shot and killed his sister there last Saturday. The pistol was discharged in his father's store where his sister was waiting on a customer.

THE delay in the ballotting for United States Senator is claimed to be in opposition to the interest of Gen. Willliams. It is very strange that with the number of able men Kentucky has, such a candidate as Gen. Williams is allowed to cut any figure in the Senatorial contest.

SOME of the old members of the Legislature have commenced predicting a long, tedious session. They see that the body is afflicted with too many members who like to make a big show by useless harangues on every occasion they can obtain a recognition by the Speaker.

IT is announced from Washington that the Indiana Democrats will nominate Vorhees or Holman for Governor. The New York Sun having gone back on Mr. Holman for the presidency, on the plea that he is too good a man to be defeated, can now boost him with all its might for the chief magistrate of his own State.

A DAY or two previous to his departure for Frankfort, Hon. N. S. Walton received a pass which entitled him to a free ride over any railroad in the State. Mr. Walton was not in need of such generosity from the railroad companies, so he returned the pass to those who mailed it and goes to and from Frankfort in a legitimate manner.

ONE Senator objected to a resolution providing for the revision of the State Constitution on the ground that the action contemplated by the resolution would be unconstitutional, and as he had taken an oath to support the Constitution of Kentucky he would oppose the resolution. If that man can support the Constitution of Kentucky he can do something no other living man can.

OF the one hundred and sixteen counties in the State, eighty-three receive more money from the common school fund than they pay into it. There are ten counties which pay $7,286 82 school tax into the treasury, and receive back $25,698 13. Last year the white school commissioners absorbed $43,182 11, while teachers received $650,312 31 for services. This shows the taxpayers what becomes of the school tax they pay.

THERE are several candidates for the office of Public Printer, and probably of the lot there is but one that is prepared to execute the work. Of course each one promises if elected to do the work, but the Legislature, a few sessions since, elected a Public Printer without resources, and a tremendous howl went up when he made arrangements for the work to be done, his name being the only capital he had invested.

THE Louisville Commercial's ferocious attack on these members of the General Assembly who are non-committal in the Senatorial race, is in very bad taste. A member has a perfect right to refuse to commit himself, especially when there are possibilities for contingencies that may make another than either of the present candidates his choice. The Commercial would have a happy time trying to sustain a charge that these members are waiting to be "fixed."

IT is said that Gen. Grant never forgets nor forgives, and therefore he is very bitter toward President Arthur who refused to give Beale, one of his bosom friends, a cabinet position when requested by him. General Grant thought that it was only necessary to name his man and the office, and he was wonderfully surprised when Chandler, his bitter enemy, was appointed Secretary of the Navy instead of Beale. No encouragement there for Arthur in his Presidential hunt.

GOVERNOR KNOTT'S message, which is too lengthy for us to publish in full, is a State paper full of information given in the most comprehensive terms. When he treats of a subject he goes to the bottom of it and supports his position with facts.

He shows that the State owes a bank debt of $500,000, and that there is at present no prospect of its being paid, as the resources of the Treasury, after defraying the other necessary expenses of the Government, are only sufficient to pay the expenses of the biennial sessions of the Legislature.

The Governor deplores the fact that the State has to borrow money, and thinks that the Legislature will "render the Commonwealth a most valuable service by adopting such measures as will speedily relieve its people from the burden of an unnecessary debt, and its Treasury from the stigma of an annually recurring deficit." He then proceeds to show up the defects in the system of assessing property for taxation, and the unequal manner in which the burden of the taxes are distributed, making the deduction "that with anything like a just and reasonable assessment of the taxable property in the State, we would be able in a short time to extinguish the debt due the bank, and at the same time meet all the legitimate expenses of the Government, and that at greatly reduced rate of taxation."

The Governor is evidently recommending the proper thing when he recommends that the various lottery companies in the State be required to contribute to the State. These sharks if allowed to do business at all should be made to pay well for the privilege.

The review of the revenue department closes by recommending that 2½ cents on the $100 of taxable property be added to the present rate of taxation. This is one paragraph in the message to which a demurer will be entered by the taxpayers, who think they are paying a heavy tax.

The Governor advocates the building of a branch penitentiary in the western part of the State, as the best way out of trouble which the Legislature has been evading for several years. He argues that a branch penitentiary can be built for less than the present one can be enlarged and put in proper shape.

In referring to the Capitol he says; "The main building, as you will probably find by experience, is extremely incommodious for the transaction of a great deal of the ordinary business of legislation, as it does not contain a single committee room, nor an apartment for the accommodation of the presiding officers of either branch of your honorable body. The eastern wing of the proposed extension is still incomplete, and the building occupying the side of the proposed western wing is in a very dilapidated condition, besides being extremely liable at any time to fire; while the grounds, for the want of proper police surveillance, are the constant scene of almost every description of nuisance. If the present Capital is to remain our Seat of Government, it seems to me that a prudent economy, if no other consideration, would dictate the immediate inauguration of measures looking to the completion and preservation of our public buildings. If it is to be removed, the sooner the question is settled the better, as procrastination in this, as in all other cases, so far from curing, only tends to aggravate the evil."

The message contains several recommendations for liberal appropriations for the various charitable institutions that are maintained by the State, and concludes with a well timed reference to lawlessness in the State.

THE Speaker assigned Hon. N. S. Walton to two committees: Immigration and Labor, and Insurance.

Barton W. Jones killed a Poland China hog 18 months old that netted 501 pounds. Bart also says he killed one that had two hearts and two melts.—Owen News.

For Sale.

Pure Jersey Cattle, Bronze Turkeys and Plymouth Rock Chickens; also eggs in season. HENRY TUCKER, Union, Ky.

Posted.

Notice is hereby given that our lands in Boone county, are posted and all persons are warned not trespass thereon.
MRS. E. J. PIATT, JOHN McCONNEL.
Miss Julia S. Dinsmore.

For Rent.

A good hotel, paying bar attached. Also a good stable. ... the J. P. Snyder property in Florence. Call on Mrs. S. Snyder, Florence, Ky. 7-4t

Administrator's Notice,

Those having claims against the estate of W. S. Ryle, dec'd., are hereby notified to present the same, proven as by law required, to the undersigned before December 25th, '83. B. H. STEPHENS, Adm'r.

For Sale.

A dwelling with 6 rooms, and 15 acres of land at Rabbit Hash, Ky. On this land is a good orchard, barn and other conveniencies. Also a never falling well. Address B. F. BELL, Rabbit Hash, Ky.

For Sale.

House and lot in Hebron, Boone county, Kentucky. This is a very comfortable house located near the center of the town. The lot contains one acre. For further particulars call on or address LYSTRA AYLOR, Hebron, Ky.

Notice.

Notice is hereby given that the undersigned has been duly appointed and qualified as assignee in trust for the benefit of the creditors of Wm. N. Aylor. All persons indebted to said assignor will make immediate payment, and creditors will present their claims duly proven according to law to the undersigned at No. 7 Pike Str., Covington, Ky. R. L. CRIGLER,
5-4t Assignee.

For Rent.

35 acres of land adjoining Lewisburg, Kenton county, Ky., 10 acres of which is fine tobacco land. On this land is a pear orchard of about 400 trees, select varieties. This land is all well suited for gardening or other tillage, and has on it a good house and other suitable conveniencies for a family residence—Enquire of RUFUS LIGHT, on the premises.

8

FOR tremulousness, wakefulness, dizziness, and lack of energy, a most valuable remedy is Brown's Iron Bitters.

OTTUMWA, IA.—Dr. J. N. Armstrong says: "I have used Brown's Iron Bitters in my family and recommend its use to others."

JEFFERSON CITY, MO.—Dr. J. C. Riddler says: "Persons who use Brown's Iron Bitters always speak well of it. It is a good medicine."

THE Weekly Globe,

From now until March 5, '85

ONLY $1.00

With 8 pages, 56 columns, every week, THE GLOBE will strive vigorously to elect a Democratic President and to make the Best Family Newspaper in the World. It asks no person to subscribe without examining a sample copy and judging of its merits for himself. Is not that fairest? Send for a free sample copy and you will receive just the kind of a weekly you are trying to find. Only $1 00 for the Presidential campaign, Address THE WEEKLY GLOBE, Boston, Mass.

THE CINCINNATI Weekly News!

A NATIONAL
METROPOLITAN JOURNAL,
Full Of Enterprise.

PEOPLE!

EIGHT PAGES—SIXTY-Four Pages
Containing all the News, correct Market Reports, well selected Miscellany, brilliant Stories—in fact, the favorite Weekly Paper of the Central United States.

—PUBLISHED BY THE—
Cincinnati News Publishing Co.
AT THE FOLLOWING
LOW RATES OF SUBSCRIPTION.

THE WEEKLY NEWS with one of Dore's Celebrated Works,
"Christ Leaving the Prætorium," "Christ Entering Jerusalem,"

These engravings of Dore's fame historical paintings are the best and most perfect reprints by the Foreign Art Reproducing Company, and can not be purchased as orignal plates for less than $40 each in Europe. They are in size 23x36 in. and are direct copies, preserving every line and detail
OF THE ENGLISH $40 ENGRAVINGS.

These pictures are suitable to adorn the parlor of any gentleman. As a
Premium Supplement!

A Single Copy, three months	$0 40
A Single copy, six months	60
A Single copy, one year	1 00
A club of 10 copies to 1 P. O. 1 year	9 00
A club of 20 copies to 1 P. O. 1 year	17 00

And large clubs at 85c per copy per annum

Postmasters and other agents will be allowed 15 per cent on full rate (not club) subscribers.

The premium engravings will be mailed about the first of each month to the subscribers entitled to receive them.

As a premium offer it is confidently claimed that its equal was never before made, and would not be possible in this case except for the method adopted by the Foreign Art Reproducing Company to advertise its work.

Do not fail to avail yourself of the opportunity by sending your name and address, with one dollar enclosed, to
THE CINCINNATI WEEKLY NEWS.

Master Commissioner's Notice.

Boone Circuit Court.
George W. Brown, Plff. vs John Masters, &c., Dfts. } In Equity

The parties to this action are hereby notified that the undersigned, as Master Commissioner of said Court, will on the 10th day of January 1884, at the Circuit Clerk's office in Burlington begin his sittings in this case, and take and hear such proof as may be offered by the parties, and that he will adjourn from Wednesday to Wednesday, to and including the first Wednesday in March 1884.

Given under my hand, as Master Commissioner aforesaid, this 3d day of January 1884. W. L. RIDDELL, M C B C C

COMMISSIONER'S NOTICE.

Boone Circuit Court, Ky.
J. D. Willis', Admr., Plff. vs Virginia B. Willis, &c. Defts. } in equity

The parties to this action are hereby notified that the undersigned, as Master Commissioner of said Court, will, on the 10th day of Janunry 1884, at the Circuit Clerk's office in Burlington begin his sitting in this case and take and hear such proof as may be offered by the parties, and that he will adjourn from Wednesday to Wednesday, to and including the first Wednesday in March 1884.

Given under my hand, as Master Commissioner aforesaid, this 3d day of January 1884. W. L. RIDDELL, M C B C C

NO NEW THING.
STRONG'S SANATIVE PILLS

Used throughout the country
FOR OVER 40 YEARS,
And thus proved
The Best Liver Medicine in the World.

No Griping, Poisonous Drugs, but purely Vegetable, safe and reliable. Prescribed even by Physicians. A speedy cure for Liver Complaint, Regulating the Bowels, Purifying the Blood, Cleansing from Malarial Taint. A perfect cure for Sick Headache, Constipation and all Billious Disorders. Sold by Druggists. For Pamphlets, etc., address C. E. HULL & CO., 18 Cedar St., N. Y. City.

Public Sale.

I will sell to the highest bidder at my residence 1 mile south of Bellevue, on the Ohio river, on Wednesday, Jan'y., 16,

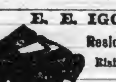
All of my personal property:
Consisting of Horses, Mules, Sheep, Cattle, 1 Binder, Drill, Wagon, Buggy, Harness, Plows, &c., One Palace Organ, and Household and Kitchen Furniture. About 2,000 bushels of corn. I will also offer my farm with privilege of rejecting all bids. Terms made known on day of sale. J. W. RICE.

ROBERT B. REED

Attorney at Law.
OFFICE AT ... UNION, KY.

F. RIDDELL,

ATTORNEY at LAW
BURLINGTON, KY.
Office over Dudley Rouse's Store.



ALBERT W. GAINES,

Attorney and Counselor at Law,
LAWRENCEBURG, - - - IND.
Will practice in the courts of Boone county, Ky., Cincinnati, Ohio, Dearborn and adjoining counties, Ind. dec-6-82

W. E. VEST,

COUNTY SURVEYOR
WALTON, KY.
Is prepared to do all kinds of surveying. All orders sent him through the mail to Walton, will receive his prompt attention.

E. E. IGOE,

Resident Dentist,
Rising Sun, Ind.
with
J. P. Ulrey.
Monday and Tuesday at Rising Sun, Ind.

J. J. Landram. G. G. Hughes.
LANDRAM & HUGHES,
ATTORNEYS at LAW.
Will practice in the Boone Circuit Court and the Court of Appeals. Prompt attention given to Collections, on application to G. G. Hughes, Burlington, Ky.

DR. A. M. HARRY AN

RESIDENT DENTIST,
Aurora, Indiana.
(Office Over Postoffice)
With J P. ULREY.
Dr. ULREY'S days, Wednesday and Saturday. Office open at all hours. 8-ly

E. G. NORMAN, R. E. [illegible]
NORMAN and STEPHENS,
ATTORNEYS at LAW.
UNION, BOONE CO., KY.
Will practice in the Courts of Boone Kenton and adjoining counties. Collections solicited and made throughout the State. 24 tf 81

S. W. TOLIN,

ATTORNEY AT LAW
BURLINGTON, . . . KY
Office in Court-house on 2d floor,
Will manage litigation in any of the Courts of the State, contracts and other legal instruments drawn up at reasonable rates. A prompt and studious attention given to business intrusted to my care. A trial solicited. 12-1y

For Sale.

Fine tobacco land. I have for sale, cheap from One hundred to Six hundred acres of No. 1 tobacco land, lying on the Beaver Lick and Union T. P. road in Boone county, Ky. For particulars call on L. H. Dills at Burlington, Ky., or the undersigned on the premises or address me at Union P. O.
7-4t F. DICKEY.

TWO Farms for Sale.

One contains 36 acres, 9 acres of which is good creek bottom and 27 acres, hill land. This land is under good fence, well set in grass, has lasting water for stock, fine lot of timber, much of which is locust. It is part of the W. B. Ryle homestead, lies on Gunpowder Creek and joins Leander Setters.

The other farm contains 126½ acres, is 2½ miles southwest of Burlington, has all necessary buildings in good repair, fencing good, has a good well and cistern, besides never failing water for stock, a nice young orchard, and some hedge fence. This land is all in grass except 25 acres which were cultivated in corn this year. For terms apply on the last named premises to 6-2m W. S. WHITE.

PATENTS.

For new inventions and novel designs obtained in the United States, Canada and Europe. Trade Marks and Copyright—Labels secured for Merchants and Manufacturers who wish protection against imitators of their goods, packages or articles of manufacture. We are located opposite the United States Patent Office, have quick access to its records, and can give prompt and reliable answers to inquiries. Of our firm one has had thirteen years' practice in the highest courts, another several years as an Assistant Examiner in the United States Patent Office and many years experience as solicitor of American and Foreign Patents. Fee reasonable and full satisfaction or no fee. Best reference given. Our little book "on patents" sent free on receipt of one cent stamp.
W. A. COULTER & CO., Solicitors of Patents,
23 St. Cloud Building, Washington, D. C.

WRIGHT'S INDIAN VEGETABLE PILLS
FOR THE LIVER
And all Billious Complaints
Safe to take, being purely vegetable; no griping. Price 25 cts. All Druggists.

WANTED BOOK Canvassers.
MALE and FEMALE
To engage in the sale of our new and important works of standard character, large profits and immense selling qualities. We offer a permanent and lucrative business. Address
The CINCINNATI PUBLISHING CO.
174 W. Fourth Street, Cincinnati, Ohio.

Free! Cards and Chromos.
We will send free by mail a sample set of our large German, French, and American Chromo Cards, on tinted and gold grounds, with a price list of over 200 different designs, on receipt of a stamp for postage. We will also send free by mail as samples, ten of our beautiful Chromos, on receipt of ten cents to pay for packing and postage; also enclose a confidential price list of our large oil chromos. Agents wanted. Address F. GLEASON & Co., 46 Summer Street, Boston, Mass.

PATENTS

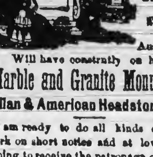
MUNN & CO., of the SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN, continue to act as Solicitors for Patents, Caveats, Trade Marks, Copyrights, for the United States, Canada, England, France, Germany, etc. Hand Book about Patents sent free. Thirty-seven years' experience. Patents obtained through MUNN & CO. are noticed in the SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN, the largest, best, and most widely circulated scientific paper. $3.20 a year. Weekly. Splendid engravings and interesting information. Specimen copy of the Scientific American sent free. Address MUNN & CO., SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN Office, 261 Broadway, New York.

SANITARIUM, Riverside, Cal. The dry climate cures Nose, Throat, Lungs, full idea, 36 p., route, cost, free.

MARRIAGE AND HEALTH GUIDE. 260 pgs. Illustrated.
All that the doubtful curious or thoughtful want to know. Cloth and gilt binding 50 cts, paper 25c, Marriage Guide, 114 p 15c, sent sealed, money or stps, by
DR. WHITTIER 222 RACE STREET, CINCINNATI, OHIO.
The great specialist. Nervous Debility, Impediments to Marriage, Consultation and Pamphlet free.

A. L. Brown,

THE HATTER,



Cor. Pike and Washington Streets
COVINGTON, - - KY.
Has always on hand a large variety of Men's, Boys' and Children's Hats, and prices GUARANTEED to be as low as the lowest.
Gents' Furnishing Goods a Specialty.

W. J. RICE,
CARPENTER & BUILDER,
BULLITSVILLE, KY.
Is prepared Raise or Move
EITHER LOG or FRAME BUILDINGS
On Short Notice,
And at the Lowest Possible Figures.
83-tf Your orders respectfully solicited

LUMBER.

Geo. M. Bedinger & Co.,
Erlanger, - - Ky.

We keep constantly on hand all kinds of Lumber, Laths and Shingles. Also Builder's supplies of all kinds.
—Come and see Us.—
may 9-tf

AURORA MARBLE AND GRANITE WORKS,
Aurora, Ind.
Will have constantly on hand
Marble and Granite Monuments,
Italian & American Headstones, &c
I am ready to do all kinds of Stone Work on short notice and at low prices. Hoping to receive the patronage of Boone County, I am respectfully,
F. W. KASSEBAUM.

INSURE AT HOME
The Farmers' Mutual Fire
INSURANCE COMPANY
Of Boone County
Is now completely organized and receiving applications for insurance.
Its Rates are Lower
Than those of any other Company, and it gives the farmers of Boone County a
HITHERTO UNKNOWN ADVANTAGE
In keeping their property insured.
EVERY FARMER IN THE COUNTY
should take a policy at once.

N. S. WALTON, President, Petersburg, Ky. | J. H. WALTON, Secretary Constance, Ky.
R. RANDALL, Treasury.
DIRECTORS.
LEGRAN GAINES, Jeff Utz,
JNO. M. MOODY.

THE LOUISVILLE WEEKLY
COMMERCIAL.
LIVE, PROGRESSIVE, POPULAR.
The Cheapest and Best Family Newspaper in the South,
ONLY $1.00 A YEAR.
All the News—Agricultural Department—Children's Corner—Complete Market Reports—Sparkling Miscellaney—Thrilling Stories.
INTERESTING, INSTRUCTIVE, USEFUL,
To Old and Young alike. Subscribe for it.

A SPLENDID OFFER
THE

ONLY $3.50.

The New Waterbury Watch, Stem Winding, Nickle Case, handsome, durable and warranted to keep perfect time. RETAIL PRICE THE WORLD OVER, $3.50.
THE COMMERCIAL FOR ONE YEAR AND THIS WATCH FOR ONLY $3.50, THE TWO FOR THE PRICE OF ONE.
The Waterbury Watch Company has a National reputation for making the best cheap Watch in the World, not one is sent from the Factory without having been run for six days and carefully regulated. It runs 27 hours with one winding, and will last for years.
This is the Farmer's Watch, the Miner's Watch, the Laborer's Watch, the Boy's Watch, the School Girl's Watch—in fact, everybody's Watch.
Upon receipt of $3.50 by registered letter or money order, the Watch will be forwarded by mail or express with charges prepaid, and the COMMERCIAL will be mailed regularly for one year, postage free.
ANOTHER OFFER.
For a Club of twelve Subscribers to the WEEKLY COMMERCIAL and $12.00, the getter up of the Club will be presented, all charges prepaid, with one of the Watches, which will cost $3.50 anywhere and everywhere. Send for sample copies and go to work.
Address
THE COMMERCIAL,
LOUISVILLE, KY.

INCORPORATED UNDER THE LAWS OF MISSOURI.
CENTRAL MEDICAL & SURGICAL INSTITUTE
OF ST. LOUIS, MO.
SUCCESSORS TO Dr. BUTTS' DISPENSARY. OFFICE & ROOMS, No. 920 LOCUST ST.
CHAS. L. LABARGE, M.D., Prest & Physician in Charge.
NELSON CHESMAN, Treas. & Business Manager.

This Institute has ample facilities and an experienced Faculty. While it succeeds to a large business, which has been established for years, it will aim to extend its medical and surgical practice, giving skillful and scientific treatment to CHRONIC DISEASES of the Head, Spine, Lungs and Air Passages, Heart, Liver, Stomach and Bowels, Rheumatism, Dyspepsia, Consumption and Asthma.
BLOOD IMPURITIES, Inherited or caused by impure association, Scrofula, Fever Sores, Ulcers, etc.
DEFORMITIES of the Limbs, Spinal Curvature, Wry-Neck, Diseases of the Joints, Piles, Fistula, Rupture, etc.
WEAKNESS and wasting diseases in old and young men, also all diseases of the genito-urinary organs.
FEMALE irregularities and weaknesses, causing pain in the back or side, etc.
Personal interviews with patients are always preferred. Those unable to visit the Institute will be furnished with blank lists of questions that will aid them in making a full statement of their cases and if not requiring a surgical operation they can be successfully treated by correspondence, and medicines sent by mail or express. To enable us to send proper list of questions applicants should give a brief statement of their trouble.
(The Treasurer of the corporation is of Nelson Chesman & Co., Advertising Agents, and refers to the publisher of this or any other newspaper in the United States or Canada regarding responsibility.)
Consultation at Office or by mail free and invited.

AYER'S Hair Vigor

restores, with the gloss and freshness of youth, faded or gray hair to a natural, rich brown color, or deep black, as may be desired. By its use light or red hair may be darkened, thin hair thickened, and baldness often, though not always, cured.

It checks falling of the hair, and stimulates a weak and sickly growth to vigor. It prevents and cures scurf and dandruff, and heals nearly every disease peculiar to the scalp. As a Ladies' Hair Dressing, the VIGOR is unequalled; it contains neither oil nor dye, renders the hair soft, glossy, and silken in appearance, and imparts a delicate, agreeable, and lasting perfume.

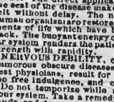
MR. C. P. BRICHER writes from Kirby, O., July 3, 1882: "Last fall my hair commenced falling out, and in a short time I became nearly bald. I used part of a bottle of AYER'S HAIR VIGOR, which stopped the falling of the hair, and started a new growth. I have now a full head of hair growing vigorously, and am convinced that but for the use of your preparation I should have been entirely bald."

J. W. BOWEN, proprietor of the McArthur (Ohio) Enquirer, says: "AYER'S HAIR VIGOR is a most excellent preparation for the hair. I speak of it from my own experience. Its use promotes the growth of new hair, and makes it glossy and soft. The VIGOR is also a sure cure for dandruff. Not within my knowledge has the preparation ever failed to give entire satisfaction."

MR. ANGUS FAIRBAIRN, leader of the celebrated "Fairbairn Family" of Scottish Vocalists, writes from Boston, Mass., Feb. 6, 1880: "Ever since my hair began to give silvery evidence of the change which fleeting time procureth, I have used AYER'S HAIR VIGOR, and so have been able to maintain an appearance of youthfulness—a matter of considerable consequence to ministers, orators, actors, and in fact every one who lives in the eyes of the public."

MRS. O. A. PRESCOTT, writing from 18 Elm St., Charlestown, Mass., April 14, 1882, says: "Two years ago about two-thirds of my hair came off. It thinned very rapidly, and I was fast growing bald. On using AYER'S HAIR VIGOR the falling stopped and a new growth commenced, and in about a month my head was completely covered with short hair. It has continued to grow, and is now as good as before it fell. I regularly used but one bottle of the VIGOR, but now use it occasionally as a dressing."

We have hundreds of similar testimonials to the efficacy of AYER'S HAIR VIGOR. It needs but a trial to convince the most skeptical of its value.



PREPARED BY
Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass.
Sold by all Druggists.

TUTT'S PILLS

TORPID BOWELS, DISORDERED LIVER, and MALARIA.
From these sources arise three-fourths of the diseases of the human race. These symptoms indicate their existence: Loss of Appetite, Bowels costive, Sick Headache, fullness after eating, aversion to exertion of body or mind, Eructation of food, Irritability of temper, Low spirits, A feeling of having neglected some duty, Dizziness, Fluttering at the Heart, Dots before the eyes, highly colored Urine, CONSTIPATION, and demand the use of a remedy that acts directly on the Liver. As a Liver medicine TUTT'S PILLS have no equal. Their action on the Kidneys and Skin is also prompt; removing all impurities through these three "scavengers of the system," producing appetite, sound digestion, regular stools, a clear skin and a vigorous body. TUTT'S PILLS cause no nausea or griping nor interfere with daily work and are a perfect
ANTIDOTE TO MALARIA.
Sold everywhere, 25c. Office, 44 Murray St., N.Y.

TUTT'S HAIR DYE.
GRAY HAIR OR WHISKERS changed instantly to a GLOSSY BLACK by a single application of this DYE. Sold by Druggists, or sent by express on receipt of $1.
Office, 44 Murray Street, New York.
TUTT'S MANUAL OF USEFUL RECEIPTS FREE.

VIGOROUS HEALTH FOR MEN

TESTED FOR 5 YEARS
by use in thousands of cases. Founded on scientific medical principles, it has been growing in favor and reputation while its numerous competitors have invariably failed. The direct application of this remedy to the seat of the disease makes its specific influence felt without delay. The natural functions of the human organism are restored. The animating elements of life which have been wasted are given back. The buoyant energy of the brain and muscular system renders the patient cheerful; he gains strength with rapidity.
NERVOUS DEBILITY, organic weakness, and numerous obscure diseases, baffling the skill of best physicians, result for youthful indiscretion, too free indulgence, and over brain work.
Do not temporize while such enemies lurk in your system. Take a remedy that has cured thousands, and does not interfere with you attention to business or cause any pain or inconvenience.
(Send for a Descriptive Pamphlet giving Anatomical Illustrations, which will convince the most sceptical that they can be restored to perfect manhood, and fitted for the duties of life, same as if never affected.)
Sent free to any one. Remedy sold ONLY by the
HARRIS REMEDY CO. MF'G. CHEMISTS,
306½ N. 10th. St. ST. LOUIS, MO.
One Month's treatment $3. two months $5. three months $7

PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM

A beneficial dressing preferred to similar articles because of its purity and rich perfume. It Restores to Gray Hair the Youthful Color & prevents dandruff and falling of the hair.
50c. & $1. Hiscox & Co., N.Y.

FLORESTON COLOGNE
Excels the finest flower extracts in richness. Delicate, very lasting. No odor like it. Be sure you get FLORESTON Cologne, signature of Hiscox & Co., N. Y., on every label. 25 and 75 cts., at druggists and dealers in perfumes.

NEVER FAILS
FREE!
RELIABLE SELF-CURE.
A favorite prescription of one of the most noted and successful specialists in the U. S. (now retired) for the cure of Nervous Debility, Lost Manhood, Weakness and Decay. Sent in plain sealed envelope free. Druggists can fill it. Address DR. WARD & CO., Louisiana, Mo.

PAYSON'S INDELIBLE INK
Is the BEST. No preparation. Used with any clean pen for marking any fabric. Popular for decorative work on linen. Received Centennial MEDAL & Diploma. Established 50 years. Sold by all Druggists, Stationers & News Ag'ts.

Local News.

Can you write it 1884 yet?

Croquet has gone into winter quarters

The new crop of diaries is as large as usual.

The Central Hotel has taken down its shingle.

It has required some food for stock so far this year.

The small grain is being favored with very suitable weather.

To-morrow the Assessor starts on the grand rounds for 1884.

During the holidays the young folks enjoyed a series of parties.

During the year 1883 the County Clerk issued 53 marriage licenses.

Miss Addle Crisler spent part of the holidays with friends in Covington.

Plants being plentiful, a large acreage of tobacco will be cultivated this year.

Our local tobacco merchants have shipped very little of their last purchase.

A new firm has commenced business here. It is buying second-hand sleighs.

The frost bit one of Dr. Furnish's ears last Friday. The frost is very sick now.

The season for turkey festivals has gone, and with it many other holiday appendages.

Last Friday morning the mercury ranged from 15 to 20 degrees below zero in Burlington.

Physicians freely prescribe Ayer's Pills as the safest and most perfect cathartic ever compounded.

A few days since Esquire Oscar Gaines hauled off, at one load, forty hogs that died of cholera.

We desire our correspondents to give all the live-stock and crop items of their respective localities.

The Enquirer says that Miss Susie Graves and Dr. Percival will marry some time this month.

The weather clerk vetoed the flood that was to visit the Ohio valley immediately after the holidays.

C. N. Cropper, of Jefferson county, ate turkey and gravy with his friends in Boone, during the holidays.

J. H. Hughes, of Beaver, came to town Friday, and when he got out of his buggy he looked like a living iceberg.

Lost—Monday night, in Burlington, a good lap-robe. The finder will please return to me. JOHN PALMER.

The citizens of Burlington were notified of the exit of the old year by the prolonged ringing of all the accessible bells.

Buddie Smith, son of Dr. J. F. Smith, started to Mexico, a few days since, with a dentist who is to find employment for him.

Somebody knocked the board off the hole new year's night, and overcoats and fur collars were in demand the next day.

Tim Westbay's holiday companion was a burly "bile," which appropriated a space on Tim's neck about the size of a sheep's hide.

Mrs. Delilah Terrill, Dr. Jonas Terrill's venerable mother, died at her home, Moberly, Missouri, on the 29th of last month.

Mr. J. H. Sebree, who lives on Gunpowder, has purchased Mrs. Emily Berkshire's share of the Jonathan Utz farm on that creek.

Mr. Benjamin Rouse has sold his farm, near Florence, to Noah Barlow and three others. The tract will be divided by the purchasers.

Banner Hall, editor of the Rising Sun Local, has been given the office of Government Storekeeper. Occasionally an editor has a small "wind-fall."

William B. Corbin, of Boone co., Kentucky, married Miss Emma Barrott, a daughter of Eneas Barrott, on New Year's Eve.—Lawrenceburg Register.

John W. Rice, of Bellevue, visited Kansas this fall, and is so well pleased with the country, that he contemplates moving there and engaging in cattle raising.

Viola Lodge No. 278, I. O. O. F., elected the following officers at its last meeting: F. P. Walton, N. G.; W. E. Piper, V. G.; W. L. Riddell, Sect'y and Thomas Cowen, Treas.

The many friends of Mrs. Mollie Gullion, in this county, will be pained to hear of the death of her little three year old daughter, on the 27th of last month of congestion of the lungs.

Burlington Lodge No. 264 F. & A. M. elected the following officers for this year: W. L. Riddell, W. M.; Edgar Cropper, S. W.; W. T. German, J. W.; W. E. Piper, Sect'y; Dudley Rouse, Treasurer.

Nice tombstones or monuments at the graves of the departed, are marks of respect which should not be neglected. Hurschart & Co., Lawrenceburg, Ind., have just what you want. John Beall of Hebron, is their agent.

The fellow that took that box of tobacco off my slide while in Florence, a few days before Christmas had better return it, or he will get himself into trouble, as I have since found out who he is. C. L. CRISLER.

Owing to the extreme cold weather the Court of Claims failed to quoromize Monday, and will meet next Mnoday. Those having business with that Court will take notice and govern themselves accordingly.

At the beginning of the year our genial and handsome young friend, Thomas Cowen, succeeded Everett Hall, that affable young salesman who measured calicoes for Dudley Rouse last year. It is said Tom is a decided success in his new sphere, selling calico by the dollar's worth, needles by the pound, and sugar and coffee by the yard; and the other day when a customer requested to be shown some hose, Tom, in silvery tones, suggested that it was rather early in the season to buy hoes, but forthwith proceeded to exhibit the agricultural implement, and did not discover his mistake till the customer informed him of his error.

The Legislature completed its organization last Thursday and adjourned till Monday that the Speaker might have time in which to make up his committees. Hon. N. S. Walton took advantage of the adjournment and came home to spend the vacation. He went to the capital to vote for Carlisle for United States Senator, but Carlisle's refusing to allow his name used in that connection reduces the fight to Williams and Blackburn, and Mr. Walton is at a loss as to which of these two is the choice of the county. In this immediate locality he found the people indifferent as to a choice between those two, with Blackburn the favorite when a choice was expressed. Mr. Walton returned to Frankfort Monday.

W. T. Smith has the following solution of the phenomena accompanying the rising and the setting of the sun, and which is puzzling the scientific world: "It is the result," says he, "of the sun shining, when rising or setting, on the snow and water above us." As proofs that there is water above us, he says: "The Bible teaches that the waters were separated by the firmament, and that the firmament is above us, and therefore there must be water above us. When it rains the water always comes from above, and if there is no water above, how does it rain?" We'll put this against Pap Clore's snow-bird theory, and science may jog along in search of something else.

Prof. William Gaines has a nice basket sleigh for sale.

MISSOURI LETTER.

BUTLER, Mo., Dec., 29th, 1883.

To the Editors of the Recorder:

The beautiful weather continues with us, there having been but one snow, which disappeared in a few hours. But the news from Kentucky says plenty of snow and a rough winter there.

Christmas passed very pleasantly, with numerous Christmas trees on which were many nice and valuable presents.

DROPPED DEAD.

Last Thursday morning a Mr. Clements, a prominent citizen and correspondent for the Chicago Inter-Ocean dropped dead. He was sitting in his chair when the grim destroyer called for him. His remains were taken the next day to his people in Iowa.

FOUND IN A WELL.

Last Friday morning much excitement was created by the discovery of the body of Mrs. Leabo in a well near her residence. Her husband claims that she committed suicide, but there is a very strong suspicion in the direction of a foul murder for which the excited populace wanted to lynch Leabo, and were only prevented by the interference of the officers. The dead woman's neck bore evidences of her having been choked before going to the bottom of the well.

A BIG DAY'S HUNT.

Last Monday Mr. Dick Hurt and five others, one of whom was your humble scribe, went out for a day's hunt and recreation. It was not a good day for hunting, but when night came and the count was made, it was ascertained that the party had sacked 76 quails and 118 rabbits.

HE KNOWS OUR JOE.

A few days since we met Dr. J. T. Walls, a resident physician, and in conversation with him, he informed us that he was a Kentuckian and attended medical college in Cincinnati, and among those with whom he became acquainted in college is Dr. Furnish, of Burlington, to whom he requested us to send his best regards, which we do here and now.

I know nothing more of interest about which to write so I will close by wishing you all a happy New Year.

EVERETT WALTON.

OBITUARY.

DIED—On the 21st of December, at the residence of his son, Dr. W. H. Blanton, in Union, Boone county, Ky., Henry Blanton, in the 84th year of his age.

He was born in Franklin county, Ky., in 1800. In early manhood he wrote in the Appellate Clerk's office, Jacob Swigert being then the clerk. He moved to New Liberty, Ky., in 1818, where he engaged in merchandizing. He was one of the leading merchants in that village for nearly fifty years. In 1865 the great fire at New Liberty, and the Lincoln proclamation, with one simultaneous stroke, deprived him of pretty much all his property. His body was taken to New Liberty, where a funeral was preached by Rev. R. D. Alexander, after which it was interred in the Odd Fellows' cemetery, he having been a member of that order and an organizer of the burial ground. The minister who knew him well, in speaking of his long career in New Liberty, as a citizen and business man said in regard to his character: "There never was a whisper of reproval as a husband, father or citizen—for genial kindness, hearty indulgence, real genuine hospitality and straight-forwardness in all business affairs, he had no superior."

He was a member of the Regular Baptist church for more than a half century, and died in the triumphs of faith in a crucified and risen Redeemer.

NGEIHBORHOOD NEWS.

Verona.

The thermometer 24° below zero.

Tobacco about all sold.

Mumps are raging in this vicinity

Rev. Morton is holding a protracted meeting at this place.

Jessie Franks, of Covington, has bought part of his father-in-law's place, John Powers.

John S. Ransom has returned from Florida. J. T. Whitson still remains.

Roberts & Houston are receiving tobacco now.

The young folks enjoyed themselves at the oyster supper given by Mrs. Peak, last Wednesday night.

We wish the RECORDER a long and prosperous life.

Florence X-Roads.

Joe Bentler is working for Geo. Baker. They have been ironing sleighs for about four weeks.

Joseph Learned has returned from North Bend, and Scott Cole is back from Switzerland county, Ind.

Our Christmas festivities consisted of a dance at John Moor's Wednesday night; a dance at Henry Clore's Thursday night; a dance at Owen Aylor's Thursday night.

The mercury registered 22° below 0 at this place Saturday morning.

Jno. P. Utz's load of hay that has been standing on our market three or four weeks has gone to town, and Frank Russell's cows wept over its untimely taken off.

Scattersville.

Cold, colder, coldest, is what the farmers say.

Christmas has come and gone with the usual amusements.

Our friend, Mr. Bailey, had a streak of bad luck one day last week, while hauling his crop of tobacco, one of his loads turning over before he reached the top of the hill.

Christmas night the dogs made a raid on Lewis Conner's flock of sheep, killing 5 and crippling 6 others, some of which have since died. There is no dogs to kill.

O. P. Conner and Chas. Parsons loaded their tobacco last week, and it is on the wagon yet.

Where has all our fox hunters gone, they have forsaken us surely.

That Florence "inkslinger" needs a Christmas gift indeed.

Union.

Your correspondent experienced two new things January 1, new-ralgia and New Years. By the way, a number of boys need or want new ears just now. Among them are Thomas Judge and Jas. Blanton, whose old ears have been frozen over.

Notwithstanding the quiet, peaceable reputation of Union for her good behaviour, there have been and is now, not a little sleighing in our midst.

The treat at the Baptist Sabbath school, for scholars and visitors, was one of Christmas' enjoyable events.

Turkey dinners raged, and turkeys raved.

Uncle Henry Blanton slept the sleep of the righteous, Dec., 28. He was taken to New Liberty, the home of his earlier days, and interred.

A horrible accident occurred at Nicholas Talbott's last Saturday. Two small negro children were burned to death. The older, it is supposed, accidentally caught fire first, and from which the bed containing the little one was ignited.

Part of our citizens, last Sunday, put in an appearance at Sunday-school and church, while a part put up ice in order to protract this "spell" into summer. In the meantime eggs are 25 cents a dozen, but a dozen hens won't lay, in united effort, one egg a week. They will probably make an assignment soon.

Business dull.

Bullittsville.

Our school took a two weeks vacation.

C. N. Cropper and family, of Louisville, have been visiting relatives here. He will make Boone his future home if he can find a place that suits him. It is also rumored that S. G. Gaines will reside in Boone again.

Richard Gordon is improving rapidly under the skillful treatment of Dr. L. B. Terrill, of Delhi.

James Gaines has returned from his southern trip. We anticipate a lecture from him on contrasts.

John P. Duncan is now in the wilds of western Colorado.

W. L. Aylor is the banner turkey man of the county, having marketed upward of $500 worth.

The hog cholera is raging in this locality.

The temperature of last Saturday is reported as ranging from 15 to 27 degrees below zero.

A dancing club is being organized and will take lessons as soon as an instructor can be obtained.

A meeting has been announced for a literary society, but we have not heard of its meeting.

Lucy Rice spent the holidays here... Geo. Kreylich and sister were in this neighborhood during the holidays

John R. Smith takes the cake for giving parties, having given two in succession.

Beaver Lick.

Christmas here was not generally known. We used to have big dinners, dances and the dickens knows what all; but some religious enthusiasts fell in among us and done away with all such funny business. Well, that's all very well, but some of the brethren during the holidays helped Cad to dispose of the spirits in a manner that was a crying shame to church people. This is no slur at any denomination; merely a rebuke to those in the church who set a bad example to outsiders.

Quite a nice set of seats have been purchased and placed in the new Baptist church at this place. Prayer meeting is held at this church every Wednesday night.

Rev. Kean, of Florence, was among us recently, preaching a few sermons at the Hughes Chapel. Two additions were made to the church under his preaching. He is an eloquent minister of the gospel.

"Uncle" John McCabe caught an old neighbor in his meat house one night during the holidays, and says: "If I hadn't been feeling so infernal bad, I'd took a club and broke his cussed old neck. I've spoken to him since about the matter, and gave him some pretty plain pointers now, mind you."

Joseph Rich and his brother have returned from a short visit to Lebanon, Ohio, where they think of going to school.

Joe C. Hughes bought of C. C. Griffith a track of very fine land laying in the suburbs of Beaver.

BILL LLOYD.

Plattsburg

"Jordon am a hard road to trabble." Ask George Voshell.

John E. Hensley has moved to the Tom Willis farm.

Herman Carpenter and John O'Neal of Gallatin county, were visiting here several days last week.

Sim Baldon had one of his feet frozen so badly, the other day, that amputation is thought necessary.

24 degrees below zero is what the thermometer said at the Woolper store last Saturday morning.

A dance at Albert Hensley's was the most enjoyable of the holidays' pleasures in this locality.

We wish Will Corbin and his fair lady all the happiness this life affords, and when they come to sight the land of the beautiful over there, may the heavenly pilot guide them into that harbor of endless peace and rest.

The many friends of Mr. Alfred Voshell will be sorry to hear that he is in very poor health at Hot Springs, Arkansas.

Mrs. Ann Minor has measles and is not expected to live.

J. B. Tolin sells coal oil by the pound since the cold weather.

Not long since, a little child of Anderson's, cold., fell in the fire and was burned to death.

Mr. Ed Grant, at one time a resident of this county but now of Carroll county has sold his farm and will move to San Antonio, Texas.

The Woolper & Aurora Turnpike Co. will hold a meeting, one day soon, and determine which route the road will take. That the road will be built is a certainty, as money enough is already subrcribed.

Hebron.

The holidays passed off very quietly.

Considerable sickness in our neighborhood, bad colds and sore throats being the prevailing disease.

Mr. John Beall is able to come to town again after a few days illness.

It is rumored that there will be another dry goods and grocery store started at this place. We wish it success.

Ice harvest is now at hand. Those having houses to fill are busy storing the ice away.

The mercury stood 21° below zero on the morning of the 5th.

Several of our boys got their ears and fingers frozen last Saturday.

Quite an enjoyable social was given by Mr. Jimison Aylor, last Friday night. The crowd was small and every thing went off nicely.

Married—On the 22nd ult., at Cincinnati, Mr. Jacob Lodge and Miss Manda Aylor, both of this community. They have our best wishes.

Uncle John Beall says last Saturday was the coldest day within his recollection.

Born—On the 1st inst., to Mr. John Kahr and wife, a fine daughter.

Mrs. Hattie Clore is still very low. Her hand will have to be taken off at the wrist.

Mr. Jacob Tanner had the misfortune to loose his gold watch a few weeks ago. It is valued at $250.

Normansville.

Christmas week was a quiet one here in one respect, there being no disgraceful disturbances.

The beaux and belles have had a delightful time attending the numerous parties given in Normansville and vicinity the last two weeks.

J. W. Kennedy has been confined to his room with a severely sprained foot, this week.

After a week of mud and slush we again have good sleighing.

Christmas night a large audience assembled at the school-house, to witness the distribution of presents, with which the Christmas tree was heavily laden. The exercises were introduced by singing, followed by an address and prayer by Dr. S. M. Adams, after which Santa Claus made his appearance, and much to the delight of the children, proceeded to distribute the presents, making appropriate and witty remarks as he did so. The presents were quite numerous, more than two hundred being distributed, and some very handsome ones among them. The children of the Sunday school were especially remembered.

The primary department of the Hamilton school, gave a very enjoyable entertainment, consisting of dialogues, recitations and tableaux, Christmas eve, at the school-house. The little folks acquitted themselves quite as well as their older brothers and sisters would have done, showing that the good training of their faithful teacher, Miss Carson, had not been wasted upon them. Another entertainment will be given in February by the older pupils of the same school.

Rabbit Hash.

Well, Mr. Editors, I wish you a happy New Year, and if you have sufficiently recovered from your disappointment in the way of oyster suppers and turkey dinners, come down and I will feed you on back-bone and spare-ribs, which are much more wholesome if not so palitable.

The pleasureseeking part of our community were blessed, during Christmas, with parties and oyster suppers. J. R. Stephens was the first to lead off with a dance that could not be excelled. E. R. Scott was determined that Russ should not beat him dancing, and his house was the scene of sweet music and merry dancing. Lige and Will will never be forgotten by us. But the grandest of all was the dance at Esquire T. N. Stephens'. This event had been looked forward to with great expectations which were fully realized by the young folks. Mr. Stephens' spacious halls and rooms were thrown open to their guests, and dancing was the order of the evening. The Squire, wife and daughter spared no means that were necessary to contribute to the enjoyment of all present.

We have had oyster suppers and turkey dinners in great numbers, and while we are clearing our hash box for action, we wonder if the good days are gone to return no more.

Prof. Cartwright has returned from a visit to his home at Dillsboro, Ind., and again wields the "gad" at Maple Hill, after a week's vacation. George is a good fellow, and we are sorry his time with us is to be so short. If he were to set to some other fellow's girl, we would like for him to stay; but if not, we expect he had better go.

The ferrymen have recovered their boat and skiffs which were carried off by the high water and ice. The lines and anchors were stolen. No other loss.

S. S. Mock has the cellar and foundation ready for his new store. Dr. Cowen has leased a lot and has the material ready to build an office, which will be begun as soon as the weather will admit.

M. F. Morrison talks of adding another story to his shop. He is going to do something, you can bet.

Wib Rice was here Christmas and was talking of going West in the spring to see his future home. That all?

Two floods and a fire cannot hurt a place like Rabbit Hash much, and we are now preparing for the third flood of which the people in the Ohio valley have been warned by dispatches from the Signal Service.

What strange things happen during Christmas times! Gates, fences, wagon wheels, and even a jug of whisky that was in Wilson & Riddell's store went visiting Christmas night. People think that the gates, fences and wheels may have gone alone, but it is the unanimous opinion that the jug had company or it would never have meandered so far towards Lick Creek.

Florence.

On the night of Dec., 31st, a few minutes to 12 o'clock, our town and its environs experienced such an alarm as we hope will not be repeated soon. At the time mentioned, and by an arrangement unknown, save to the actors, all the church and school bells in town broke forth in such distressing peals as to frighten from their slumbers the unsuspecting inhabitants; and many were the ludicrous scenes enacted, as told to us. Thoughts of fire, burglars, &c., brought every body into action; Lute Souther, who was dreaming of a negro insurrection, hurriedly buried his money and appeared upon the scene with his war club and ten days rations; L. C. Yeager, who was in close proximity to one of the largest bells, in his hurry to get up brought blankets and quilts to the door and appeared with his head through a large bed comfort; Frank Burke, who has an extensive harness manufactory on Main Str., thought it was a fire, and ran to take care of his goods, but in his excitement missed his shop two doors. All the fire extinguishers, ladders and buckets were brought into requisition, but it pleasantly turned out to be the ringing of the Old Year out and the New Year in.

Some of the enjoyments of the holidays were a couple of hops, at Odd Fellow's building, one for "select light weights," conducted by Master Charley Meyers, the other a "free for all" by John Reed, Esq.

Mr. Jessie Corwine, with the firm of Specker, Buddeke & Co., Cincinnati, and Mr. Ed Porter, photo. artist of Newport, Ky., and son-in-laws of T. L. Swetnam, came out to breathe the country air and spend a few days of Christmas in hunting; they selected Monday and Tuesday for the hunt, rather a wet choice. I would give a detailed account of it, as related by them, but presume they will publish a book, and it might embarrass the sale, but as an advertising boom for same, I will state that one of the remarkable features of the hunt was that all the rabbits started, took at once to the nearest water course, swimming and diving with great dexterity; Jessie thinks that if they had taken their fishing tackle along they would have been more successful, as the habits of the rabbits are evidently undergoing a change.

The lotteries are all over and the County Court may expect, in a few days to be beset with applicants for peddlers license, a majority of the county having laid in a supply of goods and chattles that will have to be transported to the mountains to get off of hand, to make room for the next drawing. Mr. George Tanner is under obligations to the rest for their assistance in buying a nice gold watch, for his wife, fram Taylor & Riggs.

O. H. Conrad is still confined to his room, from the effects of the shot in his eye.

Miss Belle Cantler, of Covington, and a belle in fact, spent a few days with us last week, visiting friends.

Comer Yeager has returned to his law school at Cincinnati.

Election last Saturday for new council and otner town officers.

Florence is herself again.

GAS OMETER.

Petersburg.

The exercises at the churches on Christmas eve were grand. Bro. Froh understands how to manage such things.

Christmas has past and gone, and what few turkeys are left, are to have a reunion, and talk over the hardships they endured and the narrow escapes during the holidays.

A few weeks ago I reported M. V. Cave had sold his tobacco for $12, $14 and $16 per cwt. I was misinformed. He told me Christmas day he sold early in the season for $16 all round.

Fidelius Huber, an old and respected citizen of this place, died on the night of the 25th ult. His funeral was preached by Rev. Froh, after which the remains were placed in the vault. Mr. Huber was in business here for 40 years and was always spoken of in the highest terms for honesty and fair dealing. He will be greatly missed in this community. May he rest in peace.

A. B. Holabird bought 50,000 bushels of corn for the distillery last week. Bird means business.

W. R. Kirtley drives a fine, double team to his sleigh.

Mr. South, who had his boat broken loose during the high water, and expected it to be a total loss, has found it at the mouth of Sugar Creek, all right.

Miss Pauline Berkshire, teacher in the Lawrenceburg school, spent the holidays with her mother at this place.

Our butchers had the finest display of meats, for the holidays, ever brought to town. The firm consists of Berkshire, Ruth & Bowman.

Mr. Shepherd, although 75 years of age, is still able to come down town 2 or 3 times a day. He says he is in good health, with the exception of short breath caused from asthma.

Petersburg Lodge No. 579, F. & A. M. elected the following officers: W. T. Stott, W. M.; J. E. Terrill, S. W.; W. R. Green, J. W.; W. H. Terrill, Sec.; D. Riggs, Treas.; O. T. Porter; S. and T.

Miss Nannie Lodge, of Cincinnati, spent the holidays with friends here.

Santa Claus, at the instigation of the members of the Christian Church and our personal friends, presented myself and wife with some beautiful and valuable gifts for which we are both abundantly thankful, and we take this way of returning our thanks to each and every giver. J. E. TAYLOR.

NOTICE—Persons who are suffering from cancer in the incipient state can be speedily and cheaply cured, or no pay required, by corresponding with me here. I do not cure but can put individuals onto the way they can be cured. J. E. TAYLOR.

The Son's of Temperance gave a complimentary supper in their hall on the evening of the 31st, ult., which was really grand in every respect. There were about 100 invited guests present. After partaking of the bounteous supper spread, the evening was spent with music and singing. Among those present from a distance were Miss Bigney, of Moores Hill, Ind., Miss McLain, of Cincinnati and Dr. Woodward, of Lawrenceburg, Ind.

H. D. Fisk, Government Store Keeper at the distillery came near meeting with a serious accident last Thursday. While walking under the elevator, a bale of hay fell on him knocking him senseless for about six hours, but at this writing is much improved.

Saturday the thermometer registered 21° below zero.

Mr. Workum, junior member of the the firm of Freiburg & Workum, came near being caught in the fly-wheel at the distillery last Thursday, but for the timely assistance of a friend, pulling him away he would have been torn to pieces.

Dr. W. H. Terrill slipped and fell on ice, spraining his wrist and bruising him badly. He is confined to his room.

Harry Graves while hauling ice last week, slipped and fell under the wagon, the wagon running over his leg, and breaking it.

Capt. F. W. Baker, of Aurora, was in town last Friday night.

For want of business the steamer Minnie failed to make her regular trip last Friday.

Mr. William Corbin and bride passed through town last Friday evening on their way to Lawrenceburg, the home of the bride's parents.

Miss Belle Terrill who has been confined to her room for several weeks with malarial fever, is some what improved.

That Doughty Duchess.

Opposite Opinions about a Wonderful Woman—Her Thumb and Fingers.

"Crack nuts with her fingers? Why, you can't mean it!" cried a young lady graduate of the normal College, in the utmost astonishment.

"But I do mean it," affirmed her big brother, who had taken several prizes in athletics, "and I reassert it: that Cymburga, wife of Duke Ernst, of Austria, could crack nuts with her fingers and drive nails in the wall with her thumb."

"What a monstrous woman!" said the young lady. "What a useful woman," amended her big brother.

The Austrian Duchess was mighty because she kept good hours, good habits and perfect digestion.

Mrs. Alice Strong, of Pittsburg, Pa., writes a different story about herself, but deserves praise for her frankness. She says: "For the past 3 years I have been subject to severe attacks of colic and cramps, and exhausting attacks of Diarrhœa. Weary of experimenting with medicines, I turned without hope to PARKER'S TONIC. Three bottles cured me entirely. I have tried it also for other ailments with which women are often afflicted, and it far surpassed my expectations. I am happy to offer this testimony for the benefit of other women."

Ladies who are interested in Mrs. Strong's letter, will please remark that PARKER'S TONIC is not intoxicant. It cures colic easily, but by virtue of many rare and powerful ingredients, it also masters all diseases of the Blood—such, for example, as Rheumatism, Consumption, Scrofula, and all disorders of the Kidneys, Liver and Stomach. It is a vitalizer and stimulant, but not an intoxicant. Price, 50 cents and $1 per bottle. Hiscox & Co., Chemists, New York.

LOOK! LOOK!

THE AMERICAN FARMER,

—AND—

THE RECORDER

—ONE YEAR—

For $1 75.

We have perfected arrangements with the publishers of the American Farmer, of Fort Wayne, Ind., that enables us to offer our subscribers a first-class Agricultural Magazine at the bare cost of the white paper on which it is printed. The American Farmer is a 16 page monthly magazine which is rapidly taking rank as one of the leading agricultural publications of the country. Each number will contain useful information for the farmer, his wife, his sons and his daughters. As it costs you almost nothing, suppose you try it one year.

F FALL A FALL L FALL L

—AND—

Winter Clothi'g

Clothing of the best goods, well trimmed, in the latest styles, made under my direct supervision and sold at lower prices than are asked for badl made, shoddy goods at other places. Call and be assured.

A splendid line of Suitings. Suits MADE to order on short notice.

H. F Blase,

540 Madison St, - COVINGTON, KY

UNDERTAKING.

We keep Constantly on Hand all sizes of

Burial Cases and Caskets.

And having just received a beautiful

NEW HEARSE,

Which can be had at a reasonable price when desired.

PRICES GUARANTEED LESS THAN CITY PRICES.

DAVIS BROS., HEBRON, KY.

City Flouring Mills

RISING SUN, INDIANA.

FLOUR EXCHANGED FOR WHEAT OR CASH. THE HIGHEST MARKET PRICE PAID FOR GOOD WHEAT.

mar7-tf9 J. W. Talbott.

MOTHER NOBLE'S HEALING SYRUP.

TRADE MARK.

20 Million Bottles sold in 10 years. A certain Cure for Dyspepsia, all Diseases of the Kidneys, Liver, Stomach, Blood, Skin and Bowels. Can Produce Thousands of Letters proving its Curative Powers. AN OLD AND LONG TRIED REMEDY. LABORATORY 77 AMITY STREET, NEW YORK CITY. FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

Cornease.—The King of Corn Killers. The most desperate Corns, Bunions, Warts &c., Speedily cured. Price 25 Cents.

Footease.—An Unfailing Remedy for Hot, Swollen and Tender Feet, Chilblains, &c. Price 25 Cents. Cornease Manuf'g Co., 236, 5th Ave. Place, N. Y. City. For Sale by Agents, Druggists and Shoe Dealers.

Subscribe For The

BOONE COUNTY RECORDER.

And begin with the New Year.

JAMES J. H. GREGORY, Seed Grower, Marblehead, Mass.

THE RECORDER.

RIDDELL & HALL, Publishers.

BURLINGTON, : : KENTUCKY

ENGAGED.

And so I'm fairly engaged at last;
In the meshes of Cupid a net held fast!
I can't forget it, for turn where I may,
The ring on my finger seems to say,
With its glitter and flash: "You're no longer your own;
And you'd better let flirting and folly alone."

Now, Belle, do help me a bit, there's a dear,
To empty this drawer full of relics here—
Trophies of last year's "season," you see,
When I had the jolliest times at B——,
And no more dreamed than the man in the moon
That Fred and I would—ahem!—so soon.

He followed me round, as the others did,
As though I were "put up for the highest bid;"
And to tell the truth, in learning the art
Of flirting, one injures a trifle the heart.
And I—well, here is a photograph
Of—surely you've seen him. Now prey don't laugh.

A pair of gloves and some faded flowers,
Relics of sweet last summer's hours.
A broken fan—oh, Willie broke that,
I broke his heart, he said: tit for tat!
And here's a button: I think it came
From the uniform of young What's-his-name!

Those gloves?—well, throw them away; I wore
Them riding with Clark three times or more.
Of course I know it is only right
That I should forever put out of sight
These nice old relics, since never more
Can I live the same old jolly times o'er.

But, Belle, my dear, now, honest and true,
If I had this "engagement" over to do,
I think—I think—between you and I,
If Fred didn't mind, I really would try,
For the sake of one more summer of fun,
To postpone the engagement till summer were done!

—Harper's Weekly.

BEHIND THE TAPESTRY.

The first part of the strange story which I am about to tell happened some ten years ago.

Ten years ago I was in the first sorrow of my widowhood. I was childless, too; and when the grave closed over my husband I thought that there was no place left for me in the world.

I was rich, young; and my friends and my own reflection in the glass told me I was beautiful.

Of course I had many acquaintances; what rich young widow has not? But acquaintances and friends differ widely. I did not care for the people who flattered and made much of me, but I turned, even in the first days of my trouble, to one friend.

She, too, was young and beautiful. We were school-fellows; we were engaged at the same time; we were married in the same month of the same year.

During the three years of my married life we had seen little of each other, but when my husband died, and Mary Clifford wrote to me tenderly out of her full heart, I answered back her love.

She asked me to stay with her, and I went.

How peaceful were these days spent in her beautiful home! The house and place were called Aspen's Vale. The house was many centuries old. Its architecture was remarkable; its rooms curious. It was a rambling old place, and of course it had a ghost. It stood in the midst of very lovely grounds, overlooking wood and river. Altogether it was one of the show-places in ——shire.

I stayed with the Cliffords for a couple of months. During this time the house was quiet, visitors few—they eschewed company for my sake.

At the end of two months I left them, comforted and helped, and with many promises of a return by-and-by.

Circumstances, however, too varied and too many to mention prevented that second visit taking place for a couple of years. At the end of that time a great longing came over me to see Mary Clifford again. I must write to her, and propose a visit. I did so.

By return of post I got a short but characteristic reply:

"DEAREST HONOR: Of course I long to see you, but, unfortunately, the house is full. Large as it is, it is crammed from cellar to attic.

"My dear, I don't want to refuse you. I do long to see you. Will you sleep in the tapestry-room? for of course it is empty. I dare not put anybody else there, but I don't think you, Honor, will be afraid of the ghost. If the tapestry-room will do, come, and a thousand welcomes. I can put up your maid. Your loving friend,

"MARY CLIFFORD."

To this letter I made a short answer:

"I do not believe in the ghost. The tapestry-room will do beautifully. Expect me to-morrow."

The next evening I arrived at Aspen's Vale in time for dinner. The tapestry-room looked charming. I fell in love with it on the spot, and vowed laughingly that the ghost and I would make friends.

My maid, however, looked grave over my jesting remarks; it was plain that she believed in supernatural visitations.

Gayety of heart, however, was over me. I could not resist the cheerful influence of my old friend's company. I felt happier than I had done since my husband's death, and, after a very delightful evening, retired to my room, feeling brave enough to encounter any number of ghosts that might choose to visit me.

The tapestry-room was quite away from the rest of the house—it was at the extreme end of a wing.

No other bed-rooms were in this wing. There were a smoking-room, a morning-room, and a little oriel chamber, which Mrs. Clifford in her early married life had curiously fitted up for herself, but now seldom occupied. Neither did she believe in the ghost, but she confessed that this little oriel chamber had an eerie feel.

The morning-room opposite, cheerful and pretty enough, was unused. Its furniture was antique. It belonged to a by-gone day, and its inhabitants were dead. The smoking-room also was deserted; even the fumes of tobacco had left it, the squire preferring a more central apartment in the modern part of the house.

Altogether, this wing of the old house seemed dead. Visitors only came to it out of curiosity; they paid brief visits, and preferred doing so in broad daylight.

It must have been quite a hundred years since the tapestry-room in the far end of this wing had been slept in. Old as the other rooms in the wing looked, the tapestry-room bore quite the palm for ancient appearance. There was not an article of furniture in it, not a chair, not a table, which must not have seen the light of centuries.

The furniture was all of the blackest oak, the bedstead the usual four-poster on which our ancestors loved to stretch themselves. But the curious feature of the room, that which gave it its name, was the tapestry. Not an inch of the walls was to be seen; they were hung completely with very ancient and very faded tapestry. There was a story about this tapestry. One Dame Clifford, of long, long by-gone days, had worked it, with the help of her maidens. She had come to an untimely end on the very day on which the great work of her life had been completed.

It does not matter to this story what became of the proud and fair dame, but it was her ghost which was said to haunt the wing, and the tapestry chamber in particular. Warden, my maid, as she helped me to undress, looked quite pale with terror.

"They do say, ma'm, as Dame Clare Clifford appears with her head tucked under her arm, and threads from the old tapestry hanging to her skeleton fingers. She's dressed in gray silk, that doesn't rustle never a bit, though 'tis so thick it might stand all alone, they do say. 'Tis awful lonesome for you, madam, to sleep here alone, and I'll stay with you with pleasure if it comes to that, though my nerves arn't none of the strongest."

I thanked Warden, however, and assured her that I was not in the least afraid; and she, with a well-relieved face, left me alone. I heard her footsteps echoing down the corridor—they died away. I was now out of reach of all human help, for in this distant room, in this wing, no possible sounds could reach any other inhabitants of Aspen's Vale.

I think I have implied that I was brave. In my girlhood, in my short married life, even in the sad depression of my early widowhood, I had never known physical fear; nevertheless, when the last of Warden's footsteps echoed out and died, and that profound stillness followed which can be oppressive, I had a curious sensation.

I did not call it fear, I did not know it for that grim and pale-faced tyrant; but it made me uncomfortable and caused my heart to beat irregularly.

The sensation was this—I felt that I was not alone.

Of course it was fancy, and what had I to do with fancy?

I determined to banish this uncomfortable feeling from my mind, and stirring the fire to a cheerful blaze, I drew one of the black oak chairs near it and sat down.

Warden had looked so pale and frightened before she left me that, out of consideration for her feelings, I had allowed her to leave the jewels which I had worn that evening on the dressing-table.

There they lay, a set of very valuable brilliants. There was an old-fashioned mirror over the mantel-piece, and as I sat by the fire I saw the reflection of my diamonds in the glass. As I noticed their sparkle, again that strange sensation returned: this time more strongly, this time with a cold shiver. I was not alone.

Who was in the tapestry chamber? Was it the ghost? Was that story true, after all? Of course I did not believe it. I laughed aloud as the idea came to me. I felt that I was getting quite silly and nervous. There was nothing for me but to get into bed as quickly as possible.

I was about to rise from my easy-chair and go over to the old-fashioned four-poster, when again my attention was attracted to the glass over my head. It was hung in such a way as to reveal a large portion of the room, and now I saw, not the diamonds, but—something else.

In the folds of the dim and old-world tapestry I saw something move and glitter. I looked again; there was no mistaking it—it was an Eye, a human eye, looking fixedly at me through a hole in the canvas. Now I knew why I felt that I was not alone.

There was some one hidden between the tapestry hangings and the wall of the chamber. Some one—not a ghost. That eye was human, or I had never looked on human eye before. I was alone with a thief, perhaps with worse, and gems of immense value lay within his reach. I was absolutely alone, not a soul could hear the most agonized cry for help in this distant room.

Now I knew—if I had ever doubted it before—that I was a very brave woman. The imminence of the peril steadied the nerves which a few minutes before were beginning strangely to quiver. I neither started nor exclaimed. I felt that I had in no way betrayed my knowledge to my terrible guest. I sat perfectly still, thinking out the situation and my chances of escape.

Nothing but consummate coolness could win the victory. I resolved to be very cool. With a fervent and passionate cry to One above for succor, I rose from my chair, and going to the dressing-table, I slipped several costly rings off my fingers. I left them scattered carelessly about. I denuded myself of all but my wedding ring.

Then I put the extinguishers on the candles—they were wax and stood in massive silver candlesticks. The room, however, was still brilliant with the light of the fire on the hearth.

I got into bed, laid my head on the pillow, and closed my eyes.

It may have been ten minutes—it seemed more like an hour to my strained senses—before I heard the faintest movement. Then I discovered a little rustle behind the tapestry, and a man got out. When he did so I opened my eyes wide; at that instant he could not possibly see whether they were open or shut. He was a powerful man of great height and breadth. He had a black beard and a quantity of thick black hair. I noticed his features, which were tolerably regular.

I also noticed another peculiarity: among his raven locks was one perfectly white. One rather thick white lock was flung back off his forehead—so white was it that the fire-light instantly revealed it to me.

The man did not glance toward the bed; he went straight, with no particularly quiet step, to the dressing-table. I closed my eyes now, but I heard him taking up my trinkets and dropping them again. Then he approached the bed side. I felt him come close; I felt his breath as he bent over me. I was lying on my side; my eyes were shut; I was breathing gently.

He went away again; he returned to the dressing-table. I heard him rather noisily strike a match; then with a lighted candle in his hand he once more approached the bed. This time he bent very low indeed, and I felt the heat of the flame as he passed it softly before my closed eyes. I lay still, however; not a movement, not a hurried breath, betrayed me.

I heard him give a short, satisfied sigh. Again, candle in hand, he returned to the dressing-table. Once more I heard the clinking sound of my trinkets as they fell through his fingers.

There was a pause, and then—for no reason that I could ever explain—he left the trinkets untouched on the table, and went to the door.

He opened the door and went out. I did not know what he went for—perhaps to fetch a companion, certainly to return—but I did know that my opportunity had come.

In an instant, quicker than thought—I had started from my feigned slumbers; I was at the door. I had bolted and locked it. There were several bolts to the old-fashioned door, there were even chains.

I drew every bolt, I made every rusty chain secure. I was not an instant too soon. I had scarcely fastened the last chain, with fingers that trembled, before the thief returned.

He saw that he had been outwitted, and his savage anger knew no bounds. He kicked at the door, he called on me wildly to open it; he assured me that he had accomplices outside, that they would soon burst the old door from its hinges, and my life would be the forfeit.

To my terror I perceived that his words were no idle boast. The old door, secured by its many fastenings on the one side, was weak on the other; its hinges were nearly eaten through with rust; they needed but some vigorous kicks to burst them from their resting places in the wood.

I knew that I was only protected for a few minutes; that even if the thief was alone he had but to continue to assail the door as vigorously as he was now doing for a little longer to gain a fresh entrance into my chamber.

I rushed to the window, I threw up the sash and bent half out. Into the clear, calm air of the night I sent my strong young voice.

"Help, help!—thieves!—fire!—danger!—help, help!"

I shouted these words over and over, but there was no response except an echo. My room looked into a distant shrubbery; the hour was late; the whole household in bed.

The thief outside was evidently making way with the rusty hinges, and I was preparing, at the risk of any consequences, the moment he entered the room, to leap from the window, when I heard a dog bark.

I redoubled my cries. The bark of the dog was followed by footsteps; they came nearer, treading down fallen branches, which crackled under the welcome step. The next instant a man came and stood under the window and looked up at me. I perceived by his dress that he was a villager, probably taking a short cut to his house. He stood under the window; he seemed terrified; perhaps he took me for the ghost. He was not, however, all a coward, for he spoke.

"What is wrong?" he said.

"This is wrong," I answered. "I am in extreme danger—extreme danger. There is not a moment to lose. Go instantly—instantly—and wake up the house, and say that I, Mrs. Crawford, am in extreme danger in the tapestry wing. Go at once—at once!"

I spoke distinctly, and the man seemed to understand. He flew away, the dog following him.

I instantly threw myself on my knees, and in the terrible moments that followed I prayed as I had never prayed before. Would the man be in time? Must my young life be sacrificed?"

Ah! no. God was good. I heard joyful sounds: the thief's attacks on the door ceased suddenly, and the next instant the Squire's hearty voice was heard.

"Let me in, Honor! What is wrong, child?"

I did let him in, and his wife, and several alarmed-looking servants who followed after.

We instantly began to look for the thief, but—mystery of mysteries—he had disappeared.

That terrible man with the black hair and white lock over his forehead had vanished as completely as though he had never been.

Except for the marks he had made with his feet on the old oak door there was not a trace of his existence.

I believe the servants doubted that he had ever been, and only thought that the young lady who was foolish enough to sleep in the tapestry chamber had been visited by a new form of the ghost. Be that as it may, we never got a clew to where or how the man had vanished.

* * * * * * *

Ten years later I was again on a visit to the Aspen's Vale. This time I did not sleep in the tapestry room.

I now occupied a most cheerful, modern and unghost-like room, and but for one circumstance my visit would have been thoroughly unremarkable.

This was the circumstance which seems in a wonderful way to point a moral to my curious tale. I paid my visit to the Cliffords during the assizes. Squire Clifford, as one of the most influential county magnates, was necessarily much occupied with his magisterial duties during this time. Every morning he went early into Lewis, the town where the assizes were held. One morning he told us of a case which interested him.

"He is a hardened villain," he said; "he has again and again been brought before me, but he has never yet been convicted. He is unquestionably a thief; indeed, one of the most notorious characters in the place; but he is such a slippery dog no jury has yet found him guilty. Well, he is to be tried again to-day, and I do hope we shall have some luck with him this time."

The Squire went away, and it came into his wife's head and mine to pay a visit to the court and see for ourselves the prisoner in whom he was interested.

No sooner said than done. We drove into Lewis, and presently found ourselves in the large and crowded building. When we entered the case under discussion had not commenced, but a moment after a fresh prisoner was ushered into the dock.

What was the matter with me? I found my sight growing dim, I found myself bending forward and peering hard. The memory of an old terror came back, and the sensation of a couple of hours of mortal agony returned to me again. Who was in the prisoner's dock? I knew the man. He was my guest of the tapestry chamber of ten years ago.

There he stood, surly, indifferent, with his vast breadth and height, his raven-black hair, and that peculiar white lock flung back from his brow. He did not glance at any one, but kept his eyes on the ground.

I could not contain myself; I forgot everything but my sense of discovery. I started to my feet and spoke:

"Mr. Clifford, I know that man; he was in my room ten years ago. Do you remember the night when I got the terrible fright in the tapestry chamber in your house? There is the man who frightened me. I could never forget his face. There he stands."

Whatever effects my words had on the Squire and Judge, there is no doubt at all of their remarkable significance to the prisoner. His indifference left him; he stared with wide-open and terrified eyes at me. It was plain that if I recognized him, he also recognized me.

All his bravado left him; he muttered something, his face blanched, then suddenly he fell on his knees and covered it with his hands.

My evidence was remarkable and conclusive; and that day, for the first time, Hercules Armstrong was committed to prison. He had long been the terror of the neighborhood, and no one regretted the just punishment which had fallen on him. What his subsequent career may be I know not; this is the present end of a strange and perfectly true story.—Cassell's Magazine.

Dr. Kirkbride's Experience.

Dr. Kirkbride, the famous physician-in-chief of the Pennsylvania Hospital for the Insane, who died last Monday, had many startling experiences during his life there. Wiley Williams was the son of Judge Williams, of Georgia. He was educated at Yale College, ran away to sea, and when he returned, some years after, his mind was found to be impaired. He was placed under the care of Dr. Kirkbride, where the treatment he received only partially restored him. He was allowed many privileges in the hospital, and was considered perfectly harmless. One day he asked permission to go to Baltimore to visit some friends, but Dr. Kirkbride objected, and Williams threatened to make him pay for the refusal. He made his escape, scaling the walls of the institution at night, and went to Baltimore. On his return he procured a gun and stationed himself in a tree. When Dr. Kirkbride went into his garden one morning Williams fired at him, shooting him in the head. Fortunately the bullet failed to penetrate the skull, but the doctor always carried the mark of the wound.—Philadelphia Press.

—The whirligig of time brings many changes. This has been said before, but nevertheless it is true. For instance, Italian artists are now visiting this country to study brilliant sunset effects. —Norristown Herald.

$20,000 Gone!

SAN FRANCISCO, CAL.—The Chronicle publishes in substance the following marvel. Captain W. F. Swasey, the oldest pioneer of the coast, makes a statement of the intense suffering of his friend Col. D. J. Williamson, an Army officer of distinction and an Ex-U. S. Consul, who was attacked in the winter of 1861-2 with violent rheumatism. So great was his agony in after years, he became a helpless cripple, and after trying numberless remedies, the baths of other countries and spending a fortune of $20,000, the disease seemed to assume a more virulent type. Finally, he was persuaded to try St. Jacobs Oil, the great conqueror of pain. It worked a miracle of cure. In a letter to the Chronicle he confirms Capt. Swasey's statement and adds: "I cheerfully give my unqualified attestation to the truthfulness of the statement, because I feel perfectly certain that a knowledge of my cure by St. Jacobs Oil will prove the means of relieving hundreds of sufferers."

"LOVE," says an amorous writer, "is an internal transport." A contemporary remarks: "The same might be said of a canal-boat."—Troy Times.

Their Name is Legion.

Legions of people have had their lives made miserable by Piles. This painful difficulty is often induced and always aggravated by Constipation. Kidney-Wort is the great remedy for all affections of this kind. It acts as a gentle cathartic, promotes a healthy action of the bowels, and sooths and heals the inflamed surfaces. It has cured hundreds of cases where all other remedies and applications have failed. Sold by all druggists.

DAR's some little truth eben in de bigges' lie, eben ef it is no more den de fack dat it is a lie.—Arkansaw Traveller.

I HAVE SUFFERED from Catarrh to such an extent that I had to bandage my head to quiet the pain. I was advised by Mr. Brown, of Ithaca, to try Ely's Cream Balm. When suffering with catarrh or cold in the head I have never found its equal. C. A. COOPER, Danby, N. Y.

GOOD partners at cards—a chimney-sweep and a bugler. One can follow soot, and the other can trumpet.—Chicago Tribune.

I HAVE USED Ely's Cream Balm for dry Catarrh (to which every Eastern person is subject who comes to live in a high altitude). It has proved a cure in my case. B. F. M. WEEKS, Denver, Col.

SOCIETY is very queer. The people most sought after are those who do not pay their debts.—Chicago Journal.

UNLIKE other cathartics, Dr. Pierce's "Pellets" do not render the bowels costive after operation, but, on the contrary, establish a permanently healthy action. Being entirely vegetable no particular care is required while using them. By druggists.

THE best fishermen like to fish on their own hook.—Buffalo Express.

"GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY" (Trade-mark registered) is not only a sovereign remedy for consumption, but also for consumptive night-sweats, bronchitis, coughs, spitting of blood, week-lungs, shortness of breath, and kindred affections of the throat and chest. By druggists.

A SWEET perfume—a gold dollar; it has a hundred good cents.—Detroit Post.

To Ladies

Suffering from functional derangements or any of the painful disorders or weaknesses incident to their sex, Dr. Pierce's treatise, illustrated with wood-cuts and colored plates, suggests sure means of complete self-cure. Sent for three letter postage stamps. Address WORLD'S DISPENSARY MEDICAL ASSOCIATION, Buffalo, N. Y.

SOME people are so modest that even their wounds are mortified when the surgeon looks at them.—Boston Globe.

AFTER long Mercury and Potash treatment, I found myself a cripple from Mercurial Rheumatism. Tried Hot Springs two years without relief, and was finally cured sound and well by the use of Swift's Specific (S. S. S.) CHAS. BERG, Hot Springs, Ark.

THE MARKETS.

CINCINNATI, January 7, 1884.

LIVE STOCK—Cattle—common	$2 25	@	3 25
Choice butchers	4 50	@	5 00
HOGS—Common	4 50	@	5 35
Good packers	5 65	@	6 00
SHEEP	4 00	@	4 75
FLOUR—Family	5 00	@	5 50
GRAIN—Wheat—Longberry red	1 08	@	1 06
No. 2 red	1 04	@	1 04½
Corn—No. 2 mixed	50	@
Oats—No. 2 mixed	34½	@
Rye—No. 2	64	@	65
HAY—Timothy No. 1	10 00	@	10 50
HEMP—Double dressed	8 57½	@
PROVISIONS—Pork—Mess	14 50	@	14 75
Lard—Prime steam	8 60	@
BUTTER—Fancy Dairy	24	@	26
Prime Creamery	30	@	35
FRUIT AND VEGETABLES—
Potatoes per bar. from store	1 25	@	1 40
Apples, prime, per barrel	2 50	@	3 50
NEW YORK.
FLOUR—State and Western	$2 80	@	3 35
Good to choice	4 00	@	6 75
GRAIN—Wheat—No. 2 spring	1 08¼	@	1 09
No. 2 red	1 14½	@	1 16
Corn—No. 2 mixed	64¾	@	65
Oats—mixed	40	@	41½
PORK—Mess	14 75	@	15 00
CHICAGO.
FLOUR—State and Western	$3 50	@	4 35
GRAIN—Wheat—No. 2 red	94½	@	94¾
Corn—No. 2	57	@
Oats—No. 2	37¼	@
Rye	58½	@
PORK—Mess	14 25	@	14 65
LARD—Steam	8-65	@	8-70
BALTIMORE.
FLOUR—Family	$5 00	@	5 75
GRAIN—Wheat—No. 2 red	1 06½	@	1 06¾
Corn—mixed	59	@	60
Oats—mixed	38	@	39
PROVISIONS—Pork—Mess	14 50	@
Lard—Refined	10	@
LOUISVILLE.
FLOUR—A No 1	$ 4 00	@	4 50
GRAIN—Wheat—No. 2 red, new	1 02	@	1 03
Corn—mixed	52	@	53
Oats—mixed	35	@
PORK—MESS	15 00	@
INDIANAPOLIS.
WHEAT—No. 2, red, new	$ 98½	@
CORN—mixed	45	@
OATS—mixed	33	@
LIVE STOCK—Cattle
Butchers' stock	3 75	@	5 00
Shipping cattle	5 25	@

A MYSTERY OF THE SEA.

The Fate Which Overtook the "City of Boston."—Captain Murray's Ideas and Experiences.

A few years ago, the City of Boston sailed from harbor, crowded with an expectant throng of passengers bound for a foreign shore.

She never entered port.

The mystery of her untimely end grows deeper as the years increase, and the Atlantic voyager, when the fierce winds howl around and danger is imminent on every hand, shudders as the name and mysterious fate of that magnificent vessel are alluded to.

Our reporter, on a recent visit to New York, took lunch with Captain George Siddons Murray, on board the Alaska, of the Guion line. Captain Murray is a man of stalwart build, well-knit frame and cheery, genial disposition. He has been a constant voyager for a quarter of a century, over half of that time having been in the trans-Atlantic service. In the course of the conversation over the well-spread table, the mystery of the City of Boston was alluded to.

"Yes," remarked the Captain, "I shall never forget the last night we saw that ill-fated vessel. I was chief officer of the City of Antwerp. On the day we sighted the City of Boston a furious southeast hurricane set in. Both vessels labored hard. The sea seemed determined to sweep away every vestige of life. When day ended the gale did not abate, and everything was lashed for a night of unusual fury. Our good ship was turned to the south to avoid the possibility of ice-bergs. The City of Boston, however, undoubtedly went to the north. Her boats, life-preservers and rafts were all securely lashed; and when she went down everything went with her, never to re-appear until the sea gives up its dead."

"What, in your opinion, Captain, was the cause of the loss of the City of Boston?"

"The City of Limerick, in almost precisely the same latitude, a few days later, found the sea full of floating ice; and I have no doubt the City of Boston collided with the ice, and sunk immediately."

Captain Murray has been in command of the Alaska ever since she was put in commission and feels justly proud of his noble ship. She carries thousands of passengers every year, and has greatly popularised the Williams & Guion line. Remarking upon the bronzed and healthy appearance of the Captain, the reporter said that sea life did not seem to be a very great physical trial.

"No? But a person's appearance is not always a trustworthy indication of his physical condition. For seven years I have been in many respects very much out of sorts with myself. At certain times I was so lame that it was difficult for me to move around. I could scarcely straighten up. I did not know what the trouble was, and though I performed all my duties regularly and satisfactorily, yet I felt that I might some day be overtaken with some serious prostrating disorder. These troubles increased. I felt dull and then, again, shooting pains through my arms and limbs. Possibly the next day I would feel flushed and unaccountably uneasy and the day following chilly and despondent. This continued until last December, when I was prostrated soon after leaving Queenstown, and for the remainder of the voyage was a helpless, pitiful sufferer. In January last, a friend who made that voyage with me, wrote me a letter urging me to try a new course of treatment. I gladly accepted his counsel, and for the last seven months have given thorough and business-like attention to the recovery of my natural health; and to-day, I have the proud satisfaction of saying to you that the lame back, the strange feelings, the sciatic rheumatism which have so long pursued me, have entirely disappeared through the blood-purifying influence of Warner's Safe Rheumatic Cure which entirely eradicated all rheumatic poison from my system. Indeed, to me, it seems that it has worked wonders, and I therefore most cordially commend it."

"And you have no trouble now in exposing yourself to the winds of the Atlantic?"

"Not the least. I am as sound as a bullet and I feel specially thankful over the fact because I believe rheumatic and kidney disease is in the blood of my family. I was dreadfully shocked on my last arrival in Liverpool to learn that my brother, who is a wealthy China tea merchant, had suddenly died of Bright's disease of the kidneys, and consider myself extremely fortunate in having taken my trouble in time and before any more serious effects were possible."

The conversation drifted to other topics, and as the writer watched the face before him, so strong in all its outlines and yet so genial, and thought of the innumerable exposures and hardships to which its owner had been exposed, he instinctively wished all who are suffering from the terrible rheumatic troubles now so common might know of Captain Murray's experience and the means by which he had been restored. Pain is a common thing in this world, but for too many endure it when they might just as well avoid it. It is a false philosophy which teaches us to endure when we can just as readily avoid. So thought the hearty Captain of the Alaska, so thinks the writer and so should all others think who desire happiness and a long life.

Twenty-five Per Cent. Stronger than any Other Butter Color.

BURLINGTON, Vt., May 3, 1882.

I hereby certify that I have examined the Butter Color prepared by Wells, Richardson & Co., and that the same is free from alkali or any other substance injurious to health; that I have compared it with some of the best of the other Butter Colors in the market and find it to be more than twenty-five per cent. stronger in color than the best of the others.

I am satisfied that it is not liable to become rancid, or in any way to injure the butter. I have examined it after two months free exposure to the air in a place liable to large changes of temperature, and found no trace of rancidity, while other kinds similarly exposed became rancid.

A. H. SABIN,
Prof. Chemistry, University of Vermont.

Walnut Leaf Hair Restorer

Is entirely different from all others. It is as clear as water, and, as its name indicates, is a perfect Vegetable Hair Restorer. It will immediately free the head from dandruff, restore grey hair to its natural color, and produce a new growth where it has fallen off. It does not in any manner affect the health, which Sulphur, Sugar of Lead and Nitrate of Silver preparations have done. It will change light or faded hair in a few days to a beautiful glossy brown. Ask your druggist for it. Each bottle is warranted. JOHN D. PARK & SONS, Wholesale Agents, Cincinnati, Ohio, and C. N. CRITTENTON, N. Y.

SWIFT'S Specific (S. S. S.) has relieved me of an obstinate case of Dry Tetter, which had troubled me for twenty-five years, and had baffled all sorts of treatment.

REV. I. R. BRANHAM, Macon, Ga.

A Messenger of Health.

Sent free to sufferers from nervous, chronic and blood diseases, brain and heart affections, nervous debility, exhaustion, etc., who have failed to find relief. It tells of wonderful cures effected by Dr. Scott's Coca, Beef and Iron, with Phosphorus. Sold by druggists; $1. Dr. Scott, Kansas City, Mo. Ask your druggist for pamphlet.

☞ Fitted out for the season. Dresses, cloaks, coats, stockings and all garments can be colored successfully with the Diamond Dyes. Fashionable colors. Only 10c at druggists. Wells, Richardson & Co., Burlington, Vt.

Hale's Honey of Horehound and Tar.

Make timely use of it for coughs. Pike's toothache drops cure in one minute.

"Samaritan Nervine cured my daughter of fits," said Jno. Murphy, of Albany, O.

NO SAFER REMEDY can be had for Coughs and Colds, than "Brown's Bronchial Troches." Sold only in boxes. 25 cts.

WONDER treads on heels of wonder. Samaritan Nervine is guaranteed to cure nervous disorders.

CONSUMPTION in any stage may be cured by Piso's Cure. 25 cents a bottle.

THE only remedy sold in the United States to-day that actually cures rheumatism is Du ang's. It never has and never can fail to cure the worst case. Write for free pamphlet. R. K. Helphenstine, druggist, Washington, D. C.

IF afflicted with Sore Eyes, use Dr. Isaac Thompson's Eye Water. Druggists sell it. 25c.

St. Jacobs Oil

THE GREAT GERMAN REMEDY For Pain! Relieves and cures RHEUMATISM, Neuralgia, SCIATICA, LUMBAGO, BACKACHE, Headache, Toothache, SORE THROAT, QUINSY, SWELLINGS, SPRAINS, Soreness, Cuts, Bruises, FROSTBITES, BURNS, SCALDS, And all other bodily aches and pains. FIFTY CENTS A BOTTLE. Sold by all Druggists and Dealers. Directions in 11 languages. The Charles A. Vogeler Co. (Successors to A. VOGELER & CO.) Baltimore, Md., U. S. A.

HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED

STOMACH BITTERS

The necessity for prompt and efficient household remedies is daily growing more imperative, and of these Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is the chief in merit and the most popular. Irregularity of the stomach and bowels, malarial fevers, liver complaints, debility, rheumatism and minor ailments, are thoroughly conquered by this incomparable family restorative and medicinal safe-guard, and it is justly regarded as the purest and most comprehensive remedy of its class. For sale by all Druggists and Dealers generally.

CATARRH

HAY-FEVER

ELY'S CREAM BALM when applied by the finger into the nostrils, will be absorbed, effectually cleansing the head of catarrhal virus, causing healthy secretions. It allays inflammation, protects the membrane of the nasal passages from additional colds, completely heals the sores and restores taste and smell. A few applications relieve. A thorough treatment will positively cure. Agreeable to use. Send for circular. Price 50 cents by mail or at druggists. Ely Brothers, Druggists, Owego, N.Y.

HOP PLASTER

This porous plaster is absolutely the best ever made, combining the virtues of hops with gums, balsams and extracts. Its power is wonderful in curing diseases where other plasters simply relieve. Crick in the Back and Neck, Pain in the Side or Limbs, Stiff Joints and Muscles, Kidney Troubles, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Sore Chest, Affections of the Heart and Liver, and all pains or aches in any part cured instantly by the Hop Plaster. ☞ Try it. Price 25 cents or five for $1.00. Mailed on receipt of price. Sold by all druggists and country stores. Hop Plaster Company, Proprietors, Boston, Mass.

LAME BACK

☞ For constipation, loss of appetite and diseases of the bowels take Hawley's Stomach and Liver Pills. 25 cents.

ST. PATRICK'S SALVE. TRY IT. USE IT. It relieves at once Burns, Piles, Chapped Hands or Lips, Corns, Bunions, Scalds, Bruises, Soreness of feet, hands, eyes, etc.; Itching from any cause. 25c. Ask your druggist, or send to 32 Fulton Street, N. Y.

DR. HORNE'S ELECTRIC BELT

Cures Nervousness, Rheumatism, Paralysis, Neuralgia, Sciatica, Kidney, Spine and Liver diseases, Gout, Asthma, Heart Disease, Dyspepsia, Constipation, Erysipelas, Catarrh, Piles, Epilepsy, Impotency, Prolapsus Uteri, Diabetes, etc. RUPTURE CURED BY ELECTRICITY. Only Electric Truss in the world. Agents wanted in every town. Send for Circular. Dr. W. J. HORNE, Inventor, 191 Wabash Av. Chicago, Ill.

PISO'S CURE FOR CURES WHERE ALL ELSE FAILS. Best Cough Syrup. Tastes good. Use in time. Sold by druggists. 25 100 CONSUMPTION.

"THE BEST IS THE CHEAPEST." SAW MILLS, ENGINES THRESHERS, Horse Powers, (For all sections and purposes.) Write for Free Pamphlet and Prices to The Aultman & Taylor Co., Mansfield, Ohio.

PILES "Anakesis" gives instant relief, and is an infallible cure for Piles. Price $1 from druggists, or sent prepaid by mail. Samples free. Ad. "ANAKESIS," Makers, Box 2416, New York.

PATENTS Procured or no charge, also Trade Marks, Labels, etc. Large illustrated book of patent law FREE. Long experience. Highest references. W. T. FITZGERALD, Attorney at Law, 1006 F Street, Washington, D.C.

PATENTS NO PATENT, NO PAY! R. S. & A. P. LACEY, Patent Attorneys, Washington, D. C. Full instructions and Hand-Book of Patents sent free.

For sale.—Dry Goods & Clothing Store, (est. 1866) Lebanon, Ind. Invoices $10,000, average sales $35,000, profit $10,000 per year; fine paying Restaurant, also Hotel and Saloon combined, in Cin. Ad. L. ADLER, 54 Pike's Bldg., Cin'ti, O.

DANDRUFF ERADICATOR removes dandruff, increases the growth and prevents the hair from falling out. Sent express paid for $1. Manufactured by J. B. BAIRD, Druggist, Cor. 9th & Market, Louisville, Ky.

PATENTS promptly procured in all countries. American Patent Agency, 183 Fifth Street, Cincinnati, Ohio.

$250 A MONTH. Agents Wanted. 90 best selling articles in the world. 1 sample FREE. Address JAY BRONSON, DETROIT, MICH.

HAIR Wigs & Waves sent C.O.D. anywhere. Wholesale & Retail. Price-list free. Goods guaranteed. B.C.STREHL, 157 Wabash-av., Chicago.

200 Men Wanted to paint roofs and houses. National RoofingCo., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

WE will send Waterbury Stem-Winder WATCH on receipt of $3.10 post-paid. CHAS. MAYAS & CO., R. 4, 377 Fulton St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

GAIN Health and Happiness. How? DO AS OTHERS HAVE DONE.

Are your Kidneys disordered? "Kidney Wort brought me from my grave, as it were, after I had been given up by 13 best doctors in Detroit." M. W. Deveraux, Mechanic, Ionia, Mich.

Are your nerves weak? "Kidney Wort cured me from nervous weakness &c. after I was not expected to live."—Mrs. M. M. B. Goodwin, Ed. Christian Monitor Cleveland, O.

Have you Bright's Disease? "Kidney-Wort cured me when my water was just like chalk and then like blood." Frank Wilson, Peabody, Mass.

Suffering from Diabetes? "Kidney-Wort is the most successful remedy I have ever used. Gives almost immediate relief." Dr. Phillip C. Ballou, Monkton, Vt.

Have you Liver Complaint? "Kidney-Wort cured me of chronic Liver Diseases after I prayed to die." Henry Ward, late Col. 69th Nat. Guard, N. Y.

Is your Back lame and aching? "Kidney-Wort, (1 bottle) cured me when I was so lame I had to roll out of bed." C. M. Tallmage, Milwaukee, Wis.

Have you Kidney Disease? "Kidney-Wort made me sound in liver and kidneys after years of unsuccessful doctoring. Its worth $10 a box."—Sam'l Hodges, Williamstown, West Va.

Are you Constipated? "Kidney-Wort causes easy evacuations and cured me after 16 years use of other medicines." Nelson Fairchild, St. Albans, Vt.

Have you Malaria? "Kidney-Wort has done better than any other remedy I have ever used in my practice." Dr. R. K. Clark, South Hero, Vt.

Are you Bilious? "Kidney-Wort has done me more good than any other remedy I have ever taken." Mrs. J. T. Galloway, Elk Flat, Oregon.

Are you tormented with Piles? "Kidney-Wort permanently cured me of bleeding piles. Dr. W. C. Kline recommended it to me." Geo. H. Horst, Cashier M. Bank, Myerstown, Pa.

Are you Rheumatism racked? "Kidney-Wort cured me, after I was given up to die by physicians and I had suffered thirty years." Elbridge Malcolm, West Bath, Maine.

Ladies, are you suffering? "Kidney-Wort cured me of peculiar troubles of several years standing. Many friends use and praise it." Mrs. H. Lamoreaux, Isle La Motte, Vt.

If you would Banish Disease and gain Health, Take KIDNEY-WORT THE BLOOD CLEANSER.

SAMARITAN NEVER FAILS. NERVINE THE GREAT NERVE CONQUEROR

A SPECIFIC FOR Epilepsy, Spasms, Convulsions, Falling Sickness, St. Vitus Dance, Alcoholism, Opium Eating, Scrofula, Kings Evil, Ugly Blood Diseases, Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Sick Headache, Rheumatism, Nervous Weakness, Brain Worry, Blood Sores, Biliousness, Costiveness, Nervous Prostration, Kidney Troubles and Irregularities. $1.50.

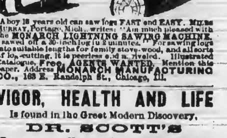
Sample Testimonials.

"Samaritan Nervine is doing wonders." Dr. J. O. McLemoin, Alexander City, Ala.



"I feel it my duty to recommend it." Dr. D. F. Laughlin, Clyde, Kansas.

"It cured where physicians failed." Rev. J. A. Edie, Beaver, Pa.

☞ Correspondence freely answered. ☜ (17)

THE DR. S. A. RICHMOND MED. CO., ST. JOSEPH, MO. Sold by All Druggists. LORD, STOUTENBURG & CO., Agents, Chicago, Ill.

Sawing Made Easy
Monarch Lightning Sawing Machine!

A boy 16 years old can saw logs FAST and EASY. MILES MURRAY, Portage, Mich., writes: "Am much pleased with the MONARCH LIGHTNING SAWING MACHINE. I sawed off a 30-inch log in 2 minutes." For sawing logs into suitable lengths for family stove-wood, and all sorts of log-cutting, it is peerless and unrivaled. Illustrated Catalogue, Free. AGENTS WANTED. Mention this paper. Address MONARCH MANUFACTURING CO., 163 E. Randolph St., Chicago, Ill.

VIGOR, HEALTH AND LIFE Is found in the Great Modern Discovery, DR. SCOTT'S Coca, Beef and Iron (With Phosphorus.) Possessing marvelous curative virtues in all forms of Nervous Debility, Brain, Heart and Nervous Diseases, Dyspepsia, Weak Lungs, Nerve Exhaustion, &c. $1.00 per bottle; 6 bottles, $5.00. Send stamp for the "Messenger of Health," and read of wonderful cures effected by Coca, Beef and Iron, or ask your Druggist for it. Address DR. C. W. SCOTT, Kansas City, Mo.

CHICAGO SCALE CO. 2 TON WAGON SCALE, $40. 3 TON, $50. 4 Ton $60, Beam Box Included. 240 lb. FARMER'S SCALE, $5. The "Little Detective," ¼ oz. to 25 lb. $3. 300 OTHER SIZES. Reduced PRICE LIST FREE. FORGES, TOOLS, &c. BEST FORGE MADE FOR LIGHT WORK, $10. 40 lb. Anvil and Kit of Tools, $10. Farmers save time and money doing odd jobs. Blowers, Anvils, Vices & Other Articles AT LOWEST PRICES, WHOLESALE & RETAIL.

CONSUMPTION. I have a positive remedy for the above disease; by its use thousands of cases of the worst kind and of long standing have been cured. Indeed, so strong is my faith in its efficacy, that I will send TWO BOTTLES FREE, together with a VALUABLE TREATISE on this disease, to any sufferer. Give Express and P. O. address. DR. T. A. SLOCUM, 181 Pearl St., New York.

CANCER AND TUMORS Treated scientifically and cured without the knife. Book on treatment sent free. Drs. Gratigny & Norris 204 W. 4th St., Cincinnati, O.

$4,444 a Year at home. Terms and costly outfit free. Address H. A. ELLS & Co., Chicago.

DIPHTHERIA CROUP, ASTHMA, BRONCHITIS, Neuralgia, Rheumatism. JOHNSON'S ANODYNE LINIMENT (for Internal and External Use) will instantly relieve these terrible diseases, and will positively cure nine cases out of ten. Information that will save many lives sent free by mail. Don't delay a moment. Prevention is better than cure. JOHNSON'S ANODYNE LINIMENT CURES Influenza, Hoarseness, Hacking Cough, Whooping Cough, Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Cholera Morbus, Kidney Troubles, and Lame Back. Sold everywhere. Circulars sent FREE. I. S. JOHNSON & CO., Boston, Mass.

If you are Interested

In the inquiry—Which is the best Liniment for Man and Beast?—this is the answer, attested by two generations: the MEXICAN MUSTANG LINIMENT. The reason is simple. It penetrates every sore, wound, or lameness, to the very bone, and drives out all inflammatory and morbid matter. It "goes to the root" of the trouble, and never fails to cure in double quick time.

Beware. of the continued use of mercury and potash for the treatment of Blood and Skin diseases—they never cure, and nearly always injure or totally ruin the general health.

A WELL-KNOWN DRUGGIST.

I have seen a great many cases cured with Swift's Specific—some who had tried all sorts of treatment. In fact, I have never known it to fail when taken properly. I sell a large quantity of it, and for all diseases that are dependent on blood poison or skin humor. It cures PIMPLES AND BLOTCHES ON THE SKIN, and makes the complexion fair and rosy. As for blood taint, there is no such word as fail. It cures cases that have long withstood other sorts of treatment, and without any of those recurring troubles that generally follow mercurial and other so-called cures. T. L. MASSENBURG, Macon, Ga.

Our treatise on Blood and Skin Diseases mailed free to applicants. THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., Drawer 3, Atlanta, Ga.

Free Information About The South-West. Kansas, Colorado, Utah, New Mexico, Arizona, California and Old Mexico offer the best field for Farmers, Fruit-Growers, Stock-Raisers, Capitalists, Merchants, Miners and Mechanics of all trades. Maps, papers and pamphlets, giving detailed information mailed free on application to C. B. SCHMIDT, Commissioner of Immigration, A. T. & S. F. R. R., TOPEKA, KANSAS.

COLEMAN BUSINESS COLLEGE, Newark, N. J. Terms $40. Positions for graduates; write for circular.

A. N. K.—E. 960

WHEN WRITING TO ADVERTISERS please say you saw the advertisement in this paper.

BOONE COUNTY RECORDER.

VOLUME IX. BURLINGTON, KY., WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 16, 1884. NUMBER 11.

CRUSHED TO DEATH.

A Man and Two Horses Instantly Killed

By the Sudden Giving Way of A Building Containing 100 Tons of Ice.

DAYTON, O., January 10.—Charles Reider and his team of two horses were instantly killed at Frank Kimmerle's ice house, in Browntown, to-day, by the giving way of the north wall of the building, which came down with a crash, together with about 100 tons of ice which it contained, and buried Reider and his horses beneath the debris. They were instantly killed by being frightfully crushed beneath the enormous pressure of the ice. Henry Steiner and John Ryan, his fellow workmen, who were employed but a short distance from the building, say that there was no warning, but that the entire wall and ice fell in at once with a terrific report, and all was over. After some work they succeeded in removing Reider, whose body was considerably crushed and bruised, especially about the head. The building which was used for the ice house was a brick concern and entirely inadequate for the intended purpose. Its walls were but six inches thick, and were consequently not able to restrain the enormous pressure from the ice. Reider was twenty-six years of age, and leaves a wife and child.

A Hotel Keeper Suicides.

GREENSBURG, PA., January 11.—James J. Keenan, one of the proprietors of the best known Hotels in the western part of the State committed suicide to-day. The only cause seems to have been the marriage of Edward Keenan, a brother and partner. The wedding took place last night. James did not go to bed, and this morning was in a state verging upon insanity. He told his mother that Edward and himself would both be carried out of the hotel, meaning, it is thought, he would kill Edward and then himself. About nine o'clock he went upstairs and found his mother in her room, and told her what he intended to do. She started for the door, turned and saw him with a revolver in his hand. She rushed to the stairs to summon help, but he fired two shots into his head before his mother got to the foot of the stairs. Friends rushed upstairs immediately, only to find him drawing his last breath, with two ugly holes in his head. It is thought that if he had met Edward two minutes before there would have been two dead bodies instead of one.

The Inhuman Monsters.

RIVERHEAD, L. I., January 10.—George Jeffrey, indicted with his wife for the murder of a child of the latter by a former husband, makes a statement that he killed the child by holding its body between his knees and twisting the child's head one way until he thought he had broken its neck, and twisted its head the other way to make sure he had killed it. Jeffrey had contemplated killing the child for a long time, and thought he could do so by continual cruelties, and not be held guilty of the crime. Failing, he at last broke its neck. He hated the child because he was not its father, and its existence interfered more or less with his wife earning money for him. He had no other motive for the crime. Being informed of her husband's confession, Mrs. Jeffrey became very light-hearted. She said she was present when he killed the child. She made no resistance. She could have no peace while it lived.

A Desperado Killed.

EVEREST, KAN., January 11.—During a dance last night Edward Smith became disorderly, and Marshal Fait put him out. Smith at once draw his revolver and flourished it. Fait in endeavoring to dodge fell, when Smith stood over him and began emptying his revolver into Fait's body, who stated that if he fired again he would shoot. Fait fired twice from his position on the floor, one shot striking Smith in the arm, the other entering the heart, causing instant death. He was removed to his house, where his sick wife was completely overcome. Fait is wounded several times. Smith was a member of the notorious Barlow brothers' gang, who are under indictment for robbing the post-office at Normanville last summer, and shooting the Postmaster and his wife.

Suspected Murderer Arrested.

FLATBUSH, L. I., January 10.—Detective Kaliaher has just arrested the supposed murderer of Fannie Gaskell, near Elmira. He was taken near the city line, and is now being sent to New York. The prisoner's name is William Menken. He corresponds fully with the discription. In the room where he was arrested a quantity of jewelry, identified as that worn by the girl, was found. Menken formerly served a term in the Elmira Reformatory for burglary. He will be taken to Elmira.

Some Fears of a Flood.

PITTSBURG, January 10.—Grave fears are entertained of a disastrous flood, if the present warm weather continues. It has been thawing nearly all day, and at 6 o'clock this evening a drizzling rain set in, which gives promise of continuing through the night. The snow is two feet deep, and if it goes off suddenly with rain or a ground thaw, a flood such as has not been known for many years would probably result.

Preparing for a Flood.

BALTIMORE, January 11.—It is reported that a tremendous ice gorge is forming in the Susquehanna River at Port Deposit. The river is rising rapidly. The people of the town are flying with their effects to the higher lands. The situation is very grave. A Baltimore & Ohio Railroad bridge building at Port Deposit, and the big bridge at Havre de Grace is threatened. It is raining hard, and the snow is melting fast.

In Emmanuel's Memory.

ROME, January 9.—A pilgrimage to the tomb of King Victor Emmanuel took place to-day. Pilgrims from all parts of Italy, estimated at sixty thousand, were in the procession, representing the six great provinces of the kingdom. Large deputations were present from Constantinople, Vienna, Corfu, Gibraltar, Trieste, Buda-Pesth, Frankfort, Salonica, Odessa, Paris, Tunis, Alexandria and Tangiers.

An Awful Crime.

LANCASTER, PA., January 11.—Information reached this city to-day of a most horrible atrocity near Schoenecks, this county, resulting in the death of a lad aged about ten years. The victim's name is Mishler. He was the son of poor parents, while his assailants are said to be the young sons of wealthy people. They enticed their victim to a secluded spot, and there, under threat of cutting his throat if he made outcry, beat him cruelly, and also hacked him terribly with blunt knives. The child's screams were at last heard by a lady who lived near by, and the "Jesse Pomeroys" fled. The sufferer was at once cared for, but assistance came too late and the lad died. The alleged assailants, who are aged fourteen and fifteen years respectitvely, were subsequently arrested and taken before a justice, but on account of the position and influence of their families, it is said that efforts are being made to conceal their names as well as their crime.

Hanging in Virginia.

NORFOLK, VA., January 11.—John Jarvis, the murderer of C. W. Bonney, was hanged to-day at Princess Anne Court-house. He said last night that he felt at the time of the murder an uncontrollable desire to kill Bonney which he could not resist. He went to the scaffold calm and collected. His neck was broken and his death painless. A few months before the murder, Jarvis purchased a small farm and paid part of the purchase money in cash. Being unable to meet the first deferred payment he was dispossessed and the farm sold to Bonney, who returned to Jarvis the amount he had paid on the farm. On September 18 Jarvis went to the farm armed with a gun, began talking pleasantly with Bonney, and finally ask the latter to take a drink of whisky, producing a bottle. Bonney raised the bottle to his lips, when Jarvis shot him, killing him instantly.

Noted Turfman Dead.

NEW YORK, January 11.—W. A. Engeman, founder of Coney Island, and proprietor of the Brighton Beach race track, died at his residence in Brooklyn this evening. Engeman was known for the past five years by turfmen throughout the country, and noted for his liberality. Engeman began life as a New York newsboy; was afterward a scout in the West and a companion of "Buffalo Bill." He leaves a fortune of over a half million.

Insurance Company Mulcted.

TRENTON, N. J., January 11.—The jury was out twenty-five hours, and gave the plaintiff a verdict for $11,293, in the suit of Ada Davey, widow of Wm. Davey, against the Ætna Life Insurance Company of Hertford, tried in the United States Circuit Court. Davey was insured for $10,000. The company insisted his death was the result of drunkenness.

Herr Lasker's Papers.

BERLIN, January 10.—Inspection of the literary collection of the late Herr Lasker reveals surprising wealth of material. There are many unpublished and some unfinished manuscripts. All were temporarily placed under seal. The papers found will, the executor declares, shed much light upon some heretofore obscure points in German parliamentary history.

English Vessel and Crew Lost.

WEST CREEK, N. J., January 10.—On the evening of the 8th, the bark Elmira, of England, came ashore above the Life Saving Station. Communication was made by the shot-line and whip, but before the crew could be landed, the vessel broke up and all hands were lost.

China Getting Ready.

HONG KONG, January 11.—The Chinese authorities have blockaded the Canton River, between the city and Bogue Forts, leaving only a navigable passage ninety feet wide. Calls were issued for recruits for the Chinese army. Chinese troops are embarking for Hainau.

Assaulted and Robbed.

SPARTANBURG, S. C., January 11.—While Prof. Houghston, of Cedar Springs Institute, was going home in the dark, he was knocked senseless and robbed of money and a gold watch, and is supposed to be fatally wounded. Alfred Irvin, janitor of the Institute, has been arrested as the guilty party.

A President in Trouble.

BUENOS AYRES, January 10.—From Montevideo come rumors of a serious affair recently between President Santos and two officers in high position. It is said that one of the officers was about to shoot the President, when the other drew a sword and prevented him.

Lynching in Idaho.

WEISSER, IDAHO, January 10.—A masked mob took Charles Dieterd, murderer of Buck Bosie, from the jail cell and shot and beat him. They then dragged him half a mile to a slaughter-house and hanged him to the windlass used by the butchers.

A Preliminary Smoke.

AUBURN, CAL., January 11.—Stephen Richards was hanged to-day for the murder of Thomas Nicholls. He treated the affair cooly and mounted the scaffold smoking a cigar.

BREVITIES.

JAMES BESLAND, dry goods, New York, failed on the 10th. Liabilities, $50,000.

THE jury gave Bridget Cronin six cents damages in her suit against the Rev. Florence McCarthy, of Brooklyn, N. Y., for $30,000 for alleged assault. Bridget was formerly organist at the church of which Father McCarthy is pastor.

THE banks in the City of Mexico are earning annual dividends of sixteen and eighteen per cent.

WILSON BARRETT, the London actor, has been offered $7,000 a week for an American engagement.

THE Monongahela Navigation Company reports 112,395,389 bushels of coal as having passed through the pools last year, an increase of 6,227,389 bushels over 1882.

INDICTMENTS have been returned against Charles Holmes and Harry Jackson, charged with starting the fires in Red Bank, N. Y., which resulted in a loss of $400,000.

TWO Liverpool corn dealers were arraigned in the Police Court a few days ago for hypothecating grain bills twice. The room was crowded with brokers.

THE Russian Treasury on the 10th, paid 50,000,000 rubles on the public debt.

DECIDEDLY WARLIKE.

Grave Fears of a General Massacre in the Sondan.

The Chinese Preparing For War With France—A Battle at Bacninh Imminent.

LONDON, January 12.—The city of Khartoum is now considered lost to Egypt. Colonel Coetlogon, commanding the forces there, again telegraphs to the Khedive for instant orders to retreat. The Mudir of Khartoum has returned from a tour of inspection of the country toward Sennear, and reports that all the tribes of the provinces around Khartoum have declared for El Mahdi. The Berber tribes are also raising El Mehdi's standard. The Mudir has advised the immediate withdrawal from Khartoum of all the Christian population, European or native, on the ground that El Mahdi's followers will massacre all unless they embrace Mohammedanism. Nubar Pasha, the Egyptian Prime Minister, yesterday telegraphed from Cairo an order that all the Christian population should leave Khartoum, but that the garrison should remain until further news should be received relative to the advance of the forces under El Mahdi. Colonel Coetlogon's spies from El Obeid bring reports that the main body of El Mehdi's forces has been provisioned for a long march, and that it is advancing upon Khartoum in numbers variously estimated at from 70,000 to 90,000. Large crowds of the Coptic populace, including women and children, are preparing for the journey from Khartoum to Berber, under a guard of troops.

CANTON, January 13.—The authorities of this province are vigorously preparing for war. They are building a telegraph line between the Canton and Tonquin frontier. The Viceroy of Canton issued a proclamation summoning the people to repel the French invaders, at the same time expressing friendship toward other nations.

VIENNA January 13.—It is stated that China has definitely decided not to recall the troops from Bacninh, where a decisive battle is expected shortly.

HONG KONG, January 13.—The Chinese fear the French are entertaining designs upon Canton. The people are very uneasy. Hai-phong reports are that Admiral Courbet would advance upon Bacninh without awaiting reinforcements.

Killed by a Policeman.

PALESTINE, TEXAS, January 14.—Policeman John Kelly shot and mortally wounded Turner while endeavoring to escape after being arrested for carrying concealed weapons. Turner, instead of being a friendless cowboy, as was supposed, happened to be the brother of the District Attorney of Sherman, Texas, who came here and had his brother's ante-mortem statement taken by proper officers, and when he died this morning policeman Kelly was arrested for his murder. It is said the Supreme Court of Texas long ago decided that officers had no right to use a pistol in this way. Kelly is much respected as an officer and a peaceful man.

Death From Alcoholic Poisoning.

NEW YORK, January 13.—Edward Gilfeather, aged twenty, employed as night watchman in a wholesale liquor store on Liberty street, was found dead in the sample room of the store. He was sitting naked in a chair. On the lounge lay an unconscious woman, also nude. She was recognized as Mary Roe, aged forty, a dissolute character. They had "sampled" liquors freely, as every bottle found was uncorked. The woman is pronounced suffering acute alcoholic poisoning, with a slight chance of recovery.

Fatal Stabbing Affray.

WHEELING, W. Va., January 13.—A serious and probably fatal stabbing affray took place on West Fork, in Calhoun County, a few days since. A man named Winner stabbed a school-teacher named Wells, inflicting a deep cut in the left breast over the heart. Wells is at the point of death and cannot recover. Winner has been arrested and is in jail. The trouble grew out of Wells whipping Winner's sister at school.

Cruelty of English Mothers.

LONDON, January 13.—A North of England Coroner has announced that out of 258 inquests in one year in a manufacturing town, sixty-two were on children under a year, who died through the absence of their mothers at work or at the drinking saloons. The lowest death rate was on Fridays, when the wages were spent, and the highest on Sunday, in consequence of Saturday's drunkenness.

Log-Rolling Accident.

LITTLE ROCK, ARK., January 13.—A Polander named Nowakomski, living at Warren, a few miles from this city, met with a horrible accident, which in all probability will cost him his life. He was superintending at a log-rolling, when a large log which he had not seen rolled upon him. His legs were broken. Surgeons from the city attended the sufferer.

Accidental Shooting.

WHEELING, W. VA., January 13.—Three boys of Upshur County were shooting at a mark with a revolver. The weapon failing to go off they gathered around the boy who held it to watch him fix it, when it was suddenly discharged, the ball striking James Nesbitt in the forehead, killing him instantly.

The Panama Canal.

PANAMA, January 13.—Men continue to arrive by vessel for the Canal Company. The number now employed exceeds fourteen thousand. The dry season has set in, and it is hoped much progress will be made this year on the work.

—Dear girls, look before you leap—look at the young man's bank account. —Pittsburgh Dispatch. Very foolish advice. Better inquire whether he has a good reputation for honesty and integrity. Whether he has a sound body and a good mind, and is a stranger in the saloon. Whether he is kind to mother and sister. Better marry any young man with these virtues without a dollar than any fortunate youth with a bank account with the vices coursing through his veins and shaping him for future misery.—Chicago Inter Ocean.

XLVIIIth CONGRESS.

First Session.

WASHINGTON, January 8.—SENATE—The resolution of Mr. Hale was agreed to, that the Secretary of the Navy be directed to inform the Senate what was the original cost of the vessels whose names are found in the Naval Register for the year 1883. The Senate resumed consideration of the new rules. Considerable debate arose upon the proposed rule which relates to appropriation bills. Mr. Miller, of New York, spoke of the growing importance of the Agricultural Bureau, and thought the Committee on Agriculture should have something to say regarding it. He referred to the exclusion of American pork from the markets of France and Germany, one of the reasons given for its exclusion being the absence of government inspection in this country. If some action is not taken on this subject a large proportion of the farmers in this country will have to change their forms of industry. Pending the discussion of the rules, the Senate went into executive session and shortly afterward adjourned.

HOUSE.—A joint resolution for the immediate appropriation of $100,000 to the Mississippi River Commission was referred. Bills were introduced as follows: Giving Congress power to pass uniform laws regulating marriage in the States and Territories. For the purchase of trade dollars by fractional coins of the United States, to repeal the recent statute prohibiting foreign vessels from ascending our rivers and unloading. Resolutions were introduced to prohibit the coinage of three cent pieces, to relieve commercial travelers from a license tax, to prohibit the importation of immigration of foreigners under contract to perform labor in the United States, to regulate the manufacture and sale of intoxicants in the territories. Adjourned.

WASHINGTON, January 9.—SENATE—The following petitions were presented: For the establishment of a Soldiers' Home in Kansas. That lands granted the Oregon Central Railway, which had not been earned, be retaken by the United States. A bill passed for the payment of $6,000 to the parents of Lieutenant Schwatka, the Arctic explorer. The Senate resumed consideration of the new rules. The first question in order was the amendment by Mr. Hale to the rule relating to the appropriation bills, to strike out the clause permitting the reference of District of Columbia appropriations to the Senate Committee on the District. Agreed to—29 yeas, 25 nays. Mr. Plumb's amendment, referring the appropriation bills for the different departments of the Government in the first place to the committees, respectively, having charge in the Senate of the interests of those departments was brought up, but without reaching a conclusion on the rule the Senate went into executive session, and soon adjourned.

HOUSE.—Mr. Deuster offered a resolution directing the Committee on Commerce to investigate the alleged reasons for the exclusion of American pork from Germany and France, and recommend such legislation as is warranted by the facts. Referred Bills reported; for the relief of Fitz John Porter, to enable the U. S. Courts in cases of improper grants of letters by reason of misrepresentation to declare the patent void, on application by the Attorney General. The House refused—yeas, 124; nays, 143;—to refer the message of the President submitting the annual report of the Mississippi River Commission, to the Committee on Mississippi Levees. Mr. Bagley introduced a bill, appropriating $130,000 for the statue of Liberty Enlightening the World, to be erected in New York harbor. Action was taken in regard to the death of the German statesman, Edward Lasker. Adjourned.

WASHINGTON, January 10.—SENATE.—Bills introduced: Providing for the creation of the U. S. Postal Telegraph Company, under direction of the Post-Office Department, and the office of Fourth Assistant Postmaster General, this official to be President of the Board of Directors of the company; and for the establishment of postal telegraph offices at post-offices throughout the United States and the transmission of correspondence from such offices. To prohibit the mailing of newspapers containing lottery advertisements. Petitions presented: From ex-soldiers and sailors, asking grants of land. From posts of the Grand Army of the Republic, praying for the passage of the bill now pending repealing the statutory limitation in regard to arrearages of pensions. From fifteen hundred citizens of Kansas and Missouri, praying that the land known as Oklahoma land in Indian Territory be opened to settlement. From posts of the Grand Army of the Republic in Michigan, asking further awards of land to ex-soldiers. From many ex-soldiers, asking the opening of the Sioux reservation: also asking for the passage of an "equalization of bounty" bill.

HOUSE.—A resolution was offered calling on the Secretary of State for information concerning undervaluation, false classification and other irregular practices in the importation of foreign goods, and whether legislation is necessary to prevent the frauds on the revenue resulting therefrom. Referred. Mr. Rosecrans introduced a bill for relief of Col. Thos. Worthington, of Ohio. Referred. Mr. King introduced a joint resolution for the immediate appropriation of $1,000,000 for the preservation, repair and construction of certain works of improvement on the Mississippi River. Referred. Mr. Springer offered a resolution authorising the Committee on Expenditures in the Department of Justice, in making its investigation, to send for persons and papers. Adopted. Mr. Wood offered the following, which was adopted: The Secretary of the Treasury is requested to state to the House the amount of gold certificates issued by the Treasury Department between December 1, 1878, and December 1, 1881. Also the amount issued during 1882 and 1883, and the reasons for the limited issue thereof in those years; also his reasons for discontinuing the issue of silver certificates required by law. Mr. Lamb introduced a bill fixing the hours of work of the laborers of the Government. Referred. Adjourned until Monday.

WASHINGTON, January 11.—SENATE.—Mr. Van Wyck, of the Committee on Improvement of the Mississippi River, submitted a joint resolution appropriating $1,000,000 to continue the improvements begun by the Mississippi River Improvement Commission. After debate it was amended to give it the form of a bill, which passed. Mr. Edmunds introduced a bill providing for relief of the survivors of the Jeanette expedition and crew and heirs of deceased members, and authorizes the Secretary of the Treasury to pay Melville and Danenhower $1,000 each, and Richmond X. Newcomb, naturalist: John Cole, acting boatswain; W. T. C. Nindermann, James H. Bartlett, seamen, $600 each; to the remaining survivors $300 each. The bill also authorizes payment of a sum, equal to one year's salary of each of the deceased members of the Jeannette expedition and crew, to their respective heirs. By Mr. Call—Providing for the establishment of postal savings banks, requires the Postmaster General to establish postal banks in all post-offices where the receipts equal $1,000 annually. Deposits will be received of all sums under $100 the payment of which on demand is guaranteed by the Government. Mr. Anthony's resolution of January 9 was taken up, instructing the Committee on Foreign Relations to inquire into the expediency of legislation to enable the Executive to protect American interests against those Governments who have prohibited or restrained the importation of healthful meats from the United States. Mr. Collum than addressed the Senate in regard to his bill to reorganise the legislative power of Utah. It provides that the government of Utah shall consist of a Governor and Council of nine, to be appointed by the President, confirmed by the Senate, and to be citizens and qualified voters o the Territory. The Senate took up the new rules, and after debate adopted them. Adjourned until Monday.

—From the published reports of the various asylums in the United States it appears that within the last ten years the number of insane persons has nearly doubled.

—A letter addressed to "Widow Smith, Richford, Vt.," threw the postmaster into a panic, there being eleven widows of that name in Richford.

—Mr. Tennyson's wealth in property is said to be between $1,000,000 and $1,500,000.

THE COMMONWEALTH.

Legislative Proceedings.

FRANKFORT, January 7.—SENATE.—The Senate met at the usual hour. After the usual formalities of opening, it was provided that a national salute be fired to-morrow (Jackson's Day.) A lot of notaries were confirmed and several unimportant local bills introduced. The names of the appointees by the Governor for the Lexington Lunatic Asylum were referred to the Committee on Charitable Institutions. Adjourned.

HOUSE.—The house met at 10 o'clock. Several members asked and were granted indefinite leave of absence. The resolution for a joint committee to investigate the Lexington Lunatic Asylum was called up and passed. A resolution was offered requiring the committee on public printing to advertise for sealed bids for printing and binding, and repot the result before the election for public printer came off. Adjourned.

FRANKFORT, January 8.—SENATE—Mr. Elliott moved to suspend the rules and consider the bill to authorize the Levy Court of Nelson County to levy an ad valorum tax for county purposes. Passed. Mr. Robbins presented Joint Resolution No. 1, to investigate the affairs of the Eastern Kentucky Lunatic Asylum. Mr. Bush moved to emend by inserting, "And the Committee is authorized to send for persons and papers." Adopted. Mr. Garnett proposed to recommit the resolution and amendments to the Committee on Charitable Institutions. Recommitted. Adjourned.

HOUSE.—Mr. Humphries offered a resolution, which was adopted, providing that a joint committee composed of five Senators and seven Representatives be appointed to consider all bills relative to a call for a Constitutional Convention. A resolution offered by Mr. Jefferson passed, that a committee of three from the House and two from the Senate be appointed who shall constitute a Committee on Public Health. Mr. Cook offered a resolution, that the Committee on Public Printing be, and they are hereby instructed to immediately advertise for sealed bids for the public printing and binding, and report all bids that may be received previous to the election of Public Printer. A resolution fixing the standing hour of adjournment at 1 o'clock was passed. Adjourned.

FRANKFORT, January 9—SENATE.—Senator Candill presented a petition signed by citizens of Letcher, Perry, Breathitt and Floyd counties, asking for the establishment of a new county. Senator Bush, from the Committee on Charitable Institutions, reported that the Senate should advise and consent to the nominations made by Governor Knott as officers of the Eastern Lunatic Asylum, which was consented to. The House bill, enabling the County Court of Lincoln County to exempt the Cincinnati, Green River and Nashville Railroad Company from taxation in that county for the period of thirty years, was passed. Senator Hays offered a bill which was referred to the Finance Committee, authorizing the Governor and his successors to employ an agent to urge the collection of all claims the State of Kentucky has against the Government. Adjourned.

HOUSE.—A resolution was adopted favoring the pensioning of Mexican soldiers. Mr. Carroll reported a bill to change the time of holding the regular terms of the Bath Circuit Court. Passed. Mr. Mann reported a bill to incorporate the city of Clinton, in Hickman County. Passed. Mr. Sanders—a bill to amend the charter of Spring Lick, in Grayson county. Passed. Mr. Carothers reported a bill to amend the character of the City of Newport. Passed. Mr. Jackson—A bill enabling the County Court of Lincoln County to exempt from county taxation the Cincinnati, Green River and Nashville Railroad Company. Passed. Mr. J. B. Reed—A bill to authorize John E. Gosson, late Judge of the Pulaski County Court, to sign certain orders of the Court. Passed.

WORK was suspended on the new Court-house, Newport, during the recent cold weather.

SUSIE REED, aged twenty years, who attempted to jump off the bridge at Newport, a few days ago, made a second attempt to take her life on the 3d, by cutting her throat. The perfidy of a young man who had promised to marry her, led to the rash acts.

AT the residence of Mr. Isenberg, in Louisville, Mary Mitchell, the domestic, lighted the fire in the usual way, on the morning of the 6th, and retired to an adjacent room to await until the room warmed up. Later, she entered the kitchen and began kneading the dough for biscuits, when the range let go, and every thing breakable about the place went to pieces. The window glass was shattered to the last pane, cooking utensils were scattered in every direction, the range reduced to small pieces, and smoke and soot reigned supreme. A large piece of iron struck the woman, and seriously injured her hip.

THE resident graduates at the Louisville City Hospital are much perplexed regarding the case of Joseph P. Heck, a patient recently admitted there, who is suffering with a horrible skin disease, said to resemble old-time leprosy. Heck says he feels no extraordinary pain consequent upon his affliction, but there are innumerable sores on his back, with dark bluish-red lines around them, and his skin is dark, ashy and dry. The case is being watched with much interest by the medical fraternity.

HENRY MEYROSE was jailed in Covington, a few days ago, on the charge of house-breaking. He went into the cigar establishment of Carpenter Bros. on Seventh street, and the police were informed. Officers were soon at the place, and found that Meyrose was still in the building. They hoisted Colonel Jim Crackcorn through the transom which Meyrose had entered. He unbolted the doors, and the police, after considerable searching, found him lying between two barrels. He had a number of samples done up ready to carry off. He is an old-time thief, and has done time at Frankfort on two different occasions.

THE literary societies of the Central University elected speakers for the June celebration just before the holidays. The speakers are; R. L. Crenshaw, Campbellsville, Ky.; W. J. Chinn, Frankfort, Ky.; W. E. Cabell, Camp Knox, Ky., from the Philalethean Society; J. M. Lassing, Boone County, Ky.; C. J. McKee, Cynthiana, Ky.; J. W. Simpson, Nicholsville, Ky., from the Epiphyledian Society; R. Tate Irvine, of Lebanon, Ky., was elected Chairman to preside over the June celebration. Ex-Governor J. B. McCreary was selected to address the two societies on the 22d of February commemoration, and Hon. Henry Watterson, of Louisville, to deliver the address in June.

WM. A. MCCULLOUGH, a well-known young man of Louisville, died at St. Joseph's Infirmary from the effects of the excessive use of whisky. During the sleet some few weeks ago he fell upon the street and fractured a leg, and he had been a sufferer from that, but added drink to his misfortune, which brought about his end. He was a son of Mr. James McCullough, the furniture dealer.

WALTTER MARLBOROUGH, an employe of Mitchell & Tranter's mill, Covington, died suddenly a few days ago while wheeling a wheelbarrow. The deceased was about sixty years of age and an old citizen of Covington. Death from heart disease was the Coroner's verdict.

THE house and contents of George Talbott, near Cynthiana, was entirely destroyed by fire recently. A Mr. Beckett vacated a week before, but left his furniture, provisions, etc., in the house. It was evidently the work of an incendiary. Loss about $700; no insurance.

THE DAIRY.

—Feed the cow all she will eat and digest.

—In Dundee, Scotland, a dairyman was recently fined £5 for selling milk which had been kept in a room in which his son was confined by scarlet fever. Seventeen persons who used the milk were attacked by scarlet fever and four died.

—The butter crop of Vermont is estimated at 27,000,000 pounds—half a pound for each man, woman and child in the United States. The butter crop of Iowa is estimated at 100,000,000 pounds, or nearly two pounds for each individual in the country. Vermont is one of the old dairy States. For years her products have had a National—and indeed, a European—reputation. The dairy interest of Iowa has grown up within about a dozen years. In 1881 her butter product was estimated at 50,000,000 pounds; doubled during the last two years, as it did from 1879 to 1881. If this rate of increase is maintained what will be the products of our Western dairy belt when south Minnesota and the "regions beyond" are fully developed?

—The conditions prevailing between the dairy farmer and the consumer of two of his most important products are quite anomalous. He makes a pure article of milk and when it reaches the consumer it has been skimmed, watered or adulterated. He makes a pure article of butter and when it reaches the consumer it has been adulterated and altered past all recognition. In this way he suffers in pocket and reputation and all the work of some intermediate handler of his goods. Is there any other class of men in the world that would sit supinely down and wait until their enemies got tired of abusing them? Let some one try this business on the manufacturers of the country, and it would not be ten days before an organization would be formed and a fund raised that would frighten such a set of scalawags as are now destroying the dairymen's business out of their boots. A little energetic action would do it, anyhow.—American Dairyman.

Butterine and Boards of Trade.

Yes, they laugh at us at the West when we say, on good authority, that the Boards of Trade out there are manipulated by the owners of butterine factories; but we were told this by a man who has eyes to see with when he travels, and he had just returned from Elgin, and he pronounced the whole business of public sales on these boards a farce, and the chances are just about ninety-nine in a hundred that he told the truth. The American Cultivator, that generally knows what it is talking about, backs us up in this statement as follows: "The butterine and oleomargarine men are again advancing the price of fancy grades of creamery butter in the West. These manipulators of lard and tallow and grease need quite a percentage of choice butter in their mixture to lend flavor and aroma to the mass. Again, the higher they bid up genuine butter in small lots, the more they can obtain for the counterfeit by the ton." Now let the farmers who are not in the secrets of this little game, and who belong to these boards, institute inquiries and they will find that most of the highest priced goods, or rather the best flavored goods, go directly to the oleo shops and are used for flavoring the very article that cuts the market from under them. To be sure, if your butter sells at top figures you get a slice of this profit and it may be asking too much of your human nature to look after the interest of the trade at large, but the great mass of farmers are not in the swim, and they are the ones to take this matter up and sift it to the bottom. If energetically done you will probably find that these butterine people have got their men out concluding arrangements either with the makers or handlers of the best goods by which they are to have absolute control of all the best butter that is offered for sale, to the entire exclusion of all outside buyers. This is often accomplished, not merely by paying more for it than the market will warrant, which they sometimes will do to freeze out their competitors, but by private agreements the cash character of the sale is turned into time, delays of payment or shipment are made, or in some way they get favors not accorded to others. These oleo people are the sharpest and most unscrupulous men in the market, and like railroad manipulators they work together, and all the time with the one sole object in view of accumulating money by sharp practice and at the expense of the innocent and hard working farmer. We say combine and contribute money to ferret them out.—The American Dairyman.

The Treatment of Dairy Cows.

MR. J. A. Smith, a western dairyman, writing of the importance of the feed and proper treatment of dairy cows, gives some excellent suggestions on this topic. He says that dairymen are often surprised at the light weight of their milk the next morning after a cold rainstorm, through which their cows have suffered unstabled, and it is only a natural result of such treatment. The cow does not eat as much, for one thing; and another is, part of what she does eat goes to repair the waste of her system in withstanding the effects of the storm, and that keeps a per cent. out of the milk pail, until she has recovered from the effects of such exposure. It is also true that a cow, affected by short feed or painful exposure, not only loses in the quantity of her yield of milk, but in the amount of fatty matter it contains. In a word, nature has so organized the cow that she revenges herself on her owner's pocket, for cruel neglect and short feed; and a farmer might just as well try to dodge taxes and death as to risk the unwise treatment of a cow. In point of fact, when thus treated, she takes the first and gives the owner what skim milk she cannot assimilate. The only way to get a profit out of her is to fill her so full that she runs over, and take the surplus for your gold mine.—Midland Farmer.

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

PHILADELPHIA has eighty-five institutions that care for neglected and dependent children.

FOUR hundred and fifty-two railroad trains leave Boston every day in the week excepting Sunday.

THE late John Proctor, the wealthy philanthropist of Andover, Mass., began life as a blacksmith's boy.

IT turns out that Victoria's new book is a sort of tribute to John Brown, giving a history of his life and his gradual rise in royal favor.

HOT water as a gargle and as a drink, is recommended for colds and sore throat in the early stages. It should be used a half-pint or a pint at a time, and just as hot as the throat will bear.

MISS ALICE GARDNER, a distinguished Newnham student, has just been elected out of twenty candidates, "men and women," to the professorship of history in Bedford College, London.

IT is said that in a number of the smaller towns electricity is chasing gas into dark corners. In some instances the price of the latter has been reduced more than two-thirds. Gas holds its own, however, in the large cities.

THE philosophers who reasoned that what goes up must come down; that our ruddy sunsets indicated excessive moisture in the atmosphere, and were therefore, harbingers of heavy rains and snows, appear to have been about right.

CHRISTMAS a year ago, 97,000 presents and 60,00 Christmas cards had to go to the Dead Letter Office, mainly because of the carelessness of the senders. The cards were sent to the Washington hospitals, and the presents are to be sold at auction.

GOVERNOR ROBINSON, of Massachusetts, gave as his reason for not making his son his Private Secretary: "I think too much of my boy to set him riding on top of a bubble; he must prepare for honorable work in life; besides, my family are not going to be fitted out with offices."

IN New York City there is a disposition to do away with the system of appointing firemen through political influence, and not only to prepare every fireman for an emergency, but to have a special corps trained to run great risks and use every effort to save lives which are endangered.

ALONG the London underground railways there is not that moldy, damp, offensive odor which one would naturally expect, but the almost noiseless cars, drawn by smoke-consuming engines, glide along brightly-lighted avenues, and venders of small wares, fruits, &c., are to be seen on every hand.

MR. H. M. STANLEY, the African explorer, expresses his increasing surprise at the vast density of the population in the equatorial portions of the Congo basin, and says if what he has seen may be taken as representing the state of things generally, there is a population in this river basin of 49,000,000.

A MAN in Onondaga County, N. Y., writes that last season, owing to cold and wet, was a poor one for honey, yet, after deducting all expenses, save his own time, he has, by the sale of honey, bees and queens, obtained a year's salary of $1,021.30 for attending eighty swarms.

A LOWELL, (Mass.) man, with fifty hens, has netted in one year $3.20 from each hen. At this rate, were a man like Vanderbilt or Gould to sell off $20,000,000 worth of non-paying stocks, and buy 80,000,000 hens, his annual income from this investment alone would be $226,000,000.

A BIDDEFORD (Me.) gentleman found in his wood-shed recently a dead weasel with his tongue frozen to an axe blade. The axe had been used in cutting beef in the morning, and the animal, in attempting to secure a piece of the meat which adhered to the blade, had singularly met his death.

THE shell of a fossil turtle of a tertiary time unearthed in India and placed in the collection of the British Museum, recently, was nearly nine feet in length and twenty-seven in width. Its feet were as large as those of a rhinoceros, and when alive the animal must have been over twenty feet long and have weighed several tons.

WHEN popcorn is gradually heated, and so hot that the oil inside the kernels turns to gas, this gas can not escape through the hull of the kernels, but when the interior pressure gets strong enough it bursts the grain, and the explosion is so violent that it shatters it in the most curious manner, and in much less time than it takes to tell how it it done.

THE Philadelphia Call observes that a man never trespasses on his neighbor's property when shoveling the snow off the sidewalk; also, that the careless citizen lets his pavement go uncleaned and people get their feet damp; while the good citizen shovels off his snow, and then when moisture freezes on the smooth surface people fall down and break their legs.

THE RECORDER.

RIDDELL & HALL, Proprietors.

BURLINGTON, KY. JAN. 16. 1883.

ADVERTISING RATES.

1 Column	1 year	$80
1	"	40
1	"	20
	"	20
	"	10
	"	6

For announcing candidates, $5. Obituary poetry, 5 cents per line. Obituary notices 20 lines free; over that number (excepting the announcement of the death) 3 cents per line.

Tributes of respect from lodges, &c., $1 50

RATES OF SUBSCRIPTION.

One year	$1 50
Six months	75
Three months	40

GREAT improvement has been made in farming in Boone County. Twenty-five or thirty years ago the farmers had a routine through which they went year after year, making but little advancement in their occupation. Clearing land and raising hogs and corn was about the extent of their industry at that time, and as land was very plentiful little attention was given it, and many acres of fine soil were allowed to disappear, when it should have been retained. The farmers of the present day manage very differently, and regard farming as a science which they are rapidly developing. They have many advantages which were not enjoyed by their predecessors, and are being daily instructed by observation, and contact with the theories of others. Agricultural literature finds its way, and is a welcome visitor to, every house in the county, a blessing which earlier tillers of the soil did not enjoy. They depended on their own resources for all the knowledge of farming which they possessed. Again, the original homesteads have been divided and subdivided till the present owners realize to sustain themselves on what land they own and lay up anything for rainy days, they must give the soil attention, and the result is that our farmers have learned to cultivate their lands without wearing them out by the production of three or four crops, while the condition of the farms in Boone County are improving year by year. The farmers have learned that their land must be fed, and different kinds of fertilizers are being used and are becoming more popular, in return for which the farm yields largely increased crops. In a few years nearly all the farmers will fertilize extensively as the experience of those now engaged in it is entirely satisfactory.

Much more attention is being given a variety of crops and stocks, which has greatly increased the farmers' source of revenue, and assisted them in keeping their lands in a productive state, which is impossible where one crop is produced year after year. No farmer can now be reconciled to the cultivation of a single crop, or supporting on his farm a single kind of stock. The man who pursues this course is not considered authority on agriculture.

Our farmers of the present day are a reading class, which, together with the frequent interchanges of views with neighbors, enables them to take advantage of the experience of many others, advancing them to a point in their business which is not delayed by tedious and perplexing experiments. Taking it all in all, Boone has a very thrifty and intelligent lot of farmers, who are annually increasing their wealth and advancing the value of their property.

THE following is the principal points in the proposed amendment to the school law of this State:

Art. I. defines the Common school and fixes the pupils age at six to twenty years. A plan for graduating pupils from these school is proposed to encourage attendance during a complete course of study.

Art. II. defines the school fund. It provides that a portion of the taxes paid by railroads, turnpikes and other corporations, which now pay nothing to the school fund; also, all fines collected under the law against gambling, the sale of liquors and carrying concealed deadly weapons. The County Judge and Common School Commissioner of each county shall fix the per capita for that county, upon the basis of the highest attendance in the county. A special report to the Superintendent is required annually from all officers whose duty is to collect any school taxes.

Art. III. provides that counties, and not districts, shall be made the basis for local taxation. The County Judge shall order a vote upon the question of a school tax at any general election for Representatives whenever he shall be called upon to do so by twenty voters in the county who are housekeepers and taxpayers. The taxes collected may be disposed of by the Commissioners in the same manner as funds derived from the State. But any district, under certain regulations, may retain within its own limits the tax paid by itself.

Art. IV. relates to text books, which are to be as uniform and cheap as possible, and not to be changed oftener than once in five years.

Art. V. provides that Common School Commissioners shall be chosen biennially by a popular vote in each county. To be elligible a Commissioner must be examined before the County Court by a person appointed by the Superintendent.

Subsequent artilces provided for better arrangements for district boundaries provide that when the districts are too large for the center to be convenient to all the district, there may be two or three schoolhouses or school stations, at which schools may be taught alternately; one Trustee instead of three shall be elected in every district, teachers shall in no instance be relatives of the trustees employing them; special license for teachers not able to secure certificates are to be abolished; besides annual county teachers' institutes now provided there are to be district normal institutes.

The most important sections probably are those relating to the colored schools, the intention being that the State shall extend to every child, white or black, the same privileges, though schools for each race will continue to remain separate.

THERE seems to be a growing opinion in this county that the Court of Claims is rather an unwieldy body, and that the business which comes before it should be transacted by a board of commissioners composed of say, three or five members. The Court of Claims is an expensive piece of county machinery, and the members to reduce the expense as much as possible, hasten through with business, and, no doubt, often allow or reject claims, which, upon a proper investigation, would meet a very different disposition. With the time the Court devotes to the volume of business that comes before it, it is impossible to give it the proper attention. Not a Justice outside of the Burlington district can attend the Court of Claims without its costing more than he is allowed for his services. Some of the Justices are favorable to the commission, and would willingly give way to it. Kenton county substituted a Board of Commissioners for the Court of Claims, and they are giving entire satisfaction.

GOV. FOSTER had a grudge against Cincinnati, and among his last official acts he paid it off last Saturday by pardoning Andreas Egnes, who was sent up from that city in 1874 for life, he being one of the principals who murdered a man named Schilling and threw his body in a furnace at Freiburg & Co's., tan-yard. The Cincinnati press is very indignant, branding the pardon as an outrage on the public, and a bid for murder and bloodshed. Foster and Blackburn are a team.

SENATOR SHERMAN was tendered the Presidency of the Northern Pacific Railroad at a salary of $25,000 a year, but he declined. Were he to resign his seat in the United States Senate, Ohio would fill the vacancy with a Democrat; so the tender of the position was made at a very bad time for the Senator.

THE idea of having the School Commissioner elected by the popular vote is an erroneous one. The present mode of choosing that officer is much the preferable, and has thus far given satisfaction, besides there are enough elective officers.

OHIO hotel keepers will call upon the Legislature of that State to pass a law to protect them from being imposed upon by dead-beats. If they get the law that they want dead beating hotels in Ohio will be a dangerous business.

A RANCHING company has been organized at Georgetown. Its business is to raise and sell live stock in Texas, Kansas and Missouri. James B. Finnell is one of the members.

HOGGISH—Select butchers and heavy shippers, $5 70@5 90; fair to good packers, at $5 40@5 75; fair to good light, $4 90@5 45; common, $4 15@4 85; culls, $3 00@4 00; stock hogs, $4 25@5 25.

THE Legislature has commenced, as usual, incorporating turnpike road companies and cross-road towns. There is decidedly too much local legislation for the public good.

BLAINE, it is said, is holding himself in readiness to make a dash for the White House, and will be in the field as soon as things commence moving in the campaign.

ON St. Jackson's day Gov. Knott pardoned the only representative Scotland had in our pen.

THE Senatorial caucus at Frankfort had seven ballots Monday night, the last standing, Williams, 54; Blackburn, 45 and Sweene, 23. Mr. Walton is voting for Blackburn.

THE Times says that James Cunningham, of Scott county, 16 years old, is 6 feet 5 inches high, weighs 170 pounds and wears No. 12 boots. He's blue-grass stock.

A BILL has been introduced in the Legislature declaring Buzzard Creek a navigable stream. We move that the bill be make to apply to Steepgut in this county.

THERE seems to be a considerable cloud of suspicion of corruption hanging over the nomination of Henry B. Payne to succeed Senator Pendleton in Ohio.

THE Constitution of Kentucky is an obstruction to much needed legislation, and it handicaps the legislators at every turn.

IN the caucus Senator Pendleton received only fifteen votes, being a less number than the opposition anticipated.

McLEAN will now begin to think that he carries the Democratic party in Ohio in his vest pocket sure enough.

AN effort is being made to start a tobacco Journal to be named "The Cutting Leaf," at Georgetown.

THE Kentucky Legislature has two members over 80 years of age.

9

LADIES and all sufferers from neuralgia hysteria, and kindred complaints will find without a rival Brown's Iron Bitters.

FARMINGTON, ILL.—Dr. M. T. Gamble says: "I prescribe Brown's Iron Bitters in my practice and it gives satisfaction."

FORT STEVENSON, DAKOTAH TER.—Rev James McCurty says: "Brown's Iron Bitters cured me of severe dyspepsia."

CLOVER & TIMOTHY SEED.

FLOUR AND SALT,

FOR SALE BY

DUDLEY ROUSE.

This space is reserved for A. M. Acra's Harness and Saddle Shop.

For Sale.

A lot of No. 1 locust posts.

J. O. HUEY, Burlington, Ky.

For Sale.

Pure Jersey Cattle, Bronze Turkeys and Plymouth Rock Chickens; also eggs in season. HENRY TUCKER, Union, Ky.

Posted.

Notice is hereby given that our lands in Boone county, are posted and all persons are warned not trespass thereon.

MRS. E. J. PIATT, JOHN McCONNEL.
Miss Julia S. Dinsmore.

For Rent.

A good hotel, paying bar attached. Also a good stable. This is the J. P. Snyder property in Florence. Call on Mrs. S. Snyder, Florence, Ky. 7-4t

Administrator's Notice,

Those having claims against the estate of W. S. Ryle, dec'd., are hereby notified to present the same, proven as by law required, to the undersigned before December 25th, '83. B. H. STEPHENS, Adm'r.

For Sale.

A dwelling with 6 rooms, and 15 acres of land at Rabbit Hash, Ky. On this land is a good orchard, barn and other conveniencies. Also a never failing well. Address B. F. BELL, Rabbit Hash, Ky.

For Sale or Trade.

12½ acres of land about 2½ miles from Constance, Ky., near the pike. Call on J. A. RIDDELL on the premises or CY RIDDELL, Burlington, Ky. 10-4t

THE Weekly Globe,

From now until March 5, '85

ONLY $1.00

With 8 pages, 56 columns, every week, THE GLOBE will strive vigorously to elect a Democratic President and to make the Best Family Newspaper in the World. It asks no person to subscribe without examining a sample copy and judging of its merits for himself. Is not that fairest? Send for a free sample copy and you will receive just the kind of a weekly you are trying to find. Only $1 00 for the Presidential campaign. Address THE WEEKLY GLOBE, Boston, Mass.

THE CINCINNATI

Weekly News!

A NATIONAL

METROPOLITAN JOURNAL,

Full Of Enterprise.

PEOPLE!

EIGHT PAGES—SIXTY Four Pages

Containing all the News, correct Market Reports, well selected Miscellany, brilliant Stories—in fact, the favorite Weekly Paper of the Central United States.

—PUBLISHED BY THE—

Cincinnati News Publishing Co.

AT THE FOLLOWING

LOW RATES OF SUBSCRIPTION.

THE WEEKLY NEWS with one of Dore's Celebrated Works,

"Christ Leaving the Prætorium,"
"Christ Entering Jerusalem,"

These engravings of Dore's fame historical paintings are the best and most perfect reprints by the Foreign Art Reproducing Company, and can not be purchased as orignal plates for less than $40 each in Europe. They are in size 23x36 in. and are direct copies, preserving every line and detail

OF THE ENGLISH $40 ENGRAVINGS.

These pictures are suitable to adorn the parlor of any gentleman. As a

Premium Supplement!

A Single Copy, three months	$0 40
A Single copy, six months	60
A Single copy, one year	1 00
A club of 10 copies to 1 P. O. 1 year	9 00
A club of 20 copies to 1 P. O. 1 year	17 00

And large clubs at 85c per copy per annum

Postmasters and other agents will be allowed 15 per cent on full rate (not club) subscribers.

The premium engravings will be mailed about the first of each month to the subscribers entitled to receive them.

As a premium offer it is confidently claimed that its exual was never before made, and would not be possible in this case except for the method adopted by the Foreign Art Reproducing Company to advertise its work.

Do not fail to avail yourself of the opportunity by sending your name and address, with one dollar enclosed, to

THE CINCINNATI WEEKLY NEWS.

Master Commissioner's Notice.

Boone Circuit Court.

George W. Brown, Plff.
vs
John Masters, &c., Dfts. } In Equity

The parties to this action are hereby notified that the undersigned, as Master Commissioner of said Court, will on the 10th day of January 1884, at the Circuit Clerk's office in Burlington begin his sittings in this case, and take and hear such proof as may be offered by the parties, and that he will adjourn from Wednesday to Wednesday, to and including the first Wednesday in March 1884.

Given under my hand, as Master Commissioner aforesaid, this 3d day of January 1884. W. L. RIDDELL, M C B C C

COMMISSIONER'S NOTICE.

Boone Circuit Court, Ky.

J. D. Willis', Admr., Plff.
vs
Virginia B. Willis, &c. Defts. } in equity

The parties to this action are hereby notified that the undersigned, as Master Commissioner of said Court, will, on the 10th day of January 1884, at the Circuit Clerk's office in Burlington begin his sitting in this case and take and hear such proof as may be offered by the parties, and that he will adjourn from Wednesday to Wednesday, to and Including the first Wednesday in March 1884.

Given under my hand, as Master Commissioner aforesaid, this 3d day of January 1884. W. L. RIDDELL, M C B C C

NO NEW THING.

STRONG'S SANATIVE PILLS

Used throughout the country

FOR OVER 40 YEARS,

And thus proved

The Best Liver Medicine in the World.

No Griping, Poisonous Drugs, but purely Vegetable, safe and reliable. Prescribed even by Physicians. A speedy cure for Liver Complaint, Regulating the Bowels, Purifying the Blood, Cleansing from Malarial Taint. A perfect cure for Sick Headache, Constipation and all Billious Disorders. Sold by Druggists. For Pamphlets, etc., address C. E. HULL & CO., 16 Cedar St., N. Y. City.

Public Sale.

I will sell to the highest bidder at my residence 1 mile south of Bellevue, on the Ohio river, on

Wednesday, Feb., 20th,

All of my personal property:

Consisting of Horses, Mules, Sheep, Cattle, 1 Binder, Drill, Wagon, Buggy, Harness, Plows, &c., One Palace Organ, and Household and Kitchen Furniture. About 2,000 bushels of corn. I will also offer my farm with privilige of rejecting all bids. Terms made known on day of sale. J. W. RICE.

ROBERT B. REED

Attorney at Law.

OFFICE AT [illegible] UNION, KY.

F. RIDDELL,

ATTORNEY at LAW

BURLINGTON, KY.

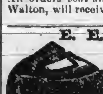
Office over Dudley Rouse's Store.

ALBERT W. GAINES,

Attorney and Counselor at Law,

LAWRENCEBURG, - - - IND.

Will practice in the courts of Boone county, Ky., Cincinnati, Ohio, Dearborn and adjoining counties, Ind. dec-6-82



W. E. VEST,

COUNTY SURVEYOR

WALTON, KY.

Is prepared to do all kinds of surveying. All orders sent him through the mail to Walton, will receive his prompt attention.

E. E. IGOE,

Resident Dentist,

Rising Sun, Ind.

WITH

J. P. Ulrey.

Monday and Tuesday at Rising Sun, Ind.

J. J. Landram. G. G. Hughes.

LANDRAM & HUGHES,

ATTORNEYS at LAW.

Will practice in the Boone Circuit Cour and the Court of Appeals. Prompt atten tion given to Collections, on application t G. G. Hughes, Burlington, Ky.

DR. A. B. HARRY AN

RESIDENT DENTIST,

Aurora, Indiana.

(Office Over Postoffice)

With J P. ULREY.

Dr. ULREY'S days, Wednesday and Saturdey. Office open at all hours. 8-1y

L. C. NORMAN. B. F. [illegible]

NORMAN and STEPHENS,

ATTORNEYS at LAW,

UNION, BOONE CO., KY.

Will practice in the Courts of Boone Kenton and adjoining counties. Collections solicited and made throughout the State. 24 tf 81

S. W. TOLIN,

ATTORNEY AT LAW

BURLINGTON, - - - Y

Office in Court-house on 2d floor,

Will manage litigation in any of the Courts of the State, contracts and other legal instruments drawn up at reasonable rates. A prompt and studious attention given to business intrusted to my care. A trial solicited. 12-1y

For Sale.

Fine tobacco land. I have for sale, cheap from One hundred to Six hundred acres of No. 1 tobacco land, lying on the Beaver Lick and Union T. P. road in Boone county, Ky. For particulars call on L. H. Dills at Burlington, Ky., or the undersigned on the premises or address me at Union P. O.

7-4t F. DICKEY.

TWO Farms for Sale.

One contains 86 acres, 9 acres of which is good creek bottom and 27 acres, hill land. This land is under good fence, well set in grass, has lasting water for stock, fine lot of timber, much of which is locust. It is part of the W. B. Ryle homestead, lies on Gunpowder Creek and joins Leander Setters.

The other farm contains 126½ acres, is 2½ miles southwest of Burlington, has all necessary buildings in good repair, fencing good, has a good well and cistern, besides never failing water for stock, a nice young orchard, and some hedge fence. This land is all in grass except 25 acres which were cultivated in corn this year. For terms apply on the last named premises to

6-2m W. S. WHITE.

PATENTS.

For new Inventions and novel designs obtained in the United States, Canada and Europe. Trade Marks and Copyright—Labels secured for Merchants and Manufacturers who wish protection against imitators of their goods, packages or articles of manufacture. We are located opposite the United States Patent Office, have quick access to its records, and can give prompt and reliable answers to inquiries. Of our firm one has had thirteen years' practice in the highest courts, another several years as an Assistant Examiner in the United States Patent Office and many years experience as solicitor of American and Foreign Patents. Fee reasonable and full satisfaction or no fee. Best reference given. Our little book "on patents" sent free on receipt of one cent stamp.
W. A. COULTER & CO., Solicitors of Patents,
23 St. Cloud Building, Washington, D. C.

WRIGHT'S INDIAN VEGETABLE PILLS

FOR THE

LIVER

And all Billous Complaints

Safe to take, being purely vegetable; no griping. Price 25 cts. All Druggists.

WANTED BOOK Canvassers.

MALE and FEMALE

To engage in the sale of our new and important works of standard character, large profits and immense selling qualities. We offer a permanent and lucrative business. Address The CINCINNATI PUBLISHING CO., 174 W. Fourth Street, Cincinnati, Ohio.

Free! Cards and Chromos.

We will send free by mail a sample set of our large German, French, and American Chromo Cards, on tinted and gold grounds, with a price list of over 200 different designs, on receipt of a stamp for postage. We will also send free by mail as samples, ten of our beautiful Chromos, on receipt of ten cents to pay for packing and postage; also enclose a confidential price list of our large oil chromos. Agents wanted. Address F. GLEASON & Co., 46 Summer Street, Boston, Mass.

PATENTS

MUNN & CO., of the SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN, continue to act as Solicitors for Patents, Caveats, Trade Marks, Copyrights, for the United States, Canada, England, France, Germany, etc. Hand Book about Patents sent free. Thirty-seven years' experience. Patents obtained through MUNN & CO. are noticed in the SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN, the largest, best, and most widely circulated scientific paper. $3.20 a year. Weekly. Splendid engravings and interesting information. Specimen copy of the Scientific American sent free. Address MUNN & CO., SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN Office, 261 Broadway, New York.

SANITARIUM, Riverside, Cal. The dry climate cures Nose, Throat, Lungs, full idea, 36 p., route, cost, free.

MARRIAGE AND HEALTH GUIDE. 260 pgs. Illustrated.

All that the doubtful curious or thoughtful want to know. Cloth and gilt binding 50 cts, paper 25c, Marriage Guide, 144 p 15c, sent sealed, money or stps, by DR. WHITTIER 290 RACE STREET, CINCINNATI, OHIO. The great specialist, Nervous Debility, Impediments to Marriage, Consultation and Pamphlet free.

County Directory.

OFFICERS.

Assessor—G. M. Riley.
County Surveyor—W. E. Vest.
School Commissioner—D. M. Snyder.
Coroner.—Dr. A. A. Murat, Constance.

COURTS.

CIRCUIT COURT meets the 2d Monday in April and first Monday in October, P. U. Major, Judge; W. L. Riddell, Clerk A. G. DeJarnette, Commonwealths Attorney; W. L. Riddell, Trustee Jury Fund.

COUNTY COURT meets the first Monday in every month. L. H. Dills, Judge; S. W. Tolin, County Attorney. M. T. Garnett, Clerk; J. R. Clutterbuck, Sheriff, T. W. Finch and W. T. German, Deputy Sheriffs.

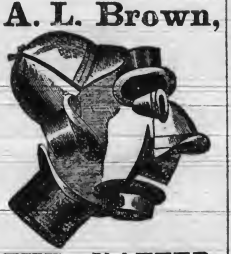
QUARTERLY COURT meets the first Monday in March, June, September and December. The officers of the County Court preside.

COURT OF CLAIMS meets the first Monday in November.

MAGISTRATES' COURTS are held in March, June, September and December, as follows:

Bellevue—M. B. Green, first Saturday, and T. H. Sutton, third Monday. J. M. Moody, Constable.

Burlington—E. H. Baker, Thursday after first Monday, and Oscar Gaines, fourth Monday. R. H. Sandford, Constable.



Carlton A. G. McConnell, Wednesday after second Monday, and B. H. Ryle, Saturday after third Monday. Walter Ryle, Cornstable.

Petersburg—Jos. Hensley, Wednesday after first Monday, and L. A. Loder fourth Saturday. Geo. Comer, Constable.

Beever—W. M. Rouse, Friday after the third Monday, and

Union—M. C. Norman, Thursday after third Monday, and H. Bannister, Thursday after second Monday. A. D. Riley, Constable.

A. L. Brown,

THE HATTER,

Cor. Pike and Washington Streets

COVINGTON, - - KY.

Has always on hand a large variety of Men's, Boys' and Children's Hats, and prices GUARANTEED to be as low as the lowest.

Gents' Furnishing Goods a Specialty.

W. J. RICE,

CARPENTER & BUILDER,

BULLITSVILLE, KY,

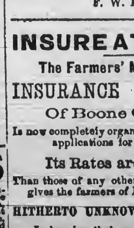
Is prepared Raise or Move EITHER LOG or FRAME BUILDINGS

On Short Notice,

And at the Lowest Possible Figures.

33-tf Your orders respectfully solicited

LUMBER.



Goe. M. Bedinger & Co.,

Erlanger, - - Ky.

We keep constantly on hand all kinds of Lumber, Laths and Shingles. Also Builder's supplies of all kinds.

—Come and see Us.—

mey 9-tf

AURORA MARBLE AND GRANITE WORKS,

Aurora, Ind

Will have constantly on hand

Marble and Granite Monuments,

Italian & American Headstones, &c.

I am ready to do all kinds of Stone Work on short notice and at low prices Hoping to receive the patronage of Boone County, I am respectfully,

F. W. KASSEBAUM.

INSURE AT HOME

The Farmers' Mutual Fire

INSURANCE COMPANY

Of Boone County

Is now completely organized and receiving applications for insurance.

Its Rates are Lower

Than those of any other Company, and it gives the farmers of Boone County a

HITHERTO UNKNOWN ADVANTAGE

In keeping their property insured.

EVERY FARMER IN THE COUNTY

should take a policy at once,

N. S. WALTON, President, Petersburg, Ky. | J. H. WALTON, Secretary, Constance, Ky.

R. RANDALL, Treasury.

DIRECTORS.

LEGRAN GAINES, Jeff Utz, JNO. M. MOODY.

INCORPORATED UNDER THE LAWS OF MISSOURI.

CENTRAL MEDICAL & SURGICAL INSTITUTE

OF ST. LOUIS, MO.

SUCCESSORS TO DR. BUTTS' DISPENSARY. OFFICE & ROOMS, NO. 920 LOCUST ST.

CHAS. L. LaBARGE, M.D., Pres't & Physician in Charge. NELSON CHEESMAN, Treas. & Business Manager.

This Institute has ample facilities and an experienced Faculty. While it succeeds to a large business, which has been established for years, it will aim to extend its medical and surgical practice, giving skillful and scientific treatment to CHRONIC DISEASES of the Head, Spine, Lungs and Air Passages, Heart, Liver, Stomach and Bowels, Rheumatism, Dyspepsia, Consumption and Asthma. BLOOD IMPURITIES, Inherited or caused by impure association, Scrofula, Fever Sores, Ulcers, etc. DEFORMITIES of the Limbs, Spinal Curvature, Wry-Neck, Diseases of the Joints, Piles, Fistula, Rupture, etc. WEAKNESS and wasting diseases in old and young men, also all diseases of the genito-urinary organs. FEMALE Irregularities and weaknesses, causing pain in the back or side, etc.

Personal interviews with patients are always preferred. Those unable to visit the Institute will be furnished with blank lists of questions that will aid them in making a full statement of their cases and if not requiring a surgical operation they can be successfully treated by correspondence, and medicines sent by mail or express. To enable us to send proper list of questions applicants should give a brief statement of their trouble.

(The Treasurer of the corporation is of Nelson Cheesman & Co., Advertising Agents, and refers to the publisher of this or any other newspaper in the United States or Canada regarding responsibility.)

Consultation at Office or by mail free and invited

SCROFULA

and all scrofulous diseases, Sores, Erysipelas, Eczema, Blotches, Ringworm, Tumors, Carbuncles, Boils, and Eruptions of the Skin, are the direct result of an impure state of the blood.

To cure these diseases the blood must be purified, and restored to a healthy and natural condition. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA has for over forty years been recognized by eminent medical authorities as the most powerful blood purifier in existence. It frees the system from all foul humors, enriches and strengthens the blood, removes all traces of mercurial treatment, and proves itself a complete master of all scrofulous diseases.

A Recent Cure of Scrofulous Sores.

"Some months ago I was troubled with scrofulous sores (ulcers) on my legs. The limbs were badly swollen and inflamed, and the sores discharged large quantities of offensive matter. Every remedy I tried failed, until I used AYER'S SARSAPARILLA, of which I have now taken three bottles, with the result that the sores are healed, and my general health greatly improved. I feel very grateful for the good your medicine has done me. Yours respectfully, MRS. ANN O'BRIAN."
148 Sullivan St., New York, June 24, 1882.

All persons interested are invited to call on Mrs. O'Brian; also upon the Rev. Z. P. Wilde of 78 East 54th Street, New York City, who will take pleasure in testifying to the wonderful efficacy of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, not only in the cure of this lady, but in his own case and many others within his knowledge.

The well-known writer on the Boston Herald, B. W. BALL, of Rochester, N.H., writes, June 7, 1882: "Having suffered severely for some years with Eczema, and having failed to find relief from other remedies, I have made use, during the past three months, of AYER'S SARSAPARILLA, which has effected a complete cure. I consider it a magnificent remedy for all blood diseases."

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

stimulates and regulates the action of the digestive and assimilative organs, renews and strengthens the vital forces, and speedily cures Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Rheumatic Gout, Catarrh, General Debility, and all diseases arising from an impoverished or corrupted condition of the blood, and a weakened vitality.

It is incomparably the cheapest blood medicine, on account of its concentrated strength, and great power over disease.

PREPARED BY

Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass.

Sold by all Druggists; price $1, six bottles for $5.

TUTT'S PILLS

TORPID BOWELS, DISORDERED LIVER, and MALARIA.

From these sources arise three-fourths of the diseases of the human race. These symptoms indicate their existence: Loss of Appetite, Bowels costive, Sick Headache, fullness after eating, aversion to exertion of body or mind, Eructation of food, Irritability of temper, Low spirits, A feeling of having neglected some duty, Dizziness, Fluttering at the Heart, Dots before the eyes, highly colored Urine, CONSTIPATION, and demand the use of a remedy that acts directly on the Liver. As a Liver medicine TUTT'S PILLS have no equal. Their action on the Kidneys and Skin is also prompt; removing all impurities through these three "scavengers of the system," producing appetite, sound digestion, regular stools, a clear skin and a vigorous body. TUTT'S PILLS cause no nausea or griping nor interfere with daily work and are a perfect

ANTIDOTE TO MALARIA.

Sold everywhere, 25c. Office, 44 Murray St., N.Y.

TUTT'S HAIR DYE.

GRAY HAIR OR WHISKERS changed instantly to a GLOSSY BLACK by a single application of this DYE. Sold by Druggists, or sent by express on receipt of $1.

Office, 44 Murray Street, New York.

TUTT'S MANUAL OF USEFUL RECEIPTS FREE.

VIGOROUS HEALTH FOR MEN

THE PASTILLE CURE TRADE MARK FOR NERVOUS DEBILITY

TESTED FOR 5 YEARS

by use in thousands of cases. Founded on scientific medical principles. It has been growing in favor and reputation while its numerous competitors have invariably failed. The direct application of this remedy to the seat of the disease makes its specific influence felt without delay. The natural functions of the human organism are restored. The animating elements of life which have been wasted are given back. The buoyant energy of the brain and muscular system renders the patient cheerful; he gains strength with rapidity.

NERVOUS DEBILITY, organic weakness, and numerous obscure diseases, baffling the skill of best physicians, result for youthful indiscretion, too free indulgence, and over brain work.

Do not temporise while such enemies lurk in your system. Take a remedy that has cured thousands, and does not interfere with you attention to business or cause any pain or inconvenience.

(Send for a Descriptive Pamphlet giving Anatomical Illustrations, which will convince the most sceptical that they can be restored to perfect manhood, and fitted for the duties of life, same as if never affected. Sent free to any one. Remedy sold ONLY by the)

HARRIS REMEDY CO. MF'G. CHEMISTS,

306½ N. 10th. St. ST. LOUIS, MO.

One Month's treatment $3. two months $5. three months $7

PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM

A beneficial dressing preferred to similar articles because of its purity and rich perfume. It Restores to Gray Hair the Youthful Color & prevents dandruff and falling of the hair. 50c. & $1. Hiscox & Co., N.Y.

FLORESTON

Excels the finest flower extracts in richness. Delicate, very lasting. No odor like it. Be sure you get FLORESTON Cologne, signature of Hiscox & Co., N. Y., on every label. 25 and 75 cts., at druggists and dealers in perfumes.

COLOGNE

NEVER FAILS

FREE! RELIABLE SELF-CURE.

A favorite prescription of one of the most noted and successful specialists in the U. S. (now retired) for the cure of Nervous Debility, Lost Manhood, Weakness and Decay. Sent in plain sealed envelope free. Druggists can fill it.

Address DR. WARD & CO., Louisiana, Mo.

PAYSON'S INDELIBLE INK

Is the BEST. No preparation. Used with any clean pen for marking any fabric. Popular for decorative work on linen. Received Centennial MEDAL & Diploma. Established 50 years. Sold by all Druggists, Stationers & News Ag'ts.

Local News.

Some ice has been harvested.

Leap year parties are in order now.

The jingle of the sleigh-bells ceased Sunday about noon.

Chasteen Fowler is home on a visit, looking hale and stout.

Our butchers have suspended business till better weather.

W. J. Rice has purchased Mrs. David Hogan's life interest in her dower.

The owners of sleighs have had good use of that popular conveyance this winter.

For the cure of Colds, Coughs, and lung difficulties, Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is unequaled.

Misses Mary and Euna Light, two of Covington's belles, made this office a very pleasant call Monday.

The rabbit crop last year was immense, everybody in the country having killed a cart load this winter.

A. W. Smith is in Florida yet, and highly delighted with the country. He will take his family there in the spring.

Next County Court day John Moody will have for sale, in Burlington, three or four of Snyder's first-class buggies.

BORN—To W. B. Newman and wife, twin girls. To Bruce Thornton and wife, a boy. To William Wilson and wife, girl.

After a few hours chase, one day last week, Berkshire and Goodridge's fleet-footed hounds caught a fox on a fair race.

Irwin Balsly lost his barn and $5,000 worth of tobacco by fire last Tuesday. He thinks it was the work of an incendiary.

The carpet of snow with which this portion of the face of the earth was covered saved the small grain from destruction.

Everett Hall, with grip sack in hand, started last Thursday for Loveland, O., to visit his brother and sisters, who live at that place.

The date of John W. Rice's sale as published in last issue, was incorrect. The sale will be on Wednesday, the 20th day of next month.

Girls, this is leap year and it is the boys' exclusive privilege to use chewing-gum. We hope that none of you will be so ungenerous as to infring on their rights.

Early cherries, peaches and pears are said to have been killed by the cold weather. No doubt but some of the fruit trees were so badly frozen as to destroy them.

News has been received from Missouri to the effect that John McCrander's son was, a few days since, accidentally shot in the head. The wound was not considered necessarily fatal.

The boys were all out on their skates Saturday, and it was no uncommon sight to see a horse going through town at the top of his speed with three or four boys "freezing to his tail."

The Circuit Clerk was busy last week issuing invitations to the judicial festival which commences at this place the second Monday in next April, with Hon. P. U. Major and A. G. DeJarnette as stars.

Navigation being suspended last week caused J. H. Walton and J. M. Conner to drive their fat hogs from Bellevue to the city via Burlington. They had between fifty and sixty very nice porkers.

One night during the severe cold spell some one stole Sam Sederberg's horse, and started for the city with it; but the intense cold caused him to abandon the nag at Bromley, where Sam found it next day.

Nice tombstones or monuments at the graves of the departed, are marks of respect which should not be neglected. Hurschart & Co., Lawrenceburg, Ind., have just what you want. John Beall of Hebron, is their agent.

Not many nights since dogs invaded J. J. Weaver's sheep pasture and mangled the flock terribly, killing six and wounding twenty-seven, leaving Mr. Weaver only two sheep not hurt by them. The sheep thus destroyed were fine animals.

A tobacco raiser who has been a close observer, prophesies that, the winter remaining mild and damp, there will be but few worms with which to contend next season. He thinks that warm, wet weather during winter destroys the tobacco worms in the ground.

The directors of the Boone County Farmers' Insurance Company are notified that a meeting will be held in Burlington on the first Monday in next month, at which time some arrangements will be made in regard to securing a suitable office for the company.

J. A. GAINES.

Attorney Tolin visited Frankfort last week in the interest of the county in the case of the Commonwealth, J. Frank Grant, etc., vs. Boone county, better known as the Woolper Bridge case, now in the Court of Appeals. While in Frankfort, he looked in upon the assembly of Solons, who are now making laws for the grand old Commonwealth.

The following is a synopsis of the settlement made with the Sheriff for the year 1883:

Sheriff.		Dr.
To 2,899 white tithes at $2		$5,798 00
To 263 black " " "		526 00
Total Debt		$6,324 00
Sheriff.	Cr.
By claims paid	$1,544 65—
Com. for collect'g	382 96—	$1,927 61
Bal. due county Jan. 14, '84.		$4,396 39

COURT OF CLAIMS.

The Court of Levy met Monday morning with Esquires Bannister, Baker, Norman, Gaines, Howlett, Loder, McConnell, Ryle, Green, Brumback, Curley, Johnson, Wagstaff, Whitlock, Goodridge, Sutton and Rouse, present.

On motion of Esquire Gaines, Esquires Wagstaff, McConnell and Gaines were appointed a committee to examine reports of receiver and superintendent of Poor-house, and to report in afternoon.

Numerous claims of physicians for pauper practice were presented and allowed, with no reduction, the practice having been done under contracts made with the justices in their respective districts.

Claim of Col. Monfort for $80 for legal services in the Woolper bridge case was presented by Sheriff Clutterbuck who had paid same, he was allowed a credit of $80 on his account.

Squire Norman stated that he was not satisfied with the manner in which the pauper practice was being disposed of, and thought that the county was paying too much for it. Squire Gaines moved that no physicians should be allowed for practice outside of Poor-house Second by Squire Howlett. Squire Norman objected to the motion. Wagstaff thought they were paying too much to the Burlington physicians. Attorney Tolin thought Squire Gaines motion was correct, and wants to give Judge Major a chance to take back his ruling in the Hlud case. Motion was laid over till afternoon.

When the Court convened after dinner Esquire Wagstaff stated that from the best information he could gain a levy of $2 50 per caput would meet the county expense this year, and the levy was so made.

On account of physical disability Marion Noble and E. F. Blithe were released from paying poll-tax in future.

Constable Watts was allowed for services in a breach of the peace case. This claim was followed up by one of Esquire Goodridge for issuing the warrant, &c., in same case, but was rejected by an overwhelming vote which settled the fate of all similar claims.

Constable Moxley, of Walton, came in with numerous claims for services rendered in misdemeanor cases and captured an allowance in every instance except for buggy hire.

On motion of Esq. Norman, Esquires Baker, Norman and Wagstaff were appointed a committee to confer with F. Riddell and the Farmers' Insurance Company in regard to building offices on the County Clerk's office lot. The committee was authorized to make contracts in regard to the matter.

The negro poll-tax, except that of those having real estate, was sold to the Sheriff for $50.

The report of the Receiver and Superintendent of the Poor-house, showed that it cost $1,812 53 to run the institution from January 1, 1883 to January 1, 1884, with an average of 29 inmates.

The jail committee did not consider it necessary to tear the jail down, and that by draining the vault the stench complained of will be gotter rid of. They believe that the vault can be drained, and that the grand jury was misinformed in regard to the condition of the jail. Committee continued with power to make whatever repairs they think necessary on the jail, public privy and porch on front of Court-house, and were authorized to draw on the levy of 1883 for the money to do the work, and in case there is not enough of it they are authorized to borrow the money.

Sheriff Clutterbuck's bondsmen are W. H. Carpenter, J. Z. Tanner, B Von Bogen, Butler Carpenter, R. J. Clutterbuck and S. J. Ewalt. Strong enough for three or four Sheriff bonds.

TUESDAY

M. T. Graves' claim for keeping pauper while helpless continued till next term. No proof before the court in regard to the matter.

Squire Norman moved that Wm. Goodridge's claim for use of scraper on road be rejected. Motion seconded by all the other members and claim rejected.

Moxley's claim for services in breach of the peace, $5, allowed.

Esq. Gaines withdrew his motion made on yesterday in regard to pauper practice and moved that after this term "the court will allow no pauper claims unless satisfactory evidence be produced that the person claimed for is a pauper, and that said pauper can not with safety be brought to the Poor-house"—motion lost.

Sheriff was allowed 516 white delinquents in the county, and the Sheriff was allowed to collect on delinquent list till first Monday in April when he will make settlement after which the uncollected will be advertised and sold.

Esq. Baker allowed $12 50 for rails furnished for Poor-house premises.

The pauper practice was a puzzle to the justices and various plans were suggested. This practice last year cost the county something over $700, $300 of which was paid for the practice in the Poor-house. After much wrangling and finally on motion of Esq. Wagstaff the pauper practice outside the Burlington district is to be let out same as last year.

On motion of Esq. Norman Attorney Tolin was appointed to have all necessary amendments made to the road law.

Esq. Baker appointed receiver at last term of court reported that he had made demand on ex-sheriff Finch for payment to him of the funds going to the county and he had refused. The Attorney stated that through some clerical error there was no order entered on the order book making the levy for 1883, although there is a minute on the minute book. The Attorney has doubts as to the county's ability to recover of the Sheriffs securities for reason of failure to be an order entered making the levy, though he thinks the county can recover for 1881. Atty. Tolin was directed to take such steps as are necessary to recover the funds collected by Finch.

The Attorney stated that he had been investigating authorities to see if the County Judge's bond can not be held for the levy lost on account of the bond's being prematurely taken by the Judge. Esq. McConnell inquired of the Attorney what ought to be done with the clerk for failing to enter the order making the levy for 1882. The Attorney stated that it was a clerical error which probably arose from two minutes being written closely together on the minute book.

On motion of Esquire Norman the County Attorney was directed to employ associate counsel in the Woolper bridge case now in the Court of Appeals at a fee not to exceed $100.

On motion Esq. Norman the County Judge was authorized to proceed against road delinquents.

The committee's report on the receiver and keeper of the Poor-house was made The receiver stated that there was considerable fuel and provisions now on hand. The keeper also stated that the house was in a very bad condition when he took charge of it; hence the large outlay for the year 1883. The statement that the Poor-house was nearly destitute of furniture, &c., at the beginning of the year 1883 was controverted by the ex-superintendent Fowler.

A little bill of $2 75 for patent medicine ordered by the County Judge for the Poor-house created considerable breeze and worked off a large amount of wind from the members. The bill was finally allowed. Esquire Howlett then wanted the doctors to bring in a bill for the balance of the medicine furnished for the Poor-house and let it be paid.

On motion of Esq. Gaines, Esqs. McConnell, Norman and Wagstaff were appointed a committee to advertise for bidders for the pauper practice in the jail and Poor-house. The justices of the Burlington district were authorized to let out the pauper practice in the Burlington district.

Judge Riddell requested the privilege to build a large, commodious and ornamental stable on the public grounds. If silent gives consent, the Judge got it.

Esq. Wagstaff moved that the court appoint a receiver and keeper for the Poor-house—motion carried. Esquire Bannister moved that Edward Fowler be appointed receiver and keeper of the Poor-house—motion declared out of order. Esq. Baker moved that a committee be appointed to let out Poor-house—motion out of order. On motion of Esquire Bannister Edward Fowler was appointed keeper at a salary of $150 per year.

W. E. Piper was appointed receiver at $50 per year. Fowler and Piper were the only applicants for these offices.

Esqrs. Gaines, Wagstaff and Bannister were appointed a committee to audit the bills of the receiver of the Poor-house, take an inventory of the contents of the building, etc.

The Sheriff was ordered to pay the Poor-house receiver, keeper and physicians the balance due for their services last year.

The court disposed of some other small business and then adjourned, being out of wind, and Sheriff German having worn out a couple of hickory canes trying to keep order.

Whereas and Therefore.

WHEREAS, Burglary and horsestealing is prevailing to such an extent throughout this and adjoining counties it is evident that some steps must be taken to bring the guilty parties to justice, and protect the community from the depredations of those who so far have baffled detection, and successfully escaped with the stolen property.

THEREFORE, we the undersigned citizens of Florence and vicinity, do subscribe our names to a call to meet at the town hall in Florence, Saturday, January 26th, 1884, at 1 o'clock p. m., for the purpose of effecting a permanent organization for the purpose of advertising, offering rewards and taking such measures as are necessary to capture the thief, recover the stolen property and prosecute the guilty parties to a conviction.

Farmers, and every person that is in favor of breaking up the existing gang of outlaws are requested to be present at this meeting. Don't forget the time and place.

J R Clutterbuck,	George Goodridge,
Jas. Osborn,	Fred Rich,
Joseph Wagstaff,	Henry Oisner,
J L Fulton,	Floyd Wilson,
Dr. A Sayer,	J T Northcutt,
Dennis Nead,	J W Williams, jr.
F A Utz,	W H Tanner,
F J Burke, A G Fisk,	Abel Carpenter.

The Carroll County justices have decided to build a $20,000 Court-house. Carroll is a small county, to.

A very entertaining dramatic performance will be given in the Hebron Hall next Friday and Saturday nights, matinee Saturday afternoon. A traveling company of considerable merit has been engaged, and a treat is in store for all who attend.

An infant 'possum was caught and brought to town the other day, and the first thing it did was to pool issues with Jim Westbay, and in a short time they were after Joe Reed who was so badly frightened, he shed all his jewelry in the snow. No insurance.

Last Thursday, Miss Pussie Smith, accompanied by Miss Delia Smith and Miss Bessie McAfee, of the Hebron neighborhood, three charming young ladies, made this office a very pleasant business call. We are unner many obligations to the young ladies for their kindness.

A Frenchman with a large bear as his companion were registered at the Boone House last Thursday night. Bruin seemed about as intelligent as his chaperon, and would go through quite a lengthy performance, obeying every command. It was quite a treat to the juvenile part of the population as well as a number of the older people.

Hon. N. S. Walton has had a dog law passed for the county levying a tax of 50 cents a head on dogs and $1 a head on sluts, the money to be retained in the county as a fund to pay for sheep killed by dogs. The law furnishes a protection for the owners of a dog by prohibiting a person killing a dog that he finds on his farm not worrying his stock, and gives him a right to recover damages for the killing of his dog. Stealing a dog is made petit larceny, and anyone who makes a false statement to the Assessor as to the number of dogs he owns will be liable to a prosecution for false swearing. So far as we have heard any expression from foxhunters the law will give entire satisfaction. So soon as possible we will publish the law in full.

Died.

December 27, 1883 in Carrollton, Ky., of congestion of the lungs, Jennie, daughter of J. E. and Mollie Gullion, aged three years and five months. Truly, there is a vacancy and heaviness of heart in another home. There is a broken link; a weeping ever blighted hopes. She was the first baby, the only child. She brought to loving ones many treasures of joy. In the household she had become a well spring of pleasure, a sunbeam, a voice of perpetual gladness. Her life was short but from it may be learned lessons of purity, sincerity and faith. It opened up in many hearts a gushing, never ebbing tide of affection. The tender Shepherd knew her full well and thought her too pure and fair to dwell where the storms of life forever lower, and to shield her from the blast He, with tender compassion, removed her to Heaven, and she is now wrapped in garments of white, warbling songs of celestial joy. —Carrollton Democrat.

NGEIHBORHOOD NEWS.

Scattersville.

Warm one day, and then cold two weeks.

More tobacco has been hauled off. J. O. Huey and O. P. Conner have begun hauling theirs off. Owen has taken off over $1,100 worth, and has about 3,700 pounds yet to go. Don't ask him how he got up that hill from the barn.

Still the boys hunt Christmas about here.

Prof. Bell has moved his boarding place to Mr. Robbie Huey's. We wish him a happy time.

Bullittsville.

Elder Howe, of Indiana, began his year with the Christian church at this place last Saturday evening. He gave entire satisfaction to his church and held the outside world under the sway of his eloquence for one hour.

Our mail carrier says he sells more of the Daily News than he does of the Enquirer.

Clore & Snyder are receiving considerable quantity of the weed of late, for which they are paying fancy prices.

J. S. Balsly was unfortunate enough to find his house on fire, but fortunate to extinguish it before any great damage was done. As a consequence the Insurance Company will receive two new applications at its next meeting.

G. M. Riley has returned from the South.

We congratulate the editors of the RECORDER on the newsy paper they printed last week.

Plattsburg

The Kentucky Union Railroad runs through J. A. Tolin's Powell county farm.

J. M. Thompson is building a nice residence on the hill near Uncle Billy Allen's.

No charge for foot passengers on the Woolper pike. Toll-gate keepers, please bear this in mind.

Our neighbor, Dan Hewitt, was a playmate of Bob Miles, the great theatrical manager of Cincinnati.

The remains of Allen Morgan, founder of Morgan Academy, sleep in a neglected grave in the Petersburg cemetery.

Nearly every person has killed hogs, and we understand that the senior editor has butchered the swine that annihilated his garden. If so, he can rest easy these beautiful winter days with the anticipation of an immense truck patch in the spring.

We came very near getting a good sized fight on our hands for a little item that appeared in this column not long since. The only reason we did not, was because we could not catch the fellow after we invited him off his horse, he ran so fast. Call around, Charlie, any time during business hours; we always have on our fighting clothes.

Florence X-Roads.

Sleighing was about played out for a while.

Prof. Cole dismissed his school for the scholars to see the bear that was performing on our street one day last week. The owner realized about 60 cents.

Thomas Adams will locate in this place in the near future.

The other night a well dressed man with badly frozen feet stayed at Austin Beemon's, leaving before day the next morning.

Robet Rouse has a horse that is badly crippled from a kick.

Johnson Vaughn has been down for two weeks with rheumatism.

Robert Rouse has drawn 2, John Utz, 1 and Tim Sandford 1, prize in the Honesty tobacco sold by Rouse Bros. Geo. Knapp, jr., also got one.

One of those cold mornings Mot Houston was taking a chew of tobacco before dressing, when his teeth struck the tin tag which called for a Waterberry watch, and which so excited him as to make his wife think that he had gone crazy.

Some of our veteran coonhunters had a lively time catching a coon the other day. They downed the tree, split it in to rails and set it on fire, and finally discovered the charred remains of the object of their pursuit.

Rabbit Hash.

The RECORDER came to hand to-day with its new dress on, looking better than usual. May be it will loan as well as it did in the past.

The late cold spell was the severest known to our oldest inhabitant, the thermometers ranging from 20 to 29 degrees below zero. Dave Baily says it bent all his cats ever saw, as it trimmed their ears and tails off.

Joe Morrison, who got his leg broken in your town not long since, is improving rapidly, but still wears a plasterparis case on the fractured limb.

C. H. Aera, our village cobbler, has all he can do improving people's understanding by mending their soles. If you have any doubt about the condition of your soles, Mr. Editors, come down and let him repair them. He'll do it right.

We are glad to hear that that filthy, little pen, the county jail, is empty. It would be a good time for Gas Gun to open his battery on it again. We don't think any one would have the nerve to come to its defense. The only thing about the jail that is at all redeeming is the jailer. Uncle Sam is a good job as a landlord for such a boardinghouse.

At this writing the "beautiful" is fast disappearing under a warm south wind and drizzling rain, which bids fair for a great deal of water in the river, and causes an uneasiness in the minds of those near the river. Wilson & Riddell have their ferry boat back and have several men employed preparing for a break-up of the ice.

Mr. Robert Piatt, jr., fell in the back water in Gunpowder, last Saturday week, and before he could reach home, both of his feet were badly frosted, and they are causing him much pain.

Mrs. Solon Stephens is quite sick.

Miss Lou Marshall has returned to her home in Indiana, which makes some of the boys terribly sad.

The happy, smiling face of Clarence Gleason, of Lawrenceburg, was noticed on our streets the other day.

Mrs. Lizzie Piatt and daughter, of Rising Sun, are visiting relatives in this neighborhood.

Dynamite is dangerous to fool with, so be careful, boys, or you may get hurt.

Miss Zou Ward, after a three weeks visit to relatives and friends here, left last Monday, with her mother and sister, Miss Rachael, for Xenia, Ohio, where they will reside in the future.

Mr. Dick Rice, the great "Hoosier" gas jet, will move to Walton, Ky., in a few weeks. Dick is a good fellow, and we hate to see him go. Our best wishes will go with him.

Petersburg.

Capt. Collins' buggy horse, known as Flaxy, died a few days since.

Bro. Beasly, a former pastor of the Christian church, preached here last Sunday.

Measles are prevailing to some extent in this locality.

Ask D. B. Tilley about the weather. He has it down to a fine point.

J. J. Loder did the honors of outside boss at the distillery one day last week, during the absence of Capt. Holabird.

Levi Lennon had a fine turkey given him at Cincinnati last week. Levi says he likes turkey and thinks some of his friends do.

Protracted meeting began at the Methodist church on the 7th, with Bros. Froh and Bristow in charge.

J. W. Berkshire quit killing meat on the 1st, and it looked very much like for a while as if we never would have a butcher, but now we have plenty. Mr. Bowman kills the cattle, Mr. Moreland the hogs and Mr Cave the sheep; so there is no scarcity of meat at present.

Mr. Ira Thegie's house came near being destroyed by fire last Friday, but by the timely aid of the bucket brigade, it was soon extinguished with but little damage.

O. T. Porter received a letter from his son James, a few days since, stating he was building bridges at Beach Creek, Pa. Jim is an old Boone boy, and we are glad he is prospering in his new undertaking.

Harry Graves, who had his leg broken a few days ago, is rapidly improving.

Dr. W. H. Terrill is still confined to his room with malarial trouble.

Two of J. D. Norris' children have the measles.

Some few cases of whooping cough in this place.

Miss Lydia Terrill, who has been visiting at Owensboro, has returned home.

Mr. Woodruff found a wagon in the ice along the river shore last week, supposed to be the one Capt. Terrill lost during the late freshet.

L. A. Loder, our dealer in justice, failed to articulate at the county seat on the 7th, on account of the severe cold weather.

Mark Gordon had his feet badly frosted while cutting ice last week.

Bro. Taylor, who has been pastor of the Christian church at this place for the last year, has been called to the pastorate of the Christian church at Clarksburg, Ind., and has entered upon his duties as such.

The Sons of Temperance meet every Tuesday and the Odd-Fellows Wednesday nights in each week, and the Masons the 2d and 4th Monday nights in each month.

Steamer Minnie hard aground...River full of ice...Navigation suspended...Flour scarce.....Meat high......Potatoes cheap and plenty...No coal in town for sale...Thermometer 22° above 0...From 15 to 50 acres of tobacco raised daily by the fires...Plenty of idle men...Few potatoes frosted in cellars......Str. Wave broken down, and river falling.

Florence.

The "bulls" may be in the acendency in New York, but within the last week it has been extremely "bearish" here. We noticed a large cinnamon-bear promnading the streets led by his keeper, who exhibited about as much of the animal as his bearship. Bruin made much fun for the children by going through various athletic performances, dancing, waltzing, &c. I was offered an introduction, but did'nt feel like extending my acquaintance.

The horse and wagon stolen from Floyd Wilson was found at a stable on Richmond St., Cincinnati. The thief had the horse put in the stable and the wagon was left on the street, where it was noticed by a policeman from description. Mr. W. had not much trouble or expense in getting back horse and vehicle, but the thief is still at large.

The holder of green ticket No. 1, that drew the cashmere dress at Floyd Wilsons Christmas, has not been heard from. If she don't want it, can turn it over to me.

On Thursday last a party at Covington, who are determined to embrace all the opportunities afforded for pleasure in this world, and whom the holidays had not satisfied, thought to take advantage of the splendid sleighing as a health vigor, and also to get clear of the city full, to have room to spread themselves, proceeded to notify Mrs. Grant, proprietress of the Grant House to prepare rooms with fires for eight couple, also hall for dancing, and a particularized bill of refreshments for the party, of that day. Of course our good landlady, who is accomplished in the art of making all her guests comfortable, with the assistance of Mr. John Finch and his wife, who are eminently fitted for such occasions was not long in setting things in order, and when night came on the Grant House was aglow with cheerful fires and gleaming lamps. Unluckily, however, the sudden rise in the temperature of the weather, made a slush of the snow and spoiled the sleighriding and the party failed to come.

"'Tis an ill wind that blows nobody good," and the thaw followed by the freeze made a splendid road for Friday night, and about 8 o'clock the merry jingle of the bells heralded the approach of the hilarious crew who, to make success doubly sure, "took time by the forelock," and brought a fine band of musicians along. We noticed among the pleasureseekers Mr. Bruce Bond and wife, Mr. Easton and wife, and Mr. Culbertson and wife, and others to us unknown—all married. The company was by no means selfish in their enjoyment, and sent out invitations to some of our pretty blondes and brunettes to participate in the fun, which were accepted by same, and late in the night was the merry crowd mingling in the dance to sweet music. After dancing and refreshing till all were satisfied the gay assemblage dispersed.

"Every bitter has it sweet," and while there are bright smiles from happy hearts on one side, there are sorrows and tears upon the other. We have to chronicle this week the death of Miss Ora Cain, daughter of John Cain. This sad event, though not unexpected, occurred at her father's home 2½ miles above Florence, Tuesday of last week at 2 a. m. Deceased was a most beautiful and estimable young lady, beloved by all who met with her, for her many virtures and christian graces. A fair flower that bloomed in the morning of life, too tender for the blighting storms of this earth, has been transplanted in Heaven. The remains were conveyed to Independence on Saturday, and interred in the cemetery at that place. The family have our sympaty.

GAS. OMETER.

That Doughty Duchess.

Opposite Opinions about a Wonderful Woman—Her Thumb and Fingers.

"Crack nuts with her fingers? Why, you can't mean it!" cried a young lady graduate of the normal College, in the utmost astonishment.

"But I do mean it," affirmed her big brother, who had taken several prizes in athletics, "and I reassert it: that Cymburga, wife of Duke Ernst, of Austria, could crack nuts with her fingers and drive nails in the wall with her thumb."

"What a monstrous woman!" said the young lady. "What a useful woman," amended her big brother.

The Austrian Duchess was mighty because she kept good hours, good habits and perfect digestion.

Mrs. Alice Strong, of Pittsburg, Pa., writes a different story about herself, but deserves praise for her frankness. She says: "For the past 3 years I have been subject to severe attacks of colic and cramps, and exhausting attacks of Diarrhœa. Weary of experimenting with medicines, I turned without hope to PARKER'S TONIC. Three bottles cured me entirely. I have tried it also for other ailments with which women are often afflicted, and it far surpassed my expectations. I am happy to offer this testimony for the benefit of other women.

Ladies who are interested in Mrs. Strong's letter, will please remark that PARKER'S TONIC is not intoxicant. It cures colic easily, but by virtue of many rare and powerful ingredients, it also masters all diseases of the Blood—such, for example, as Rheumatism, Consumption, Scrofula, and all disorders of the Kidneys, Liver and Stomach. It is a vitalizer and stimulant, but not an intoxicant. Price, 50 cents and $1 per bottle. HISCOX & Co., Chemists, New York.

LOOK! LOOK!

THE AMERICAN FARMER,

—AND—

THE RECORDER

—ONE YEAR—

For $1 75.

We have perfected arrangments with the publishers of the American Farmer, of Fort Wayne, Ind., that enables us to offer our subscribers a first-class Agricultural Magazine at the bare cost of the white paper on which it is printed. The American Farmer is a 16 page monthly magazine which is rapidly taking rank as one of the leading agricultural publications of the country. Each number will contain useful information for the farmer, his wife, his sons and his daughters. As it costs you almost nothing, suppose you try it one year.

FALL FALL FALL FALL

—AND—

Winter Clothi'g

Clothing of the best goods, well trimmed, in the latest styles, made under my direct supervision and sold at lower prices than are asked for badl made, shoddy goods at other places. Call and be assured.

A splendid line of Suitings. Suits MADE to order on short notice.

H. F Blase,

540 Madison St, - COVINGTON, KY

UNDERTAKING.

We keep Constantly on Hand all sizes of

Burial Cases and Caskets

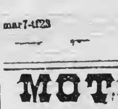
And having just received a beautiful

NEW HEARSE,

Which can be had at a reasonable price when desired.

PRICES GUARANTEED LESS THAN CITY PRICES!

DAVIS BROS., - - HEBRON, KY



City Flouring Mills

RISING SUN, INDIANA.

FLOUR EXCHANGED FOR WHEAT OR CASH. THE HIGHEST MARKET PRICE PAID FOR GOOD WHEAT.

mar7-tf23 J. W, Talbott.

MOTHER NOBLE'S

HEALING SYRUP.

20 Million Bottles sold in 10 years. A certain Cure for Dyspepsia, all Diseases of the Kidneys, Liver, Stomach, Blood, Skin and Bowels. Can Produce Thousands of Letters proving its Curative Powers.

AN OLD AND LONG TRIED REMEDY.

LABORATORY 77 AMITY STREET, NEW YORK CITY,

FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

Cornease.--The King of Corn Killers. The most desperate Corns, BUNIONS, WARTS &C., SPEEDILY cured. Price 25 Cents.

Footease.--An Unfailing Remedy for Hot, Swollen and Tender Feet, Chilblains, &c. Price 25 Cents, Cornease Manuf'g Co., 236, 5th Ave. Place, N. Y. City.

For Sale by Agents, Druggists and Shoe Dealers.

Subscribe For The

BOONE COUNTY

RECORDER.

And begin with the New Year.

My Vegetable and Flower Seed Catalogue for 1884, the result of thirty years' experience as a Seed Grower, will be sent free to all who apply. All my Seed is warranted to be fresh and true to name, so far that should it prove otherwise, I agree to refill orders gratis. My collection of vegetable Seed, one of the most extensive to be found in any American Catalogue, is a large part of it of my own growing. As the original introducer of Eclipse Beet, Burbank Potatoes, Marblehead Early Corn, the Hubbard Squash, and scores of other new Vegetables, I invite the patronage of the public. In the gardens and on the farms of those who plant my seed will be found my best advertisement.

JAMES J. H. GREGORY, Seed Grower, Marblehead, Mass.

THE RECORDER.

RIDDELL & HALL, Publishers.

BURLINGTON, : : KENTUCKY

THAT BOSTON MAN IN OREGON.

Two brothers loved a lady fair;
Dark-eyed was she and good to see;
And oh! her black, abundant hair!
And oh her wondrous witchery!
Her father kept a cattle farm;
These brothers kept her safe from harm:

From harm of cattle on the hill;
The thick-necked bullocks bellowing
Above the morning loud and shrill,
And lashing sides like anything,
And pawing sand, to see the grand
Sun-burst along the valley land.

There was a third young man who came,
'Twas said, from distant Boston town.
He was not handsome, was not game,
But he could cook a goose as brown
As any man yet settled on
The ample shores of Oregon.

"Good brothers," meekly said this man,
As they, all jealous, raged one day,
"I have a higher, gentler plan:
I pray you heed what I shall say:
Take up your guns, climb yonder hill;
While I shall learn this maiden's will.

"Go hunt with hound and gun all day,
Then rest beneath the lordly firs;
Forget your strife, forget the fray
About the lily hand of hers.
Yea, be good brothers. So! Shake hands!
And now haste, climb yon lofty lands."

* * * * * * * *

Two brothers sat the windy hill,
Their hair shone yellow like spun gold;
Their rifles crossed their laps, and still
They sat and sighed and shook with cold.
Their hearts lay bleeding far below;
Above them gleamed white peaks of snow.

"If I could die," the elder sighed,
"My dear young brother here might wed."
"Oh would to Heaven I had died!"
The younger sighed, with bended head.
Then each looked each full in the face,
And each sprang up and stood in place.

Their hounds lay crouching slim and neat,
A spotted circle in the grass.
The valley lay beneath their feet:
They heard the wide-winged eagles pass
From peak to peak in clouds above:
Yet what could they but sigh and love?

"If I could die"—the elder spake,
"Die by your hand, the world would say
'Twas accident—; and for her sake,
Dear brother, be it so, I pray."
"Not that!" the younger, sighing, said;
Then tossed his gun and turned his head.

And fifty paces back he paced!
And as he paced he drew the ball;
Then sudden stopped and wheeled and faced
His brother to the death and fall!
Two shots rang wild upon the air!
Two brothers still stood harmless there!

Two eagles poised high in the air;
Far, far below the bellowing
Of bullocks ceased—; and everywhere
Vast silence sat all questioning.
Ten spotted hounds ran circling round
With red, wet noses to the ground!

And now each brother came to know
That each had drawn the deadly ball;
And for that fair girl far below
Had sought in vain to silent fall.
Then each the other loved so well
Each spake, clasped hands, and broke the spell.

"Now let us run right hastily
And tell the maiden truly all!"
"Yea, yea. And if she choose not me,
But all on you her lovers fall,
This tearful scene till all life ends,
Dear brother, binds us best of friends!"

The hounds sped down a spotted line;
The bulls in tall abundant grass
Shook back their horns from bloom and vine,
And trumpeted to see them pass.
They sought her breathless, bade her choose
Which she would wed; and which refuse.

'Twas then this Boston man did speak:
"Her father has a thousand cows,
An hundred bulls as fat and sleek;
He also has an ample house;
And so I spoke to her," he said,
"And nastily we two were wed."

—Joaquin Miller, in Texas Siftings.

A ROMANCE OF THE BRIDGE.

A New York Times historian (so he says) was recently engaged in a little "operation" with Frank James and Henry James Jr., in an attempt to rob the mail and obtain a letter which contained a pointer on Western Union in transit from Jay Gould to the Princess of Madagascar. To effect this happy result the drivers of all the mail wagons were chloroformed, and the mail was hurriedly searched. The letter looked for was not discovered; it was afterward ascertained that Mr. Gould had used a postal card—but the historian found the following document which sufficiently explains itself. The letter was addressed to a young lady in Milwaukee, whose name is withheld for the sake of the historian's relatives, who are dependent upon him for support. It reads thus:

ASTOR HOUSE, NEW YORK, Nov. 14.

MY DARLINGEST KATE.—I am sure you will forgive me for waiting three whole hours before writing, when I relate the occurrences of this morning. It is so romantic, just like one of Miss Braddon's stories for all the world. Now please promise me, dear Kate, not to skip down to where the interesting part of the letter begins, but read it right straight through, or I shall never forgive you. You will, won't you?

Well, we had an awfully stupid trip down here, the only pleasant incident was when a fat woman fell out of a top berth onto the porter, who was crawling under our berth, right opposite, after pa's shoes. Pa had tried to hide his shoes, you know, so as not to have to pay the porter for polishing them, but it was no use. The old lady gave him a quarter (the porter, not pa) for being there when she fell out. There was absolutely no one on the train worth speaking to, and so I was awfully glad when we reached New York at last, just a little more than three hours ago. But what an awful lot of things have occurred in these three hours!

Kate, it seems like fate that pa brought us with him to New York. You see, we came to the Astor House because pa has to transact business down town, but of course you don't know that the Astor House is down town, after all. But it is, though. We were landed in the Grand Central Station, and when pa and ma and Toby—I could just slap that child, he's such a horrid nuisance—and I came out into the street, I really thought, Kate, that those cabmen would put us into their horrid old cabs. Pa had to pull like everything to get his valise away from one of them, and he did look ridiculous. Anybody could tell that he and ma and Toby didn't belong in New York, they acted so—so interested in everything, but I just behaved as if I had always lived here, only I will admit that I thought the glass box they put tickets it on the elevated railroad station was an ice-cream freezer, and asked pa, so that a man heard me, what in the world they wanted to sell cream for at this time of year. How that horrid man, that heard me, did roar! I don't see that he had much to laugh about though. His overcoat was awfully shabby. But I really don't know what I am writing all this nonsense for. I started to write about the Brooklyn bridge and how we went across. Pa was awfully anxious to see the bridge, and the sleeping-car conductor told him that it was right at the end of the elevated railroad, and so pa said we'd go down on the elevated and go across the bridge before we went to the hotel, as we'd sent all the baggage down.

Kate, you have no idea what a frightful sensation it is riding over the elevated rail road! First we went a little way in one car and then got off and waited for a long train, and then we went down an awful way in the train, and finally had to climb over a great high bridge, level with the roofs of the highest building, and take another train. We rode all the way even with the second story windows of the houses, and I should hate to have to live in one of those rooms. You know you can look right in and see everything. Won't you ever tell if I tell you something? Well, I actually say a man in one of those rooms—I almost blush when I write it—in his shirt sleeves. Don't you remember we have always heard that New York people are awfully fast? I guess that's pretty true. Why, whole families frequent the saloons together. I know it because every saloon we passed had a family entrance. Isn't it shocking? I should hate to live here because I haven't the slightest doubt that if we did Toby would grow up to drink beer.

But I haven't told you a word about the bridge yet. When we finally got down to what they call the "City Hall Station" it was about eight o'clock in the morning—you see we got in on a very early train—and everybody was rushing down town in such a hurry that we thought that there must be a fire, and pa asked a policeman about it, and the policeman said it was only men in a hurry to get to their offices. Then pa asked the policeman what that was we were standing by, and he said it wasn't a depot, it was the Brooklyn bridge. Pa told the policeman he'd better not try to guy him, because he was acquainted with his superiors, and that horrid policeman actually told pa to go and fall off the dock, and said he'd better tie a string to himself or he'd get lost. Then ma said very dignified to the policeman that he was an impudent wretch, and do you know what that policeman did? He told ma to pull down her vest! I was never so shocked in my life! Then we asked another policeman where the bridge was, and sure enough that was the bridge we were standing by.

Pa said we'd walk across and then ride back, and so we started in where a lot of horses and wagons were coming out, and two more policemen stopped us—I never saw such an awful lot of policemen as there were around there—and told us to go in further up through the ticket office. So pa took hold of ma and ma grabbed Toby by the middle of his arm, and we went in and had to pay five cents apiece. Then we climbed a high flight of stairs and came to a place where there was a railroad track and a side track beside it, and we walked out to the end of that sidewalk, and pa asked another policeman if it wasn't dangerous to walk out on the railroad track, and the policeman told us there'd be a car there in a minute. Pa told him he wanted to walk across, and he told us to go down the stairs and back through the ticket-office and get our money back, and then go through the next gate and only pay one cent apiece. Pa said the facilities of the bridge were very poorly arranged, and we went back and got into the right place at last. Pa went into ecstacies and talked so loud about the bridge being a monument for all ages that everybody stopped to look at him. It was simply grand, and after all I had heard about the bridge I was not prepared to find such an absolutely immense structure. We could look right straight ahead, it seemed for a mile, up the broad pathway with a stone parapet on either side, clear up to a great tower, with an arch, through which the roadway led. And that tower was only the first pier of the bridge. After that came the tremendous span high in mid-air across the river, and then another tall tower, and the same long descent down the Brooklyn streets.

There were whole crowds of people coming over from Brooklyn, and, on a roadway a little below the path for foot passengers, wagons and trunks, and butchers' and bakers' carts and carriages and coupes were clattering down to the street, on one side, and starting up the incline toward Brooklyn on the other, and then the cars ran on both sides of us, too. There were any number of awfully swell young fellows coming over from Brooklyn, all in the greatest hurry, with nice little canes and umbrellas and patent leather shoes, and the sweetest little short overcoats you ever saw. I wish Howard Smith would wear one of those coats, though I don't know as I need to care what he wears after what has happened this morning—but I haven't got to that yet. (Now please don't skip down to that place!) There were lots of other people coming over besides young men though, and you never saw such a lot of shop girls. I'm glad I'm not a shop girl. It must be perfectly horrid to walk on the streets with your luncheon done up in a paper. I should think they could carry it some way so people wouldn't know what it was. Do you remember how Howard Smith used to carry his dinner in an opera-glass case? His sister said that he almost starved to death before his salary was raised, because he couldn't afford to buy his luncheon down town and didn't have time to come home at noon; and he would not carry enough luncheon down to his office for fear he might be taken for a person that had to work for a living, if people could see the parcel. But some of those shop girls were real pretty, and some of them were awfully jolly and full of fun, and were laughing and telling stories and smiling at some of those young men. But there were some of them who looked so faded and worn out! Their faces appeared so weary and sad, as if they had nothing to live for and not half enough to eat, and they seemed so unattractive and bitter that I couldn't help pitying them awfully, and they've been on my mind ever since.

Well, we walked up the bridge toward the great tower. We started even with the street, and gradually we got up to the second stories of the houses, and then to the third and fourth stories, and finally even with the roofs, and then higher and higher, until we looked down on the roofs, and still higher and higher, until we were far above the tallest factory chimneys, and the people in the streets below looked like little black dolls, and the great buildings like railroad cars. The chimneys and roofs and sides of the houses on both sides of the bridge were covered with all kinds of advertisements of all kinds of medicines and all kinds of all kinds of things. But when we had passed the great pier and come out on the span of the bridge over the river the view in both directions was absolutely glorious. To the south the sun was sparkling on the waters of the river, clear down into the bay, and through the Narrows, far, far out into the vast ocean, which stretched away and away until the soft blue blended with the azure of the sky. On both sides of us the harbor was a forest of masts, and the two cities lay spread far out to the east and west. Beneath us—but so far below that they seemed like toys—vessels of all descriptions were steaming and puffing up and down the river and in and out from the piers; ferry-boats, barges, steamers, schooners, fishing-smacks, row-boats and sailing craft of all kinds danced upon the sparkling water, while to the north the river wound sinuously among the piers and houses close to its edge, and disappeared in a labyrinth of brick. (Isn't that a beautiful description, Kate? I can't tell you how many sheets of paper I've wasted in accomplishing it. I wish you'd read it to your uncle, and if he insists on printing it in his paper you can let him).

Now comes the romantic part of my story, Kate. While we were standing leaning over the bridge, and pa was pointing out Blackwell's Island, where, he told us, they were going to put the statue of Bartholdi, an awfully, awfully handsome and perfectly swell young gentleman, with the loveliest mustache and eyes and the divinest hands and feet, who had been standing near us looking at me, came over to us and said to pa, in such a very polite way that we couldn't have been offended if we'd tried:

"I beg a thousand pardons, sir; but pray allow me to set you right. That is Governor's Island, where General Hancock's headquarters are situated, and the statue is to go on Bedloe's Island, a little further out."

Of course pa thanked him, and then he pointed out some more islands and told us about them, and was just as polite and nice as he could be. I could see that he wanted to talk to me, but pa never thinks of such things, and so he kept him all to himself, and they walked along ahead of us toward Brooklyn, and what do you think! He turned out to be a nephew of the cashier of pa's bank, and he has been in Milwaukee and knows the Jones and the Thompsons and a lot more nice people; and he said he had heard of me and had been anxious to meet me for a long time. He saw me once from the Robinson's window, you know. His name is Cecil St. Elmo. Isn't that a perfectly lovely name? And he is a broker in Wall street, and must be worth heaps of money, because he invited me to occupy his box at the Metropolitan Opera House. I said that I should like to see "Faust" ever so much, and then ma did make herself ridiculous. She asked if Irving was playing in "Faust," and Mr. St. Elmo said no, that Mr. Irving was playing in "Uncle Tom's Cabin." I don't think he is, though. I guess he must have been joking.

Well, we went over to the other end of the bridge to take the cars back, and Mr. St. Elmo went with us. That horrid little Toby got tired, of course, and Mr. St. Elmo wouldn't let pa carry him, but took him himself. I think it was awful of pa to let him, but he carried him clear to the cars. We had to pay five cents apiece more to go back on the cars, and pa paid for Mr. St. Elmo. Mr. St. Elmo tried to pay for us all himself, but pa got his money out first. It's the funniest thing the way those cars start! You get on the car and a little engine pushes it out past the platform, and then the engine goes back. Have you read about the "grip?" Well, after the engine goes back the grip tries to start the car along over the bridge by rubbing against something on the bottom that jars the whole car like a sewing-machine running in the same room. After a while the car begins to start, very slowly at first, and then it moves off and runs very smoothly and nicely. It only takes about four minutes to cross on the car, and we could see just the same view that I described to you so beautifully before.

Kate, Mr. St. Elmo talked to me all the way over, and he is perfectly charming. Pa and ma were both delighted with him, and he is going to take us out to the park in his carriage this afternoon. Now, Kate, you must promise not to tell anybody, but I really think that he is just a little gone over me, and I am sure that I never liked anybody half so well as I could him. He is just perfect. Now, there is another thing I think we had better do. Don't you think it would be a kind thing to give Howard Smith a hint about the way I feel toward Mr. St. Elmo, so that if anything comes of it the shock will not be too sudden to him? I should feel very badly if Howard should commit suicide, but I know now that he and I can never be anything more than friends to each other. Oh, Kate, if you could only see Mr. St. Elmo! I wonder if he is engaged to anybody here. He as much as intimated to me that he was not when we were talking about marriage coming over on the car.

I didn't tell you, did I, that after we got back over the bridge we came directly over here to the Astor House? Well, we did, and Mr. St. Elmo promised to introduce pa to a bank he has business with, and pa has gone with him now. He is going to take dinner with us when they come back.

But I must hurry and close, because ma wants me to help unpack the trunks, to get out some things for us to wear in the park this afternoon, and perhaps we shall go with Mr. St. Elmo to the opera this evening. Ma says that as he is a relative of an intimate friend of pa's, there will be no impropriety in accepting two invitations in one day. But I must stop writing at once, or I shall go on forever.

Good-bye, dear Kate, for the present; I will write again to-morrow about our drive and Mr. St. Elmo.

Your most intimate and dearest friend. FANNIE.

P. S.—This is strictly private and confidential, of course, about Mr. St. Elmo. F.

P. S.—MY DEAREST KATE.—I have unsealed this letter to tell you that something awful has happened. Pa has just come in and told us to pack up and get ready to start home to-night. I never saw him in such a frightful rage. He absolutely swore so awfully that ma screamed, and it was about Mr. St. Elmo, too. He says that he is a "bunco-steerer," whatever that is, and that he'll kill him if he ever sees him again; and it seems that pa some way has lost all his money. Isn't it awful? I could just cry. You'd better not say anything to Howard about what I told you.

FANNIE.

Experimenting on His Lawyer's Head.

Christopher Dunleavy, a driver of a United States mail wagon, was tried yesterday in the General Sessions for beating and robbing Michael Fleming. He said that he quarreled with Fleming and struck him, but did not rob him.

"How hard did you strike Fleming?" asked Judge Cowing.

"I'll show you, Judge," replied Dunleavy. "Just this way."

Turning suddenly he struck his counsel, Lawyer Coleman, a resounding blow with his open palm on the side of the head. The lawyer sprang away in evident consternation. Judge Cowing joined in the laughter of the jury and the spectators. The jury convicted Dunleavy of assault and battery, and Judge Cowing sentenced him to the penitentiary for six months.—N. Y. Sun.

—Rev. Dr. John Hall says New York needs forty more churches.—N. Y. Times.

A Triple Suicide.

An almost unexampled occurrence has taken place near Venice—a triple suicide. Two lovers in France, and a husband and wife in other countries, have often destroyed themselves, and there are cases in which parents, from an excess of misery, have put an end to both themselves and their offspring; but that three persons should make up their minds to leave the world together at the same time is without precedent. The victims were three sisters of good family, one suffering from approaching blindness and another from epilepsy, but the third, "a young lady of extreme grace and beauty," who had announced her intention of not surviving her sisters. Their last act was to place a wreath of flowers upon their mother's tomb. This is "a riddle of the painful earth" indeed.—Chicago Herald.

—Upon the buildings of the Roman Catholic New York Foundling Asylum nearly $700,000 has been spent since 1869, and the city, besides giving the large tract of ground occupied, appropriates a large sum annually to carry on the work. There are about 1,800 infants and more than 800 mothers and nurses in the institution. The monthly expenses are over $9,000. Since 1869 13,000 babies, mostly from Protestant sources, have been trained in the Roman Catholic faith and placed in Roman Catholic homes.—N. Y. Sun.

—An Indianapolis gentleman took his wife to a dentist's to have a tooth drawn, and the man of forceps broke her jaw the very first wrench. Did the husband of the woman fall upon the dentist and smite him hip and thigh, and sit down on him and pulverize him and knock the office furniture into a state of confusion with his professional frame and sue him for $26,000,000,000 damages? Drop the dentist a line and ask him where he got those diamond studs.—Bismarck Tribune.

—The story comes from Paris that a lady who visited four churches in one day missed her umbrella on returning home. She immediately revisited all four churches, and found her umbrella in the last one. When the umbrella was handed to her she thankfully said to the sexton: "The people at this church are much more honest than those at the others."

MR. I. CARPENTER, 463 Fourth avenue, New York, after running a gauntlet of eight years' rheumatism, used St. Jacobs Oil, the great pain reliever, by which he was entirely cured and has had no return of his complaint.

"WE are the men who never go it blind," sing the jolly tars, "for we always go to sea."—N. Y. Mail.

Health Is Wealth.

It is worth more than riches, for without it riches can not be enjoyed. How many people are without health who might regain it by using Kidney-Wort. It acts upon the Liver, Bowels and Kidneys, cleansing and stimulating them to healthy action. It cures all disorders of these important organs, purifies the blood and promotes the general health. Sold by all druggists. See advt.

DIVORCE is a sort of can't-I-leave-her bridge between matrimony and freedom.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

I COULD SCARCELY speak; it was almost impossible to breathe through my nostrils. Using Ely's Cream Balm a short time I was entirely relieved. My head has not been so clear nor voice so strong in years. I recommend this admirable remedy to all afflicted with Catarrh or Colds in the Head. J. O. TICHENOR, Dealer in Boots and Shoes, Elizabeth, N. J.

IF a cat can't kill time it can at least mew till late hours.—Glasgow Times.

Higher Prices for Butter.

All dairymen who use Wells, Richardson & Co.'s improved Butter Color, agree that it increases the value of butter several cents a pound. It is pure and harmless, convenient for instant use, has no taste or odor, and gives a clear, golden richness to the butter. It is the very best butter color obtainable, and is not expensive. In every State in the Union the demand for it is increasing.

THE drunkard is the liquor dealer's rye tanned man.—Marathon Independent.

Walnut Leaf Hair Restorer

Is entirely different from all others. It is as clear as water, and, as its name indicates, is a perfect Vegetable Hair Restorer. It will immediately free the head from dandruff, restore gray hair to its natural color, and produce a new growth where it has fallen off. It does not in any manner affect the health, which Sulphur, Sugar of Lead and Nitrate of Silver preparations have done. It will change light or faded hair in a few days to a beautiful glossy brown. Ask your druggist for it. Each bottle is warranted. JOHN D. PARK & SONS, Wholesale Agents, Cincinnati, Ohio, and C. N. CRITTENTON, N. Y.

MRS. GENERAL SHERMAN says: "I have frequently purchased Durang's Remedy for friends suffering with rheumatism and in every instance it worked like magic." It cures when every thing else fails. Write for free pamphlet to R. K. Helphenstine, Washington, D. C.

I HAVE taken Swift's Specific (S.S.S.) for Rheumatism, and found perfect relief. It is the best tonic and Blood Remedy known to science. D. P. HILL, Attorney at Law, Atlanta, Ga.

CONSUMPTIVES given up by doctors have been cured by Piso's Cure. 25 cents.

COUGHS AND HOARSENESS.—The irritation which induces coughing immediately relieved by use of "Brown's Bronchial Troches." Sold only in boxes. 25 cts.

THE MARKETS.

CINCINNATI, January 14, 1884.

LIVE STOCK—Cattle—common	$2 25	@	3 25
Choice butchers	4 75	@	5 50
HOGS—Common	4 50	@	5 15
Good packers	5 35	@	5 80
SHEEP	4 00	@	4 75
FLOUR—Family	4 50	@	4 85
GRAIN—Wheat—Longberry red	1 03	@	1 05
No. 2 red	1 03	@	1 04
Corn—No. 2 mixed	51	@	52
Oats—No. 2 mixed	37	@	39
Rye—No. 2	64	@	65
HAY—Timothy No. 1	10 00	@	10 50
HEMP—Double dressed	8 57½	@
PROVISIONS—Pork—Mess	14 75	@	15 00
Lard—Prime steam	8 80	@
BUTTER—Fancy Dairy	24	@	26
Prime Creamery	40	@	42
FRUIT AND VEGETABLES—
Potatoes per bbr. from store	1 25	@	1 50
Apples, prime, per barrel	3 00	@	3 50
NEW YORK.
FLOUR—State and Western	$2 80	@	3 30
Good to choice	3 80	@	6 50
GRAIN—Wheat—No. 2 spring	1 06	@	1 09
No. 2 red	1 09½	@	1 13¼
Corn—No. 2 mixed	66	@
Oats—mixed	39	@	41
PORK—Mess	14 75	@	15 00
CHICAGO.
FLOUR—State and Western	$3 50	@	4 35
GRAIN—Wheat—No. 2 red	95	@	95½
Corn—No. 2	53¾	@	54
Oats—No. 2	32¼	@
Rye	59	@
PORK—Mess	14 40	@	14 50
LARD—Steam	8 85	@	8 90
BALTIMORE.
FLOUR—Family	$5 00	@	5 75
GRAIN—Wheat—No. 2 red	1 06½	@	1 06¾
Corn—mixed	60¾	@	61
Oats—mixed	42	@	43
PROVISIONS—Pork—Mess	14 50	@
Lard—Refined	9¾	@
LOUISVILLE.
FLOUR—A No 1	$4 00	@	4 50
GRAIN—Wheat—No. 2 red, new	1 02	@	1 03
Corn—mixed	52	@	54
Oats—mixed	35	@
PORK—MESS	15 00	@
INDIANAPOLIS.
WHEAT—No. 2. red, new	$1 00	@
CORN—mixed	49	@
OATS—mixed	34½	@
LIVE STOCK—Cattle
Butchers' stock	2 75	@	3 05
Shipping cattle	5 25	@

HYPOCHONDRIA.

The Mysterious Element in the Mind That Arouses Vague Apprehensions—What Actually Causes It.

The narrative below by a prominent scientist touches a subject of universal importance. Few people are free from the distressing evils which hypochondria brings. They come at all times and are fed by the very flame which they themselves start. They are a dread of coming derangement caused by present disorder and bring about more suicides than any other one thing. Their first approach should be carefully guarded.

Editors Herald:

It is seldom I appear in print and I should not do so now did I not believe myself in possession of truths, the revelation of which will prove of inestimable value to many who may see these lines. Mine has been a trying experience. For many years I was conscious of a want of nerve tone. My mind seemed sluggish and I felt a certain falling off in my natural condition of intellectual acuteness, activity and vigor. I presume this is the same way in which an innumerable number of other people feel, who like myself are physically below par, but like thousands of others I paid no attention to these annoying troubles, attributing them to overwork, and resorting to a glass of beer or a milk punch, which would for the time invigorate and relieve my weariness.

After awhile the stimulants commenced to disagree with my stomach, my weariness increased, and I was compelled to resort to other means to find relief. If a physician is suffering he invariably calls another physician to prescribe for him, as he can not see himself as he sees others; so I called a physician and he advised me to try a little chemical food, or a bottle of hypophosphates. I took two or three bottles of the chemical food with no apparent benefit. My lassitude and indisposition seemed to increase; my food distressed me. I suffered from neuralgic pains in different parts of my body, my muscles became sore, my bowels were constipated, and my prospects for recovery were not very flattering. I stated my case to another physician, and he advised me to take five to ten drops of Magendie's solution of morphine, two or three times a day, for the weakness and distress in my stomach, and a blue pill every other night to relieve the constipation. The morphine produced such a deathly nausea that I could not take it, and the blue pill failed to relieve my constipation.

In this condition I passed nearly a year, wholly unfit for business, while the effort to think was irksome and painful. My blood became impoverished, and I suffered from incapacity with an appalling sense of misery and general apprehension of coming evil. I passed sleepless nights and was troubled with irregular action of the heart, a constantly feverish condition and the most excruciating tortures in my stomach, living for days on rice water and gruel, and, indeed, the digestive functions seemed to be entirely destroyed.

It was natural that while in this condition I should become hypochondriacal and fearful suggestions of self-destruction occasionally presented themselves. I experienced an insatiable desire for sleep, but on retiring would lie awake for a long time tormented with troubled reflections, and when at last I did fall into an uneasy slumber of short duration, it was disturbed by horrid dreams. In this condition I determined to take a trip to Europe, but in spite of all the attentions of physicians and change of scene and climate, I did not improve and so returned home with no earthly hope of ever again being able to leave the house.

Among the numerous friends that called on me was one who had been afflicted somewhat similarly to myself, but who had been restored to perfect health. Upon his earnest recommendation I began the same treatment he had employed but with little hope of being benefited. At first I experienced little, if any, relief, except that it did not distress my stomach as other remedies or even food had done. I continued its use, however, and after the third bottle could see a marked change for the better, and now after the fifteenth bottle I am happy to state that I am again able to attend to my professional duties. I sleep well, nothing distresses me that I eat, I go from day to day without a feeling of weariness or pain, indeed I am a well man, and wholly through the influence of H. H. Warner & Co.'s Tippecanoe. I consider this remedy as taking the highest possible rank in the treatment of all diseases marked by debility, loss of appetite, and all other symptoms of stomach and digestive disorders. It is overwhelmingly superior to the tonics, bitters and dyspepsia cures of the day, and is certain to be so acknowledged by the public universally. Thousands of people to-day are going to premature graves with these serious diseases, that I have above described, and to all such I would say: "Do not let your good judgment be governed by your prejudices, but give the above named remedy a fair and patient trial, and I believe you will not only be rewarded by a perfect restoration to health, but you will also be convinced that the medical profession does not possess all the knowledge there is embraced in medical science."

A. G. RICHARDS, M. D.,
468 Tremont street, Boston, Mass.

$10,000 WOULD not purchase from me what Swift's Specific (S. S. S.) has effected in my case. It has cured me of Malarial Rheumatism. ARCHIE THOMAS, Springfield, Tenn.

Wells' "Rough on Corns." 15c. Ask for it. Complete, permanent cure. Corns, bunions.

A Messenger of Health.

Sent free to sufferers from nervous, chronic and blood diseases, brain and heart affections, nervous debility, exhaustion, etc., who have failed to find relief. It tells of wonderful cures effected by Dr. Scott's Coca, Beef and Iron, with Phosphorus. Sold by druggists; $1. Dr. Scott, Kansas City, Mo. Ask your druggist for pamphlet.

Stinging, irritation, all Kidney and Bladder Complaints, cured by "Buchu-Paiba." $1.

RUSSIA Salve is the universal remedy for burns, scalds, cuts, bruises and flesh wounds.

Flies, roaches, ants, bed-bugs, rats, mice, crows, cleared out by "Rough on Rats." 15c.

PURE blood means perfect health. Use Samaritan Nervine and the result is certain, i. e. health.

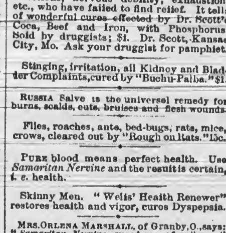
Skinny Men. "Wells' Health Renewer" restores health and vigor, cures Dyspepsia.

MRS. ORLENA MARSHALL, of Granby, O., says: "Samaritan Nervine cured me of epilepsy."

Don't Die in the House. "Rough on Rats," clears out rats, mice, flies, roaches, bed-bugs. 15c.

Hale's Honey of Horehound and Tar



Fortifies feeble lungs against winter blasts. Pike's toothache drops cure in one minute.

☞ Diamond Dyes will Color Anything any color, and never fail. The easiest and best way to economize. 10c. at all druggists. Wells, Richardson & Co., Burlington, Vt. Sample Card, 32 colors, and book of directions for 2 cent stamp.

YOU would use St. Patrick's Salve if you knew the good 'twould do you.

ST. JACOBS OIL

TRADE MARK

THE GREAT GERMAN REMEDY FOR PAIN.

CURES

Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Sciatica

Lumbago, Backache, Headache, Toothache, Sore Throat, Swellings, Sprains, Bruises, Burns, Scalds, Frost Bites, And All Other BODILY PAINS and ACHES. Sold by Druggists and Dealers everywhere. Fifty Cents a bottle. Directions in 11 Languages.

THE CHARLES A. VOGELER CO., (Successors to A. VOGELER & CO.) Baltimore, Md., U. S. A.

HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS

The necessity for prompt and efficient household remedies is daily growing more imperative, and of these Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is the chief in merit and the most popular. Irregularity of the stomach and bowels, malarial fevers, liver complaint, debility, rheumatism and minor ailments, are thoroughly conquered by this incomparable family restorative and medicinal safe-guard, and it is justly regarded as the purest and most comprehensive remedy of its class. For sale by all Druggists and Dealers generally.

CATARRH ELY'S CREAM BALM

HAY-FEVER

when applied by the finger into the nostrils, will be absorbed, effectually cleansing the head of catarrhal virus, causing healthy secretions. It allays inflammation, protects the membrane of the nasal passages from additional colds, completely heals the sores and restores taste and smell. A few applications relieve. A thorough treatment will positively cure. Agreeable to use. Send for circular. Price 50 cents by mail or at druggists. Ely Brothers, Druggists, Owego, N.Y.

VIGOR, HEALTH AND LIFE

Is found in the Great Modern Discovery,

DR. SCOTT'S

Coca, Beef and Iron

(With Phosphorus.)

Possessing marvelous curative virtues in all forms of Nervous Debility, Brain, Heart and Nervous Diseases, Dyspepsia, Weak Lungs, Nerve Exhaustion, &c. $1.00 per bottle; 6 bottles, $5.00. Send stamp for the "Messenger of Health," and read of wonderful cures effected by Coca, Beef and Iron, or ask your Druggist for it. Address DR. C. W. SCOTT, Kansas City, Mo.

ABSOLUTELY THE BEST. WILSON'S LIGHTNING SEWER!

Two thousand stitches a minute. The only absolutely first-class Sewing Machine in the world. Sent on trial. Warranted 5 years. Send for Illustrated Catalogue and Circular. Agents Wanted. THE WILSON SEWING MACHINE CO., Chicago or New York.

CANCER INSTITUTE.

AURORA ILL.

Established, 1872; Incorporated, 1880. For the Cure of Cancers, Tumors, Ulcers, Scrofula and Skin Diseases, without the use of knife or Loss of Blood, and little pain. For INFORMATION, CIRCULARS AND REFERENCES, address DR. F. L. POND, Aurora, Kane Co., Ill.

I CURE FITS!

When I say cure I do not mean merely to stop them for a time and then have them return again. I mean a radical cure. I have made the disease of FITS, EPILEPSY or FALLING SICKNESS a life-long study. I warrant my remedy to cure the worst cases. Because others have failed is no reason for not now receiving a cure. Send at once for a treatise and a Free Bottle of my infallible remedy. Give Express and Post-Office. It costs you nothing for a trial, and I will cure you. Address DR. H. G. ROOT, 183 Pearl St., New York.

PISO'S CURE FOR CONSUMPTION. CURES WHERE ALL ELSE FAILS. Best Cough Syrup. Tastes good. Use in time. Sold by druggists. 25 100

PILES "Anakesis" gives instant relief, and is an infallible cure for Piles. Price $1 from druggists, or sent prepaid by mail. Samples free. Ad. "ANAKESIS," Makers, Box 2416, New York.

AGENTS WANTED EVERYWHERE to sell the best Family Knitting Machine ever invented. Will knit a pair of stockings with HEEL and TOE complete in twenty minutes. It will also knit a great variety of fancy-work for which there is always a ready market. Send for circular and terms to the Twombly Knitting Machine Co., 163 Tremont Street, Boston, Mass.

PATENTS

Procured or no charge, also Trade Marks, Labels, etc. Large illustrated book of patent law FREE. Long experience. Highest references. W. T. FITZGERALD, Attorney at Law, 1006 F Street, Washington, D.C.

"THE BEST IS THE CHEAPEST." SAW MILLS, ENGINES THRESHERS, Horse Powers, (For all sections and purposes.) Write for Free Pamphlet and Prices to The Aultman & Taylor Co., Mansfield, Ohio.

THE MOUNTAIN CURE!

Will heal Catarrh and Colds. Send one dollar for Recipe in Registered Letter, or by Post-Office Order to BARRY & CO., Box 83, LAKE VALLEY, New Mexico.

PATENTS NO PATENT, NO PAY! R. S. & A. P. LACEY, Patent Attorneys, Washington, D. C. Full instructions and Hand-Book of Patents sent free.

PATENTS promptly procured in all countries. American Patent Agency, 188 Fifth Street, Cincinnati, Ohio.

DANDRUFF ERADICATOR removes dandruff, increases the growth and prevents the hair from falling out. Sent express paid for $1. Manufactured by J. B. BAIRD, Druggist, Cor. 9th & Market, Louisville, Ky.

$250 A MONTH. Agents Wanted. 90 best selling articles in the world. 1 sample FREE. Address JAY BRONSON, DETROIT, MICH.

Good Pay for Agents. $100 to $200 per mo. made selling our fine Books & Bibles. Write to J. C. McCurdy & Co., Cincinnati, O.

$65 A MONTH and BOARD for three live Young Men or Ladies, in each county. Address P. W. ZIEGLER & Co., Philadelphia.

HAIR Wholesale and retail. Send for price-list. Goods sent C. O. D. Wigs made to order. E. BURNHAM, 71 State Street, Chicago.

FREE By return mail, Full Description Moody's New Tailor System of Dress Cutting. MOODY & CO., Cincinnati, O.

OPIUM and WHISKY HABITS cured at home without pain. Book of particulars sent free. B. M. WOOLLEY, M.D., Atlanta, Ga.

Young Men learn TELEGRAPHY here and we will give you a situation. Circulars free. VALENTINE BROS., Janesville, Wis.

Ladies should never be without it, the best yet. You will get it. MRS. N. D. PAYNE, Box 1533, Prov., R. I.

Sure Cure for Epilepsy or Fits in 24 hours. Free to poor. DR. KRUSE, 2844 Arsenal St., St. Louis, Mo.

MAKE HENS LAY

It is a well-known fact that most of the Horse and Cattle Powder sold in this country is worthless; that Sheridan's Condition Powder is absolutely pure and very valuable. Nothing on Earth will make hens lay like Sheridan's Condition Powder. Dose, one teaspoonful to each pint of food. It will also prevent and cure CHICKEN CHOLERA, Hog Cholera, &c. Sold everywhere, or sent by mail for 25 cents in stamps. Also furnished in large cans, for breeders' use, price $1.00; by mail, $1.20. Circulars sent FREE. I. S. JOHNSON & CO., Boston, Mass.

For Two Generations

The good and staunch old stand-by, MEXICAN MUSTANG LINIMENT, has done more to assuage pain, relieve suffering, and save the lives of men and beasts than all other liniments put together. Why? Because the Mustang penetrates through skin and flesh to the very bone, driving out all pain and soreness and morbid secretions, and restoring the afflicted part to sound and supple health.

Home Items.

—All your own fault
If you remain sick when you can Get hop bitters that never—Fail.

—The weakest woman, smallest child, and sickest invalid can use hop bitters with safety and great good.

—Old men tottering around from Rheumatism, kidney trouble or any weakness will be almost new by using hop bitters.

—My wife and daughter were made healthy by the use of hop bitters and I recommend them to my people.—Methodist Clergyman.

—Ask any good doctor if hop
Bitters are not the best family medicine
On earth.

—Malarial fever, Ague and Biliousness, will leave every neighborhood as soon as hop bitters arrive.

—"My mother drove the paralysis and neuralgia all out of her system with hop bitters."—Ed. Oswego Sun.

—Keep the kidneys healthy with hop bitters and you need not fear sickness.

—Ice water is rendered harmless and more refreshing and reviving with hop bitters in each draught.

—The vigor of youth for the aged and infirm in hop bitters!

—"At the change of life nothing equals
Hop bitters to allay all troubles incident Thereto."

—"The best periodical for ladies to take monthly and from which they will receive the greatest benefit is hop bitters."

—Mothers with sickly, fretful, nursing children, will cure the children and benefit themselves by taking hop bitters daily.

—Thousands die annually from some form of kidney disease that might have been prevented by a timely use of hop bitters.

—Indigestion, weak stomach, irregularities of the bowels, can not exist when hop bitters are used.

—A timely * * * use of hop
Bitters will keep a whole family
In robust health a year at a little cost.

—To produce real genuine sleep and child-like repose all night, take a little hop bitters on retiring.

—That indigestion or stomach gas at night, preventing rest and sleep, will disappear by using hop bitters.

—Paralytic, nervous, tremulous old ladies are made perfectly quiet and sprightly by using hop bitters.

KIDNEY-WORT

THE SURE CURE FOR KIDNEY DISEASES, LIVER COMPLAINTS, CONSTIPATION, PILES, AND BLOOD DISEASES.

PHYSICIANS ENDORSE IT HEARTILY.

"Kidney-Wort is the most successful remedy I ever used." Dr. P. C. Ballou, Monkton, Vt.
"Kidney-Wort is always reliable." Dr. R. N. Clark, So. Hero, Vt.
"Kidney-Wort has cured my wife after two years suffering." Dr. C. M. Summerlin, Sun Hill, Ga.

IN THOUSANDS OF CASES

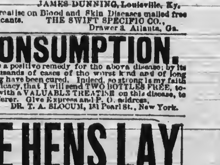
it has cured where all else had failed. It is mild, but efficient, CERTAIN IN ITS ACTION, but harmless in all cases.

☞ It cleanses the Blood and Strengthens and gives New Life to all the important organs of the body. The natural action of the Kidneys is restored. The Liver is cleansed of all disease, and the Bowels move freely and healthfully. In this way the worst diseases are eradicated from the system.

PRICE, $1.00 LIQUID OR DRY, SOLD BY DRUGGISTS. Dry can be sent by mail.

WELLS, RICHARDSON & CO. Burlington Vt.

KIDNEY-WORT



SAMARITAN NEVER FAILS. NERVINE IS UNFAILING AND INFALLIBLE IN CURING Epileptic Fits, Spasms, Falling Sickness, Convulsions, St. Vitus Dance, Alcoholism, Opium Eating, Scrofula, and all Nervous and Blood Diseases.

☞ To Clergymen, Lawyers, Literary Men, Merchants, Bankers, Ladies and all whose sedentary employment causes Nervous Prostration, Irregularities of the blood, stomach, bowels or Kidneys, or who require a nerve tonic, appetizer or stimulant, Samaritan Nervine is invaluable.

☞ Thousands proclaim it the most wonderful Invigorant that ever sustained a sinking system. $1.50 per bottle. The DR. S. A. RICHMOND MEDICAL CO., Sole Proprietors, St. Joseph, Mo. THE GREAT NERVE CONQUEROR.

Sold by all Druggists. (18)

LORD, STOUTENBURG & CO., Agents, Chicago, Ill.

For full Particulars write The Swift Specific Co. Atlanta Ga,

DRY TETTER.

For years I was afflicted with Dry Tetter of the most obstinate type. Was treated by many of the best physicians; took quantities of mercury, potash and arsenic, which, instead of curing the Tetter, crippled me up with mineral poison and rheumatism. The Tetter continued to grow worse, and the itching almost made me crazy. In this condition I was induced to take Swift's Specific, and the result was as astonishing as it was gratifying. In a few months the Tetter was entirely well, the Mercurial Poisoning all out of my system and I was a well man—and due only to Swift's Specific. All like sufferers should take it.

JAMES DUNNING, Louisville, Ky.

Our treatise on Blood and Skin Diseases mailed free to applicants. THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., Drawer 3, Atlanta, Ga.

CONSUMPTION.

I have a positive remedy for the above disease; by its use thousands of cases of the worst kind and of long standing have been cured. Indeed, so strong is my faith in its efficacy, that I will send TWO BOTTLES FREE, together with a VALUABLE TREATISE on this disease, to any sufferer. Give Express and P. O. address. DR. T. A. SLOCUM, 181 Pearl St., New York.

HOP PLASTER

This porous plaster is famous for its quick and hearty action in curing Lame Back, Rheumatism, Sciatica, Crick in the Back, Side or Hip, Neuralgia, Stiff Joints and Muscles, Sore Chest, Kidney Troubles and all pains or aches either local or deep-seated. It Soothes, Strengthens and Stimulates the parts. The virtues of hops combined with gums—clean and ready to apply. Superior to liniments, lotions and salves. Price 25 cents or 5 for $1.00. Sold by druggists and country stores. Mailed on receipt of price. Hop Plaster Company, Proprietors, Boston, Mass.

A GREAT SUCCESS

☞ The best family pill made—Hawley's Stomach and Liver Pills. 25c. Pleasant in action and easy to take.

Free Information About The South-West.

Kansas, Colorado, Utah, New Mexico, Arizona, California and Old Mexico offer the best field for Farmers, Fruit-Growers, Stock-Raisers, Capitalists, Merchants, Miners and Mechanics of all trades. Maps, papers and pamphlets, giving detailed information, mailed free on application to C. B. SCHMIDT, Commissioner of Immigration, A. T. & S. F. R. R., TOPEKA, KANSAS.

DYKE'S BEARD ELIXIR. Forces luxuriant Mustache, Whiskers or hair on bald heads in 20 to 30 days. No injury. Easily used. Beats the world. 3 or 3 Pkgs. does the work. Will prove it or forfeit. Price per Pkg. with directions sealed and postpaid 25 cents, 3 for 50 cents, stamps or silver. L. L. SMITH & CO., Agents, Palatine, Ill.

WHEN WRITING TO ADVERTISERS please say you saw the advertisement in this paper.

BOONE COUNTY RECORDER.

VOLUME IX. BURLINGTON, KY., WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 23, 1884. NUMBER 12.

ATTEMPTED MURDER

And Suicide of William Kelly, of Covington, Ky.

He Shoots His Mistress and Then Kills Himself, at Las Vegas, New Mexico.

LAS VEGAS, N. M., January 17.—This morning Wm. Kelly, a well known sporting character, shot Rose Mertin, his mistress, and committed suicide by blowing out his brains. They had been quarreling. Kelly hed retired, end Rose wes sitting on the side of the bed smoking e cigarette. Kelly asked her to retire. She refnsed, whan he threw his arm aronnd her, pieced a pistol to her breast, and fired, the ball passing through her breest and arm. Ha then fired two shots into himself. One in the breest passed through and lodged in his arm, the other in his right temple, which lodged on the other side, causing instant death. The woman was not seriously injured. Kelly is from Covington, Ky., where his people reside. He wes about thirty years old, and populer. The coroner's jury returned a verdict of suicide. His body will be shipped to his former home.

Brutal Murder of a Child.

OURAY, COL., January 17.—The town is greatly excited over the brutal murder of little Mary Matthews by her foster parents, Mike Cuddike and wife, and the wife's brother, John Carroll, living ten miles from Ouray. Little Mary, who was recently adopted from tha Denver Catholic Orphans' Home, died suddenly Saturday morning, and was almost immediately buried by the Cuddikes. This fact, togather with the knowledge that the girl was a victim of the most cruel treatment, aroused the suspicions of the neighbors, who notified the coroner. The coroner exhumed the body, when tha evidence of her terrible death was revealed. Her skull wes fractured, her limbs were cut in several places, one leg was broken, and her feet and hands were frozen solid. Tha Cuddikes, while preparing to leave the country, were arrested and are in jail. Talk of lynching is freely indulged in.

Arrested for Murder.

DETROIT, MICH., January 18.—Antoine Hartzig and Ferdinand Fey were arrested late last night at North Star, Allegany County, on a charge of murdering Justice McKinney, a farmer, of Byron Township, November 15, 1882. The three left Grand Rapids togather that dey after selling produce, raced their horses on the way, and next day McKinney was found by the roadside with a grain bag under his head, and died in a few minutes. A large gash was found on his head, which was then supposed to have been caused by being thrown from a wagon. Officers, however, have heen working on the case, and suspicious circumstances point to foul play on the part of the prisoners, who are respectable farmers aged forty-five and fifty. They assert innocence and refuse to talk.

A Mysterious Murder.

PITTSBURG, January 17.—This morning at 1:30 the body of Professor Peter Voltz, a prominent citizen of Allegheny, was found on the Tenth street Railroad Bridge, with a bullet hole through his right temple. His coat and vest were open, his pockets rifled, and his watch was gone. About four feet from his body was thirty cents in change and a tuning fork. There was no evidence of a struggle, and suicide was at first suggested, but as no weapon was found near the remains, it is believed that a foul murder has been committed. Voltz leaves a wife and several children grown up. There is no trace of the murderers. The bridge is dark and a favorite resort of thieves.

Murdered in the Hallway.

NEW YORK, January 18.—George Allman, thirty-two, clerk in a cigar-store, and who lived in Dominick street, was stabbed in the hip and groin this afternoon in the hallway of 348 Hudson street by James Hardy, who resided there. Allman died almost instantly from internal hemorrhage. The men were slightly acquainted. They met in the hallway and angry words were passed. Then there was a scuffle and Allman fell. Hardy ran to the street and surrendered to the police. He handed over the bloody knife. Hardy says Allman prevented him from going upstairs and struck him several blows. He thought the deceased had a weapon, and used the knife in self-defense.

The Wages of Sin.

LANCASTER, PA., January 17.—Hattie Scholl, daughter of a prominent citizen of Lancaster, died this morning from an operation, it is alleged, committed by Dr. Bruce, of Philadelphia. Joseph Stricker, her alleged betrayer, is under arrest. The girl in her dying statement said that four other girls were under treatment at the house in Philadelphia where she was operated upon. Dr. Bruce was arrested tonight. He was tried once on a similar charge, but acquitted.

Egyptian Rebellion Spreading.

CAIRO, January 18.—An official dispatch states that the whole country around Khartoum is in open rebellion against the Egyptian Government.

ALEXANDRIA, January 18.—Eight Egyptian officials, including tha Governor of the town, were hanged at El Obeid, and their heads fixed upon poles in front of El Mahdi's residence.

Selling Obscene Pictures.

PHILADELPHIA, January 17.—John and Joseph Snder and Jeremiah T. Wilson, photographers, pleading guilty to the manufacturing and selling of obscene pictures, were sentenced to each pay a fine of $500 and to imprisonment for one year.

Rich Find in the Mails.

NEW YORK, January 18.—Special Officer J. M. Wilson, of the United States Treasury Department, seized a small package in the mail from Amsterdam last night. It contained diamonds valued at $20,000.

Ribbon Weavers' Strike.

PATERSON, N. J., January 18.—One-half of the twelve hundred weavers here are on a strike, and are parading the streets with a band of music, endeavoring to get out those in.

Condemned Boilers.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., January 18.—The boiler connected with the shoe manufactory and tannery of E. Y. & E. Wallace blew up this afternoon. The machinery was run by a 130-horse engine, with three boilers. Just after dinner there was some trouble with the safety-valve, and Engineer John Grimes weighted it down, and disconnected one boiler. It was found that there was not sufficient power to turn the machinery and orders were given to shut down. About fifteen minutes later the disconnected boiler burst with a detonation heard for miles. When the debris was cleared away four bodies were discovered. The killed are John Grimes, engineer, forty; Angelo Hoitt, fireman; Wm. Cleveland, employe, twenty-six; Louis Depre, thirty. The wounded are: Joseph Garnier, will probably die, thrown one hundred feet and cut by glass; Thomas Downing, arm broken; Joseph Davidson, ribs and arm broken; Frank Hurd, hand and arm broken. William Grimes, badly bruised about the body; Thomas Hasty and Owen Hanratty, slightly injured; Patrick Barry, missing and supposed killed. When the explosion occurred the boiler penetrated a brick wall in the rear of the leather-house, passing through the base of a ten-foot chimney, which fell, burying Hoitt in the ruins. All the bodies were badly disfigured. The tannery was partially demolished, and buildings in the vicinity badly shaken. It is reported the boilers had been previously condemned.

CONFESSION OF A BRUTAL CRIME.

The Two Tappan Brothers the Murderers of the Maybee Women at Brookville, Long Island.

HUNTER'S POINT, L. I., January 18.—Edward Tappan, arrested in connection with the Townsend outrages, confesses that his brother John and himself were concerned in the murder of Mrs. Maybee and daughter at Brookville. The following is the confession:

"I know who took the lives of Lydia and Annie Maybee on the evening of November 17th. It was John B. Tappan, my brother. He was in the barn when Mrs. Maybee came in; I was not in the barn; I saw John go in the barn; he went in at the double doors; I was at the front side of my house when he went in, feeding the pigs; when John choked the old lady to death I was at the front of the barn; I saw him; he choked her to death on the barn floor; he caught her by the wrist with one hand, and took her by the throat with the other; I saw him do it; I was looking through the door; it was light enough for me to see in the stable.

"When John had her by the throat she was on the ground. When she came in for leaves John was standing in the stable where the leaves were. It took from ten to fifteen minutes to choke her to death. After she was dead, John picked her up and laid her in the back of the stable I saw him throw some leaves over her. I was standing on the barn floor very near the opening in the door that goes down in the stable. I saw the whole thing myself. After she was dead, John said: 'I am going to wait for Annie. I am going to choke her, too; if I choke her, too, no one will know about it; then I can go to the house and get the money.'

"Annie opened the barn door about two feet wide. When she stepped in the door John grabbed her by the right arm and threw her down. I was on the floor about three feet from where he grabbed her. He threw her down on the floor, held her by the right wrist, put his knee upon her left arm, and with his right took her by the throat. She tried to get away from him. When he grabbed her by the arm she grabbed at his face. She reached his face. I saw her hand close over his nose and mouth. She said, 'Let me go.' That is all she said. Then he held her by the throat until she was dead. She died in about ten or fifteen minutes. He carried her into the stable near her mother and covered her well up with leaves, and said, 'Now I am going to the house.'

"We both went in at the kitchen door. Old Mr. Maybee said: 'Who is there?' John said: 'It's me.' Then went upstairs. Then he snatched the cane out of Maybee's hand and struck him with it twice on the head. John went upstairs again and came back. I said: 'I have all I want.' We came out. He went to the cedars by the spring and I went home. I suppose he gave me $10 in bills I have it now but not with me. I will bring it to you. I will bring it to-day if I can John showed me the pin and watch by the door outside. I could see them. 'I got them upstairs,' he said. He did not tell me how much money he got. John went into Mrs Maybee's room, when Mr. Maybee was knocked on the floor. I stood by the door. I saw him do it. Then John came down stairs and went in front of Maybee, very close to the hall, ran his hand up and down Mr. Maybee's breast and said: 'I want that gold which you had two years ago. Maybee said: 'I ain't got it. I am blind, and can't see to get it.' 'I know that,' said John. John then said: 'I must kill you then.'

"He didn't tell me what he was going to do with the watch and pin. I have not seen my brother John since, alone, to this day and hour. I saw him stand by the wagon house at the Maybee auction when I was going up the hill west of my house after dinner on my way to work at Henry Rushmore's. That is the only time I have seen him since the night the Mabee murders were committed. After John showed me the watch and pin I went home by the old bridge. This was about a quarter to six o'clock. I know it was not six o'clock. I am sure of it. My wife asked me where I had been and I told her down the road. My wife does not know I had a hand in the Maybee murder."

Tappan swears the confession was made unsolicited, "believing it to be my duty to make a complete confession in regard to the part I took in the Maybee murders."

Killed by Dynamite.

CHARLOTTE, N. C., January 17.—Colpepper Austin, while digging a well in Union County, was killed by the explosion of a dynamite cartridge. Mack Chapman was terribly mangled and is dying.

Cruel Ship Captain Fined.

NEW YORK, January 17.—Captain Joshua Slocum, of the ship Northern Light, convicted of cruelty to H. A. Slater, a sailor, has been sentenced to pay $500 fine. The amount was paid and the Captain released.

SEARCH FOR THE DEAD

Lost on the Wrecked City of Columbus.

The Dead Bodies Scattered Along the Shore—Total Death List, Ninety-Seven.

NEW BEDFORD, MASS., January 20.—At daylight this morning several newspaper correspondents chartered the tug Nellie for a cruise off Gay Head, with the object of boarding the wreck and making a landing at Gay Head, which latter point has not been visited. Several gentlemen who lost relatives by the disaster accepted an invitation to accompany the Nellie. At dawn a heavy snow-storm prevailed, but by three o'clock the weather moderated sufficiently to warrant the tug in venturing into the sound. Within two hours the Nellie steamed within sighting distance of the wrecked steamer. Upon approaching closer it was ascertained that about fifty feet of the bow and deck were out of water, the bow resting upon the rocks of Devil's Bridge, while the stern was slewed around a point or two into deep water. From a distance it appeared as if three bodies were hanging to the ratlings of the missen rigging. By the time the Nellie had run within cannon-shot distance the snow changed into sleet, the wind began blowing fiercely from the north-north-east, and it was found impossible to approach within a quarter of a mile of the City of Columbus, owing to the fact that the ledge forming the Devil's Bridge extended that distance to the eastward of the wreck. The Nellie skirted the buoy on the east, and ran within Eight-mile Wharf, landing at Gay Head Light. The sea was running so high that the tug could not approach the wharf, and a yawl was launched, in which some of the correspondents and visitors set out for Gay Head. It was only with great difficulty the party landed, as waves twenty feet high dashed over the wharf. The party proceeded to the light-house, where they ascertained that ten persons had landed safely from the wreck, all of whom were alive and under the circumstances, doing well. The first place visited was the meeting house, a dilapidated and storm-beaten church in one of the wildest places on the coast. Here they found five bodies—four men and a woman. As the party entered the building and beheld the outstretched forms upon the floor, A. S. Belyea, of Lynn, cried out: "That's my dear niece, Alice!" and he knelt before the prostrate and disfigured remains, weeping convulsively. The grief of the man was contagious, and there were few dry eyes among the party. The name of Belyeas' niece was Mrs. Alice Atkinson. Her remains were horribly mangled and covered with blood from head to foot. She had on only her under garments, and was identified by them. Currier, of Fitchburg, Mass., of the party who had been walking among the other bodies, uplifted a heavy tarpaulin covering the last of the bodies examined, which proved to be that of George Kellogg, of Fitchburg, in search of whose body Currier had come. The remaining three bodies were unidentified. The passenger list of the City of Columbus, corrected, foots up eighty-one passengers cabin and steerage. There were forty-five officers, seaman and waiters. Total deaths list, ninety-seven.

Hanging in Wyoming.

RAWLINS, WY. T., January 19.—Leroy Donovan, convicted of the murder of Wm. Leighton, at Rock Springs, in May, 1883, was hanged here yesterday. Donovan was twenty-three years old, and was also known as John Lee and by some supposed to be the son of John D. Lee, the Mormon, of Mountain Meadow massacre notoriety. He killed Leighton for his money. Donovan is the first white man executed in Wyoming by process of law.

Panic in a Church.

PHILADELPHIA, January 20.—During 9 o'clock mass at St. Charles Borromeo, a woman fainted. Several persons rushed to her assistance and a cry of fire followed. A large number of persons in the rear of the church and in the galleries rushed for the doors, causing a panic, which was increased by the arrival of the fire apparatus. Several women fainted, and valuable stained glass was demolished by a man jumping through it to the street.

Another Confession.

JAMAICA, L. I., January 20.—Edmund Tappan, charged with the murder of the Maybee women, has made a supplementary confession in which it is said he acknowledged that he, and not his brother John, committed the crime, and indicated where the property stolen from the Maybees can be found.

The Train Robbing Mayor.

LAREDO, TEXAS, January 20.—According to the Mexican custom of dealing with offenders of a higher grade the case of Pablo Quintana, Mayor of New Laredo, Mexico, imprisoned at Monterey, charged with complicity in the recent train robbery on the Mexican National Railroad, has been secretly investigated before a Judge. Sufficient evidence was developed to hold the culprit for final trial in the public courts.

Attempted Suicide.

EAST SAGINAW, January 20.—Chas. L. Dewaib attempted suicide in Chesaning yesterday by stabbing himself with a pair shears. He was under arrest upon a charge of forgery. The wound is serious, but he will probably recover.

No Socialism in America.

LONDON, January 20.—Mr. James Brice, on his return from America, has been explaining to Liverpool the beauties of American institutions and the hopelessness of a socialists propaganda in a country where everybody owns land.

—The signal-officers on Mount Washington have only a fortnightly mail. They go down after it upon boards, that run on the railroad track at the rate of a mile a minute, and they climb back on snow-shoes.

—Riley Burgess, of Erie, was kicked in the stomach by a horse, but the pain passed off in a few minutes. As he was drinking a cup of coffee two days later he sprang from his chair with a shriek and fell dead.—Pittsburgh Post.

XLVIIIth CONGRESS.

First Session.

WASHINGTON, January 15.—SENATE.—Mr. Logan, from the select committee on the improvement of the Mississippi River, presented a report, which was ordered printed. Mr. Anthony's resolution concerning the prohibition of the importation of healthful American meats was then considered. Mr. Logan stated that for nearly four years our meats have been excluded from France and Germany, and yet upon an examination by experts of all the meats of different countries ours proved the best. Mr. Vest thought that the spirit of international comity would dictate the organization of a thorough system of inspection to establish beyond doubt the soundness of meats before leaving this country. Mr. Ingalls said the prohibition was based on the theory that the meats were unhealthy; and if it were proven to these governments that no such cause existed, inhibition would doubtless be removed. What is needed is an authoritative declaration that the meats are sound. Mr. McPherson, to show that unfair discrimination was made abroad against meats from the United States, cited a case in Great Britain, where cattle, after reaching the British ports from the United States, was obliged to be slaughtered at the port of entry, and was conveyed thence as diseased meat. Mr. Logan—Why should we hesitate to say to nations that while they refuse to take from us meats perfectly sound, we shall refuse to take from them adulterated wines and liquors which do more harm than unsound meats? The morning hour expired, and the matter went over, and after an executive session the Senate adjourned.

HOUSE.—Bills reported: A bill declaring forfeited certain grants of lands made to certain States in aid of the construction of railroads. Referred. To close the gaps in the levees on the Mississippi River, and for the improvement of navigation. Appropriates $1,000,000 to be expended in accordance with the recommendation of the Mississippi River commission. Referred. Making all public roads and highways post routes. On private calendar. Mr. Townsend introduced a bill authorizing the president during the recess of Congress to prohibit any imports injurious to the public health from those countries which, on the same ground, prohibit the importation of American goods. Referred. Mr. Cox, of New York, Chairman of the Committee on Naval Affairs, reported back the resolution calling upon the Secretary of the Navy for information as to whether any officer of the navy received a gift or present from any Prince or foreign State without the consent of Congress. Also, as to whether any United States officers or sailors rendered service to the British navy in the recent bombardment of Alexandria. Mr. Willis, chairman of the Committee on Rivers and Harbors, reported a bill appropriating $1,000,000 to continue the improvement of the Mississippi River. Referred to Committee of the whole. The House then went into committee of the whole for its consideration. After considerable debate without action, the Committee rose and the House adjourned.

WASHINGTON, January 16.—SENATE.—A bill passed restoring to the public domain lands granted the Iron Mountain Railroad, because it was not built on the line contemplated. At the conclusion of the morning hour the Senate, after a slight amendment, adopted the rules. Mr. Plumb, by request, submitted a joint resolution proposing an amendment to the Constitution prohibiting the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors in the United States. Referred. Mr. Hoar called up his bill providing for the counting of the electoral vote—being the same as the bill passed in the Senate of the Forty-seventh Congress—which was again passed without debate. A bill was presented to provide means for the suppression and extirpation of pleuro-pneumonia and other contagious diseases of domestic animals.

HOUSE.—A bill was introduced to maintain the currency, and prevent injurious fluctuation by an issue of 2 per cent. bonds on their deposit as security for national bank notes; also, to remit the taxation of circulating bank notes by a deposit of these 2 per cents. Referred. A resolution was reported calling upon the Secretary of State for information concerning the alleged arrest, imprisonment, and torture of J. E. Wheelock, a citizen of the United States, by the Government of Venezuela in 1879. Adopted. Bills introduced: Authorizing the construction of a ship-canal around Niagara Falls. Referred. To place jute and jute butts, when imported in the raw state, on the free list. A resolution was adopted authorizing The Committee on Appropriations to report at any time a bill appropriating the sums necessary to pay the claims on the rebate of tobacco. The House went into Committee of the Whole on the Senate bill appropriating $1,000,000 for continuing the improvement on the Mississippi River. After considerable debate without coming to action, the House adjourned.

WASHINGTON, January 17.—SENATE.—The Chair laid before the Senate a memorial from William Pitt Kellogg, denying all imputations against him contained in recent documents transmitted to the Senate from the Secretary of the Interior relating to the transfer of the land grant of the Texas Pacific to the Southern Pacific, asking for an investigation.

HOUSE.—A bill was introduced repealing the duty on the extract of hemlock and other barks used in tanning. Referred. Mr. Beach offered a resolution calling on the Postmaster General for all reports and papers referring to the Star Route investigation made by special agents during 1881. Referred. Mr. Springer, Chairman of the committee on Expenditures of the Department of Justice, reported back the resolution calling on the Postmaster General for the correspondence concerning frauds of the star routers. Adopted. A resolution was reported requesting the President to transmit to the House, the correspondence relating to the condition of things in Mexico since the proposed railroad connection with the United States; also in relation to the boundary between Mexico and Guatemala. Adopted. A bill was reported pensioning the surviving grandchild of Thomas Jefferson. Referred to private calendar. The regular order being demanded, the Speaker announced it to be on the motion made yesterday by Mr. Hiscock to commit to the Senate the bill appropriating $1,000,000 for continuing the improvement of the Mississippi River to the Committee on Rivers and Harbors, with instruction to report back with an amendment restricting the expenditure of money to Plum Point and Lake Providence reaches, except where necessary to protect works already begun. The motion was lost, yeas, 117; nays, 162. Mr. White, of Kentucky, moved to commit the bill, with instructions, to the Committee on Rivers and Harbors, not to report back until the Secretary of War furnished an itemized account of the expenditures and improvement of the Mississippi River from July 1, 1879, to January 16, 1884. Lost.

WASHINGTON, January 18.—SENATE.—The Chair laid before the Senate a message of the President transmitting for the consideration of Congress the communications of the Secretaries of War and the Navy on the subject of a relief expedition for the Greely party, recommending immediate action, as the situation of the party is most perilous.

HOUSE.—Mr. Slocum asked unanimous consent that to-morrow's session be set apart for debate on the Fitz John Porter Bill. Mr. Reed objected. Mr. Brumm offered a resolution, which was referred to the Committee on Foreign Affairs, instructing that Committee to make inquiry whether any foreign Minister accredited to the United States had endeavored to nullify the effect of the unanimous resolution of the House by representations reflecting on the honor and integrity of its members. [Note The above is intended to get the facts concerning the Hewitt-West affair.] Mr. Slocum moved to dispense with the morning hour, and though there was a general opposition on the Republican side, the motion secured the requisite two-thirds, 160 to 78. The House then went into Committee of the Whole on Private Calender, Mr. Springer in the chair, the first bill being for the relief of Fitz John Porter.

—General Charles Gordon, generally known as "Chinese Gordon," was only thirty years old when placed in command of a division of the Chinese army. He always went unarmed in battle, even when foremost in the breach, directing his troops by waving a little cane. As he was uniformly victorious in his engagements, his Chinese soldiers considered the cane to be a magic wand which insured his protection and their triumph. The General is a lofty and admirable type, honest as he is brave.

THE COMMONWEALTH.

Legislative Proceedings.

FRANKFORT, January 10.—SENATE.—The appointment of sundry notaries public advised and consented to. Message from the Government nominating officers for the Central Lunatic Asylum, as follows: S. H. Gear and Wesley Whipp, Commissioners; Dr. F. H. Clark, Assistant Physician; E. A. Graves, Steward. Referred to Committee on Charitable Institutions. Mr. Peay—Reported in favor of advising and consenting to Governor's nominations of officers of Western Lunatic Asylum. Nominations confirmed. Mr. Riley—A bill to amend an act to create the office of County Treasurer of Campbell County. Allows Treasurer to appoint a deputy. Passed. Leave was given Mr. Hallam to bring in a bill to amend an act entitled "An act to incorporate the Ohio River Waterworks Company," approved March 2, 1882.

HOUSE.—Bills reported: To change the time of holding the Quarterly Courts in Menifee, Christian and Warren Counties. Passed. A bill to amend an act to change the time of holding the Court of Claims of Fayette County. Passed. To authorize the County Court of Clinton County to issue bonds and levy a tax to build a Court-house. Passed. Bills were introduced and passed to make the following streams navigable: Turkey Creek, in Floyd County; Buffalo Creek, Johnson County; Middle Fork of Daniel's Creek, Johnson County. Mr. Moreman introduced a bill to authorize the County Court of Meade to add an additional ad valorem tax. Passed.

FRANKFORT, January 11.—SENATE.—Wm. Rigney proposed a resolution authorizing the Governor to take such measures as necessary to obtain the names of the commissioned, non-commissioned officers and privates who served in the four Kentucky companies during the Mexican war, and have such names filed away in the Adjutant-General's office for future reference. Adopted. The Committee on Judiciary asked to be discharged from further consideration of the bill defining and protecting the rights of married women, which was granted. The bill provided that any married woman may own in her own right real and personal property, obtained by descent, gift or purchase or her own earnings, and manage, sell, convey and dispose of the same by will or otherwise to the extent and in the manner the husband can, property belonging to him. Adjourned.

HOUSE.—A bill was passed levying a tax of fifty cents on each male, and one dollar on each female dog in Boone and Campbell Counties, and providing for its collection and payments to those persons who have had or may have sheep killed by dogs. The provisions of the bill do not apply to the corporate limits of Newport, Alexandria, Dayton and Bellevue, in Campbell County. A bill to amend Section 3, Title 3, Chapter 1, of Criminal Code, as follows: "A Magistrate, if satisfied that any public offense has been committed, shall have power to summons any persons he may think proper for examination on oath concerning it, to enable him to ascertain the offender, and to issue a warrant for his arrest." A bill to amend Section 10, of Article 2, of Chapter 2, of the General Statutes so as to authorize the transfer of license to sell liquor by the Clerk of the County Court, upon the application of the holder. The assignee, as transferrer, shall comply with all the requirements of law applicable to the holder of such license. Adjourned.

FRANKFORT, January 12.—SENATE.—Mr. L. T. Moore asked the unanimous consent to take up a bill to amend the charter of the Chatterol Railroad. Passed. Mr. Robbins called up House bill for the benefit of M. Gaines, of Henry County. Amendment rejected and bill passed. The Speaker announced his appointments for Joint Committees on Health—C. J. Walton and Robert Walker. Mr. Bruce—A bill to incorporate the Falmouth and Fishing Creek Turnpike Road company. Passed. A bill to authorize Mayo and others to erect a dam on Beaver Creek, Floyd county, with an amendment. Amendment adopted and bill passed.

HOUSE.—Bills introduced: To repeal an act to prohibit the sale of spirituous, vinous or malt liquors within one mile of Dixon, Webster County. Passed. To prohibit the sale of spirituous, vinous, or malt liquors in Common School District No. 41, Muhlenberg County, and School District No. 18, in Hickman County. Passed. To legalize and establish the Local Option Law in London District, Laurel County. Passed. To prohibit the sale of intoxicating liquors in the counties of Bell, Harlan, Perry and Leslie. Passed. To incorporate the town of Mount Pleasant, in Harlan County. Passed. To incorporate the Louisville Female College. A bill to amend section 32, title 5, chapter 1, of the Criminal Code of practice, giving a Magistrate power to summon before him persons for examination on oath, to enable him to ascertain an offender against the law. Mr. Sanders moved the previous question. Adopted, and then the bill passed.

FRANKFORT, January 14.—SENATE.—The nomination by Governor Knott of Colonel John F. Davis as Commissioner of Agriculture, Horticulture and Statistics was advised and consented to. The following bills were passed: A bill amending the charter of the Eastern Kentucky Railroad Company. A bill to incorporate the city of Clinton. A bill to amend an act entitled "An act to incorporate the Ohio River Water-works Company." A bill to change the time of holding the Logan Quarterly Court. House bill to change the time of holding the Christian Quarterly Court. A bill to authorize the County Court of Menifee County to subscribe stock in turnpike and gravel roads. The following bill was introduced and referred: To amend the charter of the town of Alexandria, in Campbell County, so as to give the Police Judge of said town concurrent jurisdiction with Justices of the Peace in civil cases.

HOUSE.—Bills passed: A bill to authorize the County Court of Laurel County to issue bond for erection of a jail and other public buildings in said county. A bill to amend Section 16, Chapter 37, title "Evidence," of the General Statutes. Said section is proposed to be amended as follows: Section 1. Any person not known to be living, and of whose existence no account whatever can be given, for seven years successively, shall be presumed to be dead in any case wherein death shall come in question, unless proof be made that he was alive within that time. Section 2. In any case where the heirs of a person who has died, or who by reason of absence is presumed to have died, and unknown, and no account whatever can be given of their existence, the burden of proving that there are heirs of such decedent shall be upon the person offering it.

FRANKFORT, January 15.—SENATE.—Bills introduced: Authorizing the County Court of Laurel to issue bonds to raise money to build a jail. Passed. The Senate then proceeded to ballot for U. S. Senator, which resulted in no election. J. C. S. Blackburn received 11 votes; John S. Williams received 12 votes; Wm. N. Sweeney 10 votes, and John Bennett 4. The Senate then adjourned.

HOUSE.—Bills passed: To amend Section 2, Chapter 28, Article 18, of the General Statutes. A Senate bill to repeal an act, entitled "An act to regulate the advertising of real estate under execution sales for State and county taxes, sales under decrees of judgments, in Robertson County, and to regulate the compensation therefor," approved April 27, 1880. The House then proceeded to ballot for United States Senator. The vote was as follows: Blackburn, 29; Williams, 32; Sweeney, 26; Bennett, 9. Adjourned.

FRANKFORT, January 16.—SENATE.—Mr. Elliott moved to suspend the rules and take up a bill to incorporate the Bardstown Shepherdsville Turnpike road. House amendment concurred in. A bill was passed providing for taking the sense of the people of the State as to the propriety of calling a Constitutional Convention.

HOUSE.—The bills passed were a bill to authorize the Franklin County Court to issue bonds to build a new jail. A bill to incorporate St. Mary's Lodge of Masons, No. 240, of the Grand Lodge of Kentucky. A bill to incorporate the East Fork Cemetery Association of Lewis County. A bill to incorporate the Ebenezer Cemetery Association, of Lewis County. A Senate bill to amend and reduce into one the several acts in reference to the town of Rochester, in Butler County, with an amendment which was adopted and bill passed. A bill to authorize and empower the County Court of Henry County to levy on the taxable property in said districts for turnpike purposes for 1882. The hour of 12 o'clock having arrived, the Senate appeared to execute the joint order of the day, ballot for U. S. Senator in joint assembly.

Miscellaneous Items.

JOSEPH GEPAULA, a young German, of twenty-three years of age, met his death in the Iron and Pipe Foundry at Covington a few days ago. He had just attached a cable to a large flask, which was to be elevated to some height, and falling to get out of the way in time, the flask struck him on the side of the head, breaking his neck and causing death almost at once. No blame is attached to the pipe company. The unfortunate young man had no relatives in this country.

THE DAIRY.

—As a rule, a cow's best work is done from her third to her tenth year. After the eighth year you had better become suspicious of her and, unless she is an extra good one, let her go farrow and feed her heavily, and let the butcher or the beef fattener have her at his own figures.—Exchange.

—The aspirations of a successful dairyman are too apt to covet the acres of his neighbor. Rather let him turn his attention inward and see what he can do with intensified farming. Enrich what you have in preference to many acres not thoroughly tilled.—The Dairy.

—Why there are not more imitators of high-class foreign cheese in this country is a mystery. Why do not young men who intend following cheese-making for a living go to Europe and serve apprenticeships on cheese farms and then come back and make the article here, where it sells for treble as much as our own make.—Exchange.

—The advocates of ensilage claim that a mild degree of acid in this food will not hurt the cow, because that will be the condition of any food shortly after it is taken into the cow's stomach. On this principle it would be safe to feed a baby on sour milk, for that will be its condition immediately, no matter how sweet it was when swallowed. The Dairyman.

—The American Dairyman says there is one point that should be deeply impressed upon the dairyman's mind, and that is, if he wants to make a first class article of butter he must churn often. Never let the cream get over three days old, no matter how cold it may be kept. If cold it will get old, flat and rinky. If sour, the whey will eat up the best butter globules. Churn as often as you can.

—Colonel F. D. Curtis says that fancy dairymen, by allowing their cream to sour too much before churning, have made their product simply "imitation oleomargarine." "They have," he says, vitiated the public palate—especially in the cities—with their fresh-made buttermilk-flavored butter, and created a market for oleomargarine compounds, and now they are running a neck-and-neck race with the oleomargarine manufacturers."

—There are many kinds of concrete, stone, cement and patent floors for milk houses. The only proper material for such a purpose is one that will not absorb grease. The simplest and surest is a neatly matched pine floor, well painted. This can be and should be scrubbed up every day. Mopping will not answer; nothing but hot water and a thorough rubbing. Even in a cellar this is the best kind of floor.—The Dairy.

—The common practice of dairying in this country when no ground feed is purchased is to have about five acres of grass to a cow. When men talk about one acre or less to the cow they begin to look to some one else's farm for cow provender, and it does not alter the case that the corn or cotton seed from which the meal is made lies many thousand miles away. Which plan is the more profitable is another question, and one to be solved by each farmer for himself.—American Dairyman.

The Dairy in Winter.

From careful observation among our average class of farmers, not strict dairymen, it would appear that very little attention is paid to the individual character of their cows. The general footings for the whole herd may be very fair; they have given a good amount of milk and produced a good quantity of butter the season through but what have they accomplished individually, is what we prefer to know. A poor cow will run a man in debt just as well as a poor class of goods will a merchant who sells them below cost. It makes much difference to a man, or it should, whether all he feeds his cow goes to sustain life only and keep up the bodily temperature, or whether it goes to produce milk and butter, in part. It is not a difficult matter to ascertain which of the herd pays and which does not; the milk can be weighed and by this means the merits of a cow can be ascertained. When it costs just as much to keep a poor cow as a good one, while the latter may give twice the amount of milk of the former, it should not take long to decide what to do. "Thin out the herd," is the motto for this season of the year, or even earlier. First, consider what amount of milk and butter a cow must produce in order to pay a profit and then resolve to keep none whose showing falls below the fixed standard. This may seem to flavor of the "book-farmer" notions, but it is just the thing that will pay in the long run.

Next to wise selection and proper thinning out, comes the feeding, and here we propose to look at only one phase of this very broad question. At this time of year and later there is always a desire to economize fodder, especially if it be scarce and good hay rather high. The result nearly always is that straw and corn stalks, with a few nubbins of corn or a few potatoes, are rushed into the fodder rack and likewise most of the musty hay. It occurs, also, during winter that the stock is not watered regularly and sufficiently. Cold, blustering, snowy days sometimes forbid it. What is the result? The cow must overload the stomach with a lot of dry, indigestible, innutritious stuff, and if not provided with water impaction is quite likely to follow. Then, unless a doctor is at hand, the chances are that the cow will die. Such dry fodder should not be given alone, or without some antidote to the dangers of impaction. Either linseed oil-meal, flax-seed meal or cotton-seed meal may be used with good results. Corn-meal is too much inclined to produce heating effects. A quart of linseed-oil meal is as good a ration as need be given with dry fodder to prevent impaction. Even when the stalks have been cured well and are green and bright, some clover hay or wheat middlings should be used. But if they are dry, and must be fed, run them through a feed cutter, wet them, and mix a little meal or middlings with them. In this way the stalks will be eaten up cleaner, and the stalks may be made to do very good service in place of something better.—Springfield (Mass.) Republican.

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

A CLOTH saturated in cold water and laid before the bed at night is suggested as a sure cure for a somnambulist.

CUSTOM-house statistics show that over $1,000,000 worth of eggs were imported into this country the past year.

ENGLISH sparrows are tough little creatures, but the cold weather in New England was a little too severe for them, hundreds being frozen to death.

"CIVILIZATION, on her luminous wings, soars in the direction of Reno, Nev.," says the Sacramento Bee. "The squaws in that vicinity have taken to using face powder."

A FRENCH writer, who estimates that the world contains 193,000 doctors, complains that two of our most exasperating affections, asthma and catarrh, defy their utmost skill.

THE official report of the committee appointed to investigate the earthquake on the Island of Ischia fixes the number of persons killed at 2,313 and of the seriously wounded at 762.

DENNIS KEARNEY, the "Sand-lot orator," is fighting the aristocracy in a fashion more deadly even than making speeches. He is selling pies at a San Francisco health resort.

THE Indiana Farmer says a farm hand earning $12 a month, including board, washing, etc., will generally have more money at the end of the year than if he made that amount per week in the city.

THE United States Senate now has eight men born in Kentucky, the largest number from any State. Ohio has seven, New York six, Ireland three and England and Scotland one each.

THE Modocs now number twenty-six families of 106 persons. The Government furnishes them with implements, supplies and an instructor in agriculture, and they are fast becoming farmers.

IN spite of the great doubts felt as to the solidity of the soil upon which the Washington Monument is building, it is reported that it lacks only one sixty-fourth of an inch of being plumb.

DESPISE not the day, of even so small a thing as a collar button. One Brooklyn man shot at his brother-in-law the other day, but the bullet struck the latter's collar button and a life was saved.

The sale of second-hand food is an industry conducted profitably by a German citizen of New York. He gathers up that which is left over from meals at the large hotels, and sells it to the poorer classes at a nice though modest profit.

A LONDON authority on the effects of tea and coffee calls tea the "tobacco of women," but it requires less digestive power than coffee, which, however, is a better stimulant, and one that is a good substitute for spirits.

VIENNA has a society which renders assistance to boys and girls who, on leaving school, wish to enter any trade, and who have no one else to help or advise them. The children are looked after, both as regards their moral and intellectual development.

LAST year Uncle Sam shipped abroad $823,166,133 worth of stuff, imported $720,762,327 worth, and has stowed away a comfortable hundred millions in his pockets. It would seem that the old fellow ought to be able to stand treat to the untaxed cigars.

AT a microscopic exhibition in Boston recently, the sting of a honey bee was thrown upon the screen, the point of which was so sharp as to be hardly distinguishable. At the same time the finest of fine needles was shown, under the same power of the microscope, and the end of the needle measured five inches across.

A CORRESPONDENT who attended a recent charity ball in New York, writes to the Providence Herald: "I never saw so many bare necks, so many long red elbowy arms in my life. A woman in a wet bathing-suit is an odd creature, but the worst of them is beautiful in comparison with some of the undressed women who paraded themselves on this occasion."

A GREAT many people imagine they see a joke in "Europe's insult to the American hog." But it is shown that the exports of bacon from this country to France and Germany before its interdiction exceeded $7,000,000 in value, which is just about the value of wines and spirit sent by those Nations to the United States; so that retaliation can be easily practiced.

Systematic mining for gems and precious stones is carried on only at Paris, Me., and Stony Point, N. C., but they are gathered on the surface in many places, as sapphirs in Montana, moss agate in Colorado and agate at Lake Superior. Some eighty-eight different minerals occur in the United States which have been used as gems. Twelve of these occur in the United States only.

THE RECORDER.

RIDDELL & HALL, Proprietors.

BURLINGTON, KY. JAN. 23. 1883.

ADVERTISING RATES.

1 Column	1 year	$ 80
1	1 "	40
1	1 "	20
1 "	1 "	20
1 "	1 "	10
1 "	1 "	6

For announcing candidates, $5. Obituary poetry, 5 cents per line. Obituary notices 20 lines free; over that number (excepting the announcement of the death) 3 cents per line.
Tributes of respect from lodges, &c., $1 50

RATES OF SUBSCRIPTION.

One year	$1 50
Six months	75
Three months	40

That Court Of Claims.

To the Editors of the Recorder:

Allow me through the columns of the RECORDER to notice the manner in which the Court of Claims allow physicians' claims, and dispose of other matters that concern the tax payers of the county.

They have an order directing the Magistrates, in each district, to contract with the doctors to do the pauper practice for a sum not to exceed $50 per year. The claims are allowed after this fashion: "I move Dr. ——be allowed $40." "Did you contract with him?" "Yes." No itemized account is presented, nor is it stated what paupers he waited on. "I move that it be allowed"—carried. There was a claim from every district in the county, and they were all allowed.

Some of the justices thought that over $400 outside of the Poor-house and Jail, for pauper practice was too much, but after wrestling with it for two days they made it worse in this way: For 1883 the Burlington district was let with Poor-house and Jail. For 1884 a committee is appointed to let the Poor-house and Jail, and the justices in the Burlington district have the same power to contract as the other justices have, but they say they'll not contract with the doctors; the district must go with the Jail and Poor-house. But the committee has no authority to go outside of the Poor-house and Jail. So you see the paupers outside of the Poor-house in the Burlington district will not have the attention as the other districts. Truly, the legs of the lame are not equal!

This pauper practice is a grievous eye sore. Who is a pauper? One who is destitute and is dependent on the county for his maintenance. There are two or three persons the Court provides for outside of the Poor-house, yet, the doctors get over four hundred dollars for pauper practice outside of the Poor-house and Jail. Who supplies these paupers with food and clothing to keep them alive so they can take the medicine? Perhaps some generous store keeper and kind hearted neighbors, but there are no provisions for paying them. Don't you see that the doctors are a privileged class when it comes to drawing money out of the treasury? They are exempt from jury service. Not so with the farmer and mechanic. They have to lose valuable time, and receive no pay.

At the November term 'Squire Baker was appointed a committee to settle with ex-sheriff Finch. He reported that he would not settle; thereupon Attorney Tolin stated that owing to a clerical error, he had his doubts whether he could collect for the year 1882, but he thought he could collect a balance for the year 1881. Now, if the Attorney will look he will find that there is no mistake in writing or copying, but it is an omission, a lack of care or diligence, the clerk failing to put the order laying the levy on the Order Book, and the Sheriff had no authority to collect. And further, the Judge took the Sheriff's bond at the January term of the Court, and the levy was not laid till February, and by a late decision of the Appellate Court; the levy must be laid before the bond is taken. So you see if the decision of the Appellate Court amounts to anything, the bond is void—the Judge got the cart before the horse.

I would ask the taxpayers the same question 'Squire McConnell asked the County Attorney: "What are you going to do about it? Is there no Balm in Gilead? A TAXPAYER.

WERE Carlisle out of the way, the next canvass for congress in this Congressional district would bring out about twenty second rate lawyers, who have designs on the Hon. John's seat in the National Assembly.

LAND in Boone county has had a healthy advance in price for several years, and has reached figures beyond the reach of men of moderate means, hence such a constant emigration to Western states where land is cheap.

OHIO is now under Democratic rule.

GEN. WILLIAMS was badly disappointed as to the time necessary to re-elect him.

W. N. Hogan, a prominent attorney at Williamstown, and a son of O. P. Hogan, of that place, committed suicide, last Friday, by cutting his throat. He had been in a bad condition, mentally, for some time, and that lead to the commission of the rash act.

THE Court of Claims sometimes departs from the rules governing bodies assembled in a business capacity, but it must be remembered that the Court is not composed of parliamentarians, its members being men engaged in pursuits which do not demand a knowledge of parliamentary laws.

THREE juries have said that McHugh, of Cincinnati, who killed his wife, is guilty of murder, the last verdict being returned Saturday. Technicalties have allowed him to escape the gallows twice, and his case will again go to the Supreme Court. It is about as difficult to hang a murderer in Ohio as it is in Kentucky.

SHELDON, ex-Register of the Land Office, has not paid over to the Auditor all the money that was in his hands at the expiration of his term, and the Auditor has directed the Attorney-General to bring suit for it. The law allowed him till the first of January to make his final settlement, at which time he should have paid in near $2,000. Mr. Sheldon's career as a public servant is badly tarnished.

OUR last report from Frankfort was Tuesday morning's, and there was no change in the Senatorial contest further than one member had voted in caucus for Carlise. All the candidates were still very sanguine. The members of the Louisville delegation who have been voting for Williams have been petitioned to vote for Blackburn, and their refusal so to do has created much indignation among their constituants.

SOME of the justices of the county signed a petition asking the Legislature to pass a law substituting a board of commissioners for the Court of Levy, believing that it will be a much better way of disposing of the business of the county. We understand that the County Judge is favorable to the law, and he is no doubt informed as to how the commission works in Kenton county. Dividing the county into four districts, each district electing its commissioner, and the County Judge with the comissioners constituting the board, would evidently be a more wiehly and a less expensive body than the Court of Claims is.

Tobacco Items.

The crop of Milton Burris, of Boxville, Union county, netted him $108 per acre.

Wm. Bascom, of Bath county, sold his crop for 19 cents all round. Jas. G. Lane sold his crop, 15 acres, at 17½ cents.

Mr. Thos. Irvine, of Fayette county, sold his crop of tobacco to W. E. Christirn, of Athens, for $100 per acre on the stalk.

Henry Smith, of Montgomery Co., said his tobacco had paid him on an average of $125 per acre for the past four years, and that without the expenditure of a cent on his part for labor.

Mr. Clark, of Mason county, sold his crop of eight acres of tobacco to F. M. Berry, at 20 cents per pound. It is thought the crop will yield Mr. Clark over $300 per acre.

STATE NEWS.

Mason county has thirty lawyers.

Gov. Knott has started his Colonel mill.

There are five candidates for Public Printer.

A three-day old calf in Simpson county weighed 115 pounds.

In Nelson county good 'coon and bird dogs are selling at from $25 to $50.

Candidates for Sheriff are announcing themselves in Franklin county.

A covey of 34 partridges were found frozen to death last week near Franklin.

The Hopkinsville New Era says the wheat is looking badly in that section.

The late cold weather sent a Mt. Olivet 22 year-old dog to sleep under the daisies.

Officers in Williamstown are joining the Good Templars. A squad of four were sworn in last week.

A Georgetown dentist, Dr. White has disappeared, leaving a dead wife and a number of unpaid bills.

A man near Uniontown had 20 fat hogs, averaging 300 pounds to freeze to death on the night of the 5th.

The father and mother of Mr. Samuel Farris, of Lexington, died within a few hours of each other, a few days since.

Lexington has a grocer who, in selling coffee, will bite a grain in two to make the scales balance. He does not advertise.

The people of Critenden, Union and Webster counties want Congress to contribute something toward the improvement of Tradewater.

The residence of James Caldwell, near Sharpsburg, Bath county, was burned Tuesday morning. The loss was $15,000; insurance, $5,000.

The Master Commissioner of Crittenden county recently sold nineteen parcels of land, 2,239 acres, at an average of about $3 75 per acre.

Ben Harden, of Simpson county, has trapped 1,000 partridges this season. Among them was one as white as snow and two white ones with brown spots on their wings.

Near Owingsville, last week, a bell was found on the neck of a buzzard which was captured in the snow and sleet. It had evidently been placed on the bird many years ago, as the leather strap had worn its way to the bone.

A farmer in Shelby county raised on eight acres of ground enough corn to fatten twenty hogs, leaving an abundance for home consumption, $230 worth of tobacco, 125 bushels of Irish potatoes, and twenty two-horse wagon loads of pumpkins.

We had the pleasure of meeting Capt. Allen, Monday, who had been to Charleston getting repairs to some of his drilling machinery and was on his way back to Warfield. He says the gas that is escaping from the well at Warfield is sufficient to furnish light and heat for the cities of Ironton, Ashland, Catlettsburg and Huntington as well as run all of their machinery, and that the cost of a piping to convey it is only about $500 per mile. Capt. Allen is sanguine that he will strike oil in paying quantities. He says the oil is there and he is certain to get it.—Ashland Independent.

It is reported that Rose Morgan and Brack Davis have been arrested for the murder of Rothwell and taken to the Owenton jail. Davis, it appears, had been telling it around that he knew who killed Rothwell, and from the evidence obtained he and Morgan were arrested and sent to jail. It is stated that Davis said he was away and did not get back until the day after the murder; that he was given $200 to hide the body, which was lying under a wagon bed, and that the parties to the act, fearing discovery, gave him $200 to hide it; that he hid the body in Watt Lee's grove. Hearing that Lee was going to clear off the brush they sunk the body in the creek. It is also stated that there will be more arrests, as there were several connected with the murder.—Williamstown Courier.

CLOVER & TIMOTHY SEED.
FLOUR AND SALT,
FOR SALE BY
DUDLEY ROUSE.

This space is reserved for A. M. Acra's Harness and Saddle Shop.

For Sale.

A lot of No. 1 locust posts.
J. O. HUEY, Burlington, Ky.

For Sale.

Pure Jersey Cattle, Bronze Turkeys and Plymouth Rock Chickens; also eggs in season. HENRY TUCKER, Union, Ky.

NOTICE.

The undersigned will receive sealed bids for the medical practice in the Boone County Jail and Poor-house, for the year ending February 4th, 1885. Bids will be received till 12 m., the first Monday in February 1884. The physician to furnish all the medicines. The right is reserved to reject any or all bids. The physician to whom the practice is awarded will be bound to do all the practice.

Committee. M. C. NORMAN, A. G. MCCONELL, JOE WAGSTAFF.

THE Weekly Globe,

From now until March 5, '85

ONLY $1.00

With 8 pages, 56 columns, every week, THE GLOBE will strive vigorously to elect a Democratic President and to make the Best Family Newspaper in the World. It asks no person to subscribe without examining a sample copy and judging of its merits for himself. Is not that fairest? Send for a free sample copy and you will receive just the kind of a weekly you are trying to find. Only $1 00 for the Presidential campaign. Address THE WEEKLY GLOBE, Boston, Mass.

THE CINCINNATI Weekly News!

A NATIONAL METROPOLITAN JOURNAL,

Full Of Enterprise.

PEOPLE!

EIGHT PAGES—SIXTY Four Pages

Containing all the News, correct Market Reports, well selected Miscellany, brilliant Stories—in fact, the favorite Weekly Paper of the Central United States.

—PUBLISHED BY THE—

Cincinnati News Publishing Co.

AT THE FOLLOWING

LOW RATES OF SUBSCRIPTION.

THE WEEKLY NEWS with one of Dore's Celebrated Works,

"Christ Leaving the Prætorium," "Christ Entering Jerusalem,"

These engravings of Dore's fame historical paintings are the best and most perfect reprints by the Foreign Art Reproducing Company, and can not be purchased as original plates for less than $10 each in Europe. They are in size 25x36 in. and are direct copies, preserving every line and detail OF THE ENGLISH $40 ENGRAVINGS.

These pictures are suitable to adorn the parlor of any gentleman. As a

Premium Supplement!

A Single Copy, three months	$0 40
A Single copy, six months	60
A Single copy, one year	1 00
A club of 10 copies to 1 P. O. 1 year	9 00
A club of 20 copies to 1 P. O. 1 year	17 00

And large clubs at 85c per copy per annum.

Postmasters and other agents will be allowed 15 per cent on full rate (not club) subscribers.

The premium engravings will be mailed about the first of each month to the subscribers entitled to receive them.

As a premium offer it is confidently claimed that its equal was never before made, and would not be possible in this case except for the method adopted by the Foreign Art Reproducing Company to advertise its work.

Do not fail to avail yourself of the opportunity by sending your name and address, with one dollar enclosed, to

THE CINCINNATI WEEKLY NEWS.

NO NEW THING.

STRONG'S SANATIVE PILLS

Used throughout the country FOR OVER 40 YEARS, And thus proved

The Best Liver Medicine in the World.

No Griping, Poisonous Drugs, but purely Vegetable, safe and reliable. Prescribed even by Physicians. A speedy cure for Liver Complaint, Regulating the Bowels, Purifying the Blood, Cleansing from Malarial Taint. A perfect cure for Sick Headache, Constipation and all Billous Disorders. Sold by Druggists. For Pamphlets, etc., address C. E. HULL & CO., 18 Cedar St., N. Y. City.

Public Sale.

I will sell to the highest bidder at my residence 1 mile south of Bellevue, on the Ohio river, on

Wednesday, Feb., 20th,

All of my personal property: Consisting of Horses, Mules, Sheep, Cattle, 1 Binder, Drill, Wagon, Buggy, Harness, Plows, &c., One Palace Organ, and Household and Kitchen Furniture. About 2,000 bushels of corn. I will also offer my farm with privilige of rejecting all bids. Terms made known on day of sale. J. W. RICE.

For Sale.

A dwelling with 6 rooms, and 15 acres of land at Rabbit Hash, Ky. On this land is a good orchard, barn and other conveniencies. Also a never failing well. Address B. F. BELL, Rabbit Hash, Ky.

For Sale or Trade.

12½ acres of land about 2½ miles from Constance, Ky., near the pike. Call on J. A. RIDDELL on the premises or CY RIDDELL, Burlington, Ky. 10-4t

For Rent.

A good hotel, paying bar attached. Also a good stable. This is the J. P. Snyder property in Florence. Call on Mrs. S. Snyder, Florence, Ky. 7-4t

Administrator's Notice,

Those having claims against the estate of W. S. Ryle, dec'd., are hereby notified to present the same, proven as by law required, to the undersigned before December 25th, '83. B. H. STEPHENS, Adm'r.

Posted.

Notice is hereby given that our lands in Boone county, are posted and all persons are warned not trespass thereon.
MRS. E. J. PIATT, JOHN MCCONNEL. MissJulia S. Dinsmore.

ROBERT B. REED

Attorney at Law.

OFFICE AT - - UNION, KY.

F. RIDDELL,

ATTORNEY at LAW

BURLINGTON, KY.

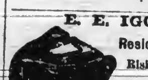
Office over Dudley Rouse's Store.

ALBERT W. GAINES,

Attorney and Counselor at Law,

LAWRENCEBURG, - - - IND.

Will practice in the courts of Boone county, Ky., Cincinnati, Ohio, Dearborn and adjoining counties, Ind. dec-6-82



W. E. VEST,

COUNTY SURVEYOR

WALTON, KY.

Is prepared to do all kinds of surveying. All orders sent him through the mail to Walton, will receive his prompt attention.

E. E. IGOE,

Resident Dentist,

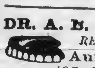
Rising Sun, Ind.

WITH

J. P. Ulrey.

Monday and Tuesday at Rising Sun, Ind.

J. J. Landram. G. G. Hughes.



LANDRAM & HUGHES.

ATTORNEYS at LAW.

Will practice in the Boone Circuit Court and the Court of Appeals. Prompt attention given to Collections, on application to G. G. Hughes, Burlington, Ky.

DR. A. B. HARRY AN

RESIDENT DENTIST.

Aurora, Indiana.

(Office Over Postoffice)

With J P. ULREY.

Dr. ULREY'S days, Wednesday and Saturday. Office open at all hours. 8-1y

L. C. NORMAN. [redacted]

NORMAN and STEPHENS,

ATTORNEYS at LAW.

UNION, BOONE CO., KY.

Will practice in the Courts of Boone Kenton and adjoining counties. Collections solicited and made throughout the State. 24 tf 81

S. W. TOLIN.

ATTORNEY AT LAW

BURLINGTON, KY

Office in Court-house on 2d floor.

Will manage litigation in any of the Courts of the State, contracts and other legal instruments drawn up at reasonable rates. A prompt an studious attention given to business intrusted to my care. A trial solicited. 12-1y

For Sale.

Fine tobacco land. I have for sale, cheap from One hundred to Six hundred acres of No. 1 tobacco land, lying on the Beaver Lick and Union T. P. road in Boone county, Ky. For particulars call on L. H. Dills at Burlington, Ky., or the undersigned on the premises or address me at Union P. O.
7-4t F. DICKEY.

TWO Farms for Sale.

One contains 36 acres, 9 acres of which is good creek bottom and 27 acres, hill land This land is under good fence, well set in grass, has lasting water for stock, fine lot of timber, much of which is locust. It is part of the W. B. Ryle homestead, lies on Gunpowder Creek and joins Leander Setters.

The other farm contains 126½ acres, is 2½ miles southwest of Burlington, has all necessary buildings in good repair, fencing good, has a good well and cistern, besides never failing water for stock, a nice young orchard, and some hedge fence. This land is all in grass except 25 acres which were cultivated in corn this year. For terms apply on the last named premises to 6-2m W. S. WHITE.

PATENTS.

For new inventions and novel designs obtained in the United States, Canada and Europe. Trade Marks and Copyright—Labels secured for Merchants and Manufacturers who wish protection against imitators of their goods, packages or articles of manufacture. We are located opposite the United States Patent Office, have quick access to its records, and can give prompt and reliable answers to inquiries. Of our firm one has had thirteen years' practice in the highest courts, another several years as an Assistant Examiner in the United States Patent Office and many years experience as solicitor of American and Foreign Patents. Fee reasonable and full satisfaction or no fee. Best reference given. Our little book "on patents" sent free on receipt of one cent stamp. W. A. COULTER & CO., Solicitors of Patents, 13 St. Cloud Building, Washington, D. C.

WRIGHT'S INDIAN VEGETABLE PILLS FOR THE LIVER

And all Bilious Complaints

Safe to take, being purely vegetable; no griping. Price 25 cts. All Druggists.

WANTED BOOK Canvassers.

MALE and FEMALE

To engage in the sale of our new and important works of standard character, large profits and immense selling qualities. We offer a permanent and lucrative business. Address The CINCINNATI PUBLISHING CO. 174 W. Fourth Street, Cincinnati, Ohio.

Free! Cards and Chromos.

We will send free by mail a sample set of our large German, French, and American Chromo Cards, on tinted and gold grounds, with a price list of over 200 different designs, on receipt of a stamp for postage. We will also send free by mail as samples, ten of our beautiful Chromos, on receipt of ten cents to pay for packing and postage; also enclose a confidential price list of our large oil chromos. Agents wanted. Address F. GLEASON & Co., 46 Summer Street, Boston, Mass.

PATENTS

MUNN & CO., of the SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN, continue to act as Solicitors for Patents, Caveats, Trade Marks, Copyrights, for the United States, Canada, England, France, Germany, etc. Hand Book about Patents sent free. Thirty-seven years' experience. Patents obtained through MUNN & CO. are noticed in the SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN, the largest, best, and most widely circulated scientific paper. $3.20 a year. Weekly. Splendid engravings and interesting information. Specimen copy of the Scientific American sent free. Address MUNN & CO., SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN Office, 261 Broadway, New York.

SANITARIUM, Riverside, Cal. The dry climate cures Nose, Throat, Lungs, full idea, 36 p., route, cost, free.

MARRIAGE AND HEALTH GUIDE. 260 pgs. Illustrated.

All that the doubtful curious or thoughtful want to know. Cloth and gilt binding 50 cts, paper 25c, Marriage Guide, 114 p 15c, sent sealed, money or stps, by DR. WHITTIER 290 RACE STREET, CINCINNATI, OHIO. The great specialist, Nervous Debility, Impediments to Marriage, Consultation and Pamphlet free.

County Directory.

OFFICERS.

Assessor—G. M. Riley.
County Surveyor—W. E. Vest.
School Commissioner—D. M. Snyder.
Coroner—Dr. A. A. Murat, Constance.

COURTS.

CIRCUIT COURT meets the 2d Monday in April and first Monday in October, P. U Major, Judge; W. L. Riddell, Clerk A. G. DeJarnette, Commonwealths Attorney; W. L. Riddell, Trustee Jury Fund.

COUNTY COURT meets the first Monday in every month. L. H. Dills, Judge; S. W. Tolin, County Attorney. M. T. Garnett, Clerk; J. R. Clutterbuck, Sheriff, T. W. Finch and W. T. German, Deputy Sheriffs.

QUARTERLY COURT meets the first Monday in March, June, September and December. The officers of the County Court preside.

COURT OF CLAIMS meets the first Monday in November.

MAGISTRATES' COURTS are held in March, June, September and December, as follows:

Bellevue—M. B. Green, first Saturday, and T. H. Sutton, third Monday. J. M. Moody, Constable.

Burlington—E. H. Baker, Thursday after first Monday, and Oscar Gaines, fourth Monday. R. H. Sandford, Constable.

Carlton A. G. McConnell, Wednesday after second Monday, and B. H. Ryle, Saturday after third Monday. Walter Ryle, Constable.

Petersburg—Jos. Hensley, Wednesday after first Monday, and L. A. Loder fourth Saturday. Geo. Comer, Constable.

Beaver—W. M. Rouse, Friday after the third Monday, and

Union—M. C. Norman, Thursday after third Monday, and H. Bannister, Thursday after second Monday. A. D. Riley, Constable.

A. L. Brown,

THE HATTER,

Cor. Pike and Washington Streets

COVINGTON, - - KY.

Has always on hand a large variety of Men's, Boys' and Children's Hats, and prices GUARANTEED to be as low as the lowest.

Gents' Furnishing Goods a Specialty.

W. J. RICE,

CARPENTER & BUILDER,

BULLITSVILLE, KY.

Is prepared Raise or Move EITHER LOG or FRAME BUILDINGS On Short Notice,

And at the Lowest Possible Figures.

33-tf Your orders respectfully solicited

LUMBER.

Geo. M. Bedinger & Co.,

Erlanger, - - Ky.

We keep constantly on hand all kinds of Lumber, Laths and Shingles. Also Builder's supplies of all kinds.

—Come and see Us.—

may 9-tf

AURORA MARBLE AND GRANITE WORKS,

Aurora, Ind

Will have constantly on hand

Marble and Granite Monuments,

Italian & American Headstones, &c.

I am ready to do all kinds of Stone Work on short notice and at low prices Hoping to receive the patronage of Boone County, I am respectfully,

F. W. KASSEBAUM.

INSURE AT HOME

The Farmers' Mutual Fire

INSURANCE COMPANY

Of Boone County

Is now completely organized and receiving applications for Insurance.

Its Rates are Lower

Than those of any other Company, and it gives the farmers of Boone County a

HITHERTO UNKNOWN ADVANTAGE

In keeping their property insured.

EVERY FARMER IN THE COUNTY

should take a policy at once.

N. S. WALTON, President, Petersburg, Ky. | J. H. WALTON, Secretary, Constance, Ky.

R. RANDALL, Treasury.

DIRECTORS.

LEGRAN GAINES, Jeff Utz, JNO. M. MOODY.

INCORPORATED UNDER THE LAWS OF MISSOURI.

CENTRAL MEDICAL & SURGICAL INSTITUTE OF ST. LOUIS, MO.

SUCCESSORS TO DR. BUTTS' DISPENSARY. OFFICE & ROOMS, NO. 920 LOCUST ST.

CHAS. L. LaBARGE, M.D., Pres't & Physician in Charge. NELSON CHESMAN, Treas. & Business Manager.

This Institute has ample facilities and an experienced Faculty. While it succeeds to a large business, which has been established for years, it will aim to extend its medical and surgical practice, giving skillful and scientific treatment to CHRONIC DISEASES of the Head, Spine, Lungs and Air Passages, Heart, Liver, Stomach and Bowels, Rheumatism, Dyspepsia, Consumption and Asthma. BLOOD IMPURITIES, Inherited or caused by impure association, Scrofula, Fever Sores, Ulcers, etc. DEFORMITIES of the Limbs, Spinal Curvature, Wry-Neck, Diseases of the Joints, Piles, Fistula, Rupture, etc. WEAKNESS and wasting diseases in old and young men, also all diseases of the genito-urinary organs. FEMALE irregularities and weaknesses, causing pain in the back or side, etc.

Personal interviews with patients are always preferred. Those unable to visit the Institute will be furnished with blank lists of questions that will aid them in making a full statement of their cases and if not requiring a surgical operation they can be successfully treated by correspondence, and medicines sent by mail or express. To enable us to send proper list of questions applicants should give a brief statement of their trouble.

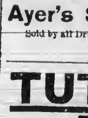
The Treasurer of the corporation is of Nelson Chesman & Co., Advertising Agents, and refers to the publisher of this or any other newspaper in the United States or Canada regarding responsibility.

Consultation at Office or by mail free and invited.

HALL'S Vegetable Sicilian HAIR RENEWER

was the first preparation perfectly adapted to cure diseases of the scalp, and the first successful restorer of faded or gray hair to its natural color, growth, and youthful beauty. It has had many imitators, but none have so fully met all the requirements needful for the proper treatment of the hair and scalp. HALL'S HAIR RENEWER has steadily grown in favor, and spread its fame and usefulness to every quarter of the globe. Its unparalleled success can be attributed to but one cause: the entire fulfilment of its promises.

The proprietors have often been surprised at the receipt of orders from remote countries, where they had never made an effort for its introduction.



The use for a short time of HALL'S HAIR RENEWER wonderfully improves the personal appearance. It cleanses the scalp from all impurities, cures all humors, fever, and dryness, and thus prevents baldness. It stimulates the weakened glands, and enables them to push forward a new and vigorous growth. The effects of this article are not transient, like those of alcoholic preparations, but remain a long time, which makes its use a matter of economy.

BUCKINGHAM'S DYE FOR THE WHISKERS

Will change the beard to a natural brown, or black, as desired. It produces a permanent color that will not wash away. Consisting of a single preparation, it is applied without trouble.

PREPARED BY R. P. HALL & CO., Nashua, N.H.

Sold by all Dealers in Medicines.

FOR ALL THE FORMS OF Scrofulous, Mercurial, and Blood Disorders, the best remedy, because the most searching and thorough blood-purifier, is

Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

Sold by all Druggists; $1, six bottles, $5.

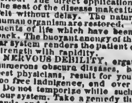
TUTT'S PILLS

TORPID BOWELS, DISORDERED LIVER, and MALARIA.

From these sources arise three-fourths of the diseases of the human race. These symptoms indicate their existence: Loss of Appetite, Bowels costive, Sick Headache, fullness after eating, aversion to exertion of body or mind, Eructation of food, Irritability of temper, Low spirits, A feeling of having neglected some duty, Dizziness, Fluttering at the Heart, Dots before the eyes, highly colored Urine, CONSTIPATION, and demand the use of a remedy that acts directly on the Liver. As a Liver medicine TUTT'S PILLS have no equal. Their action on the Kidneys and Skin is also prompt; removing all impurities through these three "scavengers of the system," producing appetite, sound digestion, regular stools, a clear skin and a vigorous body. TUTT'S PILLS cause no nausea or griping nor interfere with daily work and are a perfect

ANTIDOTE TO MALARIA.

Sold everywhere, 25c. Office, 44 Murray St., N.Y.



TUTT'S HAIR DYE.

GRAY HAIR OR WHISKERS changed instantly to a GLOSSY BLACK by a single application of this DYE. Sold by Druggists, or sent by express on receipt of $1.

Office, 44 Murray Street, New York.

TUTT'S MANUAL OF USEFUL RECEIPTS FREE.

VIGOROUS HEALTH FOR MEN

TESTED FOR 5 YEARS

by use in thousands of cases. Founded on scientific medical principles, it has been growing in favor and reputation while its numerous competitors have invariably failed. The direct application of this remedy to the seat of the disease makes its specific influence felt without delay. The natural functions of the human organism are restored. The animating elements of life which have been wasted are given back. The buoyant energy of the brain and muscular system renders the patient cheerful; he gains strength with rapidity.

NERVOUS DEBILITY, organic weakness, and numerous obscure diseases, baffling the skill of best physicians, result for youthful indiscretion, too free indulgence, and over brain work.

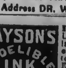
Do not temporize while such enemies lurk in your system. Take a remedy that has cured thousands, and does not interfere with you attention to business or cause any pain or inconvenience.

Send for a Descriptive Pamphlet giving Anatomical Illustrations, which will convince the most sceptical that they can be restored to perfect manhood, and fitted for the duties of life, same as if never affected. Sent free to any one. Remedy sold ONLY by the

HARRIS REMEDY CO. MF'G. CHEMISTS. 306½ N. 10th St. ST. LOUIS, MO.

One Month's treatment $3, two months $5, three months $7

PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM



A beneficial dressing preferred to similar articles because of its purity and rich perfume. It Restores to Gray Hair the Youthful Color & prevents dandruff and falling of the hair. 50c. & $1. Hiscox & Co., N.Y.

FLORESTON

Exceeds the finest flower extracts in richness. Delicate, very lasting. No odor like it. Be sure you get FLORESTON Cologne, signature of Hiscox & Co., N. Y., on every label. 25 and 75 cts., at druggists and dealers in perfumes.

COLOGNE

FREE! RELIABLE SELF-CURE.

A favorite prescription of one of the most noted and successful specialists in the U. S. (now retired) for the cure of Nervous Debility, Lost Manhood, Weakness and Decay. Sent in plain sealed envelope free. Druggists can fill it. Address DR. WARD & CO., Louisiana, Mo.

PAYSON'S INDELIBLE INK

is the BEST. No preparation. Used with any clean pen for marking any fabric. Popular for decorative work on linen. Received Centennial MEDAL & Diploma. Established 50 years. Sold by all Druggists, Stationers & News Agt's.

Local News.

Berkshire and his hounds captured two foxes last week.

Women have met with heavy losses of flowers this winter.

The mercury was monkeying around below zero again Monday morning.

Mittle Acra is preparing for a big boom in the trade in horse jewelry this spring.

If your hair is gradually thinning, use Ayer's Hair Vigor. It restores color and vitality.

So far this has been a fine winter for feeding stock, the waste of food being very small.

There is a noticeable increase in the supply of daylight, and it is growing more abundant all the time.

Garden truck that was buried for protection during the winter has generally fared badly, much of it being frozen.

Our tobacco merchants visited the city one day last week, where they made discoveries that were not encouraging.

We failed to state in our last issue that its delay was caused by waiting for the proceedings of the Court of Claims.

Assessor Riley was in town Monday morning sharpening his pencil for business. His trip down the river did not agree with him.

One day last week Mr. William Rouse killed a China goose that weighed ten pounds and measured five and one-half feet from tip to tip.

Some of the girls have taken our advice and surrendered their chewing-gum to their favorite boys. At least we do not observe them cutting it so freely.

W. C. Riley was in Burlington Monday, and was the happiest looking man we have gazed upon for many a day, and all because his birth-day present was a fine b-o-y.

Since Frank Russell's purchase of the saw mill at Florence X-Roads, he has made business in that particular line lively. He has sawed up and hauled to market an immense lot of walnut lumber.

After a long and exciting chase, last Saturday, a fox was caught near Rev. J. A. Kirtley's. The Berkshire-Goodridge-Cason and Watts-Whitlock packs made the run, followed by a large crowd of men.

Nice tombstones or monuments at the graves of the departed, are marks of respect which should not be neglected. Hurschart & Co., Lawrenceburg, Ind., have just what you want. John Beall of Hebron, is their agent.

Last Thursday, Dr. J. M. Grant, assisted by Drs. J. C. Terrill and J. F. Smith, amputated Simeon Baldon's foot which was frozen some weeks since. Dr. Grant made the amputation in a very satisfactory manner.

Last Saturday evening, A. V. Winston, Jr., of Covington, and son of the gentleman who at one time owned and occupied Mrs. Dempsey's farm adjoining Burlington, shot himself through the head. It was done accidentally.

We do not wish to detract in the least from the pleasure of those who have "dandy cutters" drawn by flying steeds, caparisoned with the musical sleigh bells, but Sub. Section 2, General Statutes, page 820, forbids the use of the bells.

We have a letter from our friend Everett Walton, in Butler, Mo., saying that the oldest inhabitant had given up the weather question having never seen it 28° below 0 before. Many cattle, hogs, and mules and much small game were frozen by the intense cold. Corn is selling for 32 cents a bushel delivered at the elevator.

Major Holabird, that popular superintendent of the Boone County Distillery, and Mr. Berry, one of the Government officers who presides at that institution, made Burlington a flying visit last Sunday. They were in a nobby cutter, and the Major held the ribbons over that fine stepper of his, for which the ten miles drive was only moderate exercise.

The report of the condition of the Farmers and Traders National Bank, Dec. 31st, 1883, which appears in this issue is certainly very satisfactory to the stockholders. That bank, established in 1882, is now far in the lead of the other National Banks in that city, in the item of individual deposits. The statement to which we have referred shows that at the close of business hours December 31st, its individual deposits amounted to $369,657 81, while the individual deposits of the other three National Banks were as follows: Covington City National, $265,056 79; First National, $340,602 17; German National, $238,080 35. The Northern Bank is not required to publish statements of its condition.

To the Veterinary Medicine Company, Nashville, Tenn., Sept., 24, 1882.—Gents: The box of Dr. Salmon's Chicken Cholera Medicine which I bought of him about the first of the month has stopped the cholera amongst my fowls entirely. When I got it they were dying at the rate of from 2 to 6 a day, two of our White Leghorn hens and our White Leghorn rooster were so far gone that we had to hold them up and hold their bills open and pour it down them mixed with water. In one day's time after it was thus given they were all well and the rooster up and crowing. None of the others have had the cholera since we gave them the first dose all around.

Respectfully, W. C. Bosworth,
No. 88 Broad Street.

For sale by W. F. McKim, Burlington.

Winchester, Tenn., July 26th, 1881.—Dr. E. Y. Salmon—Dear Sir: Until about two years ago my hogs died every year in considerable numbers and very rapidly with cholera: I procured some of your Prophylactic and used it freely according to the directions, since which time I have, by its use, prevented the return of the disease in my stock. P. Turney, Judge Supreme Court, Tenn. For sale by W. F. McKim, Burlington.

At the close of the Court of Claims, Tuesday of last week, Judge Dills stated that Mr. A. G. Winston had proposed to trade a portion of his woodland, which lies immediately between the Poor-house farm and the road, for land at back part of the county farm, giving one acre of his for three of that belonging to the county. The Judge stated that the Poor-house farm has no outlet, and if it become necessary to force an outlet, that it would cost the county considerable. The Judge seemed rather to favor the proposition, though he was only stating the proposition that the members might take it under advisement. No one blames Mr. Winston for making the best trade he can, but it is the opinion, so far as we have heard expressed, that Mr. Winston would not be hurt by the trade were he to give three acres of his land for one of that belonging to the county.

In our last week's issue we announced briefly the burning of Mr. Irwin Balsly's tobacco barn, but gave none of the particulars on account of having gone to press when the report reached town. The origin of the fire is unknown, although Mr. Balsly had one of his work hands arrested, but he was discharged upon the examining trial, which was held here by Esquires Gaines and Wagstaff, last Thursday. Mr. Balsly and his hands were stripping tobacco in one part of the barn where a stripping room had been arranged, and in which they had fire. Balsly was, at all times, very careful about the fire, and when the conflagration was discovered by him, it had gotten beyond control in a pile of hay. The young man Clark being the last one out in the barn previous to the discovery of the fire, suspicion attached to him, hence his arrest. About 700 pounds of tobacco were saved from the ruins, it having been the center of a bulk, which was rather high in case. The tobacco was insured for $2,000 in the Kenton, and the barn for $600 in the Boone County Insurance Company.

The Committee appointed by the Court to take an inventory of the furniture, &c., at the Poor-house made said inventory from which we condense the following, showing the number of each kind of articles: 8 boxes matches, lamp chimney, 2 towel racks, 12 qt. bucket, 18 bedsteads, 3 mattresses, 25 sheets, 13 comforts, 18 blankets, 9 stoves, clock, 7 lamps, 44 chairs, 6 brooms, 7 shovels, cook stove, 2 teakettles, bake pan, 2 skillets, 4 stove pots, 3 bakers, 13 water buckets, 14 tin cups, 3 dish pans, 3 coffee pots, 2 tea pots, 6 qt. bucket, 10 wash pans, 4 bread pans, 2 rolling pins, 3 safes 2 wash boards, 37 slips, 34 pillows, copper wash boiler and lid, iron heater, 12 bed spreads, quilt, flour sifter, table, 21 saucers, 3 milk crocks, coffee can, 2 glass molasses cans, 2 salt cellars, 8 pepper boxes, 2 sugar buckets, tin pan, 2 sugar bowls, 30 plates, 3 dishes, 34 knives, 33 forks, 25 tea spoons, 24 table spoons, scissors, 2 coffee mills, 2 wisps, 2 pair shoes, 500 lb of straw, 9 coal buckets, 38 gals. stoneware, basket, 2 coal oil cans, 5 gal. oil can, 11 empty bbls., Firkin, 2 joints stove pipe, 1 elbow, coat, 4 feather beds, 4 double blankets, 22 towels, looking glass, 9 straw beds, 6 pokers, bed pan, 3 stand tables, 1 pair tongs, 27 cups, hatchet, 4 straw ticks, dining table and oil cloth, 5 vegetable dishes, 3 pitchers, 2 meat dishes, soup bowl, 5 pie pans, butcher knife, 2 butter plates, 2 table cloths, cupboard, cooking range, 4 smoothing irons, bread bowl, blacking brush, 2 bread cloths, 7 goblets, 3 tumblers, nutmeg grater, step ladder, 2 kitchen tables, scrub brush, flesh fork, big spoon, bread board, coffee boiler, 2 stove lifters, steamer, 4 tubs saw and buck, long handle shovel, spade garden rake, ax, mattock, 6 hoes, iron kettle, wire clothes line, 12 chambers, briar scythe, 40 pounds flour, 3 pecks corn meal, 11½ pounds gr coffee, pound br coffee, pk. hominy, ¼ lb tea, qt. beans 7½ lbs sugar, 1 lb pepper, 1 lb soda, gal. preserves, 18 lb lard, gal. butter beans, 5 gal. pickles, 2½ bbls. potatoes, ½ bu. onions, ¼ bbl. salt, 21 bars German soap, 175 heads cabbage and 700 bu. of coal. And there are 7 old women and 8 men that the committee overlooked.

The following is the list of pensioners in this county, published under act of Congress requiring same:

Name of pensioner.		Monthly rate.
Williams, Eliza Ann,	Burlington	$ 8
Owens, E B H
Clesler, Elizabeth		8
Hagish, Julia		8
Neel, Violet		8
Deer, Churchill		8
Porter, Margaret		8
Tanner, Margaret		8
Rucker, Paschal		8
Rouse, Henry		10
Rouse, Chas. C,	Constance	2
Hoover, Geo G.	Florence	4
Jones, James	"	4
Glacken, Mahala R	do	8
Delph, Willis M	Grant	8
Grant, Polly	do	8
Staldey, Martin	do	4
Delph, Pauline	do	8
London, James	do	12
Botts, Newton W	do	6
McHatton, Sallie A.	Hamilton	8
Richardson, Lydia	do	8
Edwards, Thos J.	do	10
Finnell, Elizabeth	do	8
Knapp, Geo W.	Hebron	2
Wilhite, Polly	do	8
Vesenmair, Geo	Petersburg	2
Fenton, Henry	do	4
Mahan, Joseph H	do	4
Cayton, Margaret	do	8
Lipp, Frances	Union	8
Moore, Nicholas	do	4
Guillon, Francis M	do	18
Stevenson, Chas B	do	8
McPherson, Mary E	do Verona	8
Smith, Aleha	do	4
Sanders, Lawrence H	Walton	8
Richey, John	do	8
Hind, William	do	8
Florence, James	do	8
Lampton, Sarah	do	8
Green, Rebecca	do	8

U. S. Internal Revenue.

Covington, Ky., Jany., 15, 1884.

Dudley Rouse, Esq.

Sir:— You can receive of your tenant any amount of leaf tobacco raised on your land, which may be reserved by way of rent, without paying special tax. If, however, you buy their portion of the crop so raised, you must pay the tax.

Farmers and producers of tobacco may sell at the place of production, tobacco of their own growth and raising at retail directly to consumers, to an amount not exceeding one hundred pounds annually, without paying special tax. Also a farmer who furnishes such tobacco only as rations or supplies to his laborers in the same manner as other supplies are furnished by him to them, provided that the aggregate amount so furnished, shall not exceed one hundred pounds in any one year.

Respectfully, Jno. W. Finnell,
Collector.

The above is a reply to a letter written by Mr. Dudley Rouse to Gen. Finnell, in regard to the matter therein referred to.

Last week Esquire Baker took out license for O. P. Conner, who bought his tenant's tobacco. It cost him $3 50 including the penalty, and the collector informed Mr. Baker that he intended to look up all those who had thus been violating the Internal Revenue laws. If you have been buying tobacco you had better dance up and take out your license, and save cost and trouble.

The following report was made by the Committee appointed by the Court to examine the report of the Receiver of the Poor-house:

We the Committee appointed by your Court to examine and report on the Supervisor of the Poor-house, beg leave to submit the following report: We find from the report of the Receiver that he received during the year $1,778 85, expending during the year $1,829 24, leaving the amount due the Receiver, $50 39. This does not include the last quarter's salary of the physicians, $75, and the keeper Hall, $37 50, to which add the amount received, $1,778 85, making the total expenses $1,941 74 for the year 1883. The number of inmates averaged, during the year, 19, which would make the cost per head, $102 20. It is claimed by the Supervisor that there were many repairs necessary, and that many useful articles were needed and purchased for the institution that will not have to be purchased for some time again. There are some items in the report of the Receiver for which there is no bill or voucher. While we think the Supervisor has tried to do his duty honestly, and carefully, we think he should be compelled to keep a ledger account and be careful of his vouchers, so the accounts can be more carefully and systematically audited. Your committee believes that there is too much power in the hands of the Supervisor without any power of restriction, and would suggest that there be a committee appointed, consisting of three members of this Court, whose duty it shall be to visit the institution at least once every three months, and in case of neglect of duty, extravagance, or peculation, shall have power of suspending either or all of the offices until the Court shall hear the charges and reinstate or elect new officers; also that they shall have access to the accounts and books of the officers of the Poor-house, and shall act as an advisory committee in all matters that may be called to their attention—more especially the matters of expenditures.

Joseph Wagstaff,
A. G. McConnell,
O. Gaines,

The following is an extract from the annual report of James B. Casey, tobacco inspector for Cincinnati:

This past year has been one of increased prosperity, and the trade is to be congratulated upon the steady growth of a market that has added each year to its pecuniary advancement, until now it stands the first of the open marts of the world in the cash value of sales and general appreciation of the peculiar types of tobacco.

No new growth has been to supercede the White Burley in the favor of consumers, and consequently of manufacturers, and hence the radius of its planting was largely extended beyond the usual Cincinnati district, and the prospects during the early part of the season was for an unusually large supply for the ensuing year. This, however, was cut short by the drought during the summer months, and while the proportion of damage was largely over-estimated, there is no doubt but that the crop has been somewhat diminished; not enough, however, to materially affect the wants of purchasers. With this in view, the outlook for the approaching season is more auspicious than was first supposed with the exception that the quality of the new crop apparently runs more on bright grades, and from the most authentic reports, especially concerning the early cutting rivals in excellence the much-talked-of growth of 1878, the exception being that the "tips" or top leaves are shorter than usual, and constitute the heavy bodied portions.

With the experience of the past to serve as pointers for the future, country buyers should move judiciously in buying and not over estimate the actual market value of their purchases, remembering that with a reasonable supply in sight the question of demand does not lead to the supposition of fancy prices.

Presenting the subjoined tabulated statements for the past year, with comparisons, I again offer my sincere congratulations to the entire trade, with best wishes for a happy and prosperous New Year.

The average price of the 65,428 hogsheads offered at auction during the year was $10 84, with the following comparisons:

1882...$10 86	1878...$ 8 00	1874...$15 55
1881... 14 25	1877... 8 50	1873... 10 50
1880... 11 83	1876... 10 59	1872... 13 00
1879... 14 50	1875... 16 50

The averages for 1882 and 1883 are compiled from actual figures of each day's sales, while those for the preceding years were estimated.

Stock on hand Jan., 1st, 1884......11,213
Stock same time last year..........12,155

Bradley Co., Tenn., March 15, 1880.—Dr. E. Y. Salmon.—Dear Sir: Your remedy for sheep rot is all you claim for it, or any one could desire. I treated my sheep with it when they were dying daily, effectually arresting the disease in twenty-four hours. I can also fully indorse your hog cholera remedy, and your medicine for chicken cholera.

Respectfully, J. L. Sears.

For sale by W. F. McKim, Burlington.

Wm. Ellington brought a fine lot of White Burley tobacco seed to Dudley Rouse to dispose of.

NGEIHBORHOOD NEWS.

Gordon Branch.

Fox hunting seems to be the order of the day in our neighborhood. We suppose it is both profitable and entertaining.

The one that administered the fatal drug to Jim McAtee's dog, had better keep it to himself or he might get into trouble.

Everything is quiet and the blacking is about off Jim's mustache.

The party given by W. T. Ryle was a grand success, and we hope he will give another soon.

The Williamson boys are delivering their $16 tobacco to Solon Rice at McVille.

Mr. J. T. Marshall froze one of his toes the other night while rabbit hunting. Now, of course, we don't doubt his veracity, but then it looks rather thin for a person to hunt rabbits after night.

Scattersville.

Our farmers are getting tired of setting by the fire, simply because the wood is about all gone.

Most of the tobacco is gone from here there being some few crops for sale yet.

This winter, so far, has been fine on the small grain, of which there is a good deal through here.

Our old friend, Watt Brown, has put in his appearance once more. We began to think some fair, young—Ah, well, you all know as much about it as we do. What do you say, Watt?

We will ask pardon of O. P. Conner and wife for being so slow in reporting the New Year's gift they gave their children, a fine organ, of which the children are very proud. We feel safe in saying they deserved it.

William Day hauled a load of tobacco to town last week. We did not learn the price.

Zack Bondurant has moved up on Gunpowder on his place, the old Piles farm.

Big Bone.

Messrs William Parker, Ike Shawhorn, Lloyd Shaver and U. G. Baldwin on Sunday night, January 13, made one of the boldest breaks in the way of stealing tobacco, that ever stired the depths of Big Bone Springs. They borrowed Henry Rich's wagon and took Lon Utz's "mewl," and after dark loaded up the "weed" they had hid in the cabbin where Parker held up, as it were. They then proceeded to Covington, where they disposed of their 1,100 pounds of golden leaf at a remunerative price. Parker and Baldwin returned to deliver up the wagon and mule to their owners, and, also, to deliver Baldwin to the officer (?). Parker has never entered any three-days-go-as-you-please walking matches, but the strides he made in leaving the officers in distant pursuit, entitle him to a place among our pedestrians of the first order. Baldwin, only 17 years old, and likeley the least guilty of the four, is held over till the returns come in from the back counties. The tobacco was taken from the premises of Mrs. M. A. Murphy, where Parker resided, and was a fine lot.

Francesville.

Those that are so fortunate as to own sleighs have had a good time generally, while those that have none could not well help enjoying the sweet music of the bells.

Mr. Abe Wainscott is slowly recovering from something like a paralytic stroke.

Mr. Seathorn has moved into his new dwelling.

Charles Bryant has returned from Mason county, where he has been visiting his father.

Born—On the 10th inst., to Henry Gordon and wife, a son.

Mrs. Cleveland, cold., lost a valuable mare from heart disease, one day last week.

The ice houses in and about this place are all filled with a good quality of ice.

We hear some farmers complaining that unless cold weather lets up, feed for stock will run short before spring.

Fox hunting is the order of the day with us, and scarcely a day passes but those fond of that kind of sport can witness an exciting chase. Your humble scribe, assisted by Mr. Henry Long, has been extensively engaged in trapping this winter. We expect to go east with our pelts as soon as there is a general thaw.

Harry Killgour imagines that Mr. Joe Graves has one of the most comfortable grates to sit by in the neighborhood.

As we were passing down Sunflower street, a few mornings since, we observed a very peculiar track in the snow. At first sight we imagined that Jumbo had passed through our Villa, and curiosity led us to follow it some distance, when to our surprise we came upon the object of our search, and found it to be Billy Hayes in a pair of new boots.

The tobacco crop of this neighborhood has all been sold with the exception of Jno. R. Smith's. He has his on hand yet. We understand that there will be a larger quantity planted next spring than last. It being the most profitable crop last year, is why the farmers are going into it so extensively.

There was about an average acreage of small grain sown in this vicinity last fall, and thus far the prospects were never better for a bountiful crop.

Petersburg.

Wm. McWethy is on the sick list.

J. D. Norris contemplates planting 25 or 30 acres of tobacco this season.

The mail is carried to and from Lawrenceburg in a skiff during the time of ice.

An infant child of Wm. Litteral and wife, died last Tuesday.

Corn sold at W. P. Bennett's sale last Wednesday at 39c, per bu. in the crib.

Meeting still in progress at the Methodist church.

Capt. Christy sold his interest in the Str. Wave to Capt. Alden.

Freiburg & Workum shipped 500 bbls. whisky to Cincinnati via. Aurora last week.

J. Frank Grant's little daughter, Bessie, has been quite sick with measles, but is somewhat improved at this writing.

News reached here last Thursday that M. R. McNeely, formerly of this place but, now Capt. of the tug boat DeSoto, at Memphis, was lying dangerously ill with pneumonia.

Ben-Zine is a might clever fellow. He is most always on hand at a hog killing or a sale and generally bids freely.

Many men of many kinds, many ladies of many minds. If any lady to marry so inclines, she had better ask a nice man she finds——if she can find any such.

We are not blessed with many drummers during the cold weather, the turiff for crossing the river is too high. Only $1 and not much to do at that.

Richard Hanks, of Cincinnati, passed through here last Friday on his way to the County seat.

L. A. Loder has been appointed administrator of the estate of Fidelius Huber, lately deceased.

A young man last week asked the mail carrier to bring him 10c worth of 'possum tracks.

During the cold weather flea bites are scarce and in demand, $1 being offered for one bite.

Rabbit Hash.

Weather not so cold, but news scarce.

The last snow has raised the price of sleigh stock to par or a little above, and the boys so lucky as to have sleighs appear to have taken about the same advance in the estimation of the girls.

The good people of the neighborhood concluded to protract the Christmas festivities, so Z. T. Kelly and wife started the ball rolling by inviting the young folks from Zack's old neighborhood and this, to their house a few days since, to enjoy the long, cold hours of night dancing. Zack showed them that he has not lost the use of his feet by taking part in the merry dance. Everybody there enjoyed the party.

Mr. Kelly's party was followed up by one at Frank Hodges' to which all were invited. Frank had contended that with a fair start he could beat Zack on the dance; so all present were prepared to witness the race, and when time came for the drum to tap, there being something less than 300 entries, Frank withdrew from the contest to make room for others, who enjoyed themselves equal to any crowd that ever assembled on a similar occasion, and only the advent of the Sabbath called a halt in the evening's entertainment, when all departed with many good wishes for Mr. and Mrs. Hodges. Those from a distance were, Misses Mary and Ida Sullivan, Miss Lizzie Presser, Miss Annie Wingate, Albert, Linous and Bennie Kelley and Will Barker.

The last party given was at L. L. Stephens', and was what we style "a gum-suck." Your correspondent was there and played as big a hand as the girls would let him, and is only sorry that the game was so short. Luns and his wife can tell whether we appreciated their kindness or not by inviting us again. We'll go early.

In your last issue you said you wanted a note of crops and stock in the several neighborhoods. In this, the wheat when last seen looked well, and I guess it is in good health yet, as it went to bed before cold weather with nothing but a white sheet over it and has never called for more cover. There was a considerable crop sown in the fall

There are a good many potatoes in this neighborhood that failed to get on the market last fall.

Tobacco has been changing hands in the last week, and we can hear the chink rattling in the farmer's pockets, but we fear the buyers will have no pockets in which to rattle the chink.

J. J. Platt has gone to Louisville to dispose of his potatoes which he stored there last fall. The party who had charge of them wrote him to come or send hands, as there is a considerable demand for them. Johnnie went away with his spirits considerably above zero.

Joe, one of the pill-peddlers of your town, was here with his pill-pockets, the other day, to see what kind of attention Jobe Morrison had been receiving from doctors here. He thought Jobe was doing well.

B. C. Calvert has been in the city this week with tobacco purchased by him for a Louisville buyer.

The ice continues to run, and interrupts navigation. The ferrymen only make one trip a day for the mail.

The store here continues to furnish fire and whittling wood for the boys.

Tobacco Market.

Cincinnati, Friday, Jan. 18, 1884.

G'n Trash and Lugs	$3 00 @	$4 50
Common Trash	4 50	6 00
C'lory Trash	7 00	9 50
Good Br't Trash	8 50	10 50
Fine Br't Trash	00 00	00 00
Dark Lugs	5 00	7 00
Common Lugs	7 00	9 00
C'lory Lugs	10 00	12 00
Good Stripping Lugs	13 00	16 00
Fine Str'p'g Lugs	16 00	20 00
Common Leaf	7 00	12 00
Com. Med. Leaf	12 00	15 75
Good Med. Leaf	18	19 00
Good Br't Leaf	20 00	22 50
Fine Br't Leaf	28 00	25 25
Fancy Bright Leaf
Com Lug Fillers	8	12 00
Good Lug Fillers	12 00	16 00
Fine Lug Fillers	17 00	20 00
Com. Med. Fil'rs	13 00	16 00
Good Med. Fil'rs	17	19 00
Good L'f Fillers	20 00	22 50
Fine Leaf Fillers	23 00	25 00
Fancy Leaf Fillers	00 00	00 00

10

Rheumatism, disordered blood, general debility, and many chronic diseases pronounced incurable, are often relieved by Brown's Iron Bitters.

Huntsville, Ala.—Dr. J. C. Spotswood says: "I highly recommend Brown's Iron Bitters for dyspepsia, rheumatism, and general debility."

Fairfield, Iowa.—Dr. J. L. Meyers says: "Brown's Iron Bitters is the best iron preparation I have ever known in my thirty years of practice."

REPORT OF THE CONDITION OF THE Farmers & Traders National Bank AT COVINGTON,

In the State of Kentucky, at the close of business, December 31, 1883.

RESOURCES.

Loans and discounts		$600,911 65
Overdrafts		1,135 80
U.S. Bonds to secure circulation 4 per cent		50,000 00
Due from approved reserve agents	45,541 33
Due from other National banks	5,207 41
Due from State banks and bankers	5,399 51	56,148 25
Real estate, furniture and fixtures		4,668 91
Premiums paid		8,000 00
Checks and other cash items		1,945 87
Bills of other Banks		4,125 00
Fractional paper currency, nickels and pennies		69 79
Specie		9,050 00
Legal tender notes		21,000 00
Redemption fund with U. S. Treasurer (5 per cent of circulation)		2,250 00
Total		$759,304 77

LIABILITIES.

Capital stock paid in		$300,000 00
Surplus fund	4,000 00
Undivided profits	14,480 40	18,480 40
National bank notes outstanding		45,000 00
Individual deposits subject to check	369,657 81
Fund to pay taxes	224 35
Due to other National Banks	17,062 27
Due to State Banks and bankers	8,879 94	395,824 37
Total		$759,304 77

State of Kentucky, County of Kenton, ss:

I, John L. Sandford, Cashier of the above-named bank, do solemnly swear that the above statement is true to the best of my knowledge and belief.

J. L. Sandford, Cashier.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 14th day of Jan., 1884. Geo. H. Davison, Notary Public.

Correct—Attest:
E. J. Hickey,
J. H. Mersman,
L. C. Stephens, } Directors.

That Doughty Duchess.

Opposite Opinions about a Wonderful Woman—Her Thumb and Fingers.

"Crack nuts with her thumb! Why, you can't mean it!" cried a young lady graduate of the Normal College, in the [illegible].

"But I do mean it," affirmed her big brother, who had taken several prizes in athletics, "and I repeat it: that Cunburga, wife of Duke Ernst, of Austria, could crack nuts with her fingers and drive nails into the wall with her thumb."

"What a monstrous woman!" said the young lady. "What a useful woman," remarked her big brother.

The Austrian Duchess was mighty because she kept good hours, good habits and perfect digestion.

Mrs. Alice Strong, of Pittsburg, Pa., writes a different story about herself, but deserves praise for her frankness. She says: "For the past 3 years I have been subject to severe attacks of colic and cramps, and exhausting attacks of Diarrhea. Weary of experimenting with medicines, I turned without hope to Parker's Tonic. Three bottles cured me entirely. I have tried it also for other ailments with which women are often afflicted, and it far surpassed my expectations. I am happy to offer this testimony for the benefit of other women."

Ladies who are interested in Mrs. Strong's letter, will please remark that Parker's Tonic is not intoxicant. [illegible] It cures colic easily, but by virtue of many rare and [illegible] ingredients, it also masters all diseases of the blood—such, for example, as Rheumatism, Consumption, Scrofula, and all disorders of the Kidneys, Liver and Stomach. It is a vitalizer and stimulant, but not an intoxicant. Price, 50 cents and $1 per bottle. Hiscox & Co., Chemists, New York.

LOOK! LOOK!

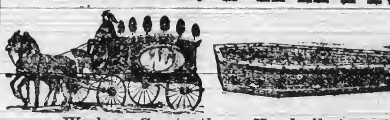
THE AMERICAN FARMER,
—AND—
THE RECORDER
—ONE YEAR—
For $1 75.

We have perfected arrangements with the publishers of the American Farmer, of Fort Wayne, Ind., that enables us to offer our subscribers a first-class Agricultural Magazine at the bare cost of the white paper on which it is printed. The American Farmer is a 16 page monthly magazine which is rapidly taking rank as one of the leading agricultural publications of the country. Each number will contain useful information for the farmer, his wife, his sons and his daughters. As it costs you almost nothing, suppose you try it one year.

F FALL A FALL L FALL L

—AND—

Winter Clothi'g



Clothing of the best goods, well trimmed, in the latest styles, made under my direct supervision and sold at lower prices than are asked for badl made, shoddy goods at other places. Call and be assured.

A splendid line of Suitings. Suits MADE to order on short notice.

H. F Blase,

540 Madison St. - COVINGTON, KY

UNDERTAKING.

We keep Constantly on Hand all sizes of

Burial Cases and Caskets.

And having just received a beautiful

NEW HEARSE,

Which can be had at a reasonable price when desired.

PRICES GUARANTEED LESS THAN CITY PRICES!

DAVIS BROS., HEBRON, KY.

City Flouring Mills

RISING SUN, INDIANA.

FLOUR EXCHANGED FOR WHEAT OR CASH. THE HIGHEST MARKET PRICE PAID FOR GOOD WHEAT.

mar7-tf28

J. W. Talbott.

MOTHER NOBLE'S

HEALING SYRUP.

20 Million Bottles sold in 10 years. A certain Cure for Dyspepsia, all Diseases of the Kidneys, Liver, Stomach, Blood, Skin and Bowels.
Can Produce Thousands of Letters proving its Curative Powers.
AN OLD AND LONG TRIED REMEDY.
Laboratory 77 Amity Street, New York City.
FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

Cornease. --The King of Corn Killers. The most desperate Corns, Bunions, Warts &c., Speedily cured. Price 25 Cents.

Footease. --An Unfailing Remedy for Hot, Swollen and Tender Feet, Chilblains, &c. Price 25 Cents.
Cornease Manuf'g Co., 236, 5th Ave. Place, N. Y. City.
For Sale by Agents, Druggists and Shoe Dealers.

Subscribe For The

BOONE COUNTY

RECORDER.

And begin with the New Year.

My Vegetable and Flower Seed Catalogue for 1884, the result of thirty years' experience as a Seed Grower, will be sent free to all who apply. All my Seed is warranted to be fresh and true to name, so far that should it prove otherwise I agree to refill orders gratis. My collection of vegetable Seed, one of the most extensive to be found in any American Catalogue, is a large part of it of my own growing. As the original introducer of Eclipse Beet, Burbank Potatoes, Marblehead Early Corn, the Hubbard Squash, and scores of other new Vegetables, I invite the patronage of the public. In the gardens and on the farms of those who plant my seed will be found my best advertisement.
JAMES J. H. GREGORY, Seed Grower, Marblehead, Mass.

THE RECORDER.

RIDDELL & HALL, Proprietors.

BURLINGTON, KY. JAN. 23. 1883.

ADVERTISING RATES.

1 Column	1 year	$80
½ "	1 "	40
¼ "	1 "	20
1 "	¼ "	20
½ "	¼ "	10
¼ "	¼ "	6

For announcing candidates, $5. Obituary poetry, 5 cents per line. Obituary notices 20 lines free; over that number (excepting the announcement of the death) 3 cents per line.
Tributes of respect from lodges, &c., $1 50

RATES OF SUBSCRIPTION.

One year	$1 50
Six months	75
Three months	40

That Court Of Claims.

To the Editors of the Recorder:

Allow me through the columns of the RECORDER to notice the manner in which the Court of Claims allow physicians' claims, and dispose of other matters that concern the tax payers of the county.

They have an order directing the Magistrates, in each district, to contract with the doctors to do the pauper practice for a sum not to exceed $50 per year. The claims are allowed after this fashion: "I move Dr. ——be allowed $40." "Did you contract with him?" "Yes." No itemized account is presented, nor is it stated what paupers he waited on. "I move that it be allowed"—carried. There was a claim from every district in the county, and they were all allowed.

Some of the justices thought that over $400 outside of the Poor-house and Jail, for pauper practice was too much, but after wrestling with it for two days they made it worse in this way: For 1883 the Burlington district was let with Poor-house and Jail. For 1884 a committee is appointed to let the Poor-house and Jail, and the justices in the Burlington district have the same power to contract as the other justices have, but they say they'll not contract with the doctors; the district must go with the Jail and Poor-house. But the committee has no authority to go outside of the Poor-house and Jail. So you see the paupers outside of the Poor-house in the Burlington district will not have the attention as the other districts. Truly, the legs of the lame are not equal!

This pauper practice is a grievous eye sore. Who is a pauper? One who is destitute and is dependent on the county for his maintenance. There are two or three persons the Court provides for outside of the Poor-house, yet, the doctors get over four hundred dollars for pauper practice outside of the Poor-house and Jail. Who supplies these paupers with food and clothing to keep them alive so they can take the medicine? Perhaps some generous store keeper and kind hearted neighbors, but there are no provisions for paying them. Don't you see that the doctors are a privileged class when it comes to drawing money out of the treasury? They are exempt from jury service. Not so with the farmer and mechanic. They have to lose valuable time, and receive no pay.

At the November term 'Squire Baker was appointed a committee to settle with ex-sheriff Finch. He reported that he would not settle; thereupon Attorney Tolin stated that owing to a clerical error, he had his doubts whether he could collect for the year 1882, but he thought he could collect a balance for the year 1881. Now, if the Attorney will look he will find that there is no mistake in writing or copying, but it is an omission, a lack of care or diligence, the clerk failing to put the order laying the levy on the Order Book, and the Sheriff had no authority to collect. And further, the Judge took the Sheriff's bond at the January term of the Court, and the levy was not laid till February, and by a late decision of the Appellate Court; the levy must be laid before the bond is taken. So you see if the decision of the Appellate Court amounts to anything, the bond is void—the Judge got the cart before the horse.

I would ask the taxpayers the same question 'Squire McConnell asked the County Attorney: "What are you going to do about it? Is there no Balm in Gilead? A TAXPAYER.

WERE Carlisle out of the way, the next canvass for congress in this Congressional district would bring out about twenty second rate lawyers, who have designs on the Hon. John's seat in the National Assembly.

LAND in Boone county has had a healthy advance in price for several years, and has reached figures beyond the reach of men of moderate means, hence such a constant emigration to Western states where land is cheap.

OHIO is now under Democratic rule.

GEN. WILLIAMS was badly disappointed as to the time necessary to re-elect him.

W. N. Hogan, a prominent attorney at Williamstown, and a son of O. P. Hogan, of that place, committed suicide, last Friday, by cutting his throat. He had been in a bad condition, mentally, for some time, and that lead to the commission of the rash act.

THE Court of Claims sometimes departs from the rules governing bodies assembled in a business capacity, but it must be remembered that the Court is not composed of parliamentarians, its members being men engaged in pursuits which do not demand a knowledge of parliamentary laws.

THREE juries have said that McHugh, of Cincinnati, who killed his wife, is guilty of murder, the last verdict being returned Saturday. Technicalties have allowed him to escape the gallows twice, and his case will again go to the Supreme Court. It is about as difficult to hang a murderer in Ohio as it is in Kentucky.

SHELDON, ex-Register of the Land Office, has not paid over to the Auditor all the money that was in his hands at the expiration of his term, and the Auditor has directed the Attorney-General to bring suit for it. The law allowed him till the first of January to make his final settlement, at which time he should have paid in near $2,000. Mr. Sheldon's career as a public servant is badly tarnished.

OUR last report from Frankfort was Tuesday morning's, and there was no change in the Senatorial contest further than one member had voted in caucus for Carlise. All the candidates were still very sanguine. The members of the Louisville delegation who have been voting for Williams have been petitioned to vote for Blackburn, and their refusal so to do has created much indignation among their constituants.

SOME of the justices of the county signed a petition asking the Legislature to pass a law substituting a board of commissioners for the Court of Levy, believing that it will be a much better way of disposing of the business of the county. We understand that the County Judge is favorable to the law, and he is no doubt informed as to how the commission works in Kenton county. Dividing the county into four districts, each district electing its commissioner, and the County Judge with the comissioners constituting the board, would evidently be a more wieldy and a less expensive body than the Court of Claims is.

Tobacco Items.

The crop of Milton Burris, of Boxville, Union county, netted him $108 per acre.

Wm. Bascom, of Bath county, sold his crop for 19 cents all round. Jas. G. Lane sold his crop, 15 acres, at 17½ cents.

Mr. Thos. Irvine, of Fayette county, sold his crop of tobacco to W. E. Christirn, of Athens, for $100 per acre on the stalk.

Henry Smith, of Montgomery Co., said his tobacco had paid him on an average of $125 per acre for the past four years, and that without the expenditure of a cent on his part for labor.

Mr. Clark, of Mason county, sold his crop of eight acres of tobacco to F. M. Borry, at 20 cents per pound. It is thought the crop will yield Mr. Clark over $300 per acre.

STATE NEWS.

Mason county has thirty lawyers.

Gov. Knott has started his Colonel mill.

There are five candidates for Public Printer.

A three-day old calf in Simpson county weighed 115 pounds.

In Nelson county good 'coon and bird dogs are selling at from $25 to $50.

Candidates for Sheriff are announcing themselves in Franklin county.

A covey of 34 partridges were found frozen to death last week near Franklin.

The Hopkinsville New Era says the wheat is looking badly in that section.

The late cold weather sent a Mt. Olivet 22 year-old dog to sleep under the daisies.

Officers in Williamstown are joining the Good Templars. A squad of four were sworn in last week.

A Georgetown dentist, Dr. White has disappeared, leaving a dead wife and a number of unpaid bills.

A man near Uniontown had 20 fat hogs, averaging 300 pounds to freeze to death on the night of the 5th.

The father and mother of Mr. Samuel Farris, of Lexington, died within a few hours of each other, a few days since.

Lexington has a grocer who, in selling coffee, will bite a grain in two to make the scales balance. He does not advertise.

The people of Crittenden, Union and Webster counties want Congress to contribute something toward the improvement of Tradewater.

The residence of James Caldwell, near Sharpsburg, Bath county, was burned Tuesday morning. The loss was $15,000; insurance, $5,000.

The Master Commissioner of Crittenden county recently sold nineteen parcels of land, 2,239 acres, at an average of about $3 75 per acre.

Ben Harden, of Simpson county, has trapped 1,000 partridges this season. Among them was one as white as snow and two white ones with brown spots on their wings.

Near Owingsville, last week, a bell was found on the neck of a buzzard which was captured in the snow and sleet. It had evidently been placed on the bird many years ago, as the leather strap had worn its way to the bone.

A farmer in Shelby county raised on eight acres of ground enough corn to fatten twenty hogs, leaving an abundance for home consumption. $230 worth of tobacco, 125 bushels of Irish potatoes, and twenty two-horse wagon loads of pumpkins.

We had the pleasure of meeting Capt. Allen, Monday, who had been to Charleston getting repairs to some of his drilling machinery and was on his way back to Warfield. He says the gas that is escaping from the well at Warfield is sufficient to furnish light and heat for the cities of Ironton, Ashland, Catlettsburg and Huntington as well as run all of their machinery, and that the cost of a piping to convey it is only about $500 per mile. Capt. Allen is sanguine that he will strike oil in paying quantities. He says the oil is there and he is certain to get it.—Ashland Independent.

It is reported that Rose Morgan and Brack Davis have been arrested for the murder of Rothwell and taken to the Owenton jail. Davis, it appears, had been telling it around that he knew who killed Rothwell, and from the evidence obtained he and Morgan were arrested and sent to jail. It is stated that Davis said he was away and did not get back until the day after the murder; that he was given $200 to hide the body, which was lying under a wagon bed, and that the parties to the act, fearing discovery, gave him $200 to hide it: that he hid the body in Watt Lee's grove. Hearing that Lee was going to clear off the brush they sunk the body in the creek. It is also stated that there will be more arrests, as there were several connected with the murder.—Williamstown Courier.

CLOVER & TIMOTHY SEED. FLOUR AND SALT, FOR SALE BY DUDLEY ROUSE.

This space is reserved for A. M. Acra's Harness and Saddle Shop.

For Sale.

A lot of No. 1 locust posts.
J. O. HUEY, Burlington, Ky.

For Sale.

Pure Jersey Cattle, Bronze Turkeys and Plymouth Rock Chickens; also eggs in season. HENRY TUCKER, Union, Ky.

NOTICE.

The undersigned will receive sealed bids for the medical practice in the Boone County Jail and Poor-house, for the year ending February 4th, 1885. Bids will be received till 12 m., the first Monday in February 1884. The physician to furnish all the medicines. The right is reserved to reject any or all bids. The physician to whom the practice is awarded will be bound to do all the practice.

Committee. M. C. NORMAN, A. G. MCCONELL, JOE WAGSTAFF.

THE Weekly Globe,

From now until March 5, '85

ONLY $1.00

With 8 pages, 56 columns, every week, THE GLOBE will strive vigorously to elect a Democratic President and to make the Best Family Newspaper in the World. It asks no person to subscribe without examining a sample copy and judging of its merits for himself. Is not that fairest? Send for a free sample copy and you will receive just the kind of a weekly you are trying to find. Only $1 00 for the Presidential campaign. Address THE WEEKLY GLOBE, Boston, Mass.

THE CINCINNATI Weekly News!

A NATIONAL METROPOLITAN JOURNAL,

Full Of Enterprise.

PEOPLE!

EIGHT PAGES—SIXTY Four Pages

Containing all the News, correct Market Reports, well selected Miscellany, brilliant Stories—in fact, the favorite Weekly Paper of the Central United States.

—PUBLISHED BY THE—

Cincinnati News Publishing Co.

AT THE FOLLOWING

LOW RATES OF SUBSCRIPTION.

THE WEEKLY NEWS with one of Dore's Celebrated Works,

"Christ Leaving the Prætorium," "Christ Entering Jerusalem,"

These engravings of Dore's fame historical paintings are the best and most perfect reprints by the Foreign Art Reproducing Company, and can not be purchased as original plates for less than $10 each in Europe. They are in size 23x36 in. and are direct copies, preserving every line and detail OF THE ENGLISH $40 ENGRAVINGS.

These pictures are suitable to adorn the parlor of any gentleman. As a

Premium Supplement!

A Single Copy, three months	$0 40
A Single copy, six months	60
A Single copy, one year	1 00
A club of 10 copies to 1 P. O. 1 year	9 00
A club of 20 copies to 1 P. O. 1 year	17 00

And large clubs at 85c per copy per annum.

Postmasters and other agents will be allowed 15 per cent on full rate (not club) subscribers.

The premium engravings will be mailed about the first of each month to the subscribers entitled to receive them.

As a premium offer it is confidently claimed that its exual was never before made, and would not be possible in this case except for the method adopted by the Foreign Art Reproducing Company to advertise its work.

Do not fail to avail yourself of the opportunity by sending your name and address, with one dollar enclosed, to

THE CINCINNATI WEEKLY NEWS.

NO NEW THING. STRONG'S SANATIVE PILLS

Used throughout the country FOR OVER 40 YEARS, And thus proved

The Best Liver Medicine in the World.

No Griping, Poisonous Drugs, but purely Vegetable, safe and reliable. Prescribed even by Physicians. A speedy cure for Liver Complaint, Regulating the Bowels, Purifying the Blood, Cleansing from Malarial Taint. A perfect cure for Sick Headache, Constipation and all Billous Disorders. Sold by Druggists. For Pamphlets, etc., address C. E. HULL & CO., 18 Cedar St., N. Y. City.

Public Sale.

I will sell to the highest bidder at my residence 1 mile south of Bellevue, on the Ohio river, on

Wednesday, Feb., 20th,

All of my personal property:

Consisting of Horses, Mules, Sheep, Cattle, 1 Binder, Drill, Wagon, Buggy, Harness, Plows, &c., One Palace Organ, and Household and Kitchen Furniture. About 2,000 bushels of corn. I will also offer my farm with privilige of rejecting all bids. Terms made known on day of sale. J. W. RICE.

For Sale.

A dwelling with 6 rooms, and 15 acres of land at Rabbit Hash, Ky. On this land is a good orchard, barn and other conveniencies. Also a never failing well. Address B. F. BELL, Rabbit Hash, Ky.

For Sale or Trade.

12½ acres of land about 2½ miles from Constance, Ky., near the pike. Call on J. A. RIDDELL on the premises or CY RIDDELL, Burlington, Ky. 10-4t

For Rent.

A good hotel, paying bar attached. Also a good stable. This is the J. P. Snyder property in Florence. Call on Mrs. S. Snyder, Florence, Ky. 7-4t

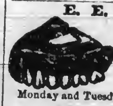
Administrator's Notice,

Those having claims against the estate of W. S. Ryle, dec'd., are hereby notified to present the same, proven as by law required, to the undersigned before December 25th, '83. B. H. STEPHENS, Adm'r.

Posted.

Notice is hereby given that our lands in Boone county, are posted and all persons are warned not trespass thereon.

MRS. E. J. PIATT, JOHN MCCONNEL. MissJulia S. Dinsmore.



ROBERT B. REED Attorney at Law. OFFICE AT - - UNION, KY.

F. RIDDELL, ATTORNEY at LAW BURLINGTON, KY. Office over Dudley Rouse's Store.

ALBERT W. GAINES, Attorney and Counselor at Law, LAWRENCEBURG, - - - IND. Will practice in the courts of Boone county, Ky., Cincinnati, Ohio, Dearborn and adjoining counties, Ind. dec-6-82

W. E. VEST, COUNTY SURVEYOR WALTON, KY. Is prepared to do all kinds of surveying. All orders sent him through the mail to Walton, will receive his prompt attention.

E. E. IGOE, Resident Dentist, Rising Sun, Ind.

WITH J. P. Ulrey. Monday and Tuesday at Rising Sun, Ind.

J. J. Landram. G. G. Hughes. LANDRAM & HUGHES. ATTORNEYS at LAW. Will practice in the Boone Circuit Cour and the Court of Appeals. Prompt attention given to Collections, on application to G. G. Hughes, Burlington, Ky.

DR. A. B. HARRY AN RESIDENT DENTIST.

Aurora, Indiana. (Office Over Postoffice) With J P. ULREY. Dr. ULREY'S days, Wednesday and Saturday. Office open at all hours. 8-1y

L. C. NORMAN, B. T. STEPHENS. NORMAN and STEPHENS, ATTORNEYS at LAW. UNION, BOONE CO., KY. Will practice in the Courts of Boone Kenton and adjoining counties. Collections solicited and made throughout the State. 24 tf 81

S. W. TOLIN, ATTORNEY AT LAW BURLINGTON, KY. Office in Court-house on 2d floor. Will manage litigation in any of the Courts of the State, contracts and other legal instruments drawn up at reasonable rates. A prompt an studious attention given to business intrusted to my care. A trial solicited. 12-1y

For Sale.

Fine tobacco land. I have for sale, cheap from One hundred to Six hundred acres of No. 1 tobacco land, lying on the Beaver Lick and Union T. P. road in Boone county, Ky. For particulars call on L. H. Dills at Burlington, Ky., or the undersigned on the premises or address me at Union P. O. 7-4t F. DICKEY.

TWO Farms for Sale.

One contains 36 acres, 9 acres of which is good creek bottom and 27 acres, hill land. This land is under good tence, well set in grass, has lasting water for stock, fine lot of timber, much of which is locust. It is part of the W. B. Ryle homestead, lies on Gunpowder Creek and joins Leander Setters.

The other farm contains 126½ acres, is 2½ miles southwest of Burlington, has all necessary buildings in good repair, fencing good, has a good well and cistern, besides never failing water for stock, a nice young orchard, and some hedge fence. This land is all in grass except 25 acres which were cultivated in corn this year. For terms apply on the last named premises to 6-2m W. S. WHITE.

PATENTS.

For new inventions and novel designs obtained in the United States, Canada and Europe. Trade Marks and Copyright—Labels secured for Merchants and Manufacturers who wish protection against imitators of their goods, packages or articles of manufacture. We are located opposite the United States Patent Office, have quick access to its records, and can give prompt and reliable answers to inquiries. Of our firm one has had thirteen years' practice in the highest courts, another several years as an Assistant Examiner in the United States Patent Office, and many years experience as solicitor of American and Foreign Patents. Fee reasonable and full satisfaction or no fee. Best reference given. Our little book "on patents" sent free on receipt of one cent stamp. W. A. COULTER & CO., Solicitors of Patents, 43 St. Cloud Building, Washington, D. C.

WRIGHT'S INDIAN VEGETABLE PILLS FOR THE LIVER And all Billous Complaints. Safe to take, being purely vegetable; no griping. Price 25 cts. All Druggists.

WANTED BOOK Canvassers. MALE and FEMALE

To engage in the sale of our new and important works of standard character, large profits and immense selling qualities. We offer a permanent and lucrative business. Address The CINCINNATI PUBLISHING CO., 174 W. Fourth Street, Cincinnati, Ohio.

Free! Cards and Chromos.

We will send free by mail a sample set of our large German, French, and American Chromo Cards, on tinted and gold grounds, with a price list of over 200 different designs, on receipt of a stamp for postage. We will also send free by mail as samples, ten of our beautiful Chromos, on receipt of ten cents to pay for packing and postage; also enclose a confidential price list of our large oil chromos. Agents wanted. Address F. GLEASON & Co., 46 Summer Street, Boston, Mass.

PATENTS

MUNN & CO., of the SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN, continue to act as Solicitors for Patents, Caveats, Trade Marks, Copyrights, for the United States, Canada, England, France, Germany, etc. Hand Book about Patents sent free. Thirty-seven years' experience. Patents obtained through MUNN & CO. are noticed in the SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN, the largest, best, and most widely circulated scientific paper. $3.20 a year. Weekly. Splendid engravings and interesting information. Specimen copy of the Scientific American sent free. Address MUNN & CO., SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN Office, 261 Broadway, New York.

SANITARIUM, Riverside, Cal. The dry climate cures Nose, Throat, Lungs, full idea, 36 p., route, cost, free.

MARRIAGE AND HEALTH GUIDE. 260 pgs. Illustrated. All that the doubtful curious or thoughtful want to know. Cloth and gilt binding 60 cts, paper 25c. Marriage Guide, 114 p. 15c, sent sealed, money or stamps, by DR. WHITTIER 290 RACE STREET, CINCINNATI, OHIO. The great specialist, Nervous Debility, Impediments to Marriage, Consultation and Pamphlet free.

County Directory.

OFFICERS.

Assessor—G. M. Riley.
County Surveyor—W. E. Vest.
School Commissioner—D. M. Snyder.
Coroner—Dr. A. A. Murat, Constance.

COURTS.

CIRCUIT COURT meets the 2d Monday in April and first Monday in October, P. U. Major, Judge; W. L. Riddell, Clerk A. G. DeJarnette, Commonwealths Attorney; W. L. Riddell, Trustee Jury Fund.

COUNTY COURT meets the first Monday in every month. L. H. Dills, Judge; S. W. Tolin, County Attorney. M. T. Garnett, Clerk; J. R. Clutterbuck, Sheriff, T. W. Finch and W. T. German, Deputy Sheriffs.

QUARTERLY COURT meets the first Monday in March, June, September and December. The officers of the County Court preside.

COURT OF CLAIMS meets the first Monday in November.

MAGISTRATES' COURTS are held in March, June, September and December, as follows:

Bellevue—M. B. Green, first Saturday, and T. H. Sutton, third Monday. J. M. Moody, Constable.

Burlington—E. H. Baker, Thursday after first Monday, and Oscar Gaines, fourth Monday. R. H. Sandford, Constable.

Carlton A. G. McConnell, Wednesday after second Monday, and B. H. Ryle, Saturday after third Monday. Walter Ryle, Cornstable.

Petersburg—Jos. Hensley, Wednesday after first Monday, and L. A. Loder fourth Saturday. Geo. Comer, Constable.

Beever—W. M. Rouse, Friday after the third Monday, and

Union—M. C. Norman, Thursday after third Monday, and H. Bannister, Thursday after second Monday. A. D. Riley, Constable.

A. L. Brown,

THE HATTER,

Cor. Pike and Washington Streets COVINGTON, - - KY.

Has always on hand a large variety of Men's, Boys' and Children's Hats, and prices GUARANTEED to be as low as the lowest.

Gents' Furnishing Goods a Specialty.

W. J. RICE, CARPENTER & BUILDER, BULLITSVILLE, KY.

Is prepared Raise or Move EITHER LOG or FRAME BUILDINGS On Short Notice, And at the Lowest Possible Figures. 33-tf Your orders respectfully solicited

LUMBER.

Geo. M. Bedinger & Co., Erlanger, - - Ky.

We keep constantly on hand all kinds of Lumber, Laths and Shingles. Also Builder's supplies of all kinds.

—Come and see Us.— may 9-tf

AURORA MARBLE AND GRANITE WORKS, Aurora, Ind.

Will have constantly on hand Marble and Granite Monuments, Italian & American Headstones, &c.

I am ready to do all kinds of Stone Work on short notice and at low prices Hoping to receive the patronage of Boone County, I am respectfully, F. W. KASSEBAUM.

INSURE AT HOME

The Farmers' Mutual Fire INSURANCE COMPANY Of Boone County

Is now completely organized and receiving applications for insurance.

Its Rates are Lower

Than those of any other Company, and it gives the farmers of Boone County a HITHERTO UNKNOWN ADVANTAGE In keeping their property insured.

EVERY FARMER IN THE COUNTY should take a policy at once.

N. S. WALTON, President, Petersburg, Ky. J. H. WALTON, Secretary, Constance, Ky. R. RANDALL, Treasury.

DIRECTORS. LEGRAN GAINES, JNO. M. MOODY, Jeff Utz,

INCORPORATED UNDER THE LAWS OF MISSOURI.

CENTRAL MEDICAL & SURGICAL INSTITUTE OF ST. LOUIS, MO.

SUCCESSORS TO DR. BUTTS' DISPENSARY. OFFICE & ROOMS, No. 920 LOCUST ST. CHAS. L. LABARGE, M.D., Pres't & Physician in Charge. NELSON CHESMAN, Treas. & Business Manager.

This Institute has ample facilities and an experienced Faculty. While it succeeds to a large business, which has been established for years, it will aim to extend its medical and surgical practice, giving skillful and scientific treatment to CHRONIC DISEASES of the Head, Spine, Lungs and Air Passages, Heart, Liver, Stomach and Bowels, Rheumatism, Dyspepsia, Consumption and Asthma. BLOOD IMPURITIES, inherited or caused ... DEFORMITIES of the Limbs, Spinal Curvature ... WEAKNESS ... FEMALE irregularities and weaknesses ... Consultation at Office or by mail free and invited.

HALL'S Vegetable Sicilian HAIR RENEWER

was the first preparation perfectly adapted to cure diseases of the scalp, and the first successful restorer of faded or gray hair to its natural color, growth, and youthful beauty. It has had many imitators, but none have so fully met all the requirements needful for the proper treatment of the hair and scalp. HALL'S HAIR RENEWER has steadily grown in favor, and spread its fame and usefulness to every quarter of the globe. Its unparalleled success can be attributed to but one cause: the entire fulfilment of its promises.

The proprietors have often been surprised at the receipt of orders from remote countries, where they had never made an effort for its introduction.

The use for a short time of HALL'S HAIR RENEWER wonderfully improves the personal appearance. It cleanses the scalp from all impurities, cures all humors, fever, and dryness, and thus prevents baldness. It stimulates the weakened glands, and enables them to push forward a new and vigorous growth. The effects of this article are not transient, like those of alcoholic preparations, but remain a long time, which makes its use a matter of economy.

BUCKINGHAM'S DYE FOR THE WHISKERS

Will change the beard to a natural brown, or black, as desired. It produces a permanent color that will not wash away. Consisting of a single preparation, it is applied without trouble.

PREPARED BY R. P. HALL & CO., Nashua, N.H. Sold by all Dealers in Medicines.

FOR ALL THE FORMS of Scrofulous, Mercurial, and Blood Disorders, the best remedy, because the most searching and thorough blood-purifier, is Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Sold by all Druggists; $1, six bottles, $5.

TUTT'S PILLS

TORPID BOWELS, DISORDERED LIVER, and MALARIA.

From these sources arise three fourths of the diseases of the human race. These symptoms indicate their existence: Loss of Appetite, Bowels costive, Sick Headache, fullness after eating, aversion to exertion of body or mind, Eructation of food, Irritability of temper, Low spirits, A feeling of having neglected some duty, Dizziness, Fluttering at the Heart, Dots before the eyes, highly colored Urine, CONSTIPATION, and demand the use of a remedy that acts directly on the Liver. As a Liver medicine TUTT'S PILLS have no equal. Their action on the Kidneys and Skin is also prompt; removing all impurities through these three "scavengers of the system," producing appetite, sound digestion, regular stools, a clear skin and a vigorous body. TUTT'S PILLS cause no nausea or griping nor interfere with daily work and are a perfect ANTIDOTE TO MALARIA. Sold everywhere, 25c. Office, 44 Murray St., N.Y.

TUTT'S HAIR DYE.

GRAY HAIR OR WHISKERS changed instantly to a GLOSSY BLACK by a single application of this DYE. Sold by Druggists, or sent by express on receipt of $1. Office, 44 Murray Street, New York. TUTT'S MANUAL OF USEFUL RECEIPTS FREE.

VIGOROUS HEALTH FOR MEN

THE PASTILLE CURE TRADE MARK FOR NERVOUS DEBILITY. TESTED FOR 5 YEARS by use in thousands of cases.

Founded on scientific medical principles ... while its numerous competitors have invariably failed. ... NERVOUS DEBILITY, organic weakness, and numerous obscure diseases, baffling the skill of best physicians, result from youthful indiscretion, too free indulgence, and over brain work. Do not temporize while such enemies lurk in your system. Take a remedy that has cured thousands, and does not interfere with your attention to business or cause any pain or inconvenience. Send for a Descriptive Pamphlet giving Anatomical Illustrations, which will convince the most skeptical that they can be restored to perfect manhood, and fitted for the duties of life, same as if never affected. Sent free to any one. Remedy sold ONLY by the HARRIS REMEDY CO. MF'G. CHEMISTS, 306½ N. 10th. St. ST. LOUIS, MO. One Month's treatment $3. two months $5. three months $7.

PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM

A beneficial dressing preferred to similar articles because of its purity and rich perfume. It Restores to Gray Hair the Youthful Color & prevents dandruff and falling of the hair. 50c. & $1. Hiscox & Co., N.Y.

FLORESTON COLOGNE

Excels the finest flower extracts in richness. Delicate, very lasting. No other like it. Be sure you get FLORESTON Cologne, signature of Hiscox & Co., N. Y., on every label. 25 and 75 cts., at druggists and dealers in perfumes.

NEVER FAILS FREE! RELIABLE SELF-CURE.

A favorite prescription of one of the most noted and successful specialists in the U.S. (now retired) for the cure of Nervous Debility, Lost Manhood, Weakness and Decay. Sent in plain sealed envelope free. Druggists can fill it. Address DR. WARD & CO., Louisiana, Mo.

PAYSONS INDELIBLE INK Is the BEST. No preparation. Used with any clean pen for marking any fabric. Popular for decorative work on linen. Received Centennial MEDAL & Diploma. Established 50 years. Sold by all Druggists, Stationers & News Ag'ts.

Local News.

Berkshire and his hounds captured two foxes last week.

Women have met with heavy losses of flowers this winter.

The mercury was monkeying around below zero again Monday morning.

Mittie Acra is preparing for a big boom in the trade in horse jewelry this spring.

If your hair is gradually thinning, use Ayer's Hair Vigor. It restores color and vitality.

So far this has been a fine winter for feeding stock, the waste of food being very small.

There is a noticeable increase in the supply of daylight, and it is growing more abundant all the time.

Garden truck that was buried for protection during the winter has generally fared badly, much of it being frozen.

Our tobacco merchants visited the city one day last week, where they made discoveries that were not encouraging.

We failed to state in our last issue that its delay was caused by waiting for the proceedings of the Court of Claims.

Assessor Riley was in town Monday morning sharpening his pencil for business. His trip down the river did not agree with him.

One day last week Mr. William Rouse killed a China goose that weighed ten pounds and measured five and one-half feet from tip to tip.

Some of the girls have taken our advice and surrendered their chewing-gum to their favorite boys. At least we do not observe them cutting it so freely.

W. C. Riley was in Burlington Monday, and was the happiest looking man we have gazed upon for many a day, and all because his birth-day present was a fine b-o-y.

Since Frank Russell's purchase of the saw mill at Florence X-Roads, he has made business in that particular line lively. He has sawed up and hauled to market an immense lot of walnut lumber.

After a long and exciting chase, last Saturday, a fox was caught near Rev. J. A. Kirtley's. The Berkshire-Goodridge-Cason and Watts-Whitlock packs made the run, followed by a large crowd of men.

Nice tombstones or monuments at the graves of the departed, are marks of respect which should not be neglected. Hurschart & Co., Lawrenceburg, Ind., have just what you want. John Beall of Hebron, is their agent.

Last Thursday, Dr. J. M. Grant, assisted by Drs. J. C. Terrill and J. F. Smith, amputated Simeon Baldon's foot which was frozen some weeks since. Dr. Grant made the amputation in a very satisfactory manner.

Last Saturday evening, A. V. Winston, jr., of Covington, and son of the gentleman who at one time owned and occupied Mrs. Dempsey's farm adjoining Burlington, shot himself through the head. It was done accidentally.

We do not wish to detract in the least from the pleasure of those who have "dandy cutters" drawn by flying steeds, caparisoned with the musical sleigh bells, but Sub. Section 2, General Statutes, page 820, forbids the use of the bells.

We have a letter from our friend Everett Walton, in Butler, Mo., saying that the oldest inhabitant had given up the weather question having never seen it 28° below 0 before. Many cattle, hogs, and mules and much small game were frozen by the intense cold. Corn is selling for 32 cents a bushel delivered at the elevator.

Major Holabird, that popular superintendent of the Boone County Distillery, and Mr. Berry, one of the Government officers who presides at that institution, made Burlington a flying visit last Sunday. They were in a nobby cutter, and the Major held the ribbons over that fine stepper of his, for which the ten miles drive was only moderate exercise.

The report of the condition of the Farmers and Traders National Bank, Dec., 31st, 1883, which appears in this issue is certainly very satisfactory to the stockholders. That bank, established in 1882, is now far in the lead of the other National Banks in that city, in the item of individual deposits. The statement to which we have referred shows that at the close of business hours December 31st, its individual deposits amounted to $369,657 81, while the individual deposits of the other three National Banks were as follows: Covington City National, $265,056 79; First National, $340,602 17; German National, $238,080 35. The Northern Bank is not required to publish statements of its condition.

To the Veterinary Medicine Company, Nashville, Tenn., Sept., 24, 1882.—Gents: The box of Dr. Salmon's Chicken Cholera Medicine which I bought of him about the first of the month has stopped the cholera amongst my fowls entirely. When I got it they were dying at the rate of from 2 to 6 a day, two of our White Leghorn hens and our White Leghorn rooster were so far gone that we had to hold them up and hold their bills open and pour it down them mixed with water. In one day's time after it was thus given they were all well and the rooster up and crowing. None of the others have had the cholera since we gave them the first dose all around.

Respectfully, W. C. Bosworth,
No. 88 Broad Street.

For sale by W. F. McKim, Burlington.

Winchester, Tenn., July 26th, 1881.—Dr. E. Y. Salmon—Dear Sir: Until about two years ago my hogs died every year in considerable numbers and very rapidly with cholera: I procured some of your Prophylactic and used it freely according to the directions, since which time I have, by its use, prevented the return of the disease in my stock. P. TURNEY, Judge Supreme Court, Tenn. For sale by W. F. McKim, Burlington.

At the close of the Court of Claims, Tuesday of last week, Judge Dills stated that Mr. A. G. Winston had proposed to trade a portion of his woodland, which lies immediately between the Poor-house farm and the road, for land at back part of the county farm, giving one acre of his for three of that belonging to the county. The Judge stated that the Poor-house farm has no outlet, and if it become necessary to force an outlet, that it would cost the county considerable. The Judge seemed rather to favor the proposition, though he was only stating the proposition that the members might take it under advisement. No one blames Mr. Winston for making the best trades he can, but it is the opinion, so far as we have heard expressed, that Mr. Winston would not be hurt by the trade were he to give three acres of his land for one of that belonging to the county.

In our last week's issue we announced briefly the burning of Mr. Irwin Balsly's tobacco barn, but gave none of the particulars on account of having gone to press when the report reached town. The origin of the fire is unknown, although Mr. Balsly had one of his work hands arrested, but he was discharged upon the examining trial, which was held here by Esquires Gaines and Wagstaff, last Thursday. Mr. Balsly and his hands were stripping tobacco in one part of the barn where a stripping room had been arranged, and in which they had fire. Balsly was, at all times, very careful about the fire, and when the conflagration was discovered by him, it had gotten beyond control in a pile of hay. The young man Clark being the last one out in the barn previous to the discovery of the fire, suspicion attached to him, hence his arrest. About 700 pounds of tobacco were saved from the ruins, it having been the center of a bulk, which was rather high in case. The tobacco was insured for $2,000 in the Kenton, and the barn for $600 in the Boone County Insurance Company.

The Committee appointed by the Court to take an inventory of the furniture, &c., at the Poor-house made said inventory from which we condense the following, showing the number of each kind of articles: 8 boxes matches, lamp chimney, 2 towel racks, 12 qt. bucket, 18 bedsteads, 3 mattresses, 25 sheets, 13 comforts, 18 blankets, 9 stoves, clock, 7 lamps, 44 chairs, 6 brooms, 7 shovels, cook stove, 2 teakettles, bake pan, 2 skillets, 4 stove pots, 3 bakers, 13 water buckets, 14 tin cups, 3 dish pans, 3 coffee pots, 2 tea pots, 6 qt. bucket, 10 wash pans, 4 bread pans, 2 rolling pins, 3 safes, 2 wash boards, 37 slips, 34 pillows, copper wash boiler and lid, iron heater, 12 bed spreads, quilt, flour sifter, table, 21 saucers, 3 milk crocks, coffee can, 2 glass molasses cans, 2 salt cellars, 8 pepper boxes, 2 sugar buckets, tin pan, 2 sugar bowls, 30 plates, 3 dishes, 34 knives, 38 forks, 25 tea spoons, 24 table spoons, scissors, 2 coffee mills, 2 wisps, 2 pair shoes, 500 lb of straw, 9 coal buckets, 38 gals. stoneware, basket, 2 coal oil cans, 5 gal. oil can, 11 empty bbls., Firkin, 2 joints stove pipe, 1 elbow, coat, 4 feather beds, 4 double blankets, 22 towels, looking glass, 9 straw beds, 6 pokers, bed pan, 3 stand tables, 1 pair tongs, 27 cups, hatchet, 4 straw ticks, dining table and oil cloth, 5 vegetable dishes, 3 pitchers, 2 meat dishes, soup bowl, 5 pie pans, butcher knife, 2 butter plates, 2 table cloths, cupboard, cooking range, 4 smoothing irons, bread bowl, blacking brush, 2 bread cloths, 7 goblets, 3 tumblers, nutmeg grater, step ladder, 2 kitchen tables, scrub brush, flesh fork, big spoon, bread board, coffee boiler, 2 stove lifters, steamer, 4 tubs saw and buck, long handle shovel, spade garden rake, ax, mattock, 6 hoes, iron kettle, wire clothes line, 12 chambers, briar scythe, 40 pounds flour, 3 pecks corn meal, 11½ pounds gr coffee, pound br coffee, pk. hominy, ¼ lb tea, qt. beans 7½ lbs sugar, 1 lb pepper, 1 lb soda, gal. preserves, 18 lb lard, gal. butter beans, 5 gal. pickles, 2¼ bbls. potatoes, ½ bu. onions, ¼ bbl. salt, 21 bars German soap, 175 heads cabbage and 700 bu. of coal. And there are 7 old women and 8 men that the committee overlooked.

The following is the list of pensioners in this county, published under act of Congress requiring same:

Name of pensioner.		Monthly rate.
Williams, Eliza Ann,	Burlington	$ 8
Owens, E B H
Clesler, Elizabeth		8
Hagish, Julia		8
Neel, Violet		8
Deer, Churchill		8
Porter, Margaret		8
Tanner, Margaret		8
Rucker, Paschal		8
Rouse, Henry		10
Rouse, Chas. C, Constance,		2
Hoover, Geo G.	Florence	4
Jones, James	"	4
Glacken, Mahala R	do	8
Delph, Willis M	Grant	8
Grant, Polly	do	8
Stahley, Martin	do	4
Delph, Pauline	do	8
London, James	do	12
Botts, Newton W	do	8
McHatton, Sallie A.	Hamilton	8
Richardson, Lydia	do	8
Edwards, Thos J	do	10
Finnell, Elizabeth	do	8
Knapp, Geo W	Hebron	2
Willhite, Polly	do	8
Vesenmair, Geo	Petersburg	2
Fenton, Henry	do	4
Mahan, Joseph H	do	4
Cayton, Margaret	do	8
Lipp, Frances	Union	8
Moore, Nicholas	do	4
Gullion, Francis M	do	18
Stevenson, Chas B	do	8
McPherson, Mary E	do Verona	8
Smith, Alcha	do	4
Sanders, Lawrence H	Walton	8
Richey, John	do	8
Hind, William	do	8
Florence, James	do	8
Lampton, Sarah	do	8
Green, Rebecca	do	8

U. S. Internal Revenue.

COVINGTON, KY., Jany., 15, 1884.
Dudley Rouse, Esq.

Sir:— You can receive of your tenant any amount of leaf tobacco raised on your land, which may be reserved by way of rent, without paying special tax. If, however, you buy their portion of the crop so raised, you must pay the tax.

Farmers and producers of tobacco may sell at the place of production, tobacco of their own growth and raising at retail directly to consumers, to an amount not exceeding one hundred pounds annually, without paying special tax. Also a farmer who furnishes such tobacco only as rations or supplies to his laborers in the same manner as other supplies are furnished by him to them, provided that the aggregate amount so furnished, shall not exceed one hundred pounds in any one year.

Respectfully, JNO. W. FINNELL,
Collector.

The above is a reply to a letter written by Mr. Dudley Rouse to Gen. Finnell, in regard to the matter therein referred to.

Last week Esquire Baker took out license for O. P. Conner, who bought his tenant's tobacco. It cost him $3 59 including the penalty, and the collector informed Mr. Baker that he intended to look up all those who had thus been violating the Internal Revenue laws, If you have been buying tobacco you had better dance up and take out your license, and save cost and trouble.

The following report was made by the Committee appointed by the Court to examine the report of the Receiver of the Poor-house:

We the Committee appointed by your Court to examine and report on the Supervisor of the Poor-house, beg leave to submit the following report: We find from the report of the Receiver that he received during the year $1,778 85, expending during the year $1,829 24, leaving the amount due the Receiver, $50 39. This does not include the last quarter's salary of the physicians, $75, and the keeper Hall, $37 50, to which add the amount received, $1,778 85, making the total expenses $1,941 74 for the year 1883. The number of inmates averaged, during the year, 19, which would make the cost per head, $102 20. It is claimed by the Supervisor that there were many repairs necessary, and that many useful articles were needed and purchased for the institution that will not have to be purchased for some time again. There are some items in the report of the Receiver for which there is no bill or voucher. While we think the Supervisor has tried to do his duty honestly, and carefully, we think he should be compelled to keep a ledger account and be careful of his vouchers, so the accounts can be more carefully and systematically audited. Your committee believes that there is too much power in the hands of the Supervisor without any power of restriction, and would suggest that there be a committee appointed, consisting of three members of this Court, whose duty it shall be to visit the institution at least once every three months, and in case of neglect of duty, extravagance, or peculation, shall have power of suspending either or all of the officers until the Court shall hear the charges and reinstate or elect new officers; also that they shall have access to the accounts and books of the officers of the Poor-house, and shall act as an advisory committee in all matters that may be called to their attention—more especially the matters of expenditures.

JOSEPH WAGSTAFF,
A. G. MCCONNELL,
O. GAINES,

The following is an extract from the annual report of James B. Casey, tobacco Inspector for Cincinnati:

This past year has been one of increased prosperity, and the trade is to be congratulated upon the steady growth of a market that has added each year to its pecuniary advancement, until now it stands the first of the open marts of the world in the cash value of sales and general appreciation of the peculiar types of tobacco.

No new growth has been to supercede the White Burley in the favor of consumers, and consequently of manufacturers, and hence the radius of its planting was largely extended beyond the usual Cincinnati district, and the prospects during the early part of the season was for an unusually large supply for the ensuing year. This, however, was cut short by the drought during the summer months, and while the proportion of damage was largely over-estimated, there is no doubt but that the crop has been somewhat diminished; not enough, however, to materially affect the wants of purchasers. With this in view, the outlook for the approaching season is more auspicious than was first supposed with the exception that the quality of the new crop apparently runs more on bright grades, and from the most authentic reports, especially concerning the early cutting rivals in excellence the much-talked-of growth of 1878, the exception being that the "tips" or top leaves are shorter than usual, and constitute the heavy bodied portions.

With the experience of the past to serve as pointers for the future, country buyers should move judiciously in buying and not over estimate the actual market value of their purchases, remembering that with a reasonable supply in sight the question of demand does not lead to the supposition of fancy prices.

Presenting the subjoined tabulated statements for the past year, with comparisons, I again offer my sincere congratulations to the entire trade, with best wishes for a happy and prosperous New Year.

The average price of the 65,428 hogsheads offered at auction during the year was $10 84, with the following comparisons:

1882...$10 86	1878...$ 8 00	1874...$15 55
1881... 14 25	1875... 8 50	1873... 16 50
1880... 11 83	1876... 16 59	1872... 13 00
1879... 14 50	1875... 16 50

The averages for 1882 and 1883 are compiled from actual figures of each day's sales, while those for the preceding years were estimated.

Stock on hand Jan., 1st, 1884......11,213
Stock same time last year..........12,155

Bradley Co., Tenn. March 15, 1880.—Dr. E. Y. Salmon.—Dear Sir: Your remedy for sheep rot is all you claim for it, or any one could desire. I treated my sheep with it when they were dying daily, effectually arresting the disease in twenty-four hours. I can also fully indorse your hog cholera remedy, and your medicine for chicken cholera.

Respectfully, J. L. SEARS.

For sale by W. F. McKim, Burlington.

Wm. Ellington brought a fine lot of White Burley tobacco seed to Dudley Rouse to dispose of.

NEIGHBORHOOD NEWS.

Gordon Branch.

Fox hunting seems to be the order of the day in our neighborhood. We suppose it is both profitable and entertaining.

The one that administered the fatal drug to Jim McAtee's dog, had better keep it to himself or he might get into trouble.

Everything is quiet and the blacking is about off Jim's mustache.

The party given by W. T. Ryle was a grand success, and we hope he will give another soon.

The Williamson boys are delivering their $16 tobacco to Solon Rice at McVille.

Mr. J. T. Marshall froze one of his toes the other night while rabbit hunting. Now, of course, we don't doubt his veracity, but then it looks rather thin for a person to hunt rabbits after night.

Scattersville.

Our farmers are getting tired of setting by the fire, simply because the wood is about all gone.

Most of the tobacco is gone from here there being some few crops for sale yet.

This winter, so far, has been fine on the small grain, of which there is a good deal through here.

Our old friend, Watt Brown, has put in his appearance once more. We began to think some fair, young—Ah, well, you all know as much about it as we do. What do you say, Watt?

We will ask pardon of O. P. Conner and wife for being so slow in reporting the New Year's gift they gave their children, a fine organ, of which the children are very proud. We feel safe in saying they deserved it.

William Day hauled a load of tobacco to town last week. We did not learn the price.

Zack Bondurant has moved up on Gunpowder on his place, the old Piles farm.

Big Fone.

Messrs William Parker, Ike Shawborn, Lloyd Shaver and U. G. Baldwin on Sunday night, January 13, made one of the boldest breaks in the way of stealing tobacco, that ever stired the depths of Big Bone Springs. They borrowed Henry Rich's wagon and took Lon Utz's "mewl," and after dark loaded up the "weed" they had hid in the cabbin where Parker held up, as it were. They then proceeded to Covington, where they disposed of their 1,100 pounds of golden leaf at a remunerative price. Parker and Baldwin returned to deliver up the wagon and mule to their owners, and, also, to deliver Baldwin to the officer (?). Parker has never entered any three-days-go-as-you-please walking matches, but the strides he made in leaving the officers in distant pursuit, entitle him to a place among our pedestrians of the first order. Baldwin, only 17 years old, and likeley the least guilty of the four, is held over till the returns come in from the back counties. The tobacco was taken from the premises of Mrs. M. A. Murphy, where Parker resided, and was a fine lot.

Francesville.

Those that are so fortunate as to own sleighs have had a good time generally, while those that have none could not well help enjoying the sweet music of the bells.

Mr. Abe Wainscott is slowly recovering from something like a paralytic stroke.

Mr. Se[illegible]thorn has moved into his new dwelling.

Charles Bryant has returned from Mason county, where he has been visiting his father.

Born—On the 10th inst., to Henry Gordon and wife, a son.

Mrs. Cleveland, cold., lost a valuable mare from heart disease, one day last week.

The ice houses in and about this place are all filled with a good quality of ice.

We hear some farmers complaining that unless cold weather lets up, feed for stock will run short before spring.

Fox hunting is the order of the day with us, and scarcely a day passes but those fond of that kind of sport can witness an exciting chase. Your humble scribe, assisted by Mr. Henry Long, has been extensively engaged in trapping this winter. We expect to go east with our pelts as soon as there is a general thaw.

Harry Killgour imagines that Mr. Joe Graves has one of the most comfortable grates to sit by in the neighborhood.

As we were passing down Sunflower street, a few mornings since, we observed a very peculiar track in the snow. At first sight we imagined that Jumbo had passed through our Villa, and curiosity led us to follow it some distance, when to our surprise we came upon the object of our search, and found it to be Billy Hayes in a pair of new boots.

The tobacco crop of this neighborhood has all been sold with the exception of Jno. R. Smith's. He has his on hand yet. We understand that there will be a larger quantity planted next spring than last. It being the most profitable crop last year, is why the farmers are going into it so extensively.

There was about an average acreage of small grain sown in this vicinity last fall, and thus far the prospects were never better for a bountiful crop.

Petersburg.

Wm. McWethy is on the sick list.

J. D. Norris contemplates planting 25 or 30 acres of tobacco this season.

The mail is carried to and from Lawrenceburg in a skiff during the time of ice.

An infant child of Wm. Litteral and wife, died last Tuesday.

Corn sold at W. P. Bennett's sale last Wednesday at 39c, per bu. in the crib.

Meeting still in progress at the Methodist church,

Capt. Christy sold his interest in the Str. Waye to Capt. Alden.

Freiburg & Workum shipped 500 bbls. whisky to Cincinnati via Aurora last week.

J. Frank Grant's little daughter, Bessie, has been quite sick with measles, but is somewhat improved at this writing.

News reached here last Thursday that M. R. McNeely, formerly of this place but, now Capt. of the tug boat DeSoto, at Memphis, was lying dangerously ill with pneumonia.

Ben-Zine is a might clever fellow. He is most always on hand at a hog killing or a sale and generally bids freely.

Many men of many kinds, many ladies of many minds. If any lady to marry so inclines, she had better ask a nice man she finds——if she can find any such.

We are not blessed with many drummers during the cold weather, the tariff for crossing the river is too high. Only $1 and not much to do at that.

Richard Hanks, of Cincinnati, passed through here last Friday on his way to the County seat.

L. A. Loder has been appointed administrator of the estate of Fidelius Huber, lately deceased.

A young man last week asked the mail carrier to bring him 10c worth of 'possum tracks.

During the cold weather flea bites are scarce and in demand, $1 being offered for one bite.

Rabbit Hash.

Weather not so cold, but news scarce. The last snow has raised the price of sleigh stock to par or a little above, and the boys so lucky as to have sleighs appear to have taken about the same advance in the estimation of the girls.

The good people of the neighborhood concluded to protract the Christmas festivities, so Z. T. Kelly and wife started the ball rolling by inviting the young folks from Zack's old neighborhood and this, to their house a few days since, to enjoy the long, cold hours of night dancing. Zack showed them that he has not lost the use of his feet by taking part in the merry dance. Everybody there enjoyed the party.

Mr. Kelly's party was followed up by one at Frank Hodges' to which all were invited. Frank had contended that with a fair start he could beat Zack on the dance; so all present were prepared to witness the race, and when time came for the drum to tap, there being something less than 300 entries, Frank withdrew from the contest to make room for others, who enjoyed themselves equal to any crowd that ever assembled on a similar occasion, and only the advent of the Sabbath called a halt in the evening's entertainment, when all departed with many good wishes for Mr. and Mrs. Hodges. Those from a distance were, Misses Mary and Ida Sullivan, Miss Lizzie Presser, Miss Annie Wingate, Albert, Linous and Bennie Kelley and Will Barker.

The last party given was at L. L. Stephens', and was what we style "a gum-suck." Your correspondent was there and played as big a hand as the girls would let him, and is only sorry that the game was so short. Luns and his wife can tell whether we appreciated their kindness or not by inviting us again. We'll go early.

In your last issue you said you wanted a note of crops and stock in the several neighborhoods. In this, the wheat when last seen looked well, and I guess it is in good health yet, as it went to bed before cold weather with nothing but a white sheet over it and has never called for more cover. There was a considerable crop sown in the fall.

There are a good many potatoes in this neighborhood that failed to get on the market last fall.

Tobacco has been changing hands in the last week, and we can hear the chink rattling in the farmer's pockets, but we fear the buyers will have no pockets in which to rattle the chink.

J. J. Piatt has gone to Louisville to dispose of his potatoes which he stored there last fall. The party who had charge of them wrote him to come or send hands, as there is a considerable demand for them. Johnnie went away with his spirits considerably above zero.

Joe, one of the pill-peddlers of your town, was here with his pill-pockets, the other day, to see what kind of attention Jobe Morrison had been receiving from doctors here. He thought Jobe was doing well.

B. C. Calvert has been in the city this week with tobacco purchased by him for a Louisville buyer.

The ice continues to run, and interrupts navigation. The ferrymen only make one trip a day for the mail.

The store here continues to furnish fire and whittling wood for the boys.

Tobacco Market.

Cincinnati, Friday, Jan. 18, 1884.

G'n Trash and Lugs	$3 00 @	$4 50
Common Trash	4 50	6 00
Colory Trash	7 00	9 50
Good Br't Trash	8 50	10 50
Fine Br't Trash	00 00	00 00
Dark Lugs	5 00	7 00
Common Lugs	7 00	9 00
Colory Lugs	10 00	12 00
Good Stripping Lugs	13 00	16 00
Fine Str'p'g Lugs	16 00	20 00
Common Leaf	7 00	12 00
Com. Med. Leaf	12 00	15 75
Good Med. Leaf	16	19 00
Good Br't Leaf	20 00	22 50
Fine Br't Leaf	28 00	25 25
Fancy Bright Leaf
Com Lug Fillers	8	12 00
Good Lug Fillers	12 00	16 00
Fine Lug Fillers	17 00	20 00
Com. Med. Fil'rs	13 00	16 00
Good Med. Fil'rs	17	19 00
Good L'f Fillers	24 00	22 50
Fine Leaf Fillers	23 00	25 00
Fancy Leaf Fillers	00 00	00 00

10

RHEUMATISM, disordered blood, general debility, and many chronic diseases pronounced incurable, are often relieved by Brown's Iron Bitters.

HUNTSVILLE, ALA.—Dr. J. C. Spotswood says: "I highly recommend Brown's Iron Bitters for dyspepsia, rheumatism, and general debility."

FAIRFIELD, IOWA.—Dr. J. L. Meyers says: "Brown's Iron Bitters is the best iron preparation I have ever known in my thirty years of practice."

REPORT OF THE CONDITION OF THE Farmers & Traders National Bank AT COVINGTON,

In the State of Kentucky, at the close of business, December 31, 1883.

RESOURCES.

Loans and discounts		$600,911 65
Overdrafts		1,155 80
U.S. Bonds to secure circulation 4 per cent		50,000 00
Due from approved reserve agents	45,541 33
Due from other National banks	5,207 41
Due from State banks and bankers	5,399 51	56,148 25
Real estate, furniture and fixtures		4,668 91
Premiums paid		8,000 00
Checks and other cash items		1,945 87
Bills of other Banks		4,125 00
Fractional paper currency, nickels and pennies		69 79
Specie		9,050 00
Legal tender notes		21,000 00
Redemption fund with U. S. Treasurer (5 per cent of circulation)		2,250 00
Total		$759,304 77

LIABILITIES.

Capital stock paid in		$300,000 00
Surplus fund	4,000 00
Undivided profits	14,480 40	18,480 40
National bank notes outstanding		45,000 00
Individual deposits subject to check	369,657 81
Fund to pay taxes	224 35
Due to other National Banks	17,062 27
Due to State Banks and bankers	8,879 94	395,824 37
Total		$759,304 77

State of Kentucky, County of Kenton, ss: I, John L. Sandford, Cashier of the above-named bank, do solemnly swear that the above statement is true to the best of my knowledge and belief.

J. L. SANDFORD, Cashier.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 14th day of Jan., 1884. GEO. H. DAVISON, Notary Public.

Correct—Attest:
E. J. HICKEY,
J. H. MERSMAN,
L. C. STEPHENS. } Directors.

That Doughty Duchess.

Opposite Opinions about a Wonderful Woman—Her Thumb and Fingers.

"Crack nuts with [illegible] fingers. Why, you can't mean it!" cried a young lady graduate of the [illegible] College, in the [illegible].

"But I do mean it," affirmed her big brother, who had taken several prizes in athletics, "and I reassert it: that Cunigunda, wife of Duke Ernst, of Austria, could crack nuts with her fingers and drive nails in the wall with her thumb."

"What a monstrous woman!" said the young lady. "What a useful woman," amended her big brother.

The Austrian Duchess was mighty because she kept good hours, good habits and perfect digestion.

Mrs. Alice Strong, of Pittsburg, Pa., writes a different story about herself, but deserves praise for her frankness. She says: "For the past 3 years I have been subject to severe attacks of colic and cramps, and exhausting attacks of Diarrhea. Weary of experimenting with medicines, I turned without hope to PARKER'S TONIC. Three bottles cured me entirely. I have tried it also for other ailments with which women are often afflicted, and it far surpassed my expectations. I am happy to offer this testimony for the benefit of other women."

Ladies who are interested in Mrs Strong's letter, will please remark that PARKER'S TONIC is not intoxicant. It cures colic easily, but by virtue of many rare and [illegible] ingredients, it also masters all diseases of the blood, such, for example, as Rheumatism, Consumption, Scrofula, and all disorders of the Kidneys, Liver and Stomach. It is a vitalizer and stimulant, but not an intoxicant. Price, 50 cents and $1 per bottle. Hiscox & Co., Chemists, New York.

LOOK! LOOK!

THE AMERICAN FARMER,

—AND—

THE RECORDER

—ONE YEAR—

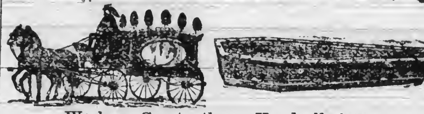
For $1 75.

We have perfected arrangements with the publishers of the American Farmer, of Fort Wayne, Ind., that enables us to offer our subscribers a first-class Agricultural Magazine at the bare cost of the white paper on which it is printed. The American Farmer is a 16 page monthly magazine which is rapidly taking rank as one of the leading agricultural publications of the country. Each number will contain useful information for the farmer, his wife, his sons and his daughters. As it costs you almost nothing, suppose you try it one year.

F A L L (FALL FALL FALL)

—AND—

Winter Clothi'g



Clothing of the best goods, well trimmed, in the latest styles, made under my direct supervision and sold at lower prices than are asked for badl made, shoddy goods at other places. Call and be assured.

A splendid line of Suitings. Suits MADE to order on short notice.

H. F Blase,

540 Madison St. - COVINGTON, KY

UNDERTAKING.

We keep Constantly on Hand all sizes of

Burial Cases and Caskets,

And having just received a beautiful

NEW HEARSE,

Which can be had at a reasonable price when desired.

PRICES GUARANTEED LESS THAN CITY PRICES!

DAVIS BROS., - - HEBRON, KY.

City Flouring Mills

RISING SUN, INDIANA.

FLOUR EXCHANGED FOR WHEAT OR CASH. THE HIGHEST MARKET PRICE PAID FOR GOOD WHEAT.

mar7-tf23

J. W. Talbott.

MOTHER NOBLE'S

HEALING SYRUP.

20 Million Bottles sold in 10 years. A certain Cure for Dyspepsia, all Diseases of the Kidneys, Liver, Stomach, Blood, Skin and Bowels.
Can Produce Thousands of Letters proving its Curative Powers,
AN OLD AND LONG TRIED REMEDY,
LABORATORY 77 AMITY STREET, NEW YORK CITY,
FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

Cornease.—The King of Corn Killers. The most desperate Corns, BUNIONS, WARTS &c., SPEEDILY cured. Price 25 Cents.

Footease.—An Unfailing Remedy for Hot, Swollen and Tender Feet, Chilblains, &c. Price 25 Cents.

Cornease Manuf'g Co., 236, 5th Ave. Place, N. Y. City.
For Sale by Agents, Druggists and Shoe Dealers.

Subscribe For The

BOONE COUNTY RECORDER.

And begin with the New Year.

My Vegetable and Flower Seed Catalogue for 1884, the result of thirty years' experience as a Seed Grower, will be sent free to all who apply. All my Seed is warranted to be fresh and true to name, so far that should it prove otherwise, I agree to refill orders gratis. My collection of vegetable Seed, one of the most extensive to be found in any American Catalogue, is a large part of it of my own growing. As the original introducer of Eclipse Beet, Burbank Potatoes, Marblehead Early Corn, the Hubbard Squash, and scores of other new Vegetables, I invite the patronage of the public. In the gardens and on the farms of those who plant my seed will be found my best advertisement.

JAMES J. H. GREGORY, Seed Grower, Marblehead, Mass.

THE RECORDER.

RIDDELL & HALL, Publishers.

BURLINGTON, : : KENTUCKY

THE CRAZY QUILT.

Patchwork only, did you say,
The mosaic quaint and gay,
Starred with dainty applique,
In confusion mazy?
Sooth it hath a high-born air,
With an careful charm and rare,
Lightening the weight of care.
Wherefore call it crazy?

Every woman in the land
This bewildering quilt has planned;
Slender fingers, toil-worn hand,
Pulse alike with pleasure
As the curious pieces blend,
This an heirloom's grace to lend,
That the souvenir of a friend,
Each a cherished treasure.

Patiently dear grandma sets
Bit to bit, and swift forgets
All the little daily frets
Age and loss are bringing.
And we hear her softly croon
To herself a tender tune;
'Tis of youth and love a rune
She is gently singing.

Shaking heads and looking wise,
Merchants smile with doubtful eyes
When, expectant of a prize,
Maidens beg a sample.
Stock of velvet, silk, or frieze,
Like the famous nibbled cheese,
Disappears if, dames to please,
Clipped are fragments ample.

Patchwork 'tis, but glorified,
Aureoled with stately pride,
Fit to offer to a bride
As a wedding present.
Stitched with more than common pains,
Offspring of artistic brains,
Wrought in flowers, and loops, and chains,
Is this patchwork pleasant?

—Margaret E. Sangster, in Harper's Weekly.

SMELT-FISHING IN MAINE.

The Army of Sportsmen Encamped on the Ice—The Method of Catching the Delicate Little Fish—A Village of Smelt-Fishers Flying Before a Gale.

"If any one likes fishing through the ice with the thermometer ten degrees below zero and the wind blowing sometimes at the rate of twenty-five miles an hour he can find his ideal sport just now on any of the rivers and inlets along the coast of Maine," said "Mort" Scott, well known in angling circles in this city, who returned on Saturday from a week's fishing for smelt on the Maine coast. "Smelt-fishing" is now at the best up there, but the weather is about at its worst. At least in the estimation of the visiting sportsmen it is; but those native and to the manner born think it couldn't be better. They don't seem to mind a little matter such as the mercury registering fifteen degrees below, and to see their tents lifted from the ice by the wind and carried upward like a balloon is regarded by them as only an episode that adds zest and humor to their enjoyment. When I left there last Thursday it was so cold that the holes in the ice froze over nearly as fast as they were cut, even with fires in the tents, and to keep them open required a little more labor than even my enthusiasm in the sport could well overbalance. But there were scores of fishermen on the ice when I left, for the smelt seem to bite better the colder it is, and after this month the fishing gets poorer, the fish moving gradually to other quarters.

"Smelt-fishing through the ice," continued the speaker, "does not differ from the same mode of angling for pickerel, but the element of uncertainty is unknown in the former sport. You may fish all day sometimes for pickerel and then be obliged to buy enough to save yourself from going home 'skunked'; but when you cut your holes in the ice and put in your lines for smelt you are just as certain of being kept busy pulling out fish as you are that you bait your hook. A smelt isn't as big a fish as a pickerel, but he's a game fighter, and there is an excitement about 'tending' the lines that pickerel-fishing does not create. The people up in Maine look upon smelt-fishing as the sport of the year, and they come from miles about the country to enjoy it. Even the Indians from the far-back country tramp into the coast during the season to exercise their skill in luring smelt. The tackle for smelt-fishing is very simple. The line is an ordinary stout linen cord, about four feet long. To one end of this is attached a piece of lead about three inches long and the size and shape of a three-cornered file. This is called a file-sinker. To a swivel in the other end of the sinker is tied a pink-colored snell, made of common fish-line, to which is attached a hook such as is used in fishing for cat-fish. The snell is two feet long. The water acting on the triangular sinker, hung on its swivels, keeps it constantly twirling about, and the bait, which is an ugly-looking insect called the clam worm, is always in motion. Each fisherman will have out an average of four lines, in as many different holes, if he seeks the enjoyment of the sport under the protection and shelter of a tent, or 'house,' as the natives call them. If he, like many of the local anglers, is braving the elements with the sole intention of extracting profit from the catch, and dances and trots about on the ice regardless of extraneous aids to combat the wind and frost, he is likely to have ten or a dozen lines to care for, spread over an area a hundred feet around; and if the fish are biting good he will have but little time to think of the cold, as he will be kept busy hauling up his lines and keeping the holes open.

"It has only been within a few years that such a thing as smelt-fishing under shelter was known. The fishermen had either to stand out unprotected against the gales and storms that seem to be kept 'on tap' along the coast for use at any moment or pull up their lines and go home. To be sure, they could pile up walls of ice and thatch them with pine boughs, but as it frequently is necessary for the fisherman to change his location and the ice barricades could not well be taken along, the building of them was generally time and labor thrown away. By the way, that is a peculiarity of smelt-fishing. The fish may be biting so that you will be kept constantly hopping from one hole to another to land your catch. Suddenly your 'tip-ups' will cease to tip. The smelts have taken it into their heads that the locality is not safe for them, and have moved. Well, in a case of this kind, as I said, the angler would find his ice and pine boughs useless and he would have to desert them to hunt up the spot to which the fish had changed their base. But one season a man named Job Secor went up from Boston to try smelt-fishing. He tried it for a day and froze one foot and both ears, and then went away. But he didn't go home. He went to Belfast and had a heavy wooden frame, ten feet square, made by a carpenter. He procured some sail canvas and covered the frame with it, leaving an opening for a door. The frame was on runners. When the 'house' was finished he had it drawn upon the ice and placed over the holes he intended to fish through. Then it occurred to him that he might add still farther to his comfort, and he bought a small box stove, ran a pipe from out of one side of the house, started a roaring pine-wood fire in it and seated on a bench fished as comfortably as if he were in his room at the hotel watching a stove pipe hole in the floor. The house was secured to the ice by grappling-irons. If smelt ceased biting in one spot he simply loosened his grapples, shoved his house along on the runners and 'squatted' in more favorable quarters. No one who fishes for smelt simply for the sport there is in it has gone on the ice since then without one of the houses. Many who make a business of smelt-fishing have adopted the plan, and now in the height of the season a stranger going for the first time to any of the rivers or inlets along the coast would imagine that a small army was in camp there.

"On a good day for smelt the average catch per line will be at least one hundred, or say thirty pounds. The fish net the business angler about five cents a pound, and have a ready sale in the local markets. On Wednesday of last week I was having a busy time in my house. I had only two holes in use, for the fish were biting so lively that I couldn't take care of any more. It was snowing hard and blowing harder, but my fire was roaring inside, and I was tolerably comfortable. Suddenly along came one of those zephyrs that love to play up and down the Maine coast. It seemed to think that I was cutting things a little too fat around there, and it slopped at my hut, got a leverage on my grapples, and the next instant hut, fisherman, stove and all were moving off at lively speed. The front part of the stove—which was not much more than a toy stove, being only two and a half feet long—dropped into one of the holes in the ice, and the whole business went down among the smelt. We were scudded along for a hundred yards, when my house came in contact with another fisherman's house. This called a sudden halt, and I took advantage of it to crawl hastily out. The collision loosened the grapples on the other house, and in a moment both were flying onward before the wind. The gale had played the same game with other huts, and they were flying along over the ice in all parts of the inlet. The gale lasted for not more than ten minutes, but a whole smelt fishing village had been moved about a mile from its site when it ended. That little episode convinced me that it would be more pleasant for me to leave smelt-fishing until next May or June, and then resume it on a convenient trout stream; so I struck my tent and cut sticks for Belfast.

"I believe smelt-fishing is becoming more popular every year, and even ladies are manifesting a willingness to brave its risks, and, sometimes, its hardships. There was a party of three ladies and gentlemen from Boston camped on the ice when I came away." —N. Y. Times.

A Corner On Ice.

The first man to strike the corner where the porter had thrown a pail of water over the flag-stones and produced a glare of ice was an insurance agent. He slid to the right, clawed to the left, clutched at a sunbeam, and went down with the exclamation: "Hanged if I don't!" He rose up to jaw and threaten and collect a crowd and almost lick somebody, and he went away stirred up for all day.

The next man was a tailor—tall, spare and solemn. His toes all of a sudden turned out, his left leg was lifted, and he spun once and a-half around before he went down with the remark: "I knew 'twould happen!" He got up to hurry along out of sight, and it was easy to see that he had calculated on about so many falls for the winter.

The next was a fleshy man with a smiling face and an air of good-nature. He didn't lose any time going down, and when he struck he realized that he had hit something. And yet what he said was: "Is it possible!" He got up slowly, forced a grin as the boys chaffed him, and looked back three times to make sure that he hadn't made a hole which would prove a man-trap for other pedestrians.

The next was a bank clerk with a pencil over his ear and a pre-occupied mind. He was swinging his right hand and rushing right ahead when he suddenly saw billions of stars shining in the morning sky. His first thought was that somebody was celebrating Fourth of July; his next was to scramble up and search for an asylum where he could hunt up his collar-button and splice his suspenders. Not a word escaped him until he was a block away. Then he remarked: "At six per cent. it would be $854.17."

The next man was a strapping big fellow with an ulster on and a red silk handkerchief hanging out of a pocket. He began a sort of shuffle as he struck the spot, increased it in a minute to a regular "breakdown," and finally went down with a whoop that was heard half a block away. He was up in a moment. Diagonally across the street he saw a man in an express wagon. The boys called to him that he had lost his red handkerchief, and that his nose would sadly miss it, but he would not wait. He strode across the street and up to the wagon, and as he hauled off and hit the driver a stinger on the ear he growled out:

"There, hang you! That makes us even!"

"What even!" shouted the victim as he rose up and adjusted his cap, but the other was gone.—Detroit Free Press.

Luminous Jewels.

M. Gaston Trouve, the well-known electrician, of Paris, has lately designed a series of ornaments for ladies' wear, which consist of glass colored and cut to imitate rubies, diamonds, etc., fitted in an envelope surrounding a small incandescent lamp of low resistance. The light shines through the pieces of glass only, and gives them all the appearance of the stones they are intended to imitate. The lamp is fed from a small battery which is carried about the person. It is composed of three pairs of zinc carbon plates (two carbons to each zinc), or a larger number, according to the current required. These plates dip in a saturated solution of bichromate of potash, which is contained in an ebonite cell with three compartments. The plates are fitted into a cover, which is kept securely down on the top of the cell by two bands of India rubber passed round the whole. Finally the battery is encased in two sheets of gutta-percha, so as to entirely prevent any leakage. A miniature switch is carried in the pocket or elsewhere within reach, to which the battery and lamp wires are connected. The pressure of a finger on the arm of this switch makes or breaks communication with the lamp. The battery weighs (with six plates) 500 grammes, and will work about thirty minutes with a two or three volt lamp. A larger battery to work a four or eight volt lamp weighs 800 grammes.—Electrician.

—Iron masts are now being put into large ships, in place of the old-time wooden masts.

USEFUL AND SUGGESTIVE.

—In frying meat, fish or fowl, never set it back on the stove to cool in the fat. Always take up while it is boiling hot.—Boston Globe.

—The farmers of Bibb County, Ala., have determined to organize clubs, thus encouraging the State Agricultural Department.

—Delicate Cake: Whites of twelve eggs, three-quarters of a pound of butter, one pound of flour, one pound of sugar. Flavor with bitter almond—just enough to detect it. Mix like fruit cake batter and put in quicker oven.—The Household.

—Experience has shown that the greater part of the large farm is unprofitable, and that it would be policy for the owner to confine his labors and brains to fewer acres even if some of the farm should be cast aside, or, better still, put into permanent pasture on which to allow stock to range.—Chicago Times.

—Pudding made of cracked wheat is very agreeable and nourishing: To one quart of sweet milk allow nearly half a cupful of cracked wheat; put it in a pudding-dish and bake slowly for two hours, stirring it several times. If you choose to do so you can add raisins and a little cinnamon for flavoring, but most people prefer it well salted, and to eat it with a little cream and sugar. This is nice both warm and cold.—Chicago Journal.

—French farmers are giving increased attention to sheep husbandry, with a tendency for the production of meat rather than wool. The competition is at present between crosses of the Southdowns and Shropshires. The shepherds receive a percentage on the sale of the sheep, the wool, the lambs and the milk, but against these is set the loss of the animals according to a scale. The dogs have their canine and incisor teeth extracted.

—Mowing an acre to get five hundred pounds of hay when the same land might produce at least three tons; raising eighty bushels of potatoes when no more labor is required to raise three hundred, except to pick them up; raising three-year-old steers when two-year-olds can be made to weigh eighteen hundred pounds with only half the feed that the three-year-old requires, are among the things the world now justly declares are old fogyism.—Troy Times.

—Pressed Chicken: Boil one or two chickens in a small quantity of water, salt to taste, and when thoroughly done, take all the meat from the bones, having removed the skin; chop the light and dark meat separately and season to taste. Put a layer of light and dark meat alternately into a crock, till all the meat is used, pour over it the liquor in which it was boiled, and put on it a small weight. When cold, cut in slices and serve. Cracker crumbs may be mixed with the meat if desired. —N. Y. Tribune.

The Farmer's Most Active Enemy.

This destroyer of the farmer's hard-earned savings is on every farm, in every house, and never leaves us day or night, summer or winter. It damages at midnight and destroys at noonday. The marks of its teeth may be seen on the pasture fence, it is wasting the barn sills and pegging away at your sulky plow. Even iron and steel are not exempt from its ravages. The plow comes in from the field bright with use; next week it needs several hours of work and worry to make it scour. You lend your new bright hand-saw to a neighbor, who kindly leaves it lying on the grass a night or two, and its condition when returned mars its usefulness and lessens your faith in human nature. A careless farmer leaves his new mower in the field or the fence-corner until next summer, by which time this fell destroyer has damaged it one-third of its value. The sections are black with rust, the journals are all gummed, and the wood-work is penetrated and weakened in every part.

Those who have read thus far, will have recognized this enemy as rust, rot or decay, the most active promoter of which is oxygen. The invisible gas forms one-fifth of the entire bulk of the air, and eight-ninths of the weight of all the water on the globe. While of the greatest value in the economy of life, it is also a destructive agent of the most untiring kind. Yet its ravages are easily checked in many instances. A thin covering of some oil will perfectly protect steel and iron from its action. A coat of paint good enough to keep water from soaking into wood, will protect it from decay almost indefinitely. In the far West, where building is somewhat more expensive than in the East, farmers are disposed to leave their farm-tools out of doors the year round. Such men are making a great mistake. If they are not able to afford shelter for their tools, they can buy a gallon of paint, which, if carefully applied to the wood-work, will go a long way towards protecting it from decay. It is certain that if the farmers of any State would expend $1,000 for paint next year for this purpose, they would save $10,000 now likely to be utterly lost. If any one thinks this overstated, let him look around among his neighbors, and see the hundreds and hundreds of dollars' worth of machinery that is going to ruin from decay, which a little paint would prevent. Here at least in the protection of farm implements a penny saved is as good as a penny earned.—American Agriculturist.

Points About Sealskins.

Fine, close pile and soft, pliable pelts are the first considerations in choosing a first-rate sealskin, and, as several are required to make a mantle or cloak, or jacket of any considerable size, it is important that there should be uniformity of quality, hue and luster. Latterly the very dark colors have been most fashionable; but at the present time there appears to be a tendency toward the red or Vandyke brown. Only the best skins, however, will take the rich, dark color. Many skins are poor, and the fur is thin, in consequence of the animals having been killed in the summer season. This defect is easily seen by imitating the method of the trapper—holding the skin upside down and blowing gently, in order to see whether the fur is close and fine—a plan which applies to most other furs beside seal.

The wearing qualities of all furs depend largely on the care which is taken of them, and wearing them a few days in warm weather injures them more than months' use in cold weather. If a sealskin becomes wet from being caught in snow or rain, shake the water off and wipe with a soft, dry and perfectly clean cloth the way of the fur, which should run upward. Then hang the garment up to dry in a cool place, and, when dry, brush carefully, and no harm will result. If the fur should mat from neglect when wet, take it to a furrier, who will probably find no difficulty in restoring it to its original beauty and gloss.—Boston Herald.

Ample Evidence.

"See here, John Brown!" said Mrs. B. in a severe tone at breakfast to Mr. B., who had come in very late the night before and had a bad headache, "I want you to listen to this item which I find in the morning paper:

A LESSON.—A prominent citizen, while returning in a hilarious condition very late last night from "the lodge" was inveigled into a street den and robbed of every cent he had about him.

"Well," answered Mr. B., wriggling uneasily, "I don't see how that concerns me. I was kept a little late at the office, but you know I took nothing but a little stomach bitters for the dyspepsia."

"So you were not the prominent citizen who was robbed then?" said Mrs. B., with a look which required immediate attention.

"Certainly not," replied Mr. B., nearly dropping his coffee cup and fumbling nervously in his pockets. "Just see if I am," and he handed two ten-dollar bills and a five to her for examination.

"This is sufficient evidence," remarked Mrs. B., as she deftly transferred the cash to her pocket. "I will to-day buy that new bonnet I have been wanting so long."

Mr. Brown comes home early now.—Philadelphia Call.

Justice.

It would be hard to parallel in the world of business a finer sense of right and honor than that exhibited by the mother of a burglar who was sentenced in Philadelphia the other day to a term in prison. This mother came all the way from Baltimore after his conviction to make a restitution of nearly three hundred dollars stolen by her son, taking it from her savings stored away in an old leather bag, and handing it in a roll of bank notes, all of small denomination, to the Clerk of the Court. The money was handed to the Judge, but he declined to receive it. "Take it back," he said, "and tell this poor woman that the payment of this money will not save her son from prison. The law must be vindicated. Tell this lady this as kindly as you can, but tell her; for she must know just what she is doing." When the Court's words were conveyed to the waiting mother she wept hard, but said, "Oh, I understand, I didn't hope to save my boy from prison. I pay this money because I want to do what is right. Justice is justice."—Golden Rule.

—When ex-President Diaz visited in New Orleans about a year ago he dined with a distinguished party at the table of Major Burke. Next to him sat the bright little son of Major Burke, a lad of nine, who manifested a great interest in Diaz and a marked curiosity after information of Mexico. His questions evinced an intelligence that delighted Diaz and won his admiration. The joyous impression of the happy youth was carried about the world by the veteran, and he has just proved his appreciation of it by sending to the boy a handsome volume, in crushed morocco, beautifully illustrated, with the recipient's name, Lindsay Gaines Burke, done in gold letters on the cover.—N. O. Picayune.

—Chinamen at San Francisco greatly annoy postoffice clerks by rejecting letters addressed to them, paying only for such as they desire. The other day two packages were handed to a Chinaman, who stood some time irresolutely with a package in each hand. "Well, are you not going to pay for them?" asked the clerk. Handing one package back, John answered: "Don't want that; pay for this one." "If both are for you, why don't you take them?" Pointing to the rejected bundle, the heathen replied: "Know what he say in it; say same tings ebery time; no use pay for what I know."—San Francisco Chronicle.

—W. M. Kimball, who died in Blackstone, Mass., a few days ago, in the midst of extreme filth and squalor, was a very prosperous physician forty years ago. On preparing his body for burial the attendants were surprised to find a dirty pouch strapped upon his back, in which was nearly $11,000 in bank bills, while in his trousers pocket was found a wallet containing $1,000. All over the premises were evidences of pinching want, but concealed in various places about the room were coin and bank bills to the extent of nearly $80,000.—Boston Transcript.

—When an Albany news-carrier was going his rounds Monday morning he found a man lying on the street mostly covered with snow and began to kick him so as to stir him up; but he might have kicked the prostrate form three straight weeks without effect, for the man was dead. The dead man was Robert Carson, a well-known citizen, who had fallen in the night with an attack of heart disease, and frozen to death.—Albany Journal.

—At a recent meeting of an Ohio farmers' club, the members stated that when potatoes fell lower than forty cents per bushel in price it did not pay to sell them, as greater profit could be derived by feeding them to stock, by which means transportation was saved, while the manure was also an item in the matter.—Cleveland Herald.

THE MARKETS.

CINCINNATI, January 19, 1884.

LIVE STOCK—Cattle—common	$2 00	@	3 25
Choice butchers	4 50	@	5 25
HOGS—Common	4 50	@	5 15
Good packers	5 50	@	5 90
SHEEP	4 00	@	4 50
FLOUR—Family	4 50	@	4 85
GRAIN—Wheat—Longberry red	1 05	@	1 07
No. 2 red	1 00	@	1 01
Corn—No. 2 mixed	51	@	52
Oats—No. 2 mixed	37	@
Rye—No. 2	63	@
HAY—Timothy No. 1	10 50	@	11 00
HEMP—Double dressed	8 75	@	9 00
PROVISIONS—Pork—Mess	15 00	@	15 25
Lard—Prime steam	8 60	@
BUTTER—Fancy Dairy	23	@	25
Prime Creamery	30	@	34
FRUIT AND VEGETABLES—
Potatoes per bar. from store	1 25	@	1 50
Apples, prime, per barrel	3 25	@	3 50
NEW YORK.
FLOUR—State and Western	$2 65	@	3 35
Good to choice	3 20	@	6 00
GRAIN—Wheat—No. 2 spring	1 06	@	1 09
No. 2 red	1 09¼	@	1 13¼
Corn—No. 2 mixed	66	@
Oats—mixed	39	@	41
PORK—Mess	14 75	@	15 00
CHICAGO.
FLOUR—State and Western	$3 50	@	4 35
GRAIN—Wheat—No. 2 red	89¼	@	90¼
Corn—No. 2	52	@	52½
Oats—No. 2	32¼	@	33
Rye	57½	@
PORK—Mess	14 40	@	14 50
LARD—Steam	8 85	@	8 90
BALTIMORE.
FLOUR—Family	$4 90	@	5 75
GRAIN—Wheat—No. 2 red	1 04¾	@	1 05
Corn—mixed	59½	@	60½
Oats—mixed	42	@	43
PROVISIONS—Pork—Mess	15 25	@
Lard—Refined	10	@
LOUISVILLE.
FLOUR—A No 1	$4 00	@	4 50
GRAIN—Wheat—No. 2 red, new	1 02	@	1 03
Corn—mixed	52
Oats—mixed	36	@	36½
PORK—MESS	14 75	@
INDIANAPOLIS.
WHEAT—No. 2, red, new	$ 97	@
CORN—mixed	46¼	@
OATS—mixed	34½	@
LIVE STOCK—Cattle
Butchers' stock	2 75	@	3 00
Shipping cattle	5 25	@

Out in Arizona.

HON. A. W. SHELDON, Associate Justice, Supreme Bench of Arizona Territory, writes as follows: "It affords me great pleasure to say, from my personal observation, and you know the scope of such has been very extended, that St. Jacobs Oil is the great and wonderful conqueror of pain, the sovereign cure for all bodily aches and pains, and I cheerfully bear this testimony."

WHY is love like a potato? Because it shoots from the eyes.

MANY PERSONS in Pittston are using Ely's Cream Balm, a Catarrh remedy, with most satisfactory results. A lady is recovering the sense of smell which she had not enjoyed for fifteen years. She had given up her case as incurable. Mr. Barber has used it in his family and commends it very highly. A Tunkhannock lawyer, known to many of our readers, testifies that he was cured of partial deafness.—Pittston (Pa.) Gazette.

THE horse-shoe doesn't bring good luck when the horse applies it.

The Record of the Fairs.

The superiority of Wells, Richardson & Co.'s Improved Butter Color over all others made, is again demonstrated by its record at the Autumnal Fairs. The test of practical use is what tells the story, and the great value of the premiums given by the Agricultural Fairs, lies in the fact, that the judges in these cases are regular farmers, who know what their needs are and what will supply them. Wells, Richardson & Co.'s Improved Butter Color, which has taken first premium at all fairs where exhibited, is put up in a vegetable oil so prepared that it can not become rancid, a most important property, the lack of which is fatal to so many of the Butter-Colors offered for sale. It does not color the buttermilk; it imparts a bright natural color, which is unattained by many others; and being the strongest is the cheapest Color in the market.

THE life giving properties of impure blood are restored by using Samaritan Nervine.

Solid Comfort.

Every one likes to take solid comfort and it may be enjoyed by every one who keeps Kidney-Wort in the house and takes a few doses at the first symptoms of an attack of Malaria, Rheumatism, Biliousness, Jaundice or any affection of the Liver, Kidneys or Bowels. It is a purely vegetable compound of roots, leaves and berries known to have special value in kidney troubles. Added to these are remedies acting directly on the Liver and Bowels. It removes the cause of disease and fortifies the system against new attacks.

I HAVE been entirely cured of a terrible case of Blood Poisoning by the use of Swift's Specific (S. S. S.) after trying everything known to the medical people without relief. JNO. S. TAGGART, Salamanca, N. Y.

AN eminent physician first prescribed Piso's Cure for Consumption.

A DANGEROUS AMBUSCADE.

Discovered Barely in Time—The Most Deceptive and Luring of Modern Evils Graphically Described.

[Syracuse Journal.]

Something of a sensation was caused in this city yesterday by a rumor that one of our best known citizens was about to publish a statement concerning some unusual experiences during his residence in Syracuse. How the rumor originated it is impossible to say, but a reporter immediately sought Dr. S. G. Martin, the gentleman in question, and secured the following interview:

"What about this rumor, Doctor, that you are going to make a public statement of some important matters?"

"Just about the same as you will find in all rumors—some truth; some fiction. I had contemplated making a publication of some remarkable episodes that have occurred in my life, but have not completed it as yet."

"What is the nature of it, may I inquire?"

"Why, the fact that I am a human being instead of a spirit. I have passed through one of the most wonderful ordeals that perhaps ever occurred to any man. The first intimation I had of it was several years ago, when I began to feel chilly at night and restless after retiring. Occasionally this would be varied by a soreness of the muscles and cramps in my arms and legs. I thought, as most people would think, that it was only a cold and so paid as little attention to it as possible. Shortly after this I noticed a peculiar catarrhal trouble and my throat also became inflamed. As if this were not variety enough I felt sharp pains in my chest, and a constant tendency to headache."

"Why didn't you take the matter in hand and check it right where it was?"

"Why doesn't everybody do so? Simply because they think it is only some trifling and passing disorder. These troubles did not come all at once and I thought it unmanly to heed them. I have found, though, that every physical neglect must be paid for and with large interest. Men can not draw drafts on their constitution without honoring them sometimes. These minor symptoms I have described, grew until they were giants of agony. I became more nervous: had a strange fluttering of the heart, an inability to draw a long breath and an occasional numbness that was terribly suggestive of paralysis. How I could have been so blind as not to understand what this meant I can not imagine."

"And did you do nothing?"

"Yes, I traveled. In the spring of 1879 I went to Kansas and Colorado, and while in Denver, I was attacked with a mysterious hemorrhage of the urinary organs and lost twenty pounds of flesh in three weeks. One day after my return I was taken with a terrible chill and at once advanced to a very severe attack of pneumonia. My left lung soon entirely filled with water and my legs and body became twice their natural size. I was obliged to sit upright in bed for several weeks in the midst of the severest agony, with my arms over my head, and in constant fear of suffocation."

"And did you still make no attempt to save yourself?"

"Yes, I made frantic efforts. I tried every thing that seemed to offer the least prospect of relief. I called a council of doctors and had them make an exhaustive chemical and microscopical examination of my condition. Five of the best physicians of Syracuse and several from another city said I must die!

It seems as though their assertion was true, for my feet became cold, my mouth parched, my eyes wore a fixed, glassy stare, my body was covered with a cold, clammy death sweat, and I read my fate in the anxious expressions of my family and friends.

"But the finale?"

"Came at last. My wife aroused to desperation, began to administer a remedy upon her own responsibility, and while I grew better very slowly, I gained ground surely until, in brief, I have no trace of the terrible Brights disease from which I was dying, and am a perfectly well man. This may sound like a romance, but it is true, and my life, health and what I am are due to Warner's Safe Cure, which I wish was known to and used by the thousands who, I believe, are suffering this minute as I was originally. Does not such an experience as this justify me in making a public statement?"

"It certainly does. But then Bright's disease is not a common complaint, doctor."

"Not common! On the contrary it is one of the most common. The trouble is, few people know they have it. It has so few marked symptoms until its final stages that a person may have it for years, each year getting more and more in its power, and not suspect it. It is quite natural I should feel enthusiastic over this remedy while my wife is even more so than I am. She knows of its being used with surprising results by many ladies for their own peculiar ailments, over which it has singular power."

The statement drawn out by the above interview is amply confirmed by very many of our most prominent citizens, among them being Judge Reigel and Colonel James S. Goodrich, of the Times, while General Dwight H. Bruce and Rev. Prof. W. P. Coddington, D. D., give the remedy their heartiest endorsement. In this age of wonders, surprising things are quite common but an experience so unusual as that of Dr. Martin's and occurring here in our midst, may well cause comment and teach a lesson. It shows the necessity of guarding the slightest approach of physical disorder and by the means which has been proven the most reliable and efficient. It shows the depth to which one can sink and yet be rescued, and it proves that few people need suffer if these truths are observed.

Walnut Leaf Hair Restorer

Is entirely different from all others. It is as clear as water, and, as its name indicates, is a perfect Vegetable Hair Restorer. It will immediately free the head from dandruff, restore grey hair to its natural color, and produce a new growth where it has fallen off. It does not in any manner affect the health, which Sulphur, Sugar of Lead and Nitrate of Silver preparations have done. It will change light or faded hair in a few days to a beautiful glossy brown. Ask your druggist for it. Each bottle is warranted. JOHN D. PARK & SONS, Wholesale Agents, Cincinnati, Ohio, and C. N. CRITTENTON, N. Y.

A Messenger of Health.

Sent free to sufferers from nervous, chronic and blood diseases, brain and heart affections, nervous debility, exhaustion, etc., who have failed to find relief. It tells of wonderful cures effected by Dr. Scott's Coca, Beef and Iron, with Phosphorus. Sold by druggists; $1. Dr. Scott, Kansas City, Mo. Ask your druggist for pamphlet.

GEN. JOHN A. LOGAN has used Durang's Rheumatic Remedy for rheumatism with splendid results. It is taken internally and cures at once the worst cases. Ask your druggist for it or send for free pamphlet to R. K. Helphenstine, Washington, D. C.

☞ Pretty as a Picture. Twenty-four beautiful colors of the Diamond Dyes, for Silk, Wool, Cotton, &c., 10c. each. A child can use with perfect success. Get at once at your druggists. Wells, Richardson & Co., Burlington, Vt.

SWIFT'S SPECIFIC (S. S. S.) has cured me entirely of bad Blood Poison. I went one hundred miles to get it, and it made me as sound as a new dollar. J. W. WEYLES, Meadville, Pa.

BROWN'S BRONCHIAL TROCHES for Coughs and Colds: "There is nothing to be compared with them."—Rev. O. D. Watkins, Walton, Ind. Sold only in boxes.

Hale's Honey of Horehound and Tar

Stop the most violent explosions of coughing. Pike's Toothache drops cure in one minute.

GARDENERS, Farmers and Dealers send stamp for Ruhlmann's Great Wheel-Hoe Circulars. Ruhlmann, Lockport, N. Y.

FROM Magnolia, Ark., Mr. T. J. Gunnols, writes: "Samaritan Nervine cured my son's fits."

IF afflicted with Sore Eyes, use Dr. Isaac Thompson's Eye Water. Druggists sell it. 25c.

St. Jacobs Oil

THE GREAT GERMAN REMEDY For Pain! Relieves and cures RHEUMATISM, Neuralgia, SCIATICA, LUMBAGO, BACKACHE, Headache, Toothache, SORE THROAT, QUINSY, SWELLINGS, SPRAINS, Soreness, Cuts, Bruises, FROSTBITES, BURNS, SCALDS, And all other bodily aches and pains. FIFTY CENTS A BOTTLE. Sold by all Druggists and Dealers. Directions in 11 languages. The Charles A. Vogeler Co. (Successors to A. VOGELER & CO.) Baltimore, Md., U. S. A. (1)

HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED

STOMACH BITTERS

The necessity for prompt and efficient household remedies is daily growing more imperative, and of these Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is the chief in merit and the most popular. Irregularity of the stomach and bowels, malarial fevers, liver complaint, debility, rheumatism and minor ailments are thoroughly conquered by this incomparable family restorative and medicinal safe-guard, and it is justly regarded as the purest and most comprehensive remedy of its class. For sale by all Druggists and Dealers generally.

CATARRH ELY'S CREAM BALM

HAY-FEVER

when applied by the finger into the nostrils, will be absorbed, effectually cleansing the head of catarrhal virus, causing healthy secretions. It allays inflammation, protects the membrane of the nasal passages from additional colds, completely heals the sores and restores taste and smell. A few applications relieve. A thorough treatment will positively cure. Agreeable to use. Send for circular. Price 50 cents by mail or at druggists. Ely Brothers, Druggists, Owego, N.Y.

PATENTS Procured or no charge, also Trade Marks, Labels, etc. Large illustrated book of patent law FREE. Long experience. Highest references. W. T. FITZGERALD, Attorney at Law, 1006 F Street, Washington, D.C.

Easy to use. A certain cure. Not expensive. Three months' treatment in one package. Good for Cold in the Head, Headache, Dizziness, Hay Fever, &c. Fifty cents. By all Druggists, or by mail. E. T. HAZELTINE, Warren, Pa.

CANCER AND TUMORS Treated scientifically and cured without the knife. Book on treatment sent free. Drs. Gratigny & Norris 204 W. 4th St., Cincinnati, O.

CHICAGO SCALE CO. 151 South Jefferson Street, Chicago, Ill. 2-Ton Wagon Scale, $40; 4-Ton $60. "Little Detective," $3. Send for Price List

PATENTS promptly procured in all countries. American Patent Agency, 185 Fifth Street, Cincinnati, Ohio.

$250 A MONTH. Agents Wanted. 90 best selling articles in the world. 1 sample FREE. Address JAY BRONSON, DETROIT, MICH.

COLEMAN BUSINESS COLLEGE, Newark, N. J. Terms $40. Positions for graduates; write for circular.

$4,444 a Year at home. Terms and costly outfit free. Address H. A. ELLS & Co., Chicago.

LIST OF DISEASES ALWAYS CURABLE BY USING

MEXICAN MUSTANG LINIMENT.

OF HUMAN FLESH.	OF ANIMALS
Rheumatism,	Scratches,
Burns and Scalds,	Sores and Galls,
Stings and Bites,	Spavin, Cracks,
Cuts and Bruises,	Screw Worm, Grub,
Sprains & Stitches,	Foot Rot, Hoof Ail,
Contracted Muscles,	Lameness,
Stiff Joints,	Swinny, Founders,
Backache,	Sprains, Strains,
Eruptions,	Sore Feet,
Frost Bites,	Stiffness,

and all external diseases, and every hurt or accident. For general use in family, stable and stock-yard, it is

THE BEST OF ALL LINIMENTS

KIDNEY-WORT

DOES WONDERFUL CURES OF KIDNEY DISEASES AND LIVER COMPLAINTS, Why? Because it acts on the LIVER, BOWELS and KIDNEYS at the same time.

Because it cleanses the system of the poisonous humors that develope in Kidney and Urinary Diseases, Biliousness, Jaundice, Constipation, Piles, or in Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Nervous Disorders and all Female Complaints. ☞ SOLID PROOF OF THIS.

IT WILL SURELY CURE CONSTIPATION, PILES, and RHEUMATISM, By causing FREE ACTION of all the organs and functions, thereby CLEANSING the BLOOD restoring the normal power to throw off disease. THOUSANDS OF CASES of the worst forms of these terrible diseases have been quickly relieved, and in a short time PERFECTLY CURED.

PRICE, $1. LIQUID OR DRY, SOLD BY DRUGGISTS. Dry can be sent by mail. WELLS, RICHARDSON & Co., Burlington, Vt. Send stamp for Diary Almanac for 1884.

KIDNEY-WORT

SAMARITAN NEVER FAILS NERVINE THE GREAT NERVE CONQUEROR

A SPECIFIC FOR Epilepsy, Spasms, Convulsions, Falling Sickness, St. Vitus Dance, Alcoholism, Opium Eating, Scrofula, Kings Evil, Ugly Blood Diseases, Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Sick Headache, Rheumatism, Nervous Weakness, Brain Worry, Blood Sores, Biliousness, Costiveness, Nervous Prostration, Kidney Troubles and Irregularities. $1.50.

Sample Testimonials.

"Samaritan Nervine is doing wonders." Dr. J. O. McLemoin, Alexander City, Ala.

"I feel it my duty to recommend it." Dr. D. F. Laughlin, Clyde, Kansas.

"It cured where physicians failed." Rev. J. A. Edie, Beaver, Pa.

☞ Correspondence freely answered. ☜ (17)

THE DR. S. A. RICHMOND MED. CO., ST. JOSEPH, MO. Sold by All Druggists. LORD, STOUTENBURG & CO., Agents, Chicago, Ill.

This porous plaster is absolutely the best ever made, combining the virtues of hops with gums, balsams and extracts. HOP PLASTER Its power is wonderful in curing diseases where other plasters simply relieve. Crick in the Back and Neck, Pain in the Side or Limbs, Stiff Joints and Muscles, Kidney Troubles, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Sore Chest, Affections of the Heart and Liver, and all pains or aches in any part cured instantly by the Hop Plaster. ☞ Try it. Price 25 cents or five for $1.00. Mailed on receipt of price. Sold by all druggists and country stores. LAME BACK Hop Plaster Company, —Proprietors, Boston, Mass.—

☞ For constipation, loss of appetite and diseases of the bowels take Hawley's Stomach and Liver Pills. 25 cents.

VIGOR, HEALTH AND LIFE Is found in the Great Modern Discovery, DR. SCOTT'S Coca, Beef and Iron (With Phosphorus.) Possessing marvelous curative virtues in all forms of Nervous Debility, Brain, Heart and Nervous Diseases, Dyspepsia, Weak Lungs, Nerve Exhaustion, &c. $1.00 per bottle; 6 bottles $5.00. Send stamp for the "Messenger of Health," and read of wonderful cures effected by Coca, Beef and Iron, or ask your Druggist for it. Address DR. C. W. SCOTT, Kansas City, Mo.

Free Information About The South-West. Kansas, Colorado, Utah, New Mexico, Arizona, California and Old Mexico offer the best field for Farmers, Fruit-Growers, Stock-Raisers, Capitalists, Merchants, Miners and Mechanics of all trades. Maps, papers and pamphlets, giving detailed information mailed free on application to C. B. SCHMIDT, Commissioner of Immigration, A. T. & S. F. R. R., TOPEKA, KANSAS.

$20 a day is made, making and selling these RIDING SAWING MACHINES: They will saw off a 2 foot log in 2 minutes. Endorsed by congressmen from every State. We sell machines or the right to make them. Any farmer can make them. Circulars free. WM. GILES, Washington, D.C.

CONSUMPTION. I have a positive remedy for the above disease; by its use thousands of cases of the worst kind and of long standing have been cured. Indeed, so strong is my faith in its efficacy, that I will send TWO BOTTLES FREE, together with a VALUABLE TREATISE on this disease, to any sufferer. Give Express and P. O. address. DR. T. A. SLOCUM, 181 Pearl St., New York.

WEBSTER'S UNABRIDGED. An ever-present and reliable school master to the whole family. A Library in itself. G. & C. MERRIAM & CO., Pub's, Springfield, Mass.

PILES "Anakesis" gives instant relief, and is an infallible cure for Piles. Price $1 from druggists, or sent prepaid by mail. Samples free. Ad. "ANAKESIS," Makers, Box 2416, New York.

"THE BEST IS THE CHEAPEST." SAW MILLS, ENGINES THRESHERS, Horse Powers, (For all sections and purposes.) Write for Free Pamphlet and Prices to The Aultman & Taylor Co., Mansfield, Ohio.

PATENTS NO PATENT, NO PAY! R. S. & A. P. LACEY, Patent Attorneys, Washington, D. C. Full instructions and Hand-Book of Patents sent free.

PENSIONS speedily procured; delayed cases completed. Lost Home Claims collected. No advance fee. Experience 18 years. Write for circular. References. A. W. McCORMICK, 59 Pike's B'g, Cincinnati, O.

FOR LADIES USE.—The grandest article. Send stamp for illustrated circular. Dr. H. G. FARR, 75 Essex Street, Boston, Mass.

DIPHTHERIA CROUP, ASTHMA, BRONCHITIS, Neuralgia, Rheumatism. JOHNSON'S ANODYNE LINIMENT (for Internal and External Use) will instantly relieve these terrible diseases, and will positively cure nine cases out of ten. Information that will save many lives sent free by mail. Don't delay a moment. Prevention is better than cure. JOHNSON'S ANODYNE LINIMENT CURES Influenza, Hoarseness, Hacking Cough, Whooping Cough, Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Cholera Morbus, Kidney Troubles, and Lame Back. Sold everywhere. Circulars sent FREE. I. S. JOHNSON & CO., Boston, Mass.

Poison. Mercury and potash have made more cripples than war, pestilence and famine combined.

FOR LADIES.

I have been using for a month or two in my household, Swift's Specific (S. S. S.), the greater portion of it having been consumed by the female portion of my family, and with the happiest results. It acted like a charm on my wife, who had been in bad health for a long time, and for whom I have paid hundreds of dollars for doctors and medicines. It began to build her up from the first dose. Another female member of my family took it with equally satisfactory results. It is certainly the best tonic for delicate ladies that I have ever used, and I have tried them all. I have no doubt that want of exercise, close confinement in poorly ventilated houses, sewer gas poison and malarial poison often produce sickness among our wives, daughters and sisters, and I believe Swift's Specific is the remedy for all this sort of blood poisoning. F. L. JONES, J. P., Quitman, Ga.

Our treatise on Blood and Skin Diseases mailed free to applicants. THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., Drawer 3, Atlanta, Ga.

ST. PATRICK'S SALVE TRY IT USE IT It relieves at once Burns, Piles, Chapped Hands or Lips, Corns, Bunions, Scalds, Bruises, Soreness of feet, hands, eyes, etc.; Itching from any cause. 25c. Ask your druggist, or send to 93 Fulton Street, N. Y.

A. N. K.—E. 962

HAIR Wigs & Waves sent C.O.D. anywhere. Wholesale & Retail. Price-list free. Goods guaranteed. B. C. STREHL, 157 Wabash-av., Chicago.

BOONE COUNTY RECORDER.

VOLUME IX. BURLINGTON, KY., WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 30, 1884. NUMBER 13.

COAL MINE HORROR.

An Explosion, Presumably From Fire Damp, in a Colorado Mine.

Fifty-seven Supposed to Have Perished—Little Hope That Any Will be Rescued Alive.

DENVER, COL., January 24.—A frightful calamity occurred at eight o'clock this morning at Crested Butte, this State, by an explosion in the Colorado Coal and Iron Company's mine. The loss of life is now placed at fifty-seven men. Several are wounded. Of the sixty-odd men supposed to have been in the mine at the time of the disaster, only five are now reported saved. Eleven men were descending the shaft when the explosion occurred. They had scarcely commenced their descent when they were thrown violently out of the mouth of the shaft far into the air, the flames following, the explosion seeming to lift them. All of these eleven men were more or less injured. One was killed outright. The explosion was of such force as to entirely wreck the engine and engine-house, which were located fully one hundred feet from the entrance to the mine. The explosion shook the country for miles around, and many people at a distance thought it was an earthquake somewhere in the mountains. Within a few minutes the scene at the mine was one of consternation. All the people in the little village of Crested Butte were crowding the entrance of the mine, all of them without exception bemoaning the fate of some relative or friend in the depth of the burning abyss. It was thought that all the miners at work in the mine when the explosion occurred were then dead, either killed outright or smothered; but each one was anxious to learn the worst, and was willing to do all in his power to assist the dead or wounded out of the mine. A hundred men from the Messa mine adjoining were soon on the scene and ready for work; but it was several hours before they could think of entering the mine, owing to the foul air. The explosion was of such force as to do much damage to the appliances for supplying fresh air to the mine, and it proved impossible to operate it. There was, on this account, no such thing as entering the mine, because of the fire-damp; and relatives and friends were compelled to remain on the outside, unable to supply the least succor to those known to be dying on the other side. The men employed in the mine were generally foreigners, there being a mixture of Irish, Scotch, Cornishmen, Welsemen, Swedes and Germans, as well as a few Americans. Meantime word had been sent to Gunnison City, thirty miles away, for medical assistance, as there was not a doctor in Crested Butte. A special train with nearly all the physicians in Gunnison on board was immediately started for the scene. At one o'clock in the afternoon the fanning machinery was repaired and the work of pumping air into the mine was begun. It is supposed the explosion was caused by fire-damp.

DENVER, January 25.—For thirty-six hours a force of from twenty to thirty men has been constantly at work searching for the dead bodies of the miners buried in the Crested Buttes mine. The work is necessarily very slow, as the mine is badly choked up with piles of displaced timbers, heaps of coal, rock and other obstructions. At noon to-day ten bodies had been found. These were all in the main entry, and being subjected to the full force of the blast were terribly burned and blackened. In several cases arms and legs were found broken and the bodies otherwise mutilated. In this entry were also found the carcasses of nine mules and a large number of empty coal cars, which had been battered out of all shape. Workmen gained entrance to chamber number one, but found no bodies there. Searching further eighteen bodies were found, almost in a heap, in the air passage leading to the up-cast near the entrance. The men, alarmed, but not injured by the explosion, had evidently attempted to reach the furnace-room, and were overcome by the afterdamp when within two hundred feet of it. Fifty feet further back six more bodies were found. All had evidently been suffocated. Some had tied their handkerchiefs over their mouths. This makes a total of thirty-four bodies found up to this time, and includes all who were at work in chamber No. 1. These bodies are now being brought out to the main entry, and will soon be brought to the surface. Workmen will then begin search for the bodies in chamber No. 2. This latter is further into the mine, and is undoubtedly where the explosion took place. It is expected that the bodies there will be found badly burned. It is now known there were fifty-nine men and boys in the mine. The cause of the explosion is not yet definitely known. The mine has been subjected to gas, but the owners have done everything possible to overcome this by the use of the latest and best appliances. General Palmer, President of the Crested Buttes Coal Mining Company, sent a personal donation of $1,000 to-day for the immediate relief of the families of the unfortunates.

The National Board of Trade.

WASHINGTON, January 25.—In the National Board of trade to-day resolutions were adopted reciting the enormous value of property annually consumed by fire in this country, and recommending to Congress the appointment of a board to investigate the causes of such a great waste of the country's wealth; requesting Congress to repeal the law making the coinage of silver dollars compulsory; recommending to Congress the passage of the measure now pending before Congress to allow the President the privilege of vetoing separate items of appropriation bills.

Fred Douglass Remarries.

WASHINGTON, January 24.—Fred Douglass, the well known colored leader, was married in this city this evening, to Miss Helen M. Pitts, a white woman, formerly of Avon, N. Y. The wedding took place at the house of Dr. Grimke, of the Presbyterian Church, and was private, only two witnesses being present. The first wife of Douglass, who was a colored woman, died about a year ago. The woman he married to-day is about thirty-five years of age, and was employed as a copyist in his office while he was marshal of the district. Douglass himself is about seventy-three years of age, and has daughters as old as his present wife.

A TERRIBLE STORY.

A Sane Man's Children Incarcerate Him in a Mad House.

NEW YORK, January 25.—James B. Silkman, sixty years of age, has lived for over twenty years in Yonkers. His family consists of his wife and four children, one son and three daughters. Mrs. Silkman died over five years ago and bequeathed to her children a house and lots valued at $25,000. The husband was appointed trustee of the estate, in which he had a life interest. It is alleged that his son, Theodore H., aged about twenty-six, instigated by his uncle, Darius Crosby, began alterations in the house which Mrs. Silkman had bequeathed her children without consulting his father, and in opposition to the father's wishes. Mr. Silkman protested, a quarrel ensued with the son and Crosby, who ordered the father to leave the premises. A threat made by Silkman "to expose certain discrepancies in certain marriages and births" in Mr. Crosby's family it is asserted provoked Crosby's resentment. A few evenings afterward, May 19, 1882, Silkman was attending a lecture in the house of Everett Gale, at Yonkers, when the bell rang. Silkman, going to the door, was confronted by three officers, who arrested him, placed him in a carriage, and conveyed him to the White Plains. It is charged that on the next day, without being taken before Judge Gifford, who had issued the warrant for his arrest, he was taken to Utica and placed in the State lunatic asylum. There he was detained until August, 23 1882, when Judge Barnes discharged him on the ground that he was not insane or of unsound mind, and his restraint or imprisonment was unlawful. The papers have just been served in a suit brought in the Supreme Court in Westchester County, by J. G. Silkman against Darius G. Crosby, in which the latter is charged with instigating Silkman's incarceration in the lunatic asylum, and damages of $25,000 claimed. On entering the asylum he was locked up alone in a small cell or bedroom at 8 p. m., with no light, separated from all bodily comforts and friends, and no opportunity given him to communicate with any person in his interest. While in the mad house he was compelled to associate with ordinary poor-house patients, and those who were really insane, to listen to obscene language, to endure the privation of all decent sanitary arrangements, to eat poor house fare, such as wretched butter, soggy potatoes, and Long Island coffee, under threats of resort to the mouth screw and stomach tube in case of revolt. He charges that a letter which he wrote to an intimate friend, containing information concerning important papers, was sent by the asylum officials to Crosby, and that the papers mentioned were taken from the safe of his office and used as an effort to prevent his release after being altered for this purpose. Mr. Silkman is one of the managers of the Society for Promoting the Condition of the Insane.

A Bill on Pleuro-Pneumonia.

WASHINGTON, January 25.—The House Committee on Agriculture will to-morrow report a bill, prepared by the Committee of Cattlemen. A number of memorials from live-stock associations will accompany the bill; also a communication from Dr. E. Salmon, Veterinary Surgeon of the Department of Agriculture. The communication points out the dangers to the West by the existence of pleuro-pneumonia among cattle in the East, and reviews the extent of the disease in the latter section of the country. These infected districts, he says, though small, are a real danger to the whole country, because all the way from Connecticut and Virginia there are a large and increasing number of herds of thoroughbred cattle, which are frequently shipped West, and some of which, from time to time, have been infected with this disease.

Refused Him Burial.

NEW YORK, January 25.—Much excitement and indignation prevails among the colored residents of Hackensack, over the action of the Trustees of the Hackensack Cemetery, in refusing to permit the burial in the cemetery of Samuel Bass, the colored sexton of the First Baptist Church. The sexton died on Monday night last, and the officers of the Baptist Church, who took charge of the funeral arrangements, ordered a grave at the cemetery. Yesterday afternoon the funeral services were being held in the church, when a messenger entered and informed the church people that the Cemetery Trustees had withdrawn their consent to the burial because the deceased was colored.

A Man of Nerve.

DETROIT, January 24.—Last night William Rolf, a merchant of Collingwood, was aroused by a loud explosion in his store. Hastily dressing, he ran to ascertain the cause, whereupon five burglars assailed him with pistols, firing several shots. Being a man of nerve, and unwounded, Rolf showed fight, and the burglars left, fearing the arrival of assistance but on retreating they fired more volleys, in all ten or fifteen shots. While Rolf, still unharmed, was examining what had been stolen, the burglars returned, and appeared about to make another attack, but the appearance of some neighbors frightened them away.

A Claim Disallowed.

WASHINGTON, January 25.—The Senate Committee on Claims has made an adverse report on the claim of Thos. M. Reed, late of Paducah, Ky., for property destroyed during the war, valued at $5,973. This claim has been before Congress since 1871, and has had three favorable reports.

The Law Should Be Satisfied.

PANAMA, January 16.—For the murder of two Chilian soldiers at Queqnena six persons were shot to death, twenty received one hundred lashes each, and ten were sentenced in contumaciam to death and confiscation of property.

A Strange Wedding.

WHEELING, W. VA., January 25.—An old maid, Jane Catharine Payne, was married in Martinsburg W. Va., to Mrs. Annie Hinton. The groom has recently donned male apparel, and explains that physicians said there was no doubt of her perfect masculinity.

Detective Assassinated

VIENNA, January 25.—A detective, recently actively engaged in shadowing Socialists, was shot dead by an unknown assassin this morning at Florisdorif, a village four miles from this city.

DISASTROUS GALES

Sweep Over Great Britain and France,

Doing an Immense Amount of Damage to Shipping and Property, and Causing the Loss of Many Lives.

LONDON, January 27.—Great Britain was visited by a hurricane last night. During a performance at the Westminster Aquarium the glass roof was demolished, causing a panic. Several persons were injured. Many vessels were wrecked and a large number of lives lost. A boy was killed in a printing office by the unroofing of the building. At Paris the storm raged. Railway and telegraphic communication was broken in all directions and wires prostrated. Much damage in the suburbs. Many persons were injured in the streets. An immense number of lamps and windows were wrecked, trees uprooted, chimneys demolished. The railway station at Elmswell was hurled across the track. Seven bodies were washed ashore at Hythe. The steamer Frisia, at Plymouth, reports tremendous seas. A bark was towed into Dover with the masts literally torn out of the deck. Freethinkers' Hall, at Portsmouth, was destroyed. No boats were allowed to leave Portsmouth. Shops on the Isle of Wight closed early. A lady was knocked down by the wind and had her leg broken. At Newry, Ireland, many houses were unroofed. The police barracks were made untenable, and the police compelled to take refuge in the Court-house. The bark Nokomis, Captain Murphy, from Londonderry for Baltimore, was anchored in Lough Foyle. She parted her cables and was driven to sea. It is feared the vessel and crew were lost. Reports from all parts of the Kingdom agree that the gale was almost unparalleled for severity. At Monmouth, the Wye and Monnow Rivers burst their bounds and flooded the highways. Southampton and Eastbourne suffered severely. Railway traffic was greatly deranged. At Torquay there were many casualities, and many boats were swamped. The iron chapel at Newcastle went down. The falling roof killed a woman and two children. At Leeds the roof of a dwelling collapsed, killing one and injuring four occupants. The mail train between Durham and Darlington was twice stopped by the gale.

The Fisheries Exhibition Awards.

WASHINGTON, January 27.—The official list of the jury awards at the London Fisheries Exhibition shows 183 gold, 271 silver and 199 bronze medals. Eighty-nine diplomas of honor were awarded to foreign and colonial governments. The United States heads the list with forty-nine gold, forty-seven silver and twenty-nine bronze medals and twenty-four diplomas, equal to more than one-fifth of the entire number awarded. A special feature in the American awards is the large percentage of gold medals received, being nearly double those of any other country, and constituting more than one-fourth of the entire number. Norway ranks second, with twenty-eight gold medals; Sweden third, with twenty-seven, and Canada fourth, with seventeen. In addition to the medals and deplomas, seven special money prizes were awarded American exhibitors, and a large number of awards were given English agents for American products exhibited by them in the English department.

Casualties Among Coal Miners.

WILKESBARRE, PA., January 27.—The following statistics of casualities among the miners of the anthracite districts has been furnished by mine inspectors: During the year of 1883 there was a total of 1,976 accidents. Of these, 320 had fatal ending, making 153 widows and rendering fatherless 512 children. Those accidents are distributed among the various districts as follows: Pottsville, Samuel Gay, Inspector; 78 injured, 18 killed; 5 widows and 12 orphans. Shenandoah, Robert Manchline, Inspector; 183 injured, 47 killed; 24 widows, 79 orphans. Shamokin, James Ryan, Inspector; 168 injured, 64 killed; 29 widows, 119 orphans. Hazelton, Roderick, Inspector, 168 injured, 40 killed; 25 widows, 87 orphans. Wilkesbarre, G. M. Williams, Inspector; 400 injured, 88 killed; 36 widows, 95 orphans. Scranton, P. Blewitt, Inspector; 351 injured, 66 killed; 34 widows, 120 orphans. Estimating 31,000,000 tons as total production it gives an average of 96,000 tons to each death, 200,000 tons to each widow, and 60,000 to each orphan, caused in the development of the anthracite industry of Pennsylvania during the year. Falling roofs and gas explosions caused about 50 per cent. of casualties.

A Broken Back.

GALENA, ILL., January 27.—John McKernan, a well-known miner and railroad boss, was struck by a falling rock yesterday evening, while working in a drift of the Peru zinc diggings, near this city, and fatally injured, the blow breaking his back. He has a wife and several children.

A Rich Recluse.

KINGSTON, N. Y., January 27.—Letters of administration were issued on the estate of Hiram Radcliff, the recluse, to H. R. Romeyn Singer, the only heir. Personal property discovered, $150,000, half a barrel of pennies and also a note for $15,000.

Churches Mobbed in China.

SAN FRANCISCO, January 27.—Canton advices say the American Presbyterian and Roman Catholic missions in that city were wrecked by a native mob December 16th, and the property destroyed. No lives lost.

Tom Paine.

PHILADELPHIA, PENN., January 27.—The Liberal League of the city celebrated the 147th anniversary of the birth of Thomas Paine to-day with addresses, banquet and a lecture on the nature and progress of free thought in America.

—A French writer, who estimates that the world contains 193,000 doctors, complains that two of our most exasperating affections, asthma and catarrh, defy their utmost skill.

—W. A. Kemp, of Blanco County, Tex., has raised a sweet potato weighing twenty-five pounds.

—In the Yellowstone Park is a river which is hot on one side and cold on the other.—San Francisco Call.

XLVIIIth CONGRESS.

First Session.

WASHINGTON, January 23.—SENATE—Mr. Sewell, of the Committee on Military Affairs reported favorably the bill for the relief of Fitz John Porter. Mr. Harrison, in Mr. Logan's absence, said there would be a minority report. Mr. Sherman introduced a long preamble and resolution, reciting the circumstances connected with the election riot at Danville, Va., and the killing of Matthews in Copiah County, Mississippi. It instructs the Committee on Privileges and Elections to make a full investigation of the whole subject, and report by bill or otherwise. Mr. Sherman asked immediate consideration of the resolution. Under objection of Mr. Cockrell, it went over until to-morrow. Mr. Cockrell thought the gentleman offering it may, by to-morrow, desire to add a few more whereases. The Senate Committee on Public Lands agreed to report with favorable recommendation the bill repealing the timber culture act; also, Mr. Ingalls' bill to promote the efficiency of the General Land Office, increasing the salary of the Commissioner $1,000, and creating the office of Assistant Commissioner.

HOUSE.—Mr. Long introduced a joint resolution giving the thanks of Congress to Captain Eric Gabrielson, commanding the United States revenue steamer Dexter, and the officers and men under him, and the men who manned the Gay Head life-boat for brave conduct in rescuing survivors of the wrecked steamer "City of Columbus," and especially to Lieutenant Rhodes who twice swam to the steamer and rescued two men clinging to the rigging. Passed. Mr. Ellis of the Committee on Appropriations, reported a joint resolution appropriating $50,000 to support destitute Indians at Crow Agency, Fort Belknap, Fort Peck, and at the other Blackfeet agency in Montana. Passed. The Committe on Appropriations to-day agreed to report the bill appropriating $3,750,000 to pay the rebate on the tobacco tax. Mr. Dockery, from the Committee on Accounts, reported a resolution empowering the Committee in conducting the investigation now being made relative to the removal of employes at the close of last session to send for persons and papers. Adopted.

WASHINGTON, January 24.—SENATE.—Mr. Hale reported favorably the House joint resolution for the relief of the Greeley expedition. The Senate voted down all attempts to limit the expense of the expedition. After agreeing to an amendment providing that the relief party be volunteers, the joint resolution was agreed to. The Postmaster General held a consultation with the Senate Committee on Post Offices and Post Roads in relation to the use of mails by lottery companies. A sub-committee consisting of Senators Sawyer, Wilson and Jackson was appointed to consider the matter at greater length, and to further counsel the Postmaster General. Informal opinions of members of the Committee lead to the belief that they favor the exclusion from the mails of newspapers containing lottery advertisements, and withholding money orders and registered letters addressed to lottery companies. The Committee ordered a favorable report on the House bill making public highways of post roads.

HOUSE.—The Senate bill fixing the day of meeting of the elector for President and Vice-President, was referred. Mr. Cook introduced a bill providing that pensions for total disability be $20 a month, without regard to rank. Referred. Mr. Sumner, of California, introduced a bill to increase the efficiency of the Signal Service. Referred. Mr. Blanchford, of the Committee on Rivers and Harbors, reported a resolution calling on the Secretary of War for information as to an immediate appropriation for continuing work on important river and harbor improvements until the appropriations for the next fiscal year are available. Adopted. Mr. Wellborn reported a bill granting the right of way through the territory for the Gulf, Colorado & Santa Fe Road. Referred to Committee of the Whole. Mr. Hopkins reported a bill enlarging to $1,500,000 the appropriation for a public building at Pittsburg. Referred to Committee of the Whole. Mr. Young reported a bill for a public building at Chattanooga to cost $100,000. Referred to Committee of the Whole. Mr. Blount, of the Committee of Ways and Means, reported a resolution calling on the Secretary of the Treasury for information as to the number of customs and internal revenue collection districts, and cost of collecting internal revenue tax. Adopted. The House went into Committee of the Whole. Mr. Springer in the chair, on the bill making appropriations for the payment of the rebate tax on tobacco and the payment of expenses of the New Mexico Legislature.

WASHINGTON, January 25.—SENATE.—Mr. Blair introduced a bill to provide for the free circulation of newspapers other than periodical publications within the State where published. Referred. Mr. Cameron, of Wisconsin, presented a petition from the Merchants' Association of Milwaukee praying for retaliatory legislation against foreign nations who exclude American meat. The petitioners aver that the wines of these foreign countries are much adulterated and should be excluded. Referred. Mr. Sherman called up his resolution on the Virginia and Mississippi elections. Mr. Lamar hoped consideration would be postponed till Monday. Mr. Sherman had no objection provided it did not lose its position. Consideration postponed until Monday.

HOUSE.—The morning hour was dispensed with, and the House went into Committee of the whole, Mr. Springer in the chair, on the Fitz John Porter Bill. After considerable debate, without action the committee rose. The Senate bill was passed, providing for the removal of the remains of the late General Ord, from Havana to Washington. The Speaker laid before the House the response of the Secretary of the Navy to the House resolution, stating he has no knowledge of any service rendered by American officers or men to the British Navy in the bombardment of Alexandria. Referred. Also, a letter of the Postmaster General in response to a House resolution in regard to expenditures in the Star-route frauds, requesting the names of persons indebted to the Government and witnesses on whom the Government expected to rely in the prosecution of such persons. Referred. The Postmaster General informs the House that an itemized list of expenditures is being prepared, but it would be detrimental to the public interests to give the names of persons indebted to the Government, and the names of the proposed witnesses. Adjourned.

WASHINGTON, January 26.—SENATE.—Not in session.

HOUSE.—Mr. Hatch, of Missouri, of the Committee on Agriculture, reported a bill to create a bureau of animal industry, to prevent the exportation of diseased cattle, and to provide for the extirpation of pleuro-pneumonia, which was ordered printed. Recommitted. Mr. F. W. Rockewell, elected as representative from Massachusetts, to succeed Governor Robinson, appeared and took the oath of office. The House went into Committee of the Whole on the Fitz John Porter bill. Mr. Ray resumed his speech. After showing the liability of the Court Martial by which Mr. Porter was found guilty, and expressing the belief that if Mr. Lincoln had escaped the assassin's bullet he would have restored Mr. Porter, he went on to show it was within the power of Congress to set aside the verdict. Mr. Kay closed his speech with a brilliant peroration, in which he pictured the Marshal of the Army in a bright future, when there would be but one voice that refused to do justice to Fitz John Porter; that voice would be the voice of John Pope. Mr. Thomas, of Illinois, opposed the bill, denying the right of Congress, under the Constitution, to overturn the judgment of the Court Martial by which Porter was found guilty.

—Frank Steele, a life prisoner in the Kentucky State Penitentiary for murder, is said to have been permitted to attend the funeral of his father, Judge Steele, recently, unattended, upon the pledge of his relatives that he would return to the prison.—N. O. Times.

—A convict from New York, before arriving at Sing Sing on the train recently, took off all his outer clothing and handed it to a friend, so that the State should not have it. He walked from the station to the prison, over a mile, in his under-garments.—N. Y. Mail.

THE COMMONWEALTH.

Legislative Proceedings.

FRANKFORT, January 17.—SENATE—The joint resolution to elect a State Librarian on the 18th inst., was withdrawn from the House and a committee appointed to withdraw the same from the hands of the Governor. The Speaker appointed Senators Carpenter, Dixon, Sparks, Vaughan and Poole as a standing Committee on Retrenchment and Reform. A bill passed amending and reducing into one all the several acts incorporating the town of West Liberty, in Morgan County. Senator Walton called the attention of the Speaker to the fact that no committee had been appointed upon the subject of fish culture.

HOUSE.—The following bills were passed: A bill to repeal an act to amend an act, entitled "An act to extend the limits of the city of Frankfort." To amend the charter of Harrodsburg. To repeal an act entitled "An act to regulate the advertising of real estate and personal property under execution in Anderson County," etc. For the appointment of a stenographer reporter of evidence for the First Judicial District. To allow Ballard County to levy a tax for county purposes. To authorize the Carroll County Court to appropriate the surplus jail fund and twenty-cent tax fund. To authorize Gallatin County to borrow money and issue bonds therefor to pay off and fund the indebtedness at a lower rate of interest. Bills introduced: To incorporate the Kentucky Telephone and Telegraph Company. Referred. To repeal an act entitled "An act empowering the County Court of Campbell County to grant ferry rights to non-residents, approved April 21, 1882." Referred. For the benefit of the firemen of the city of Covington. Regulating the number of brakemen to be employed in the operation and running of all passenger trains in this Commonwealth. To amend the act commonly known as the Auditor's Agent Act.

FRANKFORT, January 18.—SENATE.—The following bills were passed: House bill to authorize the Clinton County Court to issue bonds and levy a tax. House bill to incorporate the Louisville Female College, of Louisville. A bill to incorporate the Covington and Cincinnati Bridge Company. A resolution was introduced requesting the Committee on Education to take into consideration the feasibility of having a reform system of text-books in the common schools. Referred.

HOUSE.—Bills passed: Senate bill to incorporate the Falmouth and Fishing Creek Turnpike Road Company. To incorporate the Covington and Cincinnati Pier Bridge Company. A Senate bill to amend the charter of the Eastern Kentucky Railway Company. Mr. Weddington introduced the following bill: A bill to prohibit the sale of spirituous, malt or vinous liquors within two and one-half miles of the Ashland Coal and Iron Railway, between the west end of Means Tunnel, in Carter County, and the east end of Eastham Tunnel, in Boyd County, or within two and one-half miles of either of said tunnels.

FRANKFORT, January 19.—SENATE.—Bills passed: Levying a tax upon the dogs in Boone County. To authorize the Cumberland County Court to levy an ad valorum tax. The Senate adjourned until Monday.

HOUSE.—Bills passed: For the benefit of the Judges of Green, Taylor, Bath and Lyon Counties. To authorize the County Court of Pulaski County to take stock in turnpike companies. To authorize Shelby County to purchase bonds of the Cumberland and Ohio Railroad Company. To repeal charter 390 of the local acts of 1881-82. To incorporate the Kentucky Telephone and Telegraph Company. To prohibit the sale or giving away of spirituous, vinous or malt Liquors in portions of Boyd and Carter Counties. To prevent the sale of liquors in a portion of Lincoln County. To prevent the sale of liquors in a portion of Grayson County. To prohibit the collection of toll by turnpike companies in Carroll and Mason Counties from persons attending religious worship. Adjourned FRANKFORT, January 21.—SENATE.—The following bills were passed: House bill repealing an act to incorporate the Cumberland River Improvement Company. House bill to authorize Carroll County to take stock in turnpike roads. Bill to authorize the County Court of Harrison County to subscribe stock to turnpike roads. Bills introduced: To incorporate the West Liberty Bridge Company, in Morgan County. House bill to amend an act to incorporate the Beattyville turnpike road. A bill to repeal an act to empower the County Court of Henderson County to subscribe stock to turnpike roads. A bill to authorize the Bourbon County Court to purchase file boxes, etc., to preserve the records.

Mr. Spurr—Charitable Institutions—reported that the nominations of the Governor with regard to the Eastern Lunatic Asylum be advised and consented to. Advised and consented to.

HOUSE—The bills passed were: A bill to amend an act entitled, "An Act to incorporate the Mt. Sterling and Carter County Mining and Manufacturing Company," approved April 23, 1873. A bill declaring Laurel Fork, of Rockcastle River, in Jackson County a navigable stream. A resolution was passed, and a committee appointed to withdraw from the Governor's hands the resolution appointing a committee to investigate the lunatic asylums of the States.

FRANKFORT, January 22.—SENATE.—Mr. Garnett reported a bill to incorporate the Lexington Roller Mills Company. Passed. Mr. Clark—A House bill to amend an act to authorize the county of Daviess to refund bonds issued by it to pay its subscription to the Owensboro and Russellville Railroad Company. Passed.

HOUSE.—Mr. Stone—A bill to prohibit the sale of spirituous, vinous and malt liquors in the town of Wadesborough. Passed. Same—A bill for the benefit of T. H. Waller, of Marshall County. Passed. Same—A bill giving J. C. Holloway, late Sheriff of Lyon County, the further time of two years to collect taxes due him. Passed. Mr. Tribbitt—A bill for the benefit of Abram S. Luther, of Marshall County. Passed. Mr. Mann—A Senate bill to amend an act to incorporate the Ohio River Water-works Company, approved March 2, 1888, with an amendment. Amendment adopted and bill passed. Mr. Carothers—A bill requiring the County Surveyor of Letcher County to keep his office and books at the county seat of said county. Amended by adding Johnson and Floyd Counties, and passed.

FRANKFORT, January 23.—SENATE.—Mr. Walton presented the following joint resolution: Resolved, That hereafter no one shall be eligible to the office of State Librarian except a male citizen over the age of twenty-one years, and that the salary of that office shall be $1,000 per year, and he shall not be entitled to compensation for an assistant or porter for said office. Referred to the Committee on Library. The joint resolution ordering an investigation of the officers of the several lunatic asylums in the State was adopted. A bill was reported adversely by the Committee on General Statutes, amending the revenue laws so that firms selling liquor shall pay $25 for the firm, instead of $25 for each member of it, and lost.

HOUSE.—Mr. Sheets, brought up the liberty of conscience bill, by asking leave to introduce a bill providing for liberty of conscience in this Commonwealth. Bills introduced: To regulate the fees of sheriffs in certain cases in this State. To authorize the governor to appoint a special policeman for the public square at Frankfort. To create a commission to revise the revenue and taxation laws of this Commonwealth. To amend an act to establish a superior court and to regulate the same. To empower circuit court judges to allow attorney's fees in certain cases. To amend the charter of the city of Covington. To facilitate the punishment of persons guilty of election bribery.

Miscellaneous Items.

PETER PEELITZER, an employe of Rehm's smoke-house in Butchertown, near Louisville, while engaged racking some meat a few days ago, lost his balance and fell twenty-two feet to the brick floor beneath, striking several obstructions in the descent. He was picked up unconscious, badly hurt internally, skull fractured and an arm broken.

WHILE Major T. P. Young, a farmer living near Owingsville, was doctoring a wild colt a few days ago, it reared up, and, falling on Mr. Young, broke his leg between the ankle and knee. The extreme age of the gentleman renders his recovery doubtful.

PEOPLE between Somerset and Danville, on the Southern Road, charge that they are practically shut out of the Cincinnati markets, owing to the fact that lower rates are given to shippers from Chattanooga than from the points named, which are less than half as distant.

THE DAIRY.

—When a cow's teats are too sore to be milked the udder can be easily relieved by inserting a small quill open at each end, first dipped in oil, into the point of the teat.

—It is common in some quarters to use any kind of salt for butter, but unless the best be used the butter will be inferior, and necessarily will sell low. It is economical to procure good salt for such purposes.

—The British Medical Journal says cows drink filthy water for its saline taste, and proposes an antidote in the shape of rock salt kept always in reach of the cows, and we suppose it would be a good idea to have the salt near the place where good water is to be had, so as to attract the cow to that locality.

—The retail price of cheese is too high. Merchants should be satisfied with a reasonable profit. They ask from fifty to one hundred per cent. profit, and there is not a particle of waste or shrinkage. There would be so much more cheese consumed if merchants would be reasonable upon the matter of price.—The Dairyman.

—We notice in our contemporaries many instructions to the effect that cream kept too cold will not churn readily. Our experience has always been that cream should be kept cold, but raised to 65 degrees in cold weather immediately before being churned in a room not colder than 60 degrees to make the best butter and to have the butter come in less than thirty minutes.—American Dairyman.

—Milch cows are generally doing double work at this season, and should be fed and cared for accordingly. It is folly to milk a cow up to within a few days of calving; it is running the animal machine at a reckless speed, and a break will come somewhere. Highly-fed cows require a reduction of rations as the period of calving approaches. This is especially true of high-bred animals which are more or less pampered. The young stock, when infested with lice, should have a mixture of equal parts of sweet oil and kerosene rubbed thoroughly upon the surface of the skin.—Coleman's Rural.

—A dairy farmer says that his herd of cows, which had usually been supplied with water from pipes and troughs in the stalls were, on account of an obstruction in the pipes, obliged to be turned out twice a day, while the weather was cold, to be watered in the yard. The quantity of milk instantly decreased, and in three days the falling off became very considerable. After the pipes were mended and the cows again watered as before in their stalls the flow of milk returned. Cows when giving milk are more sensitive to the cold than when they are dry, and exposure to the severe cold interferes with the secretion of the milk.—Chicago Tribune.

—The following note on the keeping qualities of English cheese is from the provision trade circular issued by Thomas Downes, Fenning's wharf, Tooley Street, London, S. E.: "In reference to make and quality of cheese in American factories they can never be equal in quality to skilled English dairy farmers, whose wives look after the making. English cow-keepers who do not make good cheese find it more profitable, and less laborious, to sell their milk, and this steadily increases, fortunately for consumers, so do imports of American. Probably half our consumption is foreign, and quotations are a good test of quality. English improves by keeping; American deteriorates."

Winter Care of Milk.

—Proper care of the milk is an essential requisite to successful winter dairying. Formerly, through mismanagement in the care of the milk, only very inferior butter was made during the winter, and not much of that. It was not thought possible to make a real nice quality of butter in the winter, and nearly every dairyman planned to have his cows go dry in the winter. Of late years, however, it has been found that butter of just as good quality can be made in winter as in summer, and large quantities are now produced during that season. Some dairymen find it most profitable to do most of their butter making in winter and let their cows go dry in the hot months of summer, just reversing the former practice. Better prices prevail in winter; there is more leisure at that season for attending to the dairy, and by having the cows come in some time in the fall or first of the winter, feeding good food and keeping them warm and comfortable, nearly or quite as much milk can be obtained in winter as in summer. It is just as easy to manage the milk in a proper manner in winter as in summer. It is quite as easy to regulate the temperature of the milk room in winter as in summer, and upon a proper regulation of the temperature depends to a large extent the success of dairying in winter. The method of setting milk is important. Some prefer the deep setting, and others the method of setting in shallow pans. Some interesting experiments have been made in Germany at the Radon experiment station, in Mecklenburg, to determine the best method of setting milk. The experiments were made especially to determine how completely the cream was separated by the Swartz system of deep setting, at a temperature of 36° to 40°, and also the length of time which should be allowed for the cream to rise in order to secure the best results. The tin vessels used for setting were of the usual shape, sixteen to eighteen inches deep, and held about sixty-six pounds of milk. Parallel experiments were also made by the Holstein method, which had been in force in that part of Germany, and which consists in setting the milk in shallow pans, so that the milk is not more than two inches deep, and keeping the temperature between 54° and 59°. The average result of the these experiments showed that, with the deep setting at 40°, the yield of fat was about two per cent. more than with the Holstein method at 57°, at the end of twelve and also twenty-four hours, but after thirty-six hours there was very little difference between the yield by the two methods, although what difference there was was in favor of the Holstein method of shallow setting.

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

A HOTEL waiter avers that the first named soup on a bill of fare is always the best.

RABBITS furnish no inconsiderable part of the meat supply of this country. Millions of them are eaten during the winter months.

THE list of persons frozen to death this winter is astonishingly large. Destitution and intoxication are generally the assigned causes.

ONE of the Paulsen brothers, champion Norwegian skaters, now in this country, has a record of 165 English miles in nine hours and twenty minutes.

A RECENT writer suggest that the first practical step toward the preservation of our woodland, would be to exempt it from taxation while in that state.

NEW YORK importers of French wines deny that they are so stupid as to import adulterated articles instead of doing their own adulteration after they have paid the heavy duty on pure stuffs.

EIGHT years ago a poor New York mechanic invented the glove fastener—a piece of cord about six inches long and a dozen little hooks or buttons. He now owns a block of houses that would sell for $500,000.

THE crows in Michigan missed their reckoning last fall, and large numbers of them decided to winter in the North. They probably see their mistake now, as large numbers of them are succumbing to the intense cold weather.

THE yew tree is said, in certain cases, to have attained the age of thirty-two hundred years, the cedar two thousand, the oak fifteen hundred, the spruce twelve hundred, the walnut nine hundred, the maple five hundred and the elm three hundred.

A LIMESTONE discovered near Salt Lake, Utah, strikes fire at the slightest blow. The miner who first observed it was utterly demoralized and thought he had struck the "infernal regions," every blow of the hammer producing a flash of pale blue light.

FOR nervous children Dr. Felix Oswald's first prescription is "the open woods and a merry playmate." He writes that "the most placid females of the genus homo are found among the well-fed, but hard-working housewives of German Pennsylvania."

THE deep snow and bitter cold have driven many eagles from the mountains of Kentucky to the settlements of the blue-grass region. A number of these noble birds, of both the gray and the bald species have been shot, some of them very large specimens.

AMONG the collection of lizards at the Smithsonian are some remarkable geckos. One has a tail that mimics the bark of a tree upon which it lives. In another the tail resembles a leaf, and as such is used as a protection. It is also thrown off if occasion requires.

IT IS a curious and important fact that pieces of wire cable of the Fairmount Suspension Bridge, recently taken down at Philadelphia, after being in use some forty years, were found to be fully equal in tenacity, elasticity and ductility to the best wire of that size now in the market.

A NEW SOUTH WALES letter to the Baltimore Sun describes the Wentworth Falls which makes them more than a rival of Niagara. There are two falls, one of 700 feet and one of 800 feet, a total of 1,500 feet. The valley below the falls is fifty miles across, with but one outlet.

THE London Times says one fact emphasized by the returns for the year is that wood has practically, if not absolutely gone out of existence as a ship-building material. Iron is now the general material of which vessels is constructed, though steel is year by year coming to the front.

IT is said that the use of salt to melt snow on car tracks is not only not injurious to the feet of horses, but cures scratches on sore heels, provided the feet are washed and dried as soon as the horses return to their stables. It is also claimed that much of the poisonous gas in sewers are destroyed when the melted snow with salt in it runs off.

LAST year, no less than 76,645,896 tin cans of tomatoes were put up in the United States, the wholesale value being about $6,000,000. Maryland puts up about one-half of the product, and New Jersey over a fifth. There are fifteen other States which have packing houses, Delaware, California, and Ohio being the other principle packing States.

GENERAL CHARLES GORDON was only thirty years old when placed in command of a division of the Chinese army. He always went unarmed in battle, even when foremost in the breech, directing his troops by waving a little cane. As he was uniformly victorious in his engagements, his Chinese soldiers considered the cane to be a magic wand which insured his protection and their triumph.

THE RECORDER.

RIDDELL & HALL,
Proprietors.

BURLINGTON, KY. JAN. 30. 1883.

ADVERTISING RATES.

1 Column	1 year	$ 80
1 "	½ "	40
1 "	¼ "	20
½ "	1 "	20
¼ "	¼ "	10
⅛ "	¼ "	6

For announcing candidates, $5. Obituary poetry, 5 cents per line. Obituary notices 2½ lines free; over that number (except ing the announcement of the death) 3 cents per line.
Tributes of respect from lodges, &c., $1 50

RATES OF SUBSCRIPTION.

One year	$1 50
Six months	75
Three months	40

THE DOG LAW.

Owing to the great length of the Dog Law we will only give a synopsis of it.

§ 1 provides an annual tax of 50 cents on each dog and $1 on each bitch be levied and collected.

§ 2 makes it the duty of the Assessor to provide a book in which to list the dogs and bitches, and return it to the County Clerk's office at same time he returns his assessment for County and State, and it shall be kept by said clerk as other records.

§ 3 makes it the duty of each person to list, under oath administered by the Assessor, the number of dogs and bitches owned or kept by such person or by any member of his family residing with him on the 10th day of January, for the year the assessment is being made. The person listing to be liable for the tax against same. Any person refusing to give in his dogs or bitches is liable to a fine of $10, which does not release him from the payment of the tax.

§ 4 allows the Assessor 5 cents, paid out of the dog tax, for each dog or bitch assessed.

§ 5 makes the Assessor liable to a fine for failing through carelessness neglect or want of reasonable diligence, to list a dog or bitch for taxation. Also makes him liable to a fine for failing to swear a person before taking his list. For a violation on his part to perform any other duty imposed on him by this Act, he shall be fined in any sum not to exceed $1,500, and the sum collected be part of the Sheep Fund.

§ 6 makes the Sheriff the collector, and liable on his County levy bond; but, in case this bond is not sufficient, he will be liable on his Official bond.

§ 7 & 8 prescribe the manner of collection and fixes the sheriff's Compensation at same he receives for collecting county and State taxes. He shall settle his accounts on or before January 1st each year, with the County Court.

§ 9 provides for allowing the Sheriff a delinquent list and for the sale of same.

§ 10. Any dog or bitch listed for taxation under this Act, belonging to a resident of Boone County, is hereby declared to be personal property, and the owner thereof may maintain a civil action and proceeding for any injury or damage done thereto, or for the recovery thereof or for the value thereof, or other action that may be had by him in regard to other personal property. And any such dog or bitch shall be the subject of petit larceny, and any person committing a larceny of such dog or bitch shall, on conviction thereof, be punished as by law provided for that offence.

§ 11 makes such owner of lands responsible for the tax on all the dogs or bitches kept or given by any person or tenant living upon his or her land or premises as of the 10th of January each year.

§ 12 provides for the appointment of a Receiver by the County Court, and the execution of his bond. The receiver to pay out the "Sheep Fund" only by the order of the Court.

§ 13 denominates the funds raised "Boone County Sheep Fund," and says it shall be appropriated to the payment of the damages and injury to sheep in said county, committed by dogs.

§ 14 provides that persons having claims for sheep killed or injured by dogs shall file with the County Clerk a sworn statement of the number killed or injured, whose dogs did the injury if known, and value of the sheep, on or before the 10th of January next succeeding the time of such killing or injury. The owner's statement to be accompanied by an affidavit of at least two creditable witnesses, stating that they have examined the sheep, and their value, and the amount of damage by injury to those not killed but injured; that neither of the witnesses reside within one mile of the party presenting the claims, and are not related to him and have no interest in the claim, &c. It is the duty of the County Attorney to resist any claim that is not a valid claim against the fund.

§ 15 makes it the duty of the County Court, on or before the first Monday in February in each year, to call up for adjudication all claims filed against the Sheep Fund for the previous year, up to the 10th of the preceeding January, and shall pass upon and allow such claims as are just. Contested claims to be tried and disposed of as rapidly as practicable. When the fund is not large enough to pay all claims allowed, in full, the claimants to receive pro rata.

§ 17 authorizes the County Court to release from illegal assessments any time before the taxes are ordered paid over to the receiver.

§ 18 fixes the Receiver's term of office at two years, and provides for his appointment, removal, &c.

§ 19 any one knowingly swearing to a false statement to the Assessor as to the number of dogs or bitches, it is made his or her duty to give in under this act, shall be guilty of false swearing, and shall be subject to all the pains and Penalties for the Crime.

§ 20 makes it the duty of the Assessor to make his list alphabetically by magisterial districts, and on receipt the County Clerk shall make and deliver a certified copy of same to the Sheriff by June 1st of each year, and the Sheriff shall then proceed to collect the same as he collects other taxes.

§ 21 makes it the duty of the County Court to publish in the County paper, in or before the 10th day of February in each year, all the claims and by whom presented, and also post notice of same at Court House door.

§ 22. The general law of the State authorizing the killing of dogs running at large on the premises of another without the owners presence, is hereby suspended as to Boone County; but the general law providing for the killing of any dog which may be or have been found killing or worrying or injuring any cattle outside of the enclosure of the dog's owner, is to remain in full force. All laws providing for special dog tax in the County are repealed.

§ 23. any balance of the "Sheep Fund" after paying all claims against it for its year, will belong to the County and be applied to claims against the county.

THE continued cold weather this winter has been particularly severe on the poor people in the large cities.

WATTERSON and Randall do not recognize one another when they meet. They occupy extreme ends of the tariff question, a poor excuse for not speaking.

THE Legislature this winter seems to be following in the tracts of its predecessors, leaving the important legislation till the latter part of its session, when it will find it has not time to dispose of it.

IT costs the Government many hundred thousand dollars to prosecute the Star Routers, and now Congress has commenced making appropriations to meet the expenses of an investigation of that prosecution.

During the recent cold snap, a lady living at Campbellsburg, upon entering her kitchen quite early in the morning noticed a rat floundering about very singularly. She seized a stick and killed it, when to her surprise she found that while licking the crumbs from the floor, its tongue had frozen to a nail head so tightly that even after it was killed a portion of the tongue adhered to the nail.—Constitutionalist.

What it Costs to Board and Clothe a Pauper in Boone County.

To the Editors of the Recorder:

Since the publication of the report of the Committee appointed to audit the accounts of the Receiver of the Poorhouse for the past year, I have estimated the amount paid for fuel, furniture, doctors, Superintendent, Receiver and money expended upon the grounds to be $937 41, which would leave $1,004 33. The average number, including the Superintendent and wife, being 20½ would show the cost per head to be $48 99 1-6 for board and clothing. This does not include clothing of Superintendent and wife, of course. And there being at least $50 worth of provision now on hand, would reduce the cost per head to $46 49 1-6.

I make this statement for the benefit of those who have frequently asked the question as to the cost of boarding and clothing the inmates.

Yours Truly, J. G. GAINES.

SHOULD you be a sufferer from dyspepsia, indigestion, malaria, or weakness, you can be cured by Brown's Iron Bitters.

TOCCOA CITY, GA.—Dr. J. P. Newman says: "Brown's Iron Bitters are very popular, and their use always results satisfactorily."

BALTIMORE, MD.—Rev. W. H. Chapman says: "I deem Brown's Iron Bitters a most valuable tonic for general ill-health."

That Doughty Duchess.

Opposite Opinions about a Wonderful Woman—Her Thumb and Fingers.

"Crack nuts with her fingers? Why, you can't mean it!" cried a young lady graduate of the Normal College, in the utmost astonishment.

"But I do mean it," affirmed her big brother, who had taken several prizes in athletics, "and I re-assert it: that Cymburga, wife of Duke Ernst, of Austria, could crack nuts with her fingers and drive nails in the wall with her thumb."

"What a monstrous woman!" said the young lady. "What a useful woman," amended her big brother.

The Austrian Duchess was mighty because she kept good hours, good habits and perfect digestion.

Mrs. Alice Strong, of Pittsburg, Pa., writes a different story about herself, but deserves praise for her frankness. She says: "For the past 3 years I have been subject to severe attacks of colic and cramps, and exhausting attacks of Diarrhea. Weary of experimenting with medicines, I turned without hope to PARKER'S TONIC. Three bottles cured me entirely. I have tried it also for other ailments with which women are often afflicted, and it far surpassed my expectations. I am happy to offer this testimony for the benefit of other women."

Ladies who are interested in Mrs. Strong's letter, will please remark that PARKER'S TONIC is not intoxicant. It cures colic easily, but by virtue of many rare and powerful ingredients, it also masters all diseases of the Blood—such, for example, as Rheumatism, Consumption, Scrofula, and all disorders of the Kidneys, Liver and Stomach. It is a vitalizer and stimulant, but not an intoxicant. Price, 50 cents and $1 per bottle. Hiscox & Co., Chemists, New York.

REPORT OF THE CONDITION OF THE Farmers & Traders National Bank AT COVINGTON,

In the State of Kentucky, at the close of business, December 31, 1883.

RESOURCES.

Loans and discounts		$600,911 65
Overdrafts		1,135 80
U.S. Bonds to secure circulation 4 per cent		50,000 00
Due from approved reserve agents	45,541 33
Due from other National banks	5,207 41
Due from State banks and bankers	5,399 51	56,148 25
Real estate, furniture and fixtures		4,668 91
Premiums paid		8,000 00
Checks and other cash items		1,945 37
Bills of other Banks		4,125 00
Fractional paper currency, nickels and pennies		69 79
Specie		9,050 00
Legal tender notes		21,000 00
Redemption fund with U. S. Treasurer (5 per cent of circulation)		2,250 00
Total		$759,304 77

LIABILITIES.

Capital stock paid in		$300,000 00
Surplus fund	4,000 00
Undivided profits	14,480 40	18,480 40
National bank notes outstanding		45,000 00
Individual deposits subject to check	369,657 81
Fund to pay taxes	224 35
Due to other National Banks	17,062 27
Due to State Banks and bankers	8,879 94	395,824 37
Total		$759,304 77

State of Kentucky, County of Kenton, ss: I, John L. Sandford, Cashier of the above-named bank, do solemnly swear that the above statement is true to the best of my knowledge and belief.

J. L. SANDFORD, Cashier.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 14th day of Jan., 1884. GEO. H. DAVISON, Notary Public.

Correct—Attest:
E. J. HICKEY,
J. H. MERSMAN, } Directors.
L. C. STEPHENS,

CLOVER & TIMOTHY SEED.
FLOUR AND SALT,
FOR SALE BY
DUDLEY ROUSE.

This space is reserved for A. M. Acra's Harness and Saddle Shop.

For Sale.

A lot of No. 1 locust posts.
J. O. HUEY, Burlington, Ky.

NOTICE.

The undersigned will receive sealed bids for the medical practice in the Boone County Jail and Poor-house, for the year ending February 4th, 1885. Bids will be received till 12 m., the first Monday in February 1884. The physician to furnish all the medicines. The right is reserved to reject any or all bids. The physician to whom the practice is awarded will be bound to do all the practice.

Committee. } M. C. NORMAN, A. G. McCONELL, JOE WAGSTAFF.

THE Weekly Globe,

From now until March 5, '85

ONLY $1.00

With 8 pages, 56 columns, every week. THE GLOBE will strive vigorously to elect a Democratic President and to make the Best Family Newspaper in the World. It asks no person to subscribe without examining a sample copy and judging of its merits for himself. Is not that fairest? Send for a free sample copy and you will receive just the kind of a weekly you are trying to find. Only $1.00 for the Presidential campaign. Address THE WEEKLY GLOBE, Boston, Mass.

THE CINCINNATI Weekly News!

A NATIONAL
METROPOLITAN JOURNAL,
Full Of Enterprise.

PEOPLE!

EIGHT PAGES—SIXTY Four Pages

Containing all the News, correct Market Reports, well selected Miscellany, brilliant Stories—in fact, the favorite Weekly Paper of the Central United States.

—PUBLISHED BY THE—

Cincinnati News Publishing Co.

AT THE FOLLOWING

LOW RATES OF SUBSCRIPTION.

THE WEEKLY NEWS with one of Dore's Celebrated Works,

"Christ Leaving the Prætorium,"
"Christ Entering Jerusalem,"

These engravings of Dore's fame historical paintings are the best and most perfect reprints by the Foreign Art Reproducing Company, and can not be purchased as original plates for less than $40 each in Europe. They are in size 23x36 in. and are direct copies, preserving every line and detail OF THE ENGLISH $40 ENGRAVINGS.

These pictures are suitable to adorn the parlor of any gentleman. As a

Premium Supplement!

A Single Copy, three months	$0 40
A Single copy, six months	60
A Single copy, one year	1 00
A club of 10 copies to 1 P. O. 1 year	9 00
A club of 20 copies to 1 P. O. 1 year	17 00

And large clubs at 85c per copy per annum

Postmasters and other agents will be allowed 15 per cent on full rate (not club) subscribers.

The premium engravings will be mailed about the first of each month to the subscribers entitled to receive them.

As a premium offer it is confidently claimed that its equal was never before made, and would not be possible in this case except for the method adopted by the Foreign Art Reproducing Company to advertise its work.

Do not fail to avail yourself of the opportunity by sending your name and address, with one dollar enclosed, to

THE CINCINNATI WEEKLY NEWS.

$66 a week at home. $5 outfit free. Pay absolutely sure. No risk. Capital not required. If you want business at which persons of either sex young or old, can make great pay all the time they work, with absolute certainty, write for particulars to H. HALLET & Co., Portland, Maine.

NO NEW THING.

STRONG'S SANATIVE PILLS

Used throughout the country
FOR OVER 40 YEARS,
And thus proved

The Best Liver Medicine in the World.

No Griping, Poisonous Drugs, but purely Vegetable, safe and reliable. Prescribed even by Physicians. A speedy cure for Liver Complaint, Regulating the Bowels, Purifying the Blood, Cleansing from Malarial Taint. A perfect cure for Sick Headache, Constipation and all Billous Disorders. Sold by Druggists. For Pamphlets, etc., address C. E. HULL & CO., 18 Cedar St., N. Y. City.

Public Sale.

I will sell to the highest bidder at my residence 1 mile south of Bellevue, on the Ohio river, on

Wednesday, Feb., 20th,

All of my personal property:

Consisting of Horses, Mules, Sheep, Cattle, 1 Binder, Drill, Wagon, Buggy, Harness, Plows, &c., One Palace Organ, and Household and Kitchen Furniture. About 2 000 bushels of corn. I will also offer my farm with privilige of rejecting all bids. Terms made known on day of sale. J. W. RICE.

For Sale or Trade.

12½ acres of land about 2¼ miles from Constance, Ky., near the pike. Call on J. A. RIDDELL on the premises or CY RIDDELL, Burlington, Ky. 10-4t

For Rent.

A good hotel, paying bar attached. Also a good stable. This is the J. P. Snyder property in Florence. Call on Mrs. S. Snyder, Florence, Ky. 7-4t

A PRIZE Send six cents for postage, and receive free, a costly box of goods which will help you to more money right away than anything else in this world. All of either sex, succeed from the first hour. The broad road to fortune opens before the workers, absolutely sure. At once address, TRUE & Co., Augusta, Maine.

For Sale.

A dwelling with 6 rooms, and 15 acres of land at Rabbit Hash, Ky. On this land is a good orchard, barn and other conveniencies. Also a never failing well. Address B. F. BELL, Rabbit Hash, Ky.

AGENTS wanted for The Lives of all the Presidents of the U. S. The largest, handsomest, best book ever sold for more than twice our price. The best selling book in America. Immense profits to agents. All intelligent people want it. Any one can become a successful agent. Terms free, HALLET BOOK CO., Portland, Maine.

ROBERT B. REED

Attorney at Law.

OFFICE AT - - - UNION, KY.

F. RIDDELL,

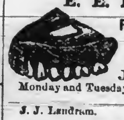
ATTORNEY at LAW
BURLINGTON, KY.

Office over Dudley Rouse's Store.

ALBERT W. GAINES,

Attorney and Counselor at Law,

LAWRENCEBURG, - - - IND.



Will practice in the courts of Boone county, Ky., Cincinnati, Ohio, Dearborn and adjoining counties, Ind. dec-6-82

W. E. VEST,

COUNTY SURVEYOR
WALTON, KY.

Is prepared to do all kinds of surveying. All orders sent him through the mail to Walton, will receive his prompt attention.

E. E. IGOE,

Resident Dentist,
Rising Sun, Ind.
WITH
J. P. Ulrey.
Monday and Tuesday at Rising Sun, Ind.

J. J. Landram. G. G. Hughes.

LANDRAM & HUGHES,

ATTORNEYS at LAW.

Will practice in the Boone Circuit Cour and the Court of Appeals. Prompt attention given to Collections, on application t G. G. Hughes, Burlington, Ky.

DR. A. B. HARRY AN

RESIDENT DENTIST.
Aurora, Indiana.
(Office Over Postoffice)
With J P. ULREY.

Dr. ULREY'S days, Wednesday and Saturday. Office open at all hours. 8-1y

L. C. NORMAN. S. I. STEPHENS.

NORMAN and STEPHENS,

ATTORNEYS at LAW.
UNION, BOONE CO., KY.

Will practice in the Courts of Boone Kenton and adjoining counties. Collections solicited and made throughout the State. 24 tf 81

S. W. TOLIN,

ATTORNEY AT LAW
BURLINGTON, - - - KY

Office in Court-house on 2d floor.

Will manage litigation in any of the Courts of the State, contracts and other legal instruments drawn up at reasonable rates. Aprompt an studious attention given to business intrusted to my care. A trial solicited. 12-1y

TWO Farms for Sale.

One contains 36 acres, 9 acres of which is good creek bottom and 27 acres, hill land. This land is under good fence, well set in grass, has lasting water for stock, fine lot of timber, much of which is locust. It is part of the W. B. Ryle homestead, lies on Gunpowder Creek and joins Leander Setters.

The other farm contains 126½ acres, is 2½ miles southwest of Burlington, has all necessary buildings in good repair, fencing good, has a good well and cistern, besides never failing water for stock, a nice young orchard, and some hedge fence. This land is all in grass except 25 acres which were cultivated in corn this year. For terms apply on the last named premises to

6-2m W. S. WHITE.

GOLD for the working class. Send 10c for postage, and we will mail you free, a royal, valuable box of sample goods that will put you in the way of making more money in a few days than you ever thought possible at any business. Capital not required. We will start you. You can work part the time only. The work universally adapted to both sexes, young and old. You can easily earn from 50 cents to $5 every evening. That all who want work may test the business, we make this unparalleled offer; to all who are not well satisfied we will send $1 to pay for the trouble of writing us. Full particulars, directions, etc., sent free. Fortunes will be made by those who give their whole time to the work. Great success absolutely sure. Don't delay. Start now. Address STINSON & Co., Portland, Maine.

PATENTS.

For new inventions and novel designs obtained in the United States, Canada and Europe. Trade Marks and Copyright—Labels secured for Merchants and Manufacturers who wish protection against imitators of their goods, packages or articles of manufacture. We are located opposite the United States Patent Office, have quick access to its records, and can give prompt and reliable answers to inquiries. Of our firm one has had thirteen years' practice in the highest courts, another several years as an Assistant Examiner in the United States Patent Office and many years experience as solicitor of American and Foreign Patents. Fee reasonable and full satisfaction or no fee. Best reference given. Our little book "on patents" sent free on receipt of one cent stamp.
W. A. COULTER & CO., Solicitors of Patents,
23 St. Cloud Building, Washington, D. C.

WRIGHT'S INDIAN VEGETABLE PILLS
FOR THE LIVER
And all Billous Complaints

Safe to take, being purely vegetable; no griping. Price 25 cts. All Druggists.

WANTED BOOK Canvassers.
MALE and FEMALE

To engage in the sale of our new and important works of standard character, large profits and immense selling qualities. We offer a permanent and lucrative business. Address The CINCINNATI PUBLISHING CO., 174 W. Fourth Street, Cincinnati, Ohio.

Free! Cards and Chromos.

We will send free by mail a sample set of our large German, French, and American Chromo Cards, on tinted and gold grounds, with a price list of over 200 different designs, on receipt of a stamp for postage. We will also send free by mail as samples, ten of our beautiful Chromos, on receipt of ten cents to pay for packing and postage; also enclose a confidential price list of our large oil chromos. Agents wanted. Address F. GLEASON & Co., 46 Summer Street, Boston, Mass.

PATENTS

MUNN & CO., of the SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN, continue to act as Solicitors for Patents, Caveats, Trade Marks, Copyrights, for the United States, Canada, England, France, Germany, etc. Hand Book about Patents sent free. Thirty-seven years' experience. Patents obtained through MUNN & CO. are noticed in the SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN, the largest, best, and most widely circulated scientific paper. $3.20 a year. Weekly. Splendid engravings and interesting information. Specimen copy of the Scientific American sent free. Address MUNN & CO., SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN Office, 261 Broadway, New York.

SANITARIUM, Riverside, Cal. The dry climate cures Nose, Throat, Lungs, full idea, 36 p., route, cost, free.

MARRIAGE AND HEALTH GUIDE. 200 pgs. Illustrated.
All that the doubtful curious or thoughtful want to know, Cloth and gilt binding 50 cts, paper 25c, Marriage Guide, 144 p 15c, sent sealed, money or stamps. DR. WHITTIER 290 RACE STREET, CINCINNATI, OHIO. The great specialist, Nervous Debility, Impediments to Marriage, Consultations and Pamphlet free.

County Directory.

OFFICERS.

Assessor—G. M. Riley.
County Surveyor—W. E. Vest.
School Commissioner—D. M. Snyder.
Coroner.—Dr. A. A. Murat, Constance.

COURTS.

CIRCUIT COURT meets the 2d Monday in April and first Monday in October, P. U. Major, Judge; W. L. Riddell, Clerk A. G. DeJarnette, Commonwealths Attorney; W. L. Riddell, Trustee Jury Fund.

COUNTY COURT meets the first Monday in every month. L. H. Dills, Judge; S. W. Tolin, County Attorney. M. T. Garnett, Clerk; J. R. Clutterbuck, Sheriff, T. W. Finch and W. T. German, Deputy Sheriffs.

QUARTERLY COURT meets the first Monday in March, June, September and December. The officers of the County Court preside.

COURT OF CLAIMS meets the first Monday in November.

MAGISTRATES' COURTS are held in March, June, September and December, as follows:

Bellevue—M. B. Green, first Saturday, and T. H. Sutton, third Monday. J. M. Moody, Constable.

Burlington—E. H. Baker, Thursday after first Monday, and Oscar Gaines, fourth Monday. R. H. Sandford, Constable.

Carlton A. G. McConnell, Wednesday after second Monday, and B. H. Ryle, Saturday after third Monday. Walter Ryle, Constable.

Petersburg—Jos. Hensley, Wednesday after first Monday, and L. A. Loder fourth Saturday. Geo. Comer, Constable.

Beever—W. M. Rouse, Friday after the third Monday, and

Union—M. C. Norman, Thursday after third Monday, and H. Bannister, Thursday after second Monday. A. D. Riley, Constable.

Hamilton—F. M. Howlett, Tuesday after second Monday; W. W. Garnett, Wednesday after third Monday. R. L. Roberts Constable.

A. L. Brown,

THE HATTER,

Cor. Pike and Washington Streets
COVINGTON, - - KY.

Has always on hand a large variety of Men's, Boys' and Children's Hats, and prices GUARANTEED to be as low as the lowest.

Gents' Furnishing Goods a Specialty.

W. J. RICE,

CARPENTER & BUILDER,
BULLITSVILLE, KY.

Is prepared Raise or Move EITHER LOG or FRAME BUILDINGS On Short Notice,

And at the Lowest Possible Figures.

33-tf Your orders respectfully solicited

LUMBER.

Geo. M. Bedinger & Co.,

Erlanger, - - Ky.

We keep constantly on hand all kinds of Lumber, Laths and Shingles. Also Builder's supplies of all kinds.

—Come and see Us.—

may 9-tf

AURORA MARBLE AND GRANITE WORKS, Aurora, Ind

Will have constantly on hand

Marble and Granite Monuments,
Italian & American Headstones, &c.

I am ready to do all kinds of Stone Work on short notice and at low prices Hoping to receive the patronage of Boone County, I am respectfully,

F. W. KASSEBAUM.

INSURE AT HOME

The Farmers' Mutual Fire
INSURANCE COMPANY
Of Boone County

Is now completely organized and receiving applications for insurance.

Its Rates are Lower

Than those of any other Company, and it gives the farmers of Boone County a

HITHERTO UNKNOWN ADVANTAGE

In keeping their property insured.

EVERY FARMER IN THE COUNTY

should take a policy at once.

N. S. WALTON, President, Petersburg, Ky. | J. H. WALTON, Secretary, Constance, Ky.

R. RANDALL, Treasury.

DIRECTORS.

LEGRAN GAINES, Jeff Utz,
JNO. M. MOODY.

INCORPORATED UNDER THE LAWS OF MISSOURI.

CENTRAL MEDICAL & SURGICAL INSTITUTE

OF ST. LOUIS, MO.

SUCCESSORS TO DR. BUTTS' DISPENSARY. OFFICE & ROOMS, No. 920 LOCUST ST.
CHAS. L. LaBARGE, M.D., Pres't & Physician in Charge.
NELSON CHEESMAN, Treas. & Business Manager.

This Institute has ample facilities and an experienced Faculty. While it succeeds to a large business, which has been established for years, it will aim to extend its medical and surgical practice, giving skillful and scientific treatment to

CHRONIC DISEASES of the Head, Spine, Lungs and Air Passages, Heart, Liver, Stomach and Bowels, Rheumatism, Dyspepsia, Consumption and Asthma.

BLOOD IMPURITIES, inherited or caused by impure association, Scrofula, Fever Sores, Ulcers, etc.

DEFORMITIES of the Limbs, Spinal Curvature, Wry-Neck, Diseases of the Joints, Piles, Fistula, Rupture, etc.

WEAKNESS and wasting diseases in old and young men, also all diseases of the genito-urinary organs.

FEMALE irregularities and weaknesses, causing pain in the back or side, etc.

Personal interviews with patients are always preferred. Those unable to visit the Institute will be furnished with blank lists of questions that will aid them in making a full statement of their cases and if not requiring a surgical operation they can be successfully treated by correspondence, and medicines sent by mail or express. To enable us to send proper list of questions applicants should give a brief statement of their trouble.

The Treasurer of the corporation is of Nelson Cheesman & Co., Advertising Agents, and refers to the publisher of this or any other newspaper in the United States or Canada regarding responsibility.

Consultation at Office or by mail free and invited

HALL'S

Vegetable Sicilian

HAIR RENEWER

was the first preparation perfectly adapted to cure diseases of the scalp, and the first successful restorer of faded or gray hair to its natural color, growth, and youthful beauty. It has had many imitators, but none have so fully met all the requirements needful for the proper treatment of the hair and scalp. HALL'S HAIR RENEWER has steadily grown in favor, and spread its fame and usefulness to every quarter of the globe. Its unparalleled success can be attributed to but one cause: the entire fulfilment of its promises.

The proprietors have often been surprised at the receipt of orders from remote countries, where they had never made an effort for its introduction.

The use for a short time of HALL'S HAIR RENEWER wonderfully improves the personal appearance. It cleanses the scalp from all impurities, cures all humors, fever, and dryness, and thus prevents baldness. It stimulates the weakened glands, and enables them to push forward a new and vigorous growth. The effects of this article are not transient, like those of alcoholic preparations, but remain a long time, which makes its use a matter of economy.

BUCKINGHAM'S DYE
FOR THE WHISKERS

Will change the beard to a natural brown, or black, as desired. It produces a permanent color that will not wash away. Consisting of a single preparation, it is applied without trouble.

PREPARED BY
R. P. HALL & CO., Nashua, N.H.
Sold by all Dealers in Medicines.

FOR ALL THE FORMS OF Scrofulous, Mercurial, and Blood Disorders, the best remedy, because the most searching and thorough blood-purifier, is

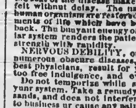
Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

Sold by all Druggists; $1, six bottles, $5.

TUTT'S PILLS

TORPID BOWELS, DISORDERED LIVER, and MALARIA.

From these sources arise three-fourths of the diseases of the human race. These symptoms indicate their existence: Loss of Appetite, Bowels costive, Sick Headache, fullness after eating, aversion to exertion of body or mind, Eructation of food, Irritability of temper, Low spirits, A feeling of having neglected some duty, Dizziness, Fluttering at the Heart, Dots before the eyes, highly colored Urine, CONSTIPATION, and demand the use of a remedy that acts directly on the Liver. As a Liver medicine TUTT'S PILLS have no equal. Their action on the Kidneys and Skin is also prompt; removing all impurities through these three "scavengers of the system," producing appetite, sound digestion, regular stools, a clear skin and a vigorous body. TUTT'S PILLS cause no nausea or griping nor interfere with daily work and are a perfect



ANTIDOTE TO MALARIA.

Sold everywhere, 25c. Office, 41 Murray St., N.Y.

TUTT'S HAIR DYE.

GRAY HAIR OR WHISKERS changed instantly to a GLOSSY BLACK by a single application of this DYE. Sold by Druggists, or sent by express on receipt of $1.
Office, 44 Murray Street, New York.
TUTT'S MANUAL OF USEFUL RECEIPTS FREE.

VIGOROUS HEALTH FOR MEN

TESTED FOR 5 YEARS by use in thousands of cases. Founded on scientific medical principles, it has been growing in favor and reputation while its numerous competitors have invariably failed. The direct application of this remedy to the seat of the disease makes its specific influence felt without delay. The natural functions of the human organism are restored. The animating elements of life which have been wasted are given back. The buoyant energy of the brain and muscular system renders the patient cheerful; he gains strength with rapidity.

NERVOUS DEBILITY, organic weakness, and numerous obscure diseases, baffling the skill of best physicians, result for youthful indiscretion, too free indulgence, and over brain work.

Do not temporize while such enemies lurk in your system. Take a remedy that has cured thousands, and does not interfere with you attention to business or cause any pain or inconvenience.

(Send for a Descriptive Pamphlet giving Anatomical Illustrations, which will convince the most sceptical that they can be restored to perfect manhood, and fitted for the duties of life, same as if never affected. Sent free to any one. Remedy sold ONLY by the)

HARRIS REMEDY CO. MF'G. CHEMISTS.
306½ N. 10th. St. ST. LOUIS, MO.
One Month's treatment $3. two months $5. three months $7

PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM

A beneficial dressing preferred to similar articles because of its purity and rich perfume. It Restores to Gray Hair the Youthful Color & prevents dandruff and falling of the hair. 50c. & $1. Hiscox & Co., N.Y.

FLORESTON

Excels the finest flower extracts in richness. Delicate, very lasting. No odor like it. Be sure you get FLORESTON Cologne, signature of Hiscox & Co., N. Y., on every label. 25 and 75 cts., at druggists and dealers in perfumes.

COLOGNE

NEVER FAILS

FREE!
RELIABLE SELF-CURE.

A favorite prescription of one of the most noted and successful specialists in the U. S. (now retired) for the cure of Nervous Debility, Lost Manhood, Weakness and Decay. Sent in plain sealed envelope free. Druggists can fill it. Address DR. WARD & CO., Louisiana, Mo.

PAYSONS INDELIBLE INK

Is the BEST. No preparation. Used with any clean pen for marking any fabric. Popular for decorative work on linen. Received Centennial MEDAL & Diploma. Established 50 years. Sold by all Druggists, Stationers & News Agt's.

Local News.

The gorgeous sunsets continue.

Sleigh bells will be badly worn by spring.

This has been a splendid winter for loafing.

There will be plenty of ice put up this fall.

B. K. Sleet was at home several days last week.

Many ears are now being carried in slings—frosted.

Davis Bros. had charge of Mr. B. F. Garnett's funeral.

No Senator yet. The vote stands W. 52, B. 45 and S. 24.

Mittie Acra was on the sick list several days last week.

The next weather prophet to hear from is the ground hog.

Mr. William Rouse sold a fine alderney calf, last week, for $50.

Several of the Commonwealth's prizes came to Boone this time.

A. W. Smith returned from Florida last Thursday, looking well.

Some places in Ohio, last Friday, the mercury was as low as 36° below zero.

Miss Emma, daughter of R. A. Brady, has had quite a severe attack of pneumonia.

Miss Bessie Rouse has returned home after a pleasant visit with friends at Florence.

E. B. H. Owens, who has been in Lawrenceburg for some time, returned last week.

Hall's Hair Renewer is officially and unqualifiedly indorsed by the State Assayer of Massachusetts.

Jas. Westbay traveled, during the very cold weather, with a warm smoothing iron in each ear-muff.

The prolonged interruption of navigation caused a great fall off in the stock of supplies kept at Bellevue.

John Crisler and James Crisler, two of Gunpowder's oratorical giants, called on the RECORDER the other day.

Simeon Baldon, whose foot was amputated by Dr. J. M. Grant, several days since, is getting along nicely.

There will be many sleighs built next summer, which will be like locking the stable door after the horse is gone.

Joseph Riddell has raised four consecutive crops of tobacco on one piece of land, and each crop was a good one.

The snow that fell last Wednesday could find all the cracks about a house, and it was not slow to come through them.

The "homemade sugar" season draws nigh, but the sugar orchards being very scarce, but little of the delicious article is made.

Some of the farmers are of the opinion that the Merino sheep crossed with the Southdown sheep will make a much better sheep.

Some one stole a blanket from Chas. Hughes' horse, while hitched to the rack in front of the Boone House, a few nights since.

Some fellow made a raid on Esquire Baker's meat house a few nights since, and appropriated all the 'Squires sparerlbs and back bones.

To prevent the sleigh's upsetting, the other day, Cy Crisler jumped overboard and hurt his leg so as to greatly impede his locomotion.

The decline in the temperature, the latter part of last week, prevented a combination fox chase which was on the boards for Saturday.

The corn-shuck and woodchuck weather prophets are certainly very much discouraged with the manner in which the winter is panning out.

Mr. B. F. Garnett, of Bellevue, and a life long citizen of this county, died, after a lingering illness, last Tuesday night in the 70th year of his age.

THE old maids in Frankfort are disgusted with caucuses. They require too much of the members' valuable time, which the o. m's would like to claim.

THE Legislature has provided for another vote on the proposition to call a constitutional convention, which proves that it is a body not easily discouraged.

A great many fruit trees are sold and delivered to Boone County people, although the fruit crop is the most uncertain of any with which our people have to deal.

THE Mt. Sterling town marshal went up into Letcher County and captured a lad nineteen years old, who is the proprietor of four wives. He was certainly a very brave youth.

Nice tombstones or monuments at the graves of the departed, are marks of respect which should not be neglected. Hurschart & Co., Lawrenceburg, Ind., have just what you want. John Beall of Hebron, is their agent.

An item is going the rounds of the State press that during the first severe cold spell an old negress was frozen to death in her cabin near Florence, and that her remains were stolen and taken to Cincinnati, where they were sold to one of the Medical Colleges; but since the time all the above is said to have happened, it took two or three Covington policemen to conduct the old woman to jail in that city, and they are decidedly of the opinion that she is one of the liveliest stiffs they ever saw.

Taxpayer's Article Reviewed

To the Editors of the Recorder:

"Taxpayer" in your last issue seems not to be pleased with the way the Court of Claims transacts business. He exercises an unquestionable right in criticizing the proceedings of that body of public servants.

How can $40 be allowed to Dr.—— on motion of Mr. Justice ——? Was it not in a fulfillment of a contract made between the doctor and the Court, that the doctor should have that amount for doing the pauper practice in his district for the year? If so, was not the allowance proper, as simply a compliance by the County Court with an honest agreement made by it through its proper agent? Then why the necessity of an itemized account? The contract was all the itemized statement needed. The question for the Court to look to was whether or not the doctor did the practice as he agreed. If he did not, then the allowance ought not to have been made. If he did it, the allowance was the correct thing. Was such an inquiry made? Ask the County Attorney, an authority whose duty it is to see that no improper claims are allowed. "Seek and you shall find."

There are two or three persons the County provides for outside the Poorhouse; yet the doctors get $400 for pauper practice, so says "Taxpayer," and we guess the record will sustain the assertion. Now comes the question, who supplies these paupers so doctored outside of the Poor-house while they take the physic? We don't know who does, but we know that we and "Taxpayer" do not, at least to an embarrassing extent. The proper solution would seem to be that the doctors keep them alive as long as possible on pills, and that their bodies and raiment give out at even date with satisfactory lengths of account current.

But now, seriously, Mr. Editor, does it not frequently happen that the old sometimes manage to scrape up food and clothing till finally struck with disease, and then the County or neighbors must foot the bills till death ensues, and in such cases, sometimes, removal to the Poor-house would be cruel, and then the doctors services must be had—humanity and religion demand it. Must such services be rendered gratis? Ask the doctors. Many cases could be mentioned and classified by the doctors where medical attention must be had and had at once without removal of the patient to the Poorhouse, when, too the collection of a medical bill from the patient would be an impossibility. There are paupers among the young, the middle-aged and the old. Must the doctors see that all such are in the Poor-house before they attend them, or do so gratuitously? Inquire of the doctors again.

The fact that the County supports but two or three paupers outside of the Poor-house is but slight evidence on the question as to what amount should be paid for pauper practice outside of that institution. There may be no balm in Gilead, but we know there are physicians in Boone, who, for their own household, like good christian and pay taxes. Mr. Editors, if we may be allowed to suggest, we would intimate an humble opinion that the doctors, like all other claimants, should present their accounts for pauper practice, itemized, and they should prove them fully, service, worth of service as to each patient; and then their bills should be allowed so far as proven, and let the Court place its business standard above this miserable peddling business.

In the future let us have no privileged classes. Make all claimants show up and prove up, and then the Court must pay up; but at all events serve all alike.

The muss over the Sheriff's band and County levy will, in due time, be ventilated in the Court, and there no one can be made a scape-goat for the sins of another. True, no man is perfect. It is humane to err, divine to forgive, and noble to meet our faults and confess them. In this bond and levy business every tub must stand on its own bottom. The responsibility may rest, for this miss, on many; if so, no one can shirk, for the tracks and ear-marks are now made, but it is not the first time in the history of this big world that omissions, clerical errors, oversights, accidents and the like have happened. No one will be tortured even if a little flayed.

* * * *

The following marriage licenses have been issued since December first:
B. B. Breed and Anna A. Grubbs.
William Conner and Ida M. Riley.
Ben F. Rue and Willemetta Stephens.
Robt Houston and Lillie M Stephenson
Henry E Barker and Lena McManama.
F. Hartman, jr., and Josie Schwartz.
Virgil C. Weir and Flora M. Anderson.

Died.

HAMILTON—On the 17th inst., at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. Elizabeth Clore, in Montgomery County, Indiana, Mrs. Nancy Hamilton in the 89th year of her age.

Mrs. Hamilton was born and raised in this county where she resided until a few years since, when she went to live with her daughter in Indiana. She was the widow of I. G. Hamilton, who, for many years was clerk of the Boone County Court.

Mr. A. G. Winston thinks that the statement in last week's issue, in regard to his proposing to trade one acre of his land for three of the Poor-house farm places him before the public in rather a bad light, and says that when approached on the subject by a committee appointed by the Court to confer with him in regard to a trade, he only said to the committee that he would give them one acre for three, the committee coming to him seeking a trade, instead of his going to them as might be inferred from the reading of last week's item. It is not the pleasure of the RECORDER to misrepresent any person, and therefore willingly gives Mr. Winston's statment about the matter.

Our Heavy Taxpayers.

The following named persons constitute the heavy taxpayers in this County, paying taxes on $10,000 or over. Several of them own property out of the county also:

F Dickey	$19,810
J B Frazier	10,875
H A Hicks	15,700
Jas L Huey	12,300
O C Utz	19,775
B B Alphin	12,130
S Baker	20,075
J W Kennedy	10,900
Yancy Clore	16,240
J E Duncan	12,885
B R Gaines	48,125
J A Gaines	14,025
Legrand Gaines	16,275
P Rucker	19,525
J J Rucker	36,440
C S Tousey	11,250
Noah Utz	22,460
A G Winston	12,075
John Barton	10,230
G N Buffington	21,320
W H Carpenter	15,855
W E Carpenter	20,485
Wood Carpenter	10,725
R K Dulaney	10,000
John Goodridge	15,250
Wesley Hoggins	24,750
Geo F Rouse	10,780
Lewis Rice	13,635
John E Utz	11,385
John E Walton	41,045
W N Cloud	10,175
John Cropper	13,060
V T Chambers	16,000
Joe Chambers	40,000
Clinton Gaines	12,420
Alonzo Gaines	12,500
F L Gordon	10,825
Geo W Gamis	10,700
Owen Kirtley	12,975
Henry McGlasson	14,175
John H Moore	28,400
Jno Stephens	19,555
Wm Appleton	10,380
Boone Co Distilling Co	56,125
Marcus Collins	12,985
L F Jackson	21,415
J C Jenkins	32,045
Morgan Rice	10,770
G W Terrill	17,465
N S Walton	18,960
Mike Clore	13,855
Len Clore	10,655
J S Dinsmore	11,825
E L Grant	12,390
Jas Rogers	10,800
O J Haris	15,750
J H Hastings	10,430
Mrs McConnell	22,700
T C S Ryle	11,830
Mrs T Ward	12,800
Mrs E A Bedinger	13,980
J C Hughes' estate	48,510
Geo Ranson	14,715
Jas West	19,656
J A Huey	26,335
Elizabeth Huey	10,275
G W Huey	17,250
E H Baker	12,550
J W Gaines	10,090
P H Buffington	18,140
E J Buffington	16,030
Ida Buffington	25,050
David Buffington	30,150
J K Banning	12,000
Jno M Hoshall	10,175
J F Grant	11,040
Sam Hind	21,950
L B Stephens	17,275
Lewis Aylor	16,795
Jonas Clore	10,950
Nat Hind	10,343
Dan Bedinger	27,380

The following are the heavy negro taxpayers in the county:

Simon Sleet	860
Joe Huey	1,650
Geo Oakes	1,300
Joseph Ryle	2,000

NGEIHBORHOOD NEWS.

Verona.

Died—On the 22d, inst., of pneumonia, Marion Stephenson, after two weeks' illness. His remains were interred in the New Bethel cemetery. His funeral was not preached on account of his wife and children not being able to attend, having just recovered from the same disease, except one which is not expected to recover. The family have the sympathy of the entire community.

Waterloo.

The musical party at Mrs. Emily Green's, last week, was well attended.

Sleighing is the order of the day. We think that good work horses will be scarce next spring.

D. M. Snyder has rented Mrs. Elizabeth Aylor's dwelling and store house for this year. We wish him success.

W. E. Barker was very much surprised when he found out that he had drawn the prize doll at Langsdale's.

Hebron.

There are 175 logs at the mill, ready for the saw.

Doc Manning lost a valuable horse the other day.

John Rucker is having a large lot of lumber sawed here.

Dr. Terrill and F. Crigler will each build a large barn this spring.

Cyrene Robinson's wife was put in the vault at this place on the 25th.

On the 25th the mercury was 21 below zero. This month has had 6 days with temperature below zero.

Buddie Cropper's horse kicked his sleigh bed into splinters the other day, but fortunately no one was hurt.

Petersburg.

Since navigation has suspended news is scarce.

Dr. W. H. Terrill's health is improving slowly.

Wm. Shotwell contemplates locating in town soon.

The wheat when last seen was looking very fine.

Miss Belle Terrill's health does not seem to improve much.

John Sandford expects to raise a large crop of tobacco this year.

Clarence Graves, of Missouri, is visiting his mother at this place.

Major Holabird sprained his ankle while coasting with the boys.

Judge Parker will attend to all express matter entrusted to his care.

The remains of B. F. Garnett were put in the vault at this place, last Thursday.

The Str. Wave is at the landing ready to pull the Str. Minnie off in case she grounds again.

It is generally conceded that old Mrs. Moretongue is a grand-daughter of old Mrs. Gossip.

D. B. Tilley has the measles at his house. He says one child has it and there are three more to hear from.

The weather never gets too cold for Allen Cox to go to Lawrenceburg—daily papers the cause. How are you papers?

Richard McWethy is able to be out again, having been confined to the house with rheumatism for sometime.

Some of the young men say coming out of church the light blinds them so they are sure to start home with the wrong girl.

Beaver Lick.

Lots of tobacco talk and an occasional sip of Cud's warm Tom and Jerry is the order of the day in Beaver.

Ed Williams is talking of renting his blacksmith property in Beaver and moving on the farm this year. He says blacksmithing is a hard job and slow pay.

We are sorry to learn that our townsman William Dickison is going to move to Walton at an early date. Billy is a handy genius and Walton may well be proud of the requisition of such a genial and ingenious citizen.

Messrs. Z. T. and J. M. Baker have returned from the mild climate of Arkansas. While there they purchased a lot of very fine thorough bred cattle. They intend to winter their stock at the Springs and then ship them, one in a herd, to different parts of the world where fine strains of thoroughbred stock is an object of importance.

If our representative will pass a little bill through the "mill" at Frankfort to add a special tax of 20 cents on the $100 in Boone county, to be applied to the schools in the county, he will do a thing that will immortalize his name in the hearts of those of his constituency who justly look upon a good education as the crowning jewel of a lady and gentleman.

Andy Ellis and J. C. Hughes, notwithstanding the extreme cold weather have received some very fine crops of golden leaf at their warehouses. These two men are a great benefit to our farmers who used to have to haul their tobacco many miles and at poor figures at that; they can deliver their "weed" now by hauling it merely across lots, and receive paying prices to boot. This is progress, and don't you make any mistake thereabout.

BILL LOYD.

Plattsburg

Born—To J. W. Smith and wife a bouncing boy.

A great many potatoes were frozen during the cold spell.

Mr. Sam Baldon, of Cloverdale, Ind., is visiting his brother, at this place.

Mr. Slut Baldon is improving rapidly at present, and is in fair way to be well again in a few weeks.

Have you seen the new comet? If not look a little south of the evening star about 7 o'clock any clear night.

Mr. Frank Hartman, of Washington Ty., and Miss Josie Schwartz, daughter of Nick Schwartz, were married one day last week by Rev. Dicken.

Among the visitors from a distance in our town last week were Mrs. Mollie Hall and little boy, of Cloverdale, Ind., Will Rouse, of Hebron, and Tom Baldon, of Liberty Station, Ky.

The corn shuck, the goose bone and Gas Ometer, said this would be a mild winter. Now Bro. Gas, haul in your horns as a weather prophet, and tell us what for a fruit year this will be.

Two of Sam Eggleston's children were badly frozen while crossing the river one day last week. The river was full of ice and their hands and feet were frozen before they could reach shore.

The Decature Democrat, a paper published in Indiana, is making light of the language used by Kentuckians. It says we say "nairy" for never. All right, Mr. Hoosier, you are all celebrated gramarians, and say "youens" for you. Who's entitled to the cake?

The female portion of our canine population, held a meeting last Friday night to take some action in regard to having the late act of the legislature imposing a tax of 50c. more on them (the lady dogs) than on the male portion of the dog population, amended. Miss Queen Gibbs was called to the chair and stated the object of the meeting. Ned Gaines an old gallant from the 14th ward was chosen secretary by a unanimous vote. The following were appointed a committee to draft resolutions: Early Rose Willis, Susan Mary Smith and Dana Roswell. After a few moments debate, the committee reported the following resolutions:

Resolved, That we denounce the Hon. N. S. Walton's action in the above named law as unjust and ungallant.

Resolved, That we take immediate steps to have the act amended, and that we call upon all lady and gentlemen dogs of Campbell county, friendly to our cause, to use every means to have the law repealed, as it belittles us and lowers us in the estimation of our male friends, and this, too, right on the verge of leap year. Adjourned to meet again next Friday night.

Francesville.

Dame Rumor says there will be a wedding in the near future near here.

Our school is progressing finely under the efficient work of Mr. Gorgon.

Balls, day parties, entertainments and sleigh riding, prevail to an alarming extent in this neighborhood. God only knows where it will end.

We came near forgetting to mention that Billy Hayes has hauled another load of wood. This puts him in pretty good shape again as far as fuel is concerned.

It is now Considerably over a year since any one has died any where in the entire neighborhood of Francisville. This is speaking pretty well for its healthy properties.

A few nights since, while out sleigh-riding, Charlie Bryant's horse became frightened and ran off, throwing him out of the sleigh. Fortunately he escaped injury, but his sleigh was made a total wreck.

Business of all kinds is booming with us, considering the extreme cold weather we have been having, and our town presents a very lively appearance, indeed. It is surprising that so much business could be transacted with the comparatively small amount of capital invested; yet, this depends entirely on the business tact of its citizens for success. Billy Hayes intends opening up his Bone mill in a few days, which will add to the manufacturing interests of the place We understand that the mill will be operated in the firm name of Hayes, Batterson & Henry. Henry being a silent partner only in the concern.

A few weeks since our genial friend, Bud Cropper, was in Cincinnati in company with some of his tobacco tenants, and from his genteel appearance compared with his companions, the public mistook him for a confidence man or Bunko Steerer we do not know which, and arrested him. It was with considerable difficulty that Buddie could convince them that he was the Coroner of Boone Co., and had a family at home. However, by their cross questioning the tenants and by Buddie's making a solemn promise that he would buy no more Bananas for his tenants, they let him go, and Buddie returned a wiser and better man.

As we predicted last fall, judging from from the corn crop here, there will be an over supply of material for the mill before spring. We have three horses on hand now for dissection, and from the condition of three others we know of, there is a slim chance of their ever nipping the daisies again. The clang, clang, of the blacksmith's hammer can be heard from early morn until dewy eve, while in the carpenter's shop can be heard, the workmen busy making rabbit traps, supplying a want long needed here. Besides all this we have two carpet looms going constantly, supplying the country far and near with carpets. Thus it is by industry we flourish.

Rabbit Hash.

B. H. Ryle and wife made a flying visit to Bellevue last week.

Mr. Mont Balsly, the North Bend giant, was the guest of Z. T. Kelley last week.

Kirby Platt and Joe Walton have gone to Danville, Indiana, in pursuit of a Commercial education. They expect to stay during the summer term.

Coal and wood piles have been on the decline ever since cold weather set in, and some of the farmers in this part of the Lord's garden have had to go to Bellevue for fuel.

Cobbie Acra is kept very busy repairing the soles. He fitted mine up, and they have become heavenly inclined, and I have found them in the air several times, while my head was earthward pointing.

For fear some of the citizens along the East Bend road may think that Sandford Acra was exposing, in a great degree, the health of the young and innocent, we will here state that it was not an infant he was carrying, but the prize doll that he drew at Langsdale's.

The river is yet filled with heavy, floating ice, which keeps our people from going to town. It is with difficulty that the ferrymen make daily trips for the mail. So far they have not missed a day. So much for their pluck and energy.

We would like to know of our magistrates why, at the last Court of Claims, they ordered the Keeper and Receiver of the Poor-house and the physicians of Burlington precinct paid, while the other physicians and claimants have to wait until 1885 before their claims are paid. Please rise and explain. If they ordered a few claims paid, why can not all be paid? Why should they be so partial?

Mrs. Elizabeth Stephens, widow of Thomas P. Stephens, deceased, died very suddenly at the residence of her son, Mr. Ulysses Stephens, Sunday night, January 20th. She had been unwell for the last few days, but no one thought her so near death's door. She asked for a dose of medicine she had been taking, but before her wants were administered she dropped dead. She was in her 66th year and a woman that was loved and respected by all who knew her. Her remains were interred in the Stephens burying ground, last Tuesday. She leaves a large circle of relatives and friends to mourn over her death.

We would like to have the dog law published as soon as possible, as we are very much concerned about it. If we understand the law right, each bitch is to be taxed $1 and each s—n of a b—h, 50 cents, the funds so arising to be used to pay for sheep that have been killed or worried by the dogs and their sisters. Now, it will not be treating us right to tax our dogs, for there is not a man living in a mile of this place that owns a sheep, and there is not a man living within that distance but what owns a dog or two, all good, sociable fellows, always at home, when they are not out running over peoples farms, or in town six or eight in a bunch. It is a nice sight to see five or six fat, sleek curs lying by the fire, but humiliating to think they have to be taxed to pay for the mutton they see proper to kill for their own use. Taxing a dog's sisters more than he is taxed is an imposition on the poor "critters". Dogs at other places are not like ours, which all stay at home, and are visited by all the others, judging by the number that daily come to town. Our dogs are very popular.

Florence.

Did you ever see such cold? Never. This is the kind of conversation we engage in here. And such specimens of cold too.

Rumor says that cupid has at last found a vulnerable point in Mr. Andrew Clutterbuck's heart and that he will, in a few days, lead to the hymenial alter, Miss Araminta Dorithy.

We have frequent instances of the water in the teakettles freezing over at the top and boiling dry at the bottom, at the same time. Even the oldest inhabitant is preparing a new version to keep up his reputation for his stories of frigid weather.

If it was not for the merry jingle of the sleighbells and the joyous laughter of lads and lasses in their frolicsome glee, thrown in as a kind of interlude to relieve the monotonous weather, I think your correspondent would pitch his tent in the "land of Flowers."

Mr. T. L. Swetnam, in order to get space for his heavy stock and constantly increasing trade, has leased the room above the one he now occupies, known as the Hall in O. F. B., for a term of 5 years. Mr. S. will require two more salesmen when he gets fitted up, and will apprise the community through the paper of the way to get value for their money.

In obedience to the call for a meeting of all persons interested in providing ways and means for the better protection of that noble animal, the horse, against the depredation of thieves, a good number of the citizens and the yeomanry of the surrounding country, assembled at the Town Hall as per appointment, Saturday, January 26th, but the extreme cold weather prevented a great many from putting in an appearance, who are known to be zealous in the cause but not able to breast the wind. The meeting was, therefore, continued to next Saturday, February 2d, 1884. The "boys mean business," and intend to furnish "men and money" to bring the rascals to justice, when occasion requires.

The town of Florence, in its efforts to secure a Council for the present year, meets with about as many obstructions and has come to as "dead lock" as the Kentucky Legislature in selecting a U. S. Senator. The only difference is the candiates for Senator all want the offices while the candidates for Council will have the office under no circumstances, whatever. It is a mark of good tactics to cover well the retreat. Above we mention the difference between the candidates; but as to ability, pride for my native town compels me to decide in her favor. We have made two efforts at election, and whether the last is a success or not, we can't say at present. When we get them clinched, we will apprise you of their positions in graduated order.

There is a party of young roughs around here that engage in a game called tick tack, which consists in tying a long cord to the door knob or latch of a house and a stone or some hard substance appended to the line, so as to strike the door when the cord is pulled at the far end. The party visited Mr. Wm. Corbin, a few nights since, and after the necessary preparation, commenced their music, which grated not very pleasantly upon the door nor the ears of the family. Mr. Corbin, who had been there before, stole around the house with his double barreled shot gun, and emptied the contents in the direction of the scamps. An eye witness says he never saw such a tangling of heads in bushes or breeches on fencing since he was born. Done honor to circus Robinsons troupe of gymnastis. Give it to'em

Mrs. Elizabeth Garnett, of Bellevue, who is in the 91st year of her age, is not expected to live many days.

Why let your hogs, horses, cattle and chickens, suffer from disease and die, when it is an established fact that Dr. Salmon's medicines will cure them. For sale by W. F. MCKIM, Burlington.

FOR GOOD
Boots AND Shoes,
GO TO
GEO. H. LEOBKER'S
NO 36 PIKE STREET.
Covington, - - Kentucky

JAMES S. WAYNE, President. JNO. L. SANDFORD, Cashier
CAPITAL $300,000.
FARMERS AND TRADERS
NATIONAL BANK.
Covington, Kentucky.
DIRECTORS.
James S. Wayne, M. C. Motch, Sam Hind, E. J. Hickey, E. J. Green
J. S. Matson, J. H. Mersman, J. L. Sandford, L. H Dills, F. P. Helm
L. C. Stephens,
The general operations of banking transacted upon the most favorable terms. Collections made on all points in the United States.
The Business and Accounts of Farmers are Especially Solicited by this Bank.
dec. 20 tm

The Greatest Bargains in
OVERCOATS
AND
SUITS!
CAN BE HAD AT
H. F. BLASE,
540 Madison St, - COVINGTON, KY

UNDERTAKING.

We keep Constantly on Hand all sizes of
Burial Cases and Caskets.
And having just received a beautiful
NEW HEARSE,
Which can be had at a reasonable price when desired.
PRICES GUARANTEED LESS THAN CITY PRICES!
DAVIS BROS., - - - HEBRON, KY.

City Flouring Mills
RISING SUN, INDIANA.
FLOUR EXCHANGED FOR WHEAT OR CASH. THE HIGHEST MARKET PRICE PAID FOR GOOD WHEAT. mar7-tf23
J. W. Talbott.

MOTHER NOBLE'S

TRADE MARK.
HEALING SYRUP.
20 Million Bottles sold in 10 years. A certain Cure for Dyspepsia, all Diseases of the Kidneys, Liver, Stomach, Blood, Skin and Bowels.
Can Produce Thousands of Letters proving its Curative Powers.
AN OLD AND LONG TRIED REMEDY.
LABORATORY 77 AMITY STREET, NEW YORK CITY.
FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

Cornease. —The King of Corn Killers. The most desperate Corns, BUNIONS, WARTS &c., SPEEDILY cured. Price 25 Cents.
Footease. —An Unfailing Remedy for Hot, Swollen and Tender Feet, Chilblains, &c. Price 25 Cents.
Cornease Manuf'g Co., 236, 5th Ave. Place, N. Y. City.
For Sale by Agents, Druggists and Shoe Dealers.

Subscribe For The
BOONE COUNTY
RECORDER.
And begin with the New Year.

NEW Vegetables A Specialty.
GREGORY'S SEED CATALOGUE
1854.—1884
My Vegetable and Flower Seed Catalogue for 1884, the result of thirty years' experience as a Seed Grower, will be sent free to all who apply. All my Seed is warranted to be fresh and true to name, so far that should it prove otherwise, I agree to refill orders gratis. My collection of vegetable Seed, one of the most extensive to be found in any American Catalogue, is a large part of it of my own growing. As the original introducer of Eclipse Beet, Burbank Potatoes, Marblehead Early Corn, the Hubbard Squash, and scores of other new Vegetables, I invite the patronage of the public. In the gardens and on the farms of those who plant my seed will be found my best advertisement.
JAMES J. H. GREGORY, Seed Grower, Marblehead, Mass.

THE RECORDER.

RIDDELL & HALL, Publishers.

BURLINGTON, : : KENTUCKY.

A BASHFUL BACHELOR.

A rich young swell,
Who knew full well
The perils of leap-year,
Went down Broadway,
The other day,
With soul distraught with fear.

He seemed afraid
Of every maid
He met upon the street;
If one did look
At him he shook,
And sought some safe retreat.

But once he stopped
And would have flopped
Down on his knees in mud;
Pale with affright
He saw a sight
That smote him with a thud.

For, standing there,
With golden hair
And eyes of deepest blue,
A modest maid,
Demure and staid,
Looked up with glance so true.

His pulses stir.
"Will you, kind sir,"
The pretty maiden said,
"Please take me, now"—
With hurried bow
The pretty fellow fled.

Why did he fly—
This youth so shy?
Her plea was incomplete;
She only meant
To ask the gent
To help her cross the street.
—N. Y. Morning Journal.

THAT WONDERFUL DR. VOULLAIRE.

"Ah, Dr. Halsey! How are you, sir?"

"Hullo, Pussy! Down again? That's too bad."

"Yes," wailed she thus sportively addressed, "I'm down again, and I seem likely to be down to the end of the chapter. It's nothing but aches and pains and torment and torture the whole time. I'm in perfect misery now."

Dr. Halsey's kindly old mouth expanded with a smile of quiet amusement as he glanced at the trim little figure lying on the sofa, and noted in his semi-comprehending man's fashion, that appreciated in toto, though it could not have described as to detail, all the dainty prettiness from the unrumpled waves of nut-brown hair to the gleaming tip of a tiny, bead-embroidered slipper, that protruded from trailing folds of pale blue cashmere. "Misery" to make itself so fine and keep itself so scrupulously!

But Dr. Halsey was used to feminine hyperbole in general, Luly Roslyn's in particular; so he merely bestowed a fatherly pat upon the Mother Hubbard shirrs and puffs covering the small plump shoulder, and said gently: "Be of good heart, child, these east winds and sunless skies are against you, but they won't last always. You're coming out all right directly, only have patience a little longer."

Luly waited with compressed lips to hear the closing of the outer door; then turned toward her husband, who had dropped into the chair left vacant by the departing physician.

"Dr. Halsey is an old fogy, Jack," she burst forth, hotly.

"Why, my dear!" Jack began, in a mild remonstrance.

"But he is," iterated the seraph in pale blue cashmere, "and you know it as well I do. He's a hundred years behind the age he lives in, messing around with his nasty old pills and potions. See here, will you?"

Saying which Luly drew from beneath her pillow a poster big and flaming.

"HEALING FOR THE MILLION!!!
"NO MORE DRUGS!!
"A BETTER AND A SURER WAY!
"The world-renowned magnetic healer,
"DR. LEON VOULLAIRE"—

read Jack, with many a pompous flourish.

"The seventh son of a seventh son"—

"Now," indignantly interrupted Luly, "it doesn't say any such thing; and you needn't make fun, either," she continued, aggrievedly. "Just look at those testimonials."

"To whom it may concern;" perused Jack. "This is to certify that having suffered for years from a most obstinate rheumatic affection, for which I was treated by many eminent physicians both in this country and in Europe, and getting no better, but rather growing worse until my condition had become distressing beyond description, I learned of the wonderful cures of Dr. Voullaire, and applied to him for relief. Conveyed to his office a helpless cripple, I left it, through what seemed nothing less than a miracle, independent of aid. This remarkable restoration has proved permanent, and when I contrast my present privileges and enjoyments with my former miserable estate, I can find no language adequate to express my great gratitude to that prince of healers and benefactor of his race. MRS. F. H. WITHERBY."

"Isn't there something in it?" triumphantly interrogated Luly.

"I should rather guess so—a pretty good-sized bill."

"Oh, it's the bill, is it? I never supposed you'd be mean and stingy about money, Jack."

"My dear," and Jack's tone was freighted with a gentle reproach; "ask what you will and it shall be done, even to the half of my kingdom. But, really, the bill is the biggest thing in it, so far as Voullaire is concerned."

"And you declare these all lies?" Luly questioned, sternly, indicating the long column of commendations. "I happen to know some of these names."

"By no means," Jack replied. "I admit them all truths, if so you like. The point I insist upon is that the gift lay quite as much with the patient as with the physician. Can't you understand what the confident expectation of a result may accomplish? Why, Luly, I could do that sort of thing myself, if only people would believe in me enough! Don't you see?"

Luly had unexpectedly changed her tactics.

"I don't see anything, except that I am dying by inches and denied my one chance for help," she said, with a quaver in her voice; and then she turned her face to the wall.

Jack's laugh ended with an odd abruptness, and a shadow fell across his jovial visage.

Now Jack Roslyn was termed by his friends "a lucky fellow," and certain it was that he had fed upon the roses and lain among the lilies of life rather more than the lot of man is wont to allow. To be lord of the radiant being before him was esteemed the acme of felicity, and had made him the envied of many a hapless masculine. Yet here he sat regarding the pretty brown head that dented the sofa's crimson cushion with a frown upon his brow and bitterness in his soul.

But Jack's heart was right, after all; for, as he mused within himself, the scowl in his forehead got smoothed away, and a wave of tenderness encompassed him. It was his own dear little Luly, whose folly was infinitely more charming than the wisdom of any other woman; whose crossness, even—she was not often cross—was something adorable.

So his revery went on and on, with varying form and shape. It was well, perhaps, for Luly's peace of mind that her face was averted, and she saw not the curious little points of light that gleamed at last from between the incongruous yellow lashes of Jack's dark eyes.

"Well, Luly," he began, bye-and-bye, and Luly detected at once the note of concession, "if your heart is set upon trying this thing, why, of course, go ahead. I've got to go into the city to-morrow, and nothing would delight me more than your sweet company."

She confronted him with a countenance absolutely beaming, and put out her hands in a captivating little gesture.

"Now you're my good old Jack," she said.

Jack laughed and stooped over her, and carried the hands to his cheek for an instant, then went out to his dinner and away to his business.

That night he came home in a perfect down-pour of rain.

"But it's a clearing shower," he asserted, cheerfully. "The wind's getting around to the west, and we're sure of a fair day for our jaunt, Luly.

"What!" he exclaimed, suddenly, perceiving the lately dejected Luly now very absorbed and eager, poising upon her up-lifted fingers a fragment in straw and blossoms and dangling ribbons. "Spring millinery?"

"Well, I wasn't going down there looking like a dowdy," mumbled Luly, with her mouth full of pins.

Jack's prediction came true. The five days' sulk and evening's drench were succeeded by the bonniest of May mornings. Luly donned the "love of a bonnet" her deft fingers had fashioned, and managed, somehow, to look most wonderfully bright and blooming for a person suffering from ill health.

"Does your shoulder pain you very badly, dear?" Jack asked, with tender solicitude as they pursued their journey.

The vernal sunshine, streaming in at the car-window's unshaded lower half, lapped her in a comfort quite luxurious. It was with an effort, in fact, that she realized even the existence of the aforenamed troublesome member. But, come to think of it!—well, it didn't ache so perfectly awfully as it had sometimes. She should hope not, indeed; but it didn't feel just right now.

The city was all life and animation and stir. Beautiful fabrics filled the shop-windows. Eager-faced people thronged the walks. So much to do! This capricious spring had stolen a march on everybody, and everybody was making glad haste to get ready for the welcome invader.

"I must stop here at Hollingsworth's. I've some shopping to attend to, and I want to see about the children's summer suits and so on," Luly said.

Jack accompanied her within.

"But now I must go my way," he declared, after a little "Take it easy here, Luly, and get you some dinner before going further. Gluck auf."

A lay-figure stood just before them, and, in the retirement it afforded, Jack let his blonde mustache brush lightly the fair cheek of his companion.

He came back a moment later.

"I understand your doctor occupies new quarters," he said. "Wentworth street, No. 57—one flight up, remember. You want to take a Merivale avenue car"—and then he was really gone.

It was not until nearly the middle of the afternoon that Luly found herself at the designated place. Her eyes searched the building for some assuring sign, but found it not. Yet this was Wentworth street surely, and this was No. 57, and so she ventured in.

With entire correctness, as she soon gathered from the diminutive son of Africa—garbed fantastically, mannered a la Chesterfield—who received her at the door. Across the polished hard-wood floor and Persian rugs of the quaintly-appointed little antechamber the urbane servitor led the way, slipped a silken portiere, and passed her in under the golden-lilied banneret of France that depended from above and between the gigantic pair of lacquered vases that towered one on either side.

Immediately there was bowing low before her, with his hand upon his heart, a very elegant gentleman in a very elegant dress-suit and a blaze of diamonds at his breast, as he chanced to intersect a bar of sunlight with the half-circle his person was describing. A mane of jetty curls fell to his shoulders. A glitter of white teeth broke from the blackness of his bearded lip. Adamantean, indeed, must be the fancy to which these so patent charms could make no appeal! Besides it was the perfection of fine breeding, Luly thought, with which Dr. Voullaire performed the simple courtesy of handing her a chair, as it was certainly the ideal of agreeableness with which, having placed himself opposite, he proceeded to speak of the weather and the topics of the times in English charmingly corrupt.

Then, would Madam be pleased to look about his den a little? And he shoved to one side a small yellow jar, encircled by an artistically ugly green lizard and holding a big bunch of freshly-cut Jacqueminot roses, the better to display the design of a rare mosaic that formed the top of the stand on which his arm was resting. Here was a curious bit in antique bronze; here a whimsey in wood-carving; this painting had a good point or two.

Luly became so swallowed up in delight and admiration as to quite lose sight of the purpose of her visit, and it was not until there happened to flash into her mind a sudden recollection of the inexorable train for home that she remembered to say, wherefore it was she had come.

Dr. Voullaire had her seated at once.

"Ah! ze rheumatism in ze s'oulder. Ma fois, it is one terrible 'urt."

He took her hand lightly, and made a few swift passes from the shoulder downward.

"Madam is cured," he said, impressively; and it no more occurred to Luly to gainsay the statement than it would have done had he asserted that the sun was shining.

Behind the tall screen in a corner he disappeared, to return a moment later with a tiny vial, half full of a colorless and an odorless liquid.

"T'ree drop everee t'ree morning—Madame veel so stay one cured," he smilingly explained; "and zis day two week come."

Jack rushed into the station in the mere nick of time.

"Well?" he said, interrogatively, when he had settled himself beside Luly and the train was moving out.

"Oh, I feel like a new creature, Jack! And such a lovely place! No dusty old bottles and no smelly old medicines; not one bit like a doctor's office any way—more like an art museum! And the pictures! Oh, my! Such lots and lots of them—cherubs and cupids and dear little Kate Greenawayish figures, and I don't know what. And such a lovely gentleman, too! Tall and splendid—"

"A big Frenchman, eh?" laughed Jack.

"And strong and brave and grand and noble, like a true knight come forth to battle physical suffering and deliver the oppressed. Just imagine him accoutred all in glittering armor, Jack, with helmet and plume atop those raven locks."

So Luly babbled on with her pretty fancies, and laughed her gay, soft laugh; and Jack laughed, too, and seemed amused beyond measure.

The days that followed were of the rarest. Never serener skies. Never a more genial sunshine. The orchards of Appledale flushed rosy pink, paled to white, and flecked the green turf with a mimic snow-fall. Luly went on long drives "over the hills and far away," rejoiced in her escape from the fell powers of disease, and swallowed her drops religiously.

The interval expired, she dutifully set her face city ward. Jack happened again to bear her company, and as before, arrived, they took their separate ways.

In process of time it came about that the grinning young Ethiop once more had drawn the hanging, and Luly once more had been ushered into the august presence of the courtly Sir Esculapius. Beside his fair patient's chair he stood at last, holding her hand in his—holding it, too, a little closer and a little longer than professional necessity would seem to require, it vaguely occurred to Luly, as she sat regarding, with profound intentness, the neatly-turned toe of her dainty boot.

Then, as she lifted her eyes, lo! a marvel. In place of the ebon ringlets a close-cropped thatch of yellow hair. Supplanting the olive-tinted complexion, a countenance of ruddy hue. Was the man a wizard?

Upon her pitiable bewilderment there broke straightway a familiar laugh, and a voice every intonation of which she knew

"Allow me to introduce myself," it said—"John Roslyn, junior partner of the firm of Prescott & Roslyn, cotton manufacturers at Appledale; among my friends familiarly and affectionately known as 'Jack.' At your service, madame."

But Jack saw the hurt look creeping into Luly's face—the look that he would never let stay there for long without an attempt to banish it.

He gathered the little figure into his arms, and bent his head low over the flower-o'-the-wild-rose bonnet.

"My precious wife, forgive me," he pleaded, gently; "it was an abominable trick."

"This—this place—what is it?" questioned Luly, at length.

"An artist's studio, dear, and it belongs to one of my boyhood's friends, Pierre Guillard. From some great-grandfather or other, he inherited a French name and a dash of French blood, and he's proud of both and parades them accordingly. The portraiture of children is his specialty, and he makes designs for the children's magazines and holiday books, and for Christmas and birth-day cards. His implements of labor are huddled together behind that screen."

"And the drops?" pursued Luly, faintly.

"Water, pure and simple, from 'the old oaken bucket, the iron-bound bucket, the moss-covered bucket' that would hang in our well at home were it not that we live in an era of improvements and have a patent pump,"—Jack answered, promptly.

"Now," he began anew, magnanimously forbearing so much as a glance triumphant, "I'll just scrub this blacking off my mustache and eyebrows and eyelashes, leave my compliments for Pierre, and then run across to the costumer's, divest myself of the accessories of my role, and rehabilitate the real ego.

"Oh, look here!" detaching from that precarious somewhere or anywhere to which the feminine purse gets consigned a little elegancy of tasseled plush, and slipping within a small roll of crisp papers with green reverse, "that merveilleux gown, Luly. I can afford to do something rather handsome, you see; I've no doctor's bills to pay."

It was an ignoble sort of amends, of course; yet evidently as alleviating to wounded pride as the psychological method had proved itself to be in all-ings physical, since the bright-faced little lady who tripped down the avenue a half-hour later at Jack Roslyn's side showed no more trace of the one than of the other.—Miss A. E. Coates, in N. Y. Examiner.

English and French Justice.

If, in France, a man is accused of stealing a watch, the Judge d'Instruction invariably says to him: "The best thing you can do is to make a full confession;" or: "You are charged with stealing a watch, prove that you are innocent." In England, the accused person is told: "You are charged with stealing a watch, you have nothing to say, we shall have to prove it." Such are the two different manners of proceeding. No inquisition in the shape of private examination. No prevention—that is to say that, except in grave cases, the prisoner is liberated on bail. He appears before a magistrate, in public, the very day after his arrest. If he makes a full confession, the magistrate advises him to reserve his defense and to plead not guilty. He is not made to undergo any examination, and it is preferred that he should not admit his guilt, in order that, by independent evidence, the charge may be brought home to him. Besides, it is quite common here to see people giving themselves up to justice and asserting that they have committed some crime. It is a very frequent mania. When any case of murder remains obscured in mystery all the drunkards take it into their heads that they committed it and they go and give themselves up to the police. An inquiry is made and they are set at liberty. The examination of the witnesses is done by counsel. The Judge presides over the proceedings; he acts as moderator. The prisoner is quietly seated in the dock; he listens; the poor witnesses pass an uncomfortable quarter of an hour in the hands of the lawyers. In order that the jury may not be influenced by the antecedents of the prisoner, if they should be bad, no reference to them is permitted. If he is found guilty a member of the police comes forward to prove that the prisoner has already undergone several sentences, and then the Judge applies the full rigor of the law. As to the witnesses, every effort is made to show that their evidence is not trustworthy. The most incongruous questions are put to them. Woe betide them if there exists any page in their past life that they would fain keep secret! "Are you married to the man you live with?" a woman may be asked. "Are you a faithful wife?" "Is it not a fact that you are addicted to drinking?" She has to answer all this. There are some who get angry over it, and the audience enjoy the fun.—John Bull and his Island Max O'Rell.

—Prof. Woods, a leading London authority in the matter, maintains that horses should not be shod, and should not wear blinders, or check-reins, or curbs.

Mr. Peter Mallen, 212 W. Twenty fourth St., N. Y., says that he suffered six years with rheumatism and found no relief until St. Jacobs Oil, the sovereign remedy, was applied, which cured him completely.

Up to snuff—pepper, if you merely wish to make some one sneeze.—Exchange.

The Blood Would Run.—For five years I was a great sufferer from Catarrh. My nostrils were so sensitive I could not bear the least bit of dust; at times so bad that the blood would run, and at night I could hardly breathe. After trying many things without much benefit I used Ely's Cream Balm. I am a living witness of its efficacy. Peter Bruce, Farmer, Ithaca, N. Y.

A charity bawl—"Gimme ten cents ter buy er loaf er bread with."

My father had an eating cancer for several years, which had eaten away his under lip and the inside of his cheek, down to the bottom of his gums. We got some of Swift's Specific and gave him, and the effect has been wonderful—almost miraculous. The sores are all healed, and he is perfectly well. Every one here said it was only a question of time about his death, and his cure has created the greatest excitement in this part of the country. Wm. B. Lathrop, South Easton, Mass., Jan. 7, 1884.

Steeples come high, but the churches must have them.

Rheumatism Quickly Cured.

There has never been a medicine for rheumatism introduced in the United States that has given such universal satisfaction as Durang's Rheumatic Remedy. It stands out alone as the one great remedy that actually cures this dread disease. It is taken internally, and never has and never can fail to cure the worst case in the shortest time. It is sold by every druggist at $1. Write for free forty-page pamphlet to R. K. Helphenstine, Druggist, Washington, D.C.

The gain on a flock of sheep may be called a wether profit.—Chicago Times.

☞ Well Dressed People don't wear dingy or faded things when the 10c. and guaranteed Diamond Dye will make them good as new. They are perfect. Get at druggists and be economical. Wells, Richardson & Co., Burlington, Vt.

The Combination of Ingredients used in making Brown's Bronchial Troches is such as to give the best possible effect with safety. They are the best remedy in use for Coughs, and Throat Diseases.

When Doctors Disagree

it will be time enough to doubt the reliability of Kidney-Wort. Doctors all agree that it is a most valuable medicine in all disorders of the Liver, Kidneys and Bowels, and frequently prescribe it. Dr. P. C. Ballou, of Monkton, says: "The past year I have used it more than ever, and with the best results. It is the most successful remedy I have ever used." Such a recommendation speaks for itself. Sold by all druggists. See advt.

Why don't you use St. Patrick's Salve? Try it. Use it. 25c at all druggists.

OUT OF THE DEPTHS.

Our Correspondent's Researches and a Remarkable Occurrence He Describes.

ST. ALBANS, Vt., Jan. 10, 1884.

Messrs. Editors: The upper portion of Vermont is one of the pleasantest regions in America during the summer and one of the bleakest during the winter. It affords ample opportunity for the tourist, providing he chooses the proper season, but the present time is not that season. Still there are men and women here who not only endure the climate, but praise it unstintingly, and that, too, in the face of physical hardships the most intense. The writer heard of a striking illustration of this a few days since which is given herewith:

Mr. Joseph Jacques is connected with the Vermont Central Railroad in the capacity of Master Mason. He is well advanced in years, with a ruddy complexion and hale appearance, while his general bearing is such as to instantly impress one with his strict honor and integrity. Several years ago he became afflicted with most distressing troubles, which prevented the prosecution of his duties. He was languid, and yet restless, while at times a dizziness would come over him which seemed almost blinding. His will power was strong, and he determined not to give way to the mysterious influence which seemed undermining his life. But the pain and annoying symptoms were stronger than his will, and he kept growing gradually worse. About that time he began to notice a difficulty in drawing on his boots, and it was by the greatest effort that he was able to force his feet into them. In this manner several weeks passed by, until finally one night, while in great agony, he discovered that his feet had, in a short while, swollen to enormous proportions. The balance of the narrative can best be described in his own words. He said:

"When my wife discovered the fact that I was so bloated, she sent for the doctor immediately. He made a most careful examination and pronounced me in a very serious condition. Notwithstanding his care, I grew worse, and the swelling of my feet gradually extended upward in my body. The top of my head pained me terribly; indeed, so badly that at times it seemed almost as if it would burst. My feet were painfully cold, and even when surrounded with hot flannels and irons felt as if a strong wind were blowing on them. Next my right leg became paralyzed. This gave me no pain, but it was exceedingly annoying. About this time I began to spit blood most freely, although my lungs were in perfect condition, and I knew it did not come from them. My physicians were careful and untiring in their attentions, but unable to relieve my sufferings. My neighbors and friends thought I was dying and many called to see me, fully twenty-five on a single Sunday that I now recall. At last my agony seemed to culminate in the most intense, sharp pains I have ever known or heard of. If red hot knives sharpened to the highest degree had been run through my body constantly they could not have hurt me worse. I would spring up in bed, sometimes as much as three feet, cry out in my agony and long for death. One night the misery was so intense that I arose and attempted to go into the next room, but was unable to lift my swollen feet above the little threshold that obstructed them. I fell back upon the bed and gasped in my agony, but felt unable even to breathe. It seemed like death.

"Several years ago Rev. Dr. J. E. Renkin, now of Washington, was stationed here as pastor of the Congregational Church. We all admired and respected him, and my wife remembered seeing somewhere that he had spoken in the highest terms of a preparation which had cured some of his intimate friends. We determined to try this remedy, accordingly sent for it, and, to make a long story short, it completely restored my health, brought me back from the grave, and I owe all I have in the way of health and strength to Warner's Safe Cure, better known as Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Cure. I am positive that if I had taken this medicine when I felt the first symptoms above described, I might have avoided all the agony I afterward endured, to say nothing of the narrow escape I had from death."

In order that all possible facts bearing upon the subject might be known, I called on Dr. Oscar F. Fassett, who was for nineteen years United States Examining Surgeon and who attended Mr. Jacques during his sickness. He stated that Mr. Jacques had a most pronounced case of Albuminuria or Bright's disease of the kidneys. That an analysis showed the presence of albumen and casts in great abundance and that he was in a condition where few, if any, ever recover. His recovery was due to Warner's Safe Cure.

Mr. John W. Hobart, General Manager of the Vermont Central Railroad, stated that Mr. Jacques was one of the best and most faithful of his employes, that his sickness had been an exceedingly severe one and the company were not only glad to again have his services, but grateful to the remedy that had cured so valuable a man.

Mr. James M. Foss, Assistant Superintendent and Master Mechanic of the Vermont Central Railroad, is also able to confirm this.

I do not claim to be a great discoverer, but I do think I have found in the above a most remarkable case and knowing the unusual increase of Bright's disease feel that the public should have the benefit of it. It seems to me a remedy that can accomplish so much in the last stages ought to do even more for the first approach of this deceptive yet terrible trouble. F. B.

Walnut Leaf Hair Restorer

Is entirely different from all others. It is as clear as water, and, as its name indicates, is a perfect Vegetable Hair Restorer. It will immediately free the head from dandruff, restore gray hair to its natural color, and produce a new growth where it has fallen off. It does not in any manner affect the health, which Sulphur, Sugar of Lead and Nitrate of Silver preparations have done. It will change light or faded hair in a few days to a beautiful glossy brown. Ask your druggist for it. Each bottle is warranted. JOHN D. PARK & SONS, Wholesale Agents, Cincinnati, Ohio, and C. N. CRITTENTON, N. Y.

The Best for Butter.

There is but one best color for butter, and that that is Wells, Richardson & Co.'s Improved Butter Color, no candid investigator doubts. It is the best butter color in the world; is free from sediment or impurity, always ready for instant use, and it imparts to butter that rich dandelion yellow, without a tinge of red, which is the acme of desirability in any butter color.

A Messenger of Health.

Sent free to sufferers from nervous, chronic and blood diseases, brain and heart affections, nervous debility, exhaustion, etc., who have failed to find relief. It tells of wonderful cures effected by Dr. Scott's Coca, Beef and Iron, with Phosphorus. Sold by druggists; $1. Dr. Scott, Kansas City, Mo. Ask your druggist for pamphlet.

Stinging, Irritation, all Kidney and Bladder Complaints, cured by "Buchu-Paiba." $1.

Hale's Honey of Horehound and Tar

Wards off the grip of pneumonia. Pike's toothache drops cure in one minute.

Flies, roaches, ants, bed-bugs, rats, mice, crows, cleared out by "Rough on Rats." 15c.

Not a costly medicine—25 doses Piso's Cure for Consumption for 25 cents.

Skinny Men. "Wells' Health Renewer" restores health and vigor, cures Dyspepsia.

Dr. Williams' Indian Pile Ointment. Warranted to cure any case of blind, bleeding or itching piles. At druggists.

"When we say that Samaritan Nervine cures rheumatism, we mean it."—Frisco Journal.

Don't Die in the House. "Rough on Rats," clears out rats, mice, flies, roaches, bed-bugs. 15c.

Dr. B. F. Laughlin, Clide, Kan., writes: "Samaritan Nervine cures fits."

Wells' "Rough on Corns." 15c. Ask for it. Complete, permanent cure. Corns, bunions.

Redding's Russia Salve is the most wonderful healing medium in the world. Try it.

THE MARKETS.

CINCINNATI, January 28, 1884.

LIVE STOCK—Cattle—common	$2 25	@ 3 25
Choice butchers	4 50	@ 5 40
HOGS—Common	4 75	@ 5 45
Good packers	5 85	@ 6 25
SHEEP	4 00	@ 4 75
FLOUR—Family	4 60	@ 4 90
GRAIN—Wheat—Longberry red	1 05	@ 1 07
No. 2 red	1 02	@ 1 03
Corn—No. 2 mixed		@ 51½
Oats—No. 2 mixed		@ 37
Rye—No. 2	62½	@ 63
HAY—Timothy No. 1	10 00	@ 10 50
HEMP—Double dressed	8 75	@ 9 00
PROVISIONS—Pork—Mess	15 50	@
Lard—Prime steam	8 80	@
BUTTER—Fancy Dairy	23	@ 24
Prime Creamery	30	@ 34
FRUIT AND VEGETABLES—
Potatoes per bar. from store	1 35	@ 1 40
Apples, prime, per barrel	3 00	@ 3 50
NEW YORK.
FLOUR—State and Western	$2 65	@ 3 35
Good to choice	3 75	@ 6 50
GRAIN—Wheat—No. 2 spring	1 02½	@ 1 06½
No. 2 red	1 04	@ 1 07¼
Corn—No. 2 mixed	66	@
Oats—mixed	39¾	@
PORK—Mess	14 75	@ 15 00
CHICAGO.
FLOUR—State and Western	$3 50	@ 4 85
GRAIN—Wheat—No. 2 red	97	@ 99
Corn—No. 2	52⅝	@ 52½
Oats—No. 2	31	@ 32
Rye	55½	@
PORK—Mess	14 40	@ 14 50
LARD—Steam	8-85	@ 8-90
BALTIMORE.
FLOUR—Family	$4 90	@ 5 75
GRAIN—Wheat—No. 2 red	1 06½	@ 1 07
Corn—mixed	79½	@ 60
Oats—mixed	40	@ 41
PROVISIONS—Pork—Mess	15 50	@
Lard—Refined	10	@
LOUISVILLE.
FLOUR—A No 1	$4 00	@ 4 50
GRAIN—Wheat—No. 2 red, new	1 02	@ 1 03
Corn—mixed	51½	@
Oats—mixed	36½	@
PORK—MESS	16 00	@
INDIANAPOLIS.
WHEAT—No. 2, red, new	$ 99½	@
CORN—mixed	47	@
OATS—mixed	35	@
LIVE STOCK—Cattle
Butchers' stock	2 75	@ 3 0.
Shipping cattle	5 25	@

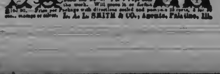
ST. JACOBS OIL

[1] THE GREAT GERMAN REMEDY FOR PAIN. CURES Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Sciatica, Lumbago, Backache, Headache, Toothache, Sore Throat, Swellings, Sprains, Bruises, Burns, Scalds, Frost Bites, And All Other BODILY PAINS and ACHES. Sold by Druggists and Dealers everywhere. Fifty Cents a bottle. Directions in 11 languages. THE CHARLES A. VOGELER CO., (Successors to A. VOGELER & CO.) Baltimore, Md., U.S.A.

HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS

The necessity for prompt and efficient household remedies is daily growing more imperative, and of these Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is the chief in merit and the most popular. Irregularity of the stomach and bowels, malarial fevers, liver complaint, debility, rheumatism and minor ailments, are thoroughly conquered by this incomparable family restorative and medicinal safe-guard, and it is justly regarded as the purest and most comprehensive remedy of its class. For sale by all Druggists and Dealers generally.

CATARRH ELY'S CREAM BALM



when applied by the finger into the nostrils, will be absorbed, effectually cleansing the head of catarrhal virus, causing healthy secretions. It allays inflammation, protects the membrane of the nasal passages from additional colds, completely heals the sores and restores taste and smell. A few applications relieve. A thorough treatment will positively cure. Agreeable to use. HAY-FEVER Send for circular. Price 50 cents by mail or at druggists. Ely Brothers, Druggists, Owego, N.Y.

SHARP PAINS Crick, Sprains, Wrenches, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Sciatica, Pleurisy Pains, Stitch in the Side, Backache, Swollen Joints, Heart Disease, Sore Muscles, Pain in the Chest, and all pains and aches either local or deep-seated are instantly relieved and speedily cured by the well-known Hop Plaster. Compounded, as it is, of the medicinal virtues of fresh Hops, Gums, Balsams and Extracts, it is indeed the best pain-killing, stimulating, soothing and strengthening Porous Plaster ever made. Hop Plasters are sold by all druggists and country stores. 25 cents or five for $1.00. Mailed on receipt of price. Hop Plaster Co., Proprietors and Manufacturers, Boston, Mass. HOP PLASTER

☞ Coated tongue, bad breath, sour stomach and liver disease cured by Hawley's Stomach and Liver Pills, 25 cts.

DYKE'S BEARD ELIXIR

Forces luxuriant Mustache, Whiskers, or hair on bald heads in 20 to 30 days. No injury. Easily used. Beats the world. 3 or 3 Pkgs does the work. Will prove it or forfeit $100.00. Price per Package with directions sealed and postpaid 25 cents, 3 for 50 cts., stamps or silver. L. A. L. SMITH & CO., Agents, Palatine, Ills.

ARE DREAMS PROPHETIC?

Some Instances in Point—How Predictions May be Defeated!

Ten days before his death Lincoln dreamed that "the President" lay dead in the White House, "killed by the hand of an assassin." When his wife heard of the tragedy she exclaimed: "His dream was prophetic!" The majority of dreams, however, are never fulfilled—they are too fantastic, or they are solved by contrary events. People are often possessed of the idea that they shall soon die. They find themselves the subject of strange feelings. They know they are not what they once were, and as they approach certain ages they are quite sure they will not "be long of earth." These impressions as a rule are the result of an imagination disordered by disease, but they can be shaken off by prompt and thorough measures. We are told that very many diseases can be prevented; indeed, half the deaths are said to be preventable! Hence the importance of always acting promptly in every personal emergency.

These thoughts find apt illustration in the case of Justice William Moul, of West Sandlake, N. Y., so well known in Troy. For years he was plagued by forebodings that he was doomed to an early death. He had dull and flitting pains in various parts of the body, his complexion was bad, his appetite was variable; he felt weary without known cause, was constantly constipated, his tongue was heavily coated, and frequent feverish disorders appeared. He struggled manfully but in vain against what seemed to be a certain doom. Then followed extreme tenderness and pain in the back, great lassitude, gravelly deposits in water, which was dark, frothy and odorous, all indicating liver and kidney disorders. These developments alarmed him, especially since physicians did him no good. About giving up in despair, he followed the counsel of one of the Supreme Court Justices to use Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy (of Rondout, N. Y.,) as an experiment. He did so and the forebodings vanished! It scattered all his bad feelings, revived his appetite, restored his liver and kidneys, renewed his blood, increased his weight by twenty pounds, and to it alone he gives the credit of saving his life.

Dreams and warnings and forebodings of early death need not always be fulfilled if proper measures are promptly taken to defeat them.

VIGOR, HEALTH AND LIFE Is found in the Great Modern Discovery, DR. SCOTT'S Coca, Beef and Iron (With Phosphorus.) Possessing marvelous curative virtues in all forms of Nervous Debility, Brain, Heart and Nervous Diseases, Dyspepsia, Weak Lungs, Nerve Exhaustion, &c. $1.00 per bottle; 6 bottles, $5.00. Send stamp for the "Messenger of Health," and read of wonderful cures effected by Coca, Beef and Iron, or ask your Druggist for it. Address DR. C. W. SCOTT, Kansas City, Mo.

I CURE FITS! When I say cure I do not mean merely to stop them for a time and then have them return again, I mean a radical cure. I have made the disease of FITS, EPILEPSY or FALLING SICKNESS a life-long study. I warrant my remedy to cure the worst cases. Because others have failed is no reason for not now receiving a cure. Send at once for a treatise and a Free Bottle of my infallible remedy. Give Express and Post Office. It costs you nothing for a trial, and I will cure you. Address DR. H. G. ROOT, 183 Pearl St., New York.

ABSOLUTELY THE BEST. WILSON'S LIGHTNING SEWER! Two thousand stitches a minute. The only absolutely first-class Sewing Machine in the world. Sent on trial. Warranted 5 years. Send for Illustrated Catalogue and Circular. Agents Wanted. THE WILSON SEWING MACHINE CO., Chicago or New York.

CANCER INSTITUTE. Established, 1872; Incorporated, 1880. For the Cure of Cancers, Tumors, Ulcers, Scrofula and SKIN DISEASES, without the use of knife or LOSS OF BLOOD, and little pain. For INFORMATION, CIRCULARS AND REFERENCES, address DR. F. L. POND, Aurora, Kane Co., Ill.

Free Information About The South-West. Kansas, Colorado, Utah, New Mexico, Arizona, California and Old Mexico offer the best field for Farmers, Fruit-Growers, Stock-Raisers, Capitalists, Merchants, Miners and Mechanics of all trades. Maps, papers and pamphlets, giving detailed information mailed free, on application to C. B. SCHMIDT, Commissioner of Immigration, A. T. & S. F. R. R., TOPEKA, KANSAS.

Easy to use. A certain cure. Not expensive. Three months' treatment in one package. Good for Cold in the Head, Headache, Dizziness, Hay Fever, &c. Fifty cents. By all Druggists, or by mail. E. T. HAZELTINE, Warren, Pa.

AGENTS WANTED EVERYWHERE to sell the best Family Knitting Machine ever invented. Will knit a pair of stockings with HEEL and TOE complete in twenty minutes. It will also knit a great variety of fancy-work for which there is always a ready market. Send for circular and terms to the Twombly Knitting Machine Co., 163 Tremont Street, Boston, Mass.

PILES "Anakesis" gives instant relief, and is an infallible cure for Piles. Price $1 from druggists, or sent prepaid by mail. Samples free. Ad. "ANAKESIS," Makers, Box 2416, New York.

"THE BEST IS THE CHEAPEST." SAW MILLS, ENGINES THRESHERS, Horse Powers, (For all sections and purposes.) Write for Free Pamphlet and Prices to The Aultman & Taylor Co., Mansfield, Ohio.

PENSIONS speedily procured; delayed cases completed. Lost Horse Claims collected. No advance fee. Experience 18 years. Write for circular. References. A. W. McCORMICK, 59 Pike's B'g, Cincinnati O.

HAIR Wholesale and retail. Send for price-list. Goods sent C. O. D. Wigs made to order. E. BURNHAM, 71 State Street, Chicago.

PATENTS promptly procured in all countries. American Patent Agency, 183 Fifth Street, Cincinnati, Ohio.

$250 A MONTH. Agents Wanted. 90 best selling articles in the world. 1 sample FREE. Address JAY BRONSON, DETROIT, MICH.

Young Men learn TELEGRAPHY here and we will give you a situation. Circulars free. VALENTINE BROS., Janesville, Wis.

Good Pay for Agents. $100 to $200 per mo. made selling our fine Books & Bibles. Write to J. C. McCurdy & Co., Cincinnati, O.

$65 A MONTH and BOARD for three live Young Men or Ladies, in each county. Address P. W. ZIEGLER & CO., Philadelphia.

An Open Secret. The fact is well understood that the MEXICAN MUSTANG LINIMENT is by far the best external known for man or beast. The reason why becomes an "open secret" when we explain that "Mustang" penetrates skin, flesh, and muscle to the very bone removing all disease and soreness. No other liniment does this, hence none other is so largely used or does such worlds of good.

Thousands Hastened to Their Graves!

Relying on testimonials written in vivid glowing language of some miraculous cures made by some largely puffed up doctor or patent medicine has hastened thousands to their graves; believing in their almost insane faith that the same miracle will be performed on them, and that these testimonials make the cures, while the so called medicine is all the time hastening them to their graves. We have avoided publishing testimonials, as they do not make the cures, although we have

THOUSANDS UPON THOUSANDS

of them, of the most wonderful cures, voluntarily sent us. It is our medicine, Hop Bitters, that makes the cures. It has never failed and never can. We will give reference to any one for any disease similar to their own if desired, or will refer to any neighbor, as there is not a neighborhood in the known world but can show its cures by Hop Bitters.

A LOSING JOKE.

A prominent physician of Pittsburgh jokingly said to a lady patient who was complaining of her continued ill health, and of his inability to cure her, "Try Hop Bitters!" The lady took it in earnest and used the Bitters, from which she obtained permanent health. She now laughs at the doctor for his joke, but he is not so well pleased with it, as it cost him a good patient.

FEES OF DOCTORS.

The fee of doctors is an item that very many persons are interested in. We believe the schedule for visits is $3.00, which would tax a man confined to his bed for a year, and in need of a daily visit, over $1,000 a year for medical attendance alone! And one single bottle of Hop Bitters taken in time would save the $1,000 and all the year's sickness.

A LADY'S WISH.

"Oh, how I do wish my skin was as clear and soft as yours," said a lady to her friend. "You can easily make it so," answered the friend. "How?" inquired the first lady. "By using Hop Bitters that makes pure, rich blood and blooming health. It did it for me, as you observe."

GIVEN UP BY THE DOCTORS.

"Is it possible that Mr. Godfrey is up and at work, and cured by so simple a remedy?"

"I assure you it is true that he is entirely cured, and with nothing but Hop Bitters, and only ten days ago his doctors gave him up and said he must die, from Kidney and Liver trouble!"

GAIN Health and Happiness. How? DO AS OTHERS HAVE DONE.

Are your Kidneys disordered? "Kidney Wort brought me from my grave, as it were, after I had been given up by 13 best doctors in Detroit." M. W. Deveraux, Mechanic, Ionia, Mich.

Are your nerves weak? "Kidney Wort cured me from nervous weakness &c., after I was not expected to live."—Mrs. M. M. B. Goodwin, Ed. Christian Monitor Cleveland, O.

Have you Bright's Disease? "Kidney Wort cured me when my water was just like chalk and then like blood." Frank Wilson, Peabody, Mass.

Suffering from Diabetes? "Kidney-Wort is the most successful remedy I have ever used. Gives almost immediate relief." Dr. Phillip C. Ballou, Monkton, Vt.

Have you Liver Complaint? "Kidney-Wort cured me of chronic Liver Diseases after I prayed to die." Henry Ward, late Col. 69th Nat. Guard, N. Y.

Is your Back lame and aching? "Kidney-Wort, (1 bottle) cured me when I was so lame I had to roll out of bed." C. M. Tallmage, Milwaukee, Wis.

Have you Kidney Disease? "Kidney-Wort made me sound in liver and kidneys after years of unsuccessful doctoring. Its worth $10 a box."—Sam'l Hodges, Williamstown, West Va.

Are you Constipated? "Kidney-Wort causes easy evacuations and cured me after 16 years use of other medicines." Nelson Fairchild, St. Albans, Vt.

Have you Malaria? "Kidney-Wort has done better than any other remedy I have ever used in my practice." Dr. R. K. Clark, South Hero, Vt.

Are you Bilious? "Kidney-Wort has done me more good than any other remedy I have ever taken." Mrs. J. T. Galloway, Elk Flat, Oregon.

Are you tormented with Piles? "Kidney-Wort permanently cured me of bleeding piles. Dr. W. C. Kline recommended it to me." Geo. H. Horst, Cashier M. Bank, Myerstown, Pa.

Are you Rheumatism racked? "Kidney-Wort cured me, after I was given up to die by physicians and I had suffered thirty years." Elbridge Malcolm, West Bath, Maine.

Ladies, are you suffering? "Kidney-Wort cured me of peculiar troubles of several years standing. Many friends use and praise it." Mrs. H. Lamoreaux, Isle La Motte, Vt.

If you would Banish Disease and gain Health, Take KIDNEY-WORT THE BLOOD CLEANSER.

SAMARITAN NEVER FAILS. NERVINE IS UNFAILING AND INFALLIBLE IN CURING Epileptic Fits, Spasms, Falling Sickness, Convulsions, St. Vitus Dance, Alcoholism, Opium Eating, Scrofula, and all Nervous and Blood Diseases.

☞ To Clergymen, Lawyers, Literary Men, Merchants, Bankers, Ladies and all, whose sedentary employment causes Nervous Prostration, Irregularities of the blood, stomach, bowels or Kidneys, or who require a nerve tonic, appetizer or stimulant, Samaritan Nervine is invaluable.

☞ Thousands proclaim it the most wonderful Invigorant that ever sustained a sinking system. $1.50 per bottle. THE GREAT NERVE CONQUEROR. The DR. S. A. RICHMOND MEDICAL CO., Sole Proprietors, St. Joseph, Mo. Sold by all Druggists. (18) LORD, STOUTENBURG & CO., Agents, Chicago, Ill.

OPIUM and WHISKY HABITS cured at home without pain. Book of particulars sent free. B. M. WOOLLEY, M.D., Atlanta, Ga.

FOR LADIES USE.—The grandest article. Send stamp for illustrated circular. Dr. H. G. FARR, 75 Essex Street, Boston, Mass.

It is a well-known fact that most of the Horse and Cattle Powder sold in this country is worthless; that Sheridan's Condition Powder is absolutely pure and very valuable. Nothing on Earth will make hens lay like Sheridan's Condition Powder. Dose, one teaspoonful to each pint of food. It will also prevent and cure CHICKEN CHOLERA, Hog Cholera, &c. Sold everywhere, or sent by mail for 25 cents in stamps. Also furnished in large cans, for breeders' use, price $1.00; by mail, $1.20. Circulars sent FREE. I. S. JOHNSON & CO., Boston, Mass. MAKE HENS LAY

S.S.S. TRADE MARK CAUTION. Swift's Specific is entirely a vegetable preparation, and should not be confounded with the various substitutes, imitations, non-secret humbugs, "Succus Alterans," etc., etc., which are now being manufactured by various persons. None of these contain a single article which enters into the composition of S. S. S. There is only one Swift's Specific and there is nothing in the world like it. To prevent disaster and disappointment, be sure to get the genuine.

Swift's Specific is a complete antidote to Blood Taint, Blood Poison, Malarial Poison and Skin Humor. J. DICKSON SMITH, M. D., Atlanta, Ga.

I have had remarkable success with Swift's Specific in the treatment of Blood and Skin Diseases, and in Female Diseases. I took it myself for Carbuncles with happy effect. D. O. C. HENRY, M. D., Atlanta, Ga.

I used Swift's Specific on my little daughter, who was afflicted with some Blood Poison which had resisted all sorts of treatment. The Specific relieved her permanently, and I shall use it in my practice. W. E. BOOTH, M. D., Cypress Ridge, Ark.

Our treatise on Blood and Skin Diseases mailed free to applicants. SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., Drawer 3, Atlanta, Ga. New York Office, 159 West 23d Street.

CONSUMPTION. I have a positive remedy for the above disease; by its use thousands of cases of the worst kind and of long standing have been cured. Indeed, so strong is my faith in its efficacy, that I will send TWO BOTTLES FREE, together with a VALUABLE TREATISE on this disease, to any sufferer. Give Express and P. O. address. DR. T. A. SLOCUM, 181 Pearl St., New York.

FOR LADIES USE.—The greatest article. Send stamp for illustrated circular. Dr. H. G. FARR, 75 Essex Street, Boston, Mass.

WHEN WRITING TO ADVERTISERS please say you saw the advertisement in this paper.

BOONE COUNTY RECORDER.

VOLUME IX. BURLINGTON, KY., WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 6, 1884. NUMBER 14.

RAILROAD HORROR.

A Bridge Gives Way Under the Weight of a Train,

And Two Passenger Coaches Plunge Into a River—Six Persons Perish and Others Fatally Injured.

INDIANAPOLIS, January 31.—The Selem Bridge horror was duplicated this forenoon on the Monon route, at the crossing of White River, near Broad Ripple, eight miles north of this city, in the wrecking of the passenger train due here at 10:45 a. m., followed by fire and total destruction, the loss of several lives, and dangerous injury to a number of passengers. Many of its features are simply appalling. The train, under charge of Conductor Wm. S. Losey, consisted of the engine, baggage-car, smoker and ladies' coach. The bridge was of the Howe truss, two spans, each 120 feet in length, and comparatively new. At the time of the accident the train was running eighteen miles per hour, with James Noonen, the fireman, at the throttle, the engineer, John H. Brewer, having gone back to the water-closet of the smoking car, and was just clearing the first span, when the bridge behind broke in two places and the span and baggage car dropped into the flood. The smoking car forged ahead and fell upon the baggage, and it in turn was crushed by the rear coach. There was no time for alarm before the calamity was upon the ill-fated people, and instantaneously the occupants of the baggage and smoking car were struggling in a fatal wreck. A second latter flames burst from the overturned stoves and spread to the wood-work, of the coaches and the shivered timbers of the bridge, and soon enveloped every thing in one common ruin. Those who could not be extricated included John H. Brewer, engineer, Lafayette; John E. Ricketts, baggage-master, Monon; S. E. Smith, express messenger, Madison; George Lowery, brakeman, Buena Vista; Thomas Parr, foreman bridge repairers, Delphi; John Bray, passenger, Deming, Indiana; unknown passenger, Chicago. To this list might be added Lynn Clark, of Westfield, a passenger, who was fatally crushed about the head and whose death is a question of but a few hours. Ricketts, Smith and Lowery were in the baggage car, and for several minutes after the wreck went down they could be heard splashing in the water and screaming for assistance, while the outsiders could do nothing but stop their ears and pray for a speedy release by drowning rather than perish in the rapidly consuming flames. The list of the injured includes the more serious, as follows: W. P. Houk, of Westfield, badly cut about the head and body. William A. Seaman, Ex-Sheriff of Hamilton County, arm and face cut. William T. Swiggart, Carmel, skull fractured and bruised about the hips. Mrs. Sullivan, wife of the section boss, bruised about the head. J. B. Horton, scorched and bruised. B. J. White and Charles Parker, bridgemen, severely bruised about the head. The bridge is a comparatively new structure, but it has been undergoing repairs for several days. This morning the repairers were tightening the bolts and backing up the plates underneath with heavier timber, and there is a supposition that some of these plates were out of place when the train struck the bridge. If so, this accounts for the calamity, although the citizens in that vicinity claim that the bridge was never regarded as a strong structure. Be this as it may, a heavy freight train passed over not an hour in advance of the passenger train. Mr. White gives it as his opinion that the rods pulled through the nuts, letting the bridge down. As the foreman is dead and the ruins a tangled mass of warped rods and charred timbers, the probability is that a satisfactory solution will never be had. All unite in saying that the first rent in the bridge was under the baggage-car, and that it dropped as if drawn down by supernatural action.

A Fickle Lover.

NEW YORK, February 1.—To-day a Polish woman of good address was in search of Julius Smoienski, who had sent her the funds to come here, under the promise of marriage as soon as she arrived. After some search, Julius was found, working at his trade, of a tailor, on Third street, but he cooly refused to accept the refugee sweetheart. It seems that since writing his last letter he had fallen in love with another, who was engrossing his attentions. The discarded girl was directed to the charities department, as usual in such cases. This evil is fast becoming a tax on the State, and some steps will be taken to see whether matrimonial engagements can not be held as against foreigners, with penalties attached.

Suicide on a Train.

CINCINNATI, O., February 1.—A passenger on an Ohio & Mississppi train from St. Louis, blew his brains out with a revolver, when about twenty-five miles from this city. From letters found upon him he is supposed to be William B. Leonard, a land speculator of Detroit.

New Way to Sell Goods.

WOODHAVEN, L. I., February 1.—Last evening Philip Fox, a peddler, failing to make a sale to Mrs. Julia A. Keller, seized the woman and choked her to insensibility. When the woman revived she raised an alarm and the people started in pursuit and captured Fox. The assault following so quickly upon the Maybee murders and Townsend and Sprague outrages, the people clamored for the lynching of Fox and Riggs, that a speedy end may be put to the present Long Island rage for attacking defenseless women and aged men. An officer succeeded in getting Fox into jail.

A Missing Treasurer.

LYNCHBURG, VA., January 31.—It is reported from Liberty that Colonel John G Kasey, ex-Treasurer of Bedford County, has fled the State, leaving an indebtedness of $60,000 for his bondsmen to meet. Kasey was a late candidate for the State Senate on the coalition ticket. It is suspected he has gone to Canada.

Death of Judge Sheldon.

SAN FRANCISCO, January 31.—Colonel A. W. Sheldon, Associate Justice of Arizona, a native of Granville, Ohio, died suddenly to-day at the Palace Hotel.

The Swindled Postmasters.

WASHINGTON, February 1.—Detailed reports are coming into the Post-office Department of frauds practiced upon Postmasters by Post-office Inspector Lanier, removed from office yesterday. The office at Mobile was defrauded to the amount of $270; Jacksonville, Fla., of $390; Pensacola, $100; Houston, Tex., $125; Atlanta, $150; New Orleans, $150; Selma, Ala., $100. Other points not yet heard from, that Lanier is known to have visited, are expected to swell these figures considerably. He also holds $170 belonging to money order funds. Different plans were pursued by Lanier for obtained money from Postmasters, but the favorite scheme was to appear before the Postmaster, present credentials and ask a loan from the postal funds, to aid him in an attempt to arrest criminals. It is said at the Department that the Postmasters must lose the money, as they are not authorized to expend postal funds in the manner above described. A dispatch from New Orleans says Lanier has fled to South America.

Reward for Hungarian Robbers.

NEW YORK, February 1.—Inspector Byrnes received circulars to-day from the Chief of Police at Buhspeath, Hungary, giving the details of a bold robbery in that city January 5. A massive iron chest, containing Austrian bank notes, was stolen from the platform in front of the main Post-office, while in transit. There were 240,000 florins in it in thirty-five one-thousand-gulden notes, 1,300 one-hundreds, 1,000 fifties, 1,000 tens and 10,000 one-gulden notes. The box had four safety locks and was in a wicker-work basket, covered with green baize. No trace has been found of the thieves, who, it is surmised fled to this country. A reward of $500 is offered for information leading to the apprehension of the thieves and $1,500 for their arrest or the recovery of the notes.

FRIGHTFUL GASOLINE EXPLOSION.

Seven Persons Killed and a Dozen More or Less Injured and Three Buildings Demolished.

ALLIANCE, O, February 1.—Our city was never visited with so serious an accident as occurred this afternoon. The tin and stove store of Frank M. Orr was completely blown up by an explosion, occasioned by the spilling of gasoline on the floor in the rear of the building. It appears that a child had opened the faucet of a large gasoline tank, and perhaps two or three gallons had run out. It was being cleaned up, when the vapor arising ignited from a stove and immediately exploded, tank and all. The explosion was so great as to wreck the entire block. At the time of the accident there were fifteen or twenty persons in the building, all of whom were buried in the debris. Immediately fire enveloped the wreck and created the wildest panic upon the streets. Crowds congregated, and through the valor of the Fire Department and citizens several persons were rescued alive. Notwithstanding this, at least seven persons perished. As soon as possible the search for dead bodies began, and thus far seven have been found. They are as follows: F. M. Orr, the proprietor and owner of the building; Elmer Orr, his son, aged twenty years; Mrs. Homer Highland, married daughter of Orr, and child, aged two years, who occupied rooms on the second floor; Mrs. Frank Evans and two children, one aged two years, the other three months. Eight of those rescued alive were injured, though it is thought none fatally, among whom were two members of Dupres and Benedict's Minstrel troupe, which was to have shown here to-night, but could not. Orr's building was a three-story brick just erected, and was occupied by families on the second floor and had a public hall in the third story. On the west the three-story brick of Samuel Miller was completely destroyed, and on the east a similar building, occupied by Fullerton's leather store, was entirely demolished, and the millinery store of Miss Stanley, and the tobacco store of Joseph Graham were badly injured. The shock was so great that not a wall was left standing of these buildings, and the plate-glass fronts of the business houses for three or four squares were broken. The damage to property is variously estimated at from $60,000 to $80,000.

Jail Delivery.

ATHENS, GA., January 31.—The Madison County jail was emptied of its prisoners night before last. Four prisoners charged with minor offenses escaped. The fifth one Simon Childers, is a colored man, whose marriage to a fourteen-year-old white girl so incensed the people that it was with difficulty he was saved from lynching. There are reasons for believing that the jail was emptied by persons who had designs upon Childers, and that he has been done for.

Sleighing Accident.

READING, PA., January 31.—At noon today a sleigh with twenty-seven ladies upset on Crookad Hill. Some of the women were thrown down the mountain side and others were trampled by the horses. Mrs. Wm. Hummel had her nose broken and face badly cut, three were seriously injured about the head and some others were badly bruised.

Fatal Boiler Explosion.

DETROIT, MICH., February 1.—A terrible boiler explosion happened this morning at Blanchard, in this State. Just as the day's operations were about to commence the boiler in Twichell's shingle mill exploded, scattering fragments in all directions and entirely destroying the building. Henry Roop and John Finlayson were instantly killed, and a man named Jerold received injuries which are pronounced fatal. Several others were more or less injured, but will recover.

A Mysterious Affair at Boston.

BOSTON, January 31.—James A. Price, the young burglar arrested for attempting to open a safe in a Hyde Park store, charges that he had for an associate C. J. Russell, manager of the Hyde Park Telephone Exchange, who, he says, was biding in the store at the time. The hat worn by Price and the pistol he discharged at the officer belonged to Russell, who can not now be found.

THE business in real estate in Cincinnati for the past year is estimated to have amounted to $20,000,000.

THE EGYPTIAN WAR.

Fears in England for Gordon's Safety Intensified by Latest Tidings.

Baker Pasha Begins His Advance on Tokar, and His Position Unsafe.

NEW YORK, February 3.—The Sun's London cable letter contains the following: All English eyes, for the moment, look with painful straining to Gordon, running the gauntlet to Khartoum. The fear is strong that the large sums of money he carries afford additional temptation to murder him. He can not reach Khartoum till February 18, and his fate will, therefore, be probably still unsettled while the Egyptian debate proceeds in Parliament. His expedition began with a bad augury in the discovery that the youth sent for restoration as the legitimate Sultan of Darfur, has turned out a confirmed drunkard, with already two and forty wives. Baker's attempt, on the other hand, to relieve Tokar causes great anxiety, for his troops are few, cowardly, badly drilled and cannot shoot straight. His chief hope lies in gaining over the tribes, but their promises are never kept.

SUAKIM, February 3.—The enemy made an unsuccessful attack upon a fortified camp of Egyptians. Owing to the scarcity of provision at Sinkat a party made a sortie for forage. They were all cut to pieces by the enemy. Six hundred blacks, armed with Remington rifles, left Suakim to join Baker Pasha at Trinkitat.

LONDON, February 3.—Baker Pasha's advance on Tokar has begun.

CAIRO, February 3.—Tokar garrison is preparing to make a sortie to aid Baker Pasha's advance.

The Bankruptcy Bill.

WASHINGTON, D. C., February 2.—The Senate Committee on the Judiciary has ordered the Lowell Bankruptcy bill favorably reported with amendments. It preserves State exemptions, and authorizes involuntary proceedings only against persons whose debts amount to more than $1,000, and only against traders. It diminishes the number of Commissioners in Bankruptcy one-half. Many amendments suggested by the Bankruptcy Convention, which met here a few days since, are incorporated in the bill. Senator Hoar will report it on Monday. Some features of the bill are among those contended for by Western Senators last Congress, and their adoption greatly increases the chances of its passage.

Murder at a Church Door.

RANDOLPH, ILL., February 3.—William Thompson, one of the most prominent citizens of this section, was shot, and it is feared, fatally wounded, by Leroy Smith, while passing out of Sparta Chapel, near here to-day. Leroy Smith had been paying attentions to Thompson's daughter some years ago, but his visits had been discountenanced by the parents. Bad feeling had consequently been engendered, and although the girl has since been married to another, Smith still cherished a desire for revenge. Both men were leaving church, when Smith suddenly raised a pistol and fired, the ball entering Thompson's left breast. The ball was extracted. Smith was arrested.

Wendell Phillips Dead.

BOSTON, MASS., February 2.—Wendell Phillips died peacefully at a quarter past 6 o'clock this evening of angina pectoris surrounded by the members of his family. He was much brighter, and apparently better, in the early part of the day; but in the afternoon a change came over him, and it was evident to Dr. Thayer, who was in attendance, that death was near at hand. About 4 o'clock he was seized with a violent paroxysm of pain, and small quantities of ether were continually administered until death occurred. He was conscious to the last, and was fully aware of the approach of death.

In Pursuit of Information.

READING, PA., February 2.—Jacob K. Sprang has issued an attachment and execution for $16,000 against Bushong & Bro., whose bank suspended in 1873 with $1,000,000 deposits, subsequently resumed, and failed finally in 1877. Sprang's suit is brought to have a disclosure made as to what became of the assets of Bushong & Bro. It is said more suits of a similar nature will be instituted.

Nationalists and Orangemen Meet.

DUBLIN, February 3.—The meeting of the nationalists at Ballymote, Sligo, to-day was attended by a party of Orangemen. In a riot three of the nationalists were wounded by shots, also two Orangemen. The police surrounded the dwelling of the Orangemen to prevent the nationalists from wrecking them. Three Orangemen were arrested. Several other nationalists meetings were held in the south of Ireland.

An Elevator on a Bust.

MINNEAPOLIS, MINN., February 2.—The warehouse attached to the elevator owned by the Fergus Falls Flour Mill Company burst this morning, letting out forty thousands bushels of wheat, which now lies mingled with the wreck of the elevator. Three box cars were also wrecked. Nobody injured, though several narrow escapes are reported. Loss, $70,000.

A Terrible Fall.

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., February 3.—While the Masonic fraternities were assembling in Erkson's Hall, Guilford, preparatory to attending a funeral, the floor of the third story gave way, precipitating seventy men to the floor below. The debris caught fire, but fortunately was soon extinguished.

Don't Libel a Prince.

BERLIN, February 3.—Abbe Gruss. editor of the Volksfreund, the ultramontane organ at Strasburg, has been sentenced to six weeks' imprisonment for publishing a libel against the crown prince of Germany.

—After all the elaborate studies made in Germany to enable medical men to differentiate the normal from the so-called criminal brain, Prof. Bardleben is forced to decide that even "the shape of the normal brain has by no means as yet been determined."

—Milk-drinking is quite the swell thing in Paris now. Everybody drinks milk who wishes to be thought fashionable. Milk-drinking might become a fashion here, too, if we could only get the milk. Paris has set one example we can not imitate.

XLVIIIth CONGRESS.

First Session.

WASHINGTON, January 28.—SENATE.—Bishop Simpson, of the M. E. Church, offered prayer in the Senate this morning. Mr. Sherman presented a memorial from the Ohio Legislature in favor of the restoration of the duty on wool. Mr. Mitchell presented a petition from the business men of Philadelphia praying the passage of the act to redeem the trade dollar. Mr. Hoar reported from the Committee on Judiciary a bill to amend the act relating to polygamy in Utah. A resolution stating the death of Representative Mackey was reported. On motion of Mr. Buhler the Senate adjourned. Messrs. Bubler, Pendleton and Hill were appointed as Funeral Committee.

HOUSE.—Immediately after reading the journal Mr. O'Hara, of North Carolina, announced the death of Mr. M. W. Mackey, offering the usual resolution for a joint committee to take charge of the funeral, and that the House, as a mark of respect to his memory, do now adjourn, which was unanimously adopted, and at 12.05 p. m. the House adjourned.

WASHINGTON, January 29.—SENATE.—Mr. Vest of the Committee on Public Lands, reported favorably on the bill repealing timber culture laws. Mr. Cameron, introduced a bill to establish the Territory of North Dakota. The Senate then took up House joint resolution appropriating $50,000 for the maintenance of destitute Indians at the Crow Agency and elsewhere. An amendment increasing the amount of $100,000 was agreed to, and the joint resolution thus amended was passed. The bills making appropriations of $3,750,000 for rebate of tax on tobacco and $21,965 for expenses of Legislature of New Mexico, were passed. Bills introduced: To increase the pensions of widows and dependent relatives of deceased soldiers. To prevent the employment of operatives on railroad trains more than twelve hours out of twenty-four. Providing for the inspection and certification of meat products for exportation. For the erection of public buildings at Ottumwa, Ia. Pensioning the widows and children of deceased soldiers. Increasing to $1,500,000 the limit of appropriation for public building in Louisville. Calling on the President for information concerning the arrest in January, 1883, of Ben. S. Lewis and other American citizens by the Colombian Government. The Senate resolved to attend the funeral services of Representative Mackey in the hall of the House to-morrow afternoon.

HOUSE.—Mr. Pettibone offered a resolution, which was adopted unanimously, providing that funeral ceremonies for the late E. W. M. Mackey, of South Carolina, be held in this hall to-morrow at one o'clock, and directing the Clerk to invite members of the Senate to be present. The Speaker laid before the House a communication from the Secretary of War in response to a resolution calling for information as to the average number of commissioned officers in the army between the 4th of March, 1857, and the 4th of March, 1861, and between the 4th of March, 1877, and the 4th of March, 1881, etc. The Secretary states that the average number of commissioned officers in the first period was 1,006, of whom 67 were tried by Court martial and 39 convicted; in the second period the average number was 2,474, of whom 150 were tried by Court-martial and 122 convicted. Bills introduced: Authorizing construction of bridge across the Mississippi at St. Paul. To prevent adulteration of sugar and molasses. To authorize the title of newspapers to be copyrighted. To prevent inter-marriage with white and negro races in the District of Columbia. To better secure stability of paper currency. Appropriating $22,000 for the purchase of additional ground on which to erect a public building at Galveston. Making Seattle and Tacoma ports of delivery.

WASHINGTON, January 30.—SENATE.—A petition was presented signed by four thousand citizens of the District of Columbia, and other petitions signed by a large number of citizens of the Territories of Washington, Dakota and Idaho, all praying for the enactment of a law prohibiting the manufacture and sale of alcoholic liquors in the District and Territories. Mr. Hale called up the report of the Committee of Commerce of both houses relating to the Greely relief expedition. The report recommends that the Senate recede from its amendment requiring that only persons who volunteer for the service shall be detailed for the expedition. At one o'clock the Chair informed the Senate that the hour had arrived for Senators to attend the funeral ceremonies of the late Representative Mackey, and the Senators thereupon proceeded in a body to the hall of the House. On their return the Senate adjourned.

HOUSE.—Reports submitted from committees and referred: Committee on Agriculture—To establish a bureau of animal industry, and to prevent the spread of contagious diseases among domestic animals. House calendar. Committee on Military Affairs—For the retirement of H. J. Hunt, with the rank of Major General Private calendar. Committee on Post-offices and Post Roads—Regulating rates on postage on second class mail matter at letter-carrier offices. House calendar. (It makes the rate uniform at two cents a pound). Committee on Patents—To make fraudulent vendors of patented articles guilty of misdemeanor. House calendar. Committee on Public Buildings—Appropriating $100,000 additional to the erection of a public building at Erie, Pa. Committee of the whole. Same committee—Appropriating $100,000 for the completion of the public building at Council Bluffs, Ia. Committee of the whole. Committee on Territories—Mr. Townshend's bill providing that no Territory shall apply for admission as a State until it contains a population equal to that required in a Congressional District. House calendar. At 1 o'clock business was suspended and arrangements made for the funeral ceremonies of the late E. W. M. Mackey; after which the House adjourned.

WASHINGTON, January 31.—SENATE.—The Chair laid before the Senate a message from the President relating to treaty relations with Porto Rico and Cuba. A large number of petitions were presented from various sections favoring prohibition of the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors in the District of Columbia. Mr. Blair reported favorably from the Committee on Education and Labor the bill providing for the establishment of common schools. Mr. Blair introduced a bill, at the request of the representatives of the Workingmen's Association, to pay employes of the Government the wages withheld for violation of the eight hour law. A resolution, offered by Mr. Platt, relating to an inquiry as to the cost of telegraphic communication and stock jobbing operations of the Western Union, was passed without debate. At the expiration of the morning hour the conference report on the Greely Relief Expedition Bill was taken up. Mr. Hale made a strong appeal for its passage.

HOUSE.—The Committee on Appropriations will to-morrow receive the report of the sub-Committee on the Naval Appropriation Bill. Mr. Ellis, from the Committee on Appropriation, reported a bill appropriating $50,000 for the support of certain destitute Indians in Montana with a recommendation that the Senate amendment increasing the appropriation, $100,000 be non-concurred in. The report was accepted. The bill goes to the Conference Committee.

Uxoricide at Cincinnati.

CINCINNATI, O., January 31.—Early this morning a terrible tragedy was enacted in a tenement house in Mt. Auburn, a suburb of this city. Patrick Hartnet, through jealousy superinduced by drink, attacked his wife, Mary, with an ax while she was lying in bed. He struck her with the pole of the ax, crushing in her skull. She died instantly. To add to the horror of the crime she was about to become a mother. After a desperate resistance, Hartnet was arrested and jailed.

—John Callaghan, of New York, wanted to go to the theater, but, having no money, took his revolver and leveling it at the head of a boy who he knew possessed a ticket, ordered him to give up the treasure. Before it was handed over, a policeman struck John with a club, and now he is not so stage-struck as he was.—N. Y. Herald.

—Since the opening of the Suez Canal tea has, 1879 excepted, declined each year in price. It has never been lower in England than now.—N. Y. Herald.

THE COMMONWEALTH.

Legislative Proceedings.

FRANKFORT, January 25.—SENATE.—Bills passed: A bill to amend Section 2, Article 18, Chapter 28, General Statutes. House bill to make and declare Clerk's River a navigable stream in the counties of Marshall and McCracken, and a portion of Graves, with amendment. To incorporate the Monticello and Albany Turnpike Road Company. Incorporating Springfield Turnpike Company. To incorporate the Bowling Green and Green River Turnpike Company. To change the time of holding the quarterly Courts of Lewis County. To incorporate the Woodbine and Cumberland Valley Telephone and Telegraph Company. House bill to empower the County Court of Greenup County to employ an assistant Assessor. Committee asks to be discharged. Committee discharged. Granting authority to the County Court of Carroll County to levy a tax to build a Courthouse in Carrollton. Governor Knott sent a message by his private secretary announcing that he had signed and approved the resolution passed by the Senate and House with regard to the muster-rolls of the four Kentucky companies in the Sixteenth U. S. Regiment in the Mexican War.

HOUSE.—Bills passed: To amend an act entitled "An act to extend the charter of the Louisville Gas Company" approved January 30, 1867. To amend an act entitled "An act to amend the charter of the Shelby Railroad, and to authorize certain counties to take stock in same." Authorizing the Floyd County Court to levy a poll and ad valorem tax to pay for public buildings in said county. To legalize and confirm the official acts of the Police Judge of the town of Crittenden, in Grant County. A resolution appropriating $12 for the purchase of a flag was adopted. A similar resolution was passed two weeks ago appropriating $35 for the same purpose, but it was ascertained that the cheapest regulation flag in the United States costs $40. The resolution with Senate amendment providing for an investigation of the affairs of the Eastern Western and Centre Lunatic Asylums was adopted.

FRANKFORT, January 26.—SENATE.—Bills passed: To amend an act to consolidate Common School District No. 35, Calloway County, with Murray Male and Female Institute. Authorizing Floyd County to levy a tax for the erection of a public building. To legalize the action of the Floyd County Court in the election of Commissioners to have a public building erected. For the benefit of the town of Stanford. (Authorizing the town to donate $1,000 for depot grounds, etc.) For the benefit of Tyler Y. Chandler, of Adair County. To incorporate the Fulton Bank. To authorize the Trustees of the theological Seminary under the care of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church at Danville to sell and convey real estate.

HOUSE.—Bills passed: Bills to prevent the sale or giving away of spirituous, vinous, or malt liquors within two miles of Carver Rock Church, Bullitt County: Troy Presbyterian Church, Woodford County: any school-house or church or institution of learning in Cumberland County. To prevent stock from running at large in Agusta Precinct, in Bracken County. To change the time of holding the Bullitt County Court. To repeal an act entitled, "An act to extend the corporal limits of the town of Irvine, Estill County." To authorize the Cumberland County Court to levy an ad valorem tax to pay the jail and poor-house debt of said county. To amend an act establishing a new charter for the city of Louisville, approved March 3, 1870. A bill for the benefit of Samuel F. Hiaes, of Clark County. (This authorizes Samuel F. Hiaes to peddle without license in Clark County.) To authorize the Board of Trustees of the town of Hartford to issue bonds to redeem outstanding bonds of the town. Regulating the trial of persons for a violation of the laws and ordinances of the town of Canton, in Trigg County. A bill to repeal an act entitled "An act to regulate official advertising in Jefferson County." To amend and reduce into one all the acts and laws in relation to the town of Williamsburg, Whitley County.

FRANKFORT, January 28.—SENATE.—Bills passed: To prevent the sale of spirituous liquors within one mile of Troy Presbyterian Church, in Woodford County. To authorize the Board of Trustees of Hartford to issue bonds to redeem outstanding bonds of the town. The bill authorizing the Governor to appoint an agent for the collection of the Kentucky war claim against the Government for the amount collected under the excise law was again brought up and discussed and further action was postponed. Senator Reilley, of Newport, introduced a bill to confer criminal and penal jurisdiction on the Circuit Court of the Twelfth Judicial District at Alexandria, in Campbell County. The bill was referred to the Committee on Courts of Justice.

HOUSE.—Bills passed: A bill to repeal an act to establish an institution of learning at Stewartsville, Grant County. To repeal an act to amend the road laws of Carter and Elliott Counties, approved March 29, 1882. To regulate the pay of Justices of the Peace for Anderson County, for holding Court of Claims. Fixing the fees of Justices of the Peace in holding Court of Claims in Trigg County. To exempt and relieve dentists from license in the city of Louisville. Authorizing the County Court of Lee County to levy and collect an ad valorem tax for the purpose of raising money to purchase and build a poor-house and a jail. To authorize the Martin County Court to issue bonds for the purpose of erecting and repairing public buildings, bridges, etc. A bill exempting all persons from toll, milling on horseback, in Anderson County. The joint resolution to appoint a special committee to investigate the Louisville City Court was passed.

FRANKFORT, January 29.—SENATE.—Bills passed: To amend an act to prevent the sale of spirituous liquors within a radius of three miles of Berea College, in Madison County. For the benefit of D. A. Hopkins, his lessees, assigns and grantees. To prevent the sale of spirituous, vinous or malt liquors within two and a half miles of the Ashland Coal and Iron Railway, etc. To prevent the sale of spirituous, vinous or malt liquors in School District No. 18, in Hickman County. The Committee on Morals and Religion reported a bill to prohibit dealing in futures or margins known as bucket-shops, and their operations in the State of Kentucky. Pending its consideration the Senate adjourned.

HOUSE.—Bills passed: To establish a Board of Commissioners for Boyd County, and defining their duties. To provide for the levy and collection of road tax, and regulate the laying out and working of the roads in Cumberland County. To amend an act, entitled, "An act to regulate the appellate jurisdiction of Courts of this Commonwealth," approved May 5, 1880. To amend section 354 of the Civil Code of Practice in this Commonwealth. To amend subsection 3 of section 51 of the Civil Code of Practice.

FRANKFORT, January 30.—SENATE.—Important bills passed were: To authorize the Carroll County Court to appropriate surplus jail and 20-cent fund. To authorize the Pike County Court to issue bonds to raise money to build a court-house, jail, clerk's office and other buildings. To prohibit turnpike road companies in Carroll and Mason Counties from collecting tolls on the Sabbath from persons attending public worship or Sabbath-school. To prohibit the sale of spirituous liquors within three miles of Sulphur Spring Church, Simpson County; in Bell, Harlan, Perry and Leslie Counties; in School District No. 2, Hickman County; in Common School District No. 68, Grayson County; within two miles of Cave Rock Church, Butler County; Common School District, Muhlenberg County; McKinney's Station, Lincoln County; town of Wadesboro. To authorize the County Court of Crittenden County to sell the "Poor Farm."

HOUSE.—The Governor returned the bill incorporating the Covington and Cincinnati Pier Bridge Company. The following resolution was offered: Resolved, etc., That our Senators and Representatives in Congress be, and they are hereby, requested to lend their earnest efforts to cause the bill introduced by the Hon. A. S. Willis, looking to assistance of common schools, to be passed as speedily as possible. Bill introduced: To repeal an act to amend the charter of Newport, approved January 10, 1884, and to re-enact Section 10 of an act entitled, "An act to revise and amend the charter of the city of Newport," approved February 17, 1874.

Miscellaneous Items.

A FEW days ago a tramp called at Mr. H. C. Buckner's, near Long View, and demanded entertainment for the night. Mr. Buckner refused him, whereupon he thrust his hands in that gentleman's collar, threw him on the porch and proceeded to inflict corporal punishment. Mr. Buckner's large white bull dog heard the muss, came from the back yard and seized the tramp by the throat. Samuel Terrell, took the dog from him, and seeing his throat badly mangled, called Dr. Radford. Upon examination the physician found that the dog had severed one of the large arteries. The tramp lived only a short time.

THE DAIRY.

—Massachusetts uses fifty millions of pounds of butter a year, and makes but ten million pounds. The farmers get about twenty cents per pound, while the cost is twenty-five cents. They should make it cost twenty-five cents and then sell it from forty to eighty cents, and should make forty million pounds a year instead of ten million pounds.

—The spread of the creamery system is only just beginning. When every town has its creamery, these will number thousands in every State, and if the same idea prevail everywhere that prevails in Kansas, it will not be long before every farmer will have a creamery in sight of his homestead. And the creamery system is bound to spread when it is discovered how the business of a town or village is increased by one of these institutions; and this effect actually results because the farmer's income is almost doubled by a creamery, and he has more money to spend.—Colman's Rural.

—Dr. H. Reynolds, of Livermore Falls, Me., says: "Increased attention needs to be given by cheese makers to this matter of curing cheese. Cheese factories should be provided with suitable curing rooms, where a uniform temperature of the required degree can be maintained together with a suitable degree of moisture and sufficient supply of fresh air." He thinks the expense of providing such a room would be more than compensated for in the increased value of the cheese. He thinks small makers could supply a room approximating these conditions, while such rooms are absolutely needed in order to enable our cheese makers to produce a really fine article. He lays great stress upon good ventilation to such a room. After all, is not this matter of a curing room the vital difference between our system of cheese making and that of England, and is there any need of saying which practice produces the better cheese?

—The points of a good cow are: a robust constitution, a good appetite, large milking capacity, long milking tendency, rich milk, an easy milker with good disposition. She should be a regular breeder and her calves should possess her good qualities. After these come the points of shape, color and general appearance, along with pedigree, which latter is of more or less importance, as she is thoroughbred and kept for breeding more than dairy purposes. If the former, it is often the most important of all her attributes. Every cow has more or less of these qualities coupled with some objectionable features, and it is a capital exercise to write out the good and bad qualities of every cow in the herd and compare them on paper. It will aid you materially in judging the animals in your herd. If you classify them you will always know which should be parted with first, and save you many a subsequent regret.—American Dairyman.

—We cannot too often warn dairymen about the great precautions necessary in heating cream for churning. At this time of year the temperature of the cream when put in the churn should be about 65 degrees. To get this temperature heat water as hot as you can bear your hand in it and pour it in a vessel and place the cream jar or can in the water. Stir the cream constantly while you are holding the thermometer in it as deep as you can and see the figures at 65. The cream jar must be taken out of the water the instant the desired temperature is reached. The churn should be reasonably warm when the cream is put in it, and the room in which the churning is done must not be too cold. In other words, allow no extreme heat or cold to affect the cream, and be precise about its temperature, and all the labor of churning will be saved. A little care will bring the butter in twenty minutes, while clumsy work with the thermometer may prolong the labor for hours.—American Dairyman.

Winter Dairying in Ohio.

There can be no doubt that Ohio is getting heterodox in regard to the dairy, and the drift is now setting in strong toward the system of winter dairying. The results of the last few years have demonstrated that profitable dairying can not be carried on by supplying an over-stocked market. Future prosperity must be the result of more uniform production and supplying the market with the best fresh-made products. Future success does not so much hinge upon keeping better cows, as a continuous dairying to prevent the accumulation of stock, which, when thrown upon the market, always breaks it down, thus bringing double action upon the dairymen, for, by making when goods are lowest, owing to over-abundance, he gets low prices, and the consequent accumulation of stock brings down prices later on in the season. Prices in midwinter are high, but the dairyman has nothing to sell, and his expenses continue, for he is supporting his cows on the most expensive food, with little or no return. Our dairymen are beginning to see this; hence winter dairying is now quite common, and very largely increased over last year. The cream-gathering system is being quite rapidly introduced. Nearly fifty of these "all the year" factories are in operation, and several large cheese factories are working on the same plan. Besides this, one will see on several of the main railways the ten-gallon milk cans being set off at the stations in the dairy districts. Winter milk, even fifty miles out from our principal Ohio cities, is gathered up by the thousands of cans every morning on territory that three years ago never once thought winter dairying possible. The railways should have some credit for this change, as they have made cheap freights for milk. The milk is not sent by express, or as freight, but the sender buys an "extra baggage" check, for passage on passenger trains, which costs about one cent per gallon. This ticket is given to the conductor who "punches" it as so much fare. The city dealer meets the train and does his own drayage, so that the cost of transportation is reduced to a minimum.—Cor. Country Gentleman.

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

THE coasting sled is fast becoming a rival of the toy pistol in the number of accidents.

MRS. R. B. HAYES, it is said, owns and personally superintends one of the largest poultry yards in the United States, at Fremont, O.

THE experiment has been tried extensively in France of planting trees in belts at certain distances apart, with marked benefit to the climate.

THE recent disaster to the steamer City of Columbus causes the Boston Post to remark, that Devil's Bridge is not a misnomer, but that the name Gay Head should be changed.

THE Chazie apples of Canada sometimes bring as much as $40 a barrel in London. In 1854 this famous variety was found growing wild on the farm of a man named Chazie, near Niagara Falls. The fruit has the muskmelon flavor.

THE New York State Assessors recommended that legacies and inheritances, and annual incomes exceeding $10,000, be taxed. It is claimed that the personal property of the rich has largely increased through evasion of taxes, while the real estate of the former class has born the main part of the burden.

MR. KEELY, of "Keely motor" fame, assures his stockholders that he "can confidently feel that the final issue is nigh at hand." The Cincinnati Commercial Gazette facetiously remarks: Does Mr. Keely refer to an issue of more stock; or can it be that he is about to touch off a ton of giant powder under his motor? We await a report."

FARMERS on Long Island and in New Jersey are trying the experiment of restocking their places with quail brought from the West. The birds seem to have done well last season. They can be bought in captivity for about $1 50 a pair. The plan is to procure them in winter, when they are easily trapped. They are fed in comfortable cages until spring and then released.

THE camels used in carrying freight across the desert of Arizona were, after the completion of the Southern Pacific Railroad, turned adrift, as of no further use. The number has since increased to about four hundred. John Shirley, a wealthy land owner of Australia, has purchased the whole lot, and will soon arrange for the recapture and shipment of the animals.

A CHICAGO barber says: "The edge of a razor is a very delicate thing. Heat and cold effect it. Under a strong magnifying glass the edge of a razor, which has been exposed to the cold, would seem like a saw. Dipping in hot water throws the little particles back into place and makes the edge smooth. A sudden change in the weather always effects the razors in a barber-shop and the tempers of the barbers."

THE Columbia River must make a profound impression on the beholder, or a recent writer, Mrs. Leighton, tells us that it is seven miles broad, with a mighty volume of water rolling swiftly to the sea, and surrounded by interminable forest and majestic, snow-crowned mountains. This great river was first discovered in May, 1792, by Captain Gray. It is likely, now that the North Pacific is completed, to become well known to us.

THE following are said to be the sixteen American inventions of world-wide adoption. The cotton gin, the planing machine, the telegraph, the grass mower and reaper, the rotary printing press, steam navigation, the hot air engine, the sewing machine, the india-rubber industry, the machine manufacture of horseshoes, the sand blast for engraving, the gauge lathe, the grain elevator, artificial ice making on a large scale, the electric magnet in its practical application, and the telephone.

SITUATED at the junction of the Blue and White Nile, about one thousand miles due south of Alexandria, on the Mediterranean, and four hundred southwest of Suakin, on the Red Sea, Khartoum for the moment is emphasized as one of the important places of the world. It is a town of about twenty thousand inhabitants, counting the garrison, and is a medley of all the nations and tribes of Europe and Africa. As the capital of the Egyptian General Government of the Sondan, it was for generations the southern slave mart through which, with Cairo as outlet, the slave markets of the world were supplied.

THE cutting of a diamond, believed to be the largest ever cut in this country, was recently completed in Boston, the process having occupied something more than three months. The stone was found in South Africa and was imported by a New York firm. Its weight in the rough was nearly 125 carats. The gem, as perfected, is brilliant, though of a marked yellowish tinge. As cut, it weighs seventy-seven carats. The yellowish tinge disappears in artificial light. The value of the stone, which is about two-thirds as large as the Kohi-noor diamond, can not be stated, as diamonds of unusual size have no absolute value.

THE RECORDER.

RIDDELL & HALL,
Proprietors.

BURLINGTON, KY. FEB. 6. 1883.

ADVERTISING RATES.

1 Column	1 year	$80
1	½ "	40
1	¼ "	20
½ "	1 "	20
¼ "	½ "	10
⅛ "	½ "	6

For announcing candidates, $5. Obituary poetry, 5 cents per line. Obituary notices 20 lines free; over that number (excepting the announcement of the death) 3 cents per line.

Tributes of respect from lodges, &c., $1 50

RATES OF SUBSCRIPTION.

One year....$1 50
Six months....75
Three months....40

No Senator yet. Judge Sweeney has been withdrawn, and the last reports from Frankfort sounded very much like the caucus intends to put the office on Carlisle, notwithstanding his protests against it. It seems to be a clear case of the office seeking the man.

THE Cincinnati jail is full of murderers.

SMALL POX is on the increase in Louisville.

LOUISVILLE will repeat her big exposition this fall.

THE Commonwealth's head is level on the manner of selecting School Commissioners.

PLENTY good whisky and an abundance of fine cigars prolong the labors of caucuses.

THIS has not been a good winter for the turnpike fever. The roads have been too good.

BOYD COUNTY is going to have a board of commissioners to transact its county business.

GOV. KNOTT knows how to handle the veto, and uses it on every thing that smacks of class legislation.

SENATOR BECK's term of office expires in 1889, which places the next Senatorial election a long way in the future.

THE Owen Democrat says that Senator Cox came near being nominated by the caucus at Frankfort, one night. He wanted only sixty votes.

THE Courier-Journal says Louisville is determined to have the next National Democratic Convention, if organization and activity can secure it.

SENATOR VOORHEES has endeared himself to Lawrenceburg by taking steps to have $150,000 appropriated by Congress to improve the Ohio and Miami rivers near that city.

ONE member desiring that a part of a day's work be done by the Legislature each day, had the courage to introduce a resolution, the other day, requiring that body to remain in session until 2 p. m.

ANOTHER horrible murder was committed in Cincinnati, last Thursday. A fiend in human form split his wife's head open with an axe, and for a long time he kept the police at bay with the same bloody instrument of death.

WHEN the caucus took up the nomination for Librarian, it soon disposed of the matter, nominating Mrs. Roger Hansford on the fourth ballot. Mrs. Hansford was defeated by Mrs. Cook the last time that officer was elected.

HON. N. S. WALTON, Representative from Boone, has introduced in the Legislatrue, a bill to make females ineligible to the office of Librarian. We didn't think our wife's kin was so ungallant as that. The women of the State ought to petition him to resign.—Owen Democrat.

FRED DOUGLAS, the champion of the negro race, and advocate of the amalgation of the races, married Miss Helen Pitts, of Washington City. Miss Pitts is white, aged thirty-five, and had been furnished employment by Douglas for some time. Fred evidently thinks example better than precept.

No one can truthfully say that Republics are ungrateful. The only surviving granddaughter of Thomas Jefferson is living at Georgetown in regal style on $800 a year, earned by her daughter as a clerk in the Patent Office. In addition to this the committee on pensions will recommend a princely pension of $250 a year for the old lady. Mr. Jefferson probably never thought, when he was writing the Declaration of Independence, that the gratitude of this great nation would be displayed in such a substantial and gratifying shape toward his descendants.—Louisville Commercial.

STATE NEWS.

Out of 4,531 voters in Bourbon county, 1,926 are negroes.

A Clark county turkey hen has been laying eggs all winter.

The late grand jury in Logan county had three negro men on it.

Marion county expended $5,400 last year in construction of turnpikes.

A lady of seventy years, in Bourbon county, is cutting her second set of teeth.

Extensive preparations are being made to sink oil wells in the neighborhood of Somerset.

H. G. Price, of Montgomery co., lost 200,000 staves by the recent overflow of the Licking.

A 42-inch vein of bituminous coal was recently struck near Bennettsville, Breckinridge county.

A great proportion of the early lambs were frozen to death over the State during the cold weather.

An Owen county woodchopper cut a tree that had twelve feet of honey in it after about two feet had been consumed by flying squirrels.

Alvin Duvall informs us that a fatal disease has broken out among the sheep in the vicinity of Harrisburg. J. W. Agee lost every sheep on his place with the disease.—Owen News.

J. Dick Johnson is buying partridges with which to stock his farm in Scott county. He calculates to have a partridge ranch within a few years that will afford him a handsome revenue.

The Paris Kentuckian says it is the general opinion of fruit growers that great damage has been done all kinds of fruit. The pear and peach germs have been killed and the crop completely ruined.

Jerry Williams of this place, is entitled to wear the horns as the boss hunter. Since winter set in he has killed thirty four wild turkeys, a number of wild geese and an innumerable amount of partridges. He was out bird hunting a few days ago, and bagged seventy-eight quails in a hunt of eight hours.

At a dance in Grant county, one night last week, Miss Mellissa Collier appeared with a huge hickory club in her hand and asked for Jno. Rudolph, who had circulated injurious reports about her. Espying Rudolph, she rushed upon him, and with the club knocked him down and beat him until she was removed by force, seriously injuring Rudolph.

Mt. Olivet Democrat: The probation of Wm. Rogers' will was brought to a close by Judge Kenton sustaining the will. Wm. Rogers after being fatally shot by his brother Sam, and nephew, Sam Jr., made a will giving all his property to his two sisters, Mrs. Bedford and Mrs. Pen. James Rogers, another brother, objected to the will, considering the fatal nature of his wounds, and that he was influenced by his sisters, and the document was not drawn up in a legal form, etc.

Our county seat was the scene of a serious stabbing affair last Friday, the parties being county Judge J. P. Gillum and Richard Hackney. It seems that the difficulty grew out of a suit at law Mr. E. D. Gillum and Hackney, the Judge being the attorney for his father. As to the fight, and which party is blamable, if either, both or neither, reports are so contradictory we refrain from giving them. There was a fist and skull fight, a knock down, and both parties were cut so as to put them to bed but they are getting better and will soon be well.—Milton Free Press.

LIST OF CLAIMS,

ALLOWED BY THE

COURT OF CLAINS,

Since January Term 1883.

April Term 1883.

Claims payable out of the levy of 1882

Drs Smith, Grant & Furnish	$75 00

May Term 1883.

For Assessors Book	11 50
A O Hall	37 50

June Term 1883.

L H Dills and T L Swetnam allowed for coffin for pauper	6 00

Special Term July 5th, 1883.

For Poll Books	8 50

November Term 1883.

Claims payable out of levy of 1883

For benefit of Frank Stephens	5 00
Sam Cowen jail acount	93 85

Claims payable out of the levy of 1884

M T Garnett clerk	54 00
Sallie Underhill keeping pauper	90
J W Kennedy coffin for pauper	6 00
Joseph Rich constable	5 20
same	7 40
W C Moxley same	2 60
same	6 80
Curley & Edwards for coffin	6 00
J T Curley holding inquest	12 00
E H Baker same	6 00
L A Loder same	9 00
Joe Wagstaff same	5 00
J H Dugan keeping pauper	78
W W Garnett claim	7 00
Ed Fowlers claim	10 25
J R Clutterbucks account	46 00
L H Dills county judge	400 00
S W Tolin county attorney	400

January Term 1884

Claims payable out of the levy of 1883

J R Clutterbuck to W Monfort	80 00
J W Kirk for coffin	6 00
Sam Hind cir. ct. judg't.	69 28
W L Riddell assignee H J Foster cir. ct. judgm't	71 30
Same clerks fee, &c.	57 88
J G Gaines receiver poor-h	50 39
A O Hall super't. poor-house	37 50
Drs Smith, Grant & Furnish	75 00

Claims payable out of the levy of 1883

Dr L H Piatt pauper practice	35 00
Dr L C Cowen same	40 00
Dr Lasing, Blanton & Riley	50 00
A A Murat same	45 84
O'Neal & Finnell same	40
W H & J E Terrill same	50
J A Wood same	35
Wood & Adams same	35
R A Edwards same	35
Slater & Sayer same	45
D C Reeves for coffin	6 00
Riddell & Hall, for printing	20
T J Watts constable claim	4
W C Moxley " "	2 80
same " "	3 68
same " "	3
same " "	2
same " "	2 20
same " "	2 60
same " "	4 00
W S Ryle " "	5 40
O H Conrad " "	5 60
E H Baker acct for rails	12 50
W F Mckim for medicine	2 75

Justices present at June Term 1883

J Wagstaff	$3	L A Loder	$3
J C Hensly	3	Eph Helm	3
O Gaines	3	E H Baker	3
S T Johnson	3	F M Howlett	3
J J Brumback	3	M B Green	3
T H Sutton	3	B H Ryle	3
W W Garnett	3	M C Norman	3
W A Goodridge	3	H Bannister	3

Justices present 7th day January 1883

E H Baker	3	O Gaines	3
J Wagstaff	3	B H Ryle	3
M B Green	3	J J Brumback	3
A G McConnell	3	T F Curley	3
A B Whitlock	3

Justices present November Term 1883

O Gaines	3	J J Brumback	3
W W Garnett	3	T H Sutton	3
L A Loder	3	J C Hensly	3
E H Baker	3	F M Howlett	3
S T Johnson	3	M C Norman	3
H Bannister	3	J Wagstaff	3
W M Rouse	3	A Ellis	3
B H Ryle	3	A G McConnell	3
T J Curley	3	W A Goodridge	3

Special term January 14, 1884

W M Rouse	3	O Gaines	3
L A Loder	3	T F Curley	3
W A Goodridge	3	B H Ryle	3
H Bannister	3	A B Whitlock	3
T H Sutton	3	F M Howlett	3
S T Johnson	3	A G McConnell	3
M C Norman	3	J Wagstaff	3
E H Baker	3
M B Green	3	J J Brumback	3

Special Term Jan. 15, '84

Allowed $3 each.

M C Norman	T F Curley
S T Johnson	J J Brumback
F M Howlett	B H Ryle
A G McConnell	W A Goodridge
M B Green	A B Whitlock
H Bannister	J Wagstaff
W M Rouse

Judges August election 1883

Wm Rouse	2	B H Ryle	2
J M Robinson	2	A Blythe	2
WH Clore	2	N Talbott	2
T H Sutton	2	J D Norris	2
J Hurd	2	S J Hedges	2
Wm Wilkie	2	M B Green	2
G L Miller	2	B Rouse	2
J Breedon	2	Jno Stephen	2
J D Connor	2	Sam Hind	2
Alex Murray	2	J Wagstaff	2
F M Underhill	2	W W Grimsly	2
J Arnold	2	J T Kelley	2

Clerks August election 1883

W B Grubbs	2	B Carpenter	2
J L Brooks	2	A B Parker	2
G. W Cayton	2	W B Watts	2
C C Roberts	2	J D Gaines	2
Thos Cowen	2	Ben Wilson	2
S P Brady	2	H Polly	2

Sheriffs November election 1882

J Rich	2 88	W Philips	2 56
L L Stephens	2 80	G Stephens'n	3 20
A W Bristow	2 48	G T Gaines	2 00
C C Graves	2 40	J L Rich	3 00
J M Botts	2 80	J G Snow	3 20
J Carson	2 48	J A Riddell	2 64

COUNTY LEVY $2 50

Attest: M. T. GARNETT, Clerk.

REPORT OF THE CONDITION

OF THE

Farmers & Traders National Bank

AT COVINGTON,

In the State of Kentucky, at the close of business, December 31, 1883.

RESOURCES.

Loans and discounts		$600,911 65
Overdrafts		1,135 80
U.S. Bonds to secure circulation 4 per cent		50,000 00
Due from approved reserve agents	45,54[illegible] 33
Due from other National banks	5,207 41
Due from State banks and bankers	5,399 51	56,148 25
Real estate, furniture and fixtures		4,668 91
Premiums paid		8,000 00
Checks and other cash items		1,945 37
Bills of other Banks		4,125 00
Fractional paper currency, nickels and pennies		69 79
Specie		9,050 00
Legal tender notes		21,000 00
Redemption fund with U. S. Treasurer (5 per cent of circulation)		2,250 00
Total		$759,304 77

LIABILITIES.

Capital stock paid in		$300,000 00
Surplus fund	4,000 00
Undivided profits	14,480 40	18,480 40
National bank notes outstanding		45,000 00
Individual deposits subject to check	369,657 81
Fund to pay taxes	221 35
Due to other National Banks	17,062 27
Due to State Banks and bankers	8,879 94	395,824 37
Total		$759,304 77

State of Kentucky, County of Kenton, ss; I, John L. Sandford, Cashier of the above-named bank, do solemnly swear that the above statement is true to the best of my knowledge and belief.

J. L. SANDFORD, Cashier.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 14th day of Jan., 1884. GEO. H. DAVISON, Notary Public.

Correct—Attest:
E. J. HICKEY,
J. H. MERSMAN,
L. C. STEPHENS,
Directors.

For Sale.

A lot of No. 1 locust posts.

J. O. HUEY, Burlington, Ky.

Public Sale.

We will offer at public sale at the late residence of B. F. Garnett, decd., on Saturday, February 16th, 1884,

One Horse 5 years old, One milch Cow, Farming Implements, Household and Kitchen Furniture, &c.

TERMS—All sums of $5 and under cash, over $5 a credit of 6 months will be given, the purchaser to execute bond with approved security, or pay cash before removing goods.

Sale begins at 9:30 a. m., promptly.

JOHN S. HUEY,
J. FRANK GRANT, Adm'rs.

J. M. Moody, Auctioneer.

THE CINCINNATI

Weekly News!

A NATIONAL

METROPOLITAN JOURNAL,

Full Of Enterprise.

PEOPLE!

EIGHT PAGES—SIXTY Four Pages

Containing all the News, correct Market Reports, well selected Miscellany, brilliant Stories—In fact, the favorite Weekly Paper of the Central United States.

—PUBLISHED BY THE—

Cincinnati News Publishing Co.

AT THE FOLLOWING

LOW RATES OF SUBSCRIPTION.

THE WEEKLY NEWS with one of Dore's Celebrated Works,

"Christ Leaving the Prætorium,"
"Christ Entering Jerusalem,"

These engravings of Dore's fame historical paintings are the best and most perfect reprints by the Foreign Art Reproducing Company, and can not be purchased as original plates for less than $40 each in Europe. They are in size 23x36 in. and are direct copies, preserving every line and detail OF THE ENGLISH $40 ENGRAVINGS.

These pictures are suitable to adorn the parlor of any gentleman. As a

Premium Supplement!

A Single Copy, three months....$0 40
A Single copy, six months.... 60
A Single copy, one year.... 1 00
A club of 10 copies to 1 P. O. 1 year... 9 00
A club of 20 copies to 1 P. O. 1 year...17 00
And large clubs at 85c per copy per annum

Postmasters and other agents will be allowed 15 per cent on full rate (not club) subscribers.

The premium engravings will be mailed about the first of each month to the subscribers entitled to receive them.

As a premium offer it is confidently claimed that its exual was never before made, and would not be possible in this case except for the method adopted by the Foreign Art Reproducing Company to advertise its work.

Do not fail to avail yourself of the opportunity by sending your name and address, with one dollar enclosed, to

THE CINCINNATI WEEKLY NEWS.

$66 a week at home. $5 outfit free. Pay absolutely sure. No risk. Capital not required. If you want business at which persons of either sex young or old, can make great pay all the time they work, with absolute certainty, write for particulars to H. HALLET & Co., Portland, Maine.

NO NEW THING.

STRONG'S SANATIVE PILLS

Used throughout the country

FOR OVER 40 YEARS,

And thus proved

The Best Liver Medicine in the World.

No Griping, Poisonous Drugs, but purely Vegetable, safe and reliable. Prescribed even by Physicians. A speedy cure for Liver Complaint, Regulating the Bowels, Purifying the Blood, Cleansing from Malarial Taint. A perfect cure for Sick Headache, Constipation and all Billious Disorders. Sold by Druggists. For Pamphlets, etc., address C. E. HULL & CO., 18 Cedar St., N.Y. City.

Public Sale.

I will sell to the highest bidder at my residence 1 mile south of Bellevue, on the Ohio river, on

Wednesday, Feb., 20th,

All of my personal property: Consisting of Horses, Mules, Sheep, Cattle, 1 Binder, Drill, Wagon, Buggy, Harness, Plows, &c., One Palace Organ, and Household and Kitchen Furniture. About 2000 bushels of corn. I will also offer my farm with privilige of rejecting all bids. Terms made known on day of sale. J. W. RICE.

For Sale or Trade.

12½ acres of land about 2½ miles from Constance, Ky., near the pike. Call on J. A. RIDDELL on the premises or CY RIDDELL, Burlington, Ky. 10-4t

A PRIZE Send six cents for postage, and receive free, costly box of goods which will help you to more money right away than anything else in this world. All of either sex, succeed from the first hour. The broad road to fortune opens before the workers, absolutely sure. At once address, TRUE & Co., Augusta, Maine.

For Sale.

A dwelling with 6 rooms, and 15 acres of land at Rabbit Hash, Ky. On this land is a good orchard, barn and other conveniencies. Also a never failing well. Address B. F. BELL, Rabbit Hash, Ky.

AGENTS wanted for The Lives of all the Presidents of the U. S. The largest handsomest, best book ever sold for more than twice our price. The best selling book in America. Immense profits to agents. All intelligent people want it. Any one can become a successful agent. Terms free, HALLET BOOK Co., Portland, Maine.

Strayed.

Taken up as a stray by Allen Goodridge, living on the Ohio river, about 1½ miles below Taylorsport, in Boone county, on the 12th day of January 1884, one bull about two and half years old, with white head, dark read body, some white on his back, and end of tail, legs spotted up to his knees straight horns and under bit in each ear, and which I have appraised at $15 Witness my hand this 12th day of Jan., '84.

W. A. GOODRIDGE, J P B C

ROBERT B. REED

Attorney at Law.

OFFICE AT - - - UNION, KY.

F. RIDDELL,

ATTORNEY at LAW

BURLINGTON, KY.

Office over Dudley Rouse's Store.

ALBERT W. GAINES,

Attorney and Counselor at Law,

LAWRENCEBURG, - - - IND.

Will practice in the courts of Boone county, Ky., Cincinnati, Ohio, Dearborn and adjoining counties, Ind. dec-6-82

W. E. VEST,

COUNTY SURVEYOR

WALTON, KY.

Is prepared to do all kinds of surveying. All orders sent him through the mail to Walton, will receive his prompt attention.

E. E. IGOE,

Resident Dentist,

Rising Sun, Ind.

WITH

J. P. Ulrey.

Monday and Tuesday at Rising Sun, Ind.

J. J. Landram. G. G. Hughes.

LANDRAM & HUGHES,

ATTORNEYS at LAW.

Will practice in the Boone Circuit Cour and the Court of Appeals. Prompt attention given to Collections, on application t G. G. Hughes, Burlington, Ky.

DR. A. B. HARRY AN

RESIDENT DENTIST.

Aurora, Indiana.

(Office Over Postoffice)

With J P. ULREY.

Dr. ULREY'S days, Wednesday and Saturday. Office open at all hours. 8-1y

L. C. NORMAN. [illegible]

NORMAN and STEPHENS,

ATTORNEYS at LAW.

UNION, BOONE CO., KY.

Will practice in the Courts of Boone Kenton and adjoining counties. Collections solicited and made throughout the State. 24 tf 81

S. W. TOLIN.

ATTORNEY AT LAW

BURLINGTON, - - - KY

Office in Court-house on 2d floor.

Will manage litigation in any of the Courts of the State, contracts and other legal instruments drawn up at reasonable rates. Aprompt an studious attention given to business intrusted to my care. A trial solicited. 12-1y

This space is reserved for A. M. Acra's Harness and Saddle Shop.

GOLD for the working class. Send 10c for postage, and we will mail you free, a royal, valuable box of sample goods that will put you in the way of making more money in a few days than you ever thought possible at any business. Capital not required. We will start you. You can work part the time only. The work universally adapted to both sexes, young and old. You can easily earn from 50 cents to $5 every evening. That all who want work may test the business, we make this unparalleled offer; to all who are not well satisfied we will send $1 to pay for the trouble of writing us. Full particulars, directions, etc., sent free. Fortunes will be made by those who give their whole time to the work. Great success absolutely sure. Don't delay. Start now. Address STINSON & Co., Portland, Maine.

PATENTS.

For new inventions and novel designs obtained in the United States, Canada and Europe. Trade Marks and Copyright—Labels secured for Merchants and Manufacturers who wish protection against imitators of their goods, packages or articles of manufacture. We are located opposite the United States Patent Office, have quick access to its records, and can give prompt and reliable answers to inquiries. Of our firm one has had thirteen years' practice in the highest courts, another several years as an Assistant Examiner in the United States Patent Office and many years experience as solicitor of American and Foreign Patents. Fee reasonable and full satisfaction or no fee. Best reference given. Our little book "on patents" sent free in receipt of one cent stamp. W. A. COUTTER & CO., Solicitors of Patents, 23 St. Cloud Building, Washington, D. C.

WRIGHT'S INDIAN VEGETABLE PILLS

FOR THE

LIVER

And all Billous Complaints

Safe to take, being purely vegetable; no griping. Price 25 cts. All Druggists.

WANTED BOOK Canvassers.

MALE and FEMALE

To engage in the sale of our new and important works of standard character, large profits and immense selling qualities. We offer a permanent and lucrative business. Address The CINCINNATI PUBLISHING CO., 174 W. Fourth Street, Cincinnati, Ohio.

Free! Cards and Chromos.

We will send free by mail a sample set of our large German, French, and American Chromo Cards, on tinted and gold grounds, with a price list of over 200 different designs, on receipt of a stamp for postage. We will also send free by mail as samples, ten of our beautiful Chromos, on receipt of ten cents to pay for packing and postage; also enclose a confidential price list of our large oil chromos. Agents wanted. Address F. GLEASON & Co., 46 Summer Street, Boston, Mass.

PATENTS

MUNN & CO., of the SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN, continue to act as Solicitors for Patents, Caveats, Trade Marks, Copyrights, for the United States, Canada, England, France, Germany, etc. Hand Book about Patents sent free. Thirty-seven years' experience. Patents obtained through MUNN & CO. are noticed in the SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN, the largest, best, and most widely circulated scientific paper. $3.20 a year. Weekly. Splendid engravings and interesting information. Specimen copy of the Scientific American sent free. Address MUNN & CO., SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN Office, 261 Broadway, New York.

SANITARIUM, Riverside, Cal. The dry climate cures Nose, Throat, Lungs, full idea, 36 p., route, cost, free.

MARRIAGE AND HEALTH GUIDE. 260 pgs. Illustrated.

All that the doubtful curious or thoughtful want to know. Cloth and gilt binding 50 cts, paper 25c, Marriage Guide, 114 p 15c, sent sealed, money or stamps, by DR. WHITTIER 290 RACE STREET, CINCINNATI, OHIO. The great specialist, Nervous Debility, Impediments to Marriage. Consultation and Pamphlet free.

County Directory.

OFFICERS.

Assessor—G. M. Riley.
County Surveyor—W. E. Vest.
School Commissioner—B. M. Snyder.
Coroner.—Dr. A. A. Murat, Constance.

COURTS.

CIRCUIT COURT meets the 2d Monday in April and first Monday in October, P. U. Major, Judge; W. L. Riddell, Clerk A. G. DeJarnette, Commonwealths Attorney; W. L. Riddell, Trustee Jury Fund.

COUNTY COURT meets the first Monday in every month. L. H. Dills, Judge; S. W. Tolin, County Attorney. M. T. Garnett, Clerk; J. R. Clutterbuck, Sheriff, T. W. Finch and W. T. German, Deputy Sheriffs.

QUARTERLY COURT meets the first Monday in March, June, September and December. The officers of the County Court preside.

COURT OF CLAIMS meets the first Monday in November.

MAGISTRATES' COURTS are hold in March, June, September and December, as follows:

Bellevue—M. B. Green, first Saturday, and T. H. Sutton, third Monday. J. M. Moody, Constable.

Burlington—E. H. Baker, Thursday after first Monday, and Oscar Gaines, fourth Monday. R. H. Sandford, Constable.

Carlton A. G. McConnell, Wednesday after second Monday, and B. H. Ryle, Saturday after third Monday. Walter Ryle, Constable.

Petersburg—Jas. Hensley, Wednesday after first Monday, and L. A. Loder fourth Saturday. Geo. Comer, Constable.

Beaver—W. M. Rouse, Friday after the third Monday, and

Union—M. C. Norman, Thursday after third Monday, and H. Bannister, Thursday after second Monday. A. D. Riley Constable.

Hamilton—F. M. Howlett, Tuesday after second Monday; W. W. Garnett, Wednesday after third Monday. R. L. Roberts Constable.

A. L. Brown,

THE HATTER,

Cor. Pike and Washington Streets

COVINGTON, - - KY

Has always on hand a large variety of Men's, Boys' and Children's Hats, and prices GUARANTEED to be as low as the lowest.

Gents' Furnishing Goods a Specialty

W. J. RICE,

CARPENTER & BUILDER,

BULLITSVILLE, KY.

Is prepared Raise or Move

EITHER LOG or FRAME BUILDINGS

On Short Notice,

And at the Lowest Possible Figures.

33-tf Your orders respectfully solicited

LUMBER.

Geo. M. Bedinger & Co.,

Erlanger, - - Ky.

We keep constantly on hand all kinds of Lumber, Laths and Shingles. Also Builder's supplies of all kinds.

—Come and see Us.—

may 9 tf

AURORA MARBLE AND GRANITE WORKS, Aurora, Ind.

Will have constantly on hand

Marble and Granite Monuments,

Italian & American Headstones, &c.

I am ready to do all kinds of Stone Work on short notice and at low prices Hoping to receive the patronage of Boone County, I am respectfully,

F. W. KASSEBAUM.

INSURE AT HOME

The Farmers' Mutual Fire

INSURANCE COMPANY

Of Boone County

Is now completely organized and receiving applications for insurance.

Its Rates are Lower

Than those of any other Company, and it gives the farmers of Boone County a

HITHERTO UNKNOWN ADVANTAGE

In keeping their property insured.

EVERY FARMER IN THE COUNTY

[illegible]

should take a policy at once.

J. A. GAINES, President, Burlington, Ky.	J. H. WALTON, Secretary, Constance, Ky.

R. RANDALL, Treasury.

DIRECTORS.

LEGRAN GAINES,	A. J. UTZ.

JNO. STEPHENS.

OSCAR GAINES, Agent.	C. L. CRISLER, Assessor.

INCORPORATED UNDER THE LAWS OF MISSOURI.

CENTRAL MEDICAL & SURGICAL INSTITUTE OF ST. LOUIS, MO.

SUCCESSORS TO DR. BUTTS' DISPENSARY. OFFICE & ROOMS, NO. 920 LOCUST ST.

CHAS. L. LABARCE, M.D., Pres't & Physician in Charge. NELSON CHESMAN, Treas. & Business Manager.

This Institute has ample facilities and an experienced Faculty. While it succeeds to a large business, which has been established for years, it will aim to extend its medical and surgical practice, giving skillful and scientific treatment to CHRONIC DISEASES of the Head, Spine, Lungs and Air Passages, Heart, Liver, Stomach and Bowels, Rheumatism, Dyspepsia, Consumption and Asthma. BLOOD IMPURITIES, inherited or caused by impure association, Scrofula, Fever Sores, Ulcers, etc. DEFORMITIES of the Limbs, Spinal Curvature, Wry-Neck, Diseases of the Joints, Piles, Fistula, Rupture, etc. WEAKNESS and wasting diseases in old and young men, also all diseases of the genito-urinary organs. FEMALE irregularities and weaknesses, causing pain in the back or side, etc.

Personal interviews with patients are always preferred. Those unable to visit the Institute will be furnished with blank lists of questions that will aid them in making a full statement of their cases and if not requiring a surgical operation they can be successfully treated by correspondence, and medicines sent by mail or express. To enable us to send proper list of questions applicable should give a brief statement of their trouble.

The Treasurer of the corporation is of Nelson Chesman & Co., Advertising Agents, and refers to the publisher of this or any other newspaper in the United States or Canada regarding responsibility.

Consultation at Office or by mail free and invited

HALL'S

Vegetable Sicilian

HAIR RENEWER

was the first preparation perfectly adapted to cure diseases of the scalp, and the first successful restorer of faded or gray hair to its natural color, growth, and youthful beauty. It has had many imitators, but none have so fully met all the requirements needful for the proper treatment of the hair and scalp. HALL'S HAIR RENEWER has steadily grown in favor, and spread its fame and usefulness to every quarter of the globe. Its unparalleled success can be attributed to but one cause: the entire fulfilment of its promises.

The proprietors have often been surprised at the receipt of orders from remote countries, where they had never made an effort for its introduction.

The use for a short time of HALL'S HAIR RENEWER wonderfully improves the personal appearance. It cleanses the scalp from all impurities, cures all humors, fever, and dryness, and thus prevents baldness. It stimulates the weakened glands, and enables them to push forward a new and vigorous growth. The effects of this article are not transient, like those of alcoholic preparations, but remain a long time, which makes its use a matter of economy.

BUCKINGHAM'S DYE

FOR THE

WHISKERS

Will change the beard to a natural brown, or black, as desired. It produces a permanent color that will not wash away. Consisting of a single preparation, it is applied without trouble.

PREPARED BY

R. P. HALL & CO., Nashua, N.H.

Sold by all Dealers in Medicines.

FOR ALL THE FORMS

OF

Scrofulous, Mercurial, and Blood Disorders,

the best remedy, because the most searching and thorough blood-purifier, is

Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

Sold by all Druggists; $1, six bottles, $5.

TUTT'S

PILLS

TORPID BOWELS, DISORDERED LIVER, and MALARIA.

From these sources arise three-fourths of the diseases of the human race. These symptoms indicate their existence: Loss of Appetite, Bowels costive, Sick Headache, fullness after eating, aversion to exertion of body or mind, Eructation of food, Irritability of temper, Low spirits, A feeling of having neglected some duty, Dizziness, Fluttering at the Heart, Dots before the eyes, highly colored Urine, CONSTIPATION, and demand the use of a remedy that acts directly on the Liver. As a Liver medicine TUTT'S PILLS have no equal. Their action on the Kidneys and Skin is also prompt; removing all impurities through these three "scavengers of the system," producing appetite, sound digestion, regular stools, a clear skin and a vigorous body. TUTT'S PILLS cause no nausea or griping nor interfere with daily work and are a perfect

ANTIDOTE TO MALARIA.

Sold everywhere, 25c. Office, 44 Murray St., N.Y.

TUTT'S HAIR DYE.

GRAY HAIR OR WHISKERS changed instantly to a GLOSSY BLACK by a single application of this DYE. Sold by Druggists, or sent by express on receipt of $1.

Office, 44 Murray Street, New York.

TUTT'S MANUAL OF USEFUL RECEIPTS FREE.

VIGOROUS HEALTH FOR MEN

THE PASTILLE CURE TRADE MARK FOR NERVOUS DEBILITY

TESTED FOR 5 YEARS

by use in thousands of cases. Founded on scientific medical principles. It has been growing in favor and reputation while its numerous competitors have invariably failed. The direct application of this remedy to the seat of the disease makes its specific influence felt without delay. The natural functions of the human organism are restored. The animating elements of life which have been wasted are given back. The buoyant energy of the brain and muscular system renders the patient cheerful; he gains strength with rapidity.

NERVOUS DEBILITY, organic weakness, and numerous obscure diseases, baffling the skill of best physicians, result for youthful indiscretion, too free indulgence, and over brain work.

Do not temporize while such enemies lurk in your system. Take a remedy that has cured thousands, and does not interfere with you attention to business or cause any pain or inconvenience.

(Send for a Descriptive Pamphlet giving Anatomical Illustrations, which will convince the most sceptical that they can be restored to perfect manhood, and fitted for the duties of life, same as if never affected. Sent free to any one. Remedy sold ONLY by the)

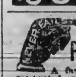
HARRIS REMEDY CO. MF'G. CHEMISTS.

306½ N. 10th. St. ST. LOUIS, MO.

One Month's treatment $3, two months $5, three months $7

PARKER'S

HAIR BALSAM



A beneficial dressing preferred to similar articles because of its purity and rich perfume. It Restores to Gray Hair the Youthful Color & prevents dandruff and falling of the hair. 50c. & $1. Hiscox & Co., N.Y.

FLORESTON

Excels the finest flower extracts in richness. Delicate, very lasting. No odor like it. Be sure you get FLORESTON Cologne, signature of Hiscox & Co., N. Y., on every label. 75 and 75 cts., at druggists and dealers in perfumes.

COLOGNE

FREE!

RELIABLE SELF-CURE.

A favorite prescription of one of the most noted and successful specialists in the U. S. (now retired) for the cure of Nervous Debility, Lost Manhood, Weakness and Decay. Sent in plain sealed envelope free. Druggists can fill it. Address DR. WARD & CO., Louisiana, Mo.

PAYSON'S INDELIBLE INK

Is the BEST. No preparation. Used with any clean pen for marking any fabric. Popular for decorative work on linen. Received Centennial MEDAL & Diploma. Established 50 years. Sold by all Druggists, Stationers & News Ag'ts.

Local News.

Eggs 40 cts. a dozen.

Butter 25 cts, a pound.

No gardens made yet.

This weather is hard on turnpikes.

We've seen the ground once more.

James Smith has another son at his house.

Esquire Baker was shipping tobacco last week.

J. J. Weaver goes to Sunbright, Tennessee, this week.

The last reports from Capt. McNeely, say he is getting well.

Give the ground hog a fair trial on the weather question.

The grass looked like it was glad to get from under the snow.

Plowing will commence now as soon as the ground will admit of it.

Every winter carries its complement of old citizens to their graves

The School Commissioner has not received the January draft, yet.

The prospects for another big river this spring are very good at present

We hear of improvements and rumor of improvements for our town this spring.

Bullettsville has a very interesting Literary society, Crit. Gorden president and Owen Watts secretary.

Notwithstanding the damage by the frost to Mr. Michael Clore's corn crop last fall, he has fattened 300 hogs with it.

Mr. W. A. Black opened, the other day, a 150 bushel bank of potatoes and found them greatly damaged by being frozen.

Judge N. E. Hawes and Captain Adam Finch, two of the oldest gentlemen in the county, are among the RECORDER'S best friends, paying for two copies each, annually.

There is no question about the ground hog's seeing his shadow last Saturday, and according to the old time notion of winter we are to have six week's more bad weather.

It is thought that another raid on W. F. McKim's store was planned for last Saturday night week, but Constable Sandford happened on the street, and the thieves fled.

Nice tombstones or monuments at the graves of the departed, are marks of respect which should not be neglected. Hurschart & Co., Lawrenceburg, Ind., have just what you want.

Georgie Piper is devoting his leisure moments to the study of short hand. We'll wager a small measure of apple dumplings that Georgie can master it as readily as any person in the town.

W. L. B. and Jonas Rouse, two of Boone county's substantial citizens, made the RECORDER a call last Friday, and gladdened the hearts of the poor printers. May their shadows never grow shorter.

That big coon hunt which the boys have been planning all winter was attempted to be executed the other day, and resulted in a long, weary tramp, and ended in an unanimous swear-off by the boys.

R. S. Crisler will build an addition to his wagon shop, in which to do his blacksmithing. He contemplates putting a small engine in his shop for the purpose of running his saws. Colonel means business, and don't you forget it.

Well, well, well! Six weeks more of winter. It is dreadful to think of. Old Sol, after having kept his smiling countenance obscured all winter, had to select the second day of February, ground hog day, to put in a full day's work of shining, the day of all days in the year he ought to have kept dark.

Mrs. Jane Kelley, a most estimable lady, who resided near the Middle Creek Universalist church, died Friday night of last week. Mrs. Kelley, by her gentle and christian spirit, endeared herself to all with whom she was acquainted, and her death is mourned by a large circle of acquaintances who sympathize with the bereaved family.

Dode Bailey an employe at Graham's saw mill, about three miles out on the Burlington and Petersburg pike, got into an altercation with one John Stitch last Friday, and Bailey was stabbed in the back under the left shoulder blade, by a knife in the hands of Stitch The wound bled freely and Dr. J. M. Grant was called in to dress it. At this writing no arrests have been made. The parties are single men, scarcely having reached their majority.

The young ladies gave an elegant leap year Party at Beech Grove School house, on the Lexington Pike, last Friday night. The young men furnished the supper, which was abundant, and its superior excellence attested that they are well up in the culinary line. Misses Vic Dulaney, Minnie Senour and Mamie Gedge composed the committee of arrangements, and the evening's programme was, of course well arranged.

Bullittsville, Ky.,—Messrs Riddell & Hall.—Gentlemen: Will you please answer through your valuable paper, whether or not it is against the law to sell playing cards in this county. If so, what is the law. Yours, &c., A. B. C.

You have to obtain a license from the County Clerk, and execute bond with surety, that you will, at the end of each three months pay 25 cents for each pack of playing cards sold within the preceding three months. For a violation you will be subject to a fine of $50—See section 1, page 716, General Statutes.

The Reviwer Reviewed.

To the Editors of the Recorder:

"Taxpayer" took the liberty to show the manner in which doctors' bills were allowed by the Court of Claims. "Reviewer," your in last issue appeared as their appologist, and says it was all right—it was a contract and ought to be paid.

The evidence on which that $40 claim was allowed, was simply a verbal statement that the Justices contracted with the doctor, and a verbal statement that the doctor had done the pauper practice in his district—don't say how many paupers are in his district—nothing of the kind. "Reviewe" says ask the County Attorney. The County Attorney had nothing to say on such testimony as that.

The Court of Claims got away with $400 of the county levy, and "Reviewer" says it is all right. But, seriously, says our "Reviewer" "does not humanity and religion demand it?" To wit: that medical aid be provided for the poor and needy.

The order of the Court is that the Justices in their several districts be authorized to contract with the doctors to do the pauper practice, not to exceed $50 in any one district. A strict construction of that order is, that he is a pauper dependent on the County or the district in which he lives, for his maintenance. True, says one, but the Justices have discretion in the matter. I thought this thing of discretion had played out. See the evils it has wrought on the County levy. Some years since the County Clerk presented his account and the County Attorney stated there were several items in it that should not be paid out of the County levy—that the Court of Appeals had so decided. The Court of Claims thought it had discretion and allowed it. One, two and three years the same discretion was exercised. By the persistence of the County Attorney he convinced the Justices they had no discretion, the highest Court in the land having so decided. When the County Court met for the fourth time the County Clerk's account was scaled nearly $200, and the County Attorney ordered to enter suit for the recovery of what had been illegally paid him. When the case was called in the Circuit Court, Judge O'Hara and my friend, the "Reviewer," argued it before his Honor, Judge Major, and the decision of his Honor was that the Court of Claims had donated to him the amount sued for—made him a present of it. Think of it! Judge Riddell is interested $75 in that donation.

$400 for pauper practice outside of the Poor-house and about $700 for illegal fees would help to build bridges in the County.

Light is breaking on our "Reviewer." In the future, he says, let us have no privileged classes. If that is so, then good by to that law office you want to build on the public square.

The muss over the Sheriff's bond and the omissions in the Order book, let the Courts wrestle with that for a while, and let us know who scratched the bond, and how they manage to get it in such a muss. Let the County Attorney whet up his armor and go for them.

TAXPAYER.

OLDHAM COUNTY LETTER.

Thinking that you would like to hear something from our county, I take the present opportunity to give you a few items.

We had a fine crop last year, our corn yielding from eight to twelve barrels to the acre; wheat, ten to twenty bushels; oats, twenty to forty bushels, and the hay crop was as fine as I ever saw. Mr. Woods says he raised better corn, wheat and grass last year than he ever raised in old Boone. His farm is very near mine, and I can stand on my place and look all over it.

We have as fine blue grass as there is in the State, and stock is as high here as in Covington or Cincinnati. One of my neighbors sold forty head of two year-old steers at five cents a pound, and I have two that I refused five cents for in October. They weighed 1550 pounds each. I sold my hogs at five and one-half cents a pound at home.

Orchard grass is a great crop in this county, yielding from six to twelve bushels per acre, and commands from $1 25 to $2 50 per bushel.

Many of my neighbors threshed clover seed last fall, and sold them at five dollars per bushel at the machine.

This is a great county for stock of all kinds. Every farmer has from fifty to two hundred head of sheep, some cattle, hogs, horses and mules. Sucking mules sold, last fall, at from forty to seventy dollars. Sheep ranged from two and a half to fifteen dollars per head, and wool brought from twenty to twenty-seven cents a pound. I sold about 900 pounds of wool at 27 cents a pound, and my lambs at $3 50 a head at home. Calves, at weaning time, brought from $25 to $50 each.

There is a saw mill within a mile of my farm, that is sawing walnut logs bought of the farmers in this vicinity. I sold one tree that measured four feet, three inches. You can guess what kind of land such timber grows on. We have blue ash, yellow poplar, sugar tree, chinkapin oak, mulberry, beech, white walnut, hickory, white walnut, red elm white oak and black locust of the finest quality.

We had more rabbits and quails, last fall and this winter, than I ever saw in one season, and foxes are very numerous, and they are chased through my place every week.

We have had very cold weather here for the past two weeks, the mercury ranging from the freezing point to 26° below zero.

The RECORDER is a very welcome visitor to us every week. It is like a letter from home. Success to the RECORDER. Yours truly,

MILTON GOODRIDGE.

Personal Mentions.

[If you have friends from a distance visiting you or expect to be away from home on business or pleasure, let us have the item for this column.]

Miss Dora Rich is visiting Mrs. W. F. McKim.

Hon. L. C. Lassing, of White Haven, was in town last week.

Charles Aikin, of Illinois, is visiting friends in this county.

E. W. Duncan returned from college the other day right sick.

Thos. Hyne moved, last week, to the Bullittsburg neighborhood.

Miss Hattie Smith, of Covington, is the guest of Miss Adda Crisler.

Miss Maggie Marshall, of Waterloo, is visiting her sister, Mrs. Robt. Rice

Deputy Assessor Riley passed through town with a load of tobacco last Saturday.

Mr. A. G. Winston was absent several days last week, taking depositions in Covington.

The smiling countenance of Mr. Oscar Huey, of Big Bone, was seen on our streets last Saturday.

Mr. Mathias Voshell, who settled in this county at an early date, died, one day last week, at the residence of his son in Indiana, where he made his home for several years previous to his death. The deceased was a sucessful farmer in this county till, compelled to by age, he was forced to bandon his chosen pursuits. He leaves four sons to mourn his loss, their estimable mother having died several years ago.

COUNTY CRURT—John Coter's will probated......L. J. Riley appointed deputy assessor......Commissioners appointed to divide J. Delph's land......Tax on Rabbit Hash ferry reduced......Henry Blanton's will probated......Nat Hind appointed adm'r of Wm. Stevenson.....Jonas Rouse appointed adm'r of Maria Beemon......B. F. Garnett's will probated—J. Frank Grant and J. S. Huey, administrtors......J. L. Vest's will probated.....J. W. Riggs appointed guardian for his children.

DIED—On the 21st of January, in San Antonia, Texas, Dr. Geo. F. Spooner, of bronchitis.

He came here three years since to improve his health. He had numerous friends of high culture, and was a young man of extraordinary intellect. If his health could have been regained he bid fair to be the brightest of his profession. His sickness was attended by his loving and devoted mother with many sympathizing friends. Dr. Spooner rejoiced to say he had a hope in his Savior, and said if it was the will of his Savior, he would go to Him. He said he was not afraid to die, for his sins were all forgiven, and with uplifted hands he said, "Jesus is my all." He had a hope for years, and now he is redeemed from all sorrow and pain.

His remains will be brought to his native State, Kentucky, to be interred at Big Bone church cemetery as soon as arrangements can be made to make the journey. We sincerely sympathize with the deep stricken and devoted mother.

A FRIEND.

San Antonia, Texas.

NGEIHBORHOOD NEWS.

Union.

Union now has two tobacco warehouses.

Last week, Mrs. Newman's two little babies died.

Dudly Gaines and family move to Texas this week.

Among the sick of our town are, Mrs. Brentz, Mrs. Baker and Mrs. Stephens

For a supply of work-horses, or other kind, apply to R. K. Comer and Robt. Riley, proprietors of the Union 5th steet.

Mrs. L. B. Stephens and Mrs. Dr. Wise, have postponed their visit to Florida, on account of the illness of Mrs. Wise's father, Houston Perry.

Florence X-Roads.

Thomas Adams is a resident of our town.

Sam Crutcher was here on business last week.

The saw-mill was laid up last week for repairs.

The young folks had a nice dance at Julius Utz's the other night.

John P. Utz has sold his fine saddle horse to James Loder, of Constance.

One of our friends made the twentieth purchase at Mabley's last week, but tarrying to talk, he lost the prize.

Last week John Manning sold 23½ acres of land to Wm. Utz for $1,150. Wm. McGlasson to John Manning 34 acres for $1,050.

Waterloo.

The small grain is looking well.

Tony Rue can now finish gathering his corn.

The snow has left us, and we once more have a view of Mother Earth.

The ground hog seeth his shadow, and returneth to his wallow for 6 weeks.

Joseph Satchell and wife have recently returned from a visit to Carroll county.

Born—To Sam H. Marshall and wife, a son. To Moses Ryle and wife, a girl. To Chas. Taylor and wife, a girl.

E. S. Aera gave us a brief call recently. Sandford says he is canvassing for fourteen different journals.

For 'opossum tracks call on Jno. T. Marshall, at this place. He having gathered a lot of them before the snow left us.

David Williamson is the boss trapper of our community, having captured a number of cats as well as "coons." Come around, Felix, and see us.

There has been a large acreage of tobacco planted during the winter, ranging as high as seven acres to the single hand. The spring crop will doubtless fall short.

Lennie Kite, of Bellevue, grand-son of Leonard Clore, of this place, fell on the ice and broke both joints of his arm, immediately above the wrist. He is doing very well at present.

We are well pleased with the dog law especially the 5th section. We think if this section was used in the assessment of other property it would be the means of the Commonwealth obtaining considerable more revenue than she does.

While wandering across the farm of H. P. Marshall, our attention was suddenly called to some large embankment of earth, which led us to believe we were among the "Mound Builders," but, upon inquiry, found it to be nothing more than a potato bank.

We fear some of the citizens of McVille have allowed their indignation and prejudice to carry them to extremes, as they are circulating a petition in this locality to move the Postoffice from Grant to McVille, all having grown out of a meeting held by the citizens of Bellevue, to take into consideration the name of the town. "Truth crushed to earth will rise again, &c."

Hebron.

Wheat looks splendid.

J. Clayton is on the sick list.

Jacob Lodge has gone to house keeping.

Cab Utz's horse was stolen on the 29th inst., but was found in Bromley.

Sleigh riding has been suspended, but the ringing of the bells is still heard.

There is a good many soft Irish potatoes left behind the freeze, in this section.

John Ernst gave the young folks a hop Thursday night. All present had a good time.

Tobacco planting is raging in this locality. Don't forget to plant corn and potatoes, for we want hominy.

Business is quite brisk at this writing.

Mr. Issac Clore is very low at this writing.

Health of the neighborhood is not very good at present.

Mr. Hubble Davis has been on the sick list for the last few days.

Rev. Swick, of Ohio, is holding a protracted meeting at this place.

Will Hoshall clerked three or four days last week, for Davis Bros.

John Aylor says he has the fastest hound in the county. John says it is a flyer.

Alva Bruce has postponed going west He says that he will try old Kentucky another year.

Mrs. Hattie Clore, whose fingers were amputated a few days since, is getting along nicely.

James Utz says he is going to give a grand hop sometime in the near future, and he wants all the boys and girls to be sure and come.

The Hebron school taught by Prof. I. J. Daughters closed last Friday. The school will give an exhibition at the Hebron Hall next Saturday at 2 o'clock.

Rabbit Hash.

Bacon and hominy is now the bill of fare.

B. C. Calvert and Mrs. Jno. Stephens are now on the sick list.

A little child of Mr. Willis Darby died last Monday, Jan,, 28th.

John McConnell has gone to Green River to attend to his flat boat.

Miss Lizzie Aera, of Ghent, was the guest of Cobble Aera last Sunday.

Mrs Lizzie Piatt and daughter Miss Lou, have returned to their home in Rising Sun.

B. H. Ryle has been elected President of the Rabbit Hash Loafer's Association. Ben makes a good one—always on hand.

Cobble Aera says, if Williams is elected senator, he is going to make him a pair of fine brogans and send to him.

I guess Wilson & Riddell will have early tobacco plants to sell this spring, as all the plant beds, &c., have been sown by the fire in their store.

Ed Rice was here one day the fore part of last week. Ed is a good boy, and don't mind taking his mother visiting when she goes the direction to suit him.

We will put our place against any other neighborhood in Boone County for smart and good looking babies under six months old—parents excluded.

John P. Ryle shipped per steamers Wm. Young and Thos. Riggs, two hhds. of tobacco last week, and brought back couple of loads of goods for Wilson & Riddell's store.

We are much oblige for the publication of the dog law, but, are afraid all the country dogs will be returned as delinquents, for they look mighty poor and bad to a person that is used to seeing big, fine, fat dogs like ours.

Miss Sallie Calvert, after a six months visit to Gore, Ky., returned home last Wednesday. She had the misfortune of leaving her trunk too near the river, which was raising rapidly, and had all of her clothes spoiled by the water.

The Ferry boat sprung a leak last week, and would have been at the bottom of the raging Ohio, only for the perseverence of Boss Riddell and Commodore Wilson. After a few hours work got her in first class shape again.

The suspension bridge on the grade, near this place, looks like it has become somewhat impaired by age and use, and by a close examination might be considered and pronounced unsafe and dangerous by the Commonwealth, after some one is killed.

As the muddy season of the year begins to draw nigh, the pike talk begins to increase. Everybody is ready to talk pike, but no one cares to take the time to see what could be done for the sake of a road. They will all help to do the wind work, but a long experience has taught me that wind will do good work on muddy roads, but it won't work on pikes.

We understand that they have had a meeting at Bellevue to consider the question of changing its name, as three of its citizens have become disgusted with the name. We don't blame them, for as long as it goes by that name it will smell of willow and cabbage, but then "a rose by any other name will smell the same." So if the three dissatisfied can not have the change made, we will say come and share our pleasures. This is the place for the dissatisfied. There is nothing but peace and satisfaction here. No one can find fault with the name of our nice, peaceful little town.

Florence.

Grand Select, Humpty-Dumpty, Surprise Party, January, 28th, 1884, midnight, at T. L. Swetnam's store. Committee of arrangements: Kirby Conrad and Johnnie Meeks. Music by Dr. A. Sayer and Willie Bradford. Business manager and caterer, T. L. Swetnam. Uninvited guests, two strangers. Uncle Jack Meeks and wife opened the hop before the music began. While we are familiar with all the surroundings, and thrilling events of the past week, the ambiguity of the above preface may not be appreciated by strangers and those less acquainted with what is now termed the "Battle of the Maples." For the benefit of the future historian, I will, therefore, briefly state that at about the time mentioned above, as Kirby Conrad was returning home from an old fashioned Sister Pheoby candy-pulling, on the border of town, he fell in company with Johnnie Meeks who had been at a pulling in another direction. The two proceeded to the corners known as Barney's, when their attention was attracted by a ray of light, and some movements at Swetnam's store door, which has been made a specialty of late by the light-fingered gentry. They were not kept in suspense long, as the strangers commenced moving in their direction. Kirby and Johnie as if by instinct, fell back noislessly, and secreted themselves in the yard adjoining, and close to the carriage shop of Bradford Bros. The unknown party, coming up in front of the shop, and so close to the boys that they were afraid to draw a long breath. Meeks is certain that one stood on his coat tail, as the tracks were on it the next day. One of the party said, "This is the place," the other remarking, "Yes." Whereupon the first proceeded to enter the shop, and the other kept watch. The first party soon emerged with arms full of tools, such as they thought necessary to do their work. One then went across the street to Osborn's grocery, but returned immediately, saying that they would go to the other house. This gave our boys a chance to get their wind and prepare for action, which they lost no time in doing. Meeks ran home for his shot gun, and Kirby hastened back to the house to apprise Mr. Swetham, and to meet again at Barney's stable. Kirby, in passing Bradford's dwelling, found Willie up, reading. He got him to go and notify Dr. Sayer. Kirby tapped lightly at Swetnam's door, and received the challenge, "Whose's there?" "Kirby;" but not having control of his mouth on account of its being so stuck up with candy and kisses received at the party, demanded admittance to tell the secret. Mr. S. took in the situation in a moment, and a hasty toilet followed, which, though not very artistic, we presume it was passable. The next thing was arms. Luckily a double barreled shot gun and ammunition were on hand, and Mr. S. proceeded to load, which took a little time, as he couldn't tell which barrel he loaded first; and he consumed a Daily Enquirer for wadding. Dr. Sayer next put in his appearance with a Navy revolver that fairly groaned with its load. These constituted the arms of the division. Having no time to lose, they decided at once to go the back way, and come up through Mrs. Conner's lot in front of the store and nearly opposite, which they did as silently as possible in the snow, Bradford with the gun and Dr. Sayer with the pistol. The night was extremely dark, and when they had taken their positions across the street, nothing could be seen of the burglars. But what had become of Meeks, whom we left running after his gun? Now, Johnny has been wanting to marry for some time, and in opposition to the old folks, and has been threatening to commit suicide if his future plans were frustrated. This sudden sally of Johny's with the gun, made the old people think his time had come, and they hurriedly dressed and followed in his wake. Johnny, not finding Kirby, secreted himself at Barney's corner, and the noise and bustle of the old folks coming up started the thieves, who were at work on a side window at Swetnam's store, and brought them to the front. Bradford, who could barely discern some moving objects, asked Mr. S. if he must let them have it. He replied, "be careful, it might be some citizen." But the near approach of Uncle Jack and wife, started the thieves, and Mr. S. said, "let'm have it;" whereupon Bradford leveled his piece, but the cap failed to do its duty, and, in cocking the second barrel, it was prematurely discharged, the contents taking effect in the forks of a maple tree, hence the name of the battle ground. Dr. Sayer followed suit with his navy, firing three shots in the direction of the rogues, who were, by this time, in a full run, but it failed to stop them, for in five minutes the dogs could be heard barking on the road to the city a mile away. It's all over now, and Mr. Swetnam's only loss was his fine lock, which was made useless by a skeleton key's being broken off in it. He has replaced it with a new one. To attempt to give you each one's plan and how they would have managed to capture the rascals, would be as difficult as to assume the shapes of Proteus. The most plausible one, however, and the one I think will be adopted by the town council for future protection, is that of Barney, namely: He says, "if der vould shu st tole him dot someting goes rhong, ond he tooks hish dog Fritz, ond cotch him mit one, ond zen he shump mit de odder on his pack." But I must desist, else there will be no room left for comments on the "Dog Law," or "Taxpayer's" opinion of the way the county machine is run.

The meeting for the protection of the horse and other property against thieves held Saturday, the 2d inst., was well attended. An organization was effected with all the necessary officers and committee appointed to arrange by-laws, &c. Will particularize when I have room.

Emery Stephens, a young man of excellent qualities, died at his father's, Joseph Stephens, near Erlanger, and his remains were deposited in Hopeful cemetery, last week.

The many friends of Father Burke will be sorry to hear that he is lying dangerously ill with pneumonia.

GAS OMETER.

That Doughty Duchess.

Opposite Opinions about a Wonderful Woman—Her Thumb and Fingers.

"Crack nuts with her fingers? Why, you can't mean it!" cried a young lady graduate of the Normal College, in the utmost astonishment.

"But I do mean it," affirmed her big brother, who had taken several prizes in athletics, "and I reassert it: that Cymburga, wife of Duke Ernst, of Austria, could crack nuts with her fingers and drive nails in the wall with her thumb."

"What a monstrous woman!" said the young lady. "What a useful woman," amended her big brother.

The Austrian Duchess was mighty because she kept good hours, good habits and perfect digestion.

Mrs. Alice Strong, of Pittsburg, Pa., writes a different story about herself, but deserves praise for her frankness. She says: "For the past 3 years I have been subject to severe attacks of colic and cramps, and exhausting attacks of Diarrhœa. Weary of experimenting with medicines, I turned without hope to PARKER'S TONIC. Three bottles cured me entirely. I have tried it also for other ailments with which women are often afflicted, and it far surpassed my expectations. I am happy to offer this testimony for the benefit of other women.

Ladies who are interested in Mrs. Strong's letter, will please remark that PARKER'S TONIC is not intoxicant. It cures colic easily, but by virtue of many rare and powerful ingredients, it also masters all diseases of the Blood—such, for example, as Rheumatism, Consumption, Scrofula, and all disorders of the Kidneys, Liver and Stomach. It is a vitalizer and stimulant, but not an intoxicant. Price, 50 cents and $1 per bottle. Hiscox & Co., Chemists, New York.

12

THE best cure for diseases of the nerves, brain, and muscles is Brown's Iron Bitters.

MARION, MASS.—Dr. N. S. Ruggles says: "I recommend Brown's Iron Bitters as a valued tonic for enriching the blood and removing all dyspeptic symptoms. It does not hurt the teeth."

HUNTSVILLE, ALA.—Dr. J. T. Ridley says: "Brown's Iron Bitters is a good appetizer and merits attention from sufferers."

For Sale.

A good farm horse.—Price, $115.
F. P. WALTON, Burlington, Ky.

Notice.

All parties having claims agai st the estate of F. W. Grant dec l., are hereby notified to present the sam properly proven without delay or further notice,

J. Frank Grant,
W. H. Grant, Admr's.

FOR GOOD
Boots AND Shoes,
GO TO
GEO. H. LEOBKER'S,
NO 36 PIKE STREET.
Covington, - - Kentucky.

JAMES S. WAYNE, President. JNO. L. SANDFORD, Cashier
CAPITAL $300,000.
FARMERS AND TRADERS
NATIONAL BANK.
Covington, Kentucky.
DIRECTORS.
James S. Wayne, M. C. Motch, Sam Hind, E. J. Hickey, E. J. Green
J. S. Matson, J. H. Mersman, J. L. Sandford, L. H Dills, F. P. Helbig
L. C. Stephens.
The general operations of banking transacted upon the most favorable terms collections made on all points in the United States.
The Business and Accounts of Farmers are Especially Solicited by this Bank.

The Greatest Bargains in
OVERCOATS
AND
SUITS!
CAN BE HAD AT
H. F. BLASE,
540 Madison St, - COVINGTON, KY

UNDERTAKING.

We keep Constantly on Hand all sizes of
Burial Cases and Caskets.
And having just received a beautiful
NEW HEARSE,
Which can be had at a reasonable price when desired.
PRICES GUARANTEED LESS THAN CITY PRICES!
DAVIS BROS., - - HEBRON, KY.

City Flouring Mills
RISING SUN, INDIANA.
FLOUR EXCHANGED FOR WHEAT OR CASH. THE HIGHEST MARKET PRICE PAID FOR GOOD WHEAT.
mar7-tf23 J. W. Talbott.

MOTHER NOBLE'S

HEALING SYRUP.
20 Million Bottles sold in 10 years. A certain Cure for Dyspepsia, all Diseases of the Kidneys, Liver, Stomach, Blood, Skin and Bowels.
Can Produce Thousands of Letters proving its Curative Powers.
AN OLD AND LONG TRIED REMEDY.
LABORATORY 77 AMITY STREET, NEW YORK CITY.
FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

Cornease.--The King of Corn Killers. The most desperate Corns, Bunions, Warts &c., Speedily cured. Price 25 Cents.
Footease.--An Unfailing Remedy for Hot, Swollen and Tender Feet, Chilblains, &c. Price 25 Cents.
Cornease Manuf'g Co., 236, 5th Ave. Place, N. Y. City.
For Sale by Agents, Druggists and Shoe Dealers.

Subscribe For The
BOONE COUNTY
RECORDER.
And begin with the New Year.

My Vegetable and Flower Seed Catalogue for 1884, the result of thirty years' experience as a Seed Grower, will be sent free to all who apply. All my Seed is warranted to be fresh and true to name, so far that should it prove otherwise, I agree to refill orders gratis. My collection of vegetable Seed, one of the most extensive to be found in any American Catalogue, is a large part of it of my own growing. As the original introducer of Eclipse Beet, Burbank Potatoes, Marblehead Early Corn, the Hubbard Squash, and scores of other new Vegetables, I invite the patronage of the public. In the gardens and on the farms of those who plant my seed will be found my best advertisement.
JAMES J. H. GREGORY, Seed Grower, Marblehead, Mass.

THE RECORDER.

RIDDELL & HALL, Publishers.

BURLINGTON, : : KENTUCKY

A COMMON HISTORY.

"It is time to be born," God said, and there came Into the world, without a name,
A mortal tiny frame.

"It is time to think, to look and to grow,
To waken and walk, fair babe of snow,"
Said a grandma, soft and low

"It is time to lean on a tender breast,
Little one, in thy dream robes drest"
Said a mother, "come and rest."

"It is time to study, and cease to play,"
Said the father grave to the boy one day,
"If thou would'st be wise when gray."

"It is time to struggle for manly place,
To enter the lists for the grand life race,"
Said a youth with sunny face.

"It is time to sin!" 'twas a demon thought,
Sinister—dark—with danger fraught,
But it, haply, came to naught.

"It is time to love," said a lover bold,
As he kissed sweet lips of a melting mold,
And rehearsed the "story old."

"It is time for joy," with an air of pride,
Said a bridegroom fond, "I have won a bride
To be ever at my side."

"It is time to toil for daily bread,
For wife and family must be fed,"
By a busy man was said.

"It is time to part," said the children grown,
"Sons and daughters need homes of their own;
Farewell!" and the birds had flown.

"It is time to be lonely, the house is still,"
Said a care-scarred couple, "it seemeth ill;"
And they wept against their will.

"It is time to mourn; it has come to pass,"
Said a quivering voice, "that beneath the grass,
I must hide my love, alas!"

"There's time to die," so the preacher saith,
"And I gently call thee now," said death,
As he stilled an old man's breath.
—Cleveland Leader.

TWO YOUNG CONSPIRATORS.

"Where are you going Barbie?"

I am already half-way down the lane, and I take care not to stop or turn around as I answer, shortly: "Down to the orchard."

"Can't I go, too?"

"No."

"Nor me neither?"

I shake my head, still walking, and add by way of excuse: "I want to be quiet, children."

"You a'n't obliged to make any more noise just because we go."

That is good-sound reasoning, still I persist in being impolite, and only compromise by adding, "You can come down just before supper, and walk home with me."

Two hours later how I wish I had taken those spirits of mischief, my little brother and sister, with me! Anywhere, anyhow rather than to have left them with the threads of my destiny in their chubby fingers, and only their own sweet wills to guide them. Afraid of another interruption, or detention, unless I speedily disappear from sight, I hurry forward until I have let down and securely put up again the old gray bars that serve as cloister doors between my little world of home life and small duties, and that sheltering retreat of all my girlhood days, the orchard. With a sigh of relief I toss my hat on the ground, throw down the books, wise and otherwise, which I had brought under the pretense that I shall improve my time by reading, and give myself up to the luxury of being alone and uncomfortable. Softened by the many leaves of the low-branching apple trees, the hot July sun falls with a tender, dreamy light upon the green grass at my feet; stirred by a gentle breath of fragrant summer air, the green leaves whisper soothing words of peace and rest; a saucy squirrel on a twisted bit of fence is cocking up his tail and winking at me with one eye in the jolliest, give-care-the-go-by manner possible; but though heartily ashamed of myself I am still unhappy and only take comfort in one thought, that neither the dear old trees, twisted and gnarled by many a year's contest with wind and weather, nor the twittering birds in their branches, young and silly, nor the squirrel frisky and care-free, will criticise me or reason with me. They do not know that I have suddenly discovered that I am twenty-four years old, and that the village gossips have decided that the minister is going to have an old maid in his family, after all. They do not know that for the first time rude hands have swept across the wires of my sensitive girl nature and set it all a jangling and out of tune; they do not know how I have been longing to run away from them ever since mother came home from her round of parish calls the other day, on which, contrary to her usual custom, she had taken Vic and Bobbitt, the two angels to be, whom we entertained in our home and whose company I refused this afternoon.

Dear little mother takes a day now and then and goes calling about doing her duty as minister's wife in a large and proportionately mixed-up parish; mixed up of a small pinch of good, sensible people, a large proportion of the gossipy, "tend-to-some-one-else's-business sort, with a sprinkling of nondescripts, who do not give either favor or sweetness to the compound but serve to hold it together. There is not a single thing which we as a minister's family do not know about the duties of ministers' wives; for first, there is mother, who has been steadily at work for thirty-five years; then Ruth, Kate and Margaret, my three older sisters, have each one taken unto themselves ministers and their parishes for husbands, and are struggling on, each one morally sure she is in just the path marked out for her, and comfortably settled in her mind that she is doing her duty and fulfilling her destiny. To be sure there is a distinction with a perceptible amount of difference between them. Ruth has a country home like ours, and is living just such another life as mother's; Kate ministers to the wants of a wealthy city congregation; and Margaret and her husband are progressive, as they say now-a-days; they are hard workers, looking out for the manners and morals of their people, their bodies as well as their souls, to say nothing of attending to two or three religious papers and periodicals, and running a missionary enterprise by way of recreation.

But all this has nothing to do with mother's calls, the other day, only that it was because of our being such a ministering family that I had to have the little thrust from old Mrs. Barton, which had fretted and rankled ever since.

Vic's and Bobbitt's stock of good manners, reserved for this occasion only, had begun to run low about the time mother reached the Bartons', and she had asked permission for them to stay and play there until her return. The old lady had said she would be delighted to have the little dears, and the younger Mrs. Barton had been as polite as a new carpet, spotless piazza-floor, and well-swept walks could allow; so the blessed children had sat on the edge of the porch with their feet hanging over, and their heads close under the windows where the two ladies were at work. What in the world possessed two such restless little beings to sit still and listen to other people talking, I can not imagine. Untold gold could not have coaxed them to do it at any other time. Probably they were rather dispirited and worn out by sundry kindly meant but most uncomfortable pattings and rumplings of their curly heads, and by an unceasing string of "Yes, ma'ams," "No, ma'ams," "Seven and eight last August," and other stereotyped replies which they had been giving at each house on their route. Certain it is, they must have been both quiet and attentive, and the result of such an unusual proceeding was unfolded to me at bed-time by a remark from Bobbett.

"Say, Barbie," said he, after I had kissed him and was going down-stairs, "a'n't father ever going to have another young man to study with him?"

"No, I hope not. Why?"

"Oh, he's just got to have another. What will you do, if he don't?"

"I shall not have to wait and tend, make so much cake or so many pies, for one thing."

"Oh, don't they eat, though!" and Vic's curly head waved to and fro with the bare remembrance of some of her losses at the table, on account of the immense appetites of those three young men now my august brothers-in-law, who took their preliminary studies for the ministry under our father.

"Yes, they do eat awful," added Bobbett, "but we've got to have another."

I began to suspect some sinister motive in this conversation, and so went back from the head of the stairs, poked Vic back into bed, and began diplomatically to get at the reason of this sudden interest on their part in our household economy.

"Tell sister Barbara why you want to have another young man study with father," I had said to Bobbett, who was chief spokesman, and whose head was generally the clearer of the two.

"O Barbie! you can't be an old maid! it's awful!" was his startling response to this gentle insinuation.

Then Vic arose and poured forth the announcement that:

"Old Granny Barton said you'd be one unless father took somebody soon, like he did for Madge and Kate and Ruth, but you sha'n't! Me and Bobbett just yelled at her in the window when she said so, the mean old thing!"

"Did you listen, children?" I said, trying to be judicious and to inculcate principle; "and you must not say granny."

"Yes, we did, and peeked, too, and I told her guess we could take care of our own sister and marry her when we wanted to without her! She said we were 'queer children,' but I reckon she's queer herself, meddling so. You shall be married, Barbie, in spite of what she says. We'll coax father, and he'll have another somebody, like brother Robert or Tom, you know, and you can be married big as anybody, if old gran—Mrs. Barton does say 'there's nobody you would think good enough for you in the village.'"

These were Bobbett's manly sentiments. After their delivery I soothed their ruffled feelings and did a good deal of what Bobbett calls "proper talking," on the silliness of such an idea, and came away with the firm conviction that all further meditations on that subject were effectually banished from their childish, but loving, hearts. It had not been so easy, however, to drive the remembrance of the scene from out my own mind, and it had fretted and rankled against my sensitive soul for these last two days, in a most wearisome fashion.

It is a rude awakening to any simple-natured, pure-hearted girl, to find that people are discussing and speculating upon subjects that to her are sacred and carefully cherished. It seems a desecration, that questions, which yet her own heart has never asked, and certainly her lips never framed, should be tossed back and forth as food for idle gossip. It is my first experience of the kind, so carefully have we been sheltered, and though I reason with myself and mentally shake myself, I am hurt and refuse to be comforted. I forget that I am a beloved daughter, in a sweet old home, the sole help of an over-worked clergyman and his much ministering wife; I forget that I am the much worshipped sister of the angelic Vic and Bobbett, and that I have my best work and noblest mission ready to my hand in the daily living, doing and homely serving that wait for me each sunrise, and whose cheerful fulfillment has been my only crown at each day's sunset.

We girls at home had not been brought up to speculate upon our future positions in the world as wives of some possible heroes, who were to come from somewhere with full hands, bearing great gifts, and carry us straight away to the fairylands of happiness and glorious wifehood. In our inmost woman souls we knew (as what pure-hearted girls do not!) that the rounded completion, the perfection of our womanhood, lay in such a possible glory, but it had been a holy something in the shadowy future upon which it were desecrating to lay the rough hands of comment or of speculation. My sisters had each gone out from her childhood's home with the blessing of those she left, and carrying the honor of her new happiness sweetly, simply and bravely into the untried paths of her future life. It occurs to me now that it is mortifyingly true that they have each married men who studied with father, though as one was engaged to Kate before he came, and one to Ruth not until long years after he went away, the peculiar significance had not struck me before.

The shadows grow longer on the grass, as I sat thinking: down the lane I hear the tinkle of cow-bells; still through my mind are floating half-formed plans for flight into the world—for self support—for wonderful deeds that shall leave no time for repinings at spinsterhood and unappreciated beauty. I know I am beautiful, prettier far than my sisters; every clear truthful brook on the parsonage farm tells that. The leaven of old Mrs. Barton's making is still working in my brain, when a shout at the bars lets me know that Vic and Bobbett have availed themselves of my promise to act as guard of honor on the home walk. Jealous of even the last few minutes of my solitude I do not answer or look up.

A stumble, a sound of some one falling, a ringing child laugh, are only ordinary music in my ears, so I pay no attention to the approaching group, until Bobbett's voice, joyful and exultant, sounds clear on the evening air.

"We've got him, Barbie; he's promised to stay! Now you needn' be an old maid any more, spite of Granny Barton!"

I spring to my feet while a hot tide of hot blood rushes to my checks and sets my temples throbbing. Between the trees I see three figures coming toward me; Bobbett heated and somewhat dusty, Vic with her yellow curls bobbing, her eyes dancing, and sun bonnet swinging from her arm, while each child holds tightly by the hand a gentleman. As he catches a glimpse of me, he half stops and attempts to draw away from the children, while a look that is partly surprise and partly uncontrollable merriment flashes into his eyes. He is one of those faultless looking people, who immediately set you to wondering if your dress and hair are irreproachable and your general appearance presentable. Instinctively I put up my hand to my hair, though I know it is tumbling about my ears, and look longingly toward my hat a few feet away.

"Well," says Vic, pulling her charge toward me, "you don't seem a bit glad to see him, Barbie, and we've brought him a'l this way, too."

"That is a fact, Miss Cameron, you do not appear glad to see me, though your cousin Frank promised me you would be." And the gentleman takes a hand from Bobbett and holds it toward me.

"My cousin Frank? Are you Mr. Ashburton?" I falter, mechanically, placing my own, stained with grass, in the firm white hand he extends.

"At your service," he answers. "I hope you do not disapprove of me. Really I have no cause to complain of my welcome at your home, because these young people," looking benignly upon Vic and Bobbett, "have been unexceptionally kind and hospitable."

"'Ta'n't a hospital at our house. Father fits lots of fellows for the ministry, and you said you'd stay," says Bobbett, looking a trifle belligerent as he sees my eyes beginning to flash, and detects, with keen childish instinct, the twinkle of merriment in Mr. Ashburton's laughing brown ones.

"And I am perfectly prepared, my young friend, to be fitted for the ministry or anything else, if the rest of the family sanction your kind and cordial invitation."

"You'll have to marry Barbie, anyway," says Vic, looking like a small termagant for the minute as she sees Bobbett is getting excited.

"Children," I say, sternly, gathering myself together with an effort, "take these books up to the house, and find mother."

They knew enough to mind when I speak decidedly; as their little figures disappear in the direction of the bars, I feel the color fading out of my cheeks. I knew I am growing white and cold, and I turn toward Mr. Ashburton, of whom I have heard, and about whose possible coming I have often thought with an iciness of demeanor calculated to freeze a sunbeam. He looks at me with a kindly expression on his handsome face, but to my suspicious eyes the lurking fun and merriment at my discomfiture prevail, and I am confident I hate him. I do not say anything, so he begins:

"I am persuaded, Miss Cameron, in fact I have felt sure of it for two years, that we are destined to be the very best of friends. Your cousin Frank promised I should not come here as a stranger."

As unlike myself as possible I answer stiffly: "I do not make friends easily," —which is as false a statement as it is impolite, but then I instantly recall all the glowing accounts this same Cousin Frank has given me of the manifold perfections of his friend, Mr. Ashburton. Simultaneously I remember that those dreadful children have set me, Barbara Cameron, before him in the light of a forlorn spinster, for whom they must canvass the country to find some one willing to offer himself as a matrimonial sacrifice in my behalf! The thought stifles all the cordial words of welcome that would at any other time have been ready on my lips, and with only bare civility I ask him to return to the house, and, inwardly chafing, but outwardly calm, I walk back through the lane by the side of this faultless gentleman, the restful peace, which my silent orchard meditations had been bringing, all put to flight and my grievances only increased by this new affliction. I look askance at Mr. Ashburton, considering him as one more thorn in my rose-garden of life, and grimly promise myself that he shall not find the parsonage so pleasant as to cause him to prolong his visit, if the elder daughter of the house has any influence.

It takes only a few days to convince me that apparently that same influence is the one thing I no longer possess in the family. Above the dull gray of the commonplace horizon which generally encircles the parsonage at Clifton, a new star has risen whose brightness penetrates even farther, and illuminates the prosy old village itself. The old farmers call him a likely young fellow, and nod their heads kindly when he goes by. Over numerous strong cups of tea old Mrs. Barton and her friends pronounce upon his virtues; the youths and maidens adore him, and his praises sound from every lip. At the parsonage his reign is soon established beyond a doubt; many a long summer morning the minister sits on the cool west porch and gathers inspiration for the next Sunday's effort from his new guest. Traveled, cultured, well-read, he proves a most agreeable companion for the brain-starved and weary old parson. Mother learns to watch for his footstep on the walk, and her eyes brighten at his thoughtful care for her. A softly cushioned phaeton which he decides he must have for his own use, since long days in tropic India have made him indolent, is always at her disposal; the latest books and papers, rare treats to her, are laid by her well-filled mending basket, and bring that breath from the outer world which freshens and clarifies the hazy atmosphere that surrounds her in the sleepy old village. Vic and Bobbett desert me utterly, and, allured by long rambles, by drives behind that wonderful horse, the possession of which makes him a monarch in their eyes, and by huge boxes of bonbons, worship the newcomer with a blind adoration that makes me feel more forlorn than ever. All at once I begin to find myself lonesome in my small minority of one.

The long, bright summer days glide by one after another, and still Mr. Ashburton stays on at the parsonage. Sometimes he talks of buying the great house upon the hill overlooking the village, and takes lonely walks there in the twilight, or begs me to help him watch the sunset from its broad western porch that faces the rounded peaks of the Berkshire hills. This is on days when I forget Mrs. Barton's gossip and my state of advanced spinsterhood; forget to put on my armor of indifference toward all mankind in general, and this one specimen in particular, and yield to the charm which his presence exerts on us all; days when I recognize, without naming it, a delicious sense of being watched over and cared for; of a tender interest that sympathizes equally with my noblest thought, or my simplest home duty; that even descends to a knowledge of my pretty summer dresses and their degrees of becomingness; days that are pleasant, but dangerously so, for they are invariably followed by darker ones. Then Mr. Ashburton speaks of another journey to India, of his sorrowful determination to leave Clifton and his new-found friends—glancing meanwhile comprehensively at the whole family, and fixing his eyes on a point just over my head, while the children give forth doleful wails at the bare prospect.

These are days when I suddenly develop traits of character hitherto unsuspected. I am petulant, saucy and defiant; then, "without a reason, changing," become devout and serious, and talk of fitting myself for missionary work. This emboldens Mr. Ashburton to remark that there is a fine field for such labor in India; whereupon I am frozen into silence. Father looks at me in wondering sorrow; mother shakes her head reprovingly, and Bobbett kindly makes the statement:

"I never knew Barbie to act so like a muff before; she's always been a first-rate kind of a sister until this summer."

I feel equal to any amount of sisterly correction after this remark, for well I know it is owing to his match-making proclivities, first incited by old Mrs. Barton, that I have been so ill at ease and out of tune this sweetest summer of my life.

It is a wonder to me how women, who have once appeared sensitive-natured, pure-hearted girls themselves, can so far forget their girlhood lives as to drag into the merciless glare of daylight, for everyday comment and criticism, those unconfessed and half-formed plans for future love, home and happiness, that are the sacred property of young girls' hearts. Many a sweet love tune has gone unsung and unheard because rude hands have swept the young heart-strings that would otherwise have vibrated in happy accord: smooth currents of life that were meant to mingle have been turned storm-lashed and tempest-tossed into separate channels by the incautious meddling of an interested friend. Many a girl like myself is hungry for the love and joy that await her taking, while her sensitive pride, easily roused by a rough touch, or word, from an outsider, will surround her with an atmosphere through which love must be strong indeed to send its rays of light. There comes a day, however, in my own golden-hearted September, when I learn to forgive Vic and Bobbett for all their twisting and tangling of my destiny threads; a day when I have humbly to acknowledge that I owe all my future happiness in life to them and their match-making maneuvers.

I am sitting in the meal-room of the old deserted mill that stands guard over a rippling stream in a far-away corner of the parsonage farm. The afternoon sun streams in at the window, and a long golden path stretches across the floor to my feet. I have pillowed my head on my arms, as I kneel by the low window overlooking the brook, and am sobbing, bitterly, uncontrollably. All the sunshine has gone out of my life and I sorrow none the less that I know my own foolish pride has shut the doors between me and all happiness.

The brook sings on under my window, but its only refrain to my ears is one of loss and sorrow. Early that morning I had shattered the hopes of a whole family, and broken my own heart, all for the remembrance of those silly words of Vic and Bobbett on the day when Mr. Ashburton first came to us. I had not meant to do it, but an extra bit of village gossip repeated by Bobbett at the breakfast-table with great gusto, had renewed all my old sensitiveness, so when Mr. Ashburton followed me into the grim old garden, where I stood between the trim gladiolus-stocks and the flaming marigold beds, and in a right manly fashion asked the reason of my coldness, where all others were kind, and begged to know if not a trace of love for him was mingled with the pride he had in vain tried to thrust aside, I had been false to myself and him.

"Now, the afternoon train, whose signal whistle I shall soon strain my ears to catch, will bear him far away from me and the rest who love him, but I know I shall never have an opportunity to tell him.

A scuffle, a sound of scurrying feet, and Vic and Bobbett poke their curly heads over the top stair; their dusty, tear stained faces show the distress which they have been suffering, but huge slices of bread and butter declare that grief has not touched their appetites. Happy, careless childhood and contented old age are easily solaced by creature comforts. I vaguely wonder how soon I, too, shall find myself commonplace and hungry, forgetting my sorrows in the humdrum of life that stretches out before me, a long, gray waste of dreary years.

"Barbie"—begins Bobbett.

But I do not let the whole of those chubby figures appear above the staircase before I once again essay to banish them from my solitary retreat, and say appealingly:

"Please leave sister alone, children."

"You're crying," says Vic, "and I'm going to cry, too!"

"Bet I can beat you both," says Bobbett; and a simultaneous wall sounds from both the torments.

The tableau promises to be effective.

"What are you crying for, any way, Barbara?" suddenly asks Bobbett, taking breath for a fresh howl.

"My heart is broken," I sob. "Go away now, dears."

"If Mr. Ashburton hadn't gone away, guess he could have mended it," wisely suggests Bobbett. "Come on, Vic."

And slipping, sliding, bumping along, they disappear down the creaking stairs and silence reigns in the old mill again.

Only for a few minutes though. Another sound of hurrying childish feet falls on my ears, and in the midst a firm, light tread I have learned to know. I have not time to rise from my knees, hardly to lift my tear-stained face, when again some figures emerge from the darkness of the stairway, into the yellow sunlight that now makes a golden glory in the dim and dusty air of the old meal-room.

"There!" says Bobbett, panting, "She says her heart is broken. Mend it, can't you?"

It is all over then; two strong arms are around me; two children shuffle and skip about in a wild dance of joy and victory, and I know I am happy and blessed forever and forever.

"We just caught him," says Vic. "He was most gone."

I raise my head from Mr. Ashburton's shoulder and try to think what I ought to say to those precious children.

"Don't do it, Barbara," he whispers. "Don't say anything; forgive them and love them; they brought me the joy of my life."

In the great house on the top of the hill, we live together, Mr. Ashburton and I, with Vic and Bobbett for daily visitors. I have a new mission in my life. My home is a retreat for all those girls upon whose hearts gossip has laid its disturbing finger, or whose love stories, idle meddlesome eyes have read and misunderstood.

"A regular match-maker," my husband calls me.

Perhaps I am, but in my heart I yield the palm to Vic and Bobbett.—Mrs A N. Everett, in Ballou's Monthly.

The Chap Who Sneaked Down Cellar.

"Zwei bier!" shouted one of five seedy looking individuals to-day, as he threw a dime down on the counter of Falkenstein's lager beer saloon on West Fayette street, Baltimore.

"We haven't had a drink since we left New York," added the other.

While the beer was being drawn one of the men uttered an exclamation of surprise. Mr. Falkenstein asked what was the matter and the man whispered that he had just seen a queer-looking man steal through the door and, after sneaking around the bar, go down the open trap into the cellar.

Mr. Falkenstien instantly hurried down into the cellar to investigate the matter. As soon as his head disappeared below, the strangers cooly shut down the trap-door and firmly fastened it. They then possessed themselves of a lot of fine cigars and also of a considerable sum of money that was in the till. Mr. Falkenstein did not find a robber in the cellar, as he expected, but he now knows where he should have looked for him, and he is the maddest man in Baltimore. —Baltimore Sun.

—The sinking mountain of Nalba, in Algiers, is one of the most extraordinary of the many disturbances on the earth's crest. During the last couple years the mountain has been gradually sinking into the earth, a deep subsidence marking the place after settlement. This sinking is not attended by earthquakes, nor is it the result of a volcanic eruption.

—A vessel off Para reports falling in with a mass of spiders floating in the air. The rigging and sails were covered with the web, the long threads of which formed the balloon for the tiny aeronauts. For several miles this spider swarm continued, the captain estimating that there were millions, which had undoubtedly blown from land.

—Fifty tame ducks were recently removed in a close box from Short Beach to Babylon, L. I. The next morning they were found at their old home on the beach, waiting to be fed. As their wings were clipped they must have swam the entire distance, nearly nine miles, in a heavy sea and on a dark night.

—According to the Scientific American the cable railway at the Giessbach in Switzerland is operated by water. On the arrival of a car at the upper station, it is weighted with a sufficient quantity of water from a reservoir, supplied by a spring, to draw up the other car; so that each car alternately acts as a motor at a very small cost.

—J. Frank Wilber and Miss Kittie Burke were married at Rochester, N. Y., with great display, and while leaving some friends the pair had visited at Lockport, for the cars, the bride threw up her hands and fell dead in her husband's arms of heart-disease.—Rochester Express.

—A street-car conductor carelessly carried his bell-punch home and allowed his children to play with it. The next day the company informed him that he was 9,900,999 fares short. He has offered to leave the children in pawn until he makes up the money.

—Torfhildur Thornsteindotter Holm, at present in Canada, has edited at Roikjavik an historical novel in Icelandic, entitled "Byrnjolful Sveinsson." The directory men of Canada have all fled, and refused to return—until she goes back to Reikjavik.—Free Press.

—Speaking of the intense irritation to horses of the bearing rein, the Medical Times, says: "Many a well-meaning owner of horses allows his animals to be tortured for six days in every week, who would shudder at the thought of the decapitation of a frog."

—In spite of the statement of some of the clerks in the Post-Office Department not long ago, that the postal note was a failure, the use of this great public convenience is constantly increasing.—Washington Star.

—New York ferry-boat notice: "These seats are exclusively for ladies. Gentlemen will not occupy them until the ladies are seated.

The Friends.

Mr. R. T. Bentley, a member of the estimable community of Quakers at Sandy Springs, Md., says he was severely affected by rheumatism in his right hand. Mr. Bentley applied St. Jacobs Oil, the great pain-cure, and by its continued use, in a short time, was completely cured.

The question arises: Why is a woman so mortally afraid of getting "a duck of a bonnet" wet?—Burlington Free Press.

An invaluable article. An article like Ely's Cream Balm has long been desired, and now that it is within the reach of sufferers from Catarrh, Hay Fever and Cold in Head there is every reason to believe they will make the most of it. Dr. W. E. Buckman, W. E. Hamman, druggist, and other Eastonians have given it a trial, and all recommend it in the highest terms.—Easton (Pa.) Daily Argus.

The little stump of a girl marries the tall man because she wants some one to look up to.—Boston Transcript.

THE MARKETS.

CINCINNATI, February 4, 1884.

LIVE STOCK—Cattle—common	$2 25 @ 3 50
Choice butchers	4 75 @ 5 50
HOGS—Common	4 90 @ 5 65
Good packers	6 00 @ 6 40
SHEEP	4 25 @ 5 00
FLOUR—Family	4 60 @ 5 50
GRAIN—Wheat—Longberry red	@ 1 12
No. 2 red	@ 1 04½
Corn—No. 2 mixed	50 @ 51½
Oats—No. 2 mixed	36 @ 36½
Rye—No. 2	@ 63
HAY—Timothy No. 1	@11 00
HEMP—Double dressed	8 75 @ 9 00
PROVISIONS—Pork—Mess	@16 50
Lard—Prime steam	@ 9 10
BUTTER—Fancy Dairy	23 @ 24
Prime Creamery	25 @ 30
FRUIT AND VEGETABLES—
Potatoes per bar. from store	1 35 @ 1 40
Apples, prime, per barrel	3 25 @ 3 75
NEW YORK.
FLOUR—State and Western	$2 80 @ 3 85
Good to choice	3 80 @ 6 50
GRAIN—Wheat—No. 2 spring	1 02½ @ 1 06½
No. 2 red	1 07½ @ 1 10
Corn—No. 2 mixed	66 @
Oats—mixed	39½ @ 41
PORK—Mess	14 75 @15 00
CHICAGO.
FLOUR—State and Western	$3 50 @ 4 35
GRAIN—Wheat—No. 2 red	1 00 @ 1 01
Corn—No. 2	52⅜ @ 52⅝
Oats—No. 2	32½ @ 33
Rye	58 @
PORK—Mess	14 40 @14 50
LARD—Steam	8-85 @ 8-90
BALTIMORE.
FLOUR—Family	$4 90 @ 5 75
GRAIN—Wheat—No. 2 red	@ 1 06½
Corn—mixed	58½ @ 58⅝
Oats—mixed	40 @ 41
PROVISIONS—Pork—Mess	16 00 @
Lard—Refined	10 @
LOUISVILLE.
FLOUR—A No 1	$4 15 @ 4 25
GRAIN—Wheat—No. 2 red, new	1 02 @ 1 03
Corn—mixed	@ 51
Oats—mixed	36 @ 36½
PORK—MESS	16 50 @
INDIANAPOLIS.
WHEAT—No. 2. red, new	$ 1 00 @ [illegible]
CORN—mixed	[illegible]
OATS—mixed	[illegible]
LIVE STOCK—Cattle
Butchers' stock	[illegible]

Officeholders.

The office held by the Kidneys is one of importance. They act as nature's sluiceway to carry off the extra liquids from the system and with them the impurities, both those that are taken into the stomach and those that are formed in the blood. Any clogging or inaction of these organs is therefore important. Kidney-Wort is Nature's efficient assistant in keeping the kidneys in good working order, strengthening them and inducing healthy action. If you would get well and keep well, take Kidney-Wort.

If the eyes were really windows to the heart, green goggles would become extremely fashionable.—Whitehall Times.

Two months ago my attention was called to the case of a woman afflicted with a cancer on her shoulder at least 5 inches in circumference, angry, painful, and giving the patient no rest day or night for 6 months. I obtained a supply of Swift's Specific for her. She has taken 5 bottles, and the ulcer is entirely healed up, only a very small scab remaining, and her health is better than for 5 years past; seems to be perfectly cured. Rev. Jesse H. Campbell, Columbus, Ga.

☞Decorative Art. Explicit directions for every use are given with the Diamond Dyes. For dyeing Mosses, Grasses, Eggs, Ivory, Hair, &c. 10c. Druggists keep them. Wells, Richardson & Co., Burlington, Vt.

Prominent Butter Makers.

There is no dissent from the decision of candid and capable dairymen, that the Improved Butter Color of Wells, Richardson & Co., Burlington, Vt., is the best in the world. Such men as A. W. Cheever, of Massachusetts, E. D. Mason, Vermont, Francis A. Hoffman, Wisconsin, use it, and recommend it as superior to all others.

Walnut Leaf Hair Restorer

Is entirely different from all others. It is as clear as water, and, as its name indicates, is a perfect Vegetable Hair Restorer. It will immediately free the head from dandruff, restore grey hair to its natural color, and produce a new growth where it has fallen off. It does not in any manner affect the health, which Sulphur, Sugar of Lead and Nitrate of Silver preparations have done. It will change light or faded hair in a few days to a beautiful glossy brown. Ask your druggist for it. Each bottle is warranted. John D. Park & Sons, Wholesale Agents, Cincinnati, Ohio, and C. N. Crittenton, N. Y.

A Messenger of Health.

Sent free to sufferers from nervous, chronic and blood diseases, brain and heart affections, nervous debility, etc. It tells of wonderful cures effected by Dr. Scott's Coca, Beef and Iron, with Phosphorus. Sold by druggists; $1. Dr. Scott, Kansas City, Mo.

Hale's Honey of Horehound and Tar

Is a cure for lung and throat diseases. Pike's toothache drops cure in one minute.

Samaritan Nervine relieves the brain of morbid fancies. It's a pure family medicine.

If afflicted with Sore Eyes, use Dr. Isaac Thompson's Eye Water. Druggists sell it. 25c.

A Sore Throat or Cough, if suffered to progress, often results in an incurable throat or lung trouble. "Brown's Bronchial Troches" give instant relief. 25 cts. a box.

Piso's Remedy for Catarrh is convenient to use and to carry when on a journey.

"Samaritan Nervine cured me of 'St. Vitus Dance,'" said T. J. Osborn, Richmond, Va.

St. Jacobs Oil

THE GREAT GERMAN REMEDY
For Pain!
Relieves and cures
RHEUMATISM,
Neuralgia,
SCIATICA, LUMBAGO,
BACKACHE,
Headache, Toothache,
SORE THROAT,
QUINSY, SWELLINGS,
SPRAINS,
Soreness, Cuts, Bruises,
FROSTBITES,
BURNS, SCALDS,
And all other bodily aches and pains
FIFTY CENTS A BOTTLE.
Sold by all Druggists and Dealers. Directions in 11 languages.
The Charles A. Vogeler Co.
(Successors to A. VOGELER & CO.)
Baltimore, Md., U.S.A.

HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED

STOMACH BITTERS

They who work early and late the year round need, occasionally, the healthful stimulus imparted by a wholesome tonic like Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. To all, its purity and efficiency as a remedy and preventive of disease commend it. It checks incipient rheumatism and malarial symptoms, relieves constipation, dyspepsia and biliousness, arrests premature decay of the physical energies, mitigates the infirmities of age and hastens convalescence. For sale by all Druggists and Dealers generally.

CATARRH

HAY-FEVER

ELY'S CREAM BALM when applied by the finger into the nostrils, will be absorbed, effectually cleansing the head of catarrhal virus, causing healthy secretions. It allays inflammation, protects the membrane of the nasal passages from additional colds, completely heals the sores and restores taste and smell. A few applications relieve. A thorough treatment will positively cure. Agreeable to use. Send for circular. Price 50 cents by mail or at druggists. Ely Brothers, Druggists, Owego, N.Y.

Free Information About The South-West.

Kansas, Colorado, Utah, New Mexico, Arizona, California and Old Mexico offer the best field for Farmers, Fruit-Growers, Stock-Raisers, Capitalists, Merchants, Miners and Mechanics of all trades. Maps, papers and pamphlets, giving detailed information mailed free on application to C. B. SCHMIDT, Commissioner of Immigration, A. T. & S. F. R. R., Topeka, Kansas.

PILES "Anakesis" gives instant relief, and is an infallible cure for Piles. Price $1 from druggists, or sent prepaid by mail. Samples free. Ad. "ANAKESIS," Makers, Box 2416, New York.

PATENTS promptly procured in all countries. American Patent Agency, 183 Fifth Street, Cincinnati, Ohio.

PENSIONS speedily procured; delayed cases completed. Lost Horse Claims collected. No advance fee. Experience 18 years. Write for circular. References. A. W. McCormick, 59 Pike's B'g, Cincinnati, O.

$250 A MONTH. Agents Wanted. 90 best selling articles in the world. 1 sample FREE. Address JAY BRONSON, Detroit, Mich.

COLEMAN BUSINESS COLLEGE, Newark, N. J. Terms $40. Positions for graduates; write for circular.

DIPHTHERIA

CROUP, ASTHMA, BRONCHITIS, Neuralgia, Rheumatism. JOHNSON'S ANODYNE LINIMENT (for Internal and External Use) will instantly relieve these terrible diseases, and will positively cure nine cases out of ten. Information that will save many lives sent free by mail. Don't delay a moment. Prevention is better than cure. JOHNSON'S ANODYNE LINIMENT CURES Influenza, Hoarseness, Hacking Cough, Whooping Cough, Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Cholera Morbus, Kidney Troubles, and Lame Back. Sold everywhere. Circulars sent FREE. I. S. JOHNSON & CO., Boston, Mass.

CONSUMPTION.

I have a positive remedy for the above disease; by its use thousands of cases of the worst kind and of long standing have been cured. Indeed, so strong is my faith in its efficacy, that I will send TWO BOTTLES FREE, together with a VALUABLE TREATISE on this disease, to any sufferer. Give Express and P. O. address. DR. T. A. SLOCUM, 181 Pearl St., New York.

"THE BEST IS THE CHEAPEST."
SAW MILLS, ENGINES, THRESHERS, Horse Powers,
(For all sections and purposes.) Write for Free Pamphlet and Prices to The Aultman & Taylor Co., Mansfield, Ohio.

FOR LADIES USE.—The grandest article. Send stamp for illustrated circular. Dr. H. G. FARR, 75 Essex Street, Boston, Mass.

THAT TERRIBLE TRAGEDY!

One of the Chief Causes of Sudden Insanity Illustrated.

[Kingston (N. Y.) Freeman.]

As details of the Rathbone wife murder are received they add to its horror. Colonel Rathbone, the murderer, was with President Lincoln when Booth shot him, and was himself stabbed by the assassin. The event was followed by nervous prostration, which caused, says Senator Harris, of Albany, painful dyspepsia, which, growing constantly worse in the last ten years, finally produced "blues" and periodical brain disorders. Dyspepsia made this man a monster!

Experts tell us that the brain is the soundest of all organs, and they credit the alarming increase of insanity to derangements of the stomach. What the stomach is the blood will be, and bad blood has an especially evil effect on the brain. Dyspepsia is a dangerous disorder, and yet it is far too often neglected when it might be checked or cured. H. S. Benedict, for 35 years express agent in Troy, has often related how for a long time his life was an unbearable burden. He says he would rather die than go through his old dyspeptic experiences. And John Elting, the widely-known Odd Fellow of Hudson, informs us that what began in sour stomach, heartburn, lumpy sensations, and occasional constipation, resulted in confirmed dyspepsia, intense heat and distress in the stomach, belching of wind, hard and bloated bowels, loss of appetite, constant constipation, sick headache, and a despondent, irritable condition of mind.

These gentlemen can realize, as can thousands of others, to what violence confirmed dyspepsia may drive a man! Happily for them they escaped mental frenzy by the timely use of Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, of Rondout, N. Y., a pure vegetable, non-alcoholic preparation which in the past twenty years has cured in 90 per cent. of cases. It has a very large sale and is regarded by physicians as most valuable for stomach, malarial, liver, kidney, urinary, female and blood disorders.

If we would escape the full penalties of dyspepsia, we must arrest it before it becomes chronic and sets the blood and brain on fire.

SAMARITAN NEVER FAILS NERVINE
THE GREAT NERVE CONQUEROR

A SPECIFIC FOR Epilepsy, Spasms, Convulsions, Falling Sickness, St. Vitus Dance, Alcoholism, Opium Eating, Scrofula, Kings Evil, Ugly Blood Diseases, Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Sick Headache, Rheumatism, Nervous Weakness, Brain Worry, Blood Sores, Biliousness, Costiveness, Nervous Prostration, Kidney Troubles and Irregularities. $1.50.

Sample Testimonials.
"Samaritan Nervine is doing wonders." Dr. J. O. McLemoin, Alexander City, Ala.
"I feel it my duty to recommend it." Dr. D. F. Laughlin, Clyde, Kansas.
"It cured where physicians failed." Rev. J. A. Edie, Beaver, Pa.
☞Correspondence freely answered. (17)
THE DR. S. A. RICHMOND MED. CO., ST. JOSEPH, MO.
Sold by All Druggists.
LORD, STOUTENBURG & CO., Agents, Chicago, Ill.

POTASH

Iodide of Potassium is one of the strongest of the minerals used in medicine, and has produced much suffering in the world. Taken for a long time and in large doses, it dries up the gastric juices, impairs digestion, the stomach refuses food, and the patient declines in health and weight. Persons with Blood or Skin Diseases should be careful how they take these mineral poisons, as in most instances the effect of them is to almost permanently impair the constitution. Swift's Specific is entirely a vegetable preparation, and it is easy to convince you of its merit.

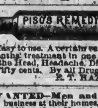
I have cured permanently Blood Taint in the third generation by the use of Swift's Specific, after I had most signally failed with Mercury and Potash.
F. A. Toomer, M. D., Perry, Ga.

Our treatise on Blood and Skin Diseases mailed free to applicants.
SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., Drawer 3, Atlanta, Ga.
New York Office, 159 West 23d St., bet. 6th and 7th Ave.

SUFFERERS

From Nervous, Chronic and Blood diseases, Brain and Heart affections, Weak Lungs, Nervous Debility, Broken Down Constitutions, and weakness of the Kidneys, Bladder and Urinary Organs. ASK your druggist for DR. CHAS. W. SCOTT'S World-Renowned Specific No. 12,

Coca, Beef and Iron
(With Phosphorus,)
A Blood, Brain and Nerve Tonic.



If your druggist does not keep it, ask him to order it for you. $1.00 per bottle. Coca, Beef and Iron is the Greatest Medical Discovery of modern times. For pamphlet address CHAS. W. SCOTT, M. D., Kansas City, Mo.

HOP PLASTER This porous plaster is famous for its quick and hearty action in curing Lame Back, Rheumatism, Sciatica, Crick in the Back, Side or Hip, Neuralgia, Stiff Joints and Muscles, Sore Chest, Kidney Troubles and all pains or aches either local or deep-seated. It Soothes, Strengthens and Stimulates the parts. The virtues of hops combined with gums—clean and ready to apply. Superior to liniments, lotions and salves. Price 25 cents or 5 for $1.00. Sold by druggists and country stores. Mailed on receipt of price. Hop Plaster Company, Proprietors, Boston, Mass.

A GREAT SUCCESS

☞The best family pill made—Hawley's Stomach and Liver Pills. 25c. Pleasant in action and easy to take.

XX.-NOTICE.-XX.
As BLUE FLANNEL Garments
Of Inferior Quality of Goods
are sold as the "genuine Middlesex," which are not made by that mill, The Middlesex Company, in order to protect their customers and the public, give notice that hereafter all Clothing made from THE MIDDLESEX STANDARD INDIGO BLUE FLANNELS AND YACHT CLOTHS, sold by all leading clothiers, must bear the "SILK HANGERS," furnished by the Selling Agents to all parties ordering the goods.
WENDELL, FAY & CO.,
SELLING AGENTS, MIDDLESEX COMPANY,
86 and 88 Worth St., New York; 37 Franklin St., Boston; 214 Chestnut St., Philadelphia.

A $65 SEWING MACHINE For $18.00.
WITH ALL ATTACHMENTS!
Black Walnut Drop-Leaf Table, 5 drawers and cover box. Hundreds of other articles one-half usual prices. Send for Circulars and Price-Lists. CHICAGO SCALE CO., Chicago.

Easy to use. A certain cure. Not expensive. Three months' treatment in one package. Good for Cold in the Head, Headache, Dizziness, Hay Fever, &c. Fifty cents. By all Druggists, or by mail. E. T. HAZELTINE, Warren, Pa.

WANTED—Men and Women to start a new business at their homes, easily learned in an hour. No peddling; 10c to 50c an hour made daytime or evening. Send 10c for 24 samples to commence work on. Address H. G. FAY, Rutland, Vermont.

CANCER AND TUMORS Treated scientifically and cured without the knife. Book on treatment sent free. Drs. Gratigny & Norris 164 W. 4th St., Cincinnati, O.

PATENTS Procured or no charge, also Trade Marks, Labels, etc. Large illustrated book of patent law FREE. Long experience. Highest references. W. T. FITZGERALD, Attorney at Law, 1006 F Street, Washington, D.C.

A. N. K.—E. 964

WHEN WRITING TO ADVERTISERS please say you saw the advertisement in this paper.

BOONE COUNTY RECORDER.

VOLUME IX. | BURLINGTON, KY., WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 13, 1884. | NUMBER 15.

FIREMEN'S FATE.

Five of them Crushed to Death Under a Falling Wall.

And a Number of Others Severely Injured at a Fire in Allentown, Pa.

READING, PA., February 7.—The fire which broke out in Becker & Bros.' binding works at Allentown about nine o'clock last night was the worst known in the history of the city. It soon communicated to the large furniture factory of Grosemen & Kluenter, and both buildings were soon in ruins. One of the steamers in running to the fire careened and upset and was pitched over an embankment, carrying with it a number of men, who were badly hurt. There was a general alarm, and the fire companies responded, and were busy at work, when suddenly the walls of the factory fell with a crash, burying in the ruins and killing and wounding a number of firemen. Hardly had the firemen placed their ladders up when the heat or steam inside burst with a loud explosion, and a sheet of flame some sixty feet in width swept out with a horrible hiss. The ladder and men went down beneath the falling walls. The unfortunate men were covered with brick, burning wood, machinery and plastering. The rescuing parties were in constant dread for fear the other walls would cave in or the boilers burst. The falling walls buried fifteen firemen. Five of them were killed, but the assistance of the firemen prevented ten of the men from being burnt to death. The dead are Charles Miller, William J. Lehr, David Clauss, Mahlon Bitting and John Handchue. Eleven others were seriously but not fatally injured. Clauss was a fireman, about twenty-one, and single. The lower part of his body was burnt away, and the upper part badly burned and bruised. Bitting, who was the salesman for the firm, was found in the same condition, lying close to the other. Charles Miller died immediately after being taken out, having his skull and breast crushed in. William J. Lehr, both arms broken, leg broken and skull crushed, died in an hour after he was taken out of the ruins. Among those seriously hurt the first taken out was H. H. Harts. He had his leg broken and hands and face badly scorched. Emanuel Keinart's face was badly burned and cut, and his teeth knocked out. Peter Moyer had his leg broken, and was internally injured. The loss will reach $75,000; insurance about $8,000.

Retirement of General Sherman.

WASHINGTON, February 8.—The President to-day issued the following order announcing the retirement of General Sherman: "General William T. Sherman, General of the Army, having this day reached the age of sixty-four years, is, in accordance with law, placed on the retired list of the army, without restriction of pay or allowances. The announcement of the severance from command of the army of one who has been for so many years its distinguished chief can but awaken in the minds not only of the army but of the people of the United States mingled emotions of regret and gratitude—regret at the withdrawal from active military service whose lofty sense of duty has been a model for all soldiers since he first entered the army, in July, 1840; and gratitude freshly awakened for services of incalculable value rendered by him in the war for the Union, which his great military genius and daring did much to end. The President deems this a fitting occasion to give expression in this manner to the gratitude felt toward General Sherman by his fellow-citizens, and to hope that Providence may grant him many years of health and happiness in relief from the active duties of his profession. CHESTER A. ARTHUR."

The War in Egypt.

SUAKIM, February 8.—Spies from Sinkat report that the garrison there, having eaten up their camels, cats and dogs, are now devouring tree leaves. Colonel Sartorius closed all liquor stores, which have been infested by the officers and soldiers. The British gunboats Euryalus and Decoy are in a position to shell the enemy if necessary.

CAIRO, February 8.—The Governor of Berber telegraphed that General Gordon has arrived in that province. A letter from Colonel Stewart, General Gordon's Military Secretary, sent from Korosko just before he and General Gordon started on their journey through the desert, states that a son of the Governor of Berber was their only escort. He says that General Gordon had sent a message to a troublesome sheik, saying, "Meet me at Khartoum, if you want peace. I am for peace, but if you want war, I am ready." Two correspondents were killed in the recent fight near Tokar.

A Blizzard in the North-West.

MINNEAPOLIS, February 7.—Tribune specials announce the prevalence of a snowstorm all over the State. The blizzard at Duluth is the worst of the season. Huron, Dak., reports eight inches of snow and moderating. Snow has fallen here all day, but is not deep on the ground.

Consternation Among Saloonists.

NEW YORK, February 8.—The Excise Commissioners have sent out the following circular to the 1,100 liquor dealers in this city where conviction for violation of the excise law has been obtained. "Your license has been revoked, as you have been convicted in the Court of Special Sessions of violation of the Excise Law. An inspector of this bureau will call for your license, according to law, and you will be reported to the police as unlicensed." There is consternation among the eleven hundred liquor-dealers.

Mississippi River Commission.

WASHINGTON, D. C., February 8.—One of the duties of the Mississippi River Commission [illegible] organic law creating it, is to prevent destructive floods. It is held that the commission ought at once to be provided with the means, if necessary, to make such investigations into the cause of [illegible] in the Western rivers as [illegible] preventive methods to be applied [illegible] or State authority. The experience of Europe and Asia, it is suggested, might be profitably studied for this purpose.

Sherman on Canadian Reciprocity.

CLEVELAND, O., February 8.—Senator Sherman has written a letter to the Iron Trade Review upon the movement originating here, and culminating in the organization in New York of an association of capitalists to secure reciprocity with Canada in the matter of a reduction of the duty on coal and iron ore. He writes: "The subject of a reciprocity treaty with Canada in respect to coal and iron, has not been brought to my attention, but my first view is entirely against such treaty. We have plenty of coal and iron ore in this country now, protected with a comparatively low rate of duty, and I see no reason to disturb it. Indeed, the whole protective system is now more in danger from its friends than its enemies. The manufacturing interests are beginning to regard coal, iron ore, pig iron, wool and other articles of domestic production as raw articles, not to be protected by duty. If this new doctrine should get a foot-hold, it would destroy the whole protective policy of the Government. The rule of protection must extend to all labor alike—to the labor of the farmer in producing wool, to the labor of the miner in digging coal, and if it is denied to the farmer and miner it can not justly be maintained in favor of the manufacturer. It is labor that is to be protected, and not capital. It is, indeed, more important to develop the natural resources of the country than to protect the higher forms of production, where cheap labor is indispensable."

An Oil Fire.

LONG ISLAND CITY, L. I., February 8.—This afternoon a large distilling tank at the Standard Oil Works, at the foot of Tenth street, exploded with terrific force. The explosion was followed by a burst of flame, which soon enveloped the tank. In quick succession there were seven other explosions, tanks of naphtha, tar and distilled oil becoming masses of flame in a few minutes afterward. Eight tanks in all, each containing from 1,500 to 3,000 barrels of fluid, were destroyed, the flames continuing to burst forth for several hours. Besides the tanks and oil, a large storage warehouse, having a frontage of 200 feet on East River, in which were about 1,500 barrels of oil and 2,000 empty barrels, and also about 700 feet of wharf on the East River and the Anable Canal, together with several small buildings, were destroyed, the flame from tank No. 6, which first exploded, communicating to the warehouse, twenty feet distant. Robert McFoy, assistant fireman, was severely burned by his clothes catching fire while playing a hose on the warehouse. The losses as near as can be ascertained, are eight thousand barrels of oil, naphtha, and tar, $12,000; eight tanks, $30,000; wharf, $6,000; warehouse and other buildings, $15,000; stock in warehouse, $10,000. Total, $73,000. The shock of the explosion was felt several miles away, many windows being broken in houses two miles distant. On Blackwell's Islands a great many windows were broken.

Librarian Spofford's Report.

WASHINGTON, February 8.—A. R. Spofford, the Librarian of Congress, to-day submitted his annual report. The counting was completed in January, showing 513,441 volumes, 170,000 pamphlets. The increase of volumes during 1883 was 33,865. The copyright entries for the year were 25,274, an increase of 3,356 compared with 1882. The copyright publications received during the year were 44,378, of which 14,581 volumes were books, 11,452 periodicals, 11,101 musical compositions, 7,241 engravings and other works of graphic art. The report contains a reference to 3,000 volumes of bound newspapers, American and foreign, of great historical, commercial, and political value, transferred to the library from the State department. The library is receiving additions at a more rapid rate than any other library, except the British Museum. The works of graphic art, including lithographs, line engravings, mezzotints, photogravures, chromos, etc., now number more than 150,000, and are very rich and valuable.

Horrible Tragedy in Kansas.

KANSAS CITY, MO., February 8.—The Times has a brief special from Frankfort, Northeastern Kansas, saying that a horrible double murder was disclosed to-day. John Hennington, a farmer living six miles west of Frankfort, in a sparsely settled district, came to town Tuesday last with a load of hogs and returned home that night. He was not seen again until to-day, when his lifeless body with that of his wife was found in the barn on the premises. A hired man in Hennington's employ is missing, together with a horse and saddle. The neighborhood is greatly excited and detectives have been sent for to work up the case, though the fugitive is far away by this time.

The Testimonial Fund.

BOSTON, February 8.—The Post Publishing Company has transmitted to Lieutenant Ruhodes, of the United States revenue cutter Dexter, a check for $2,053, the amount of a fund raised as a testimonial to his bravery in rescuing passengers from the wrecked City of Columbus. In accepting the gift Lieutenant Rhodes suggests that he be allowed to distribute the fund among his brother officers and the crew. The request was acceded to by the Post.

Coffee Will be Higher.

NEW YORK, February 8.—A probable rise in the price of coffee is reported as one of the results of the recent volcanic eruption in the Straits of Sunda. Captain Kading, of the ship Emma Muller, just from Sumatra, reports that when three hundred miles out from the Straits of Sunda, pumice dust from the eruptions settled on the ship's deck to the depth of from three to six inches. A large coffee dealer said to-day that the affect of this ash shower on the Java coffee fields would certainly reduce the yield twenty-five per cent. below last year, besides affecting the quality of the coffee.

At Her Husband's Grave.

ELDORA, IOWA, February 8.—Mrs. Mix, of Steamboat Rock, standing over the open grave of her husband, said they might as well be buried in one grave, took out a revolver and shot herself. She is not likely to recover.

Prominent Professor Dead.

PRINCETON, N. J., February 8.—Arnold Guyot, Ph.D. L.L.D., Blair Professor of Physical Geography and Geology, and Director of Geological Museum in Princeton College, died this morning in the seventy-fifth year of his age.

THE FLOOD

The Ohio River Bids Fair to Outdo All Previous Records.

Telegraph, Rail and Postal Facilities Badly Crippled—Serious Losses and Inconveniences to Residents Along its Banks—The Situation at Other Points.

WASHINGTON, February 7.—1 A. M.—The floods will increase in the Ohio, and be very disastrous. Property should be removed to points above the high water mark of the floods of last year. The floods will extend to the Mississippi between Memphis and Cairo.

CINCINNATI, February 7.—The worst fears advanced relative to the pending high water are to be realized. The sufferings and distress of last year will be more than doubled unless prompt and effective action be taken. The deluge of 1883 bids fair to be eclipsed by the present torrent. Various, almost innumerable estimates have been made by experienced men as to the extent of the rise, and the sentiment is nearly unanimous on one point, and that is, that 66 feet 4 inches will be exceeded, with the probability of 70 feet being reached. Relief Committees have been appointed, and everything is being done to relieve the immediate wants of the flood-sufferers. A called meeting of the Common Council was held yesterday and a resolution was passed that the Legislature be requested to authorize the City Comptroller to borrow a sum not exceeding $100,000 to be placed at the disposal of a Relief Committee of the council.

Columbia this morning is literally a floating village. More than three-fourths of the houses are at the mercy of the raging Ohio. Viewing the scene from the western limits of the town, looking toward the mouth of the Miami River, the whole Miami bottom is covered with water nearly as far as the eye can reach, nothing but the angry flood, with here and there the chimney and roof of a house, or the tops of a few trees, being left to mark the sites of rich farms and once comfortable dwellings. Boats are used in the streets instead of vehicles, and desolation is widespread. The greatest loss in Columbia falls upon families who have been driven from their homes and compelled to sacrifice all their goods except what could be taken away in small boats and skiffs. The water was three feet deep in the Kentucky Central Depot, and was all around the Louisville and Nashville Freight Depot, but it did not come up to the Little Miami Passenger Depot, although parts of its tracks were under water. Front street is flooded from a square east of the Newport bridge westward the entire length of the street, and the water extended up beside the bridge to within about one hundred feet from the foot of the bridge, or one hundred and fifty feet north of Front street. The tracks in the old Plum Street Depot were covered with about two feet of water, and the west half of the track-room of the Grand Central Passenger Depot was flooded, the water getting deeper and deeper going westward, until under the Smith Street Bridge and one square west of the depot the water over the tracks was five feet deep. Although the water here and all through the bed of the old Whitewater Canal (now the C. I., St. L. & C. Railroad tracks) was so deep, Second street, which is between the tracks and the river was still out of water as far west as a point about one hundred and fifty feet west of Smith street. From that point westward it too became a river, together with all the district south of Third street and west of Smith street.

The water in the Gas-works was nearly up to the furnace doors, and there were well justified apprehensions of its soon extinguishing the fires.

The view from either the Cincinnati or Newport bridge presents to the eye a desolate waste of waters, with many dwellings, manufactories, etc., in Covington, partially submerged, and people fleeing to higher ground for safety from the rising waters. The houses along Front street nearly to the point of Licking have been invaded by the flood, and the occupants have stored their goods in the upper stories or carried them out to places of safety. Maloney's pottery, at this end of the suspension bridge, is in the water, and the fires are out. The water is in Walsh & Kellogg's distillery and the Champion Ice Works, and the glassworks present a scene of desolation, the buildings standing out in the murky flood like barren islands. The loss at the glassworks will necessarily be heavy, and a large number of people are thrown out of employment. The water-works are surrounded, and crossing by ferry has to be supplemented with skiff and scow ferriage up Main street to Third. Montgomery's stables stand some distance from shore, and his elevator rears itself above the turbid stream like a drowning skeleton flinging its long arms aloft.

In Newport all of Tuesday night and during all of yesterday furniture-cars and vehicles of all kinds were going hither and thither, some loaded with household furniture and others hurrying after loads. At 12 o'clock last night all of that portion of the city north of Jefferson street, west of Central avenue to the Licking River, and north from Taylor street east of Central avenue was completely under water. The approaches to the Cincinnati & Newport Railroad Bridge were covered to a depth of three feet. The bridge company have built a roadway from the corner of Taylor and Saratoga streets leading to that part of the structure not under water. All of the manufacturing establishments on the two rivers shut down, with the exception of E. L. Harper's rolling mill. All of the schoolhouses and the Smilley Building on Bellevue street have been placed at the disposal of the sufferers. Mayor Harton, issued a proclamation yesterday, warning all owners of skiffs and other water crafts from charging more than ten cents per trip to passengers, and the owners of furniture cars and express wagons from charging exorbitant rates for removing household furniture. The United States Barracks are entirely under water, and it is believed the Government will abandon this post, after experiencing the ravages of three floods.

MARIETTA, O., February 7.—At midnight the water crept over Front street, which had before protected a large area of the city, and at daylight this morning the flood of last year is upon us. It rained gently all night, and the river is still rising at the rate of three inches an hour. This city is plunged in the depths of mourning from a terrible disaster which resulted from the high water last evening. A large number of people were standing on the banks of the Muskingum River, watching the drifts on its surface. The bank on which they were standing suddenly gave way, and a large part of the crowd was thrown into the river. Those who did not fall in were overcome with a panic, and many children were carried away by the swift waters before an effort could be made to save them. The wildest excitement prevails. No estimate has yet been made of the extent of the calamity, as nobody knows who composed the crowd. It is thought that at least fifteen persons were drowned. The town is almost completely overflowed. Hundreds of families have abandoned their homes.

AURORA, IND., February 7.—The raging floods are now higher than those of 1883, and the business of the [illegible] is completely paralyzed. The people in the inundated districts have been removed to places of safety, [illegible] manufactories are drowned out. It is still raining. The whole town will probably be submerged by this afternoon at furtherest.

PITTSBURG, PA., February 6.—The Monongahela River stopped rising for a couple of hours this evening, but commenced swelling again at 8 o'clock, and the marks now show 33 feet 6 inches. In the Alleghany the water is over the marks, but about 31 feet 7 inches, and still rising. In this city the streets bounded by Duquesne Way on the north, and Water street on the south, and from the junction of the two rivers to Sixth street, including Pennsylvania avenue, Liberty, First to Sixth ferry, and the short streets, are almost entirely submerged, and every street south of Penn avenue [illegible] miles, [illegible] tor. Library Hall, on Penn avenue, where Lawrence Barrett is playing, was compelled to suspend performances [illegible] water [illegible] street is still [illegible] and [illegible] [illegible]. On the South Side every street south of Carson, from Chartiers Creek to Thirtieth street, is inundated, while all property within three squares of the river in Allegany is submerged. At this time it is impossible to estimate the loss but it is safe to say that it will not fall short of $100,000 and may greatly exceed that amount. The loss in some instances will reach $50,000, while a few hundreds will cover others. Fully 5,000 families are rendered homeless by the floods. Arrangements have been made to shelter them in the public halls to-night, and to-morrow morning, in accordance with the proclamation of Mayor Lyon, public meetings will be held at Frohsinn and Turner halls for the purpose of making some provisions for them until the flood subsides sufficiently to permit them to return to their homes.

WHEELING, W. VA., February 6.—MIDNIGHT.—The depth of the river equals that of 1852, and still rising. It is also raining steadily. The damage that has been done can not be reported. It would be an impossibility. At day break the river indicated a depth of thirty-three feet, and it has been rising since then with a steadiness that is simply appalling. The island, which is the Seventh Ward, is entirely under water, and many of the beautiful residences over there are expected to fall during the night, for the waters are rushing over the place with a force that is almost resistless. Nearly every one has deserted the place. The lower end of the city is also submerged. There is where most of the laboring classes reside, and as a natural consequence the suffering and desolation are untold. All of the largest and most prominent business houses on Main and Water streets, in the heart of the city, have three feet of water on the floors, and skiffs are doing ferry business along these streets. The Stamm House, St. Charles and St. James Hotels are to be reached only by skiffs, the water being several feet deep on their floors. The Intelligencer press-room is under water, but the paper will be out on the Zeitung press. Mayor Miller and Chief of Police Bennett have declared almost martial law and given orders to the police to seize and confiscate any skiff the owner of which refuses to go to the assistance of poor people in second stories. The Water-works will be obliged to shut down by morning if the river continues rising. All railroad communication is shut off, and the Western Union office has been obliged to move into the People's Bank. A man named Fred. Kunth, while standing on a bank at Benwood, was drowned this morning by its caving in. He was a German, who lately arrived here.

STEUBENVILLE, O., February 6.—All the lower part of the city is submerged, and many families had to be removed from their houses in skiffs. Some houses are entirely covered. The Jefferson Iron Works, Means' foundry and machine works, Water Works, Whiting [illegible] factory, Cleveland and Pittsburg freight and passenger depots and other industrial institutions are partly under water. The Cleveland and Pittsburg Railroad River Division was compelled to discontinue operations from Pittsburg to Bellaire for the first time in the history of the road, miles of track being under water. At this point six feet of water cover the track. The Pan-Handle Railroad has also shut down west of Mingo Junction. The river banks at Mingo Junction, Brilliant, Portland, Rush Run, [illegible], Warrenton and other towns are entirely covered, while bottom lands in the country precincts [illegible] water [illegible] the creeks in this locality have overflowed their banks. Many families are homeless. There is no telling where the flood will stop, as it is still raining, and the water is rushing down from the hills in large bodies, damaging property, which can be figured by thousands of dollars only. It is one of the greatest calamities that ever befell this region.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., February 6.—The Mahoning River is on a rampage, having reached the highest point since 1883. At Warren, the west part of the city, is overflowed, and scores of families are driven from their homes. Manufacturing establishments on the flats are all closed, including the Westlake rolling mill. In this city the Fifth Ward is inundated, the water on Mill street and Mahoning avenue being five feet deep. The N. Y., P. & O. is open to Cleveland, but its connection East, the Pittsburg & Lake Erie, has abandoned all trains. The Pittsburg & Ashtabula has had no trains to-day between here and Pittsburg and between here and Ashtabula. The Painesville and Youngstown Railroad is completely paralyzed, and no trains can possibly run for several days. The Lake Shore and Michigan Southern is open to Andover and Ashtabula. The Pittsburg, Cleveland and Toledo is the only road open to the East and West from this city, and it is feared that the bridge at Newton Falls will go out to-night. The iron bridge on the roadway went down to-day at that point. So far there has been no loss of life, but many miraculous escapes of people on flats, refusing to leave their homes until actually driven out.

COLUMBUS, O., February 6.—Travel is suspended on nearly all the roads centering here, in consequence of the washing away of tracks, bridges and culverts, and the telegraph service is badly interrupted. The Hocking is higher than has been known for years, and the Scioto is at a dangerous height. Reports of damage come from every direction, and the steady rainfall to-night indicates still greater floods. The Scioto at this point at 9 o'clock to-night was within a foot as high as it was last February, and is gradually rising. The dikes along the flats below the city broke to-night, and about 100 families moved out, while others have gone into the second stories of the buildings in hope the water will fall. The backwater is reaching into the low grounds of Franklinton, and the inhabitants are in readiness to move out, should it become necessary. The bridge on the Hocking Valley line went out to-night. All trains on the Scioto Valley road are off, and the bridge across Paint Creek, near Chillicothe, went out. It will be several days before the running of trains can be resumed.

WEST NEWTON, PA., February 5.—The gorge in the Youghiogheny River here, which formed three or four days ago, moved at 6 o'clock this morning, and stopped again at Dawson. It again started up, and again stopped near McKeesport, the tail gorge then being near West Newton. The income volume of water behind the gorge accumulated rapidly, and in a short time the whole lower portion of West Newton was under water, and many families had to be removed from their houses from the second story windows. Many narrow escapes were made. At Coultersville a family named O'Donnell was nearly caught in the flood. The family of Thomas Finley, of West Newton, also barely escaped with their lives.

XLVIIIth CONGRESS.

First Session.

WASHINGTON, February 5.—SENATE.—Bills reported favorably from committee, and placed on calendar:

To authorize the erection of a public building at San Francisco. Authorizing the Secretary of the Treasury to examine certain vouchers, claims said to be due Missouri by the United States. A bill to grant the right of way through Indian Territory to the Southern Kansas Railroad Company. To provide for the allotment of lands in severalty to Indians on the several reservations. To authorize the location of a Branch Home for volunteer disabled soldiers in one of the States of Arkansas, Colorado, Kansas, Iowa, Minnesota, Missouri or Nebraska. To amend the pension laws. To authorize the Secretary of War to audit the claims of the State of South Carolina for arms and rent of the citadel at Charleston. To fix the salary of the Judge of the United States District Court for Nevada at $5,000, instead of $3,500. Senator Fair introduced a joint resolution for the appropriation of a sufficient sum to remove the remains of soldiers buried at Fort Churchill to the Soldiers Cemetery at Carson City. The Senate resumed consideration of its unfinished business, being the method provided by the bill, reported from the Committee on Private Land Claims, for settling incomplete titles to land acquired by the United States from Mexico. An extended debate ensued. Without action, the Senate went into executive session and then adjourned.

HOUSE.—A bill for the erection of a public building at Ft. Smith, to cost $250,000, was reported and referred to the Committee of the Whole. Mr. Burges from the Committee on Appropriations, reported back to the House a bill for the payment of the rebate on tobacco, with the Senate amendments. The amendments were concurred in, with the addition of an unimportant House amendment. Mr. Young, Chairman of the Committee on Expenditures in the Interior Department reported a resolution authorizing that a committee to investigate the condition of work at Hot Springs Creek, send a sub-committee of five members to Hot Springs to pursue the investigation, and appropriating $1,500 for that purpose. Mr. Dorsheimer, from the Committee on Judiciary, reported a bill, granting copyrights to citizens of foreign countries. Placed on the House calendar. The House went into Committee of the Whole, Mr. Cobb, (of Ind.) in the chair, on a bill to establish a Bureau of Animal Industry. After reading the report, which is a very exhaustive statement of the circumstances, which make it advisable for Congress to legislate upon the subject of pleuro-pneumonia among cattle, Mr. Hatch of Mo., Chairman of the Committee on Agriculture, explained the provisions of the bill. The committee, he said, had met with difficulty in harmonizing the power which belonged to the Federal Government and the power which belonged to the States, over private property within their borders. After considerable debate the committee rose, and the House adjourned.

WASHINGTON, February 6.—SENATE.—The bill appropriating $[illegible] for the completion of the Capitol terraces and stairways connected therewith was passed. Bills reported favorably and placed on the calendar: Providing for the suppression and extirpation of pleuro-pneumonia and other contagious diseases of domestic animals. To provide for executing treaty stipulations relating to the Chinese. Bills introduced and referred were: By Mr. Logan—To increase the efficiency of the army. The Chair (Mr. Sherman) laid before the Senate the unfinished business of yesterday, being the Mexican Land Grant Title Bill. This was debated at great length, and several amendments proposed and rejected. An amendment offered by Mr. Coke was agreed to, excepting from the limitation act in regard to the three years within which claims have to be presented, all minors, married women and persons non compos mentis. Without action, the Senate went into executive session, and then adjourned.

HOUSE.—Bills introduced and referred: Authorizing the purchase of snug harbors for disabled seamen. For the establishment of a branch home for disabled volunteers, in one of the Western States. A resolution was adopted calling on the Secretary of State for information as to how many and which foreign Ministers, Consuls or Agents of the United States to any foreign country have been absent from their post of duty since January 1, 1882, the length of such absence, and also whether salary had been paid during that time. The House went into committee of the whole (Mr. Cobb in the Chair), on the "Pleuro-pneumonia" Bill. After a lengthy debate the committee rose and the House adjourned.

WASHINGTON, February 7.—SENATE.—A resolution was offered asking the President to prevent the delivery of Senor Carlos Arguors the Cuban patriot now in prison at Key West. Mr. Beck offered a resolution directing an inquiry into the cause of the removal of John Dudley, a colored porter heretofore on the rolls of the Senate. The debate on the Mexican Land Grant Title Bill was resumed.

HOUSE.—A resolution was adopted declaring vacant the position of stenographers to committees. A bill was favorably reported constituting a Bureau of Navigation in the Treasury Department. The Woman's Suffrage Committee amendment was lost by a party vote. An amendment denying the privileges of the floor to ex-members of the House was also lost. The Committee on Ways and Means will hold daily sessions to hear from persons interested in the Tariff Bill. The Senate Southern Outrages Committee will decide to-morrow when to go to Mississippi. A bill was passed on motion of Mr. Follett, changing the name of the National Lafayette Bank of Commerce, of Cincinnati, to the National Lafayette Bank.

WASHINGTON, February 8.—SENATE.—Mr. Frye reported the new shipping bill agreed upon by the Committee of Commerce, entitled, "A Bill to Remove Certain Burdens from American Merchant Marine, and Encourage the Foreign Carrying Trade." The following bills were introduced and referred: By Mr. Hill, Providing for the readjustment of compensation for transportation of mails on railroad routes. By Mr. Fair, For the relief of A. G. Turner et al. John Roberts, H. Reinhart & Co., D. O. Adkinson and E. Penrod, all of Nevada. Creating a commission whose duty it shall be to inquire into and report upon the material, industrial and intellectual progress made by the colored people of the United States since 1865, and making appropriations for same. By Mr. Smith—To divide Minnesota into two Judicial Districts. Mr. Hale called up the conference report on the Greely relief expedition. The Mexican Land Grant Titles Bill was passed. Senate adjourned until Monday.

HOUSE.—A joint resolution was passed, authorizing the Secretary of War to furnish tents, etc., for the fifth annual re-union of the soldiers and sailors of the Northwest, at Chicago in August, 1884. A preamble and resolution on the death of Wendell Phillips was referred. Mr. Bayne introduced a bill repealing all internal taxes on domestic tobacco. Referred. Mr. Randall submitted the conference report on the Greely Relief Bill, announcing further disagreement; agreed to. The rule regulating admission to the floor was amended by excluding ex-Senators from that privilege—123 to 23. Mr. Randall, from the Committee on Appropriations, reported the Naval Appropriations Bill, and gave notice that it would be called up next Tuesday. The report of the Committee on Rules was adopted. Mr. Willis introduced a bill temporarily providing for the support of the common schools. Referred. (It provides for an annual appropriation of from $1,000,000 to $10,000,000 for the next ten years, the appropriation to be reduced $1,000,000 each succeeding year. Mr. Goff introduced a joint resolution appropriating $100,000 for the relief of sufferers by the overflow of the Ohio River and tributaries. Referred. Adjourned until Monday

—A farm in the town of Eliot, Me., has been the home of nine generations of one family, having been handed down from father to son for nearly two hundred and fifty years. The first house was built of bricks imported from the old country, but in 1736 it was so shaken up by an earthquake that it was torn down and the present structure built of heavy oak timber. Upward of seventy-five children have been born and brought up here, and it is recorded that only one unmarried person has ever died in it, except one child, who was accidentally killed.—Boston Transcript.

THE COMMONWEALTH.

Legislative Proceedings.

FRANKFORT, February 1.—SENATE.—The following bills were passed: To authorize the county of Trigg to issue bonds to raise money to complete a Court-house. For the appointment of a stenographic reporter in the First Judicial District. To authorize the County Court of Adair County to levy an ad valorem tax for the purpose of building a Court-house. A bill to establish the Nineteenth Circuit Court Judicial District. To authorize the County Court of Martin County to issue bonds for erecting public buildings, etc. To amend Section 290 Civil Code of Practice. House bill to repeal an act to establish an institute of learning at Stewartsville, in Grant County. The bill authorizing the Governor to appoint an agent to collect a claim the State has against the Federal Government was again discussed, and continued up to the hour of adjournment.

HOUSE.—A bill to better protect inmates of insane asylums caused considerable debate, and several amendments were offered and voted down. Further action was cut off by the joint order of the day—the election of a U. S. Senator.

FRANKFORT, February 2.—SENATE.—The following bills were passed: To authorize the County Court of Whitley County to levy taxes and issue bonds to raise money for public buildings. To authorize the County Court of Lee County to levy and collect an ad valorem tax, etc. Bills introduced and referred: To amend Section 194, sub-section 11, of Chapter 8, of the Civil Code of Practice. Ordered printed and made special order for February 6. Mr. Hallam—A bill concerning the office of State Librarian. (Provides for term of four years and appointment by the Governor. To take effect after expiration of present term.) Ordered printed and referred. Message from the Governor, announcing appointment of John W. Proctor, Geo. F. Lee and Thomas McRoberts, of Boyd County, Commissioners for the Deaf and Dumb Asylum, at Danville. Appropriately referred.

HOUSE.—Bills passed: To authorize the qualified voters of Ballard County to vote on the removal of the county-seat from Wickliffe to Ballard. Authorizing the Trigg County Court to issue, sell and dispose of the bonds of Trigg County, etc. To authorize the County Court of Adair County to levy an ad valorem tax for the purpose of building a new Court-house in said county.

The bill, for the better protection of inmates of insane asylums in the State, was passed with an amendment requiring the payment for the inquests over all lunatics to be made from the State Treasury instead of the County Treasury.

FRANKFORT, February 4.—SENATE.—Bills passed: An act to amend an act to empower the Grant County Court to take stock in the turnpike roads and issue bonds, etc. An act to change the voting place in East Hickman Precinct, Fayette County. The Speaker announced the following senators as committees to investigate the several lunatic asylums: Eastern Asylum, Messrs. Smith and Dixon; Central Asylum, Messrs. Bush and Peay; Western Asylum, Messrs. Spurr and Rigney; Senator Peay reported a joint resolution fixing Thursday next as the day for the election of a librarian. The Senate adjourned at 1 o'clock after passing a number of local bills.

HOUSE—The speaker announced the following members of the Joint Committees to investigate the lunatic asylums: Eastern Asylum—D. C. Walker, Chairman; J. R. Burnam, J. A. Brents, Central Asylum—W. F. Peak, Chairman; W. R. Jefferson, L. D. Parker. Western Asylum—Walter Cleary, Chairman; W. J. Stone, W. A. Bradford. A message from the Governor announced his approval of the act incorporating the Kentucky Mutual Security Fund Company. Dozens of local bills were passed, among them an act to incorporate the Laboring Men's Building and Loan Association of Lexington; and an act to incorporate the Pioneer's Building and Loan Association of Paducah.

FRANKFORT February 5.—SENATE.—Among the bills introduced and referred were: To prevent the sale of spirituous, vinous or malt liquors within two miles of any church or school-house within this commonwealth. To authorize the Mineral Land Company, of Virginia, Kentucky and Tennessee, to construct, equip and operate a railroad from some point on the Knoxville extension of the Louisville & Nashville or Kentucky Central Railroad through the counties of Knox, Bell and Harlan to the Virginia line. To amend Article 13 Chapter 38, of the General Statutes, reported without an expression of opinion. (Allows exemption of $750 worth of property.) House bill to authorize the Franklin County Court to issue bonds to build a jail. Committee reported a substitute. Mr. Price from the Committee on Library and Public Buildings and Offices, offered a resolution to raise a joint committee to investigate the propriety of purchasing a portrait of General Zachary Taylor. Concurred in.

HOUSE.—Among the bills passed were the following: A bill to incorporate the Louisville Merchants' Police and Detective Agency. Amended and passed. A bill to amend an act entitled "An act authorizing and empowering the County Court of Levies and Disbursements of Rockcastle County to levy an additional capitation and ad valorem tax for the purpose of building a court-house and Clerk's office, etc., for Rockcastle County." A bill to amend Section 8, Article 15, of Chapter 29, General Statutes. [This bill amends the General Statutes by striking out "or" between "husband and wife," and inserting after the word "wife" the words "father, mother, brother, sister, or grandparents."]

Miscellaneous Items.

JOHN W. COLLIER, a noted sneak-thief, was tried in the Circuit Court recently, at Louisville, on an indictment charging him with stealing two coats from H. Stephenson, worth $15. The document also contained the "second offence" clause, and the jury found him guilty, awarding him four years. Sam Durrett, for stealing two pieces of goods from Simon, the tailor, was arraigned, pleaded guilty and got eighteen months. Abe Durrett, Sam's brother, was discharged on Sam's confession; and Coin Durrett, still another brother, was convicted of robbing J. L. Deppen & Son, and got two and a half years. This negro family has been a pest in the city for some time.

BENNIE WESTLAKE, a nine-year-old Detroit boy, visiting relatives at Louisville, fell from a stable-loft on Gray street a few mornings ago, and fractured both his collar-bone and left forearm.

WILLIAM NEAL, the third of the Ashland murderers, and William Henderson, the murderer of William Clerk, were taken from Lexington jail on the 6th, for trial at the term of the Circuit Court of Carter County.

BOURBON County has over 125,000 pounds of tobacco still unsold, notwithstanding unusually large prices now obtainable. The acreage in Bourbon, Fayette, Scott and surrounding counties for tobacco planting during the coming year is very large, and an over-production is feared.

W. H. HESLAP, a freight brakeman on the Cincinnati Southern Railroad, while coupling cars at Greenwood, on the 6th, got his arm caught between the bumpers, crushing it almost to pieces. He resided in Staunton, Va.

AT Draker's School-house, in Fayette County, Monday, Wallace White was accidently shot in the right eye with a 22-caliber bullet, by a school mate. His recovery is doubtful.

GEO. WILLIAMS, a colored boy about sixteen years of age, attempted to swim Rockcastle River, near Livingston, on horseback a few days ago. He got about one-fourth of the way across and became so excited that he jumped from the horse's back and was drowned. He floated down the river and has not yet been found.

LOUIS GARDNER, from near Eagle Station, Carroll County, has a tobacco leaf that is a real curiosity. Instead of the leaf putting out from both sides of the stem it puts out from four. It is shaped like a water-wheel, the stem being the axis.

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

THE Western Indians have a belief that floods follow red sunsets.

AMONG the journals recently started in Germany is a comic paper called Mixed Pickles.

MASSACHUSETTS thinks she can get along with a meeting of her Legislature every two years.

A SENATE bill introduced by Mr. Coke, allots lands in severalty to reservation Indians. It is presumed they will become industrious, self-reliant agriculturists.

THE most westerly daily published on the American continent is the Daily Astorian. It hails from the little town of Astoria, in Oregon, lying in longitude 123, 42 W.

MR. HENRY IRVING has engaged an architect to draw complete plans of the Boston Theater, from which he proposes to build a new theater in London. He considers the Boston Theater the best he has ever seen.

AN expedition under the command of Mr. H. H. Johnston, who has but recently returned from the Congo, will set out in March to explore the snow-capped peak, Mount Kilimanjaro, in eastern Equatorial Africa.

THE Verviers Industrial Society offers two prizes of $1,200 and $340 for the best and second best discovery, invention, or application contributing to the progress or prosperity of the woolen trade within the last five years.

THE New York street car conductors and drivers have been working seventeen and eighteen hours a day. The Assembly passed a bill the other day making it unlawful to enact more than twelve hours' labor without extra pay.

THE Boston Transcript says the latest craze among the swell young men of New York is to have their lady-loves' profiles engraved on their thumb-nails, and it is said that a noted cameo cutter is on the high road to fortune in consequence.

MORE giant footprints are being discovered in Arizona. The Peach Springs Champion has a story of the discovery of a few in Grand Canon twenty-six inches long and twelve wide, and which indicates a stride of eighteen feet. The gentleman who made these tracks could not be found.

THE San Francisco Bulletin claims that every fruit pest which has appeared in California has been imported with fruit trees from the Eastern States. California's fruit crop for last year is estimated at $15,000,000. In a few years, if ravages of pests can be kept down, it will be worth more than the wheat crop.

ENGLISHMEN say in favor of bicycle and tricycle riding, that wheelmen have not only caused public and private roads, lanes and bridges to be improved, but have restored patronage to country inns that have been well nigh deserted since the rail-car took the place of the old-fashioned stage-coach. It is also claimed to promote sobriety, health and thrift.

SAID PASHA the Grand Vizier of Turkey, now receives an annual salary of $45,000, which is $20,000 more than the Prime Minister of England receives. Yet Turkey is the poorest and most hopelessly bankrupt State in Europe, and the Sultan, it is said, has to borrow from day to day to defray the expenses of his palace.

AT a recent meeting of the House Committee on Conage, a sub-committee reported a bill providing that for two years trade dollars shall be received at their face value for all dues to the government, and not again be paid out; that they may be exchanged for other silver coin at the sub-treasury and mints, or recoined into any authorized piece.

EVIDENTLY the English do not appreciate relics. Miss Woodbridge, an old miser, died recently near Birmingham. The sale of her effects was largely attended, as the advertisement boasted of some "rare old china" which was to be disposed of. The "rare old china" realized but half a crown, and for the same sum went an old, broken-down piano, made in 1780.

PERHAPS no bureau of the Government exceeds in importance the United States Patent Office. From the start it has been self-sustaining, and now has an unexpended balance to its credit of about $2,500,000. This money is the result of fees paid by inventors to secure the patents which protect their inventions. The business of the Patent Office has increased with each year of its existence.

SPEAKING of Alaska, the San Francisco Chronicle says: "Its climate is on the coast less rigorous than that of Newfoundland, or Sweden, or Norway, or the Baltic coast of Russia. There are good reasons for the belief that wheat can be made a profitable crop in parts of the Yukon Valley. And the cedars of Alaska are better and infinitely more inexhaustible than the famed cedars of Lebanon."

THE RECORDER.

RIDDELL & HALL, Proprietors.

BURLINGTON, KY., FEB 13. 1883.

The Raging OHIO! 68 FEET. And Still Rising.

THE flood now prevailing in the Ohio river exceeds any of past by several feet. The probabilities are that it will go over seventy feet at Cincinnati. All the towns along the river are suffering severly, the inhabitants being driven from the homes and their property is left to the mercies of the derstroying waves. The suffering in Lawrenceburg, which is about the worst submerged town on the river, is simply terrible. Congress has appropriated three hundred thousand dollars for the relief of the flood sufferers in the Ohio valley. If the waters were to commence receding now the suffering would continue for weeks. Thirty houses have floated away from Lawrenceburg

BOONE'S representative voted, in the caucus, for the winning candidate from the first to the last ballot.

AT one stage of the caucus it became so belligerent, the presiding officer was about to call out the militia to restore order.

THE Carlisle managers in the Senatorial contest let the opportunity for nominating him slip. There was one adjournment too many of the caucus.

WE said before the Senatorial race that Gen. Williams might wake up some bright morning to find that he had over estimated his strength, and sure enough the old hero did that very thing.

BLACKBURN'S election to the United States Senate makes possible Congressional candidates out of Speaker Offutt, Wm. Owens, Senator Cox and J. D. Lillard. Won't they have fun over in the seventh district?

ORANGE trees under four years' growth are reported killed all over the South, from the severe cold of January. Many old groves were saved by keeping up numerous fires near them all through the cold weather.

THE peculiarity of this county is its adaptation to the production of any crop grown in this latitude, which, coupled with its proximity to one of the best markets in the country, insures a constant increase in the price of its land.

HON. J. C. S. BLACKBURN, State Senator-elect, is a man with national reputation as a legislator, and his long experience in the public service, has prepared him for a position among the most influential and leading members of the Senate at once upon his taking his seat.

WE don't believe a word of the prophecy that this flood seals the fate of Lawrenceburg. The town is full of enterprising citizens, and its location presents advantages particularly adapted to their business, and they will not abandon their present location on account of a few weeks flood in the past. They will take their chances with the future.

JOHN F. DAVIS, Commissioner of Agriculture, will on February 28th, 1884, award the following premiums for the best varieties of corn grown in the State: First and second premiums at $15, and $10 each for the following varieties, viz: White Corn, Yellow Corn, Bread Corn, Pied or Mixed Corn. A premium of $15 for best sample of Hominy and Cattle Corn, each. Each sample must be sent in a separate package, marked with the name of the exhibitor and the name of the variety. Each sample must contain not less than thirty years.

STATE NEWS.

A great many people are going from Union county to Florida.

There are 65 white and 30 colored churches in Louisville.

Kentucky seems much cursed with eloquence. Better laws and less bombast would move the State futher up in the procession.—Louisville Post.

Miss P. D. Gill, of Lancaster, has raised a lemon that weighed one pound, nine ounces and measured fifteen and a half inches in circumference.

Mr. Albert Lindsay, of Henry county, raised on three acres 4,700 pounds of tobacco, besides the lowest grade of which there is about 400 pounds. It brought 16½ cents all round and will net $266⅔ per acre.—Ex.

Near Williamstown, H. Bishop, aged twenty-two, while handling a thirty-eight calibre pistol, shot himself in the left hand. The ball passed along the arm and came out at the elbow, shattering the bone somewhat.

On a careful count it is estimated that more than a sixth of the voters in the county carry saddle-bags. Some have been sheriffs, some deputy sheriffs, some constables, some assessors, ect., and whether they are still working on the old business or still hanging to the old honor is what we are figuring on.—Robertson County Democrat.

Where there's a will there's a way—to pay a magistrate a marriage fee, even when a fellow has neither money nor coon skins. We know one 'Squire in this county who will receive in payment of such fees, a promise from the groom to clean out fence corners for him. (It is said that the aforementioned 'Squire has bigger crops of blackberries every year around his farm than any body in the county.)—Clinton Democrat.

13

PERSONS recovering from wasting diseases, such as malaria, fevers, etc., will be greatly benefited by the use of Brown's Iron Bitters, a true tonic.

OWENTON, KY.—Rev. J. N. Beck says: "I have used Brown's Iron Bitters and consider it one of the best tonics sold."

CODORUS, PA.—Rev. J. D. Zehring says. "I was paralyzed in my right side. The use of Brown's Iron Bitters enabled me to walk."

LIST OF CLAIMS, ALLOWED BY THE COURT OF CLAINS,

Since January Term 1883.

April Term 1883.

Claims payable out of the levy of 1882

Drs Smith, Grant & Furnish	$75 00

May Term 1883.

For Assessors Book	11 50
A O Hall	37 50

June Term 1883.

I H Dills and T L Swetnam allowed for coffin for pauper	6 00

Special Term July 5th, 1883.

For Poll Books	8 50

November Term 1883.

Claims payable out of levy of 1883

For benefit of Frank Stephens	5 00
Sam Cowen jail acount	93 85

Claims payable out of the levy of 1884.

M T Garnett clerk	54 00
Sallie Underhill keeping pauper	90
J W Kennedy coffin for pauper	6 00
Joseph Rich constable	5 20
same	7 40
W C Moxley same	2 60
same	6 80
Curley & Edwards for coffin	6 00
J T Curley holding inquest	12 00
E H Baker same	6 00
L A Loder same	9 00
Joe Wagstaff same	5 00
J H Dugan keeping pauper	78
W W Garnett claim	7 00
Ed Fowlers claim	10 25
J R Clutterbucks account	46 00
L H Dills county judge	400 00
S W Tolin county attorney	400

January Term 1884

Claims payable out of the levy of 1883

J R Clutterbuck to W Monfort	80 00
J W Kirk for coffin	6 00
Sam Hind cir. ct. judg't.	69 28
W L Riddell assignee H J Foster cir. ct. judgm't	71 30
Same clerks fee, &c.	57 88
J G Gaines receiver poor-h	50 39
A O Hall super't. poor-house	37 50
Drs Smith, Grant & Furnish	75 00

Claims payable out of the levy of 1884

Dr L H Piatt pauper practice	35 00
Dr L C Cowen same	40 00
Dr Lasing, Blanton & Riley	50 00
A A Murat same	45 84
O'Neal & Finnell same	40
W H & J E Terrill same	50
J A Wood same	35
Wood & Adams same	35
R A Edwards same	35
Slater & Sayer same	45
D C Reeves for coffin	6 00
Riddell & Hall, for printing	20
T J Watts constable claim	4
W C Moxley " "	2 80
same " "	3 68
same " "	3
same " "	2
same " "	2 20
same " "	2 60
same " "	4 00
W S Ryle " "	5 40
O H Conrad " "	5 60
E H Baker acct for rails	12 50
W F Mckim for medicine	2 75

Justices present at June Term 1883

J Wagstaff	$3	L A Loder	$3
J Hensly	3	Eph Helm	3
O Gaines	3	E H Baker	3
S T Johnson	3	F M Howlett	3
J J Brumback	3	M B Green	3
T H Sutton	3	B H Ryle	3
W W Garnett	3	M C Norman	3
W A Goodridge	3	H Bannister	3

Justices present 7th day January 1883

E H Baker	3	O Gaines	3
J Wagstaff	3	B H Ryle	3
M B Green	3	J J Brumback	3
A G McConnell	3	T F Curley	3
A B Whitlock	3

Justices present November Term 1883

O Gaines	3	J J Brumback	3
W W Garnett	3	T H Sutton	3
L A Loder	3	J Hensly	3
E H Baker	3	F M Howlett	3
S T Johnson	3	M Norman	3
H Bannister	3	J Wagstaff	3
W M Rouse	3	A Ellis	3
B H Ryle	3	A G McConnell	3
T J Curley	3	W A Goodridge	3

Special term January 11, 1884

W M Rouse	3	O Gaines	3
L A Loder	3	T F Curley	3
W A Goodridge	3	B H Ryle	3
H Bannister	3	A B Whitlock	3
T H Sutton	3	F M Howlett	3
S T Johnson	3	A G McConnell	3
M Norman	3	J Wagstaff	3
E H Baker	3
M B Green	3	J J Brumback	3

Special Term Jan. 15, '84

Allowed $3 each.

M Norman	T F Curley
S T Johnson	J J Brumback
F M Howlett	B H Ryle
A G McConnell	W A Goodridge
M B Green	A B Whitlock
H Bannister	J Wagstaff
W M Rouse	O Gaines

Judges August election 1883

Wm Rouse	2	B H Ryle	2
J M Robinson	2	A Blythe	2
W H Clore	2	N Talbott	2
T H Sutton	2	J D Norris	2
J Hurd	2	S J Hedges	2
Wm Wilkie	2	M B Green	2
G L Miller	2	B Rouse	2
J Breedon	2	Jno Stephen	2
J D Conner	2	Sam Hind	2
Alex Murray	2	J Wagstaff	2
F M Underhill	2	W W Grimsly	2
J Arnold	2	J T Kelley	2

Tellers General August Election 1883 allowed $2 each

O Gaines	S K Dempsey
Perry Carpenter	Lewis Rice
A B Whitlock	Ed Webb
Jno Berkshire	S G Botts
Thos Watts	Abe Wainscott
A Corbin	H C Botts
Chas Wilson	Jno P Craig
A D Riley	M L Rouse
C M Allen	J W Baker
Andrew Ellis	J S Noell
J T Roberts	W S O'Neal
W G Stamper	Abe Stansifer

Clerks August election 1883

W B Grubbs	2	B Carpenter	2
J L Brooks	2	A B Parker	2
G W Cayton	2	W B Watts	2
C C Roberts	2	J D Gaines	2
Thos Cowen	2	Ben Wilson	2
S P Brady	2	H Polly	2

Sheriffs August election 1883

J Rich	2 88	W Philips	2 56
L L Stephens	2 80	G Stephens'n	3 20
A W Bristow	2 48	G T Gaines	2 00
C C Graves	2 40	J L Rich	3 00
J M Botts	2 80	J G Snow	3 20
J Carson	2 48	J A Riddell	2 64

COUNTY LEVY $2 50

Attest | M. T. GARNETT, Clerk.

REPORT OF THE CONDITION OF THE Farmers & Traders National Bank AT COVINGTON,

In the State of Kentucky, at the close of business, December 31, 1883.

RESOURCES.

Loans and discounts		$600,911 65
Overdrafts		1,135 80
U.S. Bonds to secure circulation 4 per cent		50,000 00
Due from approved reserve agents	45,541 33
Due from other National banks	5,207 41
Due from State banks and bankers	5,399 51	56,148 25
Real estate, furniture and fixtures		4,668 91
Premiums paid		8,000 00
Checks and other cash items		1,945 37
Bills of other Banks		4,125 00
Fractional paper currency, nickels and pennies		69 79
Specie		9,050 00
Legal tender notes		21,000 00
Redemption fund with U. S. Treasurer (5 per cent of circulation)		2,250 00
Total		$759,304 77

LIABILITIES.

Capital stock paid in		$300,000 00
Surplus fund	4,000 00
Undivided profits	14,480 40	18,480 40
National bank notes outstanding		45,000 00
Individual deposits subject to check	369,657 81
Fund to pay taxes	224 35
Due to other National Banks	17,062 27
Due to State Banks and bankers	8,879 94	395,824 37
Total		$759,304 77

State of Kentucky, County of Kenton, ss: I, John L. Sandford, Cashier of the above-named bank, do solemnly swear that the above statement is true to the best of my knowledge and belief.

J. L. SANDFORD, Cashier.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 14th day of Jan., 1884. GEO. H. DAVISON, Notary Public.

Correct—Attest:
E. J. HICKEY,
J. H. MERSMAN,
L. C. STEPHENS, } Directors.

For Sale.

A good farm horse,—Price, $115.
F. P. WALTON, Burlington, Ky.

Notice.

All parties having claims against the estate of F. W. Grant decd., are hereby notified to present the same properly proven without delay or further notice,
J. Frank Grant,
W. H. Grant, Admr's.

For Sale.

A lot of No. 1 locust posts.
J. O. HUEY, Burlington, Ky.

EGGS FOR HATCHING.

From Pure Plymouth Rocks, straight descendants from the show birds of Isaac Daniels and Perley Pickett, of Ohio. My birds are second to none. Fine size, quick to mature and best of layers. For reference inquire of N. Dickersen or Eddie Ranson, at Verona, or Jacob Cleek or Geo. W. Sleet, at Beaver Lick, Ky. You can order them now and say when you wish them shipped. Your orders will be promptly filled and with proper care. Satisfaction guaranteed. Price, $1 50 for 15, and $1 for each 15 over, when shipped at same time. Money must accompany order. Address M. J. HUME, Verona, Ky. 15 3m

FREE TO ALL. Our new illustrated Floral Catalogue of 80 pages, containing description and prices of the best varieties of Plants, Garden and Flower Seeds, Bulbs, Roses, Small Fruits and Trees will be mailed Free to all applicants. Ten Roses mailed for One Dollar to any place. Wholesale and retail. NANZ & NEUNER, Louisville, Ky.

Public Sale.

We will offer at public sale at the late residence of B. F. Garnett, decd., on Saturday, February 16th, 1884,

One Horse 5 years old, One milch Cow, Farming Implements, Household and Kitchen Furniture, &c.

TERMS—All sums of $5 and under cash, over $5 a credit of 6 months will be given, the purchaser to execute bond with approved security, or pay cash before removing goods.

Sale begins at 9:30 a. m., promptly.
JOHN S. HUEY,
J. FRANK GRANT, Admr's.
J. M. Moody, Auctioneer.

THE CINCINNATI Weekly News! A NATIONAL METROPOLITAN JOURNAL, Full Of Enterprise.

PEOPLE!

EIGHT PAGES—SIXTY Four Pages Containing all the News, correct Market Reports, well selected Miscellany, brilliant Stories—in fact, the favorite Weekly Paper of the Central United States.

—PUBLISHED BY THE—

Cincinnati News Publishing Co.

AT THE FOLLOWING LOW RATES OF SUBSCRIPTION.

THE WEEKLY NEWS with one of Dore's Celebrated Works, "Christ Leaving the Prætorium," "Christ Entering Jerusalem,"

These engravings of Dore's fame historical paintings are the best and most perfect reprints by the Foreign Art Reproducing Company, and can not be purchased as original plates for less than $40 each in Europe. They are in size 23x36 in. and are direct copies, preserving every line and detail OF THE ENGLISH $40 ENGRAVINGS.

These pictures are suitable to adorn the parlor of any gentleman. As a

Premium Supplement!

A Single Copy, three months	$0 40
A Single copy, six months	60
A Single copy, one year	1 00
A club of 10 copies to 1 P. O. 1 year	9 00
A club of 20 copies to 1 P. O. 1 year	17 00

And large clubs at 85c per copy per annum.

Postmasters and other agents will be allowed 15 per cent on full rate (not club) subscribers.

The premium engravings will be mailed about the first of each month to the subscribers entitled to receive them.

As a premium offer it is confidently claimed that its equal was never before made, and would not be possible in this case except for the method adopted by the Foreign Art Reproducing Company to advertise its work.

Do not fail to avail yourself of the opportunity by sending your name and address, with one dollar enclosed, to

THE CINCINNATI WEEKLY NEWS.

$66 a week at home. $5 outfit free. Pay absolutely sure, no risk. Capital not required. If you want business at which persons of either sex young or old, can make great pay all the time they work, with absolute certainty, write for particulars to H. HALLET & Co., Portland, Maine.

NO NEW THING. STRONG'S SANATIVE PILLS Used throughout the country FOR OVER 40 YEARS, And thus proved The Best Liver Medicine in the World. No Griping, Poisonous Drugs, but purely Vegetable, safe and reliable. Prescribed even by Physicians. A speedy cure for Liver Complaint, Regulating the Bowels, Purifying the Blood, Cleansing from Malarial Taint. A perfect cure for Sick Headache, Constipation and all Bilious Disorders. Sold by Druggists. For Pamphlets, &c., address C. E. HULL & CO., 13 Cedar St., N. Y. City.

Public Sale.

I will sell to the highest bidder at my residence 1 mile south of Bellevue, on the Ohio river, on

Wednesday, Feb., 20th,

All of my personal property: Consisting of Horses, Mules, Sheep, Cattle, 1 Binder, Drill, Wagon, Buggy, Harness, Plows, &c., One Palace Organ, and Household and Kitchen Furniture. About 2,000 bushels of corn. I will also offer my farm with privilege of rejecting all bids. Terms made known on day of sale. J. W. RICE.

For Sale or Trade.

12½ acres of land about 2½ miles from Constance, Ky., near the pike. Call on J. A. RIDDELL on the premises or CY RIDDELL, Burlington, Ky. 10-4t

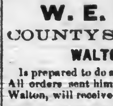
A PRIZE Send six cents for postage, and receive free, a costly box of goods which will help you to more money right away than anything else in this world. All of either sex, succeed from the first hour. The broad road to fortune opens before the workers, absolutely sure. At once address, TRUE & Co., Augusta, Maine.

For Sale.

A dwelling with 6 rooms, and 15 acres of land at Rabbit Hash, Ky. On this land is a good orchard, barn and other conveniences. Also a never failing well. Address B. F. BELL, Rabbit Hash, Ky.

AGENTS wanted for The Lives of all the Presidents of the U. S. The largest, handsomest, best book ever sold for more than twice our price. The best selling book in America. Immense profits to agents. All intelligent people want it. Any one can become a successful agent. Terms free, HALLET BOOK CO., Portland, Maine.

Strayed.



Taken up as a stray by Allen Goodridge, living on the Ohio river, about 1¼ miles below Taylersport, in Boone county, on the 12th day of January 1884, one bull about two and half years old, with white head, dark read body, some white on his back, and end of tail, legs spotted up to his knees straight horns and under bit in each ear, and which I have appraised at $15. Witness my hand this 12th day of Jan., '84.
W. A. GOODRIDGE, J P B C

ROBERT B. REED Attorney at Law. OFFICE AT - - - UNION, KY.

F. RIDDELL, ATTORNEY at LAW BURLINGTON, KY. Office over Dudley Rouse's Store.

ALBERT W. GAINES, Attorney and Counselor at Law, LAWRENCEBURG, - - - IND. Will practice in the courts of Boone county, Ky., Cincinnati, Ohio, Dearborn and adjoining counties, Ind. dec-6-82

W. E. VEST, COUNTY SURVEYOR WALTON, KY. Is prepared to do all kinds of surveying. All orders sent him through the mail to Walton, will receive his prompt attention.

E. E. IGOE, Resident Dentist, Rising Sun, Ind. WITH J. P. Ulrey. Monday and Tuesday at Rising Sun, Ind.

J. J. Landram. G. G. Hughes. LANDRAM & HUGHES, ATTORNEYS at LAW. Will practice in the Boone Circuit Cour and the Court of Appeals. Prompt attention given to Collections, on application t G. G. Hughes, Burlington, Ky.

DR. A. B. HARRY AN RESIDENT DENTIST, Aurora, Indiana. (Office Over Postoffice) With J P. ULREY, Dr. ULREY'S days, Wednesday and Saturday. Office open at all hours. 8-1y

S. C. NORMAN. R. L. STEPHENS. NORMAN and STEPHENS, ATTORNEYS at LAW, UNION, BOONE CO., KY. Will practice in the Courts of Boone Kenton and adjoining counties. Collections solicited and made throughout the State. 24 tf 81

S. W. TOLIN, ATTORNEY AT LAW BURLINGTON, - - - KY Office in Court-house on 2d floor. Will manage litigation in any of the Courts of the State, contracts and other legal instruments drawn up at reasonable rates. A prompt an studious attention given to business intrusted to my care. A trial solicited. 12-1y

This space is reserved for A. M. Acra's Harness and Saddle Shop.

GOLD for the working class. Send 10c for postage, and we will mail you free, a royal, valuable box of sample goods that will put you in the way of making more money in a few days than you ever thought possible at any business. Capital not required. We will start you. You can work part the time only. The work universally adapted to both sexes, young and old. You can easily earn from 50 cents to $5 every evening. That all who want work may test the business, we make this unparalleled offer; to all who are not well satisfied we will send $1 to pay for the trouble of writing us. Full particulars, directions, etc., sent free. Fortunes will be made by those who give their whole time to the work. Great success absolutely sure. Don't delay. start now. Address STINSON & Co., Portland, Maine.

PATENTS. For new inventions and novel designs obtained in the United States, Canada and Europe. Trade Marks and Copyright—Labels secured for Merchants and Manufacturers who wish protection against imitators of their goods, packages or articles of manufacture. We are located opposite the United States Patent Office, have quick access to its records, and can give prompt and reliable answers to inquiries. Of our firm one has had thirteen years' practice in the highest courts, another several years as Assistant Examiner in the United States Patent Office and many years experience as solicitor of American and Foreign Patents. Fee reasonable and full satisfaction or no fee. Best reference given. Our little book "on patents" sent free on receipt of one cent stamp. W. A. COULTER & CO., Solicitors of Patents, 23 St. Cloud Building, Washington, D. C.

WRIGHT'S INDIAN VEGETABLE PILLS FOR THE LIVER And all Bilious Complaints Safe to take, being purely vegetable; no griping. Price 25 cts. All Druggists.

WANTED BOOK Canvassers. MALE and FEMALE To engage in the sale of our new and important works of standard character, large profits and immense selling qualities. We offer a permanent and lucrative business. Address THE CINCINNATI PUBLISHING CO. 174 W. Fourth Street, Cincinnati, Ohio.

Free! Cards and Chromos. We will send free by mail a sample set of our large German, French, and American Chromo Cards, on tinted and gold grounds, with a price list of over 200 different designs, on receipt of a stamp for postage. We will also send free by mail as samples, ten of our beautiful Chromos, on receipt of ten cents to pay for packing and postage; also enclose a confidential price list of our large oil chromos. Agents wanted. Address F. GLEASON & Co., 46 Summer Street, Boston, Mass.

PATENTS MUNN & CO., of the SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN, continue to act as Solicitors for Patents, Caveats, Trade Marks, Copyrights, for the United States, Canada, England, France, Germany, etc. Hand Book about Patents sent free. Thirty-seven years' experience. Patents obtained through MUNN & CO. are noticed in the SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN, the largest, best, and most widely circulated scientific paper. $3.20 a year. Weekly. Splendid engravings and interesting information. Specimen copy of the Scientific American sent free. Address MUNN & CO., SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN Office, 261 Broadway, New York.

SANITARIUM, Riverside, Cal. The dry climate cures Nose, Throat, Lungs, full idea, 36 p., route, cost, free.

MARRIAGE AND HEALTH GUIDE. 260 pgs. Illustrated. All that the doubtful curious or thoughtful want to know. Cloth and gilt binding 50 cts. DR. WHITTIER CINCINNATI, OHIO. The great specialist. Nervous Debility, Impediments to Marriage, Consultation and Pamphlet free.

County Directory.

OFFICERS.

Assessor—G. M. Riley.
County Surveyor—W. E. Vest.
School Commissioner—D. M. Snyder.
Coroner.—Dr. A. A. Murat, Constance.

COURTS.

CIRCUIT COURT meets the 2d Monday in April and first Monday in October. P. U. Major, Judge; W. L. Riddell, Clerk A. G. DeJarnette, Commonwealth's Attorney; W. L. Riddell, Trustee Jury Fund.

COUNTY COURT meets the first Monday in every month. L. H. Dills, Judge; S. W. Tolin, County Attorney. M. T. Garnett, Clerk; J. R. Clutterbuck, Sheriff, T. W. Finch and W. T. German, Deputy Sheriffs.

QUARTERLY COURT meets the first Monday in March, June, September and December. The officers of the County Court preside.

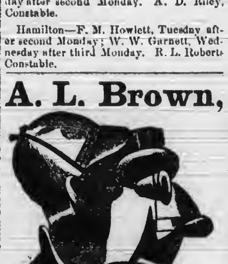
COURT OF CLAIMS meets the first Monday in November.

MAGISTRATES' COURTS are held in March, June, September and December, as follows:

Bellevue—M. B. Green, first Saturday, and T. H. Sutton, third Monday. J. M. Moody, Constable.

Burlington—E. H. Baker, Thursday after first Monday, and Oscar Gaines, fourth Monday. R. H. Sandford, Constable.

Carlton A. G. McConnell, Wednesday after second Monday, and B. H. Ryle, Saturday after third Monday. Walter Ryle, Constable.



Petersburg—Jos. Hensley, Wednesday after first Monday, and L. A. Loder fourth Saturday. Geo. Comer, Constable.

Beaver—W. M. Rouse, Friday after the third Monday, and

Union—M. C. Norman, Thursday after third Monday, and H. Bannister, Thursday after second Monday. A. D. Riley, Constable.

Hamilton—F. M. Howlett, Tuesday after second Monday; W. W. Garnett, Wednesday after third Monday. R. L. Roberts Constable.

A. L. Brown,

THE HATTER, Cor. Pike and Washington Streets COVINGTON, - - KY. Has always on hand a large variety of Men's, Boys' and Children's Hats, and prices GUARANTEED to be as low as the lowest. Gents' Furnishing Goods a Specialty.

W. J. RICE, CARPENTER & BUILDER, BULLITTSVILLE, KY. Is prepared Raise or Move EITHER LOG or FRAME BUILDINGS On Short Notice, And at the Lowest Possible Figures. Your orders respectfully solicited

LUMBER. Geo. M. Bedinger & Co., Erlanger, - - Ky. We keep constantly on hand all kinds of Lumber, Laths and Shingles. Also Builder's supplies of all kinds. —Come and see Us.— may 9-tf

AURORA MARBLE AND GRANITE WORKS, Aurora, Ind. Will have constantly on hand Marble and Granite Monuments, Italian & American Headstones, &c. I am ready to do all kinds of Stone Work on short notice and at low prices Hoping to receive the patronage of Boone County, I am respectfully, F. W. KASSEDAUM.

INSURE AT HOME The Farmers' Mutual Fire INSURANCE COMPANY Of Boone County Is now completely organized and receiving applications for insurance. Its Rates are Lower Than those of any other Company, and it gives the farmers of Boone County a HITHERTO UNKNOWN ADVANTAGE In keeping their property insured. EVERY FARMER IN THE COUNTY should take a policy at once.

J. A. GAINES, President, Burlington, Ky. | J. H. WALTON, Secretary, Constance, Ky.
R. RANDALL, Treasury.
DIRECTORS.
LEGRAN GAINES, A. J. UTZ.
JNO. STEPHENS.
OSCAR GAINES, Agent. | C. L. CRISLER, Assessor.

INCORPORATED UNDER THE LAWS OF MISSOURI. CENTRAL MEDICAL & SURGICAL INSTITUTE OF ST. LOUIS, MO. SUCCESSORS TO DR. BUTTS' DISPENSARY. OFFICE & ROOMS, No. 820 LOCUST ST. CHAS. L. LaBARGE, M.D., Pres't & Physician's Charge. NELSON CHESMAN, Treas. & Business Manager. This Institute has ample facilities and an experienced Faculty. While it succeeds to a large business, which has been established for years, it will aim to extend its medical and surgical practice, giving skillful and scientific treatment to CHRONIC DISEASES of the Head, Spine, Lungs and Air Passages, Heart, Liver, Stomach and Bowels, Rheumatism, Dyspepsia, Consumption and Asthma. BLOOD IMPURITIES, Scrofula, Fever Sores, Ulcers, etc. DEFORMITIES of the Limbs, Spinal Curvature, Wry-Neck, Diseases of the Joints, Piles, Fistula, Hernia, etc. WEAKNESS and wasting diseases in old and young men, also all diseases of the genito-urinary organs. FEMALE irregularities and weaknesses, causing pain in the back, side, etc. Personal interviews with patients are always preferred. Those unable to visit the Institute will be furnished with blank lists of questions that will aid them in making a full statement of their case, and if not requiring a surgical operation they can be successfully treated by correspondence, and medicines sent by mail or express. To enable us to send proper list of questions applicants should give a brief statement of their trouble. The Treasurer of the corporation is of Nelson Chesman & Co., Advertising Agents, and refers to the publisher of this or any other newspaper in the United States or Canada regarding responsibility. Consultation at Office or by mail free and invited.

HALL'S Vegetable Sicilian HAIR RENEWER was the first preparation perfectly adapted to cure diseases of the scalp, and the first successful restorer of faded or gray hair to its natural color, growth, and youthful beauty. It has had many imitators, but none have so fully met all the requirements needful for the proper treatment of the hair and scalp. HALL'S HAIR RENEWER has steadily grown in favor, and spread its fame and usefulness to every quarter of the globe. Its unparalleled success can be attributed to but one cause: the entire fulfilment of its promises. The proprietors have often been surprised at the receipt of orders from remote countries, where they had never made an effort for its introduction. The use for a short time of HALL'S HAIR RENEWER wonderfully improves the personal appearance. It cleanses the scalp from all impurities, cures all humors, fever, and dryness, and thus prevents baldness. It stimulates the weakened glands, and enables them to push forward a new and vigorous growth. The effects of this article are not transient, like those of alcoholic preparations, but remain a long time, which makes its use a matter of economy.

BUCKINGHAM'S DYE FOR THE WHISKERS Will change the beard to a natural brown, or black, as desired. It produces a permanent color that will not wash away. Consisting of a single preparation, it is applied without trouble. PREPARED BY R. P. HALL & CO., Nashua, N.H. Sold by all Dealers in Medicines.

FOR ALL THE FORMS OF Scrofulous, Mercurial, and Blood Disorders, the best remedy, because the most searching and thorough blood-purifier, is Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Sold by all Druggists; $1, six bottles, $5.

TUTT'S PILLS TORPID BOWELS, DISORDERED LIVER, and MALARIA. From these sources arise three-fourths of the diseases of the human race. These symptoms indicate their existence: Loss of Appetite, Bowels costive, Sick Headache, fullness after eating, aversion to exertion of body or mind, Eructation of food, Irritability of temper, Low spirits, A feeling of having neglected some duty, Dizziness, Fluttering at the Heart, Dots before the eyes, highly colored Urine, CONSTIPATION, and demand the use of a remedy that acts directly on the Liver. As a Liver medicine TUTT'S PILLS have no equal. Their action on the Kidneys and Skin is also prompt; removing all impurities through these three "scavengers of the system," producing appetite, sound digestion, regular stools, a clear skin and a vigorous body. TUTT'S PILLS cause no nausea or griping nor interfere with daily work and are a perfect ANTIDOTE TO MALARIA. Sold everywhere, 25c. Office, 44 Murray St., N.Y.

TUTT'S HAIR DYE. GRAY HAIR OR WHISKERS changed instantly to a GLOSSY BLACK by a single application of this DYE. Sold by Druggists, or sent by express on receipt of $1. Office, 44 Murray Street, New York. TUTT'S MANUAL OF USEFUL RECEIPTS FREE.

VIGOROUS HEALTH FOR MEN THE PASTILLE CURE TRADE MARK FOR NERVOUS DEBILITY TESTED FOR 5 YEARS by use in thousands of cases. Founded on scientific medical principles, it has been growing in favor and reputation while its numerous competitors have invariably failed. The direct application of this remedy to the seat of the disease makes its specific influence felt without delay. The natural functions of the human organism are restored. The animating elements of life which have been wasted are given back. The buoyant energy of the brain and muscular system renders the patient cheerful; he gains strength with rapidity. NERVOUS DEBILITY, organic weakness, and numerous obscure diseases, baffling the skill of best physicians, result for youthful indiscretion, too free indulgence, and over brain work. Do not tamper while such enemies lurk in your system. Take a remedy that has cured thousands, and does not interfere with your attention to business or cause any pain or inconvenience. Send for a Descriptive Pamphlet giving Anatomical Illustrations, which will convince the most skeptical that they can be restored to perfect manhood, and fitted for the duties of life, same as if never affected. Sent free to any one. Remedy sold ONLY by the HARRIS REMEDY CO. MF'G. CHEMISTS, 306½ N. 10th St. ST. LOUIS, MO. One Month's treatment $3. two months $5. three months $7

PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM A beneficial dressing preferred to similar articles because of its purity and rich perfume. It Restores to Gray Hair the Youthful Color & prevents dandruff and falling of the hair. 50c. & $1. Hiscox & Co., N.Y.

FLORESTON COLOGNE Excels the finest flower extracts in richness. Delicate, very lasting. No other like it. Be sure you get FLORESTON Cologne, signature of Hiscox & Co., N. Y. on every label. 25 and 75 cts. at druggists and dealers in perfumes.

NEVER FAILS FREE! RELIABLE SELF-CURE. A favorite prescription of one of the most noted and successful specialists in the U. S. (now retired) for the cure of Nervous Debility, Lost Manhood, Weakness and Decay. Sent in plain sealed envelope free. Druggists can fill it. Address DR. WARD & CO., Louisiana, Mo.

PAYSONS INDELIBLE INK Is the BEST. No preparation. Used with any clean pen for marking any fabric. Popular for decorative work on linen. Received Centennial MEDAL & Diploma. Established 50 years. Sold by all Druggists, Stationers & News Ag'ts.

Local News.

It raineth a few.

Five Fridays in this month.

We've now had a feast of mud.

To-morrow is St. Valuntine's day.

Who cried fire first the other night?

The dirt roads are getting terrifically bad again.

Z. T. Bondurant's mills is running order again.

Women talk less in February than in any other month in the year.

Gabriel Gaines wants to sell or rent his farm near town.

The river has played hadese with Lawrenceburg again.

The Ohio river's free show excells Mr. Baruum's 50 cent concern.

William Sheehan boasts of being the sire of a ten pound boy, born last week.

A big run from this place to the river hills Sunday to view the turbulent Ohio.

The pikes are very spongy, and in some places are becoming almost dangerous to travel.

What's the news from the river? is the question asked by every country cousin who comes to town.

The flood prevented our papers from arriving at the offices in the northern part of the county last week.

We received a communication, the other day, that left Sunbright, Tennessee, a few days after Christmas.

On the 21st inst., Mr. and Mrs. David Hogan will make a public sale of their stock and farming implements.

Dr. J. F. Smith has sold his farm to Gabriel T. Gaines for $9,500 cash. The doctor contemplates locating in the land of flowers.

On the first day of march, next, Mont Baisly will sell at his present residence near Piattsburg, a large lot of stock and farming implements.

Read R. S. Crisler's advertisement in this issue, and then give him a call when you want anything in his line. He will treat you right.

The daily papers failed to come last Sunday. It is a characteristic of the Cincinnati dailly papers to fail when the people are most anxious for them.

Several of our correspondents failed to materialize this week. Guess they was busy constructing arks in anticipation of one old father Noah's voyages.

From the reading of the papers since the election of a Senator, it is hard to figure out how it was that Blackburn was not nominated on the first ballot in the caucus.

The Warsaw Independent is very indignant about the refusal of steamers Sheerley and City of Madison to assist in relieving distress along the river. It makes out a strong case against the two boats.

J. Frank Grant, of Petersburg, went to Frankfort, Monday. He would have gone during the pendency of the Senatorial caucus, had he not feared that the Senatorial lightning might strike him.

ERRATA.—In "Taxpayer's" article last week, in the first paragraph the word "lax" should precede the word nuanner. The scallup of the County Clerk's bill should read "was scaled about $100."

An item from Lawrenceburg in Monday's News Journal said Mrs. Ann Minor, who is very low with consumption had to be moved to a school-house. Mrs. Minor is a sister of Alfred Cason, who lives near here.

Dwelling houses in Burlington are in demand, several parties wanting to move in from the country. Among those wanting houses here, are Mrs. Susan Acra, Mrs. Annie Crisler and Mrs. Julia Clore. If Burlington only had houses enough, it would be a large town.

VERONA, KY.—Editor Irish World: —Find enclosed $5 from a few railroad boys to throw a little sand in Johnny Bull's eyes. We all send this with good wishes. PAT CANNON.

Pat Cannon	$1	Dennis McGuire	$1
Pat Hanley	1	James Halloran	1
Thos. Keegan	1

Receipts for the Emergency Fund for the week ending Feb. 9, acknowledged by the Irish World, amount to $667 64, making the total subscription to that date, $2,620 20.—Irish World.

THE LOCAL BOARD OF HEALTH.

At a meeting of the County Board of Health, recently appointed by the State Board of Health, held in Burlington, Monday, February 4, 1883, Dr. D. M. Bagby, of Walton, was chosen chairman and Dr. J. G. Furnish, secretary. The members of the Board now consist of Drs. Bagby, Adams, Furnish and Hons. N. S. Walton and Reuben Conner. The intentions of the Boards throughout the State, is to improve its sanitary condition, and as the State is aroused to the importance of such a step, a bill being now before the legislature for an appropriation to further that end, it is desired by the Board, with the aid of thorough organization and proper interest, to make such advancement in sanitary improvements and organization, as may be of general benefit.

The meeting was adjourned to meet again on the first Monday in April, at which, all those who feel an interest in the matter, especially the doctors of the county, are invited to attend.

D. M. BAGBY, Chairman.
J. G. FURNISH, Secretary.

In moving a tenant into a house on his farm, the other day, W. T. Smith discovered that the hearth was not in tact, and being a man with an inquiring mind, he at once organized himself into an investigating committee with authority to send for men and all necessary tools, and then went on a brief tour of investigation. The hearth was removed and a large bunch of dry grass was revealed, when Mr. Smith stepped back, taking his hat off, got down on his knees, and having taken a long and quiet gaze at the immense accumulation of grass which seemed to be carefully arranged, he arose to his feet, run his fingers through his hair, and in a nervous tone addressed his tenant thusly: "By Jacks, Abe, what do you reckon is in there?" Of course Abe was not in possession of the desired information, and the investigation had to be continued further. Keeping at a good distance, for fear some fellow had deposited a can of dynamite there for safe keeping, Mr. Smith proceeded to remove, very carefully, the dry grass, when to his astonishment a bed-blanket was exposed. Mr. Smith's knees commenced rattling together, and Abe was again called on for information, but again was in total darkness on the subject. Mr. Smith was not going to abandon the investigation, but with more caution than ever, he commenced moving the blanket which had greatly increased both the excitement and mystery which was to be solved then and there. The blanket having been opened out, Mr. Smith, very courteously, tendered Abe the privilege of having the honor of proclaiming the contents of the blanket, but Abe was not going to deprive his landlord of that distinguished honor. Finally Mr. Smith worked his courage up sufficiently to step to the edge of the hearth and take a survey of the blanket, when lo, and behold! there before him on the blanket, lay the unconscious form of a groundhog, which had evidently gone into its six-weeks-winter quarters.

A friend sends us the following account of the Beech Grove Leap Year party:

On Friday evening, the 1st inst., at the Beech Grove School-house, occurred one of the most enjoyable events of the season, a bona fide Leap Year party, arranged and carried through by three of the charming young ladies of that vacinity, namely: Misses Mary Gedge, Minnie Senlour and Vic Dulaney. As usual, with an occasion of this description, each lady requesting the pleasure of the society of her escort and he in return, was required to prepare the customary dainties, and we can readily affirm that a more delicious repast was never discussed. Early in the evening, the ladies attended to the all important object of obtaining for members of the sterner sex, fair companions to aid and guide them through the intricate evolutions of the mazy dance. We rest assured their kind efforts were to the fullest extent highly appreciated, as each beulgn male countenance was adorned with a bewitching smile of supreme content. We must not forget the consolidation of the dude fraternity, who were out in full force. Conspicuous among them were armour bearer, Col. Robert Dulaney, a handsome, stately and jovial gentleman, whose every glance was a Cupid's dart, which caused irreparable damage to the hearts of the gentle sisterhood. Another present, was our genial and re. nound friend, Mr. Geo. Straub, with a toothpick and a crutch. It is hardly necessary to state that he took by storm, as words would be inadequate to express the enthusiastic greeting received by him from all. Others we would wish to mention, but lack of time prevents our good resolutious from being fulfilled Our party was, as all agreed, a period of unalloyed pleasure, with nothing to mar its tranquility. Prominent among the "ladies" present were, from Cincinnati Messrs. Burbridge, Henry, Younan, Dr. Orr and Burke; from Covington, Messrs. Senlour, Hill, Riffe, Creaghead, Clendenning, Dr. Allen, Drexelius; from Bulington, Gaines, Duncan, Hughes; Corey, Stevenson, Garvey, Tupman, Leathers, Rich, Riggs, Anderson, Creo, Kreylich, Cleveland, Gedge, W. Montague, T. Montague and many others. The representative "gents" were Misses Maberry, Martin, Graves, L. Creaghead, Drexelius, S. Creaghead, Collins, Gray, McGregor, Kinsly, Kline, Hoggins, Corey, Lalie, Nowell, Allen, Porter, Rich, Anderson, Tupman, Creo, Dulaney, Sandford, Senlour, Coe. The chaperones were Mrs. R. K. Dulaney, Mrs. Senlour and Mrs. Gedge.

Personal Mentions.

[If you have friends from a distance visiting you or expect to be away from home on busine ss or pleasure, let us have the item for this column.]

The flood drove Ben Sleet out home, last Saturday.

Mrs. S. P. Tilley is visiting her relatives here.

Our young friend, James Barlow, made us a brief call last Tuesday.

Dr. J. F. Smith started, Monday to Florida on a tour of inspection.

Mrs. Charlotte Reed, of Covington, is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Lillie Hall, of this place.

Hon. N. S. Walton's wife accompanied him to Frankfort Monday to remain a while.

Hon. N. S. Walton was at home last Saturday and Sunday, shaking hands with his constituents.

Mrs. Dr. J. M. Grant and Miss Kittie Riddell went to Lawrenceburg, Saturday, and took in the town in a skiff.

M. S. Rice, salesman for W. C. Hamilton & Co., tobacconists in Covington, made us a pleasant call last Saturday. We are glad to know that Mose is doing well in his business.

Our Florence communication came in too late for this week. It will appear in our next.

Saturday Night's Fire.

About 6:30 p. m., last Saturday, quite a commotion was created on the streets by some one shouting fire. At first, the crowd ran to the Boone House, expecting to find it being rapidly consumed by flames. Arriving there they received the information that W. F. McKim's residence was on fire, and the excited crowd rushed pell-mell, helter-skelter, over fences and one another, and through lots, to Mr. McKim's, at which place they were agreeably surprised to find that the alarm was false, the burning out of a very small flue being the foundation on which the alarm was based and given.

NOTES.

One fellow, in the charge, ran against the corner of the Baptist church and knocked it about three inches out of plum.

A fireman, in his haste, fell and run his arms full length into the ground. When extricated he had a chinaman's cue in each hand.

Jessie Lundon, a delicate colored "geniane" was so overcome by excitement that he swooned, and was not able to be out the next day.

The big engine "Jeff" on its return from the fire ran into the hook and ladder wagon from the West End, and caused quite a commotion, but fortunately no damage was done.

Several ladies were seen rushing frantically along the street, with buckets of water in hand, their husbands following closely at their heels with hat in hand, nervously asking, "where's the fire?"

Marce Riddell got in the path of, and was run over by a lady, who was walking towards the supposed conflagration at the rate of about 40 miles an hour. Marce was almost reduced to a wreck.

J. Frank Grant, of Petersburg, who was eating supper at the Boone House, at the time the alarm was given, grabbed the table-cloth from the table with his handkerchief and rushed them both into his pocket, and broke for the supposed fire.

Esquire Loder, of Petersburg, who keeps a reliable diary, furnishes the following weather record, commencing with January, 1857.

January	12th, 1857,	2°	below 0
"	19 "	8	"
"	22 "	8	"
"	23 "	10	"
	1858.
February	22 & 23	2	"
"	24	at zero
	1859.
December	7	1	below 0
"	8	6	"
"	23	6	"
"	24	3	"
"	25	5	"
"	31	2	"
	1860.
January	1	6	"
"	2	10	"
"	5	5	"
	1861.
January	1	6	"
"	6	2	"
"	7	4	"
"	8	4	"
"	9	4	"
"	10	2	"
"	11	4	"
"	12	at zero
Feruary	10		"
	1865.
January	24	4	below
	1866.
February	15	5	"
"	16	5	"
	1867.
"	10	6	"
"	11	at zero
	1870.
December	23	2	below
"	24	4	"
"	25	2	"
	1871.
December	21	7	"
	1872.
December	22	7	"
"	24	2	"
"	25 & 27	4	"
January	29 & 30, 1873	2	"
"	9 & 10, 1875	10	"
December	9 & 10, 1876	10	"
January	22, 1877,	22	"
January	3, 1879	18	"
"	4 "	14	"
"	5 & 10 "	18	"
"	1 1881	14	"
"	5 1884	22	"
"	25 "	14	"

To the Editors of the Recorder:

Finding that I am charged with ungalantry by some of the ladies of our county, and fearing that I may be petitioned by them to resign, on account of my having asked leave to introduce a bill to make females ineligible to the office of State Librarian, I promise them that I will "pause to consider." I would regret to become unpopular with men, but to become unpopular with the ladies, I would fell undone. In defense of my action, I wish to say that I was prompted by the love which I have ever born the sex. I do not desire to see women degraded by engaging in a muddle and scramble for office. I would keep her pure from the cesspool of politics. As it is the duty of the Librarian, not only to take charge of the library, but to exercise a supervision over all the State buildings (both clean and unclean), and to make contracts for repairs and additions, I think the office unsuited to one of the fair sex.

As to the Dog Law, which you have so kindly published, I will say that, unfortunately, since my election, the dogs seemed to have turned themselves loose in our county. Although, argued by some to impose a heavier tax, I believe the tax sufficient, if collected, to pay for the lost sheep. While I am, to some extent, the dog's friend, I am a great friend to the sheep. The sheep is something in which everyond is interested, regardless of profession, and whether he be rich or poor, crippled or blind. If, however, on trial, this law should be found too hard on the dogs; or, should make them too scarce; or, sheep too numerous; or, should cause our citizens to become too heavily clothed, then some fortunate son of our county can have the pleasure of repealing the law. I have been admonished by other members that a dog tax carries with it political death; but I tell them that once is enough for an ordinary man to represent the interests of a great people.

As to United States Senator. While I did not get my first choice, I believe we have elected one of whom we will never have cause to feel ashamed.

N. S. WALTON.

NGEIHBORHOOD NEWS.

Taylorport.

Mrs. Hedges has had a severe spell of sickness.

Messrs. Gerkin, Piper and Grubbs gave us a very nice serenade, a few evenings since.

We are sorry to notify the many friends of Wm. Bettis, that he has again moved to Stringtown.

We forgot, last week, to announce that Morgan Helm has an heiress to his estate, and is the happiest man in our village.

Jeddy Davis has been suffering since last August with a sprained wrist, and lately it has become worse, and it is now useless.

Our town is now without any religious services. Why don't some young minister, anxious to become famous, take the religious portion of the town in charge.

Hamilton.

Died—On Jan., 31st, after a lingering illness of many months, Mrs. John Hamilton, an aged and highly respected lady.

Mrs. Chas. Hannah, of Dover, Ky., is visiting friends in this vicinity. Her husband accompanied her, but was called home on business, ere his visit was complete.

For the past few weeks there has been no shipping to or from this place by the river. Our merchants have been put to the inconvenience of hauling their goods through by land.

F. M. Moore, who has been a resident of Normansville for two years past, has moved to the farm of J. T. Black, about two miles from this place. His charming little daughter, Miss Ella, remains for the purpose of attending school at the Hamilton Academy.

The advanced pupils of the Normansville and Hamilton school will give an entertainment at the school-house, on Saturday evening, the 23rd, inst. The programme will be long and interesting, consisting of well selected dialogues, recitations, songs and tableaux; also music by a good string band. The spring school will open on Monday the 18th inst.

Bullittsville.

Miss Nettie Graves has returned home from a visit to her sister of Indiana.

Chas. E. Clore, who has been sickly inclined for the past month, is now convalescent.

Jeff Snyder has resigned his position as drug clerk at Sadieville, and is among us again.

Ben Stephens proposes giving a premium of $5 for the best 10 h of cutting leaf tobacco of this years growing.

Our village is shut out from the newsy world, having had no mail for a week or more. Should a paper man make his appearance here, his papers would go like hot cakes.

Our public school is closed, the teacher Miss Lou Kendall, says she will not teach a spring school, as she deems the patronage of the spring schools insufficient to reward the labor necessary in so doing.

About all we think and talk about is the river and the literary society. Both are assuming high dimensions, some of the members of the society having gained for themselves such names as McDonald, Payne, Morrison, Randall, etc., from their eloquent discourses on the tariff.

Rev. Howe occupied the pulpit last Sunday. Subject:—Heaven. He had just closed a discussion at Mechanicsburg, Indiana, with Rev. Ballard, Universalist. There are a number here who say the would like hear a discussion between Mr. Howe and some other gun of that denomination, say Calton.

Beaver Lick.

Rev. Geo. Froh commences a series of meetings at Hughes' Chapel on the night of the 12th inst.

Hogs are scarce in this neighborhood, and stock hogs command as good figures as fatted ones; old farmers have suffered themselves to run short on hog.

The people of this vicinity are greatly in need of a good flour and grist mill, which should be located near Big Bone Springs. It certainly would pay, if the future fill the present prospects.

Geo. Sleet has finished delivering to J. C. Hughes his large crop of fine tobacco aggregating 15,000 pounds. This is getting to be about the amount the farmers love to handle, as it gen erally insures the big figures.

By a recent issue of the RECORDER, we are glad to learn that our county has so many of the old gentlemen who have the "dust" in possession to assist us in case of a failure on our part. It is a good thing to have lots of substantial citizens scattered throughout a county; it "kinder" whets the ambition of the underlings, you see.

A few days since, a negro, with a face as long as the late Boone County Dog Law (if possible), came running into Beaver, yelping: "Murdah, murdah!" at the top of his breath. After he got cooled a little, he told the cause of his alarm. In hunting he had found a large hornets' nest, and proceeded to take it home with him, he says: "Does you see 'em a comin', boss?" The rest of life will be an easy task for that old man.

Francesville.

Owing to some defect in our telephone lines, news of importance is scarce with us this week.

Billy Hayes is grooming up his fillies and is driving them some. They will take the cake for style anywhere in these parts.

Sleigh-riding developed into such a mania here that scalding-boxes were put on runners and substituted for sleighs.

The prospects throughout the country are very flattering for mechanics, and will continue so as long as the tobacco raisers are successful.

We understand that William Goodridge will build a new residence on his farm near this place, the work to begin as soon as the weather will admit.

Quite a novel sight was witnessed here a few days since. A large eagle of the bald headed species, flew over with a live lamb in its talons. The lamb was struggling for liberty, but all that was done did not induce its captor to relinquish its hold.

Mr. Hume, the Marshal of Lawrenceburg, arrested Bill Smith, colored, near this place, the other night, for stealing a valuable breech-loading shot gun and overcoat from Mr. Probasco, of Lawrenceburg. The gun and coat were found in Smith's possession, who preferred returning with the officer to going to the Burlington jail.

This has been a remarkable winter for those who admire arctic scenes; yet we have not heard of any expeditions that have been fitted out for the benefit of science. The north pole could have been reached with but little expense two or three weeks ago, as it has undoubtedly blown down and fell south, and, we think, the top of it struck Francesville. Had we been prepared for any such unlooked-for event, we might have made some important discoveries, and thereby set the scientific world at rest; but circumstances required our attention at home, and we lost the opportunity of having our name recorded on the temple of fame.

We have made some important arctic discoveries in and around our ville. Among them are, the coal piles are getting low; that we found one of our valuable hogs frozen stark and stiff in its sty; that poultry of all kinds has frozen to death; that we have found several crows lying about the fields, either frozen or starved; the quails are extinct, having perished from cold and hunger. In connection with this we would suggest that our honorable legislators pass a law to protect the birds from these arctic waves. We also understand that a great many of the potatoes that were buried are frozen; so taking it all in all, there has been considerable damage done throughout the country by the cold.

Who lies?

The Local has the largest circulation in Ohio county.—Rising Sun Local.

The Recorder has the largest bona fide circulation of any paper printed and published in Rising Sun.—Rising Sun Recorder.

J. W. Gaines and James B. Tollin, our lively Piattsburg itemizer, had a Sunday matinee last Sunday, in which Woolper "darnies" played an active part. Tolin took bad aim, but Gaines got a "darnie" in on Tolin that left an ugly little scalp wound. A piece of lin rail caused the encounter.

An exchange says that the marriageable young ladies of a western town recently held a convention, and among other resolutions passed was the following very sensible one:

"That we will not marry any one who is not a patron of home papers, for it is not only a strong evidence of the want of intelligence, but that he will prove too stingy to provide for his family, to educate his children or encourage institutions of learning in his community."

FLORENCE, KY., Feb., 4th, 1884.

To the Editors of the Recorder:

I see in your paper of last week, headed from Florence, that I was too soon lead to the altar, one Miss Arramanthy Dorathy. Will you or your correspondent please luform me who the lady is? and hope he will give his name in your next issue. Please find room in your paper for this. Yours,

ANDREW CLUTTERBUCK.

That Doughty Duchess.

Opposite Opinions about a Wonderful Woman—Her Thumb and Fingers.

"Crack nuts with herfingers? Why, you can't mean it!" cried a young lady graduate of the normal College, in the utmost astonishment.

"But I do mean it," affirmed her big brother, who had taken several prizes in athletics, "and I reassert it: that Cymburga, wife of Duke Ernst, of Austria, could crack nuts with her fingers and drive nails in the wall with her thumb."

"What a monstrous woman!" said the young lady. "What a useful woman," answered her big brother.

The Austrian Duchess was mighty because she kept good hours, good habits and perfect digestion.

Mrs. Alice Strong, of Pittsburg, Pa., writes a different story about herself, but deserves praise for her frankness. She says:" For the past 3 years I have been subject to severe attacks of colic and cramps, and exhausting attacks of Diarrhœa. Weary of experimenting with medicines, I turned without hope to PARKER'S TONIC. Three bottles cured me entirely. I have tried it also for other ailments with which women are often afflicted, and it far surpassed my expectations. I am happy to offer this testimony for the benefit of other women.

Ladies who are interested in Mrs. Strong's letter, will please remark that PARKER'S TONIC is not intoxicant. It cures colic easily, but by virtue of many rare and powerful ingredients, it also masters all diseases of the Blood—such, for example, as Rheumatism, Consumption, Scrofula, and all disorders of the Kidneys, Liver and Stomach. It is a vitalizer and stimulant, but not an intoxicant. Price, 50 cents and $1 per bottle. HISCOX & CO., Chemists, New York.

FOR GOOD

Boots AND Shoes,

GO TO

GEO. H. LEOBKER'S,

NO 36 PIKE STREET,

Covington, Kentucky.

R. S. CRISLER,

Burlington, Ky.

WAGON MAKER AND

—MANUFACTURER OF—

ROAD WAGONS, SPRING WGONS, HARROWS, PLOWS, WHEEL BARROWS

AND ALL KINDS OF WOOD WORK,

Also the Manufacturer of W. M. Conner's Patent Right Hay Conveyor.

Saws Filed & Sharpened.

Please call and examine my prices before calling elsewhere.

JAMES S. WAYNE, President. JNO. L. SANDFORD, Cashier.

CAPITAL, $300,000.

FARMERS AND TRADERS

NATIONAL BANK.

Covington, Kentucky.

DIRECTORS.

James S. Wayne, M. C. Mutch, Sam Hind, E. J. Hickey, E. J. Gregg,
J. S. Mason, J. H. Mersman, J. L. Sandford, L. H Dills, F. B. Hoing,
L. C. Stephens.

The general operations of banking transacted upon the most favorable terms, collections made on all points in the United States.

The Business and Accounts of Farmers are Especially Solicited by this Bank.
dec. 20-6m

The Greatest Bargains in

OVERCOATS

AND

SUITS

CAN BE HAD AT

H. F. BLASE,

540 Madison St, COVINGTON, KY

UNDERTAKING.

We keep Constantly on Hand all sizes of

Burial Cases and Caskets,

And having just received a beautiful

NEW HEARSE,

Which can be had at a reasonable price when desired.

PRICES GUARANTEED LESS THAN CITY PRICES!

DAVIS BROS., HEBRON, KY.

MOTHER NOBLE'S

HEALING SYRUP.

30 Million Bottles sold in 10 years. A certain Cure for Dyspepsia, all Diseases of the Kidneys, Liver, Stomach, Blood, Skin and Bowels. Can Produce Thousands of Letters proving its Curative Powers.

AN OLD AND LONG TRIED REMEDY.

LABORATORY 77 AMITY STREET, NEW YORK CITY.

FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

Cornease. —The King of Corn Killers. The most desperate CORNS, BUNIONS, WARTS &c., SPEEDILY cured. Price 25 Cents.

Footease. —An Unfailing Remedy for Hot, Swollen and Tender Feet, Chilblains, &c. Price 25 Cents. Cornease Manuf'g Co., 236, 5th Ave. Place, N. Y. City. For Sale by Agents, Druggists and Shoe Dealers.

City Flouring Mills

RISING SUN, INDIANA.

FLOUR EXCHANGED FOR WHEAT OR CASH. THE HIGHEST MARKET PRICE PAID FOR GOOD WHEAT.

mar7-tf3

J. W. Talbott.

Subscribe for the Recorder.

THE RECORDER.

RIDDELL & HALL, Publishers.

BURLINGTON, : : KENTUCKY

OF THE PAST.

White flowers lie upon her breast;
Her throbbing pulses are at rest;
A circlet glimmers on her head;
She is queen, and she is dead.

Around her all is very still;
Unchanged, behind a changeless hill,
The western sun forever dips,
And dying splendors kiss her lips.

Her passive hand a scepter holds;
Her raiment falls in stately folds;
Her lashes slumber on her cheek:
The world would listen did she speak.

She will be still forever more:
Though crowned king or emperor
Made bare his treasury for her,
The quiet lips will never stir.

She will be still; but all around,
Voices, which speak without a sound,
Bid tender chords awake and thrill,
Telling of her, though she is still—

Telling how days had winged feet,
How childish nights had slumber sweet
And little many-colored dreams
Shone through the dark in fitful gleams.

Then kindly Nature round us curled,
The skies bent down to clasp the world,
And every star, a beacon-light,
Was steadfast on its stately height.

Content, we fronted wonders new,
Rainbow and thunder, fire and dew,
And deemed the very highway sod
Untrodden till we came and trod.

And golden were the days of youth,
When all was beauty, joy and truth,
When sordid wealth was nothing worth,
For Love in splendor walked the earth.

O sweet, untroubled vision stay!
Cease, thou importunate To-day,
Cease eager toil, and clamor shrill!
We are with her—and she is still.

—Margaret Veley, in Harper's Magazine.

DAN'S VALENTINE.

CHAPTER I.

It was St. Valentine's Day. Dan Woodford sat by the one small window of his log cabin, moodily gazing out on the gaunt, leafless trees, and on the distant gleam of the stormy water of Lake Superior. His thoughts were as dreary as the landscape before him; and his state of mind was hard and bitter, for he remembered another Valetine's Day, only a year ago. The one great and blessed day of his life it had seemed then—because he had exchanged valentines with lovely Evelyn Graye, and she had promised to be his wife and his valentine forever.

"But one short year ago!" murmured Dan, thinking aloud, a habit gained in solitude, "and now she is Mrs. Norton, the old millionaire's wife, and I am a hermit, self-exiled to this blenk and lonely place."

He glanced round on the bare walls, built by his own hands, in the fall of the year just past. They were rudely plastered and white-washed, but so solid that the wildest storm might rage and howl without, might beat its angry violence against them, while the occupant, provided well with food and fuel, could afford to smile in serene comfort within.

And Dan smiled now—but it was a sad smile as he looked around and said: "Better, ten times better, drear and lonely as it is, than the insecure home of a faithless woman's shallow, changing heart."

Then with a long-drawn sigh that much belied his brave words, the speaker went in quest of his pipe and tobacco, the solace of his lonely existence. Having found them, he sat down to a rude pine desk, manufactured in spare evening hours after his day's work was over. He pulled out the drawer and took from it the few treasures it contained—half a dozen letters from the girl who had jilted him; a long tress of her wavy, yellow hair, and a knot of withered flowers that had once bloomed and blushed upon her breast.

"Faded and dead!" sighed Dan, inhaling the faint fragrance that yet clung to them, "as the love she vowed should die only with her life."

Gently, tenderly he replaced them in the silver paper that had held them; and then he twined the silken hair about his finger, where it clung like some living thing, and its touch thrilled like an electric shock along his nerves, setting his heart wildly throbbing till he was half mad with love and longing. He shook the yellow curl from his hand and flung it away as though it had burned him. Lastly, he took up the letters, and with a mocking smile read them, one by one. Having finished, he folded all together—the letters, the tress of hair and the crumbling flowers—and stretched out his hand toward the glowing fire of logs that blazed upon the hearth. But he didn't cast the little packet into the flames, as he had meant to do; instead, he raised it to his lips, kissed it passionately and reverently returned it to the place from whence he had taken it. With angry contempt for himself he then exclaimed:

"Uh, what a fool I am!" shut the drawer sharply, took up his pipe and returned to his place by the window.

The gleam of the stormy water was almost lost now in the gathering dusk and the snow that still fell heavily. Now and then, as the darkness increased, came the long, loud, hungry howl of distant wolves. Dan heard it unmoved, enjoying it rather than otherwise, while he listened, noting the long intervals between the sounds. Suddenly, during one of these intervals, a low, wailing cry sounded close beside him; and he bounded from his chair more startled than if a whole pack of wolves had appeared before the window.

"What was that?" he exclaimed, gazing all round the wide apartment and peering into every corner brightly illuminated by the flames that blazed away on the wide, deep hearth.

The only living thing in the room save himself was a beautiful Maltese cat that lay fast asleep in the chimney corner.

"It must have been the cat!" And while he stood regarding the comfortable creature, the same wailing cry, louder and more pitiful, sounded close behind him.

"Great heaven! Can it be? It isn't possible!" exclaimed Dan, and, reaching the door at one stride, he tore it open.

The wind and snow rushed in, and with them a louder wail from the bundle that lay on the threshold. With extraordinary care, Dan raised the bundle in his strong arms, and, having closed and secured the door, proceeded to examine his strange prize.

First he moved the outward and snow-laden covering, which was an old shawl. The next layer of wrapping appeared to be a well-worn red flannel skirt; and after that came a thick, soft crib blanket. This last had been arranged with great care, so as entirely to protect the precious treasure it contained; and now as Dan folded back the corner of the blanket a pair of great dark eyes, shining like two stars, looked up at him, and the baby smiled in his face.

"God bless it!" said the young man, fervently; and bending down he kissed the rosebud mouth. "Soft as velvet," he murmured, "and lovely as an angel. But where has it come from? What mortal hands have left it here—or has it dropped from the skies?" questions that were never answered from that hour. To the blanket was pinned a scrap of paper, on which was written: "Her name is Elinor." Nothing more—parentage unknown and mysterious as that of the great Pendragon.

However curious Dan may have been, he had, just then, small time furnished him for the exercise of wonder or inquiry. Although the baby had smiled upon him at first its mood soon changed; and with the fickleness he too readily attributed to her sex, the novelty of his appearance soon ceased to charm her. She began to fidget and kick, and toss her arms about, and then to contort her little face into such hideous grimaces that Dan was terrified and thought she was going into a fit. These signs of discontent failing to produce the desired effect, she opened her mouth and gave vent to a series of yells which were at least reassuring as to the condition of her lungs, but so sudden that her inexperienced nurse nearly dropped her on the floor.

"What on earth am I to do with her?" exclaimed the poor fellow, in dismay, while he vainly sought to quiet the infant's cries by rocking her in his arms, swinging her to and fro, and trotting with her up and down from end to end of the apartment. If she desisted for a few moments it was only to start afresh with redoubled energy.

Dan began to feel that never till then had he known what it was to be truly miserable. At last the baby got her poor little fist in her mouth, and at the same moment an inspiration came to Dan.

"The child is hungry!" he cried. "What a fool I am! But what in Heaven's name shall I do? Babies live on milk, and there hasn't been such a thing in this house for a month." Here was a new and terrible dilemma. If there was nothing in the house that the infant could eat she would starve to death; but there must be something.

Drawing his little cot-bed out in front of the fire Dan laid the child on it; and, feeling strangely flurried and nervous by the sound of its crying, began a search for suitable food to appease its hunger. Fate was kinder than he had dared to hope. He found some broken milk-cracker, and a can from the bottom and sides of which he managed to scrape a few spoonfuls of leathery paste. But manna in the wilderness was not more precious to the starving Israelites. He filled a tin cup with snow, melted and boiled it over his fire and prepared a moderately wholesome and appetizing supply of food for the baby. She was a good baby, and allowed him to feed her as though she had never known another nurse. Well-warmed and well-fed she was soon lying asleep wrapped in her blanket: and for further protection rolled in the heavy buffalo-robe that formed the chief covering of Dan's bed.

"Thank Heaven!" murmured this impromptu father. "If she will only sleep till morning I can then get the help of black Susanna, at the Corners—she knows all about children. What a dear little beauty—and black eyes, too! I thought all babies—at least all girls—had blue eyes!"

CHAPTER II.

"Who is the beautiful girl in white velvet, with the necklace of pearls that must have belonged to some Indian rajah?"

"That is Miss Carey, the beauty and the heiress. Ah, my boy, he that can lay hold of her will have the chinks, and truly Capulet's only daughter was not fairer."

"Miss Carey, the daughter—or adopted daughter, which is it—of the Copper King?" continued the first speaker, a young English nobleman, with one of the largest rent-rolls in Great Britain.

"The same," returned his companion, Ted Kaufman, a well-known New York banker. "The Copper King is not the young lady's father; she is merely his adopted daughter, and, contrary to the custom in such cases, she does not even bear his name. The gentleman is Mr. Dan Woodford, an old friend and school fellow of my own, which accounts for the extent of my information on the subject. The young lady has no relatives—blessed privilege for the man who marries her—and she selected her own name. She was left at the door of Woodford's log cabin in a driving snow-storm, and from that hour to this he has not learned from whence she came. She may be a Princess or the child of a chimney-sweep; but it is safe to bet that no ancestor will ever lay claim to her."

"A Princess, indeed, she looks!" said Lord Stanhope. "Present me, Kaufman, I beg."

"Certainly; but let me warn you. It's no use falling in love with her. Fair and lovable as she looks, the girl must be made of ice, for she has refused a score of fellows in every way eligible."

"That is because the right one hasn't asked yet," returned the Englishman, with a confident smile. "At any rate, I'm bound to take my chance. I believe I am half in love already."

"Heaven forbid! But whatever happens remember I warned you."

"You've done your duty, old man; and I shall try to be forearmed, too, but come along."

The beautiful Elinor received her new captive in her customary manner. She smiled sweetly, talked pleasantly, and half an hour later had forgotten his existence.

Not so Lord Stanhope, who went home to dream of her, to make up his mind for the twentieth time—but finally on this occasion—that he ought to marry and settle in his in the home of his ancestors.

The night was waning, and Elinor, who kept early hours for a fashionable beauty, had just expressed her intention to go home, when suddenly she felt the arm on which she was leaning tremble, and then become rigid as iron.

"What is it, Dan?" she asked, glancing up at her companion. His face was pale and his expression mockingly bitter, as she had never seen it before.

"Nothing, Elinor." And then they both paused, for a very handsome woman had barred their way, and she held both hands impulsively toward Mr. Woodford.

"O, Dan—dearest friend! Is it really you? But I needn't ask. You are not changed at all; I would have known you anywhere."

"And I would have known you, too, I think Mrs. Norton; you are not greatly changed either," Dan answered, carelessly, as he took one outstretched hand in greeting, barely touching the delicately gloved fingers with his own.

"And this is your daughter," the lady continued. "How beautiful she is; pray introduce us, Dan."

"I have no daughter," Dan returned, pointedly, and with something like a frown on his face. "This is Miss Elinor Carey and she will, no doubt, be pleased to make the acquaintance of a lady so accomplished and brilliant as yourself."

Elinor cordially acknowledged this strangely-worded introduction, marveling what it meant. She had never known Dan to be so cold or so satirical in his manner.

"O, I beg pardon; but people call her your daughter. They make such mistakes, you know."

"People do make mistakes, sometimes," replied Dan. "Happily, they are also easily corrected, sometimes, Mrs. Norton."

The lady colored deeply beneath the faint touch of rouge on her still rounded cheek, and then grew pale. She turned to Elinor and said, in a voice she vainly strove to make quite steady:

"I hope you will let me have the pleasure of improving our acquaintance, my dear? Thanks! I will call to-morrow."

"Was that an old friend?" Elinor asked in a whisper, as Mrs. Norton passed out of hearing.

"About forty," Dan answered, provokingly, "though she doesn't look it. But those blonde women wear so well—they have no feelings I suppose. Now that lady lost a husband, who adored her, before she had been his wife quite two years: yet see how well she must have borne it. Not even a wrinkle! To be sure he left her nearly a million to console her."

"And she hasn't married again? Ah; her heart was with some other man," said Elinor, shrewdly: and she cast one keen, swift, jealous look at her companion's face.

When Dan Woodford reached home that night he went into his study and took from a drawer in a writing-desk a small packet wrapped in silver paper. It contained a few letters, some withered flowers, and a tress of yellow hair; but he didn't examine the contents; and he didn't even waste a glance on them, but carelessly tossed them into the grate, and with a smile watched them turn to white ashes on the glowing coals.

Mrs. Norton called the next day, and was shown into Elinor's drawing-room. She exerted all the witchery she possessed in pleasing and fascinating the young girl, and she was in a great degree successful. Elinor thought her charming as well as beautiful, and only differed with her on one subject.

"I am sorry not to meet your papa," Mrs. Norton said when she rose to take leave, after she had apologized for making "a very long visit for a first call."

"He is not my papa," Elinor answered, coloring, she knew not why.

"But I supposed of course that you called him so," said Mrs. Norton with a smile.

"I never called him 'papa' in my life," said Elinor, resenting the smile. "Nurse tried to teach me to call him 'daddie' when I began to speak. But I called him 'Dan' instead, and I shall always call him so—"

"Dear me!" interrupted Mrs. Norton. "But there is such disparity of age; he is old enough to be your father."

"I never think so!" Elinor returned indignantly. Mrs. Norton smiled, and left the younger woman feeling very uncomfortable.

From that hour her manner toward Mr. Woodford was changed. Instinctively she seemed to know that he and the beautiful Mrs. Norton had once been lovers; and "lovers once, lovers forever," was Elinor's creed. She remembered how his arm had trembled and how his face had changed that night when he saw her, after long years. There had been a lover's quarrel, she felt certain; "but he loves her still and she loves him." And her heart ached at the thought. How often she gazed with envy on Mrs. Norton's violet eyes and radiant crown of golden hair.

And all this pent up hopeless passion made it rather hard for poor Lord Stanhope. Not that Elinor ever meant to encourage him. But he came so constantly, he was so good, so sympathetic, and she so unhappy. He quite misunderstood her faltering tones, her changing color; and when he asked her to marry him she refused with such evident dismay, and so much regret for his disappointment, that he knew not which to think—whether to think himself a fool, or to believe her a heartless coquette. But he was a gentleman, and took his dismissal gravely and sorrowfully, and so, at least, won her respect.

"What does this mean?" Dan asked, a day or two afterward. "Is it true that you have rejected Lord Stanhope, Elinor?"

"Yes, it is true," Miss Carey answered. She was turned half from him as she spoke, but she wheeled suddenly round and looked him in the face, and something in the great, fond eyes so yearningly bent on her was a revelation to her young heart. She went toward him, blushing and with drooping head, and she spoke in the softest whisper, but he heard it.

"And why do you ask what it means? You ought to know! Oh, Dan, have you not always said that I was your little Valentine?"

"But I am old enough to be your father, darling."

"That's what Mrs. Norton says," laughed Elinor, with her lovely face resting against his cheek. "She has said it so often that I quite forgot to answer that you were not yet old enough to be her husband."

"No—she prefers octogenarians."

"I think her taste has changed, dear," laughed Elinor, mischievously.

"But too late, my darling," Dan answered, as he kissed his valentine.—Detroit Free Press.

—Somebody has been unearthing a lot of old depositions in a Kentucky clerk's office, and taking notes of the bad spelling of some of the great men of the past. A deposition in the handwriting of Andrew Jackson contains such spelling as "refference," "deponants," "untill," "ballance," "vallue," and "difioult." Old Hickory's use of capitals was quite remarkable. Such words as "Dollar" and "Money" he capitalized, while he also wrote "almighty god."—N. Y. Tribune.

—"Passed the Tuskar Rock Lighthouse about 10 a. m., and a little before noon lost sight of Ireland, and, crossing the mouth of St. George's Channel, came in sight of Wales, and coasted up the Channel all day. The rough promontories and jagged hills were quite in keeping with the character of that hardy race of Cambrians from whom I am glad to draw my origin."—James A. Garfield's Diary, July 25, 1867, in Century Magazine.

—Dennis Pike, of Pottsville, Pa., made a deadly assault on his betrothed Susie Bradley, and was locked up. When she recovered she married him in order to secure his release from prison. Being his wife, she can not testify against him, and, as no one else witnessed the assault, Dennis will not be inconvenienced by it to any great extent.—Detroit Post.

—Speaking of the so-called art of hanging, a humane contemporary says: "Would that the art itself could be lost without detriment to the welfare of mankind."

Hotels for Ladies.

A novel institution has been introduced in Holland by a special society formed for the establishment of hotels for ladies. By means of these institutions ladies visiting that country may find a comfortable "home" for the period of their sojourn in a "Huis voor Vrouwen" (house for women). These establishments offer rooms for all classes of the poor, the middle-class traveler, and the grand lady can be accomodated each according to her means. The apartments for the latter are, though not luxuriously furnished, comfortably and conveniently arranged, and even the smallest room, which is let at a very low rate, is distinguished by model cleanliness. The society has no aim besides that of providing a home for girls and women traveling in Holland; commercial advantages are not taken into consideration, and no profits are derived from the enterprise.—Pall Mall Gazette.

—We are told that there is no driving of the flock in Spain. When the shepherd wishes to remove his sheep, he calls a tame wether, accustomed to feed from his hands, and the favorite, however distant, obeys his call, while the rest follow. One or more of the dogs, with large collars armed with spikes, in order to protect them from the wolves, precede the flock; others skirt it on either side, and some bring up the rear. If a sheep be ill or lame, or lag behind, unobserved by the shepherd, the dog stays with it and defends it until some one returns in search of it.

—A correspondent of the London Electrician gives the following as an instant remedy for toothache: With a small piece of zinc and a bit of silver (any silver coin will do), the zinc placed on one side of the afflicted gum and the silver on the other, by bringing the edges together, the small current of electricity generated immediately and painlessly stops the toothache.

—In the stores of Paris glass is taking the place of wood for flooring. It costs more than wood, but it lasts longer, and, besides being easily kept clean, allows enough light to be transmitted through its roughened surface for the employes to work by in the floor below. The glass is cast in squares and set in strong iron frames.

No Marks.

Mr. T. M. Casad, editor of the Corydon (Ia.) Times, writes that his little girl burned her foot severely on a stove. One application of St. Jacobs Oil, the great pain-reliever, cured it completely, leaving no marks. By two applications of St. Jacobs Oil he cured himself of a torturing pain in the side.

Mr. Onion has just failed out in Nebraska; but it can not be said that he has not a scent to his name.—Chicago Herald.

Catarrh and Hay Fever.—For twenty years I was a sufferer from Catarrh of the head and throat in a very aggravated form, and during the summer with Hay Fever. I procured a bottle of Ely's Cream Balm and after a few applications received decided benefit—was cured by one bottle. Have had no return of the complaint. Charlotte Parker, Waverly, N. Y.

Why are very young dudes like very new wheat? Both are too green to thrash.—Chicago Times.

As one having used Ely's Cream Balm I would say it is worth its weight in gold as a cure for Catarrh. One bottle cured me. S. A. Lovell, Franklin, Pa.

They say dogs can't reason, but no one will doubt that a dog tries to reach a conclusion when he chases his tail.

Farmers' Folly.

Some farmers adhere, even against the full light of fact and discovery, to the old-fashioned folly of coloring butter with carrots, aunatto, and inferior substances, notwithstanding the splendid record made by the Improved Butter Color, prepared by Wells, Richardson & Co., Burlington, Vt. At scores of the best agricultural Fairs it has received the highest award over all competitors.

Mr. Isaac C. Chapman, Druggist, Newburg, N. Y., writes us: "I have sold several gross of Dr. William Hall's Balsam for the Lungs. I can say of it what I can not say of any other medicine. I have never heard a customer speak of it but to praise it. I have recommended it in a great many cases of Whooping Cough, with the happiest affects. I always have a bottle in the medicine closet ready for use."

Rheumatism Quickly Cured.

There has never been a medicine for rheumatism introduced in the United States that has given such universal satisfaction as Durang's Rheumatic Remedy. It stands out alone as the one great remedy that actually cures this dread disease. It is taken internally, and never has and never can fail to cure the worst case in the shortest time. It is sold by every druggist at $1. Write for free forty-page pamphlet to R. K. Helphenstine, Druggist, Washington, D.C.

I have seen remarkable results from use of Swift's Specific on a cancer. A young man near here has been afflicted five years with the most angry looking eating cancer I ever saw, and was nearly dead. The first bottle made a wonderful change, and after five bottles were taken, he is nearly or quite well. It is truly wonderful.
M. F. Crumley, M. D., Oglethorpe, Ga.

From Boulder, Col., Miss N. E. Wilder, writes: "Samaritan Nervine cured me of epilepsy."

Flies, roaches, ants, bed-bugs, rats, mice, crows, cleared out by "Rough on Rats." 15c.

Would not be without Redding's Russia Salve, is the verdict of all who use it. Price 25c.

THE MARKETS.

CINCINNATI, February 9, 1884.

LIVE STOCK—Cattle—common	$2 00	@	3 25
Choice butchers	4 50	@	5 50
HOGS—Common	5 40	@	6 10
Good packers	6 20	@	6 45
SHEEP	4 75	@	5 50
FLOUR—Family	4 50	@	4 90
GRAIN—Wheat—Longberry red		@	1 12
No. 2 red	1 03	@	1 04
Corn—No. 2 mixed		@	52
Oats—No. 2 mixed		@	38
Rye—No. 2	63	@	64
HAY—Timothy No. 1		@	11 00
HEMP—Double dressed	8 75	@	9 00
PROVISIONS—Pork—Mess	17 50	@	17 75
Lard—Prime steam		@	7 30
BUTTER—Fancy Dairy	20	@	22
Prime Creamery	25	@	30
FRUIT AND VEGETABLES—
Potatoes per bar. from store	1 25	@	1 40
Apples, prime, per barrel	3 50	@	4 50
NEW YORK.
FLOUR—State and Western	$2 75	@	3 30
Good to choice	3 65	@	6 50
GRAIN—Wheat—No. 2 spring	1 02½	@	1 06¼
No. 2 red	1 06¼	@	1 06¾
Corn—No. 2 mixed	59	@	59½
Oats—mixed	40	@	41
PORK—Mess		@	17 00
CHICAGO.
FLOUR—State and Western	$3 50	@	4 85
GRAIN—Wheat—No. 2 red	1 00	@	1 02
Corn—No. 2		@	53
Oats—No. 2	32½	@	33
Rye	58	@
PORK—Mess	17 20	@	17 25
LARD—Steam	9 40	@	9 45
BALTIMORE.
FLOUR—Family	$4 75	@	5 75
GRAIN—Wheat—No. 2 red	1 06½	@	1 06
Corn—mixed	59	@	60
Oats—mixed	40	@	41
PROVISIONS—Pork—Mess	16 00	@
Lard—Refined	10	@
LOUISVILLE.
FLOUR—A No. 1	$4 15	@	4 25
GRAIN—Wheat—No. 2 red, new	1 01	@	1 02
Corn—mixed	51½	@	52
Oats—mixed	38½	@	37
PORK—MESS	17 50	@
INDIANAPOLIS.
WHEAT—No. 2, red, new	$1 09	@	1 02
CORN—mixed	48½	@	[illegible]
OATS—mixed	35	@	[illegible]
LIVE STOCK—Cattle—
Butchers' stock	3 75	@	8 00
Shipping cattle	6 00	@	6 50

A MODERN RESURRECTION.

A Miracle that Took Place in Our Midst Unknown to the Public—The Details in Full.

(Detroit Free Press.)

One of the most remarkable occurrences ever given to the public, which took place here in our midst, has just come to our knowledge and will undoubtedly awaken as much surprise and attract as great attention as it has already in newspaper circles. The facts are, briefly, as follows: Mr. William A. Crombie, a young man formerly residing at Birmingham, a suburb of Detroit, and now living at 287 Michigan Avenue in this city, can truthfully say that he has looked into the future world and yet returned to this. A representative of this paper has interviewed him upon this important subject and his experiences are given to the public for the first time. He said:

"I had been having most peculiar sensations for a long while. My head felt dull and heavy; my eyesight did not seem so clear as formerly; my appetite was uncertain and I was unaccountably tired. It was an effort to arise in the morning and yet I could not sleep at night. My mouth tasted badly, I had a faint all-gone sensation in the pit of my stomach that food did not satisfy, while my hands and feet felt cold and clammy. I was nervous and irritable, and lost all enthusiasm. At times my head would seem to whirl and my heart palpitated terribly. I had no energy, no ambition, and I seemed indifferent of the present and thoughtless for the future. I tried to shake the feeling off and persuade myself it was simply a cold or a little malaria. But it would not go. I was determined not to give up, and so time passed along and all the while I was getting worse. It was about this time that I noticed I had begun to bloat fearfully. My limbs were swollen so that by pressing my fingers upon them deep depressions would be made. My face also began to enlarge, and continued to until I could scarcely see out of my eyes. One of my friends, describing my appearance at that time, said: 'It is an animated something, but I should like to know what.' In this condition I passed several weeks of the greatest agony.

"Finally, one Saturday night, the misery culminated. Nature could endure no more. I became irrational and apparently insensible. Cold sweat gathered on my forehead; my eyes became glazed and my throat rattled. I seemed to be in another sphere and with other surroundings. I knew nothing of what occurred around me, although I have since learned it was considered as death by those who stood by. It was to me a quiet state, and yet one of great agony. I was helpless, hopeless, and pain was my only companion. I remember trying to see what was beyond me, but the mist before my eyes was too great. I tried to reason, but I had lost all power. I felt that it was death, and realized how terrible it was. At last the strain upon my mind gave way and all was a blank. How long this continued I do not know, but at last I realized the presence of friends and recognized my mother. I then thought it was earth, but was not certain. I gradually regained consciousness, however, and the pain lessened. I found that my friends had, during my unconsciousness, been giving me a preparation I had never taken before, and the next day, under the influence of this treatment, the bloating began to disappear and from that time on I steadily improved, until to-day I am as well as ever before in my life, have no traces of the terrible acute Bright's disease, which so nearly killed me, and all through the wonderful instrumentality of Warner's Safe Cure, the remedy that brought me to life after I was virtually in another world."

"You have had an unusual experience, Mr. Crombie," said the writer who had been breathlessly listening to the recital.

"Yes, I think I have," was the reply, "and it has been a valuable lesson to me. I am certain, though, there are thousands of men and women at this very moment who have the same ailment which came so near killing me, and they do not know it. I believe kidney disease is the most deceptive trouble in the world. It comes like a thief in the night. It has no certain symptoms, but seems to attack each one differently. It is quiet, treacherous, and all the more dangerous. It is killing more people, to-day, than any other one complaint. If I had the power I would warn the entire world against it and urge them to remove it from the system before it is too late."

One of the members of the firm of Whitehead & Mitchell, proprietors of the Birmingham Eccentric, paid a fraternal visit to this office yesterday, and in the course of conversation, Mr. Crombie's name was mentioned.

"I know about his sickness," said the editor, "and his remarkable recovery. I had his obituary all in type and announced in the Eccentric that he could not live until its next issue. It was certainly a most wonderful case."

Rev. A. R. Bartlett, formerly pastor of the M. E. Church, at Birmingham, and now of Schoolcraft, Mich., in response to a telegram, replied:

"Mr. W. A. Crombie was a member of my congregation at the time of his sickness. The prayers of the church were requested for him on two different occasions. I was with him the day he was reported by his physicians as dying, and consider his recovery almost a miracle."

Not one person in a million ever comes so near death as did Mr. Crombie and then recover, but the men and women who are drifting toward the same end are legion. To note the slightest symptoms, to realize their significance and to meet them in time by the remedy which has been shown to be most efficient, is a duty from which there can be no escape. They are fortunate who do this; they are on the sure road to death who neglect it.

Don't Die in the House. "Rough on Rats," clears out rats, mice, flies, roaches, bed-bugs. 15c.

No opiates or drastic cathartics are found in that peerless remedy, Samaritan Nervine.

Skinny Men. "Wells' Health Renewer" restores health and vigor, cures Dyspepsia.

Walnut Leaf Hair Restorer

Is entirely different from all others. It is as clear as water, and, as its name indicates, is a perfect Vegetable Hair Restorer. It will immediately free the head from dandruff, restore gray hair to its natural color, and produce a new growth where it has fallen off. It does not in any manner affect the health, which Sulphur, Sugar of Lead and Nitrate of Silver preparations have done. It will change light or faded hair in a few days to a beautiful glossy brown. Ask your druggist for it. Each bottle is warranted. John D. Park & Sons, Wholesale Agents, Cincinnati, Ohio, and C. N. Crittenton, N. Y.

"Brown's Bronchial Troches" are widely known as an admirable remedy for Bronchitis, Hoarseness, Coughs and Throat troubles. Sold only in boxes. 25 cts.

Wells' "Rough on Corns." 15c. Ask for it. Complete, permanent cure. Corns, bunions.

Dr. Williams' Indian Pile Ointment. Warranted to cure any case of blind, bleeding or itching piles. At druggists.

Stinging, irritation, all Kidney and Bladder Complaints, cured by "Buchu-Paiba." $1.

Piso's Cure for Consumption does not dry up a cough; it removes the cause.

Hale's Honey of Horehound and Tar Cures coughs and colds. Pike's toothache drops cure in one minute.

ST. JACOBS OIL

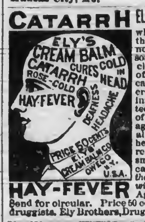
[1]

THE GREAT
GERMAN REMEDY
FOR PAIN.
CURES
Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Sciatica
Lumbago, Backache, Headache, Toothache,
Sore Throat, Swellings, Sprains, Bruises,
Burns, Scalds, Frost Bites,
And All Other BODILY PAINS and ACHES.
Sold by Druggists and Dealers everywhere. Fifty Cents a bottle. Directions in 11 Languages.
THE CHARLES A. VOGELER CO.,
(Successors to A. VOGELER & CO.) Baltimore, Md., U.S.A.

HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED

STOMACH BITTERS

They who work early and late the year round need, occasionally, the healthful stimulus imparted by a wholesome tonic like Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. To all, its purity and efficiency as a remedy and preventive of disease commend it. It checks incipient rheumatism and malarial symptoms, relieves constipation, dyspepsia and biliousness, arrests premature decay of the physical energies, mitigates the infirmities of age and hastens convalescence. For sale by all Druggists and Dealers generally.



SUFFERERS

From Nervous, Chronic and Blood diseases, Brain and Heart affections, Weak Lungs, Nervous Debility, Broken Down Constitutions, and weakness of the Kidneys, Bladder and Urinary Organs, ASK your druggist for DR. CHAS. W. SCOTT'S World-Renowned Specific No. 13,

Coca, Beef and Iron
(With Phosphorus.)
A Blood, Brain and Nerve Tonic.

If your druggist does not keep it, ask him to order it for you. $1.00 per bottle. Coca, Beef and Iron is the Greatest Medical Discovery of modern times. For pamphlet address CHAS. W. SCOTT, M. D., Kansas City, Mo.

CATARRH ELY'S CREAM BALM

HAY-FEVER

when applied by the finger into the nostrils, will be absorbed, effectually cleansing the head of catarrhal virus, causing healthy secretions. It allays inflammation, protects the membrane of the nasal passages from additional colds, completely heals the sores and restores taste and smell. A few applications relieve. A thorough treatment will positively cure. Agreeable to use. Send for circular. Price 50 cents by mail or at druggists. Ely Brothers, Druggists, Owego, N.Y.

SHARP PAINS

Cricks, Sprains, Wrenches, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Sciatica, Pleurisy Pains, Stitch in the Side, Backache, Swollen Joints, Heart Disease, Sore Muscles, Pain in the Chest, and all pains and aches either local or deep-seated are instantly relieved and speedily cured by the well-known Hop Plaster. Compounded, as it is, of the medicinal virtues of fresh Hops, Gums, Balsams and Extracts, it is indeed the best pain-killing, stimulating, soothing and strengthening Porous Plaster ever made. Hop Plasters are sold by all druggists and country stores. 25 cents or five for $1.00. Mailed on receipt of price. Hop Plaster Co., Proprietors and Manufacturers, Boston, Mass.

HOP PLASTER

Coated tongue, bad breath, sour stomach and liver disease cured by Hawley's Stomach and Liver Pills, 25cts.

ABSOLUTELY THE BEST. WILSON'S LIGHTNING SEWER!

Two thousand stitches a minute. The only absolutely first-class Sewing Machine in the world. Sent on trial. Warranted 5 years. Send for Illustrated Catalogue and Circular. Agents Wanted. THE WILSON SEWING MACHINE CO., Chicago or New York.

CANCER INSTITUTE.

AURORA ILL.

Established, 1872; Incorporated, 1880. For the Cure of Cancers, Tumors, Ulcers, Scrofula and Skin Diseases, without the use of knife or Loss of Blood, and little pain. For information, circulars and references, address DR. F. L. POND, Aurora, Kane Co., Ill.

Free Information About The South-West.

Kansas, Colorado, Utah, New Mexico, Arizona, California and Old Mexico offer the best field for Farmers, Fruit-Growers, Stock-Raisers, Capitalists, Merchants, Miners and Mechanics of all trades. Maps, papers and pamphlets, giving detailed information mailed free on application to C. B. SCHMIDT, Commissioner of Immigration, A. T. & S. F. R. R., Topeka, Kansas.

EGGLESTON'S SENSIBLE TRUSS

THIS NEW ELASTIC TRUSS

Has a Pad different from all others, is cup shape, with Self-Adjusting Ball in center, adapts itself to all positions of the body, while the ball in the cup presses back the intestines just as a person does with the finger. With light pressure the Hernia is held securely day and night, and a radical cure certain. It is easy, durable and cheap. Sent by mail. Circulars free. EGGLESTON TRUSS CO., 60 Dearborn St., Chicago, Ill.

I CURE FITS!

When I say cure I do not mean merely to stop them for a time and then have them return again. I mean a radical cure. I have made the disease of FITS, EPILEPSY or FALLING SICKNESS a life-long study. I warrant my remedy to cure the worst cases. Because others have failed is no reason for not now receiving a cure. Send at once for a treatise and a Free Bottle of my infallible remedy. Give Express and Post-Office. It costs you nothing for a trial, and I will cure you.
Address DR. H. G. ROOT, 183 Pearl St., New York.

PISO'S REMEDY FOR CATARRH

Easy to use. A certain cure. Not expensive. Three months' treatment in one package. Good for Cold in the Head, Headache, Dizziness, Hay Fever, &c. Fifty cents. By all Druggists, or by mail.
E. T. HAZELTINE, Warren, Pa.

CONSUMPTION.

I have a positive remedy for the above disease; by its use thousands of cases of the worst kind and of long standing have been cured. Indeed, so strong is my faith in its efficacy, that I will send TWO BOTTLES FREE, together with a VALUABLE TREATISE on this disease, to any sufferer. Give Express and P. O. address.
DR. T. A. SLOCUM, 181 Pearl St., New York.

AGENTS WANTED EVERYWHERE to sell the best Family Knitting Machine ever invented. Will knit a pair of stockings with HEEL and TOE complete in twenty minutes. It will also knit a great variety of fancy-work for which there is always a ready market. Send for circular and terms to the Twombly Knitting Machine Co., 163 Tremont Street, Boston, Mass.

PILES "Anakesis" gives instant relief, and is an infallible cure for Piles. Price $1 from druggists, or sent prepaid by mail. Samples free. Ad. "ANAKESIS," Makers, Box 2416, New York.

DYKE'S BEARD ELIXIR — Before / After. Forces luxuriant Mustache, Whiskers, or hair of bald heads to grow in 20 to 30 days. No injury. Easily used. Beats the world. 3 or 3 Pkgs. does the work. Will prove it or forfeit $100.00. Price per Package with directions sealed and postpaid 25 cents, 3 for 50 cts., stamps or silver. L. L. SMITH & CO., Agents, Palatine, Ill.

"THE BEST IS THE CHEAPEST."
SAW MILLS, ENGINES, THRESHERS, Horse Powers,
(For all sections and purposes.) Write for Free Pamphlet and Prices to The Aultman & Taylor Co., Mansfield, Ohio.

Lady Agents can secure permanent employment and good salary selling Queen City Skirt and Stocking Supporters, etc. Sample outfit Free. Address Queen City Suspender Co., Cincinnati, O.

$20 FOR 25 CENTS. RECIPES FOR PRESERVING Fruit, Cider, Meats, Milk, Eggs and Vegetables in their natural state. Big thing for Agent. Address Box 118, LOWELL, IND.

WANTED—Men and Women to start a new business at their homes, easily learned in an hour. No peddling; 10c to 50c an hour made daytime or evening. Send 10c for 20 samples to commence work on. Address H. G. FAY, Rutland, Vermont.

PATENTS promptly procured in all countries. American Patent Agency, 183 Fifth Street, Cincinnati, Ohio.

PENSIONS speedily procured; delayed cases completed. Lost Horse Claims collected. No advance fee. Experience 18 years. Write for circular. References. A. W. McCormick, 59 Pike's B'g, Cincinnati, O.

$250 A MONTH. Agents Wanted. 90 best selling articles in the world. 1 sample FREE. Address JAY BRONSON, Detroit, Mich.

Young Men learn Telegraphy here and we will give you a situation. Circulars free. VALENTINE BROS., Janesville, Wis.

OPIUM and WHISKY HABITS cured at home without pain. Book of particulars sent free. B. M. WOOLLEY, M.D., Atlanta, Ga.

$65 A MONTH and BOARD for three live Young Men or Ladies, in each county. Address P. W. ZIEGLER & CO., Philadelphia.

FOR LADIES USE.—The grandest article. Send stamp for illustrated circular. Dr. H. G. FARR, 75 Essex Street, Boston, Mass.

SILKS. 40 Pcs., 3 in. square, ass'ted Colors, 50 cts. SILK M'F'G CO., Chicopee, Mass.

Q.P. For corns, bunions, chilblains, sores, etc. Send 10 cents for box to J. F. HOWE, Mentone, Ind.

SURE CURE for Epilepsy, Fits or Spasms. FREE TO POOR. Dr. Kruse Med. Co., 2322 Hickory st., St. Louis, Mo.

Indulgence and Excesses.

Whether over-eating or drinking are made harmless by using Hop Bitters freely, giving elegant appetite and enjoyment by using them before and removing all dullness, pains and distress afterwards, leaving the head clear, nerves steady, and all the feelings buoyant, elastic and more happy than before. The pleasing effects of a Christian or sumptuous dinner continuing days afterwards.

Eminent Testimony.

[N. Y. Witness, Aug. 15, 1880.]

"I find that in addition to the pure spirits contained in their composition, they contain the extracts of hops and other well-known and highly approved medicinal roots, leaves and tinctures in quantities sufficient to render the article what the makers claim it to be, to wit, a medicinal preparation and not a beverage—unfit and unsafe to be used except as a medicine.

"From a careful analysis of their formula—which was attested under oath—I find that in every wine-glassful of Hop Bitters, the active medicinal properties aside from the distilled spirits are equal to a full dose for an adult, which fact, in my opinion, subjects it to an internal revenue tax as a medicinal bitter."
Green B. Raum, U. S. Com. In. Rev.

Hardened Liver.

Five years ago I broke down with kidney and liver complaint and rheumatism. Since then I have been unable to be about at all. My liver became hard like wood; my limbs were puffed up and filled with water. All the best physicians agreed that nothing could cure me. I resolved to try Hop Bitters; I have used seven bottles; the hardness has all gone from my liver, the swelling from my limbs, and it has worked a miracle in my case; otherwise I would have been now in my grave.
J. W. Morey, Buffalo, Oct. 1, '81.

Poverty and Suffering.

"I was dragged down with debt, poverty and suffering for years, caused by a sick family and large bills for doctoring. I was completely discouraged, until one year ago, by the advice of my pastor, I commenced using Hop Bitters, and in one month we were all well, and none of us have seen a sick day since, and I want to say to all poor men, you can keep your families well a year with Hop Bitters for less than one doctor's visit will cost; I know it."
A Workingman.

FOR TWENTY YEARS.

An Important Opinion by an Eminent New York Jurist.

A correspondent of the Syracuse (N. Y.) Journal sends his paper an interesting interview with one of the leading Justices of the Supreme Court of the State of New York, from which we quote:

"Yes, sir; I have been on the bench for twenty years, and have never missed an appointment through physical debilities.

"In the spring of the year I make it an invariable rule to help nature 'clean house' by using a standard blood purifier, and to this I attribute my extraordinary vigor. I am nearly seventy years old."

This man is a philosopher as well as a jurist. The early spring is nature's "house cleaning" time. Then the blood is full of the impurities of the long winter. Nature needs assistance in this work, for if the purification be not complete, the system is liable to attacks of pneumonia, chills and fever, malaria, rheumatism, liver and kidney and blood disorders, headaches, bowel derangements, and the debilitating effects of summer heat. The use of a pure vegetable, non-alcoholic preparation is then all-important.

"No, I should not like my name to be used publicly, but you may say," said the jurist, "that the only medicine I use is Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, of Rondout, N. Y.—a most excellent preparation, which I always warmly commend to my friends everywhere." The Favorite Remedy has been twenty years in use, and it is said that it is pleasant to take, cures in ninety per cent of cases, and can harm no one. It challenges the fullest comparison as a preventive and curative. It is purely vegetable, non-alcoholic, and can be used with the utmost safety by children and adults. We do not wonder that it has the cordial indorsement of the best physicians and the public.

KIDNEY-WORT

THE SURE CURE FOR KIDNEY DISEASES,
LIVER COMPLAINTS,
CONSTIPATION, PILES,
AND BLOOD DISEASES.

PHYSICIANS ENDORSE IT HEARTILY.

"Kidney-Wort is the most successful remedy I ever used." Dr. P. C. Ballou, Monkton, Vt.
"Kidney-Wort is always reliable." Dr. R. N. Clark, So. Hero, Vt.
"Kidney-Wort has cured my wife after two years suffering." Dr. C. M. Summerlin, Sun Hill, Ga.

IN THOUSANDS OF CASES

it has cured where all else had failed. It is mild, but efficient, CERTAIN IN ITS ACTION, but harmless in all cases.

It cleanses the Blood and Strengthens and gives New Life to all the important organs of the body. The natural action of the Kidneys is restored. The Liver is cleansed of all disease, and the Bowels move freely and healthfully. In this way the worst diseases are eradicated from the system.

PRICE, $1.00 LIQUID OR DRY, SOLD BY DRUGGISTS. Dry can be sent by mail.
WELLS, RICHARDSON & CO. Burlington Vt.

KIDNEY-WORT

SAMARITAN NEVER FAILS. NERVINE IS UNFAILING AND INFALLIBLE IN CURING Epileptic Fits, Spasms, Falling Sickness, Convulsions, St. Vitus Dance, Alcoholism, Opium Eating, Scrofula, and all Nervous and Blood Diseases.

To Clergymen, Lawyers, Literary Men, Merchants, Bankers, Ladies and all whose sedentary employment causes Nervous Prostration, Irregularities of the blood, stomach, bowels or Kidneys, or who require a nerve tonic, appetizer or stimulant, Samaritan Nervine is invaluable.

Thousands proclaim it the most wonderful invigorant that ever sustained a sinking system. $1.50 per bottle. The DR. S. A. RICHMOND MEDICAL CO., Sole Proprietors, St. Joseph, Mo. THE GREAT NERVE CONQUEROR.

Sold by all Druggists. (18)

LORD, STOUTENBURG & CO., Agents, Chicago, Ill.

CANCER

The experience in the treatment of Cancer with Swift's Specific (S. S. S) would seem to warrant us in saying that it will cure this much dreaded scourge. Persons so afflicted are invited to correspond with us.

I believe Swift's Specific has saved my life. I had virtually lost use of the upper part of my body and my arms from the poisonous effects of a large cancer on my neck, from which I had suffered for twenty years. S. S. S. has relieved me of all soreness, and the poison is being forced out of my system. I will soon be well.
W. R. Robison, Davisboro, Ga.

Two months ago my attention was called to the case of a woman afflicted with a cancer on her shoulder at least five inches in circumference, angry, painful, and giving the patient no rest day or night for six months. I obtained a supply of Swift's Specific for her. She has taken five bottles, and the ulcer is entirely healed up, only a very small scab remaining, and her health is better than for five years past; seems to be perfectly cured. Rev. Jesse H. Campbell, Columbus, Ga.

Treatise on Blood and Skin Diseases mailed free.

THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., Drawer 3, Atlanta, Ga.
New York Office, 159 West 23d St., bet. 6th and 7th Ave.

HAIR Wholesale and retail. Send for price-list. Goods sent C. O. D. Wigs made to order. E. BURNHAM, 71 State Street, Chicago.

Good Pay for Agents. $100 to $200 per mo. made selling our fine Books & Bibles. Write to J. C. McCurdy & Co., Cincinnati, O.

FREE By return mail. Full Description Moody's New Tailor System of Dress Cutting. MOODY & CO., Cincinnati, O.

A. N. K.—E. 965

WHEN WRITING TO ADVERTISERS please say you saw the advertisement in this paper.

BOONE COUNTY RECORDER.

VOLUME IX. | BURLINGTON, KY., WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 20, 1884. | NUMBER 16.

LOVE'S DESPAIR.

Burial of Miss Jennie Almey, the Suicide

Who Shot Her Lover and Then Herself, at an Elevated Railroad Station.

NEW YORK, February 15.—Funeral services were held this morning over the remains of Miss Jenny H. Almey, at the Little Church Around the Corner. A few days ago she shot Victor C. Andre, at a station on the elevated railroad, and then raised the pistol to her right temple and fired another shot, sending a bullet into her brain. She fell dead. She had not spoken, and the shots were fired so rapidly that no one had time to interfere. Her victim was taken to the hospital, where he lies hovering between life and death. He was some better this morning, and some hopes are entertained for his recovery. Andre was reticent with regard to the cause of the tragedy. Captain Gunner went to the house of Mr. Bechtel, and in Andre's room he found some letters, evidently written by the woman. He refused to let other persons see the letters, although they revealed the identity of the woman and explained the shooting. She was a school teacher, age twenty-four, and she had been boarding at 111 East Twenty-ninth street. She formerly lived at No. 26 East Twenty-second street, and had become acquainted with Andre there. They had become engaged to be married, but the letter showed that Andre had broken the engagement; had endeavored to induce the woman to give him up. Captain Gunner was not able to get much more information about the young woman. He learned that she was an orphan and had two sisters living.

Egypt.

SAUKIM, February 15.—The principal Chiefs of the neutral tribes met at the Well of Handouk, situated three hours' distance from Saukim, and decided to request Osman Digna, leader of the rebel forces, to respect their territory, or they would march against him. The rebels have invested Kassala. Tents for one thousand men have been sent from Aden to Saukim.

CAIRO, February 15.—Nubar Pasha, Prime Minister, has received the following telegram from General Gordon. "I am sending down the river many women and children from Koroske. Send some kind-hearted European to meet them. England has refused General Sir Evelyn Wood's proposal to sanction the co-operation of the Egyptian Army in the relief of Tokar for the reason that this army was raised for the defense of Egypt outside of the Soudan. England approves however, the dispatch of an Egyptian battalion, furnished with English officers to the Soudan, if this proves necessary. An expedition for the relief of Tokar has started for Suez. The last transport leaves Suez Monday, carrying General Graham, supreme Commander of the expedition.

Internal Revenue Taxes.

WASHINGTON, February 15.—A bill has been introduced in the House of Representatives which provides for an amendment to section 3,243 of the revised Statutes so as to read as follows:

"While any payment of any tax imposed by the Internal Revenue laws for carrying on any trade or business shall not prohibit any State from placing a duty or tax on the same trade or business for State, county or municipal purposes, said duty, or tax, or any law or regulation to collect the same, shall not be of a prohibitory character except in individual cases where the public interests of the citizens, on account of the bad character of such tax-payer, or the bad manner of carrying on such trade or business, or a refusal or neglect to pay such duty or tax, or unwillingness to conform to police regulations customary for guarding such traders or business may require it."

Frank James in Alabama.

HUNTSVILLE, ALA., February 15.—The arrival of Frank James has been the leading topic of discussion for two days. Hundreds of applications have been made for passes to the jail, but all were refused. James occupies a cell by himself. The indictment under which he is to be tried is the same on which Dick Liddell was convicted, charging in substance that Jesse and Frank James, Thomas Hill, alias William Ryan, Dick Liddell and others, conspired to rob and defraud the United States. The indictment was filed in open Court, October 20, 1882. Liddell was convicted in November, 1882. The case against James is said to be very strong, but a great deal depends whether Paymaster Smith will identify him. Ryan is now serving a twenty years' sentence.

Parricide in Minnesota.

WASHINGTON, MINN., February 15.—The mystery surrounding the death of Martin Riley, a farmer near Adrain, whose dead body was found in a hay-stack in February, has been cleared up by the confession of Riley's thirteen-year-old daughter, who declares William, a sixteen-year-old son of deceased, committed the crime in retaliation for punishment inflicted by his father. The boy has fled.

Y. M. C. A.

DAYTON, OHIO, February 15.—The Ohio State Y. M. C. A. Convention elected the following officers to-day: President, Amasa Pratt, Columbus; Vice-Presidents, H. A. Sherwin, Cleveland, Major H. P. Loyd, Cincinnati, and John Dodds, Dayton; Secretary, F. S. Goodman, Toledo; Assistant Secretary, F. H. Young, of Dennison University.

Queen's Book.

LONDON, February 14.—Ten thousand copies of the first edition of the Queen's diary were sold on the first day. A second edition will be ready by the end of the month.

Gas Explosion.

NEW CASTLE, PA., February 15.—A chandelier in the residence of Sewall Fulkerson fell during the night after the family had retired. Fulkerson struck a match early this morning, and a terrible explosion followed, shattering the glass, tearing doors off their hinges and burning Fulkerson badly.

Molders' Strike Averted.

PITTSBURG, February 13.—The 10 per cent. reduction ordered in the wages of machine moulders of this city some time ago has been withdrawn, and the threatened strike averted.

Greely Relief Ship.

NEW YORK, February 14.—The sailing steamer Bear, recently purchased by the Government, to be sent on the Greely relief expedition, arrived to-day. She was purchased of W. Grieve, Son & Co., of St. Johns, for $100,000, and is said to be one of the strongest vessels of the sealing fleet of the Arctic. She is a three-masted vessel, barkentine rig, and is divided into two compartments. Her dimensions are: Length 193 feet, breadth of beam 29¾ feet, depth of hold 19 feet, gross tonnage 689 tons, net tonnage 468 tons. She was built at Dundee, Scotland, in 1874, and has compound engines, with cylinders of twenty-five and fifty inches diameter respectively, and thirty inches stroke. She is built of hard wood and sheathed from the keel to above the water line with green heart, a wood obtained in Demerara, South America. It is considered the hardest wood in the world. The forward part of the vessel, for about fifteen feet, is built up of solid timbers. The stem is broad, so that the tendency will be to run upon the ice, rather than split it. There are also thwart ship braces of stout timber to strengthen the sides of the vessel. The propeller is of composite metal with two blades, and can be raised at any time for repairs. The Bear will be taken to the navy-yard to be fitted out and have an additional sheathing of iron on the bows.

Purchasers of Patented Articles.

WASHINGTON, February 15.—An important bill to the farmers of the country, introduced to-day by Senator Voorhees, is one to protect innocent purchasers of patented articles. It provides that it shall be a valid defense to any action for an infringement of any patent, or any suit or proceedings to enjoin any person from the use of a patented article, that the defendant therein, or his assignor, purchased the patented articles for use or consumption, and not for sale or exchange, in good faith and in the usual course of trade, without notice that the same was covered by a patent, or without notice that the seller had no right to sell such article, and in all such cases notice received after such purchase shall not have the effect to impair in any way the right of such purchaser as absolute owner. The object of the bill more directly is to protect the purchases of the barbed-wire fence and the driven well. The owners of these patents, it is charged, have exacted royalty from innocent purchasers, and hundred of farmers have acceded to such exactions rather than worry over a lawsuit.

A Terrible Shock.

CINCINNATI, O., February 14.—Mr. D. U. Murray, a gentleman well-known in business circles here, was passing along College street a few evenings since. He essayed to brush aside with his left hand what appeared to be a small rope dangling down in front him. But the "small rope" happened to be the wire of the electric light in use at the entrance of the Atlantic Garden, with a 250 or 300 horse power, which had been left carelessly hanging by employes of the Brush Company who were repairing the lamp. Mr. Murray received a most severe shock, that threw him to the ground, doubling him up like a jack-knife. Hearing his outcry, friends hurried to his assistance, and the gentleman was found to be insensible. On his recovery it was discovered that his hand was severely injured, the flesh being burnt through to the bone in one place. He was taken to Weatherhead's drug store, where his wounds were dressed.

The Eastern Trouble.

LONDON, February 13.—A Times dispatch from Hai-phong states that General Millot, commander of the French forces in Tonquin, would attack Bac-ninh yesterday.

PARIS, February 13.—It is asserted that the Court of Hue punished the Mandarins who permitted the massacre of Anamite Christians in the provinces of Phanhoa and Nguien. La Patrie says over fifty Christians were massacred in the neighborhood of Hue, and the mission houses demolished. Bands of men in the pay of Mandarins of Nguien and Vaatoung are pillaging and murdering, and crying, "Death to Christians." The Vicarate of Eastern Cochin China is endangered. Christians in the vicinity of Touran are fleeing to Puinholn, hoping to find French there.

Jumping Into Eternity.

WILKSBARRE, PA., February 13.—Thomas Shea, of Manticoke, at one time worth considerable but who was reduced to penury through grave-yard insurance speculation, to-night walked out on a tresling forty feet high, and getting upon the safety railing, cried out to two boys who ran toward him to "Look out! I am going to jump square into eternity," leaped to the ground below with a wild, demoniacal cry. When picked up he was badly bruised and many bones were broken, besides serious internal injuries, which will prove fatal.

Death of a Retired Army Officer.

DETROIT, MICH., February 15.—Colonel Henry C. Pratt, of the United States army, on the retired list, died in this city, where he has lived for several years past. He graduated at West Point in 1837, served in the Florida and Mexican Wars with distinction, and through the War of the Rebellion as paymaster. He had seen besides a large amount of post and frontier service.

Colonel Frank James.

MEMPHIS, TENN., February 13.—Frank James, in custody of Deputy Marshals R. M. Elliott and Owen F. McGee, arrived from Kansas City at 6 p. m. and left on the midnight train on the Memphis and Charleston Railroad for Huntsville, Ala., where he is to be tried for complicity in the Muscle Shoals robbery.

Barbara's Valentine.

PHILADELPHIA, February 13.—Barbara Miuar, colored, was shot fatally by Louisa Powell, also colored. Each received a comic valentine and each accused the other of being the sender.

Execution in Louisiana.

PLAQUEMINE, LA., February 15.—Thos. Benton, colored, was hanged to-day in presence of two thousand people, for the murder of Robert Duggan, July 8, 1883. When the drop fell a moan ran through the crowd, and women shrieked and some fainted.

The Record of Disaster.

NEW YORK, February 15.—Business failures last week reported to R. G. Dun & Co.: United States, 246: Canada, 52: as against 278 the previous week.

SURPRISING STORY,

Told by an Enterprising New York Burglar,

Who Has Been Working That City—More Than One Hundred Houses Entered in the Last Six Months.

NEW YORK, February 17.—The police are astounded by the revelations that have followed the arrest of James Stanton, an amateur burglar, who was caught pawning $3,000 worth of stolen silver yesterday. Stanton was totally unknown to the police, and is equally a stranger to the regular criminals of this and other cities. He is only twenty years old. He tells this surprising story of his operations: "Not knowing any crooked people, I had to lay out my work for myself. I picked up a lot of keys, a skeleton or so, and a couple of files. I always had a knack at working in metal, and filing keys into shape came naturally. I would start out early in the morning with a bundle of papers under my arm, as if I was a newsman, go into a basement areaway, and there try my keys until I found one that would open the lock. I would mark that house for operations that night. If the key marked worked hard, or would not quite go, but from marks on the wax indicated that it could be made to fit, I filed it down and tried it next morning. I made it a rule never to enter a house before two o'clock in the morning, and then I always entered by the basement. I never went up stairs into the sleeping apartment. I carried tapers, and by their light was able to select real silver, small articles of value, and property that could be carried easily. Wearing apparel or valises were safe to carry, for I never operated more than two blocks away from Broadway, and if I could get back to Broadway I was safe from being molested, for policemen don't stop people who boldly carry coats or valises on Broadway. It was in July last that I began, and every night since than I have been out on business; at least three nights in the week I entered a house. I got into more than one hundred in six months, and was never disturbed once. I never carried a revolver, or other weapon. I never saw any burglars tools. It occurred to me that it would be a good plan to rob the same house twice or three times, because neither the people nor the police would expect it. I don't drink or use tobacco, but I am fond of the theaters and had a front seat in the orchestra every first night. In fact, I put in my time until midnight at the theaters. I hid the stuff stolen in the coal-cellar of some rich man's house. I managed it so that I could not have been convicted had not the pawn tickets fallen into your hands."

The Situation in Egypt.

CAIRO, February 17.—Scouts who were sent from Trinkitat toward Tokar report that Osman Digma, the rebel leader, is massing men near the defile, closing the road from the coast, at the spot where he defeated Tahir Pasha and Colonel Moncrief. It is supposed that Osman Digma's plan is that if he fails to reduce Tokar before the arrival of the English troops to give battle at the defile. Shaik Morghani and Colonel Massagdaha, sent from Suakim to stir up the tribes in the vicinity, report that they only succeeded in securing a promise of neutrality from the chiefs.

CAIRO, February 17.—Admiral Hewett is advancing his lines four miles outside of the Suakim zone. His trenches are within range of the English fleet and forts. Tokar is hotly pressed by rebels, who have turned against the town Krupp guns captured from the Egyptians. The Hussars have started for Suakim.

CONSTANTINOPLE, February 17.—The Porte will send 10,000 men to Jiddah, Arabia, to be in readiness for service in the Soudan if needed.

SUAKIM, February 17.—11 P. M.—The enemy is mustering for an attack. Three thousand of Baker Pasha's troops are ready to fall in, but nobody trusts them. Steady blacks man the redoubts.

The Flood in the Ohio.

CINCINNATI, O., February 18.—As the flood goes down the spirit of business ascends, and soon Cincinnati will assume her usual appearance and resume business throughout the bottoms. All day yesterday the waters were subsiding at the rate of an inch and a half per hour, and Pearl street is again open to the public. Along the entire city front a busy army of sweepers follow the water as it goes out, compelling it to carry along the refuse and sediment that have been deposited in storehouses and on the street. The rain of yesterday was very discouraging and gave every one an unpleasant scare. The river at this point, however, continued to fall steadily. Dispatches from all points above bear the same gladdening news. It is confidently hoped that the great and unprecedented flood of 1884 will soon be a thing of the past.

Prostrated in the Pulpit.

MILLWOOD, ILL., February 17.—Just as the Rev. Mr. Jones, of the South M. E. Church, of this place, gave out the text this evening he dropped, apparently dead, in the pulpit, but recovered sufficiently to be removed to his house. Heart disease and overwork are given as the cause. The reverend gentleman has been holding a series of meetings at this place. His recovery is doubtful.

Assassins After Humbert.

ROME, February 17.—Between Montalto and Cornato four men fired at the carbineer guarding the King's train. The carbineer fired at the men, wounding one. He also made harmless a bottle of gunpowder, with a lighted fuse attached, that was thrown aboard the train.

—A tramp recently accosted a Mrs. Cook, of South Norwalk, Va., and asked for food. She had none for him. The tramp pulled out a pistol and informed her that if there wasn't something wrong with the trigger he would blow her brains out. The lady turned around, picked up her husband's rifle, told the tramp there was nothing the matter with the trigger of that, and requested him to "git." He got.—Chicago Times.

—The census of Boston shows 18,000 more women than men.

THE OHIO FLOOD.

Great Destruction of Property in the Valley.

The River Falling Slowly—Terrible Calamity at Cincinnati—The Work of Charity Still Being Energetically Carried On.

PITTSBURG, PENN., February 15.—The press and citizens' relief boat, which left this city last night, departed from Phillisee Island, thirty-six miles down the river, at six o'clock this morning. The stream has fallen so much that the yellow banks and the orchard trees with their tops full of debris seem to be high up on land. At New Cumberland a momentary stop was made. One hundred and fourteen families had their houses washed away, but a local committee is doing good work, and there was not much pressing need of help. Just below Wellsburg, on the Ohio Shore, the current must have been terrible. Trees were torn up and left on house-tops, and picket fence sections seem to be the only fruit of the apple-trees. An isolated colony in the bend of the river, five miles from Wellsville, was hailed, and asked if supplies were needed, but a negative reply was received. At Warren, Jefferson County, Ohio, seven miles from Wellsville, there was a fearful amount of destitution. Thirteen houses were entirely washed aways, and dozens of families had not a single article of value left. A considerable quantity of all sorts of supplies were distributed by the committee, who went among the houses, and then left the general relief to the local committee in charge. At Burlington, just above Wheeling, twenty families are without shelter. They will be left to the government boat. The destruction of property between Wheeling and Moundsville is fearful—much greater in fact than at any other place above. The tracks and roadbed of the Ohio River Railroad have almost entirely disappeared, while the bridges have all been swept away. Great destruction prevails at Moundsville and Berwood. At the latter point nearly 2,000 out of a population of 2,500 are in absolute want. Liberal donations were given by the boat, and the arrival of relief occasioned the wildest excitement and joy in the town.

IRONTON, O., February 15.—Ironton has been shut off from mail and telegraphic communication since Thursday of last week. The floods covered four-fifths of the city. There is great suffering and desolation. Many houses were swept away, and scores moved from their foundations and overturned. Provisions have almost given out. There is no fresh meat, and bread is not to be had. Crackers and bacon are the luxuries of life. The Relief Committee is doing all in its power. No outside aid was received until to-day, when two car-loads are being transferred from beyond the water line, some three miles back on the Toledo, Cincinnati and St. Louis. We have had to depend on our own resources, which are about exhausted. The police and military are assisting local Relief Committees in their arduous work. Only one life is lost thus far. Wild and exciting rumors have been afloat during the suspension of communication, and our people began to feel as if the waters would never cease rising. Unless our local committees are succored by outside aid there must be a great deal of suffering yet. It is impossible to estimate the damage, but it is immense. The river has fallen about six feet.

ASHLAND, KY., February 15.—The river has fallen about six feet, and is receding slowly. Weather cold and freezing hard. The Post-office has been moved back to its old quarters, and business houses cleaned out and business resumed again. Supplies of various kinds for the relief of the suffering towns in the vicinity have been coming in promptly, making this a distributing point, from which large quantities are daily sent both up and down the river. The destitute of Catlettsburg, Hanging Rock, Greenup and Ironton are being well taken care of. The people of Ashland are in good shape, comparatively speaking. Hundreds are daily being fed at the Public School buildings by the Relief Committee here. Many have returned to their homes already, while Catlettsburg, Ironton, Hanging Rock and Greenup will continue to require the assistance which is being daily given them for some time to come, as many have lost all they had, some even their houses with everything they contained. The Western Union Telegraph office was reopened here to-day, but they have no communication except with Ironton, their lines being badly wrecked the greater part of the way between Huntington and Portsmouth, a distance of forty-five miles.

EVANSVILLE, IND., February 15.—The river at 10 p. m. was 47 feet 2½ inches, and rising nearly one-quarter of an inch an hour, and lacks 7 inches of the high-water mark of last year. The relief tug Isabella left here at 9 a. m., went down the river twenty miles, and found only three families in actual need of assistance. One man found sick was brought here and put in the hospital. Twenty-six persons were brought here from submerged houses. To-morrow the committee goes to Newburg and Enterprise, where over 250 people from Kentucky are taking refuge in Newburg, and in pressing need of assistance. Our committee will take them supplies until they can procure other supplies. One hundred and sixty families in and around Grand View, fifty-eight miles from here, are homeless and suffering for food and fuel. A committee from Newburg arrived here to-night asking for assistance. They telegraphed the facts to Secretary Lincoln and Governor Knott to-night. The weather is moderating. The high-water mark of 1883 will be reached to-morrow evening.

CLEVELAND, O., February 15.—Four thousand dollars was subscribed to-day for the benefit of the flood sufferers, which swells the total cash subscriptions in this city to $15,000. Besides this, different business firms in the city are making liberal donations of clothing, blankets and provisions. The people from outside towns are beginning to send in also. A lady, who would not give her name, came into the supply department to-day and left a handsome sealskin cloak, to be sent or sold for the benefit of the hungry and naked. The officers and employes in the general offices of the Bee Line and Lake Shore sent in $300 in cash to-day as their contribution. Three and a half car-loads of blankets, clothing and provisions were shipped to-day, two to Portsmouth and the other to Gallipolis, and the balance to other points. Another big shipment will be made to-morrow.

BLOOMINGTON, IND., February 15.—A large amount of provisions was sent to New Albany and Jeffersonville to-day for the flood sufferers. About $1,000 in cash has also been raised, and will be forwarded as called for.

DAYTON, KY., February 15.—Mr. Kellon, Chairman of the Relief Committee, reports four hundred houses under water, and seven hundred people are obtaining relief from the Relief Committee every day, and the demand is gradually growing. It will require an expenditure of $75,000 to replace the property that has been damaged by the flood, and probably more. The demand for coal in the past two days has caused a big drain on the Relief Committee funds, and they were not prepared to meet it. A barge of coal will be purchased for the place as soon as possible, and will be distributed. The Relief Committee is working faithfully to prevent a famine in fuel or coal, but is somewhat discouraged by the slow manner in which people respond.

CINCINNATI, O., February 16.—The water is gradually subsiding at nearly the same rate as it rose, and a great feeling of relief has been experienced by every one. As the flood abates the great suffering and the damage it has caused becomes more apparent. It is feared that the strong current of the out-going flood may cause many buildings to topple. A serious calamity occurred yesterday morning, when a row of buildings at the corner of Pearl and Ludlow streets, crashed down and buried the inmates beneath the debris. An alarm was turned in and the fire department responded, and worked heroically to rescue the unfortunates under the ruins, and succeeded in getting out a number. The dead, as reported by the rescued residents of the houses are: John W. Kyle, Maud Ellis, Mary E. Colter, James Ogden, Bernhardt Woehnker, Mrs. B. Woehnker, Thos. Burke, Mrs. Thos. Burke, Thos. Burke's two children. The buildings were all three-story bricks. The corner two, numbered 127 and 129 East Pearl, were occupied by John H. Oester, who had a saloon and restaurant on the first floor and kept boarders above. The first floor had been abandoned on account of the high water, and Oester and his family were on the floor above. All day yesterday thousands of people crowded Third and Ludlow streets, anxious to get a glimpse of the scene of the terrible disaster. A large force of men with skiffs were busily engaged in taking out the household effects of the occupants, and although nearly all the dead bodies were visible, but three were taken out of the ruins up to three o'clock yesterday afternoon. The others could not be removed on account of being partially covered with the debris. Those found were Mr. and Mrs. Bernhardt Woehnker, who resided in the building No. 127, and Maud Ellis, a domestic employed by the Kyles in the house adjoining—No. 125. The former were found together in bed, and were evidently smothered to death, as their bodies were not in the least disfigured. Mr. Woehnker was suffering terribly with rheumatism, and when the crash came he was unable to move. Shortly after ten o'clock last night the Central avenue front fell out of the large four-story building on the north-west corner of Central avenue and Second street. The middle section of the wall fell outward into the street, and carried with it the floors four rooms back. There was no one in the building at the time, although Jim Boland, the watchman, had a narrow escape, he having left the place not five minutes before. Only a few days ago Mrs. Elizabeth Botts and George Hammond, who were washed out by the flood, stored their furniture in the place, nearly all of which went down in the ruin. The rear portion of No. 45 Public Landing fell in last night. Two women and a child were rescued. Councilman Reynolds refused to leave. "Andy's" saloon, at the northwest corner of Second and Sycamore, is momentarily expected to fall down. A business house on the south side of Pearl, between Main and Sycamore, is in imminent danger of caving. New cracks are showing themselves in the Broadway Hotel, and the situation is becoming more serious hourly.

NEWPORT, KY., February 16.—As the waters recede preparations are being made by those whose houses are nearest to the high water mark for the cleaning out of their dwellings, and for repairing things generally. Already parties can be seen, armed with hoes, brooms, hammers, etc., ready to commence work. The wants of 15,000 people were supplied yesterday at the soup-house. There were distributed among the needy from this establishment 10,000 loaves of bread, 2,200 pounds of meat, 1,800 gallons of soup, and 1,200 gallons of coffee. There are seventy-two persons being taken care of in the basement of the St. Paul P. E. Church by the Ladies' Sewing Society and the Ladies' Relief Union. Most of these are people who were driven even from the second story of their dwellings by the encroachments of the flood. They appear to be well satisfied. Two sewing machines are kept constantly running by some of the women who have sought shelter, while others do hand sewing in the making up of flannel garments and dresses, not only for themselves, but for others. A little six-year-old girl called at the Light Company's office yesterday and handed to Mr. Hawthorne a toy bank, saying: "There, Mr. Hawthorne, is some money I saved up. I guess the poor people who have no homes need it more than I do." Her savings amounted to forty cents. Mrs. John B. Taylor has caused the furniture of ten different households to be stored away in her elegant mansion. The lady very thoughtfully sent word to families as she noticed the water coming that if they desired they could store their furniture in her house until after the water subsides.

SHAWNEETOWN, ILL., February 15.—8 A. M.—The river rose six inches during the past twelve hours. The telegraph office is invaded and communication was cut off several hours. The instruments were removed to the second-story of a neighboring building, and no trouble in future is expected, unless the poles are washed away and the wires break between here and the high lands. One house was carried away from its foundation this morning and floated off. Several foundations have given way, and houses are leaning and likely to give way any moment. Should a wind arise, great destruction in this direction is inevitable. 9 p. m.—There is increasing distress on the hills back of town where many citizens are encamped. The colony is well provisioned, but fuel is scarce, and there are several cases of serious sickness. No formal appeal for aid has yet been made, but much assistance will be needed. Several families who intended to remain during the flood are preparing to leave. Business is entirely suspended and will remain so for several days. The situation at Uniontown grows more serious hourly. Many inhabitants have deserted their houses and gone to places of safety. Those who remain are living in second stories. The same is true of Caseyville, Weston, Cave-in-Rock and two or three points below here. An effort was made to reach John Boyd's pork-house, in which a dozen or more families have taken refuge, but it lies just north of the north levee, over which the current is so swift that oarsmen were unable to stem its force. The pork-house is strongly built, but its position is perilous, and communication with the outside dangerous.

PORTSMOUTH, O., February 15.—The river is receding 1½ inches per hour. Second and Sixth streets and a few other spots are peeping out of water. Two groceries and a meat shop emerged from the flood to-day and resumed business. Flags are floating from several buildings. Arrangements have been made for the transportation of mails. The papers come in two days late, and are eagerly sought after. The number of families fed by the Relief Committee is on the increase. A depot of relief has been established by a committee in Springville, Ky., where there is much suffering. Another depot has been established on the bluff north of the city, where a thousand refugees are domiciled in and about the cemetery. The Relief Committee are laboring to supply the destitute people with coal and clothing.

FRANKFORT, KY., February 14.—Representative Cleary, of Covington, offered a resolution in the House to-day, which was passed, appropriating the additional sum of $75,000 out of the State Treasury, for the purchase of provisions, fuel and other necessaries for the flood sufferers. At a special meeting of the Frankfort City Council to-day, $700 was appropriated for the sufferers at Newport, Covington, Catlettsburg, Ashland, Maysville, Carrollton and Milton.

XLVIIIth CONGRESS.

First Session.

WASHINGTON, February 12.—SENATE—Bills introduced and referred. To suspend the coinage of the standard silver dollar until January 1, 1886. Prohibiting assessments for political purposes by Government officials and employes. The Senate bill authorizing the construction of a building for the accommodation of the Congressional Library was taken up, and after a debate passed. The Senate took up a bill for the relief of the State National Bank of Louisiana. Pending the debate, the Senate went into executive session and then adjourned.

HOUSE.—Bills reported: For the retirement and recoinage of trade dollars. Referred to the Committee of the Whole. To authorize the extension of the Chesapeake & Ohio Railroad to a point on the military lands of Fortress Monroe. Placed on the House calendar. To provide for the construction of the Michigan and Mississippi River Canal. Referred to the Committee of the Whole. To aid Temporarily in the support of common schools. Ordered printed and recommitted. To establish and maintain a Department of Labor Statistics. Referred to committee of the whole. A bill was reported for the erection of a public building at Carson City.

The House went into committee of the whole on the Naval Appropriation Bill. After debate without action, the committee rose. Mr. Lacey introduced a bill for the survey of a water route, to connect the waters of Lake Michigan and Detroit River. Referred. The House adjourned.

WASHINGTON, February 13.—SENATE—A bill was introduced granting condemned cannon to be used in the construction of a statue to the memory of General Wm. H. Lytle, of Ohio. The Senate then took up the special order for the day, Mr. McPherson's bill, reported by Mr. Bayard from the Committee on Finance, to provide for the issue of circulating notes to National banking associations, and Mr. Bayard addressed the Senate in favor of the bill. Mr. Sherman offered an amendment, providing that if any bonds deposited should bear a rate of annual interest higher than three per cent. additional circulating notes should be issued equal in amount to one-half the interest accruing on such bonds before their maturity, in excess of three per cent. per annum, such amount to be ascertained and stated by the Comptroller of the Currency on the first of July each year hereafter. The Senate went into executive session, and soon after adjourned.

HOUSE.—Mr. Warner offered a resolution directing the committee to inquire why the joint resolution passed Monday, for the relief of sufferers by the Ohio floods, was not sent to the Senate for the signature of the presiding officer until late yesterday afternoon. He desired to know why so much valuable time was lost. Mr. Cosgrove hoped the committee would also inquire why the House debated the joint resolution the entire day, when it could have been passed in ten minutes. Resolution referred. The House then proceeded to the consideration of the Mississippi contested election case of Chalmers vs. Manning.

WASHINGTON, February 14.—SENATE.—The Senate took up the bill making all public roads and highways post routes, which was debated by Messrs. Plumb, Hale, Maxey and Sawyer, and after slight amendment was passed. The Senate took up the bill for relief of the Louisiana State Bank, permitting that bank, notwithstanding statute limitations, to present to the Court of Claims its claim, for cotton taken by the United States in 1865. Mr. Jackson, who reported the bill, said the claim was for 367 bales of cotton, worth $90,000. After debate the bill was passed—yeas, 32; nays, 15. Mr. Beck called up McPherson's bill relative to National Bank circulation, and spoke at some length in its favor. Mr. Morrill offered a substitute. Mr. Morgan offered an amendment. After considerable debate Senate adjourned.

HOUSE.—Mr. McKinley presented a telegram from Cleveland detailing the destruction occasioned by the Ohio floods and recommending Congress to increase to $1,000,000 the appropriation for the relief of sufferers. Referred. The House resumed consideration of the contested election case of Chalmers against Manning. Pending discussion the House adjourned.

WASHINGTON, February 15.—SENATE.—Telegrams from Ohio and Indiana suggesting to Congress to appropriate an additional million dollars for the relief of the flood sufferers were referred to the Committee on Appropriations and at 1:40 Mr. Allison from that committee, reported favorably the joint resolution, and it was immediately read three times, and passed. At 1 o'clock a message was received from the House of Representatives, announcing that that body had passed the joint resolution making the further appropriation of $200,000 for the relief of destitute persons in the districts overflowed by the Ohio River and its tributaries. Shortly afterwards a message was received from the House announcing the affixing of the Speaker's signature to the measure, whereupon the President of the Senate instantly affixed his own. The Senate then resumed consideration of the bill to provide for the issue of circulating notes to National Banks, but without action. After an executive session the Senate adjourned until Monday.

HOUSE.—Mr. Holman, from the Committee on Appropriations, reported a joint resolution, making further appropriations of $200,000 for the relief of sufferers by the Ohio flood. The joint resolution passed. The Chalmers-Manning election case was then taken up. The question recurred on substituting the majority resolution for those of the minority, and a division on the resolution being demanded, a vote was taken on the first declaring that Mr. Manning holds perfect credentials. This was rejected—yeas 1..., nays 1... The second resolution, declaring Mr. Manning entitled to the seat was defeated. The majority resolutions were then adopted, and leaves the seat vacant until the case is decided on its merits. Adjourned until Monday.

A Romance That Ended Wrong.

The Superintendent of an Eastern railway, whose name denotes an old-world race, was five or six years ago at Las Vegas, N. M., out of a job and "dead broke." Desiring to live in hopes of better luck in the future, he applied at a restaurant for a job as waiter. He secured it, but was so green at the business that in order to do the work in any sort of satisfactory manner he coaxed one of the girls employed there to give him instructions. A railway man took his meals at the hostelry; our hero served him, and, being an experienced railroader and accomplished civil engineer, was not long in striking up an acquaintance which resulted in the promotion of the waiter to a good position on the Western road. His progress since that has been so rapid that now he is Superintendent of a snug railway. The restaurant girl that helped him out in the hour of his greenness is now his—not his wife, but his wife's maid.—Chicago Herald.

—Imported silk now comes from New Jersey, English pudding is manufactured in Delaware, French sauces are made in Connecticut, and Rhine wines are bottled in California.—N. Y. Tribune.

—Recently a red, hissing meteor passed over Torrington, Conn., and the next day a meteoric stone weighing two hundred pounds was found firmly embedded in the ground near that city.

—North Carolina now claims the diamond-field of America.

THE COMMONWEALTH.

Legislative Proceedings.

FRANKFORT, February 8.—SENATE.—Following bills were passed: To authorize the County Court of Hickman to issue bonds and levy a tax to build a Court-house at Clinton. For the benefit of the Carlisle and Sharpsburg Turnpike Road Company. To incorporate the Hardensburg and Cloverport Telephone Company. To incorporate the Iron Works and Frankfort Turnpike Road Company, in Bourbon County. For the benefit of the Carlisle and Jackstown, and Carlisle and Rogers Mill Turnpike Road Company. To run and establish the line between Green and Hart Counties. Declaring Turkey Creek, in Floyd County, navigable. Declaring the Middle Fork of Daniel's Creek, in Johnson County, navigable. Declaring Buffalo Creek in Johnson County navigable.

HOUSE.—Bills passed: Appropriating $25,000 for the benefit of the flood sufferers. To prohibit the sale of spirituous, vinous or malt liquors within School District No. 22, in Hickman County: within three miles of Brush Grove Church, in Casey County; within one and half miles of Shady Grove Church, Casey County; within School District No. 38, in Hickman County; within the limits of the Garnersville voting precinct, in Pendleton County; within three miles of Pickett's Chapel Church, in Adair County. To authorize the County Court of Hickman County to issue bonds for the purpose of building and finishing a Court-house at Clinton. Authorizing the Jessamine County court to issue bonds of said county.

FRANKFORT, February 12.—SENATE.—The House bill, appropriating $25,000 for the benefit of the flood sufferers, was called up to-day, and made a special order for to-morrow. Mr. Robins presented the report of the special committee, to visit the Eastern Lunatic Asylum, at Lexington, which was referred to Charitable Institutions. The bills passed were: House bill to repeal an act to extend the corporate limits of the town of Irvine, Estill County. A bill to regulate the terms and times of holding Courts in the Thirteenth Judicial District. House bill fixing the fees of Justices of the Peace in Trigg County for holding levy Courts.

HOUSE.—Bills passed: To settle the boundary line between Hopkins and Webster Counties. To prevent the netting of partridges in Laurel County. For the benefit of J. B. Withers, late Sheriff of Meade County. For the benefit of James G. McCue, of Bath County. To authorize the city of Hopkinsville to erect and maintain water-works for said city. For the benefit of James Williams, of Cumberland County. To authorize the County Court of Daviess County to levy an ad valorem tax for county purposes. A Senate bill repealing an act reducing the Court levy in Pike County, etc. A Senate bill to authorize the Pike County Court to issue bonds and raise money to build a jail, Courthouse and other public buildings. Incorporating the Covington and Latonia Railroad Company. Providing for the registration of voters in Louisville was made a special order for the 19th. The Senate resolution, giving right of burial in the State Cemetery of Sergeant H. W. Hamploe, was adopted.

FRANKFORT, KY., February 13.—SENATE.—Mr. Boles offered a joint resolution appointing a committee to investigate the workings of the State Register of the Land Office. Laid over. The motion to reconsider the vote by which the House resolution appropriating $25,000 to the Ohio River flood sufferers was lost yesterday, was taken up and adopted, and the resolution passed without amendment by a vote of 22 to 4. House bill for the benefit of John R. Wiley, Trustee of the Jury Fund of Caldwell County, passed. Bill to amend section 32, title 3, chapter 1, of the Criminal Code, so that Magistrates will be required to summon witnesses in misdemeanor cases, was recommitted after an hour's discussion. Leave was asked to bring in a bill incorporating the Cincinnati Railroad Company, and also to amend the charter of the Cincinnati Green River and Nashville Railroad Company.

HOUSE.—Bill amending the city charter of Lexington so that her citizens will have further time to pay their capitation tax. Passed. Bill incorporating the Lexington Trust and Safe Deposit Company. Passed. A bill to increase the Common School Fund of this State was made a special order for Friday week. A number of local bills were introduced, and a number passed.

Miscellaneous Items.

AN old German named Goebeling, attempted to commit suicide by drowning in the river at Louisville a few days since. He was rescued and stated that he had been inspired by God to commit suicide by jumping into the river, and he had been led to believe by the heavenly spirit that when his body sunk for the last time the flood would cease and the waters would find their way back to the original channel.

STEVE TURNER, of Yates Precinct, Madison County, Ky., four of the Wyatt boys and Tom Kindred, armed with guns loaded with buckshot, waylaid two Young boys, Cyrus and Henry, instantly killing the former. The latter will probably die. Henry Young, who is Constable, had arranged Turner for some misdemeanor, and had him fined. Turner and party fled.

IT is estimated that the cash donations from Springfield to the flood sufferers exceeded $2,000 on the 13th, while a large amount of clothing and provisions was collected. Mr. J. T. Warder donated two hundred bushels of potatoes. The ladies occupied the Bee Line Depot as a sewing-room to make up garments needed by the victims.

MRS. T. S. C. ELDER, of Crittenden county, has in her possession a pair of gloves that were made in 1793. They were a part of her grandmother's wedding toilet, and were the handiwork of the bride herself, she having made them out of the raw cotton.

FRANK A. BRISTER, died a few nights ago of brain fever and consumption at Russelville. He was a prominent and popular young man, formerly local editor of the Bowling Green Gazette and also of the Herald-Enterprise, at Russelville. He had been ill about ten days.

THE gas in a mine about seven miles from East View, on Meeting creek, exploded a few days ago, instantly killing seven men. The cause of the accident was believed to have been a disobedience of orders by one of the miners in venturing into the mine with a light.

THE remains of Rev. Thomas Sadler, who died in Florida, arrived at his home in Louisville, a few days since. He was a Past Grand Master Mason of Kentucky, and a man highly esteemed.

GEO. COMSTOCK, a glass-blower, fell down a flight of stairs at his home in Louisville a few days ago and fatally injured himself. He was drunk and chasing his wife with a poker at the time.

CLEM C. CONNER, of Owingsville, was found dead in his bed at Cross Roads, Roane County, a few mornings since. Supposed to be the result of a protracted spree. Conner was a young man, aged about thirty-five years and most respectably connected.

THE loss of property in Louisville by the flood is far less than that of last year. Even the Point will not be a great sufferer.

BOATS were worth $1 an hour on the Point at Louisville during the flood, and the fortunate owners reaped a bonanza from the crowds of visitors.

R. G. THOMAS, JR., has sold his interest in the Muhlenburg Echo to C. W. Short, and announces his retirement from the editorial field.

MRS. VIRGINIA HANSON was duly elected State Librarian on the 7th at a joint session of the General Assembly.

THE RECORDER.

RIDDELL & HALL, Proprietors.

BURLINGTON, KY.. FEB 20. 1883.

ADVERTISING RATES.

1 Column	1 year	$80
½ "	1 "	40
¼ "	1 "	20
¼ "	1 "	20
⅛ "	½ "	10
⅛ "	¼ "	6

For announcing candidates, $5. Obituary poetry, 5 cents per line. Obituary notices 20 lines free; over that number (except ing the announcement of the death) 3 cents per line.

Tributes of respect from lodges, &c., $1 50

RATES OF SUBSCRIPTION.

One year	$1 50
Six months	75
Three months	40

GOV. KNOTT continues to wield the veto.

FRED DOUGLAS denies that he is a negro by claiming to be a quadroon.

GEN. WILLIAMS is suggested as a candidate for Congress against John D. White.

ON account of the high water, Neal's trial was postponed, and he was returned to the Lexington Jail.

THE Legislature has adopted a resolution requesting the National Commissioner of Agriculture be made a Cabinet officer.

TIME proves that a great mistake was made in locating Aurora and Lawrenceburg. They should have been consolidated with Petersburg.

SCHEMES to organize new counties in this State should, in every instance be defeated by the Legislature. There are now enough pauper counties in the State.

THE legislature has completed its caucus business, and a resolution to adjourn on the 28th inst., has been introduced, but of course there will be no adjournment.

WE understand that Younger Johnson says that he will give $1.000 to the O. & M. railroad if it crosses the river and comes up Woolper. He will not have to give it very soon.

IF W. C. P. Breckinridge becomes a candidate for Congress over in the seventh district, the other aspirants for the honors of that position may as well stay at home and attend to their crops.

EVERY few years the legislature takes the public printing away from Sam Major, but it soon finds it way back to him, as he seems to give better satisfaction than any other person yet installed in that office.

THE Kentucky legislature started out by donating $25,000 to the flood sufferers, and after the thing was done they got ashamed of the insignificant amount and increased it to $100,000, the amount which should have been given at first.

BUSH, the negro who shot and killed Miss Vanmeter, was tried and convicted for the fourth time in Lexington last week. The jury was out only seventeen minutes when it returned a verdict with the death penalty attached.

PETERSBURG is about the only town on the Ohio river, some part of which was not flooded. Not a house was invaded by the water, while the distress and destruction of property in all the other river towns is appalling in the extreme.

BOONE'S representative is receiving very high compliments for his sagacity and ability as a legislator, and a gentleman occupying a high official position in Frankfort says that he is the best representative Boone ever sent to the Legislature.

SENATOR VOORHEES says he wishes he could see the good old times again when a man using money in elections would lose rank and standing as quickly as if he were a horse thief. Mr. Voorhees will have to wait till the millennium comes, before he will see such a radical change in politics.

IN the Danville investigation at Washington the negroes are all swearing one way. They claim that none of the darkies were armed, and that the white men slaughtered them like sheep. The white witnesses substantiate one another in their evidence, which is diametrically opposed to that given by the negroes.

THE last three years' experience with their road from Aurora to Cincinnati will certainly turn the attention of the O. & M. people to this side of the river for a route to the city, which, at all times and stages of water, can be used. By crossing the river at Aurora the distance to Cincincinnati would be shortened six or seven miles, and the country would furnish about as much traffic as that through which it runs. Come over gentlemen, and investigate the matter.

No such dire calamity as the one now prevailing has ever visited the Ohio valley, and there is no means of estimating the amount of money it would take to replace the property lost, to say nothing about the amount necessary to sustain the victims until they can commence providing for themselves. A large proportion of those driven from their homes are persons who depend on their daily labors for support, and the merciless flood has turned them out and reduced them to a penniless condition, from which it will take them some time to recover.

THERE are 600 poor unfortunates in Anchorage Asylum whose cure at present, we believe, depends wholy upon nature and accident. The physical and mental health of these unfortunate beings is in the keeping of two physicians who are not qualified by nature, study or experience to treat them. The physicians now are Dr. Gale himself (who has been relieved of outside cares by the appointment of Mr. Graves as steward) and his son-in-law Dr. Rilley. Dr. Gale was never a successful practitioner in the sense of establishing a reputation as an eminent physician, even locally. Dr. Riley is a recent graduate, totally without experience for his position. Neither had ever had any experience in the treatment of the insane before the influence of politics placed them in a position they would never have reached by merit.—Louisville Commercial.

The frequency and extent of floods in the Ohio valley should furnish a subject for serious and practical consideration. Within the last few years the river has several times swollen out of its banks to the injury of those near its course. Last February the flood was unprecedented, and it was then thought that it would be many a year until it would be again equaled or approached.

But only a twelvemonth sees that famous overflow surpassed. The high water mark of 1884 tops all record, and there is no assurance that 1885 may not raise it another notch.

The people of the Ohio valley ought to learn an important lesson from the experience of these two years. They should recognize that similar and even larger volumes of water are liable to roll down this river annually, and they should make suitable provisions accordingly. That their sad experience of last year was not without its effect, at least in Louisville, is seen in the smaller amount of damage done and suffering endured this season. But there is much yet, of greater import, to be learned. Residents along the banks of the river should build their houses henceforth above high-water mark, or construct them with a view to withstand such floods as this with the smallest possible damage The farmers especially can greatly diminish their losses in this way, even in the single item of fences. Railroads could avoid much of their present embarrassment with a proper preparation for such contingencies.

It is foolish to say we probably shall not have another such flood this century. The probabilities, in truth, are all in the other direction. It is, indeed, almost certain that great floods in the Ohio will be more numerous in the future than they have in the past. The record of the last few years is straight in line with such a conclusion, and science more than warrants it.

It does not require a pundit to tell us that the cause of the present flood is water. Ever since December it has either rained or snowed almost every day, and a serious flood in the Ohio under such conditions would have been inevitable. even under the most favorable circumstances; but the same volume of water falling in the Ohio Valley a hundred years ago would have resulted in a far less extensive overflow of the river, simply because the great forests which flourished along its course acted as absorbents themselves and creators and preservers of a soil which, spongelike, would have retained much of the water that now swells the Ohio. These forests are being rapidly destroyed, and where this is done, particularly in the mountainous and hilly regions, the soil washes away and the rains that once sunk through the ground sweep down into the valley and thence into the river. At the very sources of the Ohio these conditions are peculiarly prominent. The series of mountains on two sides have been largely stripped of their forests. The soil has been washed from them to the solid rock, and in heavy rains the water rushes down their slopes a respectable deluge at the very beginning.

Notwithstanding expostulation and reason, this wholesale destruction of forests continues, and as it does so the danger from increasing floods grows in proportion.—Courier-Journal.

DR. WOOD, of Bowling Green, was elected Public Printer last week, which relieves the Yeoman of a "fat take." Wood was the Courier-Journal's candidate, and it is said that a new paper will be started at Frankfort in connection with the public printing.

THE water is very reluctantly giving way, having receded to sixty one feet yesterday. Charitable contributions are pouring into the distressed districts from every quarter, and as the water disappears the greater the destruction revealed. The towns up the river are almost total wrecks, while those down the river are in a like condition.

STATE NEWS.

Thirty-odd moonshiners were recently arrested in Russell, Green, Metcalf, Adair and Barren counties.

J. S. Baskett, of Eminence, has bought a herd Hereford cattle for breeding purposes, at a cost of nearly $400 a head.

Green county has no Sheriff. The railroad debt keeps the office vacant, as no one wants to collect the railroad tax.

The docket of the present term of the Carter Circuit Court contains 814 Commonwealth cases, 193 ordinary cases and 252 equity cases.

There is a young man living near the Tennessee line that is an uncle to himself and an uncle to his brothers and sisters and a brother to his papa.

The Poor-house farm was rented Monday, for the enormous sum of $1,101, and the paupers boarded at $2 2? per week, to Mr. Rose, present manager.-Williamstown Courier.

At Horse Cave, Fielding Dawson, a well known farmer living near, was killed by a Louisville & Nashville train. His mules were unmanageable and backed upon the track just as the train came.

The members of the Kentucky legislature are divided by titles as follows: Generals, 4; Colonels, 30; Majors, 6; Captains, 6; Judges, 20. This leaves 21 members with the very cheap and common prefix, Hor.

Isaac W. Kelley lectured in Eminence recently on the "Devil." Mr Kelley has figured out the end of the world will take place in 7,000 years from its creation, when the devil take possession and commence operations on a large scale.

That Doughty Duchess.

Opposite Opinions about a Wonderful Woman—Her Thumb and Fingers.

"Crack nuts with her fingers? Why, you can't mean it!" cried a young lady graduate of the Normal College, in the utmost astonishment.

"But I do mean it," affirmed her big brother, who had taken several prizes in athletics, "and I reassert it: that Cymburga, wife of Duke Ernst. of Austria, could crack nuts with her fingers and drive nails in the wall with her thumb."

"What a monstrous woman!" said the young lady. "What a useful woman," amended her big brother.

The Austrian Duchess was mighty because she kept good hours, good habits and perfect digestion.

Mrs. Alice Strong, of Pittsburg, Pa., writes a different story about herself, but deserves praise for her frankness. She says: "For the past 3 years I have been subject to severe attacks of colic and cramps, and exhausting attacks of Diarrhœa. Weary of experimenting with medicines, I turned without hope to PARKER'S TONIC. Three bottles cured me entirely. I have tried it also for other ailments with which women are often afflicted, and it far surpassed my expectations. I am happy to offer this testimony for the benefit of other women."

Ladies who are interested in Mrs. Strong's letter, will please remark that PARKER'S TONIC is not intoxicant. It cures colic easily, but by virtue of many rare and powerful ingredients, it also masters all diseases of the Blood—such, for example, as Rheumatism, Consumption, Scrofula, and all disorders of the Kidneys, Liver and Stomach. It is a vitalizer and stimulant, but not an intoxicant. Price, 50 cents and $1 per bottle, Hiscox & Co., Chemists, New York.

REPORT OF THE CONDITION

OF THE

Farmers & Traders National Bank

AT COVINGTON,

In the State of Kentucky, at the close of business, December 31, 1883.

RESOURCES.

Loans and discounts		$600,911 65
Overdrafts		1,135 80
U.S. Bonds to secure circulation 4 per cent		60,000 00
Due from approved reserve agents	45,541 33
Due from other National banks	5,207 41
Due from State banks and bankers	5,399 51	56,148 25
Real estate, furniture and fixtures		4,668 91
Premiums paid		8,000 00
Checks and other cash items		1,945 37
Bills of other Banks		4,125 00
Fractional paper currency, nickels and pennies		69 79
Specie		9,050 00
Legal tender notes		21,000 00
Redemption fund with U. S. Treasurer (5 per cent of circulation)		2,250 00
Total		$759,304 77

LIABILITIES.

Capital stock paid in		$300,000 00
Surplus fund	4,000 00
Undivided profits	14,480 40	18,480 40
National bank notes outstanding		45,000 00
Individual deposits subject to check	369,657 81
Fund to pay taxes	221 35
Due to other National Banks	17,062 27
Due to State Banks and bankers	8,879 94	395,824 37
Total		$759,304 77

State of Kentucky, County of Kenton, ss: I, John L. Sandford, Cashier of the above-named bank, do solemnly swear that the above statement is true to the best of my knowledge and belief.

J. L. SANDFORD, Cashier.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 14th day of Jan., 1884. GEO. H. DAVISON, Notary Public.

Correct—Attest:
E. J. HICKEY,
J. H. MERSMAN, } Directors.
L. C. STEPHENS.

THE CINCINNATI

Weekly News!

A NATIONAL METROPOLITAN JOURNAL,

Full Of Enterprise,

PEOPLE!

EIGHT PAGES—SIXTY-Four Pages

Containing all the News, correct Market Reports, well selected Miscellany, brilliant Stories—in fact, the favorite Weekly Paper of the Central United States.

—PUBLISHED BY THE—

Cincinnati News Publishing Co.

AT THE FOLLOWING

LOW RATES OF SUBSCRIPTION.

THE WEEKLY NEWS with one of Dore's Celebrated Works,

"Christ Leaving the Prætorium," "Christ Entering Jerusalem,"

These engravings of Dore's fame historical paintings are the best and most perfect reprints by the Foreign Art Reproducing Company, and can not be purchased as original plates for less than $40 each in Europe. They are in size 23x36 in. and are direct copies, preserving every line and detail OF THE ENGLISH $40 ENGRAVINGS,

These pictures are suitable to adorn the parlor of any gentleman. As a

Premium Supplement!

A Single Copy, three months	$0 40
A Single copy, six months	60
A Single copy, one year	1 00
A club of 10 copies to 1 P. O. 1 year	9 00
A club of 20 copies to 1 P. O. 1 year	17 00

And large clubs at 85c per copy per annum

Postmasters and other agents will be allowed 15 per cent on full rate (not club) subscribers.

The premium engravings will be mailed about the first of each month to the subscribers entitled to receive them.

As a premium offer it is confidently claimed that its equal was never before made, and would not be possible in this case except for the method adopted by the Foreign Art Reproducing Company to advertise its work.

Do not fail to avail yourself of the opportunity by sending your name and address, with one dollar enclosed, to

THE CINCINNATI WEEKLY NEWS.

$66 a week at home. $5 outfit free. Pay absolutely sure. No risk. Capital not required. If you want business at which persons of either sex young or old, can make great pay all the time they work, with absolute certainty, write for particulars to H. HALLETT & Co., Portland, Maine.

For Sale.

About a dozen two-year old mules, will sell single or in pairs, also two good work horses. JONH J. RUCKER, Gainesville, Kentucky.

A PRIZE Send six cents for postage, and receive free, a costly box of goods which will help you to more money right away than anything else in this world. All of either sex, succeed from the first hour. The broad road to fortune opens before the workers, absolutely sure. At once address, TRUE & Co., Augusta, Maine.

For Sale.

A dwelling with 6 rooms, and 15 acres of land at Rabbit Hash, Ky. On this land is a good orchard, barn and other conveniences. Also a never failing well. Address B. F. BELL, Rabbit Hash, Ky.

AGENTS wanted for The Lives of all the Presidents of the U. S. The largest handsomest, best book ever sold for more than twice our price. The best selling book in America. Immense profits to agents. All intelligent people want it. Any one can become a successful agent. Terms free, HALLET BOOK Co., Portland, Maine.

Strayed.

Taken up as a stray by Allen Goodridge, living on the Ohio river, about 1½ miles below Taylorsport, in Boone county, on the 12th day of January 1884, one bull about two and half years old, with white head, dark read body, some white on his back, and end of tail, legs spotted up to his knees straight horns and under bit in each ear, and which I have appraised at $15. Witness my hand this 12th day of Jan., '84.
W. A. GOODRIDGE, J P B C

For Sale.

A good farm horse.—Price, $115.
F. P. WALTON, Burlington, Ky.

Notice.

All parties having claims against the estate of F. W. Grant decd., are hereby notified to present the same properly proven without delay or further notice,
J. Frank Grant,
W. H. Grant, Admr's.

For Sale.

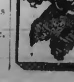
A lot of No. 1 locust posts.
J. O. HUEY, Burlington, Ky.

EGGS FOR HATCHING.

From Pure Plymouth Rocks, straight descendants from the show birds of Isaac Daniels and Perley Pickett, of Ohio. My birds are second to none. Fine size, quick to mature and best of layers. For reference inquire of N. Dickerson or Eddie Ranson, at Verona, or Jacob Cleek or Geo. W. Sleet, at Beaver Lick, Ky. You can order them now and say when you wish them shipped. Your orders will be promptly filled and with proper care. Satisfaction guaranteed. Price, $1 50 for 15, and $1 for each 15 over, when shipped at same time. Money must accompany order. Address M. J. HUME, Verona, Ky. 15 3m

$288 per month collecting small family Pictures to enlarge into the Melanotype the finest enlarged picture in the world Diploma, Red, White and Blue Ribbon awarded everywhere. Testimonials. Private terms. SOLID GOLD WATCH and $5 outfit free to Agents. Address Empire Copy'g Co., 381 Canal St., N. Y.

PISO'S CURE FOR CONSUMPTION. CURES WHERE ALL ELSE FAILS. Best Cough Syrup. Tastes good. Use in time. Sold by druggists.



NO NEW THING.

STRONG'S SANATIVE PILLS

Used throughout the country FOR OVER 40 YEARS, And thus proved

The Best Liver Medicine In the World.

No Griping, Poisonous Drugs, but purely Vegetable, safe and reliable. Prescribed even by Physicians. A speedy cure for Liver Complaint, Regulating the Bowels, Purifying the Blood, Cleansing from Malarial Taint. A perfect cure for Sick Headache, Constipation and all Billous Disorders. Sold by Druggists. For Pamphlets, etc., address C. E. HULL & CO., 18 Cedar St., N. Y. City.

FREE TO ALL. OUR new Illustrated Floral Catalogue of 80 pages, containing description and prices of the best varieties of Plants, Garden and Flower Seeds, Bulbs, Roots, Shrubs, Small Fruits and Trees will be mailed Free to all applicants. 6 Tea Roses mailed for One Dollar to any piece. Wholesale and retail. NANZ & NEUNER, Louisville, Ky.

ROBERT B. REED

Attorney at Law.

OFFICE AT - - UNION, KY.

F. RIDDELL,

ATTORNEY at LAW
BURLINGTON, KY.

Office over Dudley Rouse's Store.

ALBERT W. GAINES,

Attorney and Counselor at Law,

LAWRENCEBURG, - - - IND.

Will practice in the courts of Boone county, Ky., Cincinnati, Ohio, Dearborn and adjoining counties, Ind. dec-6-82

W. E. VEST,

COUNTY SURVEYOR

WALTON, KY.

Is prepared to do all kinds of surveying. All orders sent him through the mail to Walton, will receive his prompt attention.

E. E. IGOE,

Resident Dentist,
Rising Sun, Ind.
WITH
J. P. Ulrey.
Monday and Tuesday at Rising Sun, Ind.

J. J. Landram. G. G. Hughes.

LANDRAM & HUGHES,

ATTORNEYS at LAW.

Will practice in the Boone Circuit Court and the Court of Appeals. Prompt attention given to Collections, on application to G. G. Hughes, Burlington, Ky.

DR. A. B. HARRY AN

RESIDENT DENTIST.
Aurora, Indiana.
(Office Over Postoffice)
With J P. ULREY.

Dr. ULREY'S days, Wednesday and Saturday. Office open at all hours. 8-1y

L. C. NORMAN. S. L. STEPHENS.

NORMAN and STEPHENS,

ATTORNEYS at LAW,

UNION, BOONE CO., KY.

Will practice in the Courts of Boone Kenton and adjoining counties. Collections solicited and made throughout the State. 24 tf 81

S. W. TOLIN,

ATTORNEY AT LAW

BURLINGTON, - - KY

Office in Court-house on 2d floor.

Will manage litigation in any of the Courts of the State, contracts and other legal instruments drawn up at reasonable rates. Aprompt an studious attention given to business intrusted to my care. A trial solicited. 12-1y

This space is reserved for A. M. Acra's Harness and Saddle Shop.

GOLD for the working class. Send 10c for postage, and we will mail you free, a royal, valuable box of sample goods that will put you in the way of making more money in a few days than you ever thought possible at any business. Capital not required. We will start you. You can work part the time only. The work universally adapted to both sexes, young and old. You can easily earn from 50 cents to $5 every evening. That all who want work may test the business, we make this unparalleled offer; to all who are not well satisfied we will send $1 to pay for the trouble of writing us. Full particulars, directions, etc., sent free. Fortunes will be made by those who give their whole time to the work. Great success absolutely sure. Don't delay. Start now. Address STINSON & Co., Portland, Maine.

PATENTS.

For new inventions and novel designs obtained in the United States, Canada and Europe. Trade Marks and Copyright—Labels secured for Merchants and Manufacturers who wish protection against imitators of their goods, packages or articles of manufacture. We are located opposite the United States Patent Office, have quick access to its records, and can give prompt and reliable answers to inquiries. Of our firm one has had thirteen years' practice in the highest courts, another several years as an Assistant Examiner in the United States Patent Office and many years experience as solicitor of American and Foreign Patents. Fee reasonable and full satisfaction or no fee. Best reference given. Our little book "on patents" sent free on receipt of one cent stamp.
W. A. COULTER & CO., Solicitors of Patents,
23 St. Cloud Building, Washington, D. C.

WRIGHT'S INDIAN VEGETABLE PILLS

FOR THE

LIVER

And all Billous Complaints

Safe to take, being purely vegetable; no griping. Price 25 cts. All Druggists.

WANTED BOOK Canvassers.

MALE and FEMALE

To engage in the sale of our new and important works of standard character, large profits and immense selling qualities. We offer a permanent and lucrative business. Address The CINCINNATI PUBLISHING CO., 174 W. Fourth Street, Cincinnati, Ohio.

Free! Cards and Chromos.

We will send free by mail a sample set of our large German, French, and American Chromo Cards, on tinted and gold grounds, with a price list of over 200 different designs, on receipt of a stamp for postage. We will also send free by mail as samples, ten of our beautiful Chromos, on receipt of ten cents to pay for packing and postage; also enclose a confidential price list of our large oil chromos. Agents wanted. Address F. GLEASON & Co., 46 Summer Street, Boston, Mass.

PATENTS

MUNN & CO., of the SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN, continue to act as Solicitors for Patents, Caveats, Trade Marks, Copyrights, for the United States, Canada, England, France, Germany, etc. Hand Book about Patents sent free. Thirty-seven years' experience. Patents obtained through MUNN & CO. are noticed in the SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN, the largest, best, and most widely circulated scientific paper. $3.20 a year. Weekly. Splendid engravings and interesting information. Specimen copy of the Scientific American sent free. Address MUNN & CO., SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN Office, 261 Broadway, New York.

SANITARIUM, Riverside, Cal. The dry climate cures Nose, Throat, Lungs, full idea, 36 p., route, cost, free.

MARRIAGE AND HEALTH GUIDE. 260 pgs. Illustrated. All that the doubtful curious or thoughtful want to know. Cloth and gilt binding 50 cts, paper 25c, Marriage Guide, 144 p 15c, sent sealed, money or stps, by DR. WHITTIER 290 RACE STREET, CINCINNATI, OHIO. The great specialist. Nervous Debility, Impediments to Marriage, Consultation and Pamphlet free.

County Directory.

OFFICERS.

Assessor—G. M. Riley.
County Surveyor—W. E. Vest.
School Commissioner—D. M. Snyder.
Coroner.—Dr. A. A. Murat, Constance.

COURTS.

CIRCUIT COURT meets the 2d Monday in April and first Monday in October. P. U. Major, Judge; W. L. Riddell, Clerk A. G. DeJarnette, Commonwealths Attorney; W. L. Riddell, Trustee Jury Fund.

COUNTY COURT meets the first Monday in every month. L. H. Dills, Judge; S. W. Tolin, County Attorney. M. T. Garnett, Clerk; J. R. Clutterbuck, Sheriff, T. W. Finch and W. T. German, Deputy Sheriffs.

QUARTERLY COURT meets the first Monday in March, June, September and December. The officers of the County Court preside.

COURT OF CLAIMS meets the first Monday in November.

MAGISTRATES' COURTS are held in March, June, September and December, as follows:

Bellevue—M. B. Green, first Saturday, and T. H. Sutton, third Monday. J. M. Moody, Constable.

Burlington—E. H. Baker, Thursday after first Monday, and Oscar Gaines, fourth Monday. R. H. Sandford, Constable.

Carlton A. G. McConnell, Wednesday after second Monday, and B. H. Ryle, Saturday after third Monday. Walter Ryle, Constable.

Petersburg—Jos. Hensley, Wednesday after first Monday, and L. A. Loder fourth Saturday. Geo. Comer, Constable.

Beever—W. M. Rouse, Friday after the third Monday, and

Union—M. C. Norman, Thursday after third Monday, and H. Bannister, Thursday after second Monday. A. D. Riley, Constable.

Hamilton—F. M. Howlett, Tuesday after second Monday; W. W. Garnett, Wednesday after third Monday. R. L. Roberts Constable.

A. L. Brown,

THE HATTER,

Cor. Pike and Washington Streets
COVINGTON, - - KY.

Has always on hand a large variety of Men's, Boys' and Children's Hats, and prices GUARANTEED to be as low as the lowest.

Gents' Furnishing Goods a Specialty.

W. J. RICE,

CARPENTER & BUILDER,

BULLITSVILLE, KY.

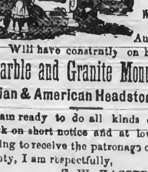
Is prepared Raise or Move EITHER LOG or FRAME BUILDINGS

On Short Notice.

And at the Lowest Possible Figures.

38-tf Your orders respectfully solicited

LUMBER.



Goe. M. Bedinger & Co.,

Erlanger, - - Ky.

We keep constantly on hand all kinds of Lumber, Laths and Shingles. Also Builder's supplies of all kinds.

—Come and see Us.—

may 9-tf

AURORA MARBLE AND GRANITE WORKS, Aurora, Ind

Will have constantly on hand

Marble and Granite Monuments,

Italian & American Headstones, &c.

I am ready to do all kinds of Stone Work on short notice and at low prices Hoping to receive the patronage of Boone County, I am respectfully,
F. W. KASSEBAUM.

INSURE AT HOME

The Farmers' Mutual Fire

INSURANCE COMPANY

Of Boone County

Is now completely organized and receiving applications for insurance.

Its Rates are Lower

Than those of any other Company, and it gives the farmers of Boone County a

HITHERTO UNKNOWN ADVANTAGE

In keeping their property insured.

EVERY FARMER IN THE COUNTY

should take a policy at once.

J. A. GAINES, President, Burlington, Ky. | J. H. WALTON, Secretary, Constance, Ky.

R. RANDALL, Treasury.

DIRECTORS.

LEGRAN GAINES, A. J. UTZ.
JNO. STEPHENS.

OSCAR GAINES, Agent. | C. L. CRISLER, Assessor.

INCORPORATED UNDER THE LAWS OF MISSOURI.

CENTRAL MEDICAL & SURGICAL INSTITUTE

OF ST. LOUIS, MO.

SUCCESSORS TO DR. BUTTS' DISPENSARY. OFFICE & ROOMS, NO. 920 LOCUST ST.

CHAS. L. LaDARCHE, M.D., Pres't & Physician in Charge.
NELSON CHESMAN, Treas. & Business Manager.

This Institute has ample facilities and an experienced Faculty. While it succeeds to a large business, which has been established for years, it will aim to extend its medical and surgical practice, giving skillful and scientific treatment to CHRONIC DISEASES of the Head, Spine, Lungs and Air Passages, Heart, Liver, Stomach and Bowels, Rheumatism, Dyspepsia, Consumption and Asthma. BLOOD IMPURITIES, inherited or caused by injurious association, Scrofula, Fever Sores, Ulcers, etc. DEFORMITIES of the Limbs, Spinal Curvature, Wry-Neck, Diseases of the Joints, Piles, Fistula, Rupture, etc. WEAKNESS and wasting diseases in old and young men, also all diseases of the genito-urinary organs. FEMALE irregularities and weaknesses, causing pain in the back or side, etc.

Personal interviews with patients are always preferred. Those unable to visit the Institute will be furnished with blank lists of questions that will aid them in making a full statement of their cases and if not requiring a surgical operation they can be successfully treated by correspondence, and medicines sent by mail or express. To enable us to send proper list of questions applicants should give a brief statement of their trouble.

The Treasurer of the corporation is of Nelson Chesman & Co., Advertising Agents, and refers to the publisher of this or any other newspaper in the United States or Canada regarding responsibility.

Consultation at Office or by mail free and invited

HALL'S

Vegetable Sicilian

HAIR RENEWER

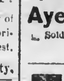
was the first preparation perfectly adapted to cure diseases of the scalp, and the first successful restorer of faded or gray hair to its natural color, growth, and youthful beauty. It has had many imitators, but none have so fully met all the requirements needful for the proper treatment of the hair and scalp. HALL'S HAIR RENEWER has steadily grown in favor, and spread its fame and usefulness to every quarter of the globe. Its unparalleled success can be attributed to but one cause: the entire fulfilment of its promises.

The proprietors have often been surprised at the receipt of orders from remote countries, where they had never made an effort for its introduction.

The use for a short time of HALL'S HAIR RENEWER wonderfully improves the personal appearance. It cleanses the scalp from all impurities, cures all humors, fever, and dryness, and thus prevents baldness. It stimulates the weakened glands, and enables them to push forward a new and vigorous growth. The effects of this article are not transient, like those of alcoholic preparations, but remain a long time, which makes its use a matter of economy.

BUCKINGHAM'S DYE

FOR THE



WHISKERS

Will change the beard to a natural brown, or black, as desired. It produces a permanent color that will not wash away. Consisting of a single preparation, it is applied without trouble.

PREPARED BY

R. P. HALL & CO., Nashua, N.H.

Sold by all Dealers in Medicines.

FOR ALL THE FORMS

OF

Scrofulous, Mercurial, and Blood Disorders,

the best remedy, because the most searching and thorough blood-purifier, is

Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

Sold by all Druggists; $1, six bottles, $5.

TUTT'S PILLS

TORPID BOWELS, DISORDERED LIVER, and MALARIA.

From these sources arise three-fourths of the diseases of the human race. These symptoms indicate their existence: Loss of Appetite, Bowels costive, Sick Headache, fullness after eating, aversion to exertion of body or mind, Eructation of food, Irritability of temper, Low spirits, A feeling of having neglected some duty, Dizziness, Fluttering at the Heart, Dots before the eyes, highly colored Urine, CONSTIPATION, and demand the use of a remedy that acts directly on the Liver. As a Liver medicine TUTT'S PILLS have no equal. Their action on the Kidneys and Skin is also prompt; removing all impurities through these three "scavengers of the system," producing appetite, sound digestion, regular stools, a clear skin and a vigorous body. TUTT'S PILLS cause no nausea or griping nor interfere with daily work and are a perfect

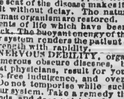
ANTIDOTE TO MALARIA.



Sold everywhere, 25c. Office, 44 Murray St., N.Y.

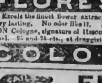
TUTT'S HAIR DYE.

GRAY HAIR OR WHISKERS changed instantly to a GLOSSY BLACK by a single application of this DYE. Sold by Druggists, or sent by express on receipt of $1.
Office, 44 Murray Street, New York.

TUTT'S MANUAL OF USEFUL RECEIPTS FREE.

VIGOROUS HEALTH FOR MEN

TESTED FOR 5 YEARS by use in thousands of cases. Founded on scientific medical principles. It has been growing in favor and reputation while its numerous competitors have invariably failed. The direct application of this remedy to the seat of the disease makes its specific influence felt without delay. The natural functions of the human organism are restored. The animating elements of life which have been wasted are given back. The buoyant energy of the brain and muscular system renders the patient cheerful; he gains strength with rapidity.



NERVOUS DEBILITY, organic weakness, and numerous obscure diseases, baffling the skill of best physicians, result for youthful indiscrution, too free indulgence, and over brain work. Do not temporise while such enemies lurk in your system. Take a remedy that has cured thousands, and does not interfere with you attention to business or cause any pain or inconvenience.

(Send for a Descriptive Pamphlet giving Anatomical Illustrations, which will convince the most sceptical that they can be restored to perfect manhood, and fitted for the duties of life, same as if never affected. Sent free to any one. Remedy sold ONLY by the)

HARRIS REMEDY CO. MF'G. CHEMISTS.
306½ N. 10th. St. ST. LOUIS, MO.

One Month's treatment $3. two months $5. three months $7

PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM

A beneficial dressing preferred to similar articles because of its purity and rich perfume. It Restores to Gray Hair the Youthful Color & prevents dandruff and falling of the hair. 50c. & $1, Hiscox & Co., N.Y.

FLORESTON

Excels the finest flower extracts in richness. Delicate, very lasting. No odor like it. Be sure you get FLORESTON Cologne, signature of Hiscox & Co., N. Y., on every label. 25 and 75 cts., at druggists and dealers in perfumes.

COLOGNE

FREE! RELIABLE SELF-CURE.

A favorite prescription of one of the most noted and successful specialists in the U.S. (now retired) for the cure of Nervous Debility, Lost Manhood, Weakness and Decay. Sent in plain sealed envelope free. Druggists can fill it.

Address DR. WARD & CO., Louisiana, Mo.

PAYSON'S INDELIBLE INK. Is the BEST. No preparation. Used with any clean pen for marking any fabric. Popular for decorative work on linen. Received Centennial MEDAL & Diploma. Established 50 years. Sold by all Druggists, Stationers & News Ag'ts.

Local News.

Too much water for steamboating.

This is fine weather for aquatic fowl.

Next Monday is County and Quarterly Court.

The Ohio valley has had her annual water festival.

There will be a great deal of house cleaning to do this spring.

Miss Laura Zins, of Cincinnati, is the guest of Miss Kittie Riddell.

The season for sowing grass seed is at hand with some of the farmers.

One of J. A. Botts' tenants raised, last year, $1,032 75 worth of tobacco.

Now would be a good time to have a fox drive about the mouth of Woolper.

Isaac Clore, who resided near Hebron, died last Thursday after a brief illness.

Sunday was not a good day for diminishing the supply of water in the Ohio.

Sam C. Johnson, of Walton, was delivering tobacco at this place last week.

This has been a very favorable winter for the sale of rubber goods and umbrellas.

The tobacco growers will commence sowing plant-beds now as soon as the ground is dry enough.

The Odd Fellows at their meeting last Saturday night, donated $10 for the relief of the flood sufferers.

The Masonic Lodge at this place, at its meeting last Saturday, donated $20 of its funds to the flood sufferers.

About $70 was made by subscription here Saturday, to be sent to Newport to be used for the benefit of the sufferers.

The flood did not reach Burlington, but its effects did, and more than one article needed in every day life gave out at the stores.

Charity is knocking at the hearts of all, and those who deny it admittance under the existing circumstances are peculiarly organized.

Cleve Hankins, of Hebron, and Miss Mallsie Utz, were married last Thursday, at the residence of the bride's father. We wish them much joy.

Geo. Sleet was in town Monday, the first time for many moons. We could not discover that age has disfigured George much since his last visit.

The relief boat sent down the river from Cincinnati, last Sunday, stopped at Taylorport and left ten days rations for the town, which was inundated.

Mrs. Peggy Tanner, aged 81, died at the residence of Mrs. Robert Smith on Woolper, last Friday. Mrs. Tanner's husband was a soldier in the war of '12.

Last Monday Dr. J. M. Grant celebrated the thirty-second anniversary of his birth day by giving a big dinner to which many of his relatives were invited.

Last week we completed for County Attorney Tolin, a 20 page brief in the Woolper Bridge case, which was set for hearing in the Court of Appeals on the 19th inst.

If you have a watch or clock that needs repairing, or if you want to buy fine Jewelry go to M. C. Motch, jewoler, N. W. Cor. Madison and Pike Sts. Covington, Ky.

Since the flood the passengers on the Louisville & Nashville railroad have been going into the city over the C. N. O. & T. P., changing cars at Walton for that purpose.

Geo. C. Voshell, who lives at the junction of Ashby Fork and Woolper, moved out of his house and the back water moved in. It was several feet deep on the first floor.

It is said that the back water extends 20 miles up Laughery Creek, and many families are driven from their homes while their stock is shifting for itself in the neighboring hills.

Burlington's supply of coal oil was exhausted last week, and from Petersburg was the only place it could be obtained. Frank Grant is always equal to the emergency, you bet.

A copple of houses were washed away from Taylorport last week, and many of those along the river below there, in this county, were invaded to the second story by the water.

On account of the depth of the mud several persons from a considerable distance out on the East Bend road walked to town, last Saturday, while many others stayed at home.

A would-be prophet says in the Cincinnati Commercial-Gazette that another such flood will not occur for 200 years. The people will not object to the length of the postponement.

County Attorney Tolin started to New Liberty last Friday to see Col. Montfort, associate counsel in the Woolper bridge case, but failed to make the trip on account of the flood.

A great many theories as to the cause of the floods in the Ohio river are being advanced, but it is our humble opinion that they are caused by the large volumes of water trying to make their way to the Gulf of Mexico.

Attorney Gaines and wife, of Lawrenceburg, are at his father's, Hon. J. A. Gaines, awaiting the disappearance of the flood. Alfie took the hint as soon as the river commenced rising and made arrangements for going to higher land.

A Burlington crowd, in which was the RECORDER force, visited Petersburg last Friday to view the Ohio when at the highest point attained in its history, and the sight, accompanied with evidences of unparalleled destruction was grand, but not pleasing to behold.

Petersburg's location is high and dry and it has never received the destructive visitations experienced by its two neighbors across the river, and its generous and hospitable citizens open wide their doors to the distressed citizens of Aurora and Lawrenceburg, and last week nearly every family in the town was entertaining refugees from the latter place, besides sending, daily, large quantities of supplies to those remaining in the ill fated town just above them. While aiding their distressed neighbors the people were not unmindful of the suffering at other points along the river, and the Odd-Fellows' lodge at that place was making up money for other points, and it was being liberally subscribed, and when the flood now prevailing shall have subsided Petersburg will have contributed a very large amount of both money and provisions to the relief of the distressed. Afternoon the writer visited Lawrenceburg, where the destruction of property can not be exaggerated upon. There were a great many frame buildings in the city, and while no great number had gone down the river, they were to be seen in all conceivable shapes, some on end, some on their sides, some floating out in the middle of the streets, while others stood firmly on their foundations, the water running over the combs. Nearly all the frame buildings had been vacated and left to the mercy of the wind and waves, which, a few nights before, had wrought such ruin among them and threatened the city with total destruction. The second stories of all the brick buildings were occupied by persons, who seemed to be in good spirits, reconciled to accept five or six inches more water if it chose to pass that way. From a second story window of every house passed was seen suspended a ladder used in getting to and from the skiffs or "John Boats." A very strong current was running through the town, the force of which looked sufficient to demolish any building in its course, but further than the confusion among frame structures, no damage could be discovered. The only sign of life to be seen, except that of human, were a few chicken coops filled with fowls, sitting on floating lumber piles. At one place about a dozen chickens were seen shifting for themselves on the roof of a house.

Instead of the rattle and clatter of the wheeled vehicles common to the streets of the city, the constant ring of the row-lock was heard, everybody seeming to have a water craft of some kind, the streets in some places being crowded with the improvised conveyances.

The destruction to stocks of merchandise will be much lighter than that of last year, but the damage to buildings will be greatly in excess of the ravages of the 1883 flood. In fact, there is none who can entertain any conception of the loss to the town, and when the waters recede Lawrenceburg will present a most deplorable sight—the town will have more the appearance of a huge drift pile of houses than a city.

NOTES.

From Petersburg Aurora looked like it was all under the water.

At Lawrenceburg the wharfboat was about the only safe looking place.

Cleaning and straightening up the town of Lawrenceburg will be a heavy task.

The sinking of the Wave has been a great inconvenience to the people during the flood.

To prepare for floods will hereafter be part of the Lawrenceburgh and Aurora people's business every winter.

At Petersburg a strong force was engaged drifting, and all the available space along the shore was covered with all manner of dift.

The water, starting across the bottom just below the distillery was running very swift, intercepting the river at Col. Appleton's. It carried away all the fence in its course.

The water came within a few feet of two of the warehouses at the distillery, and a large amount of whisky was moved for fear of the banks caving and letting the building into the river.

We hear of several instances of the relief boats being imposed on by fellows not objects of charity.

A young man employed by Thomas Coyle, of Beaver, one day last week, in the absence of Coyle's family, entered the house, stole two suits of clothes and two pistols and made a start for parts unknown, but the goods and young man being missed, search was at once instituted and the thief captured. He was lodged in jail at this place last Sunday.

While in Petersburg last Friday, accompanied by Mr. Joe Reed, Burlington's end man, chaperoned by that genial gentleman, Mr. Robt. Belen, we took in the Boone County Distillery. And it was a puzzle for us to decide which was the biggest sight, the river or the distillery, but will decide in favor of the latter as its effects will slay ten where the muddy waters of the turbulent Ohio slays one.

The County Attorney has filed suit against T. W. Finch, and W. T. German, J. R. Clutterbuck, Cyrus L. Crisler, J. J. Berkshire, J. I. Bruce, C. O. Utz as administrator of John A. Kendall, Charles E. White, Wm. S. White, Henry Smith, Cy Bruce, John C. Mitchell, George W. Popham and George S. White, bondsmen on Finch's county levy bond for 1881. The amount sought to be recovered is about $1,700.

Constance came near being the scene of a tragedy, Monday. Charles Castineto, jr., charged W. E. Anderson with killing his dog, and he, armed with an old musket, and his mother, equipped with a corn-knife, went out to do battle with Anderson and avenge the untimely death of their favorite "purp." The old lady took the lead, and Iven thought to pacify her by kind words, which availed nothing, she pressing forward for the bloody work she had said in her heart she would execute. The old lady was closely followed by her son in command of the old musket, which contained a charge of small shot. Seeing that the odds were too great, Anderson commenced a retreat, and having reached his residence, he was ascending the steps when Castineto, who was but a short distance behind, gave him the contents of the musket, the shot taking effect in his face and body, but only producing flesh wounds. A party composed of George Anderson, Jack Brown and Charles Garnett came to town and secured a warrant and officers to make the arrest, but before they got back, the shootist had crossed the river.

NGEIHBORHOOD NEWS.

Florence.

Died—At his home near Florence, Feb. 6th, 1884, at 10 o'clock p. m., of disease of the heart, James Madison Boyd, aged 71 years.

This sad event was sudden and unexpected. Mr. Boyd, though in feeble health for some years past, was able to attend to his business affairs abroad and at home on his little farm. On the night of his death he had eaten his supper and retired for the night. In a short time his wife noticed some singular change in his appearance and hastily dispatched a little boy, the only person she could command, for help from the nearest neighbor; also, for the doctor, but in a few minutes, and before any assistance could be had, death had finished its work. Deceased was a brother of Judge F. A. Boyd so well known in the county, and was born in West Virginia. He was a citizen of Newport, Ky., many years previous to his moving here. That he had a good name is the highest eulogy we can pass upon him. He was a member of the Presbyterian church at this place, and surely they can ill afford such a loss. By this visitation of Providence the neighborhood has lost a good neighbor, the community a good citizen, the church a sterling member, the family, of whom there remains the widow and a married daughter, a kind and devoted husband and father. The funeral services were conducted by Mr. Spears, pastor of the church at Richwood and Union, at the Florence church, Feb. 8th, after which the remains were placed in the vault at Highland cemetery. The family have our sympathy in their deep affliction.

The friends will be glad to know that Father Burk, whom we reported to be seriously ill, is rapidly convalescing.

There has been a boom here in the real estate business of late, N. N. Winston sold to Henry Olaner farm of 40 acres; Henry Olaner sold to H. Kroger house and lot on Main Str.; Benjamin Stephens to T. Swetnam, house and lot on Main Str.

The free school here has closed.

A few numbers back we stated that rumor said that Mr. Andrew Clutterbuck was about to enter the matrimonial ring, or words to that effect, with one Miss —— no matter if we have forgotten her name. Friend Andy appears in a communication of last week requesting the identity of the gal, also the name of the correspondent, etc. Now, Andy has forgotten that it is Leap Year, and that women have a right to talk a little, and, if she thinks she has made a "mash" on him, I ain't going to quizzling around and get mashed, too. The fact is, the correspondent was as much imposed upon as our friend Andy, having placed too much confidence in the gal's tale. My wife is jealous now, and if I should attempt to give name and locality of a woman, and hint at the wavy tresses, love-lit eyes and bewitching smiles, the Circuit Court would be burdened with another divorce case. But my private opinion is that the high water has stopped the whole business, and the gal is adrift, and may not turn up any more till she gets "way down in Cairo." And as we have to get a new correspondent every week, on account of their being killed after their first article, it is impossible to give names. All "Gus Ometer" does is to report the sad calamity.

Our little town and the immediate neighborhood responded most nobly to the call for help from the flood sufferers, by furnishing them with what they could spare in the way of money and provisions. Thanks are due to Mr. Willie Bradford and some of the ladies for the interest they manifested in soliciting subscriptions. They succeeded in collecting in a short time $60, which was duly forwarded to Newport. An entertainment was also held in the Baptist church for the same purpose from which was realized about $20. That is the kind of sympathy we call heart felt, the kind that reaches down in the pocket and furnishes help, "verily they have their reward."

Francesville.

The fruit prophets are plentiful in this vicinity, and all predict an unusually large crop the coming season. It is to be hoped they are right.

Those having sugar orchards or camps anticipate a good season, and preparations are being made for business as soon as the weather will permit.

As spring approaches garden making draweth nigh, and, as yet, Mr. Editor, we have not received a copy of that book of yours. We were in hopes that ere another season came for planting, we would have your ideas in print, giving the best methods of planting and cultivating garden sass, also your experience as to the surest way of preventing insects and animals, especially hogs, from destroying a crop. Hogs were very bad with us last year, and unless we can get a recipe to prevent their ravages, we think it useless to devote much of our precious time to gardening.—[1. To plant in the ground and cultivate with plow and hoe.—2. Our experience was p. d. b.—3. To keep them out of the garden entirely. Now if you follow these instructions and fail we'll set 'em up.—ED.]

The general supposition here is, that the sun saw its shadow ground hog day and has gone back to its hole, while the ground hog himself roams at large.

It rains on the just as well as the unjust, as we have learned to our sorrow. The roads and streets have become impassable and we are completely cut off from the outside world. Business of all kinds has suspended and we fear that a panic will be the result. It is to be hoped that sucsor may reach us in time to avoid such a calamity.

During the flood, notwithstanding the inclement weather, the hills bordering on the river were lined with spectators witnessing the sad scenes of destruction. Houses, barns, bridges hay stacks, and everything imaginable that would float could be seen drifting down the angry waters, and yet it was not within the power of man to capture them, excepting where one would occasionally drift in the back waters itself and could be tied fast. Thousands are destitute, homeless and dependant on the charities of their more fortunate brothers. We heard several predict last spring that the water would not reach the mark of 1883 for the next one hundred years to come. They have just missed it ninety-nine years, a close guess indeed.

We came near having to chronicle the details of a terrible tragedy from this place, but fortunately, if so ordained, the parties concerned did not come together when at blood heat, otherwise there is no telling what would have happened. The altercation all came about a stray hog, the gentleman that claimed the animal taking it without proving the rights of property, and in the absence of the party that had taken up the stray. This so much incensed him that he went in pursuit immediately on learning the hog had been taken, and as luck would have it he took the opposite direction in which the hog was taken, and after riding several miles in the bracing atmosphere he cooled off somewhat, and concluded he would return and give up the chase. The difficulty, however, has since been satisfactorily adjusted, and quiet reigns supreme between the parties.

Wm. Greenidge had a hay stack to fall on a valuable steer a few days since, smothering it to death before he discovered the accident.

Parties desiring sugar furnaces on the european plan can be accommodated by calling at No. 8, Sunflower Str., Francesville.

Wm. Watts has rented the Esq. Loder farm near this place and we understand he intends stocking it quite extensively.

There has been several transfers of real estate in this vicinity in the last week. It is where a part of one man's farm has slipped on to that of another.

Hebron.

The wheat looks splendid.

The pastures are green, and stock is grazing some.

The pike from here to Constance is in very bad condition.

Tom Huron is going to cultivate Mr. Milton Gaines' farm this year.

Our young folks enjoyed a nice hop at Thomas Huron's on the night of the 15th inst.

Dr. Terrill, a few days since, removed a cancer from Mrs. Malinda Walton's breast. She is doing well.

A dog belonging to James Rogers, of Bellevue, was in a chase with our boys, the other day, and led the pack. How is that, John Aylor?

Rabbit Hash.

[Rising Sun Local.]

The tobacco warehouse at Rabbit Hash has moved from its foundation.

Part of Ben Wilson's house, in Rabbit Hash, was washed away on Tuesday night.

Only the roofs of the houses in the business portion of Rabbit Hash are visible.

One of W. H. Nelson's houses, at Rabbit Hash, floated away Wednesday night. Altogether his loss will probably amount to $1,000.

Less than a dozen families in Rising Sun have been incommoded by the high water.

The large saw-mill and lumber yard at Constance are in a very bad condition, being all in a pile. Several houses down there were taken off, and the loss in that neighborhood is very heavy.

Sam Rogers, who was indicted at the last term of the Circuit Court, for a nuisance offense, came to town Monday evening and took lodging at the Robbins house. Constable Sandford and Deputy Sheriff Finch finding out he was there, arrested him and lodged him in jail.

A PURE strengthening tonic, free from whisky, cures dyspepsia, indigestion, and similar diseases. It has never been equaled. Brown's Iron Bitters.

WADLEY, GA.—Dr. H. L. Battle, Jr., says: "Brown's Iron Bitters are very popular in this section and give entire satisfaction."

SHELBYOAN, WIS.—Dr. S. R. Myers says: "I recommend Brown's Iron Bitters for general debility, loss of appetite, and want of strength."

LIST OF CLAIMS,

ALLOWED BY THE

COURT OF CLAIMS,

Since January Term 1883.

April Term 1883.

Claims payable out of the levy of 1882

Drs Smith, Grant & Furnish $75 00

May Term 1883.

For Assessors Book 11 50
A O Hall 37 50

June Term 1883.

I H Dills and T L Swetnam allowed for coffin for pauper 6 00

Special Term July 5th, 1883.

For Poll Books 8 50

November Term 1883.

Claims payable out of levy of 1883

For benefit of Frank Stephens 5 00
Sam Cowan jail acount 93 85

Claims payable out of the levy of 1884

M T Garnett clerk 54 00
Sallie Underhill keeping pauper 90
J W Kennedy coffin for pauper 6 00
Joseph Rich constable 5 20
same 7 40
W C Moxley same 2 60
same 6 80
Carley & Edwards for coffin 6 00
J T Carley holding inquest 12 00
E H Baker same 6 00
L A Loder same 9 00
Joe Wagstaff same 5 00
J H Dugan keeping pauper 78
W W Garnett claim 7 00
Ed Fowlers claim 10 25
J R Clutterbucks account 46 00
L H Dills county judge 400 00
S W Tolin county attorney 400

January Term 1884

Claims payable out of the levy of 1883

J R Clutterbuck to W Monfort 80 00
J W Kirk for coffin 6 00
Sam Hind cir. ct. judg't. 69 28
W L Riddell assignee H J Foster cir. ct. judgm't 71 30
Same clerks fee, &c. 57 88
J G Gaines receiver poor-h 50 39
A O Hall super't. poor-house 37 50
Drs Smith, Grant & Furnish 75 00

Claims payable out of the levy of 1884

Dr L H Piatt pauper practice 35 00
Dr L C Cowen same 40 00
Dr Lasing, Blanton & Riley 50 00
A A Murat same 45 84
O'Neal & Finnell same 40
W H & J E Terrill same 50
J A Wood same 35
Wood & Adams same 35
R A Edwards same 35
Slater & Sayer same 45
D O Reeves for coffin 6 00
Riddell & Hall, for printing 20
T J Watts constable claim 4
W C Moxley " " 2 80
same " " 3 68
same " " 3
same " " 2
same " " 2 20
same " " 2 60
same " " 4 00
W S Ryle " " 5 40
O H Conrad " " 5 60
E H Baker acct for rails 12 50
W F Mckim for medicine 2 75

Justices present at June Term 1883

J Wagstaff	3	L A Loder	3
J Hensly	3	Eph Helm	3
O Gaines	3	E H Baker	3
S T Johnson	3	F M Howlett	3
J J Brumback	3	M B Green	3
T H Sutton	3	B H Ryle	3
W W Garnett	3	M C Norman	3
W A Goodridge	3	H Bannister	3

Justices present 7th day January 1883

E H Baker	3	O Gaines	3
J Wagstaff	3	B H Ryle	3
M B Green	3	J J Brumback	3
A G McConnell	3	T F Curley	3
A B Whitlock	3

Justices present November Term 1883

O Gaines	3	J J Brumback	3
W W Garnett	3	T H Sutton	3
L A Loder	3	J Hensly	3
E H Baker	3	F M Howlett	3
S T Johnson	3	M Norman	3
H Bannister	3	J Wagstaff	3
W M Rouse	3	A Ellis	3
B H Ryle	3	A G McConnell	3
T J Curley	3	W A Goodridge	3

Special term January 14, 1884

W M Rouse	3	O Gaines	3
L A Loder	3	T F Curley	3
W A Goodridge	3	B H Ryle	3
H Bannister	3	A B Whitlock	3
T H Sutton	3	F M Howlett	3
S T Johnson	3	A G McConnell	3
M Norman	3	J Wagstaff	3
E H Baker	3
M B Green	3	J J Brumback	3

Special Term Jan. 15, '84 — Allowed $3 each.

M Norman	T F	Curley
S T Johnson	J J	Brumback
F M Howlett	B H	Ryle
A G McConnell	W A	Goodridge
M B Green	A B	Whitlock
H Bannister	J	Wagstaff
W M Rouse	O	Gaines

Judges August election 1883

Wm Rouse	2	B H Ryle	2
J M Robinson	2	A Blythe	2
W H Clore	2	N Talbott	2
T H Sutton	2	J D Norris	2
J Hurd	2	S G Hedges	2
Wm Wilkie	2	M B Green	2
G L Miller	2	B Rouse	2
J Breedon	2	Jno Stephen	2
J D Conner	2	Sam Hind	2
Alex Murray	2	J Wagstaff	2
F M Underhill	2	W W Grimsly	2
J Arnold	2	J T Kelley	2

Tellers General August Election 1883 allowed $2 each.

O Gaines	S K	Dempsey
Perry Carpenter	Lewis	Rice
A B Whitlock	Ed	Webb
Jno Berkshire	S G	Botts
Thos Watts	Abe	Wainscott
A Corbin	H C	Botts
Chas Wilson	Jno P	Craig
A D Riley	M L	Rouse
C M Allen	G W	Baker
Andrew Ellis	J S	Nocll
J T Roberts	W S	O'Neal
W G Stamper	Abe	Stansifer

Clerks August election 1883

W B Grubbs	2	B Carpenter	2
J L Brooks	2	A B Parker	2
G W Cayton	2	W B Watts	2
C C Roberts	2	J D Gaines	2
Thos Cowen	2	Ben Wilson	2
S P Brady	2	H Polly	2

Sheriff's August election 1883

J Rich	2	S W Phillips	2 56
L L Stephens	2	S G Stephens	3 20
A W Bristow	2	G T Gaines	2 00
C C Graves	2	J L Rich	3 00
J M Botts	2	J G Snow	3 20
J Carson	2	J A Riddell	2 64

COUNTY LEVY $2 50

Attest, M. T. GARNETT, Clerk.

FOR GOOD

Boots AND Shoes,

GO TO

GEO. H. LEOBKER'S,

NO 36 PIKE STREET,

Covington, - - Kentucky.

R. S. CRISLER,

Burlington, Ky.

WAGON MAKER AND

—MANUFACTURER OF—

ROAD WAGONS, SPRING WGONS, HARROWS, PLOWS, WHEEL BARROWS

AND ALL KINDS OF WOOD WORK.

Also the Manufacturer of W. M. Conner's Patent Right Hay Conveyor.

Saws Filed & Sharpened.

Please call and examine my prices before calling elsewhere.

JAMES S. WAYNE, President. JNO. L. SANDFORD, Cashier

CAPITAL $300,000.

FARMERS AND TRADERS

NATIONAL BANK.

Covington, Kentucky.

DIRECTORS.

James S. Wayne, J.S. Matson, M. C. Motch, J. H. Morsman, Sam Hind, J. L. Sandford, L. H. Dills, E. J. Hickey, L. C. Stephens, E. J. Green, F. P. Helm

The general operations of banking transacted upon the most favorable terms, collections made on all points in the United States.

The Business and Accounts of Farmers are Especially Solicited by this Bank.

dec. 20dtm

The Greatest Bargains in

OVERCOATS

AND

SUITS!

CAN BE HAD AT

H. F. BLASE,

540 Madison St, - COVINGTON, KY

UNDERTAKING.

We keep Constantly on Hand all sizes of

Burial Cases and Caskets.

And having just received a beautiful

NEW HEARSE,

Which can be had at a reasonable price when desired.

PRICES GUARANTEED LESS THAN CITY PRICES!

DAVIS BROS., - - HEBRON, KY.

MOTHER NOBLE'S

HEALING SYRUP.

20 Million Bottles sold in 10 years. A certain Cure for Dyspepsia, all Diseases of the Kidneys, Liver, Stomach, Blood, Skin and Bowels. Can Produce Thousands of Letters proving its Curative Powers.

TRADE MARK.

AN OLD AND LONG TRIED REMEDY.

LABORATORY 77 AMITY STREET, NEW YORK CITY.

FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

Cornease, --The King of Corn Killers. The most desperate Corns, BUNIONS, WARTS &c., SPEEDILY cured. Price 25 Cents.

Footease, --An Unfailing Remedy for Hot, Swollen and Tender Feet, Chilblains, &c. Price 25 Cents. Cornease Manuf'g Co., 236, 5th Ave. Place, N. Y. City.

For Sale by Agents, Druggists and Shoe Dealers.

City Flouring Mills

RISING SUN, INDIANA.

FLOUR EXCHANGED FOR WHEAT OR CASH. THE HIGHEST MARKET PRICE PAID FOR GOOD WHEAT.

mar1-tf23

J. W. Talbott.

Subscribe for the Recorder.

THE RECORDER.

RIDDELL & HALL, Publishers.

BURLINGTON, : : KENTUCKY

THE CYCLONE.

It was June; on the hills of Alcka,
The robin sang out his Eureka,
Above the rimmed crest
Of his circling nest,
In which were the young,
To which he now sung:
I have found it—Eureka! Eureka!

It was June on the meadows of clover,
It was June in the heart of the lover,
It was June in the comb
Where the bees made their home,
As they hummed the low tune,
It is June, it is June,
And all nature repealed it over.

O, how the sun shone on that morning.
It seemed to only give warning
That Heaven was near.
Never fear, never fear;
The lark's song and linnet
Had such music in it,
As said: Have good cheer, never fear.

The young farmer went forth to his plowing,
With a joy as he thought of the growing,
With the harvest to come
To gladden the home;
And he whistled and thought
Of what should be bought
From the harvest of plowing and sowing.

And the young wife looked forth on her joy,
Twin blessing, a bright girl and boy,
As now hand in hand
They climbed furrows of land
Toward the spot where he plowed,
Their father, so proud,
And in cottage and field there was joy.

* * * * * * *

I see a shadow. Up the west
It creeps—now 'bove the wooded crest
Two shadows meet in one embrace,
Each with an anger in its face;
They grapple, and go round and round
In sweeping circles toward the ground.
Deep are their groans, fierce is the breath
That tells of ruin, wreck and death.

Ah, how they whirl through orchard branch,
And grind the trees like avalanche.
They toss through black and maddened air
The toil and fruits of years of care!
Now where the peaceful kine were fed
It raises beam of barn and shed,
And leaves the mangled herder dead.
Oh, watch it now and breathe a prayer,
Like springing beast from out his lair
It whirls and sweeps about the spot
Where stands the farmer's peaceful cot,
Like one white flake of fleecy snow
That winter winds have loved to toss
'Cross some bleak hill or hollow low
Until amid the whole 'twas lost.
So that white cot was upward borne
And racked and seamed and outward torn;
'Twas scattered many a field across,
And, like the breath of snow, was lost.
On swept the giant, fierce and black,
O! send your pitying glances back
Across that field where happiness
So late was bending to caress,
And see where, in one passing breath,
Life, happiness, are crushed to death.

The mother, rising from the ground,
With many a ghastly, bleeding wound,
Among the ruin peers around:
She hears no voice—all is as still
As silence on a dead sea calm;
Not e'en a bird essays to trill—
Hushed every note of nature's psalm.
She calls their names, and mockingly
An echo answers from the air.
And then she upward looked and looked,
As though she thought to find them there,
'Till, stumbling on a broken beam,
Her eyes are brought once more to ground.
Is it the horror of a dream?
No, there her treasures fast are bound.
Close in their father's arms they lie,
But death has closed each love-lit eye.
She tries to wrench the beam away
Until the bleeding hands grow weak;
Then, kneeling there, she clasps their clay,
And kisses each dead lip, and cheek.
With stony gaze and tearless eye
She asks the unanswered question: Why?
'Till, maddened by the awful spell
Of loss, and loneliness, and grief,
She rocked as rocks upon the swell
A life-boat o'er a ragged reef,
And cried their names, and whispered soft:
"Wake, husband, darling," as she oft
Had woke them from their morning nap,
Or him, the husband, from his dreams,
To take the darlings on his lap,
All in the bright'ning morning beams.

And there the tender neighbors found
The mother, seated on the ground,
Trying the oft-repeated task.
By hearts that bleed, and hearts that break,
To baffle death, and bring to life
The sleepers that will never wake.

* * * * * * *

It was June on the hills of Alcka,
No robin sang out his Eureka,
For the tree and the nest
Were swept by the blast,
And the red-breasted young
To which he had sung
Were dead, on the hills of Alcka.

Three graves on the hills of Alcka,
And a stone with the one word, Eureka.
Past the storms that may sweep,
And the tears that we weep;
Past the earth's fickle wind,
In a beautiful land,
They have found it, Eureka! Eureka.

—C. H. Burdick, in Chicago Inter Ocean.

THE WITCH'S RING.

A Midnight Adventure in a New England Grave-Yard.

A very curious, sleepy old village is Adlingtune. Half a century behind the rest of the world, it still sits between the green hills of an Eastern State, with its elbows on its knees and its chin in its hands, musing on by-gone days, when old King George held the land under his sway, and when, as its old folk sagely remark, things were not as they are now. There are a great many old people in Adlingtune—in fact very few die young there. The atmosphere is so dreamy and peaceful that excitement can-not exist, and the wear and tear of the busy world is unknown, or at most only hums faintly over the hills, like the buzzing of a fly on a sunny pane on a summer day. And so they still sit in their chimney-corners from year to year, and muse, and doze, and dream, until they dream their lives away and take their final sleep. It was to an old crone of this description that I was indebted for my adventure.

In the course of my idle ramblings about the village I chanced one day to peer over a crumbling wall and discovered an old, disused burial ground. The brown slabs were broken, prostrate and scattered, with only here and there a forlorn unsteady stone standing wearily and waiting for the time to come when it, too, might fall down and rest with the sleepers beneath. Scrambling over the low wall I stooped about among the grass, pushing away the tangled masses of vines and leaves from the faces of slabs that I might read the inscriptions there. But the suns and storms of over one hundred years had obliterated nearly all the letters, so that only portions of names and dates remained. Finally, down in a deep corner of the inclosure, where the weeds grew densest and the shade was darkest, I found an old stone which, leaning forward, had protected its face from the storms, and on this stone I read the words:

BARBARA CONWAIL.

BORN 1670, DIED 1730. AGE, SIXTY YEARS.

Having been lawfully executed for the practice of witchcraft.

My curiosity was at once aroused. I inquired of several persons as to the history of this woman, but without success for a time. Finally, however, I found an old woman, who told me the history of Barbara Conwall, as it had been handed down by her ancestors:

Living in an old stone house at the edge of the village, she was rarely seen—for no one ever crossed her threshold—save when she was occasionally met by a frightened party of children idling away a summer's afternoon's holiday in the woods, when she would scowl and pass away, stooping along over the fields, gathering herbs with which to brew her mighty potions. No one ever interfered with her, however, until a sad year came to Adlingtune.

An epidemic broke out and raged with a fury that nothing could withstand. People began to mutter that Barbara the witch was the cause of it. Passing along the road she was stoned by a party of boys, to whom she turned, and, shaking her bony hand, shrieked that the curse was upon them.

Two of the lads sickened and died in a few days, and though scores were carried away in a like manner, an especial import was attached to their death. Barbara began to be watched. They looked through her windows at midnight and found her bending over a seething caldron, throwing in herbs, muttering cabalistic words, and stirring the mixture with what they reported to be a human bone. Old Barbara was working her charms.

So when one morning a man came into town bruised and covered with mud, and testified that as he rode past old Barabarn's house, at twelve o'clock the night before, he saw the Arch Fiend and the witch in conversation upon the house-top, surrounded by flames and laughing fiendishly in the lurid glare as they shook their fists at the plague-stricken village sleeping below, his tale found ready credence. The fact that he was an habitual drunkard, and had on more than one occasion rolled from his horse in a drunken stupor and passed the night in a ditch, dreaming wild dreams, did not in the least detract from the belief of the villagers in his account of this scene; and when he related how this pair of demons had pounced upon him, and had first tortured and then thrown him senseless into a ditch, their indignation became uncontrollable.

Old Barbara was tried, condemned and hanged, though she protested in her innocence to the last. The little sum of money found in her possession was used to buy that grave-stone—as no one would dare appropriate it—and to this day if any one were bold enough to go to her grave at midnight on the same day of the year on which she was hanged and say: "Barbara, I believe you were innocent," at the same time stretching out his hand over the grave, she would appear to him and place in his hand a talisman.

This talisman would bring good fortune as long as he retained it, but at some time in his life the witch would return to him and claim her own.

The old woman ended her story in a low, impressive monotone, which, with her earnestness and sincere belief in what she said, almost carried conviction to me in spite of reason. As I sauntered away, ridiculing these ignorant and superstitious village folk, I found myself almost unconsciously wandering back through the old burial ground to the witch's grave. Carelessly glancing at the inscription, I was surprised to find that very day was the one hundred and fiftieth anniversary of her death, and still more surprised when the thought occurred to me of watching at her grave that night. I ridiculed and scoffed the idea. Where was my boasted common sense and incredulity? But, still returning ever, came that wayward thing called fancy—and it conquered.

The world was wild and weird that night, when I stole forth from the village. The wind was moaning through the trees and sobbing piteously; the black clouds were driven in broken patches across the sky, now letting down the moonshine, and again shrouding all in blackest night, and making the shadows chase each other about and steal around corners upon one in a manner that made me wince in spite of myself. Climbing the low stone wall—rather nervously, I confess—I stole away through the old, down-trodden graves, pushing through the weeds and briars as silently as possible, and making my way towards that dark and dreary corner where the old witch reposed. A grave-yard at noon is a very different spot from a grave-yard at midnight, especially if one is there to seek an interview with a spirit.

I reached the place and stood by the tomb. It still lacked a few minutes of twelve, and as I stood there watching the moonlight flitting over the graves I longed for a little ray to creep in with me. But no—approaching and receding and wavering all about me, it never touched this grave, but fled away as often as it approached, as though frightened at the black shadow forever lurking there.

By and by the village clock tolled twelve. As the slow, tremulous tones stole out on the night the wind ceased moaning, the clouds covered the face of the moon, the insects stopped chirping, and when the last stroke was finished the almost unbearable silence was broken only by my own breathing, which I strove in vain to suppress. The darkness was intense and I could see nothing. A terrible feeling of guilt and terror seized me, that I, a mortal, should be intruding there at such an hour. Mechanically I strove to speak the words I had been told, but my lips refused to form a sound.

Still I stood in that awful black silence, chilled with fear, until with a mighty effort I reached out my arm over the grave and grasped—a hand.

It was only for an instant—not that, for it was jerked away in a twinkling—but long enough to feel how warm and velvety it was and how small. Not that I lingered there to reflect upon these novel qualities in the hand of a ghost, and an old witch at that, for you altogether mistake my bravery in supposing it; but it was after I had cleared the old wall at a bound and was on the moonlit road, walking at a rattling good pace towards town, that I recalled it.

From a state of intense cold I had changed to burning heat. The touch of those soft fingers thrilled me through as with an electric shock, and I walked faster still in my excitement. Gradually the consciousness forced itself upon me that I held something in my clenched hands. There was first a glitter and then a sparkle, as the moonlight fell into the hollow of my upraised hand, and I saw there a glittering ring set with flashing stones. The icicles began slipping down my back again, and I hurried on.

Some persons may be inclined to deride my nervousness on this occasion, but I assure such that I am not naturally a timid man. I have a medal hanging in my room at home which asserts that I am not a timid man, and above all I had always been particularly void of superstitious fear; but truth compels me to say that I not only lighted all the lights on reaching my room at the little inn that night, but turned them very high into the bargain; and that I made a systematic inspection of all the closets and removed from its peg a long cloak that was hanging in a very suggestive position on the wall. This done, I sat down—with my back against the wall—and examined the ring.

It was a quaint old ring, curiously carved and massive. The setting was composed of several small colored stones set in a circle about a large diamond. My financial circumstances had rendered it unnecessary for me to acquaint myself with precious stones and their values, so that I could only surmise that the ring was somewhat valuable. Considering the exciting condition of my nerves by this time, it was not strange that I should start when my eye fell upon the name that was inscribed in quaint letters inside the ring—"Barbara."

I sat and mused upon the whole adventure; what the crone had told me—the grave-yard, the ring and (this was returned to me the oftenest) the thrilling touch of the soft hand in the darkness.

Perhaps I should say right here that I called myself an old bachelor, and had never been in love—that is, with any mortal. I did not think that I was devoid of sentiment or feeling, for I often dreamed of love, and worshiped beautiful things of my own fancy, but my life had been thrown among boys and men, and woman was far away and a mystery. A motherless home, a stern father, a hard working student's life at college, a stranger struggling for bread and reputation in a great city—one can perceive how it could be that I had made few acquaintances among women. In reality I was only twenty-five, but much experience and a busy life had made me feel older; so, as I said, I called myself a bachelor.

I have given this brief history of myself in order to prepare the way for another confession. I was falling in love with the owner of that soft, warm hand. It is preposterous, but it is true. I began to doubt my reason. In vain I tried to remember that Barbara, the witch, was an old, ugly woman. The only picture I could call up was that of a beautiful young girl with—but words fail me: only she was far from ghastly, but was as warm and substantial and full of life as that hand had seemed to be.

The fire-irons fell with an unearthly clatter and started me out of my dreams. I went to bed to soothe my nerves with sleep, and lay awake most of the night with the lamps burning.

Fortune smiled upon me from that night. Two years of busy city life had passed, and old Barbara's talisman was still unreclaimed, when one day—do you believe in love at first sight? Well, if the first appearance of Walter Wyman's sister had not conquered me as she stood under the parlor lamps, a revelation of beauty and youth, the touch of her hand when she welcomed her brother's friend would have enslaved me forever. Never had a touch so thrilled me since—since I held the witch's hand in the grave-yard. The same peculiar shock passed through me, and the memory of that spectral night came over me like a flash.

But I did not start out to tell a love story. Let me briefly say that I fell in love, hopelessly and ridiculously in love, and that I acted just like all lovers have done since the world began. It doesn't matter much about a man's age. At twenty-seven he will conduct himself pretty much as he would have done at seventeen, and so I wrote verses and sighed, and tormented myself with a thousand hopes and fears, and grew hot and cold by turns, and wonderfully timid, and prided myself upon concealing it all, when, as a matter of fact, the state of my feelings was perfectly apparent to all my acquaintances.

Matters were in this interesting state, when one day an opportunity occurred of which I availed myself with a degree of skill and presence of mind that I am proud of to this day. It all came about through my asking the young lady if she believed in ghosts.

"I suppose I should," said she, laughing, "considering my experience."

Leave a woman alone to make an evasive answer. Of course, I implored an explanation and she related to me the following story:

"It was about two years ago when a party of girls, just home from school, were visiting a friend down in the country. One of the girls had heard a foolish old story about a witch's grave, and some nonsense about her annual appearance, and a talisman, and when I expressed my incredulity, they braved me to put it to the test. What is the matter? The place? A little town called Adlingtune.

"Foolishly I accepted their challenge and received a terrible fright. I carried out the instructions and stretched my arm over the grave. It was so dark I could see nothing, but some one seized my hand. I was so benumbed with fear that I could not cry out, but could only fly through the lonely grave-yard to where my trembling companions were awaiting me in the field. It was a foolish adventure, for I fell ill, and it cost me a valuable ring, which was left to me by poor Aunt Barbara. 'For her little name sake,' she said when she sent it across the sea to me. You see, the ring was a little large for my finger and was pulled off by—by—"

"By me," I interrupted, taking the lost ring from my pocket.

It was time for Barbara (I forgot to say that her was name), to be startled now. I hope I may say that I came out strong on that occasion. I told my story in a very impressive way, lingered over the effect of the witch's hand on my heart, spoke of the good fortune the talisman had brought me, made a very pretty allusion to Barbara the witch reclaiming her own—for she was not a witch, after all, as I could testify, having felt her charms—and finally not only offered to return the ring but to give myself into the bargain.

She took both.—San Francisco Argonaut.

A Man of Details.

The complaint that Mr. Villard was too big a man to understand the details of railroad management, and that he really never knew anything of O. T., outside of making mortgages, brings to mind the case of an Ohio road. It had President after President, and each one cocked his feet on the office desk and let her rip. She had "ripped" until the directors finally got together and decided that the right man must be found pretty soon or the road must go to the wall. They were consulting in a room looking out into the passenger depot. A train came in eighteen minutes behind time, and the train-dispatcher booted the conductor out of one door, fired the engineer out of another, and run the fireman under a freight train. He then backed the train out, and was coming back from the yards, when the directors met him and one of them asked:

"Mr. Thomas, can you accept the Presidency of this road?"

"Wait a minute," was the reply; and the man shunted three cars, cuffed a switchman, drove two loafers out of the yard, and returned and said:

"Why, yes, I suppose so; and the first thing I shall do is to fire you all out o' here! Don't let me see you around here again for six months."

In a year the road was paying a dividend.—Wall Street News.

—Rev. J. G. Wood possessed for four years a large lump of dry Nile mud, a hole in one of its sides showing that a mudfish was within it. The other day he carefully cut the lump open, and found the inhabitant in good condition, doubled up, with its tail over its head, just as when it went in to sleep more than twenty years ago.—Harper's Weekly.

SCIENCE AND INDUSTRY

Wareham, Mass., is making the iron-clad steel nail from muck bar iron and steel scraps, ten dollars a ton cheaper than the old iron nail, as strong as steel and as flexible as iron.—Boston Herald.

—Engineering in China has achieved a notable triumph in the construction of the bridge at Lagang, over an arm of the China Sea. It is five miles long, built entirely of stone, has 300 arches seventy feet high, and the roadway is seventy feet wide. The pillars are seventy-five feet apart.

—Blindness is steadily decreasing in England, owing, it is considered, to the advance in surgical treatment of the eyes, and to the decline of such diseases as small-pox, etc., among children. For thirty years this affliction has gradually lessened; but within the last decade the improvement is specially noticeable.

—The latest novelty in Sweden is an enormous engine which daily produces 1,000,000 boxes of matches. It receives the raw material (blocks of wood) at one end and gives up at the other the matches neatly arranged in their boxes, ready to be packed. The wood which, in the course of last summer, was brought over to Jonkoping to be made into matches, filled twenty steamers and eight sailing-vessels.

—Dr. Clauston, of the Edinburgh Asylum, Scotland, is substituting milk diet for stimulants in treating his patients. In very acute cases, both of depression and maniacal exultation, where the disordered working of the frame tends rapidly to exhaust the strength, he relies more and more on milk and eggs made into liquid custards. This certainly looks like a sensible substitute for stimulants under such circumstances.

—In the center of a big circle of gold watches in a Maiden Lane (New York City) watchmaker's window is a handsome open-faced chronometer with this placard: "The first watch ever made in America by machinery." It is a relic. It was made in Roxbury, Mass., about 1850. It runs for eight days with a single winding. It was the first watch ever made in this country that was entirely manufactured by machinery. It is as perfect as the standard watch of to-day, and differs but little in the general plan of construction.—N. Y. Tribune.

—The Pennsylvania Railroad Company has been experimenting recently with a patent which is to do away with the bell-rope on passenger trains. The experiments are being conducted on the Pittsburgh division, and the patent is the production of the Westinghouse Air Brake Company. It consists of a communication by air pressure with a small whistle in the cab of the engineer. The hose through which the air is conducted will be independent of that communicating with the brakes. The connection between the passenger car and the air-tube is from the rear of the coach, near the closet, where there is a button, which is pressed by the conductor when he desires to signal the engineer.—Philadelphia Press.

PITH AND POINT.

—Sam Pine rejoices in the proud distinction of being the leader of a gang of burglars in New Jersey. At the risk of destroying our American forests, somebody should pitch Pine into a dungeon.—N. Y. World.

—As a drug clerk the female is not a brilliant success. When you wink at her across a soda fountain she doesn't know whether to put in a little Balm of Gilead in your soda or to hang her head and blush.—Bismarck Tribune.

—All over the East young ladies are killing themselves for the love of men who carry canes, wear yellow gloves and affect eye-glasses. Mothers, are you properly educating your daughters?—N. Y. Commercial Advertiser.

—"No man," said Richter, "can either live piously or die righteous without having a wife." It does not follow, however, that the more wives a man has, the more piously he lives and the more righteous he dies.—Boston Post.

—A Connecticut factory turns out two thousand corsets a day. Another indication of the increasing power of the press, and at the same time an evidence of the staying power of the land of steady habits and ligneous nutmegs.—Boston Transcript.

—The editor wrote: "The most expensive drug in the market is egotinin," and the compositor made the last word "egotism." The idea is ridiculous. Egotism has become "a drug in the market" to be sure, but it is the cheapest.—Norristown Herald.

—A prominent and prosperous farmer of Michigan is quoted as saying recently: "When I was a boy and trudged along to school I was taught to take off my hat and make obeisance whenever I met a grown person. How is it now? Why, a man is fortunate if he can pass by a school-house without being snow-balled."—Detroit Post.

—An old negro and his son called on the editor of a New Orleans newspaper. "I wants my son ter work in yer office, sah." "What can he do?" "Oh! not fust he kant do nuthin' but chek your paper; but arter awhile, when learns mo' sense he ken black your boots an' sweep de flo."—N. Y. Independent.

—"Mamma, what is meant by 'little pitchers have ears'?" asked a little boy. "Where did you hear that expression?" demanded the mother, with a considerable show of interest. "Last night, mamma, in the dining-room. Mary was setting the table. I heard papa say it to her just as I opened the door."—Philadelphia Call.

—While a New Yorker was nosing around Birmingham, Ala., in search of a coal or iron mine at a bargain, a native accosted him with a request for ten cents, and added: "Only yesterday I owned a coal mine worth $20,000." "And why don't you own it to-day?" "Because a man got me drunk and coaxed me to trade it for an old mule." "And how will ten cents help you?" "Why, I want it to get whisky to get him drunk enough to trade back for a blind dog and an old shotgun. Stranger, don't let me lose $20,000 for the want of ten cents." He got it.—Wall Street News.

—Tea has been successfully and easily grown in Georgia for several years, but no effort has been made to prepare it for market on a scale to attract the attention of wholesale buyers, according to the Savannah News.

—It is thought that the fire among the brokers' offices in New York the other day was prevented from spreading by the immense blocks of watered stock stored about the premises.—N. Y. Graphic.

—There is supposed to be some beer-drinking in this country, but it is only twenty quarts per head in the United States to 125 in Great Britain, and 168 in Belgium.—N. Y. Mail.

—In an article contributed to the Nineteenth Century on "Covert Shooting," Mr. Bromley-Davenport lays down the following sensible rules as to the use of the gun:—1. Regard the gun as what it is—an enemy to life; carry it loaded or unloaded, with the muzzle vertical to earth or sky. 2. When loading, after inserting the cartridge, close the breach by raising the butt of the gun, not the barrel. 3. In cover, with guns or stops forward, never shoot at a low pheasant, woodcock or any bird. 4. Never shoot long shots at ground game. 5. Never shoot ground game on the sky line or any hilly or undulating ground in the covert. 6. Never "follow on" to any bird or beast crossing the line or level of any human being or domestic animal.

—The Baroness Burdett-Coutts is interesting herself in the matter of preventing cruelty to children. She thinks it is a pity that children cannot be removed by English law from homes where they are maltreated, unless they have committed some offense against the law.

125 Years Old.

Messrs. Francis Newberry & Son, London, England, established for 125 years, write: As a testimonial from one of the oldest drug-houses in Great Britain, respecting your household remedy, will no doubt be of interest to you, we are pleased to make the statement that we have sold St. Jacobs Oil with satisfaction to the public for several years, and that owing to the extraordinary merits of the article, the demand is continually increasing, and that we have heard of many favorable reports regarding its great virtue as a pain-curing remedy.

"LIFE is a riddle." That is probably the reason why suicides want to get riddle life.—Boston Transcript.

Something for all the Preachers.

Rev. H. H. Fairall, D. D., editor of the Iowa Methodist, says editorially, in the November (1883) number of his paper: "We have tested the merits of Ely's Cream Balm, and believe that, by a thorough course of treatment, it will cure almost every case of catarrh. Ministers, as a class, are afflicted with head and throat troubles, and catarrh seems more prevalent than ever. We cannot recommend Ely's Cream Balm too highly." Not a liquid nor a snuff. Applied to the nostrils with the finger.

"I'M afraid, Bridget, that we will not be able to live together any longer." "An' sure, mum, where is it ye'd be goin'?"—N. Y. News.

J. W. GRAHAM, Wholesale Druggist, of Austin, Tex., writes:—I have been handling DR. WM. HALL'S BALSAM FOR THE LUNGS for the past year, and have found it one of the most salable medicines I have ever had for Coughs, Colds and Consumption.

A SIGN in Cleveland reads: "Ice Kream Saltune," which is probably the worst cold spell of the season.—Chicago Journal.

*Both Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Blood Purifier are prepared at 233 and 235 Western Avenue, Lynn, Mass. Price of either, $1. Six bottles for $5. Sent by mail in the form of pills, or of lozenges, on receipt of price, $1 per box for either. Mrs. Pinkham freely answers all letters of inquiry. Inclose 3c stamp. Send for pamphlet. Mention this paper.

SUDDEN CHANGES OF WEATHER are productive of Throat Diseases, Coughs, Colds, etc. Effectual relief is found in the use of BROWN'S BRONCHIAL TROCHES.

"IT quiets the patient, and ultimately cures him." A late encomium on Samaritan Nervine.

THE short, hacking cough, which leads to Consumption, is cured by Piso's Cure.

IF afflicted with Sore Eyes, use Dr. Isaac Thompson's Eye Water. Druggists sell it. 25c.

MR. OLIVER MYERS, of Ironton, O., says: "Samaritan Nervine cured me of general debility."

Hard to Believe.

It is hard to believe that a man was cured of a Kidney disease after his body was swollen as big as a barrel and he had been given up as incurable and lay at death's door. Yet such a cure was accomplished by Kidney-Wort in the person of M. M. Devereaux, of Ionia, Mich., who says: "After thirteen of the best doctors in Detroit had given me up, I was cured by Kidney-Wort. I want every one to know what a boon it is."

Walnut Leaf Hair Restorer

Is entirely different from all others. It is as clear as water, and, as its name indicates, is a perfect Vegetable Hair Restorer. It will immediately free the head from dandruff, restore gray hair to its natural color, and produce a new growth where it has fallen off. It does not in any manner affect the health, which Sulphur, Sugar of Lead and Nitrate of Silver preparations have done. It will change light or faded hair in a few days to a beautiful glossy brown. Ask your druggist for it. Each bottle is warranted. JOHN D. PARK & SONS, Wholesale Agents, Cincinnati, Ohio, and C. N. CRITTENTON, N. Y.

☞ Quantity and Quality. In the Diamond Dyes more coloring is given than in any known dyes, and they give faster and more brilliant colors. 10c at all druggists. Wells, Richardson & Co., Burlington, Vt. Sample Card, 32 colors, and book of directions for 2c stamp.

A Messenger of Health.

Sent free to sufferers from nervous, chronic and blood diseases, brain and heart affections, nervous debility, etc. It tells of wonderful cures effected by Dr. Scott's Coca, Beef and Iron, with Phosphorus. Sold by druggists; $1. Dr. Scott, Kansas City, Mo.

I BELIEVE Swift's Specific has saved my life. I had virtually lost use of the upper part of my body and my arms from the poisonous effects of a large cancer on my neck, from which I had suffered for twenty years. S. S. S. has relieved me of all soreness, and the poison is being forced out of my system. I will soon be well.

W. R. ROBINSON, Davisboro, Ga.

THE MARKETS.

CINCINNATI, February 18, 1884.

LIVE STOCK—Cattle—common	$2 50	@	3 75
Choice butchers	5 00	@	5 85
HOGS—Common	5 75	@	6 70
Good packers	7 15	@	7 75
SHEEP	5 00	@	5 75
FLOUR—Family	5 00	@	5 50
GRAIN—Wheat—Longberry red		@	1 15
No. 2 red		@	1 06
Corn—No. 2 mixed		@	60
Oats—No. 2 mixed		@	40
Rye—No. 2	63	@	64
HAY—Timothy No. 1		@	11 00
HEMP—Double-dressed	8 75	@	9 00
PROVISIONS—Pork—Mess	18 00	@	18 50
Lard—Prime steam	9 80	@	9 85
BUTTER—Fancy Dairy	16	@	20
Prime Creamery	33	@	35
FRUIT AND VEGETABLES—
Potatoes per bar, from store	1 35	@	1 40
Apples, prime, per barrel	3 25	@	4 75

NEW YORK.

FLOUR—State and Western	$2 60	@	3 20
Good to choice	3 65	@	6 50
GRAIN—Wheat—No. 2 spring	1 02½	@	1 06½
No. 2 red	1 10¾	@	1 13¾
Corn—No. 2 mixed	59	@	59½
Oats—mixed	40	@	41
PORK—Mess		@	17 00

CHICAGO.

FLOUR—State and Western	$3 50	@	4 35
GRAIN—Wheat—No. 2 red	1 01	@	1 03
Corn—No. 2		@	54¾
Oats—No. 2		@	33
Rye	58	@
PORK—Mess	17 20	@	17 25
LARD—Steam	9 90	@	9 97½

BALTIMORE.

FLOUR—Family	$4 75	@	5 75
GRAIN—Wheat—No. 2 red	1 10	@	1 10¾
Corn—mixed	54	@	55
Oats—mixed	33	@	39¾

LOUISVILLE.

FLOUR—A No. 1	$ 4 15	@	4 25
GRAIN—Wheat—No. 2 red, new	1 04	@	1 05
Corn—mixed		@	53
Oats—mixed		@	37½
PORK—MESS		@	18 25

INDIANAPOLIS.

WHEAT—No. 2, red, new	$	@	1 04
CORN—mixed		@	50
OATS—mixed		@	35
LIVE STOCK—Cattle—
Butchers' stock	2 75	@	3 00
Shipping cattle	6 00	@	6 50
PROVISIONS—Pork—Mess	17 50	@
Lard—Refined	10¼	@

A HUNTER'S STORY.

How He was Overcome and the Way by which He was Finally Saved.

(Correspondence Spirit of the Times.)

An unusual adventure which recently occurred to your correspondent while hunting at Brookmere in this State is so timely and contains so much that can be made valuable to all readers, that I venture to reproduce it entire:

The day was a most inclement one and the snow quite deep. Rabbit tracks were plentiful, but they principally led in the direction of a large swamp, in which the rabbits could run without difficulty, but where the hunter constantly broke through the thin ice, sinking into the half-frozen mire to his knees. Notwithstanding these difficulties, the writer had persevered, although a very small bag of game was the result. While tramping about through a particularly malarial portion of the swamp, a middle aged man suddenly came into view carrying a muzzle loading shot-gun and completely loaded down with game of the finest description. Natural curiosity, aside from the involuntary envy that instinctively arose, prompted the writer to enter into conversation with the man, with the following result:

"You've had fine success, where did you get all that game?"

"Right here, in the swamp."

"It's pretty rough hunting in these parts, especially when a man goes up to his waist every other step."

"Yes, it's not very pleasant, but I am used to it and don't mind it."

"How long have you hunted hereabouts?"

"Why, bless you, I have lived here most of my life and hunted up to ten years ago every year."

"How does it happen you omitted the last ten years?"

"Because I was scarcely able to move, much less hunt."

"I don't understand you?"

"Well, you see, about ten years ago, after I had been tramping around all day in this same swamp, I felt quite a pain in my ankle. I didn't mind it very much, but it kept troubling me for a day or two, and I could see that it kept increasing. The next thing I knew, I felt the same kind of a pain in my shoulder and I found it pained me to move my arm. This thing kept going on and increasing, and though I tried to shake off the feeling and make myself think it was only a little temporary trouble, I found that it did not go. Shortly after this my joints began to ache at the knees and I finally became so bad that I had to remain in the house most of the time."

"And did you trace all this to the fact that you had hunted so much in this swamp?"

"No, I didn't know what to lay it to, but I knew that I was in misery. My joints swelled until it seemed as though all the flesh I had left was bunched at the joints; my fingers crooked in every way and some of them became double-jointed. In fact, every joint in my body seemed to vie with the others to see which could become the largest and cause me the greatest suffering. In this way several years passed on, during which time I was pretty nearly helpless. I became so nervous and sensitive that I would sit bolstered up in the chair and call to people that entered the room not to come near me, or even touch my chair. While all this was going on, I felt an awful burning heat and fever, with occasional chills running all over my body, but especially along my back and through my shoulders. Then again my blood seemed to be boiling and my brain to be on fire."

"Didn't you try to prevent all this agony?"

"Try, I should think I did try. I tried every doctor that came within my reach and all the proprietary medicines I could hear of. I used washes and liniments enough to last me for all time, but the only relief I received was by injections of morphine."

"Well, you talk in a very strange manner for a man who has tramped around on a day like this and in a swamp like this. How in the world do you dare to do it?"

"Because I am completely well and as sound as a dollar. It may seem strange, but it is true that I was entirely cured; the rheumatism all driven out of my blood; my joints reduced to their natural size and my strength made as great as ever before, by means of that great and simple remedy, Warner's Safe Rheumatic Cure, which I believe saved my life."

"And so you now have no fear of rheumatism?"

"Why, no. Even if it should come on, I can easily get rid of it by using the same remedy."

The writer turned to leave, as it was growing dark, but before I had reached the city precisely the same symptoms I had just heard described came upon me with great violence. Impressed with the hunter's story, I tried the same remedy, and within twenty-four hours all pain and inflammation had disappeared. If any reader is suffering from any manner of rheumatic or neuralgic troubles and desires relief let him by all means try this same great remedy. And if any readers doubt the truth of the above incident or its statements let them write to A. A. Coates, Brookmere, N. Y., who was the man with whom the writer conversed, and convince themselves of its truth or falsity. J. R. C.

Hale's Honey of Horehound and Tar

If timely used prevents galloping consumption. Pike's toothache drops cure in one min.

Farmers—Try It!

Wells, Richardson & Co.'s Improved Butter Color will be found to be the only oil color that will not become rancid. Test it and you will prove it. It will not color the butter-milk; it gives the brightest color of any made, and is the strongest and therefore the cheapest.

St. Jacobs Oil

THE GREAT GERMAN REMEDY For Pain! Relieves and cures RHEUMATISM, Neuralgia, SCIATICA, LUMBAGO, BACKACHE, Headache, Toothache, SORE THROAT, QUINSY, SWELLINGS, SPRAINS, Soreness, Cuts, Bruises, FROSTBITES, BURNS, SCALDS, And all other bodily aches and pains.

FIFTY CENTS A BOTTLE. Sold by all Druggists and Dealers. Directions in 11 languages.

The Charles A. Vogeler Co. (Successors to A. VOGELER & CO.) Baltimore, Md., U.S.A.

HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED

STOMACH BITTERS

They who work early and late the year round need, occasionally, the healthful stimulus imparted by a wholesome tonic like Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. To all, its purity and efficiency as a remedy and preventive of disease commend it. It checks incipient rheumatism and malarial symptoms, relieves constipation, dyspepsia and biliousness, arrests premature decay of the physical energies, mitigates the infirmities of age and hastens convalescence. For sale by all Druggists and Dealers generally.

CATARRH

The End of Pain.

Twenty years of suffering from catarrh and catarrhal headache I never found anything to afford lasting relief until I tried Ely's Cream Balm. I have used two bottles, and now consider my catarrh cured. I have recommended it to several of my friends with like good results.—D. T. Higginson, 145 Lake Street, Chicago, Ill.

Cream Balm causes no pain. Gives relief at once. Cleanses the head. Causes healthy secretions. Abates inflammation. A thorough treatment will cure. Not a liquid or snuff. Applied with the finger. Send for circular. Sold by druggists. Mailed for 50 cents.

ELY BROTHERS, Druggists, Owego, N. Y.

WANTED—Men and Women to start a new business at their homes, easily learned in an hour. No peddling; 10c to 50c an hour made daytime or evening. Send 10c for 20 samples to commence work on. Address H. G. FAY, Rutland, Vermont.

COLEMAN BUSINESS COLLEGE, Newark, N. J. Terms $40. Positions for graduates; write for circular.

SAMARITAN NEVER FAILS NERVINE THE GREAT NERVE CONQUEROR

A SPECIFIC FOR Epilepsy, Spasms, Convulsions, Falling Sickness, St. Vitus Dance, Alcoholism, Opium Eating, Scrofula, Kings Evil, Ugly Blood Diseases, Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Sick Headache, Rheumatism, Nervous Weakness, Brain Worry, Blood Sores, Biliousness, Costiveness, Nervous Prostration, Kidney Troubles and Irregularities. $1.50.

Sample Testimonials.

"Samaritan Nervine is doing wonders."
Dr. J. O. McLemoin, Alexander City, Ala.
"I feel it my duty to recommend it."
Dr. D. F. Laughlin, Clyde, Kansas.
"It cured where physicians failed."
Rev. J. A. Edie, Beaver, Pa.

☞ Correspondence freely answered ☜ (17)

THE DR. S. A. RICHMOND MED. CO., ST. JOSEPH, MO.
Sold by All Druggists.
LORD, STOUTENBURG & CO., Agents, Chicago, Ill.

SKIN HUMOR.

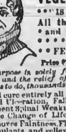
My baby six months old broke out with some kind of skin humor, and after being treated five months by my family physician, was given up to die. The druggist recommended Swift's Specific, and the effect was as gratifying as it was miraculous. My child soon got well, all traces of the disease is gone, and he is as fat as a pig. J. J. KIRKLAND, Minden, Rusk County, Texas.

I have suffered for many years from ulcers on my legs, often very large and painful, during which time I used almost everything to effect a cure, but in vain. I took Swift's Specific by advice of a friend, and in a short time was cured sound and well.

EDWIN J. MILLER, Beaumont, Texas.

Our Treatise on Blood and Skin Diseases mailed free to applicants.

THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., Drawer 3, Atlanta, Ga.



New York Office, 159 West 23d St., between Sixth and Seventh Avenues.

This porous plaster is absolutely the best ever made, combining the virtues of hops with gums, balsams and extracts. Its power is wonderful in curing diseases where other plasters simply relieve. Crick in the Back and Neck, Pain in the Side or Limbs, Stiff Joints and Muscles, Kidney Troubles, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Sore Chest, Affections of the Heart and Liver, and all pains or aches in any part cured instantly by the Hop Plaster. ☞ Try it. Price 25 cents or five for $1.00. Mailed on receipt of price. Sold by all druggists and country stores. Hop Plaster Company, Proprietors, Boston, Mass.

HOP PLASTER

LAME BACK

☞ For constipation, loss of appetite and diseases of the bowels take Hawley's Stomach and Liver Pills. 25 cents.

LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND IS A POSITIVE CURE FOR All those painful Complaints and Weaknesses so common to our best FEMALE POPULATION.

Price $1 in liquid, pill or lozenge form.

* Its purpose is solely for the legitimate healing of disease and the relief of pain, and that it does all it claims to do, thousands of ladies can gladly testify. *

* It will cure entirely all Ovarian troubles, Inflammation and Ulceration, Falling and Displacements, and consequent Spinal Weakness, and is particularly adapted to the Change of Life.

* It removes Faintness, Flatulency, destroys all craving for stimulants, and relieves Weakness of the Stomach. It cures Bloating, Headaches, Nervous Prostration, General Debility, Sleeplessness, Depression and Indigestion. That feeling of bearing down, causing pain, and backache, is always permanently cured by its use.

* Send stamp to Lynn, Mass., for pamphlet. Letters of inquiry confidentially answered. For sale at druggists.

PIERCE'S IMPROVED CAHOON Broadcast Seed Sower.

This machine sows wheat two rods wide, so that a man walking one mile sows four acres and does the work better than can be done by any other means whatever. It sows grass seed and all kinds of grain. Price, six dollars. We have Agents in all parts of the country. Send stamp for circular.

J. WILDER & CO., CINCINNATI, O. GENERAL AGENTS.

XX.-NOTICE.-XX.

As BLUE FLANNEL Garments Of Inferior Quality of Goods

are sold as the "genuine Middlesex," which are not made by that mill, The Middlesex Company, in order to protect their customers and the public, give notice that hereafter all Clothing made from THE MIDDLESEX STANDARD INDIGO BLUE FLANNELS AND YACHT CLOTHS, sold by all leading clothiers, must bear the "SILK HANGERS," furnished by the Selling Agents to all parties ordering the goods.

WENDELL, FAY & CO., SELLING AGENTS, MIDDLESEX COMPANY, 86 and 88 Worth St., New York; 37 Franklin St., Boston; 214 Chestnut St., Philadelphia.

CHICAGO SCALE CO.

2 TON WAGON SCALE, $40. 3 TON, $50. 4 Ton $60, Beam Box Included. 240 lb. FARMER'S SCALE, $5. The "Little Detective," ½ oz. to 25 lb. $3. 300 OTHER SIZES. Reduced PRICE LIST FREE.

FORGES, TOOLS, &c.

BEST FORGE MADE FOR LIGHT WORK, $10. 40 lb. Anvil and Kit of Tools, $10. Farmers save time and money doing odd jobs. Blowers, Anvils, Vices & Other Articles AT LOWEST PRICES, WHOLESALE & RETAIL.

Free Information About The South-West.

Kansas, Colorado, Utah, New Mexico, Arizona, California and Old Mexico offer the best field for Farmers, Fruit-Growers, Stock-Raisers, Capitalists, Merchants, Miners and Mechanics of all trades. Maps, papers and pamphlets giving detailed information mailed free on application to C. B. SCHMIDT, Commissioner of Immigration, A. T. & S. F. R. R., TOPEKA, KANSAS.

Easy to use. A certain cure. Not expensive. Three months' treatment in the package. Good for Cold in the Head, Headache, Dizziness, Hay Fever, &c. Fifty cents. By all Druggists, or by mail, E. T. HAZELTINE, Warren, Pa.

RUSSELL & CO.'S ANNUAL. Just issued. Sent free to all interested in Improved Threshing Machines, Horse Powers, Saw-Mills and Engines for Farm and Plantation use. Address Name this paper. RUSSELL & CO., Massillon, O.

PATENTS

Procured or no charge, also Trade Marks, Labels, etc. Large illustrated book of patent law FREE. Long experience. Highest references. W. T. FITZGERALD, Attorney at Law, 1006 F Street, Washington, D.C.

CANCER AND TUMORS

Treated scientifically and cured without the knife. Book on treatment sent free. Drs. Gratigny & Norris 204 W. 4th St., Cincinnati, O.

CONSUMPTION.

I have a positive remedy for the above disease; by its use thousands of cases of the worst kind and of long standing have been cured. Indeed, so strong is my faith in its efficacy, that I will send TWO BOTTLES FREE, together with a VALUABLE TREATISE on this disease, to any sufferer. Give Express and P. O. address.

DR. T. A. SLOCUM, 181 Pearl St., New York.

LIVER "ST. BERNARD VEGETABLE PILLS." The Best Cure for Liver and Billous complaints, Costiveness, Headache and Dyspepsia. Price, 25c. at Druggists or by mail. Samples free. St. Bernard Pill Makers, 33 Mercer St., New York.

"THE BEST IS THE CHEAPEST." SAW MILLS, ENGINES THRESHERS, Horse Powers, (For all sections and purposes.) Write for Free Pamphlet and Prices to The Aultman & Taylor Co., Mansfield, Ohio.

Lady Agents can secure permanent employment and good salary selling Queen City Skirt and Stocking Supporters, etc. Sample outfit Free. Address Queen City Suspender Co., Cincinnati, O.

PATENTS promptly procured in all countries. American Patent Agency, 183 Fifth Street, Cincinnati, Ohio.

$250 A MONTH. Agents Wanted. 90 best selling articles in the world. 1 sample FREE. Address JAY BRONSON, DETROIT, MICH.

FOR LADIES USE.—The grandest article. Send stamp for illustrated circular. Dr. H. G. FARR, 75 Essex Street, Boston, Mass.

A. N. K.—E. 960

WHEN WRITING TO ADVERTISERS please say you saw the advertisement in this paper.

BOONE COUNTY RECORDER.

VOLUME IX. BURLINGTON, KY, WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 27, 1884. NUMBER 17.

DIED ALONE.

Mysterious Tragedy at Lebanon, Conn.

An Old Man Found Dead in His House, the Victim of a Cruel Murder.

NEWARK, CONN. February 21.—Henry Chappell, seventy-eight years old, and a bachelor, owned one of the finest houses in the old town of Lebanon—two hundred acres of sweeping hills and meadows, two miles north-east of Governor Trumbull's old war office. Mr. Chappell's body with fractured skull, was found in the kitchen, in the ell of his handsome two-story white house, by a tree peddler, Walter C. Noyes, yesterday afternoon. As Chappell had dwelt alone, it was difficult to obtain facts in relation to the crime. Mr. Noyes, who lives in Lyme, said that on Wednesday afternoon he visited Mr. Chappell's house, and noticed that the ell door was wide open. Inside in the kitchen he saw the body of a man lying at full length on the floor, with blood on the face. Without entering he went to the nearest dwelling, and gave the alarm. On entering the kitchen Chappell was found lying on his back, his hands straightened and carefully placed by his side, and his clothes arranged and uncrumpled. There was blood on the face and a deep cut in the temple, which was found to mark a bad fracture of the skull, the right temple being entirely beaten in. Near the body was an old-fashioned perforated tin lantern, the candle of which had burned down unevenly half its length and extinguished itself. In the barn the party found Mr. Chappell's fine herd of cattle in their stalls. They had evidently been unfed since the time of the murder which it is believed was perpetrated just after nightfall on Tuesday evening. The front barn doors were wide open, and the appearances were that the owner had returned to the house to get his lantern, with the intention of foddering the cattle, when he was struck down. Every room in the house bore evidence of the visit of strangers, though it is not known that any booty was secured. Mr. Noyes added to his testimony an account of meeting a black-whiskered tramp on Wednesday afternoon near Goshen Village, who was braiding a whip-lash, one end of which was tied to a tree. He was short and stout. A bag lay beside him under the tree. The tramp asked Mr. Noyes to purchase the whip-lash. Mr. Chappell has dwelt on his farm since his birth. Until last spring a hired man with his wife had lived with him and done the greater part of the farm work. During the past year Mr. Chappell has done his cooking and the farm chores, employing men only in emergencies.

Surrender of Tokar.

SUAKIM, February 22.—A refugee from Tokar reports that the inhabitants of the town were the first to suggest submission, and the garrison followed. Two male and two female Greeks saved their lives by becoming Moslems. All the officials of the town have declared for El Mahdi. The behavior of the rebels toward the inhabitants and garrison was very friendly. Five soldiers who arrived from Tokar report that the rebels besetting the town kept up a constant fire of artillery and rifles. Tuesday the garrison recognized the necessity of conferring with the rebels. Wednesday Yekooh and Macceivi Effendi, chief of police, with a sargeant of artillery went out and conferred with the rebels. On returning they informed the garrison they must surrender their arms Thursday. Many soldiers murmured at this, and a large proportion of them escaped during the night. Tokar was surrendered Thursday, as had been arranged. The garrison at Kassala is reported to be 1,500 strong, with sufficient supplies to last a fortnight. Fugitives report that the main body of rebels is at Teb. Tokar had plenty of munition. Military opinion at Suakim is in favor of dealing a blow to Osman Digna. El Mahdi sent a letter to King John of Abyssinia demanding his adherence to the prophet. King John returned a contemptuous reply.

More Trouble in Danville.

DANVILLE, VA., February 22.—In passing a school-house for colored people, Allen Womack, aged fifteen years, called out, "School butter," a term of ridicule. The whole school, forty persons, some grown men among them, attacked Womack with sticks and stones. One negro drawing a pistol, Womack shot him. The crowd persisting in the attempt to get into Womack's wagon, he fired again and wounded another. The pursuit was kept up some distance, during which, the negroes fired four shots, and Womack five. The crowd was at last dispersed by white men. Womack was arrested.

Rumored Battle at Trinkitat.

SUAKIM, February 21.—Firing was heard here early this morning in the direction of Trinkitat. General Graham, commander of the Tokar expedition, will arrive at Suakim to-night. Large bodies of rebels are moving in the direction of Osman Digma's position.

Defects in the Brooklyn Bridge.

NEW YORK, February 22.—Samuel McElroy, the well-known engineer, let out the fact that the Brooklyn Bridge is not entirely perfect. He says: "That the cables of the East River Bridge have very considerably lengthened is shown by the fact that the suspender bands have been slipped nearer the towers by several inches. This was done last fall. It indicates that there was some serious miscalculation as to the strain-bearing power of the cables." But Mr. Roebling has admitted over his own signature, in a letter to General John Newton, that there were many miscalculations in the bridge estimates.

Lincoln and His Clerks.

SPRINGFIELD, ILL., February 22.—In a local photograph gallery here was to-day unearthed a picture that will undoubtedly prove to be of historic interest. It is one of Abraham Lincoln and his two private secretaries, John E. Nicolay and John Hay. It was taken just before Lincoln started for Washington to take the Presidential chair, and it is believed to be the only copy now in existence. The relic has fallen into the hands of those who appreciate its value, and it will probably be added to the collection now in the custody of the Lincoln Monument Association.

A Cave of Death.

UNIONTOWN, PA., February 20.—The little mining hamlet of East Lessering, six miles from this town, was the scene to-day of a frightful catastrophe. Gas exploded in the south buttheading of the Connellsville Coke and Iron Company's shaft, and nineteen miners were almost instantly killed. The explosion took place at twenty minutes past six o'clock this morning, two hours before the eighty-five miners who worked during the night left the shaft, and their places taken by an equal number who were to work during the day. The last man had just descended the shaft and the cage was being hoisted to the mouth, when a terrific sound that resembled the far-off booming of cannon was heard on the surface 1,403 feet above. The cage was immediately lowered, and then was hoisted as quickly as possible. It was empty, and in language stronger than words told that death was in the depths. The houses which compose the hamlet are located several hundred yards from the mouth of the valley, but the sound of the explosion had been heard everywhere in the narrow valley, and in a few minutes the mine was surrounded by an awe-stricken group. The majority of those who gathered were women and children, whose husbands and fathers had entered the place a short time before. An attempt was made to descend the shaft, but it was discovered that the body of the shaft was filled with the foul air which always follows an explosion, and which is even more deadly than the gas. Several attempts were made, but it was nearly two hours before this foul air was sufficiently dispersed to enable any person to reach the bottom alive. The sight that was revealed by the glare of the lamps carried by the first persons who descended was horrifying in the extreme. Dead mules, broken wagons, twisted timbers, inanimate forms of men who had a short time before been full of vigor, was what they saw. Of the twenty-one persons who were known to have been at work in that department not one seemed to be alive. By 1:30 all the bodies were recovered. Two men, Richard Boswell and Henry Wilson, were not dead, and recovered when restoratives were administered. The other nineteen had either been killed instantly by the explosion or had succumbed to the poisonous air.

The Avondale Mystery.

CINCINNATI, O., February 22.—Three bodies of the three members of the Taylor family (colored) missing from Avondale for the past few days, have been found in a medical college dissecting-room in this city. The theory is that the family was murdered for the small sum which their bodies would bring for dissecting purposes. Four negroes have been arrested, and one has made a partial confession of his complicity in the horrible crime.

CINCINNATI, O., February 23.—Last night the mystery surrounding one of the most atrocious crimes ever committed in the State of Ohio was solved in the jail at Avondale. Allen Ingalls, one of the suspected persons weakened when on being confronted by R. B. Dixon, the driver of the wagon which conveyed the bodies of old man Taylor, his wife and adopted daughter to the Ohio Medical College, and partially confessed to the deed. Ben. Johnson, another of the men held on suspicion, was taken before him and he was asked it Johnson was with him in the crime. His reply was: "Yes, he's the man." Johnson, who had heretofore kept a bold front, and denied any complicity in the deed, also gave way, and, looking up to Marshal Brown, remarked: "You've got me; you've got me."

At Home.

NEW YORK, February 21.—The Frisia, with the remains of Lieutenant De Long and his comrades, arrived at the dock this afternoon. There were no deputized delegations to receive the bodies, but there was a considerable number of relatives and friends of the deceased on the dock of the steamship company. The remains were in steel bound packages, on the main deck, on either side of the saloon skylights. All of the bodies are not in a state of preservation, and will not be exposed to public view. Lieutenant Ward, of the United States Navy, representing Commodore Upshur met the Frisia at the quarantine, and came on it to the dock at Hoboken and transferred the bodies to the undertakers, who will remove the bodies to the pier to guard them until Friday morning, when they will be taken to pier No. 1, on the North River, and put into ten hearses and escorted to the navy yard at Brooklyn. Lieutenant De Long will be buried in Woodlawn Cemetery, Dr. Ambler will be taken to Philadelphia, and Boyd, the seaman, to Virginia. The bodies of Lieutenant De Long and six men will be taken to the Church of the Holy Trinity on Forty-second street and Madison avenue, where religious services will be held.

National Democratic Convention.

WASHINGTON, February 22.—At the meeting of the Democratic Committee to-day, Chicago was selected as the place of holding the National Democratic Convention. The vote was as follows: First ballot—Chicago 15, St. Louis 14, Saratoga 5, Louisville 5, and Cincinnati 1. Second ballot—Chicago 19, St. Louis 17, Saratoga 2. Third ballot—Chicago 21, St. Louis 17. July 8, is the day agreed upon.

Drowning of Salmi Morse.

NEW YORK, February 22.—The body of Salmi Morse, of "Passion Play" fame, was found in the North River, at Eighty-eighth street, at nine o'clock this morning. He lived at 65 West Twenty-first street, and Mrs. Isabella Genit, his landlady, went to the morgue and identified the body. It is thought he committed suicide.

Fatal Lamp Explosion.

VINCENNES, IND., February 22.—Fremont Frazer, a Bridgeport, Ill., druggist, was fatally burned this afternoon by the explosion of a coal-oil lamp which he was filling.

Trouble With Cree Indians.

WINNIPEG, February 22.—A band of Cree Indians from the Crooked Lakes Reserve, on the Canadian Pacific, attacked and overpowered the Supply Agent Tuesday, and stole a lot of flour and bacon. The mounted police have been called. Trouble is expected when they arrive. News of further Indian trouble is received from Indian-head. The Indians of File Hills and Long Lake Reserves have seized the Government buildings and stores, and hold the instructors and agents prisoners. Mounted police have been ordered to both reserves.

THE CYCLONE.

Great Destruction of Property by it in South Carolina.

Plantations Devastated, Buildings Blown Down, Trees Twisted to Bits, and Many Lives Lost In Its Path.

COLUMBUS, S. C., February 24.—Details of the destruction wrought by last Tuesday's storm in parts of the State distant from telegraph wires are coming in, and show that great destruction was wrought, with much loss of life. One branch of the cyclone struck "Ninety-six," where several buildings were blown down and Mrs. Powers killed. One of the ruined houses took fire and a young lady was roasted to death therein. The county of Newberry suffered for miles throughout the western portion, the storm levelling every building in its path. In the county some eight or ten persons were killed or fatally injured. The town of Chappells was completely demolished, and one man killed. Two of the wounded have since died. In Chester County there was no loss of life, but the loss in property has been estimated at over $100,000. In the upper part of Pickens, near the mountains, the tornado was terrific, sweeping away small houses, stables, and stock from many plantations, and household effects, were scattered beyond recovery. The county roads are completely blocked. In Anderson County thirteen large plantations adjoining each other were desolated, and Mr. Brooks was killed. In the Buckhead section of Fairfield two negroes were killed and several whites hurt. Some ten houses were leveled to the ground, and fire seized hold of one dwelling, from the ruins of which a lady was rescued before the flames had reach her. In the neighboring town of Strothers two young girls were saved from death by fire, but badly injured. Reports from Union County show that the tornado made terrible havoc on many farms. On Steedman's farm it blew over every tenant house, injured several negroes and strayed stock. It blew down every house on P. P. Hamilton's place, dwellings, kitchen, stables and tenant houses. Like desolation was visited upon the farms of John Wix, W. T. Jeter and Elma Jeter. Every soul on these four large farms is homeless. In Edgefield County, for a distance of twelve miles, the plantation orchards and forests are laid in ruins. Forty large farms have been laid waste, a number of persons killed and many wounded. Forty families have lost their buildings and household effects. The most horrible scene was the burial of Miss Stateworth in the ruins of her dwelling and the roasting of her lifeless body in the presence of the powerless family. She was sixteen years of age. The killing and crippling of horses, mules, and cattle in the track of the tornado in Edgefield is untold, and the number of people rendered incapable of assisting themselves is great. When Mr. Pink Hewley's house was blown down his infant child was carried several hundred yards from the spot, and was not found by the family, who were all badly hurt, for three or four hours afterward. A bale of cotton was blown and dragged over the ground until the ties were broken and the cotton scattered to the winds. A store kept by Messrs. Alion & Steineeker was entirely destroyed. Much of their goods were blown for hundreds of yards and perhaps for miles over the country. Two young men, who were in the store, were so stunned as to be unconscious, and were covered in the debris. When a neighbor came an hour afterward he found that the fire from a stove had caught the floor and burned it through, and would have soon reached where kerosene oil had been overturned. He was able to put out the fire, get help and carry the men to Mr. Clegg's, where both were restored, but one is still in a critical condition. The hardest and most elastic swamp oaks and hickories are snapped and twisted as if they had been only old field pine. Everything is colored by the soil. Even the freshly broken trunks of the trees look as if the turbid waters of some great freshet had surrounded them, and in many places, although but little rain fell, the earth is swept bare and leaves, underbrush, and driftwood are rafted or lodged against obstructions as if a veritable freshet had swept over the highest hills. A timber cart and a wagon loaded with cotton were hurled and broken hundreds of feet into the woods, and some of the bales of cotton more than one hundred yards from each other. Throughout the length and breadth of the storm in this State the scene of desolation beggars description. House timbers, furniture and personal effects have been so mingled and injured as to be unrecognizable and beyond recovery in usefulness. Physicians and ministers have had their energies taxed to the utmost in ministering to the wounded and dying. The negroes have been the greatest sufferers in personal injuries and in the loss of homes, food, and clothing, and they will suffer for the want of assistance, as they are the most numerous in need. It will be a week more before all the horrors of last Tuesday night will be known, and it will be a long time before the money value of property lost can be estimated. Many towns that escaped serious loss by the storm are taking active measures for the relief of the sufferers.

Tragic Freak of Fortune.

DENVER, COL., February 24.—George Fryer, one of Colorado's best known mining men, from whom the celebrated Fryer Hill, at Leadville, derives its name, died here this morning from an overdose of morphine administered by his own hand. Two years ago he was worth half a million. His extravagance and liberality to friends caused his financial ruin.

Michigan Hotel Fire.

JACKSON, MICH., February 24.—The Union Hotel and several other valuable business houses were destroyed by fire this morning. Several lives are believed to have been lost. Many were injured in escaping from the burning buildings. Loss $175,000.

Operations in Tonquin.

PARIS, February 24.—General Millot, Commander of the land forces in Tonquin, has left three battalions at Sontay and three at Haiphong, and is prepairing to operate against Beoninh with nine thousand men.

Suakim in Great Danger.

SUAKIM, February 24.—The common talk in the bazaar is that Osman Digma will very soon make an attack on this place, in which event it is expected the black inhabitants will declare for El Mahdi and massacre the Europeans.

—Horses in Yam Hill County, Ore., are afflicted with a disease that veterinarians call rheumatism. The disease has been among them for a year, and three-fourths of the horses in the county have become disabled or useless from its effects.

—Three young ladies in Sacramento sat on an awning. Pretty soon the awning caved in, and a young man who was passing by was flattened out so that his mother didn't know him. He will recover in time. The girls ran away.

XLVIIIth CONGRESS.

First Session.

WASHINGTON, February 19.—SENATE.—A bill was favorably reported providing punishment by fine and imprisonment for trespassing upon Indian lands. The bill retiring small legal tender notes was reported adversely. There was a long debate upon the bill to provide for the issue of circulation to National banks. An amendment to the amendment of Mr. Plumb was offered.

HOUSE.—The House adjourned at 9:15 this morning until Wednesday, after being session throughout the night. During the early hours of the morning there was a scene of great confusion and excitement. Mr. Hiscock attempted to have a bill read and the Democrats objected with great emphasis. Mr. Hiscock was where standing full in front of the Speakers desk, he was surrounded by an excellent crowd of adherents and opponents, and finally the disorder became so great that the services of the sergeant-at-arms were required to restore some degree of order. Mr. Tucker, approaching to within a couple of feet of Mr. Hiscock, addressed him directly, and called him to order. The gentleman calls me to order, exclaimed Mr. Hiscock excitedly, because his side are unwilling to have advertised to the country the bill which they attempt to force down this House. Mr. Hiscock at one point in the debate understood Mr. Morrison to say that seventy-five Democrats had been here and skulked away, and was proceeding to make a strong point upon this understanding of the case, when Mr. Morrison interrupted him to say that such an assertion was untrue. Mutual explanations followed, and the House again settled down into a state of comparative quiet. At 6 o'clock a motion was agreed to revoking all leaves of absence granted for this legislative day. At 8:15 a quorum was obtained, and Hewitt's motion, making the Mexican pension bill the special order for the 21st inst. was seconded—165 to 1. The resolution was adopted—yeas, 135; nays, 35. The announcement of the result was received with applause on the Democratic side, and at 8:55 a. m. the house adjourned until Wednesday.

WASHINGTON February 20—SENATE.—Mr. Sewell's bill, appropriating $600,000 per annum for the the militia, passed. The Senate then took up the bill to provide for the circulation of National banks. An amendment was proposed by Mr. Pugh to the amendment of Mr. Plumb, and accepted by the latter, which would permit the issue of the Treasury notes provided for in Mr. Plumb's amendment, in case the banks deposited legal-tender notes for the redemption of their circulation. Another amendment of Mr. Pugh's was accepted by Mr. Plumb. Mr. Plumb's amendment was rejected; yeas 15; nays 35. Mr. Morgan then introduced an amendment, and the Senate went into executive session and soon adjourned.

HOUSE.—A report was agreed to (148 to 100) calling on the Postmaster General to transmit to the House the report made by special agents of the Post-office Department, having reference to Star-route investigations, not heretofore made public. Reports were submitted as follows: A bill to declare forfeited the land grant to the Oregon Central Railroad Company. A resolution that the President be requested to prevent the delivery of Senor Carlos Auguero, now in Key West, Florida, and held for extradition on the demand of the Government of Spain, until it shall be ascertained that the charges against him are true, and that he is not held for political purposes, and that the President be requested to direct the Attorney General to have an investigation of the case made. The joint resolution, appropriating $150,000, to be expended among Indians for educational purposes. Passed. On the motion of Mr. Keifer, the Military Academy Appropriation Bill was taken up, and after its discussion the House adjourned.

WASHINGTON, February 21.—SENATE.—A bill was passed, giving the Secretary of War authority to compel the alteration of railroad or other bridge spanning navigable waters of the United States, which may be an obstruction to navigation. The bill providing punishment for persons falsely personating Government officers was passed. The debate on the bill to provide for the issue of circulation to National banking institutions was resumed. The Morgan amendment permitting National banks to deposit the bonds of separate States as security for circulation was exhaustively discussed and finally withdrawn. The Senate adjourned until Monday.

HOUSE.—The House went into Committee on the Whole on the Military Academy Bill. West Point was attacked and unsuccessful attempts made to strike out the provision for longevity pay of professors, and to reduce the expenses of the Board of Visitors. It was charged that the annual ball had degenerated into a vicious matrimonial market. The bill was reported back to the House favorably and passed. President Arthur transmitted the report of the Secretary of State relative to the contribution of Her Britannic Majesty's Government for the relief of the Greely party. The communication was ordered spread upon the journal as a mark of respect for the action of the British Government. The House adjourned until Saturday.

WASHINGTON, February 23.—SENATE.—Senate not in session.

HOUSE—Under a call of committees, the following reports were made: Providing for the holding of term of court in the Northern District of Illinois, at Peoria. Placed on the House calendar. To prohibit the importation and emmigration of foreigners under contract to perform labor in the United States. On the House calendar. Amending the Statutes authorizing the Postmaster General to prohibit delivery of registered letters, and payment of money orders, and providing for the return of the same. Placed on the House calendar. The House went into Committee of the whole (Mr. Converse in the chair) on the Pleuro-pneumonia Bill. After a lengthy debate, without action, the committee arose. Mr. Morrison, from the Committee on ways and means, reported his Bonded Spirits Extention Bill, stating it was not a unanimous report. Referred to the Committee of the Whole. Mr. Belford offered a resolution giving delegates the right to vote in committees. Referred. The House then adjourned.

$50,000 Jewelry Robbery.

TROY, N. Y., February 24.—Early this morning burglars effected an entrance into Marks & Son's jewelry store, through the insurance office next door. The safe door was forced from its hinges. The contents taken include diamonds, gold watches, jewelry, etc., the estimated value of which is between $40,000 and $50,000. This is said to be the most expert job ever performed by burglars in this city. There is no clew to the burglars.

A Mexican Consul General.

ST. LOUIS, MO., February 24.—Late advices from the city of Mexico are to the effect that the Mexican Government contemplates the establishment of a Consul Generalship in the Mississippi Valley, with headquarters at St. Louis or Chicago, and that the name of John F. Cahill, the present Mexican Consul at this city, is favorably mentioned in connection with this position.

Saved From Shipwreck.

PORT TOWNSEND, W. T., February 25.—Captain Bergman, wife and crew, of the wrecked Lizzie Marshall, arrived to-day. One sailor was lost, who attempted to save his clothes.

—The person who figured in a Minnesota bigamy case as having two contemporaneous partners was not the man, but the woman. It happened that her time was divided between two counties distant from each other, and that in each she had a suitor whom she loved. Therefore, when they almost simultaneously popped the question she said yes in both instances. The weddings were only two months apart. But her double wedding was soon discovered, and she is to be prosecuted.—Chicago Tribune.

THE COMMONWEALTH.

Legislative Proceedings.

FRANKFORT, February 15.—SENATE.—Among the bills passed were the following: To empower the County Court of Henry to levy and collect a tax of twenty cents on the $100 in Districts One, Two and Three of that county. To amend Section 4, Article 5, of an act to amend and reduce into one the several acts in relation to the town of Rochester, Butler County. To authorize the Oldham County Court of Claims to levy an advalorem tax for county purposes. To repeal part of Section 3, Article 3, Chapter 52, General Statutes, with regard to husband and wife. Committee asked to be discharged. Discharged. For the benefit of the Fleming County Infirmary for the support of the poor, etc., of said county. To incorporate the Dayton and Bellevue Water Company. With amendment. To amend an act to authorize the County Court of Robertson County to subscribe stock to turnpike roads and issue bonds for same.

HOUSE.—The following bills were passed: To legalize an order of Court of Claims and levy Court of Boone County in regard to sale of delinquent levy lists. To change the time of holding the quarterly Court of Muhlenburg County. To provide for the safe-keeping and proper application of the money received from sale of vacant lands in Butler County. To authorize the Boyle County Court to levy and collect an advalorem tax to pay ordinary county expenses. Authorizing Jailers of this Commonwealth to appoint Deputies. Legalizing an order of the Martin County Court of Claims, and authorizing said Court to levy an ad valorem tax in said county. To authorize trustees appointed by Courts of other States where cestui que trust resides to collect, receive and remove to such place of residence any personal estate of the cestui que trust. The following bill, increasing the fees of all jailers in the State, was passed. SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky. That an act entitled "An act fixing the fees of jailers for keeping and dieting prisoners," approved May 5, 1880, be, and the same is hereby repealed: and all laws repealed by said act are hereby revived, except that it is hereby enacted that, in lieu of so much of article 6, chapter 4, General Statutes, as provides a reasonable compensation, not exceeding two dollars per day, for fuel, etc., furnished to Circuit and County Courts, that the jailers shall be paid in full for all lights and fuel furnished by him for the Circuit and County Courts, and for the jail-house, necessary to keep said jail-house, Circuit and County Court-rooms comfortable and properly administered. Said lights and fuel for jail to be paid out of the county levy. SECTION 2. That this act shall take effect from its passage.

FRANKFORT, February 16.—SENATE.—Bills passed: Regulating defenses for trespass in the County of Oldham. Mr. Odell moved to make the bill apply to Anderson County. The bill as amended was passed. A bill to establish a fence law, etc., for Calloway County. To punish as felonies, persons who keep or conduct houses and other places for betting, or faro and other games. Print and recommitted. A bill authorizing the Judge of the Nicholas County Court to levy an ad valorem tax for county purposes. Giving further time of two years to sheriffs, clerks, ex-sheriffs and other collecting officers in which to collect their taxes. To prohibit sale of spirituous liquors within two miles of any church or schoolhouse in Cumberland County. To amend Section 591, Chapter 3, Title 13, Civil Code of Practice. (With regard to the taking of depositions in other States to be used as evidence in the courts of this State.)

HOUSE.—Bills passed: To amend the charter of the city of Augusta, in Bracken County. To regulate the fees of the Justices of the Peace of Harrison County. To legalize an order of the Bullitt County Court, made November 18, 1878, levying a tax of five cents on each $100 worth of property in Bullitt County, with an amendment. Empowering the County Court of Anderson County to levy a tax to build a jail and Jailer's residence in said county. Authorizing the Wayne County Court to levy an ad valorem tax for general county purposes. Authorizing the County Court of Morgan County to borrow money to pay the indebtedness of the county. To incorporate Spencer Institute. To run and establish the line between Green and Hart Counties. To repeal an act authorizing the County Court of Boone County to appoint Commissioners to construct turnpike roads in certain districts in said county.

FRANKFORT, February 18.—SENATE.—A joint resolution was reported looking to the prevention of a recurrence of the late disastrous floods. House resolution, authorizing the committee of investigation of the Central Lunatic Asylum to employ a stenographer, with the amendment that said stenographer shall receive $7 50 per day. Passed. The senate passed an act to provide for an official stenographer for the courts of Campbell County.

HOUSE—A resolution allowing the Committee of Investigation of the Central Lunatic Asylum to employ a Stenographer, was passed. A resolution providing for the appointment of a committee of five from the House and three from the Senate, to consider the advisability of extending the present session beyond the constitutional limit, and also to consider the propriety of holding an adjourned session, was adopted. It is proposed to hold an adjourned session to amend and revise the revenue laws. A bill from the orders of the day, to repeal the present law in regard to carrying concealed weapons, and to provide a punishment by fine of $200 or imprisonment from ten to thirty days, was recommitted to the committee on criminal laws. Mr. Julian wanted the punishment fixed at six months in the penitentiary. Mr. Odell wanted, upon a second conviction, to send the offender to the penitentiary for from one to two years. Mr. Stone reported a bill to establish a branch penitentiary, which was made a special order for next Thursday.

FRANKFORT, February 19.—SENATE.—Bills passed: To change the time of holding the June term of the Nelson Quarterly Court. To amend the act to incorporate the town of Wallonia, in Trigg County. To incorporate Ophelia Council, Order of Chosen Friends, Cadiz, Triggs County. To amend the charter of the town of Hodgenville. To regulate the payment and collection of taxes in Clay County. To provide for an official stenographer for the courts of Campbell County.

HOUSE.—Mr. Bingham offered a resolution authorizing the committee investigating the Central Lunatic Asylum to employ a short-hand reporter. Mr. Jackson offered a substitute for same, which was adopted. The resolution, as amended was adopted. The resolution adopted by the House, allowing a short hand reporter to the committee investigating the Central Asylum, was returned from the Senate amended, providing that the expense of same shall not exceed $7 50 per day, and this in lieu of a clerk. Adopted. The Speaker laid before the House a communication from the State Railroad Commission, in reply to a resolution requiring the Commission to furnish an estimate of the probable cost of fencing the lines of railroad in the state, the value of cattle and other stock killed or injured, and the amounts paid therefor by railroads during the year 1883.

FRANKFORT, February 20.—SENATE.—The following bills were passed: To incorporate the South-western Contract and Construction Company. Act amending and reducing into one all the acts constituting the charter of the National Mutual Benefit Association. House bill incorporating the Penrod Railroad and Mining Company, with amendment. The bill in relation to the marital rights of husband and wife was taken up, and all amendments to the first six sections were rejected, and the other sections will be discussed to-morrow.

HOUSE.—Mr. McCleary obtained leave to bring in a bill requiring certain legal advertising in Kenton County, to be inserted in a newspaper of general circulation with a bona fide subscription list, and published in Kentucky. The bill appropriating $500,000 to complete the State-house at Frankfort was discussed. The only amendment adopted was one by Mr. Stuart to strike out the word Frankfort and insert Winchester—yeas, 40; nays, 35. The bill and other amendments were referred to the Judiciary Committee.

Miscellaneous Items.

MR. THOMAS H. WISE, one of the pioneers of Shelby County, died at his residence near Chestnut Grove a few days ago, of consumption. He was sixty-eight years of age.

COL. W. T. B. SOUTH, of Frankfort, has been nominated by the Democratic legislative caucus, Warden of the State Penitentiary. On the fourth and last ballot the vote stood: W. T. B. South, sixty-four; R. M. Rodman, of Daviess County, fifty-five.

COVINGTON has 14,93[illegible] children of school age.

THE DAIRY.

—The cow must not be fed on roots or tubers that are decayed. A very small quantity of decayed potatoes or beets will infect the milk with a taint that will prevent getting a high price for the butter.

—Cows must have pure water at all times of the year. Without it the making of fine butter cannot be expected. Yet there are many farmers who allow their cows to drink at stagnant pools or from still more stagnant tubs. It is on these seemingly little points that the difference between an average and a high or fancy price often depends. The best cow in the world will make poor butter under unfavorable conditions.

—At the convention of the Vermont Dairymen's Association Mr. M. W. Davis, a member of the State Board of Agriculture, said there are not over fifteen dairymen in the State who are making an average of 300 pounds of butter per cow annually from their entire herds. This is a capital showing for Vermont, and the officials of other States would be doing a good thing if they would collect similar statistics.

—After churning at the proper temperature (about sixty degrees), care must be used in working the butter. Avoid spatting or smoothing it; this destroys the grain and makes it salvy. Wash out all the buttermilk and salt it, less for immediate use than for keeping. An ounce to the pound is the old rule and a good one; but for butter that is to be consumed within five or six days, many claim that half an ounce of salt is sufficient. Use the best ash tubs for packing, and when packed keep in a cool place until marketed.

The Skimmer.

By a skimmer is understood a circular piece of tin, concave on one side and convex on the other, with holes more or less numerous in the center, having a handle of the same material attached, for convenience in holding and manipulating. This is an ancient dairy implement. It is old enough to be venerable, but, like some other old things, it is too faulty to be entitled to much veneration or respect, where economy is of any importance. What did the inventor put holes in it for? "Why," says a dairy-maid, "to let the milk drip away when the cream is lifted from it."

Doubtless that was the reason, but that is just what should not be done, for, if the milk is liquid enough to run through the holes in a skimmer, a part, at least, of the cream will be thin enough to run through too, and occasion loss. The holes imply skimming when the milk is liquid, for, if it was thick, they would be useless. In the ordinary manner of setting milk in the dairies, the top of the milk, or that which lies next to the cream, always contains more or less cream, and should be taken in and churned with the cream. If, in skimming, this is allowed to run through the skimmer, it is lost, or, at most, goes away for pig feed. Skimming is best done by taking in the top of the milk, so that from twenty to twenty-five per per cent. of the original bulk of milk will be churned. Where large bodies of milk are creamed, the cream is best separated from the milk by drawing it out from under the cream through a faucet, leaving the cream in the vessel, but where the milk is to be left in the vessel and the cream removed, it is much better to dip it off than to skim it off. As the economy of this mode is better appreciated, the skimmer goes out of use, being regarded only as a source of waste. It is often said that the dairy is full of leaks, which empty the pockets of the owner. The holes in a skimmer constitute one of them.—National Live Stock Journal.

Fashion in Butter.

Say what we will, fashion is what makes the difference largely in the selling price of butter. While we hear a great deal about quality, it is fashion that has quite as much to do with getting a good or fancy price as quality. There is no better butter made for the general market than some that is packed in thirty-pound tubs or pails, yet it is a hard matter to get over twenty or thirty cents a pound for it, when that put up in fancy prints, weighing a half-pound or a pound, will bring fifty, sixty or even seventy-five cents per pound. In fact, it is well to remember that the less surface there is exposed the better will the butter keep. It is contact with the air that injures it.

Moreover, prints have to be carefully packed, each package being wrapped to protect it from contact with others, and great care is requisite in handling it. It will not do to let the prints become untidy. A fine stamp or monogram on the butter brings a good price.

Coloring butter with annato is also to comply with a fashionable fancy. A product of the very finest quality, yet without a certain color, will not sell as well as one that has the right tint, even though of poorer quality. Dairymen find themselves driven to the wall unless they try to please the eye as well as the palate of the buyer.—Cor. N. Y. Examiner.

Common or Native Cows.

Isn't the common cow left too much out of the question in these days of "booming" the fashionable breeds? There are poor scrubs among our common cattle, as everybody knows, but they are not all such. Great yields of milk and butter are reported from Jerseys, Holsteins and other fancy breeds, but many a cow among our native stock, if pampered and nursed and fed as they are, would do almost if not quite as well as many of the foreign breeds. Did any one ever hear, through the papers, of a real poor Jersey? They all seem to produce about two pounds of butter a day, rain or shine. But how about those we do not hear of? It would not be a bad idea to take some good native cows, treat them as if they were worth $10,000 each, and keep a careful record of the amount of butter they produced. The comparison would then be, not between the poorest natives and the best Jerseys, but between good specimens of each class. The discrepancy might prove to be less than it now appears to be.—N. Y. Examiner.

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

PENNSYLVANIA is giving an annuity of $120 to all her soldiers of 1812.

SPRING house-cleaning came early in the Ohio Valley this year.

THE cordial welcome recently given the new Spanish Minister at Washington produced an excellent effect at Madrid.

THE Boston Advertiser is unable to decide which the health of New England suffers more from—pie or patent medicines.

HENRY M. ALDEN, the editor of Harper's Monthly, and George W. Curtis, the editor of the Weekly, are paid $10,400 a year each.

THE cooks of the Chinese legation at Washington make a soup of crushed snails. This is a free country, but it is hard upon the snails.

THE Secretary of War receives warm praise from all quarters for his promptness in distributing relief supplies in the late flooded districts.

PROF. CASSAMAJOR, of New York, concludes from the red sunset that a ring similar to that of Saturn, is forming around the earth's equator.

THE summit of Mount Kabru in the Himalayas has been reached by an Englishman; its height is 24,015 feet, the highest point yet attained by man.

ANIMALS dwelling at high elevations resemble those of colder latitudes. The same species of insects are found on Mount Washington as in Labrador and Greenland.

ENGLISH railroads are adopting cars in which there are boxes fitted up inside with India-rubber paneling and floor-covering, for the transportation of valuable race horses.

ENGLAND has given her sanction to a future increase of the Turkish import duties, provided the abuses now prevailing in the management of customs be suppressed.

THE Government bought a foreign-built ship for the Greely Relief Expedition, and now another has been loaned to us from England. What's the matter with our ship-builders?

P. E. WILSON, of Bethel, Vt., has in his possession the ivory head of a cane broken over the head of a soldier by Benedict Arnold in a fit of passion at West Point just before the exposure of his treason.

HULDAH GOODSELL, aged ninety years, died at North Haven, Conn., recently. She was the oldest of four sisters, whose ages aggregate 338 years, and who have for years past celebrated their birth-days together.

IN the fiscal year 1881 the number of eggs imported was 110,000,000; in 1882 it was 140,000,000; in the past year 150,000,000, and in the present year will probably exceed 200,000,000, with a value of $3,000,000. Eggs are on the free list.

MR. IRVING, the actor, in a recent interview in Indianapolis, said: "In fact the most wonderful thing about this country is its forwardness in using new inventions and in taking up new ideas. In England we are equally forward in keeping old things to the front."

GENERAL GORDON has been clothed with remarkable power in the great Soudan by the Government he represents. No ordinary man is worthy to be trusted with unlimited authority over a population estimated at over ten millions.

ARSENIC is said to be one of the ingredients used in coloring the postal notes. Several of the clerks in the Sixth Auditor's office, Postoffice Department, where a great many of the postal notes are handled, have become poisoned by constant contact with them.

FOR the moment the destinies of the Soudan and of Egypt are taken out of the hands of the Sultan, the Khedive, the Empress of India, and out of the control of the British Ministry and the British bondholders, and by sheer force of destiny are placed in the hands of the Mahdi and General Gordon.

A NEW ENGLAND publishing house has been adjudged to pay a fine of $1,000 for using real names in a novel. The Philadelphia Times suggests that if the author had only gone to some of the newspaper offices and secured the names of people who send in notes asking that their names shall be mentioned, all this trouble might have been saved and some very troublesome persons, who are generally repulsed, might have been accommodated.

A TRAVELER describes the women of Honolulu as graceful, amiable, gentle and fascinating, and among them some who are the most beautiful he has ever seen—skin softer than velvet, teeth whiter than ivory, eyes sparkling and black, and such masses of silken hair as are not often seen on the female head in other countries. The men of Hawaii are of splendid muscular development, and the women physically are not inferior to them.

THE RECORDER.

RIDDELL & HALL, Proprietors.

BURLINGTON, KY.. FEB 27. 1883.

ADVERTISING RATES.

1 Column	1 year	$80
1 "	½ "	40
1 "	¼ "	20
½ "	1 "	20
¼ "	¼ "	10
¼ "	½ "	6

For announcing candidates, $5. Obituary poetry, 5 cents per line. Obituary notices 20 lines free; over that number (except ing the announcement of the death) 3 cents per line.

Tributes of respect from lodges, &c., $1 50

RATES OF SUBSCRIPTION.

One year	$1 50
Six months	75
Three months	40

SENATOR WILLIAMS declines to run for Congress.

THE marshal of Owingsville has been held over for malicious shooting.

THE celebrated patent medicine man, Dr. Radway, died at his home in New York City last week.

MATERIAL for the dissecting table is certainly scarce when those who furnish it have to go out and kill it.

THE Republican National Committee is having some trouble in securing the Chicago Music Hall for use of their convention.

THE Lawrenceburg levee, which everybody expected would be destroyed by the flood, was not damaged to any great extent, and can be repaired at a small cost.

The people of Lawrenceburg are out of the water and busy erasing all traces the water left in their buildings. It takes moro than a 70-foot flood to dishearten an average Lawrenceburger.

THE Democratic National Convention will be held in Chicago on the 8th of July, five weeks later than the Republican Convention, which has already been announced for the same city on the 3d of June.

MR. HOLMAN voted for the $300,000 appropriation for the flood sufferers, and Mr. Dana, of the New York Sun, denounces it as unconstitutional, and there is the difference between the two great men.

THE business men, of the flooded districts, in Cincinnati held a meeting for the purpose of adopting some method to prevent their landlords from collecting rents during tho month of February, and to have the rents lowered.

AN analysis of the gas furnished the citizens of Louisville shows that it is a deadly poison. The development has created much indignation among the consumers, and the gas company is nervously awaiting the result of the discovery.

THE San Francisco Chronicle says that the smuggling of Chinamen into the United States from British Columbia is increasing. It says that an organized Chinese company exists in Washington Territory, which makes a business, and a paying one, of smuggling coolies into this country.

IN response to a resolution of inquiry the Auditor informed the House that the amount of money in the treasury at this time is $477,859,84. Of this, $175,000 belongs to the sinking fund and $302,859 84 to the revenue fund. Most of the latter fund will shortly go to the school fund.

MURDER, rape, robbery, violence, lynching, attempted assassination, seduction, and every phase of brutality burden the wires, and fill the columns of daily papers until one is almost justified in believing that a special campaign has been inaugurated by the devil all over the country. —Louisville Commercial.

ONE witness in the Anchorage Asylum investigation swore that Superintendent Gale made affidavit that her husband, an inmate of the institution, was dead, so she might draw a pension from the Government, when, in fact, he was not and is not now dead. From other testimony it appears that the habits of nearly all the officers about the Asylum are too convivial for such positions.

LARGE droves of Kentucky hogs have been coming over the Suspension Bridge since the waters subsided. It is stock that was billed to Cincinnati, and caught by the flood, and had to be fed on farms back in Kentucky. The drovers in almost every instance met with heavy losses, amounting in some cases to several dollars per head. The hogs lost in weight, and there was an expense for feeding them. The number of hogs caught in this way is estimated at thirty thousand.—Cin'ti. Enquirer, February 22.

MONDAY MORNING Governor Knott received a dispatch announcing the death of J. G. Cecil, Register of the Land Office, at San Antonio, Texas, to which place he went for health.

IN this issue is an article urging the building of a pike from near Jno. Smith's on the Woolper pike to the Aurora ferry, a pike which is badly need, and would be of much benefit to the land owners along its route:

THERE is no longer any question about W. C. P. Breckinridge's being a candidate for Congress in the seventh district. He is now regularly announced, which has crushed the hopes of several politicians who had designs on Blackburn's seat. Several of the would be Congressmen in that district are young men, and they can stay at home a while longer and keep company with a large crowd of coming Congressmen who inhabit this district, and who know how to sympathize with them in their our of discontent.

THE Anchorage Asylum investigation is developing a shocking management: The testimony adduced is to the effect that incompetency prevails from the highest to the lowest in authority in the institution. The treatment received by some of the patients has been cruel in the extreme, and the testimony on that point will create much uneasiness among the friends of the unfortunate inmates, who were sent there for treatment and not for punishment in the repulsive manner described by some of the witnesses who have been before the committee.

THE principal changes made by the amendment to the road law which the legislature has passed are as follows: The sheriff is required to execute a separate bond for the road money; the sheriff is to make a settlement with the county court on account of tho road funds in the month of February every year, at which time the court makes an order requiring the sheriff to pay to the several overseers appointed by the court at its March term the amounts going to the respective districts, which amounts are determined at the time the settlement is made with the sheriff. The delinquents are to be reported as soon as they fail to work.

ONE of tho most diabolical crimes of the age was that committed at Avondale, a Cincinnati suburb, one night last week. Two demons, for the paltry sum of $45, under cover of night, entered the quiet home of an aged colored man, and in cold blood, murdered the old man, his wife and a colored girl, and delivered them to the Ohio Medical College, to which institution the bodies had been sold previous to the murder, before 10 p. m., where they were found on the dissecting tables. After the killing, the house was burned for the purpose of misleading detectives, but it failed, and the guilty parties were soon arrested on suspicion, after which they weakened and confessed the horrible crime. It does look like hanging is too good for such brutes.

THE Newport correspondent of the Cincinnati Enquirer says:

"Of all the outrages ever perpetrated it is the alleged stuff in the shape of aid from the United States Government. The coffee would make a mule leave his oats. The sugar is half sand, and the blankets were evidently in the flood in which Noah's ark sailed over so majestically. It looks as if General Beckwith was sent out from Washington to kill what few people were left in the Ohio valley. The statement that the provisions were bought by the Mayor of this city is about as near the truth as the Commercial Gazette ever gets. About the only things that the Government left in Newport, Dayton or Bellevue that can be used are the money and meat."

THE practice of letting out the contracts for carrying the mails to parties who depend on subletting them, ought to bo discontinued by the department. The service, in many instances, is rendered inefficient by these large contractors bidding for routes with which they have no acquaintance, and putting their bids so low that they will not recompense the labor required. The competition among those living on the routes is sufficient to satisfy the department that the lowest bids consistent with good service come from those who are familiar with the routes over which the mails are to be carried. The large contractors work every means possible to avoid losses on the contracts, and sublet to anybody, and often defeat, almost entirely, the object of the service. The fines imposed on derelict carriers do not satisfy and correct delays imposed on the public, and which are not so liable to occur on routes where the mails are carried by the contractor or is under his immediate supervision.

WE have before us the report of the Geological Survey by Prof. Jno. Proctor, State Geologist. It contains a great deal of valuable information in regard to the mineral resources of the State, which will ultimately become great mines of wealth Mr. Proctor is laboring earnestly for the advancement of Kentucky's development, and to his exertions are due much of the capital and immigration with which our State has been favored in the past few years. His report is evidence of the great labor which has been systematically executed, and which should be kept in progress until completed.

NEXT Friday the session of the legislature expires by constitutional limitation, and it will necessarily be adjourned, unless both Houses vote to extend the time. There has been some wrangling on the subject, and a refusal on the part of the Senate to extend. The most important legislation laid out for the present session has not been touched, and the State can not afford to have these measures neglected. The investigation of the Anchorage asylum is of sufficient importance of itself to justify an extension of the session.

Since the above was put in type, the session has been extended.

NUMEROUS instances of imposition on the relief boat that went down the river last week are reported. It seems to be the desire of a large part of the human family to get all they can, and they are not very particular how they secure it, in the instances above referred to going so far as, in a manner, to take bread and meat out of the mouths of the starving, an offense of which dumb brutes alone were supposed to be guilty. We can not conceive how a man can be so utterly void of a sense of right and wrong as to be guilty of what some are reported to be when the charities of the generous were being distributed. Some who live on top of the highest hills that overlook the Ohio river were among the first to put in their claims for and receive rations when the boat landed in their neighborhood, while many others who lived far beyond the reach of the devastating flood carried home provisions and clothing by the quantity. In some instances men worth thousands of dollars were the most eager to stock their pantries and supply their wardrobes. The hoggish and unprincipled actions of these impostors are justly and vigorously denounced by persons who have a proper appreciation of the objects of charity, and its on account of such imposition that many persons are slow to contribute and to contribute such small amounts, even when there is as strong an appeal for assistance as that going up a few days since in the Ohio valley.

STATE NEWS.

Ludlow is going to have a $10,000 Masonic building.

Kentucky ranks seventh as a corn producing State.

There are many eagles in Bourbon county, both gray and bald.

In Montgomery county a great deal of tobacco is rotting in the barns.

Mr. Dudly has secured an endowment of $100,000 for Georgetown college.

Ike Rust, of Danville, has to have both legs amputated because of getting them frozen.

Some Shelby county farmers have been offered as much as $40 per acre rental for tobacco land.

Two Christian county boys were trading pistols when one of them was accidentally shot and killed.

The grave of Governor Knott's father, near West Point, is said to be unfenced and entirely neglected.

The revival in the colored Cumberland Presbyterian church at Bowling Green has resulted in 200 additions.

Winchester is said to be the best stock market in the State. Georgetown and Cynthiana are not far behind her.

Samuel F. Jones, an inmate of Anchorage Asylum, committed suicide by hanging himself with a towel in a water closet.

There will be a larger amount of sod land plowed up and put into tobacco this year in Clark county, than was ever known before.

Seven thousand laboring men of Louisville have petitioned the legislature to repeal the law authorizing the hiring out of convict labor.

Rev. J. W. Asbury, colored, who was a candidate for Congress in the seventh, and was afterwards a candidate on the Republican State ticket, has been made a store-keeper by Collector Swope.

In Magoffin county a party of fifteen raftsmen, who were returning from a trip down the Licking, got drunk, and all began fighting with pistols, clubs, fence rails, stones, etc. They had a bully time which resulted in the death of Elijah Lee and the wounding of all the others, some of them mortally.

Deputy United States Marshal G. F. Campbell was fined $20 at Glasgow Junction, for disorderly conduct in attempting to arrest a man at that place without the necessary warrant.

The Carlisle Mercury says that Charles Royce, of Nicholas county, sold a young horse to an eastern man, a few days ago, for $250. Last week he bought him back for $500, and in a few days later sold him for $1,000.

W. J. Hardin, of Beech Grove, McLean county, is the father of 22 children; Wm. Miller, of the same county, is the father of 26 childred, and Cameron Story boasts that 22 children are authorized to call him "dad."

The postmaster at Bowling Green received a letter a few days ago, addressed to "Almighty God, In Heaven. Send in haste." The postmaster, having no knowledge of the point to which the letter was addressed, sent it to the dead letter office.

Major Hicks, the negro that was hanged a few years ago predicted three great floods in the Ohio river for three years in succession. He said that the second would be greater than the first, and that the third would surprise everybody. He told tho story to hundreds of people, and his predicions have come true.—Robertson County Democrat.

The Farmers Home Journal says: Several of the Louisville warehousemen join in a request that we advise planters not to cultivate "one sucker" tobacco. They say it is long, narrow, bony and too dark to meet the wants of the trade. They always fail to give satisfaction in sales of this kind, and think that planters will meet with disappointment as long as they continue to grow it.

H. C. CHAMBERS,
AUCTIONEER
FLORENCE, - - - KENTUCKY.

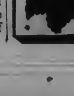
THE CINCINNATI
Weekly News!
A NATIONAL
METROPOLITAN JOURNAL,
Full Of Enterprise,
PEOPLE!
EIGHT PAGES—SIXTY Four Pages
Containing all the News, correct Market Reports, well selected Miscellany, brilliant Stories—in fact, the favorite Weekly Paper of the Central United States.

—PUBLISHED BY THE—
Cincinnati News Publishing Co.
AT THE FOLLOWING
LOW RATES OF SUBSCRIPTION.

THE WEEKLY NEWS with one of Dore's Celebrated Works,
"Christ Leaving the Prætorium,"
"Christ Entering Jerusalem,"

These engravings of Dore's fame historical paintings are the best and most perfect reprints by the Foreign Art Reproducing Company, and can not be purchased as orignal plates for less than $40 each in Europe. They are in size 23x36 in. and are direct copies, preserving every line and detail
OF THE ENGLISH $40 ENGRAVINGS.
These pictures are suitable to adorn the parlor of any gentleman. As a
Premium Supplement!
A Single Copy, three months.......... $0 40
A Single copy, six months.......... 60
A Single copy, one year.......... 1 00
A club of 10 copies to 1 P. O. 1 year... 9 00
A club of 20 copies to 1 P. O. 1 year... 17 00
And large clubs at 85c per copy per annum
Postmasters and other agents will be allowed 15 per cent on full rate (not club) subscribers.
The premium engravings will be mailed about the first of each month to the subscribers entitled to receive them.
As a premium offer it is confidently claimed that its exual was never before made, and would not be possible in this case except for the method adopted by the Foreign Art Reproducing Company to advertise its work.
Do not fail to avail yourself of the opportunity by sending your name and address, with one dollar enclosed, to
THE CINCINNATI WEEKLY NEWS.

$66 a week at home. $5 outfit free. Pay absolutely sure, no risk. Capital not required. If you want business at which persons of either sex young or old, can make great pay all the time they work, with absolute certainty, write for particulars to H. HALLET & Co., Portland, Maine.



A PRIZE Send six cents for postage, and receive free, a costly box of goods which will help you to more money right away than anything else in this world. All of either sex, succeed from the first hour. The broad road to fortune opens before the workers, absolutely sure. At once address, TRUE & Co., Augusta, Maine.

AGENTS wanted for The Lives of all the Presidents of the U. S. The largest handsomest, best book ever sold for more than twice our price. The best selling book in America. Immense profits to agents. All intelligent people want it. Any one can become a successful agent. Terms free, HALLET BOOK Co., Portland, Maine.

$288 per month collecting small family Pictures to enlarge into the Melanotype the finest enlarged picture in the world Diploma, Red, White and Blue Ribbon awarded everywhere. Testimonials. Private terms. SOLID GOLD WATCH and $5 outfit free to Agents. Address Empire Copy'g Co., 381 Canal St., N. Y.

PISO'S CURE FOR CURES WHERE ALL ELSE FAILS. Best Cough Syrup. Tastes good. Use in time. Sold by druggists. 25 CENTS CONSUMPTION.

TESTED BY TIME.
STRONG'S
PECTORAL PILLS
IN SUCCESSFUL USE FOR HALF A CENTURY.
The best Remedy for Coughs, Colds, Dyspepsia and Rheumatism. Insure Healthy Appetite, Good Digestion, Regularity of the Bowels. A precious boon to delicate females, soothing and bracing the nervous system, and giving vigor and health to every fibre of the body. Sold by Druggists. For Pamphlets, etc., address C. E. HULL & CO. 15 Cedar St., N. Y. City.

FREE TO ALL.
OUR new Illustrated Floral Catalogue of 80 pages, containing description and prices of the best varieties of Plants, Garden and Flower Seeds, Bulbs, Roots, Shrubs, Small Fruits and Trees will be mailed Free to all applicants. or Ten Roses mailed for One Dollar to any place. Wholesale and retail. NANZ & NEUNER, Louisville, Ky.

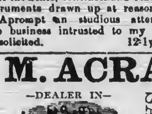
ROBERT B. REED
Attorney at Law.
OFFICE AT - - - UNION, KY.

F. RIDDELL,
ATTORNEY at LAW
BURLINGTON, KY.
Office over Dudley Rouse's Store.

ALBERT W. GAINES,
Attorney and Counselor at Law,
LAWRENCEBURG, - - - IND.
Will practice in the courts of Boone county, Ky., Cincinnati, Ohio, Dearborn and adjoining counties, Ind. dec-6-82

W. E. VEST,
COUNTY SURVEYOR
WALTON, KY.
Is prepared to do all kinds of surveying. All orders sent him through the mail to Walton, will receive his prompt attention.

E. E. IGOE,



Resident Dentist,
Rising Sun, Ind.
WITH
J. P. Ulrey.
Monday and Tuesday at Rising Sun. Ind

J. J. Landram. G. G. Hughes.
LANDRAM & HUGHES,
ATTORNEYS at LAW.
Will practice in the Boone Circuit Cour and the Court of Appeals. Prompt atten tion given to Collections, on application t G. G. Hughes, Burlington, Ky.

DR. A. B. HARRY AN
RESIDENT DENTIST.
Aurora, Indiana.
(Office Over Postoffice)
With J P. ULREY.
Dr. ULREY'S days, Wednesday and Saturday. Office open at all hours. 8-1y

L. C. NORMAN. [illegible]
NORMAN and STEPHENS,
ATTORNEYS at LAW.
UNION, BOONE CO., KY.
Will practice in the Courts of Boone Kenton and adjoining counties. Collections solicited and made throughout the State. 24 tf 81

S. W. TOLIN,
ATTORNEY AT LAW
BURLINGTON, - - KY
Office in Court-house on 2d floor.
Will manage litigation in any of the Courts of the State, contracts and other legal instruments drawn up at reasonable rates. A prompt an studious attention given to business intrusted to my care. A trial solicited. 12-1y

A. M. ACRA,
—DEALER IN—HARNESS

SADDLES.
Fine and Cheap Buggy Harness.
BURLINGTON, KY.
I also have a full stock of BUGGY WHIPS, LAP DUSTERS, ANKLE BOOTS and TROTTING BALLS and everything else usually kept in a first-class barness shop.
REPAIRING A SPECIALTY.
Give Me A Call.

GOLD for the working class. Send 10c for postage, and we will mail you free, a royal, valuable box of sample goods that will put you in the way of making more money in a few days than you ever thought possible at any business. Capital not required. We will start you. You can work part the time only. The work universally adapted to both sexes, young and old. You can easily earn from 50 cents to $5 every evening. That all who want work may test the business, we make this unparalleled offer; to all who are not well satisfied we will send $1 to pay for the trouble of writing us. Full particulars, directions, etc., sent free. Fortunes will be made by those who give their whole time to the work. Great success absolutely sure. Don't delay. start now. Address STINSON & Co., Portland, Maine.

PATENTS.
For new inventions and novel designs obtained in the United States, Canada and Europe. Trade Marks and Copyright—Labels secured for Merchants and Manufacturers who wish protection against imitators of their goods, packages or articles of manufacture. We are located opposite the United States Patent Office, have quick access to its records, and can give prompt and reliable answers to inquiries. Of our firm one has had thirteen years' practice in the highest courts, another several years as an Assistant Examiner in the United States Patent Office and many years experience as solicitor of American and Foreign Patents. Fee reasonable and full satisfaction or no fee. Best reference given. Our little book "on patents" sent free on receipt of one cent stamp.
W. A. COULTER & CO., Solicitors of Patents,
23 St. Cloud Building, Washington, D. C.

WRIGHT'S INDIAN VEGETABLE PILLS
FOR THE LIVER
And all Billious Complaints
Safe to take, being purely vegetable; no griping. Price 25 cts. All Druggists.

WANTED BOOK Canvassers.
MALE and FEMALE
To engage in the sale of our new and important works of standard character, large profits and immense selling qualities. We offer a permanent and lucrative business. Address
The CINCINNATI PUBLISHING CO.,
174 W. Fourth Street, Cincinnati, Ohio.

Free! Cards and Chromos.
We will send free by mail a sample set of our large German, French, and American Chromo Cards, on tinted and gold grounds, with a price list of over 200 different designs, on receipt of a stamp for postage. We will also send free by mail as samples, ten of our beautiful Chromos, on receipt of ten cents to pay for packing and postage; also enclose a confidential price list of our large oil chromos. Agents wanted. Address F. GLEASON & Co., 46 Summer Street, Boston, Mass.

PATENTS
MUNN & CO., of the SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN, continue to act as Solicitors for Patents, Caveats, Trade Marks, Copyrights, for the United States, Canada, England, France, Germany, etc. Hand Book about Patents sent free. Thirty-seven years' experience. Patents obtained through MUNN & CO. are noticed in the SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN, the largest, best, and most widely circulated scientific paper. $3.20 a year. Weekly. Splendid engravings and interesting information. Specimen copy of the Scientific American sent free. Address MUNN & CO., SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN Office, 261 Broadway, New York.

SANITARIUM, Riverside, Cal. The dry climate cures Nose, Throat, Lungs, full idea, 36 p., route, cost, free.

MARRIAGE AND HEALTH GUIDE. 260 pgs. Illustrated.
All that the doubtful curious or thoughtful want to know. Cloth and gilt binding 50 cts. paper 25c. Marriage Guide, 144 p. 15c, sent sealed, money or stps. by
DR. WHITTIER 290 RACE STREET, CINCINNATI, OHIO.
The great specialist, Nervous Debility, Impediments to Marriage. Consultation and Pamphlet free.

County Directory.

OFFICERS.

Assessor—G. M. Riley.
County Surveyor—W. E. Vest.
School Commissioner—D. M. Snyder.
Coroner.—Dr. A. A. Murat, Constance.

COURTS,

CIRCUIT COURT meets the 2d Monday in April and first Monday in October, P. U. Major, Judge; W. L. Riddell, Clerk A. G. DeJarnette, Commonwealths Attorney; W. L. Riddell, Trustee Jury Fund.

COUNTY COURT meets the first Monday in every month. L. H. Dills, Judge; S. W. Tolin, County Attorney. M. T. Garnett, Clerk; J. R. Clutterbuck, Sheriff, T. W. Finch and W. T. German, Deputy Sheriffs.

QUARTERLY COURT meets the first Monday in March, June, September and December. The officers of the County Court preside.

COURT OF CLAIMS meets the first Monday in November.

MAGISTRATES' COURTS are held in March, June, September and December, as follows:

Bellevue—M. B. Green, first Saturday, and T. H. Sutton, third Monday. J. M. Moody, Constable.

Burlington—E. H. Baker, Thursday after first Monday, and Oscar Gaines, fourth Monday. R. H. Sandford, Constable.

Carlton A. G. McConnell, Wednesday after second Monday, and B. H. Ryle, Saturday after third Monday. Walter Ryle, Cornstable.

Petersburg—Jos. Hensley, Wednesday after first Monday, and L. A. Loder fourth Saturday. Geo. Comor, Constable.

Beever—W. M. Rouse, Friday after the third Monday, and

Union—M. C. Norman, Thursday after third Monday, and H. Bannister, Thursday after second Monday. A. D. Riley, Constable.

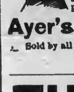
Hamilton—F. M. Howlett, Tuesday after second Monday; W. W. Garnott, Wednesday after third Monday. R. L. Roberts Constable.

A. L. Brown,

THE HATTER,
Cor. Pike and Washington Streets
COVINGTON, - - KY.
Has always on hand a large variety of Men's, Boys' and Children's Hats, and prices GUARANTEED to bo as low as the lowest.
Gents' Furnishing Goods a Specialty.

W. J. RICE.
CARPENTER & BUILDER,
BULLITSVILLE, KY.
Is prepared Raise or Move
EITHER LOG or FRAME BUILDINGS
On Short Notice,
And at the Lowest Possible Figures.
33-tf Your orders respectfully solicited

LUMBER.
Goe. M. Bedinger & Co.,
Erlanger, - - Ky.
We keep constantly on hand all kinds of Lumber, Laths and Shingles. Also Builder's supplies of all kinds.
—Come and see Us.—
may 9-tf



AURORA
MARBLE
AND GRANITE WORKS,
Aurora. Ind
Will have constantly on hand
Marble and Granite Monuments,
Italian & American Headstones, &c.
I am ready to do all kinds of Stone Work on short notice and at low prices Hoping to receive the patronage of Boone County, I am respectfully,
F. W. KASSEBAUM.

INSURE AT HOME
The Farmers' Mutual Fire
INSURANCE COMPANY
Of Boone County
Is now completely organized and receiving applications for insurance.
Its Rates are Lower
Than those of any other Company, and it gives the farmers of Boone County a
HITHERTO UNKNOWN ADVANTAGE
In keeping their property insured.
EVERY FARMER IN OUR COUNTY
[illegible]
should take a policy at once.
J. A. GAINES, President, Burlington, Ky. | J. H. WALTON, Secretary, Constance, Ky.
R. RANDALL, Treasury.
DIRECTORS.
LEGRAN GAINES, A. J. UTZ.
JNO. STEPHENS.
OSCAR GAINES, Agent. | C. L. CRISLER, Assessor.

INCORPORATED UNDER THE LAWS OF MISSOURI.
CENTRAL MEDICAL & SURGICAL INSTITUTE OF ST. LOUIS, MO.
SUCCESSORS TO Dr. BUTTS' DISPENSARY. OFFICE & ROOMS, No. 920 LOCUST ST.
CHAS. L. LARABEE, M.D., Pres't & Physician in Charge.
NELSON CHESMAN, Treas. & Business Manager.
This Institute has ample facilities and an experienced Faculty. While it succeeds to a large business, which has been established for years, it will aim to extend its medical and surgical practice, giving skillful and scientific treatment to CHRONIC DISEASES of the Head, Spine, Lungs and Air Passages, Heart, Liver, Stomach and Bowels, Rheumatism, Dyspepsia, Consumption and Asthma.
BLOOD IMPURITIES, inherited or caused by impure association, Scrofula, Fever Sores, Ulcers, etc.
DEFORMITIES of the Limbs, Spinal Curvature, Wry-Neck, Diseases of the Joints, Piles, Fistula, Rupture, etc.
WEAKNESS and wasting diseases in old and young men, also all diseases of the genito-urinary organs.
FEMALE irregularities and weaknesses, causing pain in the back or side, etc.
Personal interviews with patients are always preferred. Those unable to visit the Institute will be furnished with blank lists of questions that will aid them in making a full statement of their cases and if not requiring a surgical operation they can be successfully treated by correspondence, and medicines sent by mail or express. To enable as to send proper list of questions applicants should give a brief statement of their trouble.
The Treasurer of the corporation is of Nelson Chesman & Co., Advertising Agents and refers to the publisher of this or any other newspaper in the United States or Canada regarding responsibility.
Consultation at Office or by mail free and invited

HALL'S
Vegetable Sicilian
HAIR RENEWER
was the first preparation perfectly adapted to cure diseases of the scalp, and the first successful restorer of faded or gray hair to its natural color, growth, and youthful beauty. It has had many imitators, but none have so fully met all the requirements needful for the proper treatment of the hair and scalp. HALL'S HAIR RENEWER has steadily grown in favor, and spread its fame and usefulness to every quarter of the globe. Its unparalleled success can be attributed to but one cause: the entire fulfilment of its promises.
The proprietors have often been surprised at the receipt of orders from remote countries, where they had never made an effort for its introduction.
The use for a short time of HALL'S HAIR RENEWER wonderfully improves the personal appearance. It cleanses the scalp from all impurities, cures all humors, fever, and dryness, and thus prevents baldness. It stimulates the weakened glands, and enables them to push forward a new and vigorous growth. The effects of this article are not transient, like those of alcoholic preparations, but remain a long time, which makes its use a matter of economy.

BUCKINGHAM'S DYE
FOR THE WHISKERS
Will change the beard to a natural brown, or black, as desired. It produces a permanent color that will not wash away. Consisting of a single preparation, it is applied without trouble.
PREPARED BY
R. P. HALL & CO., Nashua, N.H.
Sold by all Dealers in Medicines.

FOR ALL THE FORMS OF Scrofulous, Mercurial, and Blood Disorders, the best remedy, because the most searching and thorough blood-purifier, is
Ayer's Sarsaparilla.
Sold by all Druggists; $1, six bottles, $5.

TUTT'S PILLS
TORPID BOWELS, DISORDERED LIVER, and MALARIA.
From these sources arise three-fourths of the diseases of the human race. These symptoms indicate their existence: Loss of Appetite, Bowels costive, Sick Headache, fullness after eating, aversion to exertion of body or mind, Eructation of food, Irritability of temper, Low spirits, A feeling of having neglected some duty, Dizziness, Fluttering at the Heart, Dots before the eyes, highly colored Urine, CONSTIPATION, and demand the use of a remedy that acts directly on the Liver. As a Liver medicine TUTT'S PILLS have no equal. Their action on the Kidneys and Skin is also prompt; removing all impurities through these three "scavengers of the system," producing appetite, sound digestion, regular stools, a clear skin and a vigorous body. TUTT'S PILLS cause no nausea or griping nor interfere with daily work and are a perfect
ANTIDOTE TO MALARIA.
Sold everywhere, 25c. Office, 44 Murray St., N.Y.

TUTT'S HAIR DYE.
GRAY HAIR OR WHISKERS changed instantly to a GLOSSY BLACK by a single application of this DYE. Sold by Druggists, or sent by express on receipt of $1.
Office, 44 Murray Street, New York.
TUTT'S MANUAL OF USEFUL RECEIPTS FREE.

VIGOROUS HEALTH FOR MEN
THE PASTILLE CURE TRADE MARK FOR NERVOUS DEBILITY.
TESTED FOR 5 YEARS
by use in thousands of cases. Founded on scientific medical principles, it has been growing in favor and reputation while its numerous competitors have invariably failed. The direct application of this remedy to the seat of the disease makes its specific influence felt without delay. The natural functions of the human organism are restored. The animating elements of life which have been wasted are given back. The buoyant energy of the brain and muscular system renders the patient cheerful; he gains strength with rapidity.
NERVOUS DEBILITY, organic weakness, and numerous obscure diseases, baffling the skill of best physicians, result for youthful indiscretion, too free indulgence, and over brain work.
Do not temporize while such enemies lurk in your system. Take a remedy that has cured thousands, and does not interfere with you attention to business or cause any pain or inconvenience.
(Send for a Descriptive Pamphlet giving Anatomical Illustrations, which will convince the most sceptical that they can be restored to perfect manhood, and fitted for the duties of life, same as if never affected. Sent free to any one. Remedy sold ONLY by the)
HARRIS REMEDY CO. MF'G. CHEMISTS.
306½ N. 10th. St. ST. LOUIS, MO.
One Month's treatment $3, two months $5, three months $7

PARKER'S
HAIR BALSAM

A beneficial dressing preferred to similar articles because of its purity and rich perfume. It Restores to Gray Hair the Youthful Color & prevents dandruff and falling of the hair.
50c. & $1. Hiscox & Co., N.Y.

FLORESTON
Excels the finest flower extracts in richness. Delicate, very lasting. No odor like it. Be sure you get FLORESTON Cologne, signature of Hiscox & Co., N. Y., on every label. 25 and 75 cts., at druggists and dealers in perfumes.
COLOGNE

NEVER FAILS
FREE!
RELIABLE SELF-CURE.
A favorite prescription of one of the most noted and successful specialists in the U. S. (now retired) for the cure of Nervous Debility, Lost Manhood, Weakness and Decay. Sent in plain sealed envelope free. Druggists can fill it.
Address DR. WARD & CO., Louisiana. Mo.

PAYSONS INDELIBLE INK
Is the BEST. No preparation. Used with any clean pen for marking any fabric. Popular for decorative work on linen. Received Centennial MEDAL & Diploma. Established 50 years. Sold by all Druggists, Stationers & News Ag'ts.

Local News.

The river is within its banks again.

Hotel de Cowen has two boarders.

J. S. Balsiy lost a barn by the flood.

The farmers are making their work hum.

Miss Sue Rich is at her sister's, Mrs. McKim.

Next Monday is County and Quarterly Court.

Some fine fish are being caught out of Gunpowder.

R. S. Crisler has his blacksmith shop about completed.

Mr. Edward Fowler is lying very low with pneumonia.

The public schools are closing their doors for the present.

W. F. McKim's family are recovering from a severe sickness.

Mr. Harry Piper, of Gilford, Ind., was visiting his mother, last week.

Sheriff Clutterbuck was entertaining a carbuncle on his neck last week.

Robert Grant is reading medicine with his brother, Dr. J. M. Grant.

The postmaster at Rabbit Hash had to carry his office in his hat during the flood.

The harbingers of spring, marble players, have made their appearance on the streets.

Lewis Weaver, of Sunbright, Tenn., was visiting his many friends in Boone last week.

The work of straightening and cleaning up the towns along the river has commenced.

Miss Kate Bradford, of Florence, has been the guest of Mrs. Lillie Hall for several days.

Mrs. N. S. Walton, being exposed to the measles in Frankfort, returned home last week.

Mr. Archibald Thompson, our oldest citizen has been quite unwell, but is somewhat improved.

A German philosopher says: "Viskey makes you kill somebody else; mit peer you kills yourself."

Mrs Anna Crisler has become a citizen of our town, having moved into G. G. Hughes' house.

A large crowd attended John. W. Rice's sale last Wednesday, and property brought good prices.

The RECORDER is under obligations to Mr. Chas. E. Clore, of Hebron, for favors extended last week.

When the butchers hauled a dressed porker to thier shop, last Friday, a shout went up from the hungry citizens.

Persons living on top the river hills along the Ohio imposed on the relief boats and took a supply of rations.

We are sorry to hear that our Assessor, G. M. Riley, has been in too bad health to attend to his official duties.

Some of the boys went fishing last Friday and had to break the ice before they could get their hooks in the water.

The hogs got hold of that book we had commenced entitled, "That garden of Ours," and demolished it as well as the garden.

A good sized crowd attended David Hogan's sale last Thursday. Property sold well, and especially is this true of plug horses.

Our announcement in regard to County and Quarterly Court in our last issue was slightly premature, being one week ahead of time.

By the death of a relative in Fleming county, by the name of Botts, Mrs. Walter Goodridge, of Francesville, falls heir to $15,000 or $20,000.

The attorneys have commenced burnishing up their armor for the approaching term of the Circuit Court, which now promises very short picking.

The Court of Appeals rendered a decision, last week, in the case of Boone County vs. L. H. Dills, affirming the judgment of the lower Court.

A barge containing 3,000 bushels of corn belonging to the Boone County Distilling Company was sunk near the mouth of the Miami last Thursday.

Mrs. Susan Acra has rented G. T. Gaines' house and land, near town, and will occupy it as soon as Mr. G. moves to the farm he bought of Dr. Smith and wife.

Boreing & Craft, of London, Kentucky, have the contracts for carrying the mails from Erlanger to Burlington, from Union to Florence and from Covington to Bullettsville.

Charles Clore has a cow that has dropped four calves within the past eleven months. The cow is about eight years old, and Charlie has sold $200 worth of her calves and has five of them left.

If you have a watch or clock that needs repairing, or if you want to buy fine jewelry go to M. C. Motch, jeweler, N. W. Cor. Madison and Pike Strs. Covington, Ky.

The local tobacco buyers are a great convenience to the farmers, both in giving good prices and greatly reducing the distance necessary to haul to deliver their crops.

By the death of a widow Lewis, of Cincinnati, Mrs. Judge Riddell and the children of Mrs. William Hensley, deceased, are among her heirs who inherit several thousand dollars. The estate is estimated at from $100,000 to $150,000.

Geo. W. Brown, who recently located in Nashville, Tenn., came up during the flood, and in time to see some of his houses, at Constance, leave with the February excursion for the gulf of Mexico.

Married—At the parsonage of the St. Paul M. E. Church, Cincinnati, by the Rev. J. J. Reed, on Monday evening, the 18th inst., Miss Lottie Reed, daughter of William and Charlotte Reed, of Covington, to Mr. M. F. Davarninville, of Cincinnati.

Our druggist, Mr. Bange, shortly after he came here killed a very large hawk, which he took to the city and had manipulated by a taxidemist, and now he has a beautiful and most natural looking bird for which he will not take any reasonable price.

Black Clarkson was found, one morning last week, lying on the road side in Jessamine county in an unconcious condition from gunshot wounds. When he revived he gave the names of five men, who, he claimed attacked him. Clarkson was a witness against one of them who is charged with horsestealing.

The printing office and the editor's residence have been connected by telephone, and the editor talks saucily to the old lady without fear of successful contradiction.—Marion Press.

Don't you mean without fear of coming in contact with the broom-stick, instead of successful contradiction?

Covington item Commercial Gazette: Rev. A. M. Vardiman, pastor of the Madison Street Baptist Church for the past two years, having resigned that position, will preach his farewell sermon this morning, (the 24th). Mr. Vardiman goes to Maysiick to accept the charge of the Baptist Church at that place.

The following is an estimate of the expense per day of the Legislature:

137 members at $5	$685
2 presiding officers at $10 each	20
4 clerks at $10 each	40
2 door-keepers at $6 each	12
2 sergeants-at-arms at $6each	12
12 pages at $2 50 each	30
1 man in cloak room, say	4
2 servants for each house at $2,50	10
Fuel, stationary, extra clerk hire etc.	100
Total, per day	$913

What a Whopper.

Petersburg, Ky., is so high that the water did but little damage there. Above that place the water cut through the bank, and run through the lower back lands, a distance of 7 or 8 miles, emptying into the Ohio below Grant. The current there was very swift, and many old pioneers give it as their belief that this was once the main channel of the Ohio river.—Rising Sun, Recorder.

Last Saturday Robert Calvert and Mrs. Castineto, of Constance, were brought before Esquire Gaines under peace warrants sworn out by W. E. Anderson, of Constance. The charge against Mrs. Castineto was dismissed upon her promising that she would keep the peace. When Calvert was arrested he was found in possession of a pistol, and the charge of carrying concealed weapons was entered against him, and when called for trial he asked for a continuance, which was granted till Tuesday at 10 a. m., Dominic Castineto and his wife going on the bond for his appearance for trial at that time. Tuesday, when Esquire Gaines convened his court, Calvert was promptly on hand. The peace warrant was dismissed, and upon an investigation of the charge of carrying a pistol, he was fined $25 and given ten days in jail. He paid the fine, and upon his promise that he would leave the State at once, the imprisonment was suspended.

Last Tuesday two young gentlemen arrived in town and registered at the Eagle Hotel as Howard and Charles L Demaree, from Waveland, Ind. They were strangers here, and as they did not at once make known their business, the object of their visit was soon discussed as something bordering on the mysterious. It was noticed that late that afternoon they called at the residence of J. Emmet Gullion and remained until late. Next day they called again then the people began to surmise that they, together with some one in that household, were concocting some kind of a plot which might possibly work damage to the town. Wednesday afternoon they were seen in close conversation with Major Harrison, in the County Court Clerk's office. The curiosity of certain people overcame them and they at once searched the record and then the plot became an open secret. Marriage license was granted Mr. Charles L. Demaree and Miss Fronie Campbell. Mr. Howard Demaree, a brother of the to-be-groom, came along to see that the latter should get a "fair count," down here in Kentucky. Accordingly, on Wednesday evening, a party, composed of the immediate relatives in town, assembled to witness the nuptials. The beautiful and impressive ceremony was said by the Rev. T. J. Godbey, immediately after which the spectators were invited into the dining room to partake of an elegant supper, and the rest of the evening was spent in social converse. Indeed it was a very neat little affair. The groom is a well to do farmer and quite a nice looking young man. The bride is a beautiful and amiable young lady and an ornament to the circle in which she moved. They were compelled to forego the prearranged "tour," the high water making it almost impossible to get away from town. They will leave to-morrow for their home near Waveland, Ind., and may happiness and prosperity attend them.—Carrollton Democrat.

The bride was well known and a general favorite in Burlington and vicinity, and the have best wishes of all for thee njoyment of a long and happy life.

An Important Subject.

To the Editors of the Recorder:

I am glad to know that so much talk of turnpike from near John Smith's to the Aurora ferry is now being tried-on by some along the route. I know of no other road of the same distance that would be of more benefit. It would be of great advantage to a very large number of citizens at this end of the route. The whole of the Ashbyfork and Wolper creek neighborhood would be brought several miles nearer, by a direct route, to one of the best market towns in Southeastern Indiana, one of the easiest places on the river to keep a good ferry.

Not only would this road benefit the citizens of Kentucky, but it would take so much trade to Aurora, that it could afford to build the entire road if it can not be built without. The road would open up to Aurora a country of tens of thousands of acres of the richest farming lands to be found anywhere, consequently taking thousands of dollars of cash trade to her merchants and manufacturers every year.

A meeting was called to meet in Petersburg last Saturday, but only a few were notified, and those who attended called a meeting for next Thursday evening.

Let every one attend, if but a little interested. Let no one lag behind in the good work. The only way to build the road is for every one to put his hand to the wheel and keep it moving. It is no time for excuse; every one can not be prepared to do his best at the same time, or at least it does not suit all alike at the same time; but make it suit and use that much more industry and economy.

There appears to be two views in regard to it, viz.: First. To run the road to Aurora ferry if the bottoms will bear their part of the burden. Second. If not, the boys on the hills (who are grit to the back bone) intend to try to build to the bottoms.

The former would be decidedly preferable as it would make a splendid road and be of incalculable advantage to the entire community. Boys don't say "it does not benefit me." It will benefit every one who lives on a road or near one running into said road.

Hoping and feeling that you are not going to let any little thing hinder, I await the pleasure of driving to the Aurora Fair next fall, on the new pike.

ASHBYFORK.

Judge Riddell has been on the sick list for several days.

NGEIHBORHOOD NEWS.

Florence X-Roads.

Grain is looking very well.

A good many lambs are being lost this spring.

M. B. Tanner has been on the sick list for some time.

Wood sawings have been in full blast for several days.

John Utz and Thomas Adams are putting gravel on the worn out places in the pike.

Quite a number were present to witness Tony Bentler and bride start on the journey of married life.

Normansville.

This place presents a very dilapidated appearance at this time. It was all submerged except Ireland, Canada and the Moore ranche on the Kentucky side and the lead colored brick, brown stone front and the poet's mansion on the Hoosier side of Landing Creek.

One of our most estimable ladies, becoming disgusted with high water, mud and slush, is thinking seriously of moving to the city and opening a hash house on the European plan, provided, however, money enough is advanced to make the undertaking a success.

A relief boat came along on the 17th and put off at Hamilton, 4 bbls. flour, 500 lbs. meat, some bed-clothing and ladies' and gent's underwear, which were distributed to those that were sufferers from the flood, and was much appreciated by all. Many thanks to the donors, for in some instances it was much needed.

Notwithstanding the high water, mud and inclemency of the weather generally, the young folks 12 to 15 years of age, met at Mr. Jas. Mason's Saturday evening last, and enjoyed themselves so much that they think it highly necessary that they should meet again soon and many times thereafter. The belles of the evening were the Miss Stephens, Miss Josie Aylor, Miss Lizzie Johnson, &c. The beaux, Mr. Willie Smith, Mr. Gussie Carson and others

Plattsburg

All quiet on the Potomac.

Squire Hensley is very sick.

Simeon Baldon is able to walk around with crutches.

George Voshell lost 500 bushels of corn by the back waters.

Since the snow has disappeared the small grain is looking fine.

A funeral procession on the water is something unusual in our town.

Mr. William Hall, of Green Castle, Ind., was visiting friends here last week.

As soon as the water goes down the blacksmith shop will be moved up on the pike.

Jacob Klopp had both of his feet frozen during the cold weather and is hardly able to get about at present.

J. Frank Grant came very near getting swamped in the backwater at this place last Saturday evening. Frank has the courage of a lion.

The Ashbyfork bridge floated off the piers and drifted up the creek about fifty yards. The turnpike Company have it anchored on the piers at present.

The high water has driven the muskrats from their dens, and any number of them can be seen climbing the trees along the banks of the creek, and building their nests among the branches.

We owe an apology to Hon. N. S. Walton for what we said about the dog law, or our burlesque on the law or dogs, and hope Nathan will take it as a piece of pleasantry, as the law is very popular in this neighborhood.

Florence.

Mr. Jacob Lohline, who has been superintending the extensive sheep ranche of Milton Goodridge, in Oldham county, is here at his father's recuperating his health. The girls are all casting sheep's eyes at Jake.

Esquire Wagstaff held an extra session of his court on last Saturday, to try the case of James Meeks who was arrested on a charge of running a horse upon the highway in the town of Florence. A pannel of six jurors was formed to try the case. Witnesses for the Commonwealth stated that defendant was riding in a full run and defendant claimed, though without any witness, that one rein had slipped through his hand and the horse was running off. The jury failed to agree from the fact that they could'nt discriminate as to whether Meeks was running the horse or the horse running Meeks.

Our good Editor says while in Petersburg, last Friday week, accompanied by Mr. Joe Reed and Mr. Robt. Bolen, they took in the Boone Co. Distillery, and then it puzzled them to decide which was the biggest sight, the river or the distillery, but they decided in favor of the latter. We think this decision was induced from partiality. We have always understood that Joe was a good feeder and presume that the party were well matched. Now after they had taken in the distillery and river and voted upon their comparative sights, would it not have been justice to allow the river and distillery a vote upon the appearance of our friends, if so, I think the latter would have got it again.

Mr. Alec Buckner, who is the acknowledged prince of merchants in fine horses, as well as the admirer of fair women, and perhaps as good a judge of the latter, also a passionate lover of music as produced on the Phillip—ine plan occasionally wends his way to our town in pursuance of his favorite vocation, and having a few evenings ago to pass through in pursuit of not the horse but we judged of fairer game, and in view of the strict surveillance that is exercised in our protection, friend Alec notified the authorities that he would pass through at a late hour, and he did'nt want any undue excitement or useless waste of ammunition; all that was necessary was to give the challenge and his pass word would be the "red wagon" as he was riding in a vehicle of that color. We havn't heard of any trouble, but if I was on watch and should catch a feller in a red wagon going to see his gal I'd give him a—well a load of bird shot anyhow.

The Kentucky Vigilance Association for the protection of horses and other property against the depredations of thieves, met on Saturday 23d, to compare notes. The books are open for the reception of members, and the payment of $2, by any person in good standing, entitles him or her to the benefits of the association. And now as soon as our newly elected marshal files the required bond and gets his mustache colored so as to give him a more formidable appearance, we may consider ourselves very effectually quarantined against rogues. The only drawback being the failure of the jail. The town council, by an order, submitted the question of a jail to a vote of the citizens at a regular election, which resulted in an overwhelming majority for the jail. The council then utterly ignored the voice of the people who furnish the means, and ordered the lot to be sold and no jail be built. How is that for legislation? The only possible excuse for their action would be self preservation.

Ephraim Aylor is moving back to his farm near Waterloo.

Eneas Barrett, of Lawrenceburg, was in town Monday closing his trade with Irwin Balsly.

If you want to rent corn, tobacco or oats land, glance over the RECORDER and you will find some advertised.

Charlie Clore, John Aylor and Walter Goodridge will give a ball at Hebron on the night of the 5th prox.

Mrs. Susan Brown, near Florence X-Roads will have a sale on the 4th of next month. See posters for particulars.

At Rabbit Hash a depot building was caught, and further down in the bottoms a freight car was caught. May be they will catch a railroad during the the next flood.

At B. F. Garnett's sale John S. Huey bought an old tool-chest, and in removing the rubbish he found four $20 gold peices in a piece of paper. He gave them to the widow who knew nothing about them. Old tool-chests will be in demand at sales hereafter.

This is the kind of a picnic the flood had at Rabbit Hash:

Ben Wilson's house is a complete wreck, four rooms floated off and a large drift pile lodged against the main part of the building and badly damaged it, so that it will not be fit to occupy again; his store building occupied by Wilson & Riddell, was saved by weighting it down with stone; the water lacked only 3 feet of covering it; the goods were all saved. W. H. Nelson's house was carried away. B. C. Calvert's warehouse and stable were moved from their foundations about 20 feet. M. T. Riggs' and Joe Riggs' houses floated, but were kept in place by lines. The dwellings of M. F. Morrison, Stephen Mock, B. F. Bell, Joe Hills and Mary Bane were all submerged. The blacksmith shops of P. G. Holmes and M. F. Morrison were almost covered. Down in East Bend Bottoms the water was 8 to 20 feet deep. The farms of J. J. Piatt, Sam Moore, Omar Kirtley, Fillmore Ryle, Cal Wells and Charles Craig were all under water. To the Rabbit Hash precinct the loss will be thousands of dollars.

The real estate business is now having its spring boom.

The hog market is overdoing itself. It ran up to 7½ for tops, Monday.

Our friend Jacob Rouse, of Florence X-Roads, made us an interesting call Monday.

Since the blinding snow storm last Monday, the weather has been very fine, and the songs of the birds give it a spring-like send off.

We fail to discover the good taste displayed by a local paper in placing a rooster at the top of a quarter of a column of headlines, which boast in the very windiest manner possible of what its town and county did for the flood sufferers.

A PURE strengthening tonic, free from whisky, cures dyspepsia, indigestion, and similar diseases. It has never been equaled. Brown's Iron Bitters.

WADLEY, GA.—Dr. H. L. Battle, Jr., says: "Brown's Iron Bitters are very popular in this section and give entire satisfaction."

SHEBOYGAN, WIS.—Dr. S. B. Myers says: "I recommend Brown's Iron Bitters for general debility, loss of appetite, and want of strength."

That Doughty Duchess.

Opposite Opinions about a Wonderful Woman—Her Thumb and Fingers.

"Crack nuts with herfingers? Why, you can't mean it!" cried a young lady graduate of the Normal College, in the utmost astonishment.

"But I do mean it," affirmed her big brother, who had taken several prizes in athletics, "and I reassert it: that Cymburga, wife of Duke Ernst, of Austria, could crack nuts with her fingers and drive nails in the wall with her thumb."

"What a monstrous woman!" said the young lady. "What a useful woman," amended her big brother.

The Austrian Duchess was mighty because she kept good hours, good habits and perfect digestion.

Mrs. Alice Strong, of Pittsburg, Pa., writes a different story about herself, but deserves praise for her frankness. She says: "For the past 3 years I have been subject to severe attacks of colic and cramps, and exhausting attacks of Diarrhœa. Weary of experimenting with medicines, I turned without hope to PARKER'S TONIC. Three bottles cured me entirely. I have tried it also for other ailments with which women are often afflicted, and it far surpassed my expectations. I am happy to offer this testimony for the benefit of other women."

Ladies who are interested in Mrs. Strong's letter, will please remark that PARKER'S TONIC is not intoxicant. It cures colic easily, but by virtue of many rare and powerful ingredients, it also masters all diseases of the Blood—such, for example, as Rheumatism, Consumption, Scrofula, and all disorders of the Kidneys, Liver and Stomach. It is a vitalizer and stimulant, but not an intoxicant. Price, 50 cents and $1 per bottle. Hiscox & Co., Chemists, New York.

For Sale.

A good farm horse.—Price, $115.
F. P. WALTON, Burlington, Ky.

For Sale.

A lot of No. 1 locust posts.
J. O. HUEY, Burlington, Ky.

For Rent.

A house and good tobacco land. Apply to or address JAMES D. ACRA, Burlington, Ky.

FOR RENT.

From 6 to 10 acres of tobacco land; also some good corn land. Call on CY CRISLER, at Burlington, Ky.

FOR RENT.

About 50 acres of good oat land. Call on or address Mary E. Kendall on the premises or C. O. Utz, Constance, Ky.

For Sale.

About a dozen two-year old mules, will sell single or in pairs, also two good work horses. JONH J. RUCKER, Gainesville, Kentucky.

For Sale.

A dwelling with 6 rooms, and 15 acres of land at Rabbit Hash, Ky. On this land is a good orchard, barn and other conveniencies. Also a never failing well. Address B. F. BELL, Rabbit Hash, Ky.

Notice.

All parties having claims against the estate of F. W. Grant decd., are hereby notified to present the same properly proven without delay or further notice,
J. Frank Grant,
W. H. Grant, Admr's.

Strayed.

Taken up as a stray by Allen Goodridge, living on the Ohio river, about 1½ miles below Taylorsport, in Boone county, on the 12th day of January 1884, one bull about two and half years old, with white head, dark read body, some white on his back, and end of tail, legs spotted up to his knees straight horns and under bit in each ear, and which I have appraised at $15. Witness my hand this 12th day of Jan., '84.
W. A. GOODRIDGE, J P B C

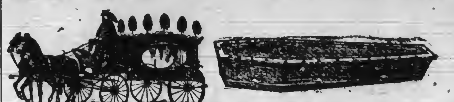
EGGS FOR HATCHING.

From Pure Plymouth Rocks, straight descendants from the show birds of Isaac Daniels and Perley Pickett, of Ohio. My birds are second to none. Fine size, quick to mature and best of layers. For reference inquire of N. Dickerson or Eddie Ranson, at Verona, or Jacob Cleek or Geo. W. Sleet, at Beaver Lick, Ky. You can order them now and say when you wish them shipped. Your orders will be promptly filled and with proper care. Satisfaction guaranteed. Price, $1 50 for 15, and $1 for each 15 over, when shipped at same time. Money must accompany order. Address M. J. HUME, Verona, Ky. 15 3m

Fairba'k Scales For Sale.

The undersigned, will, on Monday, MARCH 3, 1884. offer for sale for cash, the large Fairbank scales at the corner of the jail and County Clerks office lot. Sale will be between 1 & 2 p. m, that day
T. W. Finch, C. L. Crisler, C. O. Utz, adm'r. J. A. Kendall.

Cut This Out & Return to us with TEN CTS. Silver, & you'll get by mail a GOLDEN BOX OF GOODS that will bring you in MORE MONEY in One Month than anything else in America. Absolute Certainty. Either Sex. No capital. M. Young, 173 Greenwich St. N. York.



FOR GOOD Boots AND Shoes, GO TO GEO. H. LEOBKER'S,
NO 36 PIKE STREET,
Covington, - - Kentucky.

R. S. CRISLER,
Burlington, Ky.
WAGON MAKER AND
—MANUFACTURER OF—
ROAD WAGONS, SPRING WGONS, HARROWS, PLOWS, WHEEL BARROWS
AND ALL KINDS OF WOOD WORK.
Also the Manufacturer of W. M. Conner's Patent Right Hay Conveyor.
Saws Filed & Sharpened.
Please call and examine my prices before calling elsewhere.

JAMES S. WAYNE, President. JNO. L. SANDFORD, Cashier
CAPITAL $300,000.
FARMERS AND TRADERS NATIONAL BANK.
Covington, Kentucky.
DIRECTORS.
James S. Wayne, M. C. Motch, Sam Hind, E. J. Hickey, E. J. Green, J. S. Matson, J. H. Hersman, J. L. Sandford, L. H Dills, F. P. Helm, L. C. Stephens.
The general operations of banking transacted upon the most favorable terms, collections made on all points in the United States.
The Business and Accounts of Farmers are Especially Solicited by this Bank. dec. 20-6m

The Greatest Bargains in OVERCOATS AND SUITS! CAN BE HAD AT H. F. BLASE,
540 Madison St, - COVINGTON, KY

UNDERTAKING.

We keep Constantly on Hand all sizes of
Burial Cases and Caskets.
And having just received a beautiful
NEW HEARSE,
Which can be had at a reasonable price when desired.
PRICES GUARANTEED LESS THAN CITY PRICES!
DAVIS BROS., - - HEBRON, KY.

TRADE MARK.
MOTHER NOBLE'S HEALING SYRUP.
20 Million Bottles sold in 10 years. A certain Cure for Dyspepsia, all Diseases of the Kidneys, Liver, Stomach, Blood, Skin and Bowels.
Can Produce Thousands of Letters proving its Curative Powers.
AN OLD AND LONG TRIED REMEDY.
LABORATORY 77 AMITY STREET, NEW YORK CITY.
FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

Cornease.—The King of Corn Killers. The most desperate Corns, Bunions, Warts &c., Speedily cured. Price 25 Cents.
Footease.—An Unfailing Remedy for Hot, Swollen and Tender Feet, Chilblains, &c. Price 25 Cents.
Cornease Manuf'g Co., 236, 5th Ave. Place, N. Y. City.
For Sale by Agents, Druggists and Shoe Dealers.

City Flouring Mills
RISING SUN, INDIANA.
FLOUR EXCHANGED FOR WHEAT OR CASH. THE HIGHEST MARKET PRICE PAID FOR GOOD WHEAT.
mar7-4t23 J. W. Talbott.

Subscribe for the Recorder.

THE RECORDER.

RIDDELL & HALL, Publishers.

BURLINGTON, : : KENTUCKY.

A MODEST YOUNG FELLOW.

Oh, by Jove! I am tired of leap-year,
Though as yet its weeks number but few,
For there's so many coming to woo me
That I really don't know what to do.
There's Bess, who forever is talking
Of my lovely mustaches and hair;
And Blanche, who declares that with emeralds—
I mean sapphires—my eyes can compare;
And Ethel, who says I'm distinguo;
And Jeanie who calls me her lamb—
Oh, by Jove, it is quite overwhelming
To a fellow as shy as I am—
As modest and shy as I am.

There's Annie, who models my hands and
There's Nellie, who sketches my face;
And the charming young widow Bell Lester,
Who writes of my exquisite grace—
And soon they will all be proposing.
Oh, by Jove, how I wish I could sleep,
Or lose about half my attractions
Till the end of the year that's called "leap;"
For I don't—no, I don't want to marry,
And to have the girls courting me so.
Oh, by Jove, it is quite overwhelming
To a very shy fellow, you know—
A modest young fellow, you know.
—Harper's Bazar.

HIS PROMOTION.

On a certain pleasant morning, not many years ago, a stranger in Berlin, looking from his window upon the swarm of pleasure-seekers in the streets, would have said: "Here is a city given over to the pomps and vanities. Behold a Nation of butterflies!" It was a fete day in Berlin—the birthday of the Emperor. Your Berliner is a taciturn wight in his shop or at his hearthstone, but at evening in the gardens, where his beloved German music can gladden his heart and copious libations of beer can loosen his tongue, he is sociable and merry enough. At a regularly organized festivity he appreciates his duty to society, and is as light-hearted as the volatile Viennese when he listens to the rhythm of a Strauss waltz.

From the gray-headed diplomat, with the breast of his military coat resplendent with medals and orders, to the pale street boy, with face shiny from unwonted contact with soap and water, Berlin's good people are on gayety intent. The streets are a mass of gay colors, and music is wafted to the ear by every breath of wind.

It has been said that life is so very serious an affair that we should never miss an opportunity to laugh; but no maxim is needed to bring laughter to the eyes and lips of the blonde and buxom frauleins and their military swains who promenaded so gayly. Their laughter is in their hearts, made glad by the brightness of the sunshine and by youth and hope and love.

Giuseppe Fuselli looks from his attic window, and wonders if in all the gay city he is the only one in whose heart there is no mirth, who can dash away a tear as he gazes from his lattice, listening to the stirring music that fills the air. He is a man past sixty, whose spare form is clad in garments that would be tatters but for the clumsy mending that his own fingers have done. He is a handsome old man, for, despite the haggard features, there is a mingling of grandeur and poetry in his face. His hair is white as snow, his profile clear cut as a cameo, and his eyes, black as night and undimmed by the sorrows of a long life, show that he is no native of Germania.

Giuseppe Fuselli plays the violin at the Royal Opera House. It is only the second violin, and he makes but a pittance, half of which is sent each week to a sister as poor as himself who is at home in Italy. The first violinists are among the merry-makers of the fete, with money to spare for the pleasures of their sweethearts or wives.

There had been a time when Giuseppe's ambition was as boundless as the realms of his art. In youth he had said to himself: "My name shall be written with an eagle's quill upon the scroll of fame beside the glorious names of Beethoven and Mozart. My name shall live and my works shall be immortal."

Now poor Giuseppe was very humble; he only prayed that the fates might make him—a first violin.

He turned from the window to the cheerless room, dark save for the stream of sunlight that came through the lattice, but which seemed chary of bestowing itself about so uncongenial a place. The walls were festooned with a gossamer tapestry that for years the spiders had been weaving undisturbed. Music—mostly manuscript—was strewn in confusion upon the floor, and covered the table and the piano, which was the musician's one treasure.

It was an old, old piano, yet Giuseppe had ever found it a friend faithful and true. Long years ago he had mastered his piano, and, with his head thrown back, his thoughts glowing with visions of a noble future, his fingers would wake songs of love, of passion, of triumph, and he said: "The piano shall be my slave. I shall be great."

But the years drifted by; and now, when he was lonely—and he was so often lonely—he would let his fingers stray over the keys, and form, as if by their own will, a mild sweet melody. It sang a lament for his lost life and his crushed aspirations; it sang a glad anthem of hope, and whispered to Giuseppe: "Peace, desolate old heart! Forget the cross that thou hast borne so long. Think of the crown that waits thee. Heaven is very near now, and there thou and thy Ninetta shall be young again."

Often as he played, and the music spoke to his lonely old heart, the tears would start to his eyes, he would bury his face in his hands, and, resting his head upon the piano, would fall asleep as if upon the breast of a friend.

As Fuselli seated himself at the piano, and his nimble fingers glided ripplingly over the keys, there was a timid knock at the door, and he started, for the sound was an unusual one. Then, as if recollecting, he said, with a smile: "Ah! it is Lottchen."

He opened the door, and its framework inclosed a pretty picture; a dainty little German maid clad in white, with a knot of blue ribbon at her throat, and her braids of golden hair falling over her shoulders. The column of sunshine fell directly upon her, as if welcoming a kindred spirit in this desolate place.

"Good morning, meister," she said. "May I have the lesson now, please? There is a fete to-day, and Carl comes at eleven o'clock to take me to the gardens."

"As you please, my child," said Fuselli; and for more than an hour she sang to him songs he had loved in Italy, songs he had himself written, each one with its memory. She had a sweet, clear voice, and from her Italian teacher she had learned to sing from the heart, an art in which the Germans often fail.

The lesson over, Lottchen said, with her face radiant: "Meister, dear, did you know that Carl was trying for the grand prize? Ah! I am sure he will win; he is so clever, my handsome Carl. Do you not think he plays beautifully on his violin?"

Carl Werther was a first violin at the Royal Opera-House, and the two musicians were slightly acquainted. Carl's compositions were very clever, so his friends told him. He was writing an opera, "Abelard and Heloise," and many said it would make him famous.

"Oh! but if it should fail?" said little Lottchen, her heart sinking at the thought.

"Fail!" Carl would answer proudly and with some contempt. "Ah! Lottchen mine, you do not understand these things. What did Wolfgang, the famous critic, say when I showed him my score? He was enthusiastic; so are all who hear my Abelard! Aha, you doubt my talent, little goose? Very well; wait and see."

Thus had Giuseppe Fuselli spoken forty years before, and he was now half starving in a Berlin garret; but Carl had all the pride and self-confidence of a youth of twenty. To him the future was roseate, and fame a goal to be swiftly and surely reached. Fail! He knew not the word.

The grand prize for composition was the talk of the art world and of Berlin's Bohemia.

Fuselli had heard much of the hopes and fears felt by young aspirants who had already sent to the judges their scores, signed only with names that would hide their identity. For himself Giuseppe felt but little interest in the contest. He had given up the strife long since; had folded his hands, bowed his head, and said: "The world has been too much for me. I yield to fate; only—let me be a first violin." Ambition to him was stifled. He had a pile of manuscripts in his closet, and around them the spiders had woven their webs and the dust had gathered thickly.

Sometimes he looked at them and said: "Perhaps, after I am dead, they may be heard, and then the name of Fuselli shall be great after all." But then, if he were a first violin, he should have food in plenty. Now he was very often hungry.

Lottchen went with her Carl to the gardens. The old musician remained all day in his garret, dreaming over his music and his past.

When evening came he took his violin from the shelf, and walked toward the opera house. The streets were still crowded with the revellers of the day; some returning home; others preparing to carry their pursuits of pleasure far into the night. Students and young soldiers, who had taken more wine than was good for them, jostled one another at the street crossings, and the students' lieder mingled with the brazen music of the bands in the city's many pleasure gardens.

A group of students stood before the entrance of a cafe, and, as Fuselli was passing, one of them, a tall, stalwart fellow, seized him roughly by the arm and exclaimed:

"Just what we were wishing for! Now, Heinrich, you can give us your song and old Paganini here will play for us. Come, comrades—a jolly chorus!"

"Pardon, gentlemen," said Giuseppe, "I am on my way to the Royal Opera and must take my place in the orchestra. Let me pass, if you please."

"Bah! you old imbecile. Your stopping away would not greatly disappoint the audience, I fancy. They have Lucca and Wachtel to-night, and can spare one fiddle scraper among so many! Eh, comrades?"

"Right, Conrad!" said another student. "Come, old fellow, let us hear what you can do. You play for us; we will sing for you, and you can drink for yourself:" and his companions shouted their approval.

But the old man still remonstrating with his persecutors, the student who had first spoken became furious. Seizing Fuselli by the wrist, he wrenched from him his violin, and threatening him with it, cried: "Then you and your violin shall furnish music of another sort, you old curmudgeon!"

It would have fared ill with Fuselli and his violin; but the wanton student's arm was seized by a firm hand and a resonant voice exclaimed:

"For shame, Conrad Reichart! Look at the man, he is three times your age!"

"Oh! Then he is a friend of yours, Carl Werther," rejoined Reichart. "Well, very likely, he is surly enough. But I shall do as I like with the old vagrant. Curse your interference!"

"You will do him no harm, I say!" said Carl. "The old man has claimed protection of me, and depend upon it, he shall have it."

The infuriated student released the trembling Giuseppi and turned upon Carl. "Then you know what to expect," he said, grimly. "You do not look like a coward, though you are an insolent meddler. You will fight, I suppose?"

"You are right," answered Carl. "I am not a coward. You know well that for me to fight with you, the best swordsman in Berlin, is like running to meet death. Still I am not afraid to stand before your sword. I will meet you at twelve to-night just outside the Thier-garten; you know the place."

"Good!" exclaimed Conrad Reichart; and Carl, taking Fuselli's arm, walked hastily toward the opera-house.

Carl, in common with all German students, had had practice in fencing and in saber exercise. He had even taken part in two or three encounters, where the results had not been serious; but he was no match for an accomplished swordsman and marksman such as he knew his challenger to be.

No sooner was the opera over than he hastened to the home of his Lottchen. It was very late; but when he called to her window that he had been summoned upon a journey, and must go before sunrise, she came to the house-door, and, with many tears and entreaties to return very soon, bade him farewell.

Then Carl turned his steps in the direction of the Thier-garten. A dark form emerged from a doorway and followed him at a little distance among the shadows of the silent street. It was Giuseppe Fuselli who had determined, come what might, not to lose sight of his protector.

An hour later the short struggle was over, and Fuselli was bending over the prostrate form of his friend, who was bleeding from a terrible wound in the head. "Keep this from Lottchen!" murmured the young man. "She thinks me gone to Heidelberg."

The old musician summoned assistance and Carl was carried to his lodgings. They were poor apartments, but palatial compared to Giuseppe's miserable home. The first few days Carl was delerious and raved of his Lottchen, his quarrel with Conrad Reichart, but most of all of his composition which was to win the grand prize. Fuselli watched by the young man's bedside and sighed as he listened to his ravings of fame and the future. No one knew the emptiness of bright dreams better than Giuseppe.

The time hung heavy upon the watcher's hands, and as he looked about him he saw Carl's manuscripts upon the table inviting the inspection of a brother musician. He looked them through with a critical eye—songs, caprices, morceaux de salon, the score of Carl's treasured "Abelard and Heloise," and, most important of all, the unfinished symphony of which the young man had such high hopes. He glanced over the neatly written pages and turned with a pitying look toward the bed where the sufferer lay, unconscious, but with his pallid face illumined by a smile, as if, even now, he was dreaming of the triumph that was to be his.

"Ah! my poor boy," muttered Giuseppe, "it will be too late. There is but a week before the judges must declare the victor, and you must lie here long after the decision is given. Even were it finished, this would not win. My brave lad, there are older heads than yours and some famous names among the competitors for the medal and the purse."

He paused, looked long at the young man upon the bed. Suddenly his face lit up as if with an inspiration. Seating himself at the table, he drew toward him the score of Carl's work and the sheets of barred paper that lay invitingly with it. He worked all that day and far into the night. The sunrise of next morning found him still at the table, his pen traveling rapidly over the paper, as the ideas of melody and harmony came to the brain faster than the hand could register them.

That morning there was a soft tap at the door, and when Giuseppe opened it there stood Lottchen.

"My Carl! My brave Carl!" she cried. "Oh, meister! why did you keep this from me?"

The musician silenced her with a gesture and pointed to the bed. With a little gasp of fright the young girl knelt beside her wounded and unconscious lover.

"He does not know me—his Lottchen, who loves him so much!" she sobbed. "Oh, Fuselli! will he die? Tell me that he will soon be well and strong again—my own Carl!"

"No," said the old man, "he will not die. The worst is over now, and we shall soon give him back to you again."

"Thank the dear God for that!" said the girl, piously. "And the prizes that Carl so surely would have won—ah, now it will be too late. How grieved he will be! We must wait now for another year—Carl and I."

"Do not fear. I will send the score to the judges. There is but a page or two to add, and it shall be sent in ample time, I promise you."

"How good you are, dear Fuselli! Carl and I will always bless you, and every night I will remember you in my prayers;" and with a parting kiss upon her betrothed pale face, Lottchen departed. Her heart was light and her face smiling and happy, for was not Carl to be well soon, and his symphony to be finished, too? Ah! that would surely win!

Another day and evening the old man watched his patient and worked at his labor of love and gratitude. Then he laid down his pen and said softly: "There, my Carl; your symphony is finished and in time—in ample time."

He went to the piano and played the beautiful work through to the end. When its last strains died away, he was tempted sorely to break his resolution and to try for the prize in his own behalf; but the thought flashed only an instant through his mind and was banished by a weak voice which asked: "What—what—music—is that? What a divine composition!"

"It is your own, my boy;" answered Fuselli. "Your 'Siegfried' symphony. I was just about to send it to the judges. May you have the fortune to win!"

"Ah! I remember," said Carl; and he really thought the music his own, half-forgotten in his fever and delirium.

But a few days had passed when a packet with portentous seals and imposing exterior was left for Herr Carl Werther. It was a letter telling him that his "Siegfried" symphony was the composition to which the judges unanimously awarded the grand prize—the medal and the purse. The Emperor had heard the symphony and was enthusiastic in its praise. The art world of Berlin talked of nothing but the triumph of the new aspirant.

"A German undoubtedly; and yet the music of 'Siegfried' is thoroughly Italian."

So said a brother musician to Giuseppe. But the old man kept his secret, looking at Lottchen and Carl in their new-found happiness, and saying to himself: "It is for their sakes. I am content."

* * * * * * * *

One morning there was a knock at the street-door of Giuseppe's lodging, and a letter was handed to the good dame who responded.

"For Giuseppe Fuselli," said the messenger.

"Ah! I will take it to him," exclaimed Lottchen, who had come to take her morning lesson, and she bounded lightly up the stairs, hoping that she might be the bearer of good news.

She knocked twice. There was no answer. So she entered the poor little room.

Fuselli was reclining over his piano, his face buried in his hands. She touched him gently on the shoulder. There was no response. One hand fell limp and heavy to his side, disclosing his face, and the young girl knew that she stood in the presence of death. He who had aspired so grandly, whose talents the world had refused to own, was far from the strife for fame, which with him had been changed to a struggle for existence.

Lottchen tore open the envelope. The letter was a brief one, and it was signed by the Herr Director of the Royal Opera House. It read:

"Giuseppe Fuselli: Werther has resigned because of the success of his work. Your playing has always been satisfactory, and this is to inform you that you will hereafter play first violin."

But it came too late. The old piano had whispered for the last time: "Peace, desolate old heart; forget the cross that thou has borne so long; think of the crown that waits thee. Heaven is very near thee now, and there thou and thy Ninetta shall be young again!"—Harry B. Smith, in Chicago Current.

—Recently a stranger called upon Charles Burns, of Thomaston, Conn., and represented himself as a life-insurance agent. He labored long and hard to secure Mr. Burns' name to the life-insurance list, but seeing there was no use of trying he suddenly turned, toned down his conversation, and looking Burns in the face for a moment he said: "Methinks I have seen you before. Did you ever live in Walden, N. Y.?" "Yes," said Mr. Burns. "Then 'tis he!" he cried; "my long lost brother!" It was a fact. The brothers had not seen each other for twenty-seven years. The brother had adopted the life-insurance ruse to test the recollection of his brother.—New Haven Register.

Tso Tsung Tang.

The Marquis Tso Tsung Tang, the Great Chinese military leader, who was recently appointed Imperial Commissioner for the conduct of affairs on the Tonquin frontier, is seventy-two years old, but owning to his temperate and abstemious habits, still retains the mental and physical vigor of his youth. He is poor in purse, but bears a character above reproach. He is also a confirmed woman-hater and has no family. He was born of poor parents and in one of the humblest social grades, and it is said that his marvelous success has been due to his own merits and to the fact that he has never suffered contradiction. In person the Marquis is short, corpulent and commonplace, with crafty black eyes and a thin gray-black mustache drooping over a firm and almost cruel mouth. He is a late riser and attends to all his official business rapidly and regularly. He represents the old Chinese spirit of hostility to all foreigners, although he avails himself of European knowledge of military affairs and treats foreign visitors with kindness. When visited by the members of the Szechenyi expedition he gave them a grand banquet consisting of 45 courses, including choice Tokay wine. But he could not resist the temptation to show his superiority to the "barbarians," and said, seeing how awkwardly they managed their chopsticks: "You Europeans are truly very helpless creatures. You cannot eat without two hands." Then, as a courteous host, he at once provided them with knives, forks and spoons. When any special Chinese dish appeared on the table, too, he exclaimed in a tone that did not admit of contradiction: "Mejo! Mejo! You haven't got that in your country."—London News.

Pledging His Arms for a Loan.

"Can I get a few dollars on these?"

This was asked yesterday in the office of a Chatham street pawnbroker by a man who was evidently not dissipated. He was well dressed and healthy.

"Let's see what you have got," said the pawnbroker.

The man deposited a bundle on the counter, and the pawnbroker opened it and took out two artificial arms.

"Where did you get these?" inquired the pawnbroker.

"I took 'em off myself," said the man, and he held up the stumps of his arms. You see I'm strapped. I live in Boston, and I haven't got money enough to get home. I do not know anybody here, and I do not want to pledge my clothes. These things cost me $150, and I would not sell them for $100.

After the man had received his loan the pawnbroker said: "I've seen lots of queer pledges. A man came in once and took out an artificial eye, and got $2 on it. I have several times advanced money on false teeth and various other shams that are employed to enhance the beauty or conceal the defects of men and women."—N. Y. Sun.

A Clever Scheme.

Mrs. Maick, a Hungarian, whose husband came to this country eighteen months ago, devised a clever scheme to cross the ocean. One of her former lovers was living in Pennsylvania, and she determined to join him. She got as far as Bremen when her money gave out. She met a young man named Hudok, who fell in love with her. She represented herself as a single woman, but refused to marry him until they reached this country, and he paid her passage. Upon arrival at Castle Garden she stated that she could not marry him until her lover, whom she represented as her brother, arrived and gave his consent. Hudok immediately telegraphed for him. In the meantime the woman's husband heard of his wife's proposed second marriage from an emigrant, and immediately went to New York. Hudok insisted that he had a lien on the woman, and Maick only secured his wife after paying the passage money.—Cor. Chicago Tribune.

Mount Cook.

Mr. Green, the English traveler, declares in his record book on New Zealand that the chief object of his visit to that country was the ascent of the towering peak of Mount Cook. He notes that at one time Mount Cook was said to be 17,000 feet in height, and that as late as 1875 the official hand-book put him down at 14,000. But in 1881 his exact measurement was taken trigonometrically, and he was found to be only 12,349 feet high. Though not higher than the highest European summits, Mount Cook still outrivals them in point of surroundings. The great glacier is eighteen miles long and three miles wide, whereas the great glacier of Switzerland (the Aletsch) is only fifteen miles long and is never more than one mile wide. From the summit of Mount Cook, moreover, the sea is distinctly visible, and the great glacier rolls its streams of ice to a point within a quarter of a mile of the sea itself.

—In dinner cards the newest have a conundrum on one card answered on another, and it is understood to be "great fun" passing them all around the mahogany.

THE MARKETS.

CINCINNATI, February 25, 1884.

LIVE STOCK—Cattle—common	$2 50	@	3 75
Choice butchers	5 00	@	5 75
HOGS—Common	5 75	@	6 40
Good packers	6 75	@	7 25
SHEEP	4 75	@	5 50
FLOUR—Family	4 75	@	5 00
GRAIN—Wheat—Longberry red		@	1 10
No. 2 red	1 05	@	1 06
Corn—No. 2 mixed		@	53
Oats—No. 2 mixed		@	37½
Rye—No. 2	64	@	65
HAY—Timothy No. 1	13 00	@	16 00
HEMP—Double dressed	8 75	@	9 00
PROVISIONS—Pork—Mess		@	18 50
Lard—Prime steam		@	9 45
BUTTER—Fancy Dairy	20	@	22
Prime Creamery	37	@	38
FRUIT AND VEGETABLES—
Potatoes per bur. from store		@	1 50
Apples, prime, per barrel	3 00	@	4 00
NEW YORK.
FLOUR—State and Western	$3 30	@	3 65
Good to choice	3 65	@	6 50
GRAIN—Wheat—No. 2 spring		@	1 00
No. 2 red	1 10½	@	1 14¼
Corn—No. 2 mixed	61	@	65
Oats—mixed	40	@	42
PORK—Mess		@	17 00
CHICAGO.
FLOUR—State and Western	$3 50	@	4 35
GRAIN—Wheat—No. 2 red	99	@	1 00
Corn—No. 2		@	52¼
Oats—No. 2	32	@	32¼
Rye		@	58
PORK—Mess	17 20	@	17 25
LARD—Steam	9 00	@	9 07½
BALTIMORE.
FLOUR—Family	$5 00	@	5 75
GRAIN—Wheat—No. 2 red	1 08¾	@	1 09¼
Corn—mixed		@	60
Oats—mixed	42	@	44
PROVISIONS—Pork—Mess		@	18 00
Lard—Refined		@	10¼
LOUISVILLE.
FLOUR—A No 1	$4 15	@	4 21
GRAIN—Wheat—No. 2 red, new	1 04	@	1 06
Corn—mixed	52	@	53
Oats—mixed	39	@	40
PORK—MESS		@	18 25
INDIANAPOLIS.
WHEAT—No. 2 red, new		@	1 01
CORN—mixed		@	49
OATS—mixed		@	35½
LIVE STOCK—Cattle—
Fat cattle	2 75	@	3 00
Shipping cattle	6 00	@	6 50

Seven Wise Men Baffled.

The N. Y. Morning Journal says that Mrs. F. G. Kellogg, 50 E. 86th St., was partially paralyzed, and lay for seven days in convulsions. Physicians were engaged and discharged until seven had failed to help or cure her. She was unable to leave her bed, and was as helpless as a child. After using all sorts of salves, ointments, lotions and plasters, her case was given up as hopeless. She was induced to try St. Jacobs Oil as a last chance. She began to improve from the time the first application was made, and by its continued use, she has completely recovered.

TEN silver dollars in each vest-pocket will keep the vest down some.—N. Y. Post.

FROM Colonel C. H. Mackey, 32nd Iowa Infantry: I have derived more benefit from Ely's Cream Balm than anything else I have ever tried. I have now been using it for three months and am experiencing no trouble from Catarrh whatever. I have been a sufferer for twenty years. C. H. MACKEY, Sigourney, Iowa, Feb. 22, 1882.

SALLIE MANDER is a hard girl to court. She doesn't care for sparks.—Troy Times.

HEREDITARY TAINTS.

Some Revelations on a Subject Which Concerns the Welfare of the Race and the Happiness of All.

[Rochester Democrat and Chronicle.]

To any one who has studied the laws of life, and especially those which relate to reproduction, an experience such as we are about to relate, will come with special force and interest. The transmission of certain mental traits of prominence, and of certain physical traits of equal prominence, are facts which all acknowledge, but which none can understand. The father may be distinguished—the son, an imbecile; or, the parent may be decrepit and unknown, and the child achieve the highest place possible to humanity. But through it all, there will be certain characteristics, which mark the individual as descending from certain ancestors. Too often, indeed, these characteristics are infirmities, and often of a physical nature.

These facts were strikingly brought out during a conversation, which a representative of this paper recently had with Mrs. Carrie D. T. Swift, who is the wife of one of our most prominent citizens. This lady related that she inherited from her parents certain tendencies, over which she had no control, and which were in the nature of blood difficulties, assuming the form of rheumatism. Her experience can best be described in her own words. To the writer she said:

"I felt the beginning of this hereditary taint many years ago, in vague pains, which seemed to come unaccountably and at uncalled for times. They were annoying, exhausting, and interfered not only with my duties, but also totally destroyed my happiness. At first, they would be only transient, appearing for a day or two, and then disappearing; then again they would come in such violent forms, that it was impossible for me to lift a cup to my mouth. Afterwards, my feet and hands swelled so that it was impossible for me to draw on my shoes or gloves without the greatest effort. I realized what the difficulty was, but seemed powerless to avert it. I finally became so bad that I was confined to the house and to my bed most of the time. My joints pained me continuously and my feet swelled to enormous proportions. Knowing that I inherited this tendency, I had about abandoned hope, when I began the use of a remedy, which was recommended to me as a friend as being specially efficient in cases of a similar kind. To my great gratitude, I found that it relieved me, restored my appetite, and I am able to say that now I have gained forty pounds in weight, feel perfectly well and am in the best possible condition, owing, wholly, to Warner's Safe Rheumatic cure, which was the remedy I used."

"No one would ever suspect you had suffered so, Mrs. Swift, to see you now," remarked the reporter.

"That is what all my friends say. Only yesterday, an acquaintance of mine, whom I had not seen for some time, hesitated, before speaking, and apologized by saying: 'Why, I really did not know you, you have changed so for the better since I last met you, how well you do look.'"

"Have you any objection to giving the name of the party who first mentioned this remedy to you?"

"Not the slightest. It was Mr. R. H. Furman, the photographer."

The newspaper man, after bidding Mrs. Swift good-bye, repaired to the photographic rooms of Mr. Furman, when the following conversation ensued:

"Have you been a sufferer from rheumatism, Mr. Furman?"

"Well, I should think I had."

"For how many years?"

"Twelve or fifteen."

"Did you try to cure it?"

"Yes, I tried everything, and, at last, went to the Hot Springs of Arkansas, and nothing seemed to do me any good until I tried Warner's Safe Rheumatic Cure."

"And it cured you, did it?"

"Yes, completely."

"And you can cordially recommend it?"

"Yes, indeed, more cordially than anything I have ever known of. It is simply a wonderful medicine. I believe that two-thirds of all cases, both acute and chronic, could be cured as I was cured by the use of this remedy. In fact I know a number of persons who have been in the worst possible condition, and are now completely well wholly through its use."

The statements above made are from sources, the authority of which can not be questioned. They conclusively prove the value of the preparation named and show that even hereditary traits can be removed by the use of the proper means.

Caution to Dairymen.

Ask for Wells, Richardson & Co.'s Improved Butter Color, and take no other. Beware of all imitations, and of all other oil colors, for every other one is liable to become rancid and spoil the butter into which it is put. If you can not get it write to us at Burlington, Vt., to know where and how to get it without extra expense. Thousands of tests have been made, and they always prove it the best.

A Messenger of Health.

Sent free to sufferers from nervous, chronic and blood diseases, brain and heart affections, nervous debility, etc. It tells of wonderful cures effected by Dr. Scott's Coca, Beef and Iron, with Phosphorus. Sold by druggists; $1. Dr. Scott, Kansas City, Mo.

Flies, roaches, ants, bed-bugs, rats, mice, crows, cleared out by "Rough on Rats." 15c.

NO MEDICINE has ever been known so effectual in the cure of all those diseases arising from an impure condition of the blood as SCOVILL'S SARSAPARILLA OR BLOOD AND LIVER SYRUP.

MY father had an eating cancer for several years, which had eaten away his under lip and the inside of his cheek, down to the bottom of his gums. We got some of Swift's Specific and gave him, and the effect has been wonderful—almost miraculous. The sores are all healed, and he is perfectly well. Every one here said it was only a question of time about his death, and his cure has created the greatest excitement in this part of the country.
WM. B. LATHROP.
South Easton, Mass., Jan. 7, 1884.

Walnut Leaf Hair Restorer

Is entirely different from all others. It is as clear as water, and, as its name indicates, is a perfect Vegetable Hair Restorer. It will immediately free the head from dandruff, restore gray hair to its natural color, and produce a new growth where it has fallen off. It does not in any manner affect the health, which Sulphur, Sugar of Lead and Nitrate of Silver preparations have done. It will change light or faded hair in a few days to a beautiful glossy brown. Ask your druggist for it. Each bottle is warranted. JOHN D. PARK & SONS, Wholesale Agents, Cincinnati, Ohio, and C. N. CRITTENTON, N. Y.

Stinging, irritation, all Kidney and Bladder Complaints, cured by "Buchu-Paiba." $1.

REDDING'S Russia Salve is unequaled for chilblains, chapped hands, frost bites, etc. Try it.

Wells' "Rough on Corns." 15c. Ask for it. Complete, permanent cure. Corns, bunions.

Hale's Honey of Horehound and Tar
Cures coughs, bronchitis and consumption. Pike's toothache drops cure in one minute.

Skinny Men. "Wells' Health Renewer" restores health and vigor, cures Dyspepsia.

"BROWN'S BRONCHIAL TROCHES" are excellent for the relief of Hoarseness or Sore Throat. They are exceedingly effective. Sold only in boxes. Price 25 cents.

DR. WILLIAMS' Indian Pile Ointment. Warranted to cure any case of blind, bleeding or itching piles. At druggists.

REV. MR. GREENFIELD, of Knoxville Tenn., says: "Samaritan Nervine cured my son of epileptic fits."

Don't Die in the House. "Rough on Rats," clears out rats, mice, flies, roaches, bed-bugs. 15c.

"Bloating headaches, nervous prostration and spinal weakness cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

A charming resolvent, a matchless laxative, an infallible nerve conqueror, is Samaritan Nervine.

BEWARE of the incipient stages of Consumption. Take Piso's Cure in time.

ST. JACOBS OIL
TRADE MARK

THE GREAT
GERMAN REMEDY
FOR PAIN.
CURES
Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Sciatica
Lumbago, Backache, Headache, Toothache,
Sore Throat, Swellings, Sprains, Bruises,
Burns, Scalds, Frost Bites,
And All Other BODILY PAINS and ACHES.
Sold by Druggists and Dealers everywhere. Fifty Cents a bottle. Directions in 11 Languages.
THE CHARLES A. VOGELER CO.,
(Successors to A. VOGELER & CO.) Baltimore, Md., U.S.A.

HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED

STOMACH BITTERS

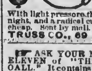
They who work early and late the year round need, occasionally, the healthful stimulus imparted by a wholesome tonic like Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. To all, its purity and efficiency as a remedy and preventive of disease commend it. It checks incipient rheumatism and malarial symptoms, relieves constipation, dyspepsia and biliousness, arrests premature decay of the physical energies, mitigates the infirmities of age and hastens convalescence. For sale by all Druggists and Dealers generally.

CATARRH

HAY-FEVER

Causes no Pain or Dread. Gives Relief at Once. Not a liquid or snuff. Applied with the finger. Thorough treatment will cure.

Price, 50 cents, by mail or at druggists.
ELY BROTHERS, Druggists, Owego, N. Y.



ABSOLUTELY THE BEST. WILSON'S LIGHTNING SEWER!
Two thousand stitches a minute. The only absolutely first-class Sewing Machine in the world. Sent on trial. Warranted 5 years. Send for Illustrated Catalogue and Circular. Agents Wanted. THE WILSON SEWING MACHINE CO., Chicago or New York.

I CURE FITS!
When I say cure I do not mean merely to stop them for a time and then have them return again, I mean a radical cure. I have made the disease of FITS, EPILEPSY or FALLING SICKNESS a life-long study. I warrant my remedy to cure the worst cases. Because others have failed is no reason for not now receiving a cure. Send at once for a treatise and a Free Bottle of my infallible remedy. Give Express and Post-Office. It costs you nothing for a trial, and I will cure you.
Address DR. H. G. ROOT, 183 Pearl St., New York.

CANCER INSTITUTE.
AURORA ILL.
Established, 1872; Incorporated, 1880. For the Cure of Cancers, Tumors, Ulcers, Scrofula and SKIN DISEASES, without the use of knife or LOSS OF BLOOD, and little pain. For INFORMATION, CIRCULARS AND REFERENCES, address DR. F. L. POND, Aurora, Kane Co., Ill.

CONSUMPTION.
I have a positive remedy for the above disease; by its use thousands of cases of the worst kind and of long standing have been cured. Indeed, so strong is my faith in its efficacy, that I will send TWO BOTTLES FREE, together with a VALUABLE TREATISE on this disease, to any sufferer. Give Express and P. O. address.
DR. T. A. SLOCUM, 181 Pearl St., New York.

THIS NEW ELASTIC TRUSS

Has a Pad different from all others, is cup shape, with Self-Adjusting Ball in center, adapts itself to all positions of the body, while the ball in the cup presses back the intestines just as a person does with the finger. With light pressure the Hernia is held securely day and night, and a radical cure certain. It is easy, durable and cheap. Sent by mail. Circulars free. EGGLESTON TRUSS CO., 69 Dearborn St., Chicago, Ill.

ASK YOUR NEWSDEALER FOR NUMBER ELEVEN of "THE PHILADELPHIA WEEKLY CALL." It contains a list of valuable Premiums to be given to every yearly subscriber. See our THREE PRIZE PUZZLES, the first solvers of which will receive $25, $15, and $10 respectively. If your newsdealer is out of NUMBER ELEVEN, send us your address, and we will send you sample copy free. Address ROBERT S. DAVIS, Proprietor of "THE WEEKLY CALL," Philadelphia, Pa.

RUSSELL & CO.'S ANNUAL. Just issued. Sent free to all interested in Improved Threshing Machines, Horse Powers, Saw-Mills and Engines for Farm and Plantation use. Address Name this paper. RUSSELL & CO., Massillon, O.

"THE BEST IS THE CHEAPEST."
SAW MILLS, ENGINES THRESHERS, Horse Powers.
(For all sections and purposes.) Write for Free Pamphlet and Prices to The Aultman & Taylor Co., Mansfield, Ohio.

PILES "Anakesis" gives instant relief, and is an infallible cure for Piles. Price $1 from druggists, or sent prepaid by mail. Samples free. Ad. "ANAKESIS," Makers, Box 2416, New York.

AGENTS WANTED EVERYWHERE to sell the best Family Knitting Machine ever invented. Will knit a pair of stockings with HEEL and TOE complete in twenty minutes. It will also knit a great variety of fancy-work for which there is always a ready market. Send for circular and terms to the Twombly Knitting Machine Co., 163 Tremont Street, Boston, Mass.

OUR QUICK GUITAR METHOD learns you Chords and Accompaniments instantly for playing to sing by, or with violin. Complete, Mailed for $1. The Copyright for sale. Address New Method Co., Fulton, Crestline, Ohio.

Lady Agents can secure permanent employment and good salary selling Queen City Skirt and Stocking Supporters, etc. Sample outfit Free. Address Queen City Suspender Co., Cincinnati, O.

DYKE'S BEARD ELIXIR

Price per Package with directions sealed and postpaid 25 cents. L. L. SMITH & CO., Agents, Palatine, Ills.

HAIR Wholesale and retail. Send for price-list. Goods sent C. O. D. Wigs made to order. E. BURNHAM, 71 State Street, Chicago.

Good Pay for Agents. $100 to $200 per mo. made selling our fine Books & Bibles. Write to J. C. McCurdy & Co., Cincinnati, O.

$25 A WEEK to Agents: Automatic Fixtures; sell at sight. Sample, 30c. GEO. W. GREEN, 36 Central St., Boston, Mass.

PATENTS promptly procured in all countries. American Patent Agency, 199 Fifth Street, Cincinnati, Ohio.

FREE By return mail. Full Description Moody's New Tailor System of Dress Cutting. MOODY & CO, Cincinnati, O.

OPIUM and WHISKY HABITS cured at home without pain. Book of particulars sent free. B. M. WOOLLEY, M. D., Atlanta, Ga.

$65 A MONTH and BOARD for three live Young Men or Ladies, in each county. Address P. W. ZIEGLER & CO., Philadelphia.

Young Men learn TELEGRAPHY here and we will give you a situation. Circulars free. VALENTINE BROS., Janesville, Wis.

A Dangerous Case.

* * * ROCHESTER, June 1, 1882.—"Ten Years ago I was attacked with the most intense and deathly pains in my back and —Kidneys,

"Extending to the end of my toes and to my brain!

"Which made me delirious!

"From agony.

"It took three men to hold me on my bed at times!

"The doctors tried in vain to relieve me. But to no purpose.

"Morphine and other opiates

"Had no effect!

"After two months I was given up to die!

"When my wife heard a neighbor tell what Hop Bitters had done for her, she at once got and gave me some. The first dose eased my brain and seemed to go hunting through my system for the pain.

"The second dose eased me so much that I slept two hours, something I had not done for two months. Before I had used five bottles, I was well and at work, as hard as any man could, for over three weeks; but I worked too hard for my strength, and taking a hard cold, I was taken with the most acute and painful rheumatism all through my system that was ever known. I called the doctors again, and after several weeks, they left me a cripple on crutches for life, as they said. I met a friend and told him my case, and he said Hop Bitters had cured him and would cure me. I poohed at him, but he was so earnest I was induced to use them again. In less than four weeks I threw away my crutches and went to work lightly and kept on using the bitters for five weeks, until I became as well as any man living, and have been so for six years since. It also cured my wife, who had been so for years; and has kept her and my children well and hearty with from two to three bottles per year. There is no need to be sick at all if these bitters are used.
J. J. BERK, Ex-Supervisor.

"That poor invalid wife!
"Sister!
"Mother!
"Or Daughter!
"Can be made the picture of health with a few bottles of Hop Bitters!
Will you let them suffer?"

KIDNEY-WORT
DOES WONDERFUL CURES OF KIDNEY DISEASES AND LIVER COMPLAINTS, Why?
Because it acts on the LIVER, BOWELS and KIDNEYS at the same time.
Because it cleanses the system of the poisonous humors that develops in Kidney and Urinary Diseases, Biliousness, Jaundice, Constipation, Piles, or in Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Nervous Disorders and all Female Complaints.
SOLID PROOF OF THIS.
IT WILL SURELY CURE CONSTIPATION, PILES, and RHEUMATISM,
By causing FREE ACTION of all the organs and functions, thereby
CLEANSING the BLOOD
restoring the normal power to throw off disease.
THOUSANDS OF CASES
of the worst forms of these terrible diseases have been quickly relieved, and in a short time PERFECTLY CURED.
PRICE, $1. LIQUID OR DRY, SOLD BY DRUGGISTS.
Dry can be sent by mail.
WELLS, RICHARDSON & Co., Burlington, Vt.
Send stamp for Diary Almanac for 1884.
KIDNEY-WORT

SAMARITAN NERVINE NEVER FAILS. IS UNFAILING AND INFALLIBLE IN CURING Epileptic Fits, Spasms, Falling Sickness, Convulsions, St. Vitus Dance, Alcoholism, Opium Eating, Scrofula, and all Nervous and Blood Diseases.
To Clergymen, Lawyers, Literary Men, Merchants, Bankers, Ladies and all whose sedentary employment causes Nervous Prostration, Irregularities of the blood, stomach, bowels or Kidneys, or who require a nerve tonic, appetizer or stimulant, Samaritan Nervine is invaluable.
Thousands proclaim it the most wonderful Invigorant that ever sustained a sinking system. $1.50 per bottle.
THE GREAT NERVE CONQUEROR.
The DR. S. A. RICHMOND MEDICAL CO., Sole Proprietors, St. Joseph, Mo.
Sold by all Druggists. (15)
LORD, STOUTENBURG & CO., Agents, Chicago, Ill.

TRADE S.S.S. MARK
CAUTION.
Swift's Specific is entirely a vegetable preparation, and should not be confounded with the various substitutes, imitations, non-secret humbugs, "Succus Alterans," etc., etc., which are now being manufactured by various persons. None of these contain a single article which enters into the composition of S. S. S. There is only one Swift's Specific and there is nothing in the world like it. To prevent disaster and disappointment, be sure to get the genuine.
Swift's Specific is a complete antidote to Blood Taint, Blood Poison, Malarial Poison and Skin Humor. J. DICKSON SMITH, M. D., Atlanta, Ga.
I have had remarkable success with Swift's Specific in the treatment of Blood and Skin Diseases, and in Female Diseases. I took it myself for Carbuncles with happy effect.
D. O. C. HENRY, M. D., Atlanta, Ga.
I used Swift's Specific on my little daughter, who was afflicted with some Blood Poison which had resisted all sorts of treatment. The Specific relieved her permanently, and I shall use it in my practice.
W. E. BOOTH, M. D., Cypress Ridge, Ark.
Our treatise on Blood and Skin Diseases mailed free to applicants.
SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., Drawer 3, Atlanta, Ga.
New York Office, 159 West 23d Street.

HOP PLASTER This porous plaster is famous for its quick and hearty action in curing Lame Back, Rheumatism, Sciatica, Crick in the Back, Side or Hip, Neuralgia, Stiff Joints and Muscles, Sore Chest, Kidney Troubles and all pains or aches either local or deep-seated. It Soothes, Strengthens and Stimulates the parts. The virtues of hops combined with gums—clean and ready to apply. Superior to liniments, lotions and salves. Price 25 cents or 5 for $1.00. Sold by druggists and country stores. Mailed on receipt of price. Hop Plaster Company, Proprietors, Boston, Mass. A GREAT SUCCESS

The best family pill made—Hawley's Stomach and Liver Pills. 25c. Pleasant in action and easy to take.

PIERCE'S IMPROVED CAHOON
Broadcast Seed Sower.

This machine sows wheat two rods wide, so that a man walking quietly sows four acres and does the work better than can be done by any other means whatever. It sows grass seed and all kinds of grain. Price, six dollars. We have Agents in all parts of the country. Send stamp for circular.
J. WILDER & CO., CINCINNATI, O.
GENERAL AGENTS.

PISO'S REMEDY FOR CATARRH
Easy to use. A certain cure. Not expensive. Three months' treatment in one package. Good for Cold in the Head, Headache, Dizziness, Hay Fever, &c. Fifty cents. By all Druggists, or by mail.
E. T. HAZELTINE, Warren, Pa.

WANTED—Men and Women to start a new business at their homes, easily learned in an hour. No peddling; 10c to 50c an hour made daytime or evening. Send 10c for 20 samples to commence work on. Address H. G. FAY, Rutland, Vermont.

$250 A MONTH. Agents Wanted. 90 best selling articles in the world. 1 sample FREE. Address JAY BRONSON, Detroit, Mich.

FOR LADIES USE.—The grandest article. Send stamp for illustrated circular. Dr. H. G. FARR, 75 Essex Street, Boston, Mass.

SURE CURE for Epilepsy, Fits or Spasms. FREE TO POOR. DR. KRUSE MED. Co., 2330 Hickory st., St. Louis, Mo.

WHEN WRITING TO ADVERTISERS please say you saw the advertisement in this paper.

BOONE COUNTY RECORDER.

VOLUME IX. BURLINGTON, KY., WEDNESDAY, MARCH 5, 1884. NUMBER 18.

A WIZARD'S WORK.

Witchcraft Catches Onto a Cool Hundred.

But it Fails to Turn up a Larger Amount For its Victim.

BALTIMORE, MD., February 28.—A strange tale of witchcraft and deceit was unfolded this afternoon at the hearing at Police Headquarters of the case of Mrs. Elizabeth Weber, charged by Mrs. Caroline Jentener with conspiring with others to defraud her by false pretenses. Mrs. Jentener testified that her mother died several months ago and left $14,000, to which she and her brother are entitled. She thought her brother had hidden the money away, as it could not be found. She informed Mrs. Weber of her suspicions, and the latter persuaded her to consult a wizard, who, Mrs. Weber said, would reveal the whereabouts of the concealed treasure by the exercise of his occult art. It was arranged for Mrs. Jentener to visit a large oak tree in a secluded spot in Baltimore County last Monday night, to hear from the wizard the hiding place of the money. Mrs. Jentener was to pay the wizard $100. At the appointed time Mrs. Jentener repaired to the old oak tree, where she was met by a form robed in black, but with a white shroud over its head. The wizard handed Mrs. Jentener a tin box, saying: "Your money is in this box, but you must not open it until you get home." The ghostly visitant, after receiving the $100, disappeared. Mrs. Jentener hurried home, opened the box and found nothing but paper and rubbish. Indignant at the fraud she had Mrs. Weber arrested. The accused laid the blame on another woman, who said she had told her in the market one day of the power of the wizard, and she recommended Mrs. Jentener to try, and thus to recover her money. The Justice said he was satisfied some swindler had played upon the credulity of Mrs. Weber, and that she had no intention of defrauding Mrs. Jentener. On the payment to Mrs. Jentener of the money the charge against Mrs. Weber was dismissed. Efforts are now being made to capture the Wizard. The parties are well known and possessed of means.

Canadian Tariff Revision.

OTTAWA, February 29.—Sir Leonard Tilley, Finance Minister, in a budget speech to-day announced the following changes in the tariff: Added to the free list: Bolting cloths, not made up; boracic acid, canvas, jute canvas, not less than fifty-eight inches wide, when imported by manufacturers; floor oil-cloth for use in their factories, cherry heat welding compound, grease and grease scrap; indigo, paste and extract of; manganese, oxide of; potash, German mineral; sodium, sulphate of; steel for saws and straw-cutters cut to shape, but not further manufactured; iron or steel beams, sheets, plates.

Storm in the North-West.

ST. PAUL, MINN., February 27.—Storm news from all over the North-west indicate the worst of the season. Trains are generally late, owing to hard wheeling. At St. Vincent the mercury is 29 degrees below zero. At Wilmar, on the Breckenridge division, it is ten degrees below. These extremes cover the range on all lines. The mercury is 17 degrees below in Dakota, and 35 above in Montana. There was a storm nearly all last night west of Dakota, with the mercury at 20 degrees below zero, but it is over now. It was stormy all over the Omaha, line, cloudy and cold, with some snow.

Five Lives Lost by Fire.

NEW YORK, February 28.—A fire broke out this morning on the third floor of a frame building occupied by Cornelius Van Riper, his wife and three children, and N. Connolly. Van Riper and his three children were suffocated to death. His wife jumped from the third-story window and was instantly killed. It was learned that Mrs. Van Riper, if she lived, would have become a mother in a day or two. Her death was due to the shock from her injuries. It is said tramps were in the basement of the building last night, and they may be responsible for the fire.

Dynamite.

LONDON, February 29.—Information was lodged by the police to-day that an attempt to blow up the Law Courts with dynamite was imminent. They arrested three men and seized a large quantity of dynamite discovered in a house in Clare Market, near the Strand. The dynamite discovered at Charing Cross, and Paddington Stations was labeled "Atlas Powder." Both the clocks were of American make. A copy of the New York Sun, dated February 6, 1884, was in the valise at Paddington Station.

Panic in a Church.

ST. LOUIS, February 29.—Great excitement occurred at St. Patrick's Catholic Church to-night by the bursting of a steam-pipe. The pipe was used for heating the building. The church was crowded, there being fully one thousand people assembled. A panic ensued and a wild rush was made for the doors, but luckily only one person was seriously injured, a lady who fainted and was badly trampled on.

Miss Nutt Wants a Postoffice.

WASHINGTON, February 28.—An application has been received at the Postoffice Department, for the appointment of Miss Lizzie Nutt as Postmaster at Uniontown, Pa. She is the sister of young Nutt, recently acquitted at Pittsburg on the charge of murdering Dukes.

Death of an Old Soldier.

JERSEYVILLE, ILL., February 28.—John E. Hamilton, born in 1789, was buried in the town of Viraden, near here, yesterday. He was a relative of the celebrated Alexander Hamilton, and fought in the war of 1812.

A Novel Suicide.

QUINCY, ILL., February 28.—Joseph McKinney, of McKee Township, in the eastern part of this (Adams) county, committed suicide in a novel manner, the cause being family troubles. He climbed a tree some forty feet overhanging McKee Creek, and threw himself into the stream, sinking into the mud and sand.

The Mackay Cable.

LONDON, February 28.—It is decided to land the Mackay cable at Waterville, between the stations of the Anglo-American and direct United States companies.

Affairs in the Soudan.

TRINKITAT, February 29.—The enemy were very bold yesterday and kept up a continued firing on Fort Baker. None of the garrison were hit. Spies report the rebels are feasting and rejoicing because they have received large reinforcements, and that the rebels are erecting earthworks. A squadron of English cavalry will act to-day as scouts, with orders to retire to the main body when they touch the rebels. The rest of the cavalry will be massed near by, to act as occasion demands. General Graham telegraphs that the difficulty of advancing is so great that the forward movement is postponed till to-morrow, when he expects to make a rapid march.

CAIRO, February 29.—Information is received from Kassalia that the garrison made a sortie on the 12th and totally defeated the rebels. General Gordon's proclamation to the Soudanese, issued Tuesday, is as follows: "Since my arrival I have given you sound advice. Every thing has been done to insure quietness and stop blood-shed. My advice has not been followed. I am, therefore, forced, against my will, to summon British troops. They will arrive in a few days, when I shall severely punish all who do not change their conduct. You well know that I know everything that is going on." General Gordon's proclamation, as telegraphed, has caused a sensation here. No demand for the dispatch of troops to Khartoum has reached the authorities here. It is generally believed either that General Gordon's object is to frighten the natives into submission, or that the telegram has been mutilated in transmission.

England's Demand.

LONDON, February 29.—The Times leader this morning, on the recent dynamite explosion in London, says: "It is intolerable that we are exposed to this succession of plots from a nation professing to be friendly with us, and with which we only desire to live in peace and amity. We know, that the Americans are aware of the identity of the plotters of these outrages, and it would be no hard task for the American government to end the whole thing. We have done our part. We have made the private manufacture of explosives a penal crime. The result is that the conspirators have been compelled to change the ground of operations, and find in America a safe refuge and a government which will not interfere with their operations. It is impossible we shall submit to this. The dynamiters are a common enemy, which no civilized country can tolerate without disgrace. The miscreants have only done what American journals have been allowed to advocate; for what rewards have been promised, and for what public meetings have applauded. The time has arrived to address a strong remonstrance to the Government allowing this to be continued. Respectable Americans are ashamed of the inaction of the rulers. They must now join us, and make their voices heard and obeyed. We shall do our utmost to guard ourselves. It remains for America to aid us, as she alone can nip the mischief. But our demand is one that civilized nations are bound not to disregard."

A French Tragedy.

PARIS, February 29.—A terrible tragedy was enacted to-day in the South of France. A gardener named Chave, employed at a convent at Serviane, near Marseilles, was recently dismissed for laziness. To-day, while the sisters were walking in the convent grounds, and at the moment when they were in a secluded spot, Chave suddenly appeared before them. The lady superior asked him kindly if he had found work. Chave, without replying, drew a revolver and discharged its six barrels, killing the lady superior and mortally wounding one of her companions. The remainder of the sisters fled, shrieking for help. A number of peasants gathered, but Chave reloaded his revolver and kept them at bay. Two gendarmes then arrived and closed with Chave who fired at them twice without hitting them. One gendarme shot Chave in the chest, and another bullet penetrated the murderer's ear. Chave, in his dying agony, inflicted upon himself a third mortal wound with his own revolver.

Another Chance For Captain Eads.

WASHINGTON, February 27.—The bill introduced in the Senate to-day by Mr. Morey, to provide for the improvement of the channel between Galveston harbor and the Gulf of Mexico, provides that James B. Eads and his associates be authorized to construct jetties and other works for the creation and permanent maintenance of a channel thirty feet in depth at the mean high tide between the harbor and the gulf, for which Congress shall agree to pay him $7,750,000 at certain times, as the depth of the channel shall be shown to have been increased.

Ship's Crew Starved.

NEW YORK, February 28.—A New London dispatch to-night notes the death by drowning or starvation of seven men of the crew of the Sarah W. Hunt while searching for seals near Campbell Island, in the Pacific Ocean. The commander of the brigantine, with the aid of a boy, kept his vessel on her course for a month. The captain and steward of the schooner alone sailed the vessel 630 miles to New Zealand after losing the crew.

Hard Glove Fight.

PITTSBURG, PA., February 29.—A hard glove fight to-night, between John Smith, of Colorado, and William McDonald, of Liverpool, England, for a purse of $100, resulted in the defeat of Smith in the fourth round. The mill lasted fourteen minutes. Both men were badly punished.

Died in a Snow Storm.

WASHBURNE, DAK., February 28.—Two herders, one named Merry, and one of the Jewish refugees, were lost on the 18th in a snow storm and their bodies have not yet been found. It is supposed they are covered with snow.

American Pork in Greece.

NEW YORK, February 28.—The Consul-General of Greece announces that his Government has abolished the prohibition against the importation of American hog products. The decree took effect on the 22d inst.

Naval Cadets Dismissed.

ANNAPOLIS, February 29.—Naval Cadets L. H. Jastremskí, of Louisiana, and J. W. Maxey, of Texas, both of the first class, and Fred. Parker, of Massachusetts, of the third class, were dismissed from the Naval Academy for hazing.

THE SOUDAN.

A Stubbornly Contested Battle Near Trinkitat,

In Which the British Were Victorious—Rebel Loss Over One Thousand, English Loss Small.

TRINKITAT, March 2.—The English troops of General Graham's command had a stubborn battle with the Egyptian rebels near Fort Baker, on Friday. Forming his men into a square, they marched a distance of three miles. The rebels opened fire upon them at long range. Over the entire distance were strewn the festering bodies of Baker Pasha's men. The British continued their advance without answering the enemy's fire until they passed the north face of the rebel works. Hot firing then began on both sides, which lasted several hours. The rebels contested every inch. Refusing to fall back, they had to be killed. Baker Pasha was wounded by a piece of shell. The British loss was twenty-four killed and one hundred and forty-two wounded. The spoils taken from Baker Pasha were largely recovered. The Arabs lost 1,110 men dead on the field at Teb, besides guns and other munitions. The whole camp, including 375 tents and many camels, were taken. The condition of the camp showed that the Arabs relied upon being victorious. All reports commend the steadiness with which they British moved on Teb. The square in which they advanced to battle was never broken. The determination and bravery of the rebels is shown in the fact that when they were charged by the cavalry great numbers of them threw themselves upon their backs on the ground and speared the horses of the troopers as they dashed over them. The march to Tokar was accomplished in four hours from Teb. The Hussars scoured the country and kept up desultory skirmishing with the enemy, who retired in disorganized masses in the direction of Tamaniel. The British troops entered Tokar at noon Saturday. A few shots were exchanged with the enemy, when the four thousand rebels holding the town fled.

Starving to Death.

PHILADELPHIA, PENN., March 2.—Much excitement has been caused in Bordentown, New Jersey, by a strange accident which happened to Philip Matthews, a prominent resident of that place, as it threatens to cause his death. Mr. Matthews has worn three teeth attached to the same plate in his upper jaw for fifteen years past. He was always accustomed to retire with the plate in his mouth, and was never caused any trouble until the evening of Washington's birthday, when he was awakened by a choking sensation. He found to his horror that his false teeth were lodged in his throat. He sat up during the night in an arm-chair, endeavoring to devise some means to dislodge the teeth, but all to no purpose. Three physicians were called in by the sufferer, and upon an examination the teeth were pushed down into his stomach, as they were too far down his throat to admit of their withdrawal. The patient has been suffering horribly from the unwelcome visitors. To-day he is feeling worse than usual. As he is unable to take food of any kind, fears are now entertained of his starving, unless relief is soon obtained. The physicians are going to open his stomach to-morrow, and for that purpose over a dozen medical men will be in attendance.

Transatlantic Telephone.

NEW YORK, March 2.—Experiments were made yesterday with a telephone apparatus of a Michigan inventor, which he thinks can be utilized for talking across the ocean, and which he hopes to apply to the Bennett-Mackay cable, when laid. He claims to have solved the problem of adding a battery to a line, almost without limit, by using simultaneously a number of independent local batteries, induction coils, and deviating points, and says he can avert the danger of burning batteries by increasing the number of cells. Yesterday's experiments were with a ten-point multiple telephone, over 320 miles of wire between here and Washington. A Morse instrument was working close to the telephone, and the inducted current was so strong that the message going over the instrument could be read through the telephone receiver. He expects to try a twenty-point transmitter on the ocean cable, and thinks a current will be generated sufficiently strong to overcome the resistance.

March Enters Like a Lion.

ST. PAUL, March 2.—Advices from Bismarck, Jamestown and Fargo show that March came in with a blizzard that throws all previous ones this year into insignificance. There was heavy snow all last night. This morning the wind commenced blowing forty to fifty miles an hour, catching up the snow and drifting it in blinding masses, so that it was impossible to stay upon the streets. Up to midnight no lives had been reported lost, from the fact that it was Sunday and none had ventured to leave their houses. Trains were delayed all day, and all cuts are drifted full of snow. Reports come from all parts of Dakota that the snow in some places was light, but the wind terrific. The thermometer was 5° to 10° below zero. The wind reached this city this evening, but had spent its force. To-night all points in the northwest are clear and 10° to 15° below zero.

Society to Protect Children.

PHILADELPHIA, March 2.—The Pennsylvania Society to Protect Children from Cruelty, with headquarters here, has sent out agents to every large factory in every town in the State, in an endeavor to compel factory owners to discharge children who are at labor. A circular letter sent out to 500 factories, has brought about the dismissal of 2,000 children from employment.

—Eighty-three per cent. of the population of the United States is composed of white natives and the immigrants from Germany and Great Britain, leaving four per cent. from other countries and thirteen per cent. for those of African descent.—Chicago Herald.

—Carpenters renewing the flooring in the Union Station in Worcester, Mass., found $37.51 in small change, which had sifted through a crack in the money-drawer of the cigar stand in the restaurant.—Boston Herald.

XLVIIIth CONGRESS.

First Session.

WASHINGTON, February 26.—SENATE.—Bills reported favorably: House bill for the relief of Fitz John Porter. Made the special order for Wednesday, March 12. To prohibit the mailing of newspapers containing lottery advertisements; placed on the calendar. Mr. Jackson submitted a minority report. A resolution complimentary to the English Government for the presentation of the ship Alert was passed. The Chair laid before the Senate unfinished business, being the bill to authorize the construction of additional steel vessels for the navy. After debate by Messrs. Hale, McPherson and Butler, but without action the Senate went into executive session and soon adjourned.

HOUSE.—After the transaction of routine matters, the House went into committee of the whole (Mr. Cox in the chair) on the Pleuro-pneumonia Bill. Mr. Hopkins offered an amendment, providing that the appointment of Examiners shall be with the consent of the State Legislature. Mr. Randall advocated a resolution, which he proposed to offer at the proper time, recommitting the bill, with instructions to the Committee of Agriculture to report back a bill which shall embrace a more thorough system of inspection, to the end that no diseased animals shall be exported, and further to report a bill to organize a more strict quarantine against the importation of diseased animals, and make such recommendations as will secure, by the States, such legislation as will eradicate the disease known as pleuro-pneumonia. Adjourned.

WASHINGTON, February 27.—SENATE.—The Dawes committee on Indian affairs reported favorably the bill for the allotment of land in severalty to the Indians of the Umatilla Reservation in Oregon. Mr. Van Wyck offered the following resolution: Resolved, That the committee on postoffices and post roads be directed to inquire whether at any time the Western Union and Baltimore and Ohio Telegraph companies, or any officers or employes of said companies, entered into a contract or negotiation for the purpose of consolidating said companies or making a combination for any purpose." Referred. The Senate resumed consideration of the bill to provide for the navy, which was debated the balance of the day, and the Senate adjourned.

HOUSE.—Mr. Morrison, Chairman of the Ways and Means Committee, reported a resolution directing the Secretary of the Treasury to inform the House how much money is now in the treasury of the United States, under what several provisions of law is it there retained, and how much, in view of current receipts, expenditures and legal liabilities of the treasury, can be applied at the time in liquidation of that part of the public debt now payable, without embarrassing his department. Adopted. Mr. Le Fevre offered a resolution reciting that speculation and gambling in American farm products had obtained control of the market value of these products, and directing the Committee on the Judiciary to prepare a bill prohibiting the purchase or sale of wheat, corn, cotton, provisions, or other articles of prime necessity, unless there be an actual transfer or a warehouse receipt accompanies such action; also, a bill authorizing such government interference as will give stability to the price of these commodities. The House went into Committee of the Whole [Mr. Cox in the chair] on the pleuro-pneumonia bill. Mr. Muldrow offered an amendment confining the operations of the bill to the disease of pleuro-pneumonia only. Adopted by a vote of 100 to 73. An amendment was agreed to amending section 4, by adding the words "Into any other State or Territory or foureign country" to the clause authorizing the President to prohibit the transportation of cattle out of a quarantined State, Territory, or District. Adjourned.

WASHINGTON, February 28.—SENATE.—Mr. Ingall's introduced a bill to remove the injunction of secrecy from the court martial that tried General Fitz John Porter, in order that the members of it may give its details to the public and testify to the case, if called upon. The Senate resumed consideration of the bill to authorize the construction of steel vessels which was debated at some length. Mr. Jones (Fla.) offered an amendment to it, providing that the construction of the vessel should be apportioned between the different navy-yards of the country. Pending the debate on the amendment the Senate went into executive session, and soon adjourned.

HOUSE.—Mr. Deuster, rising to a question of privilege, sent to the Clerk's desk and had read a resolution adopted by the Executive Committee of the Liberal Union in the German Parliament, expressing its appreciation of the action of the House of Representatives in adopting the resolutions in honor of Edward Lasker. Referred to Committee on Foreign Affairs. The House resumed consideration of the Pleuro-pneumonia Bill, the pending amendment being that reported from the committee of the whole striking out the fourth section, the quarantine section. The amendment was agreed to; yeas 155, nays 119. A resolution recommitting the bill to the Committee of Agriculture with instructions was rejected. The bill then passed—yeas 155, nays 127. Adjourned.

WASHINGTON, February 29.—SENATE.—An original bill providing for the admission of the Territory of Dakota was reported from the Committee on Territories. Ordered printed and recommitted. The Committee on Appropriations reported back adversely the bill appropriating money for the relief of the sufferers from the Southern cyclone. The reason given was that in the judgment of the committee the suffering was not of such widespread character as to baffle all local and State relief. The bill for the construction of steel cruisers, after much debate, was passed—yeas, 38; nays, 13. Adjourned till Monday.

HOUSE.—The House went into committee of the whole on the private calendar. Opposition was developed to the retirement of General Pleasonton. The bill was finally so amended as to give him the rank of Colonel, and was favorably reported in that form. Mr. Steele moved to recommit the bill to the Committee on Military Affairs, with instructions to report back a bill placing on the retired list, with the rank of Colonel, all soldiers of the late war suffering from total disability. The point of order was raised against this motion, but pending a decision, several dilatory motions was made, and the roll-call consumed the time until 5 o'clock. The Post-office Appropriation Bill was reported by Mr. Townshend, and referred to the committee of the whole. The House then took a recess until 7:30, the evening session to be held for consideration of pension bills. The House at the evening session passed about twenty pension bills, and adjourned until to-morrow.

WASHINGTON, March 1.—SENATE.—Senate not in session.

HOUSE.—Mr. Oates, from the Committee on Public Lands, reported a resolution calling on the Secretary of the Interior for information relative to the authorized fencing in of public lands by individuals or corporations in several States and Territories. Adopted. The following bills were reported: To provide for the issue of circulating notes to National Banking Associations. Referred to the committee of the whole. Mr. Buckner submitted a minority report. To establish a Board of Inter-State Commerce, and regulate such Commerce. Referred to the committee of the whole. To increase the pension of widows, minor children and dependent relatives of deceased soldiers and sailors. Referred to the committee on the whole. The House, at 1:10, went into committee of the whole, Mr. Converse, of Ohio, in the chair, on the Naval appropriation Bill. After debate, the Committee rose and the House adjourned.

Bradlaugh Thinks it Mean.

LONDON, March 2.—Bradlaugh has sent a letter to Northcote charging him with having violated the law in having had Bradlaugh excluded from the House of Commons. That act, Bradlaugh says, was mean and spiteful, and unworthy an English gentlemen.

—William King, upon being converted in a Methodist revival meeting at Caldwell, Ky., arose and confessed that he had robbed a store in 1863 of three hundred dollars' worth of goods. He went to the proprietor the next day and paid the amount, with twenty years' interest, but was immediately arrested for the theft, and now languishes in jail. —St. Louis Post.

—The New Jersey Legislature has abolished the contract system in prisons.

THE COMMONWEALTH.

Legislative Proceedings.

FRANKFORT, February 22.—SENATE. Bills passed. To reduce into one and repeal the present charter of the town of Nicholasville, and the several acts amendatory thereof. To amend the charter of the city of Covington. House bill to allow the County Court of Anderson County to levy and collect a tax for the purpose of building a jail and jailer's residence. Mr. L. T. Moore moved to take up the motion to reconsider the vote by which the resolution to extend the session yesterday was rejected. Adopted. Mr. Boles offered to amend "Provided said session shall not be extended beyond the 25th day of March, 1884." The yeas and nays were demanded—yeas 14, nays 15. The question being upon the adoption of the resolution—yeas 27, nays 2—and the session was indefinitely extended.

HOUSE.—Bills passed: To incorporate the Mercer County Fair Association. To amend the charter of the city of Paris. To incorporate the town of Yosemite, in Casey County. A bill to amend an act to incorporate the Citizens' Gas-light Company, of Louisville. [This increases the stock of the company to $2,000,000.] To reduce into one and repeal the charter of the town of Nicholasville. A bill to reduce into one all acts concerning the town of Hartford. A bill to reduce into one all acts in regard to the town of Olympia. A bill to amend the acts constituting the Western Association. A bill to establish the corporate limits of Bernstadt, Laurel County.

FRANKFORT, February 25.—SENATE—The following bills were passed: To amend an act to provide a Board of Commissioners for Boyd County. A bill to incorporate the town of Yosemite, in Casey County. To amend an act to incorporate Deering Camp Ground, in Nicholas County. To prohibit sale of liquors in Common school district No. 30, in Graves County. To amend the charter of the Shelbyville Railroad, and to authorize certain counties to take stock in same. To incorporate the Glasgow and Mammoth Cave Railroad Company. To incorporate the Louisville and Eastern Railroad Company. To incorporate the Central Railroad and Bridge Company, with amendment. Amendment adopted and bill passed. To incorporate the town of Pittsburg in Laurel County.

HOUSE.—The following resolution was adopted: Resolved, That the bill now in the orders of the day, and known as the Talbott bill, to increase the common school fund in this commonwealth, be now taken up and referred to a select committee appointed by the Chair, to consist of thirteen members, with the privilege to report at any time after to-day, and when reported to be considered from day to day until disposed of. The Speaker appointed the following committee under the resolution: Messrs. Talbott, Chairman; Beckham, Wood, Harcourt, Noremen, Stoll, Stone, Meredith, Jones, Simpson, Harris, Perry, Binford. A bill to regulate and fix the time of holding Justices' Court in Warren County. Passed. A number of local bills were passed.

FRANKFORT, February 26.—SENATE.—An act to authorize the receipt of the fourth installment of the surplus revenue authorized to be deposited in this State by act of Congress, approved June 23, 1836, was taken up from the orders of the day, amended and passed. House resolution in relation to the surplus in the Federal Treasury, requesting our Senators and Representatives in Congress to urge the passage of the Educational Bill introduced by Willis, made a special order for day after to-morrow at 11:30 a. m. An act to prevent the sale of liquors within three miles of Dripping-spring church, in Metcalfe county. Passed. Education—An act to repeal an act establishing free schools for the education of colored children in Owensboro. Passed. A number of local bills were passed. A message was received from the Governor nominating N. J. Sawyer, M. D., Samuel C. Bull and W. S. Dehoney Commissioners of the Kentucky Institution for the Education and Training of Feeble-minded Children. Referred to Charitable Institutions. Adjourned.

HOUSE.—A Senate resolution providing for the appointment of a committee to examine into the affairs of the office of Register of the Land Office for the term preceeding that of the present incumbent was concurred in. James T. Beauchamp, of Warren County, and Samuel A. Simpson, of Russell, infants, were permitted, so far as the House is concerned, to obtain license to practice law, make contracts, etc., as if they were twenty-one years of age. The Covington and Cincinnati Pier Bridge Bill was passed over the Governor's veto—yeas 60; nays 15. At 12 o'clock a joint session of the Senate and House was held for the purpose of electing a Warden of the penitentiary. The ballot resulted: Col. W. T. B. South, 27; Hon. Pat Rush, 10. A bill to prohibit the sale of spirituous, vinous or malt liquors or mixture of either in the counties of Laurel, Rockcastle, Clay, Jackson and Owsley, after some debate, was recommitted to the committee on General Statutes, and the House adjourned.

FRANKFORT, February 27.—SENATE.—The bills passed were: For the benefit of Warren Memorial Church of Louisville. To repeal an act to establish free schools for colored children in Owensboro. To repeal an act authorizing the County Court of Boone County to appoint a Board of Commissioners to construct turnpike roads in certain districts in said county, and to levy a tax for that purpose. To incorporate the Louisville Merchants' Private Police and Detective Agency. To incorporate the Louisville School of Pharmacy for Women. Message from the House, by Hon. E. Polk Johnson, announcing the passage of the bill to charter the Covington and Cincinnati Pier Bridge Company, the Governor's objections to the contrary notwithstanding. Referred to the Judiciary.

HOUSE.—Bill passed: Mr. Mann—Corporate Institutions. A bill to incorporate the Kingston Mills Company. Passed.

Miscellaneous Items.

—In the Circuit Court at Frankfort, recently, James Wolfolk (colored) obtained a judgment for $100 against City Marshal Pat Hargan, for false imprisonment.

PROPERTY owners between Main, and Water on Fourth Street, Louisville, are clamoring for raising the elevation of the street grade. They have been flooded out four times in the last twelve months.

A WIDOW, named Reynolds, of Louisville, was found at the foot of the stairs of her residence the other morning by members of her family, with her neck dislocated. It is supposed that in going down the stairs she tripped and fell headlong downward, with the result as stated. It is also thought that she was somnambulating at the time, or was not fully aroused from her sleep. She was the mother of a very respectable family of children, all married, and was held in the highest esteem by her neighbors.

MR. JAMES WALSH, the distiller, estimates his loss by the flood in Covington, Newport and Lawrenceburg at $20,000. He will erect a two-story warehouse in the place of the one-story destroyed by the flood in Covington.

ROBERT WOODS, an old colored man on trial in the Circuit Court at Danville, for killing his wife about two years ago, was declared not guilty and discharged from custody. The old fellow's countenance glowed with joy when he heard the verdict, which everybody admits to have been a proper one.

DR. F. J. LEBENGOOD gave his services and medicine free to the relief of flood suffers at Louisville when called upon at his office at 628 East Gray street.

J. C. CECIL, Register of the Kentucky Land Office, died in San Antonio, Tex., recently, where he had gone for his health.

THE Louisville and Nashville fast Mardi-Gras special made one spurt of ninety-three miles in one hundred minutes. The average running time for the entire distance was thirty-seven miles an hour.

A DESPERATE attempt was made a few days ago at Elizabethtown, to lynch Miles Petty, a negro, who ravished Miss Cora Vannort, white, 18, daughter of a well-to-do farmer. Petty was removed to Louisville for safe keeping.

WILLIAM CALDWELL fell from his horse while riding in front of a train in Louisville, a few nights ago, and was run over.

SCIENCE AND INDUSTRY.

—An inventor of Sandy Creek, N. Y., has been offered $1,000 for a half interest in his patent hair-pin.—N. Y. Sun.

—A harness-maker of Templeton, Mass., who is ninety-three years old, made ten harnesses last year, doing the stitching by hand.—Boston Post.

—A silk farm has been established in Powhattan County, Va., by a number of French families. Another one will soon be established in North Carolina. —Philadelphia Press.

—Ventilated bed clothes is one of the latest inventions of English genius. They are perforated and allow the vapor from the body to escape.—N. Y. Times.

—Brass pins were made by hand many centuries ago. A Massachusetts man invented those with a solid head, but their first manufacture was in England, in 1833.—Boston Herald.

—The term "telephrage" has been applied by Prof. Fleeming Jenkin to the transmission of vehicles by electricity to a distance independent of any control exercised from the vehicle. An experimental telephrage line has been constructed in England.

—Scientists now boldly declare that this earth was peopled fifty million years before Adam was born. We are not prepared to dispute this assertion in the least. We have always wondered how mankind could learn so much deviltry in only six thousand years.—Lowell Citizen.

—People out West who desire to raise silkworms need not wait to set out mulberry trees. The leaves of the Osage orange are found to be just as good for silkworm food as those of the mulberry, and there are many miles of Osage hedge ready for use distributed over the west.—N. Y. Examiner.

—The manufacture of rope from asbestos is likely to become an industry of considerable importance in England, the strength of the article being estimated at about one-fourth that of ordinary hemp rope of the same diameter. Rope of this material of one and a half inches in diameter is stated to have a breaking strain of one ton, and twenty feet of it are calculated to represent a weight of thirteen and one-fourth pounds.

—M. Ramon de Luna brought before the French Academy of Science a month ago a treatise on "Cholera from the Standpoint of Chemistry." His view after long attention to physiological studies, is that this dread disease is exclusively propagated through the respiratory organs, and his chemical inquiries convince him that the only safe treatment is to cause the patient to inhale with prudence hyperzotic vapor mixed with air.

—Mr. Shields, by laying pipes perforated at intervals of some hundred yards out of Folkstone harbor, and forcing oil through them, successfully carried out, the other day, his invention for calming stormy water and making easy the entrance for vessels in distress. As the oil for the purpose can be procured for six pence a gallon, and as fifteen or twenty gallons completely calmed the entrance to Folkstone in a very stiff breeze, it is manifest how easy of appliance and cheap the plan is.

—A Geneva dentist has invented a new and ingenious process of tooth-drawing. A square of India rubber, pierced with a central hole, is pushed over the tooth till the upper part of the root is reached. The India rubber gradually contracts, pulls on the root, and the offending tooth is finally enucleated, without causing the patient any pain whatever. Four or five days are required to complete the operation. Very little bleeding and a slight swelling of the gum are the only inconvenience experienced.

PITH AND POINT.

—Question: How many dogs can a man keep who can not afford to take a paper?

—The tendency to sleep too soundly can be overcome by having hot soda biscuits for supper.

—It is not every woman who can travel all over the country on a dollar; but the woman whose picture is on that coin manages to do it.

—De laugh what doan' come machul grates mighty harsh on de human vear. De dry, hoarse laugh o' de owl makes a chicken feel mighty oneasy.—Arkansaw Traveler.

—After a man has been moving heaven and earth to get a job, and finally succeeds, it is so soothing to his feelings to learn by the papers that he has "accepted a position."—Detroit Post.

—An editor says if as many people knew how to pay their subscriptions as well as they think they know how to run a newspaper, editors would have an easier time of it.

—A learned dentist speaks of "enucleating a tooth." Sounds fine, does n't it? but the operation hurts as bad as though he had said "yanked out." —Boston Transcript.

—It is claimed that the coming tea crop is short by one-fourth, but you can't scare this country by such a story. Any shortage down to one-half can easily be made up with marsh hay.—Detroit Free Press.

—"If you would freeze," said George, snuggling up a little closer, "you would make delicious ice-cream." "If you were to freeze," responded Amelia with severity, after catching a whiff of his breath, "you would make a good rum punch."—N. Y. Times.

—Edmund C. Stedman, the banker poet, who has begun for the second time to make his fortune, was offered several positions in journalism soon after his recent failure. He declined them, however, as he had a family to support and couldn't afford the luxury.—N. Y. Graphic.

—Man's life.—

If a man could live a thousand years,
When last his life had fled
He might, by strict economy,
A fortune have amassed.

Then, having gained some common sense,
And knowledge, too, of life,
He could select the woman who
Would make him a true wife.

But as it is, man hasn't time
To even pay his debts,
And weds before he's acquainted with
The woman whom he gets.

—H. C. Dodge, in Detroit Free Press.

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

AN organ grinder calculates that it takes one thousand turns of the crank to earn two cents.

FOR briefness or terseness El Mahdi's proclamation—"I am coming; be ready"—can not be beaten by General Gordon.

ENGLISH journals are not quite so severe as those of America on the Queen's book. But they do not advise the Queen to write another book.

ARRANGEMENTS are in progress in China for a weather service, and regular study of the climatology. This will be done under foreign guidance.

A SAMPLE of black pepper analyzed by a New York chemist recently, was found to consist entirely of adulterations, without an iota of pepper in it.

A WIDE-MOUTHED bottle, filled with chloride of lime and water, and placed on a shelf or mantle, will purify the air of a room and it is said will prevent contagious diseases, such as diphtheria.

IN New Orleans, where they have no medical colleges, a cremation society has been formed which urges the City Council to order the bodies of all dead paupers and small-pox patients to be burned.

THE electric light appears to be doing better in England than in this country. There are ninety English electric light companies, with a total capital of $26,000,000, which is almost as much as that of the gas companies.

IN a lecture delivered at Manchester, England, recently, Mr. Leo Grindon estimated that out of 100,000 known species of flowerig plants, 10,000 are of direct service to man, and 5,000 are more or less poisonous or hurtful.

MISS JUSTINE LEVY, a Hebrew girl of Scranton, Pa., married a young man named Farr, a Gentile recently, and her people have discarded her, published a notice of her death and tied crape on the door-knob of the home she left.

THE patriotic citizen will see to it that he does not eat, with his Cincinnati sugar-cured ham, the limed eggs imported from Germany. He will be satisfied with nothing but eggs that bear the stamp of freshness and of home production.

MME. ERNST quotes this mot that M. Gautier once addressed to her: "When you wish to appear beautiful and attractive consult your best lady friend, show her all your dresses and ask her to select the one you should wear and then choose another."

HUGH J. JEWITT is a director in twenty railroad companies; Samuel Sloan in twenty-three; Jay Gould in twenty-four; George C. Roberts in twenty-six; Augustus Schell in twenty-eight; Sidney Dillon in thirty-six, and Frederick L. Ames in fifty-two.

A BOSTON man is authority for the statement that during the last twenty years 20,000 divorces have been granted in New England. In Massachusetts and Vermont three out of every fourteen marriages ends in divorce; Rhode Island, one in twelve; in Connecticut, one in eight.

A COMPETENT entomologist has been engaged in exterminating the tree-destroyers in Central Park, New York. There have been found no less than 319 varieties of predatory insects, and over three thousand trees affected. Thirteen bushels of cocoons and eggs were taken from the trees at the first going over.

IT is denied in some quarters that there is any genuine Mocha coffee in the markets, but it is said that a very good imitation Mocha is supplied from Rio coffee called pea berry. But there are dealers who declare that they regularly import true Mocha brands and protest against assertions to the contrary.

SOUDAN, the battle-ground of the present Eastern war, is a vast territory in Upper Egypt, stretching from Nubia to the confines of Abyssinia and from the Red Sea to the Lyban Desert. This territory is peopled by hordes of Arabs of various tribes, whose number is computed to be between thirty and forty millions.

THE organization of a cremation society in Boston, and the preparation now going on for the incineration of bodies has awakened a storm of opposition from the orthodox clergy of that city, who declare that such a scheme "sins against heaven, the sanctity of human emotions and the hopes of an hereafter."

A YOUNG Austrian Lieutenant has been deprived of his commission and rank because of his "absolute refusal to fight a duel." In declining a challenge he gave as his reason that duelling was forbidden by both the civil and military law, and was against his religion and his reason. The matter was taken before a Court of Honor, made up of superior officers, by whom the above sentence was pronounced and made operative forthwith.

THE RECORDER.

RIDDELL & HALL, Proprietors.

BURLINGTON, KY.. MCH. 5. 1884.

ADVERTISING RATES.

1 Column	1 year	$ 80
½	1 "	40
¼	1 "	20
⅛ "	1 "	20
⅛ "	½ "	10
⅛ "	¼ "	6

For announcing candidates, $5. Obituary poetry, 5 cents per line. Obituary notices 20 lines free; over that number (except the announcement of the death) 3 cents per line.

Tributes of respect from lodges, &c., $1 50

RATES OF SUBSCRIPTION.

One year	$1 50
Six months	75
Three months	40

ENGLAND demands a suppression of American dynamiters.

B. F. Steinberger, of Shelby county, lost his $3,000 residence by fire.

BEECHER says the Old Testament is a record of experience, not a book of invention.

A COLORED man has been fined and imprisoned at Toledo, Ohio, for marrying a white girl.

THE Cincinnati dog-show is now under way. Two hundred and sixty-nine dogs are on exhibition.

FRIDAY the Senate passed seven bills declaring as many creeks in this State navigable streams, and it was not a very good day for such business either.

OHIO is infested with many expert thieves and murderers, and some of the former can steal the hair off a young lady's head while she is walking the streets.

IT is expected that a tariff bill will be laid before the Lower House of Congress by the 15th of this month, and that it will provoke a discussion which will last for three months.

SOME of the local papers which have been giving their readers portraits of distinguished men of the day are now trying to pan same portraits off as those of Ingalls and Johnson, the Cincinnati burkers (?).

SOME genius in Illinois has started a reform in the method of eating bread and butter, having discovered that you taste the butter twice as much if you bite the slice with the buttered side down.

IN the out-come, the Courier-Journal will find that its position on the copyright bill will not redound to its benefit. Its advocacy of the bill is making its readers doubtful about its sincerity in opposing monopolies.

THERE is no evidence showing that Dr. Gale ever treated any of the inmates of Anchorage Asylum cruelly, but there is an abundance of proof that he did not restrain such treatment on the part of the attendants.

THOS. CRITTENDEN, for the murder of a colored man named Mosby, at Anchorage in 1882, gets eight years in the penitentiary. The colored man testified against Crittenden in a justice's court, and Crittenden became enraged and shot him.

THE building of good turnpikes is doing more for the benefit of Boone county than anything in which her people can engage. Our citizens have arrived at a period in which, to be without good roads, so retards their advancement, that many of the farmers, who heretofore were opposed to such roads, are among the most earnest advocates.

THE legislature did the proper thing when it refused to allow Geo. Smith, of Hancock county, who unsuccessfully contested the seat of J. O. Madden, the amount of his expenses. Mr. Smith should not have expected to draw on the State treasury for his expense incurred by presenting a false claim to a seat in the general assembly.

THE C.-J. publishes an interview with one of Gen. William's friends in which the General's late defeat is attributed to a secret combination between the Carlisle and Blackburn men; the opposition of political bosses and treason in his own camp. After all the serious charges made, the record shows that the reason Williams was not elected was because he did not receive votes enough.

THE Supreme Court of the District of Columbia has appointed Mrs. M. Rickar a United States Commissioner and Examiner in Chancery. In that capacity she can issue warrants of arrest, hear cases and commit to the U. S. jail for the action of the grand jury, and take testimony and dispose of divorce cases. Mrs. Rickar has been a member of the Washington bar for many years, and she is the first woman ever clothed with such extensive official authority in this government.

The school commissioner has gladened the hearts of many of the teachers since the arrival of the January draft.

THE candidates for city offices in Lexington, and who bolted the democratic primary were nearly all elected. The Mulligan forces proved too weak.

BOTH parties are now busily engaged canvassing their political timber in search of the piece clearest of flaws and will carry the greatest influence with it in the campaign.

IT is to be hoped that the present is the last installment of winter weather in stock for this winter. The farmers are ready and anxious to commence their spring work, and unless they are permitted to begin in a few days, they will enter a protest.

IT is a Kentucky custom to roundly abuse the legislature for protracting its sessions, and the present one will be no exception to the rule; and it will continue to be so until it is released from the duty of disposing of so much local legislation, which ought to be done in the counties to which it properly belongs. If the present legislature succeeds in disposing of the two or three very important measures which have been harrassing our law makers for several years, it will be justified in holding a long session.

DEPUTY ASSESSOR RILEY reports, that, notwithstanding the iron clad oath which he administers as required by the dog law, he is not finding as many persons as might be supposed who own dogs. Persons who expect to evade the dog tax by not listing their dogs after taking the oath prescribed by the law, are laying themselves liable to a severe penalty, and an investigation of their failure to list may be instituted by a person who has honestly complied with the law, ascertaining that his neighbor has not reported correctly to the Assessor. The risk taken by those who wish to evade the law is too great for the amount of tax involved.

RELIGIOUS circles in Williamstown are experiencing a breeze that emanated from a split in the Methodist church there. There were two elements in the church, organ and anti-organ and the latter held the fort and consigned the instrument a to secluded corner of the church building while the former withdrew, and finally invited a Presbyterian minister to preach for them, and put in circulation a subscription paper to secure money with which to buy an organ. In the mean time, the anti-organ party selected an organist and brought the organ forth and put it into use. A joint caucus ought to be called and the organ question settled. Brethren should dwell together in unity.

A COPY of the Gunnison City (Col.) Times-Press sent to our junior by Mr. John P. Duncan, contains an account of the freaks of a crippled cowboy who had been tried and fined by the authorities of Montrose, and who had concluded he would make them refund his money. The c. b. took on a sufficiency of pine-top, mounted his pony and started out in search of the officers, and before his carnival had concluded he had shot a town Marshal, a Police Judge, blew off an eye brow for another man, while the fourth had the front of his hat rim shot off, after which he rode off without a scratch notwithstanding many shots had been fired at him. A crippled cow-boy cleaning out a whole town, single-handed, is a refreshing amusement to him.

STATE NEWS.

It costs an Owenton man $5 50 on his head for State, county and town taxes.

Miss Lillie Hughes, of Bowling Green. has in her possession a gourd 400 years old.

Some negroes robbed a store at Livingston of $1,200, but were caught and made to disgorge.

At a sale in Shelby county, the other day, stock hogs brought from 8 to 10 cents a pound.

J. W. Burkley's flouring mill at Nicholasville burned the other night. Loss, $27,000 and insured for $900.

Richard Cavanaugh, of Shelbyville, who committed suicide, a few days since, had his life insured for $15,000.

Corn $3 per barrel in Bath county, while in Jessamine county 150 barrels were sold in the crib at $1 25 per barrel.

South Kentucky College, of Hopkinsville, owned by the Christian denomination, has been destroyed by fire. Loss, $12,000 with $8,000 insurance.

Last week's Times contains the accounts of two shooting scrapes, one stabbing, one death from exposure and one man's being kicked in the face by a horse, in Scott county.

The dwelling house of Mr. Kemper, near Monterey, was blown over by the heavy wind storm last Tuesday evening, and then took fire and burned up.—Owen News.

On Tuesday afternoon last the wind blew down the barn of Lyman Carter, near this place, demolishing the building and ruining about 1500 pounds of fine tobacco.—Owen News.

The Louisville Medical College turned out 73 young doctors in one batch the other day, which will call for at least 25 more undertakers. The business of the country is on the increase.

The editor of the Gazette favors a license of $5 annually, on each pistol and that the man carrying one who cannot produce his tax receipt shall be heavily fined and imprisoned. The law should also authorize any peace officer to search any one suspected of carrying a pistol.—Lexington Transcript.

The other day a letter inclosing a check, which has been numbered among the lost letters for nearly four years, was returned to Auditor Hewitt by the Superintendent in charge of the repair shops of the C. O. and S. W. railroad at Elizabethtown. The check was drawn in favor of Judge Ed Crossland, of Graves county, since deceased, but as it had never reached him a duplicate was issued to him instead. The Superintendent says he found the lost letter in the lining of a mail car which he had torn to pieces to make over anew.

IT is thought that the vacancy in the office of Register of Lands will be filled by a man from the mountains. There are numerous applicants.

A TRUE assistant to nature in restoring the system to perfect health, thus enabling it to resist disease, is Brown's Iron Bitters.

COCHRAN, GA.—Dr. A. J. Lamb says: "I never met with a remedy that gave more satisfaction in cases of debility and prostration than Brown's Iron Bitters."

OWENTON, KY.—Rev. J. W. Waldrop says: "Brown's Iron Bitters greatly relieved me of general debility and indigestion."

That Doughty Duchess.

Opposite Opinions about a Wonderful Woman—Her Thumb and Fingers.

"Crack nuts with her fingers! Why, you can't mean it!" cried a young lady graduate of the Normal College, in the utmost astonishment.

"But I do mean it," affirmed her big brother, who had taken several prizes in athletics, "and I reassert it: that Cymburga, wife of Duke Ernst of Austria, could crack nuts with her fingers and drive nails in the wall with her thumb."

"What a monstrous woman!" said the young lady. "What a useful woman," amended her big brother.

The Austrian Duchess was mighty because she kept good hours, good habits and perfect digestion.

Mrs. Alice Strong, of Pittsburg, Pa., writes a different story about herself, but deserves praise for her frankness. She says: "For the past 3 years I have been subject to severe attacks of colic and cramps, and exhausting attacks of Diarrhœa. Weary of experimenting with medicines, I turned without hope to PARKER'S TONIC. Three bottles cured me entirely. I have tried it also for other ailments with which women are often afflicted, and it far surpassed my expectations. I am happy to offer this testimony for the benefit of other women.

Ladies who are interested in Mrs. Strong's letter, will please remark that PARKER'S TONIC is not intoxicant. It cures colic easily, but by virtue of many rare and powerful ingredients, it also masters all diseases of the Blood—such, for example, as Rheumatism, Consumption, Scrofula, and all disorders of the Kidneys, Liver and Stomach. It is a vitalizer and stimulant, but not an intoxicant. Price, 50 cents and $1 per bottle. Hiscox & Co., Chemists, New York.

Cut This Out & Return to us with TEN CTS. Silver, & you'll get by mail a GOLDEN BOX OF GOODS that will bring you in MORE MONEY in One Month than anything else in America. Absolute Certainty. Either Sex. No capital. M. Young, 173 Greenwich St. N. York.

For Sale.

A good farm horse,—Price, $115.
F. P. WALTON, Burlington, Ky.

FOR SALE.

A thoroughbred Jersey Bull. 5 years old. Price, $60. Call on E. H. HOWARD, Bullittsville, Ky.

For Sale.

A lot of No. 1 locust posts.
J. O. HUEY, Burlington, Ky.

For Rent.

A house and good tobacco land. Apply to or address JAMES D. ACRA, Burlington, Ky.

FOR RENT.

From 6 to 10 acres of tobacco land; also some good corn land. Call on CY CRISLER, at Burlington, Ky.

FOR RENT.

About 50 acres of good oat land. Call on or address Mary E. Kendall on the premises or C. O. Utz, Constance, Ky.

For Sale.

About a dozen two-year old mules, will sell single or in pairs, also two good work horses. JONH J. RUCKER, Gainesville, Kentucky.

For Sale.

A dwelling with 6 rooms, and 15 acres of land at Rabbit Hash, Ky. On this land is a good orchard, barn and other conveniences. Also a never failing well. Address B. F. BELL, Rabbit Hash, Ky.

NOTICE.

The stockholders of the Woolper Turnpike are hereby notified that on Monday, April 7th, 1884, an election will be held in Burlington, at which a board of five directors will be chosen to serve the ensuing year.
J. FRANK GRANT, Sect'y.

NOTICE.

Persons having claims against the estate of Nancy Snyder, deceased, are notified to present them at once properly proven, for payment; and those owing the estate must settle their indebtedness at once. The sale notes are expected to be paid promptly upon their maturity. T. B. AYLOR, Adm'r.

Notice.

All parties having claims against the estate of F. W. Grant decd., are hereby notified to present the same properly proven without delay or further notice,
J. Frank Grant,
W. H. Grant, Admr's.

Strayed.

Taken up as a stray by Allen Goodridge, living on the Ohio river, about 1½ miles below Taylorsport, in Boone county, on the 12th day of January 1884, one bull about two and half years old, with white head, dark read body, some white on his back, and end of tail, legs spotted up to his knees straight horns and under bit in each ear, and which I have appraised at $15. Witness my hand this 12th day of Jan., '84.
W. A. GOODRIDGE, J P B C

EGGS FOR HATCHING.

From Pure Plymouth Rocks, straight descendants from the show birds of Isaac Daniels and Perley Pickett, of Ohio. My birds are second to none. Fine size, quick to mature and best of layers. For reference inquire of N. Dickerson or Eddie Ranson, at Verona, or Jacob Cleek or Geo. W. Sleet, at Beaver Lick, Ky. You can order them now and say when you wish them shipped. Your orders will be promptly filled and with proper care. Satisfaction guaranteed. Price, $1 50 for 15, and $1 for each 15 over, when shipped at same time. Money must accompany order. Address M. J. HUME, Verona, Ky. 15 3m

H. C. CHAMBERS,

AUCTIONEER

FLORENCE, - - - - KENTUCKY.

THE CINCINNATI Weekly News!

A NATIONAL METROPOLITAN JOURNAL,
Full Of Enterprise,
PEOPLE!

EIGHT PAGES—SIXTY Four Pages

Containing all the News, correct Market Reports, well selected Miscellany, brilliant Stories—in fact, the favorite Weekly Paper of the Central United States.

—PUBLISHED BY THE—

Cincinnati News Publishing Co.

AT THE FOLLOWING

LOW RATES OF SUBSCRIPTION.

THE WEEKLY NEWS with one of Dore's Celebrated Works,

"Christ Leaving the Prætorium,"
"Christ Entering Jerusalem,"

These engravings of Dore's fame historical paintings are the best and most perfect reprints by the Foreign Art Reproducing Company, and can not be purchased as orignal plates for less than $40 each in Europe. They are in size 23x36 in. and are direct copies, preserving every line and detail OF THE ENGLISH $40 ENGRAVINGS.

These pictures are suitable to adorn the parlor of any gentleman. As a

Premium Supplement!

A Single Copy, three months	$0 40
A Single copy, six months	60
A Single copy, one year	1 00
A club of 10 copies to 1 P. O. 1 year	9 00
A club of 20 copies to 1 P. O. 1 year	17 00

And large clubs at 85c per copy per annum

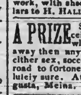
Postmasters and other agents will be allowed 15 per cent on full rate (not club) subscribers.

The premium engravings will be mailed about the first of each month to the subscribers entitled to receive them.

As a premium offer it is confidently claimed that its equal was never before made, and would not be possible in this case except for the method adopted by the Foreign Art Reproducing Company to advertise its work.

Do not fail to avail yourself of the opportunity by sending your name and address, with one dollar enclosed, to

THE CINCINNATI WEEKLY NEWS.



$66 a week at home. $5 outfit free. Pay absolutely sure, no risk. Capital not required. If you want business at which persons of either sex young or old, can make great pay all the time they work, with absolute certainty, write for particulars to H. HALLET & Co., Portland, Maine.

A PRIZE Send six cents for postage, and receive free, a costly box of goods which will help you to more money right away than anything else in this world. All of either sex, succeed from the first hour. The broad road to fortune opens before the workers, absolutely sure. At once address, TRUE & Co., Augusta, Maine.

AGENTS wanted for The Lives of all the Presidents of the U. S. The largest handsomest, best book ever sold for more than twice our price. The best selling book in America. Immense profits to agents. All intelligent people want it. Any one can become a successful agent. Terms free, HALLET BOOK Co., Portland, Maine.

$288 per month collecting small family Pictures to enlarge into the Melanotype the finest enlarged picture in the world Diploma, Red, White and Blue Ribbon awarded everywhere. Testimonials. Private terms. SOLID GOLD WATCH and $5 outfit free to Agents. Address Empire Copy'g Co., 381 Canal St., N. Y.

PISO'S CURE FOR CONSUMPTION. CURES WHERE ALL ELSE FAILS. Best Cough Syrup. Tastes good. Use in time. Sold by druggists. 25 100

FREE TO ALL. OUR new illustrated Floral Catalogue of 90 pages, containing description and prices of the best varieties of Plants, Garden and Flower Seeds, Bulbs, Roots, Shrubs, Small Fruits and Trees will be mailed Free to all applicants. The Same mailed for One Dollar to any place. Wholesale and retail. NANZ & NEUNER, Louisville, Ky.

TESTED BY TIME. STRONG'S PECTORAL PILLS IN SUCCESSFUL USE FOR HALF A CENTURY. The best Remedy for Coughs, Colds, Dyspepsia and Rheumatism. Insure Healthy Appetite, Good Digestion, Regularity of the Bowels. A precious boon to delicate females, soothing and bracing the nervous system, and giving vigor and health to every fibre of the body. Sold by Druggists. For Pamphlets, etc., address C. E. HULL & CO., 18 Cedar St., N. Y. City.

NOTICE.

All persons indebted to the estate of Nancy Hamilton, deceased, are notified to come forward and settle same at once, and those having claims against said estate must present them to the undersigned, proven as by law required.
NOAH CLORE, Adm'r.

NOTICE.

All persons having claims against the estate of Thos. Rieb, decd., will present them properly proven, as by law required. Those indebted to the estate will please come forward and settle at once.
JACOB REIB, Adm'r.

ROBERT B. REED

Attorney at Law.

OFFICE AT - 3 ½ UNION, KY.

F. RIDDELL,

ATTORNEY at LAW
BURLINGTON, KY.

Office over Dudley Rouse's Store.

ALBERT W. GAINES,

Attorney and Counselor at Law,

LAWRENCEBURG, - - - IND.

Will practice in the courts of Boone county, Ky., Cincinnati, Ohio, Dearborn and adjoining counties, Ind. dec-6-82

W. E. VEST,

COUNTY SURVEYOR

WALTON, KY.

Is prepared to do all kinds of surveying. All orders sent him through the mail to Walton, will receive his prompt attention.

E. E. IGOE,

Resident Dentist, Rising Sun, Ind.

WITH

J. P. Ulrey.

Monday and Tuesday at Rising Sun, Ind.

J. J. Landram. G. G. Hughes.

LANDRAM & HUGHES,

ATTORNEYS at LAW.

Will practice in the Boone Circuit Cour and the Court of Appeals. Prompt attention given to Collections, on application t G. G. Hughes, Burlington, Ky.

DR. A. B. HARRY AN

RESIDENT DENTIST.

Aurora, Indiana.

(Office Over Postoffice)

With J P. ULREY.

Dr. ULREY'S days, Wednesday and Saturday. Office open at all hours. 8-1y

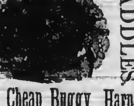
L. C. NORMAN. H. S. STEPHENS.

NORMAN and STEPHENS,

ATTORNEYS at LAW,
UNION, BOONE CO., KY.

Will practice in the Courts of Boone Kenton and adjoining counties. Collections solicited and made throughout the State. 24 tf 81

S. W. TOLIN,



ATTORNEY AT LAW
BURLINGTON, - - - KY

Office in Court-house on 2d floor.

Will manage litigation in any of the Courts of the State, contracts and other legal instruments drawn up at reasonable rates. Aprompt an studious attention given to business intrusted to my care. A trial solicited. 12-1y

A. M. ACRA,

HARNESS —DEALER IN— SADDLES

Fine and Cheap Buggy Harness.
BURLINGTON, KY.

I also have a full stock of BUGGY WHIPS, LAP DUSTERS, ANKLE BOOTS and TROTTING BALLS and everything else usually kept in a first-class harness shop.

REPAIRING A SPECIALTY.

Give Me A Call.

GOLD for the working class. Send 10c for postage, and we will mail you free, a royal, valuable box of sample goods that will put you in the way of making more money in a few days than you ever thought possible at any business. Capital not required. We will start you. You can work part of the time only. The work universally adapted to both sexes, young and old. You can easily earn from 50 cents to $5 every evening. That all who want work may test the business, we make this unparalleled offer; to all who are not well satisfied we will send $1 to pay for the trouble of writing us. Full particulars, directions, etc., sent free. Fortunes will be made by those who give their whole time to the work. Great success absolutely sure. Don't delay. Start now. Address STINSON & Co., Portland, Maine.

PATENTS. For new inventions and novel designs obtained in the United States, Canada and Europe. Trade Marks and Copyright—Labels secured for Merchants and Manufacturers who wish protection against Imitators of their goods, packages or articles of manufacture. We are located opposite the United States Patent Office, have quick access to its records, and can give prompt and reliable answers to inquiries. One of our firm has had thirteen years' practice in the highest courts, another several years as an Assistant Examiner in the United States Patent Office and many years experience as solicitor of American and Foreign Patents. Fee reasonable and full satisfaction or no fee. Best reference given. Our little book "on patents" sent free on receipt of one cent stamp. W. A. COULTER & CO., Solicitors of Patents, 23 St. Cloud Building, Washington, D. C.

WRIGHT'S INDIAN VEGETABLE PILLS FOR THE LIVER And all Billous Complaints. Safe to take, being purely vegetable; no griping. Price 25 cts. All Druggists.

WANTED BOOK Canvassers. MALE and FEMALE. To engage in the sale of our new and important works of standard character. Large profits and immense selling qualities. We offer a permanent and lucrative business. Address The CINCINNATI PUBLISHING CO., 174 W. Fourth Street, Cincinnati, Ohio.

Free! Cards and Chromos. We will send free by mail a sample set of our large German, French, and American Chromo Cards, on tinted and gold grounds, with a price list of over 200 different designs, on receipt of a stamp for postage. We will also send free by mail as samples, ten of our beautiful Chromos, on receipt of ten cents to pay for packing and postage; also enclose a confidential price list of our large oil chromos. Agents wanted. Address F. GLEASON & Co., 46 Summer Street, Boston, Mass.

PATENTS. MUNN & CO., of the SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN, continue to act as Solicitors for Patents, Caveats, Trade Marks, Copyrights, for the United States, Canada, England, France, Germany, etc. Hand Book about Patents sent free. Thirty-seven years' experience. Patents obtained through MUNN & CO. are noticed in the SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN, the largest, best, and most widely circulated scientific paper. $3.20 a year. Weekly. Splendid engravings and interesting information. Specimen copy of the Scientific American sent free. Address MUNN & CO., SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN Office, 261 Broadway, New York.

SANITARIUM, Riverside, Cal. The dry climate cures Nose, Throat, Lungs, full idea, 36 p., route, cost, free.

MARRIAGE AND HEALTH GUIDE, 260 pgs. Illustrated. All that the doubtful curious or thoughtful want to know. Cloth and gilt binding 50 cts, paper 25c. Marriage Guide, 144 p 15c, sent sealed, money or stps, by DR. WHITTIER 200 RACE STREET, CINCINNATI, OHIO. The great specialist, Nervous Debility, Impediments to Marriage, Consultation and Pamphlet free.

County Directory.

OFFICERS.

Assessor—G. M. Riley.
County Surveyor—W. E. Vest.
School Commissioner—D. M. Snyder.
Coroner.—Dr. A. A. Murat, Constance.

COURTS.

CIRCUIT COURT meets the 2d Monday in April and first Monday in October. P. U. Major, Judge; W. L. Riddell, Clerk A. G. DeJarnette, Commonwealths Attorney; W. L. Riddell, Trustee Jury Fund.

COUNTY COURT meets the first Monday in every month. L. H. Dills, Judge; S. W. Tolin, County Attorney. M. T. Garnett, Clerk; J. R. Clutterbuck, Sheriff, T. W. Finch and W. T. German, Deputy Sheriffs.

QUARTERLY COURT meets the first Mouday in March, June, September and December. The officers of the County Court preside.

COURT OF CLAIMS meets the first Monday in November.

MAGISTRATES' COURTS are held in March, June, September and December, as follows:

Bellevue—M. B. Green, first Saturday, and T. H. Sutton, third Monday. J. M. Moody, Constable.

Burlington—E. H. Baker, Thursday after first Monday, and Oscar Gaines, fourth Monday. R. H. Sandford, Constable.

Carlton A. G. McConnell, Wednesday after second Monday, and B. H. Ryle, Saturday after third Monday. Walter Ryle, Constable.

Petersburg—Jos. Hensley, Wednesday after first Monday, and L. A. Loder fourth Saturday. Geo. Comer, Constable.

Beever—W. M. Rouse, Friday after the third Monday, and

Union—M. C. Norman, Thursday after third Monday, and H. Bannister, Thursday after second Monday. A. D. Riley, Constable.

Hamilton—F. M. Howlett, Tuesday after second Monday; W. W. Garnett, Wednesday after third Monday. R. L. Roberts Constable.

A. L. Brown,

THE HATTER,

Cor. Pike and Washington Streets
COVINGTON, - - KY.

Has always on hand a large variety of Men's, Boys' and Children's Hats, and prices GUARANTEED to be as low as the lowest.

Gents' Furnishing Goods a Specialty.

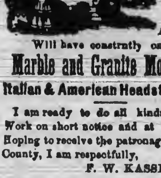
W. J. RICE,

CARPENTER & BUILDER,
BULLITSVILLE, KY.

Is prepared Raise or Move EITHER LOG or FRAME BUILDINGS On Short Notice,

And at the Lowest Possible Figures.

33-tf Your orders respectfully solicited



LUMBER.

Geo. M. Bedinger & Co.,

Erlanger, - - Ky.

We keep constantly on hand all kinds of Lumber, Laths and Shingles. Also Builder's supplies of all kinds.

—Come and see Us.—
may 9-tf

AURORA MARBLE AND GRANITE WORKS, Aurora, Ind

Will have constantly on hand Marble and Granite Monuments, Italian & American Headstones, &c.

I am ready to do all kinds of Stone Work on short notice and at low prices Hoping to receive the patronage of Boone County, I am respectfully,
F. W. KASSEBAUM.

INSURE AT HOME

The Farmers' Mutual Fire INSURANCE COMPANY Of Boone County

Is now completely organized and receiving applications for insurance.

Its Rates are Lower

Than those of any other Company, and it gives the farmers of Boone County a

HITHERTO UNKNOWN ADVANTAGE

In keeping their property insured.

EVERY FARMER IN THE COUNTY

should take a policy at once.

J. A. GAINES, President, Burlington, Ky.	J. H. WALTON, Secretary, Constance, Ky.

R. RANDALL, Treasury.

DIRECTORS.

LEGRAN GAINES,	A. J. UTZ.
JNO. STEPHENS.
OSCAR GAINES, Agent.	C. L. CRISLER, Assessor.

INCORPORATED UNDER THE LAWS OF MISSOURI.

CENTRAL MEDICAL & SURGICAL INSTITUTE OF ST. LOUIS, MO.

SUCCESSORS TO DR. BUTTS' DISPENSARY. OFFICE & ROOMS No. 920 LOCUST ST.

CHAS. L. LABARGE, M.D., Pres't & Physician in Charge. NELSON CHESMAN, Treas. & Business Manager.

This Institute has ample facilities and an experienced Faculty. While it succeeds to a large business, which has been established for years, it will aim to extend its medical and surgical practice, giving skillful and scientific treatment to CHRONIC DISEASES of the Head, Spine, Heart, Lungs and Air Passages, Liver, Stomach and Bowels, Rheumatism, Dyspepsia, Consumption and Asthma. BLOOD IMPURITIES, inherited or caused by impure associations, Scrofula, Fever Sores, Ulcers, etc. DEFORMITIES of the Limbs, Spinal Curvature, Wry-Neck, Diseases of the Joints, Piles, Fistula, Rupture, etc. WEAKNESS and wasting diseases in old and young men, also all diseases of the genito-urinary organs. FEMALE irregularities and weaknesses, causing pain in the back or side, etc. Personal interviews with patients are always preferred. Those unable to visit the Institute will be furnished with blank lists of questions that will aid them in making a full statement of their cases and if not requiring a surgical operation they can be successfully treated by correspondence, and medicines sent by mail or express. To enable us to send proper list of questions applicants should give a brief statement of their trouble.

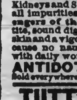
(The Treasurer of the corporation is of Nelson Chesman & Co., Advertising Agents, and refers to the publisher of this or any other newspaper in the United States or Canada regarding responsibility.)

Consultation at Office or by mail free and invited.

HALL'S Vegetable Sicilian HAIR RENEWER

was the first preparation perfectly adapted to cure diseases of the scalp, and the first successful restorer of faded or gray hair to its natural color, growth, and youthful beauty. It has had many imitators, but none have so fully met all the requirements needful for the proper treatment of the hair and scalp. HALL'S HAIR RENEWER has steadily grown in favor, and spread its fame and usefulness to every quarter of the globe. Its unparalleled success can be attributed to but one cause: the entire fulfilment of its promises.

The proprietors have often been surprised at the receipt of orders from remote countries, where they had never made an effort for its introduction.



The use for a short time of HALL'S HAIR RENEWER wonderfully improves the personal appearance. It cleanses the scalp from all impurities, cures all humors, fever, and dryness, and thus prevents baldness. It stimulates the weakened glands, and enables them to push forward a new and vigorous growth. The effects of this article are not transient, like those of alcoholic preparations, but remain a long time, which makes its use a matter of economy.

BUCKINGHAM'S DYE FOR THE WHISKERS

Will change the beard to a natural brown, or black, as desired. It produces a permanent color that will not wash away. Consisting of a single preparation, it is applied without trouble.

PREPARED BY R. P. HALL & CO., Nashua, N.H.

Sold by all Dealers in Medicines.

FOR ALL THE FORMS OF Scrofulous, Mercurial, and Blood Disorders, the best remedy, because the most searching and thorough blood-purifier, is Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

Sold by all Druggists; $1, six bottles, $5.

TUTT'S PILLS

TORPID BOWELS, DISORDERED LIVER, and MALARIA.

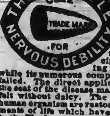
From these sources arise three-fourths of the diseases of the human race. These symptoms indicate their existence: Loss of Appetite, Bowels costive, Sick Headache, fullness after eating, aversion to exertion of body or mind, Eructation of food, Irritability of temper, Low spirits, A feeling of having neglected some duty, Dizziness, Fluttering at the Heart, Dots before the eyes, highly colored Urine, CONSTIPATION, and demand the use of a remedy that acts directly on the Liver. As a Liver medicine TUTT'S PILLS have no equal. Their action on the Kidneys and Skin is also prompt; removing all impurities through these three "scavengers of the system," producing appetite, sound digestion, regular stools, a clear skin and a vigorous body. TUTT'S PILLS cause no nausea or griping nor interfere with daily work and are a perfect ANTIDOTE TO MALARIA. Sold everywhere, 25c. Office, 44 Murray St., N.Y.

TUTT'S HAIR DYE. GRAY HAIR OR WHISKERS changed instantly to a GLOSSY BLACK by a single application of this DYE. Sold by Druggists, or sent by express on receipt of $1. Office, 44 Murray Street, New York. TUTT'S MANUAL OF USEFUL RECEIPTS FREE.

VIGOROUS HEALTH FOR MEN

THE PASTILLE CURE FOR NERVOUS DEBILITY. TRADE MARK. TESTED FOR 5 YEARS by use in thousands of cases. Founded on scientific medical principles, it has been growing in favor and reputation while its numerous competitors have invariably failed. The direct application of this remedy to the seat of the disease makes its specific influence felt without delay. The natural functions of the human organism are restored. The animating elements of life which have been wasted are given back. The buoyant energy of the brain and muscular system renders the patient cheerful; he gains strength with rapidity.

NERVOUS DEBILITY, organic weakness, and numerous obscure diseases, baffling the skill of best physicians, result for youthful indiscretion, too free indulgence, and over brain work.



Do not temporise while such enemies lurk in your system. Take a remedy that has cured thousands, and does not interfere with your attention to business or cause any pain or inconvenience.

(Send for a Descriptive Pamphlet giving Anatomical Illustrations, which will convince the most sceptical that they can be restored to perfect manhood, and fitted for the duties of life, same as if never affected. Sent free to any one. Remedy sold ONLY by the)

HARRIS REMEDY CO., MF'G. CHEMISTS. 306½ N. 10th. St. ST. LOUIS, MO.

One Month's treatment $3, two months $5, three months $7

PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM

A beneficial dressing preferred to similar articles because of its purity and rich perfume. It Restores to Gray Hair the Youthful Color & prevents dandruff and falling of the hair. 50c. & $1. Hiscox & Co., N.Y.

FLORESTON COLOGNE. Excels the finest flower extracts in richness. Delicate, very lasting. No odor like it. Be sure you get FLORESTON Cologne, signature of Hiscox & Co., N. Y., on every label. 25 and 75 cts., at druggists and dealers in perfumes.

NEVER FAILS. FREE! RELIABLE SELF-CURE. A favorite prescription of one of the most noted and successful specialists in the U. S. (now retired) for the cure of Nervous Debility, Lost Manhood, Weakness and Decay. Sent in plain sealed envelope free. Druggists can fill it. Address DR. WARD & CO., Louisiana, Mo.

PAYSON'S INDELIBLE INK. Is the BEST. No preparation. Used with any clean pen for marking any fabric. Popular for decorative work on linen. Received Centennial MEDAL & Diploma. Established 50 years. Sold by all Druggists, Stationers & News Agt's.

Local News.

March came in rather lionish.

Dr. Smith intends locating in Florida.

Many lambs have been lost this season.

Another two-inch installment of the beautiful.

Dr. Smith returned from Florida last Thursday.

Not much stock offered for sale on the street Monday.

Aurora had 75 houses more or less wrecked by the flood.

Sheriff Clutterbuck's wife has been very low for several days.

The farmers are growing restless under the protracted winter.

If you want Horsographs or Jackotypes, give this office a call.

The country is full of people who want to move to Burlington.

Forty hogsheads of tobacco left Bellevue at one shipment last week.

Esquire Oscar Gaines has an ewe that dropped five lambs the other day.

Considering the weather there was a pretty good crowd in town Monday.

Last Thursday's blizzard gave fishing parties their quietus for a while, at least.

Snows have been too numerous this winter for us to keep a record of the number.

W. E. Piper has a few words to say to the public this week. Billie is business all over.

Buddie Smith, who went to Mexico this winter, is delighted with the country and climate.

A. B. Whitlock has two of his famous fox hounds on exhibition at the Cincinnati dog show.

We have had four weeks of Mr. Groundhog's weather, and are willing to be excused from any more of it.

Our pill peddlers have been very busy for two or three weeks, notwithstanding funerals are not very frequent.

P. A. Ryle has bought C. O. Uts and Mrs. Marth Aylor's portion of the Jonathan Uts homestead on Gunpowder.

The month of February did not seem to be excited in the least last Friday, and made its exit coolly and quietly.

Walton was receiving $16 tobacco last Friday. It was raised by the Hoards, who live in the Beaver neighborhood.

The burking business in Cincinnati, has given the darkeys a scare that will keep some of them away from that city for a while.

James Hogan says that he has a fine lot of plothes pins for sale. He raised a crop of tobacco last year, and has reference to the stalks.

What better, in the way of weather, could have been expected of the month of February when both ends of the month was Friday.

The personal property of Isaac Clore, deceased, will be sold at public auction on Thursday, the 13th inst., at his late residence, on Elijah's Creek.

Mr. A. G. Winston has had the finest farm sled in this part of the country built. R. S. Crisler did the wood work and S. A. Palmer put on the irons.

A healthy, sprightly, female white child, about six years old, will be bound to some responsible person upon application to County Judge L. H. Dills.

As Circuit Court approaches the pilgrims that are entertained at Hotel de Cowen make their appearance. Uncle Sam is now issuing rations for three.

Uncle David Hogan and wife are now citizens of Burlington, having moved in last week. They bought the property known as the Coleman house and lot.

Esquire Oscar Gaines was sworn in as deputy Assessor last Friday, and will make assessments for the present year in the Bellevue and Carlton districts.

At one time we were somewhat skeptical on the ground hog weather prophecy, but the month of February was sufficient to make us a firm believer.

From the list of damaged buildings published by the Lawrenceburg Register last week, the reader, at once concludes, that every house in the city is damaged.

If you have a watch or clock that needs repairing, or if you want to buy fine jewelry go to M. C. Motch, Jeweler, N. W. Cor. Madison and Pike Stre. Covington, Ky.

C. W. Riddell, of Williamstown, arrived here Sunday and remained over Monday. We judge from Charlie's looks that Williamstown is pretty well supplied with provisions.

In this issue is to be found the advertisement of William Clore, the old reliable plow manufacturer, of Rising Sun, Indiana. Kentucky people have always found him a "square" man to deal with, and his plows among the best in the market.

Floods come and go, but we continue to do business at our old stand in Lawrenceburg, Indiana, and those wanting tombstones or monuments will find our prices and designs most satisfactory. John Beall, of Hebron, is our agent in Boone county. Hurschart & Co., Lawrenceburg, Ind.

TAKES HIS OWN LIFE.

Young Hoshal, son of John M. Hoshal, blows out his Brains with a Shot Gun.

Last Wednesday afternoon, Wash Hoshal, son of John M. Hoshal, who lives about half way between Hebron and Francesville, committed suicide by blowing his brains out with a shot gun. Several years since the young man, who at the time of his death, was about 30 years old, was thrown by a horse and seriously injured about the head, and for several weeks previous to the suicide he had been afflicted with a mental aberration, and was being watched by his father who feared that he might do himself violence. All the fire-arms about the house had been put under lock and key, but by some means a key that would unlock the closet door in which the gun and pistol were placed, was secured by young Hoshal, who watched for an opportunity to get the double-barreled shot gun out and take it to his room, where the rash act was committed. The explosion of the gun was not heard by any of the family, and when Mr. Hoshal, who was out about his barn, at the time, returned to the house, his little daughter informed him that Wash had been in his room for several minutes. Mr. Hoshal at once proceeded to the room where he found the door fastened. He could get no answers to his calls, and fearing the worst, he forced open the door, when he discovered the ghastly corpse of his son in a large pool of blood on the floor, while the ceiling of the room was bespattered with blood and brains. The body was on the floor in a sitting posture, the head supported by a chair which was against a bed post, the muzzle of the shot gun being near the left side of the head where the fatal charge entered, only one barrel being empty while the other was cocked, and ready, in case the first failed. Some days before, Mr. Hoshal had gone to his son's room, where he found Wash sitting on the floor and his head resting on a chair in about the same position it was when he took his life, and it is supposed that he was then maturing a plan for executing his designs. Mr. Hoshal and family have the sympathy of a large circle of friends in their trouble. The remains were placed in the Hebron vault last Thursday.

Bound to Jine De Army.

Last Thursday, constable W. C. Moxley, of Walton, lodged in jail at this place, Charlie Robinson, colored, and about seventeen years old. About a week before old Mr. Hind, who resides with his son Samuel, near Walton, was robbed of about $180 which he had drawn as a pensioner of the war of '12. The money was taken from under the old gentleman's head in the latter part of the night, and when it was being removed Mr. Hind was aroused and gave the thief a blow with his hand, but he made a successful exit before the family was aroused. Suspicion pointed to the negro boy, Charlie Robinson, who had been carrying in fuel for the old gentleman, as the guilty party. Constable Moxley was put to work on the case a day or two after, and at once proceeded to Crittenden in search of the boy. At Crittenden he learned that Robinson had been there and seemed to be flush, having made several purchases of the merchants. Continuing on the trail he followed the negro to Verona where he had been spending money freely and had taken the train for Louisville, to which place he was pursued by Moxley who, with the assistance of a police officer found him at the barracks, where he had joined the army and donned a blue suit. Moxley took charge of the new recruit and returned to Walton with him, where he waived an examination and was committed in default of $300 bail. The negro had spent all the money before he was captured, and a pistol, watch and overcoat he had bought were pawned. He does not deny the theft, and says when he opened the pocket book and discovered the large amount it contained, it frightened him.

Halloo Exchange.

A proposition to put up a telephone line from Cincinnati to this place, by way of Constance and Hebron, has been made to the people of Hebron by a Cincinnati company which agrees to put up the line and keep it in order for $600 per annum, and we understand that its building as far as Hebron is assured, and for Burlington to secure it, it is necessary for her to raise the sum of $250. Now, if ten men can be found who are willing to take $25 stock each in the enterprise, no doubt it will be put through at an early day. Telephones are connecting many rural towns, with the large cities, and we have noticed no complaint being made on account of their inefficiency.

A Narrow Escape.

While sitting near the fire, a few days since, dressing one of her children, Mrs. J. M. Conner's apron caught fire, and before she succeeded in extinguishing the flames, one of her hands was severely burned. There was no one at home at the time except Mrs. Conner and her little children, and had it not been for her great presence of mind, she might have been seriously burned.

There has been some extensive caving of the river bank at Bellevue. A house owned by Mrs. Bettie Rice at the top of the bank and at the left of the road leading to the river went in one night last week, and William Grant and Philip Lindenburg left their houses the same night for fear they would go in also. The cavings of the banks have put the wharf in a condition that a wagon can not reach the river at all.

The Boone County Insurance Company did a rushing business Monday.

NEIGHBORHOOD NEWS.

Florence X Roads.

M. B. Tanner's family are all sick.

James Horton gave the youngsters a dance, Saturday night.

Lewis and Richard Popham's team ran off the other day with a sled, and one of them was so badly snagged that it died.

Prof. Cole's school closed last Friday. The scholars gave an oyster supper and the professor treated to the candy. Mr. Cole is a good teacher.

Bullitsville.

The dancing club started out with a membership of 12 couple, but it now has double that number. This is only an instance by which the Recorder world may know of the enterprise of our youngsters.

The literary club is doing good work. Subject for discussion next meeting: "Affirmed that it is a blessing to be compelled to labor." At the recent election Owen Watts was elected president; Chas. Duncan, sect'y.; W. C. Watts, prosecuting atty, Jno. Duncan, critic.

Business has resumed its bustle of activity once more, and things are again in their former channels, with the exception of our Francesville correspondent, who has branched off, and is now making the delicate sweets from the sugar maple. Any one in need of such should apply to Batterson, via. Hebron through the medium of the telephone.

Hebron.

Wood sawings are the order of the day.

There are now four corpses in the vault at this place.

Wm. McGlasson is confined to his room with the rheumatism.

Richard Gordon, who got his leg broken some time since is able to be about again.

James Shannon, of Erlanger, was visiting his parents and friends at this place last Sunday.

The funeral of Mr. Wash Hoshal was preached last Thursday, at the Luthern church, by Robt. Kirtley.

John Aylor and Chas. Clore are the champion wood sawers in this community. So says Tom Rouse.

Rev. Rouston, of Springfield, Ohio, occupied the pulpit at the Lutheran church last Sunday morning and evening.

Prof. I. J. Daughter's school gave an entertainment at the Hebron Hall last Saturday night, which was a grand success.

Bellevue.

Capt. Burns has got his ferry-boat back to McVille, and is once more at the service of the public.

Since December 18th, on which we saw the first snow of the season, it has snowed on 58 days to the present writing.

The public school in Willoughby district, closed last Thursday, it having been taught for the second term by that most efficient instructor, Prof. O. Snyder.

Quite a number of persons visited the landing last Sunday to see the sights made by the sinking of the great holes in the bank.

The last heard from Capt. Pepper he was trying to get out far enough to see that hole in the bank. Joe Mouser was seen with a basket containing ten days rations, making tracks for Ashby.

Mr. Lewis Clore and family, have moved on the Dose Grant place. Uncle Sam Wingate and family have moved in the Daniels house. Mr. W. Grant and family have moved in one of Jonas Clores houses.

Several days ago, we took a look at Laughery Island, and we find that the high water has left it in a bad shape to cultivate. Some places gravel and sand are piled 8 or 10 feet high—deep washes between. Most of the willow crop growing there has been covered up.

Last Tuesday night and Friday, the whole front bank on the river, beginning at John Smith's upper line and extending up the river nearly 400 yards, sank to the water's level, which had reached the gravel at the foot of the bluff bank. At some places the chasm reaches back to the second bank, a distance of 200 feet with a depth of forty feet. A house near the landing, the property of Mrs. Bettie Rice, went in with the bank. Fortunately no one was in it at the time, it having been vacated during the high water. The break having reached the foundation of Philip Lindenburg's residence, he moved out, and succeeded in tearing it down and moving it back. The road leading to the river has sunk 20 feet, leaving no passage to the river. Boats are putting off their freight and passengers below the town. William Grant and family have left their house, fearing that it might share the fate of its near neighbor. The loss thus far is about $1,000. At present, it appears that the whole first bottom in front of town will sink into the river. We are left without a landing; who will be the first to propose a practical plan for building one, and back the plan with $100? Don't be backward—come right out and let us hear from you.

Rabbit Hash.

Our town has gone through its annual emersion, and we feel safe from the ravages of the waters again for a year, as we have had the same experience in three consecutive Februaries.

This place was cut off from all communications, by land, with the outer world for several days by the drift that was left in the roads by the flood, and our supervisor has been very busy removing the obstructions.

Governor Acra left town one morning last week before day, to cry a sale at John Humphrey's. The Governor does a good job at auctioneering and if things do not bring their value it is the bidders fault and not the Governor's.

If you want to come to this place, just start in this direction and continue to travel until you come to the dirtiest, filthiest, muddiest and worst wrecked place anyone ever saw, and then stop, and we will insure you to be in Rabbit Hash.

J. Lewis, of Louisville, was here last week, looking after the tobacco purchased for him by B. C. Calvert. He has bought Mr. Calvert's property and talks of moving here this summer. The warehouse was moved off its foundation, and he is having it repaired so as to go on with the work. The tobacco was moved to a place of safety before the house left its foundation. This building will be moved to a point above high water mark.

The steamer Lily arrived here one day last week, with goods that Uncle Sam left the flood sufferers in his last will. His agent appointed J. A. Wilson his commissioner to divide and distribute the goods among the heirs of the estate. As is the case in all divisions of estates, some of the heirs think they did not get their share, and talk of reporting the commissioner to the government, to see if they can break the will. So we will not be surprised if we have a government investigating committee visit Rabbit Hash to inquire into the distribution of the estate, as some of the lawful heirs—at least they claim to be such—are so dissatisfied about the matter that they say they will leave the place if they have to go out edgewise. Now, I don't want anyone to think it's "me that's gwine to leave, for I am gwine" to stay right here as long as the government sends meat and bread to this place, and will be as happy as a big sunflower, and will continue to sing

"The life-boat, the jelly-boat,
The pinnace and the yawl;
But the relief-boat, my boys,
Is the best boat of all."

I don't think there ever was a more desolate and forlorn looking crowd ever went on board a boat, than that which boarded the Lilly when she landed here to put off supplies. Each one had on his best looks for the occasion, and was satisfied he had suffered more than anybody else, and wanted to tell his own story. There appeared to be but one who wanted to do any thing for the others. He told the officer that he reported 46 names the first time, and did not get half enough; so he must have wanted to do a good part by us, and either the looks of the crowd, or the beseeching appeal of the spokesman melted the heart of the officer, judging from the quantities of meat, flour, sugar, coffee and other things sent ashore to satisfy the insatiable appetites of the hungry crowd. Mr. Editor, it would have done your soul good had you been here the next day and heard the children call: "Pap, come to dinner—meat and bread the government sent us."

Some educated thief, one day last week, stole two plugs of tobacco from our sanctum. We do not care anything for the tobacco, but, would like for the fellow to make himself known, as we have a twenty-dollar gold piece we want to make him a present of, and also tell him that the tobacco was not fit to chew, or we would have made him a present of it, as we do not use the weed.

Miss Ollie Pope, of Ghent, is visiting relatives in this county.

Dr. Smith has rented Mrs. Tousey's house for a temporary residence.

Milton Goodridge, of Oldham county, is visiting his relatives at Florence.

J. W. Rice was to check his baggage and start for Kansas, last Tuesday.

Al Day, son of B. F. Day of the Ashbrook House, Covington, fell in a cistern, Sunday, and was drowned. He leaves a wife and one child.

Uncle Milt Hamilton, of Fayette county, was in town Monday shaking hands with his many frends. He has about the same appearance that he had before he went to Blugrassdom.

Mr. A. W. Smith is the proud father of a bouncing boy that made its debut into this vale of tears Monday morning. Webb will have to increase his Florida orange grove another hundred trees.

J. A. Davis was in town Monday working up the telephone. If Burlington don't come up to the scratch with the necessary subscription by 12 m today, the line will go to Petersburg, where they are anxious for it.

The personal property of Mrs. Nancy Hamilton, deceased, will be sold at puplic auction at her late residence in Burlington, Saturday, March 15, 1884, at 1 p. m. Noah Clore, Adm'r.

Sam Cantwell, who was charged with breaking into John Acra's house on the 18th of last August, and who left the county, and remained away till a few days ago, was arrested and brought before Judge Dills, last Saturday, when he was discharged on the grounds that the case was continued by the last grand jury for investigation.

County Court.

M. S. Rouse qualified as justice of the peace in Florence district.

The following road supervisors filed reports; R. L. Newman, J. H. Jarrell, T. Wash Watts, T. B. Rouse, M. Neal, M. Hance, H. C. McNeal, G. W. Utz, Solon Stephens, Ben Stephens, Jno. W. Hogan and R. Hager.

Jno. W. Crigler has appointed administrator of Isaac Clore.

Commissioners filed report in Joseph Stephen's land division and deeds ordered made.

Commissioners filed report in Delph land division.

Noah Clore was appointed administrator of Nancy Hamilton.

W. F. McKim granted merchants' liquor license.

Will give names of road supervisors appointed, next week.

OBITUARY.

Died—February 20th, '84, at 8 o'clock p. m., at Orren Hoard's, Tangerine, Orange county, Fla., of consumption, Taylor Riley, aged 32 years.

Mr. Riley left his home near Richwood, this county, the first of last November, in company with Berry Johnson, for his health, and gradually grew worse until death. Mr. Riley telegraphed for his wife; but, alas, he died before she arrived. His wife had his remains brought to his old home, and after an appropriate funeral by Elder W. T. Spears, they were interred in the Richwood cemetery. Mr. Riley leaves a father, mother, wife and four little children and many friends and relatives to mourn their loss.

NEW GOODS

I have laid in a stock of

Handsome and Carefully

SELECTED PRINTS, GINGHAMS and CHEVIOTS.

New Styles

Automatic Hamburg Embroideries, and hand-made Torchon Laces, and many other fancy articles for the ladies.

TOBACCO CANVASS and CARPET WARP,

Always in stock.

Fancy Groceries,

Such as Caned goods of all kinds, Bakers Bread, Dried Beef, Mackerel, Codfish, Oatmeal, Garden Seeds, in fact everything kept in a first-class Country Grocery.

W. E. PIPER, Burlington.

City Flouring Mills

RISING SUN, INDIANA.

FLOUR EXCHANGED FOR WHEAT OR CASH. THE HIGHEST MARKET PRICE PAID FOR GOOD WHEAT.

mar7-4t28 J. W. Talbott.

FOR GOOD

Boots AND Shoes,

GO TO

GEO. H. LEOBKER'S,

NO 36 PIKE STREET,

Covington, - - Kentucky.

WILLIAM CLORE,

—MANUFACTURER OF—

Agricultural Implements.

Such as Rover Steel, Side Hill,

Single & Double Shovel Plows,

JUMPING SHOVELS, GOPHERS, ROLLING CUTTERS.

Harrows, &c., &c. Send for Price List.

My Plows and Shovels can be had of J. Frank Grant, at Petersburg, Ky., and the Farmers' Co-operative Association, Grant, Ky., at factory prices.

MANUFACTORY AT RISING SUN, IND.

R. S. CRISLER,

Burlington, Ky.

WAGON MAKER AND

—MANUFACTURER OF—

ROAD WAGONS, SPRING WGONS, HARROWS, PLOWS, WHEEL BARROWS

AND ALL KINDS OF WOOD WORK.

Also the Manufacturer of W. M. Conner's Patent Right Hay Conveyor.

Saws Filed & Sharpened.

Please call and examine my prices before calling elsewhere.

JAMES S. WAYNE, President. JNO. L. SANDFORD, Cashier

CAPITAL $300,000.

FARMERS AND TRADERS

NATIONAL BANK.

Covington, Kentucky.

DIRECTORS.

James S. Wayne, M. C. Motch, Sam Hind, E. J. Hickey, E. J. Green
J. S. Matson, J. H. Merryman, J. L. Sandford, L. H Dills, F. P. Helm
L. C. Stephens.

The general operations of banking transacted upon the most favorable terms, collections made on all points in the United States.

The Business and Accounts of Farmers are Especially Solicited by this Bank.

dec 20-6m

The Greatest Bargains in

OVERCOATS

AND

SUITS!

CAN BE HAD AT

H. F. BLASE,

540 Madison St, - COVINGTON, KY

UNDERTAKING.

We keep Constantly on Hand all sizes of

Burial Cases and Caskets.

And having just received a beautiful

NEW HEARSE,

Which can be had at a reasonable price when desired.

PRICES GUARANTEED LESS THAN CITY PRICES!

DAVIS BROS., - - HEBRON, KY.

Subscribe for the Recorder.

THE RECORDER.
RIDDELL & HALL, Publishers.
BURLINGTON, : : KENTUCKY.

THE OLD CLOCK.

The old clock croons on the sun-kissed wall—
Tick, tock! tick, tock!
The merry seconds to the minutes call
Tick, tock! 'Tis morn!

A maiden sits at the mirror there,
And smiles as she braids her golden hair;
O, in the light, but her face is fair!
Tick, tock! tick, tock!

Far over the sea the good ship brings
The lover of whom the maiden sings;
From the stanchions to the last leaf springs;
Tick, tock! tick, tock!

The old clock laughs on the flower-decked wall—
Tick, tock! tick, tock!
The rose-winged hours elude their thrall;
Tick, tock! tick, tock!

The lover's pride and his love are blest:
The maiden is folded to his breast;
On her brow the holy blossoms rest;
Tick, tock! tick, tock!

O, thrice, thrice long, may the sweet bells chime
As echoing this thro' future time!
Still, to my heart beats that measured rhyme—
Tick, tock! tick, tock!

The old clock moans on the crumbling wall—
Tick, tock! tick tock!
The dreary years into eternity fall;
Tick, tock! 'Tis night!

The thread that yon spider draws with care
Across the gleam of the mirror there
Seems like the ghost of a golden hair;
Tick, tock! tick, tock!

The sweet bells chime for those who may wed;
The heroll snow crowns many a head—
But tree and maiden and lover are dead!
Tick, tock! tick, tock!
—Guy Carleton, in Life.

MISS MARTHA'S TURKEY.

Miss Martha sat on the back porch stringing beans; whisht, whisht, from the pan in her lap, snap, snap, snap into the pan at her side.

"Oh, Miss Marthy, I know where your old black turkey hen is!" suddenly came in a quick, sharp, voice almost at her elbow. Miss Martha did not start—she was used to it—but eagerly rejoined: "Is that so? Where?"

"Down in our oat-field. My John saw her," answered her neighbor, Mrs. Baker, as she came around and drew herself up the steps with that heavy, sidewise movement women take when their dresses are too long in front. "He said he knew it was Miss Marthy's hen, 'cause she just run like wild when he come on her."

"I must go right away after her; she'll have t em little turkeys down in the hollow, and first thing I know some varmint'll have 'em all. Here, Polly, take yourself off that railing and come and finish these beans; and hurry up, too; it's time they were on to cook now."

Miss Martha snatched her sun-bonnet from its nail, and was off through the orchard without ceremony. Mrs. Baker merely remarked to Polly, "When she starts out after her turkeys there's no tellin' when she'll get back, so I reckon I might as well go home," and she went.

Miss Martha was a practical farmer. The few thousands her father had left her had been invested in a farm in Central Missouri, sold for taxes. A negro family, that is to say, old Polly and her children, relics of its former slave population, still remained. It had never occurred to her to leave the old place and provide for herself. When one of its post bellum owners left she scratched about and got a little something to eat, wrapped her rags around her and calmly waited for the next. Her trust to luck had, happily for her, never suffered any serious rebuke. It had been with all much the same as with Miss Martha. Said she, "I've got to have some body, so I might as well keep her." So Polly and her children, the two elder ones being able to do a good deal about the farm, continued to stay and be housed, fed, clothed, and generally provided for. Her "shiftless, nigger ways" sorely vexed Miss Martha, but as she despairingly said, "'Twas born in the flesh and bred in the bone, and no amount of scolding or coaxing seemed to do any good." Polly was a fat, jolly old soul, and she dearly loved to come up from her kitchen—down three steps and straight out four from the corner of the back porch of the "big house"—lean over the railing and watch Miss Martha at her work. Many a warning and friendly piece of advice in regard to her treatment had Miss Martha received from Mrs. Baker. Said the latter:

"What do you do this and that kind of work yourself for? Why don't you have Polly do it?"

"Well, I'll just tell you, Mrs. Baker," answered Miss Martha, "I'd rather do it myself than dog around after her."

Miss Martha, as I said before, was a practical farmer. She kept half a dozen "hands" more or less, and it was in strict accordance with her directions that everything was done. Not a fence-corner, not a misplaced tool escaped the surveillance of her bright black eyes.

The thing in which she was most highly interested, however, and to which she gave her personal care, was the raising of fowls; chickens, ducks and turkeys she had in great numbers. The latter, though dearest to her heart, by reason of their more roving disposition gave her more trouble than all the rest. She hesitated not to get up at the dead hour of night if she heard a note of warning from her flock. No kind of weather was bad enough to prevent her from hunting up each individual and seeing him safely cooped at night. Judge then of her anxiety when she had not seen her cherished old black turkey-hen for twenty-four hours.

Down through the orchard went Miss Martha, through the high clover wet with the heavy dew, through the potato-patch, over the rail fence and into the sunny hill-lot where honest John Baker was cradling his oats. With skirts bedraggled to her knees, flopping damply about her muddy feet, but nothing daunted, Miss Martha hailed him:

"Mr. John, your mother said you saw my old black turkey-hen here some place; where 'bouts?"

"Well, Miss Marthy," said John, leaning on the handle of his implement, pushing back his wide-brimmed straw hat and drawing his shirt-sleeve energetically across his damp forehead, "I'm powerful glad to see you."

"Where's my turkey-hen?"

"I was just thinkin' while ago that as you hadn't been down to mother's for a good while—leastways not when I was around the house—I'd just come up awhile this evenin'."

Miss Martha only pulled her bonnet further over her face, tied it tight together so that only her eyes were visible, and turned to move away.

"Hold on, now, Miss Marthy, where are you goin'?" remonstrated John.

"I'm goin' to hunt for my turkey-hen, John Baker, since you won't tell me where she is," said Miss Martha, in a severe tone; though if John had only been observant he could have told from the light in her eyes there was a smile on her lips.

"Why, Miss Marthy, I never see the like! You don't talk about nothin' but turkeys; you're just on the go mornin', noon and night, chasin' after 'm. Wish't I was one."

The light down the vista of Miss Martha's barrel-like bonnet sparkled still more brightly, but she merely said: "Ain' you goin' to tell me?"

"Well, I s'pose I must. You see I saw her and I knowed you'd be huntin' all over, so I just took and shut her up in one of mother's coops, so's she couldn't get away again, and to save you the bother of huntin' her up, and then I thought that this evening I'd—"

"I'm ever so much obliged to you, but you didn't need to do it," interrupted Miss Martha, as she walked off briskly toward Mrs. Baker's.

Thought John: "The darndest, provokinest woman I ever see!"

Miss Martha's life was a busy one; no idler she. Besides her large house and farm to look after, she had her brother, older than she, with three motherless children—a man who had made shipwreck of his life, and now, at the age of forty-two, weak, good-natured and poor, came to his sister to be supported. After trying various plans she found that hiring him as one of her "hands" was the cheapest way of doing this. He seemed contented.

Miss Martha had just brought out upon the front porch her work-basket and another containing the articles from the laundry in need of repair, seated herself in her little willow-rocker and commenced the campaign by a vigorous assault upon a gray sock. The willful southern breeze pushed aside the trellised madeira vines and morning-glories at the end of the porch and gaily played with Miss Martha's crinkly black hair. As she gently rocked and darned and thought—who knows of what?—she looked toward her garden and saw, swinging along the path—the tall, sweet corn on the one side, the delicate-leafed red berried asparagus on the other—the yellow sun-bonnet of her neighbor, Mrs. Baker, and knew she was going to have a visitation.

That was one of the things Northern Miss Martha couldn't understand, how these Southern women could start out every day and spend the whole afternoon with never a bit of work. Mrs. Baker was a most estimable woman, albeit much given to this practice.

Said she: "Just thought I'd come up and see how you all was," and she sat down on the top step and fanned herself with her apron.

"Have a chair, Mrs. Baker."

"No, thank you, Miss Marthy; I'd just as lief set here. Say, I want to swap a settin' of my Brahmy's for a settin' of your Plymouth Rocks. Look here," and she raised the lid o a little basket she had and showed a baker's dozen large, creamy eggs.

Said Miss Martha: "I shall be only too glad to exchange; but I can't be positive that I can give you the pure Plymouth Rock, my eggs now are a miscellaneous lot."

"What did you say? Miss Philaneous eggs? Who is she? I don't know anybody by that name in this neighborhood."

"Oh, no, you misunderstood me; I meant to say that my eggs now were not any kind in particular, but a collection of all sorts."

"Oh, well, my hens are doing pretty well just now," and Mrs. Baker went on talking about her luck with chickens, now hitching her sleeves a trifle higher, now shifting her seat from step to chair and back again.

Sitting there with the afternoon sunlight glinting her handsome, wavey, iron-gray hair, with her fidgety, funny ways, she formed a study. A woman left destitute of husband and fortune by the war, she had set bravely to work to earn a living and a home. She and her son, now several years a man, had been fairly successful in their labors and owned the large farm next Miss Martha's. Inured to the "bone-labor of the wash-tub, the ironing-table, the churn and the garden," she could never sit still. Nervous in action and speech, she yet had a peculiar drawl about the ends of words and sentences. It sometimes seemed as if, having gone briskly two-thirds of the way through a sentence, she was suddenly struck with the insignificance of it all, and, disgusted, let it trail off into silence. She was constantly in motion, rolling up her sleeves, cracking her finger-joints, folding together her sun-bonnet, or pulling from their stiched grooves therein the half-cylindered corn-stalks.

She and Miss Martha talked on, the hum of their voices frequently broken in upon by the strong, broad accents of Polly, who was leaning over the railing with a basket of since by scarlet tomatoes from the garden for supper.

"Miss Marthy, did you know Tim Robi'son had got back?"

"No; has he? when did he come?"

"Last night. Come to stay, I guess. It'd a been better for his wife if he'd a left her fur good. He don't do nothin' towards keep'n' the family, nohow;" and she untied her apron strings.

"I just tell you, Mrs. Baker," said Miss Martha, now mending her brother's coat, "I've got no patience with such men. When a woman has to support a husband, I think she'd better dispense with him."

Miss Martha forgets that her brother is a living witness to the fact that her bark is worse than her bite. She went on:

"Have you heard from Lore's lately?"

"Yes, I heered day afore yesterday. The baby's some better, but they're goin' to lose their cow. She strayed off down into Hog Holler an' a snake bit her."

"Yes, that's just Lore's way. If he'd a had any fences the cow'd a stayed where he put her. How's Mrs. Lore?"

"She's been havin' chills again. Does seem as though Lore had a hard time of it," throwing her bonnet on her head. "Law, yes; but what else can you expect? they're a do-less set all round. I guess I'll have to go down to-morrow and see what they need."

"When do you reckon you'll trash your wheat, Miss Marthy?" getting up this time, but pulling the bonnet off.

"Not till week after next, I guess. I've got to get my oats in first; it's just dead-ripe. Have you had any roastin'-ears yet?"

"No, our's ain't very forrad. John's been wishin' for some, too. John's so fond of 'em," hanging the long-suffering bonnet on the railing and wrapping her hands in her apron.

The tree-shadows on the grass were very long, and Miss Martha's cat was stretching himself after his afternoon nap.

"Well, Miss Marthy, if you'll get me my eggs, guess I'll go home," settling the bonnet well down on her head.

Without forming any conclusion from this action, however, for Mrs. Baker frequently put on her bonnet half a dozen times during her stay to finally go home without it, Miss Martha said:

"Oh! you must stay for supper now, Mrs. Baker; it'll be ready in just a little while."

"No, thank you, Miss Marthy; I must go and get John's supper." She was now nervously folding and unfolding her arms, with a movement very similar to that with which she wrung her clothes from the suds.

"Be sure and get a mess of corn as you go through the garden," said Miss Martha.

"Miss Marthy! Miss Marthy! Whur in sense are y'? Better come down hyur. Mr. John Baker, he just came by an' he sed he seed them young yaller turkeys of yourn in the road down by the butcher's, an' that ornery Bill's boy out with a gun!"

Polly's rich, rolling voice sent these words up the stairs into Miss Martha's cool room, where she was sewing one hot August afternoon.

"What!" exclaimed Miss Martha. "Well, I'll just have to go straight off and see to them, or they'll every last one be killed."

Quickly on with bonnet and gloves, she was off down the gleaming white road, like that famous war-horse who sniffed the battle from afar.

She soon beheld her enemy sitting on the fence beneath a tree at the roadside; a slim, sallow lad, bare-footed, straw hat, dirty unbleached muslin shirt, blue overalls, "galluses," which drew the waistband of the same up under his arms.

"Jack Bills," began Miss Martha, "what in the name of sense are you doin' with that gun?"

"Paw's," said he.

"Well, he'd no business to let you have it. Been shootin' turkeys?"

"No, ma am."

"Seen any?"

"No, ma'am."

"I know better."

"Who told you so?"

Miss Martha was unguarded enough to answer.

"Mr. John Baker."

"Ho! Humph! Hello, Mr. John Baker."

"Never you mind. Where were the turkeys?"

"Down yan way," with a nod.

"What did you do to them?"

"Never done nothin'."

"Don't tell me! What did you do?"

"Nothin'; only but fire a stone at one of 'em. Didn't hit"—dejectedly.

"Oh, Heavens! You wretch! Where did they go to?"

"Nowhere; only down the road."

Stiffly marched Miss Martha away. Cried her enemy:

"May be Mr. John Baker'd help you drive 'em home."

No reply from the irate bonnet, set steadfastly toward the turkeys.

Her flock homeward turned, she was slowly progressing when she heard buggy wheels, and a voice called out:

"Miss Marthy!—Whoa!" to the horse. "Miss Marthy!—Stand up here!—I'm going up the country a ways here to get some seed wheat. Won't you go 'long, for a ride?"

"I can't, possibly, Mr. John. I've got to get these turkeys home."

"O, let them go by themselves, and come with me; do now, Miss Marthy. I'd like to have company."

"Why didn't you ask your mother?"

"What did you say? Oh, well, she was busy."

"So am I."

"No, you aint. Do you know, Miss Marthy, I sometimes think I'll kill every turkey you've got.

"Why, John Baker! What do you mean?"

"Well, you give 'em all your time. Say, now, come on; won't you?"

"What! Go riding in a sun-bonnet and buckskin gloves?"

"Yes; what difference does that make?"

Miss Martha smiled.

"Oh, no, I can't. My turkeys. Good day"—and she was gone.

"I wouldn't care'n Jake Bills'd shoot 'em all," thought John.

"Good evenin', Polly. Is Miss Marthy in?"

'Twas John Baker who asked it, and Polly replied:

"Yes 'sh. But she's down in the edge of the orchard shutting up her turkeys."

"All right. Guess I'll just walk around that way."

The sun had set, but the violet western clouds, dashed and lined with ruddy light, still shed a pure, clear glow over the landscape; the vivid green of the corn, now toned by the fuzzy white of its tassels, the dull yellow of the fields of cut wheat, and the soft brown of mown meadows, presented a calm, restful scene.

Coming up through the red, fragrant clover of the orchard was a slim figure, with frizzy black hair blown about over its head, whitish skirts festooned over its arms, an apron full of soft something, gathered up in front. John Baker hastened to join it.

"Good even', Miss Marthy. Can't I help you?"

"Oh, no; be careful—you'll step on those turkeys in front of you."

John said nothing aloud for a few moments, but walked on by her side, pulling clover blossoms as he went.

"When do you reckon you'll cut your second growth, Miss Marthy?"

"Before long, I guess. I wanted to get my new hay-barn done before time to cut this clover, but I don't believe I can. I've been depending on Bill Goss to do most of the work; but he's such a trifling fellow, there's no getting anything done by him."

"Yes, he's powerful unstiddy, Bill is." Another silence.

"Miss Marthy, what's your opinion about puttin' that bottom field of mine in corn next year?"

"I would, if I were you. I planted mine next to it this year, and I've got a very nice stand of corn there."

"This land, jinin' on here as it does, ought to all be in one farm; don't you think so, Miss Marthy?"

"Yes, I've often thought of it; but then I didn't s'pose you'd want to sell."

"I don't, Miss Marthy, but"— She was now transferring the baby turkeys from her apron to their coop and counting them as she did it.

"One, two—"

"I thought perhaps you—"

"Five, six, sev—"

"Might go into—"

"Nine, ten—"

"That is, I'd like to say—"

"Twelve, thirteen—yes, they're all here."

"So am I, Miss Marthy, though you don't seem to notice it."

"I'm listening, Mr. John. Won't you please hand me that board there to set up by this door?"

"Here it is, Miss Marthy. I'll wait till you get done."

Silence, and a prolonged counting, and fumbling with doors and slats. The work could be protracted no further, the last turkey was on its roost, and Miss Martha was reluctantly obliged to turn her devoted back upon them.

John was going to be sure this time she was done her labors, and he continued waiting.

Finally said Miss Martha, in a low voice:

"Well, John, go on."

And if he, there in the summer dusk, his rivals safely put to bed, did not make good use of his opportunity, he had only himself to blame.—D. Dowler, in Continent.

HOME AND FARM.

—The Germantown Telegraph insists upon the necessity for feeding animal food to young chickens, saying this is the principal food the old hen secures for her brood. The meat scraps make them lay, and the variety helps make them healthy.

—The Ironing Blanket: Before beginning to iron, sprinkle the table plentifully with water and lay on the ironing blanket. This will hold it firmly in place and prevent all wrinkling and shoving about. Never try to iron with a blanket having wrinkles or bunches. —The Household.

—Hash made of bits of roast beef or of lamb may be given a very good flavor by using raw potatoes instead of cold boiled. Chop the potatoes very fine, in the proportion of two thirds of these to one-third of meat. This will require a longer time to cook, of course, but it is a dish much liked by many people.—Exchange.

—Court-plaster made at home is economical, and is said to be highly successful. Dissolve one pint of French isinglass in one pint of warm water; to this add ten cents' worth of pure glycerine and five cents' worth of tincture of arnica; lay a piece of black or of white silk on a board and paint it over with the mixture.—N. Y. Tribune.

—Those who wish to procure seeds for spring planting are recommended to order them of some trustworthy dealer as early as possible. The sooner the order is received, the better the quality of the seed is likely to be. If left till late in the season, it may be impossible to respond to it as promptly as may be desired.—N. Y. Examiner.

—Fig Cake: Two cupfuls of sugar, three eggs, one cupful of milk, half a cupful of butter, three cupfuls of flour, three teaspoonfuls of baking powder. Bake in four layers. For filling, take one pound of figs (chopped very fine), a cupful and a half of water, and half a cupful of sugar; and cook till soft and smooth. It will keep a long time, if top and sides are iced.—Detroit Post.

—In winter when the ground is covered with snow and the soil is frozen deeply, it is sometimes curious to note the effect of openings leading down to deep underdrains. The snow will be melted away by the warm air coming up from the unfrozen earth. Even in an uncovered drain three feet deep, a little straw or loose earth will generally protect the bottom from severe freezing.

—One may feast well if not "royally" on a lamb chop cooked until quite brown, then laid on a hot plate. Add to the meat-juice a little water and a lump of butter, with pepper and salt; thicken with browned flour. When almost done, add half a can of stewed peas. When these are sufficiently heated, pour with the gravy over the meat. With mashed potatoes, squash and currant jelly, this makes a respectable dinner.—N. Y. Post.

Barn-Yard Economy.

A dark stream, often of golden color, always of golden value, flows to waste from many an American barn-yard. This liquid fertility often enters the side ditch of the farm lane, sometimes of the highway, and empties into a brook, which removes it beyond the reach of plants that would greatly profit by it. Mice may gnaw a hole into the granary and daily abstract a small quantity of grain, or skunks may reduce the profits of the poultry yards, but these leaks are small in comparison with that from the poorly constructed and ill-kept barn-yard. The most valuable part of manure is that which is very soluble, and unless it is retained by some absorbent, or kept from the drenching rains, it will be quickly out of reach. Manure is a manufactured product, and the success of all farm operations in the older States, depends upon the quantity and quality of this product. Other things being equal, the farmer who comes out in the spring with the largest amount of the best quality of manure, will be the one who finds farming pays the best. A barn-yard, whether on a side-hill or on a level, with all the rains free to fall upon the manure heap, should be so arranged as to lose none of the drainage. Side-hill barn-yards are common, because the barns thus located furnish a convenient cellar. A barrier of earth on the lower side of the yard can be quickly thrown up with a team and road scraper, which will catch and hold the drenchings of the yard above, and the coarse, newly made manure will absorb the liquid and be benefited by it. It would be better to have the manure made and kept under cover, always well protected from rains and melting snows. Only enough moisture should be present to keep it from fermenting too rapidly. An old farmer who let his manure take care of itself, once kept some of his sheep under cover and was greatly surprised at the increased value of the manure thus made. In fact, it was so "strong" that when scattered as thickly as the leached dung of the yard, it made a distinct belt of better grain in the field. The testimony was so much in favor of the stall-made manure, that this farmer is now keeping all his live stock under cover, and the farm is yielding larger crops and growing richer year by year. If it pays to stop any leak in the granery, it is all the more important to look well to the manure that furnishes the food, that feeds the plants, that grow the grain, that fills the grain bin. At this season the living mills are all grinding the hay and grain and yielding the by-products of the manure heap. Much may be saved in spring work by letting this heap be as small as out-door yard feeding and the winds and rains can make it, but such saving is like that of the economic sportsman who went out with the idea of using as little powder and lead as possible. In farming, grow the largest possible crops, even though it takes a week or more of steady hard work to get the rich, heavy, well-prepared manure upon the fields. More than this, enrich the land by throwing every stream of fertility back upon the acres which have yielded it. Watch the manure heap as you would a mine of gold. —American Agriculturist.

Colic.

The symptoms of colic, one of the most fatal diseases to a horse, are readily detected. The horse invariably scrapes with his fore feet, kicks at the stomach and shifts about, turns around, smells the floor, lies down, rolls, remaining for a time on his back and breathes heavily throughout. At a recent meeting of the London Farmers' Club, a relief and sure cure was presented by a gentleman who has been all his life among horses. When the horse shows the symptoms of an attack of colic, apply at once a horse cloth or woolen rug, wrung out of boiling water, to the stomach and to the sides and cover with another couple of cloths to retain the heat. As they cool renew the cloths as often as needful. A large bran poultice, as hot as can be borne, is equally effective and retains the heat longer.—Chicago Journal.

Human Life in Mexico.

As an instance of how little regard the Government has for life, let me tell you a pitiful story: A child was missing from a mining settlement at the edge of Zacatecas, and as weeks went by bringing no trace of him, the distracted parents imagined that he had been kidnapped. Thereupon, some thirty persons, most of them laboring men about mines, were taken out and shot on the merest suspicion that they might know something about the lost boy! About three months afterward somebody happened to look down into a deep hollow (probably an abandoned prospect hole) not many yards from the father's house, and discovered something which excited his curiosity. Closer investigation revealed a small skeleton, the poor child having undoubtedly fallen in during one of the epileptic fits to which he was subject, and had starved to death in sight of home! I happened to be present when the little moldy jacket and muddy shoes were brought up, amid a crowd who wept with sympathy for the mourning mother; but no body had a thought for the thirty victims—mostly fathers of families—who were sacrificed in the unavailing search. —Zacatecas cor. Springfield (Mass.) Republican.

—The fan drill performed by twenty young ladies was a feature of a church entertainment in Brooklyn. They went through these movements: Entrance march, present your fans, the audacious flirt, shoulder your fans, handle your fans, carry your fans, unfurl your fans, furl your fans, flutter your fans, charge your fans, the majestic wave, discharge your fans, the scornful wave, shoulder your fans, the coquettish flutter, ground your fans, the bashful flutter, attack, the angry flutter, retreat, the merry flutter, triumph, the amorous flutter, surrender, the invitation flutter, recover your fans, the repellant flutter, the greeting, gossip, farewell, salute, the Parthian retreat.—Brooklyn Eagle.

—While boys were hunting rabbits on a hill near Richmond, S. I., they discovered some coins in a crevice of the ground where the troops of Gen. Howe built a fort during the revolution. The crevice apparently was part of an entrance to a cavern that had been dug out under the fort. The boys returned to the village and reported that there was treasure in the hill, and the village people hurried to the spot with picks and shovels. One digger unearthed a cavern that had doubtless been dug out by the British soldiers, but it contained no treasure or relics of value.—N. Y. Times.

Junior Vice Commander.

Mr. A. G. Alford, Junior Vice Department Commander of Md., G. A. R., Baltimore, Md., writes: "I have kept St. Jacobs Oil by me and always found it a ready remedy for pains, aches and bruises. When suffering terribly a few weeks since with an ulcerated tooth, I could not get any rest, and I applied it. I was instantly relieved, and my suffering ceased from that time."

Nothing is gained by finding a man out. That is if you want to collect a bill.

Cream and Cold Weather.

What a luxury is a bath in summer. Surely, but a greater luxury is a clear head in winter; just when almost everybody is sneezing and snuffling with a cold in the head. But when you are attacked use Ely's Cream Balm. It cures colds in the head, and what is better, it cures the worst cases of chronic catarrh and hay fever. Not a liquid, not a snuff. Pleasant to use. Quick relief. Radical cure.

As we journey through life let us live by the weigh.—All the Grocers.

High Priced Butter.

Dairymen often wonder how their more favored competitors get such high prices for their butter the year round. It is by always having a uniform gilt edged article. To put the "gilt edge" on, when the pastures do not do it, they use Wells, Richardson & Co.'s Improved Butter Color. Every butter maker can do the same. Sold everywhere and warranted as harmless as salt, and perfect in operation.

Merited Praise.

The universal praise bestowed upon Kidney-Wort as an invaluable remedy for all disorders of the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels, is well merited. Its virtues are universally known and its cures are reported on all sides. Many obstinate cases have succumbed to it after they had been given up by the doctors and a thorough treatment will never fail to cure. Sold by all druggists. See adv't.

Congressional Endorsement.

Hon. John Cessna, ex-Member of Congress from Pennsylvania, writes: "In the space of twelve hours my rheumatism was gone, having taken three doses Durang's Rheumatic Remedy. My brother was cured by a similar amount. I most cordially recommend it. Sold by all druggists.

William J. Coughlin, of Somerville, Mass., says: In the fall of 1876 I was taken with bleeding of lungs followed by a severe cough. In 1877 I was admitted to the Hospital. The doctors said I had a hole in my lung as big as a half dollar. I gave up hope, but a friend told me of Dr. William Hall's Balsam for the Lungs. I got a bottle, when, to my surprise, I commenced to feel better, and to-day I feel better than for three years past.

A Messenger of Health.

Sent free to sufferers from nervous, chronic and blood diseases, brain and heart affections, nervous debility, etc. It tells of wonderful cures effected by Dr. Scott's Coca, Beef and Iron, with Phosphorus. Sold by druggists; $1. Dr. Scott, Kansas City, Mo.

THE MARKETS.

CINCINNATI, March 3, 1884.

LIVE STOCK—Cattle—common	$2 50	@ 3 50
Choice butchers	5 00	@ 5 75
HOGS—Common	5 25	@ 6 10
Good packers	6 35	@ 7 25
SHEEP	4 75	@ 5 50
FLOUR—Family	4 60	@ 4 85
GRAIN—Wheat—Longberry red		@ 1 13
No. 2 red	1 06	@ 1 07
Corn—No. 2 mixed		@ 53
Oats—No. 2 mixed		@ 37
Rye—No. 2		@ 66
HAY—Timothy No. 1	10 50	@ 11 00
HEMP—Double dressed	8 75	@ 9 00
PROVISIONS—Pork—Mess		@ 18 00
Lard—Prime steam		@ 9 85
BUTTER—Fancy Dairy	19	@ 20
Prime Creamery	35	@ 37
FRUIT AND VEGETABLES—
Potatoes per bar. from store	1 25	@ 1 50
Apples, prime, per barrel	3 00	@ 3 50

NEW YORK.

FLOUR—State and Western	$2 65	@ 3 40
Good to choice	3 65	@ 6 50
GRAIN—Wheat—No. 2 spring	1 07½	@ 1 08
No. 2 red	1 13	@ 1 13¾
Corn—No. 2 mixed	62½	@ 65
Oats—mixed	40	@ 46
PORK—Mess	17 75	@ 18 00

CHICAGO.

FLOUR—State and Western	$3 50	@ 4 85
GRAIN—Wheat—No. 2 red	99	@ 1 01
Corn—No. 2	53½	@ 53¾
Oats—No. 2	39	@ 39½
Rye		@ 58½
PORK—Mess	17 50	@ 17 35
LARD—Steam	9 40	@ 9 45

BALTIMORE.

FLOUR—Family	$5 00	@ 5 75
GRAIN—Wheat—No. 2 red	1 08½	@ 1 09
Corn—mixed	60	@ 60¼
Oats—mixed	42	@ 44
PROVISIONS—Pork—Mess	18 00	@ 19 00
Lard—Refined		@ 10¾

LOUISVILLE.

FLOUR—A No 1	$ 4 15	@ 4 31
GRAIN—Wheat—No. 2 red		@ 1 05
Corn—mixed		@ 52
Oats—mixed		@ 37½
PORK—MESS		@ 18 00

INDIANAPOLIS.

WHEAT—No. 2. red, new	$	@ 1 01
CORN—mixed		@ 48½
OATS—mixed		@ 35½
LIVE STOCK—Cattle
Butchers' stock	3 75	@ 4 50
Shipping cattle	4 60	@ 4 80

OUR ANCESTORS' NERVE.

The Secret of Their Unusual Vigor Explained and How It Can Be Acquired.

There was something about the sturdy vigor of former generations that challenges the admiration of every man, woman and child. They were no epicures—those ancient fathers. They lived simply, and successfully met and overcome difficulties that would have discouraged this age and generation. The rigors of the frontier were supplemented by the savages; wild beasts threatened their enterprise and poverty was a common companion. Yet they bravely encountered and resisted all those things and laid the foundations of a land whose blessings we now enjoy. Their constitutions were strong; their health unsurpassed and yet they were forced to expose themselves continually. There certainly must have been some good and adequate cause for all this and for the physical superiority of that age over the present.

It is well known to every one conversant with the history of that time that certain home compounds of strengthening qualities were used almost universally by those pioneers. The malarial evils and exposures to which they were subjected necessitated this. When their bodies become chilled by cold or debilitated by the damp mists of a new country they were forced to counteract it by the use of antidotes. Medicines were few in those days, and doctors almost unknown. Hence the preparations above referred to. From among the number, all of which were compounded upon the same general principle, one was found to be more efficient, and hence far more popular than all the rest. It was well known through the Middle and Western States, and was acknowledged as the best preparation for malarial disorders and general debility then known. The recipe for compounding this valuable article was handed down from one family and generation to another, was known to the Harrison family and is used as the basis and general formula for the present "Tippecanoe," the name being suggested by the battle in which General Harrison was engaged. The manufacturers have thoroughly investigated this subject in its minutest details, and are certain that for mal-assimilation of food, dyspepsia, tired feelings, general debility, prostrations, malarial disorders and humors in the blood, nothing can exceed in value "Tippecanoe," which was the medicine of our forefathers and seems destined to be the most popular preparation of the day.

"Tippecanoe" is prepared and given to the public by Messrs. H. H. Warner & Co., of Rochester, N.Y., proprietors of the famous Warner's Safe Cure, which is now the most extensively used of any American medicine. The well known standing of this house is a sufficient guarantee of the purity and power of this preparation which seeks to banish one of the greatest banes of the nineteenth century—mal-assimilation of food. Any one who experiences trouble of digestion; who feels less vigor than formerly; whose system has unquestionably "run down" and who realizes the necessity of some strengthening tonic can not afford to permit such symptoms to continue. If the farmer finds that his threshing machine does not separate the grain from the straw he realizes that something is wrong and tries to repair the machine. When the food does not sustain the life; when it fails to make blood; when it causes the energy to depart and ambition to die, it is a certain sign that something is wrong and that the human machine needs repairing. It is not a question of choice; it is a matter of duty. You must attend to your health or your sickness and nothing will sooner overcome these evils than "Tippecanoe," the medicine of the past, a safe guard for the present and a guarantee of health for the future.

"The term hydra may be used to represent any manifold evil. If you would battle successfully with this many-headed monster of disease you will find it expedient to keep Mrs. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound always at hand.—Dr. Banning.

Two months ago my attention was called to the case of a woman afflicted with a cancer on her shoulder at least 5 inches in circumference, angry, painful, and giving the patient no rest day or night for 6 months. I obtained a supply of Swift's Specific for her. She has taken 5 bottles, and the ulcer is entirely healed up, only a very small scab remaining, and her health is better than for 5 years past; seems to be perfectly cured. Rev. Jesse H. Campbell, Columbus, Ga.

For Throat Diseases and Coughs.—Brown's Bronchial Troches, like all really good things, are frequently imitated. The genuine are sold only in boxes.

For a cold in the head, there is nothing so good as Piso's Remedy for Catarrh.

Hale's Honey of Horehound and Tar Will rescue the baby from croup. Pike's toothache drops cure in one minute.

Fashion is Queen. Fast, brilliant and fashionable are the Diamond Dye colors. One package colors 1 to 4 lbs. of goods. 10c. for any color. Get at druggists. Wells, Richardson & Co., Burlington, Vt.

Dr. J. A. Patmore, of Riley, Ind., truly remarks: "Samaritan Nervine cures epilepsy."

If afflicted with Sore Eyes, use Dr. Isaac Thompson's Eye Water. Druggists sell it. 25c.

The virus of all diseases arises from the blood. Samaritan Nervine cures all blood disorders.

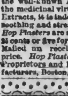
ST. JACOBS OIL
THE GREAT GERMAN REMEDY For Pain! Relieves and cures RHEUMATISM, Neuralgia, SCIATICA, LUMBAGO, BACKACHE, Headache, Toothache, SORE THROAT, QUINSY, SWELLINGS, SPRAINS, Soreness, Cuts, Bruises, FROSTBITES, BURNS, SCALDS, And all other bodily aches and pains. FIFTY CENTS A BOTTLE. Sold by all Druggists and Dealers. Directions in 11 languages. The Charles A. Vogeler Co. (Successors to A. VOGELER & CO.) Baltimore, Md., U.S.A.

HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS

The want of a reliable diuretic which, while acting as a stimulant of the kidneys, neither excites nor irritates them, was long since supplied by Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. This fine medicine exerts the requisite degree of stimulation upon these organs, without producing irritation, and is, therefore, far better adapted for the purpose than unmedicated excitants often resorted to. Dyspepsia, fever and ague, and kindred diseases, are all cured by it. For sale by all Druggists and Dealers generally.

CATARRH
ELY'S CREAM BALM CURES COLD IN HEAD CATARRH ROSE-COLD HAY-FEVER DEAFNESS HEADACHE PRICE 50 CENTS ELY'S CREAM BALM CO OWEGO N.Y. U.S.A.
Two Army Officers. Messrs. Johnston, Holloway & Co., wholesale druggists of Philadelphia, Pa., report that some time ago a gentleman handed them a dollar with a request to send a good catarrh cure to two army officers in Arizona. Both the officers and the wife of a U. S. A. Gen. were cured of catarrh by the two bottles.
Cream Balm causes no pain. Gives relief at once. Cleanses the head. Causes healthy secretions. Abates inflammation. A thorough treatment will cure. Not a liquid or snuff. Applied with the finger. Send for circular. Sold by druggists. Mailed for 50 cents. ELY BROTHERS, Druggists, Owego, N. Y.

PISO'S REMEDY FOR CATARRH
Easy to use. A certain cure. Not expensive. Three months' treatment in one package. Good for Cold in the Head, Headache, Dizziness, Hay Fever, &c. Fifty cents. By all Druggists, or by mail. E. T. HAZELTINE, Warren, Pa.



COLEMAN BUSINESS COLLEGE, Newark, N. J. Terms $40. Positions for graduates, write for circular.

SAMARITAN NEVER FAILS NERVINE THE GREAT NERVE CONQUEROR
A SPECIFIC FOR Epilepsy, Spasms, Convulsions, Falling Sickness, St. Vitus Dance, Alcoholism, Opium Eating, Scrofula, Kings Evil, Ugly Blood Diseases, Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Sick Headache, Rheumatism, Nervous Weakness, Brain Worry, Blood Sores, Biliousness, Costiveness, Nervous Prostration, Kidney Troubles and Irregularities. $1.50.
Sample Testimonials.
"Samaritan Nervine is doing wonders." Dr. J. O. McLemoin, Alexander City, Ala.
"I feel it my duty to recommend it." Dr. D. F. Laughlin, Clyde, Kansas.
"It cured where physicians failed." Rev. J. A. Edie, Beaver, Pa.
Correspondence freely answered. (17)
THE DR. S. A. RICHMOND MED. CO., ST. JOSEPH, MO. Sold by All Druggists. LORD, STOUTENBURG & CO., Agents, Chicago, Ill.

POTASH
Iodide of Potassium is one of the strongest of the minerals used in medicine, and has produced much suffering in the world. Taken for a long time and in large doses, it dries up the gastric juices, impairs digestion, the stomach refuses food, and the patient declines in health and weight. Persons with Blood or Skin Diseases should be careful how they take these mineral poisons, as in most instances the effect of them is to almost permanently impair the constitution. Swift's Specific is entirely a vegetable preparation, and it is easy to convince you of its merit.
I have cured permanently Blood Taint in the third generation by the use of Swift's Specific, after I had most signally failed with Mercury and Potash. F. A. Toomer, M. D., Perry, Ga.
Our treatise on Blood and Skin Diseases mailed free to applicants.
SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., Drawer 3, Atlanta, Ga. New York Office, 159 West 23d St., bet. 6th and 7th Ave.

SHARP PAINS Crick, Sprains, Wrenches, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Sciatica, Pleurisy Pains, Stitch in the Side, Backache, Swollen Joints, Heart Disease, Sore Muscles, Pain in the Chest, and all pains and aches either local or deep-seated are instantly relieved and speedily cured by the well-known Hop Plaster. Compounded, as it is, of the medicinal virtues of fresh Hops, Gums, Balsams and Extracts, it is indeed the best pain-killing, stimulating, soothing and strengthening Porous Plaster ever made. Hop Plasters are sold by all druggists and country stores. 25 cents or five for $1.00. Mailed on receipt of price. Hop Plaster Co., Proprietors and Manufacturers, Boston, Mass. HOP PLASTER

Coated tongue, bad breath, sour stomach and liver disease cured by Hawley's Stomach and Liver Pills, 25cts.

LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND

IS A POSITIVE CURE FOR All those painful Complaints and Weaknesses so common to our best FEMALE POPULATION.
Price $1 in liquid, pill or lozenge form.
Its purpose is solely for the legitimate healing of disease and the relief of pain, and that it does all it claims to do, thousands of ladies can gladly testify.
It will cure entirely all Ovarian troubles, Inflammation and Ulceration, Falling and Displacements, and consequent Spinal Weakness, and is particularly adapted to the Change of Life.
It removes Faintness, Flatulency, destroys all craving for stimulants, and relieves Weakness of the Stomach. It cures Bloating, Headaches, Nervous Prostration, General Debility, Sleeplessness, Depression and Indigestion. That feeling of bearing down, causing pain, and backache, is always permanently cured by its use.
Send stamp to Lynn, Mass., for pamphlet. Letters of inquiry confidentially answered. For sale at druggists.

PIERCE'S IMPROVED CAHOON Broadcast Seed Sower.

This machine sows wheat two rods wide, so that a man walking one mile sows four acres and does the work better than can be done by any other means whatever. It sows grass seed and all kinds of grain. Price, six dollars. We have Agents in all parts of the country. Send stamp for circular. J. WILDER & CO., CINCINNATI, O. GENERAL AGENTS.

XX.-NOTICE.-XX.
As BLUE FLANNEL Garments Of Inferior Quality of Goods are sold as the "genuine Middlesex," which are not made by that mill, The Middlesex Company, in order to protect their customers and the public, give notice that hereafter all Clothing made from THE MIDDLESEX STANDARD INDIGO BLUE FLANNELS AND YACHT CLOTHS, sold by all leading clothiers, must bear the "SILK HANGERS," furnished by the Selling Agents to all parties ordering the goods.
WENDELL, FAY & CO., SELLING AGENTS, MIDDLESEX COMPANY, 86 and 88 Worth St., New York; 37 Franklin St., Boston; 214 Chestnut St., Philadelphia.

Walnut Leaf Hair Restorer.
WALNUT LEAF HAIR RESTORER
It is entirely different from all others. It is as clear as water, and as its name indicates is a perfect Vegetable Hair Restorer. It will immediately free the head from all dandruff, restore gray hair to its natural color, and produce a new growth where it has fallen off. It does not in any manner affect the health, which sulphur, sugar of lead and nitrate of silver preparations have done. It will change light or faded hair in a few days to a beautiful glossy brown. Ask your druggist for it. Each bottle is warranted. Jno. D. Park & Son, Cincinnati, O., and C. N. Crittenton, N. Y.

U.S. STANDARD. JONES OF BINGHAMTON 5 TON WAGON SCALES, Iron Levers, Steel Bearings, Brass Tare Beam and Beam Box, $60 and JONES he pays the freight—for free Price List mention this paper and address JONES OF BINGHAMTON, Binghamton, N. Y.

CONSUMPTION.
I have a positive remedy for the above disease; by its use thousands of cases of the worst kind and of long standing have been cured. Indeed, so strong is my faith in its efficacy, that I will send TWO BOTTLES FREE, together with a VALUABLE TREATISE on this disease, to any sufferer. Give Express and P. O. address. DR. T. A. SLOCUM, 181 Pearl St., New York.

PATENTS
Procured or no charge, also Trade Marks, Labels, etc. Large illustrated book of patent law FREE. Long experience. Highest references. W. T. FITZGERALD, Attorney at Law, 1006 F Street, Washington, D.C.

LIVER "ST. BERNARD VEGETABLE PILLS." The Best Cure for Liver and Bilious complaints, Costiveness, Headache and Dyspepsia. Price, 25c. at Druggists or by mail. Samples free. St. Bernard Pill Makers, 53 Mercer St., New York.

RUSSELL & CO.'S ANNUAL. Just issued. Sent free to all interested in Improved Threshing Machines, Horse Powers, Saw Mills and Engines for Farm and Plantation use. Address Name this paper. RUSSELL & CO., Massillon, O.

"THE BEST IS THE CHEAPEST." SAW MILLS, ENGINES, THRESHERS, Horse Powers, (For all sections and purposes.) Write for Free Pamphlet and Prices to The Aultman & Taylor Co., Mansfield, Ohio.

Lady Agents can secure permanent employment and good salary selling Queen City Skirt and Stocking Supporters, etc. Sample outfit Free. Address Queen City Suspender Co., Cincinnati, O.

CHICAGO SCALE CO. 151 South Jefferson Street, Chicago, Ill. 2-Ton Wagon Scale, $40; 4-Ton $60; "Little Detective," $3. Send for Price List.

PATENTS promptly procured in all countries. American Patent Agency, 133 Fifth Street, Cincinnati, Ohio.

HAIR Wigs & Waves sent c.o.d. anywhere. Wholesale & Retail. Price-list free. Goods guaranteed. B. C. STREHL, 157 Wabash av., Chicago.

FOR LADIES USE. The grandest article. Send stamp for illustrated circular. Dr. H. G. FARR, 75 Essex Street, Boston, Mass.

TELEPHONE with 200 feet wire $5.00. Send for circular. Fitchburg Acoustic Tel. Co., 10 Charles St., Fitchburg, Mass.

$250 A MONTH. Agents Wanted. 90 best selling articles in the world. 1 sample FREE. Address JAY BRONSON, Detroit, Mich.

A. N. K.—E. 968

WHEN WRITING TO ADVERTISERS please say you saw the advertisement in this paper.

BOONE COUNTY RECORDER.

VOLUME IX. BURLINGTON, KY., WEDNESDAY, MARCH 12, 1884. NUMBER 19.

ENGLAND AND SOUDAN.

General Gordon's Acts Are only Partially Approved.

General Graham to Advance and Give Osman Digna Battle.

LONDON, March 6.—Earl Granville has assured France that England intends to maintain the existing conventions with Soudan. It is necessary first, however, to restore the prestige of the English name in that quarter. The acts of General Gordon are only partially approved. Earl Granville announced in the House of Lords this afternoon the receipt of Egyptian dispatches which reported that one thousand men who were marching from El Obeid upon Khartoum had been defeated by tribes friendly to General Gordon. In the Commons Hartington, Secretary of State for War, moved an appropriation of £380,000, to cover the cost of the Soudan expedition. Gladstone replied that the expedition to Assouan involved no change of policy. It was, he asserted, a necessary precaution to prevent the excitement from spreading. Government would adhere to its determination to pay no heed to the remarks of foreign newspapers, and had no intention of assuming the government of Egypt. Such an act would be a gross breach of the public law of Europe. The troops would be withdrawn at the earliest moment possible. General Graham is ordered to disperse the rebels within ten miles of Suakim, but not to operate at a greater distance from the city. When these have been dispersed, it is believed the tribes will become friendly. General Graham, with three thousand men, will advance from Suakim Monday against Osman Digna. The force will consist of 120 artillerymen, six seven pounders, ten mountain and four Krupp guns, sixty-two sailors with two nine pounders; three Gattling and three Gardner guns, and the Tenth and Nineteenth Hussars, the remainder infantry and marines. Osman Digna remains at Handoob ready to accept battle. The Sultan of Morocco declares El Mehdi an impostor. Kassala is surrounded by the enemy, and the garrison will soon be in a position similar to that in which the ill-fated Sinkat garrison was placed. A Khartoum caravan has arrived direct from Dongola by a road closed for years, but now open owing to General Gordon's decree.

The French in Tonquin.

PARIS, March 7.—A dispatch from Hai Dzuong states that the advance of the French troops under General Negrier, upon Bac-Ninh, has commenced and that several skirmishes between French and Chinese troops had taken place. Three Frenchmen and many of the Chinese were killed and wounded. General Negrier has 6,000 men; another French column of 6,000 under Generals Milot and Butre is expected to start for Bac-Ninh early to-morrow morning, making 12,000 to participate in the attack upon Bac-Ninh. Later advice state General Millot, commander of the French land forces, with his staff, has crossed from Hanoi to the right bank of the Rio River and is advancing along the right bank of the canal of the rapids to effect a junction with General Negrier. Another column is advancing to the north, so as to cut off the retreat of the Chinese. Fighting at Bac-Ninh is imminent. Measures have been taken to blockade the delta and suppress piracy.

A Bad Uncle.

ROCHESTER, MINN., March 7.—During the cyclone last fall Charles Quick, wife and two of seven children were killed. Three of the orphaned children were adopted by charitable people. Jacob Schmelser was appointed guardian of the other two. The sum of $775, which had been received as a special contribution to the Quick family, was placed to his credit. Yesterday the Coroner investigated the death of Herman, the eldest, a lad of fourteen years. He found that the boy had died of starvation and neglect, having been sent to school insufficiently clothed. His feet had been frozen some time before, and his injuries having received no care, the flesh of his toes was ready to drop from the bones. The body was reduced to a mere skeleton. While out gathering chips for firewood he had dropped dead in his tracks. Steps are being taken to institute legal proceedings against the uncle.

The National Treasury.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 5.—Secretary Folger, in replying to the House resolution as to how much money now in the Treasury can be applied in liquidation of the public debt without embarrassing the Department, says that after making all deductions for special funds, &c., and providing for the reserve fund, there remains as the final result $7 534,281, which may be applied for any Government purpose, and that the best answer of what he conceives can be done in the way of liquidation without embarrassment, is perhaps what he, in the use of his best judgment, did on the 21st of February last, when he called for the redemption of $10,000,000 three per cent. bonds, payable May 1, 1884.

Revolutionary Manifesto.

PARIS, March 6.—Workmen prompted by Anarchists, have published a manifesto, urging a demostration against the Government, with the view of leading them to adopt measures for the amelioration of the condition of the unemployed.

Salvationists Sent to Jail.

BRIDGEPORT, CONN., March 6.—Four members of the Salvation Army, arrested yesterday for violating a city ordinance by parading the streets, were to-day each fined seven dollars and costs or fifteen days in jail. They went to jail.

Outrage by Workmen.

TROY, N. Y., March 6.—Early this morning three men fired pistols at a non-union boarding-house. The police pursued, firing at the fugitives, and blood was found on the snow where a man fell. The wounded man was carried off. The men escaped.

Temperance Boycotters.

KINGSTON, N. Y., March 7.—Ten towns of this county voted no license. The women of Ellenville threatened to "boycott" business men not voting the temperence ticket.

Steals For His Starving Children.

BROOKLYN, March 7.—A sad case was brought to light this morning through the arrest of a German for stealing milk. Jacob Kline, a milk man, drove up to a house in Hopkins street, at an early hour this morning, to deliver some milk, and as soon as he left his wagon Gottlieb Skicker mounted it and stole about three quarts in a pail. As he was making off with it, towards the house in which he lived, he was caught by Roundsman Miles Orley, who supposed that he had captured a regular thief. "I have a sick child, and my family are starving," said the poor fellow, as a look of despair spread over his face, when he saw the officer. "Take the milk to them, please, and I'll go with you willingly. Oh, I'm so hungry myself." The roundsman was impressed with the truth of the man's statement, and went to his house. He found the family, as the man had stated, actually starving, and the youngest child too sick and feeble to sit up. The sympathies of the roundsman were aroused, and when he took the man to the station-house he said to the Sergeant: "This man is no thief, though I caught him stealing. He just took a little milk for his sick and starving children. I'll take up a collection for him." He related the case to his brother officers and raised three dollars for him. He hurried with this as quickly as he could to the wife of Gottlieb, and she thanked him, while tears of gratitude streamed down her face. The roundsman did not stop with this act of benevolence, but when he took his prisoner to the Court, he related the story to Judge Massey, and aroused his sympathy so that the Judge discharged him and became a contributor in behalf of the suffering family. The roundsman then secured the services of Dr. Creemer to attend the child, and promised Gotlieb that he would try and get a place for him.

A Desperate Life Ended.

CHICAGO, March 7.—Frank Rande, the desperado who made an attempt upon the life of Deputy McDonald, Saturday night, at Joliet, and who was placed in a solitary cell, succeeded in ending his career by hanging himself last night. Rande's right name was Charles C. Scott. He killed no less than five men in 1877, and is supposed to have murdered thirteen persons in Indiana, Illinois and Missouri. He was originally sentenced to the Iowa Penitentiary for burglary, escaped, and fearing arrest, became a tramp. He was afterward sent to the Michigan City Prison for burglary, under another name, and left there in 1877. He robbed a farmer near Gilson, Ill., and being pursued by a party of six, he killed two and wounded three others. He committed almost a similar robbery near St. Elmo, Ill., and being followed by a party of citizens, he killed three and escaped. He was finally captured in St. Louis, after a desperate struggle with an officer, and on his trial for the Gilson tragedy, escaped with a life sentence. His prison life has been marked with three or four acts of desperation similar to that of last Saturday night. He used his underclothing to effect his death, and his lifeless body was discovered this morning.

$5,000,000 of Gold Going.

NEW YORK, March 7.—The exports of gold by steamships sailing for Europe to-morrow will amount to nearly $5,000,000. They will include a second shipment of gold bars, the purchases for export at the Assay Office to-day amounting to $2,363,000; the withdrawals of gold coin from the Sub-Treasury were in double eagles $1,350,000. The amount of these exports is nearly double that of the previous shipment since the movement began. It caused some comment in Wall street, but bankers said that they were not surprised at the extent of the shipments, but that they expected still larger ones next week. At the sub-Treasury it was predicted that the exports next week would greatly exceed this amount.

Heavy Safe Robbery.

CHICAGO, March 7.—A heavy robbery has been kept secret until the present. Last Saturday afternoon Paymaster C. S. Bartlett, of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad, left his office for lunch, without taking the precaution to close the combination of the big safe, in which moneys for the payment of employees is deposited. On leaving the room he did so without waiting the return of the other attaches of the office, who had all gone to lunch. Before his return the safe was robbed of all its contents, with the exception of some packages of nickels and small change, the total amount disappearing, as near as the company officials can estimate it, being $27,000.

Another Horror of the Mine.

WILKESBARRE, PENN., March 7.—The breaking of a link in a trip of three loaded coal cars which were being drawn up the slope of No. 4 Colliery, Nanticoke, this afternoon, caused two of the cars to be precipitated down the plane with frightful velocity. They crashed through one of the doors leading into the breast, where two men, Peter Freill, a miner, and John Agnew, a laborer, were working, and catching both men before them crashed against the hard walls of anthracite. Freill was instantly killed, his body being horribly mangled and crushed beyond recognition. Agnew's injuries were not fatal, but they are so serious as to cause much alarm.

Organizing a Tack Monopoly.

PITTSBURG, March 6.—S. P. Hollister's tack foundry was sold Wednesday to a syndicate of Eastern capitalists, who, it is said, are forming a monopoly of the manufacture of tacks. The works will be abandoned and the machinery taken East. A number of Pittsburgors are said to be interested in the proposed monopoly.

Cloud-Burst.

TUCSON, A. T., March 7.—A cloud-burst occurred at Florence this morning. The water ran four feet in the streets, doing $10,000 damage. No lives lost.

Repudiation in Canada.

NEW YORK, March 6.—An Ottawa dispatch says that the Tories in Parliament threaten to bring in a bill repudiating the Canadian National debt, which is about $61,000,000. The Attorney-General has signified Royal assent to the Canadian Pacific loan, which will be paid out as the road is construdted.

Four Men Killed.

BRYANT'S POND, ME., March 7.—A boiler exploded in J. F. Dearborn's steam mill this morning, killing four men.

THE COLOR LINE

Drawn Sharply at Burlington, New Jersey.

A Colored Preacher Who Wants His Children Educated in the White Schools.

PHILADELPHIA, PA., March, 9.—A writ of mandamus was yesterday served upon the School Trustees of Burlington, N. J., ordering them to admit the children of a colored minister, Rev. Jeremiah H. Pierce, to the white public school. The minister personally served the writ, which he had obtained from the New Jersey Supreme Court. Mr. Pierce is a light mulatto, and his children are even lighter than himself. They are intelligent, bright and well-behaved. The school trustees claim that as the borough has erected a school-house exclusively for the colored children, at a cost of $5,000 and provided it with two capable teachers, the Rev. Pierce should be satisfied. They say if he has any complaints to make as to the studies and the standard of the instruction, he should make them known, so that they may be rectified. When Mr. Pierce's children take their seats in the white school it is predicted there will be open revolt upon the part of the offspring of the pale-faces. The color line has been drawn in the town, and the colored people are already beginning to feel the effects of their preacher's conduct. Their churches, entertainments and lodges are largely dependent upon contributions from the whites, and recently many of the substantial white citizens have politely refused to give when asked. Rev. Mr. Pierce, pastor of the African M. E. Church, says: "I instituted this suit against the trustees, as a test case for the benefit of my race in this State. I am making the fight single-handed, and I am paying the expenses out of my own pocket. Besides my desire to abolish the color system if you please, I want to obtain for my children the benefit of the higher grade of studies that are to be found in the white schools. I had trouble at Woodstown, where I formerly resided, to secure for my children equal educational advantages with the whites. Finally they were admitted, but the trustees refused all other colored children. When I came to investigate the white and colored schools of Burlington and compared them I found that the advantages bestowed upon the whites were double those given my own color. My eldest daughter, who is seventeen years of age, is now attending the Normal School at Trenton regularly. She has already gone through the model department. No objection was raised there on account of her color. The only step further, except the United States Supreme Court, that the Trustees can take in their obstruction policy is to carry the case before the Court of Errors and Appeals, which I understand, they mean to do, but I shall continue the fight until not only my own daughter, but other colored children, are admitted."

Two-Cent Postage Affecting Postal Cards.

WASHINGTON, March 9.—Since the introduction of two-cent letter postage there has been an unexpected reduction in the number of postal cards issued. For five years the annual increase in the issue had been fourteen per cent. Since July 1 last there has been an increase of eighteen per cent. in adhesive stamps and 25 per cent. in stamped envelopes issued. During those eight months the issue of postal cards only reached 256,552,750, as against 260,226,250 in the corresponding period in the preceding year. In consequence of the decreased demand for postal cards, the Postmaster General has sent a letter to the Speaker of the House informing him that the estimates for the cost of manufacturing cards for the next fiscal year may be reduced $35,000.

Elephants on a Rampage.

LONDON, March 9.—While the animals belonging to Ranger's menagerie were being removed from a train at the depot of a town in Kent, two elephants, alarmed at the whistling of the engines, broke loose and careered wildly through the streets, breaking the massive gates of the depot and attacking three persons, two of whom were seriously injured. They finally entered a cul-de-sac and made their way into a house, the flooring of which gave way, and the animals were precipitated into the cellar, from which, after hours of work, they were drawn by other elephants. There was the wildest excitement upon the street.

Quick Time Between New York and Chicago

CHICAGO, March 9.—The first train of the new fast mail, which left New York Saturday night at 8:40, due in Chicago the next night at 12:25, arrived seven minutes ahead of time. Postmaster-General Gresham, First Assistant Postmaster General Hatton, and General Superintendent Thompson, of the railway mail service, accompanied the train. There were seven postal cars. General Gresham stated to an Associated Press representative that the new service is in every way satisfactory; that at no time was the train over seventeen minutes behind schedule time. The trip was devoid of special interest.

The Eastern War.

SUAKIM, March 9.—Osman Digna refuses to surrender to General Graham, and is determined to fight. He has two cannon and one thousand rifles. "The Black Watch" regiment advanced eight miles to-day, and encamped in front of the enemy's lines. It is estimated that Osman Digna enrolled six thousand men at Sinkat.

Train Thrown Into Harlem River.

NEW YORK, March 9.—A broken flange precipitated a local train on the Harlem Railroad into Harlem River to-night. The few passengers and train hands were rescued by boatmen. Maggie Maguire, of Hunter's Point, had her skull fractured.

Disastrous Rain-Storm in California.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 9.—Last night's and to-day's storm was the heaviest for many years. Santa Clara Valley, for a distance of eighteen miles, is a vast lake. Damage to property fully half a million. It is still raining.

Suicide on a Freight Train.

CAIRO, ILL., March 9.—A young man, supposed to be named Pierce, of Harrisburg, Ill., shot himself on a freight train on the Illinois Central Railroad at Irvington, last night, and will die.

—Near Windsor, Benton County, Mo., John Wells, a prominent farmer, answered a knock at his door the other evening, and found two men, who demanded his money at the point of their revolvers. Wells attempted to retreat to his sitting-room, when the robbers shot him dead and escaped.—Detroit Post.

—A watch made of Alabama gold, valued at $27, is in the possession of a Birmingham (Ala.) gentleman.—Albany Journal.

XLVIIIth CONGRESS.

First Session.

WASHINGTON, March 4.—SENATE.—A bill was reported favorably relieving the members and Judge Advocate in the Fitz John Porter Court Martial of the secrecy imposed by their oath as to the vote of the Court. Bills introduced and referred: To provide permanent reservations for the Indians of Northern Montana. Granting a copyright to newspapers; also bills to provide for the erection of public buildings at Dayton, Springfield, Zanesville and Youngstown, Ohio. The Senate then took up and passed without debate the bill reported by Mr. Garland, from the Committee on the Judiciary, to punish counterfeiting within the United States of notes, bonds or other securities of foreign Governments. The Senate took up the bill to provide for the exercise of the jurisdiction conferred upon the United States in places out of their territory and dominion.

HOUSE.—Bills reported: To amend the Chinese Immigration Act. Referred to the committee of the whole. Mr. Hitt submitted a minority report. For the permanent improvement of the Erie Canal, and maintaining the same free to the people. Referred to the committee of the whole. To prevent the adulteration of teas. It is based on the recent recommendations of the Secretary of the Treasury. The House went into Committee of the Whole, Mr. Converse in the chair, to continue the consideration of the Naval Appropriation Bill. The debate upon the bill was prolonged. Mr. Calkins offered an amendment, that after the 1st of July, 1884, the staff of corps of the navy on the active list be reduced by reducing the number of Medical Directors from 15 to 5; Medical Inspectors, 15 to 5; Pay Directors, 13 to 5; Pay Inspectors, 13 to 5, and placing the officers removed on the retired list, agreed to.

WASHINGTON, March 5.—SENATE.—Mr. Garland, from the Judiciary Committee, reported favorably an original bill, providing for the collection of statistics touching marriage and divorce. The Chair laid before the Senate a bill extending the limits of the Yellowstone Park. Passed. The Senate then, on motion of Mr. Sawyer, passed a bill authorizing the Postmaster General to lease buildings for Post-offices of the first, second and third classes, at reasonable rates, for terms not to exceed ten years. A bill was introduced to amend the Revised Statutes so as to give to the processes of United States Courts the same force in all States that processes of the several States have in their respective States. Adjourned.

HOUSE.—Mr. Collins, from the Committee on the Judiciary, reported a bill to establish a uniform system of bankruptcy throughout the United States. Referred to the Committee of the Whole. The House then went into Committee of the Whole, Mr. Converse in the chair, on the Naval Appropriation Bill. After considerable debate the committee rose. Bills reported: Forfeiting the Ontonagon and Brule River land grant. Placed on the House calendar. The land grant, forfeited by this bill, is that to the New Orleans, Baton Rouge and Vicksburg Railroad Company. To repeal Section 22 of the act incorporating the Texas Pacific Railroad Company, and to declare the forfeiture of the land grant therein made.

WASHINGTON, March 6.—SENATE.—Among the memorials presented was one by Mr. Cockrell, from the United Labor organizations of St. Louis, protesting against the attempts of employers, as illustrated by recent events in Connecticut, with glass-blowers and other trades, to reduce the compensation of American labor to a point on a level with the pauper Europe, and praying for the passage of laws to restrict wholesale immigration, intended to effect the reduction of the wages of American workingmen. Referred. The following bill was reported favorably and placed on the calendar: Fixing the rate of postage to be paid upon mail matter of the second-class when sent by others than publishers or news agents. It fixes the rate for transient newspapers at one cent for four ounces, the present rate being one cent for two ounces. A bill making an appropriation of $8,100, to supply deficiencies in the amounts required for gauging and ascertaining the depth of water and width of channel in the South Pass and other Mississippi tributaries, was passed. The Pendleton bill providing for a system of Courts for the exercise of the authority conferred upon the United States for places outside their territory and dominion, was passed.

HOUSE.—The morning hour was dispensed with, and the House went into committee of the whole on the Naval Appropriation Bill. An amendment was adopted authorizing the detail of navel line officers to act as instructors in State Universities and Agricultural Colleges, provided the total number detailed shall not exceed forty. An amendment was adopted to amend the clause prohibiting officers on the retired list from accepting positions in the civil service of the United States, by providing that prohibition shall not apply to any officers below the rank of Major in the Army or Commander in the Navy, who has been retired by reason of wounds received in the service. The committee then rose and the bill was passed—yeas 259, nay 1, (Mr. White, of Ky.) Adjourned.

WASHINGTON March 7.—SENATE.—Bills passed:—Appropriating $250,000 for the erection of a fire-proof building for a hall of records. Constituting a majority of the Judges of the United States Supreme Court to be a quorum of the Court, instead of six Judges, as heretofore. The bill also prohibits a Judge who heard a case at a Circuit from sitting on the Supreme Bench when the case comes up for appeal. The bill creating a Bureau of Statistics on Labor was taken up, discussed and laid over. A majority of the Committee on Public Lands reported favorably the House bill declaring forfeited lands granted the Texas Pacific Railroad Company, and the Senate adjourned until Monday.

HOUSE.—A bill was reported granting a pension to the widow of General Francis P. Blair; also a bill granting General Pleasanton a pension of $100 per month. Referred. The House then went into Committee of the Whole (Mr. Cox, of New York, in the Chair,) on the private calender. The committee remained in session until 4 o'clock, when several private bills were reported back to the House. Several minor bills were passed. The House took a recess until 7:30. At the evening session the House passed a number of pension bills and adjourned.

WASHINGTON, March 8.—SENATE.—Senate not in session.

HOUSE.—Under call of committees, the following reports were submitted: A resolution confirming the right of Mr. Skinner, of North Carolina, to his seat in the House. Laid over. To divide the State of Illinois into three Judicial districts. Placed on the House calendar. For the erection of public buildings at Duluth, Minn., and Akron, Ohio. Referred. By Mr. Dingley (adversely), from the Committee on Shipping—Authorizing the purchase of foreign-built ships by U. S. citizens, for use in the foreign carrying trade. Placed on the House calendar. Mr. Slocum presented the views of the minority, which were ordered printed. The House then went into committee of the whole, Mr. Blount in the chair, on the Post-office Appropriation Bill. Mr. Horr said there would undoubtedly be a deficiency of $2,500,000 if the bill passed in its present shape, and the only offset the committee provided was the cutting down of $19,000 in the salaries of the Postmasters in nine cities. He was opposed to the provision, contending that the postmasters in large cities fully earned the salaries they were now receiving. He invited special attention to the provisions for the reduction of the compensation to railroads. Though he thought it was unwise, he make no special objection to it, his opposition being directed to the cause authorizing the payment of only fifty per cent. of that compensation to land-grant roads. Mr. Sumner (Cal.) advocated the establishing of a postal telegraph, asserting its constitutionality, and maintaining the advisability of such a step. The committee, without further action, rose and the House adjourned.

—The long bridge over the Quinnipiac River at New Haven has been assailed by the teredo, whose destructive work is very common and surprisingly rapid in Southern waters. A section of one of the piles has proved on examination to be completely honeycombed. This discovery has made necessary a minute examination of the entire structure. The best protection against the remorseless industry of the teredo is supposed to be the impregnation of wood exposed to it with the oil of creosote.—Hartford Post.

THE COMMONWEALTH.

Legislative Proceedings.

FRANKFORT, February 29.—SENATE.—The House resolution in relation to the apportionment of the State into Senatorial and Representative districts was concurred in. Bills passed: To establish a fence and stock law in Hancock County. To incorporate the St. Phillip's Episcopal Church, of Harrodsburg. To prohibit the sale of liquors in the town of Mayslick, in Mason County. To prohibit the sale of liquors within two miles of Harrisburg, in Owen County. To incorporate the Louisville Charity Organization Society. For the benefit of the Home of the Friendless and fallen Women of Kentucky. To incorporate the Covington and Latonia Railway Company, with an amendment. A number of local bills were passed. An act to amend an act to incorporate the Mammoth Cave Hotel and Railway Company. Second reading objected to; falls into the orders of the day. The bill to require railroad companies to build and keep rat-proof apartments in their depots for storing grain and grass seed was reported adversely. Adjourned.

HOUSE.—Mr. Talbott, from the select committee of fifteen, reported favorably his substitute for House bill 825, being "an act to regulate the traffic in intoxicating liquors for the benefit of the common school fund in this Commonwealth." It provides that every person engaged in the traffic of intoxicating liquors shall, before obtaining his license, and annually during his continuance in such traffic, pay to the Clerk of the County Court as follows: When his place of business is not within a town nor within one mile thereof, $100; when within a village of less than 2,000 inhabitants, $150; in a village of more than 2,000, but less than 10,000, $200; in a city of from 10,000 to 20,000, $250; in a city of 20,000 inhabitants, $300. The second section affixes a penalty of from $300 to $1,000 fine for any violation of the first section. The third section provides a punishment by fine from $300 to $1,000 of any person who shall knowingly sell or furnish intoxicating liquors to any one engaged in such traffic in violation of this act. The fourth, fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth sections provide for the assessment, prosecution, collection, etc., of the fines and taxes imposed by the act. The ninth section provides that all sums collected under this act shall be paid into the treasury and go to the credit of the Common School Fund. Judges of the Circuit Courts are required to give the act in special charge to each grand jury sworn in their respective courts. A minority report was presented. After debate a motion was made to lay the bill and amendments on the table. Defeated, yeas 23; nays 45. Adjourned.

FRANKFORT, March, 1.—SENATE.—Bills passed to legalize the proceedings of the Clerk County Court. To amend article 7, chapter 28, General Statutes. To amend an act to incorporate the Excelsior Electric Light Heating and Motive power company. To amend the charter of the city of Paris requiring the County Surveyors of Letcher, Johnson and Floyd Counties to keep their books and papers at the county seats. Amended and passed.

HOUSE.—The House passed a bill materially advancing the charge for liquor licenses. The tax is to be graded, ranging from $100 to $300. The latter figure is to apply to cities that have a population of more than twentythousand.

FRANKFORT March 3.—SENATE.—Bills passed: To authorize the voters of Livingston county to vote on the question of removing the county seat, and providing for the location of the county seat and building a court house and jail and Clerk's office of said county seat. To authorize the County Court of Breathitt county to issue bonds to build a court-house and to provide for the payment of the same. To regulate the sale of liquors in Berryville precinct in Harrison county. Passed. Bills introduced. To provide Bibles and Testaments for the convicts in the penitentiary and the inmates of the several lunatic asylums of this State. Mr. Fogle moved to amend by adding the prayer-book of any Christian denomination in place of the Bible, should the inmate so elect. Mr. Clark favored the recommittal of the bill with the view of amending so as to set aside a small fund annually to provide a library for each of these several institutions. Made a special order for to-morrow. Mr. Hays moved to reconsider the vote by which the Senate passed an act for the benefit of the friendless and fallen women of Kentucky, that the same might be amended. Vote reconsidered and referred to the Committee on Claims. The Speaker appointed Messrs. Boles and Wilson a committee to investigate the Land Office.

HOUSE.—Mr. Stuart offered a joint resolution that the carpenter of the two Houses be paid at the rate of $2.50 per day during the present session. The consideration of the Liquor Tax Bill was postponed until Friday. Beaver Creek, in Menifee County; the Poor Fork of Cumberland River; Grapevine Creek, in Perry County; Mare Creek, in Floyd County; Horse Lick Creek, in Jackson County; Troublesome Creek, in Letcher County, were all declared navigable streams. A number of local bills were passed. Adjourned.

FRANKFORT, March 4.—SENATE.—Mr. Sparr moved to reconsider the vote by which a bill to amend an act to make taxation equal in counties where an ad valorem tax is levied was defeated. Reconsidered, and placed in orders of the day. A number of local bills were passed. Leave was given to bring in the following bills, which were appropriately referred, viz: Mr. Wilson to authorize the police judges in this commonwealth to appoint clerks of their respective courts. To better protect the lives of inmates and guests of hotels, and occupants of tenement houses, and operatives in factories, mills, etc. To incorporate the Kentucky Inland Telephone Company. To incorporate the City and Suburban Telegraph and Telephone Association of Cincinnati. To amend an act entitled "An act to incorporate the Kenton Savings Bank." Adjourned.

HOUSE.—The Speaker appointed the following Committee on Apportionment: Messrs. Kehoe, chairman, Bradley, Leech, Walker, Moremen, Jackson, Cram, Carroll, Beckham, Stuart, Hindman. A large number of local bills were reported from the several committees. Among those passed were the following: To prevent the sale of spirituous liquors within three miles of Wallace Chapel, in Madison county. To amend the charter of the city of Louisville. Senate resolution looking to the prevention of disastrous floods; adopted. A bill to amend an act to incorporate the Central Passenger Railroad Company. Adjourned.

FRANKFORT, March 5.—SENATE.—Bills passed: To prevent stock from running at large in Pendleton County. Levying and collecting a tax upon dogs, etc., in Pendleton County. To change the time for holding the Circuit Courts in the counties of Fleming and Rowan. A bill to amend Section 6, Article 13, Chapter 38, General Statutes, known as the exemption bill, was, with substitute and amendments, ordered printed and made special order for Monday, 10th. Mr. Wood offered the following joint resolution, which lies over one day, viz: Resolved, by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, That the present General Assembly adjourn sine die on the 29th day of March, 1884, at the hour of 1:30 p. m. That no leaves will be granted for the introduction of new bills after the 19th inst. A motion entered to reconsider the vote rejecting a bill creating a lien in favor of vendors, mortgagees, mechanics and material men on moneys due and payable on policies of insurance. No quorum voting, bill was placed in order of the day. A bill to amend the charter of the city of Lexington was passed. A bill to repeal so much of Chapters I., II. and III, Title 18, of an act entitled "An act to regulate practice in civil cases," as relate to practice in civil cases. Passed. Adjourned.

HOUSE.—Mr. Moreman brought up his joint resolution to appoint a committee to investigate certain charges of bribery connected with the recent election for United States Senator. Mr. Carothers offered an amendment, extending the investigation to the election for public printer, Speaker of the House, Librarian and Warden of the Penitentiary. Mr. Stoll offered an amendment allowing the Committee to send for persons, books and papers, to subpœna witnesses, etc. The main question was ordered and Mr. Stoll's amendment adopted. The yeas and nays were called on Mr. Carothers' amendment and the vote resulted—yeas 30, nays 21. Bills introduced: To regulate the salaries of Circuit Judges. To provide for taking a State census in 1885; also an act to regulate the transportation of explosives.

Miscellaneous Items.

JAMES W. MERCER, of East View, recently purchased in a lot of hogs a five-footed pig weighing ninety-four pounds. The fifth foot of the pig comes out just at the ankle-joint of the left fore leg and runs down even with the outer one, and is as well formed as either of the others, and its left leg is double the size of the right. In fact, tis a perfect curiosity.

ED. MERKLE, of Louisville, went to his home a few days ago in an intoxicated condition, promised his wife she would never see him drunk again, and then shot himself to death.

THE DAIRY.

—A Canadian dairyman suggests that cheese boxes should be made of pulp, the same as paper pails, barrels, etc., as they would stand more hard usage and be practically air tight, and so less shrinkage and damage to cheese than in elm boxes.

—The authorities of the Iowa Agricultural College make the following classification of the relative values of various foods as milk producers, according to the National Stockman: Corn per one hundred pounds, fifty cents; oats, sixty cents; barley, fifty-five cents; wheat, sixty-five cents; wheat bran, seventy cents; oil-meal, $1.45; clover hay, eighty cents; timothy, fifty cents; potatoes ten cents.

—The estimated value of Canada's exports of butter and cheese during the year of 1883 is $7,500,000, being the largest amounts of dairy products ever exported in a single year. The exports of cheese in the past year amounted to 888,131 boxes, an increase of 173,646 over the previous year. The exports of butter amounted to 100,179 packages, an increase of 3,179 over 1883. This showing indicates a healthy growth in the agricultural interests of the Dominion.

—The Dairy says, or said, that sulphurious acid is a most effective antiseptic and anti-ferment and may be produced by burning sulphur upon live coals upon a shovel or a bed of coals carried into a stable with perfect safety. It will also be found an excellent method for freeing dairy rooms and cellars from the spores of mildew, which have a very injurious effect upon the milk and upon butter or cheese made from milk that has been exposed to them. In fact, from constant prevalence of these spores it might be useful to make a practice of fumigating dairies occasionally, especially after a bad damp spell of weather during the summer season.

—The dairy owes very little to science but very much to practice, says an exchange Science seems to have bungled very much in regard to the many questions in dairying upon which light is desirable, and the present rapid advance in the dairy industry seems to be wholly due to the shrewd and sensible practical men who make use of their common sense and experience to improve their methods. Indeed, so far, in regard to some questions in the dairy, practice is wholly opposed to the opinions of scientific men; that is to say, men who do their dairy work in a library and laboratory, perhaps, but mostly in the former.

—Professor Sheldon, the English authority on dairy matters, says: "As usual, we follow the lead of our American rivals in these things. Cheese factories and creameries we have copied from you, but we have not run them on anything approaching the thoroughness of America. In the art of breeding cattle for beef we may regard ourselves as quite ahead of you, but you are equally in advance of us in breeding for milk. You come to us for cattle, and then you define and develop their milking properties to a degree which bewilders us not a little. Few men in these islands have taken notice of the milk-yielding capacities of their cows."

—Whatever tends to promote the comfort of the cow tends to increase her yield of milk and to improve its quality. The first consideration, says Henry Stewart, for the farmer should be to make his animals comfortable. As he knows how grateful on a cold morning a cup of hot coffee is to him let him provide a warm bran slop for his cows, and follow it up with a generous feed of cut hay and meal. The result will be seen in the full milk pail and the thick cream from the cows and the continuous and healthy growth of the calves. This comfortable lodgings and generous feeding is the key to successful winter dairying, and when butter is 35 or 40 cents a pound it will pay to give the cows the best of care.

The Extent of Our Dairy Interests.

There are few who realize what an immense industry the dairy in this country is. From statistics which have been compiled—and which we have reason to believe are correct—we find that there are in the United States thirteen million cows that are used for dairy purposes. It is pretty difficult to say what the average price of those cows would be, for some of them are very valuable, while some are pretty nearly valueless. Col. McGlincy, the Secretary of the Illinois Dairymen's Association, estimates thirty-five dollars to be an average price, and, perhaps, that would be a fair average. That would make the cows of the country worth an immense sum of money—$455,000,000. In addition to the value of the cows, there are the other necessary investments in the business, and it is estimated that the money thus invested will aggregate $2,000,250,000; and when we pause to consider that the dairy has become prominent only in the last few years, the importance of and the energy displayed in the business can be the better appreciated. The East has given attention to the dairy for many years—some portions of it—but it has grown up in the West—and what a magnificent growth it has been—in a little more than twenty-five years, and the progress which is now being made in the West is greater than ever. To-day Minnesota is a dairy State. Four years ago she was not. Missouri has wheeled into line and is displaying great vigor in dairy matters. Dakota and Nebraska and Kansas and Montana will take high rank among dairy sections, and the three former are already taking steps in that direction. Even now there is almost fifty per cent. more money invested in the dairy than there is in banking. It is estimated that sixty million acres of land are devoted to the dairy; that there are seven hundred thousand men employed in the business; that there is paid to the laborers in the business a hundred and sixty-eight million dollars annually; that there are 6,750,000,000 gallons of milk annually produced. These figures can be carried further; and the yield of butter and cheese estimated, but they will be sufficient to give an idea of the proportions of the dairy, which has been our purpose thus far.

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

A CHEMIST pronounces unbolted flour harder to digest than the white.

THE Porte of Turkey has appointed a Christian Governor for Crete. The world moves.

WHEN Bismarck dies it is not probable that Congress will send any resolutions of condolence to the German Reichstag.

SOON some energetic museum manager will be inviting El Mahdi to come to America and exhibit himself at a dime a peep.

THE Philadelphia Times facetiously remarks, that "just before the battle of Triakitat Osman Digna read the Queen's book, and it broke him all up."

THE London street railroads followed America in the adoption of the bell-punch, but most of them have since abandoned it as a nuisance and a failure to prevent dishonesty.

REPORTS from France indicate that the authorities are beginning to feel more kindly toward the American hog, and that there is every probability that our pork meats will soon again be admitted to that country.

THE square feet of area covered by the six largest post-office buildings in the United States are as follows: Chicago, 70,446; Philadelphia, 67,121; Cincinnati, 59,100; New York, 49,323; St. Louis, 49,028; Baltimore, 29,500.

A PERMIT was recently granted in Chicago for a twelve-story building, to cost $1,000,000. The Building Department charged $388 for issuing the permit. When finished, it will be the highest building in Chicago, and its roof will be 176 feet from the pavement.

THE family of Minister Hunt, who died in St. Petersburg recently, is widely scattered. Of his six sons, one is in the navy, one is a lawyer in New York, and another is a civil engineer in Dakota, another is living in Montana. Mr. Hunt's wife and daughter were with him in St. Petersburg.

THE Boston Globe says it may surprise some people to know that there is no legal National holiday—not even the Fourth of July being one. States, by their Legislatures, have designated certain days as holidays, but Congress has never made any day such.

IT is pointed out that by rapid changes in words the common language in England and America is drifting apart. These changes are taking place on both sides of the Atlantic. Some of the best Americanisms, now not understood in England, are really survivors of good, sound English.

DETROIT for a couple of years has had a professional female beggar, who applies almost exclusively to ministers and church members. Recently it was discovered that all the time she was the owner of two houses which brought her rents to the amount of forty-five dollars a month.

IT is remarked that a reform has begun in French fiction, and that the fashion is now toward decency and a purer taste. The Paris Figaro says: "We prefer clean romances just as we prefer clean shirts. You may say, if you like, that our hearts are none the less depraved, but you shall not say that our taste is so."

A REPORT by the New York State Board of Health says consumption is coming to the front as among the diseases that are preventable, and is more likely to develop in the presence of an atmosphere contaminated with air from sewers or by over-crowding ill-ventilated rooms, by damp cellars and premises, and by want of sunlight and of good food.

A PROMINENT Western business man advertised for a boy, recently, stating that one with red hair was preferred. In an interview he explains that his experience had taught him that red-haired boys are smartest, most energetic, respectful and trustworthy, and also that the red-haired girls in his factory are more sedate and industrious than the others.

THE superb pile of granite masonry fronting on Chestnut, Ninth and Market streets, to be used for the Post Office, United States Court and offices of the Federal Government in Philadelphia, is now finished and has been opened for business. For eleven years this edifice has been rearing its gray granite proportions. It has a frontage of 425 feet, a depth of 175 and a height of 164 feet. The total cost, including furnishing, is about $8,000,000.

OF the seeds sent out by the Department of Agriculture, 1,884,514 packages are vegetable seed, 233,440 packages are flower seed, and there are large quantities of wheat, oats, corn, barley, potatoes, turnips, sugar beet, cotton, jute, etc. The seeds are purchased in different States, New York City, Marblehead, Mass., and Philadelphia supplying the largest quantities. All the seed purchased has been carefully tested before being sent out.

THE RECORDER.

RIDDELL & HALL,
Proprietors.

BURLINGTON, KY. MCH. 12. 1884

ADVERTISING RATES.

1 Column	1 year	$ 80
1 "	½ "	40
½ "	½ "	20
¼ "	1 "	20
¼ "	½ "	10
⅛ "	½ "	6

For announcing candidates, $5. Obituary poetry, 5 cents per line. Obituary notices 20 lines free; over that number (except ing the announcement of the death) 3 cents per line.

Tributes of respect from lodges, &c., $1 50

RATES OF SUBSCRIPTION.

One year	$1 50
Six months	75
Three months	40

THE Courier-Journal, on the copyright, is like the juryman whose eleven associates were contrary. It is about the only paper that sees any good in the copyrighting of news.

THE gentleman from Grant, Mr. Gram, has introduced a bill providing for the punishment of wife-beaters. The whipping post ought to figure in the bill as the engine for disciplining such unnatural beings.

THE Legislature passed a sweeping law the other day, declaring all the streams that empty into the Cumberland river above Point Burnside, navigable streams. All the water courses in the State should have been included.

THE appointment of Mat Adams as the Register of the Land Office gives entire satisfaction, and all concur in the belief that he will make an efficient official. The Governor did the proper thing in appointing a man from the mountains.

LEXINGTON sent a delegation of "visiting statesmen" to Louisville the other day, for the purpose of cultivating better feelings, social and financial, between the two cities. A treaty of peace was made, and the visitors were wined and banqueted, till they were two full to utter their admiration for the Falls City.

A Pennsylvania newspaper has made a canvass of the States of New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana and Illinois, to find out the Republican feeling toward the presidency. Blaine leads as both first and second choice. For first choice he is followed at a long distance by Logan, and still further by Edmunds.

T. H. BAKER, with whom many of our people are acquainted, testified on behalf of Dr. Gale before the committee investigating Anchorage Asylum. His testimony as reported by the Courier-Journal is as follows:

"I was employed at Anchorage as an attendant in May, 1881; left in December of the same year, returned in June, 1882, and left for the last time in January, 1883. I was attendant on ward No. 2, and was in charge for some time of a patient named Oakes. I never knew Mrs. Oakes to be refused permission to see her husband when it was possible to see him. She was refused once, I remember, but it was while her husband was in no condition to be seen It was positively against orders to use cruelty in any shape toward patients, and Dr. Gale never failed to reprimand severely any one who used it. The food I believe was better than a majority of the patients were uso to. I have ducked a number of patients, but always reported it to the Superintendent. I ducked Geo. Day, for fighting I think. He was a mean epileptic. He was a chronic fighter, and I ducked him as a remedy for it. The Supervisor was present at every ducking I administered. The ducking of Day was only one among many and I cannot remember the full particulars. The ward I had was overcrowded, and a very disorderly one. I ducked Maddox for fighting, I think In two years' experience at the asylum I never saw as naturally mean a man as he was. He had to be controlled by force or fear always. If an attendant doesn't control his patients they will control him. I controlled mine. I have strapped several patients, and have also struck them with my fist. I knocked Oakes down one day for fighting me. I generally select the butt of the ear as a favorable place to hit when I have the selecting. That's where I struck Oakes. I was forced to reported this, because I dislocated a couple of my knuckles in the blow. Dr. Gale set the knuckles and gave me a severe lecture for striking the man. I had an assistant, who was with me at the time. He stood back while I fought Oakes, but he helped me put restraints on him after I had knocked him down.

"I assisted Paul, the night watch, in giving a dose of chloral to Rice on one occasion. Rice was in a crib, and said he would take it without resisting, and he did. Rice had not been in my ward but about a week, I believe, when he died. When we gave him the chloral he was yelling at the top of his voice. This was about 11 o'clock. I went back to bed, and perhaps three hours after the night watch, Paul, woke me up and told me Rice was dead. The dose given him was one teaspoonful; two teaspoonfuls was the usual dose. If I remember aright, Paul got this chloral from my drug case. I told one of the physicians about giving the chloral the day after Rice died. I don't remember that any examination was made of him after his death. Dr. Gale was away at the time, but I don't think the man was buried before his return. I don't know that the Coroner was called in.

"Maddox initiated me into the mysteries of an asylum life by locking me in a room and jumping on me. We had a fight. I suppose I got the best of this, as I was never whipped in my life. After I had over powered him I unlocked the door and left him lying on the floor. I don't remember that he was bruised much. I had then been at the asylum forty-eight hours. I don't remember ever having struck any patients except the two spoken of. I did not report this little Maddox matter to any one at the time. I was working under the senior attendant, English, and depended wholly on him. Paul remained at the asylum some months after administering that chloral to Rice. I went to the asylum with recommendations from Dr. Grant, of this city, an Rev. Mr. Vardiman. I think Dr. Gale is a gentleman, and he is very industrious."

A long session of the legislature this winter seems inevitable, and the certain result will be such a torrent of abuse as is heaped upon the lawmakers at the end of every session. Everybody is saying already that after sitting for sixty days "the legislature has done nothing." After sitting for sixty days more it is doubtful whether many more general bills can be pointed to as the result of the winter's work. If the usual custom is followed the country papers and cross-roads politicians throughout the State will celebrate the adjournment of the legislature by joining in a loud chorus of abuse of the poor law-makers who have drawn their per diem from the State treasury without having accomplished any good. It was so at the last session and at the session before, and the circumstances are precisely similar this year.

Doubtless some reason will exist for every complaint made in this connection. Whether it will be just to aim these complaints at the members of the legislature is a different question. It should first be determined who is to blame. There has not been under consideration at this session a single general bill which has not been interfered with by some such bill as the one authorizing the erection of a gate across the public highway on Mrs. Hancock Taylor's farm, in Crittenden county, or the one to fix the time of holding courts by Justices of the Peace in Warran county, or the one to declare McGrady's Run Creek a navigable stream. Every day the rules have been suspended in order to allow the passage of these local bills, the members from the counties or towns concerned stating that the consideration of these bills is urged by their constituents. Unless a Senator or Representative listens to the petitions of those who elect him to office it is easy to see in what light they will regard him as a public servant. While one member is securing the passage of a bill which relates to his own county, which has numerous precedents in favor of its passage, and which cannot concern in any way the other members present, the proceedings naturally become uninteresting to all except the gentleman who has the floor and the dignity of the legislature sinks to the level of a County Court making trivial orders. Such is the statesmanship to be seen at Frankfort today.

There was passed at the last session 1,478 acts, of which less than one hundred were of general nature. The number of local bills must increase at every session until a new system is devised. The number of turnpike roads is increasing, and not only must every turnpike company have a special charter, but almost every charter seems to need amendment at every session. The number of incorporated towns is increasing, and the charters of half the towns need to be amended by every legislature.

The growth of the State and its various interests makes greater demands at each session for local legislation, so that, unless some change is made, there will soon be needed an annual session to dispose of local bills.

The present legislature has not been idle, except that much unnecessary time was wasted in coquetting with the Senatorial and other candidates. It has passed many hundreds of bills already. The bill recommending Nero Givens' rheumatic cure was one of them, and the bill allowing Mr. Woodcock to sell clocks without a license was another. Several scores of bills relating to the sale of liquor in the vicinity of school-houses and churches have been passed. That the time of the legislators might have been better spent is true. But how could they have done better without disregarding the wishes of their constituents? The people refuse to change the constitution under which this mass of local legislation seems necessary, and the people demand the passage of these bills. Is it just, then to abuse the members of the legislature for neglecting the more important interests of the State?—Louisville Commercial.

STATE NEWS.

Some tobacco beds have been sown in Owen county.

Fayette county has a bonded debt of $285,000.

The asylum investigation at Lexington waxes warm.

Thirty-two convicts were sent to the penitentiary last week.

Abe Piles, of Henry county, sold his crop of tobacco, 6,000 sticks, at 18c. per pound.

Thos. H. Wilson, of Bourbon county, realized $4,920, from his crop grown on 23 acres of land.

A Jefferson county wife eloped with her husband's pocket book containing $200. Some other fellow will help her use the money.

A fire was discovered in a Louisville residence where a marriage ceremony was being performed. After a short interruption the ceremony was completed.

A Greenville druggist was fined $500 for violation of the local option law in twelve cases. The Governor remitted the fine.

Jno. P. Barnett, editor of the Hartford Herald, has sued the L. & N. railroad for $1,052 damages for ejecting him from a parlor car in which he had bought a ticket to ride. The railroad claims he was riding on a pass.

A society of singular intent an purport is being organized in our city, to be composed of bachelors, not under 25 nor over 45 years of age. On becoming a member, an initiation fee of $5 is charged, and monthly dues of $1. None but bachelors can become members, and any member who changes his life to that of a benedict. will have to pay into the society the sum of $25, and give to his associates in club assembled, a supper, after which his name is entered upon a mourning tablet, and he ceases to be a member. All of the club are encouraged by society rules to pay attention to the fair sex, and any one who, having been captivated so far as to enter into or become engaged to marry a lady, and breaks the same shall be fined $50 and dismissed from the society. Other rules are equally binding, which will be printed when complete.—Lexington Transcript.

For Sale.

About a dozen two-year old mules, will sell single or in pairs, also two good work horses. JONH J. RUCKER, Gainesville, Kentucky.

For Sale.

A dwelling with 6 rooms, and 15 acres of land at Rabbit Hash, Ky. On this land is a good orchard, barn and other conveniencies. Also a never failing well. Address B. F. BELL, Rabbit Hash, Ky.

NOTICE.

All persons indebted to the estate of Nancy Hamilton, deceased, are notified to come forward and settle same at once, and those having claims against said estate must present them to the undersigned, proven as by law required.

NOAH CLORE, Adm'r.

NOTICE.

All persons having claims against the estate of Thos. Rich, decd., will present them properly proven, as by law required. Those indebted to the estate will please come forward and settle at once.

JACOB REIB, Adm'r.

Easy to use. A certain cure. Not expensive. Three months' treatment in one package. Good for Cold in the Head, Headache, Dizziness, Hay Fever, &c. Fifty cents. By all Druggists, or by mail.
E. T. HAZELTINE, Warren, Pa.

Cut This Out & Return to us with TEN CTS. Silver, & you'll get by mail a GOLDEN BOX OF GOODS that will bring you in MORE MONEY in One Month than anything else in America. Absolute Certainty. Either Sex. No capital. M. Young, 173 Greenwich St. N. York.

NOTICE.

The stockholders of the Woolper Turnpike are hereby notified that on Monday, April 7th, 1884, an election will be held in Burlington, at which a board of five directors will be chosen to serve the ensuing year. J. FRANK GRANT, Sect'y.

NOTICE.

Persons having claims against the estate of Nancy Snyder, deceased, are notified to present them at once properly proven, for payment; and those owing the estate must settle their indebtedness at once. The sale notes are expected to be paid promptly upon their maturity. T. B. AYLOR, Adm'r.

Notice.

All parties having claims against the estate of F. W. Grant decd., are hereby notified to present the same properly proven without delay or further notice,

J. Frank Grant,
W. H. Grant, Admr's.

Strayed.

Taken up as a stray by Allen Goodridge, living on the Ohio river, about 1½ miles below Taylorsport, in Boone county, on the 12th day of January 1884, one bull about two and half years old, with white head, dark read body, some white on his back, and end of tail, legs spotted up to his knees straight horns and under bit in each ear, and which I have appraised at $15 Witness my hand this 12th day of Jan., '84.

W. A. GOODRIDGE, J P B C

EGGS FOR HATCHING.

From Pure Plymouth Rocks, straight descendants from the show birds of Isaac Daniels and Perley Pickett, of Ohio. My birds are second to none. Fine size, quick to mature and best of layers. For reference inquire of N. Dickerson or Eddie Ranson, at Verona, or Jacob Cleek or Geo. W. Sleet, at Beaver Lick, Ky. You can order them now and say when you wish them shipped. Your orders will be promptly filled and with proper care. Satisfaction guaranteed. Price, $1 50 for 15, and $1 for each 15 over, when shipped at same time. Money must accompany order. Address M. J. HUME, Verona, Ky. 15 3m

$66 a week at home. $5 outfit free. Pay absolutely sure, no risk. Capital not required. If you want business at which persons of either sex young or old, can make great pay all the time they work, with absolute certainty, write for particulars to H. HALLET & Co., Portland, Maine.

A PRIZE Send six cents for postage, and receive free, costly box of goods which will help you to more money right away than anything else in this world. All of either sex, succeed from the first hour. The broad road to fortune opens before the workers, absolutely sure. At once address, TRUE & Co., Augusta, Maine.

AGENTS wanted for The Lives of all the Presidents of the U. S. The largest handsomest, best book ever sold for more than twice our price. The best selling book in America. Immense profits to agents. All intelligent people want it. Any one can become a successful agent. Terms free, HALLET BOOK Co., Portland, Maine.

GOLD for the working class. Send 10c for postage, and we will mail you free, a royal, valuable box of sample goods that will put you in the way of making more money in a few days than you ever thought possible at any business. Capital not required. We will start you. You can work part the time only. The work universally adapted to both sexes, young and old. You can easily earn from 50 cents to $5 every evening. That all who want work may test the business, we make this unparalleled offer; to all who are not well satisfied we will send $1 to pay for the trouble of writing us. Full particulars, directions, etc., sent free. Fortunes will be made by those who give their whole time to the work. Great success absolutely sure. Don't delay, start now. Address STINSON & Co., Portland, Maine.

PATENTS.

For new inventions and novel designs obtained in the United States, Canada and Europe, Trade Marks and Copyright—Labels secured for Merchants and Manufacturers who wish protection against imitators of their goods, packages or articles of manufacture. We are located opposite the United States Patent Office, have quick access to its records, and can give prompt and reliable answers to inquiries. Of our firm one has had thirteen years' practice in the highest courts, another several years as an Assistant Examiner in the United States Patent Office and many years experience as solicitor of American and Foreign Patents. Fee reasonable and full satisfaction or no fee. Best reference given. Our little book "on patents" sent free on receipt of one cent stamp. W. A. COULTER & CO., Solicitors of Patents, 23 St. Cloud Building, Washington, D. C.

NEW GOODS

I have laid in a stock of

Handsome and Carefully

SELECTED PRINTS, GINGHAMS and CHEVIOTS.

New Styles

Automatic Hamburg Embroideries, and hand-made Torchon Laces, and many other fancy articles for the ladies.

TOBACCO CANVASS and CARPET WARP, Always in stock.

Fancy Grocries,

Such as Caned goods of all kinds, Bakers Bread, Dried Beef, Mackerel, Codfish, Oatmeal, Garden Seeds, in fact everything kept in a first-class Country Grocery.

W. E. PIPER, Burlington.

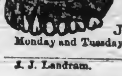
City Flouring Mills

RISING SUN, INDIANA.

FLOUR EXCHANGED FOR WHEAT OR CASH. THE HIGHEST MARKET PRICE PAID FOR GOOD WHEAT.

mar7-tf23 J. W. Talbott.

H. C. CHAMBERS,
AUCTIONEER
FLORENCE, - - - - KENTUCKY.



ROBERT B. REED
Attorney at Law.
OFFICE AT - : : UNION, KY.

F. RIDDELL,
ATTORNEY at LAW
BURLINGTON, KY.
Office over Dudley Rouse's Store.

ALBERT W. GAINES,
Attorney and Counselor at Law,
LAWRENCEBURG, - - - IND.
Will practice in the courts of Boone county, Ky., Cincinnati, Ohio, Dearborn and adjoining counties, Ind. dec-6-82

W. E. VEST,
COUNTY SURVEYOR
WALTON, KY.
Is prepared to do all kinds of surveying. All orders sent him through the mail to Walton, will receive his prompt attention.

E. E. IGOE,

Resident Dentist,
Rising Sun, Ind.
WITH
J. P. Ulrey.
Monday and Tuesday at Rising Sun, Ind.

J. J. Landram. G. G. Hughes.
LANDRAM & HUGHES,
ATTORNEYS at LAW.
Will practice in the Boone Circuit Cour and the Court of Appeals. Prompt attention given to Collections, on application t G. G. Hughes, Burlington, Ky.

DR. A. B. HARRY AN
RESIDENT DENTIST.

Aurora, Indiana.
(Office Over Postoffice)
With J P. ULREY.
Dr. ULREY'S days, Wednesday and Saturday. Office open at all hours. 8-1y

L. C. NORMAN. R. L. [illegible]
NORMAN and STEPHENS,
ATTORNEYS at LAW,
UNION, BOONE CO., KY.
Will practice in the Courts of Boone Kenton and adjoining counties. Collections solicited and made throughout the State. 24 tf 81

S. W. TOLIN,
ATTORNEY AT LAW
BURLINGTON, . . . Y
Office in Court-house on 2d floor.
Will manage litigation in any of the Courts of the State, contracts and other legal instruments drawn up at reasonable rates. A prompt an studious attention given to business intrusted to my care. A trial solicited. 12-1y

A. M. ACRA,
—DEALER IN—
HARNESS SADDLES.

Fine and Cheap Buggy Harness.
BURLINGTON, KY.
I also have a full stock of BUGGY WHIPS, LAP DUSTERS, ANKLE BOOTS and TROTTING BALLS and everything else usually kept in a first-class harness shop.
REPAIRING A SPECIALTY.
Give Me A Call.

THE CINCINNATI
Weekly News!
A NATIONAL
METROPOLITAN JOURNAL,
Full Of Enterprise,
PEOPLE!
EIGHT PAGES—SIXTY Four Pages
Containing all the News, correct Market Reports, well selected Miscellany, brilliant Stories—in fact, the favorite Weekly Paper of the Central United States.
—PUBLISHED BY THE—
Cincinnati News Publishing Co.
AT THE FOLLOWING
LOW RATES OF SUBSCRIPTION.
THE WEEKLY NEWS with one of Dore's Celebrated Works,
"Christ Leaving the Prætorium,"
"Christ Entering Jerusalem,"

These engravings of Dore's fame historical paintings are the best and most perfect reprints by the Foreign Art Reproducing Company, and can not be purchased as orignal plates for less than $40 each in Europe. They are in size 23x36 in. and are direct copies, preserving every line and detail OF THE ENGLISH $40 ENGRAVINGS.

These pictures are suitable to adorn the parlor of any gentleman. As a

Premium Supplement!

A Single Copy, three months	$0 40
A Single copy, six months	60
A Single copy, one year	1 00
A club of 10 copies to 1 P. O. 1 year	9 00
A club of 20 copies to 1 P. O. 1 year	17 00

And large clubs at 85c per copy per annum

Postmasters and other agents will be allowed 15 per cent on full rate (not club) subscribers.

The premium engravings will be mailed about the first of each month to the subscribers entitled to receive them.

As a premium offer it is confidently claimed that its equal was never before made, and would not be possible in this case except for the method adopted by the Foreign Art Reproducing Company to advertise its work.

Do not fail to avail yourself of the opportunity by sending your name and address, with one dollar enclosed, to

THE CINCINNATI WEEKLY NEWS.

County Directory.

OFFICERS.

Assessor—G. M. Riley.
County Surveyor—W. E. Vest.
School Commissioner—D. M. Snyder.
Coroner.—Dr. A. A. Murat, Constance.

COURTS.

CIRCUIT COURT meets the 2d Monday in April and first Monday in October, P. U. Major, Judge; W. L. Riddell, Clerk A. G. DeJarnette, Commonwealths Attorney; W. L. Riddell, Trustee Jury Fund.

COUNTY COURT meets the first Monday in every month. L. H. Dils, Judge; S. W. Tolin, County Attorney. M. T. Garnett, Clerk; J. R. Clutterbuck, Sheriff, T. W. Finch and W. T. German, Deputy Sheriffs.

QUARTERLY COURT meets the first Monday in March, June, September and December. The officers of the County Court preside.

COURT OF CLAIMS meets the first Monday in November.

MAGISTRATES' COURTS are held in March, June, September and December, as follows:

Bellevue—M. B. Green, first Saturday, and T. H. Sutton, third Monday. J. M. Moody, Constable.

Burlington—E. H. Baker, Thursday after first Monday, and Oscar Gaines, fourth Monday. R. H. Sandford, Constable.

Carlton A. G. McConnell, Wednesday after second Monday, and B. H. Ryle, Saturday after third Monday. Walter Ryle, Cornstable.

Petersburg—Jos. Hensley, Wednesday after first Monday, and L. A. Loder fourth Saturday. Geo. Comer, Constable.

Beever—W. M. Rouse, Friday after the third Monday, and

Union—M. C. Norman, Thursday after third Monday, and H. Bannister, Thursday after second Monday. A. D. Riley, Constable.

Hamilton—F. M. Howlett, Tuesday after second Monday; W. W. Garnett, Wednesday after third Monday. R. L. Roberts Constable.

A. L. Brown,

THE HATTER,
Cor. Pike and Washington Streets
COVINGTON, - - KY.
Has always on hand a large variety of Men's, Boys' and Children's Hats, and prices GUARANTEED to be as low as the lowest.
Gents' Furnishing Goods a Specialty

W. J. RICE,
CARPENTER & BUILDER,
BULLITSVILLE, KY.
Is prepared Raise or Move EITHER LOG or FRAME BUILDINGS On Short Notice,
And at the Lowest Possible Figures.
33-tf Your orders respectfully solicited

LUMBER.
Goe. M. Bedinger & Co.,
Erlanger, - - Ky.
We keep constantly on hand all kinds of Lumber, Laths and Shingles. Also Builder's supplies of all kinds.
—Come and see Us.—
may 9-tf

AURORA MARBLE AND GRANITE WORKS,
Aurora, Ind
Will have constantly on hand
Marble and Granite Monuments,
Italian & American Headstones, &c.
I am ready to do all kinds of Stone Work on short notice and at low prices Hoping to receive the patronage of Boone County, I am respectfully,
F. W. KASSEBAUM.

INSURE AT HOME
The Farmers' Mutual Fire
INSURANCE COMPANY
Of Boone County
Is now completely organized and receiving applications for Insurance.
Its Rates are Lower
Than those of any other Company, and it gives the farmers of Boone County a
HITHERTO UNKNOWN ADVANTAGE
In keeping their property insured.
EVERY FARMER IN THE COUNTY
[illegible]
should take a policy at once.

J. A. GAINES, President, Burlington, Ky.	J. H. WALTON, Secretary, Constance, Ky.

R. RANDALL, Treasury.
DIRECTORS.
LEORAN GAINES, A. J. UTZ.
JNO. STEPHENS.

OSCAR GAINES, Agent.	C. L. CRISLER, Assessor.

INCORPORATED UNDER THE LAWS OF MISSOURI.
CENTRAL MEDICAL & SURGICAL INSTITUTE OF ST. LOUIS, MO.
SUCCESSORS TO Dr. BUTTS' DISPENSARY. OFFICE & ROOMS, No. 920 LOCUST ST.
CHAS. L. LaBARGE, M.D., Pres't & Physician in Charge. NELSON CHESMAN, Treas. & Business Manager.
This Institute has ample facilities and an experienced Faculty. While it succeeds to a large business, which has been established for years, it will aim to extend its medical and surgical practice, giving skillful and scientific treatment to CHRONIC DISEASES of the Head, Spine, Lungs and Air Passages, Heart, Liver, Stomach and Bowels, Rheumatism, Dyspepsia, Consumption and Asthma.
BLOOD IMPURITIES, Inherited or caused by impure association, Scrofula, Fever Sores, Ulcers, etc.
DEFORMITIES of the Limbs, Spinal Curvature, Wry-Neck, Diseases of the Joints, Piles, Fistula, Rupture, etc.
WEAKNESS and wasting diseases in old and young men, also all diseases of the genito-urinary organs.
FEMALE irregularities and weaknesses, causing pain in the back or side, etc.
Personal interviews with patients are always preferred. Those unable to visit the Institute will be furnished with blank lists of questions that will aid them in making a full statement of their cases and if not requiring a surgical operation they can be successfully treated by correspondence, and medicines sent by mail or express. To enable us to send proper list of questions applicants should give a brief statement of their trouble.
(The Treasurer of the corporation is of Nelson Chesman & Co., Advertising Agents, and refers to the publisher of this or any other newspaper in the United States or Canada regarding responsibility.)
Consultation at Office or by mail free and invited

TUTT'S PILLS
TORPID BOWELS, DISORDERED LIVER, and MALARIA.
From these sources arise three-fourths of the diseases of the human race. These symptoms indicate their existence: Loss of Appetite, Bowels costive, Sick Headache, fullness after eating, aversion to exertion of body or mind, Eructation of food, Irritability of temper, Low spirits, A feeling of having neglected some duty, Dizziness, Fluttering at the Heart, Dots before the eyes, highly colored Urine, CONSTIPATION, and demand the use of a remedy that acts directly on the Liver. As a Liver medicine TUTT'S PILLS have no equal. Their action on the Kidneys and Skin is also prompt; removing all impurities through these three "scavengers of the system," producing appetite, sound digestion, regular stools, a clear skin and a vigorous body. TUTT'S PILLS cause no nausea or griping nor interfere with daily work and are a perfect
ANTIDOTE TO MALARIA.
Sold everywhere, 25c. Office, 44 Murray St., N.Y.

TUTT'S HAIR DYE.
GRAY HAIR OR WHISKERS changed instantly to a GLOSSY BLACK by a single application of this DYE. Sold by Druggists, or sent by express on receipt of $1.
Office, 44 Murray Street, New York.
TUTT'S MANUAL OF USEFUL RECEIPTS FREE.

VIGOROUS HEALTH FOR MEN
THE PASTILLE CURE TRADE MARK FOR NERVOUS DEBILITY
TESTED FOR 5 YEARS by use in thousands of cases. Founded on scientific medical principles, it has been growing in favor and reputation while its numerous competitors have invariably failed. The direct application of this remedy to the seat of the disease makes its specific influence felt without delay. The natural functions of the human organism are restored. The animating elements of life which have been wasted are given back. The buoyant energy of the brain and muscular system renders the patient cheerful; he gains strength with rapidity.
NERVOUS DEBILITY, organic weakness, and numerous obscure diseases, baffling the skill of best physicians, result fur youthful indiscretion, too free indulgence, and over brain work.
Do not temporize while such enemies lurk in your system. Take a remedy that has cured thousands, and does not interfere with you attention to business or cause any pain or inconvenience.
(Send for a Descriptive Pamphlet giving Anatomical Illustrations, which will convince the most sceptical that they can be restored to perfect manhood, and fitted for the duties of life, same as if never affected. Sent free to any one. Remedy sold ONLY by the)
HARRIS REMEDY CO. MF'G. CHEMISTS. 306½ N. 10th. St. ST. LOUIS, MO.
One Month's treatment $3, two months $5, three months $7

WANTED BOOK Canvassers.
MALE and FEMALE
To engage in the sale of our new and important works of standard character, large profits and immense selling qualities. We offer a permanent and lucrative business. Address The CINCINNATI PUBLISHING CO., 176 W. Fourth Street, Cincinnati, Ohio.

Free! Cards and Chromos.
We will send free by mail a sample set of one large German, French, and American Chromo Cards, on tinted and gold grounds, with a price list of over 200 different designs, on receipt of a stamp for postage. We will also send free by mail as samples, ten of our beautiful Chromos, on receipt of ten cents to pay for packing and postage; also enclose a confidential price list of our large oil chromos. Agents wanted. Address F. GLEASON & Co., 46 Summer Street, Boston, Mass.

TESTED BY TIME.
STRONG'S PECTORAL PILLS
IN SUCCESSFUL USE FOR HALF A CENTURY.
The best Remedy for Coughs, Colds, Dyspepsia and Rheumatism. Insure Healthy Appetite, Good Digestion, Regularity of the Bowels. A precious boon to delicate females, soothing and bracing the nervous system, and giving vigor and health to every fibre of the body. Sold by Druggists For Pamphlets, etc., address C. E. HULL & CO., 18 Cedar St., N.Y. City.

FREE TO ALL.
OUR new Illustrated Floral Catalogue of 80 pages, containing a description and prices of the best varieties of Plants, Garden and Flower Seeds, Bulbs, Roots, Shrubs, Small Fruits and Trees will be mailed Free to all applicants. Ten Roses mailed for One Dollar to any place. Wholesale and retail. NANZ & NEUNER, Louisville, Ky.

WRIGHT'S INDIAN VEGETABLE PILLS FOR THE LIVER
And all Billous Complaints
Safe to take, being purely vegetable; no griping. Price 25 cts. All Druggists.

SANITARIUM, Riverside, Cal. The dry climate cures Nose, Throat, Lungs. full idea, 36 p., route, cost, free.

MARRIAGE AND HEALTH GUIDE. 260 pgs. Illustrated.
All that the doubtful curious or thoughtful want to know. Cloth and gilt binding 50 cts, paper 25c, Marriage Guide, 144 p. 15c, sent sealed, money or stamps, by
DR. WHITTIER 290 RACE STREET, CINCINNATI, OHIO.
The great specialist, Nervous Debility, Impediments to Marriage, Consultation and Pamphlet free.

NEVER FAILS
FREE! RELIABLE SELF-CURE.
A favorite prescription of one of the most noted and successful specialists in the U. S. (now retired) for the cure of Nervous Debility, Lost Manhood, Weakness and Decay. Sent in plain sealed envelope free. Druggists can fill it. Address DR. WARD & CO., Louisiana, Mo.

PISO'S CURE FOR CONSUMPTION
CURES WHERE ALL ELSE FAILS. Best Cough Syrup. Tastes good. Use in time. Sold by druggists.

$288 per month collecting small family Pictures to enlarge into the Malanotype the finest enlarged picture in the world Diploma, Red, White and Blue Ribbon awarded everywhere. Testimonials. Private terms. SOLID GOLD WATCH and $5 outfit free to Agents. Address Empire Copy'g Co., 381 Canal St., N. Y.

PAYSON'S INDELIBLE INK
Is the BEST. No preparation. Used with any clean pen for marking any fabric. Popular for decorative work on linen. Received Centennial MEDAL & Diploma. Established 50 years. Sold by all Druggists, Stationers & News Agt's.

Local News.

Several parties changed base last week.

Big pants with short legs are the style now.

Miss Mary Light, of Covington, is the guest of her aunt, Mrs. F. Riddell.

Read Dr. Smith's sale advertised in this issue, and then tell your neighbor about it.

Rabbit Hash had a fire, Monday, but we have not learned who is the unfortunate party.

The remains of John J. Rucker's child, were taken to Florence and interred last Monday.

A reform in which this part of the country is most interested is a reform in the weather.

H. P. Stephens and family, of Union, were the guests of Burlington friends one day last week.

A portion of the contents of the Burlington jail gives it somewhat the appearance of a military prison.

Thos. Baldon, of Carroll county, was visiting his father, Simeon Baldon, of Plattsburg, the first of the week.

James B. Carder, sent to the Asylum from this county about two years and a half ago, died at Anchorage a few days since.

Among the claims allowed, last week, by the government, is one for $230 and in favor of A. F. Crigler, of the Florence X-Roads.

Mr. A. O. Hall slipped and fell out of his kitchen door the other morning, and was so badly hurt as to have to be carried in the house.

Squire Baker has a strong force of tenants at work on the Gunpowder hills taking up grubs and preparing for a large tobacco crop.

Geo. W. Bradberry, who for several years lived near Piles' mill, has gone to Germantown, Bracken county, to make his future home.

That portion of the river bank that has disappeared at Bellevue, did not slide into the river, it sank down as though falling into a cavity beneath.

Mack Aylor and family will move to Lawreneeburg in a few days. Mack says when the water gets too close to his residence, he will make tracks for Kentucky.

Snakes have made their appearance slightly ahead of time this year. O. P. Winters caught one of the black species the other day that was so chilled that it could hardly move.

Dr. Smith now occupies Mrs. Tousey's house in Burlington, G. T. Gaines, occupies the house vacated by the doctor, and Mrs Susan Aera occupies the house vacated by Mr. Gaines.

Prof. Hughes, who is teaching the Bullittsburg school, has a taste for farming, and as cropping time approaches, his confinement in the school room makes him restless.

The personal property of Mrs. Nancy Hamilton, deceased, will be sold at pupile auction at her late residence in Burlington, Saturday, March 15, 1884, at 1 p. m. Noah Clore, Adm,r.

That a dairy of about forty cows, in a stone's throw of this place, is a successful operation, is a fact not generally known among our citizens, the milk and butter traffic going to Cincinnati.

To a man up a tree it looks very much like Speaker Offutt is jealous of W. C. Owens, or he would certainly extend to him the courtesy of occasionally occupying the Speaker's chair in his absence.

The business of blacksmithing is on the increase in Burlington, three shops being now under way, R. S. Crisler having opened his shop with B. S. Kirkpatrick in command of the bellows and anvil.

H. P. Stephens has purchased Mrs. Tousey's house and lots in this place for $2,000, the cheapest property sold in Burlington for many a day. Perry has commenced moving; he brought his sleigh over Monday and left it.

We have in Burlington, the champion biscuit eater, of the age, he having put under his belt in 2 hours 55 good-sized, healthy biscuits. To look at the fellow you would not estimate his capacity at much more than a link of sausage.

MARRIED—At the residence of Elder H. J. Foster, Monday afternoon, Peter Heller and Maggie Laundon. The party was chaperoned by Geo. Knapp, of Lickskillet. The bride was just from the old country and could not speak a word of English.

James B. Tolin, who has been conducting J. Frank Grant's dry goods and grocery business at the Woolper store, has purchased the stock, and will continue for himself. Jimmie is an energetic young man, whom we would like to see succeed in business.

Floods come and go, but we continue to do business at our old stand in Lawreneeburg, Indiana, and those wanting tombstones or monuments will find our prices and designs most satisfactory. John Beall, of Hebron, is our agent in Boone county. Hurschart & Co., Lawreneeburg, Ind.

A few days since Mr. Alfred Cason took from his pond 40 dead German Carps. Mr. Cason is not certain whether they were smothered under the ice or whether they froze to death. These fish were put in the pond a little over one year ago, and when taken out measured 17 inches in length.

BOONE COUNTY.

While here last week, "Uncle Milt." Hamilton exhibited to us a tax book showing with what enormous taxes the citizens of Boone county were burdened in 1813, and that our tax payers may compare the present with yo olden times in that particular, we culled the two following lists, and the amount assessed against same as appears from the ancient record:

REUBEN GRAVES,

500 acres 2d rate land	$1 70
2 levies, 7 slaves and 8 horses	1 99½
Total tax	$3 69½

JOEL GARNETT,

217 acres land	$ .80
1 levy	.50
Total tax	$1 30

From another book in his possession, we culled the following, which gives some information in regard to the leading men in our county in 1847. The space allotted to Boone county in the book, was introduced by the statement that Boone county was formed in 1798, which makes it in the 87th year of its age; and in 1847 the County Court was, as it is now, held on the first Monday in each month, which almost licenses us to say, "Our County Court has been held on the first Monday in each month since a time to which the memory of man runneth not to the contrary." In 1847 there were 17 Justices of the Pence, as appears by the Register, to wit: Benj. Watts, Jeremiah Garnett, Henry F. James, James Corbin, John Wallace, Joseph C. Foster, James N. Stephens, John Gaines, Thomas P. Johnson, Joseph C. Hughes, Chasteen Scott, Washington Watts, Sam Hind, Wilson Harper, James C. Shepherd, Andrew Boyle and Thomas Roberts.

Of the above named Justices but three James N. Stephens, Sam Hind and Jas. C. Shepherd are living.

The office of Sheriff was filled by Robert Vickers and James A. Pritchard was his deputy, while I. G. Hamilton shoved the quill in the County Clerk's office, in which office he had an extensive career. Edward F. Vauter was the worthy County Attorney at that time, and continued to be the county's legal adviser until his death in 1863. Benjamin W. Sherrill presided over the jail and its inmates, and Edward Graves held the high salaried (?) office of Coroner, to the entire satisfaction of his constituents.

The county police force contained the names of the following officient constables, who were terrors to the evil doers: Sandy Ryle, V. M. Calvert, E. A. Hughes, James Calvert, W. W. Hedges, Samuel Hardesty, William Herndon and Thomas Cushman. Of these E. A. Hughes and William Herndon are the only survivors.

M. S. Rice was the County Surveyor, and he and the compass and chain have been intimate friends from that day to this, and Mr. Rice can now chain a piece of land as quickly as any man.

The tax assessors were Milton Hamilton and Peter Clarkson, only the former of whom is alive, and looks like he is good for half century more of this life's pains and pleasures.

The people's legal business was kept properly adjusted by the following array of attorneys: Edmond F. Vauter, E. S. Armstrong, Charles Chambers, Jas. W. Calvert, John Cave and Wm. Holden. Our worthy townsman, J. W. Calvert being the only one now living.

The Boone County Medical Faculty was composed of the following knights of the pill-sack: Henry McGuffy and Elisha Morgan, Petersburg; Thomas J. Trundle, Richwood; James R. Hawkins, Landing (now Hamilton); Samuel G. Merdiger and John H. Stevenson, Florence; James T. Grubbs, B. W. Chamblin, David M. Poland and Richard Collins, Burlington. Dr. Grubbs is the only one now living, and resides at Taylorport.

At that early date county stores were not to be found at every cross road, and the mercantile business of the county was very limited as to the number engaged in it, Hawes & Latimer, B. W. Sherrill, B. G. Wills, Geo. H. Scott, being credited to Burlington; Ezra K. Fish to Florence; William Hayden to Taylorport; M. M. McManama to Hamilton and Thos. Stephens to Rabbit Hash.

Real Estate Conveyances.

G. B. McMullen to James R. Akin, lot in McVille—$60.

E. H. Baker to T. M. Rich, lot at Big Bone Springs—$200.

A. J. Litterell to Mary Ross, 55¼ acres, near Verona—$2,375.

R. K. Conner to Moses Lane, lot in Union—$50.

John H. Corbin to Matilda Lane, 1¼ acres near Union—$1,200.

B. M. Allen to C. W. Hanna, 94 acres on Gunpowder—love and affection.

Joshua Griffith to D. G. Stewart, 1½ acres near Rabbit Hash—$600.

J. W. Vest to Thos. A. Johnson, ½ interest in lot No. 7 in division of lands of John Florence—$250.

John J. Berkshire and wife to John Sebree, 35¼ acres on Gunpowder—$550.

Minerva T. Meyers to W. S. Meyers, house and lot in Florence—$380.

John C. Sebree to Chas. J. Sebree, 10s, 3r, 15p, on Woolper—$1,000.

Eliz. Craven, &c., to John T. Craven lot in Burlington—$175.

J. D. Gaines to John D. Smith, lot in Union—$500.

Benj. Quick to J. C. Hankins, part of lot No. 6. in C. Quick's land division—$755.

John Barton to Walton M. Lampton 100 acres near Florence—$8,000.

Ellis J. Hogan to W. J. Rice, dower interest in 80 acres of land near Burlington—$1,100.

If you have a watch or clock that needs repairing, or if you want to buy fine jewelry go to M. C. Moteh, jeweler, N. W. Cor. Madison and Pike Strs. Covington, Ky.

NEIGHBORHOOD NEWS.

Florence X-Roads.

The Grangers met at Noah Craven's last Saturday.

Mr. Cole is trying to make up a ten weeks school at this place

Food for stock is getting scarce, and but little hay will be left over.

Many crops of tobacco have been cultivated by our store stove this winter.

Stock is fareing badly, except cattle, and they are looking well. Hogs can't get to the ground, and get nothing but what is fed them. Sheep look badly, and many lambs are dying.

The boys concluded to give Toney Bentler and wife a charivari, Saturday evening, at Mayor Welche's. They commenced their racket, and in the performance, John Aylor approached too near the door and was greeted by a bucket of water, and in his retreat he came near running over all the out buildings on the premises.

If some one interested would start a subscription paper, probably money enough would be subscribed to build a pike from this place to Constance. Some propose to give $5 to the acre of land, and others from $50 to $500 and the right of way through their farms. The proposed route would make us about three miles nearer the city in the matter of travel, and will decrease the toll.

Scattersville.

Wood sawings have again made their appearance.

After some few weeks we speak again in our feeble way.

H. P. Parsons has been hauling walnut logs from J. O. Huey's the past week.

Times have been somewhat dull for the past few weeks, as nothing could be done but feed and get wood.

Aunt Susan Aera has rented out her farm and moved to Burlington. We hated to see her leave us.

We hear it spoken of now and then, but what does it amount to? There is no such thing as a pike in this part of the county—wish there was.

All of our farmers are feeding themselves up now, getting ready for the work. When the weather opens some of them, we think, will be in fine condition for making fence and splitting wood.

One night last week, O. P. Conner and wife opened the doors of their hospitable mansion to the society of Waterloo, Huntsville and Scattersville. Considering the weather quite a large crowd of beaux and belles assembled there and tripped the light fantastic to the sweet strains of music furnished by the Huntsville and Scattersville string band. Hon. W. E. Barker, of Huntsville was boss of the music assisted by your pencil shover.

North Bend.

Dr. Jim Gaines paid our neighborhood a flying visit a few days since.

Miss Georgia McFee, one of the belles of Fords Ferry, Ky., is visiting friends in this neighborhood.

Miss Hallie Stephens, the accomplished teacher of this district, began her spring term last Monday.

Miss Clara Harrison is preparing to visit her brother in the interior of the State. We feel sorry to part with such an estimable young lady.

The Assessor is again among us, and it has been predicted that sausage will be cheap this year on account of the dogs that will die a natural death.

Well, La Belle river has at length concluded she has inflicted enough punishment on the inhabitants of her banks and has again sought her bed.

The damage the flood did our neighborhood was very great, the brick buildings will not dry out this summer. One of our bridges was swept away, but our citizens think they will send for the contractors of the Brooklyn bridge and have the damage repaired.

As it has been sometime since your valuable paper printed anything from our neighborhood, and fearing the outside world would forget that we were still among the living, we have come manfully to the front again, hoping it will cause no ill feeling.

PSYCHE.

Hebron.

Miss Lizzie Conner is teaching the spring school at this place.

Will Rouse, who has been quite sick for the last few days, is now convalescing.

The remains of Mrs. Roberson were interred in the cemetery at this place, last Sunday.

The Rev. Howe of the Christian church preached the funeral of Mrs. John Fox, last Sunday.

The remains of Mr. Isaac Clore were taken from the vault last Saturday and interred in the Hebron cemetery.

The select party given at the Hebron Hall, on the 5th inst., was a grand success, and was enjoyed by those who were present.

The farmers are all done stripping tobacco in this neighborhood, but, there are several crops that has not been sold. Prices range from $13 to $15.

Business is booming.

The thieves are making chickens' heads suffer.

Jeff Snyder is clerking for Mike Clore in his drug store.

Charlie Clore gave a social party last Saturday night.

A telephone from this place to Covington is the next enterprise.

One of Jimison Aylor's ewes dropped a lamb that had two heads and one eye.

Food is getting scarce. Hay is selling at $10 a ton; corn, 57 cents a bushel; oats, 40 to 50 cents a bushel.

Look out, boys, this is leap year, and if you take a courting contract for seven years, you will have a long contract.

Florence.

Prof. Stevenson has moved his school from Odd-Fellows' building to Town Hall, I suppose upon the principle that a change of pasture is good for sheep.

Rev. Geo. Froh is holding a protracted meeting in the Methodist church. The services are well attended and have been rewarded by a few additions. He will be assisted this week by Rev. J. D. H. Corwine, of the Universalist church. This looks like the lion and lamb were about to lie down together.

T. L. Swetnam wants to know what is good for a stitch in the back. We will tell him, if he or any one else, will find a Saturday in which the sun failed to shine some time during the day, or show us a white cow or ox that has no red about the ear. If any one makes this discover, please answer through the RECORDER.

Hon. Milton Hamilton has been staying with us for a few days on a visit. Uncle Milt is good company and always has something new to entertain his friends. Among the novelties of this visit were the exhibition of some books, relics from his father's library. One, the Assessor's book of 1818, was a rare curiosity, and then was a secondary consideration, the principal tax being paid upon horses and negroes.

It is now a settled proposition that neither the goose-bone nor the cornhusk is accountable for this bad weather and prolonging of the season; but that the old ground-hog is the chap that is kicking up all this bluster of snow and sleet. I am on the lookout for him, and if I get a shot at him, he will never again have the pleasure of shoving bleak "winter into the lap of spring," and substituting the jingle of sleighbells for the carrol of robbin red-breast, or the twitter of the happy little bluebird.

There is a great dearth in the news line here just now. The dull weather seems to have affected this department too. Conner Yager furnishes us with an item that may be of interest to the older citizens of the county, many of whom are intimately connected with the subject of the sketch. He says that while at Cincinnati, by invitation, he attended the 65th annual commencement of the Medical College of Ohio, held in Music Hall, March 7th; old Dr. Grubbs, who had an enviable reputation in Boone county in earlier days, was introduced to the school and audience as a graduate of same school at its first commencement, sixty-three years ago. The cheering from the immense audience was loud and long, and the old M. D. veteran, who is well up in eighty, seemed quite overcome under the excitement. About one hundred new doctors were turned out upon the occasion, and some acquitted themselves with high honors, one particular, from Middleton, O., receiving two gold medals and two sets of surgical instruments.

Petersburg.

The oil fever has subsided.

Ben Smith has the measles.

O. G. Wooley has embarked in the rag trade.

Rev. Taylor moved last Friday, to Clarksburg, Indiana.

Porter was a lively bidder at the sale of F. Huber's effects.

We are sorry to hear of the death of P. W. Berkshire's wife.

Corn at the sale last Wednesday brought 50 cents per bushel.

S. G. Given and family, of Aurora, are visiting friends in this locality.

Smith McWethy can accommodate you with a tuck comb since the sale.

John Berkshire will have 40 acres of tobacco planted on his farm this spring.

A. B. Holabird was out in his sleigh last week, buying corn for the distillery.

Porter is a man of sympathy. He says they can not work his mule barefooted.

A building association was organized here last Monday night, with 105 shares taken.

Mr. Kirk Z. Berkshire, of Daviess county, is visiting relatives in this locality.

Ed Smith says he knows his clock is a spring clock, for it won't run in the winter.

The measles are still prevailing to some extent among the children in this vicinity.

It is rumored, since the sale, that D. B. Tilley will start a curiosity corner in the near future.

W. H. Chapin has been very sick for several days, but is able to be out on the streets again.

Houses for rent are in demand here, there being as high as four applicants for one house—flood.

S. G. Botts is a first-class auctioneer, especially in the merrehandise line and musical instruments.

Capt. Bradley will have his new boat ready by the middle of April for the Rising Sun and Lawreneeburg trade.

School opened in the Petersburg school-house last Monday, with the Misses Lizzie Gordon and Katie Davis as teachers.

Capt. Alden and engineer Thomason of the Str. Wave will soon begin to build a boat for the Aurora and Lawreneeburg trade.

Mr. Meyers, of Florence, has started a daily meat market here, having bought out J. W. Berkshire's slaughtering business.

The eccentric in the ashpan at the distillery give way the other day, and suspended business two or three hours. Fortunately no one was hurt.

Ira Thege is running a skiff between Aurora and Lawreneeburg since the Wave was sank, for the accommodation of the traveling community.

Our Representative lives in this precinct and gets his mail here, but the Enquirer gives his post-office Hebron. Explain, Nathan, or you can't play croquet here. So says the board of croquet players.

The government officers assigned to the distillery this month are, Thomas Reed and J. R. Smith, gaugers; Capt. Richards, J. M. Thomason, L. Gibslander, O. Corburn and B. Hart, store keepers—Jno. W. Berkshire, jr., purchased 250 acres of land of J. C. Jenkins last week...Born—To Alf Porter and wife, a daughter...To Henry Terrill and wife, a daughter...Sami. Baridan has moved in the house lately occupied by Rev. Taylor...Miss Aggie Shotwell, of the Virginia Highlands, was visiting her aunt, Mrs. Green, last week.

Rabbit Hash.

More pike talk, but, as yet, very little pike.

Miss Minnie Stephens has returned from her visit to friends in Petersburg.

John Peel will build a house on the three acres of land he bought of J. J. Stephens.

Thomas Coleman and wife, colored, of this neighborhood, have been married 14 years and have 13 children—7 dead and 6 living.

The cold blizzard struck here Thursday, and ever since it has been the worst weather your scribe ever experienced this late in the season.

Cobbie Acra's government grub has so strengthened him as to make him able to send a peg home with a single stroke of the hammer, and is now turning out work very rapidly.

Bert D. Bishop, of Cincinnati, was down here last week, distributing money to those who suffered from the flood and are in destitute circumstances. He left about $65 at this place.

The old bridge on the grade, is standing yet, but it is not considered safe, so we never cross it for a day or two before writing for the RECORDER, for fear our load of items might break it down, and entail a heavy loss on the county.

Born—To the wife of Trumun Riggs, a boy. To the wife of James Hodges, a girl. To the wife of Irvin Beemon, a boy. And with coming events it looks as though the government will have to send some more supplies of food.

B. C. Calvert's warehouse is in condition for receiving tobacco again, and he has been receiving B. H. Stephens' and Joe Riddell's crops. They are very fine crops and will likely pay well for handling as they are of the quality now in demand.

Tom Marshall seems to be perfectly satisfied with our city, and says that he has eaten government grub all over the United States, and that it tastes as good at Rabbit Hash as anywhere else. [Did he ever have Rabbit Hash with it before?—ED.]

The citizens of Bellevue made a great many remarks about Rabbit Hash receiving supplies from the government during the flood, and now she has petitioned Congress, we understand, to appropriate $10,000 to help rebuild her wharf which the caving of the bank destroyed.

Died—On the 5th inst., of heart disease, at her home on Gunpowder, Mrs. Richard Clements. The bereaved husband and family have the sympathy of the entire neighborhood, to which Mrs. Clements had become endeared by her many kindnesses. The remains were placed in the Big Bone vault.

The young folks of this place, in response to an invitation, on the 6th inst. assembled at the residence of Mrs. Lizzie Piatt in Rising Sun, to celebrate the 21st birth day of her son, Robert. The Rising Sun band was in attendance, and discoursed sweet music which was followed by the merry dance. It was one of the most enjoyable parties of the season. Mrs. Platt and her daughter, Miss Lou, spared no pains in making their guests spend a pleasant evening, and did themselves great credit as hostesses.

The land that was overflowed here has advanced about one hundred per cent. In the minds of some of our neighbors who want to get to a place which will occasionally entitle them to draw on the government for supplies. We hope their supplies are not so short as to make them so clamorous about what we got from Uncle Sam's estate. They should remember that there are always favorites in families, and Uncle Sam has as much right to have his as other people. May be he will recollect you when the lightning strikes your high perch which the angry billows can never strike.

The following Justices were present special term April 9th, 1883, and each allowed $3.

J Wagstaff	A G McConnell
O Gaines	G W Baker
L A Loder	W M Rouse
T H Sutton	W W Garnett
J C Hensley	W B Craven
H Bannister	S T Johnson
B H Ryle

PUBLIC SALE!

I will sell at my residence in the town of Burlington, on Tuesday, March 25th, 1884,

The following property: 2 horses, both good drivers, 2 fresh Alderney cows, 1 buggy, 1 carriage, all my farming implements, corn, hay and Household and Kitchen furniture.

TERMS.—All sums of $10 and under, cash, over $10 a credit of 6 months will be given, the purchaser to give note with approved security. J. F. SMITH.

FOR SALE.

A thoroughbred Jersey Bull, 5 years old. Price, $60. Call on E. H. HOWARD, Bullittsville, Ky.

For Rent.

A house and good tobacco land. Apply to or address JAMES D. ACRA, Burlington, Ky.

FOR RENT.

From 6 to 10 acres of tobacco land; also some good corn land. Call on CY CRISLER, at Burlington, Ky.

FOR RENT.

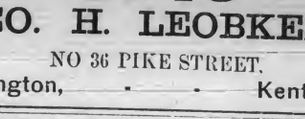
About 50 acres of good oat land. Call on or address Mary E. Kendall on the premises or C. O. Utz, Constance, Ky.

FOR GOOD

Boots AND Shoes,

GO TO

GEO. H. LEOBKER'S,



NO 36 PIKE STREET,

Covington, - - Kentucky.

WILLIAM CLORE,

—MANUFACTURER OF—

Agricultural Implements.

Such as Rover Steel, Side Hill,

Single & Double Shovel Plows,

JUMPING SHOVELS, GOPHERS, ROLLING CUTTERS.

Harrows, &c., &c. Send for Price List.

My Plows and Shovels can be had of J. Frank Grant, at Petersburg, Ky., and the Farmers' Co-operative Association, Grant, Ky., at factory prices.

MANUFACTORY AT RISING SUN, IND.

R. S. CRISLER,

Burlington, Ky.

WAGON MAKER AND

—MANUFACTURER OF—

ROAD WAGONS, SPRING WAGONS, HARROWS, PLOWS, WHEEL BARROWS

AND ALL KINDS OF WOOD WORK.

Also the Manufacturer of W. M. Conner's Patent Right Hay Conveyor.

Saws Filed & Sharpened.

Please call and examine my prices before calling elsewhere.

JAMES S. WAYNE, President. JNO. L. SANDFORD, Cashier

CAPITAL $300,000.

FARMERS AND TRADERS

NATIONAL BANK.

Covington, Kentucky.

DIRECTORS.

James S. Wayne, M. C. Moteh, Sam Hind, E. J. Hickey, E. J. Green
J. S. Matson, J. H. Mersman, J. L. Sandford, L. H Dills, F. P. Helm!
L. C. Stephens.

The general operations of banking transacted upon the most favorable terms, collections made on all points in the United States.

The Business and Accounts of Farmers are Especially Solicited by this Bank.

dec. w6m

The Greatest Bargains in

OVERCOATS

AND

SUITS!

CAN BE HAD AT

H. F. BLASE,

540 Madison St, - COVINGTON, KY

UNDERTAKING.

We keep Constantly on Hand all sizes of

Burial Cases and Caskets.

And having just received a beautiful

NEW HEARSE,

Which can be had at a reasonable price when desired.

PRICES GUARANTEED LESS THAN CITY PRICES!

DAVIS BROS., - HEBRON, KY.

Subscribe for the Recorder.

THE RECORDER.

RIDDELL & HALL, Publishers.

BURLINGTON, : : KENTUCKY

THE COAST-GUARD.

Do you wonder what I am seeing,
In the heart of the fire, aglow
Like cliffs in a golden sunset,
With a summer sea below!
I see, away to the eastward,
The line of a storm-beat coast,
And I hear the tread of the hurrying waves
Like the tramp of a mailed host.

And up and down in the darkness,
And over the frozen sand,
I hear the men of the coast-guard
Pacing along the strand—
Beaten by storm and tempest,
And drenched by the pelting rain,
From the shores of Carolina,
To the wind-swept bays of Maine.

No matter what storms are raging,
No matter how wild the night,
The gleam of their swinging lanterns
Shines out with a friendly light;
And many a shipwrecked sailor
Thanks God, with his gasping breath,
For the sturdy arms of the surfmen
That drew him away from death.

And, so, when the wind is wailing,
And the air grows dim with sleet,
I think of the fearless watchers
Pacing along their beat;
I think of a wreck, fast breaking
In the surf of a rocky shore,
And the life-boat leaping onward
To the stroke of the bending oar.

I hear the shouts of the sailors,
The boom of the frozen sail,
And the creak of the icy halyards
Straining against the gale.
"Courage!" the Captain trumpets,
"They are sending help from land!"
God bless the men of the coast-guard,
And hold their lives in His hand!
—Emily Huntington Miller, in St. Nicholas.

THE TRIALS OF JONATHAN MOLLIFY.

Jonathan Mollify was in despair. He was ready to take an affidavit that no more hopelessly miserable specimens of the genus homo existed than he, on this beautiful Monday morning, Anno Domini, 1893, in that rarest of favored countries—the Golden State. This lugubrious condition of affairs was nothing new; had it been, he might have plucked up courage and hoped for brighter days in the future. But, years ago, he had given up all faith in such well-worn adages as "The darkest cloud has a silver lining," "Never was so long a night but was vanquished by the light," et cetera. Stuff and nonsense! The light was a long time coming, in his case, and he didn't see where it was coming from, unless the gates of a brighter world than this mundane sphere should mercifully open before him. It was all on account of Maria, this darkness and chaos and misery, and as for any lifting of the cloud in that direction, one might as well look for a gold mine in the bottom of Salt Lake. Maria had the upper hands, and she held the reins taut and firm. They had been in her possession—how long? It seemed an eternity, but it could not be but a half-dozen years or so, reckoning by little Jonathan, who was a babe in the cradle when the movement was crowned with success. "Movement?" you repeat. Why, yes, the woman's-rights movement now in full swing from shore to shore of this glorious Republic, and sweeping Maria Mollify along with it, well-nigh to the annihilation of her true and trusty spouse, Jonathan. Here it was Monday morning, and Maria, despite her long residence on the Pacific Coast, positively would not forget the principle inoculated in her youth, among the far-famed Yankees, that, whate'er betide, Monday is wash-day. Yea, though the skies fall, the week's washing must be done, and Monday is the appointed time. Jonathan was not sensible of any decided objection to this programme provided that Maria would interview the tub and wash-board herself, but, alas! this was not the order of the day in the new dispensation. Maria was up and away, bright and early, on official business connected with the annual convention of the Grand Union Female Association of Liberty and Equality, which was announced to begin at nine a. m. of this very day, continuing through the week; and Jonathan could still hear her metallic voice calling from the buggy, as she gave the dejected steed a cut of the whip, and rattled out of the yard:

"Hurry up, now, and get that wash out a-dryin' in some kind of season. And don't let Jeremiah get in mischief. And, remember, I shall be home to dinner at twelve o'clock, sharp!"

Shades of Erebus! what a change in that woman's voice since those foolish days, ten years ago, when they two went "sparking" down by the river-bank, where the violets grew the thickest, and the birds caroled the sweetest, as if in sympathy with the lovers who strolled through their shady retreats. Foolish days! yet Jonathan liked to recall them. But for the memory of them, he sometimes feared he would throw off the galling yoke, and launch into the sea of eternity.

Who could have foreseen such a contingency as this? who realized the startling changes arising from progressive times, which had metamorphosed sweet Maria Moulton into the present Maria Mollify? Not Jonathan Mollify, or never would he have slipped his neck into the noose matrimonial—that was as certain as tradesmen's bills at New Year's. But there was no disputing the fact—women were now voters, office-holders and proprietors generally; and perhaps it was a natural sequence of centuries of—so-called—oppression that they carried their new dignities and responsibilities in a very high-handed manner, assuming the authority in domestic matters, as well as the lion's share in political affairs. Anyhow Maria Mollify was not going to be outdone by any one else, either at home or abroad. She gloried in the opportunity to display abilities that lay dormant and unrecognized prior to that grand and memorable day when the emancipation of the female sex was legally effected. Ah, well-a-day! it had been rough sailing for the discomfited masculines ever since, especially for those who, like himself, were so unfortunate as to be bound hard and fast by the ties of wedlock to a bright and shining star, a leader invincible and undaunted, in the new dominion. Maria's services were constantly in demand, and her time was consequently too valuable to be spent in obscurity at home. Jonathan, being of less note and usefulness in the political world, must render himself of service at the hearthstone. This Maria thought eminently proper and consistent. It was, therefore, Jonathan who washed the dishes, cooked the meals—on time, too, or he rued his tardiness—tended the babies, and otherwise kept oiled and in motion the machinery of the household. And this it was which had transformed him from a joyous bridegroom to a disheartened, spiritless shadow of a man.

"Ouch! ou-ou-ou ouch!" came a mighty howl from the kitchen. "Papa! papa! I want my papa! ow-ow-ow-ow."

"Great goodness! what's that child into now? Maria charged me to look after him, and I forgot all about it. Blast it all! Hush up Jerry, can't you? Don't make such an all-fired racket."

No more reveries for Jonathan Mollify. In the middle of the cluttered kitchen, his hands, face and dress besmeared with soft soap, the bucket from which it had been abstracted upset on the floor, stood the originator of the howl in question, a chubby, two-year-old boy, and as disgusted a looking one as ever tampered with presumable sweets.

"Me sit, papa," wailed the child, with contorted face; "me dretful sit. Boo-hoo-o-o-o!"

"Where are you sick?" queried papa, drawing the disconsolate object toward a wash-basin, and proceeding to remove the brown-hued covering from his lineaments. "What business had you meddling with that soap-bucket, anyhow, I'd like to know? Never saw such young ones! It isn't me they take after."

Here Jerry gave unmistakable indications of the locality of the alleged sickness, by saying:

"Me stummit, papa, me stummit. Boo-hoo-o-o-o!"

"Jeremiah Mollify, didn't you know any better than to eat that stuff? Well, this is a mess. No wonder you're sick! That washing won't get out in a hurry, I'm thinking, with you to attend to."

"Papa toss! Don't, papa, be toss to Jerry. Jerry sit."

And the papa loved his little boy too well to hold out long in the face of genuine distress.

But the sick one had to be coddled and comforted and put to sleep, and all the time the sun was mounting higher in the heavens; and the clothes lay soaking in the tubs. The child's troubles forgotten in slumber, Jonathan plunged into the work of the day in good earnest. It was not long, however, before another interruption came, in the shape of a dripping boy of six or seven, also the possessor of a strong pair of lungs, which he was using actively.

"Now what in creation's the matter with you?" demanded the irate father. "Where 've you been to get so wet? Speak this minute, Jonathan! How came you out of school?"

"I—I—went d-down t-to the fish-pond, 'long the other boys, 't recess, an'—an'—Jake Hudson, he p-pushed me in."

"Well, Jake Hudson had better mind his own business, or I'll give him something some day that he won't like. And you can just keep away from that fish-pond after this. If I ever hear of your going there again, I'll see about it! Now I've got to stop and hunt up dry clothes for you, or else you'll be down with sore throat or something, and then I'll never hear the last of it. Stop your bawling, and come along into the house."

Jonathan junior, attended to, the advancing hand of the clock warned Mr. Mollify that the dinner-hour was at hand, and no preparations had been made for the meal.

"Twelve o'clock, sharp, Maria said," he groaned; "and she'll be here, sure as fate. Seems to me I hear the rattling of the wagon now, and there a'n't any kindlin' chopped, nor nothing ready. Dear, dear, I'm in for it."

"It" may be a mysterious word to the reader, but it was not to Jonathan Mollify. "It" in his vocabulary, was fraught with meaning, and that meaning was indissolubly connected with the lordly Maria's tongue. Alive to the exigencies of the case, he trotted around, endeavoring to make a good show of his morning's work—for well he knew it would undergo inspection from Argus eyes—stringing part of the clothes conspicuously upon the line, scrabbling together and out of sight some of the rubbish that lay in confusion about the kitchen floor; and, the perspiration trickling down his face, was frantically chopping kindling when Maria Mollify drove briskly into the yard. An ominous look settled upon her countenance as she espied the flurried Jonathan, and conjectured that her orders had not been faithfully executed. Hitching the horse, and striding judicially into the kitchen, she surveyed the situation, and her displeasure found prompt utterance.

"What! no dinner ready, and the fire not even built! Jonathan Mollify, you lazy, good-for-nothing man, what have you been doing all the forenoon? Not more'n half the wash out, either," going to the door, and giving a contemptuous sniff at the clothes-line. "Well, if this isn't enough to provoke a saint. Here I've been hard at work ever since I opened my eyes this morning, and now I can't get a bite of anything to eat. I do believe I shall faint away."

She sank into a chair with an air of profound exhaustion and pitiful martyrdom. Jonathan grabbed the vinegar bottle, and thrust it under her nostrils so vehemently that she recoiled with indignation.

"Don't faint, Maria, mercy on us, don't faint! I'll have dinner ready in five minutes. It 's been a dreadful unlucky day, Maria, and I could n't do no better; I could n't, positively."

What on earth was the matter with Maria's nose? It never used to loom out like that. Why, it was frightful. Was it going to keep on developing in like ratio in years to come? Jonathan shrank from the contemplation of such a possibility.

His conciliating tone did not produce the desired effect. Overcoming her momentary weakness, Maria rose in wrath unappeasable.

"Don't you stand gawkin' at me another minute, Jonathan Mollify. I 've had to bear enough to-day at the convention without being annoyed at home. Hard as I 've worked, and as much money as I 've spent in the cause, if it a'n't maddening to have another woman—a mere stranger, and of no account at all, except for her pretty face and load of jewelry—put above me, and made President of the Day, I 'd like to know what is? It 's the first time since the society was organized that anybody 's got ahead of me like that, and I just won't stand it. Do you hustle round and make that fire, or I 'll know the reason why."

What was the reason that Jonathan could not budge?

"Do you hear me? Get up and make the fire. It 's late."

A sudden and astounding spirit of bravery pervaded the down-trodden man. He felt like a lion. He wasn't going to stand any more of Maria's hen-pecking—no, not one atom more. Not even though she had the audacity to shake him, and yell in his ear the same old refrain: "Get up, Jonathan! get up and make the fire."

"I'll be cussed if I will," he roared. "I'll never touch that blamed old stove again as long as I live. I've stood this sort of thing long enough. If you want a fire, build it yourself."

"Oh, dear, dear, I never thought you'd speak so to me Johnny," grieved a plaintive voice.

"You can 'Johnny' me as much as you like, but you can't pull the wool over my eyes that way. I tell you I won't do it. Build it yourself."

"There, now, it's true, what Sarah Snifkins told me, that I was a fool to get married, for my husband would domineer over me in less than six months, and make me do all the chores. I got mad at her, and said I knew my Johnny never would do any such thing; but now you have, you have, and I'm going right straight h-home to my m-ma!"

John Mollify sat up in bed, and stared at his weeping wife.

"Why—what—where am I, anyhow? Where's Jonathan, and Jeremiah, and the rest of the babies? Isn't it 1893?"

"1893, you crazy man! Of course not. And what do you mean by talking about the babies? We haven't any babies, Johnny."

Maria blushed rosy red, and gazed in wide-eyed astonishment at her bewildered husband.

"And you're not President of the Grand Union Female Association of Liberty and Equality? Let me see your nose."

Maria by this time had serious doubts as to the man's sanity. She was beginning to feel afraid of him. Her nose, indeed.

"Cunning as ever," he said, investigating the member. "By George, Maria, I believe I must have been dreaming. I say, ducky, what were you crying about? Was I cross to you? Never mind, pet, you know I didn't mean it. I was asleep. Kiss and make up."

"O, Johnny, how you did frighten me! I'm ever so glad it was only a dream. But you'll have to get up quick, for you've overslept—we're half an hour late. It's those oysters, I know. I told you last night not to eat so many."

John dressed himself hastily, an abstracted look still upon his face.

"What were you dreaming about, John?"

Mr. Mollify was intently hunting for his other boot.

"I say, Johnny, what were you dreaming about?"

"Oh, nothing," pulling the missing article out from under the bed; "that is, I don't remember. I never can remember my dreams, can you?"

"Oh, yes, sometimes," asserted the curious wife. "I wish you would try and remember this one. You acted so strangely."

"Don't you want to go down to Norwell's to-day, and buy that crushed-strawberry hat you admired so much yesterday?"

An abrupt change of subject, but an agreeable one.

"O you darling, of course I do! Can I really have it?"

"Yes," said John, "I feel as if I'd like to make you a present. That's because you are such a good little wife. You'd better go the first thing, before any one gets it."

"You dear boy!" cried Maria, delightedly. "Because I don't really need it, you know. But it's such a beauty."

John said nothing, but wrestled with the kitchen stove, congratulating himself that he was only six months married, and that his wife didn't know the difference between the nomination and election, or any other political terms.—Clara Spalding Brown, in Ballou's Magazine.

Hunting Fish with Dogs.

Captain Mayne Reid in his last story, "The Land of Fire," published in St. Nicholas, gives the following interesting description of a peculiar Fuegian manner of fishing: "By this, the four canoes have arrived at the entrance to the inlet, and are forming a line across it at equal distances from one another, as if to bar the way against anything that may attempt to pass outward. Just such is their design; the fish being what they purpose enfilading.

"Soon the fish-hunters, having completed their 'cordon' and dropped the dogs overboard, come on up the cove, the women plying the paddles, the men with javelins upraised, ready for darting. The little foxy dogs swim abreast of and between the canoes, driving the fish below them—as sheep-dogs drive sheep—one or another diving under at intervals, to intercept such as attempt to escape outward. For in the translucent water they can see the fish far ahead, and, trained to the work, they keep guard against a break from these through the inclosing line. Soon the fish are forced up to the inner end of the cove, where it is shoalest; and then the work of slaughter commences. The dusky fishermen, standing in the canoes and bending over, now to this side, now that, plunge down their spears and fizgigs, rarely failing to bring up a fish of one sort or another; the struggling victim shaken off into the bottom of the canoe, there gets its death-blow from the boys.

"For nearly an hour the curious aquatic chase is carried on; not in silence, but amid a chorus of deafening noises—the shouts of the savages and the barking and yelping of their dogs mingling with the shrieking of the sea-birds overhead. And thrice is the cove 'drawn' by the canoes, which are taken back to its mouth, the line reformed, and the process repeated till a good supply of the fish best worth catching has been secured."

Boys and Trades.

I believe in schools where boys can learn trades. Peter the Great left his throne and went to learn how to build a ship, and he learned from stem to stern, from hull to mast, and that was the beginning of his greatness.

I knew a young man who was poor and smart, and a friend sent him to one of the schools up North, and he stayed two years and came back as a mining engineer and bridge-builder, and last year he planned and built a cotton-factory, and is getting a large salary.

How many college-boys are there in the United States who can tell what kind of native timber will bear the heaviest burdens, or why you take white oak for one part of a wagon and ash for another, or what timber will last longer under water or what out of water?

How many know sandstone from limestone, or iron from manganese?

How many know how to cut a rafter or brace without a pattern?

How many know which turns the fastest, the top of a wheel or the bottom, as the wagon moves along the ground?

How many know how steel is made, and how a snake can climb a tree?

How many know that a horse gets up before and a cow behind, and the cow eats grass from her, and the horse eats to him?

How many know that a surveyor's mark on a tree never gets any higher from the ground, or what tree bears without bloom?

There is a power of comfort in knowledge, but a boy is not going to get it unless he wants it bad, and that is the trouble with most college-boys—they don't want it.

They are too busy and haven't got time. There is more hope of a dull boy who wants knowledge than of a genius, for genius generally knows it all without study. These close observers are the world's benefactors.—Bill Arp, in Atlanta Constitution.

Anecdotes of Wendell Phillips.

An incident illustrative of the unostentation of Wendell Phillips' character occurred in the fall of 1878, when he was advertised to lecture in Lima, which is a town four miles from the railroad. On the day that he was to lecture, Mr. Phillips arrived in Honeoye Falls about noon and found that there was no stage for Lima till after five o'clock. Fortunately there happened to be a teamster from Lima there with a lumber wagon, and Mr. Phillips requested the privilege of riding with him, which was cheerfully granted. There was also another passenger, a Lima citizen, who entered into conversation with the stranger, and, among other things, remarked that there was to be a celebrated lecturer in town that evening.

"Indeed!" said Mr. Philips, "who is it?"

"Wendell Phillips, the great orator," was the reply. "Have you ever heard him?"

"Oh, yes!"

"Well, what do you think of him!" persisted the citizen.

"Well," said Mr. Phillips deliberately, "I don't think he amounts to much. In fact, I wouldn't go across the street to hear him."

Of course this verdict was a great surprise to the worthy citizen, and when the lecturer appeared on the platform that evening discovered that the critical stranger was the celebrated orator.—Lima (N. Y.) Cor. Rochester Democrat.

—Some remarkable ruins four miles southeast of Magdalena, Mexico, have of late attracted a good deal of notice. One natural pyramid has a basis of 4,320 feet square, and an elevation of 750. A winding roadway leads by an easy grade from bottom to top. This is wide enough for carriages, and several miles long. In the sides of this mountain, as one ascends, he passes hundreds of chambers cut in the solid rock, with walls, floor, and ceiling hewn to an even precision. These chambers vary in size from five to ten, sixteen, and even eighteen feet square. There are no windows, and but one entrance, which is always from the top. The height of the ceilings is usually eight feet. The walls are covered in places with hieroglyphics and figures of men and animals. It is not improbable that they are the remains of ancient Zuni tribes.

THE first part of the great English Dictionary projected by the Philological Society of London, and for which material has been collected for the last twenty-five years, has just been issued. This part of the work ends with the word "ant," on page 352. Webster reaches this word upon page 56. The new dictionary gives 6,879 main words against 4,662 in Webster. On the present scale the work will probably be extended to 12,000 pages, or six thick quarto volumes, and reckoning on the basis of Webster's 114,000 words, the whole number of words included is likely to reach 200,000.

—Strange as it may seem, there is more food raised in the poultry yards of France than in the stalls and pastures of England.

A Great Horseman.

Mr. J. H. Goldsmith, owner of the Walnut Grove stock farm, N. Y., says of the wonderful curative qualities of St. Jacobs Oil, that having long used it for rheumatism and on his breeding farm for ailments of horses and cattle, he cheerfully accords this great pain-cure his preference, as the best he ever used, in an experience of twenty years.

AN exchange says mush has become a popular dish in society. Nothing seems to take in society like something soft.—Chicago Herald.

FOR 25 years I have been afflicted with Catarrh so that I have been confined to my room for two months at a time. I have tried all the humbugs in hopes of relief, but to no success until I met with an old friend who had used Ely's Cream Balm and advised me to try it. I procured a bottle to please him, and from the first application I found relief. It is the best remedy I have ever tried.—W. C. MATHEWS, Justice of the Peace, Shenandoah, Iowa.

"LOVE is an infernal transport," says a writer. Ah, yes; so is a dumb-waiter.—N. Y. Journal.

Color Your Butter.

Farmers that try to sell white butter are all of the opinion that dairying does not pay. If they would use Wells, Richardson & Co.'s Improved Butter Color, and market their butter in perfect condition, they would still get good prices, but it will not pay to make any but the best in color and quality. This color is used by all the leading creameries and dairymen, and is sold by druggists and merchants.

THE didn't-know-it-was-loaded man will always live, and frequently die.—Chicago Tribune.

IT GIVES us great pleasure to state that the merchant who was reported to be at the point of death from an attack of Pneumonia has entirely recovered by the use of DR. WM. HALL'S BALSAM FOR THE LUNGS, and in giving publicity to this statement we are actuated by motives of public benefaction, trusting that others may be benefited.

BROWN'S BRONCHIAL TROCHES will relieve Bronchitis, Asthma, Catarrh, Consumptive and Throat Diseases. They are used always with good success.

THE MARKETS.

CINCINNATI, March 10, 1884.

LIVE STOCK—Cattle—common	$2 50	@	3 50
Choice butchers	5 00	@	5 75
HOGS—Common	5 60	@	6 85
Good packers	6 60	@	6 90
SHEEP—good to choice	4 50	@	5 25
FLOUR—Family	4 60	@	4 85
GRAIN—Wheat—Longberry red	1 10	@	1 11
No. 2 red	1 06	@	1 07
Corn—No. 2 mixed		@	53½
Oats—No. 2 mixed		@	37
Rye—No. 2		@	64½
HAY—Timothy No. 1	11 50	@	12 50
HEMP—Double dressed	8 75	@	9 00
PROVISIONS—Pork—Mess		@	17 75
Lard—Prime steam		@	9 25
BUTTER—Fancy Dairy	28	@	30
Prime Creamery	40	@	41
FRUIT AND VEGETABLES—
Potatoes per bar. from store		@	1 50
Apples, prime, per barrel	3 00	@	4 00
NEW YORK.
FLOUR—State and Western	$2 80	@	3 40
Good to choice	3 80	@	6 50
GRAIN—Wheat—No. 2 spring	1 06½	@	1 08
No. 2 red	1 07⅜	@	1 07⅞
Corn—No. 2 mixed	62	@	63½
Oats—mixed	39½	@	41
PORK—Mess	17 75	@	18 00
CHICAGO.
FLOUR—State and Western	$3 50	@	4 85
GRAIN—Wheat—No. 2 red	99	@	1 00
Corn—No. 2	52	@	53½
Oats—No. 2	31½	@	31½
Rye		@	58½
PORK—Mess	17 70	@	17 75
LARD—Steam	9 30	@	9 35
BALTIMORE.
FLOUR—Family	$5 00	@	5 75
GRAIN—Wheat—No. 2 red	1 09½	@	1 09¾
Corn—mixed		@	58
Oats—mixed	42	@	43
PROVISIONS—Pork—Mess	18 00	@	19 00
Lard—Refined		@	10¼
LIVE STOCK—Cattle, ordinary	3 25	@	4 00
Mediums	4 00	@	500
Best	6 75	@	7
HOGS	8 50	@	9 52 5
SHEEP	3 50	@	6 250
LAMBS	4 50	@	6 50
PITTSBURG.
LIVE STOCK—Cattle, Common	4 00	@	5 00
Prime to choice	6 25	@	6 50
Fair to Good	5 25	@	6 00
HOGS—Philadelphias	7 40	@	7 60
SHEEP	5 00	@	5 50
VEALS	7	@	8

REMINISCENCES OF ROCHESTER.

The Falls of the Genesee and Sam Patch's Fatal Leap—One of Its Business Houses and Its Great Magnitude.

The present floods, which are either devastating or threatening the county in every direction, are justly cause for apprehension. No matter whether they come suddenly or by slow degrees, they are, in either case, a great evil and much to be dreaded, and yet America will always be troubled by these spring overflows. Probably one of the most disastrous that was ever known, occurred in Rochester, N. Y., about twenty years ago. The Genesee River, just above the falls, where Sam Patch made his final and fatal leap, became completely blockaded by ice, forming an impassable dam, and the water coming down the Genesee River overflowed the principal portion of the city of Rochester. This catastrophe would have been repeated the present year had not the energy and foresight of the city authorities prevented it. The writer happened to be in Rochester at that time and was greatly interested in the manner in which this great catastrophe was averted. Every few moments, a roar like the peals of thunder or the booming of cannon would be heard, and in order to see this ice blasting process, the writer went to the top of the new Warner building, which overlooks the Genesee River. From here he was not only enabled to see the process uninterruptedly, but also the magnificent building which has just been completed. This is unquestionably the finest building devoted to business and manufacturing purposes in America, being entirely fireproof, eight stories high, and containing over four and a quarter acres of flooring. Mr. Warner treated your correspondent very courteously, and in the course of the conversation said:

"We are doing a tremendous business and are far behind in our orders. This is the season of the year when people, no matter how strong their constitution may be, feel, more or less, the pain and indisposition, the headaches, colds, neuralgia, rheumatism, dull pains, sore throats, coughs—all the 1,001 ills that flesh is heir to come this time of the year, if at all. It is natural, therefore, that we should be very busy. This is specially true of our Safe Rheumatic Cure, and it is crowding us very sharply for a new remedy."

"Singular, but I had forgotten that you do not advertise to cure all diseases from one bottle, as is done generally by many other medicine men, but I supposed Warner's Safe Cure was for the cure of rheumatism."

"And so it has been until our remedy which was especially for rheumatism and neuralgia, was introduced. We have been three years perfecting this new remedy. Study first taught us there were certain powerful elements in Warner's Safe Cure, better known as Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Cure, that made wonderful cures in chronic and acute rheumatism, but during our investigation, we learned of a remarkable cure at a celebrated springs, and put experts to investigate and found that the springs did not contain any valuable properties, but the course of treatment that was being given there was performing all the benefit. By carefully combining the active principles of this remedy with our Safe Cure, we have produced our Safe Rheumatic Cure, and the cures it is effecting are simply wonderful, and I do not doubt it will become as popular as our Safe Cure."

"You seem to talk freely in regard to your remedies and appear to have no secrets, Mr. Warner."

"None whatever. The physician with his hundred calls and one hundred diseases, is necessarily compelled to guess at a great deal. We are enabled to follow up and perfect, while physicians can only experiment with their hundred patients and hundred diseases. With the ordinary physician, the code binds dim down, so that if he makes a discovery, he is bound to give it to the other physicians, which, of course, discourages investigation, to a great extent. This is why the great discoveries in medical science of late years have been made by chemists and scientists and not by physicians, and it in a measure accounts for the great value of our remedies, also for the remarkable success of all those doctors who make a specialty of one or two diseases."

"And you find that you are curing as great a number of people as ever before?"

"Yes, a far greater number. We never sold so much of our medicine as now and never knew of so many remarkable cures."

The writer departed after the above interview, but was greatly impressed, not only by the sincerity of Mr. Warner, but by the vastness of all he saw. Mr. Warner's medicines are used throughout the entire length and breadth of the land, and we doubt not the result they are effecting are really as wonderful as they are related to be.

A Messenger of Health.

Sent free to sufferers from nervous, chronic and blood diseases, brain and heart affections, nervous debility, etc. It tells of wonderful cures effected by Dr. Scott's Coca, Beef and Iron, with Phosphorus. Sold by druggists; $1. Dr. Scott, Kansas City, Mo.

I HAVE seen remarkable results from use of Swift's Specific on a cancer. A young man near here has been afflicted five years with the most angry looking eating cancer I ever saw, and was nearly dead. The first bottle made a wonderful change, and after five bottles were taken, he is nearly or quite well. It is truly wonderful.
M. F. CRUMLEY, M. D., Oglethorpe, Ga.

"YOU claim too much for Samaritan Nervine," says a skeptic. Its patrons say just the opposite.

Stinging, Irritation, all Kidney and Bladder Complaints, cured by "Buchu-Paiba." $1.

*Thousands of ladies cherish grateful remembrances of the help derived from the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Wells' "Rough on Corns." 15c. Ask for it. Complete, permanent cure. Corns, bunions.

Hale's Honey of Horehound and Tar Cures throat and lung affections. Don't trifle. Pike's toothache drops cure in 1 min.

Skinny Men. "Wells' Health Renewer" restores health and vigor, cures Dyspepsia.

DR. WILLIAMS' Indian Pile Ointment. Warranted to cure any case of blind, bleeding or itching piles. At druggists.

REDDING'S Russia Salve is an invaluable dressing for inflamed and sore joints Price 25c.

Don't Die in the House. "Rough on Rats," clears out rats, mice, flies, roaches, bed-bugs. 15c.

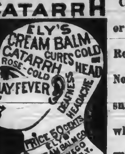
"DR. RICHMOND'S Saramitan Nervine cured me of Epilepsy." Jacob Sutes, St. Joseph, Mo.

Flies, roaches, ants, bed-bugs, rats, mice, crows, cleared out by "Rough on Rats." 15c.

PUBLIC speakers and singers use Piso's Cure for hoarseness and weak lungs.

ST. JACOBS OIL
TRADE MARK

[1]
THE GREAT
GERMAN REMEDY
FOR PAIN.
CURES
Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Sciatica
Lumbago, Backache, Headache, Toothache,
Sore Throat, Swellings, Sprains, Bruises,
Burns, Scalds, Frost Bites,
And All Other BODILY PAINS and ACHES.
Sold by Druggists and Dealers everywhere. Fifty Cents a bottle. Directions in 11 Languages.
THE CHARLES A. VOGELER CO.,
(Successors to A. VOGELER & CO.) Baltimore, Md., U. S. A.



I CURE FITS!
When I say cure I do not mean merely to stop them for a time and then have them return again, I mean a radical cure. I have made the disease of FITS, EPILEPSY or FALLING SICKNESS a life-long study. I warrant my remedy to cure the worst cases. Because others have failed is no reason for not now receiving a cure. Send at once for a treatise and a Free Bottle of my infallible remedy. Give Express and Post Office. It costs you nothing for a trial, and I will cure you.
Address DR. H. G. ROOT, 183 Pearl St., New York.

HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS

The want of a reliable diuretic which, while acting as a stimulant of the kidneys, neither excites nor irritates them, was long since supplied by Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. This fine medicine exerts the requisite degree of stimulation upon these organs, without producing irritation, and is, therefore, far better adapted for the purpose than unmedicated excitants often resorted to. Dyspepsia, fever and ague, and kindred diseases, are all cured by it. For sale by all Druggists and Dealers generally.

CATARRH

HAY-FEVER

Causes no Pain or Dread. Gives Relief at Once. Not a liquid or snuff. Applied with the finger. Thorough treatment will cure.

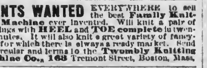
Price 50 cents, by mail or at druggists.
ELY BROTHERS, Druggists, Owego, N. Y.

SAMARITAN NEVER FAILS NERVINE IS UNFAILING AND INFALLIBLE IN CURING Epileptic Fits, Spasms, Falling Sickness, Convulsions, St. Vitus Dance, Alcoholism, Opium Eating, Scrofula, and all Nervous and Blood Diseases.

☞ To Clergymen, Lawyers, Literary Men, Merchants, Bankers, Ladies and all whose sedentary employment causes Nervous Prostration, Irregularities of the blood, stomach, bowels or Kidneys, or who require a nerve tonic, appetizer or stimulant, Samaritan Nervine is invaluable.

☞ Thousands proclaim it the most wonderful Invigorant that ever sustained a sinking system. $1.50 per bottle. The DR. S. A. RICHMOND MEDICAL CO., Sole Proprietors, St. Joseph, Mo.

THE GREAT NERVE CONQUEROR.



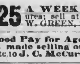
Sold by all Druggists. (18)
LORD, STOUTENBURG & CO., Agents, Chicago, Ill.

THIS NEW ELASTIC TRUSS
Has a Pad different from all others, is cup shape, with Self-Adjusting Ball in center, adapts itself to all positions of the body, while the ball in the cup presses back the intestines just as a person does with the finger. With light pressure the Hernia is held securely day and night, and a radical cure certain. It is easy, durable and cheap. Sent by mail. Circulars free. EGGLESTON TRUSS CO., 69 Dearborn St., Chicago, Ill.

PILES "Anakesis" gives instant relief, and is an infallible cure for Piles. Price $1 from druggists, or sent prepaid by mail. Samples free. Ad. "ANAKESIS," Makers, Box 2416, New York

RUSSELL & CO.'S ANNUAL. Just issued. Sent free to all interested in Improved Threshing Machines, Horse Powers, Saw-Mills and Engines for Farm and Plantation use. Address (Name this paper.) RUSSELL & CO., Massillon, O.

Easy to use. A certain cure. Not expensive. Three months' treatment in one package. Good for Cold in the Head, Headache, Dizziness, Hay Fever, &c. Fifty cents. By all Druggists, or by mail.
E. T. HAZELTINE, Warren, Pa.



AGENTS WANTED EVERYWHERE to sell the best Family Knitting Machine ever invented. Will knit a pair of stockings with HEEL and TOE complete in twenty minutes. It will also knit a great variety of fancy-work for which there is always a ready market. Send for circular and terms to the Twombly Knitting Machine Co., 163 Tremont Street, Boston, Mass.

"THE BEST IS THE CHEAPEST."
SAW MILLS, ENGINES THRESHERS, Horse Powers, (For all sections and purposes.) Write for Free Pamphlet and Prices to The Aultman & Taylor Co., Mansfield, Ohio.

DYKE'S BEARD ELIXIR ... E. L. SMITH & CO., Agents, Palatine, Ill.

Lady Agents can secure permanent employment and good salary selling Queen City Skirt and Stocking Supporters, etc. Sample outfit Free. Address Queen City Suspender Co., Cincinnati, O.

FOR LADIES USE. —The grandest article. Send stamp for illustrated circular. Dr. H. G. FARR, 75 Essex Street, Boston, Mass.

$25 A WEEK to Agents; Automatic Fixtures; sell at sight. Sample, 30c. GEO. W. GREEN, 26 Central St., Boston, Mass.

Good Pay for Agents. $100 to $200 per mo. made selling our fine Books & Bibles. Write to J. C. McCurdy & Co., Cincinnati, O.

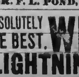
HAIR Wholesale and retail. Send for price-list. Goods sent C. O. D. Wigs made to order. E. BURNHAM, 71 State Street, Chicago.

FREE By return mail. Full Description Moody's New Tailor System of Dress Cutting MOODY & CO., Cincinnati, O.

OPIUM and WHISKY HABITS cured at home without pain. Book of particulars sent free. B. M. WOOLLEY, M. D., Atlanta, Ga.

$65 A MONTH and BOARD for three live Young Men or Ladies, in each county. Address P. W. ZIEGLER & CO., Philadelphia.

Young Men learn TELEGRAPHY here and we will give you a situation. Circulars free. VALENTINE BROS., Janesville, Wis.



$250 A MONTH. Agents Wanted. 90 best selling articles in the world. 1 sample FREE. Address JAY BRONSON, DETROIT, MICH.

PETER HENDERSON & CO.'S
SEEDS AND PLANTS
Are Annually Sown and Planted in Half a Million Gardens!
☞ This Year's Catalogue Free on Application.
PETER HENDERSON & CO. { 35 & 37 CORTLANDT ST., NEW YORK.

Walnut Leaf Hair Restorer.

It is entirely different from all others. It is as clear as water, and as its name indicates is a perfect Vegetable Hair Restorer. It will immediately free the head from all dandruff, restore gray hair to its natural color, and produce a new growth where it has fallen off. It does not in any manner affect the health, which sulphur, sugar of lead and nitrate of silver preparations have done. It will change light or faded hair in a few days to a beautiful glossy brown. Ask your druggist for it. Each bottle is warranted. JNO. D. PARK & SON, Cincinnati, O., and C. N. CRITTENTON, N. Y.

CANCER INSTITUTE. Established, 1872; Incorporated, 1880. For the Cure of Cancers, Tumors, Ulcers, Scrofula and SKIN DISEASES, without the use of knife or LOSS OF BLOOD, and little pain. For INFORMATION, CIRCULARS AND REFERENCES, address DR. F. L. POND, Aurora, Kane Co., Ill.

ABSOLUTELY THE BEST. WILSON'S LIGHTNING SEWER!
Two thousand stitches a minute. The only absolutely first-class Sewing Machine in the world. Sent on trial. Warranted 5 years. Send for Illustrated Catalogue and Circular. Agents Wanted. THE WILSON SEWING MACHINE CO., Chicago or New York.

SURE CURE for Epilepsy, Fits or Spasms. FREE TO POOR. DR. KRUSE MED. CO., 2322 Hickory st., St. Louis, Mo.

Answer This.

Is there a person living who ever saw a case of ague, billiousness, nervousness or neuralgia, or any disease of the stomach, liver or kidneys that Hop Bitters will not cure?

My mother says Hop Bitters is the only thing that will keep her from severe attacks of paralysis and headache.—Ed. Oswego Sun.

My little sickly, puny baby, was changed into a great bouncing boy and I was raised from a sick bed by using Hop Bitters a short time. A YOUNG MOTHER.

No use to worry about any Liver, Kidney or Urinary Trouble, especially Bright's Disease or Diabetes, as Hop Bitters never fails of a cure where a cure is possible.

I had severe attacks of gravel and kidney trouble; was unable to get any medicine or doctor to cure me until I used Hop Bitters. They cured me in a short time. T. R. ATTY.

Unhealthy or inactive kidneys cause gravel, Bright's disease, rheumatism, and a horde of other serious and fatal diseases, which can be prevented with Hop Bitters if taken in time.

Ludington, Mich., Feb. 2, 1879.—I have sold Hop Bitters for four years, and there is no medicine that surpasses them for billous attacks, kidney complaints and all diseases incident to this malarial climate. H. T. ALEXANDER.

Monroe, Mich., Sept. 25, 1875.—SIRS: I have been taking Hop Bitters for inflammation of kidneys and bladder, it has done for me what four doctors failed to do—cured me. The effect of the Bitters seemed like magic to me. W. L. CARTER.

GENTS—Your Hop Bitters have been of great value to me. I was laid up with typhoid for over two months, and could get no relief until I tried your Hop Bitters. To those suffering from debility or any one in feeble health, I cordially recommend them. J. C. STOETZEL, 638 Fulton st., Chicago, Ill.

GAIN Health and Happiness. How? DO AS OTHERS HAVE DONE.

Are your Kidneys disordered? "Kidney Wort brought me from my grave, as it were, after I had been given up by 13 best doctors in Detroit." M. W. Deveraux, Mechanic, Ionia, Mich.

Are your nerves weak? "Kidney Wort cured me from nervous weakness &c., after I was not expected to live."—Mrs. M. M. B. Goodwin, Ed. Christian Monitor Cleveland, O.

Have you Bright's Disease? "Kidney Wort cured me when my water was just like chalk and then like blood." Frank Wilson, Peabody, Mass.

Suffering from Diabetes? "Kidney-Wort is the most successful remedy I have ever used. Gives almost immediate relief." Dr. Phillip C. Ballou, Monkton, Vt.

Have you Liver Complaint? "Kidney-Wort cured me of chronic Liver Diseases after I prayed to die." Henry Ward, late Col. 69th Nat. Guard, N. Y.

Is your Back lame and aching? "Kidney-Wort, (1 bottle) cured me when I was so lame I had to roll out of bed." C. M. Tallmage, Milwaukee, Wis.

Have you Kidney Disease? "Kidney-Wort made me sound in liver and kidneys after years of unsuccessful doctoring. Its worth $10 a box."—Sam'l Hodges, Williamstown, West Va.

Are you Constipated? "Kidney-Wort causes easy evacuations and cured me after 16 years use of other medicines." Nelson Fairchild, St. Albans, Vt.

Have you Malaria? "Kidney-Wort has done better than any other remedy I have ever used in my practice." Dr. R. K. Clark, South Hero, Vt.

Are you Bilious? "Kidney-Wort has done me more good than any other remedy I have ever taken." Mrs. J. T. Galloway, Elk Flat, Oregon.

Are you tormented with Piles? "Kidney-Wort permanently cured me of bleeding piles. Dr. W. C. Kline recommended it to me." Geo. H. Horst, Cashier M. Bank, Myerstown, Pa.

Are you Rheumatism racked? "Kidney-Wort cured me, after I was given up to die by physicians and I had suffered thirty years." Elbridge Malcolm, West Bath, Maine.

Ladies, are you suffering? "Kidney-Wort cured me of peculiar troubles of several years standing. Many friends use and praise it." Mrs. H. Lamoreaux, Isle La Motte, Vt.

If you would Banish Disease and gain Health, Take KIDNEY-WORT THE BLOOD CLEANSER.

HOP PLASTER
This porous plaster is absolutely the best ever made, combining the virtues of hops with gums, balsams and extracts. Its power is wonderful in curing diseases where other plasters simply relieve. Crick in the Back and Neck, Pain in the Side or Limbs, Stiff Joints and Muscles, Kidney Troubles, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Sore Chest, Affections of the Heart and Liver, and all pains or aches in any part cured instantly by the Hop Plaster. ☞ Try it. Price 25 cents or five for $1.00. Mailed on receipt of price. Sold by all druggists and country stores. LAME BACK Hop Plaster Company, Proprietors, Boston, Mass.

☞ For constipation, loss of appetite and diseases of the bowels take Hawley's Stomach and Liver Pills, 25 cents.

GENUINE BERMUDA GRASS. ROOTS by mail $1.00 per gallon. J. W. CRAWFORD, Cheneyville, La.

CANCER
The experience in the treatment of Cancer with Swift's Specific (S. S. S) would seem to warrant us in saying that it will cure this much dreaded scourge. Persons so afflicted are invited to correspond with us.

I believe Swift's Specific has saved my life. I had virtually lost use of the upper part of my body and my arms from the poisonous effects of a large cancer on my neck, from which I had suffered for twenty years. S. S. S. has relieved me of all soreness, and the poison is being forced out of my system. I will soon be well.
W. R. ROBISON, Davisboro, Ga.

Two months ago my attention was called to the case of a woman afflicted with a cancer on her shoulder at least five inches in circumference, angry, painful, and giving the patient no rest day or night for six months. I obtained a supply of Swift's Specific for her. She has taken five bottles, and the ulcer is entirely healed up, only a very small scab remaining, and her health is better than for five years past; seems to be perfectly cured. REV. JESSE H. CAMPBELL, Columbus, Ga.

Treatise on Blood and Skin Diseases mailed free.
THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., Drawer 3, Atlanta, Ga.
New York Office, 159 West 23d St., bet. 6th and 7th Ave.

CONSUMPTION.
I have a positive remedy for the above disease; by its use thousands of cases of the worst kind and of long standing have been cured. Indeed, so strong is my faith in its efficacy, that I will send TWO BOTTLES FREE, together with a VALUABLE TREATISE on this disease, to any sufferer. Give Express and P. O. address.
DR. T. A. SLOCUM, 181 Pearl St., New York.

PATENTS promptly procured in all countries. American Patent Agency, 181 Fifth Street, Cincinnati, Ohio.

A. N. K.—E. 969

WHEN WRITING TO ADVERTISERS please say you saw the advertisement in this paper.

BOONE COUNTY RECORDER.

VOLUME IX. | BURLINGTON, KY., WEDNESDAY, MARCH 19, 1884. | NUMBER 20.

DIGNA DEFEATED.

Severe Battle Near Suakim Between the English and the Rebels.

The Latter Attack the English Camp and are Routed, Losing 4,000 Killed and 6,000 Wounded.

SUAKIM, March 13.—The rebels opened fire on General Graham's forces at 1 o'clock this morning. The British forces at once formed to repel a charge, but no attack came. The men were thereupon ordered to lie down again. The fire of the rebels continued all night, but the British did not reply. One officer and two men were wounded and one man killed. The fighting began at daybreak. The infantry and artillery completely routed the enemy from their pits and trenches. The battle had not lasted more than half an hour when a victory for the British was made certain. The British forces advanced in two brigades, which were thrown into the form of squares, and a series of encounters followed. Soon after leaving Sariha, a great body of the rebels charged the leading square, spearing many British sailors inside. The square immediately closed up, and the rebels were repulsed with great slaughter. The advance was again resumed, when immense hordes rushed upon the British from both sides. A terrible struggle ensued. The Arabs fought with the greatest pluck and bravado, but were nearly all killed. The 2d Brigade met with an obstinate resistance, and was at one time repulsed. The Gatling and Gardiner guns fell into the hands of the rebels, and were only recovered after a severe fight, when the British likewise gained possession of the rebel camp. The Hussars made a forward movement and cut off the rebels' retreat to Sinkat. They hope to save the families of the massacred garrison. The rebels, under the cover of smoke crept close up to the British lines and dashed against the marines and 65th and Black Watch regiments, throwing themselves upon the bayonets of the British, and giving and receiving fearful wounds. Great confusion ensued. The 65th began to retreat, crowding upon the marines, when all became inextricably mixed. General Graham and his staff did their utmost to rally the men, retreating 800 yards to enable them to reform. Assistance from the other brigade prevented a serious disaster. There were many narrow escapes among the officers. The horse of General Buller was shot from under him. The pluck shown by the rebels was unexampled. The battle raged two and a half hours. The rebel loss is estimated at 4,000 killed and 6,000 wounded.

Unprovoked and Murderous.

WILKESBARRE, PENN., March 14.—This evening while Simon Kokoski, an aged pack peddler, was returning from a place called Morgantown to Kingston, he was set upon by two young men who were under the influence of liquor, and brutally beaten into insensibility with stones and clubs. His assailants were Thomas Quinn and William Little, both brawny young fellows of about nineteen years of age, and their assault on the old man was entirely unprovoked, he merely turning about and looking at their drunken movements as he passed them on the sidewalk. Several bystanders rushed upon the men and stopped them from killing Kokoski on the spot. They were committed to prison without bail to await the result of the injuries of the peddler, who, at the latest report to-night, was not expected to live the night through.

Death on the Track.

ATLANTA, ILL., March 14.—A terrible accident occurred here at five o'clock this evening, resulting in the death of Fred Prange, a shoemaker here. He had been drinking heavily during the day, and either attempted to board the south-bound freight, which had met the way-freight here, bound north, or was attempting to crawl under the train. When first seen he was being dragged under the car next to the caboose of the south bound train. He was turned up several times and his legs thrown under the wheels, severing both limbs about the knee, and also one arm, after which he was dragged by the train about fifty feet. He leaves a wife and two children.

A Terrible Affair.

PITTSBURG, PA., March 14.—Last evening the gas in a furnace of the Edgar Thompson steel works, at Braddock, exploded, instantly killing Wm. McCall and seriously injuring James Murray and Chris Toole. The concussion was terrific, rending the furnace asunder and scattering the debris in all directions. McCall, who was on a hoist when the explosion occurred, would have escaped unhurt if he had not become frightened and jumped. His body was mashed to a jelly and death resulted instantly. Murray was burned and scalded externally, so that little hope is entertained of his surviving. Toole was badly burned about the head and shoulders, but will recover. The cause of the explosion is not known.

For the Murder of His Wife.

ST. LOUIS, March 14.—Matt Lewis, colored, was hanged here early this morning for the murder of his wife in October, 1876. Lewis quarreled with his wife and cut her throat in a fit of jealousy, and escaped, but was arrested nearly a year afterward. He has been in jail seven years, during which he had four trials. He was sentenced to be hung September 6, 1878; again convicted November 26, 1879, and February 14, 1882, but got a new trial each time; convicted the last time February 14, 1883, on which conviction he was hanged to-day after an appeal in vain to both the Supreme Court and the Governor.

Needs Taming.

MILWAUKEE, March 13.—James Harris, a farm-hand, styling himself "Wild Bill of the Prairie," has been arrested for the murder of Frederick Vierke, killed Tuesday night in the town of Lind. Harris was a constant reader of dime novels. He disappeared the night of the murder.

Bank Teller Missing.

ST. LOUIS, March 13.—Frederick J. Deiterichs, paying teller of the Laclede National Bank, St. Louis, has been found short in his accounts about $30,000. He has disappeared.

Prayer and Faith.

PITTSBURG, PENN., March 13.—Miss Mary Hilliard, a highly connected young lady who lives in the East End claims to have been cured of a lameness of twenty years' standing in answer to prayer. She became lame when two years old, and since that time has been unable to work unless she wore a boot to which was attached a steel supporter fastened to a belt at her waist. Last Sunday afternoon she says she visited the house of a friend, and joined with elder S. P. Young, of Harmony, Penn., in prayer for her recovery. After supper she expressed the determination to go home without the boot, which she had removed prior to the prayer, and, despite the urging of her friends not to do so, on account of the extremely slippery condition of the pavement, she reached home unassisted and with no sense of soreness about the foot. She has walked upon it continually since that day, and yesterday was in the city walking around, shopping and attending to other business.

Underground Horror.

POCAHONTAS, VA., March 13.—A terrible gas explosion occurred at one o'clock this morning in the Laurel Creek Coal Mine. One hundred and fifty-five men were at work there at the time, and such was the force of the explosion that every one was killed, and the fanning machine, engine and cars were blown three hundred feet from the entrance. The fanning machine was insufficient for the mines, and before its deficiency could be discovered and remedied by those in the mines, the gas accumulated to the explosive point. This place is made up entirely of the houses of the miners, and was built by the Southwestern Improvement Company. A good many of the miners are Northern men and Pennsylvanians. The engineer at work near the mouth of the mine, as well as the assistant and colored boy, were blown hundreds of feet away, and their mangled bodies found scattered in every direction. The engineer's head was found in a ravine, and his legs and arms were found near the mine. Of those at work in or about the mine, not one was left to tell the story.

Grand Levee Washed Away.

BATON ROUGE, March 14.—The Governor received a telegram from Bayou Sara, to-night, reporting that Grand Levee gave way at six this afternoon. The dispatch says it is all gone. The levee protected probably the richest sugar producing section of the State. The water will overflow the greater part of Pointe Coupee and West Baton Rouge Parishes, and portions of Iberville and Assumption, including the Bayou Grosse Tete section. The levee was built by the State last year, and cost $87,000. If the whole levee is gone, as reported, a volume of water one mile wide and ten feet deep will pour out of the Mississippi at that point.

Suicide of a Hermit.

SHELBYVILLE, IND., March 14.—For the past twenty years John Fox has lived the life of a hermit in Jackson Township, this county. Not having been seen for several days his cabin was visited yesterday evening and he was found dead in his bed. Lying by his side was an empty four-ounce bottle labeled laudanum and a loaded revolver. The Coroner will return a verdict of suicide.

News Copyright Bill.

WASHINGTON, March 15.—Mr. Henry Watterson was before the joint Committee on Library of both houses of Congress Friday and made an argument in favor of the proposed newspaper copyright bill, of which he is the author. He explained that at present news was paid for by one paper and published at the same time by others, who copied the news and paid nothing for it.

St. Paul to Portland in Ninety Hours.

ST. PAUL, March 14.—The Northern Pacific will put on a through Portland train, to connect with the Milwaukee fast mail train. It will leave here at 4 o'clock, taking Northwestern mail delivered from the East at 3:30. The Northwestern is also expected to make connection with Eastern passengers. The time from St. Paul to Portland will be ninety hours; to Tacoma one hundred hours.

A Week's Failures.

NEW YORK, March 14.—The week's business failures throughout the country, as reported to R. G. Dun & Co., were for the United States 174 and for Canada and the provinces 42, a total of 216, as compared with 272 last week. The decrease is principally in Western, Middle and New England States. Canada has the same number of failures as last week.

Diseased German Hog.

BERLIN, March 14.—Trichinosis, engendered by eating German-bred pork, due in no wise to the American product, is ravaging various parts of Germany.

LYONS, March 14.—The Chamber of Commerce protests against the embargo on American pork.

Naphtha Explosions.

HUNTER'S POINT, L. I., March 13.—While a quantity of naphtha was being placed upon a lighter a package exploded, causing an explosion of other packages valued at $15,000.

The Dynamite Murderers.

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., March 13.—Seneca Miller, another of the three men who threw dynamite cartridges into a residence at Pawling, was convicted of murder in the second degree. Mulkins, the third man, then pleaded guilty to murder in the second degree. Each was sentenced to life imprisonment.

College Sports.

NEW HAVEN, March 14.—Oliver Dyer, a Yale sophomore, who was roughly hammered by a classmate in the college athletic games on the 8th inst., died this morning from the result of his injuries.

Refuses to Leave.

COLUMBUS, O., March 15.—George Hammond, a convict in the Ohio Penitentiary, has been pardoned, but refuses to leave until cured of an injury received while at work in the prison.

Relief for the Suffers.

RICHMOND, VA., March 14.—The General Assembly to-day, in view of the awful coal mine disaster at Pocahontas, and the likelihood of great destitution to the families of the victims, adopted a joint resolution authorising the Governor to ascertain the approximate amount of money necessary to relieve immediate wants.

A MOTHER'S CRIME.

Startling Solution of a Murder Mystery of Seventeen Years Standing.

The Shocking Confession Made Upon Her Death-bed of the Mother of Christine Kett.

DAYTON, O., March 16.—On Friday night, January 11, 1867, Christina Kett, a young lady of eighteen years and comely appearance, was murdered in her own home in this city. Her body was found lying on the kitchen floor, with her feet hanging in the hatchway to the cellar. Her head had been crushed by a blunt instrument and powder marks were on her face. By her side lay her brother's pistol. This brother discovered the body and gave the alarm. No motive could be assigned for self-destruction, and no satisfactory traces of the criminal could be discovered. In the cellar was an axe covered with snow. There were also tracks to and from the house, through the back yard and vacant lots in the neighborhood. The mother of the murdered girl was absent at the time the body was found, and on being informed of the murder made a great demonstration of grief. Dayton was startled by the crime, and hundreds of people visited the house, then on a lonely commons near Wayne street. The brother, whose pistol was found near the girl, was arrested but discharged. Buck Hughes, then a noted character about town, was also suspected, and held for examination, but no sufficient evidence could be produced against him. Tom Goetz, a lover of the girl, also had his turn as a suspected murderer. Neighbors and relatives had suspected the mother of the crime, but no evidence could be produced, and a motive was lacking. At various times she had acted strangely; was known to be wakeful, and inclined to be startled at every noise. The house where the crime was committed was given to a son, and the mother removed. For a time she went West, stopping at St. Paul and other Western cities, but, as the son now says, seemed to have no peace. Last winter, in a freak of apparent derangement, she struck wildly at her son, saying that there had been blood on her hands once, and might as well be again. She had told one or two that before her death she was going to tell something to her son, and that she wanted no one else to hear. Since the 1st of January she has been ailing, but would summon no physician. She was afflicted with goitre and subject to choking spells. Three weeks ago she took to her bed with inflammation of the bowels, and stubbornly refused a doctor. Growing worse and apprehending death she called her son to her side, ordered every one else out of the room, handed him the deed for her property, and then told the startled and agonized young man the story of the murder. On the morning of the fatal day the mother was washing, and told the daughter, who went away with a young lady friend, that she should not stay long, as there was bread in the oven, and she was wanted to get dinner. The daughter did not return, however, until 4 o'clock, when she was called to account for her absence; and the mother, who was a woman of violent and uncontrollable temper, became enraged at the girl, and struck her with an axe-handle. As she approached, the frightened girl fled toward the cellarway and was about to descend when struck. The blow was fatal, and horrified at what she had done, the murderess bethought to conceal the crime, by hunting up the son's pistol and placing it beside the body, and then to give some evidence of its use by placing the girl's finger in the powder-flask and burning powder near her face.

Coal Mine on Fire.

WILKESBARRE, March 16.—Great volumes of smoke poured out of the Conyngham air shaft at five o'clock this afternoon, indicating that a fire is raging in the mine. What it was due to is unascertained at this time. Daniel Evans, fire boss of the colliery, with four miners, hastily collected all the hose at hand and hurriedly went down the shaft with it. It was soon learned that a plane in the mine was on fire. An explosion might occur at any moment. Up to the discovery no one was in the mine. No explosion yet. LATER.—Another party went down, and, co-operating with those already engaged in fighting the fire, succeeded in extinguishing the flames after five hours' hard work. The Delaware and Hudson Company own the mine. Suspension of mining is necessary for several days.

Fenian Fright in Canada.

OTTAWA, March 16.—It was rumored at the Parliament building to-night the Government got an intimation to use every precaution, as dynamiters were supposed to be meditating an attack on the buildings. The guard was increased, and the Speakers of the Commons and Senate, who have apartments in the building, retired from their quarters Saturday evening. It is said, however, that Speaker Kirkpatrick left owing to his wife being ill.

Didn't Know It Was Loaded.

NEW YORK, March 16.—Dennis Reilly pointed a revolver at Celin Renner, aged seventeen, while both were visiting friends in Brooklyn. The weapon went off, instantly killing the girl. Reilly was overcome with grief. He didn't know it was loaded. He was arrested. An examination showed all the chambers of the revolver empty except one.

Desperate Criminals.

DETROIT, March 16.—Billy O'Callaghan and Matty Kennedy, two Detroit crooks, in jail at Sandwich, Canada, for burglarizing the Post-office at Colchester, succeeded in escaping, after shooting and killing George Leach, the Governor of the jail, and fatally beating James W. Davis, the turnkey. Kennedy was arrested at Walkersville, but O'Callaghan is still at large.

Proposed Home for Disabled Seamen.

ST. LOUIS, MO., March 16.—A petition is being extensively signed by river men here, and will be forwarded to Congress in a few days, asking for the establishment of a snug harbor or seamen's home at Rock Island for the benefit of aged and disabled seamen.

The Mississippi Flood.

MEMPHIS, March 16.—Dispatches from Vicksburg tell of nearly everything for a hundred miles below being under water by the rise in the Mississippi River. No loss of life yet reported. Farmers are hopeful that the worst is over.

—The men arrested at Fargo, D. T., for cutting timber on Government land, have been released on a ridiculous quibble, the jury deciding that cord-wood was not timber.—Chicago Tribune.

—An old lady in New York offered District-Attorney Olney six eggs as an inducement to show leniency to her son, who was lately indicted for stealing.—N. Y. Times.

—Dakota has only seventy-three "gate" cities.—Denver Tribune.

XLVIIIth CONGRESS.

First Session.

WASHINGTON, March 11.—SENATE.—Bills introduced and referred: Providing for the suspension of the coinage of the standard silver dollar for two years, and the issue of one and two-dollar Treasury notes. To make Lake Borgne an outlet to improve lower water navigation on the Mississippi River from New Orleans to Cairo. To give pensions to dependent relatives of deceased soldiers. Mr. Logan called up the House message on the Military Academy Appropriation Bill, and moved non-concurrence in the House amendments, and the appointment of a committee of conference upon the disagreeing vote of the two Houses. Agreed to. The Senate then went into executive session for the further consideration of the Mexican Treaty, and, when the doors were reopened, adjourned.

HOUSE.—Bills reported favorably: To reduce import duties and the war tariff (the new Tariff Bill), accompanied by a written report. A minority report was submitted. For the sale of the Kickapoo diminished reservation in Kansas. The House went into committee of the whole on the Post-office Appropriation bill. After a lengthy debate, the bill was read by sections. Mr. Horr moved to increase to $12,250,000, the appropriation for compensation to postmasters. Pending action, the committee rose and the House adjourned.

WASHINGTON, March 12.—SENATE.—A joint resolution was submitted providing for the submission to the States of a Constitutional amendment, making the Presidential term six years, making the President ineligible to re-election. Referred. Bill reported favorably: To establish an educational fund and apply a portion of the proceeds of public lands to the public education and provide for the more complete endowment and support of colleges for the advancement of scientific and industrial education. A bill was introduced and referred to establish a forest reservation at the head-waters of the Missouri River and head-waters and Clarks Fork of the Columbia River. The Pleuro-Pneumonia bill was taken up, discussed and went over, and the Senate took up the Fitz John Porter bill. After considerable debate without action, the Senate went into executive session and soon adjourned.

HOUSE.—The morning hour was dispensed with, and the House at 12:25 went into Committee of the Whole, Mr. Buckner in the chair, on the Post-office Appropriation Bill. The Committee of the Whole, by a vote of 117 to 45, struck out the clause limiting the salaries of postmasters to $4,000. An amendment, offered by Mr. Horr, increasing from $10,500,000 to $12,250,000 the appropriation for compensation to postmasters was lost. Mr. Horr moved to increase the appropriation for clerks in post-offices by $125,000. The Committee rose for the purpose of limiting debate on this amendment. The increased appropriation was favored by Messrs. Cutcheon, Bingham and Horr, and opposed by Messrs. Holman and Townshend. The amendment was lost 77 to 111. Mr. Skinner (N. Y.), offered a resolution increasing by $400,000 the appropriation for the payment of letter-carriers. Pending action, the committee rose and the House adjourned.

WASHINGTON, March 13.—SENATE.—A bill was reported favorably for the admission of Dakota. A joint resolution was referred to the Committee on Agriculture, appropriating $25,000, to be made immediately available under the direction of the Commissioner of Agriculture, for the suppression of the foot and mouth disease among cattle in Kansas. The bill for the relief of Fitz John Porter was taken up. After a lengthy debate the bill was read the third time and passed—yeas, 36; nays, 25. Adjourned.

HOUSE.—The House went into committee of the whole (Mr. Blount in the chair, on the Post-office Appropriation Bill, the pending amendment being that increasing the appropriation for the payment of letter-carriers, and the incidental expenses of the free delivery service, from $3,600,000 to $4,00,000. Amendment adopted. Mr. Hewitt (N. Y. offered an amendment, providing that periodical publications, other than daily newspapers, when delivered within the city wherein they are published, shall be charged with the same postage as is now or may be imposed by law on such publications when delivered elsewhere than in the city of publication. The Committee rose for the purpose of limiting the debate upon the pending paragraph. Adjourned.

WASHINGTON, March 14—SENATE.—A bill was introduced to reduce postage on mailable matter of the second class. Referred. Mr. Plumb called up the joint resolution appropriating $25,000 for the eradication of the foot and mouth disease. Mr. Cullom thought the amount should be $50,000, and the resolution passed at once. A long debate ensued, but no action was taken. The vice president announced that he will be compelled to absent himself for three days next week, and if there was no objection he would designate Mr. Sherman to perform the duties of the chair. There being no objection the designation was made, and the Senate adjourned until Monday.

HOUSE.—The morning hour was dispensed with. Mr. Townsend made an effort to set aside the private business order and proceed to the consideration of the postal appropriation bill. The house refused by 218 to 118 to consider the bill, and went into Committee of the Whole on the private calendar. (Mr. Cox, of New York, in the chair.) The bill granting a pension of $2,500 a year to Septimina Randolph Meikelham, the sole surviving grandchild of Thomas Jefferson, was taken up and a favorable report from the Committee on Pensions read. This bill took up the entire day, in debate pro and con. On motion of Mr. Hewitt, of Alabama, the enacting clause was stricken out, by 129 to 60. The Committee rose and the house ratified its action. The house took a recess until 7:30, the evening session to be for the consideration of pension bills.

WASHINGTON, March 15.—SENATE.—Senate not in session.

HOUSE.—The morning hour was dispensed with, and the House went into Committee on the Whole (Mr. Blount in the chair) on the postoffice appropriation bill, the pending question being on the motion of Mr. Hoar to strike out the proviso limiting the compensation paid for mail transportation to land grant roads to 50 per cent. of that allowed other roads. Mr. Holman offered as a substitute for the motion an amendment including within the 50 per cent. limitation clause the Northern Pacific and Union Pacific systems, and providing that no right now existing in favor of the United States in regard to these roads shall be deemed impaired or waived by this action. Mr. Holman's amendment was adopted by a vote of 83 to 56. When consideration of the first section was completed, it became evident that the bill could not be finished this evening, and the committee adjourned.

The Keeley Motor Again.

PHILADELPHIA, PENN., March 16.—Yesterday Mr. John Keeley discharged the workingmen whom he had employed in his little shop on Twentieth street, and declared that his motor would be ready for exhibition some time during the present week. The generator and engine have been put together, and the man of mysteries said to-day that nothing remains now but to adjust the apparatus. This work Keeley says he can attend to himself. He informed some friends on Saturday last that he would go into his shop to-morrow and not leave it until the engine was set in motion and everything was in readiness for a public exhibition. One of the men whom Keeley discharged had been employed by him for seven years.

—A recent advertisement reads as follows: "If the gentleman who keeps the shoe store with a red head will return the umbrella of a young lady with whalebone ribs and an iron handle to the slate-roofed grocer's shop he will hear of something to his advantage, as the same is a gift of a deceased mother now no more, with the name engraved on it."—N. Y. Herald.

—Gordon Percival, eighty-four years of age, has just emigrated from Maine to Washington Territory.—Boston Herald.

THE COMMONWEALTH.

Legislative Proceedings.

FRANKFORT, March 8.—SENATE.—Bills passed: To amend an act to amend and reduce into one all the acts with regard to the town of Morgantown, Butler County, with an amendment by way of substitute. To amend the charter of the city of Vanceburg, in Lewis County. To prohibit stock from running at large on the Bloomfield and Springfield Turnpike road, in Nelson and Washington Counties. To incorporate the town of New Hope, in Nelson county. To prohibit the sales of liquors, etc., in the vicinities of Bethel Church, Gainsville; Hartford; Wallace Chapel, Madison County; Huntsville, Butler County. To incorporate the Covington Incline Plane and Narrow-gauge and Elevated Railroad. A number of other minor bills were passed. The Speaker announced the appointment of the following gentlemen to act upon the joint committee on reapportionment: Messrs. Haggard, Burnett, Hays, Garnett, Poole. Adjourned till Monday.

HOUSE.—The report of the committee to investigate the charges against the Western Lunatic Asylum was received and adopted. The report was favorable to the management of that institution. Bills passed: To amend the charter of the Louisville Board of Trade. To incorporate the American Trust Company of Louisville. To incorporate the Kentucky Humane Society for the prevention of cruelty. To incorporate the town of Jackson, in Breathitt County. To incorporate the Louisville Faith-Cure Home. To increase the per diem of Justices of the Peace in Breathitt, Carrol, Grant and Trimble Counties. Russell County was added. To incorporate the Methodist Episcopal Church South, known as "Devils' Chapel," in New Columbus, Owen County. To regulate the assessment and collection of taxes in the City of Louisville. Adjourned till Monday.

FRANKFORT, March 10.—SENATE.—Bills passed: Exempting all persons over sixty years of age from paying a poll-tax in Simpson County. To authorize the Livingston County Court to levy a tax to repair and build bridges, &c. To change the time of holding County Court in Jessamine County. Fixing the time of holding Courts of Justices of the Peace in Warren County. To authorize the County Court of Hickman County to dispose of delinquent tax lists, &c. A Bill to amend section 332 of the Civil Code. [The section reads: "It shall not be necessary for the Court to state its findings, except generally for the plaintiff or defendant."]

HOUSE.—Bills passed: To repeal an act to establish free schools for the education of colored children in Owensboro. To amend section 2, article 3, chapter 105, of the General Statutes, title "Surveyors." To re-enact an act entitled "An act authorizing a reward for killing wolves, red foxes, gray foxes and wild-cats," approved February 13, 1873. The unfinished business was a request from the Senate to appoint a committee, to act in conjunction with a similar committee from that body, to withdraw from the Governor a bill to incorporate the Citizens' Passenger Railroad Company. Mr. Jackson moved that the House refuse to appoint a committee to withdraw said bill. Adopted. Mr. Cleary moved to reconsider the vote adopting said motion. Mr. Lewis moved to lay said motion on the table. Adopted. Adjourned.

FRANKFORT, March 11.—SENATE.—The following bills were reported and appropriately referred: to authorize the Commissioners for the Court-house District, in Campbell County, to erect and maintain a jail in the city of Newport, and to issue and sell bonds to pay for the same; to furnish the Judges of the Simpson County Court with certain books; to incorporate the town of Water Valley, in Graves County; to amend the charter of the town of Montgomery, in Trigg County; to repeal all special acts of incorporation approved prior to March 10, 1879, which have not been accepted and acted upon; to incorporate the city of Richmond.

HOUSE.—The Committee on Judiciary reported a bill providing for the erection of a State House and other public buildings at the seat of Government. The bill appropriates $100,000 a year for three years for the erection of said buildings. Mr. Stoll moved to amend by adding Frederick Hoertz, of Louisville, as a commissioner. Mr. Hart moved to amend by adding after the words seat of Government at the city of Flemingsburg, in Fleming County. Declared out of order. Mr. Walton moved that the plans and specifications for the heating and ventilating apparatus be submitted to the approval of the State Board of Health and that the said Board is hereby required to give to said commissioners all proper advice on all other sanitary questions which may arise in the construction of said buildings. Mr. Ratcliffe moved to amend by providing that the seat of government shall be removed from Frankfort to Lexington. Mr. Kehoe moved to strike out the words "seat of government" and insert the words "to be expended at any point that may hereafter be determined." Mr. Kehoe moved to strike out "seat of government" wherever it occurs and insert "said money shall be used in the erection of a capitol building in the city of Lexington or Louisville as may hereafter be determined by a vote of this General Assembly." Pending its consideration the House adjourned.

FRANKFORT, March 12.—SENATE.—A number of local bills were passed, among them: To incorporate Spencer Institute. To incorporate Jackson Academy Company. To amend the charter of Kentucky University. To incorporate the city of Richmond. Adjourned.

HOUSE.—Among the bills introduced were: A bill in relation to corporations and associations, organized under other authority than the laws of this State, for the purpose of furnishing life indemnity or insurance upon the assessment plan. Banks and Insurance. Resolution fixing the day of adjournment of the General Assembly sine die. [This bill fixes the day of adjournment March 29, 1884, at 1½ o'clock.] Mr. Stuart moved to lay the resolution on the table—yeas 31, nays 41. Mr. E. F. Madden moved to strike out March 29, and insert March 31. Mr. Owens moved to refer the resolution to the Committee on Rules—yeas, 47; nays, 27. The bill appropriating $100,000 a year for three years for the completion of the State House and other public buildings at the seat of government, was discussed at length to-day, and on the question of its passage the vote stood—yeas, 45; nays, 35. Not receiving the constitutional majority—which is fifty votes—the bill was declared rejected. A motion was made to reconsider. Ajourned.

Miscellaneous Items.

THE funeral of James Kinsella, a pioneer resident of Covington, took place in that city the other day.

EX-GOVERNOR BLACKBURN will establish an asylum for inebriates and lunatics at Louisville.

HUMPHREY CRITTENDEN, who murdered George Hutchinson in Scott County, has been found guilty and sentenced to hang.

DEPUTY United States Marshal Moody, a few mornings ago seized the steamer Charles Morgan at Louisville, on a libel taken out to recover $507, in favor of a coal firm. The claim was adjusted promptly and she left for Cincinnati.

THE case of John Tingle vs. The Adams Express Company, lately pending in the Circuit Court at Carrollton, has just been decided for plaintiff. The plaintiff brought suit to recover $678.12, which sum, in an envelope addressed to him, was mysteriously lost from the company's office at English Station last July, where it had been received from Louisville. The case involved many nice points. The plaintiff was represented by Joseph Blackwell, Warren Montfort and Thomas J. McElrath; the defendant by Judge Wilson, of Cincinnati, and by R. W. Masterson, John S. Gannt and W. M. Fisher.

THE grand jury of Pendleton County adjourned a few days ago after finding fourteen indictments, among them being one against Barney Koch for shooting with intent to kill the notorious Bill Nuttles, of Cincinnati.

THOMAS BERRY, a colored convict from Lexington, died in his cell in the penitentiary a few nights ago, of hemorrhage of the lungs.

THE State Assessors are rapidly clearing up their lists.

AN Italian Count peddles lemons and a real Russian buys rags in Louisville.

THE DAIRY.

—Whatever tends to promote the comfort of the cow tends to increase her yield of milk and to improve its quality.

—Cows that have not wintered well need a little extra care just now. A warm bran slop, with a little ginger, fed daily will produce wonderful results.

—It is claimed English consumers of milk pay about $7,000,000 annually for water sold as milk. The means for the detection of the adulterated liquid are comparatively trifling.

—The milk of the Devon cow is considered by scientific men to be the best for family use, because the cream rises more slowly than on the Jersey or Guernsey milk, and it is richer than the Durham.

—A New York paper is glad to learn that the State Senate has ordered an investigation into the adulteration of dairy products, and trusts the committee thus appointed will also find out, if possible, why the present laws upon this subject are not enforced.

—An Austrian chemist gives his recipe for detecting false butter: Melt a little of the suspected article; soak a wick in it. When again solid, light it like a candle; blow it out. If it smells of blown-out candle, it is oleomargarine; if of fresh butter, why, butter it is.

—It is reported that there are in Green County, Wis., forty-eight Limburger cheese factories, using nearly 200,000 pounds of milk daily, the produce of 7,355 cows, and making 21,183 pounds of cheese each day. Sixty thousand pounds of milk are also used daily in twenty Swiss cheese factories.

—From the most reliable sources we learn that the number of milch cows, including heifers in calf, in the United Kingdom of Great Britain, June, 1883, was 3,725,528. A careful writer says that not over 2,000,000 are in milk at any one given time, and that their total yield will be about 650,000,000 gallons. This is about one-fifth the number of cows in the United States in 1880, and Prof. Sheldon estimates the value of this milk to the dairy farmers as now used at less than three cents per quart.

—A Boston paper says: "We recently asked a dealer in butter, thoroughly acquainted with the dairy products of the farms near by Philadelphia, what system was pursued by the dairymen in the production of so much fine butter. He answered that he had visited many of these dairy farms for that very purpose, finding a somewhat different system at almost every dairy, about the only point upon which they all agreed being the extensive pasturing of sweet-scented vernal grass. Good feed must ever be the basis of good butter."

—The dairy owes very little to science but very much to practice, says an exchange. Science seems to have bungled very much in regard to the many questions in dairying upon which light is desirable, and the present rapid advance in the dairy industry seems to be wholly due to the shrewd and sensible practical men who make use of their common sense and experience to improve their methods. Indeed, so far, in regard to some questions in the dairy, practice is wholly opposed to the opinions of scientific men; that is to say, men who do their dairy work in a library and laboratory, perhaps, but mostly in the former.

Cream for Butter Factories.

At the Ontario dairymen's convention C. C. Buell, of Rock Falls, Ill., gave an address on the present state of cream-gathering in the Western States. In the course of his remarks he said: "Only six years ago C. C. Fairlamb established the first creamery system that now goes under his name. He was not a practical dairyman, but a scientific man of quick parts and great intelligence. In the rapidity of its spread in the West and the immense results that have followed, it surpasses everything of a similar character. The State of Illinois is credited with 400 creameries, of which one-half are on this system. Iowa has 800 creameries, with the same proportion of gathered cream establishments, and in the whole West there are fully 800 conducted on this plan. Wisconsin, where it first started, has comparatively few of them. Two-thirds of the creamery butter going to St. Louis is said to be from gathered cream, and seven-eighths of that received in Chicago. Sixteen per cent. of the entire product of the country is made by this plan. This indicates a rapid diminution in the make of low grade butter. Some think that the quality of this butter is not quite so good as that made by establishments where milk is set in the creameries. The average price of the gathered cream butter is about two cents a pound less than the milk butter. This is more favorable than might have been expected on account of the ignorance and untidy habits of those who produce the cream. A wagon will probably not bring in during a day more than 100 inches of cream, which averages one pound of butter to the inch. The difficulties of butter-making begin with the cream in the jar. But if the small dairies can pool their cream at one establishment and have it cooled there, much of this difficulty can be avoided. Again, by this plan the skim milk is all left on the farm. Again, the difference in value of the cream gathered is now being largely discussed, and it is a difficult matter to regulate. In some establishments the cream is sampled by a test tube, and the gauge of fatty matter determines the percentage of money to be given to each patron. But most of these creameries have been successful notwithstanding these obstructions. The business is not a bonanza, but may be made remunerative by care and good business habits. The butter value of cream gathered does not differ more than that of the milk from the same herds. The bookkeeping in a gathered cream creamery ought not to take more than four solid days a month. I have not overstated the importance of this branch of industry, and I believe that it will have to come into use in the Eastern States eventually.—Chicago Times.

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

A NEW YORK doctor writes that there is but one cure for the opium habit, and that is to quit right off.

PROF. J. G. WOOD, the English naturalist, likes Boston so well that he has concluded to settle permanently there.

A SCOTCH school-teacher has hit upon the novel plan of chastising his pupils by pouring castor oil down their throats.

THEY are offering twenty-five cents apiece for cats on the San Joaquin River, California, to kill the gopher ground squirrel.

A CONNECTICUT man has at last taken out a patent on the "buttonless shirt," a well-known family disturber for these many years.

TRAVELERS of experience claim that for ease of riding, railroad cars with large wheels are greatly superior to those with small ones.

ACCORDING to the recent statistics, the number of telephone subscribers in the world was 72,702, of which the United States had 41,569, and all other countries 31,133.

AN investigator in New York has found that many cigar-makers use their saliva to make the wrapper stick, and that most of them bite the end of the cigar into shape with their teeth.

A YOUNG man advertises in the Boston Globe: "Wanted, by a handsome, virtuous man in easy circumstances, of brilliant talents, refined tastes and loving disposition, situation as son-in-law in a wealthy family."

SIR SAMUEL W. BAKER, African explorer, states that the camel will cross the deserts with a load of 400 pounds at the rate of thirty miles a day in the burning heat of summer, and requires water only every third or fourth day.

Osman Digna's little scheme of subduing the English by converting them to the Moslem faith is a new thing in military tactics. It did not work well, however, in the recent battle near Suakim where he lost the larger part of his army.

A NOTED physician says that a ripe raw apple is digested in an hour and a half, while a boiled potato takes three hours. Instead of giving nasty quack nostrums for the blood, parents should allow their children to eat all the apples they want.

DIO LEWIS is now waging war on big hats, which, he says, keep the sunshine from the faces of pale American women. The Courier-Journal remarks that Dio is out of his reckoning. Ladies do not wear big hats in the sunshine. They only wear them in theaters.

GENERAL GRAHAM'S recent victory near Suakim was dearly bought. The fanatics who can kill one hundred British soldiers and wound one hundred and fifty, with swords and spears, capture Gatling guns with a rush, and harass a camp all night, are not to be despised.

SOUTH EVANSTON, Ill., has a $3,800, 1,600 foot artesian well, with a flow of 250 gallons a minute, and a natural force sufficient to fill distributing pipes and supply the residents with plenty of pure, fresh water. This is a good demonstration of the practicability of artesian wells as a source of water supply for villages.

A DENTIST at one of the Reservations has been busy lately extracting aching molars from the half-civilized Indians. It is a curious fact that before the advance of civilization, when the natives subsisted solely on buffalo meat, decayed teeth were unknown among them. Braves who stand up in battle without flinching are reduced to a state of abject terror when they feel the cold grip of the forceps.

THE steamship San Pablo, which sailed from New York for China, the other day, carries some of the latest American agricultural implements, and between 9,000 and 10,000 bales of cotton fabrics. These goods were purchased and shipped by order of the Corean government, and are intended as exhibits at the exposition, which will shortly open in the city of Seoul, the capital of Corea.

SPEAKING of the moderate weather which the people of Scotland experienced through the winter just past, the Glasgow Herald remarks: "People, it is thought, drink less in a mild winter, quarrel less and commit fewer offenses and crimes; and if these things be true, an iceless winter, if less jolly, has its compensations in less general suffering, and therefore in a general increase of domestic comfort and moral sanity."

MRS. HESTER CHARLES, who died recently in Worcester County, Md., was widely known as the "blue woman." Her skin had a deep indigo tinge. She was closely related to the Polk family, of which James K. was the most distinguished member. It is said that when a child she had a beautiful, clear complexion, but during a long spell of sickness she was dosed internally and externally with sulphate of copper (blue vitriol,) until she assumed this disagreeable color.

THE RECORDER.

RIDDELL & HALL, Proprietors.

BURLINGTON, KY. MCH. 19. 1884

ADVERTISING RATES.

1 Column	1 year	$80
½ "	1 "	40
¼ "	1 "	20
½ "	½ "	20
¼ "	½ "	10
¼ "	¼ "	6

For announcing candidates, $5. Obituary poetry, 5 cents per line. Obituary notices 20 lines free; over that number (excepting the announcement of the death) 3 cents per line.

Tributes of respect from lodges, &c., $1 50

RATES OF SUBSCRIPTION.

One year	$1 50
Six months	75
Three months	40

THE Legislature passed the Covington free bridge bill over the Governor's veto.

Frank W. Seagel was hanged at Somerset, for murder, last Friday. He was about 20 years old.

THE wealth of Kentucky demands a better State-house than that old, unfinished barn at Frankfort.

To provide for a change in his district, Col. Breckinridge has been deadening over the line some.

"LITTLE" Phil Thompson has decided to make the race for re-election to Congress in his district.

THE first delegate appointed to the National Republican Convention in June, is instructed for Blaine, and is a Pennsylvania man.

A young man in Georgia the other day plowed up a jug that contained $9,500 in gold coins. Young man, buy a plow and go to work.

THE number of hogs packed at St. Louis from November 1, 1882, to March 1, 1884, is 382,222 against 327,001 for the same period the previous season.

ONE man has been found in Kentucky who declines to run for office, and that is E. T. Clay, of Bourbon, who had been requested to make the race for Congress.

A great many whisky bills are being presented in the Legislature; but as they are not of the kind that require payment, they do not disturb the members much.

THE Georgetown Times publishes a numerously signed call on Hon. W. C. Owens to allow the use of his name as a candidate for Congress. They may have a lively campaign in the Ashland district yet.

THE Aurora correspondent for the Cincinnati News Journal will find that he is very much mistaken in his statement that Bellevue will have to be abandoned on account of its wharf caving. Why, child, such small things as that won't annoy Bellevue.

SPEAKING of the new Register of the Land Office, the Clinton Democrat says. "Adams is not the first drunkard Gov. Knott has given important position, and it is not likely to be the last if other vacancies occur."

Fox "culture" will now be the leading industry in the mountain counties, the new law giving a reward of $3 for a fox scalp, tending to greatly increase that branch of business which has been very dull for many years.

THE Democratic State Central and Executive Committee will meet in Frankfort to day, to fix the time and place of holding a State Convention, for appointing delegates to the National convention to be held in Chicago, July 8, 1884.

The measure of skill and knowledge of Dr. Gale in conducting a lunatic asylum is to be inquired into and if the testimony on that point is as conclusive as that taken in regard to other matters pertaining to the asylum business, the doctor ought to join Tom Buford.

THE proof before the committee investigating the Anchorage Asylum does not show that Dr. Gale ever treated any of the patients cruelly, but it establishes the fact that he has been very unfortunate in securing attendants, nearly every one of whom are guilty of administering very harsh treatment to inmates under their care.

Yesterday Mr. Harry Farmer bought at Woodburn Farm, for Sheriff Collins, of this county, three head of cattle, which cost Mr. Alexandra the total sum of $18,000. The three animals were barren heifers which failed to breed, and being of no use to him, they were sold at beef prices. They are splendid looking animals, and were sold by Mr. Collins on yesterday evening to John Heller, the butcher.—Yeoman.

THE following is the opinion of the Court of Appeals in the case of Boone County vs. L. H. Dills. Judge Pryor rendered the opinion.

The court being sufficiently advised, rendered the following opinion.

The County Court of Boone at its Court of Claims allowed to L. H. Dills the County Court Clerk various sums of money for services rendered as clerk, a part of which he may not have been entitled to, and for which no allowance should have been made. After the several allowances had been made, the money was collected and paid over to the claimant. Under the statute neither the Circuit Court or this Court, had any revisory power over such allowance; the County Court, the party making the allowance, having no right to appeal from its own judgment.

The county by a legislative enactment obtained after the money had been collected and paid over to the appellee was authorized to institute an action to recover the money back, upon the alleged ground, that it was allowed and paid, under a mistake of law, and such is the character of the action brought.

The County Court had full and complete jurisdiction over the subject matter, and the justice or merits of the claim, was the subject of judicial inquiry by that tribunal. Testimony may, or at least could have been heard in regard to the nature of the services rendered, and the accounts and charges for services performed, were filed in the County Court, and made the basis of the allowance of the various sums of money to the appellee.

It is not pretended, that any fact relating to the claims was concealed from the Court, or that the Court had more light on the subject, when this suit was brought, than it had when the claims were allowed. It is alleged, that they had discovered that the money was paid, under a mistake of law (that is) the judicial tribunal had rendered a judgment for the appellee, when it should have been against him.

This is not such a mistake as would authorize the chancellor to revise the judgment. Errors in judgments committed in the course of a judicial inquiry, is not a ground for relief, in a court of equity.

That the services were rendered is admitted by the petition, and that they were ex-officio services was, or should have been as well understood, when the allowance was made, as when the present suit was instituted. The county is in fact, alleging that the Justices made an improper allowance.

This may be so; but if errors of courts of justice, can be corrected in this manner, it would not only open a new field of litigation, but if followed, would result in the re-trial, or re-hearing of every claim, allowed by the County Court, since the passage of the act. While a change of remedies, or the right to have issues of facts, settled by existing rules of evidence are not vested rights, it might become important to ascertain the nature of the right vested in the appellee, by the payment of the money to him before any remedy was afforded.

This court in the case of the Nashvill & Henderson railroad company, vs. Dickinson, 15 B. M., determined that a statute giving the right to an appeal, in a civil action, where none existed before, was not unconstitutional. In that case it was said "But a right to property, is a perfect and exclusive right, and a right thereof to recover the amount of a judgment, cannot be called a perfect or vested right."

A vested right to the latter (speaking of the judgment) in the proper sense of the term, could not accrue, until the money was collected. Aside however from the constitutional question, as it is not necessary to decide it, such mistakes of judgment as was committed by the Justices, will not be inquired into by the chancellor.

The County Court assembled as a Court of Claims, has a vast and comprehensive jurisdiction on all questions of allowances made to county creditors, as well as the finances of the county, and to require the claimant to litigate his claim before a tribunal having jurisdiction over the subject matter, and then to permit the tribunal rendering the judgment to say that it was rendered by mistake as to the law, would be to jeopardize the rights of the claimant, and give to the chancellor, a jurisdiction, that was not intended to be conferred by the enactment.

The allowance was not void, as the County Court had jurisdiction over the entire subject matter, and having to make its own allowance at the instance of the claimant, it was not thought proper to permit an appeal by the County Court, from a judgment, that the court itself had rendered.

When the claimant has practiced a fraud on the county in obtaining the allowance, or a mistake has been made, we are not prepared to say, that the court is without remedy, in the absence even of any legislation on the subject. If the allowance had been made to the wrong person, or the sum of money designated as allowed to A, when in fact, it was allowed to B. or a mistake in entering the amount when allowed, made either by the clerk or the court, or where fraud is practiced, in obtaining the allowance, we are inclined to think the county has a remedy in equity to correct it. But when the case is fully heard, and the court upon the evidence allows more than it ought to have allowed, or makes an allowance within its jurisdiction, when it ought not to have made it, are not such mistakes as a court of equity would undertake to correct, or was intended to be corrected by the enactment.

Judgment affirmed.

Joe Blizzard, of Christian county, was sent to the penitentiary and his wife and children went to the poor-house. He was hired out to work on a railroad and while at work was crippled for life, and was afterward pardoned by the Governor; suit was instituted against the railroad company, and the company compromised by paying him $15,000, consequently he and his family will not reside at the poor-house any longer.—Ex.

THE statement of the Farmers and Traders National Bank, of Covington, which appears in this impression makes a most favorable showing when compared with the other banks of that city, and is very satisfactory to the stockholders, a large number of whom are citizens of this county. The success of that bank is almost phenomenal, its organization being of a recent date, while in its business it is far in the lead of its older competitors. In the matter of individual deposits it has about $200,000 more than the German National; about $175,000 more than the Covington City National and about $120,000 more than the First National, while its stock is booming.

WHEN the bill to revive the scalp law of 1873, which provides that a reward of from 50 cents to $3 be paid for the scalps of foxes, wildcats and wolves, was under consideration in the House, it caused much discussion.

Mr. Simpson spoke in favor of the bill. His people didn't want the branch penitentiary nor the capital. They would be abundantly satisfied with the scalp law.

Mr. Clark had been opposed to the bill, but now favors it. He understood the wolves in the mountains sometimes carried off small children.

Mr. Ratcliff wanted the bill passed because the foxes in the mountains ate up all the chickens and had driven out all the Methodist preachers. The spiritual welfare of the mountain people depends on the passage of the bill. The local option law in that country had long since caused the Baptist preachers to forsake it. In the name of conscience let us keep the Methodist.

Mr. Adair said members were speaking lightly about a very serious matter. The scalp law had been a fearful drain on the treasury of the State.

Mr. Ratcliff—"Yes; but does not the Bible say, 'What doth it profit a man if he gain the whole world and lose his own soul?'" [Laughter.]

STATE NEWS.

Wheat looks well in Owen county.

Hay is getting very scarce in Owen county.

The Exchange Hotel at Sparta sold for $2,000.

Gov. Knott has purchased an $800 pair of coach horses.

The editor of the Owen Democrat had a negro arrested for stealing.

A large crop of tobacco will be raised in the State again this year.

Dr. Yandell, a very prominent Louisville physician, died on the 12th inst.

Trimble county is taking steps looking to the building of a new Court-house.

The Muhlenberg grand jury returned 53 indictments for violation of the liquor law.

The Georgetown Times wants to wager that Gen. Buckner is the next Governor of Kentucky.

A large amount of the funds appropriated by the Kentucky legislature for the flood sufferers was not used.

Judge Jackson, of Louisville, has been appointed to try two murder cases in the Floyd Circuit Court this week.

Humphrey Crittenden, colored, was found guilty of the murder of Geo. Hutchinson by a Scott county jury last week and sentenced to be hung.

The Frankfort twine mills that were destroyed by fire last fall are in operation again, and have new and improved machinery from England.

An Auburn, Ky., lady has just finished a quilt, called the Rocky Mountains, that has in it fourteen thousand, two hundred and eighty-nine pieces.

A Louisville man committed suicide by hanging himself in a grape arbor at night, and the body being discovered by his son was fired upon under the supposition that it was a burglar attempting to conceal himself in the arbor.

D. K. Mason, senior member of the People's warehouse company, at Louisville, made an assignment last week, after which he was arrested, charged with disposing of a warehouse receipt for a hogshead of tobacco without consent of the holder of the receipt.

John W. Thomas, of Scott county, raised 7,737 pounds of tobacco from 3¾ acres of land. From 5¾ acres, including the first named, he raised 9,737 pounds, or 1.693⅓ pounds per acre. He sold the lot for 20 cents per pound, aggregating $1,944 50. The 3¾ acres, which was new ground, paid him $412 64 per acre.

For Rent.

A house and good tobacco land. Apply to or address JAMES D. ACRA, Burlington, Ky.

Sheriff's Sale for Taxes.

By virtue of taxes due the Sheriff of Boone county, Ky, for the years 1881-2-3 I, or one of my deputies, will, on

Monday, April 7th, 1884,

between the hours of 12 m, and 3 o'clock p. m, at the Court-house door in Boone county, Ky, expose to Public Sale, to the highest bidder, for cash in hand, the following property, (or so much thereof as may be necessary to satisfy the amount of taxes due aforesaid and cost,) to wit:

A track of land containing 10 acres more or less, levied on as the property of Joel Ryle and adjoining the lands of Sebern Berkshire, T. C. S. Ryle, Z. T. Stephens, &c. Amount to be made by sale $8 05.

J. R. CLUTTERBUCK, S. B. C.
By W. T. GERMAN, D. S.

Mch. 14, 1884.

FOR SALE.

A thoroughbred Jersey Bull. 5 years old. Price, $60. Call on E. H. HOWARD, Bullittsville, Ky.

FOR RENT.

About 50 acres of good oat land. Call on or address Mary E. Kendall on the premises or C. O. Utz, Constance, Ky.

For Sale.

A dwelling with 6 rooms, and 15 acres of land at Rabbit Hash, Ky. On this land is a good orchard, barn and other conveniencies. Also a never failing well. Address B. F. BELL, Rabbit Hash, Ky.

NOTICE.

The stockholders in the Burlington and Florence turnpike are hereby notified that an election for the choosing of a president and four directors for said road, will be held at Dudley Rouse's store in Burlington, on the first Saturday in April, 1884.

FEELDEN ROUSE, Pres.

NOTICE.

All persons indebted to the estate of Nancy Hamilton, deceased, are notified to come forward and settle same at once, and those having claims against said estate must present them to the undersigned, proven as by law required.

NOAH CLORE, Adm'r.

NOTICE.

All persons having claims against the estate of Thos. Rich, decd., will present them properly proven, as by law required. Those indebted to the estate will please come forward and settle at once.

JACOB REIB, Adm'r.

NOTICE.

The stockholders of the Woolper Turnpike are hereby notified that on Monday, April 7th, 1884, an election will be held in Burlington, at which a board of five directors will be chosen to serve the ensuing year. J. FRANK GRANT, Sect'y.

NOTICE.

Persons having claims against the estate of Nancy Snyder, deceased, are notified to present them at once properly proven, for payment; and those owing the estate must settle their indebtedness at once. The sale notes are expected to be paid promptly upon their maturity. T. B. AYLOR, Adm'r.

Notice.

All parties having claims against the estate of F. W. Grant decd., are hereby notified to present the same properly proven without delay or further notice,

J. Frank Grant,
W. H. Grant, Admr's.

Strayed.

Taken up as a stray by Allen Goodridge, living on the Ohio river, about 1½ miles below Taylorsport, in Boone county, on the 12th day of January 1884, one bull about two and half years old, with white head, dark read body, some white on his back, and end of tail, legs spotted up to his knees straight horns and under bit in each ear, and which I have appraised at $15 Witness my hand this 12th day of Jan., '84.

W. A. GOODRIDGE, J P B C

EGGS FOR HATCHING.

From Pure Plymouth Rocks, straight descendants from the show birds of Isaac Daniels and Perley Pickett, of Ohio. My birds are second to none. Fine size, quick to mature and best of layers. For reference inquire of N. Dickersen or Eddie Ranson, at Verona, or Jacob Cleek or Geo. W. Sleet, at Beaver Lick, Ky. You can order them now and say when you wish them shipped. Your orders will be promptly filled and with proper care. Satisfaction guaranteed. Price, $1 50 for 15, and $1 for each 15 over, when shipped at same time. Money must accompany order. Address M. J. HUME, Verona, Ky. 15 3m

$66 a week at home. $5 outfit free. Pay absolutely sure, no risk. Capital not required. If you want business at which persons of either sex young or old, can make great pay all the time they work, with absolute certainty, write for particulars to H. HALLET & Co., Portland, Maine.

A PRIZE Send six cents for postage, and receive free, costly box of goods which will help you to more money right away than anything else in this world. All of either sex, succeed from the first hour. The broad road to fortune opens before the workers, absolutely sure. At once address, TRUE & Co., Augusta, Maine.

AGENTS wanted for The Lives of all the Presidents of the U. S. The largest handsomest, best book ever sold for more than twice our price. The best selling book in America. Immense profits to agents. All intelligent people want it. Any one can become a successful agent. Terms free, HALLET BOOK Co., Portland, Maine.

GOLD for the working class. Send 10c for postage, and we will mail you free, a royal, valuable box of sample goods that will put you in the way of making more money in a few days than you ever thought possible at any business. Capital not required. We will start you. You can work part the time only. The work universally adapted to both sexes, young and old. You can easily earn from 50 cents to $5 every evening. That all who want work may test the business, we make this unparalleled offer; to all who are not well satisfied we will send $1 to pay for the trouble of writing us. Full particulars, directions, etc., sent free. Fortunes will be made by those who give their whole time to the work. Great success absolutely sure. Don't delay. start now. Address STINTON & Co., Portland, Maine.

PATENTS.

For new inventions and novel designs obtained in the United States, Canada and Europe. Trade Marks and Copyright—Labels secured for Merchants and Manufacturers who wish protection against imitators of their goods, packages or articles of manufacture. We are located opposite the United States Patent Office, have quick access to its records, and can give prompt and reliable answers to inquiries. Of our firm one has had thirteen years' practice in the highest courts, another several years as an Assistant Examiner in the United States Patent Office and many years experience as solicitor of American and Foreign Patents. Fee reasonable and full satisfaction or no fee. Best reference given. Our little book "on patents" sent free on receipt of one cent stamp.

W. A. COULTER & CO., Solicitors of Patents, 23 St. Cloud Building, Washington, D. C.

PISO'S REMEDY FOR CATARRH

Easy to use. A certain cure. Not expensive. Three months' treatment in one package. Good for Cold in the Head, Headache, Dizziness, Hay Fever, &c. Fifty cents. By all Druggists, or by mail.

E. T. HAZELTINE, Warren, Pa.

Cut This Out & Return to us with TEN CTS. Silver, & you'll get by mail, a GOLDEN BOX OF GOODS that will bring you in MORE MONEY in One Month than anything else in America. Absolute Certainty. Either Sex. No capital. M. Young, 173 Greenwich St., N. York.

H. C. CHAMBERS,

AUCTIONEER

FLORENCE, - - - KENTUCKY.

ROBERT B. REED

Attorney at Law.

OFFICE AT - - - UNION, KY.

F. RIDDELL,

ATTORNEY at LAW

BURLINGTON, KY.

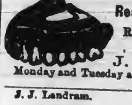
Office over Dudley Rouse's Store.

ALBERT W. GAINES,

Attorney and Counselor at Law,

LAWRENCEBURG, - - - IND.

Will practice in the courts of Boone county, Ky., Cincinnati, Ohio, Dearborn and adjoining counties, Ind. dec-6-82



W. E. VEST,

COUNTY SURVEYOR

WALTON, KY.

Is prepared to do all kinds of surveying. All orders sent him through the mail to Walton, will receive his prompt attention.

E. E. IGOE,

Resident Dentist, Rising Sun, Ind.

WITH

J. P. Ulrey.

Monday and Tuesday at Rising Sun, Ind.

J. J. Landram. G. G. Hughes.

LANDRAM & HUGHES,

ATTORNEYS at LAW.

Will practice in the Boone Circuit Court and the Court of Appeals. Prompt attention given to Collections, on application to G. G. Hughes, Burlington, Ky.

DR. A. B. HARRY AN

RESIDENT DENTIST,

Aurora, Indiana.

(Office Over Postoffice)

With J. P. ULREY.

Dr. ULREY'S days, Wednesday and Saturday. Office open at all hours. 8-1y

L. C. NORMAN. [illegible]

NORMAN and STEPHENS,

ATTORNEYS at LAW.

UNION, BOONE CO., KY.

Will practice in the Courts of Boone Kenton and adjoining counties. Collections solicited and made throughout the State. 24 tf 81

S. W. TOLIN,

ATTORNEY AT LAW

BURLINGTON, - - - KY.

Office in Court-house on 2d floor.

Will manage litigation in any of the Courts of the State, contracts and other legal instruments drawn up at reasonable rates. A prompt an studious attention given to business intrusted to my care. A trial solicited. 12-1y

A. M. ACRA,

—DEALER IN—

HARNESS SADDLES.

Fine and Cheap Buggy Harness.

BURLINGTON, KY.

I also have a full stock of BUGGY WHIPS, LAP DUSTERS, ANKLE BOOTS and TROTTING BALLS and everything else usually kept in a first-class harness shop.

REPAIRING A SPECIALTY.

Give Me A Call.

THE CINCINNATI Weekly News!

A NATIONAL

METROPOLITAN JOURNAL,

Full Of Enterprise,

PEOPLE!

EIGHT PAGES—SIXTY-Four Pages

Containing all the News, correct Market Reports, well selected Miscellany, brilliant Stories—in fact, the favorite Weekly Paper of the Central United States.

—PUBLISHED BY THE—

Cincinnati News Publishing Co.

AT THE FOLLOWING

LOW RATES OF SUBSCRIPTION.

THE WEEKLY NEWS with one of Dore's Celebrated Works,

"Christ Leaving the Prætorium,"
"Christ Entering Jerusalem,"

These engravings of Dore's fame historical paintings are the best and most perfect reprints by the Foreign Art Reproducing Company, and can not be purchased as orignal plates for less than $40 each in Europe. They are in size 23x36 in. and are direct copies, preserving every line and detail OF THE ENGLISH $40 ENGRAVINGS.

These pictures are suitable to adorn the parlor of any gentleman. As a

Premium Supplement!

A Single Copy, three months	$0 40
A Single copy, six months	60
A Single copy, one year	1 00
A club of 10 copies to 1 P. O. 1 year	9 00
A club of 20 copies to 1 P. O. 1 year	17 00

And large clubs at 85c per copy per annum

Postmasters and other agents will be allowed 15 per cent on full rate (not club) subscribers.

The premium engravings will be mailed about the first of each month to the subscribers entitled to receive them.

As a premium offer it is confidently claimed that its equal was never before made, and would not be possible in this case except for the method adopted by the Foreign Art Reproducing Company to advertise its work.

Do not fail to avail yourself of the opportunity by sending your name and address, with one dollar enclosed, to

THE CINCINNATI WEEKLY NEWS.

County Directory.

OFFICERS.

Assessor—G. M. Riley.
County Surveyor—W. E. Vest.
School Commissioner—D. M. Snyder.
Coroner.—Dr. A. A. Murat, Constance.

COURTS.

CIRCUIT COURT meets the 2d Monday in April and first Monday in October, P. U. Major, Judge; W. L. Riddell, Clerk A. G. DeJarnette, Commonwealths Attorney; W. L. Riddell, Trustee Jury Fund.

COUNTY COURT meets the first Monday in every month. L. H. Dills, Judge; S. W. Tolin, County Attorney. M. T. Garnett, Clerk; J. R. Clutterbuck, Sheriff, T. W. Finch and W. T. German, Deputy Sheriffs.

QUARTERLY COURT meets the first Monday in March, June, September and December. The officers of the County Court preside.

COURT OF CLAIMS meets the first Monday in November.

MAGISTRATES' COURTS are held in March, June, September and December, as follows:

Bellevue—M. B. Green, first Saturday, and T. H. Sutton, third Monday. J. M. Moody, Constable.

Burlington—E. H. Baker, Thursday after first Monday, and Oscar Gaines, fourth Monday. R. H. Sandford, Constable.

Carlton A. G. McConnell, Wednesday after second Monday, and B. H. Ryle, Saturday after third Monday. Walter Ryle, Constable.

Petersburg—Jos. Hensley, Wednesday after first Monday, and L. A. Loder fourth Saturday. Geo. Comer, Constable.

Beever—W. M. Rouse, Friday after the third Monday, and

Union—M. C. Norman, Thursday after third Monday, and H. Bannister, Thursday after second Monday. A. D. Riley, Constable.

Hamilton—F. M. Howlett, Tuesday after second Monday; W. W. Garnett, Wednesday after third Monday. R. L. Roberts Constable.

A. L. Brown,

THE HATTER,

Cor. Pike and Washington Streets

COVINGTON, - - KY

Has always on hand a large variety of Men's, Boys' and Children's Hats, and prices GUARANTEED to be as low as the lowest,

Gents' Furnishing Goods a Specialty

W. J. RICE,

CARPENTER & BUILDER,

BULLITSVILLE, KY.

Is prepared Raise or Move EITHER LOG or FRAME BUILDINGS On Short Notice.

And at the Lowest Possible Figures.

33-tf Your orders respectfully solicited

LUMBER.

Goe. M. Bedinger & Co.,

Erlanger, - - Ky.

We keep constantly on hand all kinds of Lumber, Laths and Shingles. Also Builder's supplies of all kinds.

—Come and see Us.—

may 9-tf

AURORA MARBLE AND GRANITE WORKS, Aurora, Ind

Will have constantly on hand

Marble and Granite Monuments, Italian & American Headstones, &c.

I am ready to do all kinds of Stone Work on short notice and at low prices Hoping to receive the patronage of Boone County, I am respectfully,

F. W. KASSEBAUM.

INSURE AT HOME

The Farmers' Mutual Fire

INSURANCE COMPANY

Of Boone County

Is now completely organized and receiving applications for insurance.

Its Rates are Lower

Than those of any other Company, and it gives the farmers of Boone County a

HITHERTO UNKNOWN ADVANTAGE

In keeping their property insured.

EVERY FARMER IN THE COUNTY [illegible] should take a policy at once.

J. A. GAINES, President, Burlington, Ky.
J. H. WALTON, Secretary, Constance, Ky.

R. RANDALL, Treasury.

DIRECTORS.

LEGRAN GAINES, A. J. UTZ.
JNO. STEPHENS.

OSCAR GAINES, Agent.
C. L. CRISLER, Assessor.

INCORPORATED UNDER THE LAWS OF MISSOURI.

CENTRAL MEDICAL & SURGICAL INSTITUTE OF ST. LOUIS, MO.

SUCCESSORS TO DR. BUTTS' DISPENSARY. OFFICE & ROOMS, NO. 920 LOCUST ST.

CHAS. L. LaBARJE, M.D., Pres't & Physician in Charge.
NELSON CHESMAN, Treas. & Business Manager.

This Institute has ample facilities and an experienced Faculty. While it succeeds to a large business, which has been established for years, it will aim to extend its medical and surgical practice, giving skillful and scientific treatment to CHRONIC DISEASES of the Head, Spine, Lungs and Air Passages, Heart, Liver, Stomach and Bowels, Rheumatism, Dyspepsia, Consumption and Asthma. BLOOD IMPURITIES, inherited or caused by impure association, Scrofula, Fever Sores, Ulcers, etc. DEFORMITIES of the Limbs, Spinal Curvature, Wry-Neck, Diseases of the Joints, Piles, Fistula, Ruptures, etc. WEAKNESS and wasting diseases in old and young men, also all diseases of the genito-urinary organs. FEMALE irregularities and weaknesses, causing pain in the back or side, etc.

Personal interviews with patients are always preferred. Those unable to visit the Institute will be furnished with blank lists of questions that will aid them in making a full statement of their cases and if not requiring a surgical operation they can be successfully treated by correspondence, and medicines sent by mail or express. To enable us to send proper list of questions applicants should give a brief statement of their trouble.

(The Treasurer of the corporation is of Nelson Chesman & Co., Advertising Agents, and refers to the publisher of this or any other newspaper in the United States or Canada regarding responsibility.)

Consultation at Office or by mail free and invited.

TUTT'S PILLS

TORPID BOWELS, DISORDERED LIVER, and MALARIA.

From these sources arise three-fourths of the diseases of the human race. These symptoms indicate their existence: Loss of Appetite, Bowels costive, Sick Headache, fullness after eating, aversion to exertion of body or mind, Eructation of food, Irritability of temper, Low spirits, A feeling of having neglected some duty, Dizziness, Fluttering at the Heart, Dots before the eyes, highly colored Urine, CONSTIPATION, and demand the use of a remedy that acts directly on the Liver. As a Liver medicine TUTT'S PILLS have no equal. Their action on the Kidneys and Skin is also prompt; removing all impurities through these three "scavengers of the system," producing appetite, sound digestion, regular stools, a clear skin and a vigorous body. TUTT'S PILLS cause no nausea or griping nor interfere with daily work and are a perfect

ANTIDOTE TO MALARIA.

Sold everywhere, 25c. Office, 44 Murray St., N.Y.

TUTT'S HAIR DYE.

GRAY HAIR OR WHISKERS changed instantly to a GLOSSY BLACK by a single application of this DYE. Sold by Druggists, or sent by express on receipt of $1.

Office, 44 Murray Street, New York.

TUTT'S MANUAL OF USEFUL RECEIPTS FREE.

VIGOROUS HEALTH FOR MEN

THE PASTILLE CURE TRADE MARK FOR NERVOUS DEBILITY

TESTED FOR 5 YEARS by use in thousands of cases. Founded on scientific medical principles, it has been growing in favor and reputation while its numerous competitors have invariably failed. The direct application of this remedy to the seat of the disease makes its specific influence felt without delay. The natural functions of the human organism are restored. The animating elements of life which have been wasted are given back. The buoyant energy of the brain and muscular system renders the patient cheerful; he gains strength with rapidity.

NERVOUS DEBILITY, organic weakness, and numerous obscure diseases, baffling the skill of best physicians, result for youthful indiscretion, too free indulgence, and over brain work.

Do not temporize while such enemies lurk in your system. Take a remedy that has cured thousands, and does not interfere with you attention to business or cause any pain or inconvenience.

(Send for a Descriptive Pamphlet giving Anatomical Illustrations, which will convince the most sceptical that they can be restored to perfect manhood, and fitted for the duties of life, same as if never affected. Sent free to any one. Remedy sold ONLY by the)

HARRIS REMEDY CO. MF'G. CHEMISTS.

306½ N. 10th St. ST. LOUIS, MO.

One Month's treatment $3. two months $5. three months $7

WANTED BOOK Canvassers.

MALE and FEMALE

To engage in the sale of our new and important works of standard character, large profits and immense selling qualities. We offer a permanent and lucrative business. Address The CINCINNATI PUBLISHING CO., 174 W. Fourth Street, Cincinnati, Ohio.

Free! Cards and Chromos.

We will send free by mail a sample set of our large German, French, and American Chromo Cards, on tinted and gold grounds, with a price list of over 200 different designs, on receipt of a stamp for postage. We will also send free by mail as samples, ten of our beautiful Chromos, on receipt of ten cents to pay for packing and postage; also enclose a confidential price list of our large oil chromos. Agents wanted. Address F. GLEASON & Co., 46 Summer Street, Boston, Mass.

TESTED BY TIME.

STRONG'S PECTORAL PILLS

IN SUCCESSFUL USE FOR HALF A CENTURY.

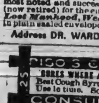
The best Remedy for Coughs, Colds, Dyspepsia and Rheumatism. Insure Healthy Appetite, Good Digestion, Regularity of the Bowels. A precious boon to delicate females, soothing and bracing the nervous system, and giving vigor and health to every fibre of the body. Sold by Druggists. For Pamphlets, etc., address C. E. HULL & CO., 18 Cedar St., N. Y. City.

FREE TO ALL.

OUR new illustrated Floral Catalogue of 80 pages, containing description and prices of the best varieties of Plants, Garden and Flower Seeds, Bulbs, Roots, Shrubs, Small Fruits and Trees will be mailed Free to all applicants. 10 Tea Roses mailed for One Dollar to any place. Wholesale and retail.

NANZ & NEUNER, Louisville, Ky.

WRIGHT'S INDIAN VEGETABLE PILLS FOR THE LIVER



And all Billious Complaints

Safe to take, being purely vegetable; no griping. Price 25 cts. All Druggists.

SANITARIUM, Riverside, Cal. The dry climate cures Nose, Throat, Lungs, full idea, 36 p., route, cost, free.

MARRIAGE AND HEALTH GUIDE. 200 pgs. illustrated.

All that the doubtful curious or thoughtful want to know. Cloth and gilt binding 50 cts, paper 25c. Marriage Guide, 144 p 15c, sent sealed, money or stamps, by DR. WHITTIER 290 RACE STREET, CINCINNATI, OHIO. The great specialist, Nervous Debility, Impediments to Marriage, Consultation and Pamphlet free.

FREE! RELIABLE SELF-CURE.

A favorite prescription of one of the most noted and successful specialists in the U. S. (now retired) for the cure of Nervous Debility, Lost Manhood, Weakness and Decay. Sent in plain sealed envelope free. Druggists can fill it.

Address DR. WARD & CO., Louisiana, Mo.

PISO'S CURE FOR CURES WHERE ALL ELSE FAILS. Best Cough Syrup. Tastes good. Use in time. Sold by druggists. 25 100 CONSUMPTION.

$288 per month collecting small family Pictures to enlarge into the Melanotype the finest enlarged picture in the world Diploma, Red, White and Blue Ribbon awarded everywhere. Testimonials. Private terms. SOLID GOLD WATCH and $5 outfit free to Agents. Address Empire Copy'g Co., 381 Canal St., N. Y.

PAYSON'S INDELIBLE INK Is the BEST. No preparation. Used with any clean pen for marking any fabric. Popular for decorative work on linen. Received Centennial MEDAL & Diploma. Established 50 years. Sold by all Druggists, Stationers & News Agt's.

Local News.

Alf Burnett, assisted by Miss Helen Nash, will appear at Hebron Hall, on Tuesday evening the 25th inst., at 7:30 o'clock.

Maple Syrup, at W. E. Piper's.

5 cents and agoin'—we can't stay!

New Turkish Prunes, at W. E. Piper's

Grass was well preserved during the winter.

Don't forget Dr. Smith's sale on the 25th inst.

It is predicted that all the stone fruit is killed.

Vennor predicts rough weather for this week.

Samuel Hall has been very sick for several days.

Mack Aylor's sale is advertised for the 29th inst.

Well, we have had some nice spring weather, at last.

Georgia Piper has been on the sick list for a few days.

The snow disappeared very reluctantly, but it had to go.

Some of the farmers commenced plowing last week.

Shelby Rich, of Kenton, made Burlington a visit Sunday.

Our tobacco merchants shipped several hogsheads last week.

Miss Nettie Gardner's school in district No. 51 closed last week.

Mrs. S. A. Palmer is visiting her mother near Manchester, Ind.

Mr. Bashaw, an attorney from Trimble county, was in town, Monday.

Those operating sugar camps this spring report the water very sweet.

There has been some very favorable weather for making maple molasses.

J. M. Conner will not take charge of an extensive farm this year as reported.

The Gallatin Circuit Court is in session this week. Boone is next in the circuit.

The bad condition of the roads curtailed the attendance at church here Sunday.

Mrs. Emily Campbell and daughter, Miss Jennie, are the guests of Mrs. L. H. Dills.

Our Florence communication came in minus an address on the envelope this week.

Adam Clore, an old citizen of the north part of the county, died one day last week.

The robbins are certainly tired of winter, judging from their activity on clear days.

Logan Tanner and George Tanner, of Milan, Indiana, are visiting friends in this county.

The Sheriff is now presenting the road overseers with their credentials for this year.

The mumps, measles and whooping cough are interfering with the Rising Sun schools.

Rabbi Stuck was in town last Saturday, having just recovered from an attack of the fever.

Albert Acra and Mrs. Rhoda Smith were married at the residence of Elder E. Stephens, Tuesday.

The sale of the personal property of Mrs. Nancy Hamilton, deceased, last Saturday, amounted to $17.

Ben Kirkpatrick struck the prize in the C. O. D. tobacco, and has had watch pockets put in all his pants.

The Carpenter brothers hauled their large crop of tobacco to the city last week, where they sold for $6 and $11.

Arthur Rouse captured in their back yard, Monday, a water fowl, known as a Koote and a native of southern waters

James Westbay has developed into a full feathered auctioneer. Jim is a good one, he keeps things "Just agoing."

Duck hunters are keeping close watch over the ponds in the neighborhood, but have secured no game from that source.

The time allotted to the ground hog's winter has terminated, but the weather does not appear to be entirely settled.

Mr. and Mrs. Archibald Thompson, our two oldest citizens, aged 92 and 90 respectively, are in a very doubtful state of health.

Dr. Smith left, Tuesday morning, for Florida, to make arrangements for the reception of his family, who will depart immediately after their sale.

C. N. Cropper, of Louisville, arrived here last Saturday. He is ge neral agent for a combined mower and reaper, and is making a canvass in its interest.

John Furlong has gone west with Chasteen Fowler. They will engage in the filling business in Illinois. We trust they will have much good luck.

H. P. Stephens presented us with a mammoth lemon, last Saturday, being one of a lot sent to him by a friend in Florida. It looked like a pumpkin, it was so large.

[illegible]

The above item was written by our young friend, Georgie Piper, who is making a success of the study of stenography.

Thursday, James Boon Cheatham, a blind man from Cynthiana, canvassed the town, selling books and a poem. He was lead around by a little negro boy.

Dr. Smith is closing up his business as rapidly as possible preparatory to moving to Florida, and wants those indebted to him to come forward and settle at once.

If you have a watch or clock that needs repairing, or if you want to buy fine jewelry go to M. C. Motch, jeweler, N. W. Cor. Madison and Pike Strs. Covington, Ky.

The farmers should now select and test their seed corn, for the intense cold of the past winter may have destroyed the germ, and a little precaution may save aggravation and labor.

Floods come and go, but we continue to do business at our old stand in Lawrenceburg, Indiana, and those wanting tombstones or monuments will find our prices and designs most satisfactory. John Beall, of Hebron, is our agent in Boone county. Hurschart & Co., Lawrenceburg, Ind.

PUBLIC SALE—The undersigned will sell at the residence of Cy Riddell, in Burlington, Saturday, March, 22, 1884, all her household goods and kitchen furniture. Terms made known on day of sale. Sale to begin at 1 p. m.

EMILY CAMPBELL.
JAS. M. WESTBAY, Auctioneer.

DIED—On the 17th inst., at her residence in Burlington, Mrs. Susan Thompson, in her 91st year.

Mrs. Thompson and her husband have resided in Burlington for many years, and the deceased was held in high esteem by all who knew here. The remains were interred in the Burlington cemetery at 3 p. m. Tuesday.

The Kentucky legislature is composed (Senate) of 22 lawyers, 10 farmers, 3 merchants, 2 physicians, 1 distiller and 1 druggist; in the House are 40 farmers, 36 lawyers, 6 physicians, 5 merchants, 5 "farmers and merchants," 3 printers, 2 mechanics, 1 distiller, 1 "attorney and farmer" and 1 "farmer and miller."

Our reporter heard one end of a telephone interview the other day, which was going over the private wire between the Boone House and Piper's store. It was as follows:

"Well—what—what—Charlie down there—what—tell him to bring it up—what—yes—yes—what—ask him what? don't understand you—good by—what—take that cat out, &c., &c.

Our Bellevue correspondent very politely invites Burlington to assist in restoring the wharf at that place, and, as Burlington capitalists are a very generous set of fellows, no doubt but they would respond very liberally were it not for the fact that at this very particular time all their available funds are absorbed in erecting three miles of telephone line—"hellow Hebron!"

We see at the Court-house door a notice that at the next term of the County Court an application will be made to discontinue certain portions of a dirt road in the Hamilton district, that has been superceded by a turnpike. The people in that part of the county are certainly to be congratulated on the completion of their new pike, for they needed it as badly as any part of the county, and they will soon be at a loss to know how they did without so long, and be as prosperous people as they have.

The following unclaimed letters remained in the Burlington P. O. when the office closed Monday evening:

Owen Beemon, John Castelo, S P Dorman, Rev. Truesenburg, Myron C Ketchan, J Albert Hydon, Elijah Howard, Peter Lawell (2), Enoch Lamb, Otlys M McMakin, John Osborn, David Nuce, Jesse Stewart, Isaac Simmermemon, M R Tanner, James Williams, Robt. Wilrai, John R Winkle, John Williams, Genora Egeston, Aggie Lawell, Maggie Lettle, Lelice Washinton Mary Weaver, Samuel Riddell, cold., 2, Laura Riddell, cold., Hern Droll.

Persons calling for any of the above letters will say "advertised."

D. ROUSE, P. M.

A. S. Gaines gave a dance last Friday night which the youth and beauty of the surrounding country attended in large numbers. The early hours of the night were extremely dark, which rendered traveling somewhat perilous, and the horse ridden by Miss Page Grubbs fell over a rock pile on the side of the pike, near Mr. Gaines' residence, and Miss Page was considerably hurt about her neck and head. Henly Smith got lost and rode through all the farms in the neighborhood, before he succeeded in finding Mr. Gaines' residence. Henly says he is ready to go to Florida now; he don't think the nights can get as dark there as they do in this county.

Alf Burnett, assisted by Miss Helen Nash, will appear at Hebron Hall, on Tuesday evening the 25th inst., at 7:30 o'clock.

NEIGHBORHOOD NEWS.

Normansville.

Died—On the 1st inst., after an illness of several weeks, little Walter, infant son of Mrs. Josephine Saunders.

Married—On the 6th inst., at Rising Sun, Ind., Mr. Billy Wilson, of this place to Miss Kate Egton, of Vevay, Indiana.

Beaver Lick.

Beaver like to froze stiff the last cool spell as it was impossible to get coal at Richwood, our regular coal station.

J. O. Griffith proposes to buy a few nice crops of tobacco at reasonable figures, but says such crops are hard to find.

"Aunt Susan" Underhill has moved to the beautiful villa formerly occupied by J. S. Noell, who has moved to his old home 'way down on Big Bone Creek.

Turnpike talk consumes the day of the good old farmers that meet daily in Beaver to reconsider the previous resolution. 'Tis to be hoped their talk will materialize.

The number of citizens around Beaver, who speak of sojourning in Florida next winter, is just simply alarming. Mr. George Slayback and wife, who sought health in Florida, have returned to old Boone, with an idea that Florida is n. g. for a laboring man.

Thus far we hav'nt heard of any tobacco seed having been sown. One gentleman, of Beaver says: "I honestly believe that I can have plants ready for transplanting, twenty-five days from the day I sow the seed." According to this there is yet lots of time to grow plants.

Hebron.

Rev. Swick will preach here next Sunday.

Mr. Adam Clore died of heart disease on the 13th inst.

The farmers' work is accumulating. The plowing and oat sowing season is now on hand.

For big "termateries, and fast fox hounds, this part of the county takes the superannuated linen off the bush.

Isaac Clore's sale on the 13th was well attended, and things brought good prices. Wheat sold for $1; oats, 45 cents and hogs, 5 60.

The team of our mail-driver is in bad health, and is registered at the hospital, while James Utz and his dashing steeds are on duty for Warner; hence the number of handsome, marriageable female passengers these days.

The educational interests in this section are being well attended at present, there being three schools now in progress, and presided over by the efficient teachers, Mrs. Daughters, Miss Aggie Forbus and Miss Lizzie Conner. The Hebron neighborhood is one of the leading localities in the county when it comes to good schools and plenty of them.

Petersburg.

John McWethy is the boss trick pony rider.

Property for sale in this place is in demand.

Ed Moreland is placed on the measles list this week.

The school district below here is without a teacher.

John Tilly, jr., is attending school at Lawrenceburg.

The latest drink is cider sprinkled with cock roach.

Elijah Parker was delivering his tobacco last Friday.

The tobacco merchants are shipping tobacco to market.

R. P. Nelson, of Lawrenceburg, was in town last Thursday.

Born—To Andrew Buchanan and wife, last Monday, two sons.

Croquet players on deck again last week for the coming season.

John Berkshire shipped a lot of hogs to Cincinnati last Wednesday.

An infant child of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Coburn, died last Friday.

Albert French has purchased a new skiff, to be ready for the next flood.

Mr. Collier, of Carrollton, is visiting his brother-in-law, Rev. Geo. Froh.

W. H. Smith and W. S. Burnes, have moved to the Bellevue neighborhood.

Porter says he has a collar he will sell for $150 and throw in a good mule.

Doc Ed has a pony and the supposition is he traded his white dog for it.

The remains of Wm. Seth were placed in the vault at this place, last Friday.

While the Legislature is in session it had better pass an act to amend the weather.

Mr. Humlong, of Mason county, is the guest of his brother-in-law, David Riggs, this week.

The boat we spoke of last week to run from Aurora to Lawrenceburg has failed to connect.

Felix Moses, of Florence, with his smiling countenance looked down upon us last Monday.

Dr. Ed Terrill's noted saddle mare, Jennie, has a fine brown colt of the Shetland stock.

Harlow Holabird, of Cincinnati, was visiting his father, A. B. Holabird, at this place, last week.

When Ennis Nixon comes to town he is always in a hurry, not having more than 5 or 6 hours to talk.

The piston rod to the engine at the distillery broke, last Thursday, and caused a delay of a few hours.

Capt. Smith, of the boat Rip Van Winkle, was engaged last Thursday in conveying barrels to Lawrenceburg.

L. F. Jackson had a pair of fine turkeys of the bronze species, shipped to him last week from Shelbyville, Ind.

Florence.

The furniture of the Hall in Odd-Fellows' building, that was cleared out to make room for merchandising, was sold on Saturday, to the highest bidder. This puts the vote on dancing and entertainments. We are going to have something more staple.

Esq. Wagstaff convened an extra session of his court, on Saturday, to try two young gentlemen for assaulting a "nigger." The crowd was so large at the fight, and the night was so dark that the witnesses could'nt see it, consequently the defendants were acquitted.

The Proprietors of the Recorder want correspondents to furnish stock and crop items. As we live in town we are not much informed as to the crops. We have made inquiry about stock and find that L. C. Yager has a thin-rind sow and Lute Souther a yearling bull. Of the two, which is the deeper in the thin-rind, it is difficult to determine. This is the only stock in these parts that Fred Utz and Eli Rouse have not gobbled up.

The Corwine Bros. will open a butcher shop, next Friday, in the storehouse lately occupied by P. A. Hampton. We would advise the boys, if they wish to get up a reputation for tender meats, to start off by purchasing the aforesaid sow and calf.

The protracted meeting which we casually noticed in our last as being held in the Methodist church and only an ordinary, yet interesting meeting, has developed into proportions that entitle it to a place in christian circles, and which will be reverted to a bright spot in the history of the Methodist church. Besides other additions, Rev. J. D. H. Corwine, who, for over 20 years, has been a member and preacher in the Universalist church, gave his hand to the pastor and signified his desire to united with the church. Mr. Corwine, who is an earnest, intelligent and conscientious christian, explained in a very appropriate speech, the reason for this step. "He was raised a Methodist and started out in early years, as a preacher in that church, coming upon this circuit. After a few years, his research and convictions led him to the Universalist, in which church he has been engaged as a preacher to this time. Thus, for 20 years, he had been drifting about upon the great ocean of time, like a ship at sea, without a helmsman. He had been conscientious in all his teachings, but was convinced of his errors, and the efficacy of his first love, and wanted to return to port." This surrender of Bro. C. is considered a great victory of the church and many are the speculations as to who will be the next. Bro. Corwine preached Sunday at 11 a. m, to a large audience. Subject—Prayer, Mathew 7-7, extract from Sermon on Mount.

Rabbit Hash.

"No, thank you," will go to my hotel and get dinner, yum yum.

B. H. Ryle is preparing to build him a large barn. His son will assist in the carpenter's work.

Mrs. Lou Vanness will teach a three months school at her residence, near this place, this spring.

A. J. Cayton, of East Bend, has moved to Rabbit Hash, occupying a house in the upper end of Buck village.

The Grange lot in this place has become a precious piece of property to some who have a cross-eye to business.

The moving season has returned, notwithstanding the bad roads, and it is not now safe to say where a person lives.

Mr. Oscar Gaines, deputy Assessor, is now assessing this neighborhood. It is surprising how few own dogs this week. Well, it is human to err, anyhow.

Wilson & Riddell have laid in a large supply of goods, this week, notwithstanding that the river is rising, rapidly, and almost out of its banks again, they persist in filling up their store.

Capt. E. T. Gleason, of Lawrenceburg, but formerly of this place was here last week on business. If he was on the hunt of the "needful," many of his friends won't appreciate his visit.

B. C. Calvert shipped some tobacco to the city last week, and was well pleased with his sales. He has his house full of the finest ever raised in the county, and it will bring the top prices.

It is hard to tell when we are the poorest in this country, whether it is when a relief boat comes along with its load of meat and flour, or when the Assessor makes his appearance to list property for taxation.

If some people would spend more of their time in praying for the divine being to make them better, and not gossip so much about their neighbors, they would, in due time, feel a great change of heart and mind.

After the party at Mrs. Lizzie Platt's, in Rising Sun last Thursday night, Joe Ward and Miss Edith Berkshire, came to the conclusion that single life was too lonely and at two o'clock in the morning, they procured the livery stable keeper to drive them to Aurora to meet the morning train, which they boarded and proceeded to the city, where they were made one until parted by death. At present they are in Aurora spending their honeymoon, a little afraid of the fair bride's enraged parents. May peace and joy go with them.

It looks as though our town is doomed to destruction. Last Monday Mr. P. G Holmes' house caught fire, and before assistance arrived, it burned to the ground. All the goods in the lower rooms were saved. The loss will be about $1,500, with no insurance. We feel grateful to the citizens of Rising Sun for their prompt response to the alarm when given, and the heroic manner in which they worked until every thing was done that could be. Twice by flood and twice by fire has our town been visited in the last twelve months. Five houses have been burned and six washed off of their foundations. The loss altogether amounts to thousands of dollars.

Bellevue.

William Brittenbach is now our mail carrier.

The river is nearly bank full and still rising slowly.

Miss Katie Arnold commenced the spring term of our school, last Monday.

The legislature has just passed an act prohibiting the sale of hard cider in our city and McVille.

We understand that Capt. Len Clore is charging ten cents a load for freight hauled across his land from Scott Rices lower landing.

James Smith and family, who have twice been flooded out of their house, have abandoned it and moved in Bellevue. The water is in his house the second time this year.

The Lowerings, opposite our town, have commenced tearing down their large brick house, preparatory to moving it back from the river, and above high water mark.

Mr. John Clore has bought the old Bellevue school property, and moved in it. Mr. Liudenburn and family now live in the Baker house. Mr. W. Grant and family have moved back in their house.

Our farmers are engaged, this week in burning and sowing plant beds, and sowing oats and grass seed. No plowing done yet. Small grain looking very small, but healthy. The tender varieties of fruit, nearly all killed. A great many stands of bees have perished from the sever winter.

For the benefit of your "keen scented" quill driver, of "poor Rabbit Hash," we will say his statement about Bellevue's petition to congress for $10,000, was premature, the petition having never reached daylight, not even in Bellevue. More hardtack and sowbelly for R.-H. Yum, yum.

We had hardly closed our last notes to the RECORDER, when we learned the bank had slipped just above the ferry road, on the Indiana side, and closed the road leading from the river. No ferrying can be done until the road is again opened. The bank in front of McVille has slipped down into the river nearly the whole length of the town.

The citizens of Bellevue and vicinity have signed a call for a meeting to be held in our school-house next Saturday evening, to devise a way and raise means to build a wharf at this place. As all our business men in this part of the county are interested in the matter, we hope it will be convenient for them to be present. We hope Burlington will send representatives and also the turnpike company, as both are interested in the matter. The subject is one that should draw together a large and harmonious gathering of our citizens.

REPORT OF THE CONDITION OF THE Farmers & Traders National BanK AT COVINGTON,

In the State of Kentucky, at the close of business, March 7, 1884.

RESOURCES.

Loans and discounts		$576,291 37
Overdrafts		8,087 22
U.S. Bonds to secure circulation 4 per cent		$50,000 00
Due from approved reserve agents		141,926 30
Due from other National banks	4,641 25
Due from State banks and bankers	2,641 96	7,288 21
Real estate, furniture and fixtures		4,668 91
Current expenses & taxes paid		2,177 56
Premiums paid		8,000 00
Checks and other cash items		381 52
Bills of other Banks		3,460 00
Fractional paper currency, nickels and pennies		56 10
Specie		9 565 00
Legal tender notes		20,000 00
Redemption fund with U. S. Treasurer (5 per cent of circulation)		2,250 00
Total		$829,152 19

LIABILITIES.

Capital stock paid in		$300,000 00
Surplus fund		4,000 00
Undivided profits		21,010 64
National bank notes outstanding		44,000 00
Individual deposits subject to check	445,278 91
Due to other National Banks	12,409 72
Due to State Banks and bankers	2,452 92	460,141 55
Total		$829,152 19

State of Kentucky, County of Kenton, ss: I, John L. Sandford, Cashier of the above-named bank, do solemnly swear that the above statement is true to the best of my knowledge and belief.

J. L. SANDFORD, Cashier.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 13th day of March 1884. GEO. H. DAVISON, Comet—Attest: Notary Public.

E. J. HICKEY,
J. H. MERRIMAN,
L. C. STEPHENS, } Directors.

PUBLIC SALE!

I will sell at my residence in the town of Burlington, on Tuesday, March 25th, 1884,

The following property: 2 horses, both good drivers, 2 fresh Alderney cows, 1 buggy, 1 carriage, all my farming implements, corn, hay and Household and Kitchen furniture.

TERMS—All sums of $10 and under, cash, over $10 a credit of 6 months will be given, the purchaser to give note with approved security. J. F. SMITH.

FOR RENT.

From 6 to 10 acres of tobacco land; also some good corn land. Call on CY CRISLER, at Burlington, Ky.

NOTICE.

All those indebted to me are requested to come forward and settle by the first of April, 1884, either by paying the cash or giving their note for same.

K. R. ROBBINS.

City Flouring Mills
RISING SUN, INDIANA.
FLOUR EXCHANGED FOR WHEAT OR CASH. THE HIGH EST MARKET PRICE PAID FOR GOOD WHEAT.
J. W. Talbott.

FOR GOOD
Boots AND Shoes,
GO TO
GEO. H. LEOBKER'S,
NO. 36 PIKE STREET.
Covington, - - Kentucky.

WILLIAM CLORE,
—MANUFACTURER OF—
Agricultural Implements.

Such as Rover Steel, Side Hill,
Single & Double Shovel Plows,
JUMPING SHOVELS, GOPHERS, ROLLING CUTTERS.
Harrows, &c., &c. Send for Price List.

My Plows and Shovels can be had of J. Frank Grant, at Petersburg, Ky., and the Farmers' Co-operative Association, Grant, Ky., at factory prices.

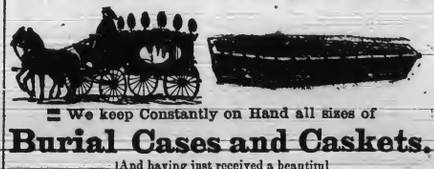
MANUFACTORY AT RISING SUN, IND.

R. S. CRISLER,
Burlington, Ky.
WAGON MAKER AND
—MANUFACTURER OF—
ROAD WAGONS, SPRING WAGONS, HARROWS, PLOWS, WHEEL BARROWS
AND ALL KINDS OF WOOD WORK.
Also the Manufacturer of W. M. Conner's Patent Right Hay Conveyor.

Saws Filed & Sharpened.

Please call and examine my prices before calling elsewhere.

JAMES S. WAYNE, President. JNO. L. SANDFORD, Cashier
CAPITAL $300,000.
FARMERS AND TRADERS
NATIONAL BANK.
Covington, Kentucky.
DIRECTORS.



James S. Wayne,	M. C. Motch,	Sam Hind,	E. J. Hickey,	E. J. Green
J. S. Matson,	J. H. Merriman,	J. L. Sandford,	L. H Dills,	F. P. Heim
		L. C. Stephens.

The general operations of banking transacted upon the most favorable terms, collections made on all points in the United States.

The Business and Accounts of Farmers are Especially Solicited by this Bank.
dec.-30-3m

The Greatest Bargains in OVERCOATS
AND
SUITS!
CAN BE HAD AT
H. F. BLASE,
540 Madison St, - COVINGTON, KY

UNDERTAKING.

We keep Constantly on Hand all sizes of
Burial Cases and Caskets.
And having just received a beautiful
NEW HEARSE,
Which can be had at a reasonable price when desired.
PRICES GUARANTEED LESS THAN CITY PRICES!
DAVIS BROS., - - HEBRON, KY.

Subscribe for the Recorder.

THE RECORDER.

RIDDELL & HALL, Publishers.

BURLINGTON, : : KENTUCKY

THE WHEEL HORSE.

'Tis not the horse John Gilpin sped,
Nor that of Tam O'Shanter;
Nor honest Barnum's Woolly steed,
Nor old King Richard's ranter.
'Tis not the horse that flies the turf,
With speed of lightning running;
Or poses in the ring or surf
And charms us by his cunning.

No! no! the horse my muse shall sing
Is solid, stout and stable:
He's safe in any road or ring,
And wins because he's able.
He sports a heart both good and bold,
And stands serene and steady;
His head is of the Roman mold,
His action prompt and ready.

He treads with care the dangerous way,
And steadies every motion;
He's neither lured nor led estray
By foolish whim or notion.
He holds the leaders firm in check,
Regardless of their prancing;
And curbs the bridle on the neck,
Whene'er they go to dancing.

And if the load be heavy, and
The hill be hard ascending,
He bends on all his giant strength,
As if his life were pending.
And when he's going down the hill
He's faithful to his teaching,
And steady, steady, marks the slope
While backing on the breeching.

His eye with flaming fire is bright,
His ear is tuned for hoaring;
He's ready for a pull or fight,
As suits the time and gearing.
He calls a halt and scans the way
When near the post of danger;
But ever ready for the fray
When called by friend or stranger.

This is the Wheel Horse of my lay,
The careful, keen observer;
That sees the path and feels the way,
And moves with force and fervor.
'Tis he who points the distant goal,
And husbands all his treasure:
Of courage and of strength the soul,
And staunch in weight and measure.

A kingdom for a statesman! who
Such qualities discloses;
We'll follow the bold Titan through,
As Israel followed Moses!
We'll celebrate the high renown,
Award the noblest station:
We'll crown him with the people's crown,
The helmsman of the Nation!

—Augusta New Age.

DOLLY'S LAST FLIRTATION.

I am Kitty, and Dolly is my twin-sister. I was always sedate, mother used to say; but Dolly was giddy, and fond of flirting.

When we were seventeen Dolly became engaged, with our mother's consent, to Frank Wilmot, a young fellow of twenty-four, son of a banker, free and cheery in manner and disposition. He was very indulgent to Dolly, for he felt so confident of her love, and was himself so loyal and sincere that the admiration she excited was his triumph; the freedom with which she received and encouraged it never pained him, though mother and I used to watch her with serious anxiety.

Sometimes our mother would say a few impressive words; then Dolly would throw her arms round her, and with kisses assure her that she would be a better girl, or she would pout a little, with tears in her bright eyes. She would be very demure through two balls, and at the third worse than ever; scarcely could Frank get one waltz for himself.

One evening he brought to our house a cousin of his, a barrister, a man some years older than himself. He was rather famous, though only thirty, being an acute lawyer, and consequently looked up to at the bar.

Dolly owned to me that evening that Frank had confided to her that I was Jack Dacre's ideal woman.

"So don't blush so angrily, darling," said she, "for it would be the most delightful arrangement. He is Frank's ideal man and dearest friend. It would be the happiest thing for us all!" And Dolly gave me a hug and a kiss, and ran off to bed.

Mr. Dacre came very often after that one visit, and I soon found that he was my ideal man, for he strangely resembled my father, both in manners and his chivalrous courtesy to woman, as well as in appearance. It was with a chill at my heart that I was the first to make the discovery that he was falling in love with Dolly—he, the soul of honor, seemed bewitched by the charms of his bosom-friend's affianced wife. I knew it before he did, but of course not before Dolly, who had a genius for unerringly detecting every symptom, however obscure, either in her own case or another's.

My mother and Frank were utterly blind to the danger. I was very unhappy and exceedingly sorry for Dolly, for Frank, for Mr. Dacre, and, I own it, for myself; for, though I had not fallen in love with Frank's cousin, I must say he was the only man I had seen whom I felt I could fall in love with.

An accident brought matters to a climax.

We were sitting in the drawing-room after dinner one evening, when a noise in the street drew us to the window. The pole of a carriage had entered the shoulder of a cab-horse. Dolly became ill and faint at the sight, and Mr. Dacre, who was at her side, threw his arm round her to save her from falling. He led her to a sofa, and stood aside as Frank drew near her; but from that night he never came any more. He and I only had seen the half-petulant way in which Dolly had turned from Frank, had caught another expression on her face, had seen her vivid blush.

From that evening she became cold, petulant, teasing to Frank. At first he laughed, then was hurt, and finally the engagement was broken off. This is soon told, but what my mother and I suffered must be imagined. I dared neither to tell the truth nor to hint to Dolly that I knew to whom her heart was given, though I loved her so dearly; and I felt this was the first true love of her life. This determined, decided, somewhat stern man was sure to charm our little butterfly, if she noticed him at all.

Mother and I arranged that Dolly should go away on a short visit. Frank was to come one evening to return the letters Dolly had sent him. They would not feel the abruptness of this rupture so much if they were placed personally by him in my hands; and I had his letters also to give him. Mother was quite unequal to seeing him, for she loved him dearly, and the task was left to me. I was not sorry, for I felt I could say all that was likely to comfort him, loving both of them so deeply.

So poor Frank produced his sorrowful little packet, received the one I had for him, and stood leaning against the chimney-piece, while I sat quite unable to utter a word, but with tears dropping quietly from my eyes. At last he told me that he knew Dolly had been faithless to him. He felt sure she and Jack Dacre loved each other, and he spoke so humbly of himself, and as if it was quite to be expected that his cousin should be preferred above any other man, that I was greatly touched, and my tears fell faster and faster.

"Jack is the soul of honor, Kitty; but I must make it clear to him that he is free to do as his heart dictates. His and her happiness must not be wrecked. I will get my father to send me to our branch house in India, and will not return till they are married. Jack is rich enough to marry at once. I shall embark on Thursday."

Then he charged me with tender blessings for Dolly, and, at his request, I went to ask my mother to bid him farewell. Presently she glided in, pale as death. She held out her trembling hand in silence, but Frank folded her in his arms, and she sobbed on his breast. I stood by weeping bitterly, and, when we were calmer, Frank embraced us both finally, and placing me in my mother's arms left us. Poor fellow, how brave he was, how gentle and patient!

In a month from that time Dolly was affianced to Mr. Dacre, and the marriage was arranged to take place at the beginning of the long vacation. We were by this time convinced that it was the best thing that could happen. No one could see Dolly and doubt that this was the only man she had loved. His calm, intense character impressed her, his great talents awed her, and her pretty innocent pride in her manly lover, her meekness and quietness, were most promising symptoms of happiness in her married life.

Dear mother was so serenely happy! I was very fond of my new brother; he was such a power for good and peace in our home that we never had been so contented before. Frank wrote freely to us, manly, patient letters, full of unselfish interest in all around him. His sorrow had sweetened, not embittered, his character. He had set himself to alleviate his anguish by doing good, and his first act on reaching his destination had been to use his keen commercial gifts for the welfare of the widow and children of an officer of the army, and, at the cost of time, talent and energy, to rescue her small fortune from unsafe hands and invest it profitably. His letters were filled with similar incidents, naturally and simply told, and our affection increased for this truly brave man.

Dolly's godmother took it into her head that it was her godchild's duty to pay her a farewell visit before her marriage. Though, as she had never troubled herself much about us, we were rather startled at this demand; we all thought it would be best to accept the invitation—for my sister was not looking well—and it was settled that she should go and spend a month with the old lady in her lovely north country home. Mr. Dacre was pressed to go as often as his professional engagements would permit; so Dolly left us in pretty good spirits, in charge of the elderly servant who was our substitute for a regular ladies'-maid.

She wrote to tell us how she was enjoying the repose and beauty of the country. Mr. Dacre had managed to run down from Saturday till Monday at the end of the first week, and had, of course, made a great impression, but was afraid he could not come again—a long case was pending at Westminster. The letter which followed this I give in its integrity:

HIGHWOOD, July 20.—DEAREST KITTY: I hope you will get this in time to send my hat here instead of grandmamma's. I am on a fortnight's visit to Lady Millicent North. Such a charming woman—a widow about twenty-eight years old! She persuaded Mrs. Lloyd to let her have me for a week or two; and, as her daughter-in-law, a confirmed invalid, was coming to spend just that time with her, my godmother was glad to get me out of the way, I know. I can't write much, for the post leaves here at eight, and we drop our latest letters into the hall box as we go into dinner. I expect the gong every minute. This place is lovely, and the new Baronet—Sir Charles—is the dearest——. The gong! Your own,
DOLLY.

I felt uneasy concerning this letter. I was sorry Dolly should have left her godmother's quiet home to visit a gay young widow just as she was sobering down and growing such a thoughtful little love. It might unsettle her again to pass a fortnight in a country-house with a fascinating Baronet, and I knew Jack Dacre would never permit, never pardon, the smallest suspicion of flirting. He had pardoned her defection in Frank's case, for Frank himself had pleaded eloquently, saying that she was very young, so naturally affectionate. But mamma and I felt sure that not for one hour would he permit the slightest approach to disloyalty to his deep tenderness for his girlish betrothed. Neither her youth, her love of fun, nor her merry heart would plead one atom in her favor; so I read this letter with a heavy heart. My answer was as follows:

DEAREST DOLLY: Your letter reached me in time to have the box sent to Highwood. You will receive it soon after this reaches you. Write very fully, for your letter was tantalizing. Send me a full description of every one, for you have roused my curiosity as to "Sir Charles," who is "the dearest——"

The rest of my letter contained home news, and I need not transcribe it. But Dolly's answer I will transcribe—

"You ask me for a description of every body, darling. Lady Millicent is very beautiful, very clever, and devotedly attached to this Sir Charles; but I feel sure her heart is buried in the grave of her noble husband. I send her photo, so need waste no words in describing her.

"Sir Charles is very fascinating, though I fear my description may not predispose you in his favor; but you beg me to be particular. He is short and stout, has a very fine head, but rather thin light hair, fine eyes, good mouth, but not much of a nose—in fact, it is all tip—very nice hands and feet. He is, I believe, very talented, but does not employ his gifts, seldom talks, never reads, is a little fond of eating. In spite of these drawbacks he is very charming, and all the girls far and near make a great deal of him. Of course, he is rich. He likes Lady Millicent to live in the house. She has complete influence over him."

I was much relieved after reading this letter. I felt so easy in my mind that I told Dolly how I feared for her.

"But," I wrote, "of course you never could really admire a fat little man, who never reads or talks, and with a nose all tip, and who cares for nothing but eating."

It turned out that the most unfortunate that I could have done was to confess my fears to my provoking sister. She answered me by vehemently declaring that Sir Charles was the most lovable fellow she had met for a long time, and really was so excited that I posted a letter at once.

"You distress me, Dolly. you know Mr. Dacre would never forgive you if he saw your letters. I hide them even from mother. Oh, pray do think before you madly risk the loss of his love, for that will follow the very hour he loses his high opinion of you!"

This is how Dolly answered my tender appeal:

"What a lecturing little thing you are getting, Kitty! I am very much attached to Sir Charles; and, if Jack is ever so angry, I can't help it."

Thus flippantly the letter ran on.

I was really angry and distressed, but resolved to try no more lectures; they clearly made matters worse. So, the next time I wrote, I gave a full description of a day we had spent in court, hearing Mr. Dacre plead. I described his dignified appearance, his easy, graceful gestures—above all, I dwelt on the beauty of his nose.

Dolly answered:

"I am quite shocked at you, Kitty, to make such an idol of a nose!"

And then she continued, as usual, about Sir Charles.

Meanwhile Mr. Dacre seemed quite happy, and said he had his daily letters from Dolly as regularly as when she was with Mrs. Lloyd. Was my beloved sister growing deceitful?

I kept all this from my mother; but I grew more and more wretched over Dolly's letters. A picnic would be "glorious," for Sir Charles was going. She had spent the whole morning "quietly with Sir Charles." Once he was indisposed, and she had "nursed him, played for him, and sung to him."

Well, I could do nothing more. I resolved to say not another word about him to any one else. I began to dislike the very sound of his name, or rather the sight of it; and, when Dolly declared I should like him as much as every one else did, I made up my mind that I hated him. I wrote one more tender appeal, which I said was my last.

Every Tuesday mother and I had Dolly's letters, but one day there was none by my breakfast plate as usual. Mother read hers. "Dolly says she has written to you," she observed presently. "How can it be that you have not received it?"

Mistakes of the post-office are so rare, we could but suppose she had omitted to post it. By the next delivery, however, I received a letter from Mr. Dacre, containing an inclosure which turned out to be a letter to me from Dolly. A few lines from him ran thus:

DEAR KITTY—I had read too much of the inclosed before I discovered the mistake. If you receive a letter from Dolly before this reaches you, you will have discovered she has missent the letters. I shall run down to Highwood without loss of time.

I had not received any letter then, but by the second country delivery came one directed to Jack at once. The letter he had read began thus:

"All you say is useless, my darling. I love Sir Charles devotedly, and he has this day declared he loves me. You ask me: Does he know I am engaged? I told him a gentleman was coming to see me; but he seemed little concerned at this piece of information."

So far Mr. Dacre had read, and the mine was sprung.

I locked my room door, and fell back, despairing, into an easy chair. I was resolved to hide all from my mother till Mr. Dacre had seen Dolly. I hunted up Bradshaw, and found that a train started about four o'clock that would convey me to Highwood at 7:50. If Dolly wrote to me at once, I should get her letter by Thursday; but of course I should hear from Jack on Wednesday. I dreaded every ring, every postman's knock. All day Wednesday passed and no letter arrived from my sister or her lover.

On Thursday morning I ran down when I heard the usual welcome sound. On the table lay a thick letter addressed in Dolly's handwriting. I ran up to mamma and gave her the one I found inclosed in it for her; then I sat down to read mine, after fortifying myself with a cup of coffee. I must give every word of it:

"You are well aware that a catastrophe has happened through my heedlessness. The best thing will be for me to describe fully the whole consequences of that misfortune. On our return from the garden party on Tuesday I found a telegram awaiting me from Jack—'Shall be with you by 7:55.' Of course this awoke no fears in my mind, for I knew Jack might run down at any moment the trains permit. Lady Millicent sent me off at once to be dressed by her artist-maid. What she made of me you must have seen to believe, Kitty. I would not look at myself till the whole process was complete; and, when I glanced in the long glass, I was really amazed at what I saw. It was the result, I now know, of many discussions between Lady Millicent and this gifted young person. You may imagine how I exulted in the thought that Jack would see me look as he had never seen me look before, for I am so improved in health that my whole appearance is changed. Well, the bell rang. Lady Millicent received Mr. Dacre in the morning-room, and came to send me down at once.

"I ran down with my heart bounding. I entered the room. I noticed Jack give one start; but he received me in such a very un-Jack-like manner that I was terrified. 'Mamma—Kitty?' I cried. 'Quite well when I left them,' said Mr. Dacre; but when he placed me in a chair, and took one opposite to me, I felt matters were desperate. 'What is wrong?' I gasped. 'Dearest Jack, pray speak!' 'Only an address,' said he, and put the unfortunate envelope in my hands. 'This contained a letter for your sister, which I, perhaps fortunately, read before I perceived the mistake. I have just seventeen minutes before I leave for the return train; so if you wish to say anything, let me beg of you to speak at once.'

"I sank back in my chair and covered my face with my handkerchief, trembling with agitation. 'Will you hear my explanation?' I stammered. 'Needless; the letter can have but one meaning. I came to release you from your engagement to me. Did this scoundrel know you were engaged?' I covered my face again. To hear Sir Charles North called a scoundrel was too much for me. I did not speak for several minutes; but time was flying fast, and at length I said: 'If this is in truth our last meeting, grant me one favor; say that you will before I tell you what it is. Of course it is a reasonable, honorable request that I wish to make; but I own it is one you will not like to grant.' He paused a moment, then said: 'I will do what ever you ask.' 'I ask you to see Sir Charles North.' He winced, but bowed silently. I left the room to see the Baronet. I found him in his own room, intently studying an immense book—but only the illustrations, I believe. I asked him to come with me to speak to a gentleman who was waiting to see him. He flatly refused. Time was rushing on. I knelt by him, implored him. At last I kissed him, and he yielded.

"Taking my hand in a firm clasp, he descended with me to the room where I had left Mr. Dacre. Jack stood, moody and stern, pale as ashes, where I had left him. We entered. I led Sir Charles toward him. 'Mr. Dacre,' said I, 'let me present you to Sir Charles North, Baronet.' Jack started—paused—seized Sir Charles in his strong arms, and—threw him out of the window?—no, kissed him! For this "scoundrel," this 'fat, greedy, little man is the dear little son of Lady Millicent, aged just two years! Now you see, Miss Kitty, you had better have had a little faith in your sister for once. You put all this into my head, and I could not resist the joke; but it shall be my last, for never more do I wish to see such a look of pain in the face I love best in all the world.

"Jack did not go back by the return train, though he was obliged to leave early this morning; but I do not think I can stay away from him one day over a month. Lady Millicent says you must come to take my place. She will write and ask mamma. You will soon be as madly in love with Sir Charles."

And so it proved. I went to stay with Lady Millicent; and, of all the darling, quaint, noble, chubby little pets I had seen, Sir Charles was the king. At the end of the year Frank returned in time for Christmas. He did not go back to India; he settled in England. He and I were married about six months after Dolly.

We both live in a lovely part of Kent. Dolly's husband pets and loves her devotedly. My husband adds to all his love a delicate, tender homage infinitely precious to me.

"Kitty, dearest," my mother once said to me, "you and I have tasted the fullest earthly happiness. We both know that reverence is the perfectly peerless jewel in love's crown; but we must earn it."

A brave Eton boy spends as much time with us as his mother can bear to spare him, and the most welcome guest in Jack Dacre's home is Sir Charles North, Baronet.

—Dr. Ladelle claims that prussic acid is an antidote for poisoning by strychnine. The enthusiast who undertakes to prove this runs more or less risk. He must first be thoroughly poisoned by strychnine or else the prussic acid will not effect a cure. In case he has not taken enough strychnine the prussic acid will act on its own account. The poison has two chances to the enthusiast's one.—N. Y. Mail.

—There has been started in Berlin "a share company for the removal of trichinæ from pork." Application has been made for a patent for a recently-invented process to that effect, consisting of pickling pork by means of a highly heated brine, in which muriatic acid forms a large ingredient, which process, it is claimed, will kill any trichinæ that may be in the meat, and preserve the latter permanently.

A Yankee Ashman.

The driver of an ash cart in Nassau street, attracted the attention of a passer-by because he looked like a Yankee and yet was picking coal from the ashes and putting it into a bag.

"I'm from Connecticut," said the driver, using very good language. "I carry the bag along because it pays. I get more than enough coal to keep a fire going. I'll have enough to last all next summer, after these stores need no fire. Then I find some other things."

"What, for instance?"

"Inkstands. I have a dozen at home that cost not less than $1 each. They were ink covered. Boys throw them away rather than clean them. I have gold pens that must have accidently dropped into waste baskets. Then, if my feet were small enough, I could get more shoes than I could wear."

"What do you do with them, then?"

"Give them to the neighbors, mostly. Some of my mates have been luckier than I. One found a valuable gold ring one day, and another a pocketbook that was lined. Up town, in the home district, there is no end of the forks, knives, spoons, glasses, dishes, and other chuck that is found in the ash barrels."

"It must pay to drive a cart."

"Better not throw up your job to try it. It's all luck. You might not find anything in a year. Some never do. Some find a good deal. It's worse than mining for gold; I've tried them both."
—N. Y. Sun.

Roumanian Morals.

Roumania is famous for the facility of its divorce and the laxity of its morals. It is, however, not so generally known that the usage of the laxest society in Europe imposes the severest restraint upon the innocent social intercourse between the young of both sexes. A lady writing from Bucharest sends the following dismal account of the way in which the Roumanian Mrs. Grundy tyranizes over the unmarried women: "Girls have very little liberty here. If a gentleman is seen dancing more than twice during the same evening with a young lady, he is as much compromised as the unhappy maiden herself, and immediately pounced upon by a score of relatives demanding his intentions. No conversation can take place between the young couples, as directly after the dance the gentleman must trot his partner back to the maternal wing. A young girl is allowed to have little or no intercourse with men, and a harmless "flirtation" would be ruinous to her reputation in Bucharest. How can a girl's mind develop under these and the accompanying circumstances? No wonder she accepts the first offer of marriage as a means of emancipating herself, neither is it astonishing that men never trouble themselves to talk for any length of time to an unmarried lady."—N. Y. Sun.

How Long Would It Take to Fill the Sahara?

In view of the recent project to fill up the Desert of Sahara by connecting it with the Mediterranean Sea, a correspondent, E. L. B. writes to us inclosing a few figures, the results of some calculations.

According to the latter it would require 4,000 years for the waters from the Mediterranean to fill the valley of the Jordan, which is 1,000 feet below the former, the water to flow through a passage 100 feet by 25 feet deep with a velocity of four miles an hour. With a channel 100 times this capacity it is possible, he says, to limit the period of filling to 40 years. At the same rate it would take 40,000 years to fill up the Caspian Sea to the sea level, and thousands of years to fill up the Sahara.—Scientific American.

A Marital Dialogue.

She—My dear, how long do people have to be married before they can have a tin wedding?

He—Ten years.

She—Mercy me; why, we can't have a tin wedding for seven years yet!

He—No; but there are plenty of other weddings that come between. For instance, the first year there is a cotton wedding, the second year a paper wedding, the third year a leather wedding and—

She—A what?

He—A leather wedding.

She—Well, I declare; and why is there a leather wedding the third year!

He—I don't know, unless the first-born is by that time getting old enough to be tanned occasionally with a slipper.—Philadelphia Call.

—John Coyne, of Denver, has ordered a gold mounted collar for his dog. One night not long since Coyne's house took fire, and, being a light affair, was being rapidly swallowed up. Being a heavy sleeper, he did not hear the cracking flames, and would soon have cremated had not his dog burst his kennel open, rushed into his master's room, and scratched him in the face until he wakened up. So narrow was his escape that he had not even time to get his pocketbook from his pillow.—Denver Tribune.

THE MARKETS.

CINCINNATI, March 17, 1884.

LIVE STOCK—Cattle—common	$2 50	@ 3 75
Choice butchers	5 25	@ 5 85
HOGS—Common	5 25	@ 6 00
Good packers	6 40	@ 6 80
SHEEP—good to choice	4 75	@ 5 50
FLOUR—Family	4 70	@ 4 90
GRAIN—Wheat—Longberry red		@ 1 11
No. 2 red	1 05	@ 1 06
Corn—No. 2 mixed		@ 54
Oats—No. 2 mixed	36½	@ 37
Rye—No. 2		@ 65
HAY—Timothy No. 1	10 50	@ 11 00
HEMP—Double dressed	8 75	@ 9 00
PROVISIONS—Pork—Mess	18 00	@ 18 25
Lard—Prime steam		@ 9 45
BUTTER—Fancy Dairy	27	@ 28
Prime Creamery	40	@ 41
FRUIT AND VEGETABLES—
Potatoes per bar. from store	1 30	@ 1 40
Apples, prime, per barrel	3 00	@ 4 00
NEW YORK.
FLOUR—State and Western	$2 80	@ 3 35
Good to choice	3 80	@ 6 50
GRAIN—Wheat—No. 2 spring		@ 1 06
No. 2 red	1 07	@ 1 13
Corn—No. 2 mixed	62¾	@ 63
Oats—mixed	40	@ 41
PORK—Mess	17 75	@ 18 00
CHICAGO.
FLOUR—State and Western	$3 50	@ 4 85
GRAIN—Wheat—No. 2 red	98	@ 1 01
Corn—No. 2	52⅝	@ 54½
Oats—No. 2	32	@ 32½
Rye		@ 59½
PORK—Mess	17 60	@ 17 70
LARD—Steam	9 30	@ 9 35
BALTIMORE.
FLOUR—Family	$5 00	@ 6 00
GRAIN—Wheat—No. 2 red	1 03½	@ 1 03¾
Corn—mixed	58½	@ 59
Oats—mixed	42	@ 43
PROVISIONS—Pork—Mess	18 00	@ 19 00
Lard—Refined		@ 10½
LOUISVILLE.
FLOUR—A No 1	$4 15	@ 4 25
GRAIN—Wheat—No. 2 red		@ 1 05
Corn—mixed		@ 52
Oats—mixed		@ 37
PORK—MESS		@ 18 00
INDIANAPOLIS.
WHEAT—No. 2. red, now	$	@ 1 01½
CORN—mixed		@ 48
OATS—mixed		@ 34½
LIVE STOCK—Cattle
Butchers' stock	3 75	@ 4 50
Shipping cattle	4 50	@ 4 87

THE St. Louis (Mo.) Post-Dispatch says, that Mrs. Phoebe Rice, 1228 Madison street, a sister of Hon. H. Clay Sexton, Chief, St. Louis Fire Department, had been a sufferer from inflammatory rheumatism for seven years; the muscles of her hands and limbs were contracted and she used crutches. By a single application of St. Jacobs Oil she was benefited instantaneously, and finally completely cured.

IT doesn't speak much of the size of a man's mind when it takes him only a minute to make it up.—N. Y. Graphic.

"THE THIRD HOUSE."

Its Good and Bad Members—The Remarkable Experiences of a Close Observer of Its Workings During a Long Residence at Washington.

(Correspondence Rochester Democrat.)

No city upon the American continent has a larger floating population than Washington. It is estimated that during the sessions of Congress twenty-five thousand people, whose homes are in various parts of this and other countries, make this city their place of residence. Some come here, attracted by the advantages the city offers for making the acquaintance of public men; others have various claims which they wish to present, while the great majority gather here, as the crows flock to the carrion, for the sole purpose of getting a morsel at the public crib. The latter class, as a general thing, originate the many schemes which terminate in vicious bills, all of which are either directed at the public treasury, or toward that revenue which the black-mailing of corporations or private enterprises may bring.

While walking down Pennsylvania avenue the other day I met Mr. William M. Ashley, formerly of your city, whose long residence here has made him unusually well acquainted with the operations of the lobby.

Having made my wants in this particular direction known, in answer to an interrogative, Mr. Ashley said:

"Yes, during my residence here I have become well acquainted with the workings of the 'Third House,' as it is termed, and could tell you of numerous jobs, which, like the 'Heathen Chinee,' are peculiar."

"You do not regard the lobby, as a body, vicious, do you?"

"Not necessarily so; there are good and bad men comprising that body; yet there have been times when it must be admitted that the combined power of the 'Third House' has overridden the will of the people. The bad influence of the lobby can be seen in the numerous blood-bills that are introduced at every session."

"But how can these be discovered?"

"Easily enough, to the person who has made the thing a study. I can detect them at a glance."

"Tell me, to what bill do you refer?"

"Well, take the annual gas bills, for instance. They are introduced for the purpose of bleeding the Washington Gas Light Company. They usually result in an investigating committee which never amounts to anything more than a draft upon the public treasury for the expenses of the investigation. Another squeeze is the abattoir bills, as they are called. These, of course, are fought by the butchers and market-men. The first attempt to force a bill of this description was in 1877, when a prominent Washington politician offered a fabulous sum for the franchise."

"Anything else in this line that you think of, Mr. Ashley?"

"Yes, there's the job to reclaim the Potomac flats, which, had it become a law, would have resulted in an enormous steal. The work is now being done by the Government itself, and will rid the place of that malarial atmosphere of which we hear so much outside the city."

"During your residence here have you experienced the bad results of living in this climate?"

"Well, while I have not at all times enjoyed good health, I am certain that the difficulty which laid me up so long was not malarial. It was something that had troubled me for years. A shooting, stinging pain that at times attacked different parts of my body. One day my right arm and leg would torture me with pain, there would be great redness, heat and swelling of the parts; and perhaps the next day the left arm and leg would be similarly affected. Then again it would locate in some particular part of my body and produce a tenderness which would well nigh drive me frantic. There would be weeks at a time that I would be afflicted with an intermitting kind of pain that would come on every afternoon and leave me comparatively free from suffering during the balance of the twenty-four hours. Then I would have terrible paroxysms of pain coming on at any time during the day or night when I would be obliged to lie upon my back for hours and keep as motionless as possible. Every time I attempted to move a chilly sensation would pass over my body, or I would faint from hot flashes. I suffered from a spasmodic contraction of the muscles and a soreness of the back and bowels, and even my eyeballs became sore and distressed me greatly whenever I wiped my face. I became ill-tempered, peevish, fretful, irritable and desperately despondent."

"Of course you consulted the doctors regarding your difficulty?"

"Consulted them? well I should say I did. Some told me I had neuralgia; others that I had inflammatory rheumatism, for which there was no cure, that I would be afflicted all my life, and that time alone would mitigate my sufferings."

"But didn't they try to relieve your miseries?" 'Yes, they vomited and physicked me, blistered and bled me, plastered and oiled me, sweat, steamed and everything but froze me, but without avail."

"But how did you finally recover?"

"I had a friend living in Michigan who had been afflicted in a similar way and had been cured. He wrote me regarding his recovery and advised me to try the remedy which cured him. I procured a bottle and commenced its use, taking a tablespoonful after each meal and at bed time. I had used it about a week when I noticed a decrease of the soreness of the joints and a general feeling of relief. I persevered in its use and finally got so I could move around without limping, when I told my friends that it was Warner's Safe Rheumatic Cure that had put me on my feet."

"And do you regard your cure as permanent?"

"Certainly; I haven't been so well in years as I am now, and although I have been subjected to frequent and severe changes of weather this winter, I have not felt the first intimation of the return of my rheumatic trouble."

"Do you object to the publication of this interview, Mr. Ashley?"

"Not at all, sir. I look upon it as a duty I owe my fellow-creatures to alleviate their sufferings so far as I am able, and any communication regarding my symptoms and cure that may be sent to me at 506 Maine avenue will receive prompt and careful attention."

"Judging from your recital, Mr. Ashley, there must be wonderful curative properties about this medicine?"

"Indeed there is, sir, for no man suffered more nor longer than did I before this remedy gave me relief."

"To go back to the original subject, Mr. Ashley, I suppose you see the same familiar faces about the lobby session after session?"

"No, not so much as you might think. New faces are constantly seen and old ones disappear. The strain upon lobbyists is necessarily very great, and when you add to this the demoralizing effect of late hours and intemperate habits and the fact that they are after found out in their steals, their disappearance can easily be accounted for."

"What proportion of these blood-bills are successful?"

"A very small percentage, sir. Notwithstanding the power and influence of the lobby, but few of these vicious measures pass. Were they successful it would be a sad commentary upon our system of government, and would virtually annihilate one branch of it. The great majority of them are either reported adversely or smothered in committee by the watchfulness and loyalty of our Congressmen."

J. E. D.

DRUNKEN men are seldom hungry, but the man who is sleepy drunk is possessed of a nappy tight.—Boston Star.

*Why is Mrs. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound like the Mississippi River in a spring freshet? Because the immense volume of this healing river moves with such momentum that it sweeps away all obstacles and is literally flooding the country.

THE preferred creditor is one who will wait longest for his pay.—N. O. Picayune.

Look out for Your Head!

No matter what parts it may finally affect, catarrh always starts in the head, and belongs to the head. There is no mystery about the origin of this direful disease. It begins in a neglected cold. One of the kind that is "sure to be better in a few days." Thousands of victims know how it is by sad experience. Ely's Cream Balm cures colds in the head and catarrh in all its stages. Not a snuff nor a liquid. Applied with the finger to the nostrils.

BEING entertained by a romance isn't what is usually meant when the types say "a novel entertainment."

A Splendid Dairy

is one that yields its owner a good profit through the whole season. But he must supply the cows with what they need in order for them to be able to keep up their product. When their butter gets light in color he must make it "gilt edged" by using Wells, Richardson & Co.'s Improved Butter Color. It gives the golden color of June, and adds five cents per pound to the value of the butter.

"I FEEL very much out of place," is what the Yonkers man said when he lost a good position.—Yonkers Statesman.

When You Feel Blue

and your back aches, and your head feels heavy, and you wake unrefreshed in the morning and your bowels are sluggish or costive, you need Kidney-Wort. It is nature's great remedy and never fails to relieve all cases of Diseased Kidneys, Torpid Liver, Constipation, Malaria, Piles, Rheumatism, &c. It operates simultaneously on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels, strengthening them and restoring healthy action. Put up in both dry and liquid form. Sold by all druggists.

IF you want to put money in a sound investment buy telegraph stocks.—Philadelphia Chronicle-Herald.

Congressional Endorsement.

Hon. John Cessna, ex-Member from Penn., writes: "In the space of twelve hours my rheumatism was gone, having taken three doses Durang's Rheumatic Remedy. My brother was cured by a similar amount. I cordially recommend it." By all druggists, or R. K. Helphenstine, Washington, D. C.

I BELIEVE Swift's Specific has saved my life. I had virtually lost use of the upper part of my body and my arms from the poisonous effects of a large cancer on my neck, from which I had suffered for twenty years. S. S. S. has relieved me of all soreness, and the poison is being forced out of my system. I will soon be well.
W. R. ROBINSON, Davisboro, Ga.

FROM JOHN KUHN, Lafayette, Ind., who announces that "One year ago I was, to all appearance, in the last stages of Consumption. Our best physicians gave my case up. My friends then purchased a bottle of DR. WM. HALL'S BALSAM FOR THE LUNGS. I took nine bottles, and I am now in perfect health."

FOR COUGHS AND THROAT DISORDERS use BROWN'S BRONCHIAL TROCHES. "Have never changed my mind respecting them, except I think better of that which I began thinking well of."—Rev. Henry Ward Beecher. Sold only in boxes. 25 cts.

☞ Do it at Once. For 10 cents get a package of Diamond Dyes at the druggist's. They color anything the finest and most desirable colors. Wells, Richardson & Co., Burlington, Vt. Sample Card, 32 colors, and book of directions for 2c stamp.

Hale's Honey of Horehound and Tar Will tackle an obstinate cough or cold. Pike's toothache drops cure in one minute.

IF afflicted with Sore Eyes, use Dr. Isaac Thompson's Eye Water. Druggists sell it. 25c.

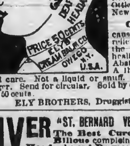
FROM North Hampton, N. H., Mrs. L. B. Tarlton writes: "Samaritan Nervine cured my son."

AT the dawn of womanhood, or in the change of life, Samaritan Nervine is the ladies' friend.

PISO'S CURE for Consumption is not only pleasant to take, but it is sure to cure.

St. Jacobs Oil

THE GREAT GERMAN REMEDY
For Pain!
Relieves and cures
RHEUMATISM,
Neuralgia,
SCIATICA, LUMBAGO,
BACKACHE,
Headache, Toothache,
SORE THROAT,
QUINSY, SWELLINGS,
SPRAINS,
Soreness, Cuts, Bruises,
FROSTBITES,
BURNS, SCALDS,
And all other bodily aches and pains.
FIFTY CENTS A BOTTLE.
Sold by all Druggists and Dealers. Directions in 11 languages.
The Charles A. Vogeler Co.
(Successors to A. VOGELER & CO.)
Baltimore, Md., U.S.A.



HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED

STOMACH BITTERS

The want of a reliable diuretic which, while acting as a stimulent of the kidneys, neither excites nor irritates them, was long since supplied by Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. This fine medicine exerts the requisite degree of stimulation upon these organs, without producing irritation, and is, therefore, far better adapted for the purpose than unmedicated excitants often resorted to. Dyspepsia, fever and ague, and kindred diseases, are all cured by it. For sale by all Druggists and Dealers generally.

CATARRH

Could Not Work.

A young man six years in my employ was so afflicted with Catarrh as to be at times incapable of attending to business. Ely's Cream Balm cured him. I have recommended it to several friends, where cures have been effected.—Eugene L. Button (of Button & Ottley) 56 Warren St., New York City.

Cream Balm

causes no pain. Gives relief at once. Cleanses the head. Causes healthy secretions. Abates inflammation. A thorough treatment will cure. Not a liquid or snuff. Applied with the finger. Send for circular. Sold by druggists. Mailed for 50 cents.
ELY BROTHERS, Druggists, Owego, N. Y.

LIVER "ST. BERNARD VEGETABLE PILLS." The Best Cure for Liver and Billious complaints, Costiveness, Headache and Dyspepsia. Price, 25c. at Druggists or by mail. Samples free. St. Bernard Pill Makers, 53 Mercer St., New York.

Lady Agents can secure permanent employment and good salary selling Queen City Skirt and Stocking Supporters, etc. Sample outfit Free. Address Queen City Suspender Co., Cincinnati, O.

"THE BEST IS THE CHEAPEST."
SAW MILLS, ENGINES THRESHERS, Horse Powers,
(For all sections and purposes.) Write for Free Pamphlet and Prices to The Aultman & Taylor Co., Mansfield, Ohio.

PATENTS promptly procured in all countries. American Patent Agency, 133 Fifth Street, Cincinnati, Ohio.

PATCHWORK SILK. Send Five Two-Cent Stamps for 8 Samples and Price-List. IMPERIAL MFG. CO., Box 529, Springfield, Mass.

TOBACCO LAND of best quality for rent on shares, also ground for corn, potatoes, &c. Add. R. B. HAMILTON, Bethlehem, Ind.

STAMPING Patterns In Fancy Needlework. Kensington. Embroidery, Etc. ... H. HAAS, 94 State Street, Chicago.

$250 A MONTH. Agents Wanted. 90 best selling articles in the world. 1 sample FREE. Address JAY BRONSON, DETROIT, MICH.

FOR LADIES USE. —The grandest article. Send stamp for illustrated circular. Dr. H. G. FARR, 75 Essex Street, Boston, Mass.

HAIR Wigs & Waves sent C.O.D. anywhere. Wholesale & Retail Price-list free. Goods guaranteed. B.C.STREHL, 157 Wabash av., Chicago.

COLEMAN BUSINESS COLLEGE, Newark, N. J. Terms $40. Positions for graduates; write for circular.

LIKE HIS FATHER,

He was Afflicted with Stone in the Bladder, Also, Like Him, was Cured by the Use of Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy (of Rondout, N. Y.).

Mr. S. W. Hicks, of Pleasant Valley, Duchess Co., N. Y., the son of Mr. E. S. Hicks, whose name may have appeared in this journal in connection with an article similar to this, was, like his father, afflicted with Stone in the Bladder, only that his case was more serious than his father's. The father advised the son to write to Dr. David Kennedy, of Rondout, N. Y., who, he said, would tell him what to do. Dr. Kennedy replied, suggesting the use of KENNEDY'S FAVORITE REMEDY, which had worked so successfully in the father's case. Mr. Hicks, who had been assured by the local physicians that they could do nothing more for him, tried FAVORITE REMEDY. After two weeks' use of it he passed a stone ¾ of an inch long and of the thickness of a pipe-stem. Since then he has had no symptoms of the return of the trouble. Here is a sick man healed. What better results could have been expected? What greater benefit could medical science confer? The end was gained; that is surely enough. Dr. Kennedy assures the public, by a reputation which he can not afford to forfeit or imperil, that the FAVORITE REMEDY does invigorate the blood, cures liver, kidney and bladder complaints, as well as all those diseases and weaknesses peculiar to females.

SAMARITAN NEVER FAILS NERVINE THE GREAT NERVE CONQUEROR

A SPECIFIC FOR Epilepsy, Spasms, Convulsions, Falling Sickness, St. Vitus Dance, Alcoholism, Opium Eating, Scrofula, Kings Evil, Ugly Blood Diseases, Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Sick Headache, Rheumatism, Nervous Weakness, Brain Worry, Blood Sores, Biliousness, Costiveness, Nervous Prostration, Kidney Troubles and Irregularities. $1.50.

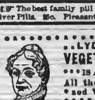
Sample Testimonials.
"Samaritan Nervine is doing wonders."
Dr. J. O. McLemoin, Alexander City, Ala.
"I feel it my duty to recommend it."
Dr. D. F. Laughlin, Clyde, Kansas.
"It cured where physicians failed."
Rev. J. A. Edie, Beaver, Pa.
☞ Correspondence freely answered ☜ (17)
THE DR. S. A. RICHMOND MED. CO., ST. JOSEPH, MO.
Sold by All Druggists.
LORD, STOUTENBURG & CO., Agents, Chicago, Ill.

SKIN HUMOR.

My baby six months old broke out with some kind of skin humor, and after being treated five months by my family physician, was given up to die. The druggist recommended Swift's Specific, and the effect was as gratifying as it was miraculous. My child soon got well, all traces of the disease is gone, and he is as fat as a pig. J. J. KIRKLAND, Minden, Rusk County, Texas.

I have suffered for many years from ulcers on my legs, often very large and painful, during which time I used almost everything to effect a cure, but in vain. I took Swift's Specific by advice of a friend, and in a short time was cured sound and well.
EDWIN J. MILLER, Beaumont, Texas.



Our Treatise on Blood and Skin Diseases mailed free to applicants.
THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO.,
Drawer 3, Atlanta, Ga.
New York Office, 159 West 23d St., between Sixth and Seventh Avenues.

HOP PLASTER

This porous plaster is famous for its quick and hearty action in curing Lame Back, Rheumatism, Sciatica, Crick in the Back, Side or Hip, Neuralgia, Stiff Joints and Muscles, Sore Chest, Kidney Troubles and all pains or aches either local or deep-seated. It Soothes, Strengthens and Stimulates the parts. The virtues of hops combined with gums—clean and ready to apply. Superior to liniments, lotions and salves. Price 25 cents or 5 for $1.00. Sold by druggists and country stores. Mailed on receipt of price. Hop Plaster Company, Proprietors, Boston, Mass.

A GREAT SUCCESS

☞ The best family pill made—Hawley's Stomach and Liver Pills. 25c. Pleasant in action and easy to take.

LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND
IS A POSITIVE CURE FOR
All those painful Complaints and Weaknesses so common to our best FEMALE POPULATION.
Price $1 in liquid, pill or lozenge form.
* Its purpose is solely for the legitimate healing of disease and the relief of pain, and that it does all it claims to do, thousands of ladies can gladly testify.
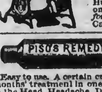
* It will cure entirely all Ovarian troubles, Inflammation and Ulceration, Falling and Displacements, and consequent Spinal Weakness, and is particularly adapted to the Change of Life.
* It removes Faintness, Flatulency, destroys all craving for stimulants, and relieves Weakness of the Stomach. It cures Bloating, Headaches, Nervous Prostration, General Debility, Sleeplessness, Depression and Indigestion. That feeling of bearing down, causing pain, and backache, is always permanently cured by its use.
* Send stamp to Lynn, Mass., for pamphlet. Letters of inquiry confidentially answered. For sale at druggists.

Walnut Leaf Hair Restorer.



It is entirely different from all others. It is as clear as water, and as its name indicates is a perfect Vegetable Hair Restorer. It will immediately free the head from all dandruff, restore gray hair to its natural color, and produce a new growth where it has fallen off. It does not in any manner effect the health, which sulphur, sugar of lead and nitrate of silver preparations have done. It will change light or faded hair in a few days to a beautiful glossy brown. Ask your druggist for it. Each bottle is warranted. JNO. D. PARK & SON, Cincinnati, O., and C. N. CRITTENTON, N. Y.

XX.-NOTICE.-XX.
As BLUE FLANNEL Garments
Of Inferior Quality of Goods

are sold as the "genuine Middlesex," which are not made by that mill, The Middlesex Company, in order to protect their customers and the public, give notice that hereafter all Clothing made from THE MIDDLESEX STANDARD INDIGO BLUE FLANNELS AND YACHT CLOTHS, sold by all leading clothiers, must bear the "SILK HANGERS," furnished by the Selling Agents to all parties ordering the goods.

WENDELL, FAY & CO.,
SELLING AGENTS, MIDDLESEX COMPANY,
85 and 88 Worth St., New York; 37 Franklin St., Boston; 214 Chestnut St., Philadelphia.

A $65 SEWING MACHINE For $18.00.
WITH ALL ATTACHMENTS!
Black Walnut Drop-Leaf Table, 5 drawers and cover box. Hundreds of other articles one-half usual prices. Send for Circulars and Price-Lists.
CHICAGO SCALE CO., Chicago.

Easy to use. A certain cure. Not expensive. Three months' treatment in one package. Good for Cold in the Head, Headache, Dizziness, Hay Fever, &c. Fifty cents. By all Druggists, or by mail.
E. T. HAZELTINE, Warren, Pa.

CONSUMPTION.

I have a positive remedy for the above disease; by its use thousands of cases of the worst kind and of long standing have been cured. Indeed, so strong is my faith in its efficacy, that I will send TWO BOTTLES FREE, together with a VALUABLE TREATISE on this disease, to any sufferer. Give Express and P. O. address.
DR. T. A. SLOCUM, 181 Pearl St., New York.

U.S. STANDARD. JONES OF BINGHAMTON

5 TON WAGON SCALES,
Iron Levers, Steel Bearings, Brass Tare Beam and Beam Box,
$60 and
JONES he pays the freight—for free Price List mention this paper and address JONES OF BINGHAMTON, Binghamton, N. Y.

PATENTS

Procured or no charge, also Trade Marks, Labels, &c. Large illustrated book of patent law FREE. Long experience. Highest references. W. T. FITZGERALD, Attorney at Law, 1006 F Street, Washington, D.C.

A. N. K.—L. 970

WHEN WRITING TO ADVERTISERS please say you saw the advertisement in this paper.

BOONE COUNTY RECORDER.

VOLUME IX. BURLINGTON, KY., WEDNESDAY, MARCH 26, 1884. NUMBER 21.

DEFYING THE COURT.

The Keystone Bridge Company Refuses to Obey an Order of Court

Relative to Stretching Telegraph Wires Across a Bridge—Trouble Probable.

POINT PLEASANT, W. VA., March 20.—Judge Jackson, of the United States District Court sitting at Charleston, on Saturday last entered an order authorizing the Western Union Telegraph Company to put their lines across the river at this place on the railroad bridge, and sent an official of the Ohio Central Railroad to enforce the order. Andrew Baird, in charge of the force at work upon the bridge, acting under instructions from the Keystone Bridge Company, at Pittsburg, declined to recognize the authority and refused to permit the telegraph men to stretch the wire or to come upon the bridge. This intelligence was telegraphed to Judge Jackson, and a United States Marshal was sent out, with instructions to use force if necessary to carry out the order of the Court. The Marshal arrived here yesterday, and as soon as he arrived Baird seemingly acquiesced, and work was commenced laying the wire, and, night coming on, work was suspended until this morning. When the telegraph force went back to work to-day they found the approach to the bridge so obstructed that they could not get on it, and Baird and his gang of men holding the fort under additional instructions received from the Keystone Company during the night. Consequently they had to suspend work, and the Marshal has telegraphed Judge Jackson for further instructions. That company holds that Judge Jackson, or any other Judge, has no right to enter an arbitrary order in the interest of the Western Union Telegraph Company, or any other corporation, to erect their wire on or over the bridge, which is not yet completed, is not paid for, and is in consequence their private property. The Western Union Company's connection has been by cable across the river here. The flood in February last broke it, since which time we have had no communication westward.

Adulterated Milk.

ALBANY, N. Y., March 21.—The Senate Committee on Public Health, which has been investigating adulterations of food, reported to-day. Accompanying the report was a bill prohibiting, under penalty of $200 or six months' imprisonment, the sale of adulterated milk, the keeping of cows for the production of milk in an unhealthy condition, or diluting milk with water. It provides that every manufacturer of butter shall brand his name and the weight of the butter on the package. Cans for the sale of milk shall be stamped with the name of the county where the milk is produced, unless sold exclusively in that county. A penalty of $500 to $1,000 and imprisonment for one year is imposed on the sale or manufacture of bogus butter or cheese. The State Dairymen's Association is appointed a commission to enforce the provisions of the bill, and $30,000 is appropriated for the purpose.

Extraordinary Theft.

ST. JOSEPH, MO., March 21.—J. B. Johnson has been detected stealing quinine, morphine and other valuable drugs from the wholesale drug house of Saul J. Smith & Co., of this city. Johnson was formerly a clerk in the house but now has two drug stores of his own, where he spends his summers. He lives in St. Joseph during the winters, and makes Smith & Co.'s store his headquarters. He acknowledges having taken $6,000 worth of drugs from Smith & Co. and shipped them to Colorado, and offers to pay the firm that amount to hush the matter up. But they say he has stolen much more. Besides being a druggist, he is a preacher of the Christian denomination, has an interesting family, and has moved in the best society of the city.

Proposed New State.

WASHINGTON, March 21.—The bill introduced into the Senate for the admission of the State of Tacoma, provides for the erection of the present Territory of Washington and a part of Idaho into a State, and its admission to the Union subsequent to the formation of the State Government and the adoption of a constitution by a convention of delegates representing the electors of the proposed State, to be held at Walla Walla, and the ratification of the action of that convention at a special election by electors residing within the limits of the proposed State. It provides, however, that the admission shall not take place until after March 4, 1885.

A Child's Fatal Fall.

CINCINNATI, March 21.—Katie, the six-year-old daughter of Officer John Evens, fell down three flights of stairs at the home of her parents, No. 105 East Second street, yesterday afternoon, and sustained injuries which caused her death an hour later. The accident, while it is exceedingly deplorable in itself, is a crushing blow to the officer, who has but recently been able to assume his official duties, on account of a broken ankle received about two months ago.

Against the Pleuro Pneumonia Bill.

WASHINGTON, March 21.—A delegation of Chicago cattle men arrived here to-day, and they are actively at work in opposition to the House Cattle Bill now pending in the Senate. They claim that, if passed, it would seriously injure the cattle trade. They insist that the alarm over pleuro-pneumonia is greatly exaggerated. They recommend that the Government should confine its work to prohibiting importation of diseased cattle, and assert that with such prohibition the stock owners of the United States would have very little trouble in extirpating diseases among American cattle.

Gang of Juvenile Thieves.

BOSTON, March 20.—A gang of fifteen boys were arrested in South Boston last night and three of their leaders held for examination. Many small larcenies are charged to them, the raids being planned in a cellar, which they called their den. Coleman O'Donnell, the leading spirit, is sixteen years old, and is said to have recently been released from a reformatory institution. The ages of the others range from twelve to fifteen. They had a peculiar language, known only to members of the gang, and for an hour mystified the officers at the [illegible] conversation.

Khartoum Environed.

LONDON, March 21.—Advices from Khartoum, dated March 14, say: Six thousand rebels face the palace on the right bank of the Nile. They recently fired upon 300 blacks, sent down to the river for wood, and killed 100 of them. General Gordon states that the garrison at Kassala is holding out strongly. General Gordon restricts himself to the defense of Khartoum, owing to the assembling of rebels in this district. Produce continues to enter Khartoum from the South, southwest, and southeast. General Gordon has armed many of the inhabitants, but they can do but little against the mass of rebels fronting Khartoum. The expedition to relieve Halfaya consisted of 1,200 men, in three steamers. The men were concealed in the holds to avoid the fire of the Arabs on the banks of the river. The expedition returned to Khartoum, having rescued the garrison, raised the siege, and captured many cattle and arms and only lost two men. There were great rejoicings over the victory and an enthusiastic demonstration in honor of General Gordon. General Gordon will attack the Arabs opposite the town on March 16.

Strong Syndicate in Coke.

PITTSBURG, PA., March 21.—The small coke producers of the Connellsville region, representing fifteen hundred ovens, met this afternoon and organized the Connellsville Coke Producers' Association. Later the committee met the syndicate of large dealers, recently formed, and entered into a contract to furnish them their coke exclusively. This virtually gives the syndicate control of the coke trade, and a bull movement in the near future is not improbable.

Flood in the Missouri River.

YANKTON, DAK., March 21.—The Missouri River rose fifteen feet last night, and is full of heavy ice. A gorge is formed below this city. Water is running over the low lands, and two miles of the Milwaukee and St. Paul tracks have been destroyed just below the city of Yankton. People are moving out of the bottoms and removing everything to the hills. A Bismarck special says the river has risen twelve feet since noon yesterday. The ice was expected to go at any moment.

Murdered His Stepfather.

SPRINGFIELD, ILL., March 21.—Three years ago William Bean married the widow Dodds, living on a farm near here. In July, 1882, he threatened to kill her and family. Her son John, defending his mother, shot and killed Bean, and, with the assistance of a servant girl, Liddie Largo, hid the body in a drain. The girl has confessed the facts, and the body was unearthed to-day. Liddie Large was arrested. John Dodds is thought to be in Kansas.

A Wife Fatally Assaulted.

PITTSBURG, March 21.—Last night Thomas Littleisly and his paramour, Maria McChasty, fatally assaulted Mrs. Littleisly with a chair and poker. Littleisly lives in a shanty boat on the Monongahela River, and last night, when his wife returned from a visit to a neighbor, she found her place usurped by the woman, McChesty. Her suggestion that the woman be put out led to the assault. The two have been arrested.

The Lasker Resolution Again.

BERLIN, March 21.—Bismarck has received an address from the workingmen of Marggrabowa, thanking him for his action in the Lasker affair. Bismarck, in reply, says that the signers of the address must remember that the American House of Representatives only wished to express America's desire for the welfare of Germany.

Home for Ex-Confederates.

NEW YORK, March 20.—The meeting of ex-Confederate soldiers, called by General J. B. Gordon, was attended by large delegations from this and neighboring cities. General Gordon was authorized to appoint a committee of ex Confederates to co-operate with committees of the Grand Army of the Republic in aid of a soldiers' home at Richmond, Va.

Prohibiting Importation.

WASHINGTON, March 21.—The Committee on Commerce of the House will recommend a bill authorizing the President to prohibit the importation of such articles as he may deem proper, from any country that discriminates against American products, and also to prohibit, generally, any articles of food or drink, when satisfied that they are injurious to health.

The Burning Mine.

WHEELING, March 21.—Preparations are in progress to drill holes through the top of the mountain into the burning chambers of the Pocahontas Coal Mine, McDowell County, W. Va., and introduce streams of water until the fire is extinguished. This is the mine in which the mysterious explosion recently took place, by which 158 miners lost their lives.

Meat for New York.

NEW YORK, March 21.—A Sanitary Inspector accompanied by a squad of police made an unexpected raid last night on express wagons that carry meat into this city from New Jersey. One hundred and fifty carcasses of "bob" calves were seized and sent to the offal dock. The raid spread consternation among the expressmen.

Shall the Pope Leave Rome?

ROME, March 21.—The congregation of cardinals to-day discussed the expediency of the Pope leaving Rome. They also considered the question as to whether the next conclave should be held in Italy. The Pope will form no decision in the matter without the concurrence of the powers.

Conductor Killed.

WHEELING, W. VA., March 20.—Henry Cramer, conductor on the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad for the past twenty-five years, was instantly killed at Grafton, W. Va., by being knocked under a train.

A Young Villain.

MOUNT CARMEL, PA., March 21.—Michael Toney, aged sixteen, was arrested in the act of changing the switch for the purpose of wrecking an approaching train. On one occasion he asked his associates to assist him to wreck a train and then plunder the wounded passengers.

Patent Medicine Bill.

LONDON, March 20.—A bill has been introduced in the Commons providing for the restriction of the sale of patent medicines until they have been officially analyzed and pronounced not poisonous.

HORRIBLE MURDER.

The Terrible Butchery of a Wife.

And the Murderer's Attempt to Sever His Own Jugular—Theories of the Cause.

PETERSBURG, ILL., March 23.—Charles Houlden, a farmer living near here, butchered his wife in a most brutal manner last night. He and his family, consisting of five persons, were sitting at the supper table when a few unpleasant words passed between him and his wife. Suddenly the former arose from the table and began smashing up the chairs and breaking other things within his reach. Mrs. Houlden arose from the table, and saying that she had stood his abuse as long as she intended to, and, calling to the children, she began to make preparations to quit the house. Seeing this, Houlden stepped into a hallway, seized an ax; returned to the room and struck Mrs. Houlden on the side of the head, knocking her down. Then drawing his knife from his pocket he drew it across her throat from ear to ear, and thinking she was dead started to leave the house. As he got to the door Mrs. Houlden raised up on her elbows and begged that her life might be spared until she could say a few words. Her husband again returned and cut another mortal wound in the side of her neck and stabbed her in several places about the breast and shoulders. At this point, the boy, twelve years old, the only one in the room save the man and woman—the three girls having run out of the house at the first of the proceedings—made an effort to interfere in his mother's behalf. The frantic father dealt him a blow with the knife, which struck him in the palm of the hand, nearly severing his four fingers. Not satisfied with his hellish work, he returned once more to the dying woman and threw his weight on her, mortally injuring her internally, and then left the mangled form of the woman with her head lying on the door-step. The alarm was immediately given. A posse of men under the direction of Deputy Sheriff Stevens and Constable Clary started in pursuit of the murderer and succeeded in tracking the man to a hay-stack, about a quarter of a mile from the scene of the murder. There he was found about nine o'clock this morning, lying on his face, with an ugly gash cut in his throat and the knife still grasped in his hand. When ordered to surrender he willingly did so. Medical aid was summoned, and the wound, which was nothing more than a flesh cut, was dressed. The murderer was brought here and jailed. He is aged fifty, has resided in this county a number of years, is pretty well fixed financially, and has always seemed to be peaceable, although his family relations have not been the happiest. It seems to be the opinion of a great many here that he has premeditated the deed, and was only awaiting the action of the jury in the Carpenter case. He probably thought if a jury would acquit Carpenter he might be acquitted also if he should commit the murder. This theory is borne out by the fact that about half an hour before the crime was committed Houlden met Mr. Sutton near his residence and inquired particularly how the Carpenter trial had terminated. He seemed somewhat pleased when told of the acquittal, and after a few questions strode into the house. Just as the prisoner arrived at the jail the wagon containing his wife's coffin passed the place.

A Remarkable Occurrence.

ROCK ISLAND, ILL., March 23.—A party of one male and three female passengers were coming down to town this morning in a low wagon. Two of the ladies sat on the back seat, bearing a raised umbrella to keep off the rain. When within about one mile of town a runaway horse overtook the party. The runaway animal, whose steps were unheard by the occupants of the wagon, made a flying leap into the vehicle. He jumped clear into the wagon between the occupants of the rear seat, and came down with a crash in the middle of the conveyance. Mrs. D. A. Gartley, of this city, occupied the center seat and was so severely injured that she was taken into a house near by and a physician summoned from the city. Later in the day she recovered sufficiently to be moved and was taken to her home here, where, at last accounts, she was doing well. The passengers on the rear seat were not only not harmed, but were absolutely untouched.

Prisoners Escape.

DANVILLE, ILL., March 23.—While the turnkey at the jail was calling the prisoners to breakfast this morning he was seized, his keys taken from him, pushed into a cell and locked there by three young men, Will Wengel, Ed Crosby and Thomas Bracken, assisted by a man by the name of Carter. The quartet then quickly made their way out and are still at large. Mengel, Crosby and Bracken were the leaders of a gang of young store-robbers, and were only captured a short time since, after having robbed nearly a dozen stores in this city. Carter is a noted pickpocket.

A Mine Burning For Months.

TACOMA, W. T., March 23.—A fire is raging in the Newcastle Coal Mine, the most valuable of those belonging to the Oregon Improvement Company. The mine has been on fire for eighteen months. The fact that it had obtained the mastery over the management has been conceded. It is believed that it is now necessary to shut down and flood the mine.

Anniversary of the Paris Commune.

NEW YORK, March 23.—The French communists, Russian nihilists, and German socialists united in celebrating to-night the thirteenth anniversary of the Paris commune. Herr Most and Victor Drury were the Speakers.

Huge Iceberg.

LONDON, March 23.—The steamer City of Montreal, which arrived at Queenstown yesterday, reports that on her passage she passed an iceberg 200 feet high and forty feet long.

An Editor Paralyzed.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., March 23.—George W. Denielson, editor of the Journal, while driving with his family this afternoon, received a paralytic shock in the right arm and leg. He is comfortable this evening.

Furnishing the Chinese With Guns.

HARTFORD, CONN., March 23.—The Gatling Gun Company received an order for ten more guns for the Chinese Government, to be delivered in sixty days.

—George Smith, of Indiana County, Pa., put fifteen thousand dollars in bills in a chest for safe keeping. He neglected to look at it for some time, and when he did inspect it he found that rats had torn the bills all to bits.—Pittsburgh Post.

—Dr. Carver, the "shootist," is now trying his luck in bat-killing. In a recent match at New Orleans he killed one thousand and three of these animals in seventy-one minutes, making the most remarkable score on record.

XLVIIIth CONGRESS.

First Session.

WASHINGTON March 18.—SENATE.—The following petition was presented and referred: Praying for the retirement of small treasury notes. A bill was introduced authorizing the Secretary of the Navy to offer a reward of $25,000 for rescuing or ascertaining the fate of the Greely Arctic expedition. The bill to aid in the establishment and temporary support of common schools was taken up. It appropriates for the first year $15,000,000, second $14,000,000, third $13,000,000, and so on for ten years, decreasing $1,000,000 yearly, to be expended in common school education, the expenditure in each State being on the basis of illiteracy. Mr. Blair addressed the Senate on the bill. On conclusion of Mr. Blair's speech the Senate went into executive session and soon adjourned.

HOUSE.—A number of reports were submitted, among them, appropriating $180,000 for the construction of a vessel for the revenue marine, and a steam launch for use in Alaskan waters. Referred to the Committee on Appropriations. To prohibit the mailing of lottery circulars or newspapers containing lottery advertisements. Laid on the table. At the expiration of the morning hour, Mr. Townshend moved that the House go into committee on the Post-office Appropriation Bill, and declined to yield to Mr. Curtin who wished an opportunity to submit the report of the Foreign Affairs Committee upon the Lasker resolutions. Carried. Mr. Reagan offered an amendment, extending to members of Congress the right to use penalty envelopes in the transaction of official business. Lost. The committee rose, and reported the bill to the House. The amendments agreed to in Committee of the Whole were then adopted, with the exception of that increasing, by $100,000, the appropriation for letter-carrier service, which was rejected—yeas 123, nays 137. The bill was then passed—yeas 160, nays 77—and the House adjourned.

WASHINGTON, March 19.—SENATE.—A memorial was presented from the Chamber of Commerce of New York, praying for the passage of a bill appropriating $1,000,000 a year for ten years for permanent improvement of the Erie Canal. A bill was reported from the Committee on Foreign Relations, providing for the inspection of meats and the prohibition of the importation of adulterated articles of food and drink, and authorizing the President to make a proclamation in certain cases. Messrs. Sherman and Pendleton presented memorials and resolutions from the Chamber of Commerce of Cincinnati remonstrating against the construction of a bridge across the Kanawha River on the ground that it would be an interference with commerce. Referred to the Committee on Commerce. Mr. Harrison, from the Committee on Indian Affairs, reported it inexpedient to establish a Military Academy west of the Mississippi for training Indian youths as soldiers.

HOUSE.—The House took up the report of the Committee on Foreign Affairs respecting the Lasker resolutions. Mr. Curtin, of Pennsylvania, from the Committee on Foreign Affairs, submitted a report on the President's message accompanying the papers in relation to the death of Dr. Lasker, in which the committee approves of the resolutions of January 9 and regret they were not received. Mr. Curtin, chairman of the Committee on Foreign Affairs reported, as a privilege question, the following resolutions: "Resolved, That the resolutions referring to the death of Dr. Edward Lasker, adopted by this House, January 9 last, were intended as a tribute of respect to the memory of an eminent foreign statesman, who had died within the United States and an expression of sympathy with the German people for whom he had been an honorable representative. "Resolved, That the House, having no official concern with the relations between the executive and legislative branches of the German Government, does not deem it requisite to its dignity to criticize the manner of the reception of the resolutions or circumstances which prevented their reaching their destination after they had been communicated through the proper channels to the German Government. After considerable debate the resolutions were adopted.

WASHINGTON, March 20.—SENATE.—A resolution was agreed to, calling on the Secretary of the Treasury to furnish the Senate copies of the accounts and vouchers of the disbursing agent of the Department of Justice for miscellaneous expenses relating to the Star-route cases of the last three years. The Senate resumed the consideration of the bill increasing the salaries of U. S. District Judges to $5,000. The pending question was on Mr. Morgan's amendment, providing that the increase shall only apply to Judges hereafter appointed. Laid over until to-morrow. A bill was reported very favorably providing for refunding excess duties on imports of raw sugar. Placed on the calendar. The consideration of the Educational Bill was resumed and occupied the balance of the day. The debate will be resumed to-morrow. Mr. Logan called up the report of the committee of conference on the Military Academy Appropriation Bill, and moved concurrence therein. Agreed to. Adjourned.

HOUSE.—In the Virginia contested election case of Garrison against Mayo, Garrison was declared entitled to his seat and took the oath of office. On motion of Mr. Keifer, the conference report on the Military Academy Appropriation Bill was taken up and agreed to. The bill, as passed, appropriates $314,516. The morning hour was dispensed with and the House without opposition went into committee of the whole (Mr. Dorsheimer in the chair) on the Bonded Extension Bill. The debate lasted throughout the day, without action. The Speaker laid before the House a communication from the Secretary of War, transmitting the estimate of $30,000 for the pedestal and statue to General Garfield to be erected at Washington by the Army of the Cumberland. Referred. Adjourned.

WASHINGTON, March 21.—SENATE.—The bill to increase U. S. Judges' salary was laid over until Monday without action. Mr. Platt introduced a bill to provide for the admission into the Union of the State of Tacoma, to be erected out of Washington and part of Idaho Territory. The Deficiency Appropriation Bill was passed, and the Senate adjourned until Monday.

HOUSE.—Mr. E. H. Funston was sworn in as successor to the late Mr. Haskell, from the Second Kansas District. The House then went into Committee of the Whole on the private calendar. Mr. Dockery, from the Committee on Accounts, twice tried to submit the committee's report, which included a criticism on ex-Speaker Keifer, but Mr. E. B. Taylor, of Ohio, objected.

WASHINGTON, March 22.—SENATE.—Senate not in session.

HOUSE.—Under the call of committees the following reports were submitted: To establish an assay office at Deadwood, Dak. Referred to the committee of the whole. For the return of the balance of the Chinese indemnity fund. Referred to the Committee of the Whole; to reduce the life-time of patents to five years; to provide one month's extra pay for certain employes of the House. Referred to the Committee of the Whole. Mr. Cox reported a resolution calling on the President for information as to what action had been taken by the United States in Venezuela under the provisions of the joint resolution providing for a new mixed commission, and whether Venezuela declined to make the payment of any awards. Adopted. The House then went into Committee on the Whole, Mr. Reagan in the chair, on the Bonded Extension Bill. After debate the committee rose, and the House adjourned.

Six Children Poisoned.

MEADVILLE, PA., March 23.—Six children from the village of Valonia went out in search of "sugar water." Not finding any the boys tapped some kind of a tree with their pocket knives and all of the children sipped the juice. All were taken sick. One of the boys named George Custy, ten years of age, has died, and the others are expected to die.

—Miles Smith, of Lewiston, Idaho, was taking his insane wife to an asylum, when she calmly informed a Salem (Ore.) hotel-keeper that he was a bad man, and that she wanted him arrested. Smith, in spite of his protestations, was turned over to the police and locked up. He succeeded in setting matters right in a day or two, and finally got his wife in the retreat.—Denver Tribune.

—Captain Traynor, who once crossed the Atlantic in a dory, now proposes to make the trip in a rowboat.

THE COMMONWEALTH.

Legislative Proceedings.

FRANKFORT, March 14.—SENATE.—Bills passed: to incorporate the Southern Pacific Company; to authorize Boyle County to levy an ad valorem tax in aid of the county roads; to repeal an act for the better regulation and working of county roads in Boyle County; authorizing the city of Newport to refund its funded debt; to amend an act to incorporate the Elkton Railroad. Mr. Peay introduced a bill to encourage the building of railroads in the Commonwealth of Kentucky, and to exempt from taxation all railroads which may be hereafter built under existing charters, or under charters which may be hereafter granted, for a period of ten years from the date of the completion of such new roads. Adjourned.

HOUSE.—The following bills were passed: To prevent the sale of liquor in the town of Trenton, in Todd County. To legalize the orders of the Marshall Circuit Court made at December term, 1880. To change the time of holding the Circuit Courts in Trigg and Muhlenberg Counties. To amend an act entitled "An act establishing a Criminal Court in the Twelfth Judicial District." This bill fixes the salary of the Judge of said Court at $2,400 per annum. To amend an act to incorporate the Louisville, Cincinnati and Virginia Railroad Company, approved April 24, 1882. To incorporate the Covington Inclined Plane and Elevated Railroad Company. To incorporate the City and Suburban Telegraph and Telephone Association of Cincinnati. To incorporate the Kentucky Inland Telephone Company. To require certain legal advertising to be published in a newspaper in Kenton and Campbell Counties. A number of local bills were passed. Adjourned.

FRANKFORT, March 15.—SENATE.—Bills passed: To prohibit the sale of liquors in Civil District No. 5, in McCracken County, and in Civil District No. 1, Ballard County. A bill to repeal an act to prohibit the sale of liquors in the town of Trenton in Todd County. To reduce the number of Justices' Districts in Shelby County, and to provide for laying off the boundaries thereof. A bill to change the time of holding the Trimble Circuit Court, etc. Allowing the Justice of the Peace living the nearest to the town of Caseyville, in Union County, to hold his Courts for the trial of civil cases once a month. Several local bills were passed. Adjourned.

HOUSE.—A resolution was adopted to request the members of Congress to use their best efforts to obtain an increased compensation for the gallant members of the life-saving crew now stationed at Louisville, whose heroic conduct and noble self-sacrifices in hours of peril so well merit deserved reward. A bill to increase the jurisdiction of the Justice of the Peace in Fayette County was passed. A number of local bills were passed. Adjourned.

FRANKFORT, March 17.—SENATE.—Bills passed: To prohibit stock from running at large in Augusta Precinct, Bracken County; to preserve the rolls and records of the thirteen regiments of the war of 1812. To authorize the Bourbon County Court of Claims to assist in the erection and repair of bridges. To incorporate the Advance Seminary, in Johnson County. To re-enact an act authorizing rewards for the killing of wolves, red foxes, gray foxes and wildcats. Mr. Clarke proposed the following resolution, viz: Resolved, That the Chief Clerk of the Senate be, and he is hereby authorized to appoint a Second Assistant Clerk." Adopted. Adjourned.

HOUSE.—Bills passed: Senate bill to amend Section 591, Title 3, of Chapter 3 of the Civil Code of Practice. Mr. Jackson moved to suspend the rules and to take up a bill to encourage the building of railroads in undeveloped portions of this Commonwealth, and to exempt such as may hereafter be built from taxation for ten years. Adopted—yeas, 54; nays, 19. The bill was read a third time, and pending its consideration the House adjourned.

FRANKFORT, March 18.—SENATE.—Senator Hallam, of Covington, offered the following resolution: "That this General Assembly will adjourn on the 29th day of March, 1884, to meet on the first Monday in November next and that the reports of committees, and action thereon, shall be the only order of business at said adjourned session." Mr. Peay proposed an amendment. Bill ordered printed, and referred to the committee on the whole, and made special order for Thursday at 12 o'clock—Yeas, 24; nays, 4. Adjourned.

HOUSE.—Bills passed: A Senate bill to amend the charter of the Louisville Gas Company. To define who shall sell drugs and medicines in Larue County. Creating a lien on stock committing trespass in Trimble and Carroll Counties. To incorporate the Funk Seminary at Lagrange, in Oldham County. Creating an additional voting place in the Fourth Magisterial District in Fayette County, To amend an act, entitled "An act to provide for the erection of a new court-house in Fayette County." To amend the charter of the city of Covington. To incorporate the Bowling Green and Gasper River Turnpike Road Company. The House adjourned until Thursday morning at 10:30 o'clock.

FRANKFORT, March 19.—SENATE.—Bills passed: to amend the charter of the city of Covington; to amend the charter of the Stony Point and Sermon's Turnpike Road Company; to amend the charter of the town of Shepherdsville; for the benefit of Valentine Schneikert's heirs; to amend the charter of the Continental Life Insurance Association; to amend the charter of the town of Bardstown; for the benefit of Mrs. J. K. Carr, of Lewis County; to authorize the town of Somerset to take stock in the Somerset Street Railway; to amend the charter of the Somerset Street Railway Company.

HOUSE.—House not in session.

Miscellaneous Items.

MR. JOHN REISING, a well known citizen of Sandfordtown, about seven miles from Covington, is reported mysteriously missing from his home. He left there on the 15th, and was last seen on the same day on Russel street, in Covington. Search has been going on for him ever since, but without effect, and his family and friends are greatly alarmed. Reising was in well-to-do circumstances, has a wife and several children, and seemingly had everything to make him contented with his condition. There are fears of foul play.

A SAD case of insanity was developed in Paducah a few nights ago. Mrs. Cramer, a widow and the mother of six small children, who was driven from her home by the recent partial overflow of the place, in the dread of another such affliction has lost her reason. After disrobing for bed she took a lamp and wandered out of doors and to the woods, and when found was sitting on a stump, nearly dead from exposure. It is thought she will die.

A DEMENTED man who gives his name as John Henry Peter Metz, and says he came from the moon, was arrested at Paducah the other day and jailed. He seems to be harmless, but is a nuisance in many ways. Metz can not tell how he got there or any thing about himself. He is a Swiss.

NEAR Briensburg, Marshall County, a few days ago, J. E. McWaters, while felling a tree, was struck by a part of the tree and so badly injured about the head, the side of his head and skull being crushed, that he can hardly recover. The injured man is forty-five years old, a man of family and an excellent and popular citizen.

AT Frankfort on the 19th, the Democratic State Central Committee met and fixed Frankfort as the place and May 7 as the time for holding a Democratic State Convention to appoint delegates to the National Democratic Convention to be held in Chicago.

RICHARD MURPHY was stabbed by John Conroy, proprietor of a billiard saloon at Mt. Sterling. The wound is supposed to be fatal.

AT the March term of the Bracken County Criminal Court Benjamin Hudzenfiller was sentenced for three years for grand larceny, and Charles Green (colored), for attempt to commit rape, seven years. In the notorious Cabler murder case the jury failed to agree.

HON. J. M. MATTINGLY, aged fifty-nine years, died of pneumonia at his residence in Nicholasville, a few days ago.

THE DAIRY.

—While we do not wish to lay a straw in the way of the progress of fine dairy cow breeders, and while we admit the excellency of Jersey, Ayrshire and Holstein, we do protest against the constant revilement of our native cows. No animal on the farm is treated worse. Struggling among ragweeds in almost grassless pastures, furnishing blood for flies in the blazing heat of midsummer, the effect of wrath, hail, snow, sleet, rain and polar winds, she still survives, ever patient and returning good for evil. If our abused native cow was treated half so well as her foreign cousin, perhaps she would be as famous as they.—Farm, Field and Fireside.

—The temperature of the cream should be so low that the little particles of butter will float in the buttermilk without gathering too quickly. While the butter is still in the granular form, draw off the buttermilk, and then pour in cold water, or, better still, a weak brine, or water first and then brine. Two or three washings in either clear water or brine will do the butter no harm. Now, if the butter is taken out upon the butter worker for salting, there will really be no working to be done, as that term is usually understood. No more working will be required than just enough to incorporate the salt throughout the entire mass.—Exchange.

—We have had a pretty long experience in making butter, and believe we know whereof we affirm. If very thick, stiff cream is put into any churn, but especially into one with a dash or floats that present a large surface to the cream, and the butter comes in a very short time, and is fully gathered before drawing off the buttermilk, the butter will very likely be pretty largely mixed with thick, unchurned cream and milk. And such butter can never be completely freed from its milk and cream, but they will remain in the butter more or less to its injury, according as it is to be kept or used immediately.—Massachusetts Ploughman.

—J. N. Muncy, of the Iowa State Agricultural College, says: "The average farmer cannot afford to specially prepare his butter for a first-class market himself, unless he has a dairy of at least fifty cows. Even then there is some doubt in mind whether he can make it pay. Any one who has had practical experience in the creamery business knows that the time required to properly handle the milk from twenty-four cows is nearly the same as that required to handle it from fifty to sixty cows." He argues that the creamery gives better returns to the farmer than he can realize from a home dairy.

—We have sometimes thought that if the term "working" should be expunged from the dairyman's dictionary, it might not be a bad thing either for the butter or the butter maker. What do we work butter for? Formerly, when dash and float churns were chiefly used, and when it was the custom to gather the butter in the churn before drawing off the buttermilk, it was more important that the butter should be very thoroughly worked, both before and while the salting was being done. But now, with churns better adapted to do the work, and with improved methods of using them, there is no necessity whatever for any second working, provided the salting is done as it should be, when the butter is taken from the churn.—New England Farmer.

—Butter that is to be printed needs less working than if it be put down in tubs, as the moulding and printing helps to work the salt in evenly. If one had been in the habit of working butter a second time after an interval of twelve or twenty-four hours, and should fear to omit the second working, it would answer the purpose just as well if the second working is done after ten minutes or a half-hour as if done after a longer time. On no account should butter ever be left to harden before its second working, especially in cold weather, when it would become so hard as to require warming before re-working. A great deal of butter is injured in winter by being frozen or chilled and then heated up again for working, and also in summer by being left too long in cold wells or ice chests.—The Dairy.

—Professor Arnold says in the New York Tribune: "A good many observing creamery men are becoming aware that ice in open and cold setting is the cause of a great deal of mischief to the butter, and only use it because of its great convenience. If in submerging milk injury from atmospheric condensations are pretty much avoided, the use of ice cuts off all maturity of cream, at least all in the right direction, and finally leaves it in a somewhat deteriorated condition. Were it not for the speed in creaming, and the saving of labor it occasions, it would soon go out of use, so many are becoming satisfied that butter from ice-cooled milk and cream cannot compete with that made without such chilling. From these considerations the probability is that the use of ice in the dairy will continue to become less and less in favor and less used, till the centrifuge is better perfected and comes into general use, and creams milk while warm and obviates the necessity for low cooling. Then ice in the dairy "must go."

—Imperfectly churned butter may be improved by working in the salt and then setting it away for a few hours. If salted very heavily, as it should be in such a case, the salt will form a brine, which, at the second working, will bring away more or less of the cream and milk that should have been separated from the butter by washing while it was in the churn, and before the butter was gathered into a solid mass. But it is far better to do the churning as it should be done, and then the subsequent work will be plain and easy. Have the churn large enough so that plenty of thin, sweet milk or water can be mixed in with the cream when it goes into the churn. This will sometimes retard the process of churning, but it will result in better butter and more of it. There is always a waste of cream when the churning is done in a very short time, portions of it being washed into the buttermilk. It is such buttermilk that sometimes pays for a second churning.—The Dairy.

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

A MOVEMENT is on foot to change the name of Bismarck, Dakota, to that of Lasker.

As the demand for Southern fruits and vegetables increases, they become more plentiful and improved in quality.

A SON of a prominent dime novel publisher has, by his marital experience, furnished the old gentleman material for a new book.

OVER fifty churches are standing in Nebraska and Dakota as monuments to Bishop Clarkson's worth and special labors in securing their erection.

NINETY-NINE infants were on exhibition at the New Orleans baby show. The first prize was taken by a seven months old baby that weighed thirty-one pounds.

CLELIA, the youngest daughter of Garibaldi, was married in Rome recently to Professor Grazialdi. Among the wedding presents was a diamond bracelet from King Humbert.

THERE wanders about Paris studios a stalwart, white-bearded old man, a famous model, who posed for Cupid in his childhood and for St. Anthony when old age was coming on.

OF the 6,400 books taken out of the Hartford (Conn.) Library, between November 1 and February 1, last, 4,532 were stories, 1,341 of them written for boys and girls, and 3,011 novels.

THE Governor of Delaware, having no power to commute a sentence, has succeeded practically in doing so by respiting a condemned murderer for fifty years, virtually commuting the sentence to imprisonment for life.

AT Hartford, Conn., a party of telegraph linemen climbed a tree in a lady's yard and began lopping off the branches. They did not heed her protests until she brought out a revolver, when, like Davy Crockett's coon, they came down.

THE proposition to cut down the salaries of the country postmasters, says the Cincinnati Commercial Gazette, is reasonable. Two-cent postage has reduced the use of postal cards, and saved the postmaster much laborious reading.

AGRICULTURE is having a civilizing effect upon the Canadian redskins, and they are rapidly learning to follow farming as a means of livlihood. A bill has been introduced into the Canadian Parliament to give them a system of self-government.

MRS. OLIPHANT, the novelist, is said to be the most prolific writer outside of a newspaper office. She can carry on three serials at once. Besides the great number of novels she has written, we have many essays, travels, criticisms, etc., from her pen.

JOAQUIN MILLER is of the opinion that polygamy is on the decrease in Utah. The people there will cease to be "saints," he told the House committee on Territories the other day, when they are shown their true condition, which has been carefully hidden from them by designing men.

TRICHINOSIS, it is said, is devastating certain portions of Germany, and is the result of eating German bred and raised pork, our American hog having no responsibility in the matter. The prevalent habit in Germany of eating raw pork is undoubtedly the cause of the ravages of this dread disease.

THE recent investigation in Albany as to oleomargarine, brings forth some interesting facts. One witness testifies that the sale of this compound as butter is universal, and another that the Ohio prohibitory law is inoperative, there being more oleomargarine made and sold in that State than ever before.

THE Smith family fills fifteen closely-printed pages in the new London Directory, and the Browns eight. There is in the city a charity for poor Smiths established by an Alderman of the name 200 years ago. He gave £1,000 to captives held by Turkish pirates and £1,000 to poor kinsmen, and the latter fund has increased until it is worth about $60,000 a year.

WE have it on the authority of the New York Sun that a lady sixty years old, residing in Rochester, N. Y., skated from that city to Brockport, twenty miles, in an hour and twenty-five minutes. The Philadelphia Press comes next with the story that Mrs. Hannah Simon, of Newark, N. J., recently celebrated her ninety-ninth birthday by waltzing for ten minutes.

A GERMAN savant has been making some interesting experiments with the phonograph, especially with the language and songs of the Central African tribes. His idea is by fixing the speech and melodies on metallic rolls it will enable scientific men to reproduce the sounds by unrolling the plates, and thus reproducing the sounds as they are uttered in the heart of Africa, to study the different dialects, and many interesting ethnological discoveries will be made by comparing the sounds.

THE RECORDER.

RIDDELL & HALL, Proprietors.

BURLINGTON, KY. MCH. 26. 1884

ADVERTISING RATES.

1 Column	1 year	$80
1 "	½ "	40
½ "	½ "	20
¼ "	1 "	20
¼ "	½ "	10
⅛ "	½ "	6

For announcing candidates, $5. Obituary poetry, 5 cents per line. Obituary notices 20 lines free; over that number (excepting the announcement of the death) 3 cents per line.

Tributes of respect from lodges, &c., $1 50

RATES OF SUBSCRIPTION.

One year	$1 50
Six months	75
Three months	40

THE legislature is still grinding on local grist.

IT is very difficult for the Democratic party to decide whether Tilden is dead or alive.

PROHIBITION is breaking out in Kentucky, several localities having laws of that class passed.

THE Democrat says it is pretty certain that Breckinridge will have no opposition in Owen county.

KENTUCKY ought to have a double barreled legislature—one for local and one for general legislation.

THE President is setting his traps for capturing the Kentucky delegation in the Chicago convention.

KENTUCKY pays her public school teachers less per month than any other State in the Union, viz: $21 75.

THE Gallatin county grand jury returned only nine indictments—pretty good showing for the county.

LOUISVILLE couldn't get up a bench show, but she succeeded in putting the Kentucky legislature on exhibition.

THE issue of standard silver dollars for the week ending March 22d, was $288,495; for the corresponding period last pear, $297,000.

THE favorite tipple in Washington is hot apple toddy, a beverage composed of baked apple, hot water, sugar and Jersey electricity.

BERNER, the white boy that helped to murder Wm. Kirk, in Cincinnati, last December, has been found guilty of manslaughter, by an Ohio jury.

A LITTLE over half the legislature went to Louisville one night last week to drink champaign and put in motion an exposition boom for that city.

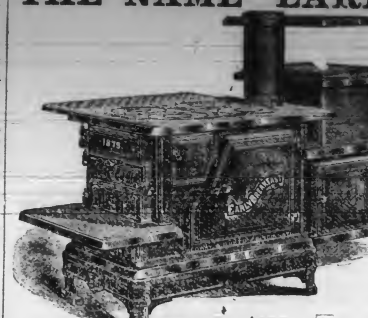
IF Frankfort gets the State Convention on her hands before the legislature is got off, the government will have to send out more relief boats.

THE voters in the seventh Congressional district are being regaled by the silver-tongued oratory of Col. W. C. P. Breckinridge, candidate for Congress.

ALTHOUGH Mr. Blaine is busy on his book, a presidential boom in his favor has broken loose, and to get it checked will give other candidates some trouble.

THE Democratic State Central Committee has called a State Convention to send delegates to Chicago, for Frankfort, on May 7. County conventions are ordered for April 26.

THE legislature ought to pass a law requiring the N. O. & T. P. R. R. to provide its passenger coaches with life preservers, to be kept on board from the time the train leaves Ludlow until it returns.



THE legislature has abolished poll-tax in Kenton county, and the deficit that would have occurred in the county treasury, had the lawmakers stopped when they repealed the poll-tax, is provided for by increasing the rate of taxation on the taxable property in the county.

IF all that is charged against the legislature investigating committee to which was referred the Lexington Asylum, is true, the committee ought to be investigated. Dr. Chenault, the superintendent, has made a very poor defense, and the committee has evidently tried to whitewash him.

LEAVE has been granted by the legislature to bring in a bill to establish the whipping post for the punishment of wife beaters and those convicted of petit larceny. The whipping post would be a very effective punishment, and would have to be resorted to very seldom.

MRS. ANNA B. COOK, State Librarian, died at St. Joseph's Infirmary. Louisville, on the 19th inst. Mrs. Cook's husband, Dr. Cook, was a victim of the Yellow fever in Hickman in 1878, since which time she has been figuring in public, an interesting and highly educated lady. She was buried at Elizabethtown.

THE NAME "EARLY BREKFAST,"

Has become so familiar to the people of BOONE AND KENTON COUNTIES, AS THE LEADING

Cook Stove

of the age, that further mention is unnecessary.

W. H. & J. M. McClung,

are the sole agents for this stove.

They also do all kinds of Job Work —SUCH AS—

GUTTERS, TIN ROOFING, REPAIRING STOVES, &c.

No. 537 Madison Street, COVINGTON, - - KY.

Second Door below Sixth Street.

HENRY WATTERSON who is in Washington trying to engineer the copyright bill through Congress, not meeting with much success in that business, wants to take charge of the tariff legislation and lay down the policy of the democrats in Congress, on that question.

THREE men have been hung in this State this month, which looks like hanging had not entirely played out in Kentucky. This is a pretty good beginning for the new year, and if the rate per month is continued it will have a wholesome effect on criminals in this Commonwealth.

ESQ. E. H. BAKER is canvassing this section in the interest of a proposed pike leading from this place to the grade at Scott Ryle's on Gunpowder. The proposed pike will follow the old road nearly to Ben Rice's where it will leave it, passing Owen Conner's and J. O. Huey's to the creek at Joe Riddell's, thence down the creek to Scott Ryle's. This is a good and cheap route, and Esquire Baker was receiving much encouragement.

IN reply to direct questions on the subject of his renomination, Mr. Tilden is reported to have said: "In my letter four years ago I stated why I would not allow the use of my name; it was discredited. The same reason I now urge. They have become stronger, for I am four years older, and am more infirm now than then. I would urge that the idea be discontinued, for it is not right that I should undertake to do that which I am physically unable to do. I am now unable to undergo the exertions which, in case of my election, I should have to make. I would not disappoint my party. My name must not be considered."

THE State Central and Executive Democratic Committees met at Frankfort, the 19th inst., and adopted the following:

To the Democracy of Kentucky. At a meeting of the Democratic State Central and Executive Committees, held at Frankfort, March 19, 1884, the following resolutions was adopted.

Resolved, That a Democratic State Convention to appoint delegates to the National Democratic Convention to meet in Chicago, July 8, 1884, and also to elect State electors, be and is hereby called to meet in the city of Frankfort on Wednesday, the 7th of May, at 12 o'clock.

Resolved, That we hereby appoint Saturday, April 26, as the day upon which the Democracy of the various counties shall meet at their respective county seats for the purpose of sending delegates to the State Convention. The County Committee of each county is requested to give due notice of the day and object of the meeting, and to name the hour at which it shall be held.

In selecting county delegates it is recommended that the rule of one for each two-hundred cast for Knott for Governor, and one for every fraction of one-hundred and over be observed.

By order of the State Central and Executive Committees.

J. STODDARD JOHNSON, Chairman.
Henry Stanton, Secretary.

STATE NEWS.

The Lunatic Asylum at Lexington has no room for more patients.

The Transcript wants a tobacco house in Lexington.

Owen county farmers are preparing for a large crop of tobacco this year.

An Owen county child ate polk root and but for antidotes would have died.

Jessamine county will put in an unusually large crop of tobacco this season.

The boys of Owenton spend their leisure time of evenings in using boxing gloves.

In some parts of the State the ewes dry up and the lambs die after they are two months old.

Physicians report that the itch is making things lively in Owensboro and Daivess county.

Wheat that has been submerged by the river looks vigorous and green. The overflow has not visibly affected it.—Union Local.

The Cincinnati Chamber of Commerce has adopted a rule making 68 pounds of ear corn a bushel instead of 70 as heretofore.

One hundred and fifty tons of ice four inches thick, were cut and housed at Owensboro, March 4, which is remarkable for so late in the season.

The weather having moderated, the training and exhibition of fine equine flesh in the streets constitutes a perpetual show.—Eminence Constitutionalist.

The total value of horses, mules, cattle, sheep and hogs in Kentucky, as reported by the department of Agriculture, at Washington, February 19, 1884, is $74,267,167.

Mr. White, Mr. Brown and Mr. Green are candidates for sheriff in Gallatin county. Mr. Blue, Mr. Red and Mr. Yellow have not decided whether to become candidates or not.

The wheat crop in Todd county is as bad as we ever seen it at this time of the year. In many fields it makes no show, in fact it can not be seen one hundred yards.—Elkton Register.

J. W. Beauchamp had a ewe to die a few days ago, leaving a young lamb which is now being suckled by a bitch along with a lot of pups. This emblem of innocence contends for his rights with his canine friends and butts them into submission.—Spencer Courier.

The small grain in this and adjoining counties is looking very well. The top blades of the wheat and barley are a little brown by the last freeze, but the roots are vigorous, and the growth has been healthy since the milder weather set in.—Yeoman.

FOR RENT.

From 6 to 10 acres of tobacco land; also some good corn land. Call on CY CRISLER, at Burlington, Ky.

FOR SALE.

A thoroughbred Jersey Bull, 5 years old. Price, $60. Call on E. H. HOWARD, Bullittsville, Ky.

FOR RENT.

About 50 acres of good oat land. Call on or address Ma y E. Kendall on the premises or C. O. Utz, Constance, Ky.

NOTICE.

The stockholders in the Burlington and Florence turnpike are hereby notified that an election for the choosing of a president and four directors for said road, will be held at Dudley Rouse's store in Burlington, on the first Saturday in April, 1884.

FEELDEN ROUSE, Pres.

Sheriff's Sale for Taxes.

By virtue of taxes due the Sheriff of Boone county, Ky, for the years 1881-2-3 I, or one of my deputies, will, on

Monday, April 7th, 1884,

between the hours of 12 m. and 3 o'clock p. m. at the Court-house door in Boone county, Ky. expose to Public Sale, to the highest bidder, for cash in hand, the following property, (or so much thereof as may be necessary to satisfy the amount of taxes due aforesaid and cost,) to wit:

A track of land containing 10 acres more or less, levied on as the property of Joel Ryle and adjoining the lands of Sebern Berkshire, T. C. S. Ryle, Z. T. Stephens, &c. Amount to be made by sale $8 05.

J. R. CLUTTERBUCK, S. B. C.
By W. T. GERMAN, D. S.

Mch. 14, 1884.

City Flouring Mills

RISING SUN, INDIANA.

FLOUR EXCHANGED FOR WHEAT OR CASH. THE HIGHEST MARKET PRICE PAID FOR GOOD WHEAT.

J. W. Talbott.

mar7-t23

For Rent.

A house and good tobacco land. Apply to or address JAMES D. ACRA, Burlington, Ky.

Farm for Sale.

31 acres of improved land in Carlton precinct. Buildings and fencing all good, and well watered. Five acres in grass—balance in cultivation.

JOSHUA LAWELL.
Rabbit Hash, Ky.

NOTICE.

All persons indebted to the estate of Nancy Hamilton, deceased, are notified to come forward and settle same at once, and those having claims against said estate must present them to the undersigned, proven as by law required.

NOAH CLORE, Adm'r.

NOTICE.

All persons having claims against the estate of Thos. Rich, deed., will present them properly proven, as by law required. Those indebted to the estate will please come forward and settle at once.

JACOB REIB, Adm'r.

NOTICE.

The stockholders of the Woolper Turnpike are hereby notified that on Monday, April 7th, 1884, an election will be held in Burlington, at which a board of five directors will be chosen to serve the ensuing year.

J. FRANK GRANT, Sect'y.

NOTICE.

Persons having claims against the estate of Nancy Snyder, deceased, are notified to present them at once properly proven, for payment; and those owing the estate must settle their indebtedness at once. The sale notes are expected to be paid promptly upon their maturity. T. B. AYLOR, Adm'r.

Notice.

All parties having claims against the estate of F. W. Grant deed., are hereby notified to present the same properly proven without delay or further notice,

J. Frank Grant,
W. H. Grant, Adm'rs.

Strayed.

Taken up as a stray by Allen Goodridge, living on the Ohio river, about 1½ miles below Taylorsport, in Boone county, on the 12th day of January 1884, one bull about two and half years old, with white head, dark read body, some white on his back, and end of tail, legs spotted up to his knees straight horns and under bit in each ear, and which I have appraised at $15. Witness my hand this 12th day of Jan., '84.

W. A GOODRIDGE, J P B C

EGGS FOR HATCHING.

From Pure Plymouth Rocks, straight descendants from the show birds of Isaac Daniels and Perlay Pickett, of Ohio. My birds are second to none. Fine size, quick to mature and best of layers. For reference inquire of N. Dickerson or Eldie Ranson, at Verona, or Jacob Cleek or Geo. W. Sleet, at Beaver Lick, Ky. You can order them now and say when you wish them shipped. Your orders will be promptly filled and with proper care. Satisfaction guaranteed. Price, $1 50 for 15, and $1 for each 15 over, when shipped at same time. Money must accompany order. Address M. J. HUME, Verona, Ky. 15 3m

$66 a week at home. $5 outfit free. Pay absolutely sure. No risk. Capital not required. If you want business at which persons of either sex, young or old, can make great pay all the time they work, with absolute certainty, write for particulars to H. HALLETT & Co., Portland, Maine.

A PRIZE Send six cents for postage, and receive free, costly box of goods which will help you to more money right away than anything else in this world. All of either sex, succeed from the first hour. The broad road to fortune opens before the workers, absolutely sure. At once address, TRUE & Co., Augusta, Maine.

AGENTS wanted for The Lives of all the Presidents of the U. S. The largest handsomest, best book ever sold for more than twice our price. The best selling book in America. Immense profits to agents. All intelligent people want it. Any one can become a successful agent. Terms free, HALLET BOOK Co., Portland, Maine.

GOLD for the working class. Send 10c for postage, and we will mail you free, a royal, valuable box of sample goods that will put you in the way of making more money in a few days than you ever thought possible at any business. Capital not required. We will start you. You can work part the time only. The work universally adapted to both sexes, young and old. You can easily earn from 50 cents to $5 every evening. That all who want work may test the business, we make this unparalleled offer; to all who are not well satisfied we will send $1 to pay for the trouble of writing us. Full particulars, directions, etc., sent free. Fortunes will be made by those who give their whole time to the work. Great success absolutely sure. Don't delay. start now. Address STINSON & Co., Portland, Maine.

PATENTS.

For new inventions and novel designs obtained in the United States, Canada and Europe. Trade Marks and Copyright—Labels secured for Merchants and Manufacturers who wish protection against imitators of their goods, packages or articles of manufacture. We are located opposite the United States Patent Office, have quick access to its records, and can give prompt and reliable answers to inquiries. Of our firm one has had thirteen years' practice in the highest courts, another several years as an Assistant Examiner in the United States Patent Office and many years experience as solicitor of American and Foreign Patents. Fee reasonable and full satisfaction or no fee. Best reference given. Our little book "on patents" sent free on receipt of one cent stamp. W. A. COULTER & CO., Solicitors of Patents, 23 St. Cloud Building, Washington, D. C.

PISO'S REMEDY FOR CATARRH

Easy to use. A certain cure. Not expensive. Three months' treatment in one package. Good for Cold in the Head, Headache, Dizziness, Hay Fever, &c. Fifty cents. By all Druggists, or by mail. E. T. HAZELTINE, Warren, Pa.

Cut This Out & Return to us with TEN CTS. Silver, & you'll get by mail, a GOLDEN BOX OF GOODS that will bring you in MORE MONEY in One Month than anything else in America. Absolute Certainty. Either Sex. No capital. M. Young, 173 Greenwich St. N. York.

H. C. CHAMBERS, AUCTIONEER
FLORENCE, - - - - KENTUCKY.

ROBERT B. REED
Attorney at Law.
OFFICE AT - - - UNION, KY.

F. RIDDELL,
ATTORNEY at LAW
BURLINGTON, KY.
Office over Dudley Rouse's Store.

ALBERT W. GAINES,
Attorney and Counselor at Law,
LAWRENCEBURG, - - - IND.
Will practice in the courts of Boone county, Ky., Cincinnati, Ohio, Dearborn and adjoining counties, Ind. dec-6-82

W. E. VEST,
COUNTY SURVEYOR
WALTON, KY.
Is prepared to do all kinds of surveying. All orders sent him through the mail to Walton, will receive his prompt attention.

E. E. IGOE,

Resident Dentist,
Rising Sun, Ind.
WITH
J. P. Ulrey.
Monday and Tuesday at Rising Sun, Ind.

J. J. Landram. G. G. Hughes.
LANDRAM & HUGHES,
ATTORNEYS at LAW.
Will practice in the Boone Circuit Cour and the Court of Appeals. Prompt atten tion given to Collections, on application t G. G. Hughes, Burlington, Ky.

DR. A. B. HARRY AN

RESIDENT DENTIST.
Aurora, Indiana.
(Office Over Postoffice)
With J P. ULREY.
Dr. ULREY'S days, Wednesday and Saturday. Office open at all hours. 8-1y

L. C. NORMAN. H. I. STEPHENS.
NORMAN and STEPHENS,
ATTORNEYS at LAW.
UNION, BOONE CO., KY.
Will practice in the Courts of Boone Kenton and adjoining counties. Collections solicited and made throughout the State. 24 tf 81

S. W. TOLIN.
ATTORNEY AT LAW
BURLINGTON, - - - Y
Office in Court-house on 2d floor.
Will manage litigation in any of the Courts of the State, contracts and other legal instruments drawn up at reasonable rates. Aprompt an studious attention given to business intrusted to my care. A trial solicited. 12-1y

A. M. ACRA,
—DEALER IN—HARNESS

SADDLES.
Fine and Cheap Buggy Harness.
BURLINGTON, KY.
I also have a full stock of BUGGY WHIPS, LAP DUSTERS, ANKLE BOOTS and TROTTING BALLS and everything else usually kept in a first-class harness shop.
REPAIRING A SPECIALTY.
Give Me A Call.

THE CINCINNATI
Weekly News!
A NATIONAL
METROPOLITAN JOURNAL,
Full Of Enterprise,
PEOPLE!
EIGHT PAGES—SIXTY-Four Pages
Containing all the News, correct Market Reports, well selected Miscellany, brilliant Stories—In fact, the favorite Weekly Paper of the Central United States.
—PUBLISHED BY THE—
Cincinnati News Publishing Co.
AT THE FOLLOWING
LOW RATES OF SUBSCRIPTION.
THE WEEKLY NEWS with one of Doro's Celebrated Works,
"Christ Leaving the Prætorium,"
"Christ Entering Jerusalem,"
These engravings of Doro's famo historical paintings are the best and most perfect reprints by the Foreign Art Reproducing Company, and can not be purchased as original plates for less than $40 each in Europe. They are in size 23x36 in. and are direct copies, preserving every line and detail OF THE ENGLISH $40 ENGRAVINGS.
Those pictures are suitable to adorn the parlor of any gentleman. As a
Premium Supplement!

A Single Copy, three months	$0 40
A Single copy, six months	60
A Single copy, one year	1 00
A club of 10 copies to 1 P. O. 1 year	9 00
A club of 20 copies to 1 P. O. 1 year	17 00

And large clubs at 85c per copy per annum
Postmasters and other agents will be allowed 15 per cent on full rate (not club) subscribers.
The premium engravings will be mailed about the first of each month to the subscribers entitled to receive them.
As a premium offer it is confidently claimed that its exual was never before made, and would not be possible in this case except for the method adopted by the Foreign Art Reproducing Company to advertise its work.
Do not fail to avail yourself of the opportunity by sending your name and address, with one dollar enclosed, to
THE CINCINNATI WEEKLY NEWS.

County Directory.

OFFICERS.

Assessor—G. M. Riley.
County Surveyor—W. E. Vest.
School Commissioner—D. M. Snyder.
Coroner.—Dr. A. A. Murat, Constance.

COURTS.

CIRCUIT COURT meets the 2d Monday in April and first Monday in October, P. U. Major, Judge; W. L. Riddell, Clerk A. G. DeJarnette, Commonwealths Attorney; W. L. Riddell, Trustee Jury Fund.

COUNTY COURT meets the first Monday in every month. L. H. Dills, Judge; S. W. Tolin, County Attorney. M. T. Garnett, Clerk; J. R. Clutterbuck, Sheriff, T. W. Finch and W. T. German, Deputy Sheriffs.

QUARTERLY COURT meets the first Monday in March, June, September and December. The officers of the County Court preside.

COURT OF CLAIMS meets the first Monday in November.

MAGISTRATES' COURTS are held in March, June, September and December, as follows:

Bellevue—M. B. Green, first Saturday, and T. H. Sutton, third Monday. J. M. Moody, Constable.

Burlington—E. H. Baker, Thursday after first Monday, and Oscar Gaines, fourth Monday. R. H. Sandford, Constable.

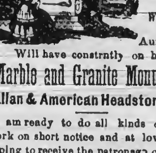
Carlton A. G. McConnell, Wednesday after second Monday, and B. H. Ryle, Saturday after third Monday. Walter Ryle, Constable.

Petersburg—Jos. Hensley, Wednesday after first Monday, and L. A. Loder fourth Saturday. Geo. Comer, Constable.

Beaver—W. M. Rouse, Friday after the third Monday, and

Union—M. C. Norman, Thursday after third Monday, and H. Bannister, Thursday after second Monday. A. D. Riley, Constable.

Hamilton—F. M. Howlett, Tuesday after second Monday; W. W. Garnett, Wednesday after third Monday. R. L. Roberts Constable.



A. L. Brown,

THE HATTER,
Cor. Pike and Washington Streets
COVINGTON, - - KY.
Has always on hand a large variety of Men's, Boys' and Children's Hats, and prices GUARANTEED to be as low as the lowest.
Gents' Furnishing Goods a Specialty.

W. J. RICE,
CARPENTER & BUILDER,
BULLITSVILLE, KY.
Is prepared Raise or Move EITHER LOG or FRAME BUILDINGS On Short Notice.
And at the Lowest Possible Figures.
33-tf Your orders respectfully solicited

LUMBER.
Goe. M. Bedinger & Co.,
Erlanger, - - Ky.
We keep constantly on hand all kinds of Lumber, Laths and Shingles. Also Builder's supplies of all kinds.
—Come and see Us.—
may 9-tf

AURORA MARBLE AND GRANITE WORKS,
Aurora, Ind
Will have constantly on hand
Marble and Granite Monuments,
Italian & American Headstones, &c.
I am ready to do all kinds of Stone Work on short notice and at low prices Hoping to receive the patronage of Boone County, I am respectfully,
F. W. KASSEBAUM.

INSURE AT HOME
The Farmers' Mutual Fire
INSURANCE COMPANY
Of Boone County
Is now completely organized and receiving applications for insurance.
Its Rates are Lower
Than those of any other Company, and it gives the farmers of Boone County a
HITHERTO UNKNOWN ADVANTAGE
In keeping their property insured.
EVERY FARMER IN OUR COUNTY
should take a policy at once.
J. A. GAINES, President, Burlington, Ky.
J. H. WALTON, Secretary, Constance, Ky.
R. RANDALL, Treasury.
DIRECTORS.
LEGRAN GAINES, A. J. UTZ.
JNO. STEPHENS.
OSCAR GAINES, Agent.
C. L. CRISLER, Assessor.

INCORPORATED UNDER THE LAWS OF MISSOURI.
CENTRAL MEDICAL & SURGICAL INSTITUTE
OF ST. LOUIS, MO.
SUCCESSORS TO DR. BUTTS' DISPENSARY.
OFFICE & ROOMS, NO. 920 LOCUST ST.
CHAS. L. LaBARGE, M.D., Pres't & Physician in Charge.
NELSON CHEESMAN, Treas. & Business Manager.
This Institute has ample facilities and an experienced Faculty. While it succeeds to a large business, which has been established for years, it will aim to extend its medical and surgical practice, giving skillful and scientific treatment to CHRONIC DISEASES of the Head, Spine, Lungs and Air Passages, Heart, Liver, Stomach and Bowels, Rheumatism, Dyspepsia, Consumption and Asthma.
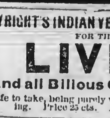
BLOOD IMPURITIES, Inherited or caused by impure association, Scrofula, Fever Sores, Ulcers, etc.
DEFORMITIES of the Limbs, Spinal Curvature, Wry-Neck, Diseases of the Joints, Piles, Fistula, Rupture, etc.
WEAKNESS and wasting diseases in old and young men, also all diseases of the genito-urinary organs.
FEMALE irregularities and weaknesses, causing pain in the back or side, etc.
Personal interviews with patients are always preferred. Those unable to visit the Institute will be furnished with blank lists of questions that will aid them in making a full statement of their cases and if not requiring a surgical operation they can be successfully treated by correspondence, and medicines sent by mail or express. To enable us to send proper list of questions applicants should give a brief statement of their trouble.
(The Treasurer of the corporation is of Nelson Cheesman & Co., Advertising Agents, and refers to the publisher of this or any other newspaper in the United States or Canada regarding responsibility.)
Consultation at Office or by mail free and invited

TUTT'S PILLS
TORPID BOWELS, DISORDERED LIVER, and MALARIA.
From these sources arise three-fourths of the diseases of the human race. These symptoms indicate their existence: Loss of Appetite, Bowels costive, Sick Headache, fullness after eating, aversion to exertion of body or mind, Eructation of food, Irritability of temper, Low spirits, A feeling of having neglected some duty, Dizziness, Fluttering at the Heart, Dots before the eyes, highly colored Urine, CONSTIPATION, and demand the use of a remedy that acts directly on the Liver. As a Liver medicine TUTT'S PILLS have no equal. Their action on the Kidneys and Skin is also prompt; removing all impurities through these three "scavengers of the system," producing appetite, sound digestion, regular stools, a clear skin and a vigorous body. TUTT'S PILLS cause no nausea or griping nor interfere with daily work and are a perfect
ANTIDOTE TO MALARIA.
Sold everywhere, 25c. Office, 44 Murray St., N.Y.



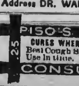
TUTT'S HAIR DYE.
GRAY HAIR OR WHISKERS changed instantly to a GLOSSY BLACK by a single application of this DYE. Sold by Druggists, or sent by express on receipt of $1.
Office, 44 Murray Street, New York.
TUTT'S MANUAL OF USEFUL RECEIPTS FREE.

VIGOROUS HEALTH for MEN
THE PASTILLE CURE TRADE MARK FOR NERVOUS DEBILITY.
TESTED FOR 5 YEARS by use in thousands of cases. Founded on scientific medical principles, it has been growing in favor and reputation while its numerous competitors have invariably failed. The direct application of this remedy to the seat of the disease makes its specific influence felt without delay. The natural functions of the human organism are restored. The animating elements of life which have been wasted are given back. The buoyant energy of the brain and muscular system renders the patient cheerful; he gains strength with rapidity.
NERVOUS DEBILITY, organic weakness, and numerous obscure diseases, baffling the skill of best physicians, result from youthful indiscretion, too free indulgence, and over brain work. Do not temporize while such enemies lurk in your system. Take a remedy that has cured thousands, and does not interfere with you attention to business or cause any pain or inconvenience.
(Send for a Descriptive Pamphlet giving Anatomical Illustrations, which will convince the most sceptical that they can be restored to perfect manhood, and fitted for the duties of life, same as if never affected. Sent free to any one. Remedy sold ONLY by the)
HARRIS REMEDY CO. MF'G. CHEMISTS.
306½ N. 10th St. ST. LOUIS, MO.
One Month's treatment $3, two months $5, three months $7

WANTED BOOK Canvassers.
MALE and FEMALE
To engage in the sale of our new and important works of standard character, large profits and immense selling qualities. We offer a permanent and lucrative business. Address The CINCINNATI PUBLISHING CO., 174 W. Fourth Street, Cincinnati, Ohio.

Free! Cards and Chromos.
We will send free by mail a sample set of our large German, French, and American Chromo Cards, on tinted and gold grounds, with a price list of over 200 different designs, on receipt of a stamp for postage. We will also send free by mail as samples, ten of our beautiful Chromos, on receipt of ten cents to pay for packing and postage; also enclose a confidential price list of our large oil chromos. Agents wanted. Address F. GLEASON & Co., 46 Summer Street, Boston, Mass.

TESTED BY TIME.
STRONG'S PECTORAL PILLS
IN SUCCESSFUL USE FOR HALF A CENTURY.
The best Remedy for Coughs, Colds, Dyspepsia and Rheumatism. Insure Healthy Appetite, Good Digestion, Regularity of the Bowels. A precious boon to delicate females, soothing and bracing the nervous system, and giving vigor and health to every fibre of the body. Sold by Druggists For Pamphlets, etc., address C. E. HULL & CO. 18 Cedar St., N. Y. City.



FREE TO ALL.
OUR new illustrated Floral Catalogue of 90 pages, containing description and prices of the best varieties of Plants, Garden and Flower Seeds, Bulbs, Roots, Shrubs, Small Fruits and Trees will be mailed Free to all applicants. Ten Roses mailed for One Dollar to any place. Wholesale and retail.
NANZ & NEUNER, Louisville, Ky.

WRIGHT'S INDIAN VEGETABLE PILLS FOR THE LIVER
And all Bilious Complaints
Safe to take, being purely vegetable; no griping. Price 25 cts. All Druggists.

SANITARIUM, Riverside, Cal. The dry climate cures Nose, Throat, Lungs, full idea, 36 p., route, cost, free.

MARRIAGE AND HEALTH GUIDE, 260 pgs. Illustrated.
All that the doubtful curious or thoughtful want to know, Cloth and gilt binding 60 cts, paper 25c, Marriage Guide, 114 p 15c, sent sealed, money or stps, by DR. WHITTIER 290 RACE STREET, CINCINNATI, OHIO. The great specialist, Nervous Debility, Impediments to Marriage, Consultation and Pamphlet free.

FREE! RELIABLE SELF-CURE.
A favorite prescription of one of the most noted and successful specialists in the U. S. (now retired) for the cure of Nervous Debility, Lost Manhood, Weakness and Decay. Sent in plain sealed envelope free. Druggists can fill it. Address DR. WARD & CO., Louisiana, Mo.

PISO'S CURE FOR CONSUMPTION.
CURES WHERE ALL ELSE FAILS. Best Cough Syrup. Tastes good. Use in time. Sold by druggists.
25 100

$288 per month collecting small family Pictures to enlarge into the Melanotype the finest enlarged picture in the world Diploma, Red, White and Blue Ribbon awarded everywhere. Testimonials. Private terms. SOLID GOLD WATCH and $5 outfit free to Agents. Address Empire Copy'g Co., 381 Canal St., N. Y.

PAYSON'S INDELIBLE INK
Is the BEST. No preparation. Used with any clean pen for marking any fabric. Popular for decorative work on linen. Received Centennial MEDAL & Diploma. Established 50 years. Sold by all Druggists, Stationers & News Agt's.

Local News.

Sunday was a beauty.

Many plant beds are sown.

Ask Ben Kirkpatrick what time it is.

The busy little bee was out on a fly last week.

Miss Nettie Gardner is making up a school in Burlington.

The warm weather of Monday brought out straw hats and fishing poles.

At Mrs. Campbell's sale last Saturday many articles sold very cheap.

Frog-pond nightly concerts are very popular through the country now.

Cy Riddell has bought Mrs. John O. Campbell's real estate in Burlington.

'Squire Gaines has completed assessing the territory allotted to him.

Cincinnati is having a baby show this week. The next on docket is cat show.

Doors and windows were thrown open Saturday to admit the spring atmosphere.

W. L. Gedge, an ex-proprietor of the Boone House, this place, is here on a short trip.

If you want to buy saddles and harness cheap call on A. M. Aera, Burlington, Ky.

Ducks were abundant on the river last week, but our local hunters could not hit them.

Rev. C. C. Conner occupied the pulpit at the Universalist Church, at this place, Sunday.

We noticed the daubbers with their paint-pots and brushes flying arouud Monday morning.

Sixteen Smiths are to leave Burlington for Florida, where they will make their future home.

This community is ripe for a good entertainment, and that is what Alf Burnett will give it.

Rev. C. C. Conner and wife, of Newtown, Ohio, were visiting relatives hereabout last week.

Levi Spurr, of Fayette county has lost three valuable horses which he thinks were poisoned.

The assessor was very busy in this section last week. He says he finds more dogs than babies.

Mrs. Eliza Shacklett, who had many acquaintances here, died in Meade county a few weeks since.

Dr. Smith's sale was well attended, Tuesday, considering the weather, and things brought good prices.

Last week we printed stock bills for R. O. Hughes & Bro., who are handling first-class stock this season.

E. K. Stephens has moved from Missouri to Kansas from which place he writes to have his RECORDER sent.

R. O. Hughes and brother drove seven mules through town Saturday, which they bought of John J. Rucker.

The grass in the Court-house yard has a very healthy look, and a few days warm weather will make it good grazing.

W. P. Saxton checked his baggage for the windy west last week. When he finds a place he likes there he will locate.

Mr. R A. Brady, of near Bellevue, has four ewes that had twelve lambs, and out of the twelve there are now two living.

It has rained so much lately that it is getting ashamed to rain during the day, and now occupies the night for that purpose.

Some garden truck has been planted, but not in our garden.

LATER—Our frau has plauted a dozen lettuce seed.

About the maple trees which are putting out bloom thousands of bees flock, when the sun makes it warm enough for them to be out.

Some of the female citizens threaten to hold an indignation meeting, at which the subject of exiling the town hogs will be discussed.

The Cincinnati Sunday dailies were manipulated by a new firm on this route Sunday. A saddle colored lad furnished the wind for the business.

They have had quite a serious time with the measles at Hon. N.S. Walton's. Mrs. Walton contracted the disease while in Frankfort with her husband.

The portrait of the father of this country adorns the wall of our sanctum and the attaches each carry a little hatchet, while the RECORDER bristles with facts.

Several cases of a mild type of spring fever were developed in Burlington Saturday and Sunday, and it will probably become epidemic as soon as spring comes to stay.

If you have a watch or clock that needs repairing, or if you want to buy fine jewelry go to M. C. Motch, jeweler, N. W. Cor. Madison and Pike Strs. Covington, Ky.

Rev. Howe, of the Christian church will occupy the pulpit in the Universalist church, this place, next Saturday morning and evening and Sunday morning and evening.

They have a boy in Sebree, this State, in whose pockets silver money melts. We have often heard of money's burning a fellow's pocket, but never before heard of a pocket's melting money.

Our correspondents are too busy making gardens and spring chicking to get up communications for this week. Of course the derelict are excusable under such circumstances.

To-night, Wednesday, Alf Burnett gives one of his inimitable performances at Morgan Academy. If you want to devote the evening to mirth, be sure and go to see Burnett to-night.

Mrs. Huddleston and daughter, of Lawrenceburg, Ind., and Miss Ida Rouse, daughter of Esq. M. S. Rouse, of Florence, have been the guests of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Bruce for several days.

E. D. Tanner, of this county and Miss Anna Jackson, of Indiana, were married last week, and will go to housekeeping in the house lately vacated by L. D. Houston near the Florence X-Roads.

On the 20th inst., Mr. Benjamin Rouse and wife had been married 50 years. The clock that now registers time for them has been a faithful servant from near the first of their housekeeping.

In this issue appears the advertisement of J. M. & W. H. McClung, of Covington, who seem to have a corner on the Boone county trade in their line, and as their motto is live and let live, they will continue to hold it.

We are sorry to chronicle the death of Sheriff Clutterbuck's wife this week. Mrs. C. had been a patient sufferer with that dread disease, consumption, for some time, and was released from its pangs by death, last Saturday morning.

Geo. Aylor's horse hung in the mud on the hill near John Huey's the other day, and fell, getting George beneath him, but fortunately not hurting him. George left a life size portrait in the clay, and it threatens to be indelible.

Those wishing carriage painting, house painting, graining, in fact, any kind of plain or fancy painting, done should call on Joe Reed before letting out their work. He has made painting a study, and his work gives satisfaction.

Dr. E. L. Grant played it pretty fine when he came to town last week to get his license to wed Mrs. N. A. Allen, covering his tracks so successfully that suspicion was not aroused in the least; he has the best wishes of the RECORDER all the same.

Jas. M. Thomason, J. Frank Grant, Sam'l. C. Buchanan and Stephen S. McWethy, have filed with the County Clerk articles of incorporation for the Petersburg Building Association. The number of shares of stock is limited to 2,000 at $100 each.

The colored school closed last Friday night, with an exhibition, consisting of singing, essays, dialogues, declamations, &c. Some of the parts were well rendered, and their teacher deserves a great deal of credit for the manner in which she had them drilled.

Floods come and go, but we continue to do business at our old stand in Lawrenceburg, Indiana, and those wanting tombstones or monuments will find our prices and designs most satisfactory. John Beall, of Hebron, is our agent in Boone county. Harschaert & Co., Lawrenceburg, Ind.

Mrs. Augusta Palmer, wife of John M. Palmer, at one time a resident of Burlington, died at her home in Lawrenceburg on the 17th inst. Mr. Palmer's house was rendered very damp by the late flood, from which his wife contracted a cold, and being a delicate lady grew worse till she died.

They have a Mulhattan at Williamstown, and last week he telegraphed the Enquirer that near that town an egg had been taken from the stomache of a hog which had robbed a setting hen a few days before it was butchered, and the egg being sound was placed under a hen and in due time a chicken was hatched from it.

Last Thursday about noon two tramps arrived in town, and wanted to go to the poor-house, one of them claiming to have the measles. The sick man's face was broken out, and it occured to those who saw him that it might be small-pox. And after having been in nearly all the business houses in town, the strangers were told that they had better decamp, which they did.

H. P. Stephens has cast his lot with Burlington, and seventy-five years hence he will be on the list of "Oldest Inhabitants," and will frequently be seen in the rotunda of the $25,000 Court-house of the future, and regarded as an ancient land-mark by the legal fraternity that will frequent that place. He will take pride in reciting accounts of the thrilling events that occurred from time to time during his long residence here, and they will be eagerly listened to by his great, great-grandchildren. Be this as it may, we welcome Perry and his wife to our town as citizens.

The trial of James Franks for the murder of John Clark, in Grant county, April 23, 1883, was commenced in the Gallatin Circuit Court last Wednesday, and will be concluded some time this week. The accused swore Judge Major off the bench, and Henry M. Winslow was elected a special judge to try the case. Franks and Clark were partners in business at Stewartsville, Grant county, and fell out about a check Clark charged Franks with appropriating. The prosecution is represented by Commonwealth's Atty. DeJarnette, M. D. Gray, W. W. Dickerson and D. S. Clay; the defense, by O. D. McMannamn, Warren Montfort, J. J. Landram and C. C. Crain.

H. C. White, of Williamstown, was to town the first of the week.

The Oldest Magazine in America.

Although nearly every one knows of Godey's Lady Book, it is not generally known that it is the oldest monthly publication in America. Established in 1830, it has outlived all other magazines, and might with propriety be called the mother of magazines in this country. Gray-haired men and women remember it as an entertainer when their hearts were young, and young people associate it with their first introduction to stories of romance. And the rising generation find it as pure and interesting as did its parents, ay, as its grandparents did in days of "Auld Lang Syne." It is an old and well remembered landmark in our American literature, and we doubt not that many of our readers will recall with it pleasant memories of other days. The young editor and proprietor, who now publishes it, has evidently determined that all who seek to renew their acquaintance with the old favorite shall not be disappointed. As viewed mechanically, it is excelled by none, while its corps of literary contributors includes many of the best known names of magazine writers. It certainly speaks well for it and our people, that, notwithstanding the enormous efforts made by the publishers of the numerous "penny dreadfuls," it finds such a large patronage, not only in America, but all over the world. Although its low subscription price ($2.00 a year) may somewhat influence its large circulation, we are inclined to ascribe its popularity to intrinsic merit, and we most cordially bid the old book God-speed on its second half-century.

The following tobacco report is from Badman's warehouse, Cincinnati, for the week ending Friday, March 21st.

The offerings of common new tobacco continue large, and are generally accepted by the seller, although prices are not quite so good as last week. The supply of this grade is evidently in excess of the demand, and will probably go some lower.

The better grades of new tobacco suitable for cutting and filler purposes, owing to small offerings, were rather active, and those sold brought satisfactory prices to shippers. Receipts of new tobacco larger.

In old tobacco we note a fractional decline on the inferior grades, a sharp advance on the better kinds, with an active demand and limited offerings. This advance was sustained until the close of the week. Our sales for this week were as follows:

103 hhds. old, Owen county, 28 from 5@5½; 86 from 9½ to 13—24 from 13 to 16½; 15 from 16½ to 19½.

13 hhds. old, Owen county, 6 from 10½; 7 from 15 to 18½.

34 hhds. new, Brown county, 14 from 5⅝ to 13½; 11 from 13½ to 16; 9 from 16 to 20½.

39 hhds. old, Brown county, 7 from 5⅝ to 12½; 9 from 12½ to 18; 14 from 18 25½.

58 hhds. new, Blue Grass county, 16 from 5⅝ to 10½; 23 from 10½ to 15½; 19 from 15½ to 18½.

104 hhds. new, Pendleton county, 42 from 5½ to 10½; 34 from 10½ to 13; 28 from 13 to 16½.

81 hhds. new, Mason county, 29 from 5½ to 11½; 34 from 11½ to 14½; 18 from 14½ to 17½.

22 hhds. new, W. Va. 9 from 5.30 to 10½; 13 from 10½ to 15; 16 boxes W. Va. from 3.95 to 10.

NEIGHBORHOOD NEWS.

Hebron.

At Fred Kranz's sale cows sold at $53 to $65; hay $11 a ton.

Wm. Beall and Fred Kranz will move to Ludlow this week.

The growing wheat looks well, and we flatter ourselves that biscuit will not be a legal tender this fall.

Our handsome young friend, Joel C. Clore, is home from Springfield, Ohio, where he is giving his education the finishing touch.

The writer is a Tildenman, but wants the democratic party to nominate its strongest man for president, and he will be elected.

The dogs are embarking in a new enterprise, that of killing geese. One night last week they killed 15 for Jamison Aylor. There is talk of petitioning the legislature to pass a law to protect the geese of Boone county.

The first installment of real, genuine spring weather, came promptly on the 21st, the day on which the learned say old Sol crosses the line on his summer's tour toward the cooler climes of the north, and it found our farmers anxious to commence sowing oats, and ripping up the soil for corn.

Beaver Lick.

Mr. James Carroll and family, of Dry Ridge, Grant county, were visiting relatives recently among us. Jim reports a cold winter upon the ridge.

The extremely severe winter, according to good judges, has killed most all of our young fruit trees in this section which is a hard stroke on our many lovers of luscious fruit.

Playing checkers is the pastime of the boys who meet at the P. O. and lay over till the mail arrives. Uncle Bob Conley has never been entirely hemmed yet, the boys pronounce him a good 'un.

The past week afforded an opportunity for the farmers to prospect their farms and pass many good resolutions for the incoming season. First in order is plant beds, sowing clover, timothy and a few oats.

Milch cows are scarcer at present here than ever known, anything like a fair stripper is bringing from $55 to $65. Any one possessing a stock of good cows and desirous of disposing of them should immediately drive 'em up.

Robt. F. Miskill has moved into Neal Woods' house. Bob says he is going into business on general principle and won't object to meeting with success generally. Bob will leave a vacancy among the boys that will be hard to fill.

The mumps have been "doing" Beaver in the past two or three weeks with bad effect to some of the victims. It is quite the best to have mumps very young if convenient. [Yes, we had the old mumps, and they are much worse than the young ones.—ED.]

Last Wednesday Mr. Jacob Relb, jr., and Miss Nora Fullilove took a trip to the city and while there were neatly united in the holy bonds of matrimony. They returned on Thursday evening to the residence of the groom's father where a handsome supper awaited them. Happy may they ever be.

Mr. Jeff Murphy is building a house on his farm for his tenant, F. M. Jackson; Zack Baker is building for a tenant, also. In these days of big tobacco crops farmers can afford to build extensively for help as it generally pays largely in the outcome. I hear people say, tobacco sold high, very high last season and they mean to stick it again. The prospects for a large acreage of the weed in this locality is at present, to say the least, flattering.

John English has moved to the farm of J. O. Griffith, where he intends to grow a lot of fine tobacco. BILL LOYD.

Florence.

To us is allotted, this week, the painful task of announcing the death of Mrs. Belle Clutterbuck, wife of J. R. Clutterbuck, sheriff of Boone county, which truly sad event occurred at her home near Florence, Saturday, March 22d, at 8 o'clock a. m.

Deceased was a daughter of Captain Tighlman Senlour, of Kenton county, was 35 years old—has been married 15 years and was the mother of five interesting children, the youngest two, and the eldest, and only daughter, 13 years old; and well do they all carry the impress of the mother's faithful teachings. Death always carries with it gloom, whether the victim be the old grandfather of four score years or the sainted grand mother, who has ripened for the tomb; whether the little prattler on its mother's lap or one of riper years; or whether the stroke falls suddenly, or is long in expectancy. The case before us is one of those peculiarly sad kind, that it is hard to educate us to accept, however favorable we make the surroundings. If we could elect whom the the death angel should spare, we would say the mother with a family of little children. Deceased had suffered with consumption for more than a year past, and nothing was omitted that medical skill could suggest to stay the disease, or left undone, that kind friends or a devoted husband could do to minister to her comfort. But, she has passed away, and the family has lost a treasure that can't be supplied, and the community a true woman in every conception of the term. The funeral services were conducted by the Rev. Webster, of Louisville, at the Baptist church, Sunday at 2 o'clock p. m. The house was filled to overflowing, and the sermon was replete with words of consolation and instruction. Subject from St. John, 14—1: Let not your heart be troubled: ye believe in God believe also in me." After services the remains were conveyed to Highland cemetery and deposited in the vault.

Friends fondly cherished have passed on before,
Waiting, they watch me approaching that shore;
Singing, to cheer me through deaths chilling gloom,
Joyfully, joyfully haste to thy home.

Sounds of sweet melody fall on my ear,
Harps of the blessed your voices I hear;
Rings with the harmony Heaven's high dome,
Joyfully, joyfully haste to thy home.

Bright will the morn of eternity dawn,
Death shall be banished, his scepter be gone;
Joyfully then shall I witness his doom,
Joyfully, joyfully safely at home.

Plattsburg

The whooping cough is in nearly every family in this neighborhood, and is of the worse type.

Mrs. J. Frank Grant made her husband a present of a gold watch the other day, valued at $200.

Several cases of spring fever in town during the latter part of the week, all better at this writing.

The Weekly News has taken the place of the Enquirer in this locality, and is a very good change.

Sawing barrels in half, carrying straw and making hens' nests, has been the duty of your scribe of Sunday for some time.

Thomas Cochran says it is not safe to go near a mule's heels till he is nine days dead.

Hon. N. S. Walton's family have recovered from the measles. Hubert and Courtney being in town last Sunday.

Irwin Balsly has sold his farm near here to Enos Barolt, of Lawrenceburg, and W. B. Corbin has taken charge of it for him.

Born—To Henry Sherman and wife, a bouncing boy. To L. P. Sullivan and wife, a boy. To Ben Akin and wife, a boy. Lots of little democrats.

Bishop Schramm was out to see us last Tuesday, and give us some pointers as how to conduct a general store. Bishop knows how and don't you forget it.

A huge meteor was seen flying through the air here a few nights ago. It fell near the residence of 'Squire Hensley, and was a stone of a bluish color and about the size of a goose egg.

J. M. Thompson will plant 40 acres of tobacco this season. G. C. Woolell 20. B. B. Gaines, Dr. E. L. Grant is our largest tobacco raiser, but we have not heard the number of acres that he intends to have set this year.

There are two bridges on the Woolper pike the piers of which have fallen and the bridges are liable to fall when crossing them any time, one near M. F. Wingate's barn and the other just east of the iron bridge.

The whole country is ablaze of nights around here, caused by farmers burning plant beds. Nearly all are using canvass this season as it causes the plants to grow so much faster, besides it protects them from the bugs.

We guess the editors of the RECORDER and especially the senior is busily engaged about this time with that garden of his. We have a copy of what Billings knows about gardening which we will send to him if he stands in need of any instruction in that line.

Miss Lizzie Voshell gave a party last Saturday night that brought together the gallantry and beauty of the land. Among those present from a distance were Mr. Max Nowlin, of Guilford, Ind. Mr Ed and Miss Ida Phillips, of Lawrenceburg, besides a horde of our own dear boys and girls.

Bullittsville.

The farmers now soweth.

Lambs have been selling at $4.

Some of our citizens have just recovered from the measles.

A meeting was held last Sunday for the purpose of electing officers to conduct the sunday-school of the Christian church.

Mr. Walton has introduced a bill in the legislature, prohibiting the sale of intoxicating liquors within three miles of the Christian church, at this place.

Crit Gordon has a booming school at the public school-house.....Lou Kendall is teaching a select school at J. W. Watts.....D.B. Watts has rented a farm near Francesville and gone to keeping house.....C. C. Graves has purchased a farm in Calloway county, Mo. for his son Joe.....We are glad to report Richard Gordon as able to be out. .....Dr. Crisler, of Ludlow, was called to see Mrs. Cretia Graves, near here, last week. The doctor reports a good practice in his town.

Taylorport.

Prof. H. M. Piper was in town last Sunday, and said he was going to Cleves, as usual.

Morgan Helm has been confined to his bed three weeks with malarial fever.

Our town at last has a dude, and he is a decided masher among the fair sex.

Robert Grubbs has purchased a farm of 160 acres in Dakota, and will move there April 10th. He says he expects to be worth half a million in a short time.

Buford Berry has a contract for erecting five houses for Chas. Short, of Fern Bank, and he has employed every mechanic in this place.

The officers of our village would do well to watch for body-snatchers in the day time as well as at night. Several of our citizens testify that they saw a man in the cemetery, Sunday, about 10:30 a. m., looking for points.

Taylorsport, as a business point, is at last, h. g. The two floods we have pulled through, demolished several of our business houses, and no one will erect new ones for fear of another flood.

Last Sunday afternoon the body of Charles Helselaw, of Mudlick, was found in the woods where it is supposed it had laid since the evening before. There was a bullet hole in one breast, while near him on the ground was found a pistol with one chamber empty. Esq. Howlett held the inquest, the verdict being that the deceased came to his death from a shot from a pistol in his, or some unknown person's hands. There is considerable mystery surrounding the affair.

The relief committee is now at work replacing the houses in Lawrenceburg that the late flood moved off their foundations.

How the ladies do like to attend sales and bid against—themselves, occasionally.

REPORT OF THE CONDITION OF THE Farmers & Traders National Bank AT COVINGTON,

In the State of Kentucky, at the close of business, March 7, 1884.

RESOURCES.

Loans and discounts		$376,291 37
Overdrafts		3,087 22
U. S. Bonds to secure circulation		50,000 00
Due from approved reserve agents		141,926 30
Due from other National banks	4,641 25
Due from State banks and bankers	2,641 96	7,288 21
Real estate, furniture and fixtures		4,668 91
Current expenses & taxes paid		2,177 56
Premiums paid		8,000 00
Checks and other cash items		381 52
Bills of other Banks		3,460 00
Fractional paper currency, nickels and pennies		56 10
Specie		9,565 00
Legal tender notes		20,000 00
Redemption fund with U. S. Treasurer (5 per cent of circulation)		2,250 00
Total		$829,152 19

LIABILITIES.

Capital stock paid in		$300,000 00
Surplus fund		4,000 00
Undivided profits		21,010 64
National bank notes outstanding		41,000 00
Individual deposits subject to check	415,278 91
Due to other National Banks	12,469 72
Due to State Banks and bankers	2,452 92	460,141 55
Total		$829,152 19

State of Kentucky, County of Kenton, ss; I, John L. Sandford, Cashier of the above-named bank, do solemnly swear that the above statement is true to the best of my knowledge and belief.

J. L. SANDFORD, Cashier.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 18th day of March 1884. GEO. H. DAVISON, Correct—Attest: Notary Public.

E. J. HICKEY,
J. H. MERSMAN,
L. C. STEPHENS, } Directors.

NOTICE.

All those indebted to me are requested to come forward and settle by the first of April, 1884, either by paying the cash or giving their note for same.

E. R. ROBBINS.

FOR GOOD

Boots AND Shoes,

GO TO

GEO. H. LEOBKER'S,

NO. 36 PIKE STREET,

Covington, - - Kentucky.

WILLIAM CLORE,

—MANUFACTURER OF—

Agricultural Implements.

Such as Rover Steel, Side Hill,

Single & Double Shovel Plows,

JUMPING SHOVELS, GOPHERS, ROLLING CUTTERS.

Harrows, &c., &c. Send for Price List.

My Plows and Shovels can be had of J. Frank Grant, at Petersburg, Ky., and the Farmers' Co-operative Association, Grant, Ky., at factory prices.

MANUFACTORY AT RISING SUN, IND.

R. S. CRISLER,

Burlington, Ky.

WAGON MAKER AND

—MANUFACTURER OF—

ROAD WAGONS, SPRING WAGONS, HARROWS, PLOWS, WHEEL BARROWS

AND ALL KINDS OF WOOD WORK.

Also the Manufacturer of W. M. Conner's Patent Right Hay Conveyor.

Saws Filed & Sharpened.

Please call and examine my prices before calling elsewhere.

JAMES S. WAYNE, President. JNO. L. SANDFORD, Cashier

CAPITAL $300,000.

FARMERS AND TRADERS

NATIONAL BANK.

Covington, Kentucky.

DIRECTORS.

James S. Wayne, M. C. Motch, Sam Hind, E. J. Hickey, E. J. Green
J. S. Matson, J. H. Mersman, J. L. Sandford, L. H. Dills, F. P. Helm
L. C. Stephens.

The general operations of banking transacted upon the most favorable terms, collections made on all points in the United States.

The Business and Accounts of Farmers are Especially Solicited by this Bank. dec. 30-6m

The Greatest Bargains in OVERCOATS AND SUITS

CAN BE HAD AT

H. F. BLASE,

540 Madison St, - COVINGTON, KY

UNDERTAKING.

We keep Constantly on Hand all sizes of

Burial Cases and Caskets.

And having just received a beautiful

NEW HEARSE,

Which can be had at a reasonable price when desired.

PRICES GUARANTEED LESS THAN CITY PRICES!

DAVIS BROS., - HEBRON, KY.

Subscribe for the Recorder.

THE RECORDER.

RIDDELL & HALL, Publishers.

BURLINGTON, : : KENTUCKY

WHY DON'T THE GIRLS PROPOSE?

Why don't the girls propose, papa?
  Why don't the girls propose?
Each one seems coming to the point,
  And then away she goes.
Though 'tis their privilege this year,
  As everybody knows,
They flirt in quite an awful way,
  But, oh, they won't propose.

I've read the latest fashions,
  I talk of plait and frill,
And discuss the newest color
  With a quite consummate skill;
I am au fait on bonnets,
  Know a thing or two of bows,
And I seem to interest them,
  But they won't—they won't propose.

That most feminine of columns
  In the excellent Bazar,
Where the queerest sort of queries
  About making dresses are,
I have studied with attention,
  Till one really would suppose
That my language must attract them,
  Yet still they won't propose.

I've practiced charming innocence,
  And weeping at the play;
And I can drop my eyelids
  In a most engaging way;
I've studied hard to blush and lisp
  My "yes"'es and my "no"'s,
And smiled with sweet persistence;
  But they will not propose.

It's really very hard, papa;
  There's cause for just complaint;
I'm even trying to teach myself
  The way to scream and faint;
But while I practice every art,
  Too fast the leap-year goes.
Why don't the girls propose, papa?
  Why don't the girls propose?

—Puck.

MISS PENNYBACKER'S BLUNDER.

Mr. Larkington might have sat at his allotted desk, in the store of Levy, Heavy & Co., for the three hundred and thirteen working days of the incoming year, as he had for several already gone by, and watched the feather duster flirting among the bonnets, hats, artificial flowers, ruches and band-boxes of the millinery shop over the way, without that preliminary of the day's work attracting his especial attention. We say he might have done so; but on the eventful morning of which we write Mr. Larkington, having added up a long column of figures and dotted down the sum total, relieved the monotony by glancing out of the window. As usual the feather duster was flying about Miss Pennybacker's establishment, looking very much like a starved pea-fowl with a superabundance of tail, or an overgrown shuttlecock. But, not as usual, Mr. Larkington failed to see the somewhat masculine hand of Miss Pennybacker, wielding the brush. The one that grasped it was a plump, white, diminutive hand; the wrist was encircled with a dainty white cuff, and behind that was a well-puffed brown dress sleeve, only a few inches of which met the admiring gaze of Mr. Larkington. As this was all that gentleman could see, he contented himself with noting how the duster flew among the boxes in graceful curves under the direction of the pretty little hand, instead of the acute angles it described under Miss Pennybacker's superintendence. He relieved the monotony of his desk work innumerable times that morning, by looking over the way, and even became so much interested in the unseen person opposite as to make three blunders in the ledger, something before unknown in the whole course of his clerkship.

John Larkington was thirty-five. He had been a clerk for upwards of twelve years. Rumor said that a partnership had been frequently offered him, and he as frequently refused, but rumor is always inclined to exaggerate. Be that as it may, he was yet a clerk, and unmarried. Cupid's arrows flying everywhere, and as erratically as a boomerang, had failed to pierce his heart. Being a dry-goods clerk, he did not look at a woman in the same light that—for instance—a student of divinity does. The latter considers her as "Heaven's last, best gift to man." Mr. Larkington considered her a bundle of dry goods, and an expensive one, too. He could make distinctions between the real and the artificial. The divinity student could not. If he, the student, should have come into the store of Leavy, Heavy & Co., and admiring a good-looking lady, said to Mr. Larkington:

"What a fair complexion; beautiful; and what rosy cheeks."

"Lily-white and rouge," tapping the show-case where these articles are displayed.

"Possible? Her hair—how luxuriant—what wavy masses; and that coil! What an opportunity the present fashion gives a woman to display her chief ornament."

"All artificial, sir. Keep waves and bangs in that show-case. Any color you want?"

"Possible? What a waist and what a form!"

"Corsets and other artificial means do the business, sir."

"Possible? I never should have imagined it." And the divinity student leaves the store, his faith in women considerably impaired, humming: "This world is all a fleeting show," etc.

Though John Larkington had as yet, never been hit by any of Cupid's arrows, several had been shot at him. Indeed, Miss Pennybacker kept up an almost constant but useless fire. No difference to how fine a point those slightly habilitated little fellows ground their arrows—and Miss Pennybacker must have kept them busy turning the grindstone, judging from the number of quivers she used a day—they all fell harmless against Mr. Lankington. His heart was adamant. It was quite amusing to note the excuses Miss Pennybacker contrived in order to pursue her favorite employment. There were bonnet silks to select, ribbons to match, threads to purchase, particulars style of ruches, which she was sure she had seen at Levy, Heavy & Co.'s, and then, having looked over their stock and assured herself that she must have seen them somewhere else, she would chat small talk with Mr. Larkington, simper, smile and fire her shafts with a perseverance worthy of a better cause, seeing that she brought no game. To be sure, she did wing him once, when he carried home a heavy purchase for her, and having got him in her web she proceeded to draw him in; but, like a perverse bluebottle, he so kicked and struggled as to come off unharmed. Still she did not despair, but on every possible occasion ventilated the prosperity of the shop opposite, sat in the pew adjoining his at church, at which times she became a perambulating advertisement of her millinery establishment. He always bowed at the church door, and one Sunday, having a barometrical feeling that it would rain, he brought his umbrella and escorted her home; not knowing, however, that she also had brought one, and from sinister motives left it in her pew. Yet notwithstanding she used all her blandishments, and walked much closer to his side than even umbrella protection will allow, he remained stoical as a Cherokee warrior, and doubtless would have remained so to this day, had it not been for the plump little hand wielding the feather duster over the way.

It is astonishing what an influence a pretty woman can exert. The milliner shop of Miss Pennybacker became as attractive to Mr. Larkington's eye as a rose bush to a child who has discovered a bird's nest therein. From constant study, he could, without doubt, have told anything concerning the external appearance of the millinery establishment: how many lights of glass were in the bay window, and which, if any, were cracked or broken; how many rows of bricks were between the windows and door; what trimmings hung in the windows this day or that, and how fresh and blooming the girl who sat at the window sewing, looked, and how graceful were her movements. Even the somewhat portly form of Miss Pennybacker assumed a new interest in his eyes. He astonished her with his change of demeanor toward herself. He was assiduously polite on every occasion. She was happy in indulging the hope that her archery had at last hit the mark, never once dreaming that she was vicariously receiving attentions which he would fain give another, and to which end he was now smoothing the way. Yet this was the case; and John Larkington was so villainous as to, one day, drop a remark that her business was such as to require an assistant.

"I agree with you, Mr. Larkington, but—but—," and she blushed and simpered quite girlishly.

Mr. Larkington saw her mistake and changed his tactics.

"How stupid she is," thought he; "I wanted to find out the name of the angel over the way, and she imagined I was paving the way to a proposal. Bah!"

"Do you ever take apprentices?" he inquired.

"O yes," she replied, regaining her composure, "I have one now; came only a few weeks ago: name's Rose—Rose Meredith. I'll send her over for something some time so you can see her," and she laughed and launched a few more arrows, thinking she were less likely to lose her game by badly wounding it.

Mr. Larkington thought Miss Pennybacker's "sometime" was a long time coming, but come it did, at last, and he was in an incomparable state of flustration to receive it. He didn't know anything except that there was a woman in the store and that woman an angel. When she asked for blue ribbon, he showed her black, and when the right shade was found, tried to measure it with his pencil instead of the yard-stick, and clipped it with his fingers instead of the scissors. Then there was sewing silk to select, but for the life of him he could do nothing towards it. He never saw how colors ran into each other. In fact, he could see nothing but a pair of loving brown eyes looking out quietly and modestly from long lashes, and a pair of sweet lips that said "sewing silk," "taffeta," and "this is the right shade," in the most musical way imaginable.

Her comings over, though very infrequent, were most interesting episodes in his business life. They were like gleams of sunshine on lowering days. With the hope of inducing a better acquaintance with Rose, he was more attentive than ever to Miss Pennybacker when she visited the store, and, much to that lady's satisfaction, this culminated in an invitation on his part for her and Rose to attend a panoramic exhibition one evening.

Of all places for timid lovers or pickpockets, entertainments of this nature are the best. An almost total eclipse of light is necessary for a successful display. Consequently pickpockets can pursue their advocation without fear of detection, and timid lovers are brave when they cannot see each other.

To say that Mr. Larkington was in a flutter of excitement when he stood at the door of Miss Pennybacker's establishment, on the night of the panorama is expressing it very mildly. We will not say how he sat down on the wrong chair, smashing certain artificial flowers, or how he handed his hat to Miss Pennybacker's reflection in the mirror, instead of to that estimable lady herself, or how he forgot to bow to Rose when she came from the mysterious inner room, appended to every millinery shop. We will mention none of these things, as there was nobody saw them save Miss Pennybacker, and she considered his abashment the result of his, as yet, unspoken attachment for herself.

From an attendance at the panorama it was very natural for Mr. Larkinton to drop over the way the next morning, after the preliminary dusting had been attended to, and the dust and ladies settled in their respective places, and inquire how they fared after last night's entertainment. And, having established a firm footing, it was a not uncommon occurrence to see him on dull business days, drop in quite frequently, all of which little attentions Miss Pennybacker thought especially directed to her, so blind sometimes is love to what is going on in its vicinity.

As acquaintance with Rose progressed, hitherto undiscovered beauties and excellencies developed themselves. That organ of Mr. Larkington's, at which the young gentleman of the bow is supposed to direct all his efforts, and which hitherto had remained as adamant, became so mollified under the manipulations of Miss Rose's charms as to receive every impression of that young lady's eyes with surprising distinctness. And it is not at all wonderful that he was several times on the verge of a proposal, the only drawback being his indecision as to how that all-important question should be advanced. It was all very well when in the store or alone in his room to con proposals in every variety or form. They came glibly enough from his tongue's end then. But when seated in the millinery establishment opposite Miss Rose, the chess board between them, and the plump little hand hovering like a white dove over the board, undecided where and what to move, the delicately shod foot tapping the carpet, the loving eyes hidden under their long lashes, even though Miss Pennybacker were not in the room, it was quite another matt r, indeed, to con proposals. In fact they would not come, with all manner of coaxing. Like the young waterman of Dibdin, he could "think of just nothing at all," with all that quiet blushing beauty before him.

The budding spring had bloomed into summer, and summer had shaken its bloom of roses into the lap of autumn, when one sunny afternoon Mr Larkington saw Miss Pennybacker sally forth from her establishment in all the gorgeousness that such a millinery stock as hers, and hers only, could furnish. It was a pleasant, genial afternoon; the streets were nearly deserted, business was dull to a superlative degree, consequently that gentleman had nothing to do but indulge in his favorite relief from monotony—gaze at the millinery shop opposite. Doing so, and seeing Miss Pennybacker depart therefrom, he thought that now or never was the time to settle the all-important question. Rose was all alone. He could hear her running the sewing-machine, at which she most always sat through the day, for be it known she had charge of the dressmaking branch of the business. Through the lazy quiet of the streets it buzzed like a miniature threshing-machine. Love is spasmodical brave. No sooner had his thoughts emanated than he put them in action. He crossed the street and entered. Simultaneous with this proceeding on his part was a scream from Miss Rose. His first thought was that his sudden entrance had frightened her, but a single glance d scovered the truth. She turned to see whose shadow it was that had darkened the door, and the movement had brought the plump little hand, guiding the work, in contact with the needle. There was blood flowing in little ruby drops from the slender forefinger of her right hand, and Rosa's pale face showed how much the wound pained her.

It is very awkward tying up one's finger, particularly when the left hand has to do the work, consequently poor Rose submitted to Mr. Larkington's bandaging it, which he did quite creditably, seeing that he was a bachelor, and above all, a timid lover.

This bandaging process, besides soothing the pain of the wounded finger, brought the roses back to her cheeks. From contemplating the roses in her cheeks, his eyes wandered to the artificial roses of Miss Pennybacker's millinery, and then to the dwarf rose bush in the corner, deflowered of its richness, which deflowering induced him to remark that roses were about all gone, and there was but one rose in the world he wanted. And when she asked what rose that was, he said Rose Meredith. Having broken the ice he said a great many more pretty and useless things which we will not attempt to transcribe, and she blushed more and more, and became the very reddest of red roses. Two happier people could not have been in the world than they were at that moment. But all courtships must have a termination, and this one ended rather abruptly by the unlooked-for appearance of Miss Pennybacker, which caused Miss Rose to suddenly disappear within the mysterious inner temple, while Mr. Larkington, with hat in hand, and very much confused, confronted the proprietress of the establishment. Having obtained sole control of Miss Rose, he thought it no more than Miss Pennybacker's due that she should know how affairs stood between her apprentice and himself. As a preliminary he threw out a few skirmishers.

"Candidly, Miss Pennybacker, do you think it right for a person to always remain single?"

"Lawk! Mr. Larkington, how should I know," blushing violently. "Will you sit down?" motioning him to a chair and seating herself.

Mr. Larkington drew his chair close beside hers.

"When a man—myself, for instance—finds a lady," taking Miss Pennybacker's hands—"a lady possessing all the endowments he thinks requisite and necessary in one whom he could choose for a wife; I say when a man finds such a person and does not try to obtain her affections, is he not doing himself wrong?"

"You have them already, Mr. Larkington," leaning somewhat closer to him.

"Yes, I am truly happy in the possession of her affections. As an interested party I ask you when the marriage had better take place?"

"Name the day yourself, dearest," said Miss Pennybacker, dropping her portly form into the lap of the astonished Larkington, closing her eyes and, to all appearances, perfectly oblivious.

"Great heavens!" he cried, "Rose, Rose, here quickly; Miss Pennybacker has fainted."

Rose appeared from the inner temple, and with their united assistance and a superfluity of sal volatile, Miss Pennybacker was brought back to a state of consciousness.

"Where is the dear, good man?" she sighed, opening her eyes. "Oh, there he is. Name the day yourself, my dear; the sooner the better for me."

"Why, my good woman," he said, "you have mistaken me. Rose and I are engaged, and she wished you to have the pleasure of naming the happy day when we will be united."

"Rose! Rose and you engaged?" she screamed. "Why didn't you say so, then, instead of beating around the bush in that manner? Oh! no, you didn't mean anything by it, imposing on a poor, lone woman—making merry of her credulity."

"But—Miss Pennybacker, I certainly meant no harm."

"Oh, no, you certainly meant no harm," speaking ironically. "No, certainly not. You can marry whenever you please. I'll have nothing more to do with the pert baggage. She can pack her traps immediately; her room is better than her company."

"That being the case, dear Rose, we'll go. My mother will be glad to receive you at her house."

And though Rose demurred to such an arrangement, and wished to go to her cousin's in the country, Mr. Larkington would not hear to it, and she at last consented. They left Miss Pennybacker alone in her glory, and were married that very evening, much to their own happiness and that lady's chagrin at the great blunder of which she was guilty.

Though a very hastily gotten up marriage, it was creditably performed. Mr. Levy gave away the bride. Mr. Larkington's mother, according to the good old custom of all old ladies at such events, shed tears; the newly-made wife was all smiles and blushes, and Messrs. Levy, Heavy & Co. forced a partnership on Mr. Larkington on the spot.—John Brent, in South Bend (Ind.) Tribune.

The Usual Way.

Scene on a horse car:

Stout lady in sealskin, handing the new conductor a ten-dollar note—"Take out one fare, please."

Conductor, affably—"Have you nothing smaller, madam?"

Stout lady, indignantly—"No, sir."

Conductor, still smiling—"Ah, beg pardon," pockets the bill and coolly begins counting out the change in silver coin.

Stout lady, in a horrified tone—"Oh, I can't take that; wait a moment." She then opens her purse, which contains change in abundance, pays her fare and receives back the bill. Conductor winks to passenger on the platform as he goes out and says: "Guess she thought I was fresh and would pass her. Do I think she wanted to ride free? Well, now, you just try this business for a while and you'll see some strange things. Lark street!"—Albany Argus.

—Brave actions are the substance of life, and good sayings the ornament of it.—Lady's Journal.

The Rubber Industry.

No foreign country can rival the United States in the rubber industry. As much as $75,000,000 is invested in the business of manufacturing rubber goods, of which $30,000,000 is confined to the rubber-boot and shoe industry. The factories devoted to it number 120, and the total number of employes is 15,000. A recent census bulletin places the value of the annual product at $250,000,000. Systems of working over worn-out rubber articles and converting them into new ones have been perfected. This can be done several times by mixing new rubber with the refuse, but the articles grow more brittle with each successive work-over. This has given rise to no little fraud, as unscrupulous dealers sell made-over goods for those manufactured originally from the crude rubber, and the consumer only discovers the deception after use. While it is an economy in one sense, an injury is done the legitimate industry by causing buyers to be unduly suspicious of all rubber products. No difference in color and appearance is observable on inspection between the original and second-hand rubber goods, hence the frequent complaints of imposition made against the rubber trade. The honest manufacturers can only protect themselves by affixing distinguishing marks or stamps to their product and by prosecuting those who sell inferior for first-class goods.—Chicago News.

Insomnia.

The proximate cause of sleeplessness is plethora of the cerebral blood-vessels, and a palliative cure can be effected by anything that lessens the tendency of the circulation toward the head. But a permanent cure may require time and patience. By night-studies brain-workers sometimes contract chronic insomnia in that worst form which finds relief only in the stupor of a low fever, alternating with consecutive days of nervous headaches. Reforming topers often have to pass through the same ordeal, before the deranged nervous system can be restored to its normal condition. Fresh air, especially of a low temperature, pedestrian exercise, and an aperient diet, are the best natural remedies. Under no circumstances should sleeplessness be overcome by narcotics. An opium torpor can not fulfill the functions of refreshing sleep; we might as well benumb the patient by a whack on the skull.—Dr. F. L. Oswald, in Popular Science Monthly.

Some New Ones.

A country tramp who brought up at a farm house a few days ago claimed to have had all manner of bad luck, and among other things he mentioned three fingers of his right hand had been so badly frozen during a cold snap in Dakota that the doctor had amputated them.

"Let me see," replied the farmer. A dirty paw was held in response.

"Why, your fingers are all here and all right!"

"Oh, of course, they are all right now, but during the three years it took to grow new ones I got so badly in debt that I lost all hopes and took to tramping!"

He got his dinner, but the farmer was in Detroit the next day making inquiries about the wonderful Western climate.—Detroit Free Press.

—Capt. A. F. Drayton, of New York, says it is not uncommon for a vessel to go to sea with a scant supply of provisions. This is not confined to sailing vessels, some of the steamers carrying just enough to last for a usual voyage. Few comply with the law in regard to the surplus of salt provisions. In many cases the oil used is inferior, the lights soon go out, and to this the captain attributed many of the accidents at sea. He thinks there should be some action by Congress to provide for an official inspection of the supplies of vessels before leaving port.

—Lieut. Danenhower is reported to have won his wife, as Othello did, by his thrilling tales of his "most disasterous chances." He first met her during his lecturing tour, and afterwards in private narrated his adventures in the Arctic seas, and so gained her heart as well as ear. But, then, many a young woman has been won merely by a judicious dispensing of ice-cream.—Chicago Tribune.

—Oscar Wilde, the hairy herald of æstheticism, having coined a sufficiency for subsistence in this country, is now drawling a lecture through England that is devoted to running down American people. He characterizes Americans as being the noisest people in the world; they are always in a hurry, and the National occupation is train-catching.—Chicago Inter Ocean.

—Michigan produces about two-fifths of the world's peppermint crop, the yield varying from 20,000 to 70,000 pounds of oil.—Lansing Republican.

—Jumbo is said to have increased five inches in height during his stay in this country.—N. Y. News.

THE MARKETS.

CINCINNATI, March 24, 1884.

LIVE STOCK—Cattle—common	$2 50	@	3 50
Choice butchers	5 25	@	5 75
HOGS—Common	5 25	@	6 10
Good packers	6 40	@	6 80
SHEEP—good to choice	5 00	@	5 75
FLOUR—Family	4 60	@	5 00
GRAIN—Wheat—Longberry red	1 09	@	1 10
No. 2 red	1 04	@	1 06
Corn—No. 2 mixed		@	55½
Oats—No. 2 mixed	37	@	37½
Rye—No. 2		@	66
HAY—Timothy No. 1	11 50	@	12 00
HEMP—Double dressed	8 75	@	9 00
PROVISIONS—Pork—Mess	17 75	@	18 00
Lard—Prime steam		@	9 85
BUTTER—Fancy Dairy	28	@	30
Prime Creamery	38	@	40
FRUIT AND VEGETABLES—
Potatoes per bar. from store	1 25	@	1 35
Apples, prime, per barrel	3 25	@	3 50
NEW YORK.
FLOUR—State and Western	$2 75	@	3 35
Good to choice	3 70	@	6 50
GRAIN—Wheat—No. 2 spring		@	1 06
No. 2 red	1 08	@	1 08¼
Corn—No. 2 mixed	60	@	62
Oats—mixed	40	@	41
PORK—Mess	17 50	@	17 75
LARD—Western Steam		@	9 72½
CHICAGO.
FLOUR—State and Western	$3 50	@	4 85
GRAIN—Wheat—No. 2 red	98	@	1 00
No. 2 Chicago Spring	88¾	@	91¼
Corn—No. 2	52	@	54¼
Oats—No. 2	32¾	@
Rye		@	60
PORK—Mess	17 75	@	17 90
LARD—Steam	9 85	@	9 87½
BALTIMORE.
FLOUR—Family	$5 00	@	6 00
GRAIN—Wheat—No. 2 red	106	@	1 06½
Corn—mixed	56⅝	@	57¼
Oats—mixed	40	@	41
PROVISIONS—Pork—Mess	18 00	@	19 00
Lard—Refined		@	10½
LOUISVILLE.
FLOUR—A No 1	$ 4 15	@	4 25
GRAIN—Wheat—No. 2 red		@	1 03
Corn—mixed	52	@	53
Oats—mixed		@	37
PORK—MESS		@	18 00
LARD—Steam		@	9
INDIANAPOLIS.
WHEAT—No. 2, red, new	$	@	1 02
CORN—mixed		@	48
OATS—mixed		@	35½

Exploration of New Guinea.

* * * "In connection with the Waltham Watch Company, it may be stated that when the proprietors of The Age desired to present Mr. G. E. Morrison (the explorer of New Guinea) with a reliable chronometer, acting upon the advice of Mr. R. L. J. Ellery, the Govern't Astronomer, two Waltham watches were, however, procured for Mr. Morrison instead. These were kept at the Melbourne Observatory for a fortnight, and thoroughly and carefully tested, and were pronounced by Mr. Ellery, at the end of that time, to be better suited for Mr. Morrison's requirements than any chronometer."—Ext. from Melbourne Age.

—The Prince of Wales has an income of $500,000 a year, and his wife $50,000, yet it is said to require management and occasional spasms of retrenchment to enable them to live within their means.—Detroit Free Press.

A Lucky Kangaroo Hunter.

One of the most daring Kangaroo hunters of Australia, and his stag hounds, were terribly lacerated by a wounded Kangaroo, on the great sheep ranche of Mr. Alfred Hay, Boomanoomana, N. S. W., and were entirely cured by the use of St. Jacobs Oil. Mr. Hay writes that it is the greatest pain-cure ever introduced for man or beast.

THOUGH a kerosene burner may be very heavy, the oil will make the lamp light.

I HAVE used Ely's Cream Balm for dry Catarrh (to which every Eastern person is subject who comes to live in a high altitude). It has proved a cure in my case.—B. F. M. WEEKS, Denver, Col.

MANY "heavy swells" float on the billows of credit.—Gouverneur Herald.

HAVING used Ely's Cream Balm for Catarrh and Cold in the Head, I am satisfied that it is a first rate preparation and would recommend it to any one affected.—R. W. CHEEVER, Editor Herald, Clinton, Wis.

"I'M tired all the time," lamented the wagon-wheel, creaking past.

Low Prices for Butter.

The New York Tribune in its market report explained why some butter is sold for such low prices. In speaking of butter it said: "Light colored goods are very hard to dispose of and several lots were thought well sold at 8 to 10 cents." If butter makers would get the top price, they should use the Improved Butter Color, made by Wells, Richardson & Co., Burlington, Vt. It gives a pure dandelion color and never turns red, or rancid, but tends to improve and preserve the butter.

MY father had an eating cancer for several years, which had eaten away his under lip and the inside of his cheek, down to the bottom of his gums. We got some of Swift's Specific and gave him, and the effect has been wonderful—almost miraculous. The sores are all healed, and he is perfectly well. Every one here said it was only a question of time about his death, and his cure has created the greatest excitement in this part of the country.

WM. B. LATHROP.

South Easton, Mass., Jan. 7, 1884.

DR. W. D. WRIGHT, Cincinnati, O.: "I have prescribed DR. WM. HALL'S BALSAM FOR THE LUNGS in a great number of cases and always with success. One case in particular was given up by several physicians who had been called in for consultation with myself. The patient had all the symptoms of confirmed Consumption. He commenced to get better and was soon restored to health."

A Messenger of Health.

Sent free to sufferers from nervous, chronic and blood diseases, brain and heart affections, nervous debility, etc. It tells of wonderful cures effected by Dr. Scott's Coca, Beef and Iron, with Phosphorus. Sold by druggists; $1. Dr. Scott, Kansas City, Mo.

A COUGH, COLD, OR SORE THROAT should not be neglected. BROWN'S BRONCHIAL TROCHES give prompt relief. 25 cts. a box.

Stinging, irritation, all Kidney and Bladder Complaints, cured by "Buchu-Paiba." $1.

IN the delirium of fever, and in restlessness, there is no such remedy as Samaritan Nervine.

Wells' "Rough on Corns." 15c. Ask for it. Complete, permanent cure. Corns, bunions.

Hale's Honey of Horehound and Tar Promptly cure asthmatic wheezing. Pike's toothache drops cure in one minute.

Skinny Men. "Wells' Health Renewer" restores health and vigor, cures Dyspepsia.

DR. WILLIAMS' Indian Pile Ointment. Warranted to cure any case of blind, bleeding or itching piles. At druggists.

Don't Die in the House. "Rough on Rats," clears out rats, mice, flies, roaches, bed-bugs. 15c.

MR. B. J. ANDERSON, of Egypt, Tex., writes: "Samaritan Nervine cured my daughter of fits."

Flies, roaches, ants, bed-bugs, rats, mice, crows, cleared out by "Rough on Rats." 15c.

HEADACHE is immediately relieved by the use of Piso's Remedy for Catarrh.

LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S Vegetable Compound was first prepared in liquid form only; but now it can be sent in dry forms by mail to points where no druggist can readily be reached, and to-day the Compound in lozenges and pills finds its way even to the foreign climes of Europe and Asia.

ST. JACOBS OIL

THE GREAT
GERMAN REMEDY
FOR PAIN.
CURES
Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Sciatica
Lumbago, Backache, Headache, Toothache, Sore Throat, Swellings, Sprains, Bruises, Burns, Scalds, Frost Bites, And All Other BODILY PAINS and ACHES.
Sold by Druggists and Dealers everywhere. Fifty Cents a bottle. Directions in 11 Languages.
THE CHARLES A. VOGELER CO.,
(Successors to A. VOGELER & CO.) Baltimore, Md., U. S. A.

HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED

STOMACH BITTERS

The want of a reliable diuretic which, while acting as a stimulant of the kidneys, neither excites nor irritates them, was long since supplied by Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. This fine medicine exerts the requisite degree of stimulation upon these organs, without producing irritation, and is, therefore, far better adapted for the purpose than unmedicated excitants often resorted to. Dyspepsia, fever and ague, and kindred diseases, are all cured by it. For sale by all Druggists and Dealers generally.

$250 A MONTH. Agents Wanted. 90 best selling articles in the world. 1 sample FREE. Address JAY BRONSON, DETROIT, MICH.

FOR LADIES USE.—The grandest article. Send stamp for illustrated circular. Dr. H. G. FARR, 75 Essex Street, Boston, Mass.

HAIR Wholesale and retail. Send for price-list. Goods sent C. O. D. Wigs made to order. E. BURNHAM, 71 State Street, Chicago.

Good Pay for Agents. $100 to $200 per mo. made selling our fine Books & Bibles. Write to J. C. McCurdy & Co., Cincinnati, O.

$65 A MONTH and BOARD for three live Young Men or Ladies, in each county. Address P. W. ZIEGLER & CO., Philadelphia.

Young Men learn TELEGRAPHY here and we will give you a situation. Circulars free. VALENTINE BROS., Janesville, Wis.

SURE CURE for Epilepsy, Fits or Spasms. FREE TO POOR. Dr. KRUSE MED. Co., 2303 Hickory st., St. Louis, Mo.

The Surgeon's Knife.

Required to Remove a Stone from the Bladder—This Dangerous Operation Might Have Been Avoided by the Timely Use of Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy (of Rondout, N. Y.).

Mr. Simeon Tietsell, formerly of Rondout, N. Y., had been treated for seven years by various physicians for what they called Stricture of the Urethra, without benefit. He finally consulted Dr. David Kennedy, of Rondout, N. Y., who found his trouble to be Urinary Calculi or Stones in the Bladder. The Doctor at once removed the foreign bodies with the knife, and then gave his great kidney and liver medicine, FAVORITE REMEDY, to prevent their reformation. The entire treatment was eminently successful, and Mr. Tietsell's recovery was rapid and complete.

While FAVORITE REMEDY is a specific in all Kidney and Bladder diseases, it is equally valuable in cases of Bilious Disorders, Constipation of the Bowels, and all the class of ills apparently inseparable from the constitutions of women. Don't forget the name and address, Dr. David Kennedy, Rondout, N. Y. The Doctor would have it understood that, while he is engaged in the introduction of his medicine, FAVORITE REMEDY, he still continues the practice of his profession. He treats all diseases of a chronic character, and performs all the minor and capital operations of surgery.

CATARRH

HAY-FEVER

Causes no Pain or Dread. Gives Relief at Once. Not a liquid or snuff. Applied with the finger. Thorough treatment will cure.

50 cents at druggists; by mail, registered, 60 cents. ELY BROTHERS Druggists, Owego, N. Y.

SHARP PAINS Crick, Sprains, Wrenches, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Sciatica, Pleurisy Pains, Stitch in the Side, Backache, Swollen Joints, Heart Disease, Sore Muscles, Pain in the Chest, and all pains and aches either local or deep-seated are instantly relieved and speedily cured by the well-known Hop Plaster. Compounded, as it is, of the medicinal virtues of fresh Hops, Gums, Balsams and Extracts, it is indeed the best pain-killing, stimulating, soothing and strengthening Porous Plaster ever made. Hop Plasters are sold by all druggists and country stores. 25 cents or five for $1.00. Mailed on receipt of price. Hop Plaster Co., Proprietors and Manufacturers, Boston, Mass.

HOP PLASTER

☞ Coated tongue, bad breath, sour stomach and liver disease cured by Hawley's Stomach and Liver Pills, 25 cts.

SHOPPING BY MAIL

A Success, a Pleasure, and Profitable when done through us. The SPRING NUMBER of our New and HANDSOMELY ILLUSTRATED

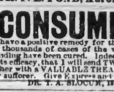
MAGAZINE OF FASHION

AND ART, "THE FOUR SEASONS," will be ready about April 15th. The most complete and elaborate Fashion Guide and Dry Goods Catalogue published. A treasure to all who receive it. Price 50 cents per annum. We have a limited number of sample copies for FREE distribution. Send in your name at once and receive one. We want you for a regular subscriber.

SIMPSON, CRAWFORD & SIMPSON,
Sixth Avenue and Nineteenth Street,
New York City, N. Y.

I CURE FITS!

When I say cure I do not mean merely to stop them for a time and then have them return again. I mean a radical cure. I have made the disease of FITS, EPILEPSY or FALLING SICKNESS a life-long study. I warrant my remedy to cure the worst cases. Because others have failed is no reason for not now receiving a cure. Send at once for a treatise and a Free Bottle of my infallible remedy. Give Express and Post-Office. It costs you nothing for a trial, and I will cure you.
Address DR. H. G. ROOT, 183 Pearl St., New York.



THIS NEW ELASTIC TRUSS

Has a Pad different from all others, is cup shape, with Self-Adjusting Ball in center, adapts itself to all positions of the body, while the ball in the cup presses back the intestines just as a person does with the finger. With light pressure the Hernia is held securely day and night, and a radical cure certain. It is easy, durable and cheap. Sent by mail. Circulars free. EGGLESTON TRUSS CO., 69 Dearborn St., Chicago, Ill.

ABSOLUTELY THE BEST. WILSON'S LIGHTNING SEWER!

Two thousand stitches a minute. The only absolutely first-class Sewing Machine in the world. Sent on trial. Warranted 5 years. Send for Illustrated Catalogue and Circular. Agents Wanted. THE WILSON SEWING MACHINE CO., Chicago or New York.

CANCER INSTITUTE.

Established, 1872; Incorporated, 1880. For the Cure of Cancers, Tumors, Ulcers, Scrofula and SKIN DISEASES, without the use of knife or LOSS OF BLOOD, and little pain. For INFORMATION, CIRCULARS AND REFERENCES, address DR. F. L. POND, Aurora, Kane Co., Ill.

CONSUMPTION.

I have a positive remedy for the above disease; by its use thousands of cases of the worst kind and of long standing have been cured. Indeed, so strong is my faith in its efficacy, that I will send TWO BOTTLES FREE, together with a VALUABLE TREATISE on this disease, to any sufferer. Give Express and P. O. address.
DR. T. A. SLOCUM, 181 Pearl St., New York.

Easy to use. A certain cure. Not expensive. Three months' treatment in one package. Good for Cold in the Head, Headache, Dizziness, Hay Fever, &c. Fifty cents. By all Druggists, or by mail.
E. T. HAZELTINE, Warren, Pa.

PILES "Anakesis" gives instant relief, and is an infallible cure for Piles. Price $1 from druggists, or sent prepaid by mail. Samples free. Ad. "ANAKESIS," Makers, Box 2416, New York.

AGENTS WANTED EVERYWHERE to sell the best Family Knitting Machine ever invented. Will knit a pair of stockings with HEEL and TOE complete in twenty minutes. It will also knit a great variety of fancy-work for which there is always a ready market. Send for circular and terms to the Twombly Knitting Machine Co., 163 Tremont Street, Boston, Mass.

Lady Agents can secure permanent employment and good salary selling Queen City Skirt and Stocking Supporters, etc. Sample outfit Free. Address Queen City Suspender Co., Cincinnati, O.

"THE BEST IS CHEAPEST."
ENGINES, Horse Powers THRESHERS SAW-MILLS, Clover Hullers
(Suited to all sections.) Write for FREE Illus. Pamphlet and Prices to The Aultman & Taylor Co., Mansfield, Ohio.

Forces luxuriant Mustache, Whiskers or hair on bald heads in 20 to 30 days. No injury. Easily used. Beats the world. Price per Package with directions sealed and postpaid 25 cents, 3 for 50 cts. stamps or silver. L. L. SMITH & CO., Agents, Palatine, Ills.

BUTTER WORKER.

Works full package uniform. Saps a butter milk and saves labor. Invaluable to merchants and dairymen. Recipes for purifying and coloring. Send for circular. EMORY P. WALKER & SON, Cincinnati, O.

SILKS FOR CRAZY PATCHWORK

In $1 packages containing 80 Elegant Varieties. A package of the best Embroidery Silk, assorted colors, free with every order. YALE SILK WORKS, New Haven, Ct.

PHOTO-COPYING $30 PER WEEK made by industrious agents. Sample outfit $1. Address Q. A. McMILLAN & CO., Cincinnati, Ohio.

HOME BEYOND, or VIEWS of HEAVEN, by Moody, Spurgeon, Talmage, and 40 other eminent thinkers; 50 illustrations. Outfit, 75c. Agents Wanted. CORURN & NEWMAN PUB. CO., Chicago, Ill.

PATENTS promptly procured in all countries. American Patent Agency, 183 Fifth Street, Cincinnati, Ohio.

FREE By return mail. Full Description Moody's New Tailor System of Dress Cutting MOODY & CO, Cincinnati, O.

STAMPING Patterns in Fancy Needlework Kensington, Embroidery, Etc. Price list free. D. HAAS, 94 State Street, Chicago.

FOR SALE A fine paying ELECTRIC BATH Business. Cheap. Wish to leave city. DOCTOR, 141 St. Clair St., CLEVELAND, OHIO.

Vital Questions!!

Ask the most eminent physician
Of any school, what is the best thing in the world for quieting and allaying all irritation of the nerves and curing all forms of nervous complaints, giving natural, childlike refreshing sleep always?
And they will tell you unhesitatingly
"Some form of Hops!"

CHAPTER I.

Ask any or all of the most eminent physicians:
"What is the best and only remedy that can be relied on to cure all diseases of the kidneys and urinary organs; such as Bright's disease, diabetes, retention or inability to retain urine, and all the diseases and ailments peculiar to Women"—
"And they will tell you explicitly and emphatically "Buchu."
"Ask the same physicians
"What is the most reliable and surest cure for all liver disease or dyspepsia, constipation, indigestion, billiousness, malarial fever, ague, &c.," and they will tell you:
"Mandrake! or Dandelion!"
Hence, when these remedies are combined with others equally valuable
And compounded into Hop Bitters, such a wonderful and mysterious curative power is developed which is so varied in its operations that no disease or ill health can possibly exist or resist its power, and yet it is Harmless for the most frail woman, weakest invalid or smallest child to use.

CHAPTER II.

"Patients
"Almost dead or nearly dying"
For years, and given up by physicians of Bright's and other kidney diseases, liver complaints, severe coughs called consumption, have been cured.
Women gone nearly crazy!
From agony of neuralgia, nervousness, wakefulness and various diseases peculiar to women.
People drawn out of shape from excruciating pangs of rheumatism,
Inflammatory and chronic, or suffering from scrofula!
Erysipelas!
Salt rheum, blood poisoning, dyspepsia, indigestion, and in fact almost all diseases frail
Nature is heir to
Have been cured by Hop Bitters, proof of which can be found in every neighborhood in the known world.

KIDNEY-WORT

THE SURE CURE FOR KIDNEY DISEASES, LIVER COMPLAINTS, CONSTIPATION, PILES, AND BLOOD DISEASES.

PHYSICIANS ENDORSE IT HEARTILY.

"Kidney-Wort is the most successful remedy I ever used." Dr. P. C. Ballou, Monkton, Vt.
"Kidney-Wort is always reliable."
Dr. R. N. Clark, So. Hero, Vt.
"Kidney-Wort has cured my wife after two years suffering." Dr. C. M. Summerlin, Sun Hill, Ga.

IN THOUSANDS OF CASES
it has cured where all else had failed. It is mild, but efficient, CERTAIN IN ITS ACTION, but harmless in all cases.
☞ It cleanses the Blood and Strengthens and gives New Life to all the important organs of the body. The natural action of the Kidneys is restored. The Liver is cleansed of all disease, and the Bowels move freely and healthfully. In this way the worst diseases are eradicated from the system.
PRICE, $1.00 LIQUID OR DRY, SOLD BY DRUGGISTS.
Dry can be sent by mail.
WELLS, RICHARDSON & CO. Burlington Vt.

KIDNEY-WORT

VIGOR, HEALTH AND LIFE

Is found in the Great Modern Discovery,
DR. SCOTT'S
Coca, Beef and Iron
(With Phosphorus.)

Possessing marvelous curative virtues in all forms of Nervous Debility, Brain, Heart and Nervous Diseases, Dyspepsia, Weak Lungs, Nervous Exhaustion and Broken Down Constitutions. $1.00 per bottle. Six bottles, $5.00.
Send postal for the "Messenger of Health," and read of wonderful cures effected by Coca, Beef and Iron. Ask your druggist for it. Address
DR. C. W. SCOTT,
Kansas City, Mo.
☞ USE DR. SCOTT'S LIVER PILLS.

SAMARITAN NEVER FAILS. NERVINE IS UNFAILING AND INFALLIBLE IN CURING Epileptic Fits, Spasms, Falling Sickness, Convulsions, St. Vitus Dance, Alcoholism, Opium Eating, Scrofula, and all Nervous and Blood Diseases.
☞ To Clergymen, Lawyers, Literary Men, Merchants, Bankers, Ladies and all whose sedentary employment causes Nervous Prostration, Irregularities of the blood, stomach, bowels or Kidneys, or who require a nerve tonic, appetizer or stimulant, Samaritan Nervine is invaluable.
☞ Thousands proclaim it the most wonderful Invigorant that ever sustained a sinking system. $1.50 per bottle.
THE GREAT NERVE CONQUEROR.
The DR. S. A. RICHMOND MEDICAL CO., Sole Proprietors, St. Joseph, Mo.
Sold by all Druggists. (18)
LORD, STOUTENBURG & CO., Agents, Chicago, Ill.

TRADE S.S.S. MARK

CAUTION.
Swift's Specific is entirely a vegetable preparation, and should not be confounded with the various substitutes, imitations, non-secret humbugs, "Succus Alterans," etc., etc., which are now being manufactured by various persons. None of these contain a single article which enters into the composition of S. S. S. There is only one Swift's Specific and there is nothing in the world like it. To prevent disaster and disappointment, be sure to get the genuine.
Swift's Specific is a complete antidote to Blood Taint, Blood Poison, Malarial Poison and Skin Humor. J. DICKSON SMITH, M. D., Atlanta, Ga.
I have had remarkable success with Swift's Specific in the treatment of Blood and Skin Diseases, and in Female Diseases. I took it myself for Carbuncles with happy effect.
D. O. C. HENRY, M. D., Atlanta, Ga.
I used Swift's Specific on my little daughter, who was afflicted with some Blood Poison which had resisted all sorts of treatment. The Specific relieved her permanently, and I shall use it in my practice.
W. E. BRONTE, M. D., Cypress Ridge, Ark.
Our treatise on Blood and Skin Diseases mailed free to applicants.
SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., Drawer 3, Atlanta, Ga.
New York Office, 159 West 23d Street.

Walnut Leaf Hair Restorer.

WALNUT LEAF TRADE MARK HAIR RESTORER

It is entirely different from all others. It is as clear as water, and as its name indicates is a perfect Vegetable Hair Restorer. It will immediately free the head from all dandruff, restore gray hair to its natural color, and produce a new growth where it has fallen off. It does not in any manner affect the health, which sulphur, sugar of lead and nitrate of silver preparations have done. It will change light or faded hair in a few days to a beautiful glossy brown. Ask your druggist for it. Each bottle is warranted. JNO. D. PARK & SON, Cincinnati, O., and C. N. CRITTENTON, N. Y.

GOLD WATCH FREE!

The publishers of the Capitol City Home Guest, the well-known Illustrated Literary and Family Magazine, make the following liberal Offer for the New Year: The person telling us the longest verse in the Bible, before May 15th, will receive a Solid Gold, Lady's Hunting Cased Swiss Watch, worth $50. If there be more than one correct answer, the second will receive an elegant Stem-winding Gentleman's Watch; the third, a key-winding English Watch. Each person must send 25 cts. with their answer, for which they will receive three months' subscription to the Home Guest, a 50 page Illustrated New Year Book, a Case of 25 articles that the ladies will appreciate, and paper containing names of winners. Address
Pubs. of HOME GUEST, HARTFORD, CONN.

A. N. K.—E. 971

WHEN WRITING TO ADVERTISERS please say you saw the advertisement in this paper.

BOONE COUNTY RECORDER.

VOLUME IX. BURLINGTON, KY., WEDNESDAY, APRIL 2, 1884. NUMBER 22.

THE WAR AT AN END.

Short Fight With the Rebels, Who Fly to the Hills.

Tamanieb Burned to the Ground—General Graham Will Explore the Country and then Retire to Suakim.

SUAKIM, March 27.—The British forces began to advance on Tamanieb at five o'clock this morning. Firing opened at 7:30, and was brisk upon both sides. The rebels were in larger numbers than yesterday. The English cavalry and mounted infantry led and drove the rebels from the rocks, dispersing them among the hills. There were no British casualties. The loss of the rebels is unknown. The rebels fired on the British troopers from rocks upon the left. The cavalry dislodged them and advanced to within 100 yards of Taminiab. As soon as Graham came up with the infantry and guns shells were thrown among the flying Arabs and exploded close to them. On reaching Tamanieb the men and horses made straight for the wells and slaked their thirsts. After a brief halt the cavalry moved out to the right and left of the village in pursuit of the retreating foe. The village forthwith was burned to the ground. General Graham will explore the region in the neighborhood of the wells of Tamanieb, and then return with his whole force to Suakim. The campaign is at an end. General Graham and the cavalry have returned to Suakim. The cavalry will arrive to-day. It is expected that the troops will embark immediately. Five hundred natives will soon be sent to open the Berber route.

Conductor Garroted on His Train.

ST. LOUIS, MO., March 28.—Shortly before 12 o'clock last night as the Chicago & Alton east-bound train from Kansas City was approaching Gilliam, Mo., the conductor, R. G. Dunsmore, had some unpleasant words with a passenger named Powell about the collection of his fare. Powell wanted to get off at Gilliam, but the conductor told him that the train never stopped there. After the conductor had gone into the next car Powell overtook him, garroted him from behind, and attempted to cut his throat with a pocket knife. He succeeded in cutting a deep slip in each of Dunsmore's cheeks before the latter could break away. Dunsmore, who has the use of but one hand, then struck Powell two blows, after which they were separated.

An Accident to the Bear.

NEW YORK, March 27.—The Arctic steamer Bear tumbled over on beam ends yesterday on being taken out of the dry-dock. The ballast had been removed for inspection and repair by the navy-yard workmen, and not having been replaced when the dry-dock was flooded to float her out, her top-heavy condition upset her. The carpenters, joiners, riggers and other workmen were hurled pell-mell among blocks of timber, plank, iron and loose rigging, but one was badly injured. It was necessary to place her ballast before the Bear could be bated and moved. The steamer will be ready for service after getting a fresh coat of painted work and on that is progressing rapidly.

A Petition for Dynamiter Gallagher.

NEW YORK, March 28.—The friends of Dr. Thomas Gallagher, of Green Point, a dynamiter, who was convicted of attempting to blow up a public building a year ago, and sentenced to penal servitude for life, have elaborately petitioned President Arthur in his behalf. It is claimed that he was convicted illegally, and a volume of documents have been printed setting forth his innocence. The matter is in the hands of a New York lawyer, who will soon go to Washington to lay the case before the President.

Our Interests On the Congo.

WASHINGTON, March 28.—The Department of State has received a copy of the proposed treaty between Great Britian and Portugal, by which the American interests on the Congo are affected. It is understood that the terms of the treaty are not in accord with the views of the President on the subject as expressed in his last annual message. The treaty will be referred to the senate committee on foreign relations.

Coal Miners' Strike.

PITTSBURG, PA., March 28.—About eight hundred coal miners of the fourth pool struck against a reduction of one-fourth cent per bushel in the price for mining. It is said the third pool operators will also insist upon another cut of a quarter of a cent. The men are said to be in no condition to strike, as their finances are very low.

Found in the Creek.

PHILADELPHIA, March 27.—There was great excitement this morning at Wissahickon by the discovery of the remains of a man in the creek near Hanbell Mills. The body was sewed up in a bag. The supposition is that the corpse is a victim of murder. The officials are busy endeavoring to unravel the mystery.

Plenary Council at Baltimore.

BALTIMORE, March 27.—Letters of convocation have been sent to all Catholic bishops of the United States, convening a plenary council at the cathedral in this city on the 9th of November next. The provincials of religious communities and superiors of seminaries will also attend.

Shipping Criminals to America.

LONDON, March 28.—The government has shipped by the steamer Grecian, leaving Glasgow for Boston, March 22, 270 emigrants taken from the workhouse of Swineford, County Mayo, Ireland.

A Large Fire on the Prairie.

HUTCHINSON, KAN., March 28.—During the high wind yesterday a terrible prairie fire broke out in Castleton Township, which burned over a territory of ten miles in length. Everything in its path was destroyed, including houses, barns, stock, grain, etc., one man losing 600 tons and 200 head of sheep. The loss will exceed $15,000.

Another Clerk Who Speculated.

NEW YORK, March 27.—Isidore Dreyfus, a clerk of Poliack & Co., importers of dry goods, was arrested to-day on the charge of embezzling over $11,000, which he squandered in stock speculations.

Remarkable Fast.

NEW YORK, March 29.—A most remarkable case of fasting is that of an Italian laborer of Mulberry street, now at the charity hospital. He was taken there suffering with dementia, due to meningitis. For twenty-two days he totally abstained from eating. He was out of his mind during the whole period, and violent at times. He clinched his teeth, and for more than three weeks refused to relax his jaws, and it was impossible to put nourishment into his mouth. The physicians attending him thought of pulling out his front teeth and pumping food into his stomach with a stomach pump. Finally they supplied his system with nourishment by injecting beef tea. He lingered from day to day, gradually losing flesh. At the end of his twenty-two days' abstinence from eating he rose from his cot at noon, walked to the dinner-table, took a knife and fork, and sat down. He ate three beefsteaks, four rations of potatoes, two bowls of soup, one loaf of bread, and six apple dumplings. He rose and talked rationally with a nurse, who had run in great alarm to the table. The Italian was sane for the first time in two months. He has eaten heartily since and is pronounced recovered. He was seen at the hospital yesterday, and was doing well.

Against Hiring Convict Labor.

WASHINGTON, March 28.—At a meeting of the House Committee on labor, to-day, Representative James was unanimously instructed to favorably report a bill providing that it shall be unlawful for any person in the employ of the United States or any State, to contract with any one to hire out the labor of prisoners confined in any prison or jail, for violation of any laws of the United States. A violation of the act is made a misdemeanor punishable by a fine of from $500 to $1,000 or imprisonment for one to three years. Mr. James has prepared a report to accompany the bill. It says in some cases State prisons take persons convicted for violation of laws of the United States without cost to the Federal Government, and then in order to make the arrangement profitable have inhumanly treated them. The contract system, the report says, is wholly adverse to reform. Prisoners are treated as dumb beasts, being driven to work by men whose only aim is to get a certain amount of work from them every day; men who look upon convicts as only so much machinery for making money, and whose chief recommendation for the position is that they are the highest bidders for the human beings hired by them.

Violent Storm at Denver.

DENVER, COL., March 27.—A wind storm, the most disastrous in many years, struck this city early this morning. At this hour (9 p. m.) it continues with unabated fury. Many of the finest buildings in the city, including the City Hall, and Moffat & Kassler, Symes & Clifford Blocks were unroofed. Signs and awnings were torn down and scattered everywhere. For several hours together the wind maintained a velocity of sixty miles an hour. Several persons were injured, none fatally. Telegraph communication with outside towns is interrupted. It is impossible to estimate the loss at present.

Connecticut Dam Disaster.

NEW HAVEN, CONN., March 27.—The flood at Ansonia caused a total damage of $100,000, laying waste a track about a mile long and fifty to five hundred feet wide. The water company, whose bursting dam caused the damage, is held responsible. It is alleged the dam was improperly constructed. The heaviest losers are the Derby Bit Company, Sheller, Plater & Smith, fifth-wheel manufacturers, each losing $20,000 or $25,000.

Khartoum Reported Captured.

LONDON, March 28.—Telegraphic communication between Dongola and Berber is broken. The Standard's correspondent at Cairo telegraphs that rumors are prevalent there that Khartoum has fallen. It is impossible to confirm or contradict the wild rumors. The official world, both civil and military, is waiting in anxious suspense for news from Gordon.

English Troops Embarking.

SUAKIM, March 28.—The Tenth Hussars, the York and Lancaster regiment, and the Irish Fusiliers have embarked for home. Sheiks of the Semarar, Danilet and Hoorab tribes, who represent five thousand people living between Suakim and Kassala, have come in and promised to assist in the capture of Osmen Digna, whose prestige has been destroyed.

Mexico to Chicago in Five Days.

CHICAGO, March 28.—The first through party from the City of Mexico over the recently completed Mexican Central Railway arrived here from Kansas City this morning. The main body of the travelers continued their journey eastward. The run from the City of Mexico was made in five days.

Newspaper Copyright in France.

PARIS, March 28.—A Paris correspondent telegraphed to the Toulouse Depeche, a feuilleton published in the Paris Lanterne. Action was brought by the latter on the plea that its copyright had been infringed. The tribunal has just given its decision. The plaintiff's plea is sustained and the Depeche fined two hundred francs.

Telephonic Experiment.

BOSTON, March 27.—The American Bell Telephone Company was experimenting in conversations between this city and New York over number two copper wire to-day and with the aid of ordinary telephone instruments the faintest whisper of conversation can be heard.

A Celebrated Robber Arrested.

BOSTON, March 27.—Theodore A. Perry, alias "Little Al," concerned in the robbery of the Missouri Pacific Express Company's car on the night of September 27, 1883, was arrested here to-day.

Another Mysterious Death.

WINFIELD, L. I., March 28.—The body of an unknown lady of about sixty years of age and very poorly dressed was found in Hyatt's woods, near this village, this morning. The body was very much decomposed, and she is supposed to have been dead about a week. The body was taken to the morgue at Newtown.

Killed By a Falling Tree.

CATAWISSA, PA., March 27.—Henry Wilson, Isaac Horn, and Charles Smith, lumbermen, were killed by a falling tree to-day.

BLOODY RIOT.

The Cincinnati Court-House Burned.

The Municipal Authorities Powerless, And the Entire Military Service Ordered Out—A Bloody Battle Fought in the Streets Between Citizens and the Troops—The Gatling Gun Turned Loose With Deadly Effect—Over One Hundred Killed and Wounded.

CINCINNATI, March 30.—The indignation of the people over the verdict in the Berner murder case, which developed into the lynch-law mob and attack on the county jail, was at a fever heat last night and Hamilton County's costly and magnificent Court-house was fired and almost entirely consumed. It was a bloody night. Over one hundred people were killed and wounded.

Yesterday morning groups gathered upon every street corner, and the mutterings of the crowd were continuous. With the first glimpse of morn the curious crowd began assembling in the vicinity of the Court-house and jail, called from their beds at this unusual hour by the almost ceaseless firing of musketry the night before. Long before noon all had become aware of the carnage of the night. Handbills were flung in the faces of the many, urging the citizens to organize at once, and make one clean sweep of the bloody business while they were at it. "Heal sores by purifying the body," was the motto displayed, the cry being that public safety demanded immediate action. This call for the vigilants still further inflamed the minds of the masses, and looking upon the wreck and ruin, the blood stains and bullet scars visible everywhere about the jail and its surroundings, their mutterings were augmented to open threats; even the more peaceful elements of the community so far forgetting the majesty of the law as to lend countenance to evidently to-be-renewed riots. So dark was the outlook that the building of barricades was immediately began in the jail, the Gatling gun, afterwards to be used with such deadly effect, wheeled into place, the militia, five hundred strong, ensconced within the huge stone edifice, and platoons of police stationed at the head of every street giving access to the county buildings. Dusk had hardly set in when the masses began to assemble and threaten the structure in which was lodged the objects of their vengeance. Beyond the customary hum of voices and an occasional shout of some chance drunkard in the crowd, nothing was at first to be heard from the obstinate and determined mob. Lights began to flicker in the adjacent byways and the buildings were illuminated for squares around, anxious and expectant watchers being stationed at every window. About the jail, however, all was darkness, the street lamps even having been extinguished, and grim in its solitude it stood threatening, like a mighty fortress on a rock. The gloom of night being now fairly upon them, the rioters bustled into action, though with the same seemingly aimless purpose as upon the preceding evening.

There was no organization in the crowd. It was a rabble, and a dozen compact soldiers or policemen could have made them run like sheep. A big, heavy-featured, respectably-dressed German essayed to be leader. He had a club in his hand. "Boys," he shouted, "follow me: let's go around to the jail yard gate and burst it open, and take out the——." A yell arose, and fifty men and boys fell into a roughline. About one-third of them carried broom handles, clubs, axes, rakes and hammers. They went around North Court street, the crowd surging behind them. They were met by a volley from the soldiery. Pell-mell the mob rushed back, heads low, and brandishing wildly their weapons. Two or three were seen to stumble. The militia did not pursue the mob, but were evidently content with preventing an onslaught on the jail.

The remarks of the crowd were significant. Berner's attorney, Tom Campbell, and the jury were damned by everybody. Berner had several apologists. Of course, they argued, he could not be blamed for trying to save his neck from the gallows, although he deserved to be hanged and quartered. "But that Tom Campbell, who 'fixed' the jury; and Shaw, who got a thousand dollars, he ought to have red-hot lead poured down his throat!"

Men swore by awful round oaths that if they could catch Tom Campbell and the jury they would hang them sky-high.

A few scattering militiamen, upon whom all seemed to wreak revenge for the carnage of the early morn in which a number were killed and wounded, now appeared in the throng, intent upon joining their comrades in the Court-house rotunda. "Kill them! kill them!" was heard upon every side, while stones and missiles of every description flew over and about them, crashing through windows, battering down doors and causing other destruction. By a miracle these stragglers escaped, but their assailants, thus encouraged, pressed upon the long line of police, to whose protection the militiamen owed their lives, and continuing the fusilade of stones, the windows of the Treasurer's office were demolished and the rioting began in earnest. The patrolmen, as a warning, discharged a volley of blank cartridges from their navy sizes, and the crowd for an instant wavered, some of the more timid even taking to flight, but the leaders again pressed on, when another volley was given them. Confusion now reigned supreme. The sounding bells soon announced the burning of the Treasurer's offices and all the records, in attempting to save which Capt. John J. Desmond, of Company B, First Regiment O. N. G., was shot through the head and instantly killed. Other victims were soon added to the list. The gatling gun with death-dealing force was shortly turned upon the crowd, and the fighting from that on became no longer a contest for the prisoners in the jail, but a general warfare upon the militia. At midnight the dead and dying were thick about the Court-house square, which building being in flames it is thought will be totally destroyed. The Fire Department being sent for refused to respond, and guards were sent to them in answer to their telephone demand for aid. At Engine-house No. 4, steam engines Nos. 3 and 4 were then waiting for an escort of troops.

A number of the leaders of the rioters were arrested, carried into the jail and locked up. They were all nice-appearing fellows and well dressed. Another of the rioters being wounded was taken within the jail, a smoking revolver still in his blood-stained hands. Officers Kennedy and Lieutenant Tom Meara at one time rushed into the assaulting crowd and arrested John Skinner, Pat Fizzer and another man, who appeared to be a leader, and all were placed behind the bars immediately.

At a few minutes past 12 o'clock the Fourteenth Regiment of militia was ordered to file out into the open square facing the Court-house and charge with fixed bayonets upon the crowd, and disperse them at all hazards.

By 11 o'clock the mob had succeeded in setting the interior of the Sheriff's office on fire, and, defending the approach to its confines in the lower portion of the Court-house proper, the entire building was soon in flames. It was while leading a detachment of men into this apartment from the rotunda that Captain Desmond and Private McGuire were killed. Lieutenant of Police Devina and Recorder Hill still pushed on despite the shower of bullets from the attacking party without, but all efforts to save the records proved futile. From here the conflagration spread rapidly, and the huge stone edifice was by midnight wrapped in towering sheets of flame and smoke. At half-past 12 the Surveyor's office in the South Court street side was completely demolished and the fire was then ranging in the third floor of the building. The heavens for miles around were brilliantly illuminated, great masses of sparks now and then shooting upward as block after block of stone, and massive beams of oak fell into the all-devouring element. At 1 o'clock all thought or hope of checking the fire had been abandoned, and before the day dawns the great stone structure, so long an ornament to our city, will be a mass of ruins.

A telephonic message received from Colonel Hill, at the Court-house, at an early hour this morning, states that despite all efforts the public records can not be saved, and will all be consumed by the devouring flames. A rumor also gained circulation that over one hundred men were in the third floor of the Court-house in imminent danger of being consumed by the devastating element. The Court-house is all gone except the Superior Court consultation-room, so far as can be seen from Main street.

The Fourteenth Ohio National Guards arrived upon the ground at half-past 12 o'clock, and deploying on Main street, fired westward on Court. The first volley killed five people and wounded many more. Just the result of the succeeding volleys, fired at longer and longer range, as the mob fell back and scattered, it could not be determined, but as the fire was delivered with precision, there must have been many more casualities. The net result was that at 1 o'clock the military and police were in at least temporary possession of the battle-field, and the firemen were permitted to go to work unmolested on what was left of the burning Court-house. There were several militiamen hurt but none killed outright in this battle. At 1:15 A. M., the situation growing more serious, Governor Hoadly ordered the Fourth Regiment, which was bivouacked at the C. H. & D. Depot, to march from the depot out Fourth street to Sycamore, and charge the mob in the rear.

About a quarter of three o'clock the report reached Hammond Street Station that about three hundred men were on their way to Kittredge's and Powell's gun stores, on Main street, with two cannon that they had captured at Music Hall. There were possibly twenty men hauling the guns. Lieutenant John Burke left the station-house with a small squad of men, and marching up to the crowd scattered them with a few well directed pistol shots, and then pulled the cannon up Main and handed them over to the militia.

A gentleman, a stranger in the city, prevented a massacre on Ninth street last night when a company of militia filed from behind a barricade. The military came out a short distance, then presented arms, and he heard the click of triggers. He entered an energetic protest against their firing on the crowd, which could be seen down Ninth street, and induced the Captain in command to go a short distance with him and look at the crowd. He convinced the officer that they were all innocent persons; that there was no mob there, and the officer was very thankful that he had been prevented from such a deed. It was a stranger company.

Burdsal's drug store, on Main street, near Court street, at two o'clock this morning had been turned into a hospital for wounded soldiers. Among those there were Lieutenant-Colonel Wm. M. Leggett, of the Fourteenth Regiment, Columbus, Ohio, slightly wounded. Sergeant Mike Malone, Company B, First Regiment, Cincinnati, Ohio, flesh wounds. Captain Slack, Fourteenth Regiment, Company F, Columbus, Ohio, wounded in the right hand.

First Sergeant Amil, Company F, Fourteenth Regiment, Columbus, wounded in the right hand and three slight wounds in the head and legs. Private W. H. Schovey, Company F, Fourteenth Regiment, Columbus, wounded in hip and leg—not seriously—and Private J. H. Kelly, Company F, Fourteenth Regiment, Columbus, Ohio, three slight leg wounds.

Among the casualties of the citizens were the following: Three men were carried to the drug-store at the north-west of corner Court and Walnut. Philip Harman, a young man, was shot in the groin, and it is thought fatally. D. Glückich was shot in the ankle, not seriously. An unknown man, probably twenty-five years old, received a mortal wound in the neck. Two more wounded men were found in a doctor's office on the north side of Ninth. Edward Hehm was shot through the calf of his leg, making a painful but not serious wound. John Proth, a boy not eighteen years of age received a gaping wound in his shoulder, which will probably result in the loss of his arm. At a saloon on Ninth street, beyond Main, were found several dead and wounded. Edward Wise was shot through the foot. George Kolp was badly wounded in the right leg below the knee. The bone was shattered. At this place there were also seen two dead men whom no one could identify. Philip Raebe, shot above the heart; supposed to be fatally injured. John Hearon, shot through the head; died soon after. Ed. Gallagher, also shot in the head; died in a few minutes. An unknown boy, aged fourteen years, was shot through the head from ear to ear. Joe Poister received a painful flesh wound in the leg. An unknown boy slightly wounded in the arm. At 150 Main street a young man with both knees horribly mangled was lying. Joseph Besild shot in the head under the left eye. A finely dressed young man shot through the heart, died instantly. A fifteen-year-old boy was shot through both legs below the ankles. Michael Dickey, left breast. Leo Vogelgesang, Columbus, wounded in the head, and dying. Charles Lewis, right arm shattered. Ben. Herzog was shot in the right knee while standing at the corner of Mein and Court. His wound is not dangerous. David Crunson was shot through the leg. He will recover. Frank Hetteschemer, shot in the abdomen and chest; died in ten minutes. George Kempfer was shot in the right side and it is thought badly wounded. John Bennigen, shot in the left hand. George Lehr, is seriously cut on the cheek below the left eye. His wound was made by a soldier's bayonet.

ASSAULT ON A GUN STORE.

During the evening a small portion of the crowd detached itself from the main body and moved south on Main street, and, stopping in front of Powell's gun store, which is on that thoroughfare between Fourth and Fifth, they made preparations to force an entrance. Private watchman John Connelly faced the men and said: "Don't smash in the windows. If you will enter, do so decently." They acted on the suggestion and started forward. There was an unexpected report of a pistol—some one said it came from the inside of the store—and the foremost man fell. A second shot, and another went down. Hesitating for a moment, another advance was made, more shots were heard, until five men, all told were lying on the ground, two of whom were dead, and three wounded. The dead were John Dugan. One bullet had entered the left eye and another the center of the head at the side. Thomas A. Green, dead, with a wound in the left breast. The wounded were: Joseph Wise, left side; Charles Eberhart, right leg; Ben Herzogg, right knee; William McHugh, right thigh, Michael Mack, left arm; amputation necessary. The crowd after this contented itself with igniting some barrels and rolling them against Powell's store, where they burned without doing the building any damage. An alarm was sent in for this reason from box 24, but the engines were not used.

BERNER IN THE PENITENTIARY.

COLUMBUS, March 30.—Berner, the Cincinnati murderer, who escaped the officers at Loveland, was recaptured by Criminal Bailiff Jos Moses and several other officers near Montgomery, O., and, after a somewhat exciting experience, was landed safe in the Ohio Penitentiary about 8 o'clock last evening.

CINCINNATI, March 31.—All day yesterday the streets in the vicinity of the Court-house were thronged with people viewing the ruins of the building. All the streets that lead up to the Court-house and jail, the alleys that lead into them, and the bridges, were all protected by barricades, behind which the militia stood all day, their musket barrels pointing over the tops. In front of these barricades the police kept an open space of a hundred feet or more, so that the five or six blocks immediately around the Court-house was entirely clear. The people that were out in the afternoon were mostly a throng of curious sight-seers, and only occasionally did the police have any trouble, when some fellow who had been drinking began to talk loudly and bitterly against the militia and crying for blood. The police took these fellows in and carried them off to cells in the jail. Several of these raids were made into the mob, and once or twice the mob made a rush after the police, which however was quickly checked by the men behind the barricades, who leveled their guns and called a halt, after which they cleared out the street, and the cross streets to the side of the barricade, in both directions; and men, women and children, in their best clothes as if for a holiday on the street, rushed pell mell out of range. Some gradually came back again; others went home, fresh sight-seers taking their places.

The scene at the Court-house was appalling, and viewed from West Court street a full sense of the terrible work of the mob of Saturday night was at once apparent. The front, with its thick wall and massive pillars, stood intact; but everything but the walls was in ruins. Of course the windows were all broken and the wood work burned out of place in the sills; the roof was gone, as were the floors, and up through the windows was the beautiful blue sky, in such striking contrast to the terrible desolation all about. In front of the building are the charred remnants of books and papers, soaked in water, but in many places still smoking.

Last night's battle was opened by the militia on Court street at half-past 8. They had the full sweep of the market space. There were thousands of people at the corners and in front of the market-house, a block distant from the barricade. There was plenty of loud talking. All around men were cursing their luck at not being able to procure cannon. A small portion of the mob made a movement toward the barricade. A volley from the militia scattered the crowd pell-mell. One man was wounded.

After the first general firing of the militia at 8:30 o'clock, things quieted down considerably, and the opinion was current that the worst was over. However, at about half-past ten the press at Court and Walnut again became, as the military thought, threatening and two shots were heard to ring out upon the air. These, it is said, were from a pistol in the mob, and the guns of the soldiers made reply. It was another of those death-dealing volleys, the crack of the rifles and the whiz of the balls, causing even the safely-sheltered few to shrink at the thought of the horrible slaughter that must ensue. So great was the confusion, however, and so dense the crowd that nothing definite could be learned at that time as to the result, some, strange as it may seem, asserting that no one out of the thousands assembled was injured.

A summary of the list of killed and wounded, reported at Habig's morgue and the City Hospital up to 2 o'clock Sunday morning, shows 24 killed and 30 wounded. Up to 6 o'clock last night 5 additional killed and 30 wounded were reported. As many were taken to their homes, the total number of dead can not be less than 45, and 125 wounded.

The rioters made their last rally a few minutes after midnight. They had at that time become much reduced in numbers, and while still threatening, were less aggressive. Having stolen about forty muskets from the Turners' armory in Turner Hall, they fired on the militia at Court and Walnut. Several volleys were fired by the militia, which were replied to with some spirit by the rioters. At last a volley from the Gatling gun laid low two or three of their number, and entirely cooled their ardor.

A few random shots were fired after that hour, but from then till morning comparative quiet reigned.

At military headquarters it is believed that there will be no renewal of hostilities by the mob, and that the riot is substantially at an end.

At 4 A. M., as a citizen was crossing West Court street, near the barricade, he was called on by the militia to halt, and, not obeying the order, was fired on and wounded. He was taken away by the Patrol, and his name was not learned.

Lieutenant Wright, from within the barricades at the county buildings, sends message at 4 o'clock this morning that all is quiet except for now and then a random shot.

Moths in Carpets.

Moths will work in carpets in rooms that are kept warm in winter as well as in the summer. A sure method of removing the pests is to pour strong alum water on the floor to the distance of half a yard around the edges before laying the carpets. Then once or twice during the season sprinkle dry salt over the carpet before sweeping. Insects do not like salt, and sufficient adheres to the carpet to prevent their alighting on it.

—The plan of using the enormous water-power of the Alps for working electric railroads in Switzerland appears to have taken a definite shape, the idea being to connect the towns of St. Moritz and Pontresnia by an electric railroad four and three-fourths miles long, the motive power to be supplied by the mountain streams, the line, in case the plan proves a success, to extended considerable distance.

—T. H. Bedell, a foreman in the carpet-sweeper factory which burned at Grand Rapids recently, was cut off from escape while in the fourth story of the building and dropped out from a window, dropping and bracing against the window openings from story to story, until he reached the ground in safety. It was a most thrilling scene, as he thus dropped in sight of hundreds who were powerless to assist him.—Detroit Post and Tribune.

AN OLD physician observes: "A great danger in using narcotic drugs arises from the fact that their practical strength—their strength of operation is not, and never can be positively known. You may take a dose of chloral to-night and obtain a heavy sleep, the same dose to-morrow night might put an end to your existence. The real strength of the drug often depends as much upon the condition it finds you in as upon its own potency."

—According to a report published by the company for excavating the canal on the Isthmus of Corinth, the work will be finished by the time appointed—i. e., in the year 1887. The canal, twelve miles in length, will unite the Ionian and Ægean seas, and save the voyage of one hundred and twenty miles around the Cape of Matapan. Southern Italy and Sicily will derive the greatest advantage from the new route.

—Arizona brigands have a mania for going on the stage.—N. Y. Mail.

XLVIIIth CONGRESS.

First Session.

WASHINGTON, March 25.—SENATE.—Among memorials presented were several protesting against the passage of bills before the Senate relating to patents or any bills that may be injurious to the interests of patentees. Bills reported favorably and placed on the calendar as follows: To provide for the sale of the Iowa Indian Reservation in Nebraska and Kansas, and the issuance of patent for a reservation for the Iowa tribe of the Indian Territory. For the readjustment, compensation and transportation of the mails on railroad routes. The Chair laid before the Senate a resolution calling on the Attorney General to furnish certain information as to the Star Route attorneys, or to state to the Senate why he does not furnish it. The Senate agreed to the resolution. Mr. Hoar then called up the bill to increase the salaries of the United States District Court Judges to $5,000. The pending question was on the amendment making it unlawful for the Judge to appoint to a position in his Court any relative within a degree of first cousin, and making it a misdemeanor for a Judge to do so. The amendment was modified by the omission of the clause specifying that the offense was a misdemeanor, and was agreed to.

HOUSE.—The Senate bill passed, authorizing the State of Colorado to take lands in lieu of the sixteenth and thirty-sixth sections, found to be mineral lands and to secure to that State the benefit of the act donating public lands to several States and territories which may provide colleges for the benefit of agriculture. Mr. Browne, of Indiana, from the Committee on Judiciary, reported back the bill making it a felony for a person to falsely and fraudulently assume to be an officer or employe acting under the authority of the United States, or any department thereof. Passed. The House went into Committee of the Whole, Mr. Dorsheimer in the chair, on the bonded extension bill. Mr. Potter briefly gave reasons which impelled him to support the measure.

WASHINGTON, March 26.—Mr. Coke's "Land in Severalty and Law for Indians" Bill passed. The Education Bill was again taken up, and quite a heated debate took place, participated in by Messrs. Hoar, Harrison, Vance, Dolph, Jonas and Butler. No action was taken. The Senate then passed the joint resolution, which had been introduced into the House by Mr. Ellis, and had passed that body, appropriating the unexpended $125,000 of the Ohio River Relief Appropriation to the relief of the Mississippi River flood sufferers.

HOUSE.—Mr. Ellis, of the Committee on Appropriations, reported a joint resolution providing that $125,000 of the unexpended appropriation shall be for the relief of the destitute in the district overflowed by the Mississippi tributaries. Passed. The balance of the day was taken up in discussing the Whisky Bond Extension Bill.

WASHINGTON, March 27.—SENATE.—The Chair laid before the Senate the memorial of the Convention of American Inventors in session at Cincinnati, protesting against the passage of any act injurious to the interests of patentees. Mr. Logan presented a similar memorial from a large number of inventors. Mr. Vest presented a memorial from the Legislative Assembly of Utah, protesting against the passage of measures now pending before Congress or any measures affecting the interest of that Territory without full investigation by Congressional committee. Referred to Committee on Territories. Mr. Miller, of Cal., reported favorably from the Committee on Naval Affairs, with amendments, the joint resolution authorizing the Secretary of the Navy to offer a reward of $25,000 for rescuing or ascertaining the fate of the Greely expedition. The resolution was agreed to, directing the Committee on Library to inquire as to the expediency of printing the official letters and papers of the late President James Monroe.

HOUSE.—The morning hour being dispensed with, the House went into Committee of the Whole (Mr. Dorsheimer in the Chair), on the Bonded Extension Bill, and Mr. Randall spoke in opposition to it. On motion of Mr. Blount, the enacting clause was stricken out, in committee of the whole—131 to 85, and the House ratified this action—185 to 83. The next measure taken up was the bill for the retirement of the trade dollar, which remained unfinished business for Saturday.

WASHINGTON, MARCH 28.—SENATE.—The Committee on Woman's Suffrage reported a joint resolution, proposing a woman's suffrage amendment to the Constitution. The bill offering a reward of $25,000 for rescuing or finding the Greely party's fate was passed. Mr. Dolph's bill amending the Revised Statutes, so as to allow vessels, under certain regulations, to unload coal, salt, and other articles in bulk, at other points besides ports of entry. The Education bill was again taken up, Mr. Lamar speaking warmly in favor of the measure. Mr. Cullom was in favor of limiting the aid to the Southern States. Adjourned till Monday.

HOUSE.—Mr. Anderson introduced a concurrent resolution for final adjournment on June 2; referred to Ways and Means. The private calendar was taken up. The Judiciary Committee reported adversely to the McGarrahan bill, which was tabled. Mr. O'Neill, of Pennsylvania, presented a resolution of the Convention of wool-growers, in favor of the restoration of the duty of 1867 on wool. At the evening session twenty-two pension bills were passed, including $50 a month to the widow of General James B. Steedman. Adjourned till Monday.

Apparatus for Producing a Very Low Temperature Continuously.

Cailletet has constructed a continuous apparatus for producing intense cold, which consists of a closed steel cylinder in which is a coil of copper pipe which projects from each end of the cylinder, and one of these communicates with the mercurial piston pump already used by Cailletet, while the other receives the ethylene which has been compressed by the pump and cooled by methyl chloride. By this arrangement he forms a circuit in which the same quantity of condensed ethylene is repeatedly evaporated in the copper coil, producing intense cold and then compressed again by the pump being sufficiently cooled with methyl chloride and ready for evaporation again. This process goes on as long as the sucking and compressing pumps are working.—Compt. Rendus p. 1115.

A Discovery in Relation to Hydrophobia.

M. Pasteur yesterday made an interesting communication to the Paris Academy of Sciences in relation to canine madness. His experiments had shown him that an injection in the region of the skull of the virus of rabies always produced the malady in an acute form, but an injection in the veins only occasionally had acute results, being often followed by chronic affection only, without barking or ferocity. If a dog were inoculated with fragments of marrow or of nerve taken from a mad dog, the disease would be communicated. M. Pasteur further stated that he had rendered twenty dogs proof against the disease by inoculating them with other virus than the virus of rabies. Fowls and pigeons injected with the latter became affected, but soon recovered spontaneously.

—Fort Ross, Cal., with a population averaging from fifty to one hundred, has not had a death for thirty years, while Cedar Keys, Fla., with a population of three thousand, had but three deaths last year.—San Francisco Chronicle.

—Only nine great American circuses will peddle the lemonade and peanut through the country the coming season; but nine circuses are just as good as fifty, and can make as much trouble for the small boy.—Hartford Post.

THE COMMONWEALTH.

Legislative Proceedings.

FRANKFORT, March 22.—SENATE.—Bills passed: To authorize the President and Faculty of Van Hern institute to confer learned degrees. Authorizing the County Court of Daviess County to levy an ad valorem tax for county purposes. To repeal an act to amend section 10, Civil Code of Practice, &c., so far as it applies to the County of Bourbon. To amend an act to incorporate the Mutual Benefit Association of the Western Virginia Conference of the M. E. Church South. To provide for working and keeping in repair the county roads in Campbell County. To incorporate the Garrard Female College. With amendments. Amendments adopted and bill passed. A number of local bills were passed.

HOUSE.—Among the many bills passed were the following: To prohibit the sale of liquors in Allen County. To change the time of holding Courts in Calloway County. To change the time of holding the quarterly Court of Lewis County. To provide for a stock law in Kenton County. To incorporate the Calhoun Institute. To provide for maintaining a school in Pendleton County. To authorize the Levy Court of Bath County to levy a tax. Mr. E. F. Madden—A bill to provide for compensation of Circuit Court Clerks of Jefferson County. To prevent the sale of liquors in Bracken County. To authorize the Owen County Court to issue bonds for turnpike purposes. Conferring certain powers upon the Board of Trustees of Blandville. To amend an act to incorporate the Frankfort, Georgetown and Paris Railroad Company.

FRANKFORT, March 24.—SENATE.—A message was received from the House announcing the passage of an act to authorize the city of Newport to issue $50,000 of bonds. A bill to require the Chesapeake and Ohio Southwestern Railroad to build a draw upon their bridge over Salt River was withdrawn.

HOUSE.—Bills passed were: To prohibit the circulation of immoral literature in this Commonwealth. Authorizing the County Court of Bracken to issue bonds for the purpose of buying a poor-house. To authorize the city of Newport to issue $50,000 in bonds. Incorporating the Grand Council of Royal Templars of Kentucky. To amend an act relating to the old State road in Campbell County. To amend the charter of the town of Bellevue, in Campbell County. To amend the charter of the town of Dayton, in Campbell County. To amend the charter of the city of Newport. To incorporate the Louisville and Eastern Railroad Company.

FRANKFORT, March 25.—SENATE.—Bills passed: To amend and explain an act to establish a system of white schools in the city of Owensboro. House bill to legalize the action of the Auditor of Public Accounts in appointing collectors of taxes in Daviess and Nelson Counties. House bill to amend the charter of the town of Lawrenceburg. Without expression. To change the time of holding the quarterly courts of Lewis County. House amendment concurred in. To authorize A. D. Jarold, Sheriff of Elliott County, further time to execute his revenue bond. House bill to amend the charter of the town of Mortonsville, Woodford County.

HOUSE.—Bills passed: To prohibit the sale of liquors in Precinct No. 8, in Bourbon County; in the town of Glenville, or within three miles thereof; within three miles of Beech Bottom, or Shuck Creek Church, in Casey County; within four miles of Carpenter's Church, in Casey County; in Calvert City, in Marshall County; in Sharon Grove, in Hart County; within School District No. 29, in the counties of Hickman and Graves; in Butler County, and all the voting precincts therein. To incorporate the Womens' and Childrens' Home, at Paris. To prohibit the sale of liquors within School District No. 25, in Hickman County. To prevent the Danville, Lancaster and Nicholasville Turnpike Company from collecting toll from any of its members and regular attendants in going to and from pleasant Grove and Fork Church, in Garrard County. To prevent the sale of liquor within one-quarter mile of Cedar Precinct, in Franklin County. A bill to authorize and empower the Livingston County Court to levy an ad valorem tax to repair and build bridges in said county.

FRANKFORT, March 26.—SENATE.—The bill appropriating money for the continuation of the geological survey and Bureau of Immigration was brought up and discussed until the hour of adjournment.

HOUSE.—Bills passed: To charter the Athertonville and Otter Creek Turnpike Road Company. Mr. Jackson called up a bill for the benefit of J. W. Lee, of Trimble County. Senate amendment concurred in. To amend and reduce into one the several acts in relation to working the county roads in Boyle County. To Amend an act to incorporate the Versailles and Mt. Vernon Turnpike Road Company, approved March 15, 1869. To amend an act to incorporate the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad Company, approved January 18, 1880. Amended and passed. To amend the charter of the town of Kuttawa, in Lyon County. To provide for the building and maintaining of fences, gates, crossings and cattle guards along the line railroads. Amended and passed.

Miscellaneous Items.

THE store of James P. Campbell, at Campbellsburg, was broken open a few nights ago. His safe was blown open and the from cash drawer and $23 taken. This is believed to be the work of a citizen.

MR. W. B. MUNFORD, of Horse Cave, has been appointed Sheriff of Hart County. He has given bond, but will not qualify until the tax collector, Mr. A. H. Wood, begins his duties. The county has long been without a Sheriff, and the appointment of Mr. Munford, an excellent business man, is hailed with great favor.

JAMES SMITH, a carpenter at work on a livery stable at Mt. Sterling, fell a distance of sixteen feet the other day, breaking both arms.

ED. FIZER, a fourteen-year-old boy, was arrested in Bourbon County a few days ago, charged with horse-stealing, and sent to jail in default of bail.

BURGLARS entered the store-room of Laudy & Landy, at Ghent, a few nights since, blowed open the safe, and took therefrom $1,000 in money and $5,000 in cash notes, after which they went to the stable of Johnston Franks and stole a horse and buggy and made their escape. The horse and buggy were recovered at Liberty Station.

BOWER ROBERTS, a well known young man of Owenton, was seriously injured by a Short Line train at Sparta Station, a few days ago. He is quite hard of hearing, and was crossing the track, and the train was on him before he had time to escape entirely. He was knocked senseless and thrown some distance and badly hurt about the hips and internally.

In the case of the Commonwealth against James Franks for the killing of John Clark at Stewartsville, Grant County, last April, the jury, after being out eight hours, on the 26th, returned a verdict of not guilty and the prisoner was discharged.

ARRANGEMENTS have been made for the "Ninth Ohio Infantry" to meet its old war friends at Phœnix Hill Park, Louisville, May 18. An excursion will go from Cincinnati, and a royal good time will be the result.

THE President has reappointed A. H. Sympson Postmaster at Winchester.

MISS CORNIE SHIPP, of Midway, a young lady very much beloved in that community, died very suddenly the other evening of heart trouble. She was to have been married in a few days to a prominent gentleman, a resident of Shelby County.

THE following Kentucky patents were issued recently: John T. Dillebray, Beech Grove, vehicle brake; J. T. Milne, Clay City, saw-mill; Geo. F. Seiser, Carrollton, steam-engine; Wm. H. Woolridge, Louisville, folding cot.

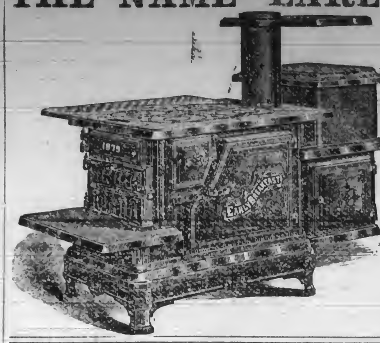
JUDGE J. M. PIGG, a well-known citizen of Richmond, is dead.

THE RECORDER.

RIDDELL & HALL,
Proprietors.

BURLINGTON, KY. APRIL. 2. 1884

ADVERTISING RATES.



1 Column	1 year	$80
1 "	½ "	40
1 "	¼ "	20
½ "	1 "	20
½ "	½ "	10
½ "	¼ "	6

For announcing candidates, $5. Obituary poetry, 5 cents per line. Obituary notices 20 lines free; over that number (excepting the announcement of the death) 3 cents per line.
Tributes of respect from lodges, &c., $1 50

RATES OF SUBSCRIPTION.

One year	$1 50
Six months	75
Three months	40

THE NAME "EARLY BREKFAST,"

Has become so familiar to the people of
BOONE AND KENTON COUNTIES,
AS THE LEADING
Cook Stove
of the age, that further mention is unnecessary.
W. H. & J. M. McClung,
are the sole agents for this stove.
They also do all kinds of Job Work
—SUCH AS—
GUTTERS,
TIN ROOFING.
REPAIRING STOVES, &c.

No. 537 Madison Street,
COVINGTON, - - KY.
Second Door below Sixth Street.

The riot from which Cincinnati is emerging was incited by the fiery speeches made by such prominent men as Hickenlooper and others at the meeting held last Friday night for the purpose of giving expression to the indignation engendered by the conviction of Berner for manslaughter when he was a self-confessed murderer. The expressions of the prominent men on that occasion were such as to cause the city rabble to imagine that the most extreme measures were endorsed by the speakers, and at once the destruction of both life and property, which were appalling, was commenced.

The reign of crime in Cincinnati for the past year has been humiliating to her citizens, but the effort to eradicate the trouble has proved the more serious, as is generally the result of an attempt by a mob to administer justice. The city press has regarded crime in Kentucky as a sweet morsel, and never lost an opportunity to deride Kentucky justice, while the Cincinnati jail was crowded with men guilty of the most diabolical and hideous crimes. So lax has been the administration of justice immediately under the noses of these great moral instructors as to render it necessary for the leading business men to call an indignation meeting which proved to be the germ of a destructive mob. The people on this side of the river are sorry for Cincinnati, but can not forget how severely they have been criticized by her people, when deplorable crimes have been committed on our soil.

The city press accuses the soldiers of being too willing to shoot, and claim that they are responsible for the killing of many innocent people. Judging from the tone of the following editorial in Sunday's Enquirer, that paper was getting pretty nervous, and had about concluded that Cincinnati, as well as Kentucky, has a few cut-throats and incendiaries who are ever willing and ready to indulge in openly defying the law and authorities. That paper said deploringly:

The riot has assumed the most alarming proportions. At this writing nothing like a definite statement of the number killed and wounded can be made; but enough is known to show that the fatality has been appalling. Besides the dead and wounded at the City Hospital and city undertaker's, many victims are scattered about the city. We leave the dreadful calculation to our local columns, but with scarcely an expectation that the most untiring reportorial energy will be sufficient to lay a full list of the casualties before our readers this morning.

The damage already done is well-nigh irreparable. If the Court-house is destroyed—as we now believe it is—the public loss can not even be guessed at. It can not be placed in the form of dollars and cents.

The situation is one which cripples any attempt to describe it. It is past the point of moralization and argument, and nothing but appeal suggests itself. It is difficult to consider it calmly, but calmness, deliberation, judgment are qualities for which there is pressing need.

Surely the rioters have glutted their vengeance. If there is any good lesson in mob law, it has certainly gone far enough. Can there be any further satisfaction?

For the good name and fame of Cincinnati, let the work of the torch, the bludgeon, the pistol and the shot-gun cease. Surely even those who have been actuated by blood-thirsty motives must be satisfied with the bespoilment which stands out frightfully before us this morning.

If the citizens of Cincinnati do not want to see our trade prostrate at their feet, let them assume control and prevent further scenes of bloodshed. Let no effort or organization that can interpose the influence and power of good citizenship be neglected.

The state of affairs is lamentable, and good and effective work can not be done too soon. The abstract questions involved must decide in the future, but the present demand is to the rioting and bloodshed and destruction of property. Let every man who values his citizenship rally for the welfare of Cincinnati, and be careful that his individual action shall be in perfect harmony with whatever means shall be justly taken to restore peace at the least possible mortal cost. The expense in blood has been too great already, and the property loss is beyond calculation, as we have said. Even those who applied the torch must be appalled when they realize the extent of the ruin.

It becomes every citizen—the man of property—the employer and employe—every man who comprehends the value of a peaceful home and properly regards the happiness of his family—to fly to the succor of the city at once.

The building of a turnpike from Burlington to a point on the Union and Rabbit Hash grade at or near the residence of the late W. S. Ryle, is of vital importance to land owners along the proposed route, and the road, if built, will traverse a very productive section of the county, and one that is almost inaccessible, especially at this season of the year. The want of a good road has been a great draw-back to that part of the county southwest of Burlington, and although the land is owned by industrious persons, they labor under great disadvantages in getting their farm produce to market, and, in producing a variety of crops as they do, a good out-let is an imperative necessity at all seasons of the year. With probably, two or three exceptions, the land along the route of the proposed road, is owned by energetic young men in whose hands it is likely to remain many years, and who will reap the reward of a good road, and after its completion will be surprised how they did without it so long. The question of building a pike in that direction has been agitated at intervals for many years, but the present indication is the most favorable of any of the past, and it is to be hoped that the advent of spring and the disappearance of the mud will not call the attention of those interested from the road, but that the effort will be pursued to a successful conclusion.

Regarding turnpikes as truly the farmers' roads, and essential to the prosperity of that class, we are glad to see a spirit of improvement in that particular cropping out in the various neighborhoods of the county, and venture the prediction that within the next twenty years all the main roads in the county will be pikes.

An effort is being made at Bellevue to raise means with which to improve the wharf at that place. Much live stock and farm produce is shipped from that point, by the farmers of the neighborhood, and they can not well do without a landing for boats. If there is any differences among the people of that locality pertaining to the improvement, they should pool their issues, and work harmoniously, for their labors, in that direction will be mutual. every citizen of that part of the county, and particularly the farmers, being interested in a good landing at Bellevue.

The overwhelming defeat of the Bonded Extension bill last week in Congress, is the source of no little annoyance to the Kentucky whisky manufacturers, who anticipate heavy losses by reason of the bill's defeat. A heavy opposition in the South, was a surprise to its friends. A majority of the Democrats voted to strike out the enacting clause, the vote in that party standing 96 voting for and 72 against.

The Cincinnati papers have made it a special business to call attention to all the violations of the law that occurred in this State, and no doubt they did it more to attract attention from the reign of crime in their city, than because of any ill will they have for Kentucky. They had to do it for self preservation as it were.

The Gallatin county juries are gaining quite a reputation for leniency when criminals are sent there from other counties for trial, and the last example was the acquittal of Franks charged with murder, who had been refused bail on his examining trial, and again on a writ of habeas corpus trial before Judge Major.

The chairman of the indignation meeting held in Cincinnati last Friday night referred to all the murders he could call to mind as occurring in Kentucky, and his speech read like it was intended more for Kentucky than for Cincinnati.

It took Cincinnati to impanel a jury that could find a self-confessed murderer not guilty of murder and say that his offense was manslaughter. Cincinnati is always doing something that astonishes the world.

The murderer in Cincinnati stands a better chance to escape with his life than do the jurymen who try him. The State protects the former while the latter has to provide for his own safety.

Out of the 21 murderers in the Cincinnati jail the mob, last Friday night, could not get one of them to hang. Had it been a Kentucky mob the jail would have been cleared out.

A Covington stock dealer, named Dickey, disappeared last week with $6,000 or $7,000 of money belonging to Covington and Louisville parties of whom he had bought stock.

There are 448 criminal cases on the docket of the Madison Circuit Court. Four of which are for murder, and two hundred and forty nine for the unlawful sale of liquor.

Henry Watterson has undertaken a job that he is not able to perform, viz.: Reading out of the Democratic party those who do not endorse his free-trade views.

The jury that tried Franks, in Gallatin county, no doubt are glad they do not live in Cincinnati, but are citizens of a State where there is some respect for law.

A cowboy astonished the natives in Austin, Texas, by appearing on the streets clothed in a pair of pants made of Angora goat skin, with the hair on the outside.

The people of Cincinnati had pretty good proof that their criminal laws are inadequate, but a mob is a very poor organization for righting a wrong.

The Canadians are getting tired of John Chinaman, and are devising means whereby to rid themselves of him.

Gen. Grant has been interviewed on the Presidential question. He is emphatically for Logan.—Ex.

Not so, he is for Gen. Grant.

Louisville has decided to have another exposition, commencing August 15 and continuing sixty days.

Will John Sherman want an investigation of the cause of the Cincinnati riot?

STATE NEWS.

Owensboro has several cases of small-pox.

Owen county corn is selling for $2 50 per barrel.

Owen county mourns the loss of a horse 28 years old.

Carroll county has let the contract for building a $16,000 Court-house.

The docket of the April term of the Jefferson Circuit Court contains five murder cases.

R. H. Gale, superintendent of the Anchorage Asylum and Mrs. Sue Bryant, of Louisville, were married last week.

Franks, charged with the murder of Clark in Grant county was acquitted by a Gallatin county jury last week.

At the recent fire in Mt. Sterling, Ed Fogg's New Foundland dog ran into a burning stable and drove all of the horses and cattle out and pulled some hogs out by their ears.—Bourbon News.

FOR RENT.

From 6 to 10 acres of tobacco land; also some good corn land. Call on CY CRISLER, at Burlington, Ky.

FOR SALE.

A thoroughbred Jersey Bull. 5 years old, Price, $60. Call on E. H. HOWARD, Bullittsville, Ky.

FOR RENT.

About 70 acres of good oat land. Call on or address Mary E. Kendall on the premises or C. O. Utz, Constance, Ky.

Farm for Sale.

31 acres of improved land in Carlton precinct. Buildings and fencing all good, and well watered. Five acres in grass—balance in cultivation
JOSHUA LAWELL,
Rabbit Hash, Ky.

NOTICE.

All persons indebted to the estate of Nancy Hamilton, deceased, are notified to come forward and settle same at once, and those having claims against said estate must present them to the undersigned, proven as by law required.
NOAH CLORE, Adm'r.

NOTICE.

All persons having claims against the estate of Thos. Rich, decd., will present them properly proven, as by law required. Those indebted to the estate will please come forward and settle at once.
JACOB REIB, Adm'r.

NOTICE.

The stockholders of the Woolper Turnpike are hereby notified that on Monday, April 7th, 1884, an election will be held in Burlington, at which a board of five directors will be chosen to serve the ensuing year.
J. FRANK GRANT, Sect'y.

NOTICE.

Persons having claims against the estate of Nancy Snyder, deceased, are notified to present them at once properly proven, for payment; and those owing the estate must settle their indebtedness at once. The sale notes are expected to be paid promptly upon their maturity. T. B. AYLOR, Adm'r.

Strayed.

Taken up as a stray by Allen Goodridge, living on the Ohio river, about 1½ miles below Taylorsport, in Boone county, on the 12th day of January 1884, one bull about two and half years old, with white head, dark read body, some white on his back, and end of tail, legs spotted up to his knees straight horns and under bit in each ear, and which I have appraised at $15. Witness my hand this 12th day of Jan., '84.
W. A. GOODRIDGE, J P B C

EGGS FOR HATCHING.

From Pure Plymouth Rocks, straight descendants from the show birds of Isaac Daniels and Perley Pickett, of Ohio. My birds are second to none. Fine size, quick to mature and best of layers. For reference inquire of N. Dickerson or Eddie Ranson, at Verona, or Jacob Cleek or Geo. W. Sleet, at Beaver Lick, Ky. You can order them now and say when you wish them shipped. Your orders will be promptly filled and with proper care. Satisfaction guaranteed. Price, $1 50 for 15, and $1 for each 15 over, when shipped at same time. Money must accompany order. Address
M. J. HUME, Verona, Ky. 15 3m

Sheriff's Sale for Taxes.

By virtue of taxes due the Sheriff of Boone county, Ky, for the years 1881-2-3 I, or one of my deputies, will, on

Monday, April 7th, 1884,

between the hours of 12 m, and 3 o'clock p. m, at the Court-house door in Boone county, Ky. expose to Public Sale, to the highest bidder, for cash in hand, the following property, (or so much thereof as may be necessary to satisfy the amount of taxes due aforesaid and cost,) to wit:

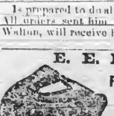
A track of land containing 10 acres more or less, levied on as the property of Joel Ryle and adjoining the lands of Sebern Berkshire, T. C. S. Ryle, Z. T. Stephens, &c. Amount to be made by sale $8 05.
J. R. CLUTTERBUCK, S. B. C.
By W. T. GERMAN, D. S.
Mch. 14, 1884.

$66 a week at home. $5 outfit free. Pay absolutely sure. No risk. Capital not required. If you want business at which persons of either sex young or old, can make great pay all the time they work, with absolute certainty, write for particulars to H. HALLET & Co., Portland, Maine.

A PRIZE. Send six cents for postage, and receive free, costly box of goods which will help you to more money right away than anything else in this world. All of either sex, succeed from the first hour. The broad road to fortune opens before the workers, absolutely sure. At once address, TRUE & Co., Augusta, Maine.

AGENTS wanted for The Lives of all the Presidents of the U. S. The largest handsomest, best book ever sold for more than twice our price. The best selling book in America. Immense profits to agents. All intelligent people want it. Any one can become a successful agent. Terms free, HALLET BOOK Co., Portland, Maine.

GOLD for the working class. Send 10c for postage, and we will mail you free, a royal, valuable box of sample goods that will put you in the way of making more money in a few days than you ever thought possible at any business. Capital not required. We will start you. You can work part the time only. The work universally adapted to both sexes, young and old. You can easily earn from 50 cents to $5 every evening. That all who want work may test the business, we make this unparalleled offer; to all who are not well satisfied we will send $1 to pay for the trouble of writing us. Full particulars, directions, etc., sent free. Fortunes will be made by those who give their whole time to the work. Great success absolutely sure. Don't delay. Start now. Address STINSON & Co., Portland, Maine.



H. C. CHAMBERS,
AUCTIONEER
FLORENCE, - - - KENTUCKY.

ROBERT B. REED
Attorney at Law.
